Dedicated to Informing the Negro Citizens of West Texas

Block Organization Underway in City

Last Friday evening, January 10th, the first in a series of block meetings was held at the Multi-Service Center, located at East 24th and Weber Avenue, with Mrs. Murry Peppers, director, serving as mistress of ceremonies.

Present at the meeting were residents who reside within the boundary of East 20th Street, East 23rd Street, Date Avenue and Ash Avenue.

At this meeting, as will be the procedure in all block meetings, the block concept was explained in depth by T. J. Patterson, assistant director of Community Action Board and editor of West Texas Times.

Mrs. C. H. Davis was chosen temporary chairman of this group while George Woods was chosen as temporary vice-chairman by those residents present.

An organizational meeting will be held for this group Friday night, January 17th, at 8:00 p.m. at Ella Iles School. All residents are asked to be present to further the organization of their block.

Another Meeting Friday

Another meeting on tap for Friday night, January 17th, at 8:00 p.m., is for residents who live within the area of Ash Avenue on the West; from the West side of Date Avenue on the East; East 23rd St. on the North; and Coronado Drive on the South.

The purpose of these meetings is to bring this neighborhood together and close the communication gap which exists at the present time.

Amarillo Couple Invited To Washington Inauguration

Mr. and Mrs. Charley Wilson, of 1101 N. W. 21st Street, Amarillo, Texas were invited to attend and participate in the inauguration of President-elect Richard Nixon in Washington, D. C. next week.

Mr. Wilson is employed here by the Santa Fe Railroad and has been active in the Republican party for many years. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson are both active members of both the local as well as the state chapter of the N.A.A.C.P.

The Wilsons are members of Johnson Chapel A.M.E. Church. If all is well, the Wilsons plan to leave Amarillo next week via plane for Washington.

Spring Classes Began Registration this week at Mae Simmons Center

Mae Simmons Community Center began registration for spring classes last Monday, January 13, 1969. Classes will begin Monday, January 20th.

The classes offered this spring term for youngsters are as follows: Pre-school, Tap & Ballet, Instructions for Baby Sitting, Modern Jazz Dance, Girls Drill Team, Arts and Crafts, Judo, and Baton. Adult classes are: Knitting, Body Conditioning, Judo, Charm Course, and Golden Age Club.

Community Centers are sponsored and operated by the City Parks and Recreation Department, therefore, no fees are charged for and instructions.

Concerned Citizens Meet With Lubbock School Board Members Monday Evening

Approximately twenty members of the Concerned Citizens of Lubbock met with the members of the Lubbock Independent School Board Monday night at the administration office.

T. J. Patterson, who acted as spokesman for the group, read a four point recommendation consisting of the following:

(1) Raising of minimum wages for established positions to provide a living wage and to compete with other large employers.

(2) Establishment of suitable on-the-job training positions in every department, and possible conversion of some established positions, at appropriately lower pay scales, for persons who are otherwise "not qualified" for established positions.

(3) Use of the Negro and Mexican-American press and of the Multi-Service Centers and Neighborhood Centers as clearing houses for information on job openings and applicants.

(4) Establishment of teacher aide positions to employ residents of the poorer neighborhoods at the sub-professional level, particularly in the problem schools of their neighborhoods where pupil-teacher ratios need to be much smaller.

Dr. James Reynolds, school board president, admitted that this group (the Concerned Citizens of Lubbock) was the least obnoxious group which had presented proposals to the board. He admitted, along with other board members present, that consideration would be given to the well prepared recommendation.

School Board members received a copy of the recommendation several weeks before the group appeared before the board.

1968 Debutantes Honored with Brunch

Misses Alberta Lincoln and Georgia McCowan were honorees at a Brunch in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Lincoln, 1829 Manhattan Drive, with Mrs. Modena Porter and Rose Lincoln as hostesses. They enjoyed a very good meal.

Gifts of gold charms engraved, "Deb '68" were presented to the honorees Alberta and Georgia. Pink carnations were presented each Deb and honorees, which was the highlight of the Brunch. Each Deb expressed a cherished delight of having been a part of the sharing of moments in their life of "once in a lifetime."

Other Debs present were Donna Jones, Linda Lusk, Kathryn Ross, Florence Mayse, Linda Wheeler, Linda Williams, Celestine Johnson, Joan Newton, Robertha Johnson and Sandra Morgan.

The Brunch was planned as a part of the many activities sponsored by families and friends of the Debs who were presented by Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority recently.

EDITORIAL

Progress - But Not Enough

The editor and staff of the West Texas Times and its thousands of readers wish to take this opportunity to express our gratitude to those business firms who have shown that they appreciate the trade and purchasing power of the Black community by advertising in this media. It has been most gratifying to find that many companies are setting aside a specific sum in their 1969 budget for advertising to the Negro citizens of West Texas. We cannot too strongly urge that our readers support those merchants who show that they do want and do appreciate our business. It's true, we can't tell you how to spend your hard earned money, but we should observe the age-old rule of "you scratch my back and I'll scratch yours!"

The Negro citizens of West Texas comprise better than 10% of the population. Our daily needs are precisely the same as that of any other human being. We buy meat, bread, groceries, milk and dairy products; cosmetics and jewelry; clothing, furniture, house furnishings; homes and cars. We bank; secure loans through financial institutions; pay hospital bills and funeral expenses; use public and private transportation; go to theatres, dances, ball games, horse races, wrestling matches, etc. In short, our needs are precisely the same as that of any other human being.

However, there are still far too many business establishments who see no necessity for advertising to the Black community. They feel that we will buy their merchandise whether they support the Black newspaper or not. They like our $$$ but they don't like us. It would appear that with the break-through in America of minority groups appearing in all forms of national advertising, that West Texas merchants would get the message, but many have not.

There is still much prejudice in this area. Some of us see it but many who do, still refuse to act. It's time we become concerned about the shortcomings which exist here. As citizens of West Texas, we must be aware of the intangibles as well as the tangibles. We must read between the lines. We must read the fine print. Then we can determine that these facts in truth do exist.

This newspaper is your newspaper. It is dedicated to informing the Black community of what is going on in our area. We fear nor favor none. Continue to read the West Texas Times with understanding, then you be the judge of which business establishments really care about you. Support those who support you. This is your weekly media. You must be concerned about its future!

The Jury System Still Works

County Attorney Tom Purdom blasted a jury last Thursday for acquitting a man arrested by Officer Jack Kelly on charges of driving while intoxicated. Purdom stated, "If the people . . . Don't want me to prosecute, I have no choice." We fail to see any relevancy either in the attack upon the jury, or his opinion of what the people want. Andrew Davis, a 61-year-old Negro, of 1811 East 25th Street, was tried in County Court at Law No. 2 before a six-panel jury. Johnny Vineland, an Idalou insurance salesman and foreman of the jury, stated, "The panel as a whole felt there wasn't quite enough evidence presented at the time to convict the man."

If it is to be a foregone conclusion that a man is guilty because he has been arrested, then for what reason should the public pay the cost of a trial, and good citizens sacrifice time and earnings to sit on a jury? When a man is arrested, it is the function of the prosecutor's office to determine if the evidence is sufficient to bind him over for trial. It then becomes the responsibility of the prosecutor to present this evidence to the complete satisfaction of the jury as to that man's guilt. The burden rests on the prosecution. Failure to accomplish this without a shadow of a doubt, it should then become the judge's responsibility to instruct the jury to find the defendant innocent.

To presume, as the County Attorney evidently did, that the testimony of one man, the arresting officer, should be believed, and the testimony of the defendant, an ordinary citizen of the community, should be disbelieved, is neither reasonable nor democratic. While we heartily agree that most police officers are honest, conscientious, upright, and grossly underpaid for the service they render the community, they are still recruited from the ranks of the human race and subject to human frailties.

Everyone is subject to error. No one, but no one is infallible. Not even those who enforce our laws. Our democratic society has provided courts of law and a jury system where the facts can be presented and a man is presumed innocent until proven guilty.

It would seem that in every city it is expected that there should be a certain percentage of arrests for different types of offenses. Officers, feeling this pressure, occasionally become over-zealous. However, this is not the issue in this instance. The issue is, the burden of proof of guilt lies with the prosecution. Failure to prove this guilt is not the fault of the honest citizens on the jury panel who weigh the evidence. Either there was not sufficient evidence to bring Mr. Davis to trial, or the prosecution failed to properly present the case. In either event, it is ridiculous to assume that because a man has been subject to arrest that he should automatically be found guilty by a jury of his peers. This assumption is neither reasonable nor democratic, and puts the lie to the basic principles upon which this great country was founded.

Miniskirts

Miniskirts seem to evoke very definite reactions among people throughout the world. For instance, after two mini-skirted girls caused a two-hour traffic jam in the center of Cairo, a law was passed outlawing such attire as "indecent behavior." In Rio de Janeiro, on the other hand, the rights of labor were clearly upheld when a labor court decided that miniskirts in no way prejudiced safety at work. Perhaps the most unusual reaction comes from Swaziland, where miniskirts are frowned upon as immoral, but it's perfectly okay to go topless.

School Daze

Frustration affects kids as well as grown-ups. To prove it, eighth-grade pupils in Buffalo, N. Y. wrote their own paperback, Miseries United, which is selling like the proverbial hotcakes in the neighborhood of P. S. 52.

"School," said one student, "is being told to keep your love life out of school, and you don't even have a love life."

"School," added a second, "is dropping all your books in the hall when you have a miniskirt on."

"School," wrote a third, "is having all the right answers but one, the one you're asked."

The only upbeat note in the book was, "School is fun at 3:20." That's when school lets out.

Around The Hub City

This reporter had an opportunity of spending several hours with Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Lewis last week and it was rather interesting to hear some of the suggestions that this young couple had to offer our community.

"Around the Hub City" feels as though more young people should become concerned with the local situation either by participating in constructive activities or by setting better examples for other young people to follow.

"Around the Hub City" hopes that the suggestions mentioned in our Sunday evening conversation will be put into action by these two young people. How about that Annie and O. C.? This is your community and you have something to contribute.

The monthly meeting of the Ecumenical Council on Social Concerns met last Tuesday evening, January 14, at 7:30 p.m. at Bethel A.M.E. Church, 2202 Railroad Avenue.

The Concerned Citizens of Lubbock will meet Monday afternoon at 12:15 p.m. at Mae Simmons Community Center. The public is cordially invited to attend this monthly meeting of citizens which meets each third Monday of every month.

Mrs. Sherna Davenport is still a patient at Methodist Hospital. Also on the sick list is Mrs. Saul Williams and Mr. Lee Andrew Johnson, who are both sick in their homes.

Among the residents of Amarillo who visited in Lubbock last Sunday afternoon were Mesdames Alva T. Franklin, Mae Wilson, Mary L. Fields, Rose Deveraux, Ina Mae, Ada Austin and Reverend and Mrs. E. D. Simpsons.

They visited briefly with Roscoe Taylor who is on the sick list.

*****

Reverend and Mrs. Bob Tieucl of Hobbs, New Mexico were week-end guests with the E. C. Struggs family.

*****

Mrs. Katie Snell received a message that her sister, Mrs. Isabell Walker, passed away last Saturday in a hospital at Los Angeles. She had been ill for sometime.

Besides the sister here, other survivors included two daughters, several nieces, nephews and many other relatives. Final rites and burial will be in Los Angeles.

Mrs. Snell and her daughter, Mrs. Joan Ervin, will attend the services. They will travel via plane.

*****

"Around the Hub City" would like to make a correction in regard to the editorial last week which was entitled; "Congratulations Debs". The name mentioned as president should have read Mrs. Jean Johnson instead of Mrs. Majorie Thomas.

*****

"Around the Hub City" would suggest that you register now for spring classes at your nearby community center, Hodges, Rodgers, Maxey or Mae Simmons.

The community centers offer free instructions in the following classes; Tap & Ballet, Charm, Knitting, Piano, Judo, Modern Jazz Dance, Drill Team, Baton, Baby Sitting, Arts & Crafts, Pre-School, Rhythmics, Body Conditioning, Bridge, Clown Club, Folk Dancing, Guitar, Special Education, Square Dancing & Ballroom Dancing.

Seems like it would be a good idea for the citizens of East Lubbock to start the new year by making their community center a "family affair".

Does someone in your family have a birthday coming up? You can save yourself the fuss—call your community center and let them do the work, ask about their birthday party service.

If you are a senior citizen your nearby community center has a very special program just for you. Call your center, Mae Simmons, and become a member of the Golden Age Club.

By the way, if you or any member of your family is interested in participating in a class that is not offered at your center, just contact the center and offer your suggestions.

THE POLICE BEAT

by: T. J. Patterson

A Call from A Concerned Citizen
From time to time, this column receives calls from concerned citizens who deem it necessary to inform the "Police Beat" of some sort of shortcoming of our young people.

This concerned individual informed this reporter that some of our young ladies are not being lady-like. By this, the party made it clear that some of the activities of our young people, as seen by residents of other communities outside of the city of Lubbock, could have resulted in violence.

This reporter is not concerned with who the violators are, or what activity you belong to, but this reporter would like to inform you that the night has a thousand eyes and it is hard to fool all of the people all of the time. Be extremely careful in what-ever activities you become involved in, and be concerned about doing things constructively, regardless of where you are.

However, I'll have to admit, you are young, and you have the right to enjoy extra-curricular activity, if it is in the right light, but this doesn't mean that you can go overboard with your actions. Be careful.

Parents, you too, should become involved with the activities of your young ladies. It would probably be a good idea to keep an eye on them and correct them when it is necessary.

House Burglary

Berta Mae Welch, 1317 East Main Place, reported to the Lubbock Police Department that someone entered her residence one night last week.

She said that the front door had been left unlocked by herself. She discovered that missing from the house was an overcoat and two pair of dress pants.

It was learned that there was no sign of forced entry. We can understand why there was no forced entry, you see Bertha, you left the front door unlocked and it was easy for anyone to walk right in and walk away with everything. How about checking that shortcoming, unlocked doors, immediately?

Till Tappin

Now this does settle it. It's even hard to realize that we have young people within our city who would even attempt this game.

It goes like this, Robert Travenia, of 2913 Teak Avenue, who is owner of Travenia Shell Service Station at 1208 Avenue A, reported to patrolmen that two juveniles (and I do mean juveniles) hit his cash register for $10.00 while he was outside waiting on a customer. These young fellows were between the ages of 8 and 10. Doesn't that seem awfully early in life to start a police record?

Travenia told officers that when he came back into the station, the two young till tappers broke and ran to an unknown destination.

What are we going to do about this? These young people didn't just think this game up, they've probably seen it happen before! Remember this, some mother out there reading this column, that money your youngster came up with that was unexplained could have been part of this escapade, and your keeping quiet could well start him on the road to prison in the future!

*****

House Burglary

Mrs. L. H. Griffin, 2806 Vanda

Avenue, reported to the Lubbock Police Department that a man was hiding in her bedroom closet. She said that she chased the subject out of the house and down the alley for about a half block, where she lost sight of him.

According to authorities, entry was gained by pulling a screen off of the bedroom window. This type of action should begin to irritate the citizens of our community. It's time that some firm action be taken toward these incidents.

Burglary

Ben R. Renfro, 2419 East Broadway, reported that someone broke into his house and took $200.00 worth of merchandise. Entry was gained by the rear door which was unlocked.

Another house burglary, at the home of Opal Thomas Robinson, 1512 East 15th Street, where several hundred dollars worth of merchandise was taken. This merchandise included several televisions and jewelry.

Police Beat Prayer

O'Lord, direct our attention to our young people in order that we will be able to communicate the Christian concept of life to them. We realize that this cannot be done, Father, without Your help.

Amen.

Samuel resides at 2631 East Baylor here in Lubbock, with his wife and two children, Renee and Sylvia. He is a former student at Dunbar High School and a graduate of Tuscon High School in Tuscon, Arizona.

The Stevensons are members of Christ Temple Church of God in Christ. He is the son of Mrs. Essie Mae Stevenson of 2610 Weber Drive.

Along with his new job, Samuel finds time to participate in the American Bowlers Congress. He also bowls a good 160 from time to time and is a member of the Mustang League.

In questioning Samuel as to why he chose life insurance as a profession he said, "I chose this livelihood because young men need to get the word over to the public how important it is for us to include security in our lives. I've always been impressed with Atlanta Life Insurance Company since I was a kid and have been a policy holder for years."

Austin, Texas one week in advance of the Inauguration is already bedecked with colorful decorations and hundreds of flags. The opinion in the state capitol is that Governor-Elect Preston Smith will have the most colorful inauguration celebration since the days of Pappy O'Daniel.

The big city newspapers are already filling their editorial columns with reasons why Legislators from the rural areas should take another look at the school tax structure. Both Dallas and Fort Worth are claiming they are losing millions of dollars in state aid because of inequities in valuations. The concensus among the Legislators indicates that education will rank next to taxes in matters of importance.

Already it is being predicted that the 61st session will not be able to finish it's task by June. A special summer session is already being anticipated. This will give impetus to the movement to have annual sessions for the State Lawmakers.
