More Charges Expected in North Carolina Girl's Death

Shaniya Davis, 5, was reported missing last week. Authorities have found a body they believe is hers.

(CNN) -- Additional charges are expected in connection with the death of a North Carolina girl who was reported missing by her mother one week ago, authorities announced Tuesday.

A body believed to be that of 5-year-old Shaniya Davis was found Monday near a road several miles northwest of Fayetteville, where she lived, police said.

Although authorities have publicly said they are awaiting a positive identification of the body, Fayetteville Police told CNN Monday the body was Shaniya's.

The body was taken to the state medical examiner's office in Chapel Hill for an autopsy and positive identification, police said.

Charges will be made public as soon as they are filed, police said. A media briefing is scheduled for Tuesday afternoon.

Shaniya's mother, Antoinette Nicole Davis, has been charged with human trafficking and other offenses. Davis was "prostituting her child," police spokeswoman Teresa Chalice said after Davis was arrested over the

Church News

From the Desk of Parson D.A. Smith
"The U. S. Health Care Vote"

All African Americans, Hispanics and poor White Americans living in Congressional District 19 should look closely at the representative of U. S. Congressional District 19. The representative of the mention District (Randy Neugebauer) was among the 215 Republicans and Blue Dogs Democratic who voted NO against historic health care reform legislation late Saturday, November 7, 2009.

Congressman Neugebauer has good government supportive insurance that cost him a minimum amount. It seems hypocritical for the Congressman to have excellent government supported insurance with minimum amount of co-pay while his constituents face rising cost for health insurance. Why would he say NO for access to insurance to those who voted him in office? Why would he say NO to affordable government back insurance to those who pay his salary so that he will not have stomach cramps?

My deceased father always would remind me to get to know the difference between a race horse and a jackass. He said a racehorse would lay his ears back, stretch out his tail and dash across the finish line. However, a Jackass would bray, kick up his heels, perfume the air and never cross the finish line.

Congressman Neugebauer has negatively brayed over health insurance that all of the people in District 19 could afford while perfuming the air with the rhetoric and smell of a waste treatment plant. It seems the people of Congressional District 19 deserve much better. We need a racehorse! If the farmers could read well and truly understand farm legislation, they might decide it is wise and in their best interest to use their own intellect to see for themselves it is possibly that they are getting greased by the hand of the man, not from Galilee, but their congressman from Washington.

It has been reported the legislation passed would require most Americans to carry insurance and provide federal subsidies to those who otherwise could not afford it. Large companies would have to offer coverage to their employees. To enforce this mandate, both consumers and companies would face penalties if they defied the government's mandates.

Also insurance company's practices the art of denying coverage on the basis of pre-existing medical conditions would be banned and insurers would no longer be able to charge higher premiums on the basis of gender or medical history. The government would punish the insurance industry by removing their exemption from federal antitrust restrictions on price fixing and market allocation.

The passing of the House Health Care Bill that expand coverage to tens of millions who lack insurance is said to offers a peace of mind that comes from knowing one has access to affordable health care when they need it.

We thank the Higher Power for those who represent the American people who have the intellect and know how to look out for the good of their fellow American brothers and sisters.

We Thank God for Jesus
"Lord, Thanks For Forgiving Me"

Written by Evangelist Billy "B.J." Sherters, III - Your brother in Christ Jesus always.

Psalm 105:1-2 - O' Give thanks unto the Lord. Call upon his name; make known his deeds among the people. Sing unto him, sing psalms unto him; talk you of all his wonderous works.

Lord, many people are upset, because I'm a Steward that praises you. I haven't always done so, and you know this is true.

Jeremiah 1:5 - The Lord said, before I formed you in the belly, I knew thee, and before you came forth out of the womb, I sanctified you, and I ordained you, a prophet unto all nations.

MANY ARE CALLED; FEW CHOSEN!!!

I, Billy "B.J.", was raised in a Christian Home, under the word and prayer. I went into the world of sin, and, Lord, at home I left you there!!!

Jeremiah 3:13 - The Lord said, only acknowledge your iniquity, that you have transgressed against the Lord, your God, and has scattered your ways to the strangers under every green tree, and you have not obeyed my voice.

I went out with people: marching and singing, 'I'm Black and Proud.' My people wanted to over run the White man, and said it out loud!!!

Proverb 16:18-19 - Pride goes before destruction, and a haughty spirit before a fall. Better it is to be of a humble spirit with the lowly, than to divide the spoil with the proud.

ARE YOU ONE OF THE PROUD ONES???

I was living in sin, with the world, and called it having fun. It started when we marched and lied, saying: "We Shall Overcome!!!"

(In 1961, a man pulled a shotgun on me, after a fight. I was the winner, and people said, Boy you're lucky. In 1963, the Plains co-Op Oil Mill blew up. I was inside and ran outside. I could smell smoke. My flesh was burning, and they said 'Boy, you're sure lucky.' In 1966, when we would do 120 mph for the fun of it, I had a blowout at about 105 mph, and my friends said, 'Boy, you're sure lucky.' In 1972, a man pulled a shotgun on me about his wife, and I called him a %&7&% lie. My friends said, 'Boy, you're lucky.' In 1980, a man pulled a shotgun on me in a gambling game. I won all the money. He said 'drop it,' and I said %&@)&%, and there were two strangers there, and one said, 'Don't shoot the man!' The other said, 'He won that money!!!' And my friends said, 'Boy, you're sure lucky.'

Isaiah 54:17a - The Lord said, no weapon that is formed against thee shall prosper; and every tongue that shall rise against you in judgement you shall condemn.

Psalm 115:17 - The dead praise not the Lord, neither any that go down into silence. But we will bless the Lord from this time forth and for every more. Praise the Lord!

I'M BETTER THAN BLESSED. THANK YOU, LORD!!!

Hebrews 12:6-8 - For who the Lord loves he chastens, and scourges every son who he

St. Matthew's Baptist Church News

Church services got underway at 10:10 a. m. last Sunday morning, November 15, 2009, at the St. Matthew Baptist Church, 2020 East 14th Street, where the proud pastor is Rev. Edward Canady.

Sunday School got underway last Sunday morning with Assistant Superintendent Sister Annie Onasanya in charge.

The subject of the morning lesson was "Facing Opposition." The scripture text was 1 Peter 4:12-19. The Unifying Topic was "A Suffering People."

The teacher of the morning lesson was Rev. Nita Davis. The review of the morning was done by Pastor Canady.

The morning worship hour began at 11:15 a. m. The morning devotion was led by Rev. Nina Davis and Deaconess Sister Ethel Williams.

The St. Matthew Baptist Church sung out of their hearts and souls.

The main thought for our Sunday School lesson was: "Wherefore let them that suffer according to the will of God commit the keeping of their souls to him in well doing as unto a faithful creator: 1 Peter 4:19.

The morning message was delivered by Rev. Alvin Butler. His subject was "The Many Faces of Death." The scripture text was Revelation 6:1-8. The Song of Inspiration: "Precious Lord."

The morning announcements last Sunday morning were read by First Lady Sister Shirley Canady.

Let us not forget our sick and shut-in of the Lubbock community. There are many who are ill in our community. Your prayers are welcome. Let us pray for Rev. Walter Jackson.

Many things that others say are not for us to tell; Help us, Lord, to watch our tongue, we need to guard it well. *****

Thought For The Week: Destroy gossip by ignoring it. *****

Peter makes a personal appeal for Christians to be established in truth. We must receive Christ, but our need to understand truths of the Bible does not stop with our baptism. Learning new truths is an exciting part of the Christian life.

It's wonderful to study and discover what the Bible says about Jesus as both God and man. It's beautiful to learn about Christ's intercessory prayer in our behalf. It's awesome to grasp the ministry of the Holy Spirit and how he lives within us. How amazing to learn for the first time the meaning of the doctrine of justification—standing before God fully forgiven and accepted. We need the spiritual nourishment that comes from studying the Word of God.

Let us keep praying for the United States of America!

These scriptures came from Clinton D. Hobdy, Jr.

As we have always made known, if you are interested in visiting our monthly meetings, then do so. If there are any questions, please give us a call at (806) 62-3347. We would love to hear from you.

You know God is so good. We are blessed to have the works of the Outreach Prayer Group No. 3. Just think how far has brought us from it's only by His Grace and Mercy we've endured all these years, and with His help, we will continue doing His Will!

Outreach Prayer Breakfast

The Outreach Prayer Breakfast No. 3 met on the first Saturday morning, which was November 7, 2009. The group met together in the home of Brother & Sister H. Nichols.

The morning devotion was spirit filled as usual.

The morning scripture lesson was taught by Brother Hunter. His subject was "Characteristics of God's Love." His text scriptures were: 1 Corinthians 13; Romans 5:6; 1 Peter 4:8-10; and James 2:13.

1 Corinthians 13 -- thou I speak with tongues of men and of angels, but have not love, I have become sounding brass or a tinkling symbol.

Roman 5:6 -- For when we were still without strength. In due time Christ died for the ungodly.

1 Peter 4:8-10 -- And above all things have fervent love for one another, for love will cover a multitude of sins, be hospitable to one another without grumbling. As each one has received a gift. Minister it to one another as good stewards of the manifold grace of God.

James 2:1 -- For judgment is without mercy to the one who has shown no mercy. Mercy triumphs over judgement.

Brother Hunter is a wonderful Bible teacher. It would have been a blessing if you could have been present on Saturday, November 7th, to hear him.

During our meeting, prayer went forth for all our sick and shut in as well as those families who have lost loved ones.

The President of Outreach Prayer Breakfast is Sister Lueffa

Spence; Acting Secretary, Sister Carrie Wheeler.

Sister Dorothy Hood is the reporter.

You never know when God will send you something. There was a space left in this article, then comes these scriptures: God is good! Here they are:

1 Samuel 1:10
After Joshua led the Israelites into the promised land, the nation was governed by a series of judges. The period of the judges lasted several hundred years and ended with the prophet Samuel. Samuel lived his entire life dedicated to God. In fact, Samuel's mother dedicated him to God before he was even born.

For many years Hannah and her husband had tried to have a child, but God did not allow her to conceive. The desire for a child continued for several years and became such a consuming portion of Hannah's life that she could think of little else; "In bitterness of soul Hannah wept much and prayed to the Lord" (1 Samuel 1:10).

Finally, Hannah's heart softened and she made a vow that if God would give her a son, "then I will give him to the Lord for all the days of his life" (1 Samuel 1:11). God honored Hannah's vow and she soon became pregnant. A few years after Samuel was born Hannah brought him to Eli, the priest.

1 Samuel 1:27-28
"I prayed for this child, and the Lord has granted me what I asked of Him. So now I give him to the Lord. For his whole life he will be given over to the Lord."

When Hannah made her vow, she no longer desired a child to satisfy her own needs but truly desired to honor God by returning her son to Him. In turn, God blessed Hannah with five additional children after Samuel (1 Samuel 2:21). God did not bless Hannah because of her vow (we can never "bargain" with God), rather, God blessed Hannah because her heart desired to glorify Him with her blessing.

We must learn to consider everything in our life from the same perspective as Hannah. We have created nothing of lasting value with our own hands. Everything we have - everything which defines who we are - is a precious gift from God. This includes our possessions, family, business, school, special skills, and talents. ALL we have is by the grace of God.

And just as it's prideful sin to take self-credit for God's many blessings, it's equally shameful to shun His gifts - to pretend they don't exist - and fail to use Rihanna says dealing with the media attention after being assaulted in February by ex-boyfriend Chris Brown was humiliating. But she now hopes to speak for young women who are afraid to talk openly about domestic violence. The 21-year-old pop star told Glamour magazine that the police photo of her bruised face that was leaked to reporters added insult to injury.

After almost thirty three years, the Southwest Digest after empowering the Black community is no way near tired. The Digest has with stood social and economic trials, not by being a jack of all things but a master of serving its community. We reflect what our community is and does. The key to the newspaper is no different from any other news paper - Black owned or not. The objective is to print news and information that empowers its readers.

In a day when news papers are filing bankruptcy, laying off in masses, flocking to the internet, Black owned newspapers are in a better position than most. "We are not trying to talk to every body, we're trying to talk to Black people." We're not trying to be all things to a lot of people, we're just trying to be the best thing to the best thing to one people.

With our entire staff equal to the size of the Avalanche Journal's copy desk, the Digest prints once a week and boast of very few lay offs. We have been blessed to have a small loyal staff since our inception plus we have a very loyal readership

While the American Society of News Paper Editors report that news rooms laid off nearly 6,6,000 journalists in 2008, the Digest was not affected in the changing industry. Things are tough for us, but we don't have the same issues as other newspapers. Those whom we serve continue to be loyal supporters and buy our newspaper.

The purpose of the Black newspapers documenting the Black experience in and around Lubbock. Being the Black press and the true voice of the Black community of Lubbock, we have to comment on two negative things in Lubbock that has the community in an uproar is recent tassing incident were the tasser had to ask his partner for help on this one if he was not doing wrong or using more force than necessary.

The next thing is the city of Lubbock turning off people's lights some time without proper warning and even from the pole Councilman Price where are you on this issue? You see our senior citizens need some consideration. You see, of course, the bills needs to paid.

TWO WHITE PROFESSIONALS AND ONE BLACK ORIGINAL

"SHAME OF THE REST US!!!!!!"

By BROTHER ASKARI

In the letter to the editor section of the Southwest Digest's prior to the issue before this one, a professional white woman wrote the paper and said she was "HEART SICK" after attending the POLICE BRUTALITY TRIAL OCTOBER 20, 2009 of the "DRIVING WHILE BLACK VICTIM", L.J. McCALLAN.

This courageous WHITE WOMAN stated that she was also troubled by witnessing that the only people at this trial were the victim's family. In my mind this means, "WHERE WERE ALL THE OTHER BLACK PEOPLE SHOWING OUTRAGE TO THIS INJUSTICE!" "WHERE WERE ALL THE OTHER BROWN PEOPLE SHOWING OUTRAGE TO THIS INJUSTICE!" "WHERE WERE ALL THE OTHER WHITE PEOPLE SHOWING OUTRAGE TO THIS INJUSTICE!"

Any one of you can be next in line to be VICTIMIZED! If any one of you have been keeping up with the news, a policeman in another state did this same thing to an ELDERLY WHITE WOMAN! This could be the re-surfacing of an old trend that can lead to the death of any one of you at the hand of your local police officer. Remember it is a proven fact that people have died after being SHOCKED TO DEATH BY THESE POWERFUL SHOCK GUNS OF THE POLICE!

Another professional white person this one being a white man shared with me his unsettling feelings about the mistreatment of a Lubbock citizen and the hands of a Lubbock police officer and believes that the right verdict has not been made. I also talked with one of our original Senior Black Women who was very disappointed with the response of one of the so-called ministers who preaches about the crucifixion of Jesus Christ but Blacks Out when it comes to acknowledging the crucifixion of the all the people Black, White, Brown, Red, Yellow, etc... who fought and are still fighting to eliminate this kind of Abuse of Power behind the Thin Blue Line! Should I say more. Or do he and others like him think that Jim was really a Crow? Mr. McCallan says he will appeal this is the time of all of us to demand that we want this WRONG MADE RIGHT, FOR REAL!!!!!!

IF YOU ARE NOT AFRAID TO "SAY NO MORE" TO THIS INJUSTICE CALL THIS NUMBER 762-3612 AND HELP US DEFEND "OUR RIGHT TO BE FREE OF POLICE BRUTALITY!!!!!"

AN OPEN LETTER

On behalf of the African American Unified Umbrella Corp/The Way, we would like to express our deepest appreciation for all the donations we received to support our "Stop the Violence Campaign". The funds were used to travel to some of the hotbeds of youth violence around the country: Chicago, Los Angeles, and New Orleans. Although every single community in this country is touched by youth violence, these cities ties seem to have the most frequent occurrence. And these trips were necessary to gain a clear understanding of the causes and the cures res for this spiritual and social epidemic.

Our most recent trip was to Chicago. It was the second time we visited that city this year. When we drove around the South Side of the city, we encountered sadness and many heavy hearts, because two days before our arrival, another promising and talented young man, Dequaris Cannon, was shot and killed while sitting in a car a few blocks from his home. When we did some addi additional checking, we found that nearly every day, t his year, someone has lost their life by the hand of a young person in this country.

Later that evening, we attended a meeting at a neighborhood church on the very issue, "stopping the violence among our youth." The pastor of the church had every one give t heir opinion of why they thought all these killings were taking place. Each person spoke from their heart. And we saw and heard pourings of emotions that moved many to tears. There were young girls, young women, mothers, grandmothers, and one, sole, young man in attendance. Absent in attendance were fathers, grandfathers and other young men.

The next morning, we attended the young man's funeral. You can never be fully prepared to deal with the lost of a loved one, especially when it is your child whose life has been cut short before its time. That was the sentiment that Dequaris' Dad shared when he spoke about his son. He was a great son, brother, friend, student and athlete as attested to by others. Now these violent deaths have a face. We felt the pain up close, we saw first hand how "youth violence" impacted one of the largest African American communities in this country. We sensed the feelings that newspaper headlines and 15 seconds television news clips can not convey. When we gave our personal condolences to Dequaris' parents, we saw they were suffering with immeasurable grief. This was a horrific and senseless murder that put unbearable sorrows on a family. It greatly saddens us and our organization that this tragedy has been repeated hundreds of times around the country.

These are the problems we see:

- * Removal of prayer from schools.
- * Too many fathers are not actively engaged in their children's lives
- * Children having children, and,
- * Epidemic high levels of idleness and unemployment among our youth.

Please help us continue our struggle against "youth violence" with your donations. We have a plan to address these problems. And we promise to dedicate our life and to use our voice and energy to: "Stop the Violence."

by Renetta Howard anything can tell you that but the Medicare cost in-

There was a time a few years ago when someone could be heard saying that the only thing certain in life was 'taxes and death.' That statement needs an update to add insurance. In some states car insurance is mandatory. You must present your proof of insurance before you can obtain a permit or license for your vehicle. It is a fact that you will not receive the license without it. Some people buy a one time policy in order to secure the license, but if for any reason they are stopped by a police officer, chances are the fine will be greater than the cost of insurance. That is car insurance.

Everyone does not have a car and therefore do not need car insurance, but everyone is concerned about their health and it appears that the government is going to make health insurance mandatory also. There may be a positive side to this issue as it stands now, even with some health insurance; there is always something the individual still has to pay.

When we purchase a vehicle and the adequate insurance that is required, we feel confident as certain warranties accompany the sale of a new vehicle and some used vehicles. We understand that we have purchased a machine which is subject to mechanical problems and look forward to our warranty covering some of the expense of a breakdown that is not caused by normal use.

By the time we pay for a vehicle which we have purchased, we pretty much realize that in most instances, our warranties have expired and we expect to pay for any breakdowns that are not covered by our regular insurance policies, such as collision, liability, uninsured motorists, medical payments, comprehensive insurance and towing. In the absence of a car note, most working people can afford to have their vehicles repaired. After ten or more years of ownership of a vehicle, and approximately 150,000 miles of use, without major out-of-pocket expenses, many of us are ready to sell, give away or junk a vehicle. But if you are not taking the bait of the swindlers on the telephone calling you are writing to you about buying extended coverage for your vehicle, all you need do is watch the television ads about the purchase of coverage where you will not have to pay anything for repair of your vehicle which could be as much as one thousand dollars and up, while a person without this coverage has to pay the cost. During the commercial, they fail to tell you how much such coverage will cost you.

Life insurance is another thing that most of us try to buy to insure that there will be funds available for our last rites. At the cost of funerals, chances are that the insurance which we have purchased may not be enough to cover those last rites. Consequently, many families are opting for cremation and donations to science to curtail those life-end expenses.

When an individual works forty or more years and retires, he expects to have paid for his home, his vehicle and just about everything material that he desires. If he has not planned well, taxes and insurance can demand the bulk of his income and assets, leaving him very little for utilities, food and a social life. We need to get "in cinque" and plan for insurance and taxes. There is no escape!

106 & Park" had a Teen Domestic Violence special and because this topic resonates personally for me I decided to share my story with others on BET.

I started my own Foundation called the Free4Life Foundation in 2002, our programs focused on Teen Violence Prevention and Financial Literacy Education.

At the time I saw them as serious issues in our community, I witnessed and experienced hardships with both subjects and wanted to prevent others from going through the same things. I have shared my testimony with thousands across the US when speaking at colleges and high schools and community centers over the past 6 years of my life.

D.C. Sniper's Ex-Wife, Children Cope With Execution

Mildred Muhammad, former wife of convicted D.C. sniper John Allen Muhammad, speaks to readers during an event for her memoir in Washington D.C. on October 19.

WASHINGTON (AP) — One of the D.C. sniper's ex-wives said Thursday that she has fully healed from the abusive marriage she endured with him, and is helping her children cope with knowing their dad won't be a part of their lives.

Mildred Muhammad, 49, told The Associated Press in a phone interview that she and her three children watched news coverage of John Muhammad's execution in silence at their Maryland home. When his death was announced, the children — John, 19, Salena, 17, and Taalibah, 16 — went into different rooms and cried.

"It was very difficult to see them in that kind of pain," Mildred Muhammad said. "Because I know what was going through their head — 'this is my dad, he should be in my life, this should not be happening.'"

Her ex-husband was put to death by lethal injection Tuesday in Virginia for killing Dean Harold Meyers at a gas station during a series of killings in 2002 that terrorized the Washington, D.C., area for three weeks. His then-teenage accomplice, Lee Boyd Malvo, is serving a life sentence without parole for his role in one of the slayings.

For Muhammad, however, the execution marked her recovery since leaving her abusive ex-husband a decade ago.

"I woke up yesterday thinking this is the first day, complete day of the rest of our lives that John's presence will not be felt," she said.

Mildred Muhammad said her ex-husband did not respond to his children's requests to see him, and she said she was not surprised he offered no last words.

"I had began saying a week or two before the execution that if anyone was looking for John to apologize or take responsibility for his actions, they're waiting in vain," she said. "I didn't expect him to say anything. I expected him to do just what he did — close his eyes, not look at anyone and that's it."

She said she expects John Allen Muhammad's funeral next Tuesday in Baton Rouge, will bring some closure. The family also plans to retrieve letters he left for the children from another ex-wife.

With the man who once threatened to kill her now gone, Muhammad said she plans to continue her anti-domestic violence advocacy and continue supporting her children as they adjust. But one remnant of her ex-husband remains — a protective order against him she's kept for years.

"There's no need for me to carry it anymore," she said. "I guess I need to make a decision to take it out of my wallet, because it's still there."

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Police are investigating conflicting accounts of an airport scuffle between Mike Tyson and photographer that resulted in both men being booked and released on suspicion of misdemeanor battery.

Another suspect, Mario Andrette McNeill, has been charged with kidnapping in the case.

Last Tuesday, Davis reported Shaniya missing from their home in a mobile home park. According to police, surveillance video taken that day from a hotel in Sanford shows Shaniya in the company of McNeill.

"The investigation at this point indicates that Shaniya Davis was alive at the time she left the Sanford hotel," police said in the statement Tuesday.

The road where the body was found is near Sanford, which is about 30 miles northwest of Fayetteville.

Shaniya's half-sister, Cheyenne Lockhart, told HLN's "Nancy Grace" Monday that she found it difficult to believe Davis had treated her daughter so poorly.

"She seemed like the sweetest woman. She didn't come from much, but ... she had the sweetest voice, she had the sweetest personality, and especially toward me. I would never think that she would do anything like that," said Lockhart, who shared a father with Shaniya said. The photographer told police that Tyson struck him once, Los Angeles airport police spokesman Sgt. Jim Holcomb said. The photographer fell to the ground and was treated for a cut to his forehead at a hospital.

Tyson's spokeswoman Tammy Brook said the boxer was traveling with his wife and 10-month-old child when he was attacked by an overly aggressive paparazzo. "Mike acted in self defense as a father protecting his child," she said.

"There's a lot of different versions to this story and that's all going to come out later," Holcomb said. "Some witness statements support Tyson's version, others support the photographer's."

Police also were checking if there was any surveillance video of the incident.

Tyson was cooperative as he waited in a holding cell at the airport police station, Holcomb said. Echevarria was booked and released after he was treated at a hospital, police said.

Holcomb said both men were released without any restrictions and free to go wherever they want. It wasn't immediately clear if Tyson had continued his trip.

Paparazzi often camp out at Los Angeles' largest airport to get shots of celebrities in transit.

"I've heard people were following him into the men's room and trying to take his picture there," said Tyson's defense attorney, David Chesnoff. "My advice to him is going to be to vigorously press charges against what everyone agrees are ridiculously aggressive photographers."

First, we want to thank you all for sharing your time with us on 106 & Park yesterday. (If you missed it see video below). This was not an easy topic to discuss, openly and honestly. I'd like to acknowledge the courage it took for all of the guests to share their personal stories. Relationships are complicated, but when any form of abuse from either party begins, the relationship becomes even more complex. Yesterday, we tried to provide the signs to look for and the consequences of staying in an unhealthy relationship. Personally, I can tell you from experience that abuse, whether mental, verbal, sexual or physical, affects your self-esteem, your spirit and your soul. It takes work, patience, love and support to recognize and get through a bad and unhealthy situation. So, before we go I would like to once again identify the top 5 signs of abuse.
