'Around the Hub City'

Around The Hub City would like for you to know that the Memorial Services held in honor of the late Dr. Martin Luther King were most appreciated here in our Hub City.

Of course, this great American is gone, but let us continue to let the concept he believed in and preached will remain with us forever. We are all Americans and we must continue to strive for the right direction.

We can do a lot in our city, and doing so, we will set the example that any city in these United States will be proud to follow.

Home For Easter

Linda Scott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Scott of 2409 Globe Avenue, is spending the Easter Holidays with her parents and relatives. She is happy to return to the "Hub City" where she received her high school training at Dunbar where she was active in many activities.

She is now a freshman at Texas Women's University at Denton, Texas and is working hard to become a successful student.

Linda is a member of Bethel A.M.E. Church and has served as secretary of the Sunday School for several years.

Another Large Vote Expected Tuesday In City Elections

Tuesday, April 16, is a really big day in the "Hub City". Lubbock Voters will go to the POLLS to elect a Mayor and three City Councilmen. There are twenty-nine voting boxes in Lubbock and traffic is expected to be heavy because of the Voters Registration this year.

Incumbent W.D. "Dub" Rogers will be seeking a second term as Mayor. He surprised the City of Lubbock as well as other cities throughout America when he won the post of Mayor in a write-in. Rogers was in Dallas at the time when Lubbock citizens elected him.

Ray J. Diekemper, Jr., who left his present post of City Councilman to seek the Mayor's post, will be listed as a hopeful for the position. Another hopeful is C.A. Hodge, local service station owner, who is looking high for the post.

James "Jimmy" Marshall announced last week that he would be a "write-in" candidate for the position of Mayor since he was this on April 16, 1968 from 7 a.m. until 7 p.m. Remember ti is up to you to VOTE for the welfare of your community.

It would be a good think if we did come by the scores and VOTE!

Estacado High School Service Held For Dr. King Sunday

Several hundred Lubbock residents attended a memorial service for Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., last Sunday afternoon at 3 p.m. at Estacado High School Auditorium.

A mass choir composed of members of various church choirs from throughout the city lead the hymns in the service.

The Reverend A. L. Dunn, pastor of St. John's Baptist Church gave the invocation and the Rev. H.D. Henderson, pastor of Matthew Methodist Church read the scripture.

The Reverend Grantland M. Groves, associate pastor of Westminster Presbyterian Church, read excerpts from Dr. King's writings.

Bishop W.D. Haynes, pastor of Christ Temple Church of God in Christ, gave the eulogy, and the closing prayer was given by the Reverend Raymond Campbell, pastor of Carter Chapel Methodist Church.

Founder's Week Scheduled At Bishop College in Dallas

The Eighty-Seventh Anniversary of Bishop College will be celebrated during Founder's Week, April 16th-21st, 1968. All sons and daughters of Bishop are invited to join in this celebration.

Dedication of the new science building will highlight Founders' Week. This magnificent structure, completed at a cost of more than one million dollars, has filled a long need of the college. Dr. S. M. Nabrit, former president of Texas Southern University, will be the dedication speaker. The ceremony will be held Sunday, April 21, in the Carr P. Collins Chapel, at 3:30 p.m.

Bigger, Better Bishop is the theme for Founders' Week. The theme reflects ambitions of the Bishop family—administration, faculty, staff, students and alumni. Evidence of a bigger Bishop can be seen in the modern buildings that are mushrooming on the campus and the student body of more than 1500. The Better Bishop is qualitative; pursuit of academic excellence and higher levels of performance in all campus activities. The theme for 1968 Founders' Week is intended to stimulate widespread interest in alumni affairs.

Final Rites Read For Mrs. Wyatt Last Monday

Services for Mrs. Georgia Wyatt, 61, were held at 2:30 p.m. Monday in the Greater Saint Luke Baptist Church with the Reverend A. L. Davis, pastor, officiating. Burial was held in Peaceful Gardens Cemetery under direction of South Plains Funeral Home.

Mrs. Wyatt, who resided at 2403 East 29th Street, died last Friday in Methodist Hospital following a long illness.

7:00 p.m. in the Hodges Community Center, 40th Street and University Avenue, until May 9th.

Those interested may call Mrs. Booker at PO 2-6411, extension 363, for further information.

Texas Tech Scene of Services For Dr. King Last Friday

By Willa Jewel Bailey

At 12:30 p.m. Friday, April 5, Texas Technological College held memorial services for the late Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.

Mr. Walter Marlin of the Student Organization for Unity and Leadership at Tech called for the meeting Thursday night to be scheduled the following day. Marlin presided and Mr. George Griffin opened the program with reference to "The Apostle of Non-Violence".

An influx of students and faculty quickly constituted a solemn audience.

"The Apostle is dead, his vigor; his patience; his philosophy shall live. They must live for the sake of society", was an effective climax for Dr. Grover Murray, president of Texas Tech. Dr. Murray's short speech served as a tribute to the deceased Nobel Peace Prize winner. It could also be justly concluded that this sincere discourse expressed the ultimate strife of the inanimate civil rights leader.

Following Dr. Murray, Mr. Leonard Chew, director of Multi-Service Center, conveyed the attitude of numerous Negroes. He spoke of the cruel act as not being representative of White-Black relationship in America. Each person within the sound radius of Mr. Chew must have been conscious of his or her personal race as the director testified to his own working experience with the races in the immediate vicinity.

Exerpts from the "Declaration of Independence" were read by Mr. Gene Sorley.

"Letters from a Birmingham Jail" by the late Dr. King were read by Marlin and set a tone of the evening to be enhanced by Mr. George Griffin's reading of the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King's "I Have A Dream" at the memorable March on Washington. Taken by emotions, the graduate student of Tech's history division completed the speech on a note of tearful compassion.

The audience then heard "A Dream Deferred" by Langston Hughes that was read by local director of Upward Bound, Dr. David Jordan.

A closing prayer by Texas Tech's Episcopal minister, Father Ralph Massey who declared himself "not qualified" to eulogize the martyr.

Griffin returned to extend an invitation to any person wishing to comment and was responded to by an unidentified young man who termed himself a previous "white moderate", also suffering a loss.

The assembly of faculty and students disbursed as the West Texas wind seemed to spread the tragedy of the loss in the Black search for identity.

Survivors include her husband, the Reverend E.E. Wyatt; four sisters; Mrs. Ruth Lewis and Mrs. Ruby Williams, both of Jacksboro, Mrs. Susie O'Brien of Houston, and Mrs. Mildred McCulloch of Amarillo; and a brother, Aubrey Brumley of Olney, Texas.

EASTER '68 SAD TIME

Nearly 2,000 years ago, a God gifted man who wore the name of Jesus Christ was born and 33 years after walking upon the face of this Earth, He was crucified by men of his own time.

Today, we are experiencing another tragedy which occurred to one of our respected leaders. This man, the Reverend Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., was a man who believed that all men are created equal. He believed that every individual—within his program of non-violence—should be given an opportunity to represent his society regardless of his color or creed.

Last week, a sick individual took the life of Dr. King while he was standing on the balcony of a motel in Memphis, Tennessee where he was lodging. This ignorant move on the part of an individual who must hold no respect for any man, shocked the entire world.

Because of this, Black America began to retaliate by burning, looting and disregarding others rights. This is definitely not good. Sammie Davis, Jr., a well-known talent of stage, screen and TV, expressed best last week on the 'Tonight Show' the feeling of most of America's citizens, black and white, when he politely asked millions of viewers of the show that black and white brothers get together and make a giant effort to stop this terrible situation.

Another guest of the show, Diana Ross of the famous Supremes, was emotional about the entire ridiculous situation, and she best expressed her attitude in a most unusual song.

Let's start the Easter Holiday off on the right foot by working on the local level to communicate with each other. Sunday, the memorial service was attended here in the city by both white and black, there is no reason for this type of cooperation and communication to stop after such a good start as this. Let's start erasing this ugly image out of the streets of America and off the front pages of our newspapers and from the front rooms of our homes in the form of television. This is the Easter season, let's take the opportunity when all Christian people on earth celebrate a time of peace to make the peace movement more than just a token idea, let's start now, here in Lubbock to really mean it when we say we seek peace and understanding among men!

HOLLYWOOD HAPPENINGS

CLARA WARD: MAKING A JOYFUL NOISE

The Holy Bible says one should "make a joyful noise unto the Lord," but it doesn't say it has to be done strickly in churches.

And Clara Ward, a small, slender woman with a large, rich voice, sees nothing incongruous in singing the Gospel in Las Vegas carbetts, Disneyland's Golden Horseshoe, at jazz festivals and theatres from Broadway to Paris.

We managed to catch the busy singer for the briefest of moments recently just prior to her leaving for a six week engagement in Sydney, Australia—an engagement which carried an additional six-week option, whcih was picked up in advance without the Aussies even having seen The Ward Singers.

After Austrailia, the group planes back to the States for a stint at two top hotels in Vegas, a trip to the Far East, then back to L. A. for a stay

WE CAN BE PROUD

Congratulations are in order, not only for the good showing Dr. Johnson made in his race for the school board place, but also for the local citizens of Lubbock for their fine effort to conduct and behave themselves honorably this last weekend.

As far as Dr. Johnson's race is concerned, we are not only proud of the fine race he ran, but also of the fine showing he made in the balloting. It is never easy to be defeated in a political race, and congratulations are hard to bestow on defeated candidates, but in the case of Dr. Johnson's showing, we as citizens of East Lubbock can be proud of the fact that he ran not only second, but a good second in a race of four.

On the other hand, we must take the time and space to pat everyone living in Lubbock and West Texas on the back in regard to the good show of citizenship exemplified here last weekend. It is very important to note that here in Lubbock, unlike several other communities in this nation, we as Negro and white citizens were able to hold a school board election without incident in a time when many other locals of the country were so torn and upset they had to postpone baseball, basketball, and national observances until later. This most certainly is a feather in the cap of all Negro and white citizens of our city. Not only did we have a Negro citizen running for office, but we were able without incident to turn out and vote for the candidate of our choice.

Another thing to be proud of is the fact that out of a registration list of approximately 60,000 citizens in the city and about 6,500 Negro registrants, while only 10% of the total registered in the city turned out to vote, at least 15% of the total registered Negro citizens showed at the polls. These figures may not set any particular records, although the school board vote did, it does show that even in times of extreme stress, such as last weekend, the Negro citizens will turn out and vote!

For all of the above reasons dear reader, we can and should be proud of our Lubbock. For that matter, we should be proud of not only ourselves, the Negro citizens, but we can at the same time take pride in our local white and Latin citizens for the fine show of citizenship we have witnessed. In other words, Lubbock, let's pat ourselves on the back—We have come a long way toward understanding and cooperation—and with the attitude shown we can go a lot further. For this may we all say, "Thank God".

CONFRONTING THE RACIAL CRISIS

With Lester C. Means

Americans are awakening to the realization that 1968 may bring the most severe racial crisis in the nation's history. They no longer harbor the optimistic illusion that the violence of the past four summers is a transitory nightmare that will soon vanish in the sunlight of racial concord. In view of the volatile mood present in the Negro community, many are girding themselves for the worst year yet. A hundred or more cities are developing crash programs to head off or cope with any riots that may erupt this spring and summer.

The Department of Justice is conducting four weeks of meetings for 122 mayors and police chiefs on how to nip a riot in the bud. But more important, the citizenry is increasingly coming to face the fact that the Negro Revolution will not end until sound and lasting solutions are found that will bring the burgeoning Negro pop-at Disneyland. Last year they were in Viet Nam from Thanksgiving to New Year's eve and ran into a Holiness minister who had a Hammond organ "right int he middle of nowhere."

If this consistency of being in demand is any indication, then no one makes a more joyful noise than Clara Ward and The Ward Singers, who have been raising their voices the world over since they hesitantly ventured out of the Negro church circuit in 1957 to introduce Gospel singing, that lively first cousin to jazz, rhythm-and-blues and rock-'n-roll to the Newport Jazz Festival.

The Ward Singers wore long choir robes then. They still wore them two eyars later when they made Eurpoe aware of the rhythmic beat of Gospel singing in a triumphal swing through London, Brussels, Copenhagen, Stockholm, Oslo, Frankfurt and at the German Jazz Festival in Essen.

Notes From Norm's Notebook

The situation about Dr. King was most upsetting, both to all individuals and naturally to the community. It is this person's hope that now, after the funeral services and almost a week of time to give everyone in this country time to settle down and think, we can not only return to some sort of normal operation, and at the same time, find that with this type of tragic happening, the eyes of America will open, not close, and we can find that at last this country of ours is full of AMERICANS not black people, white people, yellow people and so on and so forth. If we all work toward a common goal, perhaps we will find this to be true at last.

It would be my observation during the last several days that many white people in our area have stopped in their tracks and given more thought to the situation than ever have done so before.

I would like to take this opportunity to introduce to our readers a new citizen of the Hub City. Mr. George Fowler has been here a little more than 30 days, but during that short period of time, many people of the community have felt his presence. Originally George came here to finish his education at Tech, but for the past 15 years he has been involved in social work and with his introduction to Lubbock, he decided to continue in the same field.

Mr. Fowler makes his office in one of his apartment holdings, Trammel Terrace, on 17th Street. Being in the apartment business seems to entitle George to about the same allotment of business hours as being in the newspaper business. He begins about 7:00 a.m. each morning and continues until around 7:00 or 8:00 each evening. He has been very busy since arriving on the scene with taking citizens of the various welfare offices, social security office and the local V.A. field office. He is working closely with the Texas Employment Commission at the present time, trying to help locate jobs and positions for the various people in the community who are seeking employment.

Recently George acquired Cresthaven Apartments over on Quirt Avenue and East 24th Street. He plans to completely redecorate these apartments and re-furnish any that people desire to rent furnished. His plans at the present time are to add to Cresthaven's facilities a laundremat and a concession room. He states that in the process of changing over Cresthaven, he will set aside a portion of the complex for the purpose of allowing aged and retired people to have a decent place to reside. The rates for these apartments will be set at $15.00 per week or $60.00 per month. At the same time Mr. Fowler has a rent subsidy program that will allow him to assist retired persons and this rent subsidy program will allow retired persons to live in Cresthaven Apartments for $45.00 a month.

Fowler states that he will not allow anyone to rent in Cresthaven until he has had a personal interview with them. In this way, he hopes to upgrade the apartments he owns by also filling it with people who wish to upgrade their own positions in life. According to Fowler, he intends to make Cresthaven the prestige apartment in Lubbock for the Negro apartment dweller. It might do well to add here that there are 108 apartment units at Cresthaven and Mr. Fowler is taking applications now for residents. Persons interested may contact Mr. Moore at PO 2-4948 or Mr. Fowler at PO 3-9084 for an appointment or else fill out an application form that is located in this issue of the Times and mail it to the indicated address.

This writer didn't intend to try to influence many people who read the newspaper on the matter of who they should vote for in the city elections, but, I am going to step over the line in one of the local races. I am going on record here this week in saying that it is my opinion, from the standpoint of the citizens of East Lubbock, that the best man to support in the local mayor's race is Mr. Ray Diekemper. I believe, after visiting with Ray, that he is not only interested in what can be done to help the readers of this newspaper, but that he will do everything possible if he is elected mayor to help this community just as he will help all other segments of Lubbock.

For these reasons, and because he is apparently sincere, I believe it will behoove the citizens of the Negro race in Lubbock to vote for Ray Diekemper.

*****

It might be interesting to read the letters to the editor column on page four. It seems that some constructive criticism has been offered.

POLICE BEAT

This is that time of the year when the little tots are out for a spring vacation and they will be playing in the streets. Let us be extra careful of driving during this time of the year. Not only this time, but at anytime let's be careful about the welfare of our young people.

This reporter knows that you are concerned about the welfare of these young people.

WOMAN BEATEN UP

A young lady who was minding her own business in Lubbock happened to be attacked and beaten up by an unknown man last Saturday night. She told the Lubbock Police that an unknown man attempted to rape her but due to her hollering and scratching, he fled.

Before leaving the lady, he hit her in the head and cut her on the hand. From the hit on the head, received cuts on the scalp and bruises.

She had no idea who the man was, but was advised her rights to file charges on the unknown individual, if she knew who he was.

BURGLARY

Ras Dotsey, 2421 East 9th Street, told police that someone took a great advantage of him the other night when they lifted him of a case of motor oil from his pickup.

He had no idea who could have taken the oil from his parked vehicle, but he did know that the oil will cost him $10.

Perhaps next time, Mr. Dotsey will put the oil in a more safe place. How about that Ras..?

CAR BURGLARY

Darrell White, 1714 East 1st Street, reported to the Lubbock Police Department that someone took from his car, which was parked at his residence, a battery and a radio.

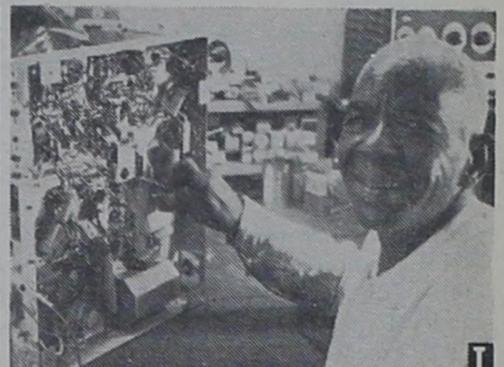

White hasn't understood why this was done, but realizes the loss of approximately $40 for the merchandise taken.

Ever wonder why some people have what it takes to get ahead in spite of what seem to be insurmountable odds? Marion Kennedy of Phoenix, Arizona, is such a man. Employed as a crane operator, he was plagued by arthritis, a condition which normally would have forced him to leave his job and go on the welfare rolls. Being a negro, with only 4 years of formal schooling, Kennedy was doubly handicapped. Together, these suggested a not bright future for a proud man with five dependents.

With his wife's encouragement, Kennedy took their small savings and enrolled in a course in Radio & TV Servicing from International Correspondence School, Scranton, Pennsylvania. He studied about five hours a night for eighteen months and completed the course. Kennedy's initial investment for the course and equipment was $660

"NO-QUIT POLICY" KEYS SUCCESS

While still studying, he repaired a TV set for a neighbor who was willing to take a chance on an amateur if the price was right. Then another. Soon word got around and work poured in. By then, he was no longer able to operate a crane and began servicing TVs full time.

Halfway through his studies, Kennedy had to hire an assistant. By the time he completed the course, he was employing four helpers and farming out ten jobs a week. "I was netting $800 per month before I even completed my course," Kennedy noted.

After he received his I.C.S. diploma, at the age of 50, Kennedy's annual income went up to $17,000. Through all, he never advertised. His services were so in demand that people sought him out, even to the point where he had to disconnect his business phone.

Today, Kennedy gives a great deal of the credit for his success to his I.C.S. course. But the man who sold it to him, I.C.S. Representative Bob Pollock, said in a recent interview that, "Men like Kennedy become successful with or without I.C.S. Like any educational institution, we can only give a student the tools to shape his own future... we can give guidance... But self-determination puts the tools to work. And Kennedy has this."

Today, Kennedy is semi-retired. He has two helpers, but he only works when he wants to and no longer makes house calls. He and his wife live comfortably in Phoenix.

days, and pick your pocket with

L. C. "Les" DERRICK

L. C. "Les" Derrick of Idalou has announced his candidacy for re-election to the office of Lubbock County Commissioner, Precinct 3.

Derrick has lived in Idalou 48 years, was in business 23 years in Idalou before being elected your present County Commissioner of Precinct 3.

He is married to the former Pauline Selman of Idalou and the couple have one daughter, Mrs. Jimmy Rosson of Idalou, a teacher in Idalou Public Schools, and two grandchildren. Derrick and his family are members of Idalou Church of Christ.

He owns his home in Idalou and spent 28 months during World War II serving his country, 10 years Idalou City Commission, 6 years on Idalou School Board, member of American Legion Post

Dear Editor:

I have been subscribing to your paper for over four months, and I find it very helpful. But I feel compelled to point out my disagreement with your editorial view-point.

During these months I have noted a paternalistic, "I know what's good for you," attitude reflected—as the concern is related to what is good for

No. 575 Lubbock and Idalou Lions Club.

He devotes full time to this all important office and has no other business interests as he knows Lubbock County is large enough to have a full time Commissioner and needs a full time Commissioner.

He has built and secured Right of Way of approximately 102 miles of paved and all weather roads in his precinct and plans to add another 12 miles this year.

When he took office, the tax rate was 83¢, now it is 78¢. Then per capita debt was $21.71, now $2.61, a decrease of $19.10 per person.

We have built an addition to the jail of approximately ¼ million dollars, and our present building program spending $1,200,000 on our new courthouse addition, purchasing the post office building also a parking lot. We are remodeling the post office building and also furnishings, paying cash, not having to raise your tax rate or vote any bonds.

Mr. Derrick solicit your vote and influence for re-election as your County Commissioner of Precinct 3.

the Negro community. However, this is your privilege as editor to set forth your opinion.

However, in your last issue—even after you acknowledge that you "just don't have the time and the personnel" to contact a cross section of the Negro population and let them express their views—you proceed to state what Negroes think and feel, to wit: "Another point we would like to stress here is the fact that MOST Negro citizens are happy with the way things are now and do not wish MAJOR changes to be made." My exposure to Lubbock's Negro community has taught me two things, I think, which are not factual in this statement: (1) it is not a fact that most Negroes are happy and contented with things the way they are, in or out of the schools; (2) no individual, black or white, can claim to speak for the Negro community.

If it is important to know what the Negro community thinks and feels, then to the best of your ability give us the facts—the expression of THEIR opinions on these matters!

Sincerely
Grantland M. Groves

Witnesses Attend Seminar At Corpus Christi

Horace Dove, the presiding minister of the East Unite of Jehovah's Witnesses returned Sunday from a three day seminar in Corpus Christi, Texas. Mr. Willie Anderson, District Supervisor, opened the Friday session with the talk "Strengthening One Another To Remain in The Faith", the assembly theme.

Willie Anderson explained "Faith" in terms of Weak, Strong, and In-Between. For strong faith, spiritual food has to be taken in and exercised regularly. Luke 17:5 was read to show that even the apostles asked for more faith. The highlight of the Saturday sessions came with Anderson discussing "Dedication and Baptism", after which 27 candidates received their ordination and baptism in symbol of their dedication as Jehovah's Witnesses.

The main feature of the seminar came Sunday as 760 heard the Public lecture, entitled, "Why Does God Permit Wickedness?" Anderson pointed out that all honest-hearted men and women everywhere keenly desire to know when God will bring an end to wickedness.

How much longer will it be? The disciples of Jesus Christ were keenly interested in this too. They pointedly asked Jesus: "Tell us, when will these things be, and what will be the sign of your presence and of the conclusion of the system of things?" Jesus gave the visible signs that would combine to mark the period of the "Time of the End", known also as the "Last Days". Persons living when these events occurred could know that they were living in the last days. As 2 Timothy 3: 1-5 explained. Anderson's final talk: "Following faithful Shepherds with Life In View", ended the three-day assembly.

CLARA WARD

By 1961, when they hit New York's famed Village Vanguard, they'd blossomed into rich silks and brocades and the fabulous hairdos which have become their trademark.

Clara Ward and Mahalia Jackson are rated as the top two Gospel singers of today, and The Ward Singers are the top group. "One would willingly listen to them for hours, even overnight," said one Paris newspaper after their '66 engagement at the French capitol's Olympic Theatre.

And the Los Angeles Times welcomed their return to Disneyland this year with "When it comes to rafter-rockin', foot-stompin', hand-clappin' music, none come close to the special brand of excitement generated by the Clara Ward Gospel Singers."

It is hardly surprising when Miss Ward says that "Gospel is my whole life." She sang her first solo in public at the age of five at Philadelphia's Ebenezer Baptist Church, where her mother, Gertrude Ward, was solist.

When Clara was nine, her mother formed a Gospel-singing trio

Confronting the Crisis . . .

ulation into the mainstream of American life.

The gravity of our current situation may be seen in plans underway in militant groups. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. is presently organizing a mammoth "Camp-In" protest for Washington, D. C., around April 1 which was last Monday, with a built-in threat of possible civil disobedience. Stokely Carmichael, back from his "Clenched-fist" tour abroad, is using the "Velvet Glove" to rally a united front of civil-rights groups in order to press for immediate concessions; this alone could cause violent black-power flare-ups. Radical leaders of fused anti-war and civil-rights protest movements are claiming that some two hundred thousand demonstrators may be marshaled to disrupt the Democratic Convention in Chicago in August. Deep-seated discontent in countless Negro ghettos coupled with bitter backlash feelings, especially among blue-collar whites, could with the least provocation this summer explode into street wars in scores of urban centers. The outlook for 1968 is grim.

The complexity of the racial problem- ECONOMICALLY, SOCIALLY, POLITICALLY, CULTURALLY, AND SPIRITUALLY- makes any solution we might here briefly propose seem simplistic and naive. Yet we believe there are certain factors that responsible Americans of all races- must recognize personally if we are to hammer out sound solutions that will bring racial harmony and a more equitable status for Negroes in America.

Legitimate grievance that underlie Negro discontent must be speedily remedied. Latent feelings of superiority and hostility toward Negroes have made many whites insensitive to the disadvantages stacked against the Negro in America. The Negro has arisen within a culture of servility that has not offered the motivation for self-betterment found in other minority groups. His color has closed off opportunities open to people of other races. Whites have held his cultural patterns in low esteem, thereby impeding his absorption into national life. His enforced separation from the American mainstream has compounded a continuing vicious cycle of widespread unemployment, low standard of living, unstable home life, inadequate motivation, educational undevelopment, and further economic instability. Many determined and hard-working Negroes have overcome these disadvantages and arisen to middle-class status. Twenty-eight per cent of non-white families now earn more than $7,000 per year-twice the percentage in 1960. But the Negro community as a whole occupies a low position on our national totem pole.

Whether the bigotry of many in the community or the apathy of many Negroes is mainly to blame for the Negroes plight.

Americans cannot close their eyes to the fact of our present situation. The rates of BROKEN HOMES, CRIME, AND JUVENILE DELINQUENCY ARE significantly higher among Negroes than among whites. In our ten worst slums, one in three Negroes cannot find work or is not earning enough to subsist on. The national Negro unemployment figure now hovers just below 10 percent. Observation of almost any Negro-populated area will convince anyone that ghetto housing is too overcrowded and decidedly sub-par. Schools in these communities fall below standards in other areas, partly because many qualified teachers refuse to accept admittedly difficult assignments there. As long as these distressing conditions exist on a large scale, the Negro revolt will continue to smolder and occasionally burst into riotous flames. It will do little good for whites to assume that militant black power fanatics are totally responsible for Negroes unrest and concentrate only on stopping them rather than dealing constructively with the soil of discontent where seeds of violence have sprouted. Rather Americans must exercise wisdom and patience in devising economic, social, and educational resources of the Negro.

If government agencies are not to widen their already burdensome commitments, the private sector of the economy must increase its effort to provide more jobs, develop vocational training, grant home loans, and give Negroes greater hope for success in American life.

Further progress would be made if Christian ministers and laymen would develop closer personal ties with each other regardless of race to promote understanding, encourage mutual aid, and devise cooperative witness programs to bring the message of Christ effectively to both the black and white communities, quit talking religion and do it.

The real needs that make the Negro cry out in anxiety, in resentment, in hatred, must be seen for what they are by white people and, in cooperation with Negro leaders, dealt with positively and swiftly. Sober analysis of conditions in society must be followed by creative, humane solutions.

commonplace to say that most every person knows in his heart that he has no valid basis for hating another man merely because his skin is a different color from his own, we are suppose to be intelligent people. Yet many in differing degrees are guilty of harboring animosity toward people of other races. Prejudice gained from our backgrounds and from general-zations based on isolated experiences must be brought to light by all men—including the most devout Christians. Although many whites would refrain from calling a Negro a "jig" or many Negroes from calling a white person a "honky", laten antipathies exist that must be rooted out.

Racial bigotry is a sin agianst God and man. All men are entitled to be considered of worth because God created man in His own image and placed so high a value on him that He sent His Son, Jesus Christ, to redeem him. It is not your color that makes a man, God is color blind. Unless Negroes and Whites accord each other mutual respect, there can never be racial harmony in our nation. The hate that erupts in violence in the streets must be seen as evidence of the hate that exists in the pivracy of the heart. If men will analyze their attitudes and recognize their own conscious or submerge racial prejudices, they then can begin to rid themselves of the bitter spring from which flows the pollution of social injustices and destructive action. God can remove hatred from a man's heart. Those who call upon God of Love to obtain love for human beings created in God's image will find a new power to love through Jesus Christ.

This writer would hate very much to be the one who had sunk so low that he hated God so much that he would hate the very ones who are made in the image of God, then go to church on Sunday and act the hypocrite as fi God is so dumb that He does not know my heart!

No wonder our teenagers are like they are, look at the example that we set before them! Racial bigotry, jealousy, prejudice, murder, etc. Then try to cover up by saying "These teenagers are terrible this day and time, what are we going to do with them?" The question is "what are the teenagers going to do with us?"

Negroes must be wise enough to decisively repudiate leaders who incite hatred and violence and instead work to better their status through democratic processes. Nothing can deter Negro advancement more than anarchy in the streets that leads to bloodshed and conflagration.

America is in no mood to tolerate more riots. The American people have had enough of rising crime and lawlessness in this country. Negro intellectual Bayard Rustin correctly interpreted the reaction as an expression of opposition to ghetto rioting as well as to individual criminal acts. If the Negro community does not show the maturity to disavow the violent tactics of the Stokely Carmichaels, Rap (rat) Browns, and Ron Karengas—if they open the door to civil disobedience—it will not only antagonize many whites whose consciences have been pricked by the Negroes' plight but will

Met Disaster With Prompt Relief

New England will not soon forget the raging floods that struck without warning last fall, for these disasters were among the worst in recent history.

The Red Cross mobilized to meet this calamity with prompt relief. All through the stricken area feeding stations were set up. Red Cross field directors and volunteers kept on the job day and night, working with local and state officials and police units to provide first aid, medical supplies, cots and shelter for the distressed and homeless. With Red Cross help flood-ravaged communities were able to get on their feet and start clean-up operations within a matter of days.

Disaster may strike, unpredictably, at any time. You COULD be in the middle of it next time. You'll sleep better tonight knowing that if disaster does come, your Red Cross will be promptly mobilized — with skilled, trained people, supplies and MONEY.

how it has not accepted the spirit of our society in which Negroes seek a greater role. The majority of Negroes, Americans who are by no means "Uncle Toms", oppose violence and believe in democracy fully as much as the majority of white Americans. These responsible Negroes must courageously oppose anyone who impedes Negro betterment through hatred and the use of force.

The victories of mayoral candidates Richard Hatcher in Gary, Indiana, and Carl Stokes in Cleveland, Ohio, are proof that Black Power at the ballot box can elect candidates preferred by the Negro community. The "Burn Baby, Burn" of violent black-power mongers must give way to the "Learn Baby, Learn" and "Earn Baby, Earn", of legitimate black power gained through political, economic, and personal means. Repudiation of radical movements in favor of democratic measures will do much to increase respect for Negroes among whites. Likewise, Negro respect for whites will be enhanced by their rejection of white backlash policies in favor of prudence and patience.

Are we as a people determined to work at solving the problems in our society that impedes every man's progress? Are we willing to sacrifice to help our fellow citizens who are unable to lift themselves by their own bootstraps? Are we willing to discard our prejudices and begin to love human beings of another color personally and earnestly? Do we have the will to maintain a continuing program to elevate deserving Negro citizens despite possible unruly outbursts by a radical minority within a minority race? Our attitudes and actions as a people in 1968 and years to come will reveal whether we have the heart and will to deal constructively with this critical problem. May God Help Us to Do So!

Lubbock Public Schools Enjoy Week Long Vacation

Something new happened for the schools of Lubbock this year. They were dismissed for a whole week of spring vacation.

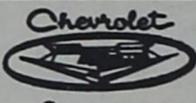

The holidays, which actually extend over a nine-day period to Monday, April 15th, when classes resume, are being enjoyed not only by the 53 public schools in the Hub City but by two parochial schools as well.

The special spring vacation was planned by the city's public schools to coincide with those observed by Texas Tech and Lubbock Christian College. The two colleges will resume one day later.

Last teaching day in the public schools is Wednesday, May 29th. Pupils return to their schools at 1:00 p.m. May 31 for their report cards.

GENE ANDERSON FOR CITY COUNCIL - PLACE 2

1. LUBBOCK HAS BEEN FORTUNATE in having city leaders who gave their valuable time for improvement of the city without regard to whether they would benefit personally. I appreciate this effort and will do my best to perform a similar service.

2. GETTING INDUSTRY TO LOCATE HERE TAKES TIME AND MONEY.

I realize this from my term as a director of the Chamber of Commerce. Competition for new industry is terrific and the city must provide every incentive possible.

3. A COMPREHENSIVE ZONING PLAN SHOULD BE DEVELOPED FOR both residential areas and business and industry which would be fair and impartial to all.

4. I BELIEVE EVERYONE'S INCOME IS AFFECTED BY THE CITY'S

economy so that a healthy business climate is essential to every man and woman in Lubbock.

Spotlight on HEALTH

Common measles virus will probably be one of the ingredients in the fresh spring air your child is breathing. The playmate with a runny nose, red and watery eyes, and a cough, may not have a cold as his mother thinks but the early signs of measles.

If that's the case, after 10 or 12 days, unless your child has had common measles or a measles vaccination he or she will probably "come down" with the disease.

In addition to lost school days, a week or more in bed with a high fever, and general discomfort and inconvenience for both child and parent, there can be serious aftereffects from measles.

Mental retardation, pneumonia, hearing loss or deafness, bronchitis, and other serious medical complications can occur in as many as 1 of every 15 cases. Deaths from measles in the United States for many years averaged 400 to 500. In 1966 an all-time low of 250 measles deaths was recorded.

Although measles vaccines had been available for three years, vaccinations did not spurt until 1965 when a new one-shot vaccine became available. This live measles virus, the Schwarz strain, sharply reduced reactions with great safety and gave long-lasting protection.

Acceptance of earlier vaccines had been hampered by short-term immunity given by killed-virus vaccine (which also required multiple injections) and by high reaction rates, oc-asionally severe, to earlier live-virus vaccines. A simultaneous shot of gamma globulin was usually given with the older live vaccines to reduce reactions.

Availability of a truly one-shot vaccine triggered mass immunization programs in many parts of the U. S. Medical societies, health departments, civic groups, government agencies, and state legislatures all co-operated. Rhode Island, Massachusetts, Detroit, Pittsburgh, Los Angeles, and dozens of others conducted successful mass-immunization drives. The six New England states in 1967 lowered their 1966 measles incidence by more than 62 per cent.

Still, until every child susceptible to common measles and every baby reaching its first birthday is vaccinated, common measles will continue to be a threat to the health of our children. Parents must realize the urgency and necessity behind this good health measure before the efforts of their doctor to eradicate measles will be successful.
