'Around the Hub City'

"AROUND THE HUB CITY" traveled to Dallas last Monday to be among the many spectators who observed the thrilling football game between Wiley of Marshall and Prairie View A&M of Prairie View which is an annual classic at the State Fair of Texas. This affair-which draws hundreds of people-is played in the world-known 'Cotton Bowl'.

A freshman quartet from the "Hub City" who were outstanding members of the Panthers of Dunbar, Novell Hutchinson, Bennie R a y Jones, Henry Planks, and Ervin Richardson, performed rather dazzlingly in the classic, despite the loss they suffered.

Next week is a really big one here... Yes, by now all of you are awaiting for the annual homecoming of Dunbar high school. According to a reliable source, this suppoce to be one of the better ones in the history of the institution. Be sure to read the West Texas Times next week and get the low down in this year's activities to be featured.

Prenis Williams, president of the Dunbar Ex-Student organization, would like to call your attention to the fact that all Dunbar graduates and exes that there is a very special meeting on Tuesday evening, November 1st, at 8:00 p.m. at E.C. Struggs junior high school in regard to the homecoming activities and the naming of "Miss Homecoming". He advises all of you who have not yet paid your dues to please do so now.

Congratulations are in order for Mr. and Mrs. Edward Deo who became the proud parents of a bouncing baby boy last week.

Wilmar Boyd, 1802 Avenue C, received emergency treatment at Methodist Hospital and was dismissed following a traffic mishap last Saturday. It was learned that his car struck a guardrail of the Broadway underpass.

Fifty-two newcomer families were reported last week in the "Hub City". Though far from a record weekly total, the figure proves significant in that it brings the total so far this year to 3,154 families, passing the 3,120 recorded for the entire calendar year 1965.

A special meeting of all Bishop College graduates and ex-students is on tap for Sunday, October 30, in the auditorium of the Mary & Mac Private School.

A special Democratic Vote-Getter banquet is being held tonight, Thursday, at the Co-op Oil Mill, at 8:00 p.m. The public is cordially invited to attend. Rev. C.A. Holliday, pastor of the St. James Baptist Church of Fort Worth, is the main speaker.

Who said that luck is not in the "Hub City"? Well, George Smothers, 2806 21st, who is employed Braniff Airlines won a black and white portable television in the $300,000 prize drawing at a company banquet last week.

It has been learned that the Lubbock chapter of Alpha Kappa Alpha sorority has begun preparation for their second bi-annual Debutante Ball which will be slated during the Christmas holidays. This affair received great praise at the first one, let's hope that this same type of affair will continue to exist in the same manner. It is the hope of the 'Times' that this affair will be held every year, rather than every other one. There are enough young ladies who possess the charm, personality,

CONCERNING "BLACK POWER"

As riots continue, signs of a voter backlash are being watched for a possible effect on the approaching elections.

Many voters, both Negro and white appear to be increasingly concerned by the rise of "Black Power" groups and the spread of racial violence.

Some politicians who have been bidding for Negro votes are beginning to wonder whether this approach will pay off at the polls on November 8.

It had been expected the riot season of 1966 would end early enough to be largely forgotten by election time, Labor Day is generally considered the end of "the long, hot summer."

Then, on September 6, a Negro riot flared in Atlanta, Georgia, a city known for its efforts to meet Negro demands.

In Atlanta, as in many other cities, the Negro attack was against police—and the battle cry was "Black Power". The Atlanta riot was the 38th riot, Atlanta was the 38th city of the U.S. to be hit by racial violence this year. This sets a new record. Never before has rioting been spread so widely across the nation.

In Congress, the "Open Housing Bill" has stalled. Concern about the spreading riots is even reflected in Washington.

President Johnson's Civil Rights Bill has bogged down in the Senate. It is in the midst of a filibuster, with opposition coming from Senators from the North as well as from the South.

The near certainty that the Senate will not vote before November elections on the hotly disputed open housing section of the civil-rights bill is bringing quiet sighs of relief from some Senators up for re-election.

For some who court the Negro vote, there is the disturbing problems of white backlash against Negro demonstrations aimed at breaking down housing discrimination.

Most of the racial violence this year has taken place in the North and in the West, rather than in the South.

In 1964, a widely predicted 'white backlash' against the Negro movement failed to materialize... Up to that time the primary effects of Negro agitation had been felt in the South, but this is another year.

The Negro movement has arrived in the North not only with what the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King called 'the tramp, tramp of marching feet' but with sounds of rioting in the street and palpitating hearts in politician's breasts.

"The belief of many politicians and opinion analysts, as a result, is that while people may talk more about Viet Nam and inflation, they worry more about Negroes moving into the block, taking over their jobs and making their streets a battle ground.

Thus backlash, as so long predicted, may become a major element in politics this year."

Significant in this changing political picture is the change that has occurred in the nature of racial violence in recent years.

In the 1950s and early 1960s when violence flared and Federal troops had to be called out, the riot scene was in the South and the violence was committed by whites against Negroes. (Makes a person wonder where the troops were when the same type of riots broke out in the heavily populated areas of the North).

The response was passage of a series of Federal Laws to protect the civil rights of Negroes and to curb the white man's violence.

In 1964, rioting moved North—and the rioters were Negroes. But the riot scenes were generally slums of big cities. The reaction was that something should be done to help Negroes living in slums.

In 1965, the biggest riot of all erupted in the Watts district of Los Angeles, and once again the trouble was blamed on "ghetto" conditions.

This year the pattern changed. There were riots not only in big cities, the violence extended to dozens of smaller communities, including some which have few Negroes and no real slums.

Riots, once regarded as a problem for big cities, now are a threat to almost any community. Political races are seen as likely to be affected if a voter backlash occurs.

White Power Rally Stopped

George Lincoln Rockwells' "White Power" rally was drowned out by more than 1,000 counter-demonstrators Saturday and then cut off by Police when it became apparent antagonism toward the American Nazi Party Leader might erupt into violence.

With placards reading "go home Nazi," "Ban the Bigots" and other anti-fascist slogans dotting Civic Center, Rockwell tried for about 12 minutes to speak to a booing, jeering, egg-throwing crowd, at San Francisco.

At one point he said, "I'm go-

But shortly after that Police Sgt. Edward Epting climbed to the top of Rockwell's sound-equipped camper truck and said, "That's all Rockwell."

The Nazi leader and his 20 uniformed but unarmed storm troopers were then escorted through the hostile crowd by police and away from the area.

A police spokesman later said, "The crowd was at the boiling point. People were throwing rocks and eggs, and they were pushing against the police lines."

"Another two minutes and it would have been nasty."

The crowd, swollen to several thousand by curious spectators, was expected by police.

Rockwell had announced at a news conference earlier in the week that his Nazi followers and Ku Klux Klan members would hold the rally, and the student groups at San Francisco State promised a counter-demonstration.

We are not condoning violence of any kind, but these people should be congratulated for not falling for such trash, and anybody who does not fall for such trash as "Black Power" should also be congratulated since it shows intelligence on their part.

NEEDS PUNCH

London—(NPI)—After 12 months of operation, Britain's law against racial discrimination in public accommodations and business has been found inadequate. The major defect has been that it failed to give race relations boards in major cities the power to compel witnesses to appear before them. The boards are supposed to hold hearings into complaints and resolve the problems by conciliation and persuasion.

LOVE TRIUMPHS

Tel Aviv—(NPI)—Who says that one's faith can be a deterrent to marriage to a mate of a different religion? Some 200 male members of the Druze community—an exclusive mysterious religious sect have defied centuries-old tradition within the past few years by converting to Judaism. They had a good reason for doing so. They wanted to marry the Jewish girls they loved.

VANDALISM
Robert Smith, 2910 East Main, told police that someone threw a brick through his window one night last week. After further investigation, it was learned that the incident caused damage to a table and lamp. The value of the damage was estimated at $10.50, ten dollars for the lamp and table and fifty cents for the window.

He is an employee of the Compress.

BURGLARY
Rosie Lee Richardson, 705 Avenue C, told police that a burglar entered her business. She reported that she closed her business the night before and returning the next morning to clean and found that the place had been looted. It was discovered by the police that entry was gained by breaking a window. The juke box had been broken into and approximately twenty dollars in change was taken.

DOMESTIC TROUBLE
Domestic trouble seemed to have been the main issue this past week end. The trouble resulted to two stabbings and one shooting... none of which was of a serious nature... only love.

One stabbing occurred when a husband and his wife got into an argument. Evidently, his wife became very angry... so she just stabbed him in the top of his left shoulder with a butcher knife.... it was as simple as that so the lady claims.

In the next incident, the husband won battle, well, it seems as though he did. The wife told police that her husband cut her on the head above the left eye. It was learned that the cut was two inches in depth. Like the first, it resulted from an argument, the husband, no doubt, was drunk. How does the third family quarrel grab you?

A wife told police that she had a pistol, perhaps she was angry from the start, and her beloved husband took it from her. At this point, she caught her husband in the right arm with a knife she had hid from him. She went on to say that at this time he pointed the weapon at her. By this time, she ran for her car. He did fire three shots at her, one hitting the rear of the automobile she fled in. He was taken to a local hospital for emergency treatment.

Let's hope that the angry which was built up in the above mentioned families has gone.

Absentee Voting Underway Here

Absentee voting in the November 8 general election is still underway and will continue through Friday, November 4.

Ballots may be cast at the county clerk's office on the second floor of the new courthouse in Lubbock or at a special absentee voting box at Kertan Studio, 112 S. 9th Street, Slaton.

The county clerk's office is open from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

According to the county clerk, Mrs. Floe Swenson, the office will continue to accept mail applications for ballots during the voting period. Ballots sent in by mail must be notarized.

In 1964, a presidential election year, 2,359 absentee ballots were cast in the general election in Lubbock County. In the preceding general election, that of 1962, which was not a presidential election year, only 640 absentee ballots were cast in the general election here.

It was learned last week that the Lubbock area civilian work force, in latest report of the Texas Employment Commission, (TEC), was estimated at 70,875, exceed-

Bishop Alumni to Meet

All graduates or ex-students of Bishop College, Dallas, Texas are asked to meet on Sunday, October 30th, at 3:00 p.m. in the auditorium of the Mary & Mac Private School.

The purpose of the meeting is to organize a Bishop Alumni club in the city of Lubbock.

Reginald M. Lefall, Bishop Alumni secretary and assistant to the president of Bishop College, is scheduled to be in the city to help organize this club.

Virgil Johnson and T.J. Patterson are serving as coordinators.

For the first time in the history of Ella Iles, students and teachers were able to return 100% of the fire prevention forms during last spring. As a result of this accomplishment, on October 13, 1966 at 9:00 a.m. the fire department headed by fire marshal captain C.A. Black put on a display and demonstration of equipment.

The principal, Clarence Priestly, accepted a beautiful model fire truck as an expression of appreciation from Mr. Black. Many thanks to the teachers, parents, and students who made this occasion possible.

According to this data, it represented a net loss from the mid-August report because of drop in agricultural employment. Total non-farm employment stood at 61,755, while unemployment dropped to 2,660, lowest estimate since May.

The unemployment figure represents 3.8 percent of total work force, below the four per cent for August and the 4.7 per cent of September 1965 when the estimate was 3,180.

According to the Lubbock TEC office, the over-all labor supply-demand situation did not change materially last month. Numerically, the supply of available applicants in the area remains adequate to meet any forecast demand for workers.

Greatest local shortage at present is that of draft-exempt men between ages of 21 and 30. An almost unlimited number of these could be placed on jobs whether or not they have had training or work experience, the report said.

Panthers Defeat Como, 28-13

Lafayette Lyle, (No. 22), is shown scoring a touchdown early in the second quarter which put the Panthers out in front of the Lions of Como 14-13, a half time. The entire Lion defense was fooled on this particular play.

The fighting Dunbar Panthers came from behind last Saturday night in a 1-AAA District tilt to defeat the stubborn Lions of Como high school, Fort Worth, by a score of 28-13, at Chapman Field.

By defeating the Lions it improved their league record to 2-1 and brings them 5-1 for the season, having lost only to the defending state champion Washington of Wichita Falls.

The visitors from 'Cow Twon' took an advantage of the first frame by scoring with only 1:04 in the period when quarterback Cardis King hit end Johnny Fisher with a 14-yard scoring pass.

Dunbar, with the help of Sidney Hall, Wayne Davis, Paul Daniels, and Lafayette Lyles, came right back in the second quarter to take the lead 14-13 at the end of the first half.

It is rather hard to contribute any particular defensive play of the tilt, but perhaps the one which really climaxed the contest was when defensive end Fred Phillips, no. 82, blocked a point after attempt by the Lions and gave the Panthers a one point advantage at the half.

It was a game far closer than the scoreboard showed at the end of the district tilt, although the mighty Panthers bounced back in the third stanza when quarterback Daniels directed his peers some 67 yards in ten plays, diving in from the one yard line himself with 6:58 remaining in the period.

In the fourth period, speedy Hall intercepted a Como pass on his own 20 yard line and galloped 80 yards with only 19 seconds remaining in the ball game. At this point, the many Dunbar fans went wild, and, of course, this clinched the tilt for the Panthers.

Como held a narrow edge in the statistics department, gulping down 294 yards of total offense to 281 by the Panthers.

Phillips also led the receivers with four receptions for 9.1 yards.

The Panthers will travel to Richardson, Texas Saturday, October 29th, to play Hamilton Park in a district tilt.

In a rampant battle between Southwest Texas State and Angelo State College, Don Burrell, former star of Lubbock High School, continued his unique array of pass catching as he set a record for his performance, despite the loss his team suffered, 24-6.

Burrell, the flashy freshman flanker, hauled in eight passes for a total of 121 yards in the losing effort, breaking a school mark of 119 yards in a single game. He had set the old mark in the season opener against McMurry, hauling in seven passes.

With only two minutes remaining in the game, quarterback Primo Gonzales teamed with Burrell and connected with four straight passes which netted 54 yards.

San Francisco--(NPI)--The San Francisco Giants first baseman Willie McCovey was granted a divorce in Superior court last week, after testifying that Willie told her he didn't love her and gave her the silent treatment. However, Karen McCovey, 23, waived alimony and was granted $257 per month support for her one-year-old child, Allison.

New York--(NPI)--Orlando Cepeda of the St. Louis Cardinals was voted the National League's Comeback Player of the Year for 1966 in the annual Associated Press poll of baseball writers, outpolling Los Angeles Dodgers relief ace Phil Regan by 10 votes. Cepeda, who received 88 votes to 76 for Regan, was traded to the Cardinals by the San Francisco Giants last May 8 after a miserable 1965 season due to injuries. He bounced back with a .301 batting average, with 20 home runs and 73 runs batted in for 142 games.

Baltimore--(NPI)--Triple crown American League batting champion and World Series hero Frank Robinson and pitcher Juan Marichal of the San Francisco Giants both were named to the United Press International's 1966 All-Star baseball team. Others named were John Powell, Baltimore Orioles; Roberto Clemente, Pirates; Hank Aaron, Braves; Pete Rose, Reds; Ritchie Allen, Philadelphia; Gene Alley, Pirates, and pitcher Sandy Koufax, Dodgers.

WOMEN'S TALK

By Louise P. Dumetz NEGRO PRESS INTERNATIONAL

Everyday meals take on a wondrous taste and appeal when California wine is used right along with salt and pepper, and other seasonings—just like professional chefs do. It's a quick, economical seasoning that accents and enriches the natural food flavors—adding fun and flair to any dish.

All wine types are used regularly for cooking. In most homes where wine is served with dinner or as refreshments, the leftover wine is used later in the kitchen. And here's a good point to remember: The entire family can enjoy many wine-cooked dishes, because alcohol (just as in vanilla) cooks away fast when it reaches the low simmering stage. Only the delicious flavor remains and a subtle new goodness that wins you compliments.

Even prepared mixes and other convenience foods take on individuality when cooked with wine. For example, use California white dinner wine or Sherry instead of half the liquid needed in a cake, cookies, pudding or pie filling mixes. Flavor gelatin deserts or salads by substituting wine for half the water in the recipe. Choose red or white wine, depending on the color of the gelatin.

Improve dry spaghetti sauce mix or dry salad dressing mix by substituting red or white wine for half the water specified on the package. You'll enjoy these advantages in wine cookery. And, to make your good living complete adopt another pleasant custom: Serve leftover wine with meals or when entertaining.

OLD FAVORITE

Almost any day now is good weather for a baked bean supper, see photo above. Here's a brand new version of the old favorite, special enough for a party and easy enough for an everyday meal. Burgundy wine is the newsworthy ingredient.

Burgundy Baked Beans follow the traditional recipe up to the point where the wine is added as part of the liquid. Another departure is the addition of cubes of cheese poked into the hot beans shortly before they are taken from the oven. The flavor combination is unbeatable. It can be complimented more by pouring glasses of red wine used in the recipe as the mealtime beverage.

Pick over and wash beans. Place in saucepan with three cups water and soak overnight. Add remaining water, mustard, salt, onions, vinegar, cloves, molasses and sugar; stir to blend. Cover and boil slowly 1 to 1 1/2 hours.

Turn beans into a casserole or small beanpot. Cover tightly and bake in a slow oven (300 degrees F.), until beans are almost tender, about four hours. Stir in wine and ham.

Continue baking until tender, about one hour longer. Uncover casserole the last half hour of baking. Poke generous cubes of cheese into beans. Heat just long enough to melt cheese. The remainder of the wine should be served with the meal.

NO FISH DIED

Scientists have been speculating for years on the use of the sea and ocean areas as sources of food for a burgeoning world population. That is, if farmers cannot meet the world's food needs, maybe fishermen can.

However, recent information suggests no such solution is forthcoming. You won't be able to dine on ocean fish and fauna—should other sources decline—because, as biologists put it, it just isn't possible.

Theoretically, if all the nitrogen fertilizer in the world were dumped into the ocean, it would improve plant life fertility in an area only as big as the North Sea. So don't plan on caviar for breakfast, anchovies for lunch and plankton salad for dinner, on any long term basis. There just isn't enough to go around—thank goodness.
