Youth Agent for ENP Program Appointed

Lubbock-A new approach has been added to the highly successful Expanded Nutrition Program (ENP) in Lubbock County.

For the past year the self-help has dealt primarily with the adult sector of the low income neighborhoods. But now the program is also taking on a new approach aimed directly at the youth in these neighborhoods.

To carry out this particular segment of the program, a new associate home demonstration agent has been appointed for the county, explains Mrs. Aubrey W. Russell, district home demonstration agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. The Extension Service administers the program through funds from the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

The new agent is Mrs. Jean Martin of Lubbock the wife of James A. Martin who is residence supervisor of Gordon Hall at Texas Tech University.

Mrs. Martin is a native of Seagraves in Gaines County and is a graduate of Texas Tech with a B.S. degree in foods and nutrition. She is presently working on a M.S. degree in the same field.

The new agent has been an employee of the Extension Service for slightly more than six years, according to Mrs. Russell. She served as assistant county home demonstration agent in Floyd County for three months; then was county home demonstration agent in Bailey County for some three years. She also served as associate county home demonstration agent in Jefferson County for three years before resigning to do full-time graduate work at Texas Tech.

Mrs. Martin is active in Texas and American Home Economics Association and the Texas Home Demonstration Agents Association. The Martins have two daughters, Pamela, 6 and Shelly, 9. They are members of the Baptist Church.

According to Mrs. Russell, the new position that Mrs. Martin now holds was provided by federal funds to the Extension Service as a result of the outstanding success of the ENP as well as the success of the 4-H Club program which is a very important part of the Extension Service.

Mrs. Martin will be working with

Three of the top rated high school footballers in the state were signed by assistant coach Dale Evans of Texas Tech early Tuesday morning. The well-known trio comes from Estacado High School here in Lubbock.

Estacado's contribution to the 1970 Red Raider recruiting efforts is an awesome one. The three Matadors, James Mosley, Larry Miller and Kenneth Wallace, during the past season, accounted for more than 1½ miles of rushing yardage.

Miller, a second-team all-stater on Estacado's district championship team the past season, rushed for 960 yards and scored 150 points. He weighs 190 pounds and stands 6-1.

Also in the backfield with Miller was Mosley, a stocky 5-10, 180 pounder who was an all-state selection on the Matador state championship team two years ago, rushed for 689 yards and scored 56 points. Both he and Miller average 5 yards averaged per carry.

The field general of Estacado was Wallace who quarterbacked the Matadors to two district titles and a state championship in two years. He ran and passed for 1157 yards during the past season, getting 587 of it on the ground. He rushed for 16 touchdowns and passed for eight more.

Miller was the team's kicking specialist, racking up 51 conversion points and five field goals while leading the team in scoring.

some 300 to 500 children in this new phase of the ENP. She will be offering instruction in foods and nutrition and will be visiting with the children in their homes to offer practical instruction and assistance. She will also be training some of the children to assist her in conducting an effective "learning by doing" program.

This new youth approach should offer a real boom to the already successful ENP in Lubbock County which is now reaching 1,112 families.

The public is invited to find out more about the overall ENP, which is now in its second year, during an Information Day on February 25 at 10 a.m. at the Mae Simmons Community Building.

Fourth Annual Lincoln Day Tea Set

The fourth annual Lincoln Day Tea will be held Sunday afternoon, February 15, at 2 p.m. with citizens of the community participating in a panel discussion. The theme for the program will be "Pooling Our Human Resources."

Panelists will include Harold Chatman, Tom Purdom, M.L. Richards and T. J. Patterson. Chatman will discuss the resources of past history; Purdom will look at the legal resources; Richards will give a close look at the political aspect of the community; while Patterson will rap up the session.

The public is cordially invited to attend this program which is

NEA Upholds Teacher's Right to Teach Race Relations in Sugarland, Texas Case

Washington, D.C.—A Texas high school teacher who was fired after teaching a six-day unit on race relations and prejudice is being supported by the National Education Association and the Texas Classroom Teachers Association.

The NEA DuShane Emergency Fund is paying legal fees and costs for Henry Keith Sterzing's suit in U.S. District Court for the Southern District of Texas in Houston. The Sugarland, Texas, educator is asking for reinstatement to his social studies teaching position in Fort Bend Independent School District, and damages of $750,000. The DuShane Fund was created to protect the rights of educators.

Sterzing's teaching contract for 1967-68 was terminated in February 1968 on the ground of "insubordination" after he had taught the unit on civil rights, using films approved by the school district and magazine articles.

Following a hearing, the Board of Trustees upheld its original decision. The case was appealed to the Texas Commissioner of Education who said that Sterzing's due process rights have been violated in the dismissal proceedings and that his dismissal was without any justifiable charge. However, he would not order the defendant school board to rehire Sterzing.

Sterzing has been unable to obtain another teaching position.

Tract 12 Residents to Elect Rep to CAB

Residents of Tract No. 12 in East Lubbock will elect a representative to the Community Action Board on Monday, February 16 at 8:00 p.m. at a meeting to be held in the cafeteria of Wheatley Elementary School, 2800 Redbud Avenue.

Tract No. 12 is bound beginning at Avenue H and 25th Street to Avenue A; Southeast to Quirt to Yellowhouse Canyon; north on city limits to East 19th street; West on East 19th Street To Avenue A; north on Avenue to 8th Street; west on 8th Street to Avenue H; south on Avenue H to starting point.

The Community Action Board is a civic agency designed to help coordinate health, welfare and educational services to improve the conditions in Lubbock County. The person elected must be at least 18 years old and a resident of Tract No. 12. He will meet with the CAB on the fourth Tuesday of each month.

At present, David Sowell and Harold Chatman are representatives of Tract No. 12.

sponsored by the Rieks Chapel Baptist Church and New Jerusalem Baptist Church.

Some exhibit is expected to be seen at the interesting program which will inform the public on what is happening in the community.

For further information, please contact Mrs. R. B. Thompson at 763-8703 or Rev. A. Cleveland at 763-5351, ext. 241 or 763-1559.

He is presently employed as a civilian with the U.S. Air Force in Okinawa.

"The issue is the free exchange of ideas in the classroom," said Sterzing who maintains he was most concerned about making his students aware of controversial issues. He claims that his rights of academic freedom and rights under the due process and equal protection clauses of the Fourteenth Amendment have been violated.

The students in his class were asked to read articles concerning race and prejudice and the tragic implications of these concepts for all people. The articles originally appeared in Saturday Review, Redbook, and Scholastic Scope. Several anthropologists and sociologists at the University of Houston and the University of Texas have signed a statement that these articles "are all valid statements of the scientific view of the concept of race." "Far from being biased," they continue, "we believe they represent the only tenable point of view on the concept of 'race' itself."

The NEA is also supporting the case of Robert Stevenson, a professor in the American Ideas Department of the University of South Florida, who was dismissed following press coverage of his off-campus anti-war activities. He claims his First Amendment and due process rights have been violated.

Big Meeting Will Tell A Lot Tonight

If the first "Let's Get Together Meeting" held last January 15 and the steering committee meeting held a week later is any means to measure the worth of getting together in East Lubbock, the meeting on tap for tonight at 8 p.m. in the auditorium of the American Legion Hall should be a great success.

The first meeting carried a lot of weight in regard to showing the black community that it is possible for us to form a cooperating group. Several areas were explored by the more than 200 black citizens who were present. The areas were political, economical, community development, social-ethnic relationship and educational.

Since that time the steering committee, composed of volunteers from the community—young and old—has added the spark necessary to give the movement something to be desired by all of the residents of the community.

The meeting tonight should dwell in the need for officers who will be responsible for representing the black community in all problem areas, along with this, it will be important to look at the valuable information which is to be delivered to the group by its temporary chairman.

A resolution, regarding the participation of the group, will be presented in hopes that the citizens will get a better picture of some of the projects the black community can contribute to as a whole.

It is time for this type of an action to be seen within the City of Lubbock, as well as the entire West Texas Area. It is time for the residents of the black community to realize that they, too, have a valuable voice in their city and county government.

More important than this though, it is time for the black community to realize that they have duty in contributing something constructive to their community. We hope that the actions of this organization—which has no name at present—will speak so loud for progress that the public can't but hear what it is saying. The time is now and there are those in the black community who are willing, without any doubt, to do something for their community as well as for the benefit of their young blacks who will one day contribute something to their community.

It's true, the big meeting tonight will tell a lot for the residents of the Black Community. The wheels of progress are about to be greased by a great number of its residents. Something is in the making for the betterment of all. Why don't you be a part of this great thing. Something will be told tonight. It will be at 8 p.m. at the American Legion Hall in Yellowhouse Canyon. You are invited.

Like one man said after the last meeting, "We can get together; without dancing or playing diamonds and the like."

Let's Continue To Get Together; Let's unite our efforts. We can make it if we all try together. We can't go any place but up.

Highlights AND Sidelights

by Vern Sanford

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Austin, Tex.—A feud between big city and rural school districts over the cost of education is expected to go to federal court soon in a major lawsuit.

Dallas, Fort Worth and Houston school boards questioned the "financial fairness" of collection

Dear Brother and Sisters:

I pray that we as Black Americans of this city and county will observe all that is going on around us. We pay first class taxes and our taxes are paid to public servants or workers and yet we are on the bottom of the totum pole. We have about three black policemen, we have one black deputy sheriff, no city councilman, no justice of peace, no one in the school system, no black foreman in public works for the city.

Don't you think it is time to unite? Our policemen are still just plain patrolmen; no sgts., lt., no nothing. Someone said that a group had planned to commend the sheriff's office for hiring a black deputy sheriff, but I don't see anything to commend that office for.

Of the 17,000 black people in this county, that office should have at least five blacks up there. Look at how many whites are up there.

I believe Mr. Britt and Mr. Price should've had a promotion by now. They have been there long enough.

To get an idea of just how much tax is paid by Black people. Look at your city and county tax slips and apply that to the number of black people who live here. Some 17,00 and see what you get.

Another thing I don't believe a man that lives in west Lubbock is qualified to represent my precinct here in northeast Lubbock. I think we need to protest this roving councilman with a petition. Besides, what does a white man know about what is needed in a black community when he doesn't live in the black community?

Oh, Mr. Preacher in your pulpit, Mr. Civic leader, Mr. Black people as a whole, let's move now. Let's unite. Look at it. What we enjoy now in way of civil rights, we didn't earn it. A few black people and some determined whites bought it for us with their blood and their lives. And after all of that, you mean we still can't unite. I refuse to believe that now. Let's get together and ask for some of what we are paying for.

Back to the long arm of the law, now mind you, not all but a majority of the white policemen that stop a black man or mexican American instead of getting out saying good morning or good evening, Sir, I'm Patrolman John Doe and I stopped you because you etc. He states: "Boy, what you been doing? Why?"

You see none of this is his business. The book says he is to confront you with what law you have violated.

Now think Black man, you help pay that person or whatever he is. Think about this where you work. Could you get away with treating your employer like that?

Let's unite and start getting some of the things that we are paying for, including respect as a man and a taxpayer.

Now let us have the spirit of our late beloved President, John F. Kennedy, in his inaugural speech:

"Let the word go forth from this time and place to friend and foe alike that the torch has been passed to a new generation of Americans, born in this century tempted by war, disciplined by a hard and bitter peace, proud of our ancient heritage and are unwilling to witness or permit the slow undoing of those human rights to which this nation has been always committed and to which we are committed today at home and around the world. Let every nation know wheather it wishes us well or ill that we shall pay any price, bear any burden, meet any hardship, support any friend, approve any foe, to assume the survival and success of liberty. United there is little we cannot do in a host of cooperatives ventures. Divided there is little we can do."

Let's unite Black People.

Yours Truly,
Otis Cooks, Jr.

P.S. Further more those two letters of apologies to Mrs. Washington and Mrs. Barree stink. They were right, omission of those men's names were inexcuseable. Omission I think is because they were Black Men.

Dear Reader:

As you know, I am the first Black woman ever elected to the United State House of Representatives. As one of the small group of Black Members of Congress I feel it is my particular responsibility to try to make the concerns of minorities heard on Capitol Hill.

When I was appointed to the House of Veterans' Affairs Committee, the Chairman told me he hoped I would be able to provide him with special help and insight on the problems I know about, best.

From letters and conversations, I have become aware that Black, Puerto Rican, Mexican-American, and other minority-group Americans have encountered serious problems of discrimination and other problems in dealing with the Veterans' Administration and Veterans' organizations. I intend to investigate these problems in depth.

In order to do so, I will need substantial evidence to show that patterns of such discrimination exist, and it would be most helpful if any of you readers who have first-hand knowledge of such incidents would write me and include all the details. I need complete and factual information, not just general and unsupported charges.

I am not able to get into the questions of discrimination against persons currently on active duty in the Armed Forces, since this is in the jurisdiction of another Committee, of which I am not a member.

Neither can I offer to take any personal action to intervene in individual cases, because my office staff is already working at a level greater than its capacity to assist the residents of my own Congressional District in Brooklyn. For the same reason, I cannot answer the letters I hope to receive. I am asking your help to get information.

Any of your readers who take the time to answer this appeal may be sure that their letters will be carefully read and considered and that they will be helping me in an effort to correct past grievances and prevent future wrongs arising from unjust discrimination and of American veterans who belong to the historically oppressed minorities.

All letters should be addressed to: Veteran's Arch Project, Congresswoman Shirley Chisholm, Room 1107, Washington, D. C. 20515.

and distribution of the state's minimum foundation funds.

They claim that the distribution formula favors rural districts. A bill to correct this brought a storm of protest from rural districts during last year's legislative session. Best the legislature could come up with under the circumstances was a bill creating an 18 member committee to recommend "a fair and equitable basis for a division of financial responsibilities between the state and the various local districts of Texas."

Suit will seek statewide uniform property tax valuations. Action is due to be directed against the State Board of Education.

Meanwhile, the Texas Research League pointed out that aid to local school districts is the most expensive obligation of state government and most important determinant of future tax requirements.

Expansion of the foundation school program and teacher pay raises voted last year will increase state expenditures for public elementary and secondary education by $345 million in the current biennium and will produce an additional 50 per cent increase in total state costs during the next six years.

Cumulative total increase in state aid for six-year period is calculated at $1.6 billion in new state funds. Higher salaries account for 65 per cent of this.

Research League predicts that the legislature will have to raise $298 million in new funds for public schools next year, $270 million more in 1973 and $186 million more in 1975.

Licensing Emphasized— Department of Public Safety is launching a statewide program emphasizing driver licensing. A study showed that many of the serious traffic accidents involved unlicensed drivers.

Col. Wilson E. Speir, DPS director, said the drive is in conjunction with Gov. Preston Smith's Coordinated traffic safety program. Studies revealed 9.6 per cent of drivers involved in fatal accidents unlicensed. Here's what the program will undertake immediately:

To urge all drivers to see that they are properly licensed.

Provide for periodic, frequent license checks by patrolmen.

Develop special training schools for those who need more knowledge and skill to qualify for driver licenses.

Urge employers in large plants and business establishments to encourage employees to obtain proper licenses, particularly those moving to Texas from other States.

Three Israeli farmers have taught hundreds of Laotians how to multiply their rice yield. On an experimental farm, the Israelis have shown the Laotians how irrigation can produce at least two crops a year. The average yield of Laotian farmers had been less than a ton and a half on a hectare (one hectare is about 2½ acres). The Israelis helped them raise it to seven tons per hectare. The Israelis devised a number of tools, including a plank, drawn by a buffalo, on which four workers sit to transplant rice into eight furrows drawn by boards on the underside of the plank. This drastically cuts the time and labor required when coolies crouch on the ground drawing uneven furrows with one hand and planting with the other. The Israelis also helped the farmers to organize the first cooperative in Laos.

The Victorian Society in London is restoring the Bavarian castle of Schloss Rosenau, the birthplace of Queen Victoria's consort, Prince Albert (1819-1861). The castle is being turned into a center for 19th century and Anglo-German studies, with apartments for resident tutors. "Students' accommodations" say the the Bulletin of the Press Office of the West German government, "would be provided in the castle's outhouses."

around the hub city

The participation of Ralph Ramos, 18 year old youth who was deceased last Friday, for the poor in Lubbock will not be forgotten by those whom he worked with during his tenure.

As a worker at Mae Simmons Multi-Service Center, located at Mae Simmons Park, he added something constructive to the function of the organization. He was a person who contributed something daily under the supervision of Mrs. Murry Peppers, center coordinator.

Around The Hub City was glad to know a young man as Ralph. May the works he left behind well be appreciated by those whom he was in contact.

Our hats are off to David Sowell, a tract representative for our community to CAB and worker to the local chapter of NAACP, for a job well done in coordinating the voter's registration campaign completed last week.

We are sure that the contribution made by him and those who worked with him will be most effective during the up coming elections during this year.

Thanks David, for a job well done.

Don't you think it is time for someone to throw his or her hat into the political ring as either candidate for school board, city councilman, mayor or county election? Who knows, maybe we will find someone to do just that. You know, the write-in has worked before in our area.

Mrs. Maybelle Wilson is reported in satisfactory condition at Methodist Hospital after undergoing surgery last week.

P.F.C. Vernon Smith, who recently married, is now stationed at Fort Carson, Colo. No need staring girls, Shirley caught this handsome young man, and I think she made a nice catch, don't you. His mother was a former Lamesan, but now makes her home in the tall city of Midland, Texas. God Bless the two of you.

This handsome and talented young man is Mr. Glen Flemming, the son of Mr. Marvin Flemming, Sr., formerly of Lamesa, and now a resident of Hondo, Texas. He is a 1967 graduate of L.H.S. and was one of the fine guards on the Tor basketball team, and played one of the best games of his High School career in Austin, when we won State that year. Glenn is now a student in Leveland College, and is doing quite well for himself, he's taking Middle Management, oh and we fee sure that he'll do good in his chosen field. He is single, and concentrating on his studies.

Washington and Alderete Lead Their Teams To Travis Victories

Snyder-Every year, here in Snyder, the annual Travis-Lamar Jr. High basketball games are played to recognize the champs of the two teams. Tommy Washington and Jerry Brooks, Travis mates, were already aware of who was the Champs of the two schools but they were willing to prove this to those who had little spaces of doubt in their mines.

The Travis school collected its first victory in the opening bout with the Lamar team in the All-Star seventh grade match. The Travis wild bunch was to powerful for the weak Lamar stars as they had complied a 25 to 9 score at half time and continued to punish Lamar with the expert shooting of Welton Cobb and Robert Alderete. The two Travis gents accounted for 38 points of the final figures of 57 to 22 over the Lamar stars. Cobb hit 14 points and Aldrete hit 24 points to be the high score of this game and the high scorer of the night. Oh yes, Cobb was thought to be a bit off since he has scored up to 42 points in one game.

Travis followed this game with a thriller but was not able to hold onto the lead. This game featured Travis and Lamar's eighth grade teams. The game was a tight and low scoring game. Travis led the match all the way with one exception. This one exception cost the Travis team the game. Lamar gained the lead and capitalized upon it with the victory in the fourth quarter 29 to 26. High scoring Travis agents were Gonzales and Romerize with 10 and 9 points respectively.

This eighth grade game fired Travis and Lamar all up for the "grande daddy" game of them all, the battle of the two school's freshmen. These two teams had been battling each other all year. This game is to act as the showdown or to tell whose who. Lamar's Jim Waters was to see what he could do to Travis's strongest attacker, Tommy Washington, who has put the "hurt" on a many fine teams this year, including Lamar. Washington's most unforgettable game was the one he collected 24 of 27 from the floor for 46 points. Opposite of Washington's scoring is Jerry Brooks, who makes it a bit hot under the rebounding boards and scoring as well. Tommy and Jerry are perhaps the main factors in the Travis attack.

Now the feeling of the game was set and all that was left was the beginning of the game. Lamar was red hot when the game did begin and had the Travis brothers a bit worried, as they found themselves behind at the end of the first quarter 10 to 5. Mr. Washington and Amarillo-Have you noticed how many fires we have been having here in the city of Amarillo lately. The bad part it is not just the lost of a house and its contents but usually a life. Please watch your children and don't leave them alone if you can keep from doing so.

Another thing that is getting to be bad is the number of wrecks that we are having due to some of our drivers not paying any attention to yeild signs. I wish we could do away with some of these yeild signs and install more stop signs and then have some cops around to enforce the use of them.

"Whereas, for fifty-five years this nation has observed and given special recognition to these contributions during the month of February, I do hereby declare the week of February 8-15, 1970 as Negro History Week in the city of Midland and/or Odessa. and urge that all our citizens and well-wishers of the Permian Basin in general join with me in recognizing the thousands of Black American graduates in the fields of teaching, medicine, law, business, social work, ministry, administration, science and industry from our small and often church related Negro colleges in Texas and the nation and that Sunday, February 15th be observed as Texas College Day" Sealed & Signed.

Snyder News . . .

J. Brooks had not as of then turned on the "Soul Beat", which is a hot shooting game. After the quarter rest, the Travis team seemed to be together, therefore, making a great deal more on the score board. Lamar's Fred Liner became a thorn in the Travis attack as he began to lay down points for his team. By half time, Travis managed to pull within 3 points of the Lamar team's 23 point lead. Tommy Washington is no king or anything like that but he is a fellow that any coach would like to have on his team because he came out with his teammates and showed them the way to victory and in doing so he also put in a few of his own. Again, Lamar's Waters and Liner, were severely hurting Travis attack by keeping them within reaching point. In the end of the third quarter the Lamar team was only one point off the Travis team's 31 point

Who's Nervous?

That might well be the retort of some 100 young boxers, when they show up between noon and 4 p.m. today at weigh-ins prior to the opening of three nights of Golden Gloves.

The fabled Golden Gloves, which made a return to the city last year after lying dormant for nearly 20 years, opens in Fair Park Coliseum at 8 p.m. today. Approximately 25 bouts, as well as exhibitions, will be on the card tonight, tomorrow and Saturday.

Lubbock will have its share of fighters and foremost will be Donald and Robert Hooker from Dunbar, Larry Ettig of Estacado and Gary Arnold from Coronado.

The Open Division, which expectedly had a small field last year, should be much better filled out this year. A year's experience, as well as a continuation of the program during the "off" months is expected to produce a bumper crop. Winners in this division will advance to the state tournament in Fort Worth.

But the other two divisions, high school and novice, are expected to produce the most excitement, even if the polish is lacking. The less experienced boxers generally come out swinging and produce more action.

Tickets, being sold by the Lubbock Lions Club, are going well and if no ticket has been purchased in advance, they will be on sale at the box office in the coliseum.

The heavyweight division, as usual is attracting the most attention, with several prospective winners entered. The sentimental favorite lead. Travis's Jerry Brook collected a couple free throws but the Lamar team with in minutes of the game tied it up 44 to 44. Travis had possession on the ball, with seconds on the clock, and still tied up 44 to 44. Again Travis relies on the hottest set of hands available who was none other than their own Tommy Washington. He had shown the team the way to battle in many games and he was the best choice. Washington being the great competitor he is, took his own time and did his own thing to capture the victory for his team and school. The coaches of both schools have done favorable work and it was displayed on the courts in the young men that performed.

orite of many will be Coronado's Steve Williams, a former football star. But Texas Tech is expected to have a few candidates, along with others from South Plains cities.

Much attention will be focused on Rusty Price of Levelland, who might meet Monty Morton, a junior high school student. The two fought last year and Price won. Since then Morton has improved a great deal and their 112 pound battle looms as one of the highlights.

Another favorite is John Briones who has been doing a lot of fighting this year. And Lloyd Priestly, a Lubbock High product, is another young boxer making big strides.

Lubbock High has the largest number of boxers entered in the regional tournament and, under normal circumstances, should take the school boy team trophy.

Other trophies to be awarded will be the Fighting Heart, the Sportsmanship and the Outstanding Fighter.

The boxers in the tournament have been working hard all year and have had several intra-city and inter-city bouts. Interest among South Plains high schools has been revived and a large contingent is expected from such places as Lamesa, Levelland and Plainview, among others.

Amarillo and Abilene boxers also will be here, but not in competition for local titles, since each city has its own regional tournament. But the visitors will stage exhibitions that should be interesting.

Negro History Week

FEB. 8-14

The founding, growth and prosperity of the United States of America is a saga unparalleled in the annals of history. No other nation can attribute its greatness to deeds of so many divergent cultures, races and creeds.

How did all of this come to be? America is a world leader because of the leadership made by Americans. Some were rich, some were poor, many adventurers, some brave, others were slaves!

Truly Americans of today are fortunate to have Negroes as those who helped make it possible for our country to be what it is today. The Negro's role in the history of America is a great one. Since it is impossible to trace a complete history within the limitations of this page, which is dedicated to Negro History Week, only highlights of specific names and facts are presented here.

Let's turn back to the beginning of modern history. Let's turn back the pages of modern history to the point where the development of the new world was beginning and see some of the contributions made by the black man.

It took tremendous courage to explore this world of ours—and later to explore this great country of ours. When European nations explored the new world, we find Pedro Nino, a Negro, was a pilot of one of Columbus' ships. We learn that he was one of many who sailed with pride to find the new world.

Along with Nino, there were many Negroes who traveled with the Conquistadors as they conquered Mexico. There were 30 Negroes in 1513 who traveled with Balboa at the time he discovered the Pacific Ocean. Negroes also helped explore the states of Arizona and New Mexico—seeking the lost cities of gold.

A Negro was the first to plant and harvest a wheat crop in the new world. In 1565, a Negro helped in building St. Augustine, Florida, the oldest city in America today.

Anthony and Isbella, the first among Africans brought to America in 1619 to Jamestown, gave birth to the first black American born in this country. There were twenty Negroes aboard the first ship to dock at Jamestown.

During the 17th Century, Negroes were given the opportunity to work for their freedom, but due to the dire need for cheap labor, laws were written to make Negroes slaves in order to solve this short labor problem.

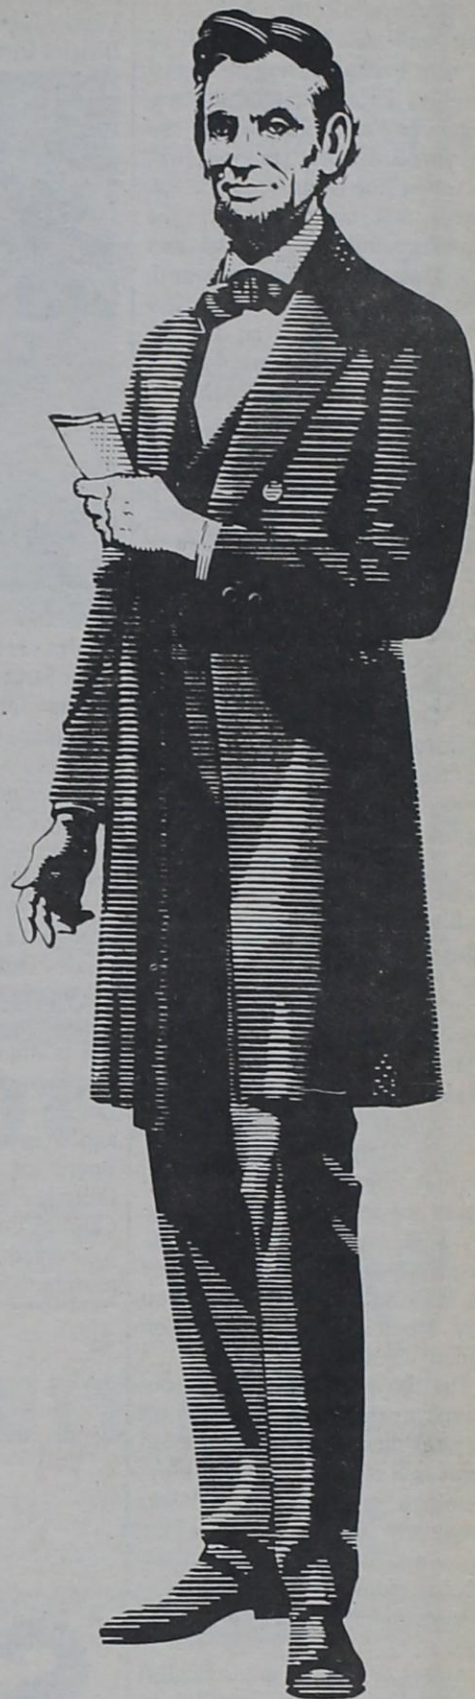

On March 5, 1770, the first American credited with dying for the cause of Independence for America in the American Revolution was Crispus Attucks, a run-away slave, who was killed by British bullets in Boston. Peter Salem was at the Battle of Bunker Hill and an estimated 5,000 blacks fought the British during the war. A Negro crossed the Potomac River with George Washington on December 25, 1776, in the same boat.

Then there were the others, Prince Hall—founder of the Negro Masonic Hall; Benjamin Banneker—mathematician, astronomer and writer who helped develop Washington, D.C.; Paul Cuffe—distinguished colonial businessman and philanthropist; Harriett Tubman—"Moses" to her people because of her work with the underground railroad; Sojourner Truth—speaker against slavery to everyone who would listen; Fredrick Douglas—fiery orator, writer, abolitionist and statesman who escaped slavery to help the cause of freedom.

Then came the Emancipation Proclamation, and the opportunity of blacks to improve themselves. Blacks such as Booker T. Washington—founder of Tuskegee Institute; George Washington Carver—"friend of the peanut"; and Paul L. Dunbar; all allowing hope to the entire race of Negro people in America.

This hope led to the establishment of such organizations as the NAACP in 1909; and in 1910 the Urban League was established, and the Negro moved from freedom toward the goal of civil rights.

There have been Negroes such as W. C. Handy, Benjamin Davis, Jr., William McCleod Du Bois, Jackie Robinson, Marian Anderson, Paul Robeson, Mary McCleod Bethune, Martin Luther King, Jr., and many, many others who have helped show the way. Is it no wonder that a week is set aside each year to remember the great contributions of the many listed here, along with those overlooked, in order to show our pride?

The third edition of our school newspaper the Stinger went on sale last week during homeroom period. The art classes are ready to begin a unit on ceramics and painting. The students really look forward to these units.

Alderson's seventh grade Yellowjackets played a good game against Mackenzie, and won 42-15. High point man for the Yellowjackets was Gary Bouldwin. They finished the season in their game yesterday with Hutchinson Junior High.

Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 the Hornets played a very important rival game against Struggs. The student body chartered a bus in which to go. This gave the Hornets an extra boost in spirit.

Last week's pep rally was great with lots of school spirit. We saw lots of support for our basketball athletes prior to their bout with Matthews. This was a close game all the way, but our Hornets won 57-44. The Hornets played Wilson Junior High and were victorious 45-42.
