Deadline Nears for Emergency Housing Applications Here in Lubbock Says FHA

Glenn Bailey, Director of the Lubbock FHA Insuring Office, announced last week a termination date for accepting applications for Emergency Housing for Lubbock and surrounding towns. The last day applications will be accepted, according to instructions received from the HUD Area Office in Dallas, will be October 30, 1970. This will allow all eligible families time to make application for emergency housing before the October 30 cut-off date. Mr. Bailey emphasized the Emergency Housing Program provides temporary housing to disaster victims for one year maximum or until disaster victims can obtain permanent housing. The present rental policies for Lubbock Disaster Relief Housing will remain in effect until May 12, 1971. No emergency housing will be available after that date.

Recently Angela Davis, 6-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hall of 2627 East Auburn Street, was crowned Little Miss Future Fashionetta of 1970. Angela is a first grade student at Bozeman Elementary School.

The first runner-up to Miss Future Fashionetta is Tanya Renee Baldwin, 4-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Baldwin of 2018 East 28th Street.

Miss Future Fashionetta was sponsored by the Eta Delta Omega Chapter of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Inc. The Fashionetta is a national project of Alpha Kappa Alpha, Inc., presented to aid the organizations' scholarship fund.

CAA Youth Program Established Here

The Community Action Agency of Lubbock has gained another arm in reaching the people. For the past several months a youth program has been in operation to help that neglected portion of the population. The C.A.A. Youth Development Program is attempting to further the opportunities of area youth. Through educational and financial endeavors the C.A.A. hopes to initiate the program to better younger people.

In the past years there has only been a "crash" summer program, but, as of this fiscal year, a complete year round youth program will be conducted in Lubbock. The number one priority of the youth program is youth involvement in economic development. To solicit this involvement, the program is currently setting up youth councils in the following areas: Parkway, Arnett Benson, Guadalupe, Mae Simmons and Chris Harwell.

The objective of these councils, made up of young people age 14 to 25, is to give the young people an active voice in what programs will be started in their areas.

Anyone interested in involvement in these councils should contact John Norwood or Kathy Addison at 763-5261.

Roslyn Elaine Williams, Texas Tech University junior, has been chosen as a finalist in the Tech Homecoming Queen contest.

Miss Williams, a microbiology and pre-med major, was one of 12 girls chosen by the student body out of a field of 45 contestants.

The attractive young co-ed is from Dallas, Texas, and the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. R. Williams.

She was nominated by S.O.U.L., the Student Organization for Unity and Leadership.

S.O.U.L. is "designed to serve as a means of social expression and to provide a medium for participation in college activities. It affords an opportunity for identity to the newly enrolled Negro student".

The queen was selected in a final election on Wednesday, Oct. 21st.

Homecoming weekend at Tech, October 23-24, will be filled with bonfires, pep rallies, parades, receptions, reunions, dinners and dances.

Football on Saturday will see the Texas Tech Red Raiders clash with the Mustangs of SMU. Homecoming queen will be crowned during the half-time activities.

Miss Williams is a member of Delta Sigma Theta, a newly colonized service sorority on the Tech campus, and is also a member of S.O.U.L.

Voters Must Change Address by Nov. 30

If persons displaced by the May 11th tornado expect to vote in the November 3rd general election, they must change their registration address at least four days before the election.

Any person wishing to change his address for voting must take his present registration receipt to the tax office (located in the Court House building) on or before October 30th.

The regulation applies to anyone who has moved his residence within the county since registering.

This does not remove the fact that anyone could not still be eligible to return to their original voting precinct to vote if they desired and if their registration address has not been moved.

Let's Get Out and Vote!

By T. J. Patterson

It is time for us to get out and vote come Tuesday, November 3rd! This election, which will feature the replacement of a U. S. Senator, choosing of a governor, state officials, and county commissioner, could very well be the start of something big for the black people in our community for the 70's, if we turn out in great numbers.

We may as well face facts and call a spade a spade. The white man is tired of us complaining, asking and begging for things and then not being willing to stand up for what we believe. If you don't believe me, remember that nothing is given to anyone that is worthwhile—we must work for what we want, together!

We all know that the white folks do not need anybody to remind them that they are men. Yet, we do!! We need to start showing the white man that there are so many things we can do, and vote is one of the most important. Many of us used to think that protocol and common sense required that black people stand back and let the white man speak for us, defend us, and lead us from behind the scenes in our fight. This has been the essence of black politics. To hell with that! It's time for a drastic change in regard to black people's thinking toward politics. Let's get off our knees and fight our own battles. This is the only way to win back our self-respect. And if the white man continues to try to keep us from becoming men, at least we can die like true American men, fighting the system at the polls.

Going to the polls on November 3rd can be a means of exercising what is right. Many times as black people we do not challenge, on the spot, every instance of racism, overt or covert, committed against us or our people. But, in many cases, we choose instead to swallow our spit and go on smiling, and in doing this we become "Oreos".

Now we know that we are guilty of these actions, and we also know what happens to black people who stick their necks out and say things. And if we believe all the lies we tell ourselves, and then see these lies in print, everyone would acclaim that because it was printed it was one of the greatest chapters in the history of man's justifiable cowardance in the face of other men.

As men, let's begin snatching our lies away. Let's start shouting the painful truth that whites as well as blacks do not want to hear. And let's stop doing these things because it's easy, the easy way out!

The other day, I had an opportunity to read a recent report made by the U. S. Civil Rights Commission involving a survey of racial employment patterns. It showed, without confusion, that minority group workers (emphasis on blacks) usually hold the menial jobs of government (public jurisdictions). The survey showed that we (blacks) are street cleaners, trash collectors, janitors, hospital orderlies, elevator operators and night watchmen. Few achieve white-collar status. Those who do usually become clerks, typists, or low grade technical personnel in hospitals and related health services.

With this happening this day and time—and being able to witness the same pattern in our community, it should awaken you to the fact that we must quit fooling ourselves and start doing something about it, especially at the polls. True, there are not many on the ballot for November 3rd running for local offices, but we can begin to show a positive pattern which could very well bring about a good beginning here in West Texas.

I'm sure you're tired of being taken for granted about a lot of things. Prove to the local and state people that you are not going to be taken for granted any longer. Prove to the many politicians who must answer to the voters that the black can vote in great numbers come November 3rd.

my views

By Eddie P. Richardson

Recently I have been threatened, talked about, and talked to by leaders, so-called leaders, a few ministers and others about the way I present "My Views" and who I choose to talk about. In the past week I have been told that if I do not stop saying all the "nasty" things I say, then certain people in our community will see to it that the West Texas Times is put out of business. I have to tell it like it is. I cannot say something is good when it is not, nor am I able to see someone or some group take credit for something that they did not do. I do not intend to let anyone get by with fooling the people, just because some people have told me I should do the same thing. And believe me, when I do see something good done by someone in our community, I certainly will tell that also—which is what I am going to try to do this week.

I mentioned last week that the editor and I visited with the Ministerial Alliance of East Lubbock last week. As was brought out in a news story in last week's paper, the alliance stated that there would be an endeavor on their part to take a more active part in the affairs of the entire community. Superintendent M. J. Alexander, president of the alliance for this year, stated that he as president of the alliance wanted to go on record as moving ahead and working with the community and to also work and meet with various groups of the community to help solve the problems of the people here. Most of the ministers present at the meeting agreed that the local ministers had been "kind of foot dragging", but they were ready to move ahead. Now if that isn't good progress within our community, I really don't know what is.

I would personally like to see a Jessie Jackson, Andrew Young, Jessie Bevel or Martin L. King emerge here. It would really be beautiful. We have the potential here, and I am the first to say I would like to see it developed.

If the ministers are as ready to move as they claim they are then it is time to build a fire under the teachers, and the other professional or "white collar" people in the black community, along with the various organizations we have functioning here.

Someway, somehow, every organization and group in the community must be made aware that unity and cooperation is what is necessary if we are ever going to help our people. This includes the ministers, the teachers, sororities, fraternities, the federation of choirs, social and civic clubs, and the youngsters of our community.

This is the idea and reason behind the United Black Coalition and I believe that many of you who have never attended a meeting of this group would enjoy the speaker that will be present tonight, and I personally feel sure he has an idea that would be beneficial to the entire community. If you have the chance come on out, you needn't worry about being asked to join, we just want some interested people to see what we are trying to do for East Lubbock and its citizens.

Incidentally, the Times plans to be in business for a long time yet, but if you have any opinions, write to me, "My Views", % West Texas Times, Box 225, Lubbock, Texas 79408.

Austin—Tax-free financial incentives are recommended by Texas' top officials to lure new industry to the Lone Star state.

Gov. Preston Smith did come out for the added attraction at no cost to taxpayers. Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes said he agreed that revenue bonds to help pay industry finance locations would be the preferred route for legislation.

Both men spoke here at the governor's annual conference on industrial expansion.

Smith also advocated a pre-employment industrial training program to fill the need for trained labor. He pledged his efforts to maintain a favorable tax climate for industrial development.

James W. McGrew, Texas Research League director, underscored the importance of the recommendations when he told the conference that Texas will need to provide 600,000 new jobs because of the predicted population increase during the next decade.

Sponsored by the Texas Industrial Commission and hosted by Governor Smith, the conference honored six industries for expansion and economic impact on their communities during 1969.

Down To Earth Is Voter Apathy A Sin?

By Jimmy R. Allen

Periodically politicians and editorial writers lament the dry rot of apathy which threatens the functioning of a democracy. And well they might.

Of the 7,800,000 adult Texans estimated by the Bureau of Business Research at the University of Texas, only 4,000,000 have bothered to register to vote. Of these 4,000,000 registered voters, only 3,790,406 voted in the top voting attraction of all—the presidential race in 1968. The apathy of citizens about the democratic process is disturbing.

The religious dimension of this apathy lies in whether a failure to vote is sinful. The Bible says nothing of citizens' dissipation in voting processes. This kind of development had not occurred in government during biblical times. The nearest counterpart to it was the Greek form of democracy which was limited to a few hundred persons. It is obvious that New Testament Christians decided their own business with prayerful participation in democratic procedures.

Principles, however, are revealed in the Bible about being responsible for opportunity. "To him that knoweth to do good and doeth it not, to him it is sin." (James 4:17)

Harvey Cox, controversial evangelical theologian, claims that the basic sin of all humanity is not proud rebellion against God. It is the far-less dramatic and less noble sin of sloth. It is refusal to accept our responsibility. It is lethargy in which we quietly abandon struggle to take charge of the universe which God has committed to our care.

Cox's provocative book, On Not Leaving It to the Snake, calls for men to move aggressively to the role God designed for them.

The man who fails to vote on any issue of moral content gives assent by his silence to things which damage man.

Lives destroyed by drunken drivers result from voter apathy if liquor outlets are allowed to continue to increase. Alcohol related deaths on American highways each year outnumbered all American deaths in Vietnam since the beginning of the war. Children, blighted by poverty and having no place to play, manufacture their thrills in street gangs while apathetic voters fail to act on bond issues for parks.

Petty politicians captured by special interests detrimental to public good ride in on the wave of voter apathy.

If sin indeed means "missing the mark" (the Greek word for sin), the failure to vote qualifies. Edmund Burke summarized it well "the only thing necessary for evil to prevail is for good men to do nothing."

Police Beat

House Burglary

Mrs. Harriet Evans, 1712 East 13th Street, reported to the Lubbock Police Department that someone unknown entered her house. According to Mrs. Evans, a stereo record player, valued at $200.00, and two records were taken.

It is believed that the persons entered through the bathroom window which was missing at the time of investigation.

Simple Assault

Yes, there is something called "simple assault." If you ask Charles Jones of Reese Air Force Base, he'll tell you that a trio of strong men did commit "simple assault" on him one night last week when they struck him over the forehead with a bottle.

It is believed that he knows who the men were, however at this time they were not in custody.

Aggravated Assault

In another case of assault, Lubbock police were summoned to Methodist Hospital in regard to a man who apparently had been in a fight. The victim, Josha Stubblefield, told police that he was on his way home when everything broke loose. He was in the 2800 block of East 28th Street when an unknown person threw bottles or bits of glass at him.

As a result, Mr. Stubblefield was treated for several facial cuts.

Afro-American History tidbits for busy newspaper readers: 732 B.C. Piankhy was informed by courier that a Libyan prince from the Delta was marching south. Piankhy waited for the Libyan to get as far as possible from his base. When he reached Hermopolis, 400 miles south of the Mediterranean, Piankhy started the attack, assembling an army at Napata, and ordered them to march northward to Thebes. Finally, he himself joined his armies, swept through Egypt, and received the submission of sixteen princes.

In 700 B.C. (circa) Kashta's son, Piankhy, completed the conquest of Egypt, and became ruler of a land which stretched from the shores of the Mediterranean to the borders of Modern Ethiopia, almost a quarter of the African continent.

Youngsters Establish East Side Youth Council

By Billy Pride

The East Side Youth Council was first organized October 11, 1970, at the Multi-Service Center.

This council is designed especially for you, as well as for me. In this council we will try solving different problems in our community and try making it a better community. But, this is only the beginning of the program. We will have many activities as well as projects to keep us busy. We'll also have many money raising projects and later on we may start a business on our own. So you see, we'll be really moving and doing it. Each and everyone of you can come to our council meetings to see for yourself what is happening. We also have membership cards for those who wish to become members.

Let me get to the point—the purpose of the council is to get our community together!

As you all know Halloween is coming and the East Side Youth Council will be brewing in and selling plenty of this Halloween candy, which will be our first project. Mrs. Will Knapp has been on the sick list for the past few days. Know what I think? I think she and Mrs. Lyons talked and ate too much while she (Mrs. Knapp) was visiting in Lubbock recently.

Now that winter is coming on or maybe I should say is here, some of my paper boys have said they will have to quit due to the weather, so if you do not get your paper please call me and give me your address and I will see that you get a paper. Faith

By Bertha L. Dixon
President of Nurse's Guild

"Faith's greatest obstacle," 1st Peter 4:12-16, 19. Doubt leave many minds untouched. One universal human experience sooner or later faces serious life questions about God's goodness. We meet trouble in ourselves or others, often times we wonder why.

Faith can transform the future. Every tomorrow has two handles. We can take hold of fear by the handle of faith.

Let Us Pray

O'Dear God, we lift our eyes upward this day that we might see beyond this world of man made power, seeking a greater love than ours and give to us faith, Amen.

Bethel A.M.E. Church

Sunday, October 11th marked the beginning of our First Quarterly Conference for this conference year. Presiding Elder T. B. Reece was reappointed to head the district. He and his wife were present, but due to a recent illness, he was unable to preach.

The Senior Choir presented special numbers for the morning and evening services.

The business session of the Quarter was held Monday, October 12th, at 8 p.m. Brother J. H. Wilson led in conducting the devotion and Brother W. H. Stephens led the prayer with members of the Conference responding with Bible quotations.

Again the Elder was indisposed and the session was brief. Pastor A. W. Wilson outlined some of the work we hope to get to move on soon.

Reports were heard and the session was closed.

Services were nicely attended and music was furnished by Pamela Cunningham and Olympia Melton and the Youth Choir.

Mrs. Maunita Terrell and Mrs. H. King were appointed to the Trustee Board. A clean-up, paint-up campaign is underway at Bethel. The exact date has not yet been set.
