Candida Johnson is no rookie when it comes to pageants. She has held several state and national titles. That's why it was no surprise when she announced she was hosting the "First Annual Little Miss East Lubbock" to showcase East Lubbock's most talented little darlings.

The girls will be competing in interview, modeling and facial beauty.

Darius Luckey will serve as Master of Ceremonies.

Special guest appearances will feature "Little Miss Texas Princes; Little Miss Future Fashionista, Natalia Johnson, Little Miss Texas USA, Michelle Todd; Diamond Miss Talent & Modeling, Queen Tiffani Zueck; and Ana Stasia Knuckles, Little Miss Universal Pageants of America Talent and Modeling Queen.

Judges will be Heath Harris, Yvette Mangium, Lisa Plameriz, Miss Fiesta 1992, Nora Hutchinson; Dorothy Norman, Marlene Hernandez, Margaret Rondell, Elena Leos, and Miss Fiesta 1990, and Dorothy Phea.

The "1st Annual" extravaganza will showcase 22 Lubbock's most beautiful and talented young ladies.

The public is asked to come out to this affair on Friday night, May 29, 1992 at Mae Simmons Community Center, beginning at 7:00 p. m.

Possible Lawsuit Brewing Against LISD??

The Southwest Digest has been told confidentially that yet another lawsuit against the Lubbock Independent School District, regarding the closing of Dunbar-Struggs High School as a high school, is in the making.

When this information was received, among others, the Southwest Digest contacted a member of the Dunbar International Alumni Association, who stated that he was aware of such a move, but the Association was not presently involved.

He went on to add, "I have been contacted more that once regarding this (suit), but is my understanding that the Association will try to resolve this situation through mediation and cooperation with LISD administration and trustees."

The Southwest Digest definitely supports Dunbar being kept a high school, even more so now, and it is the feeling of the majority of Lubbock!

There is no justifiable reason, according to the Southwest Digest, to destroy this great situation.

The Southwest Digest would hope that the trustees and school superintendent will take immediate steps to correct one of the biggest mistakes of this present school administration.

The Southwest Digest would hope there would be no law suit, and that the LISD would make a positive contribution to this effort.

It is a pleasant fact that you will know no man long, however low in the social scale, however poor, miserable, intemperate, and worthless he may appear to be, a mere burden to society, but you will find at last that there is something which he understands and can do better than any other.

—Henry David Thoreau

Patterson Receives SBA Award

Mayor Pro Tem T. A. Patterson, right, is shown with Walter Fronstin, District Director of the U. S. Small Business Administration, receiving the "Minority Small Business Advocate of the Year Award" for the SBA's Lubbock District last week.

A Small Business Weeks Awards Reception, hosted by the Texas Tech Small Business Development Center, was held during the ceremonies.

Patterson was chosen out of participants in 71 counties in West Texas.

Memorial Services Set For Felicia Phenix

Elder P. B. Phenix

The public is invited to attend a Memorial Service in honor of the late Felicia Carol Phenix on Saturday, May 30, 1992 at 8:00 p. m. at the Tree of Life Sanctuary COGIC, next pastor is Supt. R. L. Caro.

This special effort is being given by Elder David G. Phenix, Brother Percy B. Phenix, and the members of the Station No. 1 COGIC. Pastor is Elder P. B. Phenix.

Dunbar-Struggs High School senior Waylon Craig Moore has been chosen as the recipient of the Hub City Kiwanis college scholarship. The $350 scholarship was awarded based on Mr. Moore's outstanding service to both the school and community, as well as his high academic standing. He was also recommended for the scholarship by members of the Dunbar-Struggs faculty.

Craig has been very successful in high school. He is currently ranked 10th in his class of 144, and has a grade point average of 3.69. His teachers find him insightful and quick to master new skills. He has been very active in extra-curricular activities.

He has been president and vice-president of the Key Club, a member of the French Club, and Dunbar Against Drugs. He has played varsity football, varsity basketball, competed on the Science Team and Math Team where he has won numerous awards.

He has been an honor roll student all through school, and has recently won awards in Chemistry and Analytic Geometry. He was nominated as a Tandy Technology Scholar. He will graduate with honors.

Craig has been active in the Boys' Club for twelve years. Estacado High School senior Hollie Haynes has been chosen as the recipient of the Hub City Kiwanis college scholarship. The $350 scholarship was awarded based on Ms. Haynes outstanding service to both the school and community, and her high academic standing. She was also recommended for the scholarship by members of the Estacado faculty.

Ms. Haynes has been very active while at Estacado High School. She is currently the Vice President of the Key Club, a civic service organization, sponsored by the Kiwanis organization, as well as a member of the Soroptomist Club. She was chosen to participate in the Soroptomist's Mentee/Mentor program and was elected as treasurer of the Estacado Science Club.

Future plans for Ms. Haynes include attending a university where she can major in Physical Therapy. Although she has not finalized her selection, at this time, she is placing a very high priority on Texas Tech University.

She hopes to be able to maintain her contacts with local charity organizations and continue to help better her community while attending college.

Lubbock Photographer Captures 3rd Place

Robert O'Neal

Lubbock photographer, Robert O'Neal, recently captured third place honors in the Black and White division of the Lubbock Art Association Photography Competition.

O'Neal will be photographing "a self" portrait of the Black community via a grant from the Helen Jones Foundation.

The project, "Then and Now", sponsored by the Lubbock Black Cultural and Heritage Center will feature O'Neal's photographs as well as those of retired Lubbock photographer Eugene Roquemore.

RUBY JAY'S CORNER

New Hope Baptist Church, 2002 Birch Avenue, is the "Church Where The People Really Care."

Sunday School began at 9:30 a. m., and it was a very good lesson.

The order of service began last Sunday morning, and was broadcasted live over Radio Station KJAK, 92 FM, from 11:15 a.m. to 12:15 p. m.

Following the devotional period, the Senior Choir marched in singing their favorite selection, "Glad To Be In The Service."

This was followed by a selection by the Senior Choir. The scripture read was the 23rd Psalm, and another selection, "No Doubt In My Mind, I've Been Born Again."

The responsive reading was the Litany of the Lord's Prayer, with the congregation standing.

The morning hymn was "Standing On The Promises".

Pastoral observations were given by Pastor Billy F. Moton.

Following the singing of "Good Is Good," Pastor Moton brought the morning sermon. His subject was "Don't Let The Devil Interrupt Your Prayer Life." His scripture was Daniel 6:10. As Oral Roberts always says, "Devil, keep your hands off God's property."

Sunday, May 31, 1992 at 3:00 p. m. will be the Fifth Sunday program, sponsored by the Women Missionary Society. President Joan Y. Ervin is expecting all ladies to be in white.

The "First Lady" will be guest speaker Sunday afternoon, May 31, 1992, at Community Baptist Church. She is none other than Mrs. Billy F. Moton.

Keep remembering the sick and shut in with our prayers.

Johnnie Walker lost his uncle. Our love and sympathy as well as our prayers go out to her.

Sister Sarah Crawford is home from St. Mary of the Plains Hospital where she was a patient for two weeks. She is recovering nicely.

Also, Harrison "Bull" Davis is home from the hospital.

Theresa Ann Thompson of Dallas, Texas and Deanne McKeever of Houston, Texas visited their parents here last week. They left Sunday going back home.

Missie Johnson of San Antonio, Texas visited her sisters and Aunt Katie Johnson. She left this week to visit her mother in New Mexico. From there, she will go home.

Parkway Manor Care Center News

The Outreach Prayer Group visited with the residents last Saturday morning. Opening prayer was led by Sister Dorothy Nash, followed by everyone singing some songs. The scripture lesson was taught by Rev. W. H. Stephens.

Luke Blacknell had visits from his family which included Mr. and Mrs. Verge Greenwood, Mrs. Johnnie M. Greenwood, Mr. Robert Greenwood, Mrs. Mary Miller, and Lois Jean Bellamy.

Parkway Church of Christ had nine members to come and visit last Sunday. They sang and had prayer with the residents.

Stella Garcia visited the residents on last Tuesday.

Katie Shephard visited with Marie Moore, Rachel Hundrirk, and Beatrice Graham on last Wednesday.

Last Thursday morning, Ann Day of SPAG and Johnnie Savage visited with all of the residents. Sister Day read some poems to the residents.

LHS Named 5-A Academic Champions

Lubbock High School has been named division 5-A Academic State Champion as the result of the aggregate score achieved by its students this past weekend in Austin at the University Interscholastic League's State Academic Meet.

Lubbock High competed against 121 other high schools from across the state in the areas of Calculator Application, Mathematics, Number Sense, Ready Writing, and Science. Lubbock High students, Lisa Miller, Juny Sridhar, Michael Hsia, Jeremy Martin, Jesse Martin, Khi Ngo, Johnathan Cluff, and Shemay Yang scored a total of 83

'aggregate' points, outdistancing their nearest competitor, Langham Creek High School in Houston, by 33 points.

The Academic State Championship is awarded to the school in each division with the highest number of points combined from its team and individual competition scores.

The two greatest tyrants on earth: chance and time.

Crazy Horse by Stephen McIntyre

T. J. Patterson is going to be pushing the name change of Quirt Avenue to Martin Luther King, Jr. Avenue. There have been a lot of people speculating about the little things that can be done to change the image of Lubbock around Texas and to move from Number 5 to Number 1 in the Money magazine ranking of American cities. Changing the name from Quirt (riding whip) to MLK is one of those things that can easily be done. Hopefully, with the new generation mayor in office MLK Avenue will become a reality.

It is my understanding that a Clinton-Bush presidential debate is being pushed by the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, local Republicans and some Democrats. There is no question in my mind that Clinton will destroy Bush in any debate. And there is no question that there should be a series of debates, maybe 5-7, and that at least one should be in Texas. Should Clinton agree to do one in Lubbock?

Many say this election will be as close as the Kennedy/Nixon election. As the story goes Kennedy won that election by 200,000 votes or by one vote for each precinct in the country. Every vote counted then and it will again this November. Is it advantageous for Clinton to win a debate in Lubbock? The general public watching the debate will not care where the debate is held. They will watch the TV and draw their own conclusions. After the debate, however, the spin doctors, pollsters, media folks will start doing their thing.

Lubbock is Bush's "Pulse of America," it is the Bible Belt, it is the Number 5 city in the country, it has a major university, it is the Hub of the cotton belt and West Texas agriculture, and it is Texas. Before and after the debate interviews and polls with the local folks will be taken and I am willing to bet money on the probable outcome. Assuming those polls and interviews really do persuade or influence undecided folks, can Clinton afford to lose one vote because of Lubbock?

Clinton needs to find those 200,000 votes. He will not find them at the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, nor should he expect a miraculous conversion of local Republicans. I suggest that Clinton head to Austin or San Antonio and stay away from Lubbock. I know this will offend the Chamber of Commerce and other folks because they see this as a way of promoting Lubbock and putting it in the spotlight. I am all for Lubbock. It is my home. But there is more important things at stake.

NALEO's Tenth Annual Conference will be held in Santa Fe, New Mexico on June 18-20. VIEW FROM HHS

by
Louis W. Sullivan, M.D.

HHS VIEW

For the 20 million Americans in need of drug and alcohol rehabilitation—and their families—we have a hopeful message. Treatment works!

That's what many years of experience in treating addicted individuals has taught us. The hard-learned lesson we've learned is that successful treatment of addiction requires a whole spectrum of services if people are to remain drug-free and have a chance to return to productive lives.

And with the high risk of HIV/AIDS in substance-abusing populations, we must look beyond isolated, piecemeal substance abuse treatment to new, more effective and comprehensive approaches to care.

The model we know is successful is when the community's entire health, human service and social structure provides a safety-net for persons dependent on alcohol and other drugs. We also know that addiction is a complex, chronic, relapsing disorder that requires treatment, follow-up, and often, continuing assistance and aftercare.

The federal government, through the Public Health Service, is attempting to improve and expand access to effective treatment as part of the President's National Drug Control Strategy. The quality of services, as well as availability, is a paramount key.

One innovative approach now being tried is the drug treatment "campus." In Houston, Texas, at St.

Elizabeth's Hospital, and in Secaucus, N.J., at Meadowview Hospital, treatment campuses will examine various approaches to residential treatment and evaluate which work best, and for which patients.

As many as five to eight different treatment approaches will be used on the same site, while sharing a central intake unit, medical and psychiatric care, educational and vocational training, and recreational activities.

These campuses will have the added benefit of increasing residential treatment capacity substantially in two states which desperately need it. The demonstration facilities will also expand treatment for high-risk segments of these cities: ethnic and racial groups, adolescents, pregnant women and female addicts and their children.

Each campus will be able to treat up to 300 substance abusers at a given time. Patients may be self-referred or referred by treatment agencies, practitioners, the criminal justice system or social service agencies.

HHS has awarded approximately $9 million to each campus this fiscal year. With contributions from Texas and New Jersey, the federal/state investment will total $68.6 million over three years. HHS' Office for Treatment Improvement is also funding many other demonstration programs.

We all must help convince alcohol and other drug users, especially hard-core users, to become drug free. Unfortunately, overcoming an addiction is a difficult personal struggle requiring resolve, perseverance and determination.

While addiction is not easily treated, we believe that with comprehensive treatment along with a sustained continuum of care and support, we can eliminate the revolving door of relapse in which the addicted individual is all too often caught.

For further information, you may contact: Office for Treatment Improvement, Rockwall II, 10th Floor, ADAMHA, 5600 Fishers Lane, Rockville, Md. 20857; telephone: Edward Brown, Public Health Provider, (301) 443-8802.

Study Explodes Black Youth Drug Myth

The San Jose Mercury News reports that white high school seniors are more likely to use alcohol, cocaine and marijuana than black seniors, Health and Human Services Secretary Louis Sullivan said yesterday. Sullivan has launched a national campaign to end racial stereotypes about substance abuse.

"The time has come to put an end to misconceptions about the extent of drug use among black youth," Sullivan said. "These youngsters are less likely to use alcohol and other drugs than are kids from other ethnic groups." Sullivan said the media feeds the existing stereotypes by frequently showing blacks being arrested for selling drugs or committing violent crimes related to drugs.

According to the National High School Senior Surveys for 1985 through 1989, white male high school seniors were twice as likely to use cocaine as blacks - 12% compared to 6.1%. In all cases, girl seniors used alcohol and drugs less than boys. The study also found:

- 40% of white males seniors had used marijuana compared to 30% of black male seniors.
- 88% of whites had consumed alcohol in the past year compared to 73% of blacks.

Community groups in 14 cities will participate in the national campaign called "By Our Own Hands," which seeks to make the facts about substance abuse known, especially in black communities. The cities are New York; Los Angeles; Chicago; Philadelphia; Dallas; Houston; Fort Worth; Texas; Raleigh and Durham, NC; Detroit; Memphis, TN; Baltimore; Atlanta and Washington.

The Health and Human Services Department admitted that the study does not reach high school dropouts or the homeless. Students voluntarily agree to complete the national survey, which critics say can lead to misrepresentation.

To accomplish great things, we must not only act but also dream, not only plan but also believe.

Kathleen Hawker, M.D. Brings Unique Speciality To Parkinson's Center

When Kathleen S. Hawker, M.D., F.R.C.P. (C) joined Neurology Associates of Lubbock in January 1992, she brought yet another speciality to St. Mary of the Plains Hospital's Parkinson's Disease Research Center - Botulinum Toxin injection treatments. She currently is the only physician based between Phoenix and Houston offering these treatments.

Botulinum Toxin injections currently are the only safe and effective ongoing treatment for Dystonia, which is a state of impaired or disordered muscle tone. Because of the pain relieving and tremor reducing effects of this treatment, it is especially helpful in increasing functions of Parkinson's patients.

Treatments are local injections, administered every three months, and have no systemic side effects. The injection treatments have been in use for six years and are reversible.

"We are very fortunate to have someone with Dr. Hawker's experience and training join us," said Parkinson's Research Center Director J. Thomas Hutton, M.D. "With her special expertise in Dystonia treatment, Dr. Hawker will be a major asset to the Lubbock medical community."

In addition to practicing general neurology and treating Parkinson's Disease and movement disorders, Dr. Hawker will be leading research efforts at St. Mary's Hospital neurophysiology lab when it opens in June 1992. This new lab will allow her to study brain mapping in relation to visual/spatial perception.

Dr. Hawker received her Medical Degree from McMaster University, Hamilton, Ontario, Canada, in 1983. She trained in neurology from 1986-1989, at University of Toronto, where she also performed an internal medicine residency from 1985 to 1986.

The Outreach Prayer Breakfast

The Outreach Prayer Breakfast will meet in the lovely home of Adelia Hardrick, 2310 70th Street, Apt. No. 231, on Saturday, June 6, 1992, at 9 a. m. Breakfast, however, will be served at 7 a. m. If you can not make this one then you may be able to make the one at 9 a. m. It will be great to see all you. We are just looking forward to seeing you. We will pray straight through!

Some things to think about. The truth is sometimes painful. Embracing shed light on a hidden situation, and many just don't want to face the TRUTH!

Forgiveness is simply not easy, but work at it. Struggle with it. Wrestle with it, but if you need to, do it!

How many ask the Lord to bless you to give on Sunday? And how much you should give? Not many! We are thinking, because you have your DOLLAR in your hand long before the offering, and does He speak in unison, and do he tell all to give one dollar. In this, a set rule, and when we all go to the offering table, do we ask our Lord to multiply our gift back to us? Do you know what you will receive back (if multiplied).

Keep smiling, Lubbock, you are looking real good. The devil has won some battles, but he won't win the "war". Stand up and fight with confidence in knowing you're going to "win."

(Think about it). If you are sick, read Mark 11:22-26. ZGo by the Bible's rules. II Chronicle 7:14.

FROM THE  OF
PARSON D. A. SMITH

"The cup which my father hath given me, shall I not drink it?" John 18:11.

James L. Kelso, a Professor of Old Testament History and Biblical Archaeology, says the "cup" was widely used in Bible times in figurative language. The cup was symbolic of the kind of life experience which God the Host pours out for his world. For the saints there was the cup of the blessing of God (Ps. 23:5). For the wicked there was the wine cup of the wrath of God (Ps. 11:6). The cup also represents drunkenness and other illicit pleasures (Prov. 23:31; Jer. 51:17).

In Jeremiah 16:7, we read of a cup of consolation, taken from the Jewish custom of sending it to those in mourning or condemned prisoners (Amos 2:8). There was the cup of salvation (Ps. 116:13) or of deliverance that was used solemnly in the temple by the priests or privately in the family. In Psalm 9:6; 75:8 and Jeremiah 25:15, we read of the cup of tribulation. It was to this cup that our Lord referred in John 18:11.

Christ Jesus took a well understood figure and applies it to Himself and His word are invested with deep and tender meaning by the fact that only several hours earlier He had given a cup to His disciples, and in the drinking they should commemorate for ever His dying love.

With the Upper Room experience fresh on the disciples minds, they were able to grasp the import of His words. They now understood why He did not want any physical violence during the hour of His betrayal and arrest. They perhaps, also understood why He would not accept the defense of the sword of Peter be-

We Thank God For Jesus

"Stop Beating The King!!!"

Luke 23:20-22a -- Pilate therefore, willing to release Jesus, spoke again to them. But they cried, saying, crucify him, crucify him, and he (Pilate) said unto them the third time, why, what evil hath he done?

Jesus Christ, He didn't do anything to deserve this, no, not one bad thing, "but it was for your sins and mines; they're disgrace: shame, shame, shame!"

Romans 3:23-24 -- For all have sinned, and come short of the glory of God, being justified freely by his grace through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus.

It was my mouth and your mouth, that spoke those filthy and ungodly words, "but it was Jesus' mouth they slapped; and never ever was a bad word heard."

I Peter 2:21-22 -- For even here unto were ye called, because Christ also suffered for us, leaving us an example that ye should follow his steps: who did no sin, neither was guile found in his mouth.

I know it was my eyes and your eyes, that desired things: that's sin; to the flesh, "but it was Jesus eyes they spit in, because yours and mine's couldn't get enough."

Mark 7:20-23 -- Jesus said, that which cometh out of the man, that defileth the man, for from within, out of the heart of men, proceed evil thoughts, adulteries, fornication, murders, thefts, covetousness, wickedness, deceit, lasciviousness, and evil eye, blasphemy, pride, foolishness: all these evil things come from within, and defile the man.

All those sins was in my heart and yours; and they came forth unto the mind, "but it was Jesus' back they beat; a whipping meant for yours and my behind."

Mark 15:15 -- And so Pilate, willing to content (satisfied) the people, released Barabbas unto them, and delivered Jesus. When he had scourged (beaten) him to be crucified.

(You know if you and I got upset over the judgement outcome of Rodney King's beating and came to the cross, not to protest; but to receive the gift of salvation which come by beating, spitting and mocking. The crucifixion and the resurrection. It was done so you and I could come and get saved from all our sins.)

Isaiah 53:4-5 -- Surely He (Jesus) hath borne our griefs, and carried our sorrows: yet we did esteem him stricken, smitten of God, and afflicted. But He (Jesus) was wounded for our transgressions, he was bruised for our iniquities: the chastisement of our peace was upon Him: and with His (Jesus) stripes we are healed.

"It was your hands and feet that started that riot, and teaching the children the same. But it was Jesus' hands and feet. They beat unto the cross: shame, shame, shame."

Colossians 2:13 -- And you, being dead in your sins and the uncircumcision of your flesh, hath he quickened together with him, having forgiven you all passages (sin).

"So we don't have to keep on sinning: God made a way; so you could use your equal rights. Salvation is for everyone: come to the King of Kings, day of night."

Matthew 11:28-30 -- Jesus said, come unto me, all ye that labour: and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest. Take my yoke upon you and learn of me: for I'm meek and lowly in heart: and ye shall find rest unto souls. For my yoke is easy, and my burden is light.

God is not through with us. So let's pray for one another always.

THE FUTURE LOOKS GOOD -- Ernesto Rodrigues, pictured here, and his wife, Costanza, were thrown off their farm in rural Mozambique by a vicious band of anti-government rebels. Two years ago, the couple depended on emergency rations of grain provided by CARE, the largest private relief and development organization, for their daily survival. Recently, CARE helped them start a vegetable garden at the displaced persons camp in which they live. "We won't need hand-outs any more," Rodrigues says.

Children May Pick Up Books June 1st

"Discover The New World of Reading" is this year's summer reading club theme at Manon and Godeke Library. The club is free and is for all children up to the age of twelve.

Beginning June 1st children may pick up their reading logs from either library. The summer reading program continues through July 31st. When a child has read ten books, the titles are recorded on the reading log. If a child cannot read, he may be read to and the time recorded on the reading log. The logs are brought into the library and the child receives a certificate and a McDonald's coupon for free french fries.

When the child receives a certificate, he will be eligible to have his name placed in a drawing for a free poster. Posters will be given away each week at both libraries. When a child reads twenty books, he may draw for an additional prize. The prizes this year come from sponsors: Brady's Dairy Queen, Pistol Pete's, City of Lubbock Parks and Recreation, and Friends of the Library.

For further information, please call or visit either Mahon 767-2838 or Godeke 792-6506.
