ANSWER TO MOLOTOV

U. S. Presumed To Be Only Nation With Real A-Bomb

WASHINGTON—The significance of Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov's statement that the "secret of the atomic bomb ceased to exist a long time ago" depends on what he meant by the word "secret."

If he meant only that the fundamental physics of the bomb is known to all nations, he wasn't dishing out anything new.

The fact of nuclear fission—that is, that uranium-235 nuclei split into almost equal parts after bombardment with neutrons—was discovered in 1938.

Then, right after Hiroshima, the famed Smyth report disclosed many of the results that had accumulated during the wartime hush-hush.

If Molotov meant that some nation or nations other than the United States actually knew how to make the actual ingredients of an A-bomb, assemble it and cause it to explode successfully—and had actually done all these things—that's something else.

Let's see what actually has been published about the bomb.

It is known that:

1. Nuclear fission exists.
2. Energy is released in the process of fission.
3. When an atomic nucleus "splits," more than one neutron is emitted in the process and thus a "chain reaction" can be set up.
4. A chain reaction can be produced not only in uranium-235, but in the new element "plutonium."

5. In order to make a chain reaction "go," you must have a sufficient amount of fissionable material present—a so-called "critical mass."
6. If you assemble an amount of material exceeding this critical mass, you can have one of two things. If you make your system only slightly "over-critical," you get a "controlled" chain-reaction—such as takes place in the chain-reacting "ovens" or piles where plutonium is made from uranium. If you make your system strongly "over-critical"—suddenly bring together amounts of fissionable material that exceed the critical mass—you get an atomic explosion.

What has not been published?

1. No information has been released on what makes a "critical mass" for either a uranium or plutonium bomb or on how to bring sub-critical amounts of the material together within the bomb.
2. Neither have exact details on various processes involved in making the wherewithal for a bomb or a bomb itself.
3. Nor has the low-down been given on such things as remote-control devices used in the "pile" production of plutonium.
4. Nothing has been said about other materials, in addition to fissionable material, that go into making a bomb.

Does Russia or some other country know those elements of the atom bomb secret? Molotov didn't say.

If so, does Russia or some other country have the industrial ability to build and operate the necessary factories?

A group of Los Alamos scientists in the publication Our Atomic World had this to say a good year ago:

The U. S. S. R. has the raw materials, the scientists and the industrial potential to make atomic bombs. The United States required four years of determined effort to apply the fundamental science and produce the bombs.

"The time it would take the U. S. S. R. or any other country to achieve the same development would tend to be less because our success has reduced the number of problems that they would have to solve."

"On the other hand the time would tend to be greater because their industrial strength is so much less."

"It is reasonable to expect that some other country willing to make a major effort will produce atomic bombs within five years."

That would be about 1961.

Last spring, the unofficial views of some anonymous officers of the Army general staff were published in a document prepared for the Library of Congress.

The document said:

"At present, to the best of our knowledge, only the United States has developed and manufactured atomic bombs.

"Our best estimates indicate that it will take any other nation several years successfully to complete one bomb."

"For a number of years, perhaps as many as eight to fifteen, only the U. S. will possess atomic bombs in significant quantities."

"They pointed out that this did not consider the possibility that meanwhile international control of atomic energy might be achieved."

Standard To Produce More Oil, Less Gas

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25. (AP)—A shift in refining operations to produce more fuel oil and less gasoline was reported today by the Standard Oil company.

M. J. Rathbone, president of Standard of New Jersey, principal refining and marketing subsidiary of the Standard companies, told a senate small business subcommittee of the changeover.

The committee is investigating the fuel oil distribution situation in the face of what Chairman Wherry (R-Ohio) said looks like a "serious shortage that may mean many oil-burning homes may go cold this winter."

Rathbone's prepared statement said Standard oil since early spring has been attempting to warn its retailers, distributors and the public of the prospective fuel oil shortage, caused by an unprecedented postwar demand for all types of petroleum products.

Rathbone said the greater emphasis now being put on production of fuel oil means less gasoline for motor vehicles but "my own opinion is that no customer of ours is going to be without heat this winter (or) kept from normal driving."

Justice Baugh Dies At Home

AUSTIN, Nov. 25. (AP)—James Harvey Baugh, 63, justice of the Texas third court of civil appeals, died at his home here about 1 a. m. today.

Justice Baugh had been ill during the past summer and fall and critically so during the past few weeks.

Justice Baugh was born at Brownwood, March 18, 1884, and was serving as state senator from that district when he was appointed to the court of civil appeals by Gov. Pat M. Neff in September, 1925.

He served continuously on the bench of the intermediate court which rules on most important civil litigation involving the state, with the exception of two years of service during World War II with the judge advocate general's department. He was first assigned to Washington on the appellate section of the board of review, then to Kelly field where he was staff judge advocate of the San Antonio air service command. Baugh was also a veteran of World War I.

Justice Baugh held a unique political record.

Not only had he been continuously re-elected to the third court of civil appeals in each election following his appointment, but he had never been opposed.

In the early days of his practice as a lawyer in west central Texas, he had been elected county attorney of a county in which he did not reside. He was practicing in Brown county, but a friend in Culberson county put his name on the ballot for county attorney there.

Yugoslavs Free U. S. Soldiers

TRIESTE, Nov. 25. (AP)—The U. S. Army public relations office said six American soldiers taken into custody yesterday morning by Yugoslav troops were released to American authorities today.

Names of the six men and details of the manner in which they were taken into custody, held and released will be made public in 48 hours, under the terms of a new regulation, public relations said.

(In Belgrade it was reported that Premier Marshal Tito had issued an order to his troops on the Austrian and Trieste free territory borders that all military personnel who stray over the line in an "obviously accidental" manner are to be released immediately.)

U. S. Army headquarters announced earlier that the six soldiers, comprising an entire border patrol, were taken prisoner yesterday by Yugoslav troops when they "evidently got out of bounds" in Venetia Giulia about 15 miles from here.

Capture of the patrol brought to 18 the number of U. S. soldiers taken into custody by the Yugoslavs in this area since August. All have been released. During the same period five British soldiers and sailors were made prisoners also.

The public relations office said "we contacted the Yugoslavs when the men failed to return and they said they had them."

"We asked immediately for their return and the Yugoslavs said they would have to put it through higher headquarters. It was a routine patrol."

EXPERTS SEEK ANSWER

Industrial Defense Stumps Army Men

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25. (AP)—Army experts seeking a preparedness formula based on Nazi Germany's wartime accomplishments and short-comings, concluded today that underground and widely scattered factories are not the answer.

"The implications of airpower and atomic energy on war production and the supporting economy are vital and unsolved," a report prepared under the direction of Maj. Gen. G. F. Robinson asserted.

"It may be useful to caution, however, that underground construction is not the solution it may at first seem."

"Not alone is it costly and time-consuming to prepare. It may interfere with mass production techniques and so be inefficient in operation."

"Dispersal of industry has a similar result. Neither solves the transportation question."

Robinson's findings said that even at the start of World War II many German industries had gone underground but the bombing of transportation facilities and surface installations crippled their output.

The survey concluded that Germany fumbled a golden opportunity to win the war when it failed to organize its industry for all-out production before 1942.

"Had she started sooner, neither the Allied powers of the West nor Russia might have had time to out-distance German war production," the report said.

Robinson now is a member of the national security resources board.

The study was started last spring at the direction of Kenneth C. Royall, then undersecretary of war, now secretary of the Army.

TEXAN TESTIFIES

International Angles Pop In Machine Gun Theft Case

AUGUSTA, Ga., Nov. 25. (AP)—International angles were popping out today at the Federal court trial of four men, one a Maryland business executive, on an indictment of machine gun stealing.

Edward Browder, Jr., of Amarillo, who gave the bulk of his testimony yesterday, asserted that instead of being stolen from near Bush field as the government charges, the weapons were bought as "scrap" and paid with $425 in cash.

Browder also testified the arms were intended to help stamp out what he claimed was a "communist" revolt against the Dominican Republic.

The threatened invasion, which came to a head a few months ago, he asserted was plotted in Cuba and financed from Venezuela.

He charged the money came directly "from the former secretary of the communist party in Venezuela" and said "that man is now president of Venezuela." (Romulo Betancourt is provisional president of Venezuela. He said his party, Accion Democratica, have publicly taken a stand against communism.)

Browder told of association with Karl J. Eisenhardt, 50-year-old business man of Ellicott City, Md., in obtaining planes and military supplies in this country. He said the material was purchased for Libardo Blanco, whom he identified as agent for the Latin American republic.

Browder, Eisenhardt and two others are charged with plotting theft of the machine guns for a surplus property storage warehouse at Bush field, a former Army post.

The others are J. Meredith Russell, 24, of Baltimore, a former Air Force flight officer, and Manuel L. Fuego, 37, of Miami, a flier and mechanic.

Browder said that while he was at Bush field in April buying radio supplies, Bernard Cresswell, a young pricing clerk, offered to sell him the machine guns. He testified that after Eisenhardt had talked with Cresswell by telephone, he went back and gave Cresswell the money and the latter agreed to leave the warehouse unlocked so the weapons could be obtained later.

Cresswell, government witness last week, denied that he sold the arms.

Responding, Mansfield said "I would be ungrateful if I did not express my thanks for the many nice things you have said. I want to say that I am always proud to be from Big Spring."

Chief of Police Pete Greene made Mansfield a member of his department and Sheriff Bob Wolf made him a deputy. Both presented toy items to add a light touch to the occasion. Schley Riley, president of the Toastmasters club, presented Mansfield with an honorary membership in the organization.

Ira L. Thurman was master of ceremonies for the occasion, and the program was in charge of George McLellan, program chairman, and Rupert Ricker, general program chairman for the host Rotary club. Other honor guests at the affair included Mrs. Mansfield, Deanne Mansfield, Sonny Edwards, an outstanding roper in his own right, Mrs. Edwards, Dan Taylor, also a crack roper, Mrs. Taylor, and Mrs. Ova Mae Edwards. Mansfield, Edwards and Taylor are brothers-in-law.

Mrs. Keaton Re-Elected President Of Methodist Missionary Society

Local Delegates Among 2500 Women Attending State P-TA Convention

Delegates from the Tri-County and local Parent-Teacher Association have returned from a three-day state convention held on Treasure Island at Galveston Nov. 19-21. Around 2,500 women attended the annual gathering which featured addresses by outstanding Texas, executive sessions, banquets and programs.

Mrs. E. H. Becker, state president, presided over the meetings. An ROTC unit from the Ball high school of Galveston presented a pledge to the flag during the opening programs and the presiding officer presented the convention keynote, "New Frontiers."

The theme was furthered in a pageant which was presented by 570 students and city council members. Fifty-seven board members attended the meeting with Mrs. John E. Hayes of Twin Falls, Idaho, national representative and vice president of the P-TA.

The four-point program of the National Congress was carried out with Mrs. Hayes addressing delegates on the first point of school education.

Dr. D. Bailey Calvin, dean of the University of Texas medical school, gave the second point on health and the third point on world understanding was discussed by Dr. Clifford Houston, dean of students at the University of Colorado.

"Parent and Family Life Education," the fourth point, was discussed by Dr. Edmond Heinson, pastor of the Austin Methodist church.

Among new officers to be installed was Frank Monroe of Midland, who serves on the state board as motion picture and visual education chairman. Monroe represented the 16th district of which Howard county is a part.

A life membership dinner at the Buccaneer hotel by the San Angelo Mother Singers was attended by Mrs. Robert Hill and Mrs. Jimmy Mason of Big Spring.

The Galveston city council hosted a reception for delegates, and Gal-

Rev. Gage Lloyd Gives 'Human Destiny' Review

"True religion has nothing to fear in science nor does science have anything to fear in religion," the Rev. R. Gage Lloyd, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, stated in a review of Lecomte du Nouy's book, "Human Destiny," which was presented under sponsorship of the AAUW at the church Monday evening.

An open forum with questions from the floor was conducted and the speaker was introduced by Miss Mathilda Maier, AAUW president.

Written by an internationally known French scientist, the book points out that human life can not be explained by chance. The Rev. Lloyd stated that man is afraid of what he has done with his intelligence and that the greatest invention of nature is death from the standpoint of evolution.

In his review the minister said that the ultimate goal of evolution is a spiritually and morally perfect man.

Around 50 persons attended the review which was preceded by a regular AAUW business meeting in the church basement.

Miss Maier newly elected president, was in charge and members present were Marguerite Wood, Jo Hestand, Dorothy Driver, Nell Brown, Ruth Beasley, Mrs. Kelley Lawrence, Mrs. Carsteddar, Mrs. A. Reuchart, Mrs. Mickey Boyvey, Mrs. Charles Watson, Mrs. K. H. McGibbon, Mrs. R. W. Thompson, Mrs. Champe Rainwater and Mrs. J. A. Fisher.

Ahhhhh! To Be In High School Again

Turkey with all the trimmings was to be served in the high school cafeteria and there was no evidence of high food prices in the 35 cent meal price.

The menu for the day included turkey and dressing, cranberry sauce, buttered English peas, Irish potatoes, fruit salad, spiced cake, milk and fruit juice.

Steamer, Cutters Racing To Aid Of Grounded Ship

SEATTLE, Nov. 25. (AP)—An Alaska steamer and two Coast Guard cutters raced through the predawn darkness today to the aid of the grounded 10,850-ton Army transport Clarksdale Victory from which no word has been received since she flashed an SOS at 10:04 p. m. (PST) last night. Coast Guard authorities in Seattle and Ketchikan, Alaska, said they were seriously concerned over the transport's failure to answer dozens of messages sent in an effort to establish contact. They said the stricken vessel's silence since she went aground on a reef off Graham Island, in the Queen Charlotte group approximately 140 miles southwest of Ketchikan, may mean: (1) The transport ripped her bottom out and went down; (2) heavy seas caused her to break up; (3) the 49 crewmen aboard have abandoned ship, or (4) the smashup put her power plant out of commission. The Clarksdale Victory carried 100 tons of cargo but no passengers.

British Believed To Have Helped Siamese Leader Flee

SINGAPORE, Nov. 25. (AP)—Reliable informants asserted today that Nai Pridi Phanomyong, former Siamese premier and wartime leader of resistance to the Japanese, had escaped from Siam aboard a British merchant ship following the Nov. 9 revolt with foreknowledge of the British and U. S. embassies in Bangkok. The sources did not disclose the identity of the vessel aboard which Phanomyong fled.

A official British spokesman announced earlier today, however, that the Siamese elder statesman had arrived here by ship Sunday and had been granted the sanctuary which Britain traditionally extends to political refugees.

He said that Phanomyong, who helped direct the Japanese underground during the war in close liaison with U. S. agents, was now living in a bungalow on St. John's island in Singapore harbor. Sources close to Phanomyong indicated he might seek to go to the United States later, but the American consulate here said he had not yet applied for a visa. Phanomyong's whereabouts had been the subject of some speculation since the recent revolt in Siam, in which an army group headed by Luang Pibul Songgram, former dictator and wartime collaborator with the Japanese, overthrew the government of Premier Thamrong Nawasawat. Phanomyong had resigned the premiership in August, 1946, on the grounds of ill health.

(Dispatches from Bangkok said it was believed there that Phanomyong's flight and arrival in Singapore had eliminated the last possibility of an armed attempt to overthrow the new regime.)

FAVORITE CHEESE CASSEROLE

Arrange in greased baking dish six slices enriched bread. Cover with 1-2 pound sharp cheddar, cut in 1-2 inch slices. Top with six more slices bread. Pour over above, four egg yolks, beaten; 2 1-2 cups milk; one tsp. salt; 1-2 tsp. pepper; 1-4 tsp. dry mustard. Chill. Bake one hour in moderate oven (350 degrees). Serves six to eight.

There are no warm-blooded creatures that live by means of dissolved oxygen, as fish do.

Chicken Dishes Suggested For Use On Days When Meat Is Not Served

CHICKEN GUMBO

Chicken Gumbo is a favorite Southern dish—a delicious cross between a soup and a stew.

4 pound fowl, cut up
3 quarts cold water
4 teaspoons salt
2 bay leaves
3 peppercorns
1/4 pound smoked ham, diced
1 1/2 cups diced onion
1 cup diced green pepper
1 cup diced celery
4 tablespoons fat
1/2 cup raw white rice
3 tablespoons flour
2 cups sliced fresh or canned okra with juice
1 1/2 cups canned tomatoes
4 tablespoons chopped canned pimiento
1/4 teaspoon pepper

Simmer fowl, water, 3 teaspoons salt, bay leaves, and peppercorns in covered kettle until tender—about 3 to 4 hours. Cool quickly, then chill. Remove chicken from bones, discard skin, and dice meat coarsely. Strain broth, measure, add enough water to make 3 quarts. Sauté ham, onion, green pepper, and celery in fat until soft—about 5 minutes. Add rice, saute 5 minutes longer, while stirring. Add flour, stir smooth. Stir in broth, chicken, okra, tomatoes, pimiento, pepper, and remaining 1/4 teaspoon

STUFFED OVEN-BROWNED FOWL

Fowl may be stewed or steamed whole, then stuffed and browned in the oven and served like roast chicken. To steam a bird whole for stuffing and oven-browning, place on a rack in a kettle half filled with lightly salted water, cover, and simmer until tender (about 3 to 4 hours). Turn occasionally for even cooking. Stuff with potato stuffing or other stuffing. (Have the stuffing hot so that the oven time is cut down and the bird does not dry out.) Brush the bird with fat, place on a rack in an open pan with breast up and brown in moderate oven (350° F.) 1 hour or until the bird is well browned. Cook down broth from the stewed or steamed chicken for gravy.

POTATO STUFFING

4 small potatoes (1 pound)
1/2 cup boiling water
1 cup soft bread crumbs
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1 tablespoon finely cut onion
1/4 teaspoon powdered sage
1 slightly beaten egg
1-3 cup evaporated milk, scalded

Cover and boil potatoes until tender in boiling water. Drain and mash. Put mashed potato into bowl with bread crumbs, salt, pepper, onion and sage. Beat in gradually a mixture of egg and hot milk. Makes sufficient stuffing for a 3 1/2-pound chicken.

Stuffed Squash Is Suggested As A 'Peace Plate'

Sturdy squash, now plentiful and always nutritious, holds the center of interest on a "Peace Plate" planned by the Consumer Service Section, Citizens Food Committee. Squash has a special affinity for fruit, which is another way of saying that this fruit-meat stuffing has a flavor all its own.

While the stuffed baked acorn squash is baking to fragrant perfection, there's ample time to prepare spinach, kale or other seasonal greens, to be served hot with the bacon dressing described here. Give the salad an earlier start, and make it a tart jellied tomato salad molded with chopped celery and diced crisp sweet pickles. For the quick dessert so welcome Saturday, gingersnaps and canned pears.

STUFFED BAKED ACORN SQUASH

3 Acorn squash
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup brown sugar, firmly packed
1/4 cup melted butter or margarine
1 cup diced luncheon meat or cooked ham

Cut squash in halves crosswise; remove seeds and sprinkle with salt. Fill squash halves with fruit mixture, sugar, melted butter and meat. Place in shallow pan. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) about 1 hour. 6 servings.

BACON DRESSING
2 slices bacon, diced
1 tablespoon flour
1/4 cup boiling water
3 tablespoons vinegar
1 tablespoon granulated sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon dry mustard
1 egg, beaten

Dice bacon, and fry in skillet until golden-brown. Remove bacon pieces, and stir flour into fat. Add next 5 ingredients. Stir until thickened. Remove from heat, and let cool slightly. Stir in slightly beaten egg, and return to heat. Cook for 2 minutes longer, while stirring. Add bacon in pieces, and serve over hot cooked or raw shredded greens. Makes 1 cup.

FOOD TIPS: Many vegetables may well "double" for bread because of their equivalent energy food value. You can serve less bread in a meal containing winter-squash, white potatoes or sweet potatoes. Reach for a second helping of beets, carrots or parsnips rather than for an extra slice of bread.

Liquids from canned or home-cooked vegetables contain important minerals and have good flavor. Try mixing them with tomato juice, also use them for thinning evaporated milk in making creamed and baked dishes; and use them to dilute condensed soups.

SAVE FOOD! BAKE RIGHT...Every Time

Make rolls like these with AMERICAN BEAUTY FLOUR

Every cupful of AMERICAN BEAUTY FLOUR has exceptional baking qualities that are just waiting to bloom in your oven! Your Cloverleaf Rolls will be masterpieces—golden-topped, full of rich and delicious flavor.

Best of all, with AMERICAN BEAUTY you can count on results like this not just occasionally, but every time...not just with rolls, but with all your baking.

CLOVERLEAF ROLLS

2 cups milk
2 tablespoons lukewarm water
2 cakes compressed yeast

6 1/4 cups American Beauty Flour
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup salt
1/4 cup shortening

(This recipe will make 36 rolls)

Scoold milk; pour over sugar, salt and shortening in mixing bowl. Stir well; allow to cool until lukewarm. Crumble yeast in lukewarm water; allow to stand 10 minutes. Add yeast to lukewarm milk. Add 3 1/2 cups sifted flour. Beat until batter is smooth. Gradually add remaining 3 cups flour; stir until all flour is added. Brush top lightly with melted shortening. Cover and set in a warm place. Allow dough to rise until double in bulk (about 1 hour). Place dough on lightly floured bread board and shape into a round ball. Allow to stand 10 minutes. Roll 1/4 of dough into a rectangle 1/4 inch thick. (Balance of dough can be used for additional Cloverleaf Rolls or other favorite variations.) Cut into a small round ball, and brush lightly with melted shortening. Place 3 balls into each muffin cup. Cover; allow to rise until double in bulk. Bake 15 to 18 minutes in a moderate oven (375°).

More West Texas Milk Production

More than the general inflationary trend which is affecting every commodity apparently is behind most recent increases in the price of milk in several parts of Texas.

The news wires report that the latest hike in Dallas brings out references from Dallas creamery officials to the effect that creameries in other "milksheds" are hauling milk away from the area generally designated as a Dallas source of supply.

Whether or not this is a prime factor in the newest advance for some cities, the fact remains that the old law of supply and demand is functioning staunchly in the case of milk, as well as in the economic price spiral.

West Texas has suffered a continuing shortage of production, and the situation, as we are able to get information on it, is getting no better. Wartime, with the troubles of various controls, prompted the dispersal of many dairy herds—herds that were vital to the supply of many a community. Later, drought and feed problems, as well as price factors, have further reduced milk sources for many areas.

And the dairy operators and creamery men are not the ones to be singled out to correct this matter. There is going to have to be an extensive campaign to encourage building up of new dairy herds throughout West Texas. Farmers and others who can handle herds have to be shown there is a reasonable profit, of course; and banks and other financial institutions are going to have to go in for the type of encouragement that makes dairy installations possible. Farm agents and other organized farm groups are going to have to stress the need for diversified production and income for the farm, stressing the long-time income that can come from milk production. An over-all public appreciation of dairy diversification ought to be instituted and maintained. This is surely one instance when more production must be the answer.

Tough Year Ahead, Says Almanac

Comes across the editor's desk again, the Old Farmer's Almanac, a publication that used to be treasured next to the Bible, the family album and the sales order catalogue, as the chief piece of reading matter in every farmhouse. Could be that it is still a "must" reference work, although we don't hear the agriculturist talk about it much any more.

The 1948 edition of the Almanac is the 156th consecutive annual issue. Robert B. Thomas started "The Old Farmer's Almanac" in 1793, edited it through 1846. The book acquired a yellow cover and a new format in 1849, and still looks like it did then.

Some of the old-time features are still there, too: World calendar, season changes, information on the moon and the tides and the planets, and of course complete planting, growing and harvesting tables. There are a few pages of "anecdotes and pleasantries" for diversion on a cold winter's night, plus a lot of valuable information of varied types.

If you're interested in 1948 weather, Mr. Weatherwise of the Almanac has a prediction on that, too. He says it will be "white, long and cold." He also points out that his predictions for the past four winters—"mild", then "turbulent", then "wet" then "old-fashioned"—were pretty well carried out. So you may or may not want to listen to Mr. Weatherwise, who also says that the summer of 1948 may be one of severe crop failures. Great sunspot activity will cause it, he says.

The Nation Today—James Marlow—

Dim View Of World At London

WASHINGTON, (AP)—If you want a dim view of the world and what's happening in it, take a look at London.

The foreign ministers of the United States, Russia, Britain and France meet there today to talk about peace treaties for Germany and Austria.

About the best comment you can hear on the conference before it starts is something like "well, maybe some good will come of it."

But nobody's betting on even that much.

The war has been over two years and this is the second time in 1947 that the four foreign ministers have met to talk about Germany and Austria.

The four ministers—Marshall for the U. S., Bevin for Britain, Bidault for France and Molotov for Russia—met in Moscow in March.

They got nowhere. So now they're trying again. No one was very hopeful for that Moscow meeting. There seems to be less hope for this one.

Since the war ended a big gap has separated Russia from the United States, Britain and France.

But since the Moscow meeting the gap has been made even wider and this is why:

The U. S. has started work on the Marshall plan to help western European nations get on their feet and to keep them out of the grip of communism.

The Russians are bent on wrecking the plan. They've denounced it as a U. S. attempt to dominate the world and make Europe a 49th state.

To help wreck it, the communists of Russia and eight other European countries have set up an organization they call the "Cominform."

It lined up the communists in those countries to work for the spread of communism and fight U. S. policies in Europe.

If you think all this gloomy, take a look at something else: When four foreign ministers meet they ought to be able to get down to business right away and start work on the big problems.

What about all the little details? They can send their assistants or deputies ahead to clear them out of the way so the big stuff can start.

In this case the four ministers weeks ago sent their deputies to clear up the details.

The deputies met for weeks and broke up Saturday. What did they get done? Nothing. The meeting was a farce.

They lined up just as the ministers have lined up before: the Russians on one side, the Americans, British and French on the other.

Affairs Of The World—DeWitt MacKenzie

Big Four Meet To Be Sideshow

The anxiously awaited Big Four foreign ministers' conference, opening in London today, will find itself rather in the position of a side-show instead of in its usual advertised role as main international attraction.

That's not to say that the London parley isn't of great importance, for its task of trying to write the bitterly debated Austrian and German peace treaties is vital. But communism's resort to direct action against the economically bogged governments of France and Italy has changed completely the complexion of the conflict between Russia and the democracies in western Europe.

This direct-action—undertaken under direction of the newly created bolshevik "Cominform", with headquarters in Belgrade—has two chief objectives: to further Moscow's efforts to gain control of western Europe, and to render impotent the Marshall plan for economic rehabilitation of that great area. Obviously those two objectives are interlocking, since economic recovery would enable the West to defend itself against communist aggression—one of the chief purposes of the Marshall plan.

John Hightower, AP diplomatic reporter at the London conference, sums up the bitter issues between Russia and the West in part like this:

"The need for German production as seen by British and American statesmen is inseparably linked with the broader problem of European recovery. But it is only one part of that problem. x x x At the present time, in fact, Germany appears to be neither the most urgent nor the most important of these issues. More immediate are Italy and France and the economic well-being of Britain; in short, the overall economic and political health of western Europe. This is perhaps the chief reason why basic decisions on Germany cannot be forced here; both sides may well prefer to play for time to see what happens to European recovery."

Meanwhile the situations in France and Italy continued tense. In the latter country the strikes and disorders subsided at the week-end, although Pietro Nenni, pro-communist socialist leader, warned that a national strike might be called to protest "violence against the workers."

In France, however, the position became more acute. The number of French strikers increased to more than three-quarters of a million, under direction of the communist-dominated General Confederation of Labor. Truck loads of guardsmen, armed with machineguns, moved into Paris to counter any possible disorders which some Frenchmen predicted for today. Uneasiness pervaded the capital.

In Hollywood—Bob Thomas

Wrangle Over Film Locations

HOLLYWOOD, (AP)—Movie locations in Arizona and Nevada may come to an end unless studios agree to sign waivers for workmen's compensation.

The two states are reportedly asking studios to assume compensation risks. This has followed a recent incident in which a film worker on location suffered a broken back and was placed on state aid.

Gene Antrny productions ran up against this problem and location plans for the company's next film have been switched from Arizona to Twenty-nine Palms, Calif.

Jimmy Durante describes his meeting with President Truman as "the greatest thrill of my life." Jimmy, who was entertaining at the press photographers' dinner, was meeting Mr. Truman with the other movie players.

"My name is Jimmy Durante," the comic said.

"You mean Jimmy Durante—in person?" said the President, imitating Jimmy's radio billing.

The "Jolson Story" sequel is reported dead. Columbia and AI couldn't come to terms and Jolson has told friends he "can't be lucky twice" in having a biographical hit. Also, there is some doubt about whether Larry Parks could be obtained for the new film.

Albert Dekker is planning to run for mayor of Los Angeles next year. One of Hollywood's busiest actors (he's now in "Lulu Belle"), he has been contemplating a return to politics. He served a term in the California legislature.

Don Ameche flew to Chicago on a hunt for a new coach for his Los Angeles Dons pro football team. He'll be back for the annual Thanksgiving day all-star broadcast on CBS. This year's will feature Jack Benny, Red Skelton, Allan Jones, Duranilo Moore and others.

Steps Up In Class FOXBORO, Mass. (UP)—Leon Direct, 14-year-old harness horse which has won several races at the Bay State Raceway here, once was sold to a farmer as a plow horse.

"IF I EVER FIND THIS GUY I'LL ARREST HIM ON SIGHT"

Hal Boyle's Notebook

'Quiet Operator'

NEW YORK, (AP)—The U. S. Army's next chief of staff is what the men in the ranks call a "quiet operator."

Omar Nelson Bradley also wears the flawless armor of a good man—an incorrigible honesty that will let no consideration stand between him and the goal of duty.

His appointment to succeed his wartime boss, Gen. Dwight Eisenhower, in the Army's key post, will be nowhere more popular than among the men who fought under him and dubbed him "The Doughboy's General."

No commander was more thoughtful of the welfare of his troops than this lean, six-foot, 54-year-old Missourian.

He showed this again when he accepted the tough job of setting up the new post-war Veterans Administration, to which 17,000,000 ex-servicemen turned for help.

"I don't think there's any job in the country I'd sooner not have," General Bradley frankly told the overseas press club here once, "nor any job in the world I'd like to do better."

The General set up his aid-to-veterans program without fuss, feathers or political fanfare. He made as good a record as an administrator as he had as a field commander overseas—and there was none better.

But he always considered it only as an emergency task, an interim assignment until he could return to his professional Army duties.

When he becomes chief of staff on the retirement of Eisenhower next February, he will reach the high point of 36 years of military service.

The son of a school teacher and himself a former West Point mathematics instructor, Bradley is fitted by temperament and inclination for the task of leading a modernized American Army. As commandant at the infantry training center at Fort Benning, he personally trained thousands of the young dough-boys leaders who served under him in Africa and Europe.

Bradley is modest, friendly and deceptively mild. He has a cool intelligence and a forthright simplicity of character confounding to devious men who make the mistake of thinking he can be imposed upon or fooled.

He has a flexible mind wide open to new ideas and new weapons—when they work. If the American Army ever has to fight a third world war under Bradley, it won't ride to battle in outdated tanks.

Fox Not Too Smart

DETROIT (UP)—A sly red fox picked out the wrong hunter to leer at. Frank Rhea sat down to rest after a luckless day of pheasant hunting. The fox crept within a few feet of him and sat there grinning. The hunter shot the animal and claimed the $5 bounty.

LIGHT ROUTS THIEVES LANCASTER, Pa. (U.P.)—An automatic electric light which awakens hens for extra laying served another purpose at the farm of Lloyd Brabson. Brabson found a bag containing 10 smothered chickens on the floor of the chicken house when he went to gather eggs. The police believe thieves dropped their loot and fled when the light went on at 2 a. m.

Neighbors heard a terrific din in the Jagers garage about 2 a. m. and investigation revealed that dogs had cornered a possum. The animal had climbed up on fruit jars, knocking many to the concrete floor. Dogs tried to climb up, too, and knocked down more.

The possum finally was killed. Mrs. Wood Butler, Sr., of San Angelo, the former Blanche Redwine of Osceola, Hill county, has signed a royalty contract with a music publishing company to sell her sheet music and recordings.

Two of her numbers to be handled by the New York firm are "Did-ja?" and "I Can Depend on You."

Solution of Yesterday's Puzzle

Washington Merry-Go-Round—Drew Pearson

Print Can't Show U. S. Generosity

ABOARD THE SOUTHWEST SPECIAL FRIENDSHIP TRAIN.

—A lot of my editors are probably wondering when I am going to quit collecting food and get back to being a newspaperman (so, also, is my wife). However, when the people of the Southwest announce that they've been blessed with a big wheat crop and want to share it with others, and when they go out and raise some 150 carloads of wheat with no urging from anyone and no help from their government—then that, in my opinion, is news. Furthermore, it's invigorating, stimulating news that I get a lot more kick out of writing about than I do peeping through keyholes in Washington.

One of the hardest things to tell in print, however, is the enthusiasm, the generosity, and the enterprise of the American people when it comes to giving food for friendship. This was the most spontaneous movement toward world brotherhood and friendship this country has probably ever seen and chiefly behind it is the belief that, whereas battleships can win wars, food can help win the peace.

For two weeks now I have been riding three different sections of the Friendship Train, from sunny California, through snowy Wyoming, across the brown plains of Kansas and through the smoke-begirt industrial cities of Pennsylvania. But, regardless of geography, weather or industry, the response has been equally warm and thrilling.

This has not been government aid from diplomat to diplomat, but from people to people. Every conceivable cross section of American life has cooperated. Railroads and railroad employees, small towns and big towns, all religions, all races, rich and poor—all turned out at the railroad stations to help build the bridge of friendship between Europe and the United States.

In Ft. Worth, big-hearted Amon Carter, who usually gives hats, this time gave away 15 carloads of flour (along with other Ft. Worth residents) and had the flour bags especially stamped with messages to the French and Italian people.

In Secaucus, N. J., the farmers, under the leadership of Mayor John J. Kane, sold pigs and contributed the cash equivalent of one pig each to the Friendship train—total $2,800. David C. White, a total wheat farmer 20 miles south of Dodge City, Kansas, gave five carloads of wheat because, as he expressed it, "in the 25th chapter of Matthew, Christ says—as you have done unto one of the least of these my brethren, you have done it unto me." Dick Long, managing editor of the Wichita Eagle, practically quit being a newspaperman in order to organize this Southwest Special of the Friendship Train. Hundreds of newspapers used up tons of precious newsprint telling their readers about the train and scores of radio stations sacrificed valuable advertising to do the same.

CHILDREN SACRIFICE In Sedgewick county, Kansas, the school children collected wastepaper, ran errands, saved their money until they raised enough to buy one whole carload of wheat (and that's a lot of wheat). In Philadelphia, the children of the John Bartram High School contributed seven times as much money as the Pennsylvania Manufacturers' association—Joe Grundy's high-tariff outfit which used to write U. S. tariff laws. In Grand Island, Nebraska, the teamsters union, headed by Bill Noble, furnished twenty men to load cars. In Trenton, N. J., Mrs. Laura Marsavitz, a teacher in a Negro school, had won a war prize for making parachutes. The prize was a bible. When the train passed through Trenton she came to the station with her school children and asked that the Bible be sent with the train to Europe.

In Newton, Kansas, the Menonite Church scoured the adjacent wheat-growing counties until 28 cars of wheat and flour were attached to the Friendship Train. The tall corn rows in Iowa staged an all-out radio drive for food and funds, later reported that, for the first time, people who phoned in to the radio stations pledging money gave more than they pledged.

Down in Texas the eight district managers of the Lions club worked so intensively that carload after carload came in from all over Texas—Longview, Odessa, Austin, Amarillo, Plainview, Lubbock, Sherman, Beaumont. Other service clubs, plus local radio stations and newspapers, worked with them. The Rock Island railroad and the Missouri Pacific helped the Santa Fe by bringing these off-the-mainline cars to Wichita where the Santa Fe Southwest Special started. In Pennsylvania, the Reading Railroad also cooperated with the Penn RR is hauling off five cars.

OUTSTANDING RESPONSE Greenville, S. C. decided to attach one boxcar to the Friendship Train, but, before it finished, hooked on two. Reported Broadus Bailey of Greenville: "For many years I have helped our community campaigns, but never have I seen such a voluntary response."

In Toledo, Ohio, Arthur Wisland, vice president of Wisland Overland, organized a fleet of station wagons and Jeeps to pick up donations.

Up in the mountains of Central Pennsylvania, well off the main line of the train, Lockhaven and Renovo insisted on loading cars. So did Williamsport, Clearfield, Bellefonte, Bedford, Tyrone and other off-line towns.

Because California didn't have much time to organize, the citizens of Berkeley raised $4,000 after the train left. The momentum of Oakland's drive also carried over, so energetic Mayor Joseph E. Smith has just reported that city raised a total of $48,612. Los Angeles, the starting point for the first Friendship Train, also raised $35,000 after the train left. They couldn't stop the money from rolling in.

Chicken Snake Causes Static

A Negro woman near Center is having trouble with her radio. Static of some sort, she thought.

So she took it to a radio shop for repairs, carrying it to town in her lap. The radio repairman took one look and found the trouble.

A chicken snake was coiled around the tubes.

This would have sounded reasonable 75 years ago, but it's a real oddity today: Joan Stratton, from Graham, Texas, and a student of Texas Christian University, is nursing an arrow wound in her leg.

She was hunting stray arrows on the archery range when another stray shaft struck her.

Carl Jagers of Henderson went all the way to Montana to hunt bear. But Mrs. Jagers, who stayed home, had more excitement.

Neighbors heard a terrific din in the Jagers garage about 2 a. m. and investigation revealed that dogs had cornered a possum. The animal had climbed up on fruit jars, knocking many to the concrete floor. Dogs tried to climb up, too, and knocked down more.

The possum finally was killed. Mrs. Wood Butler, Sr., of San Angelo, the former Blanche Redwine of Osceola, Hill county, has signed a royalty contract with a music publishing company to sell her sheet music and recordings.

pend on You." One of her latest is "Travelin' Blues."

And speaking of songs—and women—the theme song for Upshur county could well be "Can't You Hear Me Calling, Carolyn." Of girl babies born in that county in October, nearly one third were named Carolyn.

Notre Dame Regains Lead In Grid Poll, SMU Third

Michigan Drops To 2nd Place

NEW YORK, Nov. 25. (AP)—Notre Dame has regained the No. 1 spot among the nation's football teams from Michigan after another nip-and-tuck battle in the weekly Associated Press football writers poll.

The Fighting Irish from South Bend, Ind., and the Rose Bowl-bound Wolverines are separated by only 30 points although Notre Dame drew 87 first place votes to 81 for Michigan of the 192 cast. In the point column it is Notre Dame 1,798 and Michigan 1,768.

While Michigan wound up its season Saturday with a 21-0 decision over Ohio State, Notre Dame still has an important Dec. 6 date with Southern California, the fourth ranking club. This contest probably will determine the final rankings.

The Southern Methodist Mustangs, hard pressed by Baylor in a 10-0 victory, continue in third place as they ride towards their season finale Saturday with Texas Christian.

The total vote with points figured on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis (first place votes in parentheses) is:

1. Notre Dame (97)	1798
2. Michigan (81)	1768
3. Southern Methodist (6)	1365
4. Southern California (3)	1227
5. Penn State (1)	1109
6. Alabama	798
7. Texas	737
8. Pennsylvania	703
9. Georgia Tech	227
10. North Carolina (3)	192
11. California	179
12. Army	114
13. Kansas	94
14. William and Mary	66
15. Mississippi	48
16. Columbia (1)	41
17. U. C. L. A.	37
18. Rice	32
19. Minnesota	15
20. Oklahoma	12

Others—North Carolina State, and Illinois, each 7; Maryland and Northwestern, each 6; Georgia, 5; Wisconsin, 4; Rutgers and Oregon, each 3; West Chester (Pa.) teachers, 2; St. Norbert and Muhlenberg, each 1.

A 27-game basketball schedule—most extensive and ambitious cage card in De Paul history—will be played by the Blue Demons this season.

ALABAMA FOOTBALLERS CELEBRATE BOWL BID—Four University of Alabama football players hoist on their shoulders coach cheerleader Lenette Ellis (left) and Gloria Sabatini on the campus at Tuscaloosa, Alabama, as they celebrate their team's bid to play in the New Orleans Sugar Bowl game on New Year's Day. LOOKING 'EM OVER

With TOMMY HART
Now they're campaigning to make baseball less technical and infuse it with more pyrotechnics.

The Chicago Cub's Jack Sheehan, who directs Phil Wrigley's farm system, has gone on record as favoring a catcher's box, which would serve to do away with the intentional pass.

Sheehan's argument is that the fans come out to see the Ted Williamses and the Joe DiMaggios swing the pine, which the opposing management doesn't ordinarily let them do in tight situations. So the Chicago man evolved the idea of making an intentional pass worth two bases.

Sheehan's enclosure for the backstop would extend six feet in areas of the batter's box and would cover exactly half the batter's pen on either side of the plate. The receiver would have to stand with both feet in the box before the pitch. After the ball is thrown by the pitcher, the catcher would have license to go after the pellet provided he kept one foot in the enclosure.

Were an intentional pass given with men on first and second, one man would score and the other advance to third under Sheehan's plan.

The plan was designed solely for use in the major league and certainly not for Class D ball such as the Longhorn league fans saw last season.

Had the various boards of strategy not been privileged to use the Annie Oakley when they needed it at times, the situation could have gotten completely out of hand. The balance of power was in favor of the hitter, as it was.

Warren Woodson, Hardin-Simmons university's crafty football mentor, had his sights set on a physical education directorship long before he ever went into the coaching profession.

Cosden Oilers, Hostellers Win Bowling Tests

Cosden's Oilers and the Douglass Hostellers continued their torrid fight for the lead in Men's Classic bowling league play by scoring sweeps in Monday night competition at the West Texas alleys.

Cosden blanked Berghoff, 3-0, while Douglass was winning for Texas Club by the same count.

In other matches, Nathan's Jewelers repaired through Carling's Ale 3-0, with Archie Marchant leading the way while Griffin Nash ambushed Schlitz, 2-1.

Marchant put together scores of 152-208-246 for a sizzling 607, setting a new scoring record for the season.

Archie's tote enabled the Jewelers to set up a new scoring mark of 942.

Cosden collected high team series with 2,865.

Schlitz was late in arriving for its match with Griffin Nash and had to forfeit the first game. After winning the second, the Brewers found its 75-pin handicap too much and dropped the third.

Cosden now leads Douglass and Griffin Nash by a single game while Nathan's is but two games off the pace.

Doc Strauss of Nathan's banked a 22 while other 200's games were bowled by Wood, Cosden, LeBlou, Cosden, Dozier, Berghoff, Williams, Schlitz, Thompson, Schlitz, and Douglass of the Douglass team.

Walker, Scott In Hot Race
DALLAS, Nov. 25. (AP)—The Southwest conference football campaign whirls into its last week with a neck-and-neck finish in the battle for ball-carrying honors between Doak Walker of Southern Methodist and Clyde Scott of Arkansas.

Walker leads Scott by 11 yards with each having one game to play.

Statistics released by James H. Stewart, conference executive secretary, show Walker with 597 yards on 139 carries and Scott 586 on 129. Dick McKissack of Southern Methodist, in third place with 438 yards on 135 runs, isn't expected to catch either Walker or Scott.

Bobby Layne of Texas appears to have the total offense title sewed up. Layne has accounted for 976 yards passing and rushing to 844 for Scott and 803 for Walker.

Layne also has too long a lead in passing to be overtaken. He has completed 59 out of 103 for 912 yards and eight touchdowns. Gilbert Johnson of Southern Methodist, in second place, has connected on 40 out of 68 for 522 and four touchdowns. Third is Stan Hollmig of Texas A. and M. with 47 completions in 112 tries for 515 yards and six touchdowns.

Tom Landry of Texas leads the punters with an average of 41.1 on 18 punts. Hollmig is second with 39.7 on 69 and Carl Knox of Texas Christian is third with 39.5 on 76 kicks.

Barney Welch of Texas A. and M. leads the pass-receivers with 19 catches for 225 yards. Max Bumgardner of Texas is second with 14 for 220 yards and Byron Gillory of Texas is third with 13 for 219 yards.

Aubrey Fowler of Arkansas leads the punt returners with 356 yards on 18 runs, an average of 19.8. Gillory is second with a 13.9 average on 15 and Walker is third with 12.5 on 17.

Texas is well ahead in total offense with 2955 yards. Rice is second with 2429. In defense Texas Christian has held nine opponents to 165.3 yards per game. Texas is second with 178.8.

Southwest 11's In Light Drills

The Southwest Conference football race heads into its final week and most coaches let their charges off with light practice yesterday.

Texas Christian Mentor L. D. "Dutch" Meyer said five of his team were sidelined with lime burns received in the Rice game last week.

George Brown, Tackle; Dave Bloxom and Lindy Berry, Backs; Alan Pike, Guard; and Doug Brightwell, Center, were those burned by the lime.

The Frogs yesterday were briefed on defense against undefeated, untied Southern Methodist.

The University of Texas went through a light drill yesterday and assistant coaches in charge of the squad said every member was expected to be in good condition for the Thanksgiving Day game with Texas A. and M.

Blair Cherry, Texas coach who is recovering from an appendectomy operation, was reported doing nicely in an Austin hospital.

Baylor's Bears also skipped heavy drill yesterday, along with Texas A. and M.

Baylor and Rice close out their season in Houston Saturday.

Arkansas winds up against Tulsa-S.M.U. Rice and Arkansas followed the light practice rule also.

Card Sale May Be Announced

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 25. (AP)—Whether Sam Bredon will sell or retain his famous and profitable St. Louis Cardinals, long a subject of rumor and denial in baseball circles, was expected to be given a definite answer today—by Bredon himself.

Bredon yesterday called a conference of newspaper and radio men to be held in his Sportsman's Park offices at 10 a. m., at which he promised an announcement concerning what he plans to do, not only with the parent club, but also his extensive minor league holdings.

The announcement by the 72-year-old Bredon, who has been president of the Cardinals since 1920 and who owns slightly more than 75 per cent of the Cardinal organization stock, will clear up latest reports relative to the future of the club.

According to these unconfirmed but persistent reports, Bredon will sell his holdings for a price said to range from $3,500,000 to $4,000,000 to a group of men headed by Postmaster General Robert E. Hannegan of St. Louis, the movie magnate brothers, Charles, George and Spyros Skouras; Edwin W. Pauley, California oil man, and Sidney Salomon, Jr., St. Louis insurance man. The Skouras brothers are former St. Louisians.

Donkey Basketball Game Slated Dec. 6.

STERLING CITY, Nov. 25.—The Sterling City high school athletic fund will benefit from the proceeds of a donkey basketball game to be played here with the American Legion and the Lions' club the night of Dec. 6.

The contest will be one of the first of its kind ever played in West Texas and is expected to draw a capacity crowd.

Profits will go toward the purchase of some new suits for the Eagles basketball team.

Admission prices will be 50 and 25 cents.

Nation To Hear SMU-TCU Tilt

FORT WORTH, Nov. 25.—T.C.U. and S.M.U. will take to the air here Saturday afternoon. The game will be broadcast on two national networks and one regional, with probably the greatest radio audience ever to hear a Southwest Conference game.

The National Broadcasting Company, with Bill Stern at the mike; Columbia Broadcasting System; and the Texas network used for the Humble account of the contest will combine to tell the world about the Horned Frog-Mustang duel.

All regular tickets for the game have been sold for two weeks. Standing room tickets were placed on sale last week, and Athletic Director Howard Grubbs of TCU reports that nearly 700 were grabbed up in six days.

Given a fair day, the game should draw some 30,000 fans—the largest crowd to see a football game in Fort Worth since the two teams played here in 1935 before a crowd of 40,000.

Steers Seek First Pony Win Since '40

Cayuses Hold All-Time Edge

Pat Murphy's Big Spring high school football Steers will be seeking their first victory in seven long years over the Sweetwater Mustangs in their annual Thanksgiving Day clash here Thursday afternoon.

The Longhorns haven't defeated the Ponies since 1940, the last year they won the 3AA championship. That season, the Bovines—boasting probably the greatest line in AA circles—turned back the Cayuses, 14-6.

Since then, the Longhorns have managed to score in each of the bouts but the closest they ever came to victory was in 1945 when they dropped a 19-12 decision. Last fall, the Ponies galloped a 24-7 victory.

In the last 11 games between the two schools, the Bovines have managed to win only twice. Besides the 1940 win, the Longhorns eked out a 9-6 victory in 1936.

The Mustangs scored the only shutout in those 11 years in 1936, gaining a 19-0 decision.

In the 34 games played between the two schools, the Sweetwater representatives have won 22 decision while losing 12 times. There have been no ties, oddity enough.

Dogies Battle Pups Wednesday

Losers to the Sweetwater Colts in a hard fought battle the last time out, the Big Spring high school B string Shorthorns tangle with the Midland Bullpups here Wednesday afternoon in their season's final game.

The Bullpups dropped a 7-6 decision to the Dogies in a game at Midland several weeks ago and Wednesday's contest is due to be equally close.

Sweetwater is the only team the Big Springers have failed to defeat. The Dogies lost two decisions to the hard charging Colts. In other outings, the locals—coached by J. B. Neely and Com Isaacs—have bowled over Lamesa twice, Odessa twice and Midland.

All the Big Spring hands are reported ship shape.

Burns Races To AC Win

Bobby Burns, the Helena hurricane, turned out to be not Round Bobby at all but grappling fans who saw his namesake at the Big Spring Athletic club Monday night didn't seem to mind.

In fact, very few who were present—and one of the biggest crowds in months looked on—are not convinced that the Beer Barrel could last long with the Helena terror.

Burns climbed into the ring against impressive Al Szasz of St. Louis, Mo., last night and took the Missouriian into camp, breaking Szasz's famed arm lock in the bargain.

If Burns isn't the fastest gee who ever appeared at Pat's Barn, he ranks near the top. He had Szasz going in circles and oftimes chasing himself.

Otto Nickovich, ticketed to go against Ace Abbot, didn't show up and Abbot went against Sailor Parker instead. The two wrestled for an hour without settling anything. Each won a fall.

Graham Breaks Passing Mark

NEW YORK, Nov. 25. (AP)—All America Conference individual statistics show Otto Graham, rifle-armed passer of the champion Cleveland Browns, has set an all-time professional record for passing yardage.

Graham completed 15 passes for 325 yards in the Browns' spectacular comeback against the New York Yankees Sunday at Yankee Stadium to push his aerial yardage to 2,305 in 12 games. The previous best mark in pro football was Sid Luckman's 2,194.

Graham's 325 yards by passing which enabled the Browns to gain a 28-28 tie after trailing the Yankees 0-28 set a new conference aerial record for one game. His 335 yards for the day, ten by rushing, also cracked the single game offensive mark of 322 held by New York's Spec Sanders.

Need Seen For Provisional Government In German Zone

By Joseph Alsop

BERLIN, Nov. 25. — Every responsible American and British official here shares the fervent conviction that after the failure of the London Conference, urgent steps must be taken to form a provisional government in Western Germany. These are the practical men dealing with the practical situation. Their opinion deserves respect in any case. Their arguments, moreover, appear to be irrefutable by any realistic test.

They say first that it is vain and time-wasting to continue seeking or hoping for agreement with the Soviets. The Soviet control of Eastern Germany is squarely based on ruthless terror, and has the total exploitation of Eastern Germany, both political and economic, as its purpose. For the present, the Soviets cannot conceivably be persuaded to start afresh, with wholly new methods and purposes. Therefore even General Lucius D. Clay, whose highest ambition on coming to Germany was to achieve agreement with the Soviets, now frankly feels that there is no hope.

In the second place, the mere passage of time is pressing these Americans and Britishers who have the task of administering the most important part of the old German state. Their broad problem is neatly summed up in the currency issue. All four zones of Germany still use reichsmarks printed by the Allies as their currency. But the currency is on the verge of losing all value, except as a sort of official scrip for buying official rations.

A large part of the trouble has been caused by the Soviets. They were negligently given dies to print reichsmarks by our Treasury. They have printed uncounted billions, to pay their troops, to "buy" industries for Soviet account, and to meet all other occupation charges. They have consistently refused to agree to Germany-wide currency reform. A stage of acute danger has now been reached. If the valueless reichsmarks are not soon replaced with money having some value, there is likelihood of a general catastrophe. There is also the certainty that the effort to rebuild Germany's economic life will fail. Therefore the task of currency reform must begin at once, and begin separately in the Anglo-American and French zones.

Insurance of a separate currency for the Anglo-American and French zones will of course be practically equivalent to the division of Germany into wholly separate political entities. But this is not the only way in which time presses.

There are no fully responsible governmental authorities in Western Germany today. The economic council of the Anglo-American zones and the various land governments can make decisions. But being known to be impermanent, they cannot fully enforce their will. Thus far, the rationing system has continued to assure the great majority of Germans slender subsistence. But leaks in the dyke, little everywhere and some big in the Ruhr, long ago began to appear.

In short the rationing system must be quickly sustained and strengthened, as must the whole administrative machine by which Germany will be rebuilt.

But the Western powers cannot adopt the blood-stained methods of the police state to carry out their decisions in Germany. The job can only be done, in the last analysis, by the Germans themselves. And this requires a still further step. It is now urgent not only to give the Germans of the West a currency of some value. It is equally urgent to give them a genuinely representative provisional government, which the German people can hold responsible for future failures. The alternative is administrative collapse.

From such political realities as these, there is no escape except into theory. In fact, the remaining open question is not whether another stalemate in London will be the sign for a radical reorganization of Western Germany. The question still open is whether the French will join with the British and Americans in setting up this new Western Germany which will allow the Germans to contribute to their own salvation.

Church Is Called 'Symphony In Mud'

AP Newsfeatures

SANTA FE, N. M. — Often termed a "symphony in mud," the Cristo Rey church in this ancient city is claimed to be the largest adobe structure in the southwest and one of the largest in the world.

The impressive building—one of the newest theological structures in a land of many churches—was constructed in 1940 by native labor four feet.

The church, erected under the supervision of Archbishop Gerken, is described as "embodying the features of old Franciscan missions of New Mexico" built 150 years before well-known missions of California came into being and even before the Pilgrims landed at Plymouth Rock.

Cristo Rey became the final resting place for a massive 450,000 pound stone altarpiece—referred to as the church in 1781 by Don Francisco Antonio Marin Del Valle, governor and captain general of the territory.

Described by some as the "finest piece of stone sculpture in the United States from Spanish Colonial times," the reteros was sealed for many years behind a wall in St. Francis Cathedral, Santa Fe.

Proud of the construction in mud from the land on which the church now stands, the Rev. Daniel Krahe, first pastor, once said: "To have built Cristo Rey out of anything but mud in the typical New Mexico mission style would have been criminal.

In the shadow of the Sangre De Cristo—Blood of Christ—mountains as a memorial to the quadri-centennial of Coronado's arrival in this area.
