Spectacular—Hailed as the most spectacular, star-studded, tune-filled musical in the annals of screen or stage, "Ziegfeld Girl" is at the Ritz today and Monday as the outstanding movie event of the year, with James Stewart, Judy Garland, Hedy Lamarr and Lana Turner heading a breath-taking aggregation of stars, together with such headliners as Tony Martin,

Jackie Cooper, Ian Hunter, Charles Winninger, Edward Everett Horton and Philip Dorn. Add to this 100 of the most beautiful girls in America, chosen from 600 applicants, and appearing in the most opulent settings ever created for a motion picture, and you have some idea of the magnificence of the new production, directed by Robert Z. Leonard who gave the screen the memorable "Great Ziegfeld."

Stellar Cast And Elaborate Settings In Spectacular "Ziegfeld Girl"

De Luxe Musical Comedy Drama Plays Today And Monday At Ritz Theatre

With an all-star cast in the most elaborate production to come out of Hollywood in a decade, "Ziegfeld Girl," featured today and Monday at the Ritz theatre, is heralded as a spectacular audience treat for eyes and ears. A series of musical numbers star Judy Garland, Hedy Lamarr, Lana Turner and Tony Martin, together with sixty of America's most beautiful girls gowned in exotic Adrian creations. James Stewart plays the dramatic lead in the story by William Anthony McGuire, who wrote the screen's "The Great Ziegfeld," as well as many of "Florenz Ziegfeld's" original Broadway shows. Directed by Robert Z. Leonard, who was responsible for "The Great Ziegfeld," the dramatic theme traces the lives and loves of the three feminine stars who are plucked from obscurity to win fame in Ziegfeld's Follies. They are Judy Garland as Susan Gallagher, Hedy Lamarr as Sheila Kolter and Lana Turner as Sheila Regan, with Stewart playing Gilbert Young, truck-driver sweetheart who loses Sheila to wealthy Geoffrey Collis, played by Ian Hunter. Tony Martin as singing star Frank Merton of the Follies falls in love with Sandra who although infatuated for a time, remains loyal to her brilliant but impoverished husband, Frans, played by Philip Dorn.

Only Susan wins final stardom. She also has the satisfaction of seeing her father, Charles Winninger, as old-time vaudevillian, Pop Gallagher, together with his partner, Al Shean, conquer Broadway with the "Gallagher and Shean" number. In the end, Sheila dies on the eve of Susan's triumph in a new Follies which the critics are pronouncing the best of all.

Supporting the stars in the film's galaxy of well-known names are Jackie Cooper, Edward Everett Horton, Paul Kelly, Eve Arden, Dan Dalley, Jr., Fay Holden, Felix Bressart and Ross Hobart, together with 100 of the most beautiful girls in America, chosen from a thousand applicants.

The picture's musical program includes "You Stepped Out of a Dream" and "Caribbean Love Song," sung by Tony Martin; "I'm Always Chasing Rainbows" and "Minnie from Trinidad," sung by Judy Garland; "Laugh, I Thought I'd Split My Side," sung by Miss Garland and Charles Winninger; "Mr. Gallagher and Mr. Shean," sung by Winninger and Al Shean, and "We Must Have Music," sung by Judy Garland and Tony Martin.

Bogart, Lupino Co-Starred In Drama

One of the year's most outstanding productions, "High Sierra," co-starring Humphrey Bogart and Ida Lupino, is the top feature for today and Monday at the Queen theatre. Written by W. R. Burnett who authored "Little Caesar," "High Sierra" was produced by Warner Bros., the same company which presented the earlier film. Rosal Walsh, the picture's director, is noted for the deft balance between romance and hard, blunt "punch" that he has delivered in many hit pictures, since his initial success with "What Price Glory." Another guarantee of "High Sierra" being top-drawer entertainment is the fact that Mark Hellinger acted as associate producer of the film.

Headed by Bogart and Miss Lupino, the cast of "High Sierra" also includes such notable names as Alan Curtis, Harry Hull, Henry Travers, Barton MacLane, Arthur Kennedy (remember him as Cagney's brother in "City for Conquest") and Joan Leslie, 16-year-old making her film debut, and hailed by preview audiences as a sensational discovery. A small wire-haired terrier called "Ferd" is said to walk off with more than his share of the picture's honors.

Film Shows New Type Of Evolution

Movie audiences will see evolution stepped up thousands of years in just a few minutes in the laboratory of a scientific genius when Paramount's new thrill-drama, "The Monster and the Girl," plays today and Monday at the Lyric theatre.

Filled with many ingenious turns of plot, the story of "The Monster and the Girl," is about an executed man, whose brain is transferred to the skull of a massive gorilla by a well-intentioned scientist. The brain he has transplanted belonged to a man who was obsessed with the idea of destroying the six men who were responsible for his execution in the electric chair, and the wrecking of his sister's life. Grim terror grips the entire city as the monster strikes. Each of the six wait for horrible death to overtake them. Of course, no one except the scientist suspects that the mysterious killer is a gorilla—a monster with a human brain.

"The Monster and the Girl" was directed by Stuart Heisler, the director who recently won enthusiastic work on "The Biscuit Eater." Ellen Drew, as most moviegoers will remember, starred in the immensely successful psychological thriller, "The Mad Doctor." Because of her excellent performance in that exciting melodrama, Paramount cast her in a similar role in "The Monster and the Girl."

Seiberling Develops New Type Tire Cord

Seiberling Rubber company engineers have developed a new tire cord, called "Baf-Flex," which is about 25 per cent stronger than older types under present-day high speed driving conditions. Just one ply of this new cord is strong enough to raise a two-ton car off the ground. Designed especially to resist heat, the new Seiberling "Baf-Flex" cord introduces added safety in the tires in which it is used.

Get A Hobby And Ride It— It All Began As A Joke But Now Mrs. Brooks Has Large Collection

It all started out as a joke, this hobby of Mrs. E. J. Brooks' but now the collection has reached great proportions and is still growing! The collection is of salt and pepper shakers and from one taken for a souvenir, Mrs. Brooks now has 253 sets and no duplicates.

About three and a half years ago, Mrs. Brooks with her family was in Fort Worth and attended Casa Manana. It seems the officials in charge were wary of souvenir hunters and menu collectors. So, just to have something to bring home, Mrs. Brooks slipped a salt shaker into the pocket of a man in their party. The innocent victim carried the shaker outside where Mrs. Brooks took it from him.

His surprise over finding the shaker was too good a joke not to continue, so, later at the Pan-American in Dallas, Mrs. Brooks put a pepper shaker in his coat pocket. Unknowingly, she had begun her hobby.

In reprisal, on her birthday not long after, her friends gave her a surprise party, and the gifts were all salt and pepper shakers!

At first she kept her collection in a little whatnot with three shelves. But 353 shakers take up a lot of room, so she got a large cabinet to hold them. The collection has now outgrown the cabinet and is partly occupying the top of the case.

Some of the shakers were made in France, Czechoslovakia, Mexico, Germany and Japan. Almost every state has a representative shaker in the collection. They vary in size, shape and color. There are Marthas and George Washington heads, a monk and nun pair, all kinds of animals, vegetables and fruits.

Novelties include a frog and a lily, two little Easter chicks with bonnets, Moon Mullins, a light-house and a ship and many others.

The latest addition to the collection is a present from Mrs. H. W. Caylor and is the pair that she used for some 35 years. Her oldest shakers are two over 50 years old.

While most of the collection has been gifts from friends, nine of them were gotten when Mrs. Brooks answered a hobby letter. One pair was made in McAllister, Okla., penitentiary, just to make the picture complete.

Curiously enough, the shakers that the family uses are just an everyday kind and she never uses those from her collection.

But to Mrs. Brooks each pair of shakers tells a story. She knows who gave them to her, what state they came from, and when she was given them. "I never intended to start on a hobby, but now I wouldn't part with any of them," Mrs. Brooks maintains.

Three cheers for Otto Peters, Sr., and "acrobatic" spirits of simoniac! He ran up the steps with the speed of "Superman" when he received word that Mrs. Malcolm Bridges, who has not completely recovered from a recent illness, had fainted.

The fly swatter is absolutely a thing of the past since we have our air-conditioning. The heat waves may dance merrily on over the West Texas plains for all we care. Now we can say, "Who's afraid of the big, bad heat?"

A farewell gift of a black and gold pen and pencil set was presented to C. D. Brown from members of his department and special old friends.

C. L. Henry's young daughter, Bobbie, will ride in the horse show sponsored by the Rotary club to be held May 16, 17 and 18. She will show Mrs. Wagner's horse. Mrs. Ray Lawrence will also ride.

29 MILLION! A record never before approached! When the 29,000,000th Ford rolled recently from the assembly line, an all-time record for the industry was set. 29,000,000 units built by the same management and all bearing one name—a name that has become one of the best-known trade-marks in the world! It is significant that this achievement comes at a time when our country is making a mighty effort to re-arm swiftly. For to further that effort, to help speed it along in any possible way, we have offered the vast facilities of the Rouge Plant and every ounce of our experience. As you read these words, a new $21,000,000 Ford airplane engine plant, started only last fall, is nearly completed. A new magnesium alloy plant, one of the few in the country, is already in production on lightweight airplane engine castings. Work is right now under way on a new $18,000,000 plant for mass production of big bomber assemblies. Orders have been filled for military vehicles of several types, including army reconnaissance cars, army staff cars and bomb service trucks. In the midst of this activity for National Defense, building the 29 millionth Ford car is simply one part of the day's work. The public has acclaimed the 1941 Ford car as the finest in Ford history. Ford Dealers are enjoying their greatest sales and expecting their best year since 1937. It is good to be producing the things America needs, and to be setting records on the way! Horse Show Shaping Up As An Outstanding Westex Event

'Ranchman's' Horses Also To Be Shown

The performance of gaited horses may be something of a mystery to West Texans who are not aware of the sacred place held by the final animal in breeding regions of Kentucky and Missouri; but the Rotary club's benefit horse show here this week will include also some mounts that are familiar to the ranch country.

Shown on halter will be the beautifully colored Palominos, quarter horses and Thoroughbreds —mares, fillies, geldings and stallions in all classes.

D. D. Douglass and G. H. Hayward are in charge of the Palomino and Thoroughbred classes, and M. M. Edwards and Curtis Driver are in charge of the quarter horse classes.

Palominos and Thoroughbreds will be judged at 3 p. m. Friday afternoon, and shown.

These classes will be judged in advance of the show—on Friday and Saturday afternoons—and winners will be announced as the horses are exhibited to the crowds. Trophies will be awarded in all classes, and blue ribbons will go to the grand champion horse and grand champion mare in each class. Then, the grand champion horse and mare for all classes will be shown and announced at Sunday afternoon's show.

Performances Are Slated For Friday, Saturday, Sunday

After weeks of preparation and groundwork, prospects were bright Saturday for one of the outstanding show events of West Texas, in the Charity Horse show scheduled in Big Spring next Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

A $100 event—total aggregate going in awards in the various classes—the show is destined to attract the top show animals of the state, in addition to many West Texas pleasure and halter horses in Palomino, Thoroughbred and quarter horse types.

There probably will be 50 gaited animals here, showing in harness and under saddle—in addition to the halter classes and those entered by pleasure riders.

Three shows are on tap—on each for Friday and Saturday night at 8 o'clock, and the finale for Sunday afternoon at 1:30. All performances will be at the rodeo grounds.

Proceeds will go to the Rotary club's crippled children's fund—which organization sponsored last year's show. The 1940 event, a spectacular success from standpoint of public interest, was not a money maker; but Rotarians are convinced, from advance indications, that this week's show will realize some money for a worthy cause. All civic clubs have joined in disposal of tickets, selling for 50 cents each; many patrons have taken boxes for the three shows; and leading firms and organizations are sponsoring classes to the extent of posting the cash awards. Ticket sales are under direction of R. R. McEwen, who said Saturday that a financial success seemed assured.

The entry list was picking up, under guidance of M. H. Bennett, C. T. McLaughlin and Frank Kelley. The latter two men, prominent West Texas horse fanciers, have devoted much time and effort to preparations for the Big Spring show, though neither is a Big Spring resident.

Kentucky Judge
A famed horse breeder from the Blue Grass country of Kentucky—Dr. E. C. Walker of Mayfield—will be the judge. He is making the trip by plane, and will arrive here Friday evening.

In addition to horse exhibitions, the program will include variety events. Each performance will be closed with a Pony Express race, a free-for-all affair which will pit cowhand riders against one another in a relay type chase. Each rider will use three mounts, making the circuit on one, unsaddling and saddling a second horse, then using a third, to deliver his letter to the judge. It is strictly a speed and excitement event.

The Big Spring high school band will furnish music to open each show; and the Colorado City Cowhand band will entertain during the program, with that organization's accordionist, Mrs. James E. Payne, featured.

Entries Coming In
A public address system will be used, and C. T. McLaughlin will be chief announcer. Bennett and Kelley are co-directors, while Robt. A. May of Colorado City will be ringmaster. A special tent will be erected at the rodeo grounds to provide stables.

Entries already had been received from the Diamond M ranch of Scurry county; Frontier Round Up Stables of Colorado City; Rockwood Stables of Fort Worth; Austin Stables of Amarillo; Chappell Davis of Midland; John A. Stinson of Lubbock, and others. Major stables of Fort Worth, Dallas and Houston are expected to send entries. The show's big event will be the concluding $500 five-gaited stake, winner of which is acknowledged to be "king" of the show.

Rotarians had divided labors to see that everything about the event goes smoothly. Concessions have been arranged, ground and grandstand directors named, program distribution and ticket handling cared for. In a word, the show is about "ready"—and sponsors are declaring that it will be a show to see.

Proposal For A Houston Shrine Is Turned Down

Herald Austin Bureau
AUSTIN, May 10.—This is a story about a legislative proposal that failed.

It would not be worthy of note except for the fact that it is the kind of proposal that lives and may one day bear fruit.

The proposal, offered by Rep. Dorsey B. Hardeman of San Angelo, was to purchase the location of Sam Houston's birthplace in Virginia and establish it as a shrine of the Lone Star State.

Hardeman, a native of Tennessee where Sam Houston first rose to power before he came to Texas, urged the appropriation of $35,000 to buy the site and create a shrine.

One of the best students of Texas history in the legislature, the San Angelo lawmaker said the shrine would be "an inspiration to every lover of liberty." The house vetoed the idea by vote of 79 to 40.

Home for a three-day furlough are George Dempsey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marie Dempsey and James Couch. Both are stationed with the army at El Paso.

Judge—The man who will make the decisions in all gaited classes of the Charity Horse show this week will be Dr. E. C. Walker (above), a physician who has bred and trained fine horses as a hobby—like many another resident of the Blue Grass region—Dr. Walker is owner of the High-Contente stock farm. He has been a breeder of gaited horses for many years, showing many winners. Dr. Walker will arrive here by plane Friday evening.

Local Riders Have Class Of Their Own
Probably drawing the biggest entry list of any class in the Rotary club's benefit horse show here Friday-Saturday-Sunday will be the Big Spring Park Pleasure division.

This event will be open to horses of any type, but the rider must be an amateur and a resident of Big Spring. In the judging, riders will be instructed to put their horses around the ring at the pace they are accustomed to use for pleasure riding.

Horseback riding has been much in the ascendancy here for the past several seasons. Establishment of the Big Spring Riding Academy was a stimulus, as more and more people turned to the saddle for their exercise and diversion. Last year's horse show added interest, and many Big Springers have become horse owners as well as riders. A large group here rides regularly, and most of these are expected to appear in the Park Pleasure class at the show.

People interested in this event and wanting more information are requested to contact either M. H. Bennett or R. R. McEwen, who will provide entry blanks.

Green Ranges, Ranchers' Smiles Mark The Times In Forsan Area

By AQUILA WEST
 FORSAN, May 9 (Spl)—According to an "old-timer" friend, Hardy Morgan, who ranches in Dawson, Crosby and Howard counties, the range in this section is the best since 1906.

The whole country is a solid blanket of every conceivable variety of West Texas weeds, some of which have not had sufficient moisture to germinate in several years.

Some of the more prominent include the goose-necks of the filree grass, the fragrant bluish orchid blooms of the pea vine, and the straight green pods that represent the tall weed.

After these pass on, there are mesquite and sabosa grasses, the latter already tall enough to wave in the breeze. These will spread further when the weeds are gone.

Stock is not going to walk off much flesh hunting water. Heavy rainfall has filled creek s and springs are flowing. Tanks generally have a full catch.

Sheep ranchers had less trouble with lambing this spring than in years. The first smile came with prospective booming prices. Then the weather proved he wouldn't have to feed during lambing.

When feeding is necessary, the ewe will forsake the lamb for feed, but when range is good the mother sheep has so much milk that it sometimes remains with the lamb if it is dead.

Too, when the ewes are physically stronger they are more able to get up from bed grounds without help.

A majority of ranchmen have completed marking lambs and report a good percentage.

Best report comes from D. Clifton, foreman for Mrs. Mary Chalk, who has marked 784 lambs from 737 ewes, with five or six yet to lamb. However, these sheep were under herd and lambed in a shed.

Hardy Morgan had about 80 per cent, and his ewes started lambing 15 days earlier than those of most of his neighbors. Homer McKinley marked 80 per cent and Bill Cushing had 72 per cent from his yearlings and 85 per cent from his older ewes.

Mark Nasworthy had a 75 per cent average, as did C. L. West. Half of the West ewes were yearlings.

Walter Gressett, Ed Dought and possibly others in the neighborhood have not worked as yet.

The seven-year period had 230 Commissioner loans supplementing the normal Land Bank services for a total of $389,750.00. Of these, 191 loans for $312,850 remain.

Outstanding on December 31, 1940, in Borden county were 104 Land Bank loans amounting to $300,800.00 were closed. The seven-year period had 75 Commissioner loans supplementing the normal Land Bank services for a total of $181,750.00. Of these, 66 loans for $109,750.00 remain.

"This system," said Driver, "was founded to finance farm mortgage debts on terms to fit the needs of the farmer and ranchman. While the family is in debt, striving to attain independent ownership, there is need for safe financing to protect the home investment. Credit from a dependable source, repaid in small, regular amounts on principal and interest, frees the family from worry and cost of frequent renewals."

Pioneering Spirit Still Prevails In Small Community In Panhandle

WASHINGTON, May 14 (AP)—The pioneering spirit that built America still exists and is exemplified in the activities of a small community in the Texas Panhandle.

Flagg, in Castro county, is the place.

Recognition has been accorded the community, hardly more than 18 years old, by the agricultural department. Prominently featured in the latest issue of the departmental publication, Extension Service Review, is an article describing how farm women and men there have co-operated to realize a happier life with a minimum of expense.

The accomplishments of Flagg's forty families—the hardest of nearly 100 who moved there before the "seven year drouth," were set forth by Laura Lane, acting editor of the Texas Extension Service.

Most of Flagg's families came from Oklahoma and East Texas and bought tracts of land, usually quarter sections, in an eight-mile square area. Drouth, high land values and other problems sent many back to their homes, and most of those who remained to stick it out were forced to do so as tenants.

Center of activity is a small frame church built to hold 200 or more people. Baptists, Methodists, Nazarenes and Christian faiths share the structure, a pastor of one denomination holding the pulpit one Sunday and one of another belief the next week.

Built when the community was first settled, on land donated by an Amarillo woman, the church also served as a school until 1930. Now the younger pupils have a separate school house, while the older ones go by bus to a school in the county seat, Dimmitt.

The church was falling into a sad state of repair when, just about a year ago, the Flagg home demonstration club decided something should be done about it. Thirty-four of the forty women in the community are members of the club, so the community soon was sold on the idea. Money was raised by suppers, rallies and a minstrel show. The church was moved to a more convenient location at a cost of $100; farmers erected a fence, while their wives donned overalls to paint the interior woodwork and a paperhanger redecorated the walls for $13.

The men painted the outside of the church, and the women and children came along and prepared lunch for the whole crowd.

The Flagg Community Agricultural association holds its meetings in the church; cotton improvement meetings were held there and a one-yearly staple for their area was selected; cotton mattress programs were centered in the church. Recreational meetings also are held there, but dominoes and cards are frowned on; the 4-H club boys and girls hold many of their functions in the church.

Concluding, the departmental publication states: "No doubt the 1940 census will reveal their income for the year considerably below the average for the entire state; nevertheless, Flagg folks are rich. An inventory of their assets must begin with courage."

They are, President, Keith Miles; vice-president, Moody Richardson; secretary, Mrs. James E. Payne.

Whirlaway Takes Five-Lengths Victory In Preakness Stakes Race

Qualifying Rounds In City Golf Tourney Start Today

Bumper Crop Of Divoiteers Slated To Vie For Spots

Entrants in Big Spring's first annual City Championship golf tournament tee-off today in qualifying rounds to ring up the curtain on actual divoiteering warfare for the current season. Harold Akey, Mundy pro, announced that the rounds would start at each competitor's convenience.

A bumper crop of local golfers, supplemented by men from Fort San and surrounding oil fields, is expected to enter the meet. Akey predicted that, judging from the amount of interest thus far evidenced in the tournament, there will probably be three or four flights battling for honors when the actual tournament play is inaugurated Monday, May 15, the day following closing of the qualifying rounds on Sunday, May 14. All entry fees will be given back in the form of prizes and other incidentals connected with the meet. M. K. House, president of the tournament-sponsoring Big Spring Golf association, announced Saturday. Akey affirms that the prize to be carried away by the city champion is a worthwhile mantel piece.

Right now the race is anybody's oake, golf and St. Andrew's blessing being what they are, but there are approximately 12 golfers in this vicinity who might be considered to have the inside edge in pre-meet standings. In this list are found Gene Gardner, Tommy Neal, Charles Watson, Shirley Robbins, Obie Bristow, M. K. House, Sammy Sain, D. P. Watt, Herman Stewart, Claude Wilkins and Guy Rainey—all bang-up divoiteers, but all susceptible to the onslaughts by darkhorses waiting for a wallop on their own hook.

Those in charge of the tournament are holding forth great hopes for the success of this, the first meet of its kind in Big Spring. Heretofore, meets have been conducted on the local courses that have consisted in the main of local men but there has always been a sprinkling of out-of-towners. This time, the one who comes out on top of the heap following the 36-hole final match on June 1, will be the undisputed titlist of the city until he is knocked off his throne in the next city championship season.

Indians Sink Brown, 4-3

ST. LOUIS, May 10 (AP)—Roger A. L. Milner's 7th performance, coupled with Lou Boudreau's home run in the third inning, gave Cleveland a 4 to 3 victory today over the Browns and snapped the Indians' losing streak at four straight.

A near rout occurred when Bernardino's spikes slipped into Mack's trousers as he slid hard in an attempt to break up a double killing. Players from both teams rushed onto the outfield, but umpires restored order before blows were struck. Cleveland's big inning came in the third when Boudreau hit his homer with Milner on base. Clarence Campbell followed with a triple and sped home when Roy Cullenbine's throw was allowed to roe loose in the infield.

Minor League Revamps Card

Remainder of May's Minor league softball's card will start at 7:30 each night of play instead of 7:45 as has previously been the case, Malcolm Bridges, director of the circuit's activities, has announced. The nightcaps will get underway at 9:25 as originally planned. In addition to time changes the schedule has undergone a revision. New Calendar: Monday, May 12—NYA vs. Sea Scouts (7:30), Lions vs. ABC (9:25). Wednesday, May 14—Herald vs. NYA (7:30), ABC vs. Sea Scouts (9:25). Monday, May 26—Lions vs. Herald (7:30), ABC vs. NYA (9:25). Wednesday, May 28—Lions vs. Sea Scouts (8:00).

Lookin 'em Over

WITH JACK DOUGLAS

Big Spring's Bombers, despite the Hickings they have absorbed, have two claims to honors thus far in the wild-eyed West Texas-New Mexico baseball league.

First, J. L. Haney's throw-out, two on third and one on second, from his left field position last week is something that is more than good—it's downright extraordinary. But, Fischer Bob Kohout comes back Friday with a bang-up showing on his own hook.

Shirley Robbins and Obie Bristow are, thus far, Big Spring's white hopes in the annual West Texas golf meet to be held in Sweetwater, May 15-17. Slated to bring together the pick of golf conscious West Texans, the tournament is one of the most grueling to be found in this land of cowboys and biscuit-fed governors.

According to word from the National Open Golf tournament's officials, about 1,800 of the 6,000 season tickets to the meet to be held over Fort Worth's Colonial club course are left for sale. No more will be available after May 24. $6.00 gets the buyer a duet to the actual rounds and practice bouts, plus the open-eyed admiration of the sponsors of the classic.

Fishing, swimming, tennis, golf, baseball, and softball are either here or getting ready for summer openings—meaning that now is the time to take your doses of molasses and summer if you're from the piney or mountain regions of these United States. In other words—SUMMER IS HERE.

Roy Beagan, a golf ball loser per excellence, comes forth with the following suggestion to the powers that be at the Mundy course—let the brush and hammers take over the sought-after fairways, but please clear off the roughs.

Major Loop Has Signs Of Being Hurlers' War

Featured Clash Of Staggs Vs. Phillips Postponed Until Wed.

A scheduled makeup bout between the ever-surprising Staggs Auto softballers and Phillips' Tiremen was called off Friday night because of vacancies in the ranks of both clubs. Regular date for the match was Thursday but it was postponed at that time because of the absence of Maxie Carroll, Staggs' regular catcher. The postponed makeup (or something), is now billed for Wednesday night, one of the regularly assigned spots for all makeup games.

Cliff's Service is still the acknowledged loop leader in the circuit, despite the upset wallop it took at the hands of Staggs, et al. Sliding on the crest with L. D. Cunningham's brand of hurting, plus heads-up fielding by the remainder of the roster, the Cliffs' after all is said and done, is the top club in the league and the one most likely to wind up on the peak of the heap when the season closes.

Cunningham's delivery might come under the classification of a "submarine ball." Swooping back and then letting fly with a dazzling burst of speed Cunningham has, with the exception of the Staggs flacco, put the hex on majority of batters who have faced him.

Exporters Nip Oilers, 2 To 1

TULSA, Okla., May 10 (AP)—The Beaumont Exporters, bunched four hits, one of them a homer, in the second inning, defeated the Tulsa Oilers, 2 to 1, tonight. The Exporters tallied their two runs in that second inning. Bill McClaren, big right fielder, started the inning by slammng one over the right center fence.

Officers Probe Burglary Here

Officers Saturday were investigating burglary of the Caprock Liquor Store, north of town, Friday night. Loss of approximately $8 plus of whiskey, gin and wine, along with around $4 in cash, was reported following forced entry of the place.

B'Springers To Vie In Open Trials

Will Enter National Golf Qualifying Rounds May 26

Four Big Spring golfers have thus far signified their intention of being on deck when the qualifying rounds for the National Open Golf tournament, to be held June 5-7 over Fort Worth's Colonial Club course, get underway May 26. Obie Bristow, M. K. House, Harold Akey, Mundy pro, and Jimmy Gamewell, newly chosen Country Club professional, are scheduled to themselves to Fort Worth's Brook Hollow golfing plant.

Approximately 160 of the world's greatest golfers will make up the starting field in the Open. But until sectional qualifying rounds are held in every state only about 35 of the "finalists" are known.

Under U.S.G.A. rules, three classes qualify automatically for the Open. They are all former champions, the first 30 finishers in the 1940 tournament and the home course professional. There are duplications, since many of the former champions were among the first 30 at Canterbury last year.

The Colonial Club pro is Bob Byrnes, Rice Institute graduate and former West Texas amateur star. Those who qualify from the 1940 tournament are: Champion Lawson Little, Gene Sarazen, Horton Smith, Craig Wood, Ben Hogan, Ralph Guldahl, Lloyd Mangrum, Bryon Nelson, Dick Metz, Ed Dudley, Frank Walsh, Tommy Armour, Harold McPadden, Henry Flood, Vic Ghezzi, Johnny Revolta, Sam Snead, Johnny Farrell, Sam Parks, Jr., Fort Worth's Henry Ransom and others less well known.

What former champions will compete isn't definitely known, of course. But it's likely that all winners since 1920, with one or two exceptions, will be on hand. Bobby Jones, a four-time winner, plans to look on, but will not compete.

Dist. 12 Grid Heads To Meet

An executive committee meeting of District 12 six-man football has been called for Monday, May 13, in the Settles Hotel, Big Spring, N. P. Taylor of Garden City, chairman of the body announced Friday.

Problems connected with the 1941 fall schedule will be dealt with, Taylor said. In addition, a possible change in type of shoes used and a program of sports for girls will be discussed, the chairman stated.

District 12 includes Garden City, Sterling City, Water Valley, Fort-San, Courtney, Coahoma, Westbrook, and Gardner.

King Cole Is Second, Our Boots Third

PIMLICO RACETRACK, BALTIMORE, Md., May 10 (AP)—Warren Wright's Whirlaway won the Preakness stakes Saturday by five lengths. Ogden Phipps' King Cole was second and Royce Martin's Our Boots third.

The Kentucky Derby winner added the mile-and-three-sixteenths Preakness to his three-year-old record after coming from dead last in the backstretch. He broke between horses on the stretch turn and won going away in 1:58 4/5 on a good track. King Cole, after setting all the early paces, could not withstand the winner, but was good enough to save second money by two lengths. Our Boots bested Charley Howard's Porter's Cap by a neck for the show spot.

The race was worth $49,965 to the winner, who picked up a record jackpot of more than $60,000 in eight-length victory in the Derby last Saturday. Milledale stable's Kansas finished fifth in the field of eight, followed in order by Robert Kleberg's Dispose, Coldstream stable's Curious Coin and Chirpin Ogilby's Ocean Blue.

The race was run similarly to the Derby last week, with a crowd of 40,000 looking on this time. Whirlaway was dead last going past the club house the first time, was still that way in the middle of the backstretch and started to move up as the field went into the stretch turn. This time, however, Whirlay made his move going round the turn, yet he didn't run wide an inch as he straightened out for home three lengths to the good. Favorite in the field, he returned $4.30 for win, $4.40 for place and $2.80 for show on a $2 ticket. King Cole returned $16.30 for place and $7.80 for show. Out Boots, second choice in the field, was $3.50 for show.

TRUCK OPERATORS here are 3 reasons why we can cut your TIRE COSTS!

Our new Seiberling Special Service "Heat-Vented" Truck Tire gives you these 3 big extra-mileage advantages found in no other truck tire.

1 NEW "HEAT-VENTS" along the shoulder of this new Seiberling Truck Tire actually EXPEL dangerous heat from the blowout zone. When the weight of the truck fattens these vents, they force out hot air. As they spring open again, the cooled vents draw in cool air. (See diagram below.) No other truck tire has this feature.

2 NEW "SAF-FLEX" CORD stays cooler because its closely-knit fibers generate less friction heat. Under extreme service conditions, "Saf-Flex" is 30% stronger than ordinary cord — resists floor breaks and blowouts. And because it has a lower "stretch," "Saf-Flex" protects you against tread cracks and separation.

3 NEW THERMO-WELD CUSHION GUM welds the tread to the carcass. This new compound, developed by Seiberling, stands extreme friction heat without disintegrating or weakening — guards against separation failures.

PROOF: In extensive road tests, under the most adverse conditions, this new truck tire increased mileage 33%, over all former constructions and practically eliminated pressure failures! Come in to see it TODAY!

Revision In Draft Law Is Due Soon

By ALSOFF and KINTNER

WASHINGTON, May 10.—Another sign that the defense effort is at last beginning to fall is the decision of the National Selective Service Administration to recommend amendments in the draft law. The selective service organization, following a system too seldom adopted in new governmental projects, has operated the draft machinery, tested its parts and observed its results for a good many months. The fact that alterations are now to be proposed means that the draft machinery is about to come to age.

The major improvement desired is congressional authorization for the president to defer certain age groups from draft classification at his discretion. As the plan has been prepared in the office of the administrator of selective service, Extension General Lewis B. Hershey, and passed by Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson, the presidential discretion is complete and final.

It is the present purpose, however, to use the presidential discretion to defer all men over the age of twenty-seven not already drafted.

The plan should be on the president's desk as these words are printed. If approved, which it may have been already, it should go to congress in the very near future. The selective service hopes for prompt passage.

The major improvement desired is congressional authorization for the president to defer certain age groups from draft classification at his discretion. As the plan has been prepared in the office of the administrator of selective service, Extension General Lewis B. Hershey, and passed by Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson, the presidential discretion is complete and final.

It is the present purpose, however, to use the presidential discretion to defer all men over the age of twenty-seven not already drafted.

The plan should be on the president's desk as these words are printed. If approved, which it may have been already, it should go to congress in the very near future. The selective service hopes for prompt passage.

Editorial — — A Few Lines To Our Mothers

Dear Mother: I'm almost ashamed to write—although it is Mother's Day—for it seems the only time I get around to penning you a note is on some special occasion. It's just that I never try to apply the lessons of thoughtfulness that you taught me.

I can't say I'm too busy, even though that is what I try to tell myself, for you manage to write and I never know a buster person. But I did want you to know I haven't forgotten you. No, that would be quite impossible for the things you inculcated in our being make you a part of us as long as we all shall live.

Someday I'll Find You

Chapter Five
Date With Jordan
Eileen stood up and pilled her music. "Why worry about all that? I'm off to seek my fortune. The Weigands' little chain is the first step, maybe, to a career. And I'm not crazy. I think I can pick up enough secretarial work to carry me, maybe. I think I'm terribly prudent."

for a moment, as if she were not read. He stopped, stared. Eileen laughed. "Come in, Jordan. She had opened the door to him; she moved a little back as he stood still, eyes focused on her. "What is it? Like my dress?" "Like . . . you," he said thickly. "What have you done to yourself, Eileen? You're so—so alive. So—almost incandescent."

But her aunt, entrenched in a job that ended in a teacher's pension, shook her head mournfully. Besides, she liked Jordan Estill. Such a sound, responsible, good-tempered boy.

"No. Something new. Is it this radio business, or something I don't know anything about?" Bemused Young Man "The nearsighted, watchful eyes behind the eyeglasses searched her face; the pleasant, thin mouth with its parentheses already forming from the habit of professional tension went more tense.

"You know—" she offered a final hint—"you can't pick me up and put them down, dear. Men aren't like us. If you won't marry a man, he usually marries somebody else. They get to feeling like being married to you. And the feeling—all the more because you don't—carries them on to somebody else."

"I don't know what you don't know about," Eileen said with a little laugh. "We always said you knew more than anybody in any of our other classes."

She glaced at her aunt, and transiently wondered how he knew all that. Perhaps there'd been somebody who had felt like marrying Aunt Lou when she was all wrapped up in her social responsibilities and the freedom of women, and who'd gone on to the next girl. Well, as far as she was concerned, Jordan Estill was welcome. A man wasn't as Aunt Lou seemed to feel, something like money in the savings bank.

"You're always so gay. I know I'm a sober sort of person. I—I suppose I seem dull to you," he said suddenly.

Her hand felt for the little gold ring she had clipped to her chain. It could not come off. The bracelet had enough other charms, so the ring was not noticeable—every boy she knew had given her a gadget or two. The bracelet was as thick as a leg.

"I used to think you were awfully strict and that possibly you leaned a little too heavily on the church. I can look back now and see how you kept me out of more trouble than I know how. After I left home, I didn't do many things I might have done had it not been for fear of hurting you and because I felt your prayers just as plainly as if I had heard them."

It was nearly the last time she had a chance to talk alone with her aunt. The little apartment was overrun. Everybody was dashing in and out, excited about Eileen's departure, envious, thrilled, or disapproving. And not least, Jordan Estill.

"I promise to write regularly. I do wish I could be with you today, but I'll do the next best thing and go down to church and sing some of those good old hymns you used to sing—if I don't get a lump in my throat. Give my love to Dad and write when you have time."

"I want you to have dinner with me at Jerry's, and come dancing," he said without preface on the telephone. His voice didn't sound like himself. It was a little tentative, usually. And Jordan hadn't even been to town of dancing. He usually preferred a picnic lunch and a tramp over the hills, driving out to Boulder, perhaps, or beyond to Estes Park and walking in the late daylight, picnic-bag driving back.

"I had a chance to see you today, but I'll do the next best thing and go down to church and sing some of those good old hymns you used to sing—if I don't get a lump in my throat. Give my love to Dad and write when you have time."

He brushed her brown curls to more glossiness; she even, for some obscure reason, dug up the expensive new foundation cream someone had given her, which made her skin look even more fresh and lovelier than it was. She tipped her lashes with ten-cent store mascara; her nails with new coral to match her lips.

With all my love,
Your Son,

Jordan was a little late. The pine-smoke pastille, Eileen always lighted after meals to get the faint, good smell of cooking out of the living room, had been curling up on the air, blown through by the sharp June moon—ain evening wind. For ten minutes before he walked in, when he did he looked at her.

"I promise to write regularly. I do wish I could be with you today, but I'll do the next best thing and go down to church and sing some of those good old hymns you used to sing—if I don't get a lump in my throat. Give my love to Dad and write when you have time."

many men with slight physical disabilities, not good enough to be trained as soldiers but strong enough to serve usefully in other capacities. It is the present intention to take such men for work in such branches of the army as the quartermasters corps, and the camp clerical staffs. It is also possible that the remainder of them will be sent into the CCC for physical training.

Man About Manhattan— 'St. Agnes of the Mice' Is A Completely Dizzy Production

NEW YORK—St. Agnes of the Mice used to be a dancer in "Panama Hattie," and her brother, a poet and scientist, is a former ballet dancer. It says so in the program notes. Her brother also writes books of just one word, and when he concentrates in San Francisco, he can hear another brother play the cornet in New York.

Now these are just three of the people in "The Beautiful People" which is billed as a play at the Lyceum theatre in West 45th street, east of Broadway. Plays are supposed to begin and to end, and in the middle they are supposed to go somewhere. "The Beautiful People" doesn't do either. The curtain goes up at 8:45 and one hour and 45 minutes later it goes down for the last time and everybody goes home.

This may be a piece of autobiographical data, out of Mr. William Saroyan's own private career, for he has lived in San Francisco and it is often claimed that from that far place he has heard voices, though it never has been claimed absolutely that from Telegraph Hill in San Francisco he has heard cornets tooting in the Manhattan rehearsal halls.

Gertrude Stein is a lady whose words are jittery and baroque and after hearing or reading them for half an hour you wonder if the walls aren't beginning to cave in. For instance, if Miss Stein wants to say the weather is fine, she says, "The weather is the weather. The weather is fine and the sun in the sun in the sky is the sky." That's the way she says it. When William Saroyan writes plays he does with his ideas what Gertrude Stein does with words.

Hollywood Sights And Sounds— To Settle Costume Woes, Let's Put 'Em In Shrouds

By ROBBIN COONS
HOLLYWOOD—I'm a stranger here myself (said the Man with the Jaundiced Eye) but I'm sort of catching on.
(For a fact, he looked it. His eyes were hidden behind a pair of dark glasses, there was slickum on his hair, and he wore a red-white-and-blue blazer over his green-and-purple polo shirt.)

Still and all—he went on—I don't see why DeMille lets this thing go by, here I see by the papers that FDR has opened the Red Sea. Why, even I know that that's a patented DeMille trick from 'way back. Back in my part of the country we'd say FDR was poaching.
But now I'm sort of getting into the swing of things out here, I'm gonna let C. B. take care of that. I wanna do my bit for pictures. I've got an idea. Obey, obey, it's terrific. (Was he catching on?)
Got it when I hear about this high school picture they're making.

And speaking of costumes—I saw some in a movie called "Ziegfeld Girl" the other day and I'm a-gin it. I don't like to complain, but if Flo Ziegfeld dressed his gals like that, couldn't we just sort of overlook it? After all, what's pretty about a pretty gal toting around stuffed girles or wearing metal forests on her head? Tastes differ, and maybe I'm wrong, but I like to think a pretty girl is like a melody—and I like to recognize the tune.
Speaking of simple things, I've been looking at a few movies around here and it strikes me the simple ones are the best. I mean the kind that take a story and tell it, without throwing in any secondary plots or "comic relief" or any of the things they throw in for extra pulling power.
Seems to me "Ziegfeld Girl" over-produced itself—I felt like a fellow in a room cluttered up with too much furniture.

"Penny Sernade" sang something simple, and stuck to the tune, and for half an hour afterward I disagreed with W. C. Field's classic about his love for children when they're properly cooked.
But "Hollywood" a wonderful place. Acting must be the greatest racket on earth. No unemployment. I've met a lot of actors and all of them had jobs. Speaking of acting—a-hem!
Speaking of acting—a-hem! I've decided to—er—give the films a break. People stared at me on the Boulevard today, as if I were a star, so I thought—I mean—could you arrange a screen test, do you s'pose?
(Et tu, Brute?)

Meetings To Talk Conservation Work Set In Soash Area

Three meetings of landowners in the Soash-Garner area are slated Monday in an effort to arouse interest in a soil conservation project in that vicinity. It has been suggested that a watershed in that area be designated as a priority area by the Martin-Howard soil conservation district and complete water and soil conservation work be done. About 30 farms are in the area under consideration.

At 8 a. m. a meeting to discuss the subject will be held at the F. O. Shortes farm, at 1:30 another will be held at R. N. Adams' home, and a third will be held at Soash school at night.

County Agent O. P. Griffin and Dudley Mann, in charge of the soil conservation service office here, will explain the plan to the landowners.
