The Store That Quality Built

RESULT HAS BEEN AMAZING, SAYS LUBBOCK FARMER

"For several years I have had an awful lot of trouble with my stomach and everything I ate disagreed with me and after meals I would have that puffed up bloated feeling," said Mr. W. W. Murrell of 1614 Ninth Street, Lubbock, Texas.

"I would belch my food up and I got to the point where I was afraid to eat anything because of the suffering I knew it would cause me. I was constipated and had terrible headaches and my sleep was very poor and my system seemed to be all run down. I was losing weight and felt tired and worn out all the time. My condition grew gradually worse all the time and I felt that unless I could get the right medicine my troubles would soon become critical. A friend recommended Argotane to me and it has not only relieved me of my troubles but it has built me up amazingly. I have taken one bottle and my stomach is in good shape. My appetite is fine and I eat what I want without feeling a sign of indigestion and the gas does not form on my stomach any more. My heart seems to be back to normal and my constipation is gone. Argotane has been a great thing for me and I don't think anybody can make a mistake by giving it a fair trial. It has started me on the road to health and I think it is the best medicine in the world. Genuine Argotane may be bought in Big Spring at the Cunningham & Phillips Drug Store.—Adv.

Best Citizens In Grammar School Are Determined

Paul Ruffner, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Ruffner, and Dorothy Dublin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dublin, were announced Friday as the two senior students of the grammar school who will, on May 22 at grammar school graduation exercises, be awarded Good Citizenship medals, through generosity of W. F. Cushing, local rancher and a member of the Sons of the American Revolution. Kodaks Distributed To 96 Kids Thursday

There are at least 96 Big Spring children who have had or will have their twelfth birthday in 1930.

Between the hours of six and seven a. m. Thursday, Cunningham & Phillips, dealers for Eastman Kodaks, distributed 96 Kodaks to children whose birthdays are in 1930. Birthday gifts were made possible by the Eastman Kodak Company which is entering its twelfth year of business. Parents accompanied all children in quest of a picture making machine. C. W. Cunningham and Shine Phillips declare they received nearly as much pleasure out of distributing the Kodaks as the children expressed in receiving them.

Happy Woman Tells How She Lost 19 Pounds of Fat In 27 Days

During October a woman in Montana wrote—"My first bottle of Kruschen Salts lasted almost 4 weeks and during that time I lost 19 pounds of fat—Kruschen is all you claim for it—I feel better than I have for years."

Here's the recipe that banishes fat and brings into blossom all the natural attractiveness that every woman possesses.

Every morning take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water before breakfast.

Be sure and do this every morning for "the little daily dose that takes off the fat"—Don't miss a morning. The Kruschen habit means that every particle of poisonous waste matter and harmful acids and gases are expelled from the system. At the same time the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels are toned up and the pure, fresh blood containing Nature's six life-giving salts are carried to every organ, and this is followed by "that Kruschen feeling" of energetic health and activity that is reflected in bright eyes, clear skin, cheerful vivacity and charming figure. If you want to lose fat with speed get an 8c bottle of Kruschen Salts from Collins Bros. Drugs or any live druggist anywhere in America with the distinct understanding that you must be satisfied with results or money back.—adv.

Goldstein Home Damaged By Fire

The home of Phil Goldstein, Big Spring jeweler, located at 1401 Bunnels street suffered estimated fire loss of $200 to $400 early Thursday morning from fire that originated from defective electrical wiring, according to Fire Chief Harry Lees. Wires connected to a wall plug became shorted and burned back under the floor. Two errors in reporting residence number caused the fire department considerable confusion in locating the building.

Man Charged Of Assisting In Jail Break

After obtaining what they term "convincing evidence," members of the sheriff's department late Wednesday filed charges against Lloyd Day of aiding men alleged to have committed felonies in escaping from jail. His bond was set in the sum of $1,000.

In the complaint it is alleged Day smuggled 24 saw blades into the Howard county jail and that saw blades were distributed among prisoners who used them in sawing their way out of the Howard county jail early Monday morning, April 14. Ten men were liberated in the jail break, but eight have been recaptured or have voluntarily returned.

HOW'S your HEALTH

GROWING OLD: "Grow old along with me. The best is yet to be. The last of life for which the first was made."

So sang Browning in "Rabbi Ben Ezra." But there are some to whom growing old does not signify that "the best is yet to be," particularly those elderly persons who grow increasingly deaf.

Ohio And Texas.

IN THE OHIO state penitentiary at Columbus were housed 4,306 convicts. In a fire Monday night 318 of them died, while 150 more went to the hospital with severe injuries.

Of special interest is the report that the penitentiary contained 2,500 men above its normal capacity. Like Texas and some other states, Ohio had been stacking 'em in like sardines. It had placed about two and one-fourth convicts in quarters intended for only one.

We wonder if the Ohioans have to struggle along with that sort of penitentiary because its legislature doesn't believe in cooperating with the governor. Are the Ohioans as careless in choosing their representatives as Texas are? Is it as hard to make Ohio representatives get down to business and forget politics as it is in Texas?

Hollywood Sights

BY ROBBIN COONS HOLLYWOOD—A chorus girl, Eleanor Hunt, wins the feminine lead in "Whoopee" over Hollywood's best available talent.

And the movie world, which might be a bit envious, rejoices just the same because Hollywood, like the rest of the world, is fond of the Cinderella legend.

And the legend proves true often after fortune has sent the movie actress forward on the road to recognition.

Joyce Compton is one case in point. An extra girl, Joyce a year ago had worked up to small parts and bits. She was blond, thin, rather anemic. She had big blue eyes, lots of ambition, and was worn to the well-known frazzle.

Tired out, she had thought of giving up the movies and trying art as a career. She had come back, convinced in her heart that the smock and brush were not for her.

When she played the part of the mean little tattler in Clara Bow's first talkie, "The Wild Party," she was this same little blond, thin person.

In the next Bow picture she was still the same. Then she took a small role in "Salute," and after that came a change.

She was her own fairy godmother, who made her blond hair shine forth one day a vivid red, contrasting strikingly with her blue eyes. She began, slowly, to put on weight. She was signed on contract.

The change became more pronounced. One day several months later, the Bow studio called her again for a part, remembering the Joyce of "The Wild Party." This Joyce did not get the part—they wanted a thin, hateful, unlovely girl.

GROWTH Joyce now has gone a step further. She had been playing "kid sister" roles, girlish things. The other day she emerged from the studio wardrobe a new and dazzling personality, grown-up, chic, a leading lady—and dangerous!

Another little Cinderella, Maureen O'Sullivan, also has stepped forth from her plain shell.

CUERO—Tomato packing sheds to be opened early in May at Cuero Compress of Farrier, Morris & Schmidt.

humb, so don't fuss. Is there a man here who can carry this girl out to my car? No, of course there isn't. Send somebody out for my son. He is waiting in the car." Fetched by a flurried assistant, Teddy found his mother kneeling on the salon carpet, bending over a beautifully dressed girl whose face he could not see.

"What's the disturbance, mater?" he asked. "Teddy, this girl came over ill while she was showing a frock for me. I think she is very ill indeed, and I am going to take her home, and keep her with us for a few days if she will stay."

"Good ege," said Teddy, not vastly surprised. "Will you carry her out for me, Teddy?" "Sure, I'll carry her," said Teddy. He went down on his knees, bent over Jacqueline, lifted her and looked into her still white face.

And for a moment his heart stood still; and then his heart throbbed like a motor. "Jacqueline, my dear," he said under his breath. "Thank God I have found you."

Then he stood upright, holding Jacqueline in his arms as if she were a child. "Through the long saloon, under the curious and excited eyes of the girls, he walked slowly and carefully, carrying her and looking down into her pale still face. Lady Montrose followed behind.

And there was not a girl who saw it all who would not have fainted very cheerfully, if she could have been carried like that in the arms of the glorious Teddy.

Teddy stepped carefully into the closed car, still holding his light burden in his arms. He sat down, nursing her like a baby. Not for the world would he have released her then. (Copyright 1930 Richard Starr)

Texas Historical Society Convenes

AUSTIN, May 1. (AP)—The annual meeting of the Texas State Historical Society entered its final day yesterday with an exhibit of Texas, a 5,000 page volume of Texas historical manuscripts, and addresses by Texas historians as the principal feature.

That cannibalism was practiced by the Indian tribes that roamed Texas prior to the advent of the white man was the revelation made to the convention yesterday by Prof. J. E. Pearce of Austin, who has spent the past 15 years studying the Kitehen Middens of the inhabitants of central and southwest Texas.

The volume of historical documents was gathered by Dr. Albert Dient of Temple, president of the society, and includes letters written by the most famous persons in Texas history. It also contains rare blocks and autographs of great interest.

OPINIONS OF OTHERS Warfare On Unemployment.

PHILADELPHIA Bulletin: PRELIMINARY report of the committee appointed by Governor Roosevelt of New York to consider a continuous program for the prevention of unemployment is to the effect that more than 200 large corporations in this country have worked out plans for stabilization, and suggests that their experience and views will be the basis for final recommendations after intelligent study.

Industry, then, is alive to the facts confronting it, which may be briefly summarized as follows: Unemployment is not an occasional problem calling for emergency treatment alone; it must be recognized as a social disease constantly with us, which heretofore has received exceptional attention only when exceptionally virulent.

This disease is not necessarily incurable; it may even be stamped out. And the devising of measures to stamp it out, or at least to prevent it from becoming periodically epidemic, is necessary to the continued success of our system of mass production, because mass production hinges on mass consumption, and unemployment disables the consumer.

These truths are axiomatic. That they have been absorbed by so many great corporations which have planned measures to eradicate or minimize unemployment is an encouraging prelude to efforts to cope with the great problem on a larger and wider scale. The

Two Men Burn Alive In Oil

CHICAGO, May 1. (AP)—Two men were burned alive in oil today in an explosion at the refinery of the Dabros Products Corporation. Four others escaped unhurt, dragging with them a fifth, so severely burned he was not expected to live.

One of the 500-gallon stills was believed to have become overheated while oil was being poured into it, causing the explosion, which sent a column of oil through the metal roof and one side of the plant.

The Agony Of Essay Writing

Life seems to be so full of cares and unpleasant tasks that take the joy out of living! Now, just what could be more unpleasant than the task of writing an essay, especially when there is some other entertainment that you would enjoy far more? For instance, right now there is a lovely radio program on the air tonight. How much nicer it would be to go in the parlor and listen instead of pondering over this "delectable" essay!

The first question to decide is what I should choose for a subject. There are always numerous suggested subjects in the texts, but frequently not one appeals to me, and in this instance I must exercise my originality. There is very little originality expressed in this world today because it is so much easier to borrow your neighbor's thoughts and ideas. The greater percentage of the people have become living parasites, and consequently real thinkers are not to be found.

After I have chosen a subject which I think will be a suitable one, the second task, and that which is the most difficult is next in succession. This difficult task, of which I speak is that of outlining the essay. According to the rule in the book, I remember that the introductory sentence should be the index to the entire paragraph. I write a second and third and maybe more. When I have completed to my dismay, I cannot detect the minor thoughts from the major ones. I meet with more discouragements in writing the paragraphs than the Germans did ten days before the Armistice.

H.I.K.E. Club Takes Outing

Saturday morning the members of the H.I.K.E. club went on a hike to the south mountain. All but four members met at the high school at 7:30, and rode as far as they could. After a hard struggle they finally reached the top of the mountain but by then the Edwards whipping cream and three eggs had been broken. The industrious ones, Pauline Morrison, Kitty Wingo, Jennie Dorn Rogers and Gene Dubberly gathered enough wood to build a fire and cook bacon, eggs and creamless coffee.

The girls then decided to practice signalling, one group started to Hughs Lake and another stayed on the mountain but when Polly Webb saw a snake there was such a great state of excitement the distressed ones forgot to send out an S.O.S. The club returned to town about two o'clock blistered and weary.

Young Pitches Laundry To Victory Over Cosden

BARBERS TO PLAY SHOPS TODAY AT 6

City League Hurlers Feature Of First Round Battles

Another pitchers battle was dished up for city league baseball fans Wednesday evening when Young, Laundry pitcher, bested Adams, Cosden hurler, the clothes washers winning in seven innings, 3 to 2.

After scoring in the first inning on a walk, a single and two sacrifice hits, Laundrymen were held powerless until their half of the fifth inning. Cosden scored both its tallies in the third inning on one error, two singles and a sacrifice hit.

The game rocked along to the last half of the fifth stanza without further scoring, but there the Laundrymen pushed across another counter after Blevins had whang-

INTERESTING GAME

Whether Barbers are really a hard hitting aggregation, or whether their punch will be useless against a southpaw will be proven this afternoon when Will Wood, T&P left hander, faces the hair trimmers.

The Barbers banged Adams, Cosden hurler, all over the lot last Sunday in the city league's opener, but with seven left handed hitters in the lineup, some Tans doubt Barbers will do the same damage to a wrong forker.

ed out his second hit of the game, advanced to third on Wallace's pop to second and came home on Bass' sacrifice. The tie was broken and Laundrymen scored the winning run in the last part of the sixth when Brown was safe at first on a fielder's choice, stole second and counted on Kendrick's single.

After Cosden had touched Young for one blow in the second and two in the third frame, the elongated pitcher held the enemy in the palm of his hand. Adams fared nearly as well allowing only six bingles, but Laundrymen did their hitting with men on bases which counts more than with three empty stations.

Excepting the season's opening game between Barbers and Cosden, city league play to date has been hogged by hurlers. Dickinson and Will Wood staged a thrilling hurlers battle Tuesday and then Young and Adams followed with another superb exhibition. If this type of baseball continues, it will not be long until stands are packed to capacity each evening during the week.

FENCE REPAIRED

Through assistance of J. E. Kuykendall, manager of J. M. Radford Grocery Company, who furnished the lumber and Mr. Harwood, who has a son playing on the Cosden Oilers' baseball club, the fence at the East Third street ball park has been repaired and placed in first class condition. No longer is the double gate on the north wall standing wide open as a standing invitation to non-paying customers. Unless the boys are content to hang their chins on the fence tops, or risk tearing a pair of trousers in peeling the barrier, it will cost 25 cents per man to watch future ball games played between teams of the city league. All women are invited to attend city league games as guests of the association with the exception of Sunday bouts when those other than players' wives will be charged the regular price of admission.

Tuffy Griffiths Wins From Gagnon

CHICAGO, May 1. (AP)—Tuffy Griffiths of Sioux City, Ia., today was back on the list of contenders for the world heavyweight boxing championship, the stain of a technical knockout defeat by Jack Gagnon removed from his record by a 10-round decision victory over the Boston Sailor last night. Before 20,550 spectators, most of whom went to the Chicago stadium hoping to learn that Gagnon's stunning victory over Griffiths at Philadelphia last Monday was a mistake, the tough one-out-boxed Gagnon most of the way.

COUNTRY CLUB DIRECTORS NAME GROUP TO CONSIDER CLUB HOUSE CONSTRUCTION

Additional Nine Holes South Of Present Course Included In Expansion Plans Adopted By Board Of Directors

Committees were appointed Wednesday night at a country club directors' meeting to obtain estimates on cost of constructing a club house and an installation of nine additional holes.

With appointment of committees, country club directors definitely indicated their intention of improving, enlarging and equipping the property south of Big Spring. The decision was reached after gaining assurance from Texas & Pacific railroad officials that there is no immediate danger of cancelling the club's lease on the tract of land.

On the club house building committee, Fred Stephens, who occupied the chair in absence of Sam Weaver, president, appointed R. T. Piner, W. B. Currie, C. W. Cunningham, Dr. E. O. Ellington, W. T. Strang, Jr., and F. F. Gary.

The committee named to supervise construction of nine additional holes south of the nine now in use is composed of John Northington, Harry Lees, Russell (Buck) Richardson, L. W. Croft and Bob Currie.

Mr. Stephens and others of the country club said action taken Wednesday night is the first preliminary step, but that since it has been definitely decided to do this work, details will be rushed as rapidly as possible.

After investigating and obtaining cost estimates on both projects, committees will report back to the board of directors and then definite action will be taken. Until preliminaries are disposed, it will be impossible to issue a definite statement on location of the club house, and on addition of fairways and holes, it was stated.

R. L. Price, R. T. Piner and Fred Stephens will draft a permanent set of by-laws to govern activities of the country club, it was decided at the meeting Wednesday evening.

Lamesa Works Hard To Have Course Ready

LAMESA, May 1.—Workmen have been busy all during this week getting Lamesa's nine-hole golf course in shape for spring play. The fairways have been mowed and work on the greens is expected to begin sometime this week. The course will probably be ready within two weeks, according to A. G. Barnard, president of the Lamesa Golf club. A small banquet is being planned for the opening day, Barnard states. Invitations to golfers in other lower south plains cities will be mailed soon for the opening celebration.

Tentative plans are for an inter-city golf tournament here during fall. Players from Snyder, Big Spring, Midland, Lubbock, Tahoka and O'Donnell will be invited.

KNOTT, May 1.—The Howard County Singing convention, which met Sunday with the Knott singing class, was a distinct success.
Practically all classes in the county were represented as were classes in Martin, Midland, Dawson and Mitchell counties.

Lunch was spread picnic style on a long table erected for the purpose. When the meal was almost ready to be served a strong wind, blowing from the south, made things somewhat disagreeable, but the loads of food disappeared readily.

Lomax will be the next host to the county convention.

The farmers of this community have been very busy since the rains, preparing to plant. The moisture is just sufficient to plant on. Rains were comparatively light and the soil was very dry.

W. M. Peterson has sold nearly two carloads of plow tools since the rains of the early part of the week.

W. E. Turner's family of Westbrook spent the week-end with him here. The school will end in Westbrook in three weeks and they will move here permanently.

Mrs. R. W. White's sister of Colorado was a Sunday guest in the White home.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Page of Carlsbad, New Mexico, came here to visit Mrs. Page's mother, Mrs.
J. J. McCraeger, Friday, returning Monday.

Having been voted the hearty support of the district school board, Prof. Whittington opened a subscription school Monday with 15 pupil-enrolled. More are expected

Rehabilitation Supervisor Here To Inspect Cases; Explains Work

J. J. Brown, supervisor of vocational rehabilitation, a branch of the state department of education, was in Big Spring Thursday investigating a case submitted to the department and expected to investigate another case at Ackerly.

It is the purpose of vocational rehabilitation to render physically handicapped persons fit to engage in occupations which will make them self-supporting, thereby creating happiness and contentment among those individuals and families affected, reducing the number of those seeking charity, lowering county and state expenses for public charges, and checking social agitation and distress through proper social and economic methods.

Methods of Work Vocation rehabilitation consists of three phases—advisement, training and placement. The disabled person is counseled in the selection of a desirable vocation; then given training for the occupation selected and agreed upon in such a manner that the trainee may later use the information gained to follow his chosen vocation; and upon the completion of his training every effort is made to place the rehabilitant in satisfactory employment. The placement is followed up with careful systematic regard for the ultimate success of the rehabilitation program, said Mr. Brown.

Who Are Eligible
Those eligible for rehabilitation work must have a physical defect or infirmity, whether constitutional or acquired by accident, injury or disease. It is also necessary that the supervisor be reasonably sure the rehabilitant will be fit to engage in a remunerative occupation after completing the course. Aged or helpless persons requiring permanent custodial care, epileptic or feeble-minded persons, are not eligible.

Training Expense
Joint federal and state funds are available for defraying instructional expenses which include tuition, books, laboratory fees and any necessary individual equipment not furnished by the institution or shop giving training.

In no sense of the word, said Mr.
Brown, is vocational rehabilitation a charity. It is as definite a part of the plan of public education as our grammar schools, high schools, colleges and universities. For the highest development, state and nation have recognized necessity of offering special training to incapacitated workers in order that they may fulfill their duties of citizenship, just as they have observed the need of educating every child so that he may fulfill his obligation as a citizen.

lowed by one event of 50 singles and one event of 25 pairs of doubles during the afternoon. Ten prizes in each of the singles events and five prizes in the one doubles event have been arranged by the gun club through cooperation from local merchants.

List of Rules
Only those shooting the entire program will be eligible for prizes, according to the ruling made by the Big Spring Gun Club. All ties will be shot off miss-and-out system and there will be no charge for shoot-off targets. All practice targets will be thrown on basis of 50 cents for 25 targets. Shells with standard trap loads will be sold on the grounds at one dollar per box. Hot lunches and coffee will be obtainable on the grounds.
Invitations have been mailed to every gun club in West Texas and to numerous trap shooters not affiliated with any gun club. Consequently, the local trap shooting arganization is expecting the largest crowd to ever attend an event of this type.

per-power agreements. In that way

To Become Center
"It looks like Big Spring is going to be the center distribution point for electrical power in this part of West Texas."

"From the local switching station lines lead to the refineries, to two oil company pump stations, near Westbrook, to the Chalk field, to the Atlantic pump station near Garden City, to Garden City and in other directions."

Next week's program will be in charge of John Wolcott, with Joye Fisher as chairman two weeks hence.

Dr. J. R. Dillard, chairman of the park committee, will have as co-workers, V. R. Smitham, Nat Shick and Joe Kuykendall. President Charles W. Deats announced.
