Strikers Picket Movie Studios

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 2 (AP) — Four hundred of steel-helmeted pickets marched up and down the street in front of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Studio this morning.

More than 100 sheriff's deputies, packing gas masks and gas grenades, kept the bulk of the strikers away from the studio entrance, leaving only eight pickets at the gate.

Shipping Strike Again Ties Up Texas Ports

By The Associated Press For the second time within a month Texas coastal ports today were tied up by a maritime strike.

An estimated 30,000 men were idle in Houston and 19 ships were reported stranded at their docks as members of the CIO Marine Engineers and the AFL Masters, Mates and Pilots left their jobs in a nation-wide maritime strike.

"This strike has us sealed up tight," Port Director J. Russell Wait told newsmen. "We're in the hands of people who don't want to work."

The only vessels affected by the engineers' strike in Galveston were tankers and foreign vessels. The strike there however, had far-reaching effects as 2,000 longshoremen, clerks, checkers and warehousemen respected picket lines.

Locomotive switch engines used on the Galveston docks were idle yesterday, stopping all work at grain elevators and affecting operation of the Texas Star Flour Mill, which depends on switch engines to move freight cars.

There were no ships in port at Beaumont and Corpus Christi. Longshoremen, however, respected picket lines.

No freight cars were being unloaded at Beaumont.

Vibration Destroyed Plane, Professor Says

AUSTIN, Oct. 2 (AP) — Very little is known about flight conditions at extremely high speeds, says Dr. M. J. Thompson, University of Texas authority on supersonic flight.

He expressed the opinion that it was vibration and not an "air wall" that disintegrated the British jet test plane above the Thames last Friday.

"I do not believe the plane exploded against a solid wall of air, but that in the transitional zone between subsonic and supersonic speed it encountered such abrupt changes in the character of air flow that the resulting vibration tore it apart," he said.

Body Of Harlingen Man Found Drowned

HARLINGEN, Oct. 2 (AP) — The body of Drexel Johnson, 29, son of a local bank president, was recovered yesterday from the Arroyo Colorado.

State highway patrolmen, who investigated, said tracks indicated that Johnson's car had crashed through a wire fence, plunged 75 feet through a used car lot and went over the 35-foot bank of the arroyo.

US Betraying Trieste Pact, Slavs Claim

Anglo-Saxon Powers Want Adriatic Base, Delegate States

PARIS, Oct. 2 (AP) — Yugoslavia accused the United States and Great Britain before the peace conference today of betraying the Big Four agreement on the free state of Trieste in order to establish a British-American military base on the Adriatic.

In an angry torrent of rapid-fire French before the Italian political and territorial commission, Yugoslav delegate Dr. Mosha Pijade declared the "Anglo-Saxon powers" had renounced the most important decisions of the foreign ministers' council pertaining to Trieste.

"Democratic principles, in the British, American and French proposals," Pijade declared, "have gone with the wind."

Debate on the statute for governing the new free state of Trieste moved into its second day today with time running out for the Italian political and territorial commission and four other peace conference committees still working on major problems.

Ten commissions convened today, working toward their week end deadline, with three of them scheduling both day and night sessions. The Italian economic commission, with final decision still to be reached on the total of Italian reparations, scheduled afternoon and evening meetings, while the Balkan economic commission still was hung up on the total of Bulgaria's reparations.

More Effective Airborne Army Blueprinted

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2 (AP) — American airborne divisions 17,000 men strong and with fire and striking power equal to ground troops are being blueprinted by the Army.

Officials familiar with the tentative planning said today that in addition to doubling the 8,500-man wartime strength of the divisions they are to include a battalion of tanks as well as artillery.

The artillery equipment will be similar to that used by infantry divisions but modified to meet the requirements of air transport.

The proposal is in line with other recently reported studies aimed at expanding the size and giving more punch to infantry and armored units. Along these lines, the Army is said to be planning to up infantry divisions from 14,000 to 17,000 men and armored divisions from their World War II size of 11,000 men and 260 tanks to 15,000 men and 400 tanks.

The division would not, however, attempt to maintain its own service of supply.

In this connection, Maj. Gen. Anthony J. McAuliffe, of Bastogne fame and one of the pioneers in airborne operations, hopes that the air forces will place increasing emphasis on the problems of troop carrying and supply.

In addition to improvements in present methods of landing men at conventional airfields behind the lines, McAuliffe sees the need for better methods of putting airborne troops into quick action on the battlefields themselves.

World War II saw the use of parachute and glider-borne troops in mass. But casualties were high and the troops did not always hit the ground in the compact force needed for such operations.

"What we really need — and I suppose will get eventually — is some device whereby the pilot can pull a lever and the body of the plane, with troops in it, will drop by chute on the exact spot aimed at," says McAuliffe.

Kieberg Advocates Free Meat Market

KINGSVILLE, Oct. 2 (AP) — Robert J. Kieberg, Jr., president of the million-acre King Ranch in South Texas, which during the war shipped 20,000 head of cattle annually, believes a market free of government control is the only solution to the nation's meat problems.

"There always was a sufficient supply of good beef in the country, prior to government interference with the industry," Kieberg told Eastern newspapermen who visited his ranch yesterday.

"If government controls are dropped, the King Ranch and other producers could supply ample quantities of meat at prices in keeping with the general economy," Kieberg declared.

Hull, Gravely Ill, Urges Confidence Among Nations

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2 (AP) — Cordell Hull counseled the big five powers on his 75th birthday today that they must replace "dangerous" differences with mutual confidence or face "incalculable disaster."

The frail former secretary of state offered his advice even as he carried on a personal struggle for time and health to make a final contribution to world peace.

Hull suffered a stroke Monday at the US naval hospital where he has been resting from the task of compiling his experiences in public life — a work he hopes will not shed light on the past but furnish lessons for the future.

Hull Condition 'Unchanged'

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2 (AP) — Former Secretary of State Cordell Hull's condition was described as "essentially unchanged" today.

At 9 a.m. Navy Department bulletin on the retired cabinet member, ill at Bethesda Naval Hospital, said:

"Mr. Hull rested very well during the latter part of the night. His condition is essentially unchanged."

Hull, for 12 years President Roosevelt's secretary of state, has been described as seriously ill.

It was the 75th birthday of the man who also guided the state department for the first three years of World War II.

A light brain hemorrhage Monday night left him partly paralyzed and semi-conscious. Late yesterday the Navy issued a bulletin saying his condition had become "more serious."

Bulletins which followed through the night said he had failed to improve.

An original member of the Roosevelt cabinet, the Tennesseean resigned in November, 1944, because of ill health. He since had been under treatment recurrently at the Naval hospital.

He reentered the hospital Sept. 12 for checkup and rest.

"Only if each nation is united within itself behind policies designed to these common interests, and only as the nations continuously cooperate with each other in support of those interests, can we assure — for ourselves and for those who come after us — enduring peace and free institutions," Hull declared.

"As I look ahead, it is perfectly clear to me that all nations must, with whole-hearted devotion, continue to base their relations upon the paramount fact that the primary interests of each of them alike lie in the assuring of its security in a world at peace, and the fostering, in such a world, of the economic and social well-being of its people."

Hull held that a "special responsibility" rested upon Britain, China, France, Soviet Russia and the United States to exercise jointly, "both inside and outside the United Nations," world leadership toward "unity and cooperation among all nations."

He termed that objective the "predominant duty" of statesmanship.

Nowhere in his message did Hull refer to the post-victory developments specifically troubling international relations, to the atomic bomb, or to the disputes between the western powers and those in the immediate zone of Soviet interest.

Hull's associates said that the former secretary had worked on the statement for nearly half of the 20 days he has spent in the hospital. He completed it before he was stricken.

Air Mail Reduction Popular Locally

Big Spring residents have been quick to take advantage of the reduction in air mail rates, which became effective Tuesday.

A total of 119 pounds of air mail, freight departed the local post office Tuesday as compared to 98 pounds on Monday, last day of the old rate of eight cents an ounce when in effect.

Postal officials said the incoming air mail business was correspondingly heavy.

Allied Council Details Plans For Execution

NUERNBERG, (Ger.) Oct. 2 (AP) — Lawyers for the 11 condemned German war criminals disclosed today they planned to appeal to the allied control council to change the death sentences from hanging to shooting if all other pleas for clemency failed.

The last court of resort for Hermann Goering, Joachim Von Ribbentrop and the others from the ignominy of the hangman's rope was formed of the four Allied generals sitting in Berlin as occupation authorities for the four zones of Germany. A twelfth German, Martin Bormann, was sentenced in absentia to be hanged.

As attorneys drew their petitions, the four power commission representing the Allied Council held an all day session on arrangements and details for the executions Oct. 16 in Nuernberg, once the festival city of the Nazi party. They talked also of transporting seven of the war criminals to Berlin to start their prison terms.

A redoubled force of American soldier guards surrounded the ancient courthouse and jail where the convicted men were held, and they had orders to shoot to kill on provocation.

All three men acquitted in the history-making international trial, which established planning aggressive war as a supreme crime, remained in jail overnight. They had no other place to go immediately. Hjalmar Schacht, the truculent former finance minister, planned to remain in jail at least another night, saying he had no money, ration card nor home.

Franz von Papen asked for a visa to the French zone, in which he has two castles near the Rhine. Hans Fritzsche may have to return to the Russian zone, whence he came for trial as a prisoner of war.

Revised Plan For Military Training Presented Legion For Approval

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2 (AP) — The Army took the wraps off its revised plan for universal military training today as Secretary of War Patterson asked the American Legion at San Francisco for active backing.

The proposal bore only the War Department's official approval but about three of every ten men trained would be for the Navy. Hence officials of the sea arm forecast Navy support for the measure before Congress. The Legion earlier this year sponsored a plan similar in outline.

Principal provisions include: Those affected — at the outset, every male citizen between 17 and 19, inclusive, would be required to register. Thereafter, youths would register upon reaching 17. Training would start as they reached their 18th birthdays or upon graduation from secondary schools, but in either case before age 20.

Number — about 1,000,000 men estimated to be available annually, of whom 726,000 would be trained for the Army ground and air forces and the rest for the Navy.

Training required — one year or its equivalent. The first six months would be in Army camps, with eight weeks devoted to basic military training, and the rest of

WHAT GIVES 'ROUND TOWN

By LEATRICE ROSS

Big Spring is rapidly assuming all the aspects of a college town. . . Jalopies and jeeps bulging with students. . . Dozens parked on the curbs bumping rides. . . Drove filling drugstores and shops with all manner of activity. . . And that all-important typical college swagger. . . And lots of strangers in town.

Wesley Deats is searching in vain for enough to round out his car pool. . . Charles Lovelace is making like a bookroom clerk, lugging textbooks to the mob. . . Tip Anderson and John Rudezal, Jr. (of Ackery) will represent the boys on the student-faculty competition activities. . . Boys, says the college proxy, will outnumber the fair sex about 2 to 1, but we wager the odds are nearer 5 to 1. . . The college speech class will put out some 15 minutes of entertainment over KBST about once a week, using an all student personnel.

BSHS band is working out a smooth dance orchestra, which we understand will be available. Participants include Jerry Williams, Ray Mae White, Billy Wozencraft, Richard Deats, Doyle Jenkins, Jimmy Hobbs, Billy Montgomery, Bill Murry, George Clark, Lex James, and Pat Ray.

Fulfilling A Larger Responsibility

Prime function of a newspaper is to gather and disseminate unbiased and uncensored news. Added to this is the right and even the responsibility of commenting upon news and conditions through editorials and interpretative writing.

Happily, the newspaper does not stop there in its mission — not if it fulfills its larger responsibility to all the people who support it. If it is worth its salt, it must interest itself actively in supporting and initiating promotions that benefit the public.

Thus, during National Newspaper week, we think it fitting to examine the place of a newspaper in the community. First of all, it must reflect the happenings of the day. These go into the news columns, objectively written as possible. The better the paper reflects the activities of the community, the better the job it is doing in keeping the people informed of the daily happenings. But if it stopped there, we believed it would not be contributing the full measure of which it is capable. This is the reason that The Herald has in the past, and will, in the future, concern itself with projects that are of community service. In so doing, it is possible that some things will be given space and play out of proportion to their actual news values, but it is not without purpose. In such instances, the ultimate aim is beneficial results for the community, not strict adherence to news yardsticks.

While we do not boast of what this paper has contributed to this community and area, we are not ashamed of it. Nor do we offer any apologies for giving vigorous support toward worthwhile projects and reforms in the future. We believe the people want and expect it to be that way.

Answering An Appeal To Service

At the moment, the American Legion is conducting a membership campaign in Howard county, seeking to boost its membership to 500.

This is not at a formidable goal, for upwards of 2,400 men from Howard county who went away to war are now out of the service. Of course, many of these are affiliated with the Veterans of Foreign Wars, another fine veterans organization, but a large number are affiliated with both organizations.

There is an all too prevalent notion in the popular mind that the Legion and other veterans organizations are constituted for the purpose of promoting their individual and collective interests. This notion should be dispelled.

It is true that the veterans have taken the lead in legislation for veterans—and fittingly so—for certainly this body of men should be qualified to speak in this capacity. The GI bill of rights is one evidence of the results. Better hospitals and medical care, more expeditious handling of pensions, claims, etc. is another of many.

But still, this is not the major reason why a veteran should associate himself with his comrades in an established, forceful organization. That reason is that the fundamental purposes of the organization are for the things which are wholesome, good, and enduring under an atmosphere of real freedom. In other words, the Legion's appeal for members ought to be answered because it is an appeal for unselfish service to the community, state, and nation.

Publicity Men In The Government

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Like the little pilot fish that noses along near a ship or a shark in deep water, publicity men swim close in the wake of government big shots.

You rarely hear their names but this town is full of them. The better they are the less you hear of them and the more and better things you hear of their bosses.

They're on the government payroll. Most of them were newspapermen themselves, once. Some were along the road they decided to work for the government and make publicity a career. Some are good. Some aren't.

All don't do the same kind of work. Generally, there are two kinds: The one who works close to the big man, becoming his crutch; and the one who handles the every day information coming from his department.

Take the one who works close to the big man:

He may write his speeches, or help him write them; write the mazzine pieces which bear the big man's name; edit his public statements, toning them down, sharpening them, keeping the big man from sticking his neck out.

He's supposed to be the fountainhead of information about his boss, know what he's thinking, and interpret what he said or didn't say, or meant to say, or didn't mean.

If, by a soft answer he turneth away wrath, he's saved the boss that much wear and tear. If, by giving the right information he's saved the boss from a personal interview, the boss saves time.

All this is just a general picture. It varies by individuals. Some top officials write their own speeches, although not always with happy results.

Henry Wallace is reported to have written his own foreign policy speech which set the world wondering and eventually led to his being fired from the cabinet.

The night he left the cabinet he spent half his time on the radio explaining what he meant, or didn't mean, in his speech of a week before.

Now take the other kind of publicity man, the general information man. Every department has a staff of such men.

They may help write speeches, and a lot of them do, but they're supposed to be a central source of information for what happens in their department.

Hal Boyle's Notebook

Nazi Idea Of America

By EDWIN SHANKE (For Hal Boyle)

BERYN (AP)—Gum-chewing German schoolboys, their hearts won by GI's who taught them to play baseball, want to go to the United States "to get rich quick."

They dream of an America with plenty of food, no ruins, Indians, skyscrapers, wild animals and gadgets.

Gathered around the battered desks of a small schoolroom in suburban Zehlendorf, some 50 school children and I talked about the United States — that is, they did most of the talking.

"Do you think I could emigrate to the United States?" asked Hans, his cheeks plump with the kind of fat you get on potatoes and black bread.

"My pa says there still are plenty of billionaires and millionaires in America and that after the peace maybe I can go and make lots of money. But if there is so much money in America, why are there so many strikes?"

Most of his classmates, who also thought it would be "wunderbar" to go to the states, didn't have such ambitious reasons.

"I'd like to go for the cats," shouted a lad on a far corner. "To get away from the ruins," said another. None of them wanted to leave Germany forever. After their tummies were full and Germany rebuilt, they thought it would be nice here.

Little Heinrich, who has the mechanical turn of mind which makes the German a genius at manufacturing implements of war, wants to go to the states to learn about gadgets so that he can play a role in reconstructing Berlin.

Judging from the way the German boy talks and questions, it would seem that not the Nazis, but stories about Indians by Karl May, a German author who never saw one, have exercised the greatest single influence on their minds.

"How many Indians are there and what do you Americans do when they go on the warpath?" asked little Julius.

One youngster wondered "do Americans speak German and do they listen to German music?"

"Not the military kind, certainly," interposed the teacher. Then as the boys sang a German folk song, he turned to me and sighed: "The Nazis ruined their voices."

Spanish is the main language of Puerto Rico; less than 30 percent of the people speak English.

MINNEAPOLIS, (UP)—It's neither the years nor the dye cleaning that makes that blue serge suit shiny. It's just plain wear. Washington Merry-Go-Round—Drew Pearson

General Vaughn Chides Texans

WASHINGTON — Senator Jim Mead, now seeking to retire Governor Tom Dewey from the top job—New York state, was honored last week at a cocktail party given by members of the Mead Committee — formerly the Truman Committee; now the Kilgore Committee.

One of the early arrivals was General Harry Vaughn, the president's military aide. Glancing around the room, Vaughn immediately began to kid Mead because none of his senatorial colleagues had yet shown up. A committee aide countered that most members of the committee are busy campaigning for re-election, with one of them helping Jimmie Byrnes in Paris.

Vaughn apparently had forgotten that Senator Tom Connally of Texas is a member of the committee, and remarked: "I seem to remember that Tom has not been the most constant participant in the doings of the committee, anyhow."

"Tom comes around when you boys have a Texan on the stand," Vaughn continued. "Any time you wanted to get Tom to a hearing, all you had to do was call Jesse Jones, and you'd be sure to have Tom there to hold Jesse's hand and serve as counsel for the defense."

Senator Mead remarked that he has always been impressed by the loyalty of Texans to each other and Vaughn agreed with him.

"Why, when the president fired Henry Wallace last week, one of the first things to come in was a wire from Tom Clark (the attorney general, who is from Texas), urging that Harry appoint Jesse Jones secretary of commerce."

Vaughn also remarked that state pride was especially strong among G. I.'s overseas.

"Over in Potsdam last year," he said, "the president reviewed the 84th division, that's the rail-splitter boys, mainly from Illinois and Kentucky. Well, the president, Jimmie Byrnes, General Bolling of the 84th and myself were riding in a car when someone mentioned that the 84th had been trained in Texas."

"The president and I started to kid Byrnes that everywhere we went we saw troops from Texas, Missouri, and other states, but that we hadn't heard of any Carolinians up near the front. We really kid it on thick."

"All of a sudden, the buck private driving our car just couldn't take it any more. He turned around to us and it sort of burst out of him."

"I can't keep quiet any more. I'm a Carolinian — I live right across the street from Secretary Byrnes. And there are plenty more of us right up here."

"We sure got a bang out of that kid. The president told General Bolling he was not to be disciplined for opening up, and then Jimmie Byrnes and this kid talked about South Carolina."

Stalin's War of Nerves

Most interesting fact about Stalin's widely broadcast and widely hailed-as-conciliatory statements to a London newsmen last week is the date. The date was September 24.

For on exactly the same day Stalin was telling the world that there was no danger of another war, he was sending a note to Turkey which sang another tune.

The note to Turkey was not made public until four days later. Thus Stalin publicly put fears to rest, while simultaneously warning Turkey that she must yield to Russia on the Dardanelles and that she must permit Russian troops on Turkish soil. If not, the implied threat was war.

Thus, despite Stalin's attempt to woo the world, his aims remain exactly the same. Furthermore, they remain exactly the same as those of the Czars before him. Finally, they remain today, with his allies, exactly the same as with his old sparring partner, Hitler.

For, in 1940, when Russia and Germany were under a nonaggression pact, the same Mr. Molotov now dickered in Paris with Berlin to dicker with Ribbentrop for terms under which Russia would come into the war against England. The terms Molotov wanted were the Dardanelles, Iran, Iraq, the Balkans, and the mouth of the Red Sea. Hitler wouldn't give these terms, and Russia finally was forced into the war on the side of the Allies, not against them.

Now that the war is over, Stalin and Molotov are right back where they were in 1940 — trying to get the Dardanelles and other long-range Russian objectives.

Blue Blood Summer Resort

While privately discussing the meat shortage and other matters with members of the Democratic National Committee, President Truman came in for another kind of beef — the verbal variety — concerning his recent vacation cruise to Bermuda.

Senator Theodore Green of Rhode Island complained that Truman had given his state's famous resort, Newport, a "black eye" by staying there only a day and a half before skipping for Bermuda.

"I'll admit that we had an unusual spell of bad weather at Newport while you were there," said Green, with dead-pan seriousness, "but ordinarily Newport is much to be preferred to Bermuda in the summer."

"Oh, I wasn't trying to snub Newport," replied Truman, thinking the Rhode Island senator was serious, "but a bad northeast came up while I was there, one of the worst I've ever seen."

"Just the same, it was a mighty bum ad for Newport for the President of the United States to run out like that on such a resort," persisted Green good-naturedly. "Okay, you win, senator — I'll try to make it longer the next time," chuckled Truman. (Copyright, 1946, by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Texas Today—Jack Rutledge

Ranchers and farmers of Texas are rendered a very valuable service by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station through its publication of little booklets on various and sundry subjects relating to the area's flora and fauna.

Through necessity many of these booklets (they are called bulletins) are specialized. Like, for example, "The Influence of Age, Type and Fertilization in Rambouillet ewes on fineness in fibre, fleece weight, staple length and body weight."

Now, unless you have a ram-bouillet or two gambling-around your back yard, such a book is of little value.

But bulletin 679 rings the bell. It is of general interest to everyone. Even to city dwellers.

The Texas Agricultural Experiment Station has made a serious, detailed and scientific study of the jeep. Bulletin 679 is 36 pages of reading matter, pictures and charts about the Willys-Overland jeep.

We read it through completely. They didn't miss an angle. Except, possibly, how to grow roses in the radiator. Or how to utilize the exhaust to churn butter. Everything else is there in black and white.

For example, on page six: "hypoid differential: universal, 5.38 to 1 ratio; military, 4.88 to 1 ratio." What more would you need to know about a hypoid differential? nothing.

Again: "the shaft turns at 536 rpm in a clockwise direction when viewed from the rear, and delivers to the implement approximately 25 hp at a road speed of approximately 4.2 mph, or 17 hp at 2.9 mph."

That covers everything, unless you want to get perverse and ask what happens if you view it from the front.

But army men say you should never view a jeep from the front, anyway.

On page 8 there is a valuable item headed "suggested uses for the jeep on farms and ranches." It lists 30.

One is inspection and repair of fences. Another is pulling stone boat or sled. Others: fire fighting, removal of sick or dead livestock, filling silos, manure spreading, spraying. That we'd like to see. We can visualize a jeep dashing up to something that needs spraying, whipping into position and then letting loose.

Page 10 is a pulse breakdown, giving in intimate detail, in chart form, everything about gears, transmissions, ratios, engine speed. I don't know what it means, but it looks fascinating.

Bulletin's Peeps Concerning Jeeps

Ranchers and farmers of Texas are rendered a very valuable service by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station through its publication of little booklets on various and sundry subjects relating to the area's flora and fauna.

Through necessity many of these booklets (they are called bulletins) are specialized. Like, for example, "The Influence of Age, Type and Fertilization in Rambouillet ewes on fineness in fibre, fleece weight, staple length and body weight."

Now, unless you have a ram-bouillet or two gambling-around your back yard, such a book is of little value.

But bulletin 679 rings the bell. It is of general interest to everyone. Even to city dwellers.

The Texas Agricultural Experiment Station has made a serious, detailed and scientific study of the jeep. Bulletin 679 is 36 pages of reading matter, pictures and charts about the Willys-Overland jeep.

We read it through completely. They didn't miss an angle. Except, possibly, how to grow roses in the radiator. Or how to utilize the exhaust to churn butter. Everything else is there in black and white.

For example, on page six: "hypoid differential: universal, 5.38 to 1 ratio; military, 4.88 to 1 ratio." What more would you need to know about a hypoid differential? nothing.

Again: "the shaft turns at 536 rpm in a clockwise direction when viewed from the rear, and delivers to the implement approximately 25 hp at a road speed of approximately 4.2 mph, or 17 hp at 2.9 mph."

That covers everything, unless you want to get perverse and ask what happens if you view it from the front.

But army men say you should never view a jeep from the front, anyway.

On page 8 there is a valuable item headed "suggested uses for the jeep on farms and ranches." It lists 30.

One is inspection and repair of fences. Another is pulling stone boat or sled. Others: fire fighting, removal of sick or dead livestock, filling silos, manure spreading, spraying. That we'd like to see. We can visualize a jeep dashing up to something that needs spraying, whipping into position and then letting loose.

In Hollywood—Bob Thomas

HOLLYWOOD, (AP)—How's this for a wonderful combination — Walt Disney, Barry Fitzgerald and Leprechauns. The deal has jelled for the cartoon wizard and the Irish actor to join forces in a folk tale of The Little People of Ireland. Walt himself will go to Erie this fall to see that the elves and gremlins in his film are authentic.

Ingrid Bergman winds up "Arch of Triumph" today and will absent herself from these parts for at least seven months, provided her play is a success. She'll study her lines for Maxwell Anderson's "The Late George Apley" that retakes have been ordered to fatten her part. But the poor gal is suffering a tooth infection.

Andy Russell looks like a regular on the hit parade, with the sponsor paying for an extra orchestra so he can sing from this coast. Andy won't sign for "Copacabana" until he sees his tests. He figures he was photographed badly in "Stork Club" and doesn't want to repeat the mistake.

Note of juvenile social consciousness: Margaret O'Brien said she was "ashamed" to go through the MGM picket line and may stay home if it continues.

For Southern readers: title of "The Yankee" has been changed back to "Romance of Rocky Ridge." Maybe I qualify as a matchmaker. As the result of an item here, Marilyn Maxwell landed a date with Gary Grant.

Rebels Romp On Crackers

ATLANTA, Oct. 2.—A hard hitting and fancy fielding Dallas team from the Texas league held a one-game advantage in the Dixie Series today, battering the Atlanta Crackers of the Southern Association 13-3 last night in the opener of the renewed interleague competition.

The teams resume play here tonight at 8:15 p. m. (EST) with H. K. Perry slated to take the mound for Dallas and Earl McGowan for Atlanta. The third, fourth and if necessary the fifth games will be played in Dallas starting Sunday with the possible sixth and seventh tilts here next Thursday and Friday.

The line score:
DALLAS (TL) 202 000 306—13 16 0
ATLANTA (SA) 000 001 002—3 10 6
Oana and Riebe; Kinney, Thompson (7), Adkins (8), Mistos (9) and Mathis.

Bovines Pass Up Scrimmage In Favor Of Passing, Running

Seeking to build the endurance of his charges, Coach Johnny Dibrell had the Big Spring high school football Steers "on the run" throughout most of Tuesday's drill as they bore down in their drills for their Friday encounter here with the Odessa Broncos.

Dibrell passed up the rough stuff, i. e., scrimmage, in favor of a large order of passing, some sled battering and much leg work, not caring to take the chance of getting any of the boys hurt.

The mentor insists the boys' stamina was all right in last Friday's losing go with Lubbock. He, as did other observers, says the youngsters, especially the line, had to play too hard in the first ten minutes in repelling the Westerner goal line charges to go 60 minutes at top speed.

With omission of the had breaks the next time out, the grey-hatched Dibrell figures they'll be prepared to pace themselves better.

The high flying Broncos can expect to see an aerial bombardment come Friday night. The Bovines, with Horace Rankin and Jackie Barron doing most of the pitching, were greasing their overhead attack Tuesday afternoon.

As far as can be learned, the Odessans came out of the Hollis encounter last week in the best of physical shape. That makes two teams ready to go at full strength, since like Robb is back in at guard for Big Spring and will be prepared to function for 60 minutes. That means the capable Bobby Hollis goes back to tackle.

The power saw plant was picketed a week ago in what the company termed a walkout over the discharging of four employees for union activity on company time.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With TOMMY HART

Stanley Hollmig, who made a hit with local football fans while serving in the Honcho AAF backfield in the ABC club charity grid classic here last November, is becoming recognized as one of the top punters in the Southwest Conference.

Stan has booted five times, all against Texas Tech last week, for a 43.2 yard average. Only Bobby Layne of Texas university and Bill Moxley of Southern Methodist, each of whom have handled the oval on kickouts twice, have done better.

Ivan Cunningham, another Honcho boy who is well remembered locally, has been slow in getting started at SMU but may turn into one of the top backs in the league. Ivan, who dashed 60 yards for a touchdown against Southwestern university in their game here, is trying to fill Boak Walker's post in the Mustang secondary. That's a large order.

The gridiron addle who sit in on the ABC classic this year, which will pit Sul Ross against Texas Lutheran in a game booked for Friday night, Oct. 11, may have their peepers opened by Billy Womack, who was handicapped by lack of weight while wearing local high school moccasins.

According to reports trickling in from Alpine, Billy has come along surprisingly fast. He's up to 170 pounds now and has learned to feint to advantage on the field.

Backfield men of the Boston Yankees of the National professional football league are wearing white shoes this fall, an innovation that should help team mates and spectators alike.

Hurry Up Yost, the great football authority who died recently at the age of 75, was called that because he was always insisting his boys hustle.

Lights have been installed on the Sterling City football field and the first night six-man game in history will be played there the coming Friday night, when Chesney McDonald's Bearcats entertain the Knott Hill Billies.

Three of the most respected players in the District Ten six-man league, incidentally, are Water Valley's Gene Cope, Ray Prater of Forsan and big Harry Calverly of Garden City.

Prater would have been a stand-out on the current edition of the Big Spring high school team, according to observers.

The difference between the orthodox eleven-man and the six-man games becomes more and more pronounced with the passing of the years, this section's coaches are quick to agree.

For instance, if the ball is booted on a kickoff in a regulation game, the defending team can ask that it either be kicked over or else gain possession on their own 20-yard line.

In the abbreviated sport, if the kickoff carries between the uprights of the opposition team it is ruled a field goal and counts four points for the kicking team.

When Primo Carnera visited California recently to further his career as a grappler, that state's athletic commission insisted that he bill his matches as exhibitions: the advertising and publicity must not indicate any build-up toward a championship.

Wards Launch Football Drills This Afternoon

Equipment was issued Tuesday at five of the grade schools which intend to field football teams for the City Junior league this fall and practice was slated to get underway in most camps today.

The principal at North Ward has notified Athletic Director John Dibrell that school will not participate in the program this year because of a dearth of eligible players. Students of the institution who desire to participate will report to the East Ward coach.

Dibrell has had difficulty in lining up his coaches for the five other schools, will probably allow high school students to help.

Central Ward, defending champion of the circuit, is favored to run off with the flag again.

First games of the five-week schedule are booked for Wednesday afternoon, Oct. 9.

Valley Favored Over Hurricanes

Gridiron strategy of Elvin Mathis and Gordon Griggs gets the acid test Friday afternoon at Water Valley when the resident Wildcats meet the Garden City Hurricanes in the feature game of the District Ten six-man league.

Both teams are unbeaten. The Wildcats have sailed through Merton (43-6) and Knott (63-7) while Garden City was knocking over Courtney (12-6) and Merton (38-12).

Mathis' brigade will be slightly favored, since they are playing on their home field and have yet to reveal a weakness.

The Hurricane attack is built around hard-hitting Harry Calverly, who scored five touchdowns against Merton last week, and J. C. Fye, speedy end.

The Valley will depend upon fleet Gene Cope, who is a threat every time he gets his hands on the ball. Bannister, Dorsey and Westbrook also make the Cats dangerous.

VMI GRID STAR TOPS COUNTRY IN TOTAL OFFENSE, PASSING

NEW YORK, Oct. 2 (AP)—Passing cause he did his work in only 27 trips, while Mobley required 33. Mobley set the existing record for college rushing in 1942 with 1,281 yards in nine games.

Neill Armstrong, Oklahoma A.&M., who won the National pass receiving crown in 1943 as a freshman, is back on the job this year, standing No. 1 in that department with 161 yards for eight passes caught.

Although his mark is based on only one game, Ev Faunse of Minnesota tops the percentages of pass completions, having rifled 11 out of 12 for a total of 120 yards and a mark of .917.

In the punting department, Bill Long of Oklahoma A.&M. leads with an average of 49 yards on five boots.

Drivers On Strike
NEW YORK, Oct. 2 (AP)—Fifty thousand Staten Island residents hired taxicabs, shared private cars and walked long distances today to get to work as 400 drivers and maintenance men of the Isle Transportation Corporation struck in a wage dispute.

Thursday Game Is Called Off

The football game between the Big Spring Junior high school Yearlings and Midland's Bulldogs, which was to have been played here Thursday night, has been cancelled, according to the local athletic director John Dibrell.

Midland school officials communicated with Dibrell Tuesday to recommend that the game not be played due to the difference in weight and age of the two clubs. Jim McWhorter, local mentor, has been using Eighth and Ninth graders while the Midland coach makes use of nothing but players who are in the eighth grade.

Last week, the Yearlings rolled over the Pups, 19-0, in a game at Midland.

Thirsting for action, the Big Spring youngsters asked for and were occasioned to scrimmage with a reserve squad of the varsity squad both Monday and Tuesday.

The Yearlings' next swing into action against the Odessa Colts here Thursday night, Oct. 10. The game will be returned in Odessa the following Thursday, Oct. 17.

Two games with Colorado City have also been added to the schedule. The Mitchell county gang comes here Thursday, Oct. 24 and the Yearlings return the game Thursday, Oct. 31.

Bedloe's Island in New York Harbor, on which the Statue of Liberty stands, was named after Isaac Bedloe, its first owner, who died in 1807.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2 (AP)—Conciliation Director Edgar L. Warren said today that all parties in the Maritime strike negotiations here were being called in at 1 p.m. (EST) "to try to drive home a settlement."

TRAINING

The semester to technical and advanced training. Six hours a week would be earmarked to physical education.

To discharge the obligation of the last half of the required year, a man would have these options: serve six more months; enlist in any of the regular Army services, the national guard, or join the organized reserve for duty with a fully organized unit; enter one of the service academies; go to college with government aid, take ROTC training and then serve one year or more; take ROTC training in college with agreement to accept a reserve commission if offered; enlist in the reserve and take approved technical training; or take advanced technical training with government aid and in return perform Army service as the president may direct.

Statig — trainees would have civilian rather than military status. They would not be subject to combat requirements in peacetime, nor to military law, but would be governed by a specially drawn code of conduct. The whole training system would be under a civilian organization like the present selective service system.

Compensation — trainees would not be paid salaries, but would draw an allowance of possibly $30 a month and would receive medical care. They would be entitled to government insurance and estimated to dependents.

Cost of program — under estimates given Congress last year when the War Department urged one year's universal training, cost would be about $2,500 annually per man, or some $2,500,000,000 a year for the entire program.

In general trainees would have the same uniforms and equipment as regular Army soldiers, but would be distinguished by insignia or other means. During their initial six months they could get holiday and weekend passes but not furloughs except in emergency. Negroes would be trained at the same places as whites but in their own units which would be parts of composite organizations.

Both parties escaped injury but patrolmen said they had to hold James into their vehicle. He has been lodged in the county jail pending trial.

German Press Finds Acquitted 3 Guilty

BERLIN, Oct. 2 (AP)—Berlin newspapers — American and British — licensed as well as Russian — controlled — maintained today that Haalmar Schacht, Franz Von Papen, and Hans Fritsche, though acquitted by the International Military Tribunal at Nuernberg, are "guilty in the eyes of the German people."

While all papers praised the tribunal for conducting an extremely fair trial, they differed with the court on the acquittals and the Soviet-licensed papers also criticized some of the prison sentences as too lenient.

Woman Injured Struck By Car

Mrs. C. C. Whitefield, who lives on the Gall route, was treated for minor injuries at a local hospital Tuesday night after she was struck by a car driven by a Howard county man at Gregg and Third street, the police department reported today.

Mrs. Whitefield was released from Malone and Hogan hospital this morning.

Football Tickets Selling Rapidly

Reserve tickets for the Odessa-Big Spring football game here Friday have been disappearing like the proverbial hot-cakes and indications are the contest will be a complete sellout long before the 8 o'clock kickoff.

Less than 75 reserve tickets were left at the chamber of commerce, Big Spring Hardware and school tax office at noon today and indications were that those would be gone by nightfall.

Originally, a total of 1,650 reserve seats had been made available to local fans. Odessa asked for and received 1,516 others. Sections One and Six of the west stand at the Highland Park stadium have been set aside for high school students of the two schools.

General admission pasteboards, good for end zone pews and standing room, have been experiencing a brisk market.

Whitehorn Assigned Here As Patrolman

T. D. Whitehorn, formerly of Lamesa, has been assigned here as a state highway patrolman. He succeeds Bill Beeson, who resigned from the Department of Public Safety last month to enter college at Commerce.

A veteran of five years in the department, Whitehorn returned to duty last January after two year's service with the US Army in Alaska.

Prior to his tour of duty at Lamesa, Whitehorn was with the DPS at Fredericksburg, Del Rio and San Antonio.

French Units Protest Three Acquittals

PARIS, Oct. 2 (AP)—Two French organizations today addressed a joint statement to the secretary-general of the United Nations protesting the acquittals of Hjalmar Schacht, Hans Fritsche and Franz Von Papen by the war crimes tribunal.

One was the association of former prisoners and deportees. The other was the union against racism. They asserted that Von Papen had been directly responsible for deportations, that Schacht's financial operations had sustained the Nazi government and that Fritsche's anti-semitic propaganda "inspired the massacres committed by the German people."

Though Kansas is called the Sunflower State, California raises about 95 per cent of the sunflower seed in the United States.
