City Restaurant Owners Plan Liquor Campaign

MEET LI'L ABNER AND DAISY MAE—The main characters in the Li'l Abner production at Estacado High School auditorium tonight and Monday, December 6, are Comora Anderson as Daisy Mae and Franklin Rutherford as Li'l Abner.

Estacado High School presents the most talked about and raved about hit, Li'l Abner. It's an all-school musical production involving over 200 students. A mixture of hill-billy nonsense and sharp, critical human, the productions will be staged two nights, with tickets priced at $1.00 for adults and 75¢ for students.

Turkey Day Clash Between Estacado, Brownwood Ends Matadors Hopes, 7-6

A full crowd was on hand last Thursday, Thanksgiving evening, to witness a hard defensive battle between our own Estacado Matadors and the Brownwood Lions. A missed extra point by Larry Isaac in the third frame was the difference. Brownwood held on to only a touchdown and an extra point to win 7-6, and take the 3-AAA bi-district title.

Isaac scored the lone touchdown for Estacado with a one yard plunge in the third quarter. Brownwood scored its touchdown when sophomore Kenneth Yates' fumble paved the way for the score in the early part of the second period. It took the Lions only six plays to score, with Gary George going over from the 12 with less than 9 minutes left in the second quarter. Rodney Folsom kicked the extra point.

Isaac led all rushers with 103 yards from scrimmage on only 22 carries. His longest run was a 40 yard burst midway through the fourth quarter.

This meeting was the fourth year in a row the two schools have had a go at each other in bi-district playoffs. Estacado won the first; the others, including the one last week, have all gone to the Lions.

Deltas Sponsor Hip—Chest Line Party

A Hip Line and Chest Line party will be sponsored by Eta Lambda Chapter of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Inc., an undergraduate chapter at Texas Tech University, on Saturday, December 4th, beginning at 8:30 p.m. at Apartment 126, University Arms Apartments, 403 University.

The purpose of this function is to raise monies for future activities for the chapter.

Admission is only two cents (2¢) per inch for hips and three cents (3¢) per inch for chest. Prizes will be awarded to the brother with the largest chest and the sister with the largest hips.

Stephanie Williams, chapter president, invited the public to come out and be a part of this party.

Opportunities Industrialization Center Leaders Urge New Manpower Bill

Dr. Leon Sullivan Says
Partisan Debate Must End

Washington, D.C.—Rev. Leon H. Sullivan, Founder-President of the Opportunities Industrialization Centers (OIC), and more than 200 representatives of OIC programs spent a full day on Capitol Hill appealing to the U.S. Congress to pass immediately a new comprehensive manpower bill.

In testifying before the House Select Subcommittee on Labor, Rev. Sullivan called for an end to the partisan debate on three pending manpower bills, sponsored by the Administration; Subcommittee Chairman Dominick V. Daniels, Democrat of New Jersey, and a third bill co-sponsored by two Republican Subcommittee members, Reps. Marvin Esch of Michigan and William Steiger of Wisconsin.

State Rev. Sullivan: "Since 1962, efforts have been made to develop a manpower system to reach the needs of the untrained, the unskilled, the unemployed and the poor. Up to now, these manpower laws and efforts have been miserable failures.

"While the Congress debates which of the different manpower bills is best, people are suffering; people are hungry and hopeless, both white and Black. We are not really interested in which of these bills will rise to the surface, as much as we are interested in one bill now to provide training and job development funds for programs such as OIC, so that we can get on with the work of relieving some of the economic problems facing deprived Blacks, browns, yellows, and also whites."

Rev. Sullivan specifically asked the Subcommittee to support the inclusion of OIC as a major program in the new manpower legislation, and to make OIC a prime sponsor for the expansion of its work.

The Philadelphia minister who also serves on the Board of Directors of General Motors, requested sufficient funding for OIC to train one million unemployed and underemployed citizens at the rate of 100,000 a year for the next ten years.

Rev. Sullivan and his OIC team made a favorable impression on the Subcommittee.

Said Subcommittee Chairman Dominick Daniels, of New Jersey, to Rev. Sullivan: "I personally believe in your program. I think you have done a marvelous job and should be commended for the outstanding results achieved by OIC."

Rep. Marvin Esch, of Michigan, who is the ranking Republican member of the Subcommittee: "I, for one, want to commit myself to any legislation that is passed to make sure that programs such as OIC, which epitomizes self-help in an action sense rather than just words, not only is continued but expanded."

Stated Rep. Augustus Hawkins, of California: "The OIC testimony, given by Dr. Sullivan and his colleagues, is the most impressive testimony that has been given in this series of hearings. The record of accomplishments made by OIC is very convincing and certainly deserving of bipartisan support in the Congress."

Added Rep. Joseph Gaydos, of Pennsylvania, "Based upon the experience we have had with OIC in our community of McKeesport, I wouldn't want to see OIC diluted or lost somewhere in programs listed in the manpower bill. I would like to see it at the top of the list."

Testifying with Rev. Sullivan were: Mrs. Consuello Harper, Executive Director of OIC in Central Alabama; Rev. Edward A. Hailes, Executive Director, Washington, D.C. OIC; Russell Tershy, Executive Director of San Jose, California OIC, and Fred Miller, Executive Director, OIC National Institute.

Mrs. Harper told the Subcommittee, "It is said that love makes the world go round, but money greases the wheels. OIC is a wheel; a wheel with more than 100 spokes. As the wheel turns, it turns out productive citizens, and restores self-respect. It turns out people who are independent. You can help us get the money to grease the spokes; you can help us turn the wheel."

Mr. Tershy said that the San Jose OIC had placed approximately 950 people in three years. He said most of these are Mexican-Americans, of which 99 percent were totally unemployed. "In direct welfare savings, we have saved the Welfare Department in California $1,335,930, and in indirect welfare costs, food stamps, medicare, administration, we have saved the state an additional $1 million.

While on Capitol Hill, OIC representatives met with various senators who are co-sponsoring the Opportunity Industrialization Assistance Act. The bi-partisan sponsorship is led by Senator Caleb Boggs of Delaware and includes Senators Hugh Scott, Hubert H. Humphrey, Richard Schweiker, Edmund Muskie, Jacob Javits, Edward Kennedy and Birch Bayh.

LCC to Sponsor Africa Program

Students from Lubbock Christian College will present a junior program Saturday, December 4th, for second through sixth grade students at Texas Tech Museum.

The program will feature animal fables from Africa, beginning at 9:30 a.m. and continuing through 11 a.m., in order to accommodate all of the boys and girls attending.

The program is under the direction of Mrs. June Bearden, LCC faculty member.

In a meeting Monday evening at the Gridiron Restaurant, Lubbock restaurant owners announced that they are gearing up for an all-out campaign that will outdo anything in Lubbock's history, including the United Fund, in order to call for a city-wide election for liquor.

One member, Roger Loter, owner of La Fonda del Sol, chairman of the group which calls itself Lubbock Citizens for Enforceable Liquor Laws, said in the "nitty gritty" meeting, "We've had liquor by the drink in Lubbock for five years; the issue is not liquor by the drink."

He said the issue now is to take advantage of legal options granted by the State Legislature, and eliminate the "hypocrisy and subterfuge" that restaurant operators are forced to observe in order to comply with existing ordinances.

The group is looking for a city-wide election during the first two weeks in April, in conjunction with the City Council elections. The election would be for "mixed drink, on-premises consumption" only and would require operators to pay a $4,500 licensing fee.

At this time, the restaurant owners expect some opposition to the vote from religious groups such as the Church of Christ and Baptist organizations. On the other hand, they also expect a large "block vote" from the newly enfranchised 18-year-olds.

"There are 22,000 students at Texas Tech who can legally claim Lubbock as their place of residence, and we're not going to forget them," Loter said.

Members of the Lubbock Restaurant Association will begin circulating petitions in late February and canvassing the city for votes. They will need 9,900 signatures to call the election.

Loter also said that the campaign will require gigantic effort and lots of money, but that the campaign has for the first time sound legislative authority, widespread local support and an eager 18-year-old vote.

OIC Directors Meet Monday Evening

The board of directors of the Lubbock Opportunities Industrialization Center (LOIC) held a special call meeting Monday evening in the conference room at the center, 2200 East Broadway.

Rev. A.L. Davis, board chairman, presided over the meeting which consisted of a four point program suggested by the Industrial Advisory committee. This proposal was presented to the board by Paul Long, Advisory committee member.

A committee was appointed by the chairman to come up with a positive solution concerning the advisory committee's recommendation. This report is expected at the next regular board meeting.

Eddie P. Richardson, executive director, gave a brief report on the progress of the local organization.

City Man's Bonds Set at $25,000

A 27-year-old Lubbock man was charged here Monday with the rape of a Lubbock woman and her 12-year-old daughter.

The man, Alfred Williams of 708 Hub Homes, was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Wayne LeCroy and two bonds were set at $25,000 each.

According to the police report, Williams was arrested Friday after the 32-year-old woman flagged down a police car at 4th Street and Avenue E and reported to the Police that she had been raped.

Officers entered the woman's apartment and found Williams asleep.

Think! Truth!

by Dr. R. W. Jones

The word truth is used in so many ways. There is absolute truth, simple truth, plain truth, and damnable truth; however, it is an oddity to hear a person confess that he is afraid of the truth.

Educators and politicians ignore the truth where the youth is concerned and hide behind the "generation gap." The black professional avoids the truth by blaming the white educators for not teaching black studies when we—notice that I say we—didn't take time to force the issue. The so-called liberal and Christian whites ignore the truth by feigning ignorance of racism, although the problem of racial strife and upheaval has been present in the air for seventeen years.

The educator refuses to believe that he has created a frankenstein, because the results of the new educational procedure that was advanced in 1945 with the purpose of making the student think for himself has become a reality. The educator cannot cope with the inquiring minds of today's students; because he cannot disprove the logical thinking of his students, nor change their convictions. The students are labelled insolent or insubordinate and his recourse is to suspend them from school. This happens most often if the teacher is white and the student is black.

The politician, with no knowledge of political science, after being bombarded with questions from students, ranging from information about the radar of bats, to the most complex foreign affairs budgets, feels like the circus clown with his head in a hole and customers throwing baseballs at his head for prizes. To save face, he calls the students agents of the communist party.

Several priests and Catholic laymen, who have proved to be sincere, praised Mr. Patterson for his contributions to the meeting of the Diocesan Council of Catholic Women which met at Hereford, Texas, a few weeks ago, as they informed me about some of the speakers on the program. Since I am a black Catholic, I was glad to hear the many things which Mr. Patterson said; however, I don't want anyone to live with the illusion that all Catholics, especially all of those who attended the meeting, are sincere, honest, and free from prejudices. The Catholic Church, as well as the Protestant churches, has its bigots and racists.

When I speak to white groups, I keep an answer ready for three questions that are sure to be asked. They are: (1) What can I do to help the cause? (2) How do you feel about mixed marriages? and now (3) What are your opinions on bussing? My answers to these questions will be the topic of a later article.

You Have to Know the System!!

I had the pleasure of hearing Dr. Leon Sullivan, OIC National and International Board Chairman and founder of OIC the Movement, speak to a group of OIC Board Chairmen and Executive Directors in Washington, D. C. Tuesday night, November 16th. Dr. Sullivan stressed at length, the importance of knowing the system, how it functions, and how a system works before you can become effective in it. Dr. Sullivan stated, "You must know the mechanics before you can really progress in the system."

Dr. Sullivan made it very clear to the group, as well as the members of the Manpower Subcommittee of Congress, headed by Congressman Daniels, "that blacks are not interested in marching in the streets any more, we are now marching to where laws are made and passed. For example, today we are here; which is a great day in history. Black people are in the congressional chambers asking for at least 100 million dollars for the purpose of helping people help themselves. We do not want to burn any more, we are building America, black people building and helping change

Support Those Who Support You!

The West Texas Times appreciates those businesses which support the paper each week. As readers, if we could suggest something to you, why not support, whole heartily, those businessmen who support your newspaper.

These merchants are businessmen and women who are advertising in this media for several reasons. One, so you as a member of the Black community can spend your money in their establishment; and two, so that the Black community can continue to have an effective newspaper.

Continue to support those merchants who are seen from week to week in this publication. Why not also tell them that you saw their advertisement in the Times. They'll appreciate it, and of course, we will also.

Letters to The Editor . . .

Opps! We Goofed Again

Dear Mr. Patterson,

Thank you so much for your copies of the Times which will be used in my upcoming display of black newspapers in the University Library Forum. I read with interest your paper but am very concerned over an alarming error within your columns.

I am referring to Bob Tieuels Oct. 21 column "Ring the Bell," which discusses the work of the LATE George S. Schuyler. As Mark Twain once said, "the reports over my death are totally exaggerated. . ." What I am getting at is Mr. Schuyler is alive and quite well and living in New York where he is still very active. I visited him this summer and he took part in an interviewing project I undertook this summer, which will eventually become my dissertation.

I do hope you do correct this error as soon as possible. Mr. Schuyler will be appalled to learn of this, as I was.

Yes, I would very much want to be placed on your subscription list if possible. I am an avid reader of many black newspapers and the Times would be a welcome addition.

One of the criticisms so many press analysts have lodged against the black press has been inaccurate and sensational reporting. I know this can be overcome.

Sincerely, Henry G. La Brie III The University of Iowa

Dear Mr. La Brie,

Thank you for bringing the error to our attention. We have forwarded a copy of your letter to Mr. Tieuels and feel sure that he will clear up the matter.

Unfortunately, it is sometimes impossible to check out each and every item that we print every week, as I am sure you know. However, in regard to this item, please extend our sincere apologies to Mr. Schuyler.

Sincerely, The Ed

She Wants to Say Thanks

To My Wonderful Friends at Home, Lubbock, Texas c/o Mr. T. J. Patterson, Editor of the West Texas Times Dear Friends,

At this time I would like to express my deepest appreciation to all the alumni and friends who worked so diligently to make my stay so colossal. I had a very enjoyable time during my brief stay in Lubbock. It was wonderful to see old friends again; I only wish it had been possible for me to have a personal chat with all of you.

I was deeply impressed by the charisma that was displayed by my home school. Although I must admit that the atmosphere had changed somewhat since my attendance at Dunbar, I was impressed by the unity of the student body.

This homecoming experience is one that I will never forget. Many thanks to everyone for making homecoming so beautiful. I still find it hard to believe that I was able to squeeze so many activities and so much fun into only four days. Words cannot express how much I enjoyed being home.

Yours Truly, Sandra Strong Stevens Atlanta, Georgia

the cry in the street from 'burn baby, burn' to 'build, brother build'."

He continued, "This is a new day, we do not want to fight the system, but learn it and be a part of it like we are doing. And all we ask is to be given credit where credit is due. We are the largest employer of blacks in America. We employ more black administrators and executives than anybody else. We have lifted the standards of more black, red, brown and poor whites than anybody else in America. This is black power, but the kind we are proud of and should be recognized for. We don't want to buck or fight the system, but contribute and make it work in a truly democratic sense."

Right on, Doc!! You were beautiful!! Too bad some of the local people that really needed to hear and see you do your thing were not there.

The day of complaining and doing nothing about injustices is over. Everyone knows there are injustices, it's not a secret, but doing something about it is a must. Therefore it is a must that we learn the system before we can knock it effectively. Let's face it baby, you can't knock what you don't know. You can only make a fool of yourself.

We must get our thing together, but first we must have information that is revelant. And to be revelant, you have to have information on the world, national, state, city, and community level.

Information and preparation is where it is. To survive we have to have it, especially the economic aspect more than the political aspect. Information is the answer. Learn the system and do your thing.

Police Beat

House Burglary

Herman Johnson, 2606 Weber Drive, Apt. C, reported to the Lubbock Police Department that someone did gain entry into his apartment by pulling the window off. The window was locked, so the window, window frame and all was removed.

Taken from the apartment was a 21-inch television and a radio. The two were valued at $150.00. Several suits were taken, bringing the burglary total to $290.00.

Theft Under $50.00

Ella Draper, 2508 Weber Drive, Apt. D, reported to the Lubbock Police Department that someone took advantage of her while she was washing clothes at Thrifty Washateria, 315 Guava Avenue, last week.

She said that she left her purse on a table and when she returned to get it, the purse was open and $45.00 was missing.

Assault with Intent

Ivory Gibson, of Colorado, was taken to West Texas Hospital for emergency treatment following an incident at a local cafe this week.

Police learned that Gibson was cut on the left side and left hand. He told police a man, he didn't know, stabbed him at Kirby's Cafe after an argument.

Gibson didn't know if he would file charges.

Shooting

A Lubbock man, Jessie Mc Bride, of 2410 East 10th Street, reported to the police department that while he was at an East Broadway motel, he was shot.

He told police that he didn't know who was responsible for shooting him in the upper right side of his chest.

He refused to give information as to who could have shot him.

Theft

Dora Cooper, 2605 Weber Drive, Apt. C, reported to the Lubbock Police Department that someone took a .22 caliber pistol from her apartment. It was valued at $21.00.

She said that charges would be filed this week.

House Burglary

Herman Robinson, 718 Avenue D, No. 40, reported to the Lubbock Police Department that someone gained entry into his apartment. Entry was apparently gained by prying the window screen off the bedroom window and crawling through.

Once inside, it was learned that the unknown person did stomp the top of the foot locker and take approximately $15.00 to $20.00 worth of Kennedy half dollars.

Burglary

Jackie Pipkins, 2609 Weber Drive, Apt. A, reported to the police that someone, possibly a teenager, took a pants suit from her closet. It was valued at $19.00.

She said that charges would be filed this week.

Plains National Bank Breaks Ground for "Tower of the Plains" Office Building

Plains National Bank, a Lubbock bank chartered Sept. 19, 1955, which celebrated its 16th birthday just last September, broke ground for its new "Tower of the Plains" here Monday morning.

The $2,300,000 five-story edifice, with penthouse and full basement, will contain 65,000 gross square feet. It will house Plains National Bank departments for Master Charge, mortgage loans, installment loans, data processing and accounting in the basement and first floor. It is to be the tallest office building south of 28th Street. Other Lubbock business firms will occupy the rest of the building, located at 50th and University.

Included in construction plans are two additional drive-in windows joining the present five, already in use. Three acres of new curbed, paved parking are already completed and in use. Present planned Plains National Bank parking will accommodate more than 400 cars.

Groundbreaking participants included R.H. Fulton, immediate past chairman of the board and currently a director of Plains National; Joe Kirk Fulton, chairman of the Board; Jim Ed Waller, president and master of ceremonies; Earl Crow, executive vice president; Fred Timberlake, president; Lubbock Chamber of Commerce; and representing the contractors: H.R. Bundock, Wayne Taylor and Joe Tarver.

The new Tower of the Plains will feature gold Solar Ban glass facades all around. This type glass excludes bright sunlight and excess heat in daytime and shows building interior illumination at night. Marble columns, in the architectural Greek Modern style of the present building, will accent all four sides of the new structure. The fifth floor penthouse will have an inset design, giving an effect of a bright crown on the tower.

New Book on Texas Political History Published by Texas Tech Professor

The complicated politics of Texas from the Reconstruction era to 1906, including the interacting influence of national politics, is unraveled in a new book by a Texas Tech University professor of history.

"Texas politics from 1876 to 1906 involved primarily issues which arose from changes in the national and state economies," according to Dr. Alwyn Barr, "and the diversity of the state economy in turn provided a fertile field for clashes of economic interests."

In his book, "Reconstruction to Reform: Texas Politics 1876-1906," Barr fills in a gap in Texas political history. Segments of the history have been written and biographies of the leaders of the era have been published, but heretofore no other writer has attempted to tie events and people together for a clear look at the political fabric of the period, both state and national.

"In the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries, Texas politics reflected the turmoil of a state and nation moving away from sectional politics," Barr explains, "to grapple with the closing of the frontier, the complete commercialization of agriculture, domination of the economy by industrialization and the rapid urbanization of a once overwhelmingly rural country."

In his first book, Barr casts new

Four Black Women Talk About Women's Lib on NET's "Dream Machine"

"We have to stop 'mammying' and start mothering our own families," says Verta Mae, author of "Vibration Cooking" and mother of child-poet Kali.

She is among four Black women who give their views of the women's liberation movement when NET's "Great American Dream Machine" focuses on Blacks in America Wednesday, December 8, on Channel 5, KTXT at 8:00 p.m.

"Dream Machine" will devote the entire program to the Black experience, ranging from a musical vignette on the Black struggle for freedom by Voices, Inc. to readings from the late George Jackson's book "Soledad Brother." The program will also feature a rising Black singer, T.L. Davis, and a conversation with Rep. Ron Dellums (D-Cal.) of the Black Caucus.

Verta Mae feels, as do other Black women, that women's lib threatens to put Black women in mothering positions to white children—whether in day-care centers or in white homes. "If she (white woman) wants to fulfill herself, that's her business, but I don't think it should be at our expense," she adds.

Citing Toni Morrison's New York Times Magazine article (August 22, 1971) on "What the Black Woman Thinks About Women's Lib", she notes that the movement is "a family argument between the man and his family. . . the white male oppressor and his family." She says "it seems to me that the white family structure is falling apart. His children have left home; they're hippies. . . his woman is rebelling and his servants are rebelling.

"I feel that the problems of the white woman are not the problems that we as Black women have had. We are Black first and interested in the liberation of Black people. . . the Black male, the Black female, the Black child, the Black family."

Other Black women include Amsterdam News writer Jean Carey Bond, who says she "finds it impossible to view Black men as an oppressor class," Theater College student Regina Duncan, who feels that she has been liberated all her life and is fighting for liberation; and Cordelia Nelson, spiritual and physical "mother" of a Harlem black, who has nursed drug addicts and comforted prisoners. She says that she "would do anything to help our race of young men."

"The Great American Dream Machine" is a production of NET Division, Educational Broadcasting Corporation. Executive Producer: A.H. Perlmutter. Producer: Hugh Robertson. This program is transmitted nationally by PBS, the Public Broadcasting Service.

Want to Be Where The Action Is?

Then investigate a career as an officer of the Lubbock Police Department. In this day of rapid change, the policeman's job is demanding, but if you want to be "where the action is", this may be the job for you.

If you are 21-35 years old, in good physical condition, are a high school graduate (or G.E.D.), are at least 5'9" in height, and of good moral character, consider a career with the Lubbock Police Department.

Starting pay for a police officer is $587.60 per month and increases to $624.00 per month after a six month probationary period. All equipment and uniforms are furnished, and fringe benefits such as paid vacation, sick leave, retirement, hospitalization, and life insurance are provided.

To apply for the job of Police Officer, contact the Training Officer of the Lubbock Police Department, in person, at the Police Station, 9th Street and Avenue J, Room 119.

Applications for the next Police Officer Examination must be completed and returned before Tuesday, December 7, 1971.

CHRISTMAS WREATHS: TWINE AND DANDY

Imaginative Christmas decorations can be made from unexpected sources of materials such as inexpensive twine, rope or string. For unusual and decorative wreaths to adorn a door or mantle, try these ones made of sisal rope. The rope is unravelled for a textured look and festively colored in a dye solution. Colors can be traditional red and green or colors to complement a room. Make both wreaths with heavy sisal rope (about 1/2 inch diameter) from variety or hardware store.

Pigtail wreath:

Cut sisal rope into 6 lengths of 6 feet each. Unravel each length and tie loosely in center with a small piece of string so lengths will not separate during dyeing. Dip rope into a solution of 1 tablespoon liquid dye (or 1/2 teaspoon all purpose powder dye) mixed in 1 quart of hot tap water. Rotate in dye solution for 8 to 10 minutes, or until desired color is reached. Remove from solution, rinse and loop over a hanger to dry.

When rope lengths are almost dry, comb out with a wide-toothed comb. This will pull out knots and straighten strands. Save combed out strands for later use. Divide rope lengths into 3 equal groups and braid together, leaving several inches unbraided at the ends. Loop braid into a circle and tie overlapping ends together with wire. Cover wire with combed out strands.

Wreath shape is set by dipping braid into a starch solution. Prepare solution by mixing equal amounts (about 2 cups for each) of Niagara instant laundry starch and cold water in a shallow pan. Dip wreath into solution, Unexpected sources found in the home are materials for imaginative Christmas decorations. Rope was dyed and shaped to make these unusual and decorative wreaths.

then place flat on waxed paper to dry.

For flower trim, cut a 12 inch length of rope and dye a contrasting color. When almost dry, comb out and cut into 3 4-inch lengths. Crisscross these lengths and tie together in center with wire. Trim edges of flower. Cut, dye and comb out 3 smaller lengths of rope for center of flower. Crisscross lengths and secure with wire. Trim edges and glue to center of flower. Wire flower to overlapping edges of braided wreath.

Flower wreath:

This wreath is formed with 8 separately made flowers wired to a cardboard frame. For each flower, cut sisal rope into 6 6-inch lengths. Unravel each length, leaving 1 inch unbound in center. Comb out unraveled ends with a wide-toothed comb. Wire lengths together into groups of two lengths each. Then crisscross lengths and tie together in center with wire for flower shape. Make middle flower by cutting 3 3-inch rope lengths. Comb out and wire together as with larger flower. When all eight flowers (large and middle sections) are formed, dip into dye solutions prepared as directed for pigtail wreath. Use contrasting dyes for large and middle flower sections. Rinse and dry.

For each flower center, cut a 13-1/2 inch length of unraveled but not combed out length of sisal rope. Dip into a solution of equal amounts of instant laundry starch and cold water. Twist rope into circular shape and allow to dry on waxed paper.

Cut out a 15 inch diameter frame from cardboard; cut out center for a 2 inch wide circular band. Assemble flowers by wiring middle flowers to large flowers, extending wire out in back. Push extending wire through cardboard frame and secure.

The ideal Christmas tree is the fir, because of its tendency to hold its needles longer.

"Sex and Survival" Topic at Speakers Series at Tech

Sen. Bob Packwood of Oregon, one of the nation's youngest legislators and most outspoken leaders, will discuss his views on overcrowding and pollution at 7:15 p.m. Thursday, tonight, in Lubbock Municipal Auditorium.

Family planning is imperative if the nation's population is to be stabilized and pollution is to be controlled, according to Sen. Packwood whose topic will be "Sex and Survival." His appearance here under the auspices of the Texas Tech University Speakers Series will be open to the public at no charge.

Packwood, who favors the legislative approach to problem solving, has been exercising his talents in this direction since 1968 when, at the age of 36, he defeated veteran Sen. Wayne Morse to become the youngest member of the Senate in the 91st Congress.

Legislation he has introduced includes a national abortion act, a measure to limit to two the number of children who could be declared as income tax deductions and a legislative reorganization amendment to eliminate seniority as the sole basis for selection of committee chairmen in Congress.

Packwood is a member of the

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

By Bill Boykin
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Austin, Texas—Governor Preston Smith's decision to run for a third term drew sharp new attention to an increasingly-crowded and complex 1972 political scene.

Smith said he would seek vindication in stock-loan scandals. He plans to tell "over and over" that he killed (be veto) the bank deposit legislation urged by Houston banker Frank Sharp which the Legislature passed in 1969.

Meanwhile, former U.S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough said odds are now 10-to-one he will be a candidate—either for governor or the senate—next year. But he declined to indicate which race is most likely to attract him.

State Sen. Wayne Connally, youngest brother of U.S. Secretary of Treasury (and former Governor) John B. Connally, jumped into the lieutenant governor's race. Connally is a conservative Democrat.

Harold (Barefoot) Sanders of Dallas reportedly is getting set to run for the U.S. Senate as a Democrat.

Sen. Joe Christie of El Paso indicated he will reveal at a dinner in his home town December 7 whether he will enter the lieutenant governor's race or stand for re-election.

Republicans, calling for a "top to bottom cleanup" in state government, began recruiting preliminaries, concentrating on the governor's race. (They already have a U. S. Senate candidate, incumbent John Tower).

The Republicans, in an informal statewide poll of gubernatorial preferences, came up with S. Ross Perot, wealthy Dallas businessman, who is a political independent, as their favorite.

Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes and Dolph Briscoe, Uvalde rancher-banker, continued full-fledged campaigns for governor. Sen. Ralph Hall of Rockwall and Houston newspaper executive William P. Hobby Jr. have been in the lieutenant governor's race for months.

Final Rites Read For Plainview Man

Plainview—Final rites were read Monday afternoon at the Church of God in Christ here for Milton Cook, Jr., with Rev. E.N. Givens, pastor, officiating.

Burial was held in the Plainview Cemetery under direction of Wood-Dunning Funeral Home.

A native of Houston, Cook died last week in a Plainview Nursing home after an illness of several months. He came to Plainview from Rosebud and was a member of the Church of God in Christ here.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Daisy Cook; six sons, Charlie, Ozell and Jerry, all of Plainview; Gerry of Altus, Okla., and Lindsey and William, both of Amarillo; four daughters, Mrs. Daisy Nichols and Mrs. Chinester Brackens, both of Amarillo, Mrs. Lela Mae Bradic of Plainview and Mrs. Sammie Ethel Johnson of San Angelo; six sisters, Mrs. Fannie Johnson, Mrs. Cara Smith, Mrs. Ruby Hatcher, Mrs. Mattie Johnson and Mrs. Elvora Cook, all of Los Angeles, California, and Mrs. Henrietta Mayo of El Paso; three brothers, Earnest of Lubbock, Nelson of Los Angeles and L.C. of Mexia, and 17 grand-children.

Tillman Cook Rites Read Here last Week

Final rites were read last Wednesday, November 24th, for Tillman Cook, 67, of 1316 East 24th Street, who died in Methodist Hospital. He was a native of Freestone County and had been a resident of Lubbock for 27 years.

Services were held at the Kingdom Hall with the Rev. Horace Dove, minister, officiating. Burial was held in the City of Lubbock Cemetery under direction of South Plains Funeral Home.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Ocie Cook; a son, Tillman, Jr., of Mineola; a brother, James of Lubbock.

Services Held for Mrs. Pearl Johnson

Funeral services for Mrs. Sallie Pearl Johnson of 2704 Weber Drive, Apt. D, who died at Methodist Hospital after a brief illness, were held at Greater St. Luke Baptist Church last Wednesday, November 24th, with the pastor, Rev. A.L. Davis, officiating.

Burial was held in the City of Lubbock Cemetery under direction of South Plains Funeral Home.

A native of Cass County, Mrs. Johnson, 41, had been a resident of Lubbock for 32 years.

Survivors include two sons, La Charles Glenn and Edward, both of Lubbock; two daughters, Mrs. Emma Evans of Lubbock and Mrs. Lanette Walker of San Antonio; a sister, Mrs. Ethel Smith of Lubbock.

Longtime Faculty Member at PQ Dies

Message has been received here of the death of Mrs. Lewis Tindall

Black Power—What Does It Really Mean?

by Emerson Miller

Many things could be said about the origin and the events associated with the term "Black Power." This writer wishes to discuss the mere meaning of the term.

Before anyone, regardless of race, can have any type of power, he must first of all have human power. For several years whites have been taught to believe that blacks are everything except human beings. This was even taught from white pulpits. White preachers used to use sheer logic to say, "man was created in the image of God. God is not a Negro, therefore the Negro is not human." Even though this is no longer promulgated, the feeling by some whites is still present. Some white people emphatically believe that the Jews have a right to have ill-feelings toward the Germans. Yet, on the other hand, whites believe that Black people are so inhuman they should have no ill-feelings toward American white people. Black power means that Black people have human power. They share the same feelings and emotions that other humans experience.

When God created man He gave man domination over the lower forms of animals. Nowhere in the Bible do we find that man should rule over man. History reaffirms again and again that this does not work. Each time one group oppresses another, retaliation occurs. Black power is simply Black people saying they will not be mistreated like animals.

Psychology teaches that certain stimulants cause certain responses. In other words, every cause has its effect. Take for example an affectionate animal, like a cat. Even a kitten becomes hostile when forced into a corner. And what is wrong with those Black people? Black people are simply reacting like all other oppressed people have been reacting for years. Black power does not always imply burning, violence, and looting.

Black Power is "really" human power!

light on the carpetbagger involvement, third-party movements and ethnic and religious influences in state politics.

"Many works on politics in this period of Texas history slight the role of Negroes," he said, "yet they dominated the Republican party for over a decade and formed a crucial swing vote in the hotly contested elections of the 1890's."

He also said his research indicated that the "Texas Populists hardly fit the mold of backward-looking reactionaries, with anti-foreign and anti-Semitic views, howling over imaginary ills and offering no useful reforms as they have been pictured by some modern critics."

The complicated task of interweaving the many facets of Texas history in this particularly turbulent period is indicated by Barr in his reference to the economics of the period.

"Campaigns might involve coalitions by north, east and central Texas farmers with urban labor or business groups," he concludes, "but more often they developed into conflicts within or between groups of farmers, west and south Texas cattle and sheep raisers and land dealers, in-and out-of-state railroad men, east Texas and out-of-state oil interests, and east Texas lumbermen."

Ethnic and religious groups also became important factors in most elections.

"Disputes between the principal political figures of the period at times heightened and at other times obscured differences of interests," he said.

For the history buff as well as the serious student of Texas politics, Barr's book clarifies this complicated period.

Barr's primary research interest is in the history of the southern states. He is chairman of a university committee for a new academic program in ethnic studies.

Children's Christmas Concert Scheduled Sunday Afternoon

Circus music and a ballet based on a famous nursery rhyme will set the mood for Texas Tech's 11th annual Children's Christmas Concert to be presented at 2 p.m. Sunday, December 5th, in Lubbock Municipal Auditorium.

Lubbock Civic Ballet will join the Texas Tech Symphony Orchestra in presenting the program designed to please South Plains youngsters of all ages. Admission will be 50 cents for both children and adults.

The concert will open with Ernest Toch's "Circus Overture" under direction of Paul Ellsworth. Coming up next will be "Tubby the Tuba at the Circus," featuring Bill Lucas of the Texas Tech voice faculty as narrator.

Dancers will perform "Old King Cole," a ballet by English composer Ralph Vaughan Williams, choreographed and directed by Suzanne Aker of Lubbock. G. W. Bailey will portray the King and Barbara Weadock the Queen in the traditional story of a monarch who calls for "his pipe and his bowl and his fiddlers three," roles that will be danced by members of the ballet troupe. Bailey is former director of the Lubbock Theatre Centre and Miss Weadock is a member of the dance faculty in Texas Tech's Department of Physical Education for women.

As a ballet, the story of "Old King Cole" revolves around a contest between the fiddlers, one of whom is selected as a winner by the King while another is quietly rewarded by the Queen.

Another highlight of the program will be the selection of a boy and a girl from the audience to perform as guest conductors for one number by the orchestra. Santa also is expected to make his annual appearance and to bring greetings from the North Pole.

As a finale, the orchestra will play Leroy Anderson's perennially popular "Christmas Festival."

Afro-American History Notes for Busy Newspaper Readers: Marcus A. Garvey (1887-1940) "Going Home." David P. Ross, editor of "Great Negroes Past and Present" points out well that "to some people Garvey was a charlatan, a naive dreamer; to others, a Messiah. To himself, Marcus A. Garvey was the black man's best hope of finding dignity and honor, not in America but in his original home of Africa."

Coming to America from Jamaica in 1916, he found dissatisfaction, discontent and frustration among millions of blacks pushed northward by oppressive conditions in the South during World War I. Within five months Garvey had recruited more than two thousand followers for his Universal Negro Improvement Association. Five years later he claimed upwards of one million followers.

In 1921 he called an international convention (Bob's note: is history being repeated today with modern day would-be Garveys?) which attracted thousands of blacks to New York City from twenty-five countries, and laid the foundation for a steamship company: The Black Star Line and the Negro Factory Corporation.

For five years Garvey and his movement excited many of the discontented masses in New York, Chicago, Oklahoma City, Detroit and other cities. He praised everything black and was suspicious of everything white. He formed the Universal Black Cross Nurses, the Universal African Motor Corps and the Black Flying Eagles. His newspaper, The Negro World, carried his views to black nationalism and information about the U.N.I.A. to all corners of the country.

In this connection it is interesting to observe that the black newspaper carrying the largest circulation among blacks today is one that is published by the Muslims and follows closely the Garvey line.

While millions in the masses followed him without hesitation, black intellectuals were skeptical of him and his promises from the beginning. Like Hitler, Garvey was a master of crowd psychology and used this tool well for a reason.

In 1925 Garvey was imprisoned for using the United States mails to defraud in connection with the sale of stock in his Black Star line, and his dream to become King of an Empire began to fade.

Garvey's weakness lay in thinking that the black man, after helping to build and defend America, would abandon it and his greatness lies in his daring to dream of a better future for black people somewhere, sometime, on earth. Even his strongest enemies said of him that the man had a dream. So did the late Martin Luther King have a dream. And can we not all dream of a better America—a better world for all mankind? A bellringer wrote us once.

After serving two years in prison, Garvey was deported from America and died in London in 1940, a lonely, frustrated and penniless man.

Great Quotes of History: "I have sworn upon the altar of God eternal hostility against every form of tyranny over the mind of man." Thomas Jefferson.

In the mails this week are two history texts dealing with Texas and New Mexico. The Texas history book is entitled "Reconstruction To Reform—Texas Politics 1876-1906." (See accompanying story, this paper). The author of the book is Alwyn Barr and is associate professor of history at Texas Tech University. The book covers a time of strength for the blacks in politics and how the black influence waned as the lilly-white Republicans forced blacks out of the party. Next week we tell about the new history of New Mexico and its early political history.

Bellringer Writes Mom: Dear Mon, You know that I am glad to be back with friends and a lot of bellringers thru the years in West Texas and New Mexico even if for just a short time.

I do pray that you are continuing to improve and that this Thanksgiving season, in spite of all our ailments and shortcomings, we all can find much to be thankful for. Who was it that said once: "No matter what condition you are in, there is always somebody in worse condition than you are."

Library Started at Messiah Presbyterian

At morning worship last Sunday, November 28, the Messiah Presbyterian Church received a set of Bible Story books, 10 in all, 20 Testaments, Bible Reading for The Home, Triumph of God's Love and other books. This special presentation was made by Mrs. Jewel Sedberry. She also gave a brief resume of the importance of the books and the benefits that can be derived from reading good books.

She beautifully told how the Bible is The Book of books, division of the Law, History, Poetry, Prose, Epistles and etc.

The beginning of this library is a gift from Judge and Mrs. George W. and Sarah H. Dupree, where Mrs. Juanity Simmons is employed.

When ready to be seen, friends of the church family will be invited to come by and share this gift with Messiah Presbyterian.

"Ma" Jones Missionary Society

Members of the "Ma" Jones Missionary Society of Bethel Missionary Society were happy to have Sisters S. Wright and Daven-

Church, to be held in Dallas, Texas this coming May. Leaders in the C.M.E. Church are calling upon the bishops to call a special session of their General Conference for 1972, to meet with problems facing Black Methodists over the country today. Indeed they are serious and varied.

In politics, several educational bonds have been defeated and one approved, and in Texas the governor's race as well as many other local, county and state elections are beginning to stir interest.

My ministry in journalism as you know, is to create inter-racial understanding and goodwill among all people. It seems that there is so much hate, mistrust and illwill among so many that often cross racial and creedal ties. I have a dream Mom that each one of us must work hard to build the kind of world that God will smile upon and be glad to call "my people." And Mom, if I miss sharing the Thanksgiving turkey with you, be sure and know that I will at least get some of the leftovers when I see you again soon. And keep smiling and ringing the bells of love, joy and peace!

port added to their membership roll.

Their meetings are held each Monday evening in the home of Sister Estelle Pierce. They are always willing to have other ladies join their organization.

The Missionary Society is extending a special invitation to all Missionary Societies to attend their workshop December 3rd at 10:00 a.m. This will be a district meeting with President E. Dickerson of Menard, Texas, presiding.

Tennison Family Reunion Held Here

The following family members enjoyed being together at the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Artemus Tennison and Mrs. Delia Tennison on Thanksgiving Day, as they held a family reunion: Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bibles and daughters, Martha Sue and Juno; Mr. and Mrs. Jonathan Bibles, all of Decatur, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. James Haywood and grand-daughter of Clifton, Texas; and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Haywood and children of Waco, Texas.

Also, Autry Ann Tennison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Artemus Tennison, was home from Denton, Texas, where she is a student at North Texas State College. Jerald Sidney Tennison, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jonathan Tennison, was home from Denver, Colorado, where he is attending college.

Some twenty members shared breakfast and dinner at the Artemus Tennison's while the evening meal was enjoyed in the home of Mrs. Delia Tennison. Many other relatives joined the group later in the day.

CHURCH SERVICES

St. John Baptist Church

Sunday School was called to order by Supt. Osby at 10:10 with all teachers present. Attendance was 40. The lesson was well taught by the superintendent. The lesson for the day was God Conquers Evil, with the review and high points presented by the pastor. Miss Cathey Well came to us as a candidate for Baptism.

The pastor brought a wonderful message at the 11:00 service. His text was taken from First Psalms. Rev. Toines and some of the members of the choir went to Tokyo, Texas, Sunday afternoon to serve in the services for Rev. and Mrs. Meton Brown.

Each third Sunday night is

Mission Has Pre-Thanksgiving Fete

The City Wide Mission took each member and their guest to Furr's Cafeteria for a pre-Thanksgiving dinner last Tuesday.

Among the guests were Mrs. Sudell Brown, Mrs. W. Washington, Mrs. N. Browning, Mrs. Sarah Crawford, Mrs. James Jamison and Mrs. C. Childress.

The organization will not meet again until the first Monday in January, 1972, in the home of Mrs. Mary Sterling, 3207 Teak Avenue.

The members wish everyone a merry, merry Christmas and a prosperous New Year.

Senior Missionary Society

The Senior Missionary Society of Bethel A.M.E. Church will be host for a Missionary Workshop tomorrow, Friday, December 3, beginning at 9:00 a.m.

The public is invited.

choir night. The choir rendered a very good program Sunday night.

Prayer meeting is Wednesday night at 7:30. A youth revival will begin Thursday night at 7:30 and continue through Sunday at 3:00. We are inviting each and everyone to come out and hear the little preacher from Lawton, Oklahoma.

Mission is each Tuesday night. Mrs. Lizzie Reed is home from the hospital, but not able to do anything.

Let us remember Mrs. Reed and all of the sick and shut-in in our prayers.

Bethel A.M.E. Church

Rev. James Robinson delivered a beautiful, heart filled sermon last Sunday morning. His subject was based around belief. He said; "Children of God should believe."

Emilio Q. Garza, program director of the Community Action Board in Lubbock County, was a

Greater St. Luke Host Federation of Choirs

Greater St. Luke Baptist Church was host to the Federation of Choirs last Sunday afternoon at the regular hour. All choirs were represented and a special offering was accepted for two members who are ill and have been patients at local hospitals. Both are home now and recuperating.

Due to the Christmas season, the Federation of Choirs will meet Sunday, December 19, the third Sunday, at Lyons Chapel Baptist Church, the host church. Don't forget the date, December 19th, the third Sunday.

special guest in the pulpit also. He spoke to the congregation in regard to community unity. He urged church brothers and sisters to attend the special election at Ruel Martin Elementary School Monday, December 6th.

Mrs. Joyce Udom and Mr. Sunday Ekanem, students at Lubbock Christian College from Nigeria, Africa, were also guests last Sunday morning as was the Wilson family.

Junior Choir rehearsal is held each Tuesday evening at 7:00. All members are asked to please be on time.

*****

Mount Gilead United Methodist Church

A special effort on the part of our church is to collect green stamps in order to purchase a mimeograph machine which we need. Every family should give at least one book.

Every member should plan to attend the Mammoth Christmas celebration on Sunday, December 19th, at 6:00 p.m.

The baby contest is now in full swing. You should give your baby your full support so that there will be no excuse on the part of any sponsor. There are plenty more tickets if you are in need of them.

St. John Baptist Church

Amarillo—Sunday school opened at 9:30 a.m. with Supt. Timmons in charge and all teachers present. The subject of the lesson for the day was "God Established Moral Order." The high points of the lesson were given by the pastor, Rev. J.E. Neal.

Pastor Neal brought the morning message at 10:55, which was very spiritual.

Rev. B.W. Lockett, of Longview, Texas, a former pastor of St. John and honored guest, conducted the 11th Anniversary services for 5 nights, Nov. 8th through 13th and concluded Sunday afternoon at 3:00.

Mrs. Lockett flew in Friday night to join Rev. Lockett in the services.

May we continue to pray for our sick and shut-in members.

Jenkins Chapel Baptist Church

Amarillo—The activities for the Lord's Day began at 9:30 a.m. with school for all ages, with Supt. Scott at his post, assisted by the teachers of the school. After class work the general assembly was held in the upper auditorium for review, and the high points of the lesson were given. The attendance was good.

In the 11:00 a.m. services, the deacons were in charge of the devotion; immediately following the choir gave three inspirational numbers after which Reverend R. J. Dixon delivered a masterful sermon entitled, "12 Minutes Before Midnight." An illustration of what God can do even in the last hour, and Rev. Dixon made known the power of God.

In the evening services, the Rev. R.J. Dixon spoke from the theme, "Status Quo is Deadly" as recorded in Jeremiah 4:27. This was a stirring and needed sermon on disobedience, stubbornness and rebellion. Rev. Dixon preaches the sermons needed in times like these.

May we remember the sick and shut-in every where in prayer and visitation. Those on the sick list include; Sister Rosetta Calhoun, Brother and Sister Hazelriggs, Brother Ed Jenkins, and Brother Harrison Jones.

*****

Greater St. Luke Baptist Church

Annual business meeting will be held the first Monday night in December at 8:00 p.m. Secretaries and treasurers of auxiliaries of St. Luke please have your financial reports ready.

The members of the Eunice Circle meet in the home of Sister Alberta Evans, 3113 Teak Avenue, tonight at 7:30 p.m.

Members of the Sarah and Queen of Sheba Circles met this week in the home of Sister Blanche Swisher, 313-B Guava Avenue, and Sister Carrie Mims, 2607 Ivory Avenue.

Brotherhood Union meets on Monday night at 8:00 at the church. Come out and support the Brotherhood Union.

Let us pray for and visit our sick and shut-in members. Those ill this week include Sisters Annie Hinton, Dolly Howard, Emma Breedlove, Verma L. Moore and Brothers E.L. Tatum and Wilmar Wilson.

Mount Gilead Baptist Church

"The Mount Gilead Baptist Church, the friendly church, where the soul and spirit meet." The church where everybody is somebody. The church extends to the members and public a cordial and clarion call to worship with us each week.

Let us remember to pray for our sick, shut-in, needy and sinners.

The Angelic Choir highlights of the year for 1971 will take off Sunday, December 5, at 7:30 p.m. What: A Musical in Concert.

The members and public are cordially invited to attend the program. There will also be a crowning of our "Miss Angelic." There are five contestants who are participating in this special effort. They are: Mrs. Pearlean Johnson, Mrs. Patsy Dickson, Miss Rita
