London-NPI-The "hot summer" or racial unrest may envelope Great Britain within a year, according to Michael Abdul Malik, 34-year-old West Indian and Black Muslim leader in Britain who is currently under a one-year sentence for inciting racial hatred. Malik, whose real name is Michael de Freitas, has just had a book published, entitled "From Michael de Freitas to Michael X."

SECOND CLASS ALSO

Tokyo-NPI-Rumblings of discontent among a minority group in Japan are increasingly being heard, as the Eta community-numbering some three million, or three per cent of the entire population-launches its drive for equality of opportunity. The newest incident concerns the demand by the Ets Emancipation league for an assembly hall in Fukuoka on the island of Kyushu in Southern Japan. Failure to win approval of their demand led to a melee between 70 Ets and the office of the Governor of Fukuoka.

REVOLT PLEDGE

Aguadilla, Puerto Rico-NPI-A new political party, the Socialist Workers, has announced its chief aim to be an armed revolt throughout the island to "overthrow imperialism and colonialism." The party, numbering some 70 members, is headed by Wilson Cortes Burges and Juan Antonio Corretger.

SWITCHOVER

Lagos-NPI-Nigeria has finally decided to follow the lead of fellow West African independent nations of Gambia, Liberia, Dahomey and Togo and switch to driving on the right side of the road, instead of - as in Britain - on the left. This will further complicate matters since Ghana, which separates Nigeria from Dahomey and Togo, still clings to the left side. The only other left sider in the region is Sierra Leone.

THIRD TUNNEL

Bern, Switzerland-NPI-Switzerland will begin construction on its third vehicular tunnel next spring, which will be the longest of its kind in the world. To be completed in the late 1970's, the tunnel will be 11 miles long, will be called the St. Gotthard Alpine highway tunnel, will be four miles longer than the Mont Blanc tunnel, linking France and Italy; and more than seven miles longer than the St. Bernard tunnel-link with Italy.

NEW PLANT

M'Bao, Senegal-NPI-A 12.4 million fertilizer plant has built and put into operation by a new firm, the Societe Industrielle d' Engrais au Senegal (SIES), which will produce a wide range of complex fertilizers in quantities sufficient to fill all the country's needs. The first fertilizer production facil-

Marion Will Receive Execution Date Here

James Lee Marion, convicted slayer of Mrs. Fred Turner of Midland, Texas, was returned to Lubbock County Jail last Thursday from death row at the state prison at Huntsville.

Judge William R. Shaver of 72nd District Court ordered a bench warrant for his return. Judge Shaver said the execution date will be given sometime this week.

Marion was assessed the death penalty in 72nd District Court here, March 22, 1964, and a legal battle took the pleas to the U. S. Supreme Court on six different occasions.

The Supreme Court's ruling, handed down February 20, 1967 closed off the last appeal route for the former fry cook, sentenced to die in the electric chair for the death of Mrs. Turner, wife of a wealthy Midland oilman-sportsman, at her Midland home in October, 1963.

According to Judge Shaver, the execution date will be given toward the end of the week.

Miss Noble is the daughter of T. Sgt. and Mrs. Eddie L. Noble, 2804 Walnut Avenue. Sgt. Noble is stationed at Laughlin Air Force Base, Del Rio.

REV. DAVIS INJURED

Rev. A.L. Davis, minister of Greater Saint Luke Baptist Church, suffered several broken ribs in an accident at the corner of Flint Avenue and 19th Street last Saturday afternoon.

He is recuperating from this painful experience at his residence at 1825 Manhattan Drive.

The West Texas Times is happy to see the many young Negroes who are concerned about working toward a high school education and became successful in acquiring a diploma.

This year is no exception, for we feel that the young generation is very much concerned about the welfare of their future.

As it has been in the past, we feel as though recognition is due to these young people who have done in their power to move forward bodily in order to side step the many obstacles which have gotten in their path.

This week, the City of Lubbock will be fortunate to graduate over 1600 graduates from the public schools and not to mention the scores which will come from the private sector.

This edition is dedicated to those young people who have fought hard for what they wanted to accomplish, and it is our hope that these young people will continue to make positive goals in the future.

The entire community is proud of your efforts, and this edition is for the contribution you have made. Keep up the good work.

Amarillo-This statement was taken from a booklet made possible through the Education Committee, Texas Highway Heavy Branch Associated General Contractors of America, Inc.

It was very fortunate for me to have had the chance to meet with a group of representatives of the Highway department both local and state on last Tuesday and learn about the many job openings for young men. I was reminded of a recent sermon I heard a few Sundays ago by one of the local

EDITORIAL

Today is Memorial Day. This is the day set aside for those who fought for us. These were the men of the armed forces who fought for the American Way of Life!

Memorial Day is a United States holiday which is observed in most of the states on May 30, for honoring the dead of the armed forces. It is also referred to as Decoration Day.

To those men who gave their lives so we could remain free, this newspaper, West Texas Times, can't help but remember the supreme sacrifice made and being made today by our brave American fight men. Let us offer a prayer for these men and women and the many families and friends who have suffered this loss.

We are a proud nation, and because of this, our brave fighting men have maintained our pride as a nation. From the coast of California to the shores of South Vietnam, our colors still shine brightly.

May our great country continue to pave the way for others. This is America, a great one. . . Let us not forget this day. As the Preamble to the Constitution of the United States says:

"We, the people of the United States, in order to form a more perfect Union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, provide for the common defence, promote the general welfare, and secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution for the United States of America."

This is America, God has shed his light on all of us. Let us continue to spread the blessings of brotherhood throughout the land. This is a great country. We have a lot to be proud of.

Thank God, the most fitting tribute we can pay to those brave heroes who fought for us is to continue to carry the banner of Freedom wherever we go. The time has come for all men to look toward peace. At this time, it is most appropriate that we call upon God for understanding and guidance. . .

"Only consummate statecraft can enable a king to save his throne when after a long spell of oppressive rule he sets to improving the lot of his subjects. Patiently endured so long as it seemed beyond redress, a grievance comes to appear intolerable once the possibility of removing it crosses men's minds. For the mere fact that certain abuses have been remedied draws attention to the others and they now appear more galling; people may suffer less, but their sensibility is exacerbated." --Alexis de Tocqueville (1805-1859)

Things You Should Know

Thomas JEFFERSON

1743-1826

BORN AT SHADWELL, ALBEMARLE CITY, VA.—THIRD PRESIDENT OF THE U.S.; HE IS KNOWN TO HAVE "FATHERED" MANY OF HIS OWN SLAVES! TO SOME HE GRANTED FREEDOM! BUT, IN 1811, HE SUPPORTED A BIG "BACK TO AFRICA" MOVEMENT SAYING: "NOTHING IS MORE TO BE WISHED THAN THAT THE UNITED STATES THUS UNDERTAKE TO MAKE AN ESTABLISHMENT ON THE COAST OF AFRICA. . .!"

Continental Features—

Notes from Norm's Notebook

Congratulations Grads, probably the hardest thing that you feel you will ever have to do is walk down that isle Friday night and receive your diploma. Not true, many times in your long and active life you will find just as hard a task, and you like so many before you will find that you are up to the job. Probably these words won't mean much to you at the present time, but when the time comes that you can look back to this time and place, you will realize that no matter how hard the task or job, you have only begun to put yourself in the proper light to handle anything that may come along.

By making yourself eligible for that "sheepskin" tomorrow night, you have started yourself on a path that well might lead you to a seat behind some large corporation's desk, at the head of your own company, or perhaps, the position of right-hand-man for some future presidential candidate. At any rate, you have shown your elders and the rest of the world that you have what it takes to educate yourself and stick to a job until you get it done, now go on with your work, go on to a degree of higher education, college, vocational school or place yourself in business, even if it means starting at the bottom and working toward the top—the top has become much easier to reach for you in the last several years.

Regardless of what you decide to do, don't stop now, keep up with an education, of some sort. Don't let anyone talk you out of the idea of going on with your learning process. Probably for the first time in the history of our great country, the high school graduates of this country are faced with the greatest opportunities! Surely, all of the doors have not opened yet, but at the same time, many more are open now than ever before, and it has been my experience that more and more people and businesses are looking for qualified people to do the job that needs to be done. Yet the word "qualified" will always figure into any position that is open for anyone.

To be "qualified" in this day and time is much easier than to be experienced. At the present time the experience barrier is slowly being lowered, but don't be fooled, the "quality" barrier will always remain—and it is up to the individual to make his or her self capable of meeting the quality requirements.

Once again I say, Congratulations' and best wishes to all of you for what you have accomplished. All of us "old Fogies" welcome you to the adult world and hope that you will continue to accept your role by going ahead with your learning in order to one day take our place and show us you really could do a better job.

Yours truly and the rest of the crew around here have been busy the last couple of weeks trying to move into a new office. Well, as per usual everything isn't done, but we have moved. So-o-o, if any of you would like to drop by some time, please feel free to do so.

The new office is located South of the city on Farm Road 1585, just east of the Tahoka Highway, (three miles south of the city limits). Com'on Out!

Around The Hub City

Well, seniors, the time has come for you to make the final step as high school students. You have passed the great test—required of all high school students, and this week you will cross the stage to receive an award you have so faithfully earned.

Around the Hub City would like to caution you of the fact that the world lies ahead of you, and it is up to you to continue in the right direction.

This will be the last time each of you will meet together as one big class, and you should know that what you have accomplished as a class took individual effort on everyone's part.

The annual tea for the seniors of Mary & Mac Private School was held last Sunday afternoon in the auditorium of the school. More than a hundred parents, friends and patrons attended this annual fete.

The affair is sponsored each year by the faculty of the school.

Would you believe that the City of Lubbock found $ 93,000 for a special operation for summer employment for boys and girls (between the ages of 15-19). This was a good move on the part of the City. I wonder what other manipulations they could find if they were only asked. Or on the other hand, was this just a political move?

The opening game of the Eastern Little League got underway Monday at 5:00 p.m. with city officials on hand to help get the season underway at Mae Simmons Ball Park.

It would seem to be a good idea for all the adults in the community to go out and support these youngsters. The refreshment stand could certainly use your patronage. Incidentally, I am sure that each team could use some baseballs.

W. M. Moody and Leroy Moody, both of Los Angeles, California, are visiting in the Hub City this week. The pair are former students of Dunbar High School, and are here visiting relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Lorenzo Wadley, owner of Lorenzo Shamrock Service Station, spent several days in Dallas, Texas. Accompanying them were their son Gary, and Shelia Patterson, neice to the Wadleys.

It sure would be nice if a stop sign were placed at the corner of Globe Avenue and East 28th Street. It appears as though people are forever driving in this area at a great speed and continually forgetting to stop and see who are what is coming.

I sure would appreciate some suggestions from local citizens concerning how we might obtain a stop sign for this corner.

Welcome home college students. I hope you will enjoy your stay in the city this summer. Incidentally, I hope you have had and will continue to have good luck in college. Those of you who have gone the whole route now and graduated, good luck in your pursuit of a career.

Parents, Teach Them Respect

Mom and Dad, school is out once again. Why not take time to teach your little boy or girl to respect the law. Tell the truth of how important it is for young people to respect people in authority. Show them that one day they may be in authority and they would like for people to respect their position.

Theft of Clothing

Ozie Lee Porter, 2702 East 2nd Place, told police that he went for a nice swim in Mackenzie Swimming Pool last Saturday afternoon. He left his clothing and some valuables on the bench and when he returned they were gone.

According to Ozie, his clothing, wrist watch, glasses and diamond ring were valued at $116.50.

He has no idea who could have taken the items.

House Burglary

Lorene Jamison, 1603 Avenue B, reported to the Lubbock Police

Department that she had been out of the city for several weeks and when she returned she discovered that someone had taken one half mattress, two bedspreads and other items from her house.

According to Mrs. Jamison, the value of these belongings were believed to be $20.

She has no idea who could have taken the merchandise.

Man Rolled

A Peducah, Texas man told police that he was driving around in the flats when he was approached by three ladies. He went on to add that they began to talk to him. While one of the ladies was entertaining him with conversation, the other two clipped him of his billfold.

According to this stranger in town, his billfold contained $80.

Stab Victim

How does this one grab you? John M. Parr, 1616 Avenue A, reported to the police department that he was riding around Lubbock with some of his buddies. All of a sudden, one of these men stabbed him in the shoulder.

Parr suffered a wound in his right shoulder, and got out of the automobile and walked to another spot where he called an ambulance and went to West Texas Hospital.

He told police he knew who was responsible for the stabbing and he would definitely file charges.

Poor Marchers Start Off On Right Foot: Keep Their Cool, Command Officials' Respect

Washington-NPI-The Poor People's marchers have started their campaign off on the right foot by maintaining a nonviolent dignity that is commanding government officials' respect.

Moving into "Resurrection City, U. S. A.," a shanty-town near the capitol building and the White House, the demonstrators are seeking Congressional introduction and approval of such anti-poverty legislation as a guaranteed annual wage or a "negative income tax" paid to the poor.

And so far, the marchers have won over several government officials to their cause by keeping their cool and demonstrating the respectability of their campaign.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey was one of those touring the marchers' encampment and giving them his endorsement. Sen. Charles Percy (R-Ill.), after visiting the city, urged his colleagues in Congress to heed their demands.

The fact that the marchers were camped near the capitol was in itself a victory. The demonstrators had thought the government would not allow them to set up their city in D. C.

Possibly in an effort to "kill them with kindness," federal officials authorized construction of the plywood city on the banks of the Potomac. As many as 3,000 souls are allowed to live at the camp site.

Then, top local and national leaders began pouring into "Resurrection City" from all over the country. Including Vice President Humphrey, there were such visitors as Mayors Walter E. Washington, Washington, D. C.; Ivan Allen Jr., Atlanta; and John Lindsay, New York.

The pleasantries exchanged between marchers and visiting dignitaries helped undercut one of the key features of the demonstration:

a confrontation between the poor and "the establishment."

Indeed, the officials seemed to be as much in favor of the poor people's demands as the poor, themselves. But what action might be taken was another story.

In any event, the marchers were hardly the bogeymen both they and their foes tried to picture them as being. Far from causing a public commotion, many - if not most - were content to erect their city and get to know one another.

For a lot of the marchers, it was a grand reunion of participants in the 1963 March on Washington, which was practically staged by the federal government itself.

And the 1968 March - while not staged by Uncle Sam - is being conducted similarly, with more blessings from the federal government than some demonstrators would have liked.

For the time being, at least, the marchers are not concerned with confronting the government or pressing demands.

Their immediate attention is turned to such problems as making food arrangements, having telephone lines installed, being sure the sewerage system is in good working order, and arranging for transportation.

Providing medical services for those who have become sick or fatigued during the demonstrations is a big project in itself.

SCLC officials estimate that the total cost of conducting the march is $1 million.

And thus, in confronting the nation's "establishment," the marchers first had to set up their own "establishment." With equipment and facilities to watch our for, persons of all ages to feed, and the federal government breathing down their backs, the marchers are not likely to commit indiscriminate acts of violence and pilage - as they too are vulnerable.

Rather, they seemed bent on conducting a dignified demonstration of their demands that this nation take concrete action to

They sent the troublemakers home. They are keeping their cool. That way they are advancing their own cause - rather than giving their enemies justifiable grounds to attack them.

"REGRETFUL"

Detroit-NPI-Mayor Jerome P. Cavanaugh has told Poor People's marchers that he is "deeply regretful" for the clash between them and police. It was not immediately clear whether the mayor was apologizing or merely saying that it was unfortunate the incident happened. He was referring to 10 mounted policemen's charge into a crowd of demonstrators, after several marchers refused to allow police to tow away a stalled car. About 26 marchers were injured - five requiring hospitalization - as a result.

"COOL" POWER

Miami-NPI-Support for "non-violent poor power, black power and student power," as a part of a "great democratic movement of people who want to help decide their own fate," was proposed by Rabbi Arthur J. Lelyveld, Cleveland, before 500 delegates attending the opening session of the American Jewish Congress' national biennial convention. The rabbi declared, "We must welcome the rising voices of the poor who want to help decide the kind of assistance they need. . . and join our strength with those Negroes determined to lift themselves from the ghettos of deprivation and despair."

BANK SITE

Bridgetown, Barbados-NPI-The proposed Caribbean Development bank, composed of member countries in the Commonwealth Caribbean area, will be headquartered in Barbados, according to an agreement entered into by finance ministers of the Commonwealth and Caribbean governments, at a meeting in Antigua last month. The bank will be capitalized at $65 million, with 60 per cent of the initial authorized capital being allotted for subscription by the Caribbean countries and the remainder set aside for other members.

INTEGRATION

London-NPI-"Integrated casting" of actors and actresses may soon be the standard thing in the staging of West End plays, if the Society of West End Theatre managers approves. Equity, the actor's trade union, has proposed that actors and actresses be selected for parts in plays purely on the basis of their professional ability, and not on the color of their skin.

SENATOR BARBARA JORDAN ENDORSES DON YARBOROUGH

The Senate of The State of Texas Austin

Dear Citizen:

Don Yarbrough has been endorsed by all of the organizations which have given me their endorsement and support. These organizations include organized labor, the Harris County Democrats and the Harris County Council of Organizations. The concern of these groups has always been to have a State Government which is interested in the welfare of all citizens. We support candidates for public office with that concern in mind.

Don Yarbrough will make a fine Governor for Texas and I have supported him in each of his campaigns.

Your friend
Barbara Jordan

Elect DEMOCRAT DON YARBOROUGH Governor of Texas VOTE SATURDAY, JUNE 1

State Rep. Curtis Graves of Houston Says This About Don Yarbrough:

"Don Yarbrough is from my hometown of Houston and I know the kind of man he is and the things he believes in. I know that he would rather lose the election for governor than to compromise those beliefs and his programs to help every Texan. That is why I am voting for Don Yarbrough. I would like to call your attention to some of his programs. He is dedicated to obtaining a state minimum wage law of at least $1.25. More money for each of us means more buying power and he knows that decent wages benefit both the worker and the businessman. He will fight to lower the high cost of auto insurance and to stop the companies from canceling policies for little or no reason. Don Yarbrough will support improved old age benefits and new programs to utilize the talent and skill of our elderly citizens. Those are just a few of his many programs. But best of all, I know that he will deliver on his pledges. He will serve every Texan. Those are other reasons why I am voting for Don Yarbrough. I urge every Texan to do the same."

ANNUAL TEA

The Class of 1968 at Mary & Mac Private School had its Annual Tea last Sunday afternoon in the school auditorium. This is the largest class to graduate from this 14 year-old institution.

School Transfer Deadline Near

Only four days remain for filing applications with the county superintendent for transfer of pupils from one school district to another within Lubbock County.

Last day for filing the applications is June 3. Normally the deadline is June 1, but this year the time limit has been extended because of the Memorial Day holiday today, Thursday, and because June 1 and 2 fall respectively on Saturday and Sunday, when the courthouse normally is closed, according to Roy Boyd, county school superintendent.

Application for the transfers must be made before the deadline if state per capita funds are to be transferred with the pupil, Boyd explained.

The application must be made each year by a parent or guardian of the pupil to be transferred. Only transfers from one district to another are handled by the county school superintendent's office. The office does not handle transfers from one school to another within a district (as for example, from one school to another within the Lubbock, Slaton or Friendship Independent district.)

School districts from which the county superintendent's office handles transfers are: Cooper, Friendship, New Deal, Shallowater, Idalou, Roosevelt, Slaton and Lubbock.

PROBE SOUGHT

Memphis-NPI-The racial violence which cost the life of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., took on another aspect last week when the Tennessee Advisory committee, U. S. Civil Rights commission, suggested the Justice department investigate police brutality during the clashes. A two-day hearing into "a situation (that) exists in the city. . .requires a full investigation by appropriate federal, state and local authorities" conclusion was made. The hearing was devoted to that period between March 28-April 10.

Whites Found To Suffer From Most Of The Nation's Poverty; But Blacks Have Three Times Their Share

New York-NPI-Amid the concern about poverty generated by the Poor People's march has come the jolting revelation that most of the nation's poor aren't black, and most black people aren't poor. This conclusion is being advanced by a Time magazine study.

According to the report, two out of every three poor Americans are white.

This means that 33 per cent of the poor are black. And thus, Negroes have about three times their share of poverty, since they constitute about 11 per cent of the nation's population.

While this is particularly tragic in an affluent nation, it is a far cry from the often-repeated assertion that most black people are grinding in poverty, and that most poor people are black.

If anything, the study pictures the trend as being in the other direction.

Since 1964, the number of poor people in the country has decreased from 34 million to 29.9 million - a 12 per cent decline in four years. At this rate, American poverty would be obliterated - it would seem - in 32 years.

Another myth about poverty, dispelled by recent studies, is that most Negroes are poor, whereas the median income for the nation's black families is about $4,000 a year - well above the line below which poverty is said to exist.

In Chicago, for example, the average Negro family has about $5,000 a year income, says the study.

The percentage of Negro families quietly moving out of poverty is said to be constantly rising.

According to the survey, white people have an even larger percentage of the poor in rural areas than in cities.

"Of the 11 million rural poor, nearly nine million are white," says the study.

Sixty percent of the poor live in urban areas; nearly half are 21 or younger; and a third are 65 or older.

While poverty is not the hopeless phenomenon it used to be, millions of Americans continue to live in squalor and hunger.

Some 280 of the nation's 3,100 counties are critical hunger areas. Most are in the Deep South.

In many of these counties, infant death rates are high and close to half of the people are below the poverty line.

"That poverty breeds poverty can scarcely be denied," the Time article says. "According to one recent study, 71 per cent of all poor families have four or more children - versus 1.35 offsprings for the nation at large - and though two-thirds of all poor mothers are married and living with their husbands, half of the husbands do not hold regular jobs."

Parent-Teacher Teamwork Needed To Control Youth Crime, Says Woman Judge

Philadelphia-NPI-Parents and teachers must work together to hold down juvenile delinquency, according to County Court Judge Juanita Kidd Stout.

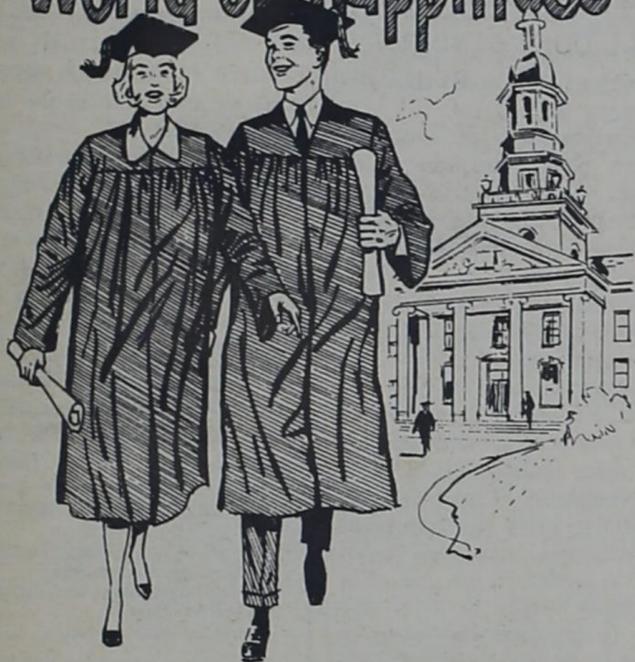

She held that discipline in the classroom and truancy from school can be easily overcome by cooperation between the home and the school.

Juvenile delinquency will increase in the city unless a stronger family life and discipline in the schools are developed, the judge said.

"Too many restrictions," she said, have been placed on teachers who must face students' profanity and assaults. Teacher discipline is needed to "end the disruptive influence of a few children."

Jackson, Miss.-NPI-This city is in for a struggle over increased pay for sanitation workers, not long after Memphis was hit by similar turmoil.

Minimum wage payments for all sanitation workers and promotions based on merit are two of the key demands made by a coalition of concerned citizens determined to eliminate employment discrimination, both public and private, in the city.

In support of the demand for more and better jobs, the group has instituted a withholding-of-patronage campaign against the local outlet of Sears, Roebuck and Company.

The drive was begun after the company reportedly refused to change its discriminatory hiring practices.

The coalition program was placed before Mayor Allen C. Thompson and the city council at its regular meeting. Among demands made were:

-Reopening of all parks and swimming pools, closed since desegregation was ordered.

-Establishment of a bi-racial civilian police complain review board.

-Employment by the police and fire departments of at least 30 per cent Negroes.

-Initiation of an urban renewal program with Negro participation in the planning.

-Appointment of Negroes to all public commissions and boards.

-Creation of a multi-racial human rights commission.

-Availability of funds for summer employment of dropouts and the hard-core unemployed.

-Use by the mayor and other municipal officials of their influence to persuade all downtown stores to employ Negro sales personnel.

HOW TO DEVELOP A GREEN THUMB

New York (NAPS)— Whether you're mini-planting a window box or farming the biggest garden since Eden, green-thumb tactics will help you win the crab-grass confrontation and the war of the roses.

The field manual of do's and don'ts covers the ground from lawn layout to seed spacing...from fertilizer formula to pruning precedence.

Take this study-in-depth: an inch of soil is plenty for topping off most seeds, and smaller ones need no more than a bare cover-up. Deeper burial will retard germination.

As for fertilizers, beware the shotgun approach! The element that produces splendor in the grass may cause bleeding-heartburn in your flowerbeds. Nitrogen, for instance, builds strong stems and leaves—but in excess, at the expense of fruit and flowers. However, if it's leaf you're after (as in lettuce, spinach or cabbage), you can be more open-handed with the nitrogen supply.

For most flowers and such vegetables as beans, aquash and tomaatoes, the best bet is a high-phosphorous formula.

The amount of fertilizer a garden needs depends on the soil composition. Most state colleges are equipped for soil analysis, but there is one basis rule-of-thumb: too much fertilizer can kill plants by dehydrating the rootlets. In general, 4 pounds of a commercial mix per 100 square feet will do for daffodils, tulips, hyacinths and similar bulbous plants. For lawns, the amount per 1,000 square feet from 40 to 80 pounds, depending on the fertility.

The tricks of transplanting start with the lesson that it's impossible to dig up a tree or shrub without some root injury. The secret is to trench around the plant far enough out to keep down the damage. The size of the magic circle varies, but for deciduous plants the minimum radius is equal to the widest-spreading branch. Evergreens can usually be worked closer to the stem and levered out with the root-encasing ball of earth intact. If the protective soil tends to fall away from the roots, it can be bundled in place with burlap.

While you're pampering your plants, don't neglect the man with the hoe—yourself. There are no Purple Heart awards for garden gallantry. Old hands know, for instance, that the right kind of gloves are sure-fire armor against a battle-scarred green thumb. Experts at Edmont-Wilson, a leading glove manufacturer, point out that the gardening gauntlet you pick up depends on the challenge. A vinyl-impregnated, dirt-repellant cotton glove that launders without shrinking is the hands-down all-purpose favorite. But for liquid-fertilizer handling and other extra-grubby chores, something like the throw-away priced Ambi disposable is in order.

For vanity's sake, you can even combine the functional with the fashionable. Gloves this season are as smart as Courreges and as "in" as Carnaby Street. Take Edmont-

FOLLOW-UP PROBE

Orangeburg, S. C.-NPI-A follow up investigation into the slaying last February of three South Carolina State college students has been launched by the U. S. Justice Department. Two separate teams, composed of three lawyers from the department's Civil Rights Division; and three FBI agents are conducting the probe. The students were slain and more than 30 others injured by state police fire during the fourth night of racial conflict begun with attempts to integrate the town's only bowling alley.

Wilson's Fancy Palnts model for women with the gay floral print or the other stylings that bear that hallmark of the 24-carat gardener: the green thumb. They may not help you to grow begonias on a billiard ball, but they're great conversation pieces.

Next to the hands, the head is probably the summer gardener's most vulnerable spot. Skin specialists warn that it's wise to take the early-season sun in small doses until your protective tan blooms. Until then, and even afterwards, a suntan lotion and a broad-brimmed hat are standard armor against over-exposure. And during the July and August dog days, stay out of the noon-day sun altogether.

One of the main rewards of all this planting, puttering and personal protection is, of course, the harvest. Here, timing is important. Cut flowers keep longer when snipped just as they're coming into bloom. For maximum flavor, such vegetables as the tomato and such fruits as apples, pears and peaches should be picked a little on the green side and allowed to ripen off the branch.

Corn is trickier. Because the natural sugar changes quickly to starch once the ear is picked, the elapsed time from stalk to pot should be short-ideally, no more than half an hour!
