RUBY JAY'S CORNER

The New Hope Baptist Church, where Rev. Bill Moton is the proud pastor, had very good services last Sunday.

Sunday School began at 9:30 a. m. Primary teacher Sandra Henry presided over the teachers and officers who were present. It was a wonderful lesson.

This was fellowship morning for the Sunday School. All journeyed to fellowship hall for refreshments which were served before the morning services. Everyone had an enjoyable time.

During the morning worship hour, it all began with song, scripture and prayer. The Male Chorus marched in singing. They really did sing well last Sunday morning. Let's hope they will keep up the good work.

Altar prayer was offered by Rev. B. Johnson; followed by another song and scripture which was read by Rev. C. Marshall. He read Psalm 37th. Prayer was offered by Rev. Michael Matthews. Another song, "Life Is Like A Mountain Railroad."

Responsive reading was led by Sister Swain, with the congregation standing.

The morning hymn was "Trust And Obey."

Pastoral observations were given by Rev. Moton.

The Supt. of the Sunday School, Deacon Swain, gave words of thanks to Sunday School officers. A job well done this year.

Another song, "Somewhere Around God's Throne."

The sermon of the morning was preached by Rev. Moton. His subject was "Just Want To Ask The Question, Are You That Enemy God Is Talking About."

Just can't explain it. You just should have been present.

The rest of the services were as usual.

During the 3:00 p. m. services, Brother Tyrone Howard preached his first sermon. He is a grandson of Brother & Sister John Howard. Let us pray for him.

Sunday, November 8, 1992, is the Pastor's Anniversary Hour, beginning at 3:00 p. m. Special guest will be Rev. W. D. Davis and Lyon: Chapel Baptist Church.

Saturday, November 14, 1992, New Hope is invited to worship with St. Luke Baptist Church at 11:00 a. m. in the celebration of Women's Day. Pastor Moton will bring the message of the hour.

How To Turn Six Numbers Into Six Figures.

Nowhere in the history of the world has there ever been any real significance to the number six.

There were never SIX Musketeers.

There was never any movie entitled the Magnificent SIX. Nobody ever says, "Hey, homeboy, slap me SIX." There are no mentions of the big SIX automakers, and so on and so forth.

So, for the first time in the history of the world, lowly SIX is about to be elevated to a much higher level. Elevated, in fact, to millions, in a new type of game. Read on, it gets easier.

LOTTO Texas is a new game from the Texas Lottery.

It's fun, it's exciting and it's easy to play.

You pick six numbers from one to fifty, and should you happen to pick the same six numbers that come up during the drawings, then you could win millions of dollars.

Now, the long version on how to play LOTTO Texas:

Step number one. Go to your LOTTO Texas retailer. You can only play where you see the red and yellow sign that says LOTTO Texas.

It shouldn't be a big problem.

There are thousands of LOTTO Texas retailers all over the state. Look at the lower right-hand part of this page. That is our new logo. (We're quite proud.) Wherever you see that sign, you know you can play LOTTO Texas.

Still with us? Great.

Step number two. While you are at the retailer, pick up a playslip. There's a picture of it on this page. You may find the playslip in a stand called a play station. If not, just ask for one. Step number three. (My, we are moving right along now, aren't we?) Choose SIX of the numbers on the playslip from one to fifty. You can also play up to five times on each playslip. You must completely fill in the numbers you choose on the playslip with a BLACK OR BLUE BALLPOINT PEN OR A PENCIL ONLY. The pencil below is free, and it will work quite nicely. Also, do not erase any of the mistakes you make. Just fill in the VOID box on that play and you will not be charged for it.

Step number four. (Past the halfway mark.) Take a dollar (that's how much it costs to play LOTTO Texas) and give it and the playslip to the retailer. In just a few seconds, you will be handed a ticket that verifies which numbers you picked. Please remember; sign the back of your ticket so no one else can cash it in.

Step number five. You can tune in to the televised drawings on Wednesday and Saturday nights at 9:58 p.m. CST to see how well you did. If you picked all six of the numbers that are randomly chosen on the ball machine, then you could be a millionaire.

If you miss the drawing, those numbers will be posted the next day at all LOTTO Texas retailers and in your local newspaper.

The jackpots are paid out to the winners in 20 annual installments. You can also win second and third prizes by matching five out of six numbers or four out of six numbers. Match three out of six and you'll win $3 automatically. If you win up to $599, you can collect your prize at any LOTTO Texas retailer. All winnings of $600 or more can be claimed at any of the Texas Lottery claim centers in any of the cities listed on the back of a How To Play brochure for LOTTO Texas. (That list is a little long for this ad.) You will also find the odds printed in that brochure. You can claim prizes through the mail, as well, by using a claim form that you pick up from any Texas Lottery retailer. Please make copies of the front and the back of your ticket before you send it in. The Texas Lottery is not responsible for tickets lost in the mail. All prizes must be claimed within 180 days of the drawing.

Finally, LOTTO Texas can be played up to 10 drawings (five weeks) in advance. If you want to play the same numbers for several drawings in a row, fill in the multi-draw box on your playslip with however many drawings you would like to play. You must be 18 years or older to play. And when you are watching the televised drawings, your heart may pound a little. Your palms may sweat. Please do remember to have fun.

Opportunities Unlimited

A Black Success Story

Elizabeth Wright

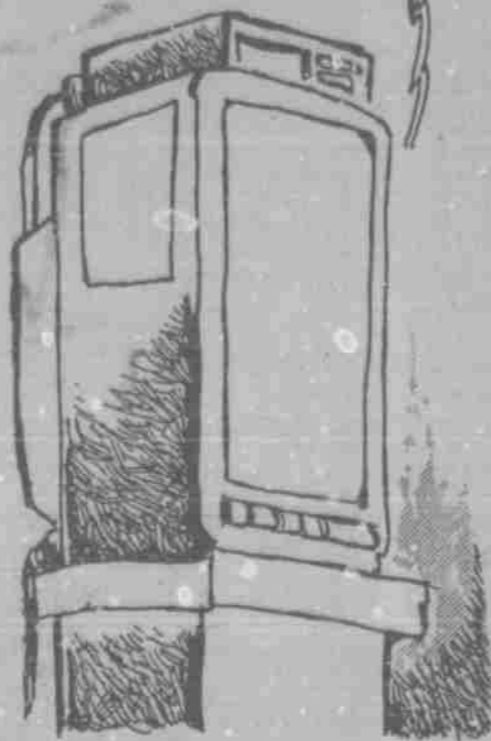

Members of REACH now own about 2,000 acres of farmland, spread out in places like Epes, Alabama and Decatur, Mississippi, where they grow crops that are sold on the wholesale market and which they also process for retail selling. From their farms they stock much of the produce in their stores and provide the meats and vegetables required by their restaurants. They own the spacious, comfortable South Fork Restaurant in Eutaw, Alabama (a popular stopover for truck drivers looking for home-style cooking), separate delis in Livingston and York, Alabama, a gas station in Livingston, and a meat processing plant in Meridian.

Welfare Has Made Invalids of Blacks

The man Luke Edwards who, with his wife, lives in a modest, 20-foot trailer on REACH farmland and has no personal bank account, is up every morning at 3:00 a.m. After hours of work in the fields, he may check in on the nearby school dormitory under construction by REACH members, and later go to the office for messages or to handle correspondence. Afternoons are spent again in the fields or tending to the routine business of the community. Edwards is a man of opinion. "So many preachers teach that the Lord is going to come down and deliver us. The Lord isn't going to deliver you. He comes and dwells within you to give you the ability to deliver yourself. Deliverance is up to you."

He is a staunch believer in the potential inherent in America and the unlimited opportunities that are here for blacks. He is grateful that Jim Crow "justice" was broken in the South, so that blacks now have greater mobility and freedom to keep what they create. "The good that came out of Dr. King's movement is that we now have legal leverage against such people like those in the Klan. They are now restrained from coming in here and burning down our crops and homes and everything we've built."

A 29 yr. old black male was killed and his black friend seriously injured while walking thru a black neighborhood...

Police was arrested a young black male in connection with the crime. More black on black news after these messages...

He is angry that the black masses, freed from their former servitude, now find themselves captives of another form of slavery, promoted mainly by other blacks. "Welfare has made invalids out of us. After the civil rights movement there was enough money given to all these counties in Alabama and Mississippi and throughout the South to release black people from poverty, if that money had been applied correctly. Instead, blacks used their own people to undermine such efforts, and they're still doing it today."

His assessment of black politicians is severe. "What bothers me most about these politicians is that they use the grassroots black to get political clout for themselves. We were taken in by the black politician in the first place. They claimed that we needed black representation and even though none of them had any track records, we voted them in. Now that they're in, they just continue to attack, and don't even know what they're in office for. They're only there because they're black."

Like growing numbers of Americans who recognize the economically destructive force of particular government regulations, especially on small business owners, Edwards exhorts black politicians to attend to these issues. "In place of doing research and finding out what we really need, these politicians just continue to attack. They should be working to clear up some of those laws that hurt us, all these regulations on our backs. They talk a good game, but they never do anything."

Crazy Horse

by Steph C. McIntyre

For some reason this story did not make the front page of the local republican daily newspaper. Buried deep in the back of the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal on Halloween morning was the report that the FDIC seized control of First City Bancorporation of Texas on Friday afternoon. It was the eighth largest bank failure in U.S. history. The bank failure last Friday brought the total of 104 for 1992. There are a lot more coming in December after the elections. I guess the story was too scary to report on the front page.

- 11/10 1924 -- Society for Human Rights, the first American gay, rights organization is founded in Chicago.
- 11/11 1885 -- Dr. Pepper introduced, Waco.
- 11/13 1856 -- Louis D. Brandeis born.
- 1933 -- First recorded sitdown strike, Hormel Packing Co., Austin, Minn.
- 1974 -- Karen Silkwood murdered
- 11/14 1916 -- Margaret Sanger arrested for operating a birth control clinic.

A Guatemalan Indian was awarded the Nobel Peace Prize a couple weeks ago. She is about 35 years old. As I recall, no one in her family was able to see her receive the award because they had all been slaughtered by government security forces in the ongoing 30 year annihilation of the Indians in northern Guatemala. Except for a brief time when Jimmy Carter condemned the government for human rights abuses the government has enjoyed steady support from Reagan/Bush. The right wing Guatemalan government actively campaigned against her receiving the award.

The peace in El Salvador is falling apart. The right wing government supported by Reagan/Bush refuses to dismantle the death squads. Murders are on the rise again and the rebels are now refusing to put down their guns.

The UN ambassador to Somalia resigned last week. He resigned not because of the problems in Somalia or because he was overwhelmed by the job. He quit because of the lack of interest and response to the needs of Somalia by the UN. I guess he did to want to be part of the First World charade. In the mean time, while plans are being expedited for the anticipated problems and needed care for the

Dear Editor:

I am writing this letter in support of Bely's Night Club after the alleged Friday night incident (October 2, 1992). I go to Bely's on a regular basis and I have never seen any kind of racial discrimination there.

There are Black artists that sing guest spots with the band and most of the songs performed are by Black artists. I've seen every kind of race there and they are all treated equally. I want to add that Larry Simmons has never been anything other than a true gentleman who's very courteous and

CHARLES J. GIVENS MONEY STRATEGIES

A man from Idaho recently asked about deducting his wife's wages since she works for his business.

He can take a deduction on a Schedule C, Business Profit and Loss, as wages paid. Other expenses also deductible: life insurance, health insurance, tuition for job-related education, job related travel and entertainment.

He must follow several rules to get full benefit of the deductions. The same rules apply to any family member who works for you. Family members must do the work for which they are paid. You can pay a family member a deductible salary of up to the amount you would pay a non-family member to do the same job. The pay cannot be excessive for the work performed. You must pay someone outside the family at least minimum wage, so no matter how menial the job, minimum wage is not unreasonable.

Salaries paid to children under 18 are not subject to Social Security tax. No federal income tax withholding is required if the family member is paid less than $3,000 per year. You are not required to pay federal unemployment insurance on family members. Salaries are treated as tax deductible wages by you as the employer. The money is taxable income for your family member. You lose any tax advantage if you pay wages to a family member who is in a higher tax bracket than you. Pay must be periodic. Pay your wife or other family member by check at least once a month, as you would any other employee. Even though money you pay a spouse is a tax "wash," your spouse can then put up to the first $2,000 in a fully deductible IRA account.

State Participates In Lubbock Landscaping

People driving along Interstate 27 at the Atzlan/MacKenzie Park crossover will soon get an eyeful of native Texas flora.

That Texas Department of Transportation (TxDOT) entered into an agreement with the city of Lubbock through the department's Landscape Cost Sharing Program to landscape the crossover. The Texas Transportation Commission authorized the agreement in its October meeting.

"The city of Lubbock committed more than $56,000 to the project for the design, plants, labor, and irrigation," said Mel Pope, TxDOT's district engineer in Lubbock. "The department wants to cooperate with their efforts by obligating $22,184 in state funds to help them purchase the plants. People visiting Lubbock and MacKenzie Park will see a carefully landscaped crossover that highlights our state's native plants."

TxDOT's vegetation management policy emphasizes the use of native plants in highway landscaping projects.

The Outreach Prayer Breakfast

Members of the Outreach Prayer Breakfast would like to remind all African-Americans that this whole world, you are looking for answers in all the wrong places. A nation that forgets God. What happened?

Philip 2:14 -- in everything you do, stay away from complaining and arguing, so that no one can speak a word of blame against you. You are to live clean, innocent, lives as children of God in a dark world full of people who are crooked and stubborn. Shine out among them like beacon lights. Holding out to them the word. The answer is clear how can anyone not see it.

(Read II Chronicles 7:14)

I'm sure you voted now go down on your knees and vote for Jesus to watch over this nation. That's all we have. And no weapon that's formed against us will prosper. Isaiah 54:17.

No matter how dark things seem. Let's take our eyes off the darkness and keep them forward on God. Can you remember what happened to Peter, when he walked on the water???

Think about it.

A very important meeting will be held Saturday at 9:00 a. m. Please be present at 2132 East 30th Street. If you can't make it, call 762-3347.

And continue to pray for us, and all of those who need prayer. It works.

And keep smiling, Lubbock, others will take notice. You can make it! We will survive. "Love you!"

Musical Pew Rally

Slaton, Tx. -- The members of Gospel Chapel African Methodist Episcopal Church are inviting their many friends to attend their "Musical Pew Rally" Sunday afternoon, November 8, 1992, beginning at 3:00 p. m.

"We are inviting our sister churches to come out and help us fill up Gospel Chapel, and praise the Lord with us," says Rev. Ralph Nathan, pastor.

FROM THE OF
PARSON D. A. SMITH

"He went forth, and saw a publican, named Levi, sitting at the receipt of custom; and he said unto him, Follow me. And he left all, rose up, and followed him." Luke 5:27-28.

Our Lord Jesus is wonderful. He is wonderful because of his divinity. He heals the sick, cleanses the leper, gives sight to the blind, and raises the dead to life. He is wonderful as teacher, incomparable both in his manner and message. He is wonderful as he stands in kingly elegance before Pilate and the people. But the wonder of all is seen in his care for, and the companionship with those stained by sin, those that were determined to be reprobates, and those whom were rejected by society. Listen at the tenderness of his voice as he calls those who are troubled and burdened to come to him for rest. Look at the beauty in the way that he handled women who were tainted by wrongdoing. Look at him in the home of publicans and sinners. Listen to his words spoken in the agony of death while on the cross to a thief: "Today shalt thou be with me in paradise." It is this kind of compassion that makes known to humans that Jesus' humanity was based upon divinity.

God calls people that are actively engaged or occupied to do his wonderful work: Moses, the shepherd; Shamgar, Elisha and Gideon, the farmers; James and John, Andrew and Peter, the fishermen; Luke, the physician; and Levi, the tax collector.

Levi heard the voice of Jesus saying, "Follow me." He could not and would not resist that wonderful voice. He turned his back on his old life. By doing so, he demonstrated his penitence. He was willing to suffer hardship in order that he might find salvation. Levi, the publican, becomes Matthew, the apostle. The despised sinner is transformed into a saint.

In the building of the Church, our Lord used moral rubbish. A publican like Levi, a traitor like Peter, are at its very foundation. And as always our Lord transforms those who submit themselves to him. Have you given your life to him? If not, give Jesus a chance to come into your life!

St. Matthew Baptist News

Sister Imatha Isaac

Sunday School opened at 9:45 a. m. last Sunday morning with the supt. and teachers were in charge of a very good lesson. The lesson was well taught.

During the 11:00 a. m. worship services began with the Deacons in charge. Altar call prayer was offered by Rev. W. Jackson. Jesus had to pray. So do we. The Senior Choir followed with the singing of songs of praise.

Pastor R. S. Stanley brought very uplifting sermon. His title of the sermon was "I Am Going Through." The scripture text was I Corinthians 1:7-9. "We should all strive to go through with Jesus."

During the 3:00 p. m. services, the Ushers presented their annual program. Everyone present enjoyed it very much. Thanks is given to all who helped us to have such wonderful programs.

Let's pray for all. Prayer is so important. Don't exclude anything or anybody, but include it all. This writer, Mrs. Isaac, is still emphasizing love. Love, Love, Love. As Christians we of really loving one another, in loving as we should, this talked a lot about it. God is love; Jesus loves us; I love you. But we fail woefully short would be a better place to live.

May God bless you all.

DEAR DIALOGUE: I'm trying to teach my kids good hygiene. Do you have any tips to show them how to wash their hands so they can avoid infection?

M.C., Chicago, Ill.

DEAR M.C.: Hand washing can help prevent the spread of disease-causing germs that could result in illness and sick time from school or work. Here are some tips for the proper way to do it.

- Use soap (an antibacterial liquid soap is preferred) and warm running water.
- Scrub hands vigorously for at least 30 seconds, paying special attention to the back of the hands, wrists, between fingers and under fingernails. A nail brush helps.
- Rinse well and dry hands with a clean paper or cloth towel. Change towels often so they don't harbor germs. If a family member has a cold or flu, reserve one towel for their use only.
- In public rest rooms, use a paper towel to turn off the water.
- If possible, use your elbow to open the public rest room door on your way out. That way, you emerge with clean hands.

DEAR DIALOGUE: Is there really a way to cook hamburger to eliminate the fat?

LN, Los Angeles, Calif.

DEAR LN.: Well, you can begin with hamburger made from leaner cuts such as round and sirloin steak, but that's expensive. Some experimenters at the University of Minnesota tell how to reduce the fat content of regular ground beef from 27 to just 7 percent. Brown broken up meat in non-stick pan. Pour off fat. Run hot water over meat. Again drain. That makes it just right for low-fat chili or spaghetti sauce.

DEAR DIALOGUE: I am 60 years old and I seem to bruise more readily than I did when I was 20 and playing tackle football. Is that normal? I never got bruises back then, even when I got battered.

J.D., Culver City, Calif.

DEAR J.D.: Dialogue asked a skin doctor and he said, "Welcome to another penalty for growing older." Bruise marks, more obvious in light-skinned races, form when tiny blood vessels near the surface of the skin are broken by a blow. Bruises are seldom serious enough to worry about, and will clear up on their own in a week or two. Yes, you're more susceptible when you're older. But frequent bruises can also signal a more serious problem. Check with your doctor.

Endodontists Get to the Root of Tooth Pain

The pain you feel when you sip hot cocoa, bite down on a hard piece of candy or taste that first spoonful of ice cream could be minor and harmless. Or, it could be the sign of a dental problem.

More than half of all Americans have sensitive teeth — teeth that hurt when they come in contact with hot, cold, sweet or salty foods — and for most of them, the pain doesn't mean the tooth is damaged or diseased. But if the pain lasts more than a few minutes, it could mean a trip to an endodontist is in order, according to the American Association of Endodontists (AAE).

Endodontists are dentists who specialize in root canal procedures and the diagnosis and treatment of oral pain. They have completed a minimum of two years advanced training after graduating from dental school.

The AAE has created a booklet, called the Tooth Pain Guide, to help consumers identify different types of oral pain and know when to seek professional help. For example, if that pain caused by heat or cold persists for several minutes or more, it could be a sign that the pulp — the soft inner tissue of the tooth that contains nerves and blood vessels — has been damaged by decay or perhaps a blow to the tooth. Other signs of pulp damage include sore or swollen gums, discoloration of the tooth or sensitivity to touch or pressure.

If the pulp tissue is damaged, root canal therapy can often relieve the pain and save the tooth. An endodontist cleans, fills and seals the canal with a non-toxic material that prevents bacteria from reentering. The general dentist then places a crown on the tooth.

Root canal therapy has a greater than 90 percent success rate, and modern techniques and anesthetics have made the treatment virtually painless. The treatment is less expensive than having the tooth extracted and replaced with a bridge. Most dental insurance policies cover the procedure.

The Tooth Pain Guide not only helps consumers recognize other types of oral pain, such as pain that may be caused by sinus problems, cracked fillings or tooth grinding, but also offers suggestions on how to get relief. For example, over-the-counter sinus medication may alleviate a sinus headache that feels like a toothache and wearing a mouth guard at night can help prevent tooth grinding. Teeth that are sensitive to heat and cold may be helped by special toothpastes.

The AAE also recommends that any oral pain be reported to a dentist or endodontist to rule out a problem that might become worse if ignored.

Readers can receive a free copy of the AAE's Tooth Pain Guide by sending a self-addressed, stamped, business-sized envelope to the American Association of Endodontists, 211 E. Chicago Ave., Suite 1400, Dept. M., Chicago, Ill., 60611.
