Congressional Leaders Think They May Be In Session Until Late Summer, After Viewing Long List

WASHINGTON, June 5 (AP)—House chiefs looked over the legislative slate with President Roosevelt today and returned to the capitol with predictions that congress probably would be in session until late summer.

Speaker Bankhead and House Majority Leader Rayburn described the president as anxious for congress to act before adjournment on:

Revamping the supreme court, reorganizing governmental agencies, setting wage and hour standards, planning conservation of water, soil and power resources, aiding farm tenants, building low cost dwellings, closing loopholes used by tax dodgers, and extending nuisance taxes.

Reviewing The BIG SPRING WEEK

by Joe Pickle

Reversal of the trial court ruling here last November brought J. S. Garlington, former county judge out from the privacy of his wheat farms in northeastern Howard county. Pleased with the development in the case, Judge Garlington hinted that he had something on his mind beside wheat. Put this down as a positive prediction, Judge Garlington will pay heed to several inquiries from over the 19th district and will be a candidate for congress in 1938 on a "business man's ticket."

Since the beginning of the year, two persons have died from injuries received in highway accidents in Howard county. Many more have been seriously injured. Others have experienced miraculous escapes. Two deaths are too many. Safety might have prevented them. So when the highway patrol offers its safety lane program here this week, good citizens and smart drivers will see that their machines go through the lane. Absence of mechanical defects lessens the hazard of travel. The human element is dangerous enough without worrying about brakes or lights.

The downpour of last week perhaps illustrates well the interesting bit of philosophy George White garnered recently. An editorial writer somewhere had penned that "we have no right to pray for rain until we learn to properly use what we get." Back in the drought days it had been suggested that the community pray for rain. One wiseacre remarked that he didn't think it would do any good so long as the wind was out of the west. Still another thought rain prayers were not answered because of small faith. In testimony, he said at a rain prayer meeting, only one small girl brought an umbrella.

Business has been very erratic here during the past month. Some businesses, particularly those catering to servicing and maintaining automobiles, have reported heavy volumes. Others have reported unusually dull seasons. There seems to be no uniformity. However, the

Girl Asked To Name Attacker

Three Men Checked In Probe Of Movie Champagne Party

LOS ANGELES, Calif., June 5 (AP)—The official examination of a recent movie colony champagne party, during which a young actress charges, she was violated by an unknown assailant, because a confused question of identity today. District Attorney Byron Fitts said he has asked Patricia Douglas, the pretty, 20-year-old film extra, and an unnamed man to meet in his office Monday.

"Miss Douglas' complaint has caused my office to check three men. She will confront one of them and tell us, if she can, whether he is the man she believes attacked her."

The district attorney said she told him she was one of more than 100 extras who received what they thought was a routine "call" for work in a mob-scene. At the wardrobe department of an unnamed movie studio, they were fitted with Spanish and cowgirl costumes.

Then, Fitts said the girl told him, they were taken to a ranch outside the city.

They discovered there that they were to "entertain" out-of-town film salesmen, the girl's complaint stated. Fitts said Miss Douglas told him it was a lavish party, with $35,000 worth of champagne and whisky flowing.

GRANT INJUNCTION AGAINST PICKETS

SCENES OF WRECKAGE IN WAKE OF TORNADO WHICH HIT M'CAMNEY

Above are four photos showing examples of damage done when a tornado struck McCamney Thursday night. Houses were demolished, roofs blown off, wreckage piled up, lines torn down is shown. A survey of relief needs was being made in the oil town Saturday as work of cleaning up debris was pushed. Damage in the city, much of it resulting from water which poured into the homes in a torrential rain which accompanied the wind-storm, was placed at between $40,000 and $50,000.

Bookies, Dog Track Betting Next Targets

Other Moves Against Gambling To Be Pressed By Allred

AUSTIN, June 4 (AP)—Legislators will turn their swords on the horse race bookmakers and the dog track operators next week having completed the job of outlawing certificate betting at horse race tracks.

Gov. James V. Allred had promised that as soon as repeal of the law permitting certificate wagering was out of the way he would submit prohibiting dog track bets and putting teeth in the statute against bookmaking and other forms of gambling.

The remainder of the special session likely will be an anti-climax. The chief purpose for which the lawmakers were convened nine days ago was to terminate racing under the artificial system of betting.

Quitting Date Uncertain

Legislators held different opinions concerning when the session would end. Some believed they might be able to go home one week from tonight but others felt the session would last the full 30 days.

The chief executive said he would submit disposition of the blooded jacks and stallions purchased and distributed with part of the proceeds of the repealed racing law. He added that he also might allow the legislators to contemplate asking for passage of any other major measures.

Repeal of the wagering law was considered throughout the week but its fate was decided Thursday in the senate. Repeated overwhelming house expressions for repeal surprised no one as the house had voted in like fashion in the long regular meeting which ended three days before the current session began.

John D's 'Relatively Small' Estate Placed At 25 Million

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., June 5 (AP)—The "relatively small" estate left by John D. Rockefeller, Sr., turned out today to be approximately $25,000,000, which may shrink to $10,000,000 by the time the tax collectors are through.

Principal beneficiaries named in the capitalist's will, which was filed here for probate, were Mrs. Margaret Strong de Cuevas, a grand daughter, and the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research.

Mr. Rockefeller explained, in a codicil dated Oct. 3, 1934, that he already had made ample provision for his other heirs.

Much of the tremendous fortune he developed during the first half of his life from the Standard Oil trust, mines, railroads and numerous other enterprises had been spread over a variety of philanthropic institutions long before he died, on May 23 at Ormond Beach, Fla. The rest had been distributed among members of the family.

While neither affirming nor denying that his fortune once was well in excess of two billion dollars, his public relations counselors announced at the time of his death that his estate was "relatively small" and "very liquid."

His public benefactions totaled $530,830,000, and extended into every corner of the world.

The petition for the probate of his will listed his personal holdings as "over $10,000." The $25,000,000 estimate was supplied by persons familiar with his affairs.

As originally drawn, on June 2, 1925, the will directed that the residuary estate be divided equally between his son, John D. Rockefeller, Jr., and the Laura Spelman Rockefeller Foundation, organized in 1918 in memory of his wife.

Codicils were added on May 14, 1930, and Nov. 4, 1932, but they were of no particular importance in the light of the final codicil, which made no radical change in the disposition of the estate.

By the final codicil the entire

Fight To Save Rail Bridge From Flood

Canadian River In Panic Handle On Rampage; Man Drowned

(By the Associated Press)

Danger of flood damage to a Santa Fe railroad bridge near Canadian, Tex., Saturday night apparently was lessened as workmen secured butressed its approaches with sand bags and the swollen Canadian river, reported earlier at Logan, N. M., on a rampaging 14-foot rise, began a slow fall.

Men battling with sandbags against a roaring 14 foot crest sweeping down the Canadian river from New Mexico into Texas late Saturday were given an outside chance to save approaches to the Santa Fe railroad bridge at Canadian.

A hundred workmen bulwarked the bridge against the crest, an all-time high at Logan, N. M.

The swollen stream, on its second rampage in a week, already had claimed one life. Jim Stevens, 23, cowboy, drowned today as he attempted to drive horses across a stream near Old Tascosa, near Vega, Oldham county. His body had not been recovered.

Traffic on highway 29, at Bluffton, near Llano, was routed by way of the Buchanan dam when flood waters of the Colorado river crossed the road.

Normal freight and passenger service was restored on the Fort Worth and Denver railroad between Amarillo and Denver.

12 Townsend Aides Quit

Don't Agree With Doctor In His Campaigns Against FDR

CHICAGO, June 5 (AP)—Dr. Francis E. Townsend conferred with associates and refused any comment today after 12 major executives of his old age pension movement submitted their resignations.

The mass resignation of national officers was announced by J. W. Brinton, vice president and general manager of the Townsend National Recovery Plan, Inc., and of the Townsend Weekly, after he and 11 other key executives had signed a formal statement criticizing the elderly California physician for carrying on "a fight against legislation proposed by the president which has no bearing on the Townsend plan."

The other executives who resigned were:

Gilmour Young, national secretary-treasurer; Gilman Beeler, director of the Townsend National Legion; Harry B. Presson, Townsend club department manager; Jeanne E. Sweeney, editor of the Townsend Weekly women's page; J. H. Hall, auditor for the Weekly and the Townsend Recovery Plan, Inc.; Arthur L. Johnson, chairman of the Washington legislative committee; T. W. Hughes, educational department manager; Walter D. Hickman, associate editor of the Weekly; W. L. Stahl, editor of the Weekly; Willis Owen, business analyst, and P. M. McEvoy, Washington correspondent and press agent.

Townsend's public opposition to President Roosevelt's supreme court reorganization plan, Brinton said, first drew a reprimand from eight executives May 19. An editorial, Brinton said, signed by Townsend and published in the May 31 issue of the Townsend Weekly was the direct cause of the resignations.

Victor Mellinger is confined to his home on Scurry street with an infected foot. He was unable to be down town Saturday.

Charge Filed In Shooting

Nightwatchman Jailed After Mayor Of Roscoe Wounded

SWEETWATER, June 5 (AP)—District Attorney George Outlaw of Sweetwater said today charges were filed against Bill Dawson, 59-year-old nightwatchman, last night in the shooting of Mayor A. J. Parker of Roscoe.

The charges were filed in justice precinct No. 5 at Roscoe where an examining trial will be held Monday, Outlaw said. G. W. Butler is the justice of the peace.

Meanwhile, Dawson was held in jail here and Outlaw said bond had not been set.

Sheriff Tom Wade said the shooting occurred in the downtown section. Parker, who has been mayor of Roscoe for 17 years, was shot twice in the body. Sheriff Wade said the city council had given Dawson notice Jan. 1, but the watchman refused to leave his job. He stayed on after the council cut his salary.

Parker's attending physician said late Saturday night that he had grave doubts that the shooting victim would last out the night. Outlaw, district attorney, was reported watching developments closely.

Farm Parleys On Schedule

Texas Assn. Representative To Address Group Monday

Three important agricultural meetings are scheduled for Howard county farmers this week.

Monday the Texas Agricultural association is sending a representative here to discuss proposed crop legislation pending in Washington. The speaker probably will be Cliff Day, Plainview farmer and state farm leader.

Walter Robinson, president of the Howard County Agricultural association, affiliated with the state organization, will preside at the Monday session, one of a series of district meetings planned by the state association.

The parleys are for the prime purpose of explaining the proposed farm bill and for arousing the farmers to seek beneficial legislation with a united front.

At 10 A. M.

Business men as well as farmers are urged to take part in the district meeting which opens at 10 a. m. in the district courtroom.

Saturday the county agricultural association will hold its regular meeting, dealing again with farm legislation. The county planning board, in session prior to the meeting, will reconvene at its conclusion to map out a suggested 1938 farm program for Howard county.

Among matters to be taken into consideration by the board are conservation practices, bases, quotas, and methods of arriving at them, payments, soil building practices, choice between base periods or 10 year average, terracing, interplanting of peas, etc.

It was understood that the county planning board may go on record.

Believe McMillan Dam Will Hold Flood Load

CARLSBAD, N. M., June 5 (AP)—L. E. Foster, U. S. reclamation superintendent here, said tonight fear that McMillan dam might not hold off the crest of the Pecos river flood expected tomorrow, had been dispelled.

"We feel the amount of water now expected," said Foster, "is not a menace to the dam. We think now there is adequate protection."

Foster said the reservoir now can handle two and one-half feet more water before it is threatened. The dam was further fortified today with sandbags.

SLAIN JUDGE'S SON VICTIM OF ATTACK

LONGVIEW, June 5 (AP)—District Attorney Oscar B. Jones of Gregg county announced tonight that Frank O'Neil, 40, son of John O'Neil, 72, New York municipal judge who was slain mysteriously last April, was in a hospital here recovering from injuries sustained in an attack when he went to New York to attend his father's funeral. Jones said his office was working on the case. O'Neil, a Greggton, Texas, cable tool dresser, declined to make a statement regarding the reported

Court Orders Way Opened To Steel Mills

Unionists Reply Their Lines Will Not Be Broken

STRIKERS ARE DRIVEN FROM NEARBY BRIDGE

Both Sides In Labor Dispute Remain Firm In Positions

YOUNGSTOWN, O., June 5 (AP)—Republic Steel Corp. fought in two courts today to free its plants from the grip of strikers, and the steel workers organizing committee countered with an avowal "pickets will no longer permit their lines to be broken, cost what it may."

"Sinister And Bloody"

"Sinister and bloody things are in the offing in Youngstown," declared the SWOC's chairman Philo Murray as Republic obtained a court order directing pickets to permit access to its Warren and Niles plants and to give up "clubs x x x and other weapons."

In Chicago, scene of the strike fighting, said to eleven men last Sunday. Mayor Edward J. Kelly directed Republic to remove by Monday night the men encamped in its plant there. He said building and health regulations were being violated.

These developments came a few hours after police and sheriff's deputies, bearing rifles and tear gas, drove several hundred pickets from a bridge adjoining a Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co. plant here.

The pickets had gathered when attempt was made to move a car of food quickly into the company's grounds.

"I shall use every effort available to protect lives and property," Sheriff Ralph E. Elser declared even as a group of men were using torches to cut the spur tracks over which the car had been moved.

Strike-Breaking

"We feel that this action on the part of Sheriff Elser is solely that of strike-breaking," was the reply of John Mayo, SWOC director here.

"The steel union has repeatedly offered maintenance men to both Youngstown Sheet & Tube and Republic, thereby eliminating the necessity of strike-breakers within the plants."

"The pickets will no longer permit their lines to be broken, cost what it may," he advised Gov. Martin L. Davey of Ohio, whose negotiations to end the strike apparently were stated.

The SWOC pressed forward its campaign to "shut off the source of supply" by calling out iron miners in Minnesota and Michigan. Workers at two plants were idle because Republic was unable to

Nations Still Holding Out

Britain Hopeful, However, Germany, Italy Will Return To Patrol

LONDON, June 5 (AP)—Further diplomatic wooing of Germany and Italy tonight was seen necessary before the two nations may be won back into the international patrol around Spain.

Both nations responded to the British proposal outlining a basis for their return to co-operation with the European "Hands-Off Spain" committee following their withdrawal Monday after warships of both were bombed by Spanish government warplanes.

It was reported unofficially both Rome and Berlin balked at the British suggestion the commanders of the international patrol should consult before any reprisals be taken in event of a patrol vessel being attacked.

Shortly after Germany's note in reply was delivered in London, Joachim von Ribbentrop, German ambassador, flew to Berlin for discussions over the week-end with Reichschancellor Adolf Hitler.

Italy's reply was delivered to Sir Eric Drummond, British ambassador in Rome, but a copy was not received immediately in London.

Both replies were believed to have followed a similar pattern.

British officials reserved comment but it was understood strong hopes were held here Hitler and Mussolini would fall into line after further negotiations.

CANTALOUPE ROLLING TO MARKET, MAKE STOP HERE FOR A "FRESHENING" PROCESS

Freight Cars By The Thousands Re-Iced In Big Spring

Cantaloupes are at the bottom of it. Cantaloupes from the Imperial valley in California, cantaloupes from the Salt River valley in Arizona and the Pecos valley in Texas, enroute upon railroads, have started rolling eastward to market. And Big Spring's fascinating and important seasonal industry of re-icing is getting underway.

Less than two weeks ago, on May 21, the season's first cantaloupe "block" over the Texas and Pacific was "spotted" for re-icing at the Southern Ice, Inc., stilted docks which parallel a T&P siding here.

The first block had seven cars, according to Jess Hall, company manager. By the end of last week the number had passed 20 cars. The gradual increase will continue until an average daily run of 100 to 150 cars is reached by mid-June. This peak is due to hold until after the middle of July when a slow decline will commence. If the Pecos crop is good, the run may be longer.

5,000 Cars
Season's run here is usually around 5,000 cars, each requiring an average of a ton of ice. This necessitates a production of around 10,000,000 pounds of ice and quick service in getting it into the cars.

Cantaloupes are packed away in rolling ice-boxes at their points of origin. These long refrigerated cars, with cargo space in the middle and ice compartments in both ends, are routed over the Southern Pacific to El Paso where the T&P picks up about one-third of the movement and speeds them toward exciting trunk line schedules in Texarkana and St. Louis.

RE-ICING THE T&P'S FRUIT CARS

One of the working crews who work speedily to re-ice the fruit trains which stop here on their way to eastern markets. The re-icing industry, a major industrial activity in Big Spring.

So great is the demand to meet these schedules that all traffic is sidled in favor of fruit trains. Even the lordly passenger train often waits for the bustling fruit units to rattle past.

No Lost Motion
With this demand of speed up and down, little time can be lost in re-icing. Railroad officials give notice to the ice company of a block of cantaloupes moving toward Big Spring. An hour before train time the call figure, or exact arrival time, is furnished.

Immediately 300-pound cakes of ice start sliding out a trap door at the top of Southern Ice's huge storage vault here, and gain great momentum by the time they reach the end of a chute, 25 feet lower. A system of curved rails sends the long, heavy, pitchfork contrivance. If cantaloupes are ripening, certain percentages of salt are poured into the hold.

The compartment filled, crews rush to the next one. There is no time for rest, for the railroad really wants to be ready for the highball within an hour's time, no matter the length of the train. It is not unusual for crews to service cars in one minute under extreme pressure.

600 Blocks An Hour
In preparing for a re-icing run, it is possible to gear the ice output from the vault to 600 blocks an hour. But back of this picture of 10 blocks of ice sliding down the chute every minute is a romantic story of production.

It starts with freezing of the ice. Rectangular vats are filled with water, previously treated with lime and alum to break down and coagulate the insolubles. These vats are lowered into brine kept at about 12 degrees. In the center of each vat is dropped a vertical air pipe which keeps the water blown while it freezes. This further brings the impurities to the center of the block where they are drained, and the core filled for final freezing.

Under perfect schedule it is possible to freeze as high as 600 of the 300-pound blocks within a day's time. In order to accomplish this heavy production, the brine tanks are enmeshed with 15,500 lines of two-inch pipe. Through this three-mile line, which never gets further than 50 yards from the pumps, courses ammonia gas. Big pumps control pressure and keep the process going, for pressure is the secret of the freezing process.

"Three" blocks are lifted, six at a time, by a massive crane hoist and loosened in a "sitting" tub. Then they are tilted and slide away into the intermediate storage vault.

The car, or unsorted, ice, slides to the big storage space and is stacked row upon row, layer upon layer. Men lay the heavy cakes in with the precision of mechanics for a ship would avalanche millions of pounds of ice, crushing all life.

At the present time there are 22 layers of ice in the vault, or 18,176 blocks neatly stacked away. At one time a record of 19,700 blocks was stored, or a total of 5,925,000 pounds.

It is from this supply of ice that the cakes are headed for the chute which literally slices them along the loading docks. As long as the storage space is higher than the chute top, gravity takes care of power to the chute opening. When it is lower, conveyor chains hold the cakes over the hump, and down they come, clinking and crunching, to keep cantaloupes cool.

Miss Maude Prather returned Friday from a vacation trip to Sandusky, Ohio, to Detroit, Mich., where she acquired a new car.

Would Permit Industry To Fix Pay Level

Perkins Thinks Legislating Of Minimum Wage Not Advisable

WASHINGTON, June 5 (UP) — Secretary Perkins suggested today that the basic wage scale under the proposed labor standards act be set by industry.

She told a congressional committee she was "not at all convinced" of the wisdom of writing a fixed minimum wage into the measure, which would bar from interstate commerce goods produced under "oppressive" labor conditions.

She expressed preference for leaving the determination of the minimum wage in each industry to a five man board.

"The delicate task of preserving the proper economic balance between town and country," she said in a prepared statement, "should be performed administratively, I believe, rather than by the placing of specific figures respecting differentials in the bill."

The bill under consideration empowers the board to adjust wage and hour standards to geographical and industrial conditions of various businesses. It sets up, however, minimum wage and maximum hour bases to govern the country in general. The exact figures have not yet been determined.

Miss Perkins said child labor should be handled both by provisions in the bill and by the pending child labor amendment to the constitution.

Senator Johnson (D-Colo.) predicted the interest in commerce committee would act Monday on a bill incorporating the principle features of all recent child labor proposals. He said this "composite" proposal embodied all the child labor principles in the "wave and hour bill."

Leon Henderson, WPA economist and former economic adviser to NRA, told the wage and hour committee yesterday that the labor standards measure would affect industries employing an estimated 12,000,000 persons.

A maximum work week of 40 hours for these industries, he predicted, would result in re-employment of about 4,500,000 of the nation's idle.

Immigration From Mexico No Longer Serious Problem

WASHINGTON, June 5 (UP) — Several officials agreed today that the government no longer considers Mexican immigration to the United States a serious problem.

Senator Connally (D-Tex.) joined Secretary of State Hull and Secretary of Labor Perkins in expressing that opinion.

Connally said Mexican immigration, "once a serious problem to Texas, is no longer of great concern to my state."

Connally said the Mexican government's policy in recent years had been of assistance by encouraging return of many immigrants to their home country.

In opposing a bill by Senator Reynolds (D-N.C.) to impose quota restrictions on western hemisphere immigration, Secretary Hull wrote the senate immigration committee that "immigration from Mexico, though admittedly a serious problem prior to 1920, has been effectively reduced by administrative action to a point where it has averaged less than 1,000 per annum for the past three years."

Secretary Perkins, in a report on the same bill, said Mexico would have a quota of 1,78 under the measure as compared to an average of 1,251 visas issued annually during the last five years.

She expressed belief the reduction was "not impressive" and would not be worth the risk of antagonizing sentiment in Mexico.

55-Piece Organization Is Slated At Park Monday Night

Caldwell high school band, boasting 55 pieces and reputed as one of the most completely instrumental musical units in the state, will be presented in a concert at 8 p. m. at the city park.

Dan Conley, director of the Big Spring high school band, urged the citizenship to hear the open air concert. He also asked that any residents who had a room available for the visiting band boys and girls to contact him, or leave word at the chamber of commerce.

The Caldwell band was organized in 1925 with a membership of 20. Now it has 55 members and is under the direction of J. E. May Fete, Burleson county fair and South Texas exposition made it a feature attraction. Twelve cups and band equipment valued at $8,000 have been made possible through the efforts of the Caldwell Band Mothers club.

Pastures furnish a large portion of the feed for Texas dairy herds.

MONTGOMERY WARD

THE SPORTS CIRCUIT—Lubbock In Line For Next WT Tourney

By TOM BEASLEY

SHIRLEY ROBBINS, who competed in the West Texas Golf Association tournament at Brownwood, winning a fine leather golf bag as championship flight consolation prize, said Johnny Dawson, one of the ranking pros of the nation, was a wizard with the irons on the Brownwood course Dawson played some exhibition matches.

Robbins believes Lubbock is all set to entertain the next West Texas Golf Association tournament. Charles Akce, who left the local bag as championship prize, took a large delegation to the Brownwood event in the hope his city would be selected.

A number of golfers are hoping the Colonial course at Fort Worth will be selected. In the short space of fifteen months since its opening, the Colonial layout has taken its place among the outstanding courses of this section of the country and has been awarded several important sectional tournaments, including the state championship for 1938. The first course in the southwest with all bent grass greens, Colonial has created wide attention. Harry Todd won the first of last year's Colonial invitation. Colonial, however, will not be in line for the WTGA event until about 1939.

Chas. Akce experimented with bent grass here for a short time but the experts say it's costly to install and keep in good condition.

REORGANIZATION OF the softball league was postponed Friday night because a number of managers failed to attend the confab. Another session is ticketed for the 17th. The league will operate with six clubs until that time.

OLIE CORBILL, back from Houston where he completed his freshman work at Rice Institute, is really "sold" on the place. Olie is one of the best football prospects in the Southwest conference.

WAR ADMIRAL CAPTURES CLASSIC BELMONT STAKES

4 LENGTHS IN FRONT AT FINISH

NEW YORK, June 5 (AP).—War Admiral, the mighty little son of Man O'War flashed a record-smashing display of speed today to capture the classic Belmont stakes with ease and become the fourth three-year-old in, thoroughbred history to wear the prized "triple crown."

Despite an injury to his right fore-quarter at the very start, where the odds-on favorite in the seven-horse field kicked himself and nearly went down, War Admiral spurred quickly to the front, kept full command all the way.

Scenesifter, Vamoose The sensational Samuel D. Riddle colt galloped home four good lengths in front of Maxwell Howard's Scenesifter, with the long-shot Vamoose in third place, ten lengths further back, and the highly-rated Pompoon a badly whipped sixth. Pompoon which had chased War Admiral home in the Kentucky Derby and Preakness this spring, never was a contender.

Although under no pressure at any stage and not touched by Jockey Kurtzinger's whip, War Admiral equalled the American record and knocked a fifth-second off his daddy's track record by stepping the mile and a half in 2:28 3/8. Handy Mandy, carrying 109, set that mark in 1927.

A crowd of 35,000, one of the greatest in Belmont history, acclaimed the three-year-old king.

War Admiral went to the post the 9 to 10 choice but won like a 1 to 10 shot. The victory added $38,000 to the colt's rapidly mounting earnings now totaling $144,620 for this season and $159,420 for two years of racing.

WESTEX GOLF COMMITTEE

SAN ANGELO, June 5 (Spl.)—Mrs. Lea Aldwell (left) and Mrs. John Armstrong (right), both of San Angelo are serving on a committee to entertain entries in the West Texas Golf tournament, women's division, scheduled for the picturesque country club course here in June. Qualifying rounds will be held over the hazardous 18-hole layout Wednesday, June 8. Mixed foursomes will play a day earlier and golfers will be treated with a chuch wagon supper Tuesday night. An approach and putting contest will be held Wednesday afternoon and Calculta pool Wednesday night. Directors will meet Thursday to select a site for the 1938 tourney, with Amarillo and Big Spring making strong bids.

Fourteen West Texas cities have qualified for membership in the Women's West Texas Golf association. Mrs. R. E. Winger, Fort Worth, who won the title last year at Mineral Wells, will be here to defend her crown. Mrs. Anella Gendthwaite, a Curtis Cup team member, is considered the most dangerous threat to regain the title she won in 1935 at Lubbock and didn't defend last year. Other threats for the championship this year are Mrs. Reba Armstrong, El Paso; Mrs. Theron Hicks, Big Spring; Mrs. Jess Rogers and Mrs. Otto Morris, Amarillo; and Mrs. Will O'Connell and Mrs. W. K. Powell, San Angelo.

Buck Lipscomb, Krausc Tangle Tuesday Night

Youth will be pitted against age Tuesday night in Herman Fuhrer's weekly bone-twisting show. Joe Kopecky, scowling old man who knows all the answers in wrestling, meets Ace Freeman, who despite having not won a main event here this year, is one of the more popular boys on the circuit. Freeman is clean, clever and fairly fast.

BUCK LIPSCOMB

Five wrestlers remain in the elimination tourney for the right to meet world welterweight champion Jack Reynolds here this month. Promoter Herman Fuhrer said Saturday. Fuhrer named Buck Lipscomb, Victor Webber, Joe Kopecky, Sheik Ben Ali Mar-Allah and Jack Hagen as the grapplers in line for the big exhibition bout. They return after a two-week absence. Ace Abbott, a top-notch performer here several times last year, will tangle with Jack Hagen in the semi-final. Hagen, who has added a few pounds and a lot of wrestling knowledge during the last few months, tossed Terry last week with a body pin in a one-fall match. Abbott is a college-trained grappler. Buck Lipscomb, dubbed the "Hoosier Hot-Shot" by veteran Dutch Mantel of Amarillo, clashes with Tarzan Krause in the special event.

Maxie Sails, Hoping For Fall Fight

Schmeling Managers Accepts Challenge Signed By Louis. By EDNIE BRIZET. NEW YORK, June 5 (AP)—If Joe Louis beats James J. Braddock for the world's heavyweight title in Chicago June 22, the Bomber will make his first title defense against Max Schmeling here in September. This was decided today when the Schmeling board of strategy accepted a challenge signed by Louis and Julian Black, one of his managers, received a few hours before Max sailed on the liner Hamburg. Louis said that if he beats Braddock he stands ready to meet Schmeling in a 15-round battle with the title involved. The only stipulations are the bout must be held in the United States in September of this year, with Mike Jacobs as the promoter.

Schmeling at first denied he had received the challenge, but Manager Joe Jacobs and Trainer Max Machon said he was still standing and that he had agreed to terms with Jacobs a few hours earlier. "It is a matter of pride with Max," said Jacobs. "He doesn't want to announce acceptance until the challenge has appeared in the papers. He wants the American people to know that Louis came to him." Jacobs, who plans to stage the bout either in the Yankee stadium or Polo Grounds, said Max held out for and was promised 30 percent of the net gate. Louis has agreed to work for a similar amount. This is unusual since the champion usually insists on at least 42 percent, with the challenger drawing down to 12.

Schmeling also insisted on a say in who shall get the radio and motion picture rights. If Braddock retains his title in Chicago, Jacobs plans to try to pit him against Max. Just before he sailed Schmeling issued a statement, through his American Manager Joe Jacobs, in which he said he had decided not to begin any legal action as a result of his failure to get a title shot. He made this decision, he said, because boxing has already "taken it on the chin so often in the past few days."

PLAINSMEN ICE GAME IN FIFTH

LUBBOCK, June 5 (Spl)—Limited to five hits by Scrandin, the Big Spring Cosden Oilers fell before the charge of the Lubbock Hubbers here Saturday afternoon, 5-1, in the first of a two-game series.

Putting together two of their 11 hits in the initial inning to tally their first run, the Panhandle crew added another in the second and led the game in the fifth when Harold Crites doubled to drive Bettes and Thompson across. Thompson got to Stacey for a single in the first stanza and was sent around on a base blow by Ed Hambricht. Hambricht also figured in the second inning scoring when he went across on Breedlove's single.

The Oilers waded through two scoreless innings before charging in a run. Carmen Brandon was hit by a pitched ball with the bases loaded to force in Stacey but Anderson ended the threat when he threw out Martin at that bounded back to the screen. Big Spring: 001 000 000—1 5 1. Lubbock: 110 020 01x—5 11 3. Batteries—Stacey and Ramsey; Scrandin and Anderson.

Missions Have Easy Time With Steers

Mills Has Good Working Margin As San Antonio Pounds Dallas, 8-1. SAN ANTONIO, June 5 (AP)—The Dallas Steers left 15 men stranded here tonight as the San Antonio Missions took the series opener, 8 to 1. Lefty Howard Mills of San Antonio was wild, walking eight men, and along with seven Dallas hits and three Mission errors, was forced to pitch his way out of a number of holes.

The Missions pounded out a dozen hits, including home runs by Sam Harshaney and Stanley Keyes and four doubles, to give Mills a good working margin. Dallas: 000 000 100—1. San Antonio: 300 301 20x—8. Squad To Compete In Queen's Club Tournament Next Saturday. NEW YORK, June 5 (AP)—America's five-man Davis cup team, led by non-playing Captain Walter L. Pate, sailed today at the second stage of its campaign to regain the historic trophy.

The team led by Pate, one of the youngest in American Davis cup history, was composed of Don Budge, first ranking player of America, his doubles partner, Gene Mako; Bryan (Bitsy) Grant of Atlanta; Frank Parker, former Milwaukee boy who lives in New York; and Wayne Sabin, a last-minute addition to the squad.

The squad is due to reach Plymouth, England, a week from today. The players will compete in the Queen's club tournament at London beginning June 14 and in the All-England championships at Wimbledon a week later before resuming Davis cup competition.

The inter-zone final, in which the Americans expect to face Germany, will be played July 17, 19 and 20 and the challenge round against England July 24, 26 and 27.

BEAUMONT, June 5 (AP)—Manager Al Vincent's Exporters routed little Jackie Reid of the Fort Worth Cats here this afternoon for the first time this season, but old Dick Whitworth came to the rubber and baffled the Exporters in the late innings while the Panthers came from behind to win the opening game of the series, 8 to 7. BETTY JAMESON, PATTY BERG REACH TRANS-MISS FINALS

MISS MILEY OUSTED IN SEMI-FINAL

BY FELIX R. McKNIGHT
SAN ANTONIO, Texas, June 5 (AP).—Bashful, 18-year-old Betty Jameson plowed under two Curtis Cup stars, one the defending titleholder, today and marched into the finals of the women's Trans-Mississippi golf tournament with her 'teen age pal, Patty Berg.

Mechanically the Texas champion smothered Miss Marion Miley of Lexington, Ky., champion the last two years, in a semi-final match, 5 and 3, after a foot put, she triumphed over Mrs. Opal S. Hill, Kansas City veteran and four times winner of the "Trans" title.

36-Hole Final
Tomorrow the two high school seniors go the 36-hole route for the crown topped from Miss Miley's head by the husky Texan.

Miss Jameson, who only six weeks ago walloped still another Curtis Cup team member, Mrs. Frank Goldthwaite of Fort Worth, in the finals of the Texas championship, was even women's par in her parade to the finals today.

Miss Jameson's conquest of Miss Miley turned into a rout after they left the first green. Winner of the first hole with a par four when she buried a 3-foot putt, she played without error and matched Mrs. Miley's par in winning six of the first seven holes.

Miss Miley won a hole back at the eighth when she laid Miss Jameson a stymie and they turned the nine with Miss Jameson five up. At the 181 yard par three tenth Miss Miley hooked her tee shot out of bounds and went six down again.

The Kentucky youngster, far off her game, started a rally when she six down and six to play, winning the 452-yard thirteenth with a birdie four and picking up the fourteenth with a par. Miss Jameson, however, squelched the threat by slamming in a 15-footer for a birdie three at the fifteenth.

Earlier Miss Jameson had won a see-saw battle from Mrs. Hill at the home hole after leading from the eighth tee. One down after the seventeenth hole, Miss Jameson birdied seven and eight and nursed her lead through the finish.

Cards of the Jameson-Miley match:
Far out 455 443 505-35
Jameson out 444 443 504-37
Miley out 555 454 644-43
Far in 355 534 546-40-78
Jameson in 454 653
Miley in 554 444

Miss Miley played great golf in her morning victory over Mrs. Lucille Robinson Mann of Milwaukee, turning in a 3 and 2 win that smashed an old jinx. Mrs. Mann had defeated Miss Miley in their last four starts and today's lacing was the first she had received from the Kentucky star.

Miss Berg, who three weeks ago was playing golf in a chilly Minnesota weather, was almost overcome by the heat today before she eliminated Mrs. Goldthwaite in her semi-final match 3 and 2.

The Minneapolis red-head, around the first nine in 40 to grab a three-hole lead from Mrs. Goldthwaite, saw it melt to two holes when she tangled with a tree at the par five twelfth and came off with an eight. Mrs. Goldthwaite whittled Miss Berg's lead down to one hole at the 160-yard fourteenth with a perfect par three while Patty was three-putting.

At the fifteenth, however, Patty hit a booming wood, pitched to the green and two-putted for a winning par four while Mrs. Goldthwaite in constant trouble on the greens, was carding three more putts. A birdie four at the sixteenth ended the match.

Their cards:
Berg out 446 443 555-40
G'thwaite out 546 534 556-43
Berg in 458 644 4
G'thwaite in 366 635 5

Patty had a scare in her morning match, charging in on the last three holes to beat Mrs. Dan Chandler of Dallas, former Old Mexico champion, 2 and 1. Mrs. Chandler held a one hole lead when they walked to the fifteenth tee but Patty fired two pars and a birdie to win the next three holes.

Mrs. Goldthwaite waded into the semi-finals with a crushing 7 and 5 triumph over Mrs. E. H. Hury of San Antonio, a long hitting player competing in her first major tournament.

Earlier Miss Jameson had won a see-saw battle from Mrs. Hill at the home hole after leading from the eighth tee. One down after the seventeenth hole, Miss Jameson birdied seven and eight and nursed

Won't Apologize

"Apologize? Not me," Dixie Dean shouted as this picture was taken in New York after he was indefinitely suspended by Ford Frick, president of the National League. At a meeting with Frick, Dean denied making statements attributed and insisted he had nothing to apologize for. The suspension was finally lifted.

Dizzy Scores 7th Victory Of The Season

Pitches Cards To 3-1 Win Over Phillies; Allows Six Hits

PHILADELPHIA, June 5 (AP)—Dixie Dean, suspended for three days for "popping off," returned to action today and, although he struck out three times, pitched the St. Louis Cardinals to a 3 to 1 victory over the Phillies. It was his seventh victory of the season against four defeats.

Dixie complained of a sore arm before the game, but it must have been his left one because he yielded only six hits, issued only one base on balls and struck out seven in the sixth when Scharen and Chuck Klein doubled with only one out. Dixie complained of the heat and called time while he sat down on the pitcher's mound to cool off.

Guldahl And Sneed Out-Fire Henry Picard, Johnny Revolva

TOLEDO, O., June 5 (AP)—Veteran Tommy Armour tossed a pair of eagles and four birdies at Horton Smith and Harry Cooper today as he and Jimmy Thomson knocked "Lighthouse" Harry and the "Joplin Ghost" out of the lead in the Inverness best ball match play tournament.

Armour and Thomson with a plus five rating, and Cooper-Smith with plus three.

Ralph Guldahl and Sam Sneed shot their way into a tie for the lead by turning in a one up victory over Henry Picard and Johnny Revolva, winners of the meet two years ago.

Paul Runyon and Ky Laffoon cracked par by nine strokes as they shot themselves back into the tournament fight with a four-up victory over Denny Shute, P.G.A. champion, and Lawson Little, the former grand slam amateur titleholder of America and England.

Ray Mangrum and Jimmy Hines

SCHULTE INJURED BY PITCHED BALL

NEW YORK, June 5 (AP)—Fred Schulte, Pittsburgh Pirates utility outfielder, was injured by a pitched ball in today's game with the Giants, but physicians said tonight X-ray examinations showed no sign of a fracture.

One of Rookie Cliff Melton's snags hit Schulte high on the head and knocked him unconscious in the eighth inning of the game. He was carried to the clubhouse, where he regained consciousness, and afterward was taken to Polytechnic hospital.

CHAMP IN HAPPY FRAME OF MIND

GRAND BEACH, Mich., June 5 (AP)—Heavyweight Champion Jim Braddock started celebrating today what he says will be the happiest birthday anniversary of his life.

The "Cinderella man of boxing," who only a few years ago was a number on the New Jersey roller rinks, will be 31 years old Monday, record books which say he will be 32 notwithstanding.

Before him—on the night of June 22 at Chicago—is a million-dollar "gate" bout with Joe Louis. And next fall, take it from him he'll be battling none other than Max Baer for another piece of real money.

The titleholder, who says quietly he is "in 100 per cent better shape now than when I met Max Baer two years ago," was in a happy mood today when he cut loose against five sparrows, using his left almost continually. The champion gave Max Baer of Dallas a pummeling for two rounds.

The record books say the champion will be 32 Monday. Manager Gould said when Braddock was 29 he intentionally added a year to his age to permit him to fight 10 round bouts in New York, which requires boxers going that distance to be 21 or more.

The third starter, William Ray of the New York Curb Exchange was outdistanced.

Possibility Of 20,000 Bale Crop In Howard Co. Foreseen

Acre Figures Compiled By Farm Agent

Cotton Conditions Now Much Better Than Same Time Last Year

Based on current conditions, Howard county can reasonably expect at least a 20,400 bale cotton crop this year.

Last year the county produced 17,800 bales of cotton with sub-normal weather conditions.

If conditions continue to be favorable, a maximum of 21,250 bales might be expected with a possibility that rains the first of July and in the middle of August might run the production figure even higher.

Figures of the county agent's office show that farms intending to cooperate in the federal soil conservation and building program will plant 65,500 acres to cotton out of a cotton base of 85,012. Farms not under work sheets are estimated to be considering planting three-fourths of the acreage, or 18,000 acres to cotton, giving the county an apparent cotton acreage of 85,000 for the season.

Conditions Better

Basic yield per acre, based on long time averages, is 114 pounds. Conditions now are considered generally to be at least 10 per cent more favorable than at the same time a year ago. This true, a yield of around 120 lint pounds to the acre might be expected. Timely rains in July and August could further increase prospects to 125 pounds per acre.

June estimates on the cotton crop last year were 500 bales long, or two per cent more than the county actually harvested.

Likewise, feed prospects are improved over a year ago and production is due for a gain with 45,368 acres earmarked for that purpose. In addition, 27,672 acres have been set aside by farm program co-operators for soil conserving purposes.

84 Per Cent In Program

Despite the number of work sheets filed with the county agent is down from last year, 84 per cent of the county's crop land is under the program.

This month the county is due to harvest its largest small grain crop on record. With an estimated 8,000 acres planted to wheat, oats, barley and rye. A survey of many of the grain patches has indicated an average yield of 10 bushels to the acre, leaving the yield for the county around 8,000 bushels.

June may also see the beginning of a critical period for cotton crops. While wet weather is conducive to growth, it is also favorable to insect development. Already the cotton flea, early menace, is making his appearance in bountiful numbers on horse mint, evening primrose (butercup), and goat weed, hiding his time when young cotton will be ready for his attack. And it follows as night follows

GAS SHOWS ENCOUNTERED IN GAINES CO. WILDCAT

Carter-Continental-Wasson Test Running High; Edwards Showing A Feature

SAN ANGELO, June 5.—Encountering of gas in several horizons between 4,648 and 4,743 feet in Carter-Continental No. 1 A. L. Wasson, northern Glascock county wildcat, running high structurally, and a baller-an-hour showing of high gravity, sweet oil from the Ordovician at 3,920-22 feet in Dan Auld and others' No. 1 Rigby, northeastern Edwards county wildcat, later drowned out by water, attracted probably most attention in West Texas oil operations this week.

Oil States Exploration Co. No. 1 M. L. Johnson, 1-2 miles west of Grandfalls production in southern Ward county, filled 1,000 feet with oil in drilling to 2,088 feet in lime shells, and L. B. Ross, Frank Downey and others' No. 1 Blair, one mile southwest of the Grandfalls pool, had an increase in oil from 890 to 1,700 feet in deepening from 2,121 to 2,149 feet. Continental No. 1-A Wight, one mile east of the Goldsmith pool proper, struck an estimated one million cubic feet of gas daily in drilling to 3,964 feet.

Completions

Completed producers included 16 in Ward county rating 14,246 barrels daily, 12 in Ector county for 8,884 barrels daily, 12 in Winkler county for 6,226 barrels daily, six in Upton for 2,619 barrels and three in Glascock county for 2,850 barrels daily. Completions of producers and dry holes numbered 86 in 10 counties; 53 locations were listed in 10 counties.

Proof of the enormous reserve in the famous Yates field in Pecos county, now in its eleventh year, was furnished by a flow of 100 barrels of oil in five minutes by Ohio No. 40-B Yates, bottomed at 1,374 feet, and a 400-barrel flow in 25 minutes by Ohio No. 12-D Yates, 1,272 feet fast. Both wells were installing additional flow lines for gauging. No. 40-B Yates is in section 61, No. 12-D in section 62, both in block I, I&GN Ry. Co. survey.

Carter-Continental No. 1 A. L. Wasson in Gaines county, 14 miles northwest of the Seminole pool, had shown no oil in drilling to 4,811 feet in lime. Horizons from which it was credited with showing gas through rotary fluid were 4,748-50, from 4,665-70, from 4,675-80, from 4,695 to 4,700 and from 4,732-43 feet. It has an elevation of 5,549 feet and logged the first brown lime stringer from 3,860-70 feet. Location is 2,310 feet from the south line and 330 feet from the west line of section 48-A&P.

Running Casing

Continental No. 1 Dr. E. H. Jones, nine miles west and three miles south of the Yates field, was being drilled to a wet season means greater chances for chronic leaf worm infestation. So farmers have something else to worry about besides the weather before the current crop is made.

south of No. 1 Wasson and in the northeast quarter of section 22-A7-pal, topped the anhydrite at 2,059 feet, 1,591 feet above sea level, and ran 9 5/8-inch casing at 2,120 feet. Shell No. 1 Amerada-Humble, east offset to the Seminole discovery and 690 feet out of the northeast corner of section 220-G-WTRR, was killed after flowing 64 barrels of fluid, 5 per cent basic sediment and no water, with 6,259, 654 cubic feet of gas in 24 hours. It reached to the bottom, 5,060 feet, and was to run a liner in an effort to shut off the gas.

Amerada No. 1 A. H. Fasken, 4-1/2 miles southeast of the Seminole pool and 690 feet out of the northwest corner of section 160-G-WTRR, topped the Yates sand at 3,237 feet, 46 feet above sea level and 216 feet lower than in the Seminole pool opener, according to one correlation. Nine inch pipe was run at 3,350.

Test In Lime

Wentz No. 1 Paul Daimont, two miles southwest of Landreth No. 1 W. H. Kirk, first oil producer in Gaines county eight miles south of the town of Seminole, had drilled past 4,538 feet in lime, reported topped at 4,200 feet, 898 feet below sea level. Sloan & Bleivins No. 1 W. W. Barber, southwestern Gaines wildcat, in the northeast quarter of section 18-A25-pal, had drilled 2,025 feet in anhydrite and redrock. Top of the salt was picked at 1,660 feet, 1,813 feet above sea level.

Water rose in Hugh Corrigan and others' No. 1 Lawright, southeastern Terry county wildcat, after plugs were drilled from 5 1/2-inch casing at 4,993 feet, and recementing was planned. The test showed oil from 5,112 to 5,123 feet, the total depth, and gas in the last 50 feet of drilling. It is 690 feet out of the northeast corner of section 1-037-pal.

A short distance northwest of the Bennett pool in southeastern Yoakum county, Texas-Pacific No. 2 Bennett, in the northwest corner of section 678-D-John H. Gibson, was waiting for cemented 7-inch casing to set at 4,639 feet in lime; Honolulu No. 1 Bennett, in the northeast corner of section 67-7, had drilled past 1,900 feet in redrock.

Yoakum Wildcat

Bahan, Rhoads & Fitzpatrick No. 1 L. B. Shook estate, central northern Yoakum wildcat, in the center of the northeast quarter of section 420-D-John H. Gibson, was credited with topping the brown lime at 4,600 feet, 839 feet below sea level and 39 feet lower than in the same operators' No. 1 Hennard, a failure, three miles to the northeast. It drilled ahead below 4,615. Magnolia No. 1 Taylor, northeastern Yoakum wildcat, in the northeast corner of section 201-D-John H. Gibson, was rigging up standard tools, bottomed at 4,024 feet in anhydrite, where it cemented 10-inch casing.

Bond & Harrison No. 1 Wm. Cameron & Co., eastern Cochran county wildcat, struck sulphur water from 4,815-25 feet, indicating failure, and had gradual increases as it drilled to 4,880 feet in lime. It is in the northeast corner of labor 1, league 55, Greer county school land, 14 miles north and slightly east of Honolulu and Cascade No. 1 Duggan, Cochran county's lone producer and the farthest north in the West Texas Permian basin.

Oil Strains

Illinois and Maracabo No. 1 Yellow House Land Co., southeastern Bailey county wildcat and the Basin's farthest north drilling test, showed oil stains in samples from 4,440-50 feet and cemented 7-inch casing at 4,497 feet preparatory to standardizing. It is in the northeast corner of labor 4, league 700, Capitol Syndicate lands.

Standard of Texas No. 1 Gray, half-mile west of production on the Boner land in the Fuhrman pool in southern Andrews county, pumped 216 barrels of oil in 24 hours at 4,480 feet following acid treatment and shooting. It is in the northeast quarter of section 21-A42-pal. Shell No. 1 King, one mile west extension to the north end of the Fuhrman pool, pumped 308 barrels of oil and 107 barrels of water in 24 hours at 4,486 feet after acidizing. It is in the southeast corner of section 10-A24-pal.

Hoss, Downey and others No. 1 Blair in southern Ward county which the week before filled 300 feet with oil in 20 hours from 2,121-21 feet drilled broken pay to 2,132 feet and had a further increase from 2,145 to 2,148, where it shut down to run 6-inch casing to 1,950. There was 1,700 feet of 38 gravity oil in the hole. The test is in the west quarter of section 28-34-H&T.C.

Gets Showings

Oil States Exploration Co. No. 1 M. L. Johnson, in the same general area and in the southwest part of section 9-32-H&T.C. showed oil and gas at intervals between 2,003 and 2,087 feet and drilled ahead at 2,088 in lime shells with 1,000 feet of oil in the hole.

Basin Oil Properties, Inc. (R. H. Henderson and others) No. 1 A. J. Herrington, opening a new producing spot in Upton county 2 1/2 miles north of the McCreary field, was completed at 2,828 feet, pumping 528 barrels of pipe line oil daily. Pay topped at 2,815 feet with 4,000 gallons of acid. The well is 650 feet from the south line and 1,050 feet from the east line of section 4-3 1-2-C&S&D-RING.

Dan Auld of Kerrville and others' No. 1 Rigby in Edwards county, 15 miles northeast of Rocksprings, yielded one barrel of oil hourly from 3,920-22 feet with no gas or water, but struck hot water from 3,943-50 feet amounting to 4 1/2 barrels in four hours. Testing was under way. The Ellenburger, lower Ordovician, which produces in West Texas only in the Big Lake field in Reagan county and more recently in the Sand Hills district in western Crane county, was topped at 3,874 feet, 1,583 feet below sea level, several hundred feet higher than in Pleasant No. 1 Hatch, a failure, nine miles to the southeast. No. 1 Rigby is in the northeast quarter of section 16-K-GC&SF.

New Wildcats Are Started In Jones Co.

Completion In That Area Gauges 939 Barrels In Ten-Hour Test

ABILENE, June 5.—Three new starters for Jones county this week, completion of one of the largest wells in recent months in the Hawley field and announcement of location for the fourth attempt at finding Ordovician production in the DeLafosse ranch in Shackelford county held interest among oil men here this week.

Two wildcats eight and 10 miles north of Abilene were spudded by Thomas D. Humphrey of Dallas while materials were moved in for spudding of another south of Anson by Owens-Snebold Oil corporation of Fort Worth.

Ungren & Frazier of Abilene completed a quarter-mile extension for Lower Hope lime production, deepest pay in the Hawley field, with the No. 4-A Henry Dorsey estate flowing naturally for a potential rating of 2,254 barrels daily at 2,192-95 feet. It gauged 939 barrels in 10 hours on a railroad commission seat. Location is 50 feet from the Nos. 2-A and 3-A Dorsey. In the southeast corner of the west half of section 6-Bueno survey 197, both of which produce from shallower pays.

Seek Ellenberger

Humble Oil and Refining company No. 1 DeLafosse, in eastern Shackelford county, will be the fourth attempt in that vicinity to reach production from the Ellenberger lime at 4,450 feet. The first test drilled by Pitzer & West, Breckenridge operators, was estimated at 400 barrels daily after it headed from the deep zone in 1934. It was later abandoned after a premature explosion of nitro 1,000 feet off bottom junked casing.

Location for the rotary project, contracted by Ungren & Frazier, is 827 feet southeast of the Humble-Pitzer & West No. 3 DeLafosse, and is 660 feet from the west and 330 feet from the south lines of the north half of section 1550-TE&L survey, 12 miles east of Albany. Thomas D. Humphrey No. 1 F. D. Moore, a mile northeast of Hodges, was spudded this week 220 feet from the south and east lines of section 3-16-T&P survey.

Test Spudded

Humphrey No. 1-A Radford estate, a mile east of an abandoned test drilled by the operator last year and two and a quarter miles west of the Sayles field, was spudded 2,420 feet from the south and 220 feet from the west lines of section 38-16-T&P survey.

Owens-Snebold Oil corporation No. 1 J. L. Herndon, four miles south of Anson, is a scheduled 2,750-foot wildcat located 330 feet from the north and west lines of the south half of section 16-2-SPRR survey.

Texas Inland Oil & Gas company No. 1 R. G. Rowell, six miles east of Anson, is a new wildcat location east of an abandoned test, to be 220 feet from the north and east lines of the southwest quarter of section 37-OAL survey. It will drill to 2,350 feet.

Merry Brothers & Perini and Forest Development corporation of Abilene spudded the third test west from the south lines of the deepest commercial pay, the Swastika. It is northeast of the lone White fee, and is 380 feet from the north and 990 feet from the west lines of the northwest quarter of section 6-15-T&P.

Extensive lease blocking was reported from the east and south lines of section 28-30-1a-T&P. Eastland Oil Co. has let contract for another offset in section 27. Moore Bros. will spud their No. 3 test (second well) 990 feet from the north and 330 feet from the east lines of section 23-30-1a, T&P, as soon as the laying of a four-inch line from the main Shell line four and a half miles away has been completed. The line was due to be finished Saturday.

Other Activities

Continental No. 13 Clay, section 139-29, W&NW, deepening test in the eastern portion of the Howard-Glascock pool, was cleaning out at 3,195 feet. It is bottomed at 3,242 feet.

Continental No. 7 Kloh, section 5-32-2a, T&P, was fishing for baller at 2,240 feet. The company's recently spudded No. 8 Eason, section 6-32-2a, T&P, was drilling at 193 feet in redbeds.

Another of Continental's shallow sand wells was nearing completion depth with 5 1/2-inch casing run to 1,225 feet. It is the No. 34 Settles. Continental No. 35-S Settles, section 129-29, W&NW, was waiting on cement to set after 5 5/8-inch casing was set at 156 in redbeds.

Test Has Trouble

Trouble followed the Moore Bros. No. 1 Mabey Quinn, one of three exploration tests by the company in the Harding area seven miles southwest of Big Spring. Caving builders held crews to about 40 feet of hole during the week. It is bottomed at 540 feet. The corporation's No. 1 J. H. Harding, section 18-35-1a, T&P, ran a 5 5/8-inch casing string Friday.

Hooked Fish Hooks Man

ST. LOUIS (UP)—"Fish hooks man!" That's the story of George Everett, 19, of Valley Park, Mo. Everett jerked his fishing pole out of the Meramec river and a big catfish came to the surface. There the hook became dislodged from the fish's mouth, flew up and gashed Everett's nose.

Shepherders Aid Fliers

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore. (UP)—The art of shepherding, old as it is, occasionally can be of benefit to the newer art of flying. Recently two airplanes circled helplessly over the Klamath Falls airport, unable to land. Shepherders fixed that they chased a flock of sheep off the runway so the hapless fliers could return to earth.

St. Louis Landmark Razed

ST. LOUIS (UP)—Anschutz Mission Inn, successor to the famous Century-old Welzeneker's Wine Garden, went under the wrecker's hammer here to make way for a parking lot and eventually a commercial building. Included in the property was the 100-year-old Welzeneker mansion.

Flowers and lawn plants should be watered thoroughly enough that the water will reach their roots.

Tiny Island Disappears, Science Loses Site To Watch Long Total Eclipse Of The Sun On June 8

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE (Associated Press Science Editor)
NEW YORK, June 4 (AP)—A little island named Sarah Ann, which some maps show in the mid-Pacific ocean, has disappeared and with her has gone glimmering the chances of astronomers to see the greatest show in 120 years, a total eclipse of the sun which on June 8 will last seven minutes and four seconds.

WHERE SUN WILL STOP SHINING Because the island of Sarah Ann disappeared—or never existed—scientists had a hard time deciding where to view the June 8 eclipse. Circles show sites of major expeditions. The location of Sarah Ann is that given by Keith Johnson's Royal Atlas of 1866.

In these many centuries there has been no eclipse so long. Most of them last about two minutes. This great duration comes only at noon in mid-Pacific where there is no land, unless someone can find Sarah Ann. Maybe Sarah Ann sank. Maybe she was just a seaman's geographical mistake. Charles H. Smiley in Popular Astronomy declares Sarah Ann is on the map, and in the right spot. But the astronomers have given up hope for her. The main observing will be done at points where the eclipse lasts only three and a half to four minutes. One of these places is a coral island 5,000 miles southwest of San Francisco. The other is mountains 14,000 feet high on the coast of Peru.

Coast Speedy Shadow
The shadow starts south of the equator near the Fiji Islands at sunrise. It is a black spot about 153 miles in diameter. It moves in an arch across the Pacific ocean, travelling 80 miles in three hours and 20 minutes to hit the coast of Peru just before sunset. The arch bends upward across the equator and below again.

The shadow speeds at an average rate of 44 miles a minute. But early in the day and again late in the afternoon it travels much faster, because of the slanting angle at which it hits the earth.

At noon when the shadow is directly overhead it moves only 21 miles a minute. That is one reason why the eclipse lasts so long at the maining post called Sarah Ann.

Watch From Ship Deck
One two-man scientific expedition on the decks of a freighter will try to be at this mid point at noon on June 8. The members are Dr. John I. Stewart, Princeton astronomer, and James Stokley, assistant director of Franklin Institute, Philadelphia. A rolling deck is unsuited to precise astronomical work. But these two ex-ped to measure the changing brightness of light and to take colored photos.

The largest expedition hopes to see the eclipse at 8:04 a. m. from Canton Island in the south Pacific. On this island it is estimated the odds are six to ten there will be no obscuring clouds. The National Geographic Society and the U. S. Navy are conducting this expedition.

On the coast of Peru the eclipse will strike when the sun is eight degrees above the horizon and at a time of year when fog banks generally lie 3,000 feet high.

3 Expeditions In Peru
By climbing the mountains back of the Peruvian coast three astronomical expeditions hope to see over the fog. At 14,000 feet their chances of success are estimated at eight in ten. The expeditions are the Hayden Planetarium of the American Museum of Natural History—Grace Line, Brown University, and a Japanese party.

The path of partial eclipse will be 2,000 miles wide. With smoked glasses spectators in the United States should be able to see this as a little black neck in the edge of the sun, in a line that runs from California to the southern half of Florida. Points in this line are Eureka, Calif.; Reno, Nevada; Amarillo, Texas; Shreveport, on maternal and child health. They will deal with facts concerning the death of 6,000 mothers in Texas in the past 10 years during the child bearing period, and 31,000 deaths during early infancy.

The exhibits, which more than 14,000 people have seen in 33 Texas towns, will be staged at the city library from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. Monday and Tuesday, it was announced. Miss Ruth Moore, public health nurse, will be in charge of the exhibit which is composed of charts, improvised baby equipment, posters on prenatal care, mothers clothes, layette, miniature settings, and pamphlets on maternal and child care.

Opening session of the meeting will convene at 9 a. m. Monday with physicians in attendance from an area extending from Anson through Odessa. Central and local committees connected with the course consist of Dr. C. E. Adams, Dr. John P. Gibson, and Dr. Earl Sellers, all of Abilene, and Dr. Charles K. Bivings, Dr. P. W. Malone, and Dr. M. H. Bennett, all of Big Spring.

ord strongly in favor of interplanting of peas and the maintenance of benefit payments for terrace and contour programs as soil conserving and building practices. Many have felt keenly about the abolition of benefit payments on interplanted peas, since few have cared to devote solid acreage to the legumes.

The ambitious terracing program undertaken here last year was understood to be the beginning of a long range program, hence the belief that the board will suggest benefit payments for the work experts say is needed on a large majority of Howard county farms.

residuary estate was left in trust to Mrs. De Cuevas and her children. The three trustees, John D. Rockefeller, Jr., Bertram Cutler, a corporation director, and Thomas M. Debevoise, attorney, were empowered in their discretion to pay the income to Mrs. De Cuevas, to her children, or to the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research.

On the death of Mrs. De Cuevas the trust is to be divided among her descendants and in turn, passed on in principal to her grandchildren, with the proviso that if there are no descendants it is to revert to the Rockefeller Institute.

Internal revenue officials in Washington estimated the maximum taxes on the estate, if it amounts to $25,000,000, would be $14,112,000. A little less than one-third, or about $4,350,000 of this, would go to New York state.

The Week

soaking rains have changed the commercial atmosphere and a more even keel may be expected during June.

Merchants who signed an instrument calling for better summer working hours for employees are to be commended for supporting a sensible move. Eight hours a day is commonly accepted by industry as a reasonable work period. Most organized labor demands overtime for work in excess of eight hours. Clerks are entitled to a similar schedule, and purchasers should cooperate in the new closing schedules, set for 5:30 p. m. except on Saturdays, to insure clerical help getting a square summer deal.

Here today and gone tomorrow—such is bus service in Big Spring. After about five days of trial, and without intimation that all was not well, the management of the company pulled stakes and left the city's franchise flat as a fritter. City officials weren't pleased. They said that the bus had not been given a fair trial, for the routes were not properly advertised, that lack of advertising had produced an unusually large number of telephone calls to the city and press, neither of which had any connection with the service. The city may win its point and get another trial.

Add to the city's list of important district offices that of the state liquor control board. It was announced Friday that the temporary headquarters here had been made permanent. The more of these district, state, federal and even private offices the city gets, the more it comes to be considered as a sort of sub-capital for this portion of the state.

Which brings to mind the hospital question. At a meeting last Monday to discuss the city's plan for securing location of the West Texas hospital for insane, an encouraging spirit of determination to make a spirited bid for the unit came to light. Arguments were presented to show that Big Spring can amply meet every condition. Location of the hospital here would be a great thing for Big Spring even if land must be acquired for the site. Where else could Big Spring reap a return of at least $100,000 a year on an investment of a very few thousand dollars?

This is another one of those weeks of important meetings. Monday a district agricultural meeting is slated here. The same day a district conference on pediatric and obstetrics will open. Monday evening the conference will hold a public meeting. Wednesday the highway patrol safety lane opens a two day stand here. Saturday the county agricultural association has two sessions. And during the week the chamber of commerce will be making a membership drive.

An interesting industry, much larger than the average person thinks, is getting into full swing now. It is the rearing of cantaloupe movements through here. It has a pretty nice payroll and represents local industry at its producing best. More small factories might add more meaning to the industrial source of income about which Big Spring loves to talk.

Someone asks why the state highway department is so particular about holding up a work order on the widening of Third street and the paving of highway No. 1 from east of Big Spring to the west county line. The order, it was announced would be withheld until gasoline pumps and obstructions were removed from the roadway. A promise of removal would not do. And the reason is that the department has been left holding the bag, so to speak, for as federal appropriations are concerned, on the No. 9 north job out of here because pumps that were to be moved are still in the roadway. The department wants to get the bird in hand before it starts to eat.

VICAR WHO DEFIED CHURCH GETS CROWD

DARLINGTON, Eng., June 5 (AP)—Back home from France, where he married the Duke and Duchess of Windsor Thursday, the Rev. R. Anderson Jardine officiated today at the wedding of a humble coach painter and his Derbyshire fiancée. Police were needed to control the crowd which jammed St. Paul's church in George Gamble and Doris Haylett united in marriage by the "poor man's parson" who defied Church of England leaders to bless the wedding of his former king.

ASKS ABOUT DEATH

Reports from Big Spring of the death, from a bolt of lightning northwest of here Friday, of 15-year-old Charlene Hayes caused apprehension on the part of I. F. Tarkenton, Brownwood. Unable to learn the victim's name, he feared it was his daughter, Oneta Farbis, missing from home. Police allayed his fears after he had wired here.

Grain Harvest Soon To Start

14 Or More Combines To Be Kept Busy In The County

Harvesting of the county's bumper small grain crop will begin here this week.

J. S. Garlington, largest small grain producer in the county, is to start harvesting on a 500-acre wheat patch in the Vincent area. He looked for considerably less than 10 bushels on the tract, saying that it was "the worst of my crop."

He has 70 acres near Luther, 600 of wheat and barley at Bisco and an additional 200 acres also in that community. Garlington said he anticipated total yields of around 10,000 bushels.

Hopeful of getting a dollar for his wheat, Garlington said that first offers on the grain had been for 90 cents. His son, Don, has a large small grain acreage this year. The two have a field near Bisco in which a portion, in a flat, looks about 20 to 25 bushels to the acre.

W. P. Edwards has some wheat which looks almost as good and two 80-acre patches of oats which look fully as good. One of the oat fields was cut last week and will be baled into hay.

Some 14 to 16 combines in the county will be kept busy for the next three weeks harvesting what many believe will be an 80,000 bushel small grain crop.

G. B. Petty and Quinn Ingram Friday were added to the growing list of combine owners in Howard county.

The small grain crop in this area is expected to prove very profitable this season since most growers have virtually broken even by winter grazing.

MEETINGS FOR 4-H CLUB BOYS SLATED

Seven 4-H club boys meetings are scheduled for as many communities in Howard county this week, County Agent O. P. Griffin said Saturday.

GALVESTON, June 5 (AP)—Galveston handed the Oklahoma City Indians a ball game on a silver platter in the ninth inning here tonight, then snatched it back with a four-run rally in the last half of the inning to gain a thrilling 4-3 victory.

The Indians, held to a lone single by Dutch Schesler and Rubba Jonnard, scored three times in the ninth on two walks, a hit batsman, an error and a passed ball. Pinch Hitter Peck Hamel's single with the bases filled capped a Galveston rally that more than matched the Indians' spree.

Catholics To Answer Nazis

Church Leaders In Germany Will Have Public Replies Today

BERLIN, June 5 (AP)—German Catholicism, roused to action by the Nazi regime's charges of widespread immorality among its priesthood and laity, fought back tonight.

The church leaders of the Berlin diocese sent a statement to their priests, with instructions that they read from their pulpits tomorrow, to answer Propaganda Minister Paul Joseph Goebbels' assertion the present wave of Catholic immorality trials is the worst in history.

It declared there are 26,585 priests in Germany, and only 58 are involved in the charges of immorality, less than one-fourth of one per cent.

The contents of the statement were not disclosed to the general public tonight and churchmen expected a record attendance of the faithful, anxious to hear their leaders break a silence they have maintained since Goebbels' speech May 28.

Goebbels' tirade was in reply to the remark of George Cardinal Mundelein of Chicago that Reichsfuehrer Hitler was "an Austrian paper-hanger and a poor one at that" and that he and his "crooked minister of propaganda" were spreading false tales of German Catholics.

THREE DRAW PERFECT BRIDGE HANDS, ONLY ONE GETS TO BID

LOS ANGELES, June 5 (AP)—Three bridge players said they drew perfect hands today and they didn't even get to bid.

The reason was that Mrs. S. E. Rector, the dealer, drew 13 spades and immediately bid a grand slam. "Picking up that all-spade hand was the most exciting thing that ever happened in all my life," said Mrs. Rector.

But imagine the disappointment of Mrs. Dora Davis and Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Henderson, who also claimed 13 cards of one suit and didn't get a bid. Henderson had the consolation, however, of being Mrs. Rector's partner and sharing the grand slam score.

AL AND DUCE HAVE A TALK, END 50-50

ROME, June 5 (AP)—Al Smith talked to Benito Mussolini today but what they said is tentatively stored away under Al's brown derby.

The former governor of New York came from Florence to see Il Duce. They talked in English for 15 minutes.

"We banded it off fifty-fifty," Al said later. "I interviewed him half the time and he interviewed me half the time. We each had a batting average of 500."

But what Al said to Benito and vice versa is still pretty much of a secret.

"I'm going to write about that myself," Smith said.

NOETSCH, Austria, June 5 (AP)—The Duke of Windsor and his bride found the peace and privacy for which he asked when they were married Thursday.

They settled down to domestic life in old Wasserleuburg castle in southern Austria's Dobratsch mountains.

There were no visitors. Birds sang in the nearby woods. Golden sunshine lay on the square, ancient castle. Southward, across the valley of the Gail river, snow glistened on the heights of the Julia Alps and feathery clouds clung to the peaks.

The duchess, the former Wallis Warfield of Baltimore, bustling about the big rooms of the castle in a figured housedress. She was in search of the many old dust-gathering knickknacks and ornaments with which the building was littered.

Up to the attic they went, to be stored away—deer horns, elephant tusks, a hippopotamus head and stuffed pheasants among them.

For the moment, at least, she left on the walls the large portraits of the "Lady Bluebeard" and her six husbands, who lived in the castle in the 16th century.

Legend has it the ghosts of the six come back to haunt the castle, for the wife is supposed to have killed them, one after another soon after marriage. Their bones are buried beneath the castle.

The duke presided in baronial style over the little community on the estate. His staff included two Scotland Yard detectives, his equerry, Austrian and English maids, the duke's Austrian chef and the other attendants who remained when the owner, the German Count Muenster, turned the chateau over to the couple.

Dainty Dresses For Summer Dances

For outdoor wear on summer evenings there is nothing more suitable than cotton pique. Here's a gay frock that's garden printed in bright colors. Notice the shoulder corsage of matching material, the closely fitted bodice and the bouffant skirt. Just as the pique is appropriate for an informal evening, so is the lovely chiffon shown at the right which may be used for a more formal affair. Floral wreaths of bright blue rayon velvet make a dainty pattern on a soft white chiffon gown. The dress is cut on unusually graceful lines. It has a long full skirt, heart-shaped necklines and short, puffed sleeves. The belt is also of blue velvet.

Hollywood Glamor Background Provided In Gaynor-March Film Opening Today At Ritz

'A Star Is Born' Is Filmed Entirely In Technicolor

Hollywood, world's No. 1 glamor city and Mecca for all the stardom-struck, is given as thorough a camera treatment as it ever received, in a new production, "A Star Is Born," playing Sunday and Monday at the Ritz theatre.

In fact, Hollywood films itself, in the production in which Janet Gaynor and Fredric March share stellar honors. The picture has been lauded by reviewers as one of the season's best. Particularly is Miss Gaynor given credit for a real comeback for star position.

The film is made entirely in technicolor.

The picture tells the story of Esther Blodgett (Miss Gaynor), the little country girl who comes to Hollywood in search of stardom, and eventually reaches fame. Hollywood always warns—and this picture warns—that the odds against stardom are 100,000 to 1, but the film then proceeds to tell of the one girl in the 100,000.

Supporting Cast
Miss Gaynor is the star on the upward climb. March appears as Norman Maine, a hard-drinking screen idol of the moment who is losing his place in the film market. He gets the girl her first break, falls in love with her and marries her.

Adolphe Menjou, capable in any role, wins praise as a producer, and May Robson appears as the fiery old grandmother who urges the girl to go to Hollywood.

Others in the supporting cast are Andy Devine, Lionel Stander, Owen Moore, Edgar Kennedy, J. C. Nugent, Guinn 'Big Boy' Williams and three newcomers—Elizabeth Jennis, Margaret Tallichet and A. W. Sewart.

In its presentation of the Hollywood scene, "A Star Is Born" presents all the famous gathering places of filmdom's great. In technicolor, these spots come to life.

There's the Trocadero, where the stars go to dance; the Brown Derby, where they lunch; Grauman's Chinese theatre, the Santa Anita race track; the Biltmore Bowl as it looks during the annual banquet of the Motion Picture Academy, and other famous places.

STARS APPEAR AS STARS

Fredric March and Janet Gaynor, who share stellar honors in the new film of Hollywood, "A Star Is Born," playing Sunday and Monday at the Ritz. The film, made in technicolor, tells the story of a young girl's rise to film stardom, with the assistance of an old-timer in the Hollywood game.

Powell, Loy And Gable In Film Drama

'Manhattan Melodrama' To Be At Queen Sunday And Monday

It was "Manhattan Melodrama" that started all this marrying business off between the most-bedded couple in pictures, William Powell and Myrna Loy, and this startling story of big time crooks and lawyers has been brought back to the Queen theatre for a Sunday and Monday run.

Besides boasting Miss Loy and Powell in its cast, Clark Gable also has a featured part and the association of the three form the backbone of the story that revolves around the friendship of Blackie Gallagher, a crook, and Jim Wade, an honest lawyer who steps from a job as district attorney into the governor's chair.

A surprise punch of the film is Leo Carillo, long known as a bad man. Carillo is cast as Father Joe, a student and a teacher of gospel who befriended Powell and Gable when the two were young.

Miss Loy, cast as Eleanor, Blackie's girl friend, meets the attorney through Blackie and befriends him. When she pleads with the gambler to reform and fails to sway him, she sees more and more of Wade and finally marries him.

A murder is committed with all evidence pointing to the gambler and Wade has nothing to do but to prosecute. His efforts are successful and Blackie is sentenced to be killed in the electric chair.

Eleanor pleads with Wade to pardon his friend but the attorney, now the governor, desists until the night of the execution when his nerve breaks and he goes to commute the gambler's sentence.

The story is brought to a heart-tearing climax when the two meet in the death house and relive those years of close association in those few short moments.

SCENE FROM WARTIME COMEDY

The popular comedy of war days, "23 1/2 Hours Leave" has been remade into a modernized talkie version, and Douglas MacLean, who starred in the original of war days, is the producer. The leading role he played is carried now by Jimmie Ellison. Terry Walker has the feminine part opposite him. The picture is at the Lyric Sunday and Monday.

Vets Who Can Tell The Best 'Tall Tales Of World War Will Win Cash

SAN ANGELO, June 5—A good 20-year memory will mean cash prizes of $125, $75 and $25 to American Legionnaires who tell true tall tales of the world war to intrigue story judges at the American Legion convention of the department of Texas here August 21 to 24.

The cash memory persuaders are offered by the San Angelo Standard-Times. Work committees plan the story contest as one of the big convention events.

Only veterans, Texans or otherwise, will be permitted to participate and the yarns, which must be about the war, must be authentic but "tall" in the sense of being unique. Possibilities include narrow escapes, eerie or comic events, an expose of the army's unpreparedness for action, unusual things soldiers did in action, brave and unselfish sacrifices, coincidences, action meriting medals of honor, the feeling of a soldier bayoneting an enemy—any of the untold thousands of stories, according to the committee, that aren't common knowledge but should be preserved.

Stories must be submitted in writing by August 1 to Tall Tales Contest Editor, San Angelo Standard-Times, San Angelo. Three judges named by the state commander will select 25 stories to be told as part of the convention program and 15 judges in the audience will name the top three. If less than 125 entries are submitted the prize will be cut one-fourth. All manuscripts will become the property of the newspaper.

Comic Story Of War Times At The Lyric

Jimmy Ellison Has Role Once Made Popular By Douglas MacLean

Having completed his apprenticeship in westerns, Jimmy Ellison, whose best known role thus far has been Buffalo Bill Cody in the "Plainman," in which he was featured with Gary Cooper and Jean Arthur, has been cast in a revival of "23 1/2 Hours Leave." In this comedy of war times he takes the same part that Douglas MacLean made famous 17 years ago.

The picture is at the Lyric Sunday and Monday.

The presence of MacLean is felt for it is this former star who handled the production ends of the film and Ellison got his pointers from him.

It was in 1920, three years following the great war, that Hollywood producers purchased Mary Roberts Rinehart's popular Saturday Evening Post novel and made it into a movie.

The story deals with a swaggering young sergeant who makes a wager with his fellow soldiers that he will have breakfast with the general, although he has never seen the commanding officer.

How he succeeds in winning the bet makes one of the most hilarious movies ever screened.

Terry Walker, a girl who seems to be making good, plays opposite Ellison. Miss Walker was born in St. Petersburg, Alaska.

Others in the cast are Paul Harvey, Morgan Hill, Wally Maher, Andy Andrews, and Arthur Lake.

The Old Curiosity Shop will be a new quarter hour feature of KBST starting Monday morning at 9:45. Unusual facts, and interesting happenings from all over the world will be related by the narrator. This feature has been used by many of the larger stations and has met with unusual response from the listening audience. In fact, it is one of the most interesting and educational programs on the air today.

Jeannette Barnett, popular Big Spring pianist and organist, appears over KBST each Sunday afternoon at 6:45 in a program of piano classics. In addition to the classics, Miss Barnett interprets some of the familiar old songs such as Long Ago, etc.

Kathleen Williams is a newcomer to the realm of KBST artists. She is scheduled before the mike each Thursday afternoon at 4:15. She has appeared over the air lanes before in the capacity of soloist, pianist, and leader of a girl's trio, so is no newcomer to radio in Big Spring. She plans to feature one of her own compositions on a future broadcast, the melody bearing the title "Swing Marches On."

In place of the series of Thursday morning quarter hour broadcasts presented by the P. T. A. forum of Big Spring, the schools of Big Spring will bring during the summer months the School Forum. According to an announcement by W. C. Blankenship, superintendent of schools, the program will be composed of various talks acquainting the residents of this territory with just what our schools mean to us. Mrs. R. E. Eloum who was in charge of the P. T. A. forum, has been retained by the schools to direct the School Forum series. This broadcast is on the air each Thursday morning at 11.

The Garden Party, National Broadcasting company transcribed program featuring gardening advice, as given by the eminent horticulturist, Arthur Folsom Paul, will be presented in the future over KBST on Tuesday and Thursday mornings at 9:30, instead of the former schedule placing these programs at 9:45.

The First Baptist church of Big Spring has resumed the broadcasting of regular Sunday evening services. The time of broadcast over KBST is now 8 until 9.

Good Stock Gathered For Stamford Rodeo

STAMFORD, June 5—What promises to be the best string of rodeo stock in the history of the Texas Cowboy Reunion is being assembled here for the eighth annual roundup which will be held on July 1, 2 and 3.

Twenty-five new bucking horses, calculated to give trouble to the best of bronc riders, have been imported to add to the outlaw broncs already available on nearby ranches. Rancorous steeds that have built up reputations for aerial tendencies in past rodeos are being retained. Among these are "Calamity Jane", "Candy Wagon", "Dr. Blackwell", "Pitchfork Bay" and "Throckmorton Dun."

Ten new wild Brahma steers have been added to the herd of 26 which the Reunion kept over from last year. Those that showed gentle tendencies have been cut out. Three cars—75 head—of cows have been bought for the wild-cow-milking contest and 50 roping calves are being shipped in.

Prizes totalling $2,300 will be awarded in this year's rodeo. Besides the daily cash prizes in calf-roping, wild-cow-milking, bronc riding and steer riding, six handsome saddles are to be awarded the champions in the various contests.

One of these will go to the champion bronc rider, one to the champion cow-milker and one to the cowboy making the best record in calf-roping. Of the other saddles, one goes as first prize in the cutting-horse contest, one to the winner in the oldtime calf-ropers' contest and one to the winning cowgirl sponsor. Besides these special made saddles presented by the Reunion management, Jack M. Little of Dallas will give a saddle to the winner of the junior cowboy contest, which will be a new feature this year.

TAXES AND EVASIONS

Of course there will be popular approval for the new Washington drive against "rich tax evaders." Examples given in statements from the White House are well calculated to stir the fire. Almost perfect for the purpose is the instance of incorporating a yacht as a means of avoiding income taxes. The incorporation of children is not quite so wrath-rousing, but will serve. These stories, doubtless true, will surely cause an outcry from every honest income taxpayer, and from some who only spend the income taxes.

And of course evaders, rich or not so rich, should be brought to book. The government has ample means for doing that. It can prosecute them for civil or criminal offenses. It can get the money. The White House story intimates that the mystery of the several hundred million shortage in estimated tax collections will be explained if all the wealthy folk who have been holding out on the government are made to pay up. We doubt there are so many. But certainly whatever is necessary to make the evaders pay up should be done. We must also doubt whether the threatened congressional investigation would be nearly as effective as court proceedings and a careful tightening of the tax laws.

Of course an investigation would afford a fine opportunity for exposing nefarious rich men. There are undoubtedly as many dishonest rich as poor taxpayers; possibly the percentage of tax evaders runs a bit higher due to greater temptations. And some congressmen would have a fine chance to make a play as guardians of the treasury and friends of the poor. Also resentments which might be turned to political account can be built up by another congressional show. But the government knows enough, both as to the identity and the methods of tax evaders, to take effective steps to make collections.

And if the administration really wants to stop a leak why not go after the tax exemptions, particularly on public bonds?

Man About Manhattan

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—He came into the office and stood uncertainly, looking around, until he saw me loafing at the desk. (Ed.'s note: That's right, loafing, as usual.) And then he hurried forward with a smile so infectious that I thought here was someone whom I ought to remember.

But that was just his manner, and as he slipped, uninvited, into a chair he grinned again and hauled a pocket-tray of fountain pens from his pocket.

"This will be just your style," he said. "You have to have things to write with, and that's what I sell. You can have that nice one there for only 75 cents."

"But you see," I pointed out, "we don't use fountain pens in here. We use pencils, big black ones, and they're furnished free by the office."

"Gee," he said, disappointed, "that's too bad." He shifted in his chair. "I'll tell you what. You can have the pick of the lot for half a dollar."

"I'm afraid I'm not in the market for a pen, mister. I'm . . ."

"But it's the unbreakable kind, and besides it's a bargain. Buy one for your girl, or, I know, buy one and save it until you get into some other business."

"Some other business—what gave you that idea?"

"Well, they might fire you," he began hopefully.

"Will you please get out of here and sell somebody else those confounded pens? I don't like the prophetic ring to your tone."

"Well, maybe you'll get knocked down by a taxicab and have to have your leg amputated. You couldn't write for the newspapers then, and that would compel you to get into some other business. You see, in this world, anything is liable to happen. You might even . . ."

"Listen, I haven't got a half dollar. I don't like fountain pens. But if I had a half dollar I'd buy one, just to get rid of you. You're the gayest, most optimistic cuss I ever saw."

"If you say you don't like fountain pens, you're spoofing, or just prejudiced. Besides, couldn't you borrow the four bits?"

"No, I couldn't, and furthermore I don't believe in borrowing."

This was an unfortunate speech. Across the way at the next desk a confrere lifted his grave eyes and said, "Are you broke again? I don't mind lending you some more money."

He tossed a half dollar out on the desk.

So, foolishly betrayed, I bought a fountain pen.

Up until now the name of the fellow who loaned me that dirty piece of silver has been James Hatcher.

NEWS

BEHIND THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON

Copyright, 1937, By Paul Mallon

Maverick group proposes super-control board.
Bill sponsored by left wing economists.
Moulton says wage-hour limits curb living standard.
Earle seen launching drive for 1940 nomination.

Weight

WASHINGTON, June 5—The Maverick clan of heavy thinkers dropped a 100-ton idea into the house bill room the other day. Unfortunately it struck congress with the detonation of an alighting feather. No one has considered it worth noticing.

Apparently the only fixed principle of the clan is that the new deal is tame. In accord with this principle, a bill was introduced proposing to do the job for President Roosevelt in a really big way. The bill would establish a national industrial expansion board in federal hands to control industrial production, prices, wages, hours, and just about everything except breathing. It would expand industry by federal edict.

The clan is supposed to speak only for the little group of extremists in the house, but occasionally it acts as buffer for left wing economists in the new order, and, once in a while, for the White House itself.

For example, in the recent relief fight, it advocated two billions to offset the conservative democratic demand for a billion, so that Mr. Roosevelt could get the billion and a half he wanted. It was a pre-arranged job. As Agriculture Secretary Wallace has been talking lately about precisely this method, and as President Roosevelt himself has been talking about price controls, the question has arisen as to whether the thinkers are now again doing some heavy advance work for an administration industrial control program.

The answer to the bill is the opening of a subtle campaign by left wing economists within the new order to promote some such remedy, but not with the approval of the White House.

Note—Hidden authors of the bill are the Ezekiel crowd of economists in the agriculture department.

Solution

Behind this matter is the fact that Dr. Moulton of non-partisan Brookings Institution has caused turmoil among economists of the new order by suggesting that Mr. Roosevelt is going in the wrong direction.

Moulton's non-political analysis, delivered privately to economists last week, is being made public by Brookings officially. In a sense, the Moulton theory is that current employment, wages and other bills could be cured by a real industrial expansion, but that wage and hour limitations are "unintentionally" tending toward a lower instead of a higher standard of living. Dr. Moulton did not mention the president's name, but nearly everyone knows who has recently proposed minimum wages and maximum hours.

What the Mavericks seem to have done is take the Moulton theory and combine it with the Wallace theory of controlling production to work out as vast a federal control scheme as ever was conceived in the mind of man.

No one seems to be advocating the simplest solution, to have the government start patting business on the back, and (B) vigorous enforcement of the anti-trust laws to break monopolies and hold down prices.

Digging In

PWA Promoter Jokes is ill, but his men did an excellent inside job in promoting some considerations for earmarking PWA funds in the relief bill in house. Mr. Jokes has been in a run-down condition and may be out for some time. His associates, however, succeeded in carrying PWA prospects a little further than the White House might have carried them, if left alone. Specifically, the plan now is to grant federal funds to all municipalities which have authorized PWA bond issues for "worthwhile projects."

Incidentally, Mr. Jokes also recently acquired an $80,000 estate in Maryland, about 20 miles from Washington, which indicates he does not intend to leave soon.

Extraterritoriality

The extent to which the 1940 presidential race has progressed was disclosed here the other day when Gov. George Earle of Pennsylvania addressed the Southern Society. Governor Earle made a speech in which he pointed out that his Pennsylvania home is "only an hour's drive from the Mason-Dixon line." His birthplace in Chester, he said, is even closer. His interlocutor, Senator Reynolds of North Carolina, in introducing him, mentioned the fact that Earle "went south in January, 1916, for a week and that he 'comes to speak to you with a heart that is warm for the south.'"

No room was left for doubt that Earle is smoking hot for the south, which will have approximately one-third of the delegates to the next democratic convention.

But the secret of it is a heckler who was planted in the back of the hall (a republican, no doubt) who had intended to ask Governor Earle about signing the so-called equal rights bill, but was so entangled

The Thrill That Comes Once In A Lifetime

THE DRY FLY FISHERMAN PUTS A BARBARIAN IN HIS PLACE

by the performance, he forgot it. However, some members of the Southern Society are talking about appointing a sub-committee to measure the actual distance between Earle's home and the line.

Stalemates

Incidents such as this one and the McNutt cocktail edit in the Philippines are strengthening the conviction among unbiased political observers that Mr. Roosevelt could hardly keep himself from being renominated if the convention were held today.

The cast of possible candidates includes such non-coalescing elements as Farley, Wallace, McNutt, Earle, Murphy, Byrd, Hull, Rayburn and many others.

No one has been mentioned upon whom they could possibly get together at this time, except Mr. Roosevelt himself.

Hollywood

Sights and Sounds

By Robin Coons

(Guest columnist for her husband)

HOLLYWOOD—"What is Hollywood REALLY like?" is the question always asked anyone even remotely connected with this place of sunshine and "glamor." I'll try to corral impressions.

I recall the time, shortly after my arrival, when a movie star asked us for dinner at 7:30. I insisted on arriving at 7:30.

Never again shall I do that—in Hollywood. The next guest came in at 8:15. The hostess wasn't dressed when we got there, and undoubtedly she had to rush. I'm certain she wasn't pleased.

First Impressions

First impressions of movie stars I find, are less easily erased than those of less publicized people. Jean Harlow may clope and spoil my sleep, and I may hear contradictory stories about her as a person, but I shall always remember her firm and friendly handshake. I shall remember Paulette Goddard as the charming and gracious hostess for Charlie Chaplin at that party he gave for H. G. Wells. I

STANTON, June 5—Grammar school graduation exercises, including presentation of diplomas to eight seventh grade students, were held at the Courtney school auditorium Thursday evening.

Bridge Saga

For entirely personal reasons I shall remember an actor's wife with whom I found myself playing bridge. Stakes were mentioned and since I probably had less to lose than any of the four I said I didn't like to play for more than a 20th.

My Bridge Isn't Too Good, But Hers Was

She paid off at a 20th.

CHAPTER XV
Duke had won the first round. That was something, but he did not delude himself into believing there were not others, and harder ones to win, ahead. He knew something about women as well as horses. Any woman could be on her mettle now and Carol!

On the fourth day, Tip managed a smile, but it was a very one-day-but-there's-a-long-way-to-go. "We'll go it," said Duke firmly. "And stop being a cry-baby. He's throwing a big party tonight—just cast your eye around the Oceanut Grove and see me sitting at a table with millionaires, socialites and movie stars."

"Hey Duke," Tip beckoned. "Here comes trouble."

with him from the first. He wanted the money. He needed it. He knew, given time, he would win the law of averages. But there was something else involved. Carrol's attitude was a challenge. His pride as well as his pocketbook would not let him lose Madison.

"Time is of the essence," he said to himself as their plane crossed the state line into California. "We got a head start, but she's half way across the continent now. If I know Carol. And I do!"

He wasn't worrying about getting Madison out to Santa Anita. Yesterday's betting and winning had aroused the instinct, long dormant, there would be no conflict with him. But, long was Carol to reckon with.

Madison found a stack of telegrams from New York waiting for him when they reached the hotel. He put in a number of long distant calls. He spoke to his Los Angeles representative and got in touch with Pruet, the oil magnate with whom he was to confer about the concessions. Duke heard it all. Madison had told him to "stick around" if he wouldn't be bored. He wasn't. He was interested in watching Madison, seeing what an shrewd business man he was. He was also a little awed by the huge sums which Madison mentioned in the off-hand manner. Carol had certainly been right when she said Madison did not deal with "chickens feed."

But Duke was not only fascinated by what he heard. He was worried. Madison seemed to have become just a big financier. He might become so absorbed in concessions and stocks and bonds that he wouldn't go to the races. So his heart almost skipped a beat when he heard Madison say:

"Of course, Mr. Pruet, we must go into the right away. It won't take much time and that's good. I'll be here some time and I'm going out to Santa Anita every day. Don't think I came all this way just to talk business."

Duke left the two men alone when Mr. Pruet arrived. He was to wait in the lobby for Madison to join him in an hour. As he turned from the newstand where he had gone to get a paper, he gasped.

Fritze saw him first, ran to him and threw her arms around him. "Carol will be here," she said. "For once we're free of that dame," said Tip. "You see she wasn't arrayed in just the right garments for travel. Gee, I'll bet she was blazing when she missed the plane."

"There'll be another one soon," said Duke, thinking he had only this one day when he could be sure of getting Madison to Santa Anita. "What do you do with papers, ducky dear?" asked Fritze. "Can't you see there on the front page there's a terrible storm somewhere or other between here and Florida? We just got through."

"Fritze, I love you," cried Duke. "And that goes for you men, too. I love the whole wide world and everybody and everything—especially storms—in it."

For the next four days Duke did not open the paper, as he always did by force of habit, to the sports page. It was weather news in which he was interested. If only that storm continued he was saved. Or so he thought. But things did not work out as he had planned.

The trouble was not that Madison lost interest in the races. With each visit to the tracks, he became more enthusiastic. It was that day after day he picked the winners. It was all right for him to win the first day. Even a sucker, Duke knew, needed a "come-on" at the start. But Madison always won and never lost. Duke almost lost faith in the law of averages of which he was always talking.

"Cripes, Boss," groaned Tip at the end of the third day. "Just to think I used to belly-ache about that snooty Clayton dame and what she took. Seems like nothing now. Do you know you're out eighty grand on this fellow. And you thought him a sucker. Cripes!"

"I know," said Duke, "but—"

"Don't tell me his luck will turn. What's that line about to him that hath?—well we're giving him our shirts. Could we lose him before we're stark naked?"

"We cannot," said Duke. "We're got to get some of it back." "Sure, but it was a very one-day-but-there's-a-long-way-to-go." "We'll go it," said Duke firmly. "And stop being a cry-baby. He's throwing a big party tonight—just cast your eye around the Oceanut Grove and see me sitting at a table with millionaires, socialites and movie stars."

species. Five magnolia trees are thriving, one of which is more than 35 years old and was brought here from Canton, Tex., two years ago and is just beginning to get a good start. Also in this yard is one of the oldest plants in the city, the giant yucca that was moved to the yard from the corner of Seury and Second streets several years ago when the old T. and P. house was removed. Here may also be found maple, sycamore, Black Hill and Colorado spruce, Austrian pine, Colorado silver juniper, cherry, American elm, native cypress, pussy willow and rose trees, among the hundreds of plants and vines are the logan bushes, roaming myrtle, Zane Grey or ash plant, and Rosemary.

A garden of old-fashioned quaintness is the one at the C. M. Gray residence at 402 Gregg street, where red, white and pink hollyhocks form a picturesque setting. The rose garden in which 45 bushes are growing include radiants, Luxembourg, talisman, Lady Hillington, American Beauty and Sunburst varieties. Strawflowers, or bachelor's buttons, snapdragons and larkspur that are grown in nearly every yard in the city are a beautiful addition to the attractive arrangement. This garden also boasts of an accumulation of cacti and here also may be found five century plants.

The Ned Fergusons, whose home is in Edwards Heights, are working on an outdoor living room in connection with the garden plot. They have a thriving magnolia tree that bloomed last year but has not blossomed so far this summer. A sycamore tree in the rear yard is hardly and the 36 rose bushes which have recently put out the first blooms made a solid sheet of gorgeous color.

The fish pond is surrounded with rocks gathered by the couple from states between and including California to Louisiana. Cattails and reeds have been brought from the Latin country to add to the setting along with pampas grass and fern. The pampas grass that is unusually attractive blooms in July.

There are many such yards in Big Spring that are the results of many years work and careful gardening and go to prove that it is not impossible for Big Spring yards to become as beautiful as those in damper climates.

Dainty Tea Cloth

By PEGGY ROBERTS
Pattern No. 620

To grace your dining table between meals, or your coffee table on very special occasions, this tea cloth would be perfect. The center is made in filet crochet, then there's a band of treble crochet spaces, and the finishing edge is also filet. The piece measures approximately 43 by 46 inches. If you have a round table in your dining room, for which you want an especially attractive cloth, use cotton a little heavier, and you'll have the cloth just the right size.

The pattern envelope contains complete, easy-to-understand directions, with block and space diagrams to aid you; also what crochet hook and what material and how much you will need.

To obtain this pattern, send for No. 620 and enclose 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred) to cover service and postage. Address Big Spring Herald, Needlework Department, 72 Fifth Ave., New York, N. Y.

Sound Loaning and Investment Policies —constitute the fundamental means by which your bank keeps your deposits secure.

THEY enable your bank to keep its deposited funds helpfully and profitably employed, and at the same time constantly available to repay its depositors exactly in accordance with its promises.

They enable your bank also to cover the major part of operating costs of rendering services to customers and in addition to set aside reserves as increased protection for deposits.

Furthermore it is the aim of this bank, at all times, not only to find active employment for its loanable funds, but also to direct them thoughtfully and fairly into such channels as will best serve the public welfare.
