Red Offensive Advances Over Nazi Defenses

By DANIEL DELUCE MOSCOW, Oct. 9 (AP)—A powerful new Russian offensive, surging 62 miles through the wavering German Baltic front, appeared today to have virtually cut off at least 15 German divisions north of the port city of Memel, while Soviet columns invading Hungary from Romania were reported within 72 miles of Budapest.

American Troops Advance On Way Toward Bologna

ROME, Oct. 9 (AP)—American troops have advanced nearly two miles more along the main road north to Bologna, bringing them within 10 miles of that major communications center of the Po valley, Allied headquarters announced today.

The newest advance was made in bad weather along highway 65, between the twin mountains of Castellani and Barbarolo and against strongly reinforced enemy positions.

The Germans, meanwhile, continued to mass reinforcements in front of both Bologna and Imola and were reported bringing up heavy artillery for a further delaying action.

In the Adriatic sector, Eighth army troops advancing across the Fiumicino river, have cleaned up German resistance on Monte Gallo, the commune said.

On the right flank of the 12-mile front south of Bologna, British Fifth army troops for the third straight day battled Germans for possession of strategic Monte Cece, overlooking the Palazzuolo-Castel Bolognese road.

In the west coastal area negro troops of the American 92nd division crossed the Serra river and entered Seravalle, about 21 miles southeast of La Spezia.

Headquarters said Brazilian troops continued limited advances against snipers, machine-gun and artillery fire in rough and difficult terrain to the east of the 92nd division sector.

Despite bad weather, a few Allied planes attacked barges and schooners at Sestri Levante on the Gulf of Genoa.

Investigation Of Tire Allotments Asked For Texas

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9 (AP)—An investigation of OPA's distribution of tire allotments in Texas, Louisiana and Arkansas was demanded today by Rep. Brooks (D-La.).

The congressman made his demand in a letter to Chester Bowles, price administrator, in which he contended that Texas was receiving more than its share of tire allotments from the Dallas OPA regional office, and Louisiana and Arkansas, also in the region, were suffering.

"The Dallas and Fort Worth districts of Texas receive by distribution from the Dallas regional office a greater allotment of tires than does the entire state of Louisiana," Brooks wrote.

"Both the Dallas and Fort Worth districts are enjoying an excess in allotments of 100,000 passenger tires more than the people of North Louisiana" for the period of January, 1 1943, to July 1, 1944.

Brooks asked that an urgency quota of tires be allotted to farmers in North Louisiana "so that our farmers can get in their products to the market without delay and without deterioration and spoilage."

Germans Prepare Retreat; Athens Capture Nearing

ROME, Oct. 9 (AP)—German forces were reported preparing to evacuate Athens today as British troops, racing virtually unopposed across the Peloponnese, neared the southern entrance to the Isthmus of Corinth, gateway to northern Greece.

Dispatches from the front yesterday said British troops were approaching the outskirts of Corinth, at the base of the narrow isthmus after setting the port of Navplion, and it appeared possible they may already have entered the city.

Fall of Corinth would seal off the only overland escape route for any German troops remaining in the Peloponnese and would place the Allies only 45 miles from Athens.

It was believed unlikely, however, the Germans had left many troops in southern Greece.

Reports that the Nazis had begun evacuating Athens came from British fighter plane pilots operating from Greek bases, who said they had observed a considerable concentration in the port, including a number of ferry type craft and several large ships.

British commanders asserted the Germans were fleeing Greece "by land, sea and air," apparently exerting all efforts to withdraw before the onrushing Russian forces, bolstered by Bulgarian troops and Yugoslav guerrillas, cut off their escape routes.

Allied planes continued to pound enemy airports around Athens and Salonika over the weekend, while British naval forces ranged along the Greek coast on the alert for any Nazis attempting to escape by sea.

Allied Bombers Hammer Holland And Reichland

LONDON, Oct. 9 (AP)—Close to 10,000 Allied planes hammered Germany and Holland over the weekend in the greatest 24-hour assault in the history of aerial warfare and only unfavorable weather across Holland and France kept the number from being much greater.

While the heavy bombers, which had their biggest day of the war Saturday, were grounded Sunday American and British tactical fleets based on the continent flew more than 1,500 sorties in support of the ground armies.

Ninth Airforce fighter-bombers, roaming the length of the western front, were credited with destroying 132 enemy guns opposing the American first and third armies. Meanwhile, RAF fighter and medium bombers slashed at German troops, railways and barges in the Nijmegen and Tilburg areas of Holland.

The ninth also knocked out 43 locomotives, 104 freight cars, cut railroad tracks in 29 places and destroyed three German planes parked on the ground.

While great damage was done to German oil plants, tank works, aircraft factories and railway centers, the most spectacular weekend raid was carried out by a 13 RAF Lancasters that smashed the Kembs dam across the lower Rhine with 12,000 pound delayed action "earthquake" bombs.

The Germans probably intended to dynamite the dam themselves as soon as they had crossed the Rhine. The resultant floods already have made the river impassable for the Nazis caught on the wrong side.

Battleforce Silences Greater Part Of Jap Coastal Defenses On Marcus

By LEONARD MILLIMAN Associated Press War Editor A strong U.S. battleforce stood off Japan's tiny Marcus island all day yesterday and with "deliberate and destructive gunfire" silenced "the greater part of the coast defense batteries."

Neither Adm. Chester W. Nimitz' surprise announcement early today nor a previous report by Tokyo made mention of planes attacking or defending the outpost 1,135 miles southeast of Tokyo.

Shore defenses and installations were heavily damaged by the bombardment, which Tokyo said included the 16-inch guns of U.S. battleships. The attack was carried out by units of Adm. William F. Halsey's Third Fleet which has been pounding the Philippines and the Palau islands.

The German Transoceanic news agency said that over the weekend about 1,000 American planes raided Koror, administrative center of Japanese mandated islands situated in the heart of Palau.

In the conquest of nine southern Palau islands, Marines and soldiers have killed 12,233 Japanese and captured 225 since they first landed Sept. 15.

Admiral Nimitz announced last night that ground troops advancing behind Corsair planes dropping 1,000 pound bombs made small gains against the only remaining pocket of Japanese on Peleliu, largest of the conquered islands.

Bombers patrolling sea lanes south of the Philippines sank or damaged 25 Japanese coastal vessels and small craft, hit warplanes at Zamboanga, and dashed again at the vital Balikpapan oil center on Borneo.

Tokyo claimed a surprise Japanese air raid on the Superfortress base at Chengtu in northwest China destroyed 44 American planes, including 33 B29s. Tokyo said the attack was made through adverse weather which curtailed U. S. air operations.

Chinese troops prepared for a last ditch defense of the only remaining U. S. air center in southeast China at Kweilin.

Despite the loss of six advanced bases in recent months, Gen. Joseph Stilwell reported the 14th U. S. air force sank 163,000 tons of enemy shipping, killed 4,000 Japanese and destroyed 42 planes last month at a cost of three Yank aircraft.

Los Angeles, Oct. 9 (AP)—Approximately 400 ministers and lay followers of the Foursquare Gospel, representing virtually every denomination's Southern California members to attend funeral services today (3 p. m. C.W.T.) for Evangelist Almee Semple McPherson, founder and leader of the church.

Mail Packages Now For Overseas Xmas

Soldiers returning from overseas say that one of the happiest and saddest times of the year is during Christmas: Happy for those that receive mail and packages sent from the folks at home, and terribly sad for the boys that receive nothing. Can you honestly imagine how bitter they are?

One thing that you can do to help is see that the packages you send are properly wrapped, have "Christmas packages" marked on them, and are mailed before the 15th of this month.

You have five days left. Don't put it off to the last one. It takes so little time, and means so very much to him.

October 15 is the deadline.

Supreme Court Is Firm On Decision

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9 (AP)—The Supreme Court refused today to reconsider its decision that insurance is business in interstate commerce and a subject to the Sherman anti-trust act.

The South-Eastern underwriters association in asking a rehearing of the case involving its activities told the high tribunal that the decision at June has brought about a situation where "hazards have been imposed upon the negotiators of every insurance contract and the very of the insurance business has been rendered perilous."

The court decided the question by a 4 to 3 vote, Justices Roberts and Reed taking no part in the case. The association is requesting reconsideration since a case of this character should be decided by a majority of the whole court.

Attorney General for 41 states joined in the request for rehearing.

The court in announcing its decision to refuse reconsideration said that Justices Roberts and Reed took no part in consideration of the request.

LIONS TO MEET The Lions Auxiliary will meet Wednesday at 12:30 on the mezzanine floor of the Settles hotel.

Hodges' Pincers Narrow Aachen Gap

LONDON, Oct. 9 (AP)—The multiplied blows of Lt. Gen. Courtney H. Hodges' First army threatened a 20-mile breakthrough toward Cologne and Dusseldorf today as American fighting men pinched the Aachen escape gap to four miles or less.

They were reported fighting within Aachen itself after sending patrols and small armored task forces to feel out the garrison, which possibly had been reduced to only 1,500 last ditch SS guards.

To the south, the Seventh army moved to within eight miles of Belfort in the strategic mountain gap fringing Switzerland and pounded that town's outer defenses with shell fire.

To the north Canadian forces staged a bold amphibious stroke in the rear of an isolated garrison of 5,000 Nazis holding on to a small pocket among the canals and dikes south of the Schelde, and landed just east of the small village of Hoofdplaat, 33 miles west of Antwerp.

The landing, made before daylight, was aimed at the relief of a small Canadian bridgehead across the Leopold canal, established three days ago with a flamethrower barrage but beaten back to a desperate position by determined German counterattacks.

First army units which advanced from southeast of Aachen were within a few hundred yards of crossing the main Aachen-Cologne highway and put under fire this last escape road in a narrow four-mile corridor.

East of the Moselle, Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's Third Army men were making slow progress in boring and blasting their way through the steel floors and concrete bulkheads of the Germans' underground strongholds in Fort Driant, five miles southwest of Metz.

The Third Army, which hopped off to a new attack on a 20-mile front yesterday and struck forward as far as seven miles between Metz and Nancy, had captured nine towns in its initial blow. Chencourt, a mile north of Ajoncourt and 18 miles east of Metz, was added to eight other towns previously reported captured.

To the south, vengeance-fired French troops of Lt. Gen. Alexander M. Patch's Seventh army closed within a mile of the outskirts of Le Thillot, six miles from Bussang Pass through the heart of the Vosges, and beat their way beyond Champagne, only eight miles from the town of Belfort.

There was no news from a supporting drive through the Monchouse frontier forest 13 miles farther south.

On the Seventh army front American troops beat down a German counterattack east of captured Vagny, six miles east of Remiremont and 13 miles from the Schlucht pass through the Vosges.

The French, slugging through stiffened German resistance, captured Ramonchamp, a mile north of Le Thillot, and pushed within a mile of the copper mining town from the west.

San Antonio Lawmen Seek Negro Suspect

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 9 (AP)—San Antonio detectives were in Galveston today in search for a young negro suspect in the slaying of Mrs. Julia Guynes, 62, found here late Saturday with her throat cut and head crushed.

Chief of detectives Duke Carver theorized that the slayer's motive was robbery. Mrs. Guynes, whose body was in a rooming house she had purchased recently, came from New Orleans about a week ago.

Blood-stained socks and men's shorts were found in the room of an east side hotel shortly after the suspect was reported to have checked out, police reported. According to officers, a negro whose boy identified the socks as having been worn by the suspect.

Police also reported that the bootblack had told them the suspect had flashed a big roll of bills Sunday morning.

Strikers Return To Work; Walk Out

DETROIT, Oct. 9 (AP)—Striking maintenance workers of the Packard Motor Car Co. returned to their jobs briefly this morning, as they voted to do in a mass meeting Sunday, but walked out again shortly afterward.

A company spokesman said the stoppage made 20,000 idle. Approximately 1,000 maintenance workers are involved in the strike.

There was no immediate explanation from striker representatives.

Packard workers remained on strike last week after maintenance men in 32 other war plants had returned to their jobs.

Linens must last now!

Protect yours this safe way

1. INFERIOR BLEACHES sometimes damage cottons and linens because their action is uncontrolled.

2. PLAIN WASHING means lots more rubbing to get things white. This is also hard on fabrics.

3. WITH PUREX you avoid both dangers. Used as directed, Purex whitens gently—with controlled action. Far safer than inferior bleaches or extra-rubbing. Linens last longer.

WITH U. S. SEVENTH ARMY IN FRANCE, Oct. 9 (AP)—Gen. George C. Marshall, chief of staff, arrived at Seventh army headquarters today by plane from Holland where he conferred with Field Marshal Sir Bernard L. Montgomery, head of British ground forces in Europe.
Marshall and James F. Byrnes, war mobilization director, arrived in Paris last Friday from Washington.
Talking with war correspondents here, Marshall said the full disposition of American air strength throughout the world had been completed and allocation of ground forces were being carried out rapidly. He said there were adequate replacements for all ground force operations wherever they were being conducted.
Discussing action in the Pacific, he told the correspondents: "Our greatest trouble in the Pacific is that we are a long way ahead of our schedule. ## German Federal Officer Describes Retreat As Disgusting For Nazis

By HAL BOYLE
HEERLEN, Holland, Oct. 5 (Delayed) (AP)—A German federal officer writing in his journal, described the Nazi army retreat from Holland into Germany as "a disgusting sight" and pictured the decaying of a once great military machine.
The journal was written by a Nazi official whose home was in Holland but whose office was across the border in Aachen, Germany.
"He also had a list of members of German officers' and wives' association in Aachen," said Lt. Robert Kline, Mt. Pleasant, Mich., "and 25 of the 36 members were widows."
Excerpts from the journal follow:
"Streets were filled with retreating columns... for a real German it was a disgusting sight to watch the troops pass by... The road from Maastricht to Aachen was jammed during the first few days with long columns of men and all types of vehicles."
"Some soldiers have stayed in my tenement drinking whisky and listening to the radio. One unit of 20 men had three large radio sets in their car... Others are spending their time stealing chickens, ducks and other things. They say that they have to stay because their horses are too tired. This seems strange."
"I have been reading an American propaganda paper. Of course it contains many lies but we are so starved for news that we read it and try to tell what is true. People have said that trains carrying the refugees went only part of the way to Cologne and let the people out in the country to shift for themselves. Those that did get into Cologne found no place to go and no one to care for them. We do not know what is happening... The talk is so confused... the stories are very discouraging."

Nazi Hammer Tank; Yank Hammers Nazis

BEFORE FORT DRIANT, France, Oct. 9 (AP)—When the Germans knocked out Pvt. Vernon P. Culpepper's tank in Fort Driant they didn't knock him out. Culpepper, who comes from Lewisville, Tex., played possum. An enemy patrol, thinking everybody inside the tank was dead, approached after dark and started setting up a machinegun on the sheltered side of the tank. With a heavy hammer, Culpepper reached out and conked one Nazi. The others fled.

Return To Pre-War Type Indicated In Plumbing

Production pressure is being relieved on some plumbing lines, Runyan Plumbing company announced Monday. Hot water heaters with metal jackets have replaced the "victory" heaters which had plastic covers, and more than that the heaters now available are recognized standard, quality products. Also changing for the better is the bath tub supply. Steadily increasing in availability is a durable or vitrious china tub of the type in demand before war production put a crimp on tub production. These good grade tubs are taking the place of a concrete plastic material. While there are still limitations on certain plumbing supplies, especially those involving metal, Runyan Plumbing company is able to handle any essential job. One service the company has been able to give constantly in the past year is that of making sanitary installations. Literally scores of homes in the city area have installed lavatories and commodes, contributing to the over-all health picture of the community. The demand for this service, according to company officials, is continuing. In line with a policy with Runyan Plumbing, company officials issued their traditional autumn reminder to residents to check their plumbing fixtures against winter weather. Every home should have a private water cut-off to prevent freezing and bursting of pipes in severe weather. Since the pipe and plumbing is all on private property, the responsibility of controlling water belongs to the private individual. When the city makes these emergency cut-offs, it is an unscheduled service and therefore it is frequently several hours before the cut-off can be made. Much damage could be done by water in that spare time. Many patrons have told Runyan Plumbing that the wisest thing they had done was to have a private cut-off installed before the winter rush sets in. In line with this, Runyan Plumbing has been doing a considerable amount of repairing leaks, either in plumbing lines or connections or on faucets. A dripping hydrant can waste an unbelievable amount of water, which not only amounts waste of water during a period of critical shortage, but also means an increased cost to the consumer. Most of the time the water saved over a period of time will more than pay for the plumbing cost as well as eliminating the annoyance.

Republican Asks Help For China

By The Associated Press Calling for an "even greater degree of aid to China," Gov. Thomas E. Dewey today projected his presidential campaign definitely into the arena of international affairs. The New York governor, returning from West Virginia, where he spoke Saturday night, proclaimed tomorrow as "Free China Day," after demanding more public information about Poland's postwar future. Published reports that Dewey would like to retain Secretary of State Hull in at least an advisory capacity on international affairs if elected this November brought no confirmation from the republican nominee or his campaign managers. They termed it "purely speculative." Dewey yesterday remarked: "We would like to know more about the results of the private deliberations of those who now discuss Poland's future in secrecy." This was in a brief broadcast saluting Poland's hero of the

Fourteen Fliers Die In Crash In Dallas Vicinity

DALLAS, Oct. 9 (AP)—Fourteen members of the crew of a four-engine bomber of the heaviest type were dead today after the huge craft crashed and burned on the edge of the storage tank farm of a Texas Company refinery near here. Scores of persons yesterday saw the spectacular crash of the craft, some pieces of which fell in streets and in yards almost three miles from the refinery. Lt. W. E. Dowell, assistant operations officer at Hensley Field here, reported that all fourteen of the crew perished. The huge ship, speeding earthward, clipped a power line, cut a corner off a warehouse and burst into billowing flame within 50 feet of two large gasoline and kerosene mixing tanks, witnesses said. Investigation of the crash was first assumed by Hensley Field officials, but later was turned over to authorities at Love Field here and to officials of Pratt Army Air Field, near Wichita Kas. The News said the ship was based at Pratt Field and that a board of inquiry from that field would investigate the crash. The body of one of the men aboard was thrown clear, some members of the crew were confined in the burning plane and several bodies were found near the escape hatch. "I heard the pilot blasting his motors," said Lt. Thomas J. Flanders of the Texas Defense Guard who was with a group of his men at a rifle range about a mile and a half from the refinery. "The plane seemed about 3,000 feet up and was coming down in an inverted spin. I waited for the men to bail out, but none did. There was plenty of time. When the ship crashed flames spurted several hundred feet high."

American Revolution, General Casimir Pulaski, during a Polish-American parade on New York's Fifth avenue. Dewey turned quickly from Nazi-battered Poland to Japanese-mauled China with this proclamation: "It is our obligation to our Chinese ally, to the speediest possible defeat of Japan and to a strong and lasting peace after victory, to speed an even greater degree of aid to China as soon as possible."

Bowling Allies Now In Top Condition

Big Spring bowlers now have access to one of the finest bowling centers in the South, and the best in the vicinity of Big Spring, with the completion of work on the allies at the West Texas Bowling Center at 314 Runnels. Changing their pen - setting equipment from a National to a Brunswick has increased the efficiency of the Center quite a bit, as the Brunswick method is recognized widely as the best there is. Also increasing the accuracy of bowlers will be the complete re-conditioned allies which have just recently undergone a complete over-hauling. In this process they received a new surface and a smooth finish that greatly increased their speed and accuracy. Manager E. B. Dorier has foreseen the coming league battles which get underway this week in both the women's and men's tournaments and the allies are as good as if they were new. Dorier has stated that "the Center now is as good as money can make a bowling alley. Nothing else could be added to insure the bowlers of smooth allies and efficient service." "We have have one of the finest allies in the South, and I know of no other that is in better condition."

Emphasizing the nation-wide motto of "Bowl For Health" Dorier has stated that the West Texas Bowling Center now stands ready to give Big Spring bowlers the best there is in allies, and urges persons of all ages to come in and try their hand at a game that has swept the nation as one of the top sports, and one that is most contributive to every person's health and physical fitness. Admiral Ernest J. King: "The dollars of every patriotic American must continue to build invasion ships to transport our men and materials in increasing numbers to the many active fronts. In 1944, more than ever before, the money we invest in War Bonds is of supreme importance."

General George C. Marshall: "The American people must give not only their full personal effort but the full use of their dollars invested in War Bonds to back these attacks. There is no alternative. Total victory is in sight, but it can only be won by concentrating every resource of America to the task."

The first 3 years have been the easiest!

It's easy to give everything you've got when you're scared to death and fighting for your life.

It's hardest to bear down when things look "in the bag."

As the war looks today, for instance.

Overconfidence may not lose us this war. But if it makes us ease up, it can prolong it.

Even if only one extra day is added to the war—just one—thousands of American boys may die for it. Perhaps, God forbid, a friend of yours, or son, or brother, or sweetheart, or husband.

So don't slow down now. Don't coast. Buy Bonds with that extra cash—all the Bonds you can.

After all, buying Bonds is not only a patriotic but a very wise thing to do. The dollars you put in Bonds now will come back to you—bringing more dollars with them. Dollars that can mean happiness, security, comfort—just when you'll want those things most.

Buy War Bonds for your country. Buy them for yourself. They're the world's safest investment.

West Texas Schoolboy Teams Among Top Nine

By The Associated Press
Waco's Tigers pushed forward to a spot in the top ranking of Texas schoolboy football teams today as the field headed into virtual all-out offensives along the conference front.

Victors over Highland Park's Scotties, the unbeaten, untied Tigers were given the nod as No. 1 in the lower bracket of the Texas interscholastic league campaign although there were such teams in that division as Tyler, Lufkin and Brackenridge of San Antonio.

In the upper or northern bracket Highland Park still was considered a team to beat and San Angelo, defending state champion and pre-season favorite to repeat, was well back in everyone's good graces.

Cooper Deals Browns Blow With 12 Strikeouts And 2-0 Card Win

By JACK HAND
ST. LOUIS, Oct. 9 (AP)—Mort Cooper's 12-strikeout job in yesterday's 2-0 Red Bird triumph was a blow between the eyes to the Browns' title hopes and the series' largest crowd of 36,568 which came to cheer for the underdogs went home fearful that the end was near.

Despite the week-long assurance that St. Louis can't lose no matter which team wins, Browns fans were still hoping against their better judgment that Potter would square matters today and Jack Kramer would take the big one Wednesday.

If sentiment still is working for the Browns, the boys with the dough aren't. The Red Birds are favored at 11 to 20 to win if Lanier pitches and the wise money is so sure it will be over tonight that no series prices are quoted.

Not since Howard Ehmke emerged from the shadows of the Philadelphia Athletics' bullpen to strike out 13 Chicago Cubs and set a series mark 15 years ago has a pitcher been able to fan 12 men in one game in the annual classic.

Never before have two pitchers like Cooper and Denny Galehouse whiffed a total of 22 victims in one series afternoon. The old mark of 21 was held jointly by the A's and Cubs of 1929 and the White Sox and Cubs of 1906.

If today's opponents are in a strikeout mood a new all-time record for total series play can be established. To date there have been 78 third-strike victims, a mark topped only by the Cards and A's in seven games in 1931 with 87 and the Yankee-Giant eight game set that produced 82 in 1921. The sixth-game mark of 75 definitely has been surpassed.

Cooper and Galehouse hooked up in one of those games that it's a shame anybody has to lose. Just as on opening day when the Browns beat Mort behind Galehouse, on two hits, the club with the fewest hits took the cake and did it on home runs.

Ray Sanders' clout atop the roof of the right field pavilion and Danny Litwiler's long distance into the unscreened stands past the 400-foot marker provided the only scoring of an exciting game.

Big Mort's defeatist complex about the American league was just a rumor this time as the husky right-hander from Abertson, Mo., fast balled the Browns back to the bench. The Sewell crew kept pecking away here and there, collecting seven hits but when the blue chips were down, Cooper had it. In the sixth he gave one of his best pitching exhibitions by throwing the ball past Al Zarilla and Mark Christian after the American leaguers had loaded the sacks with one out. They said his curve wasn't breaking and Southworth had Teddy Wilks in the bullpen but the fast ball Mort threw that inning never needed a curve for help.

RAY YOU SAW IT IN THE HERALD

San Angelo climbed back into one of the state's top spots by beating Amarillo 13-7. Previously the Bobcats had lost to Lubbock, Amarillo's chief rival in District 1.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
NEW YORK, Oct. 9 (AP)—Second guessing the series... At long range the most striking thing about the world series, aside from the pitching, is the futility of some efforts... For instance, four pinch hitters faced Mort Cooper yesterday and all four fanned... The Browns haven't made a successful effort to sacrifice yet and at least two Cards failed yesterday to lay down a bunt that would advance a runner... When the Browns had the bases full in the sixth, Zarilla and Christian just stood there while Cooper jogged a third strike past them, not even making a pass at the ball. Sanders did the same thing for the Cards with two aboard in the eighth inning of the third game... On the other hand, Ken O'Dea has established a new record with his third pinch hit in world series competition; Mort Cooper, beaten on hits by Moore and McQuinn in the opener, held that pair hitless yesterday and chalked up three strikeouts against them... Denny Galehouse has fanned 15 batsmen in two games and seven of them—three yesterday—went down on three straight pitches.

Monday Matinee
Although Sammy Baugh wasn't on hand for yesterday's 31-31 Redskins-Eagles tie, the "Jinx" in which Sammy has figured prominently held good. The Philadelphia club has never beaten Washington in Shibe Park... Rhode Island State has given the cold shoulder to the Boston Garden basketball program but indications are that the "ivy league" is warming up to the big time shows. Yale and Dartmouth will play there in December... Tip from the southwest says Tulsa's Henry Frka is holding back a freshman talkback whiz, Bobby Stuart, to spring on the Iowa Seahawks in November.

Luke's Bad Boy
Sig Jakucki, the "semi pro" pitcher who started for the Browns Saturday, was bounced out of the 1941 National Semi-Pro tournament because he had signed to play with two different clubs that year. The next season Sig became annoyed at an umpire's decision in the Wichita tourney, caught the arbiter on a bridge and was about to dunk him in the Arkansas river when the cops arrived. And as a result of that playful performance, he was ruled out of the 1943 tourney.

Well, That's Something
OKLAHOMA CITY, (AP)—Mrs. Betty Wells, 50, noticed a light in her clothes closet, and tried to pull the door open, but somebody inside was holding it. Says she: "I finally got the door open and there stood a short, chubby man. He had my clothes in a travelling bag. I grabbed him and he struck me on the chin. I grabbed him again, scratched his face and he hit me again. The third time I ripped all the buttons off his shirt and scratched his face and chest, breaking my fingernails. He pushed me aside and ran out the door, but I saved my clothing."

ATC MASCOT TOUGH
KANSAS CITY, (AP)—Private Tuffy, 14-month-old lion cub mascot of the Air Transport Command, bit both arms of a pilot who tried to recover a handbag with which Tuffy was playing. The 125-pound kitty ran into an officer's room and was locked in until zoo attendants could come to the rescue with a lasso and a hypodermic needle.

Peacefully passed out, Tuffy was carried to the zoo. That probably will be his permanent address from now on.

Texas-Oklahoma Game Highspot In SWC Battles

By JACK RUTLEDGE
Associated Press Staff
Southwest conference football teams pass up title warfare this week in favor of inter-sectional play with the Texas-Oklahoma game at Dallas as the feature.

Vying for No. 1 spot in interest will be the clash of the Rice Owls with Tulane at New Orleans while Texas A. and M. plays Louisiana State at Baton Rouge and Arkansas tackles the Norman, Okla., naval Zoomers.

Meanwhile, Southern Methodist will be seeing for itself if what they say about Randolph Field is true when the Methodists meet the Ramblers, victorious over both Rice and Texas by overwhelming scores, at San Antonio.

Conference teams and fellow travelers scored 153 points in five ding-dong battles that were far and away the season's best last week but when the dust settled the situation was like your pocketbook after a day at the races—no change.

Conference teams divided honors in inter-sectional games, favorites came through as expected and Arkansas and Texas Christian, opening the title race at Fort Worth, tied 6-6.

Arkansas outplayed TCU roundly except inside the Frog 10-yard stripe. The Razorbacks made 15 first downs to 5 for TCU and gained 324 yards to 134, but when they neared pay dirt the Frogs wouldn't give.

Rice upheld conference honors in inter-sectional play. Paced by George Walsley and Bob Nemir the Owls staged a comeback after their Randolph Field defeat and took Louisiana State at Houston, 14-10.

Randolph Field continued its march of massacre by taking the Texas Longhorns 42-6 at Austin. The star-studded service squad found its toughest resistance of the year in the Longhorns who scored early in the game.

At Dallas Southern Methodist had to go all out to defeat a scrapping Southwestern University team. It was a free-for-all and the 16-10 score is a true picture of the tightness of play.

In the second inter-sectional game Texas A. and M. bowed to University of Oklahoma 21 to 14 at Oklahoma City. The Sooners scored in every period except the third, while the Aggies struck in the second and third when their T formation clicked with Jim Cashion doing a brilliant job.

Ramblers Defended By Steers' Bible

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
AUSTIN, Oct. 9 (AP)—Coach D. X. Bible of the University of Texas said today the collection of football stars at Randolph Field was serving "a worthy cause."

Without voicing his views on the controversial question among Texas coaches and sports writers on whether colleges should play such an aggregation, the man whose team Saturday took a 43-6 licking from the mighty Ramblers had this to say:
"As I understand it, this fine team was collected for a very definite purpose. Playing football alone would not justify it, but the team's share of receipts going to such a worthy cause would. I have been informed there are several such teams over the country. But this is nothing new. A year or so ago Wallace Wade and Bob Neyland did the same. Games were played over the nation and the money given to the war effort."

Weldon Hart, Austin writer, said "the army air forces would do well to come out with a clear, frank statement as to why such teams as Randolph Field and Second AAF have been collected," adding this would answer the inevitable question, "why aren't those boys fighting if they're so tough?"

Jinx Tucker, Waco sports editor, defended the collection of stars and said "if there are to be five or six great service teams in the country why shouldn't Texas have one of them?"
George White of the Dallas News said the fans wanted to see such a team and being beaten by Randolph Field would have no effect on a college's standing.
Coach Jess Neely of Rice, asked if his team would play Randolph next year, replied: "No. We've built enough morale for one war."

Today On The Home Front Veterans May Get Aid To Buy Home

(Editor's Note: This is the thirteenth in a series on veterans' benefits, ranging from demobilization to jobs and pensions.)

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON, Oct. 9 (AP)—The government will help war veterans—to by a home, farm or business—by guaranteeing part of the loans they need for a start. The Veterans Administration (VA) does the guaranteeing.

This is how the program works: The VA will guarantee—up to 50 per cent or up to $2,000—any approved loan obtained by a veteran from a private or government source to buy or operate a farm, home or business.

Here's an example but remember it's only an example for the actual procedure might be somewhat different.
A veteran wants to buy or build a $4,000 home. He goes to a lending institution—like a bank or insurance company—and tells his story.

The bank finds this particular veteran a reliable person and says: "Okay. We'll let you have the $4,000. What kind of security can you give us?"
The veteran says: "You can take a first mortgage on the house." That satisfies the bank. The VA is called. When it, too, is satisfied it says:
"Okay. We'll guarantee this $4,000 loan up to $2,000. That's the highest we can go on a guarantee."

It's because of this guarantee the bank's risk in lending $4,000 is cut in half since the government backs $2,000 of it—that the interest rates can be brought down to 4 per cent.

But the VA does more. In that first year the veteran doesn't pay the full 4 per cent interest on the full $4,000. He only pays interest on half of it, or $20. The VA pays the other half.

But this holds true only for that first year. After that the veteran has to pay the full 4 per cent interest on the total loan.

The law covering loans was passed by congress early last summer. Since that time the VA experts have been drawing up regulations covering such loans.
Those regulations will soon be published.

USO Carnival Next Saturday For Post

Plans are being made at the USO for a carnival to be conducted at 8:30 p. m. next Saturday for all enlisted men, cadets and air trainees here and which will be complete with booths, bingo games and carnival atmosphere.

The carnival will be the outstanding Saturday night event for October, under a new plan to provide one "big event" on a Saturday night each month for service men and especially for convenience of those unable to come into the city during the week.

There will be 21 booths, including weight guessing, spinning the bottle, miniature bowling, "ringing the rack", "blow hard" and others.

Junior hostesses will have charge of booths. A special GSO committee making arrangements is made up of Clarinda Mary Sanders, Helen Duley, Virginia Burns, Cozy Walker, Wilda Faye Simpson, Elizabeth Burrell, Joy Daniels, Mozelle Bradley, Verna Jo Stevens and Gaynell Yardley.
All events will be free. Popcorn balls will be served by churches and candy prepared by mothers of junior hostesses will be given.
Carnival music will be provided.

Senior hostesses will be Mrs. R. L. Billings, Mrs. V. W. Fuglar, Bette Williams, Mrs. Sarah Peck and Mrs. Lary Locke.
Men representing civic clubs will assist in booths.

German Collapse Should Relieve Gas Rationing

DALLAS, Oct. 7 (AP)—The fall of Germany should bring partial relief from gasoline rationing, Max McCullough, former director of the Dallas regional office of Price Administration and now national rationing head under Administrator Chester Bowles, said here today.

Technical salesmen, representatives of war plants who have combined selling and technical advisory work, will be one of the first groups to receive relief, he said.
An effort will be made to equalize rationing over the nation, supplying areas suffering short ration stamp values with amounts equal to southwestern and other states, McCullough added.

While relaxations are anticipated, he said the Petroleum Administration for War has warned that no early end of gasoline rationing is in prospect.
He warned against over-optimism following reports passenger tires will be available to A-card holders by saying thousands of applications were now on file and that quotas for tires had exceeded production to the extent that many persons with certificates to buy have been unable to find tires.

Real Right Unchanging

Arthur Cato, Weatherford representative in the legislature, is an avowed opponent of redistricting accordance with the constitutional mandate.

Among other things, he says that "The constitution was written many years ago and many things do not fit present day needs."

Spotting for this point of view, he maintains that were the state redistricted each 10 years, the constitution commands, big cities would be given more power and thus rural school aid would suffer.

His argument may carry some persuasion, but is superficial and downright undemocratic. Since it is honorable to obtain any benefit through constitutional, or, if you please, unlawful acts?

To ignore the constitutional edict of redistricting just as unlawful as to deliberately break a law, has been wisely said that two wrongs do not make a right, and Mr. Cato's philosophy is a fine case in point.

As we understand democracy, it is a philosophy representative of government. It is based finally on equality of individuals. Carried through, this means that representation must have the element of equality, else it is not democratic representation.

It is quite natural for the little fellow to look with envy and perhaps even distrust upon the big fellow. The hamlet eyes the village, the village the town, the town the city, the city the metropolis.

Indeed, times have changed, many points in the constitution are outmoded and perhaps ought to be changed. The hard cold fact remains that basic right does not change if it is really a right.

Policy Of Fairness
While the observance of National Newspaper Week is past, we think Jim Kelly, editor and publisher of the Stanton Reporter, has put his finger right well on a policy which permeates the vast majority of the American press.

Plainly declaring his favor, the re-election of President Roosevelt, he adds that "the columns of the Reporter will be as free to use by the opposition as the side we favor. . . . The Reporter depends on the business men, city and county officials, and the people of the county for its living. The money from the newsboy and the bootback is just as welcome as the money of the banker or the bondholder."

The War Today

by Dewitt Mackenzie
Associated Press War Analyst

We can't complain about this being a blue Monday, what with the continued success of the American First army in the Aachen battle and the great Russian advance in Lithuania.

Taking it on the whole (and knocking wood discreetly, just in case) things look very good for the Allies. We really are getting ahead with the job.

The most important news from the western front is that fair fighting weather, upon which we depend whether the Allies are able to force Hitler's surrender this year, smiled on the invading forces for a change at the week-end. As a result British and Yankee warplanes swarmed over the reich in one of the heaviest aerial assaults of the war. For the first time, too, we find the Germans labeling the Aachen show as a major assault.

Indications are that this Nazi estimate is correct. If it is, it means that things are going well enough in the Aachen sector to warrant General Eisenhower in regarding it as offering chances for a clean break-through of the Siegfried and Rhenish defenses.

The ancient and famous city of Aachen is reported to be all but surrounded by First army forces, and it's unofficially said that fighting is raging through the streets. The closing of the gap on the eastern side of Aachen will put the Yanks astride the Nazi rail communication with the great Rhenish city of Cologne.

The plight of the fine old town of Aachen, which came through the last war without even hearing a gun fired in anger, well illustrates the point that the Germans, who have waged war against many countries but never before in modern times have experienced it at home themselves, certainly are learning what it means now. They're having a terrible lesson, due to Hitler's decision to sacrifice everything to save his own skin—a lesson which is bound to produce bitterness among them but which also is likely to create a healthy respect for peace.

Quite apart from the terrific aerial bombardment which the reich is enduring the Nazi troops ruthlessly are destroying towns as they retreat—a scorched earth policy to deprive the invaders of defenses or resources. If the war continues in this fashion, Germany will be a land of devastation. Perhaps this will provide a salutary example for the world, at that.

In other words, the columns of his paper are open. His editorial point will not affect his handling of news. The policy of fairness is the best.

The Timid Caut

Ernie Pyle: Air Raid Shows Split Personality In Correspondent; Half Ostrich

By ERNIE PYLE

THE TUNISIAN FRONT, March 1943—Late one afternoon I drove my jeep to the cactus patch which contained headquarters. I had often stayed there, and felt like a member of the family.

Without reporting in or anything, I just picked out a little open spot among the bushes, got out my shovel and started digging a hole to sink my pup tent into. It had the hole about four inches deep and only half long enough when I heard a shout:

"Here they come!"

Immediately all over the cactus patch guns started firing. Dive bombers had come out of the sun, and were on us almost before we knew it. My hole in the sand was still not large enough to harbor a man even as slight as myself. But I assure you, its inadequacy did not deter me from diving into it forthwith.

As always in an air raid, I was torn between getting under cover and staying out to see what was going on. My policy seems to be the reverse of the ostrich—I stick my rear in the sand and leave my head out, thinking I'm safe.

So I lay there in the shallow depression, but propped one elbow to get a good view.

Right now I want to say that anybody who can tell, after a dive bombing attack, just exactly what happened is a genius. It is all so fast and confusing. Your senses seem to play hooky on you. After that raid I could not tell you how many bombs dropped, how many planes took part, what kind they were, whether any started smoking, or what direction they went when they left.

They came down one at a time, seemingly from everywhere. As soon as one finishes its dive, you start looking for the next one. You lose sight of the one which just passed, and don't know what happens to him. You see others in the sky in addition to the one now making its dive. They seem to be going in all directions. The air is full of tracer bullets and black ack-ack puffs. You get these spots confused with planes.

I remember feeling a wonderful elation when I saw one tracer tear right smack into its target—only to realize a moment later it had entered a puff of smoke instead of an enemy plane. You hear the scream of diving planes and the clatter of shooting around. You hear explosions of ack-ack and shells and bombs going off, and truly can't tell which is which. At least, I can't.

It's worth nothing in passing that two men who have taken thankless jobs in the wartime upper brackets, stepped down out of the peace and security of lifetime jobs. Byrnes passed up his treasured seat on the Supreme Court and Judge Fred M. Vinson, who followed Byrnes as director of OES, was associate of the District of Columbia Appeals Court.

It's considered certain that Judge Vinson will stay on either as a member of the new board or as director. He and Byrnes have made a good team. Byrnes is the conciliator and coordinator; the trouble-shooter; Vinson the severe, hard-hitting fighter. His fight to hold farm prices down, to prevent a break-through of the wage ceilings, to put over a tough tax bill, and to hold down the price of oil are only a few of the major battles in which he has stepped all over the toes of pressure groups and special interests. He hasn't gained many friends but he has added a lot of stature.

Byrnes' farewell address, if it was that, was one of his better ones. It was a "carry on" speech in which he warned there could be no relaxation of wage and price controls until the war is over on all fronts.

Although he admitted that the "Hold-The-Line" order of 1943 hasn't been maintained without some denting, he expressed concern only over the prospects that it might be dented worse before the war is over.

Byrnes started out as director of the Office of Economic Stabilization with an office in the new east wing of the White House, a secretary and two telephones. Few people outside the government or close to it can appreciate what a job he has done of welding them into something that faintly resembles a solid line.

Germany Must Realize By Denial Of Freedom Never To Rob Others Of It

By PAUL BOLTON

"Men of vision and faith and bold generosity must represent us before the world. To win the future, we must take risks, just as the winning of any battle requires many men to take many risks."

These are not the words of a campaign orator, but of a Texas fighting man, moved by the experience of seeing first hand the liberation of France and by sitting in a chair and writing a letter by candlelight where; one short week before, a German soldier had sat and written a letter home.

This moving letter came from D. B. Hardeman, now a captain with an artillery unit somewhere in France. Hardeman is a former Austin and Goliad newspaperman who won a license to practice law shortly before Pearl Harbor. He enlisted as a private, soon after war was declared, but was not able—despite many efforts—to get an overseas assignment until about six months ago.

Evidently filled to overflowing by his experiences, he sat down and wrote a long letter—addressed to one man but in fact intended for all men—all Texans and all Americans.

"The days and weeks roll by," he boldly begins, "and the day of eventual victory rushes nearer. Certainly the night—the long night—is falling over Germany. She must now prepare to do humiliating penance. I for one am ready to see her pay in full. Not in a spirit of vengeance, but . . . to make her realize, through a denial of her freedom, that she must never again take freedom away from others."

Capt. Hardeman writes that "I have seen the return of liberty to a people long starved for freedom." French people are warm, friendly, tolerant. They could endure the loss of their material wealth, but "the theft of her liberty—this was the unforgettable thing." After riding for "hundreds of miles" through liberated France, seeing the tearing greetings of the freed people, Capt. Hardeman was most impressed by the children:

"As you ride by, even the slightest ones, hardly big enough to walk, drop their tops to wave, to give V for victory, to blow kisses or come running toward you. And how many hundreds have I seen standing by the road, their little arms filled with a bottle of wine, or apples or pears or tomatoes or eggs—disappointed that you can't stop and take these symbols of their welcome."

"When a little child runs up just to touch your hand and say, 'I'm so glad you're here,' you know damned well what you're fighting for. I think our boys now understand why we are fighting this war—for freedom. With their own eyes they have seen what it means to give freedom back to a people, and they will ever be proud that they were a part of the generation that made that gift.

"And I am certain that those lads who sleep in perpetual peace beneath the kindly French countryside, must on high feel now that indeed their sacrifice was worthwhile. I wish the parents and friends of those boys could see what their lost ones really did—how they tangibly left the world a better place to live in."

Captain Hardeman was moved to ponder over what liberated children must feel toward their liberators—"how those French lads, grown to maturity, will remember the Americans. Those children must feel as I would have felt if Robin Hood and his Merry Men one day had come to Goliad."

It was, in fact, "what the memory could mean to the future of our democratic world" that fired Capt. Hardeman's imagination. "Those bright-haired lads soon will be ruling France, and we must stand together with France against Tyranny." And as Capt. Hardeman sat in the German's chair, looked at his pictures on the wall of the French cottage, he wondered what distinguished the American and the Nazi:

"Only one thing makes us different—our relation to human freedom. He was intent on taking it away. We are intent on restoring it. His name will be an epithet for generations. We have a chance to have our name called blessed wherever free men meet, if we are equal to the task. And that's where you come in. You and the Spivins boys and the Rotarians at Goliad.

To win the future, we must take risks. . . . We must suffer losses. But you must play those hogdod- dles of little minds which threaten our present opportunity—those baseless fears of cooperation with Russia, those suspicious of a realistic Britain, those stupid ideas that we should let Europe stew in her own juice. You must lay aside your householders' pipe and drive out of leadership those stupid men who will seek, through reservations and 'yes, but' amendments, to deny us full, free and generous leadership for the future."

Trouble Brews At University Between Administrative Heads And Strickland

AUSTIN, Oct. 9 (AP)—The administrative heads of the University of Texas and Regent D. F. Strickland of Mission were in sharp disagreement today over a statement of University Vice President J. Alton Burdine that he had been instructed to tell President Homer P. Rainey that Rainey was "making too many speeches, like those before religious groups."

Strickland said "there was no ultimatum and no conversation," adding there has "been no attempt to get Rainey."

Burdine issued a formal statement here, saying that Strickland telephoned him on October 1, prefacing "his discussion of a number of matters by informing me that he, Judge John H. Bickett and Mr. Scott Schreiner had conferred earlier that morning." Strickland told him in substance, Burdine said, "to tell the president that he was making too many speeches, like those before religious groups."

Rainey said here last night that "they are harrasing me in every way possible. I said a year ago that there was a campaign of petty many speeches." Dr. Rainey confirmed that he had been sent word "to confine my speeches to university business."

The newspaper said Strickland telephoned the orders to Burdine, and that at the time, he was with Schreiner and Bickett. Burdine, in his statement yesterday, said he had not talked with any agent but Strickland.

At Dallas, Bickett, chairman of the board, said: "No such conversation occurred in my presence with reference to undertaking to limit speeches or public utterances by Dr. Rainey. So far as I know, no such conversation occurred."

The controversy arose after publication in the Sunday Austin American-Statesman of a story saying that an ultimatum had been sent to Dr. Rainey, "serving notice upon Rainey to quit making so

OPA Will Act On Reconversion Price

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9 (AP)—The Office of Price Administration has given industry assurance it will not hesitate to set reconversion price ceilings for civilian goods above 1942 levels in cases where an increase "is really needed to bring any product back on the market."

"There are some companies and perhaps a few industries whose costs have risen so far above their 1942 levels as to make full absorption (of increased costs) impossible," Price Administrator Chester Bowles said in a statement released yesterday by OPA's industry advisory committees.

In these circumstances manufacturers will need price increases quickly, he stated, adding that OPA intends "to see that they get them."

The automobile firms are one industry that is expected to press for an increase under this policy. Industry spokesmen have said it will not be possible to put cars back on the market in 1942 prices.

Bowles told the industry representatives OPA will make every effort "to establish ceilings at a point that will induce manufacturers to expand, not restrict their production."

Brief Prepared For Vet Clinic

Steps were taken Monday by chamber of commerce directors to assure the placing of a brief in support of a local request for consideration of and when more veterans hospitals are built.

Several Texas cities are putting in applications for consideration as sites and Big Spring is to become one of the group making such a request. Directors authorized the executive committee to incur expense necessary to the presentation of a brief.

The board also approved expenditure of funds on behalf of the county agricultural exhibits, to be displayed on Nov. 4.

J. H. Greene, manager, announced that the rodeo had paid out with a balance of $880.77 in the treasury despite a bad break in weather on the last day of the show. Taxes and insurance for the rodeo plant are still to be paid. It was announced that the show paid out $1,678.92 in federal taxes.

A committee was appointed by Harry Hurt, vice president, to return nominations for West Texas chamber of commerce directors, and it was announced that the directors would vote on the WTCC referendum platforms at the Oct. 23 meeting.

Churchill Goes To Moscow For Quebec Sequel

MOSCOW, Oct. 9 (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill and Foreign Minister Anthony Eden arrived in Moscow today for conferences with Marshal Joseph Stalin and Foreign Commissar Vyacheslav Molotov.

In London it was announced that W. Averell Harriman, U. S. ambassador, would represent the United States in the conference, which Deputy Prime Minister Clement Attlee described as a sequel the meeting at Quebec between President Roosevelt and Churchill.

Attlee added the meeting had "the fullest approval of the U. S. government."

London dispatches said it was believed there that a wide-open Anglo-Soviet rift over Poland's future was a major motivating factor in the Churchill-Eden trip.

The Moscow radio said Sir Alan Brooke, chief of Britain's general staff, and Lt. Gen. Sir Hastings Ismay, chief of staff to the British minister of defense, also were in Churchill's party.

In his speech to commons 11 days ago Churchill indicated that he considered a new meeting of himself, Stalin, and President Roosevelt essential before peace plans are revealed.

Everything depends upon agreement of the three great powers, he said then, and "I do not think a satisfactory agreement will be reached x x x until there has been a further meeting of the three heads of the government, assisted as may be necessary by their foreign secretaries."

The prime minister added that he earnestly hoped "it may be possible to bring about such a meeting before the end of the year."

Louisiana Court Removes Lawyer

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 9 (AP)—The Louisiana supreme court granted today a petition by former Governor Richard W. Leche that his name be removed from the rolls of practicing attorneys and that his license to practice law in Louisiana be cancelled.

Leche is now serving a ten year term under mail fraud conviction in the federal correctional institution at Texarkana, Tex., in connection with a political case in 1939.

Disbarment proceedings filed against Leche by the state bar association are still pending before the supreme court after a hearing some months ago before Herve R. Leche, special commissioner appointed by the court to take evidence of the charges.

Leche, 46 years old, served as governor from 1936 until June 26, 1939 when he resigned.

Business Women's Week Proclaimed

National Business Women's week is being observed in Big Spring under a proclamation issued by Mayor G. C. Dunham.

The mayor took cognizance of the theme, "Are We Part-Time Citizens?" in issuing his proclamation. "Dynamic citizenship requires work every working day of the year," said Mayor Dunham. "A once-in-four-years-citizen is not much good to himself or anyone else."

He called for an alert citizenry by "knowing the men and women nominated for office, by watching the government charged with local, state and federal administration, by reading reports, attending public hearings of boards of education, finance committees, health boards, etc., and by voting."

"The Business and Professional Women's clubs have undertaken the task of making our responsibilities clear to us," he said. "May public interest be their reward."

Seabee Found Dead In Florida Hotel

HOUSTON, Oct. 9 (AP)—Edwin K. Hodgkins, 40, a Navy Seabee of San Augustine, Fla., was found dead in his room at a local hotel here early today.

Justice of the Peace Tom Maes, who held the inquest, ordered an autopsy to determine the cause of death. He said, however, that it appeared the Seabee had died from natural causes.

Hodgkins and a companion, R. Ellis of Crockett, also a Seabee, registered at the hotel four days ago on a furlough. Ellis said Hodgkins became ill at midday and a physician was called. Both Seabees went to sleep, Ellis waking first to discover his companion failed to move and calling authorities.

Action By Senate Due On Peace Plan

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9 (AP)—Action by both the Senate alone and the entire congress is envisaged in the tentative outline for a world security organization made public today.

At least two treaties would come before the senate for ratification, while both houses would have to act on at least two pieces of legislation.

Treaty ratification would be required for:

1. The charter of the new organization.
2. A master agreement, or series of special agreements, guaranteeing armed forces and facilities of the member nations for use on the security council in maintaining peace and stamping out aggression.

The legislation would embrace:

1. A measure setting up the way in which American forces would be made available. It is understood that administration will press for creation of a special unit, which could be sent into action without further specific congressional approval.
2. Appropriation measures for the international organization and the United States armed force.

Kathleen Latham To Be Retried For Insanity

FORT WORTH, Oct. 9 (AP)—Miss Kathleen Latham, 24, will be brought here tomorrow from the Wichita Falls state hospital for a hearing to determine legal restoration of her sanity.

She has been a patient in the asylum since July, 1943, when she was found insane by a jury in criminal district court, an action which abated an indictment charging her with murder of Jack B. Disney the preceding May 11 at his home here, in a discussion of her asserted affections for his wife, Bernice.

Miss Latham's attorney, W. P. McLean, Monday filed in criminal district court an application for restoration of her sanity and asking that a jury be called tomorrow to determine the question.
