Berry Comes Like A Storm!

Hale Center, Tx - This Black community will not be the same anymore after the visitation of Fulton Berry, chairman of the Human Relations Commission of the City of Lubbock and active member and officer of the Lubbock Branch of the NAACP.

You see, Berry... accompanied by Willie Pearl Thurman... was invited to speak to an about the issue. But this didn't last long, hitting his fist on the table, challenging the citizens to get up off their sitdowns and start doing some things together.

organization called the "Concerned Citizens of Hale Center." According to Berry, these citizens are very unhappy with what is happening to their Black community.

"When the meeting first began, everyone was quiet and afraid to speak

"I told them that it takes time to get anything done which is worthwhile. For an example, the Black community of Lubbock waited for nearly 25 years for an overpass, and now its completed and Blacks in Lubbock are beginning to do some other things."

"You just can't sit back and wait on anyone to do somethings for you. You've got to make your own help," continued Berry.

Also in attendance were Junior Brown and Alton Jackson, both city councilmen in Plainview. Jackson was recently elected.

Carolyn McDaniel is the president of the Concerned Citizens of Hale Center.

Deltas Taking Applications

The Lubbock Alumnae Chapter of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Inc. is taking applications for the Luella M. Scott Memorial Scholarship.

Further information and applications may be obtained through the Dunbar-Struggs or Estacado High School counselors.

The scholarship will be awarded during the Community Service Awards program later this month.

Delta Sigma Theta Sorority is national public service sorority dedicated to scholastic achievement and community service.

Dr. L. S. Graves, founder and principal, says: "These young people are great and are ready for the first grade. They can read and spell."

Give Us Your Kids!

The Southwest Digest would like to begin a new program aimed at our young Black boys and girls, between the ages of 8 and 14. You see, we know there are many Black boys and girls who would like to learn the work ethic. In other words, we want to teach your children how to work. It's just as simple as that! Teach them how to work.

You may ask: "What kind of work?" Well, we want to teach them to sell the Southwest Digest. Unless they learn at early age how to work, then they will be in trouble in years to come.

Therefore, we want to market the Southwest

Digest throughout the Black community. We believe our Black boys and girls will do well if they want to work.

What will they make? Well, we are not going to give them anything. They will have to earn all they make. Example, if your little boy or girl sells a Southwest Digest, he or she will make twenty cents (20¢) for that effort. So you see, if your little one will sell one hundred (100) copies of the Southwest Digest, their

Adopt Black History Class

The Roots Historical Arts Council will adopt the Black history class at Lubbock High School. According to Council president, Eric Strong, "We are doing this for several reasons, but the primary reason is we feel the introduction of Black history in the educational process can be an important tool to break down negative stereotypes and negative self images among high school students. The contributions of Afro-Americans on a local, state, and national levels are important if the student is to receive a whole education."

The class is taught by Ms. Gloria Carter and meets each Friday morning at Lubbock High. It attempts to introduce the students in the class the significant roles played by Afro-Americans throughout American history. The class is in its third year.

The Roots Historical Arts Council first became aware of the class in 1984 when a member of the council was called upon by Ms. Carter to make a presentation on the history of Blacks in American West. "We were surprised that such a class in Lubbock existed," Strong said.

"By adopting the class" Strong said, "We hope to add to experiences of the students that take the class." He continued, "We want to, with the cost for magazine subscriptions, present slide lectures, and will assist (funds) the instructor in scheduling field trips for the class. We are currently planning a field trip to visit Fort Concho in San Angelo some time in the fall. This historic fort was the home of the Buffalo Soldiers. It should be quite an experience. We also want to demonstrate the skills used in conducting oral histories and we will provide college scholarships."

Reagan Judicial Nominations Appear Biased

Washington, DC - A review of President Reagan's nominations to federal judgeships appears to suggest a bias against Black and women. During Reagan's first term, for example, only eight percent of his nominees were women. Former President Jimmy Carter's nomination of women for judgeships came to 16 percent. In addition, Black nominees totaled 14 percent under Carter. But only 1 percent of Reagan's judicial nominations have been Black. Meanwhile, under Reagan, the number of millionaires nominated to federal judgeships has more than doubled.

Arkansas Black Loses Bid For Governor

Little Rock, Ark. - W. Dean Goldsby has lost his bid to become the first Black to win the Democratic party nomination for governor of Arkansas. The 50-year-old Goldsby captured only 6 percent of the primary vote.

Also going down to defeat was former governor and one-time segregationist Orval Faubus. Current governor Bill Clinton won the democratic nomination with roughly 60 percent of the vote.

Blacks Favor Larger Families

Washington, DC - A new Gallup Poll has found that Blacks are significantly more inclined than whites to favor large families. When asked to name the ideal number of children for a family to have, 25 percent of whites favored families with four or more children. According to the poll, nearly two-thirds of American adults said 1 or 2 children was the ideal number for a family to have. Poorer, less educated people tended to favor larger families.

Jackson Condemns Reagan On "Hands Across America"

San Francisco, Calif. - Addressing law school graduates at Golden Gate University, the Rev. Jesse Jackson recently condemned President Reagan's participation in the "Hands Across America" anti-hunger campaign. Jackson charged that Reagan administration policies were responsible for the growing hunger and homelessness in America. He told the graduates, "We deserve a president who will not offer cake, prayer clothes, flag and glitter as a substitute for a sound diet for our nation."

White Separatist Faces Court Charges

Raleigh, NC - White separatist Glenn Miller has pleaded innocent to charges that he has been violating a 1985 court order barring his group from harassing Blacks. Miller heads the White Patriot Party. That organization has also been accused of operating a paramilitary training facility which successfully recruited active-duty marines. Miller told the court he had not broken any laws. But the head of a civil rights group in North Carolina charged that the Miller organization "is a racist hate group."

"Hands Across America" Girl Gets Acting Contract

New York, NY - A six-year-old Black girl who was chosen as the first link in the "Hands Across America" chain because her family was homeless has signed an acting contract with a major New York firm. The agreement was arranged by the organizers of the anti-hunger campaign. Amy Sherwood will reportedly appear in some upcoming television commercials. Her family had lived in a New York welfare hotel for nearly a year before recently moving to an apartment in Brooklyn.

Cicely Tyson Pleads For Aid To Hungry

Washington, DC - Actress Cicely Tyson recently pleaded with a Senate committee to do more to end hunger in America. Tyson told the senators, "Let's do something about the children who are being starved." Shortly after Tyson's appearance Senator Edward Kennedy introduced a nearly billion dollar bill to improve food and nutrition programs.

East Lubbock Gets New Industry

Although there is a need for industry throughout the City of Lubbock, East Lubbock is happy over the announcement that

McLane Company, Inc., a Texas-based national distributor to the foodservice and retail grocery industries, will build a new foodservice distribution center in Lubbock. The project will represent a $5,500,000 investment in land, plant and warehouse equipment.

McLane/Foodservice Abilene, presently located in Abilene, will move to the Lubbock distribution center which will employ approximately 115 when it opens in 1987. When the Lubbock division opens, the Abilene distribution center will be closed.

According to Drayton McLane, Jr., president and CEO of McLane Company, Inc., the Lubbock location was chosen because it will be a central location for the territory served by this division of McLane/Foodservice. The new division which will provide service to McLane/Foodservice customers in West Texas and New Mexico will be called McLane/Foodservice Lubbock.

Architectural plans will be ready for open bid on July 18 and a contract awarded August 22. Construction is scheduled to begin August 25 with March 1, 1987 set for the opening date.

The new distribution center will be located on

Services were carried on the usual manner at New Hope Baptist Church last Sunday morning, beginning with Sunday School Supt. Swain opening the service at 9:30 a. m.

The morning worship hour began at 10:45 a. m. with devotion being led by Deacons Swain and Givens. The choirs furnished the music for the services. Mrs. L. F. Barrow was the radio broadcast announcer and the church announcements were made by Sis. Anita Henry.

Altar call prayer and the morning sermon were brought by Pastor Nash. His scripture was St. Mark 11:12-14. His message was entitled, "An Expectation of Fruitfulness." His message was directed toward the graduates of New Hope.

A token was presented to all of the graduates in the morning service by Bro. John Evans, who is president of Christian Board of Education.

Two united with the church Sunday morning.

It was good to see Sis. Lena Sheffield in service, Sunday morning. She has been absent for some time due to the illness of her mother. Thank God, her mother is better and gone back home, to Abilene, Texas.

It was nice to see Ralph Alexander at service Sunday morning. He brought all of his children with him; how sweet.

Saturday, June 14th, The Brotherhood of New Hope will serve a dinner to the women. The women won on our annual day. That was cute.

Mrs. James Emma Jackson is at the bedside of one of her daughters in San Diego, California. Our prayers go out to them.

Mrs. Mary Ludd and her brother from Sacramento, California are visiting relatives here.

Rev. A. W. Wilson has been home a week now, from the hospital. He is much improved, but still needs our prayers. Pray for him and his wife, Mrs. Ora Jean Wilson, who was recently in a car accident.

Black Ministers Of East Lubbock!

By Rev. Robert D. Adams
Pastor, Unity Baptist Church

I have pastored in East Lubbock for 14 years and its sad to say when I look on our churches which are so powerless, so fruitless. Yes, so cold! I ask myself what is my responsibility? Am I just to preach on Sundays, or what can I do to bring lost sinner to God? What is my responsibility to the church and community? II Timothy 4:1-5 states: "I charge thee, therefore, before God and the Lord Jesus Christ. Who shall judge the quick and the dead at his appearing and his kingdom. Preach the word! Be instant in season and out of season; reprove, rebuke, exhort with all longsuffering and doctrine. Make full proof of thy ministry. This message is give to pastors. I Timothy 1-3. What Paul was saying is that pastors have a job to do.

It is sad to say we as Pastors are not really concerned about people. Yes, we like to have many members, but we are not really interested in winning souls for Christ. Those old preachers of yesterday were hell-fire and brimstone preachers, and they were no sissys in the pulpit. Today, we center our messages around what the people want to hear.

We as pastors do not want to come face to face with a struggling world. We are living in a struggling community, but it is not a hopeless community. It is time that black pastors in East Lubbock come together for there is power in unity. I sometimes think that many pasotrs have duelt in despair so long that we have lost all sense of dignity and worth. Pastors, we cannot live in the past for it has a way of catching up with us. Whether we like it or not, we are now faced with a number of young people who do not accept our answers, and many of them say we as pastors are answering questions that nobody is asking.

We have left our community to struggle and we sometimes as pastors impose on undue burdens upon our community. Yes, we often have said to ourselves that their problem is not mine. Have we ever stopped to ask ourselves why so many people are going to other churches. Yes, I think in some ways we have failed.

Pastors are called for leaders of wise judgement and sound integrity -- leaders not in love of money, but in love with God. Leaders not in love with publicity, but in love with humanity.

I sometimes think that pastors, at this point in time, in our frustration, much of our concentrated effort is over struggling for local power. Some of the power of the system has led some of us to believe that our success depends upon feeding upon the weaker pastor. Black leadership should not spend all their time fighting with one another. Organized religion spends far too much time, money and energy quarreling, debating, and often fighting over it.

A surge of interest in automobile seat belt use is sweeping the country as more states pass laws requiring motorists to buckle up. To help explain how these laws save lives and prevent injuries, more than 7,000 new car, truck, and tire dealers are offering a 15-minute audio-visual program entitled "Say YES To Seat Belts", to local community groups and schools on a free loan basis.

The "Say YES To Seat Belts" program comes with handout literature for the audience and explores the reasoning behind belt use laws. It offers suggestions on how to build support for such laws in states that do not have them and how to increase community support for belt use laws where they already exist.

The dealers lending the program are members of the Dealers Safety and Mobility Council, an affiliate of the Highway Users Federation which sponsors community traffic safety programs nationwide. To locate a participating local dealer, contact the Highway Users Federation, 1776 Massachusetts Ave., N.W., Washington, D.C. 20036, telephone (202) 857-1251.

Business Opportunities

Though the increase in personal computers in the workplace has brought additional computing power on an individual basis, their restricted memory and inability to share information severely limited their productivity in a work group environment.

A new system has opened the door to resource and information sharing in work groups. This work group system, called the Harris 9300, is providing increased productivity and cost saving solutions wherever IBM personal computers and mainframe terminals exist together. The new system, designed by Harris Corporation, a leading producer of advanced information processing, communication and microelectronic products, can connect to a large number of stations to form an integrated information and resource sharing environment.

A Picture is Worth a Thousand Words, Nein?

LUMA, THE FUTURE IS CALLING

On a crisp, cool, sunny California day driving a blood red Plymouth turbo charged CONQUEST up and down Highway 101 takes nerves of steel. "Silicon" Valley or Silicon Valley is loaded with yuppies recently out of graduate business schools darting between cars in some foreign made job of spinning wheels. Since the CONQUEST (all the Japanese you need to know) looks better and can outdo that of any car on the road with acceleration from 55 mph fast enough to put your front teeth in the back of your head, the kid was ready for all tacky comers. Courtesy of the road, means laying back in the middle lane and then blowing by BWZ or whatever other alphabet is marked on their cars. Considering I was in a hurry to make a telephone call, I was too kind to them. Picture me on the telephone, that's exactly what I planned to do at the Luma Telecom office in the heart of the technological threshold of America, to use a picture telephone to call New York from Chicago.

"Miami Vice" will feature the picture telephone I used to talk to a bunch of fuzzy press people in New York, not the picture mind you, the people. When I took my turn at the telephone office I "still picture" with me too close to the mini-camera to show my hair to the New York City crowd. "What nationality are you?" came shooting back over the speaker phone. German I replied. "Sprechen sie nicht deutsch?" (No speak German?) I inquired? Huh? What? Ah? After much buzzing and a second complete picture of me at a relaxed angle came the sharp answer, "Why you are just a plain Black American." Highest compliment I have ever received from a white American stranger. Tetsuo Obata, V. P. Manufacturing from Japan sent his picture and said he was Dutch. They said he was "cute" which was wise since Mr. Obata was representing Mitsubishi Electric Sales America, Inc. of which Luma Telecom is a subsidiary, thus the New Yorker's luncheon host. Here in California, we had to settle for breakfast quiche in the land of milk, honey, and exercise.

Every home is not likely to have a Luma Telecom visual telephone at the current price of $1,450.00. However, the lightweight, eight pounds baby which for now comes in pearl grey color and only sends "still pictures" back and forward every five seconds is bound to drop in price as the public begins to buy one for the distant relatives. Ready access to information, a business card can actually be sent in the usual black and white colors instantly, as can your picture for security purposes. Practical business uses for safety or personal prying of people in the family will find as yet unknown uses for Luma's freeze-frame "snapshots" while you are still talking either by hand receiver or speaker phone.

Since any American household with a regular telephone jack line can install and transmit at no additional cost, Luma is here to stay and start growing into our everyday life. Like a phone, which it is with a picture, simply pull out your old phone, plug Luma's telephone cord into the phone socket and Luma's electric cord into the wall electrical socket and you are in the 21st century of telecommunications. By the way, the first set of necessary two type "D" battery are included in the price.

A Community Development Idea: Start Your Own Bank

by James Nathan

Recently, I received a letter from a young minister in the Miami, Florida area who suggested that I write a column on how a small, Black community could help lift itself out of poverty.

Well, my first thought was automatic: Some mechanism must be devised to enable residents of a mechanism must be devised to enable residents of a small Black town or of a community within a large city to pool their resources in a manner that would benefit the individuals as well as the group.

During the period of Reaganomics, government cutbacks and less concern for the poor and working classes, group effort was about the only option left available for those wishing to improve their economic standing.

So, here goes an idea worth considering. Did you know that almost any professional, fraternal, religious or trade association can form its own bank - or more appropriately credit union. Basically speaking you can start the process as long as you have at least 300 members. In addition, a credit union can be started on a community basis if there are at least 1,000 in the community.

The third case is a situation in which at least 200 people work the same place.

Credit unions are thrift institutions that once chartered function pretty much like a bank or savings and loan institution. Members of the community, club or religious organization would deposit money into their credit union. The credit union, in turn, would be empowered to make loans, finance community or group development, etc.

Unlike banks and savings and loan institutions, however, the members of the association, religious group or club would actually own the credit union.

If you are interested in chartering a credit union for your club, church, community, etc. take the following steps:

- 1) Begin discussing the idea with at least six people who are prepared to commit themselves to working to establish the credit union.
- 2) Write the National Credit Union Administration for free information on how to establish a credit union. There are six regional administrations. If you can not find information for the office handling your area write the main office in Washington, DC. That address is National Credit Union Administration, 1776 G Street NW, Suite 700, Washington, DC 20006.

There are approximately 25,000 credit unions already operating in the United States. Most are federally chartered.

Establishing such a credit union may be just what a community or group needs in order to better pool its financial resources. My recommendation is that small business owners and religious leaders in the community or group take the lead in establishing a credit union. Small business owners bring experience and religious leaders inspire confidence and trust.

For further information on how best to organize a group or association that may be eligible to establish a credit union send for a booklet entitled Organizing A Wealth Building Club, from Potomac Associates, 1377 K Street, NW, Suite 98, Washington, DC 20005. Include $3.00 to cover handling and postage.

Shattering Welfare Stereotypes

It is time to lay to rest once and for all one of the oldest, and most destructive, myths about our welfare system: people on welfare are lazy and do not want to work.

People like Donna Haynes shatter this stereotype. At twenty-five, with an eight-year-old daughter, Haynes was receiving Aid to Families With Dependent Children when she got the chance to enroll in Miami's new employment program for welfare recipients. "I've been on welfare all my life and I'm not going to let anything stop me from working," said Haynes. After the state program helped her find volunteer work and the on-the-job training in a hospital print shop, Haynes "graduated" from the program and is now a apprentice printer.

Research shows that most able-bodied welfare parents would like to follow Haynes' example. A majority are working or would work if they had child care and a job were available.

Innovative welfare-to-work programs, like those now underway on Maine, Massachusetts, and Maryland, are offering new opportunities to many of these families. A five-year, 11-state survey by the Manpower Demonstration Research Corporation found not only a strong willingness to work among welfare recipients, but significant employment gains by those, like Haynes, who received job preparation help from state programs.

One program with a strong track record is Massachusetts' Employment and Training Choices (ET) program. Since October 1983, ET has offered those AFDC recipients who want to work a wide range of choices, including career counseling, education, and skills training, and on-the-job training through supported work or job placement. Participation is voluntary, and allowances for day care and transportation are provided.

ET's results have been promising. In just two-and-a-half years since the program began, more than 23,000 people have gotten full or part time jobs, all of which are unsubsidized and 80 percent of which are in the private sector. While not all ET "graduates" are able to earn enough to leave the welfare rolls, 86 percent of those who do leave welfare through ET are still off a year later. The feedback from the thousands of firms that have hired ET "graduates" has been overwhelmingly positive.

While the ET model may not work equally well everywhere, it does offer some useful insights to policymakers on the state and federal level, who are now looking for ways to improve our welfare system. We can start by discarding our myths about people on welfare and looking at their real abilities and needs.

All Saints University -- Will It Become A Reality?

Elder David Hall, editor of The Whole Truth, official publication of The Church of God in Christ with national headquarters in Memphis, Tennessee, recently wrote:

"A miracle is an event in the physical world that surpasses all known human or natural powers and is ascribed to the divine. Certainly, for us to build All Saints University, it will take a miracle. God has awakened this Church to the outstanding needs of our youth, and the ministry alike. Only His divine intervention has forged us into a solid mass of contributors and workers."

Editor Hall continues: "The Miracle of 86" is in part the plan of success God has given our Presiding Bishop J. O. Patterson, Sr.

...During the All Saints University conference held in Dallas, Bishop Patterson said God performs the miracle but humans provide the human element. Jesus turned water into wine but men filled the water pots...Historically, this is one of the most significant periods in the life of the Church. This generation has the task to build and my generation will have to perpetuate the coming reality," concludes Editor Hall.

There can be little doubt that the Church of God in Christ is on of, if not the fastest growing black religious denominations in the U.S. and perhaps the world today. Bellingers will recall that it was this same denomination that received several million dollars worth of downtown Memphis property as an outright gift under the energetic administration of the present presiding Bishop J. O. Patterson.

There can be little doubt that in these days of high construction costs, inflation and economic downturns in many areas of our great nation it is going to take several million dollars to construct and properly staff and endow a black-oriented university. And on May 27-June 1, the 36th Annual Women's International Convention will convene in Long Beach, California and the fearless J. O. Patterson, Sr. will be there to tell the women more about "The Miracle of 86." More later.

A Mother's Strength - A Son's Success

Congressman Charles Hayes is a battle-seasoned veteran of American labor and politics. Forced by necessity into a leadership role at an early age over 40 years ago, he has spent the better part of his life organizing trade unions to help remove life-threatening conditions for workers, and open the doors of employment to minorities. In 1983, he moved up to Congress, beating out a crowded field of 12 opponents to become the U. S. Congressional representative for the 11th District of Illinois.

As I listened to Congressman Hayes, however, it wasn't the years of political experience that struck me, nor his current role as Congressman. What impressed me more than anything else was the great love and admiration this man holds for his mother.

"The thing that stood out I guess to me most of all," he told me, "as I look back on it was the determination and perseverance of my mother, and how she handled herself down through the years."

In 1935, a young Charles Hayes was about to graduate from high school in Cairo, Illinois. At the time that was quite an accomplishment. Yet there was one problem.

"I didn't know and I guess this will follow me to my grave," he explained, "as to whether or not I would be able to participate in graduation exercises because I had nothing to wear. Didn't have a suit, you know, and shirt and tie and all this stuff to wear. We couldn't rent a robe with no money. But now my mother went around to different relatives and raised the money for me."

"She got enough money to buy me a suit, and shoes, and rented a robe and a cap and gown. I always will remember that as one of the important points in my life how she had that determination. I think she even sold one or two of those worthless life insurance policies we had."

When asked whom he trusts, he replied, "Almighty God."

These things about a man like Congressman Hayes are not surprising, but they are important to examine. There are too many psychiatrists who will tell you that behavior can be explained as chemical reactions taking place in nerve cells, and that the concept of right and wrong is obsolete. Yet the truth is, the road to individual happiness and political, social and economic freedom is anchored on a strong moral base and a belief and trust in God.

An independent newspaper serving the Lubbock, West Texas, the South Plains of Texas and Eastern New Mexico - printing the news impartially - supporting what it believes to be right without opposing what it believes to be wrong without regard to party politics. Devoted to the Industrial, Educational, Social, Political and Economical Advancement of Black People. You may be critical of some things that are written, but, at least you will have the satisfaction of knowing they are truthful and to the point.

People will react to that which is precise, and we will publish these articles as precisely and factually as is humanly possible. We will also give credit and respect to those who are doing good things for the Lubbock Area and the people. We will be critical of those who are not doing as they have said they would, and this, we think, is fair.

So, this our resolution to you: "Feel free at anytime to call this office for information concerning this newspaper or any other matter that is of concern to you."

This is not a propaganda sheet made to chastise or vilify. This is a newspaper made to educate and not to agitate.

Anti-Black-Jewish crimes N'York's High.

NEW YORK CITY: The National Institute Against Prejudice and Violence held a breakfast meeting here recently to acquaint its advisory board members and supporters with its progress and intentions in dealing with bias in the nation. The meeting was chaired by the Hon. Benjamin Ward, commissioner of police of the City of New York who is also a member of the board of N.I.A.P.V. He used common acts of assault, vandalism, and those caused by racial or religious hatred. "There is a world of difference between simple assault and one racially motivated upon a Black child who just moved into a 'White' neighborhood. Neither can you acquit the same meaning to a straight forward vandalism to that of the destruction of tombstones in a Jewish cemetery, said the commissioner. He told the wall-to-wall audience that "These are the types of crimes which spark violence, breed bitterness between cultures, religions, races and corrode communities. "It is the responsibility of the Police Department to defuse this sort of situation and educate its citizenry." Commissioner Ward's sought solution to this is his department's Bias Incident Investigation Unit (BIU). The only one of its kind in N.Y. State, or the United States, it was created especially to enhance the response, recording, analysis, investigation and follow-up of bias incidents involving crimes motivated by prejudice based on race, religion or sexual orientation of the victim. In 1985 this unit uncovered 286 bias inspired crimes. 50% were anti-semitic; 27% were anti-Black and the remaining 23% combined were anti-Hispanic, White, Asian/Pacific Islanders, Gay/Lesbian, Church, Cemetery and other. The unit made 113 arrests in these cases. It has successfully worked with hate fighting organizations like the NAACP, the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith and others. In the words of the commissioner, "After 5 p.m. the police dept. is city government for most people. Police officers can help a community recognize that hate crimes are more than isolated acts. They can be catalysts to activate and educate the community and transform the negative and potentially divisive affect of these crimes into an experience that unites a community against prejudice," he concluded.

The National Institute Against Prejudice and Violence was established in 1984 by the State of Maryland to seek a cure for the national illness of violence and intimidation against people because of their race, religion or ethnic background. It has four major areas of concentration: Clearinghouse, collect, analyze and disseminate data on hate incidents and information about programs of prevention and response. Research-study causes, perpetrators, victims, and communities to gain insight into the problem to enable agencies to establish effective programs of prevention and response. Response: provide technical assistance to communities which are targets: Program and Policy: Educate citizens, provide a forum for information exchange among experts, conduct training, analyze and draft model legislation...The Institute's directors and advisory board members read like a who's who from the human and civil rights ranks. Senator Birch E. Bayh chairs the board of directors and it includes former U. S. Attorney Gen. Benjamin R. Civiletti, Juanita Jackson Mitchell and Minoru Yasui. Included on the advisory board are actor Ed. Asner, L. A. Mayor Tom Bradley, former Mass. Senator Edward Brooks, Miami's former Mayor Maurice Ferre, NAACP's Benjamin Hooks, Gov. Harry Hughes, Maryland, John Jacobs, pres. Nat'l Urban League, LeXaun Khoa, Rabbi Benjamin Kreitman, Eleanor Holmes Norton, R. Peter Straus, Percy Sutton and this scribe among others.

Greeting the Morning

Morning is a time of fresh breezes, a day's new possibilities, smiles as bright as a sunrise. In the kitchen, where everyone's day begins, a good cook can capture that feeling. It's luxurious to dawdle over a delightful endless brunch, but a snack on the run that is prepared with special care can say "good morning" in the same way.

This week begins a 4-week series in great breakfast and brunch ideas. You'll discover new ways with old favorites and surprises that may become new favorites. Try just one recipe or a whole menu; the idea is to start every morning on the top. Until then, good cooking.

SPANISH SCRAMBLED EGGS

- Vegetable cooking spray
- 1/4 cup chopped green pepper
- 1/4 cup finely chopped green onions along with tops
- 6 eggs
- 1/4 cup skim milk
- 1/8 teaspoon pepper
- 1/4 cup Tostitos® brand Picante Sauce
- 1/4 cup (1-ounce) extra sharp cheddar cheese, grated

Coat skillet with cooking spray; place over medium-low heat until hot. Add green pepper and onions; cook until vegetables are tender, stirring occasionally. Drain and set aside. Combine eggs, milk, pepper, and Picante sauce; beat well, and pour into skillet. Cook over low heat, stirring gently to allow uncooked portions to flow underneath, cook until eggs are set but still moist. Stir in vegetables and cook until thoroughly heated. Sprinkle with cheese. Makes 6 servings.

CHILLED FRUIT MEDLEY

- 1 small banana, peeled and sliced
- 1 medium apple, unpeeled and sliced
- 1/4 cup unsweetened orange juice
- 6 fresh strawberries, quartered
- 2 medium oranges, peeled
- seeded and sectioned
- 1 grapefruit, peeled, seeded and sectioned

Combine first 3 ingredients in a medium bowl; toss gently. Add strawberries, oranges, and grapefruit; cover and chill. To serve, arrange fruit on individual plates. Makes 6 servings.

WHOLE WHEAT BISCUITS

- 1 1/2 cups all-purpose flour
- 1/4 cup whole wheat flour
- 1 tablespoon sugar
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- 1 teaspoon baking soda
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 3 tablespoons margarine, softened
- 1 package dry yeast
- 3/4 cup warm water (105° to 115°)
- 1/2 cup buttermilk
- Vegetable cooking spray

Combine first 6 ingredients in a medium bowl; cut in margarine using a pastry blender until mixture resembles coarse meal. Dissolve yeast in warm water. Combine yeast mixture and buttermilk; add to flour mixture, stirring overnight. Turn dough out onto a lightly floured surface and knead 1 minute. Roll dough to 1/2-inch thickness; cut with a 2-inch biscuit cutter. Place biscuits on a baking sheet coated with cooking spray. Bake at 425° for 12 minutes or until golden. Makes 1 1/2 dozen

NOTE: Biscuit dough may be stored in refrigerator for 3 to 4 days.

TAXPAYER SAVINGS — Texas Land Commissioner Garry Mauro talks with Lone Star Gas Company officials Bill Smith (left) and Steve Fasley about an agreement announced this week between the state and Lone Star Gas that will save Texas taxpayers more than $25 million while at the same time adding more than $29 million to the state Permanent School Fund. Through an innovative "in-kind" gas program initiated by Mauro that allows the state to be paid in gas, rather than cash, for natural gas taken from state-owned lands, the state will now be able to provide cheaper natural gas to ten state colleges and institutions across the state.

Following God's Word

There is a story told of an executive who moved from his luxurious office and high-rise apartment in the city to the farm. This city executive wanted to be a farmer. When he decided to plant his first crop, he turned to his neighbors for advice. Each of his neighbors explained to him their procedure for cultivating the land and methods of planting so that they could gain the maximum yield from the land.

Confused, the executive hired a professor to test his soil and recommend planting procedures. This resulted in a healthy, productive crop that was envied by all of his neighbors.

In every field of labor, there are those who claim to be experts. These persons will go to great length to support their conclusions. This is true, even in the spiritual area. There are those who have their homemade guidelines of what is "right and wrong" and others who follow God's Word.

During the time of Jeremiah, the false prophets of Samaria had misled the Israelites. These Jews had become corrupt because their teachers did not see God's guidance. If the teachers had followed the commandments of God, they would have been determined to lead the people away from evil. Instead, they were promoting wickedness and this would lead to a time that they would regret their foolish actions.

Christians can protect the world from evil if they seek the guidance of God and follow his Word. No other authority can save man from the chains of evil.

We Thank God For Jesus

"Lord, It's Harvest Time, & Blind Leading The Blind"

Isaiah 58:1 -- Lord said, cry aloud, spare not, lift up thy voice like a trumpet, and shew my people (Christians) their transgression (sins).

Matthew 24:4-5 -- Jesus said, take heed that no man deceive you. For many shall come in my name, saying, I'm the Christ; and shall deceive many.

Lord, we can tell by your words, we're living in the last days, and if judgement begins in the Church, will the un-godly be saved?

Luke 10:2 -- Jesus said, the harvest truly is great, but the labourers are few: Pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest that he would send forth labourers into his harvest.

John 10:16; 12:32 -- Jesus said, other sheep I have which are not of this fold: them also I must bring, and they shall hear my voice; and there shall be one fold, and one shepherd. And if I be lifted up from the earth, will draw all men unto me.

Lord, it harvest time, and blind leading the blind. The harvest is white and ready, they're wasting time.

Lord, they've got their bakery in Church, making cakes and pies. Some even have greasy kitchens, where fish is fried.

Luke 16:13 -- Jesus said, no servant can serve two master: for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to the one, and dispise the other. Ye cannot serve God and mammon (money).

Lord, the leaders let the devil take prayer out of school. Now the land is wild with heathens. "Who's the Fool?"

Romans 1:21-22 -- Because that when they knew God, the glorified Him not as God. Neither were thankful; but became vain in their imaginations, and their foolish heart was darkened. Professing themselves to be wise, the became fools.

Lord, they've kicked prayer out, losing their hope. Now the lockers of the kid's are loaded with dope.

Psalm 2:1-2 -- Why do the heathen rage, and the people imagine a vain (foolish) things? The kings of the earth set themselves, and the rulers take counsel together, against the Lord.

Lord, there's so much sex and violence on T. V. for children. We ask where did the heathen come from?  In this land!

Luke 6:43-44 -- Jesus said, for a good tree bringeth not forth corrupt fruit; neither do a corrupt tree bring forth good fruit. For every tree is known by his own fruit, for of thorns men do not gather figs, nor of a bramble bush gather they grapes.

Matthew 15:13-14 -- Jesus said, every plant which my heavenly Father hath not planted, shall be rooted up. Leave them alone! They be blind leaders of the blind, and if the blind lead the blind, both shall fall into the ditch. "Children are dying; mothers are crying.

Revelation 2:29 -- Jesus said, he that hath an ear, let him hear what the spirit saith unto the Churches. AAAMANNN
God is not through with us yet. Let's pray for one another, always.

The Outreach Prayer Breakfast

The Outreach Prayer Breakfast met on Saturday morning in the home of Brother and Sister Johnson. What a morning in this spirit-filled home.

The opening devotion scripture was 92 Psalms read by Sis. Ruby Henderson. President Juanita Sowell presided over the meeting.

The morning scripture lesson was brought by Bro. Billy "B. J." Morrison III from Micah 6, Isaiah 61, Ezekiel 3:18, Matthew 23 and Amos 5:20.

Ezekiel 3:18--When I say unto the wicked, thou shalt surely die; and thou givest him not warning, nor speakest to warn the wicked from his wicked way, to save his life; the same wicked man, shall die in his iniquity; but his blood will

I require at thine hand.

This speaker surely does love the Lord. He certainly proved this on Saturday morning. Come and get the full message. The righteous is on the march.

The thought for today is on prayer, and that prayer will be for the total school system all over this world that come September, the school system will never be the same again. This prayer will continue through the summer months until the teachers and students arrive in September. New creatures. Think about it.

Breakfast was served hot and tasty. Come on and eat with us. We care, spiritually and physically about you.

who is in Twin Cedars Nursing Home; Sis. Lizzie Milo, Sis. Sirloma Steel, Brothers Harry Trueblood and Nathaniel Wilson in Golden Plains Care Center. There are others whom we are not aware of, but let us pray for all, that they may have speedy recoveries. Please pray ye one for another always. "Get Your Fix In Eighty-six". Keep smiling!

Pleasant Home Baptist Church

East 14th & Avenue
Post, Texas

Pleasant Home Church is once again happy to greet you in the name of our Lord, who makes every day and keeps us. Our church motto, "The Church Where Everybody is Somebody," expresses our feelings.

This past Sunday's lesson was, "God Calls Jeremiah To Prophecy," based on the scripture Jeremiah 1:4-10; 13-14; 17-19; they were the focal point of the lesson. The key verse scripture was Jeremiah 1:7-8. The lesson was very inspiring and very beautiful. Attendance was good and everyone was at their place of duty.

The worship devotion was led by Deacon and Sister Burleson, along with Bro. Larry Johnson, who read the entire number one Psalms. During the regular morning services, altar prayer gave us new life as Pastor Kelly prayer for all of us. The senior choir sang songs of praise to our Father who is still in hi Holy Temple, here at Pleasant Home.

The morning message was delivered by Pastor Kelly from the Book of Acts 4:31. His subject was: "Prayer Changes Things and People." His sermon as electrifying as he preached God's word.

This week's shut-ins include those in our community whom we shall not forget. They are: Sister Ida M. Brown in her home; Brother Ora D. McDaniel in his home; Sis. Lela M. Patterson

Runner-ups were Angela Young, daughter of Ms. Wanda Young; and Zairreus Patterson, son of Ms. Shelia Patterson.

This annual event was sponsored by the Mary & Mac PTA. Mrs. Gladys Williams is president. Dr. L. S. Graves is founder and principal of this thirty year old institution.

"We are so proud of what these young people have done. We appreciate the cooperation of the parents and community," says Mrs. Williams.

Guest List: We had many guest on Saturday. We are unable to name them for fear that we miss some. But, each of YOU made the morning complete. We love you. Come again!

Thanks to all for your prayers, donations and pledges that the Prayer Tower will be a reality, real soon.

Call or write Outreach Prayer Breakfast and Project Blessing, P. O. Box 1223, Lubbock, Tx. 79408; or telephone 762-3347 or 747-7326.

For we walk by faith and not by sight. If you are in a situation and cannot find a way out, we can pray with you. Jesus can work it out!

All sick and hurting sisters and brothers, "You can make it, you really can." Repeat these words, out loud.

Christ has redeemed me from the curse of the law. Christ has redeemed me from poverty, sickness, spiritual death." Gal. 3:13 and Deut. 28, prayer scripture 11 Chr. 7:14.

See you Saturday. Can any good come out of Nazareth? Come and see. We will meet in the home of Sis. Annie M. Johnson at 1709 East 25th Street, June 7, 1986. President-Juanita Sowell Vice-Pres.-C. Burleson Act. Sect.-A. Johnson Reporter-Dorothy Hood

THE CHURCH

We believe that a church of Christ is a congregation of baptized believers (a) associated by a covenant of faith and fellowship of the gospel; (b) observing the ordinances of Christ; (c) governed by His laws; and (d) exercising the gifts, rights and privileges invested in them by His word; (e) that its officers of ordination are pastors or elders, whose qualifications, claims and duties are clearly defined in the Scriptures; (f) we believe the true mission of the church is found in the Great Commission: First, to make individual disciples; Second, to build up the church; Third, to teach and instruct, as He has commanded. We do not believe in the reversal of this order; (g) we hold that the local church has the absolute right of self government, free from the interference of any hierarchy of individuals or organizations; and that the one and only superintendent is Christ, through the Holy Spirit; (h) that it is scriptural for true churches to cooperate with each other in contending for the faith and for the furtherance of the gospel; that every church is the sole and only judge of the measure and method of its cooperation; (i) on all matters of membership, of polity, of government, of discipline, of benevolence, the will of the local church is final.

I. THE CHURCH ESTABLISHED BY CHRIST.

A. The Nature Of The Church.

- The word church, "ecclesia" is found 115 times in the N.T. It means "assembly". It could never refer to something that was universal, invisible and scattered over the world.
- A church is referred to as a body, building, etc., which fits the idea of a local visible assembly.
- The N.T. names of churches enforce the idea of a local visible church. (Church at Jerusalem, Church at Antioch, etc.).
- While we speak of the church, the home, etc., we do not mean a universal church or universal home.

B. It Was Founded Before Pentecost.

- The first members were those who had been baptized by John the Baptist. Acts 1:21, 22; 1 Cor. 12:28
- The 12 apostles chosen and placed in the Church. Mark 3:13-21
- Discipline of the Church given before Pentecost. Matt. 18:15-17
- Its ordinances instituted before Pentecost. Matt. 26:26-29
- Its commission given before Pentecost. Matt. 28:18-20
- A business meeting held before Pentecost. Acts 1:15-25
- Those saved and baptized on the day of Pentecost added to it. Acts 2:41

II. THE GOVERNMENT OF THE CHURCH.

A. Christ Is The Head Of The Church.

(c)-1 Eph. 1:22-23

- His Word, the Bible, is our rule and guide book.
- The Holy Spirit is the Administrator. Acts 13:2; 20:28

B. It's Officers Of Ordination.

- Bishops, Elders and Pastor are all the same office. (e)-1 Acts 14:23
 - As pastor he is shepherd of the flock to feed and tend them.
 - As elder he is in a place of respect and authority.
 - As bishop he is the overseer.
- Qualifications for pastors. 1 Tim. 3:1-7; Titus 1:5-9
- Qualifications for deacons. 1 Tim. 3:8-13
 - Deacon means "servant".
 - Deacons have no authority over the church or pastor, but are servants to the church. If they were ordained, there is perhaps one example of it in the N.T. and that is in Acts 6:6. These 7 men are not called deacons, nor is it said that they were ordained, yet any church would be blessed to have deacons with their qualifications.

C. The Church Is Independent And Self Governing.

- Nothing is to be done that is contrary to God's Word.
- No organization has any authority over a church of the Lord. This makes it impossible for a Convention, Association or Fellowship to dictate or exercise authority over a church.
- No Scripture indicates that a church can join anything.

III. THE TRUE MISSION OF THE CHURCH.

A. The Great Commission It's Only Mission.

- Matt. 28:16-20
- This includes preaching and teaching the gospel to all.
 - Baptize and add to the church all who are saved.
 - Teach them the "all things" of God. (The church is not a political or social organization, and has no authority to enter this kind of work).

B. Churches May Cooperate With One Another In Contending For The Faith & Carrying Out The Great Commission.

- Churches may consult one with another. Acts 15:2-4, 22-27
- Churches may give toward a common cause, as in missions. 1 Cor. 16:1; II Cor. 8:23-24
- Each church is the sole and only judge of the means, method and extent of cooperation.

C. The Will Of The Church Is Final.

- This is in regard to discipline, membership and polity.
- Of course no church has the right to disobey the Scriptures, but if they do, there is no organization on earth to correct them.

The phrase "minutes of a meeting" does not refer to the time. It stems from the Latin "minutus" meaning "small", since records of proceedings were generally taken down in miniature, to be transcribed later.
