'Around the Hub City'

"AROUND THE HUB CITY" would like to remind you that it is almost time for School Board and City Elections. It will be up to you to decide who is qualified for each position. You know, it would do you no good if you didn't go to the polls and vote come April 6th and again April 16th.

In the City Election, there are a dozen people seeking only four positions, consisting of a Mayor and three City Councilmen. For your information, it would be wise to study each candidate and see who could play the role of good representative.

Dr. Heenan Johnson, local Dentist, is seeking place 4 of the Lubbock Independent School Board, and thus becomes the first person of our community to make this step in school board politics.

It has been learned that the supporters of Dr. Heenan Johnson, a candidate for Place 4 of Lubbock School Board, are sponsoring a "Tea" for him during the first week in April.

Doris Drake hit it lucky last Friday night when she was a winner in a contest at Caprock Lodge number 1340. According to sources, she walked away with a prize worth $400. How about that Doris, winning like that?

The Knights of Pythian and Courts of Calanthe-Running Rose and Evening Joy-are making big plans for their annual Thanksgiving Affair to be held at New Hope Baptist Church, Sunday, March 31st, at 3:00 p.m.

This annual fete will get underway as usual with a big parade beginning at the Carver Heights Day Nursery and climaxed at New Hope.

The public is cordially invited to take part in this annual affair.

"AROUND THE HUB CITY" has yet to hear what the members of the Men's Civic Club (at one time called the Men's Civic and Social Club) is doing. It has been learned that they are meeting. This is good, but what are they doing? The same holds true for the Ebony Club. What are they up to these days?

George Scott, one of fourteen educators, left for the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md., Monday. The group also made a brief tour of Washington, D. C. as guests of Rep. George H. Mahon. The group will return home today.

The purpose of the visit was to acquaint the educators with the opportunity of a Naval Academy education and the fact that this opportunity is available to all qualified high school graduates.

The third Lubbock Chamber of Commerce Breakfast will be held this morning, Thursday, March 21, at 7:00 a.m. at the KOKO Palace.

This program is sponsored by the Lubbock Board of Realtors. The Lubbock Chamber of Commerce is the originator of this type of affair.

According to Joe Kelly, director of the Community Action Board, ten applicants applied for the new position of director of the second Multi-Service Center

For Your Information

For your information, a total of 550,000 Negro citizens of Texas have been registered to vote in the 1968 elections, according to W. C. Patton, NAACP associate director of voter education, who directed a massive two month drive ending January 31.

Involved as volunteers in the state-wide campaign were some 2,000 door-to-door canvassers working through the 57 branches-including Lubbock-of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People in the state. They had the support of clergymen throughout the state who rallied the members of their respective churches and proclaimed a special Voter Registration Emphasis Sunday.

The volunteers visited homes, distributed literature, instructed citizens in registration procedures and provided transportation and babysitters.

Here in Lubbock, the local branch-under the direction of Rev. M. T. Reed, minister of the Mount Vernon Methodist Church, executed a march which enabled the residents to become aware of the state move.

Registration centers, each with a director, were established by the NAACP in Amarillo, Austin, Beaumont, Corpus Christi, Dallas, Fort Worth, Houston, Longview, Lubbock, San Antonio, Texarkana and Victoria.

LET'S GET TOGETHER

As election time draws near, both in the state primaries, and also in the city and school district, the time has come for the citizens of the Negro community of the city of Lubbock to wake up and decide if they are going to be represented this year or if they are going to continue to let only a small group of people tell them (the citizens) and the candidates what they might or might not want.

Now is the time gentle reader, if there every was a time, when every citizen of our community must make up his mind in what idirection he is going to throw his political influence. Now is the time for the individual voter to make up his mind whether he is going to continue to let only certain people in this community make up their minds for them as to who they will support at the polls.

For years now, people have accused only a small element of our community of ebing capable of taking "hand outs" in return for votes at the polls and certain political influence. These practices have become so flagrant in recent years that a political organizer in Austin has been known to comment that any Negro leader in the city of Lubbock could be bought for $200.00. Local observers on the scene corrected this individual right quick, saying that his $200.00 figure was probably high.

Now let's be fair, everyone wants something. Whether it be a person wishing a monetary handout or a person who really wishes to help correct the situation for the whole of the community. But be sure, the fellow who is looking to help the community is going to be a lot harder to find than the fellow who has his hand stuck out, looking to line his own pockets rather than help the community any more than increase his own position and income.

For these many reasons we here at the Times are seeking at the present time, and over the next few weeks to help our community by doing all we can to bring the entire community together into one consolidated voting group. In this manner, and incidently with 6,500 votes, we feel that anyone who wishes to come to our community and seek the Negro vote, must understand that any promises, political or otherwise that are made, MUST BE KEPT, if the Negro community votes for any particular office seeker. Otherwise, the Times will let every reader they have know when any politician does not hold up his end of responsibility.

With all the recent work done in connection to voter registration, we here feel that the Negro citizen has come of age. We feel that the Negro citizen is now entitled to representation, and we KNOW that the Negro citizen, iwth 6,500 votes, carries a gib stick in connectoin to many office seekers wanting their support. Now is the time for the Negro voter to get together and vote in such a manner that his and her vote will amount to something. Don't be fooled into believing that any small group of Negro voters, anywhere from 75 to 300 can gain any recognition unless they do so by banding together with the rest of the Negro community. This is the only way that any group has ever been recognized in our democratic way of life, and this is the way our voting system works today.

The first meeting, organized by the Times will be held tonight, Thursday. Any interested persons are invited to attend this first meeting at Messiah Presbyterian Church, at 16th and Avenue B, at 7 30 p.m.

Rest assured readers of ours, we will let you know when the next meeting is, where it will be held, and who and why anyone doesn't want us to continue with this project.

HOW ABOUT THE REPUBLICANS? By Pat . . .

Yes, I am sure you have noticed the storm made by the Republicans thus far. If we look at the line-up of the GOP candidates for President of the United States and what each is doing. It is for certain that Berry Goldwater is not thinking about it, but there m y be a possibility of him making another bid for the senatorial race—but things might be hard for him.

On the other hand, there is Richard Nixon who told

HOLLYWOOD HAPPENINGS

by Walter Burrell

PAULA KELLY: STAR BOUND

Chances are you've never heard of Paula Kelly. That is, unless you happen to see either the Los Angeles, Las Vegas or London production of the hit play, "Sweet Charity."

But right now the 25 year-old actress-singer-dancer is at Universal Studios recreating that same role in the film version of "Sweet Charity," with Shirley MacLaine in the title role, and following release of the mult-million dollar movie next year Paula may well be one of the most sought after actresses in Hollywood.

Though Paula had toured as a dancer with Harry Belafonte and had appeared with Sammy Davis, Jr., she was admittedly stunned at the possibility of being in a movie—here—first with both star billing and a fat salary.

"I was scared to death," admits Paula, "but at these me time I wanted it so badly. I immediately began thinking of many differences between stage and movie production. With a camera right in my face, my movements would have to be more subtle; stage techniques would have to be left behind and that would be hard."

"So many things kept whizzing through my mind, yet I never doubted once that I could do it. I felt this was going to be the greatest thing to happen to me yet . . ."

Indeed, Paula has come a long way since the day she was born in Jacksonville, Florida, one of three daughters of Ruth and Lehann Kelly. Of the three girls, Paula is the only everyone that there was a strong possibility of him running and at the same time he was oiling his machine and getting everything in gear for the big nod. He is making tracks at present and some points is finding the going 'ruff'.

What about Gov. George Romney who started his campaign by visiting ghettos in the major cities across the Nation. We feel that his visitation did not teach him anything because one cannot learn very much about the problems of black people by driving through a black community. For the Governors information, WE would strongly have recommended that he drive from the Capitol down to Detroit and live with these people for a while. We are sure he felt the mood of deprivation before he backed out of the Race.

Let's not forget Nelson Rockefeller, who could give the Democrats a run for their money. "Rockey" is saying nothing and we feel that the Goldwater element, still in control of the Party, would not permit him to do anything but be the leader of his large New York delegation. As you know, Governor Rockefeller made it clear that he would run if he was nominated at the Republican Convention. At present, he has not burnt his "draft card". Chances are, this just well be.

Oh, by the way, there is an actor among the GOP. This being Ronald Reagan. Now "Ronnie" did a splendid job on G'E' Theatre years ago, and is having his image built by a Hollywood crew which would make Cecil B' DeMille look like an amateur. He received an hour of prime TV time which made him look like the saviour of the Western World. Actually, it wouldn't surprise US if he didn't land the second spot on the ticket because of tie Godlwater element. We are, also, predicting that the Republican Party will go with Nixon-Reagan, which WE feel will not be as strong as Rockefeller-Reagan.

FARMING THROUGH THE AGES

While farming began when primitive man settled down in fertile valleys, major advances didn't occur until about 5000 B.C. when Egyptians, with their knowledge of irrigation, developed the Nile Valley.

Ancient Egyptians kept horses, asses, cattle, sheep, goats and poultry—and grew such crops as wheat, barley, legumes and grapes. The crude stick plows they used saw little improvement in the following 6,700 years!

A typical Roman farm of about 200 B.C. was small and diversified. The farmer supported himself and supervised everything personally. Later, came large plantations worked by slaves, then the era of serfdom.

On the Medieval manor, oxen or horses pulled the plows. Sowing was broadcast, as row cultivation wasn't yet known. Weeds were controlled by letting land lie fallow every 3rd year. Grain was cut with a sickle and threshed with a flail or trodden out by animals. Hay was cut and stacked for winter feed.

A common sight during the Middle Ages was a farmer thatching his roof with straw. But today's farmer applies a different kind of roofing or siding to his buildings. Temper Rib, made from a specially tempered aluminum alloy by Alcoa, is strong enough to resist bending under maximum loads. Yet, the tough, corrosion-resistant panels, available in three-foot widths and lengths up to 30 feet, are so lightweight they can be handled by one man.

Modern farming began in England between 1700 and 1850. Jethro Hull published his theories on row cultivation in 1731, and advances in livestock breeding were developed by men like Robert Blakewell and the Duke of Bedford. These improvements also made possible the growth of American agriculture. With today's modern equipment and methods, it's not too surprising that from 1900-1960, net farm production in the U.S. has more than doubled.

AMONG THE STARS

with LEE IVORY

Lovely Sonya Davis, the new singing sensation from Chicago, is now known as a "recording artist" and great things have already begun to happen to her.

She's the girl who signed with Tel-Fi Sound Studios and will be a featured artist on the Orr label, a subsidiary of Tel-Fi.

In keeping with the ton of advance publicity on her first record, Miss Davis recorded the Rudy Stevenson tune, "I'm Gonna Leave You," and an original song written by Jim Porter, president of Tel-Fi.

"I'm Gonna Leave You," which was written in 5/4 time is reminiscent of the Dave Brubeck tune, "Take Five" in that there are five beats to every measure as opposed to the customary four. And the tune has a very definite jazz flavor to it.

But the message, if there really is one, is all "soul", as it were. Stevenson, who formerly played guitar and fluet h Nina Simone, will probably not recognize the tune since another verse has been added by this writer...but we had to do it for proper timing. Hope Rudy will give me some of the writer's royalties!

Porter's song, "Misleading," is a sorrowful tale which borders on the blues and strings have been added to Miss Davis' lament. It shows promise of being a big record for her.

In the meantime, plans are being made for her to spend some time in Cleveland on a promotion tour which will probably find her working the "Ken Hawkins Show" and "Upbeat," both teen dance party television programs.

She has already been set for an appearance later this month on the Art Roberts' "Swinging Majority" television show, and feelers have been sent to Mike Douglas, Woody Woodbury, Johnny Carson and Joey Bishop.

After seven successful months at the Pumpkin Room in Chicago, Miss Davis is currently the featured attraction at Alfie's, a plush niteclub in Milwaukee, Wis.

"This is one of the first places I started singing," said sultry Sonya, "and it's kinda great to be back home again." Miss Davis will be at Alfie's for an indefinite period, according to clubowner John Volpe.

Sharing the entertainment spotlight with Sonya Davis is the very fresh and dynamic Mantee Ellis Trio, featuring Mantee on guitar, Frank Luther, bass, and Vic Soward, drums.

The young lady sings soulfully and is going to be making noises like a full-fledged star before the end of this year. Check her out!

one who thought a show business career.

A teacher who admired Paula's voice in the school choir arranged for an audition at New York's Music and Art High School, after her family moved to New York.

She managed a four year scholarship to Julliard, but during her second year Paula took a six months leave of absence to make her professional debut as a member of Harry Belafantes' touring company, graduating in '64.

The chance to do "Sweet Charity" in Las Vegas followed and she's been with it ever since.

"There May Be An Answer"

Perhaps some of you are wondering why this reporter is concerned about the welfare of our young people. Well, if you haven't learned yet, one day I was a young energetic person looking for something to do also. But, I was fortunate in the respect that I lived in a community where people were willing to help me.

The letter submitted last week by the Mom and Dad's Club should be a good omen in that there are some people in the Hub City who are concerned. I think, perhaps you'll agree with me, we have not communicated with our young people. This problem cannot merely be solved by giving the youth of the community a dance.

There are more than 35 organizations in our community, and with this as a nucleus we can get something started. The only way we can solve this problem, and perhaps not all the way at that, is by starting at home. The home is a great institution and the other two, church and school, can not survive without the cooperation of the home.

You know, it would be wonderful if the parents who read this article would think about the communication problem which exist among our young people and start doing something about it!

The schools and churches cannot do it by themselves. They need your cooperation. Some of us get mad because someone is trying to help our children. Why? Let's quit using the Parent-Teachers Association as "Boston Tea Parties" and start asking the teachers and administrators what we can do to help them. By starting at home, I am sure we will get to the root of these problems.

With this type of attitude, the crime among our young people, whether it be rape, burglary, or what-have-you, could be eased to a great degree. I am always open for suggestions or opinions in this matter. Why not drop me a few lines on how you feel about the communication problem between Parents and children.

Or better yet, we can go to our various organizations and start the ball rolling on what we can do to help our schools and churches.

We should be really proud of the Panther football and basketball teams for the job they have done in 3-AAA play this year. This reporter had an opportunity of working with most of these fellows in a recreation program last summer for nine weeks. No doubt about it, these young fellows possessed the talent of young gentlemen. And with the leadership given them by their coaches, they were able to go forward boldly proclaiming the talents each possessed.

Our hats are off to these young people. We are fortunate to have district champs in football and the number two basketball team in the state of Texas.

Fire Prevention Week Observed Here This Week

This week—through Saturday—has been officially proclaimed as Spring Fire Prevention Week in Lubbock.

The theme for the week is "Fire Safety in the Home".

Everette Abernathie, chairman of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce fire prevention, made it clear that all Lubbock residents should practice fire prevention throughout the entire year. He went on to point out that Lubbock has been one of the safest cities in the country in the prevention of fire disasters.

Projects for this week include distribution of "Fire Safety Home Check Lists" to all elementary school children to take home and go over with their parents. When the lists are returned, the schools and home rooms that show the best results will win awards from the fire prevention committee. A poster contest also will be held for children in elementary schools.

HONORS IN ORDER

It would appear as though the Panther Basketball team would be in line for some type of honor this year as did the football team. Perhaps not only for this team, but the track and baseball squads also.

Perhaps the Mom and Dad's Club could come up with some type of suggestion for honoring these young fellows.

ANYONE CAN CONTRIBUTE

James Skief, only 5'6", and Jerry Phillips, who has a handicap, should prove to anyone desiring to make a contribution to his or her school that it can be done.

Although Skief is the smallest fellow on the floor most of the time, he projects 150% effort each time, if that is possible. And that hustling Phillips does not let the eye handicap stop him. Both are a credit to the field of sportsmanship.

Less than two weeks remain for the registration of vehicles for 1968. Deadline for having the new license operated over public streets, roads and highways is midnight April 1, 1968.

Last Friday, the last three outside registration stations, those at Lubbock, Plains and Security Nation Banks, closed. This week, vehicles may be registered only at the county tax office in Lubbock or at the office of the deputy tax assessor collector in Slaton.

During this final week of registration, long lines are expected to gather at the tax office, and persons who have delayed going through the registration procedure may face extended waits in line before they can get the white-on-black 1968 license plates.

Owners registering vehicles should have with them the title certificates to their vehicles, the 1967 registration receipts and the 1968 registration fee, preferably in cash. However, the tax office will accept checks in the exact amount of the registration fee upon presentation of proper identification and approval by an authorized tax office official.

Registration fees, as revised by the last Legislature are: $5.30 for motorcycles, motoscooters and boat trailers; other passenger vehicles, up to 3,500 pounds, $12.50;

NATIONAL POISON PREVENTION WEEK OBSERVED

In 1962 National Poison Prevention Week was established by Public Law 87-319 "...to aid in encouraging the American people to learn of the dangers of accidental poisoning and to take such preventive measures as are warranted by the seriousness of the danger." The week of March 17th will mark the 7th annual observance of Poison Prevention Week.

In conjunction with National Poison Prevention Week, Methodist Hospital here in Lubbock, is announcing the recent addition of a Poison Control Center to its facilities. Naturally, Poison Prevention Week stresses the fact that "prevention" is the very best

"cure" for accidental poisonings. But just in case an accidental poisoning should occur, the Methodist Hospital Center is available to provide information to physicians concerning the toxicity of the product injected and suggested treatment procedures. In addition, the Center provides certain antidotes and equipment for the emergency treatment of accidental poisonings. These services are available to any physician requesting them.

It has been estimated that in the United States this year approximately 2,500 people will die due to accidental poisoning and that 500 of these will be children under five. Through the efforts of Poison Prevention Week and facilities such as those at Methodist, perhaps many of these tragic deaths may be prevented.

MEDICARE BENEFITS CHANGE APRIL 1

Starting April 1, 1968, all outpatient hospital services will be covered by the supplementary medical insurance part of Medicare, according to John G. Hutton, district manager of Lubbock, Texas.

Hutton says payment for diagnostic services received as a hospital outpatient after March 31, 1968, will not be made under Medicare's hospital insurance. In order to keep this benefit, Hutton advises everyone covered by Medicare to keep his medical insurance. Folks past 65 who never did sign up for medical insurance have until April 1, 1968 to do so during the current open enrollment period.

Hutton said those who wish to enroll in Medicare's medical insurance which will cost $4 a month beginning April 1, 1968, should contact the social security office now for an enrollment card unless they have already received one by mail.
