Troops May Be In Warsaw; New Drive Reported

MOSCOW, Sept. 15 (AP) — Russian and Polish troops were believed storming into Warsaw proper today across the broad and swift Vistula from the captured industrial suburb of Praga.

(The German communique reported yet another great Russian offensive with 40 divisions of up to 60,000 men in "the northern sector of the eastern front"—possibly in Finland. Today was the deadline for the withdrawal of seven German divisions in north Finland. The Germans did not further identify the locale of the offensive, which might be below East Prussia or in the Baltic states around Riga, rather than Finland.)

State Convicts Questioned After Three-Hour Riot

HUNTSVILLE, Sept. 15 (AP) — General Manager D. W. Stokes and Warden H. E. Moore today were questioning 19 state prison convicts who staged a three-hour riot after breaking out of solitary confinement cells.

The prisoners, who yesterday barricaded themselves in the run around outside the cells, were driven back by guards who climbed to the roof of a four-story dormitory building and shot tear gas shells through ventilators.

Also questioned were five convicts who did not participate in the disturbance. Prison employes said an examination of the cells indicated the men escaped by hammering holes through the walls.

None of the convicts, named as incorrigibles, was hurt in the outbreak. Stokes said state police and Walker county officers aided prison guards in bringing the convicts under control.

Among the 19 prisoners who fled the cells were: Bill Pelley, 22, five years from Wichita county for burglary and two years for theft from Gregg county; Teddy (Pete) Zimzowek, 24, two years for theft from Gregg county, and Charles Edward Sparks, 20, five years for robbery from Mitchell, Howard, Taylor and Callahan counties.

Miners Condemn Roosevelt; Favor Governor Dewey

CINCINNATI, Sept. 15 (AP) — The United Mine Workers' convention adopted today a resolution condemning President Roosevelt and praising Governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York after scarcely a half hour's debate. The resolution did not in so many words endorse the republican presidential nominee.

President John L. Lewis suggested termination of debate after seven delegates had discussed the resolution, five in praise of President Roosevelt and two opposing him.

The miners' president called for a standing vote on the adoption of the resolution. Those who stood in its support far outnumbered the opponents, whose numbers appeared to range from 300 to 500 among the more than 2,500 delegates in the convention hall.

Lewis declared the resolution "overwhelmingly adopted," and moved on to another committee report.

The adopted resolution said that only once in UMW history had a convention endorsed a presidential candidate and that was President Roosevelt in 1936. "Subsequent events," the resolution added, "have demonstrated that the confidence thus expressed was ill-bestowed."

Noted Oklahoman Dies In Muskogee

MUSKOGEE, Okla., Sept. 15 (AP) — J. T. Griffin, 61, head of a wholesale grocery concern operating in four states and owner of two Oklahoma radio stations, died last night after a long illness.

Second Quebec Conference Will Close Saturday

QUEBEC, Sept. 15 (AP) — The second Quebec conference will close tomorrow, but the quick pace of the war in Europe may hold President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill in personal contact with further conversations.

Stephen Early, presidential secretary, made known that discussions in the citadel were in their "closing phases" and added: "You may say that the president and Mr. Churchill will definitely conclude tomorrow their conference in Quebec."

"Does your use of 'Quebec' mean they may talk elsewhere?" Early was asked. "I can't answer," he replied. Even after tomorrow's official wind-up, Early said, military staffs will continue their meetings in the Chateau Frontenac.

The fact that Allied troops are fighting on German soil can be reported as a governing reason for the 3,300-mile air trip that brought Eden hurrying here last night. His presence appears centered on the German political sweep-out once the Nazi armies have been crushed.

Whether U. S. Secretary of State Cordell Hull would follow Eden to Quebec was uncertain. Hull said Washington reporters he had no plans to come here. Eden's arrival, although it obviously means a broadening of the conference agenda, is not expected to run the meeting past the week-end. Today apparently will be the last full day of the conference.

In a packed briefcase Eden is reported to have included fresh proposals on the European advisory commission's recommendations for military occupation of Germany by Anglo-American-Soviet troops.

The Soviet-Polish clash provides another likely pocket but it is rated second to a hard-boiled handling of Nazi land. Interpreted in the light of Mr. Roosevelt's recent public statements United Nations terms for Germany will include eradication of German trade cartels which nourished the Nazi war machine. Next would be a specific program for eliminating all international combines.

Applications Swarm Local Ration Board

Some 2,000 car owners in Howard county filed last minute applications for a gasoline ration card, according to Miss Rosina Murphy, chief clerk of the Howard ration board.

Board officials report that 2,450 applications have been filed, but no records were available on the issuance of rations at the Big Spring Bombardier school.

Twelve Killed In Hurricane

By The Associated Press A West Indian hurricane leaving a trail of destruction from North Carolina to Massachusetts blew out to sea off southern Maine early this morning.

Twelve deaths were attributed to the storm along nearly 1,000 miles of the Atlantic coast. Winds of 80 to 100 miles an hour lashed blinding rains, ripped buildings, tore down power and telephone lines and uprooted thousands of trees.

The storm on Long Island and in New England was exceeded in violence only by the devastating hurricane of Sept. 21, 1938, which battered the same area, taking more than 600 lives and causing damage estimated at $500,000,000.

Atlantic City and neighboring New Jersey coastal resorts appeared to have suffered the greatest damage. Mountainous waves struck the boardwalk sections of these cities while a 90-mile wind tore off roofs of some apartment houses and damaged other dwellings, leaving hundreds homeless. Both the famous million dollar and steel piers at Atlantic City suffered heavy damage from high seas and the smaller Helix pier was reported almost totally destroyed.

Ocean City, Md., another resort community, was awash in a foot of water before the storm advanced northward.

POSTMASTER APPROVED

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15 (AP) — The senate has approved the following nominations for postmasterhips in Texas: Ben F. Brooks, Bagwell; Gaynell Bond, Donie; Luther M. Dye, Grafard; Charles Smark, Lone Oak; Charles M. Bollinger, Powderly; Charles E. Turner, Smithfield.

Yanks Invade Palau, Mortai

By LEONARD MILLIMAN Associated Press War Editor American amphibious forces closed in on the Philippines today, simultaneously invading stepping stone islands at Palau and Mortai in the wake of a terrific air bombardment of the Philippines that knocked out 501 Japanese planes and 173 surface craft which might have sparked a counterattack.

The biggest guns of the United States Navy shelled Palau, reef-protected island fortress 600 miles east of the Philippines, as Marines and soldiers charged ashore in the face of fierce Japanese resistance.

Only ten Japanese were on the beach of Mortai, 300 miles south of the Philippines, and they fled as U. S. landing barges made a surprise landing while Gen. Douglas MacArthur watched from a cruiser.

"Defeat now stares Japan in the face," MacArthur said as the two-way campaign to take him back to the Philippines was "entering upon its decisive stage." Assault troops hacked out beachheads in the Palau islands, mightiest enemy stronghold invaded in the Pacific war, under cover of a thundering air and naval barrage from Adm. William F. Halsey's Third fleet.

"Landings are continuing against stiff ground opposition," said Adm. Chester W. Nimitz' brief announcement of the invasion. He did not say which of the 100 Palau islands were hit, but Tokyo radio reported the Americans landed on Peleliu.

Tokyo claimed 2,500 Americans were killed in the first two and a half hours and the "enemy was repulsed." Nimitz' communique, issued nine hours after the landing, made no mention of casualties and exuded quiet confidence of the outcome.

Mortai will soon be converted into an air and light naval base, MacArthur said after following his assault troops ashore. The simultaneous landings on Palau and Mortai, representing advances of 300 miles for MacArthur and 825 for Nimitz, was the first coordinated land action of their two commands which will probably meet in the Philippines.

As a prelude to both operations, Halsey's sea-based air forces swept the central Philippines for three successive days, knocking out Japanese air bases within striking range and routing out sea and air forces the Nipponese had been husbanding to repel such invasions. The three-day strike climaxed one of the greatest air victories of the Pacific war.

A complete junction of two other Allied forces was reported in the Orient where Chinese pouring westward from captured Tengchung in southwest China met Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell's troops on the mountain trail from Myitkyna, once a Japanese bastion in north Burma.

Explosion Blasts Ordnance Depot; Third This Year

HASTINGS, Neb., Sept. 15 (AP) — A blast at the Hastings Naval Ordnance Depot, which shook communities as far as 125 miles distant, took at least eight lives and more casualties are expected, Mayor Roy Carter estimated this afternoon.

The Hastings Daily Tribune said it had learned at least four were killed and 21 injured in the blast which occurred at 9:25 a. m. The newspaper said the dead included one coast guardman and three negro sailors.

The explosion at the 48,000-acre installation about nine miles east of here was the second in six months and the third this year. A blast last April 6 claimed 8 lives and on January 7 three seamen were killed in an explosion.

Windows all along the Hastings' main street were knocked out by the blast. Residents of Concordia, Kas., about 100 miles away, reported that buildings there were shaken by the blast which occurred at about 9:25 a. m. (CWT).

The first casualties brought to the dispensary in the depot area were negro sailors. The number injured and their names were not learned. The explosion occurred in the south transfer depot 5 to 8 miles east and a little south of the site of last April's explosion and east of Glenview, small town on the depot area border which was badly damaged by the last blast.

Kingpin City Of Aachen Grasped By US Forces

LONDON, Sept. 15 (AP) — Powerful United States armies grasped the Germans' kingpin city of Aachen in an encircling ring of steel today and captured Nancy and Maastricht, strongholds at opposite ends of their 180-mile front.

Doughboys drove 10 miles into Germany in a Siegfried Line-busting offensive which had pierced the first zone of that fortified system at two places and deeply dented it at a third.

The U. S. First army moved its tanks, infantry and self-propelled guns around Aachen, historic passageway of Europe's contending armies. Lt. Gen. Courtney H. Hodges' offensive was proving the Nazis' vaunted Siegfried Line to be an obsolete collection of easily-cracked concrete pillboxes at least in this sector.

American troops were within 40 miles of the Rhine. The 10-mile penetration of Adolf Hitler's realm was just above the German city of Trier, east of Luxembourg, where a two-mile advance into the Siegfried line was announced yesterday.

This apparently moved the Americans past Trier, one of the strongest centers of the Siegfried line, well on the way to Wittlich, 26 miles to the northwest, and within 50 miles of Coblenz on the Rhine. Trier is five miles from the Luxembourg border.

Eysden, Dutch border village, fell in the sweep which took the Yankees through Maastricht. Nancy, a famed French bastion of 121,000 on the banks of the Meurthe in a crotch below the Moselle, fell in the southern onslaught of Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's Third army at 11 a. m. (4 a. m. CWT).

Nancy, 14th city of France and historic scene of French resistance both in ancient times and in the first world war, is 68 miles from the Strasbourg crossing of the Rhine.

The Germans, who had repudiated the jaws of an iron vice closing upon the city to the south and northeast, withdrew during the night and fired scarcely a shot as an American general led his way in a jeep into the heart of the wildly celebrating city.

A force of Lt. Gen. Courtney H. Hodges' U. S. First army, which crossed the frontier of the Dutch province of Limburg yesterday, was said by the Germans to have advanced to a point near Valkenburg, 12 miles northeast of Aachen, in the course of the sweep through Maastricht, a city of 67,000.

Aachen, under artillery fire from the Americans who had advanced to points within a mile of the city from the south and southeast, was threatened with an encirclement such as topped Nancy. South of Aachen, vital citadel two miles inside the German frontier, the Germans admitted the Americans had driven powerful armored forces into wedges in the "glacis" or face of the Siegfried line.

Allied announcements and dispatches said three penetrations from two to eight miles deep and six to nine miles wide of them completely through the first belt of fortifications—had been made in the line toward the Rhine cities of Cologne and Coblenz.

The Germans said there was fierce fighting on the approaches to the Belfort gap, to the south of the Third army.

There were no Allied reports from the Seventh army of Lt. Gen. Alexander M. Patch, last reported about 18 miles south of Belfort. Rome dispatches stated that no communique on the Seventh army would be issued there henceforth. It was assumed the Seventh army was being brought under a unified command on the western front.

His plane was seen to glide from a formation, strike the lake and sink. Divers reached it this morning in 30 feet of water and about 100 yards offshore and reported no bodies were inside. It was believed the men either were thrown clear or forced their way out. The area will be dragged with grappling hooks in an effort to locate the bodies.

Doughboys Gnaw Into Siegfried At Three Places

WHERE ALLIES HAMMER REICH BORDER OUTPOSTS—Broken arrows indicate possible directions of Allied drives into the main German defenses, along the Rhine river (shaded area) by the two columns now hammering reich border outposts at Aachen and northwest of Trier. Solid arrows represent other Allied dives, including thrusts from Belgium across the Holland border and along the southern area of the western front in the Luxembourg and Moselle river sections. Field dispatches reported Sept. 14 the Germans might be falling back for a major stand on the Rhine river. (AP Wirephoto).

Best Laid Plans Of Newsmen Go Astray

New Guinea, Friday, Sept. 15 (AP) — The best-laid plans for war correspondents often go astray, particularly when a bulldozer gets in the way.

Reporters at New Guinea headquarters were all set today to flash the announcement of Allied landings on Mortai in island below the Philippines. It was a pretty big moment.

But a hard-working bulldozer operator then ran his machine's big blade across a power line to the wireless station. Transmission of the news flashes was held up for fully 30 minutes.

Luca in an area 15 miles from the west coast, Allied headquarters announced today.

This advance, the deepest northward penetration in the west coast sector, carried Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark's troops some 1 miles beyond the Arno river, from where they jumped off in the present offensive.

On the Adriatic sector Canadian troops crossed the Marano river with tanks and infantry after hard fighting and struck to within a mile of the Rimini airfield.

The Eighth army also cleared the Corlano-San Savino ridge and smashed Nazi tank-supported counterattacks.

Severe losses were inflicted on the Germans on the whole Eighth army front in heavy fighting Sept. 13, it was announced.

Headquarters said air reconnaissance showed clearly that the Germans were using the neutral republic of San Marino in eastern Italy for supplies, gun areas and motor transport.

The Fifth army despite grim resistance, also captured Pietra-buona on an important road leading through a mountain pass halfway between Luca and Pistola. Significant gains were made north of Pistola, with patrols approaching San Felice while other vanguards struck two to three miles directly north of Pistola.

President Orders Seizure Of Mines

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15 (AP) — President Roosevelt today ordered the seizure of 19 strike-hampered soft coal mines in West Virginia and Kentucky, bringing to 64 the total number of bituminous mines taken over by the government since August 31.

Fire Destroys 94 Room Alabama Hotel

ANNISTON, Ala., Sept. 15 (AP) — Nine persons were unaccounted for today following an early morning fire which destroyed the 94-room Alabama hotel.

Mayor J. F. King, checking the hotel register, reported the number of guests missing, and said rooming houses and other places were being checked in an effort to locate them.

He said no bodies had been found in the fire ruins.

William Faw, hotel lessee, said there were 200 guests registered last night.

BIRTH ANNOUNCED

A son, Clayton Richard, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Travis Carlton Sunday morning at the Malone and Hogan Hospital.

The infant weighed six pounds and 11 ounces at birth.

Demo Battle Enters Legal Phase

AUSTIN, Sept. 15 (AP) — Texas' battle of the electors today entered into the legal phase.

Secretary of State Sidney Latham had before him two sets of democratic presidential electors, both certified by the democratic conventions as party nominees. It was his duty in turn to certify one or the other of these lists to county clerks for printing on the November election ballot.

The first list filed with him stemmed from the turbulent May 23 convention, dominated by anti-fourth term forces. Fifteen of those 23 electors have indicated they would vote for Sen. Harry F. Byrd of Virginia for president instead of for the national party's nominees.

The second list was nominated by the pro-Roosevelt dominated Sept. 12 convention. It was pledged and specifically instructed by the convention to vote for Roosevelt and Truman. It included seven names of electors chosen May 23, who had indicated they would so vote.

The original list of electors was filed with Latham on May 24. The second list was filed yesterday by a delegation of leaders from the Sept. 12 session, which made a clean sweep of the party organization and undertook to undo the electoral policy of the May session.

Latham told the delegation that yesterday he would give his answer today.

Heading the group from the recent convention were Rep. Wright Patman of Texas, chairman of its committee on presidential electors; Harry L. Seay of Dallas, who displaced George Butler of Houston as chairman of the state executive committee; William H. Kittrell, Jr., of Dallas who displaced Charles E. Simons of Austin as secretary; Elmer Lincoln of Texas and George Eddy of Dallas.

Bombers Attack Germany Again; Airdromes Hit

LONDON, Sept. 15 (AP) — Allied bombers attacked northwestern Germany again today, the enemy asserted, after a night of weather-enforced idleness.

Planes from Italy, however, bombed three airdromes near Athens, burning out numerous Junkers-52 transports which were on the fields apparently ready to evacuate key German personnel from outflanked Greece.

A supply ship was sunk off the Greek west coast and another 2,000 tonner was sent down in the upper Adriatic. Greek and Yugoslav railroads were strafed and subjected to rocket attacks. The airdromes were at Elefsis, Tatoi and Kalamaki and some fires were visible for 50 miles.

RAF Beaufighters and Mosquitos from Britain blew up an escort vessel and set afire three merchant ships in a German convoy surprised off Kristiansand in southern Norway last night.

Lancaster's pinpointed their bombs on an ammunition depot in Holland in the only heavy bomber operation from Britain yesterday.

U. S. Ninth air force Thunderbolts and Lightnings bagged 14 locomotives, seven Rhine barges and 20 horse-drawn troop wagons. A Lightning squadron zigzagged down the Rhine between 200 foot cliffs southeast of Coblenz and let its wingbombs go on German craft.

Severe losses were inflicted on the Germans on the whole Eighth army front in heavy fighting Sept. 13, it was announced.

Headquarters said air reconnaissance showed clearly that the Germans were using the neutral republic of San Marino in eastern Italy for supplies, gun areas and motor transport.

Lost Flyers Are Announced Dead

FORT WORTH, Sept. 15 (AP) — The Marine Corps Air Station at Eagle Mountain Lake near here today announced that the flyers lost Wednesday in the crash of a dive bomber into nearby Lake Bridgeport were 2nd Lt. Tazewell Seldon Wharton, Jr., of Richmond, Va., pilot, and Corp. Aloysius Joe Paliszewski, gunner.

The wife of Lieutenant Wharton lives at Fort Worth. Corporal Paliszewski's mother, Mrs. Blanche Paliszewski, lives at Conemaugh, Pa.

Lieutenant Wharton came to the air station here Aug. 24 from the naval air station at DeLand, Fla.

His plane was seen to glide from a formation, strike the lake and sink. Divers reached it this morning in 30 feet of water and about 100 yards offshore and reported no bodies were inside. It was believed the men either were thrown clear or forced their way out. The area will be dragged with grappling hooks in an effort to locate the bodies.

Relief In Sight For Cotton Producers With Storage Worries

COLORADO CITY, Sept. 15—Temporary relief for Mitchell county cotton producers who have been faced with a serious problem on storage facilities for loan cotton was promised here Wednesday afternoon, according to J. W. Watson, chairman of the Mitchell county Cotton Marketing committee.

A Colorado City concern with storage facilities has agreed to grant space to loan cotton as soon as labor for handling the cotton can be employed. The local warehouse has had insufficient space available for cotton producers with loan cotton for the past three years, the committee appointed by key farmers to investigate storage facilities reported.

BORED with the monotony of summer sun, sea, sand and sky, young America in the silhouette of little Anne Bennett, 5, of Rockville Center, L. I., eagerly beats a resounding tattoo on school doors. Little red schoolhouses may come and go but the three Rs seem to go on forever.

Attempts Made In Mitchell County To Stabilize Picking Wages During Fall

Mitchell county cotton producers voted in a meeting called by T. H. Roensch, county agent, to invite the state War Food Administration wage board to hold a public hearing for this area in Colorado City. The hearing has been requested after 51 per cent of this county's cotton growers signed petitions asking that an attempt be made to stabilize wages during the cotton harvest season.

Petitions were circulated by leaders of the Agricultural Victory Council and are now on file in the county agent's office. The council was assisted by Triple A committeemen.

"We are hoping," Roensch said in reporting the successful climax of the movement here, "that other counties in our area will join us in the effort to fix wages."

Should the state WFA wage board decide favorably after the public hearing on stabilization of cotton picking and pulling wages in this area, the county agent explained, it will be "more than a gentleman's agreement between farmers not to violate the ceiling price established." The state board would automatically be given power to penalize violators of the wage scale set-up.

The Mitchell county WFA wage board was nominated and approved this week by the Agricultural Victory Council. J. H. Carlock was named chairman of the county board with Floyd Langley, Horace Miles, Ross Hargrove and Ernest Meadows the other members.

Rosh Hashanah To Be Observed With Several Events

Observance of Rosh Hashanah, Jewish New Year which will open at sundown Sunday, will include services Sunday night and Monday morning and an open house Monday afternoon.

Max Jacobs will have charge of services at 8:30 p. m. Sunday and 10 a. m. Monday in the post chapel at Big Spring Bombardier school.

The Temple Israel Sisterhood will give the open house, which will be conducted from 4 to 6 p. m. Monday at the home of Mrs. Bernard Fisher. All members of the congregation and Jewish service personnel stationed here are to attend.

Rosh Hashanah opens a 10-day period of penitence, culminated by Yom Kippur, the day of atonement.

The Jewish festival has been associated from time immemorial with creation of the world and the advent of human civilization. Rabbinic phantasy asserts it is the annual season when all creation passes in judgment before God. Therefore, the day is devoted to reconciliation with God and man.

Listen For Salaried Workers To Squawk If Union Wage Earners Get Boost Now

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15 (AP)—

You can hear the salaried workers holler — if union wage earners get a wage boost now—"What about me?"

And what about them? There's no simple solution to their problem. But here's the story:

The War Labor Board soon will have to decide whether CIO steelworkers and other union workers — working on an hourly wage rate — should get a raise.

The WLB has kept such raises down, and in a tight grip, for two years. But labor says rising living costs justify their demands for an increase. WLB may agree.

But — wages and salaries both were held in check under the government's program to stabilize income and prices and thus hold living costs down.

There's a difference, though, between the controls on wages and salaries. And that's where salaried workers will scream for relief if the wage earners get it.

Roughly, it can be stated this way: The WLB is boss over wage earner's increase; the treasury department is boss over white collar workers' raises.

It works this way: WLB has control over most wages — the hourly rate kind as distinguished from the weekly salary kind — up to $5,000.

But it does not have control over income up to $5,000 where the worker is not represented by a union or where he is employed in an executive, administrative or professional job.

Thus most white collar workers would not come under WLB control. Nor would so-called professional workers, like newspapermen.

In other words: anyone making up to $5,000 who does not come under WLB control comes under treasury department control. And further: Anyone making $5,000 a year or more, even if he is a union man working on an hourly rate, is under treasury jurisdiction.

But who, under treasury control, can get a raise? Only when he qualifies under one of the following:

1. Individual promotion or classification.
 2. Individual merit increases within established rate ranges, that is, within the usual amount of increase given for merit in a certain firm.
 3. Operation of an established plan of wage or salary increases based on length of service.
 4. Increased productivity under piece-work or incentive plans.
 5. Operation of an apprentice or trainee system.
- If a man falls within those classifications, his boss can raise his salary without obtaining treasury approval. If the boss doesn't want to raise him, he doesn't have to.

F.D.R. May Be Called Up Before E-Day To Make Decision On Wartime Wages

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15 (AP)—President Roosevelt may be called upon before election day to decide whether to abandon the administration's rein on wartime wages and open the way for a general pay hike for the nation's workers. Whatever he decides—even should he put off a decision until after Nov. 7—the question of wage earners' pay seems certain to become an election issue.

The CIO Steelworkers' year-long drive to force a 17-cent hourly raise up through the "Little Steel" wage ceiling was laid before the War Labor Board last night in a fact-finding report. In it the majority held that the bureau of labor statistics figures do not show the real increase in living costs and that the president has the power to modify wage stabilization if he sees fit.

A few hours later WLB announced that the week of Oct. 9 would be set aside for executive session consideration of general wage stabilization. It will decide then whether to recommend that Mr. Roosevelt break the Little Steel formula limiting general wage increases to 15 per cent above the level of January, 1941. A board member said the wage issue probably will reach the president's desk by mid-October.

The steel case report—drafted by a six-member panel representing two votes each from industry, labor and the public—made no recommendations but its majority decided:

"It is a reasonable inference that the wage stabilization program would be re-examined from time to time in the light of changing conditions."

Industry members, in a separate report, took exception to some of the majority findings; labor circles regarded them as new ammunition to power the fight for higher wages.

The voluminous report—applying only to steel workers specifically but actually carrying weight on all wartime wage demands—was unloaded on the War Labor Board which can:

1. Reject the requested wage increase, thus adhering to the Little Steel yardstick.
2. Send the case to the White House with a recommendation that the increase be granted—in effect calling upon the president to knock out the Little Steel formula which has been the capstone of the administration's stabilization program.
3. Send the case to the president without recommendation.

Colorado Principal Submits Resignation

COLORADO CITY, Sept. 13 — O. W. Cline, veteran Colorado City teacher, announced Wednesday his resignation as principal of the high school here. Cline will go to Denison high school as science teacher as soon as he can be relieved of his duties in the Colorado City school.

A 1929 graduate of East Texas State Teachers college, he first came to the Junior high school faculty here 15 years ago as mathematics instructor. Before receiving his degree he taught for nine years in rural schools of Fannin county. In 1936 he was elected history teacher in the high school and was made principal in the fall of 1942.

Draft Plea Boomerangs

COLUMBIA, S. C. — Gov. Olin D. Johnston referred to Selective Service a letter from a woman who wrote that her husband beat her up and urged the governor to "put him in the Army." Back came another missive to the governor: "Dear governor, don't refer any more. My husband got hold of the letter and beat me worse than ever."

Five Senators And 13 House Members Defeated In Races

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15 (AP)—A study of the now-completed 1944 congressional primaries showed today that five senators and 13 house members were defeated as against four senate and 22 house incumbents who lost out in the 1942 primary races.

The senatorial renomination fatalities included four democrats and one republican. All four defeats two years ago were on the democratic side.

Nine democratic and four republican house members failed at the primary polls this year as against 15 democrats and seven republicans in 1942.

Senator Joseph C. O'Mahoney of Wyoming, chairman of the democratic senatorial campaign committee, sized up the figures this way:

"With only four primary defeats among the democratic senators this year, the same number as were defeated in 1942, it is clear that the swing against incumbent democrats has not reached the proportions hoped for by the republicans."

O'Mahoney told a reporter that this was "certainly the case" in the house elections where both parties had fewer renomination failures. In any event, he added, it shows the "tide is not running against incumbents."

Dalhart Veteran Who Landed First Heavy Bomber In Africa Is Home

DALHART, Sept. 15 (AP)—Brig. Gen. Joseph Hampton Atkinson, who personally landed the first U. S. heavy bomber in northwest Africa in support of the Allied invasion in November, 1942, has arrived home for a visit.

A veteran aviator, General Atkinson entered the army as a buck private in 1922, going first to Fort Bliss, El Paso, Tex. He transferred to a fledgling air corps and learned to fly at Brooks Field, San Antonio. Then he spent two summers at Fort Riley, Kas., where Maj. "Hap" Arnold—now Lt. Gen. H. H. Arnold, commander of the U. S. army air forces—was his commanding officer.

Parents Interrupt Lady And The Tiger

PORT WASHINGTON, N. Y.—Laying a trusting hand on the tiger's paw that lolled from a cage in the Bronx-zoo, 13-year-old Nan Dalsimer looked up trustingly into the great cat's face. Just then Nan's parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. T. Dalsimer, saw what Nan was up to and, after a horrified moment, reached over the guard rail and pulled Nan back to safety. Mr. Dalsimer, a lawyer, in telling about the incident, pointed out that Nan's regular playmate is a shaggy dog bigger than she is.

officer at Elgin Field, Fla., when Gen. Arnold in 1941 called him to Washington as a member of his staff. There he helped to chart such spectacular air strategy as the memorable first Tokyo raid.

The Texas general went to England, and won the Distinguished Flying Cross for leading a group of 18 Flying Fortresses against submarine pens at Lorient, France, on a test raid to determine if the big bombers could accomplish a mission successfully without fighter escort.

Two days after his arrival in Africa, General Atkinson led the first raid against Blarney, later led the first air smash against Sardinia. After returning to the United States for a breather, the flying officer went back to the Mediterranean theater for his second year overseas and another series of firsts—the first raid against the important railway center at Foggia, Italy; the first heavy bomber attack on Rome, and the first heavy bomber mission from Africa to France, where his outfit blasted Salon and Marseille.

He was made deputy commanding general of the 15th airforce last February, a post he held until August, when he returned to the United States and became commander of the third bomber command, MacDill Field, Fla., part of the 3rd air force.

General Atkinson, 44, is a native of Dublin, Tex., but his home has been in Dalhart since 1902, the year after this city was founded.

The One Thing Unchanged In Our Drive Was The Smell Of Death

By ROGER D. GREENE (Substituting for Hal Bayle) WITH BRITISH TROOPS ON THE WESTERN FRONT. — The old battlefields with their lonely, secluded cemeteries and grassgrown ridges marking the slaughter and misery of World War I roll past as you take the Amiens-Arras road to the Belgian frontier.

Eastward from Amiens you cross the Somme and slip among the lovely trees and shaded roads of Picardy. You look for signs of that terrible battle of the Somme where fathers, and even grandfathers, of this essentially youthful army went forward in massed waves long ago.

Now we are racing forward at 20 to 30 miles a day. There is no trench warfare, no hideous nightmare of lice-ridden dugouts and no officers, saying quietly, glancing at their wrist watches, "All right, men, over the top!"

Nor is there any dawn patrol by men going up in flimsy kites armed with shotguns to shoot at Von Richtofen's circus.

Over this same land where the last great war was fought across the Somme and fields of Picardy there is only one thing which would recall the old days to men who went through it.

The one thing unchanged is the smell of death.

On the road to Arras this morning—on the same poplar-lined highway foot slogging Allied soldiers took more than a quarter of a century ago—we got the same picture of sudden death those American, British and French soldiers came upon in 1918, except that here, save for the very infrequent grave of a British Tommy along the road, all were enemy dead.

Jackbooted Nazi officers who were going to conquer the world are now quiet. Their harsh, guttural commands are stilled forever and they lie in grotesque positions on the road and in the bordering wheat-fields.

In the last war the German motto was "We are the salt of the earth"; in this war it has been "We must have the earth, the world for 'lebensraum' — living space."

A great many of them are now occupying only a very small space of soil in the "lebensraum" they coveted. These grey uniformed corpses I have seen on the road today and every day from the Normandy beaches to the frontier of Belgium could tell the German people at home, if they could go back, that it is not worthwhile.

They have tried it twice in a quarter of a century. The last time they almost won on these same battlefields of Picardy.

And now—once again "German Kultur" lies in twisted, bloated death on the battlefields of the Somme.

Patrolmen Needed On Defense Job

Patrolmen are particularly needed by the Pacific Northwest Construction company, E. P. McGahn, representative, said today.

The work is particularly suited to returning veterans as well as others qualified by experience, he pointed out. Jobs are apparently of long duration with promotion opportunities, vacation with pay, etc., and is in vital war work.

McGahn is at the US Employment Service office through Saturday to give full details.

Lone Yank Soldier To Vote In Election

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Sept. 14 (AP)—A lone American soldier on a British-controlled South Pacific island — 800 miles from the nearest U. S. army base — will vote in the November election.

George M. Clancy, New York state war ballot commission member, said that in compliance with a wireless request of Sergt. Adam Slaweniewski, Syracuse, a ballot will be airmailed to the officer in charge of voting at Slaweniewski's home base, who will dispatch it by British diplomatic pouch on a boat which visits the island once a month. The British officer in charge will take Slaweniewski's oath and ballot, return the ballot by pouch and boat to the base, from where it will be airmailed to this country. The ballot should arrive ten days before election, Clancy said.

DIZZY DUTY GREAT FALLS, Mont.—Police had to arrest a man who had gone to sleep in a revolving door.

More Teachers Needed Here

With the exception of some teacher shortages, a few instances of overcrowding and overloads, the school problem is practically solved, quipped W. C. Blankenship, superintendent, Friday.

The superintendent is earnestly seeking material for commercial teachers, a physical education teacher, a math teacher, an assistant coach, and grade school teachers. He urged anyone with leads to contact him.

At West Ward school, even after all possible transfers were made, the enrollment is so high that double sections are being run on both the first and second grades. That means one group of first and second graders goes to school in the morning and another group comes in the afternoon.

One teacher is handling both the fourth and fifth grades at North Ward and another is handling 38 pupils from the fourth and fifth grades from East Ward.

Need For Youth Program Is Cited

There is a real need in Big Spring for enlarging the youth program, Henry D. Norris, Boy Scout field executive told the Kiwanis club Thursday.

His talk only included the scouts as part of the larger plan which would reach all youths with a variety of activities, but Norris made it plain that facilities were secondary to leadership. The problem of youth cannot be solved until adults give first time and then money to it, Norris asserted.

Guests at the club included the Rev. Cecil Rhodes, E. B. Sims, Dr. Mack D. Gray, Hugh Cochran, captain of the Steer football team, Harold Berry, an Eagle scout.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"It sounds almost like a miracle, Judge... how did we ever do it?"

"American industry did it, Sally. When the Japs conquered the chief natural rubber producing centers of the world they thought they had dealt a death blow to our war effort. But, in less than two years, we are producing enough synthetic rubber in this country to supply all our military and essential civilian requirements.

"Our rubber experts knew how to make it but the most practical process at the time required huge amounts of industrial alcohol... far beyond the already overtaxed capacity of our industrial alcohol plants. So, overnight, our country's beverage distillers stopped making whiskey and produced hundreds of millions of gallons of the vitally needed alcohol.

"As a matter of fact, Sally, a high government official said recently "...synthetic rubber is from 6 to 9 months ahead of where it could have been if alcohol had not been available for butadiene production."

"We were really fortunate, weren't we Judge, to have a beverage distilling industry in existence... able to help perform this great wartime miracle!"

Amazing New SOAPLESS SUDS

Works like Magic in HARD Water!

Gives 7 times more suds than purest soap flakes—in 3 seconds!

- Will not cause fading or streaking of silks, nylons or rayons.
- Will not cause shrinking or matting of baby woolsens!
- Makes dishes sparkle without wiping!
- Removes grease from pots and pans—like lightning!
- Contains no alkali or acid to harm the most delicate skin!
- Does away with dishpan scum—leaves no bathtub ring.

LISTEN, BIG SPRING

Here's real magic for hard water washing!

SOAPLESS SUDS—a sensational suds discovery that works better—faster—safer than purest soap! Cleans and protects the finest fabrics and fluffiest woolsens...won't dull delicate colors...preserves elasticity of stockings and even rubberized garments! And yet, SOAPLESS SUDS is so efficient that it cuts grease and floats it away from pots and pans—and cleans dishes, leaves them sparkling dry without wiping! No rancid, slippery, soapy scum! No acid—no alkali to irritate sensitive skin! From now on—reach for SOAPLESS SUDS instead of soap! Get a package today at your Drug or Department store.

Better...Faster...Safer than Soap
AND NEEDS NO WATER SOFTENER!

FOR DISHES, POTS AND PANS!
Dissolves grease, makes it disappear—without hard rubbing. Eliminates dishpan ring. No wiping necessary.

FOR STOCKINGS AND FINE FABRICS!
Won't cause fading or streaking of silks, nylons, rayon! Gently lifts off dirt, business perspiration odor.

FOR WOLLENS AND BABY THINGS!
Won't cause shrinking or felting! Rinses completely clean—leaves nothing to irritate baby's tender skin.

FOR WINDOWS, WOODWORK, ROSES!
Swishes away dirt, brings out dulled colors. Rings look like new! Removes grease and oil from enameled surfaces.

LUXURIOUS DOUBLE BATHS!
Gives at least 7 times more suds than purest soap...even in hard water. Leaves no soapy, sticky ring around the tub!

ECONOMICAL! CONCENTRATED!
1 teaspoonful of water gives 7 times more suds than purest soap flakes! No water softener necessary.

SOAPLESS SUDS

Suds so Gentle they won't even sting your eyes—

Unlike the stinging action of soap—SOAPLESS SUDS is as gentle as the purest distilled water. That means safety to skin as well as to finest fabrics and woolsens!

Magical enough to cut Grease!

Soak the graggiest pot or pan in SOAPLESS SUDS. Watch the grease melt and float away. That's action no soap can equal!

SMELL THE DIFFERENCE!

Make a paste of any soap flakes or powder. Smell the rancid odor. That's what clings to clothes, dishes, pots and pans—when you use soap! Now make a paste of SOAPLESS SUDS—and smell the clean, fresh, "agranice!" No wonder clothes smell clean and fresh when you use SOAPLESS SUDS!

Football fans will get their first taste of interscholastic action this season when they witness a game under Steer stadium lights at 8:30 p. m. today.

About the only advantage Big Spring will carry into the game, which might in former years have been considered a warmer, is a little prestige which goes with being in class AA. But class A Colorado City's Wolves will pack a distinct advantage in experience and in weight.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLESTON, JR.

NEW YORK, Sept. 15 (AP)—Prexy Ed Barrow of the Yankees is threatening to introduce legislation which would forbid major league baseball clubs to lease their parks for football before the end of the season. . . . That's contrary to the Branch Rickey-Phil Wrigley theory of supplying year-round activity for ball parks, but it helps bring out the fact that pro football is old enough to control its own fields. . . . The ball parks, except maybe the Polo Grounds and Cleveland Stadium, aren't suited to football. . . . There has been talk of building new stadiums in Philadelphia and Washington and one story has it that the National Football league delayed awarding a Los Angeles franchise because Bing Crosby plans to build a plant for a team there after the war. . . . So if the baseball clubs shut down, maybe the footballers will build their own—and lease the premises to colleges for Saturday afternoons.

Today's Guest Star
Don Donaghey, Philadelphia Evening Bulletin: "A praying mantis loitered on the press box rail yesterday and too late we realized it might have made a more appropriate 1944 battle emblem for the home club than the blue Jay."

Sportspour!
Stan Musial's mother and father keep a daily tabulation of their celebrated son's batting performances. . . . Frank Sinkwich and his dad have opened a nifty wet goods emporium on the main drag of Youngstown, Ohio. . . . Norman Wiener, Kentucky U. quarterback, was hauled into court for yelling too loud while employed as a barker at Coney Island. Wonder what will happen when Wiener goes into a huddle with half-back Herb Thomas, who is 4-F because of deafness. . . . Scouts report that Greasy Neale has rounded up a real good football team for the Philly Eagles. And that right in the middle of Sunday's Bears-Redskins tilt Clark Shaughnessy phoned the bench and Sammy Baugh quit trying to play under center in the "T". . . . The International league sends all the way to Birmingham, Ala., for dirt to take the shine off baseballs—which probably comes under the head of good clean fun.

The game of billiards is believed to have been introduced into France during the reign of Louis XIV.

Football practice in some of the ward schools is underway now and all of the six teams to compete in the annual grade school football league likely will start work during the next week, John Dibrrell, director of athletics, said Friday.

Three Teams In American League Back In Action

By JACK HAND

Associated Press Sports Writer
Draft board calls and a pro football exhibition added further confusing overtones to the American league chess today as three of the four contenders went back into action after a four-day "holiday."

Dick Wakefield, Detroit's slugging left fielder, was notified by his Chicago draft board he had passed his army physical and was subject to call at any time. The former Navy pre-flight cadet said he did not expect to be called before mid-October.

Notice was sent from a Sarasota, Fla., board to Pitcher Denny Galehouse of the St. Louis Browns to report Monday at Camp Blending for his pre-induction physical. Philadelphia's pro-grid exhibition Tuesday had an indirect, although perhaps inconsequential, bearing on the race. Steady rains coupled with the condition of the field forced two successive postponements of a scheduled important Athletic-Yankee game, resulting in a transfer to New York to be part of a Sunday double-header.

If Sunday's games hit bad weather, they will be taken off the books. At this stage, one game less than the regular 154 might make the percentage point difference that could win or lose the flag.

Although the Philadelphia game probably would not have been played because of the hurricane, even if no football game had been held, President Ed Barrow of the Yanks was prepared to ask the majors for legislation at the December meetings, forbidding any team from renting its park for football before the close of its home season.

Further conflict with football might arise if Detroit won the championship as the first world series game at Briggs stadium would be held Sunday, Oct. 8, when the Brooklyn Tigers and the Lions are slated to open the Detroit home season in the National grid league.

Bill Voiselle became the first New York Giant pitcher in seven years to win 20 games as he stopped the Phillies, 12-1, yesterday, to tie Chicago for fourth place. The Cubs bowed to Cincinnati, 2-2, in 13 innings but got an even break in the nightcap, 4-2, as Ray Mueller of the Reds stretched his record to 135 straight catching jobs. Brooklyn climbed into sixth by stopping Boston, 5-4.

Approximately 15,000,000 people inhabit the Nile valley.

Yesterday and Today

A business man in Big Spring, who is a member of the official board in his church, was down town on a recent Sunday morning and saw a strange soldier walking disconsolately down the street. Judging from the package the boy had under his arm the business man decided he was out for no special good. The man approached the boy and in a friendly manner engaged him in conversation. He found that the boy had had two bitter years in the Southwest Pacific. He is now located in a nearby army camp and is two thousand miles from home. When asked where he was going and what he planned for the day he replied in effect, "I was tired of the camp and came over here for the week end. I do not know anybody here and I do not know any place to go." "Why not come to Sunday school and church with me?" said the business man. The astonished boy replied "nothing would please me better. My parents are members of a church back home and as a child I always went to Bible school and worship on Sunday." So the soldier attended the man's church and declared he had not had a day in years that brought such satisfaction and joy to his heart as the singing and preaching along with the friendly greetings of the congregation. After the church services one of the members took him to his home for lunch and a homey visit, and when he returned to camp he forgot to take his package with him. He had found a much better way to conquer loneliness and homesickness. Moral: There are probably hundreds like him in Big Spring who are just waiting for a friendly invitation to attend worship in our churches and who would be eternally grateful to any thoughtful member who would extend that invitation. "Go out," Jesus said "and constrain them to come in."

For Future Protection

One of the American people's pet phobias is and always has been the gnawing fear and distrust of anything resembling militarism. It has blinded them to the very real difference between military preparedness for national security and that type of militarism which has given the Germans and the Japs world-conquering ambitions.

Many Americans believe that if we really built an adequate national defense, we would become infected with the virus of militarism, and go off after false gods pretty much as the Germans, the Japs and other aggressor nations have done. They forget or overlook the elaborate and indestructible safeguards our form of government erects against irresponsible militaristic adventures and ambitions. Our system of checks and balances precludes it. The American people would never stand for it; they have no ambition whatever to conquer the world or to run roughshod over the rights and privileges and sovereignty of other nations. Least of all would they stand being dominated by a military clique.

But they do have a very grave concern, now more than ever, for the future safety of this country; and they can not be frightened by any pacifistic argument against a strong army, navy and air corps as the only means of securing it. They can not be scared by the bugaboo of "militarism."

Compulsory training is the only solution to a large reserve, because it has been demonstrated that voluntary enlistment can't be dependent upon even in the fever of war, much less in the lackadaisical times of peace.

Our old standing army ranged from 117,000 to 187,000 between the great wars. We depended upon the national guards as a reserve and it proved its merits quickly—but it was woefully small.

The very fact that we had a standing army of, say, half a million professional soldiers, plus 3,000,000 to 5,000,000 trained reserves between 18 and 25 years of age ready to go at the drop of a hat would be the greatest deterrent imaginable to ambitious aggressors, and the finest safeguard of the lives, property and wellbeing of the people of America.

We must look at it realistically, and not permit old prejudices to blind us to the essential fact that only in strength is there safety, and that only an adequately trained, thoroughly equipped and sufficiently large combination of regulars and reserves can give us what we want above all things on earth—to live peacefully in a world free of terror and tyranny.—Marshall News-Messenger.

The War Today

By Dewitt MacKenzie
Associated Press War Analyst

The great team of MacArthur, Nimitz and Co. at last has got itself set for invasion of the Philippines by its occupation of strategic islands in the Palau and Molucca (sometimes called Halmahera) groups—an event for which readers of this column were invited six days ago to watch.

The powerfully fortified Palau islands, which have been successfully invaded by marines and assault forces from Admiral Nimitz's command, have been the main Japanese shield for the eastern approach to the Philippines. They are only 600 miles from Davao, chief city of Mindanao, P. I.

MacArthur's amphibious troops landed on the little island of Morotal, only 300 miles south of Mindanao. Morotal is the northernmost of the Molucca islands, and in selecting this spot MacArthur again tricked the Nipponese. They had looked for a landing on Halmahera, the principal island, but the general sailed right by and hit where he wasn't expected.

The operations were continuing at latest reports, but both commanders expressed confidence in the outcome. MacArthur, who landed with his men, told them in a beachhead talk:

"You now dominate the last stronghold which barred you from the Philippines. x x x Our campaign is entering upon its decisive stage."

When these two grand bases are fully established we shall be able to hit at the Japanese from close range, both by air and by sea. No wonder the Mikado's little men are predicting a landing soon in Mindanao!

On the whole Nimitz and MacArthur have presented the Roosevelt-Churchill conference in Quebec with a mighty fine and appropriate gift, since that parley is said to be heavily concerned with planning the final assault on Japan.

Ernie Pyle: With Bonfires, Camp In England Could Be Picture From Civil War

Editor's Note: This is the second of two columns in which Ernie Pyle, interrupting his vacation, brings us up to date on the RAF pilot in whose rescue from a wrecked plane in France Ernie participated.

LONDON, Sept. 15 (by wireless)—At the hospital the RAF pilot and I enjoyed living over again the climax to those eight days of imprisonment in his wrecked plane in France. When we rescued him that day I had not wanted to badger him with trivial questions, so there were some things I didn't get straight, and other things I had straight which he was mixed up on.

I thought his leg had been wounded while he was still in the air. But he told me it didn't happen until about three hours after he had crashed, when there was shelling and shooting all around him. He said that whatever kind of shell it was made a terrific racket when it came through the plane and struck him.

The little hole in the side of the plane through which he had thrust his hand—we thought that had been torn when the plane crashed. But actually the pilot had made it himself during those eight days, trying to tear a hole big enough to get out.

He worked at it off and on with a little crowbar he had in the cockpit. He asked me if I thought he could ever have made the hole big enough by himself. I told him there wasn't a chance. He said the worst thing in those eight days was the thirst. After the first couple of days he wasn't hungry at all, but the thirst was torturing. He said that for hours and days he visualized creeks full of water, and all the pubs where he had left a little beer in the bottom of glasses.

He had seen the columns I wrote about his rescue, and he was modestly pleased about them. He laughed at one thing I had said—that his eyes, as he rolled them there in his imprisonment, were like "big brown tennis balls."

Actually his eyes did seem like that. But in the hospital that effect had gone, and his eyes seemed of normal size. His face had filled out and his color was fine. He smoked and laughed, and his hospital wouldn't let him out on leave immediately.

The Lieutenant has strong leanings toward America. He didn't tell us on that day of the rescue, but he had his flight training in the States. He trained at Cleveland, Fla., and was in America from October of 1941 till April of '42.

He had been flying in combat for two years, and although his plane had often been hit, this was the first time he had been shot down. He remarked over and over again how lucky he was to be alive.

He was regretful that his wound would take so long to heal that the war would undoubtedly be over before he was well again. As he said, he would "like one more crack at those Jerries."

The Lieutenant was smoking Lucky Strikes when we visited him, and he said, "You can see I've been in an American hospital." I took him a Zippo lighter as a gift, and he was very proud of it. As soon as he can use a pen he is going to write notes of thanks to the two American soldiers who discovered him.

During those eight days of anguished imprisonment he never gave up hope that he would get out. It was even stronger than hope, for he said he was positive all the way through that he would get out.

In a letter his wife wrote me she asked that I keep the Lieutenant anonymous. She said it was one of those things he owed to all his friends and comrades who had not been lucky enough to get back with their stories.

I would certainly honor her request, but his name has already been published elsewhere. The Air Ministry, like our own War Department, releases the names of casualties as soon as the family is notified.

So, since his identity is already publicly known, I'm sure she will not consider it a violation of trust for me to print it here again so that his friends in America may know who this courageous flier was.

He is Flight Lieutenant Robert Gordon Falls Lee, of Sebourne, Orchard Road, Shalford, Surrey. He was a mechanical engineer before the war. He is the highest type of Englishman, a man of great courage and of fine instincts—the kind of person who makes our two countries proud of each other.

In the letter Mrs. Lee wrote me she said, "It would be impossible to attempt to thank you and the others for what you did for my husband in France. I am afraid I don't know how to express the kind of gratitude we feel. But one day there may be another installment, when the family keeps a date it has in the U. S. A."

That's fine. Come on over—we will all welcome you.

'Sig Is A Nice Guy; He Thinks I Can Write'

By ROBBIN COONS
HOLLYWOOD — "We're busy over here," invited Sig. Schlager, the prexy and go-getter of that infant company known as Producers Corporation of America.

"Not a picture in work, but we're a bee-hive, like crazy. Come see what happens to a picture company between pictures."

Sig is a nice guy. He thinks I can write. He is a wonderful guy. He even says he doesn't tell that to all the boys. He's a terrific guy. So I dropped in today, and am happy to report that the bee-hive was functioning. Sig himself, with a script in his hand, popped out of a story conference—or maybe it was a money conference—to give the glad hand.

"Come on in, meet the folks," he said.

There was a tiny little woman on the divan. "Miss Sylvia Thalberg," said Sig. "And Mrs. Schlager, you know. And Miss Un Stanley, our financial secretary."

Miss Thalberg, he explained, was deep in the emotion of her new script, "Insincerely Yours," which is an upswart version of "Zoe Akins." "The Greeks Had a Word for It." That would make this a story conference, but the presence of Miss Stanley sug-

Today And Tomorrow

Quebec And Japanese War

By WALTER LIPPMANN

While the grand strategic plan for the defeat of Germany was laid down at Teheran, there is as yet no such plan for the defeat of Japan. But the plan is now in the making, and its final form will be the product, we may assume, of four converging series of negotiations and decisions.

One of these, which must have been explored when the President met Admiral Nimitz and General MacArthur at Hawaii, deals with the problem of whether the United States shall concentrate for one great campaign under navy leadership across the central Pacific, or whether there shall also be a major campaign up from Australia under General MacArthur.

The second chapter, which must be on the agenda at Quebec, deals with whether British participation in the Pacific war shall be a mere mopping-up operation in Burma, Malaya, and the Netherlands Indies, or whether Britain shall take her part in the main attack on Japan. This question is closely related to the first, to what we may call the Nimitz-MacArthur problem. For if the decision were in favor of the one great campaign by Nimitz, MacArthur's role would be like that of the British—a mopping-up of the Philippines while the main military offensive against Japan was carried on by American troops incorporated in the Nimitz forces. If, on the other hand, the decision is for two great campaigns, then British land, sea, and air forces would be joined with MacArthur's in a combined operation to be carried through the Philippines to the coast of China and on to Japan.

Either strategic plan requires a landing in China, at the very least to establish air bases for the full use of our air power, and almost certainly also for a land campaign against the undefeated mass of the Japanese Army in North China, Manchuria, and Japan proper. Here we come at once to the third and fourth chapters in the formation of the over-all plan—the Chinese and the Soviet chapters.

If and when there is a landing in China, we should be able to count upon a junction with large bodies of Chinese troops which are already trained but are in need of the equipment we can supply. But unhappily hundreds of thousands of the best Chinese troops are immobilized in watching one another—in the large area where the Chungking armies are blocking the so-called Red Chinese armies.

This destructive deadlock needs to be resolved not only in order to unite the Chinese against the Japanese but also to avoid dangerous complications in the fourth chapter, which is the intervention of the Soviet Union against Japan. The greater part of the Japanese Army is on the mainland of Asia and in Japan; it is not even within striking distance of the British. It is within striking distance of the Soviets, and when full-scale fighting breaks out on the Asiatic mainland, the strategic situation is such that the Soviets are bound to make connections with the Chinese Red troops that Chungking is blocking.

Thus there is grave danger of a small war within the big war, and of a complication on a large scale in Asia not unlike that which existed between the Axis and the Allies in Yugoslavia.

at all. The Indians and cowboys galloping across the white walls, invisible to me, were being translated in penciled shorthand.

In another cell dignified Erich Pommer, who will produce "This Crazy, Lovely World!" from Ladislav Fodor's play was excited about something with Hungarian Fodor and Americanese Manny Wolfe, and the effect was dizzying to an outsider, suggesting quick retreat past the accounting department where they were happily (the publicity man said) taling up grosses from PCA's first picture, "Knickerbocker Holiday."

In a few weeks all this beehive, like crazy, will be transferred to sound stages, but that's what it's like between pictures.

The Tajin pyramid in the state of Veracruz, Mexico, is built in seven sections and is divided into 364 inches.

The main question is whether and how the defeat of Japan is to be brought about by the combined action of the United Nations rather than predominantly by the United States. Not only the length of the war, and its costs, but the character of the world settlement, and the reality of the Dumbarton Oaks project, depend upon how successfully the President and the Prime Minister at Quebec, and the two of them thereafter with Marshal Stalin and the Generalissimo, agree upon a United Nations strategy for the Pacific which is as inclusive and as dependable as the European plan that was made at Teheran.

If, for any reason, we resisted or if any of our great allies held back from such a combined plan, we should make a mockery of the whole idea of collective security in the post-war world. We cannot enforce peace on Germany by collective action and then deal with Japan in the other half of the world without collective action. Whoever prevents the organization of collective action in the Pacific, for whatever reason, will damage, probably irreparably, the kind of peace which was promised in the Moscow agreements, which is being formulated at Dumbarton Oaks.

It is by British willingness, which is not in doubt, to participate in the main effort against Japan, by our willingness to do all that is required to make British participation possible and effective—it is by the willingness of Chungking to unite China and of Moscow to intervene—that the ideal of collective security in the post-war world will be ratified and sealed. For the ideal depends not on theoretical answers to hypothetical questions, not on political mechanics, but on whether the world war does or does not end as a United Nations enterprise.

Washington— Morgenthau's Seven Doughboys

By JACK STINNETT
WASHINGTON — Over in the Treasury Department, they just call it "the cash room," but it should have a better name than that.

It's the place where thousands of Washington government workers, allotment and pension receivers go to get their checks cashed. More checks are cashed there every month than in any bank in the world.

In wartime Washington, there are days when it looks like a madhouse, but it never is. Seven tellers, the fastest money handlers operating today, see that it isn't. On the bigger paydays (Uncle Sam used to pay on the first and 15th, but now has staggered paydays to level off the rush to some extent) a teller will handle between 600 and 700 checks. Under real pressure, the best of the tellers can cash three checks a minute.

Tellers, on big days, will pay out as much as $100,000 apiece.

The Treasury cash room is unique in several other ways. For example, they never pay out anything but brand new money and there's no danger of running out, because Mr. Morgenthau has $70,000,000 of it on hand all the time in his vaults—incidentally the only money that the U. S. Treasury in Washington has. Those billions are all bookkeeping and distributions from the mints and Bureau of Engraving.

Another feature of the cash room is the change windows where the larger bills can be changed into smaller or even jangling money. A favorite with some of the Negro government workers, according to Joseph E. Webb, one of the tellers, who is responsible for most of this information, are "beau dollars," the drier cartwheels which are so common in the west but as scarce as $2 bills in the east.

Being human, and thus capable of error, the tellers sometimes do make mistakes but far less than you would expect in view of the amount of money handled. According to Webb, the cash room has a system whereby any person short-changed will always get the amount that is due him. They haven't been able to figure out a system yet that will make all those who get overpaid bring back the pickup. Many think that it comes out of Uncle Sam, who can well afford it. As a matter of fact, it comes out of the pockets of the tellers, who can't afford it so well.

Few patrons of the cash room realize that they line up in what was once the most beautiful room in any Washington building. Its walls are lined with marble from Vermont, Tennessee and Italy.

Soon after the building was completed, President Grant held his first inaugural ball there March 5, 1869, and there's a story that at night one can still hear music echo through the chamber. I've never talked to any one who has been in there at night. Those who inhabit the place in the daytime say they can't hear anything but the jangle of coins and the rustle of folding money.

Germany is reported to be producing over 5 billion gallons of gasoline and light oils per year from coal.

Texas Petroleum Production Cut

AUSTIN, Sept. 15 (AP)—The Petroleum Administration for War today called on Texas to produce 2,278,000 barrels daily of all petroleum liquids in October, a decrease of 30,000 barrels per day as compared with September's production.

The certification called for daily production of 2,133,000 barrels of crude oil, the classification in which the decrease came. The PAW specified the decrease should be distributed among fields not tributary to the Longview terminal of the Big Inch pipeline. "The total crude herein indicated as required for production from Texas is certified notwithstanding the technical opinion of the Petroleum Administration for War that it may well result, for some fields, in production in excess of their maximum efficient rates," said the telegram from Ralph K. Davies, deputy administrator, to the office of Beauford Jester, chairman of the railroad commission.

"The amounts of crude oil thus certified are required as an emergency measure as a matter of war necessity."

The commission's statewide production hearing, which for the duration has been using the PAW certification's production yardstick, will be held Tuesday.

Wampum, the shell money of the North American Indians, was in two colors, dark purple and white.

Named President

DALLAS, Sept. 15 (AP) — Harry C. Bates of Denton has been re-elected president of the bricklayers, masons and plasterers international union of America.

Bates was named at yesterday's closing sessions which heard Gov. Coke Stevenson say in an address that "you're an old organization and you've got a right to be proud of yourselves."

Richard Gray, Albany, N. Y., secretary, and Elmer Spahn, Washington, treasurer, were re-elected, as were ten vice presidents from over the country.

FIRST 100 YEARS

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 15 (AP) — James A. Willis, who will be 100 years old tomorrow, has been working a six-day week as an upholsterer at Goodwill Industries since 1936.

And in those eight years he has never been late and has been absent only six days. Says Willis: "I like to work because it keeps life moving."

Much glass cutting was done by hand with a diamond pointed instrument until the 19th century.

T-Sgt. McKinney, Back From Combat, Visits Here With Brother And Family

T/Sgt. R. M. McKinney, who had his initial training at the Big Spring Bombardier school, has returned from overseas and is visiting with his brother, D. M. McKinney, and family.

Accompanying him here on the visit is his father, John B. McKinney, Sr., of McKinney, whose grandfather, Colin McKinney, furnished the name for both county and town.

Sgt. McKinney holds the Air medal with two oak leaf clusters and has two major campaign stars, one for his work in Italy. His assignment is as an aerial engineer on a B-24, which he thinks a "mighty good ship" for it took us there and brought us back.

However, he and other crew members happen to be on their third B-24 for flak reasons. Sgt. McKinney attests that flak gets so thick it looks like an asphalt road, "and there's nothing you can do except keep right in formation over your objective."

He escaped with only a scratch on the back of one hand, but it wasn't all a picnic. The back of his turret was blown off once, but he escaped uninjured.

Last Rites Today For Wm. Jackson

Last rites were to be said at 3:30 p. m. today in Coahoma for William J. Jackson, merchant, justice of peace and tax collector at Coahoma for the past 18 years. Mr. Jackson succumbed at a local hospital Wednesday evening.

Besides his widow, Mrs. Stella Jackson, he leaves two sons, Henry Jackson, Hamlin, and J. M. Jackson, Rotan; and two daughters, Mrs. C. T. Bond, Wolfe City, and Mrs. E. D. Benham, Enterprise, Kans. Mrs. J. E. Adams, Coahoma, is a sister-in-law, and Thad Hale, Ben Hale and Clarence Hale of Coahoma and Dr. F. M. Hafo of Ballinger are brothers-in-law. Eight grandchildren and two great-grandsons survive.

Rites were to be in charge of Elders Ben Howe, L. S. Rivers and Owens of the Primitive Baptist church and burial was to be in the Coahoma cemetery with the Eberley-Curry Funeral home in charge of arrangements.

Flight Officer Talty Has Thrilling But Tortuous Escape From Germans

Injured in the D-Day invasion of Normandy, FO Edward S. Talty, formerly of Big Spring, had a thrilling but tortuous escape from the Nazis.

A glider pilot, he set his craft down 10 miles behind German lines and alone was injured, suffering a broken rib and punctured lung. He had to remain in hiding in a ditch for a day and night before he could be evacuated, and since that time has been in the hospital until his release last week.

For his work, he wears the Air Medal and the Purple Heart.

FO Talty worked here for Commercial Credit Corp. and was married to the former Dora Shroyer, who now is employed in the Odessa postoffice. Her husband sent his Purple Heart badge to her. FO Talty entered service in March 1942, received his wings in Victorville, Calif. on April 17, 1943 and had advanced specialized training in Maxton, N. Carolina before being sent overseas in January 1944.

CROOKER GIVES STATEMENT IN BEHALF OF 15 DEMO REGULARS

HOUSTON, Sept. 15 (AP)—John H. Crooker, Houston attorney and one of the 15 democratic electors chosen by the May convention who have said they would not vote for the national nominees, issued a statement today which he said was in behalf of all of the 15. The statement follows:

"We fifteen regularly constituted presidential electors of the democratic party in Texas say the September convention had neither moral right nor legal power to oust us.

"We were duly named by the May convention; our rights to office were adjudicated and approved by the supreme court of Texas; and real southern democrats have the right to keep our names on the November ballots.

"The C.I.O.-New Deal coalition, with its bare margin of votes giving it control over the Dallas convention, had no right or power to rob us of our office than to oust Governor Stevenson, Lieut. Gov. John Lee Smith, or Commissioner of Agriculture J. E. McDonald, for we all are duly qualified nominees of the democratic party in Texas.

"A motion was made from the floor by an enthusiastic New Dealer to take Commissioner McDonald's name off the ticket. The C.I.O.-New Deal permanent chairman, James V. Allred, expressed regrets at having to rule the motion out of order.

"The motion made to oust our fifteen delegates was joyously passed by the handful of fourth timers still there. Legally we are every bit as much nominees of the democratic party as Commissioner McDonald. Why was the motion pertaining to electors not ruled out of order?"

"The reason is that just as the national administration is trying to subvert our established rule by law, so is the C.I.O.-New Deal element trying to flout the law which protects our legal rights as nominee-electors.

"Look at the convention record! In at least two Texas counties the voters in their county conventions had given their delegates positive instructions to vote on all issues to support the action and program of the regular May convention, but in some ways those instructions were not followed.

"If, following the expressed will of the people, those two counties had cast their votes as they were instructed to do, we would have been sustained by a small majority of the votes.

"Much the same sort of chicanery occurred with respect to the votes of other counties, but for which we would have had a comfortable majority."

Houses And Crops Destroyed By Flood

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 15 (AP)—Destruction of houses and crops in northern Jalisco from recent floods was even greater than that in the Parra region of Chihuahua, declared Senator Enrique Ocoarino Camarena, who has just returned from there.

He said that ruin and desolation throughout a vast area of that region was "tragic beyond description." The important towns of Lagos de Moreno and Encarnacion were practically razed to the ground, and many smaller towns and villages were totally washed away.

Hunger was rampant among the homeless there, he added, and there was a grave danger of epidemics because of contamination of drinking water.

Relief measures were being taken by the authorities, but more were needed, he said.

Train service improved throughout the republic today, as rains abated or ceased in the endangered districts and no new floods were reported.

Direct passengers and freight service was resumed, with precautions, between Mexico City and Ciudad Juarez. Train communication between this capital and Nuevo Laredo was still being effected via Tampico, because of damage to the track between San Luis Potosi and Monterrey.

Mrs. Fannie King Taken By Death

LIBERTY, Mo., Sept. 15 (AP)—Mrs. Fannie B. King, 82, mother of Frank H. King, chief of the Dallas, Tex., bureau of the Associated Press, died today at her home here.

Mrs. King, wife of H. H. King, former commissioner of schools of Clay county and retired school teacher, was born Nov. 25, 1861, at Columbia, Mo. After her marriage in 1887, she and her husband came here. They observed their golden wedding anniversary in 1937.

Other survivors include a daughter, Mrs. Donald Paris, Liberty; a sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Kenney, Chillicothe, Mo., and a grandson, Frank H. H. King, who is attending officer's training school at Ft. Benning, Ga. Funeral services will be at 3:30 o'clock Saturday at the Second Baptist church here, with burial near Excelsior Springs.

Money Can Be Raised For Campaign If CIO Members Give Dollar

DALLAS, Sept. 15 (AP)—Carl McPeak, regional director of the state CIO Political Action Committee, says $150,000 will be raised for the democratic presidential campaign in Texas if every member of the CIO will, as he has been asked to do, contribute $1.00.

However, he said in an interview with the News, a sum considerably less than that amount is expected, adding that all of the Texas-raised money would be spent in Texas.

McPeak said if the state democratic organization wants and solicits its help in the campaign to carry Texas for Roosevelt and Truman, the state cop pac will "cooperate to the fullest extent."

He said the state pac would work for the national ticket, concentrating on CIO members, regardless of whether the democratic party seeks its aid.

"We are only interested in the state," the pac official explained. "We are taking no part in any of the congressional races."

Committees have been set up in Dallas, Tarrant, Harris and Jefferson counties, and soon will be functioning in Amarillo, and the Gladewater - Longview and Corpus Christi areas, the News said. John Crossland of Houston is state PAC chairman and W. M. Akin of Port Arthur is secretary treasurer.

Hearing On Cotton Picking Ceilings Slated Sept. 22

A hearing on establishment of cotton picking ceiling prices has been set for 9 a. m. Sept. 22 in Sweetwater, County Agent Durward Lester has been informed by J. D. Prewitt, acting director of the state extension service.

The Texas War Food Administration wage board is to conduct the hearing which involves the Wichita Falls, Abilene and Lubbock producing areas.

Testimony will be taken concerning the type of work to be controlled, exact areas to be subject to control the crops to be affected, the wage rates paid and of matters relative to the establishment of a wage ceiling.

It is imperative that each county has 51 percent cotton farmers on petition if it is to be presented at the hearing if at all possible.

All persons interested may appear and testify.

"Howard county is lagging behind, and we can't get that 51 percent signers unless farmers sign their petitions by Saturday," Lester said.

Complaint has been filed by Grover C. Mathews against Leonard Hill for fraud. He is charged with breaking into Mathews home and taking corporeal personal property belonging to Grover Mathews without that parties consent, and to appropriate the same to the use and benefit of Leonard Hill.

Oil Pact May Be One Aired At Meeting

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15 (AP)—The Anglo-American Oil pact, pending now before the senate foreign relations committee, may be one of the principal topics of discussion at a meeting of Texas Oil operators next Tuesday in Austin.

Requests from numerous oil men throughout the state that the treaty be discussed at the meeting were received here by Chairman Beauford Jester of the Texas Railroad Commission, which called the meeting.

On leaving last night for Texas Jester was undecided on the matter, but it appeared likely he would present to the operators much of the data he has obtained during conferences here this week regarding the treaty.

Ceiling Prices On Hogs Prevail

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15 (AP)—Government assurance was given today that there will be no reduction in ceiling prices of live hogs before June, 1945.

At the same time, the Office of Price Administration and the War Food Administration said in a joint announcement that a previously announced decrease in support prices also would be extended to the same 1945 date. The decrease, effective October 1, is from $13.75 to $12.50 a hundred pounds, on the representative class of good and choice 200 to 240-pound hogs at Chicago.

The action was approved by Economic Stabilization Director Fred M. Vinson.

Present ceiling prices are $14.75 a hundredweight, Chicago basis, for hogs weighing 240 pounds or less and $14.00 for those weighing more than 240.

The Young Women's Christian Association was formed in 1894.
