Dedicated to Informing the Negro Citizens of West Texas

'Around the Hub City'

"Around the Hub City", in looking throughout the community, is happy to be a part of a community where people are trying to help themselves. The Multi-Service Center, Len Chew as director, is doing a splendid job toward communicating with the city of Lubbock.

The part he plays with this facility is a most challenging one, for communication is a vital problem which can be alleviated if we as citizens become involved.

If you haven't had an opportunity of visiting this neighborhood facility, then do so now.

Aside from the routine work of a director, this young energetic man is able to find time to speak to various groups within our city. He has spoken over 160 times to various groups here. It is the hope that the messages he has delivered will serve as a catalyst for our city.

The program sponsored by the Knights of Pythian and Court of Calanthian, Evening Joy and Running Joy, was a splendid success last Sunday afternoon at New Hope Baptist Church.

Despite the windy weather, the parade was most inspirational to the people of the community. Thanks to Dunbar's fine band—everything went over big.

The communication meeting which has been conducted at the Mae Simmons Community Center this past week was a tremendous success. Instead of discussing nothing but problems, something specific was accomplished.

It is the hope of these good people that with meetings like this one, something good will erupt.

The next meeting of this special communication group will be April 22, 1968 at 12:15 p.m. If you would like to become a part of a progressive group, then bring your sack lunch and come meet with us.

Mrs. Ida R. Sedberry is a patient at Methodist Hospital. W. H. Stephens is home from Lubbock Osteopathic Hospital and is recuperating nicely. Mrs. Maybell Bolton is quite ill at her home, and Mrs. Cora Clayton is in the hospital.

Mrs. April Rose Anderson, 1832 Manhattan Drive, celebrated another birthday last Monday, April First. This is no April Fool—she is still a teenager.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY, Mrs. Anderson.

Mr. and Mrs. E.C. Struggs left Saturday evening via train for Wallace, Texas to attend funeral services for a life long friend of the family, Mrs. Julia A. Newsome.

The rites were held Sunday afternoon. The Struggs family returned home Monday morning.

"Around the Hub City" would like to caution you of this fact. Avoid that empty feeling in your savings account this way. Pay yourself first every payday. Just take what you want to squirrel away off the top before you begin to disburse your check for other things. Whatever the amount or percentage you decide on, stick to it. You might not get to millionari's row this way, but you'll certainly avoid the poor-house.

The Mount Gilead Baptist Church W.M.U. wishes to thank our many friends and visitors for their presence last Sunday night for our Fifth Sunday program.

The W.M.U. presented a drama, "The Royal Path of Life." The program seem to have helped

SATURDAY VOTE A MUST

As most readers of this newspaper know, over the past several weeks the publisher of the Times has tried to convince the Negro population that it is most necessary to get out and vote in all local elections. This effort has been toward getting the local registered Negro citizens to vote together in a block.

Now the time has come to begin to show local politicians that the Negro citizens of Lubbock can and will vote when the polls open. Next Saturday, April 6th, is election day in the area, in regard to the Lubbock Independent School Board election. It is most imperative that everyone running for any office in the city, county and state be shown that the 6,500 Negroes that are registered to vote in Lubbock can and will get out and vote. For this reason, the Times takes this opportunity to remind everyone who reads this newspaper that they must not forget to vote Saturday.

If, as it is the dream of this newspaper, politicians must be made to come to our area to find out how our readers feel and what their attitudes are, it is at the same time our (the newspaper's) responsibility to make everyone who is a registered voter get out and vote this Saturday, next Tuesday week and again the 4th of May. Only through a show of strength this coming Saturday and in the next elections to be held, can we hope to be able to convince everyone that Negro citizens of Lubbock have reached the point where they must be dealt with when they need considerations.

Unfortunately, for too long, the Negro vote of this city has been divided by many elements. Now the time has come when it must not only not be divided, but it must also be so strong that everyone who wishes to aspire to public office must realize that a strong Negro vote will make the difference between whether or not an office is within a person's grasp. This is what the Times is endeavoring to do with its idea. If we are to be successful, we must have the help and cooperation of the Negro voter. Go to the polls this Saturday and vote, then we can count numbers.

CITY MAN SHOTS AT LOCAL POLICEMAN

Curtis Fair, Jr., 35, was charged last Friday with assault with intent to murder in connection with a shooting at his apartment at 1618 Avenue C last Thursday night.

According to authorities, Detective Captain Wayne Love, Detective Sgt. Bill Besset and Detective Bob Tedder said they arrived at the residence about 9:30 p.m. with a warrant to search for marijuana.

The officers said the suspect fired three shots at a door, from the inside, before the detectives gained entry. No marijuana was found, although a commode had been flushed and a lavatory faucet was running, according to police. Two pistols were confiscated at the property.

Receives Citation From General Johnson

Mrs. Ethel L. Walker, of Spur, Texas, received sympathy in behalf of her son, Specialist Five Robert H. Walker, who died in combat in South Vietnam on March 4, 1968.

This letter came from Harold K. Johnson, General, United States Army Chief of Staff.

The letter made it known, "In Vietnam today brave Americans are defending the rights of man to choose their own destiny and to live in dignity and freedom. You can cherish the thought that for his sacrifice your son is forever noble."

All High School Teen Dance

Friday, April 5, from 8:00 - 11:00 p.m. Hodges Community Center will have an all high school teen dance. The fabulous "Traveling Salesmen" will be playing. School dress is required and admission will be 75¢.

South Plains Boys Club Observes Boy's Club Week

Members of the South Plains Branch of Boys Clubs, along with the other two boys clubs, is celebrating Boys' Club Week, April 1-7. Of the 751 other Boys' Clubs throughout America, activities during this week are for the benefit of all young boys.

Highlight of the week was Tuesday evening at 7:00 p.m. when the 11th annual Boys' Dinner was held. The dinner was held in the ABC Branch Club House, 2323 Avenue K.

Featured speaker for this program was Berl Huffman, freshman football coach of Texas Tech.

The South Plains Branch, located at 1801 East 24th Street, will hold its annual Little Sister Contest tonight, Thursday, at 7:00 p.m. Tomorrow evening club awards will be presented. Activities at the South Plains Branch will climax with a "Bring a Buddy Day" from 3:30 to 9:00 p.m. Friday. Maj. Neal E. Bird of the Marine Corps Reserve unit here will present a program concerning Vietnam.

Lubbock Clubs have 3,327 members and the national organization has some 750,000.

NEIGHBORHOOD HOUSE DIRECTOR IS NAMED

Patricia V. Murphy, 2414 5th Street, took over as director of the Neighborhood House, 2009 East 13th Street, Monday.

Neighborhood House is a joint venture of Lubbock's Community Action Board and the Lutheran Church. Its purpose is to be a community center offering a variety of services to residents of the area.

Miss Murphy, who was appointed by CAB, is a Tech senior student and has served as tutor-counselor in Upward Bound at Tech.

SPECIAL COMMUNITY UNITY MEETING SET TONIGHT

All members of the various social and civic organizations in East Lubbock are urged to attend a special called meeting tonight, Thursday, April 4th, at the Caprock Elks Lodge, 602 17th Street, at 8:00 p.m.

For further information concerning this meeting, everyone is urged to contact Mr. Charles E. Brown, principal of E. C. Struggs Junior High School.

This is a very important meeting and it is up to each and every interested citizen in the area to come out and make the meeting a success.

Policemen Honored This Month

This month, April which is only four days old, has been proclaimed "Police Appreciation Month", according to Mayor W.D. Rogers, Jr., in a City Hall ceremony last week.

Chief J. T. Alley, Jr., accepted the proclamation last Friday at City Hall for the department.

Also receiving awards last week were Maj. Luther Moore, regional commander of the Department of Public Safety; Leland D. Stephens, resident director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation; and Bod Blon, Lubbock Citizens Traffic Commission president.

The proclamation urges citizens to show their appreciation for the police department's efforts to protect them and the city.

The 15th annual Police Appreciation Banquet is scheduled April 9 in honor of policemen and other law enforcement officials here.

Not only are members of civic and social clubs invited to attend, but also any interested person who lives in East Lubbock is urged to attend also.

Speaker for the evening will be Norman Williamson, editor and publisher of the West Texas Times.

Panel Organized Job Search For Negroes Here

A committee of members of the Second Baptist Church was formulated at the Multi-Service Center last Saturday to find jobs for unemployed Negroes in the Lubbock area.

First aim of the committee will be to find jobs for qualified Negroes with the City of Lubbock.

Committee members will call on city officials this week to learn what jobs are open and the qualifications for these jobs.

Later, the committee will contact truckers, grocers, construction firms and other employers in an effort to find jobs for the unemployed Negro.

Chairman of the committee is Ronald Kennedy. Members are Lynn B. Rowan, Marvin Rogers and Aubrey Rummel. Charles E. Brown, principal of E. C. Struggs Junior High School, also will serve on the committee.

Men of the Second Baptist Church meet one Saturday each month at Multi-Service Center, 24th and Weber, with Leonard Chew, director, and representatives of the Negro community to promote racial harmony and discuss problems of the community.

FIRST PLACE WINNER IN SWEETWATER COMPETITION

Jacquelin Thomas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hammick Thomas, Jr., of 1326 East 24th Street, a student at Dunbar High School, placed first in District 3-AAA competition in informative speaking last Saturday at Sweetwater High School.

Miss Thomas will represent Dunbar in Region I University Interscholastic League competition April 19 and 20 at Odessa.

SCHOOL INTEREST UP

It is interesting to note the amount of interest being shown the last few days by local citizens in regard to the matter of the local school board and segregation.

Careful investigation shows that most people in the area being serviced by the Times would rather that local people take care of our school problems and leave H.E.W. officials back home where they can handle their own problems.

Of course this problem can't be handled by our school board officials in that manner. Notwithstanding the fact that the school board members are due for a change this week, the public still has the feeling that when it comes to matters of policy, local or otherwise, they are going to be left out of any decision reached. This is all too true, most times when local problems arise, the local people don't even know of them until they have been solved, to the satisfaction of some higher power that be, and without regard to what local people and local taxpayers wish.

We here at the Times attempted to contact a cross section of the Negro population and let them express their views concerning school segregation and how they feel toward the local school situation. Unfortunately, we just don't have the time and the personnel to do so. We have taken the time to talk to different Negro citizens and have found from their attitude that they feel things are handled pretty well at the present time. Now don't be misled, there are still some problems, there still are some things that could be changed, but by and large, we find that most people we talk to feel that outside interference won't do much good here in Lubbock. It is the opinion of most of the local Negro citizens that things will be worked out pretty well if the local people are allowed to take their own problems in their own hands. We at the Times personally feel that this is the best way to handle the situation.

Perhaps the local school board officials will be lucky, perhaps they will be able to work out the local school district to the satisfaction of H.E.W. officials and the local people also, but we doubt it. At any rate, it is the hope of this newspaper and the majority of the Negro people in the area that this can be done, with emphasis on the problem of satisfying the local people first. Most people in Lubbock, even the Negro citizens are more concerned about taking some method of protecting their $18,000,000 investment yearly, provided from local funds, than they are how they can continue to receive $1,200,000 a year from the group who wish to tell us how to run our whole system. We can find no reason for any group, local agency, or governmental authority having the right to run the whole ball of wax while they only provide a small percentage of the monies.

Another point we would like to stress here is the fact that MOST Negro citizens are happy with the way things are now and do not wish MAJOR changes to be made, such as the possibility of closing Dunbar, pairing different schools, or anything else that might in any manner homogenize the Negro children of this city in some manner that is detrimental to their way of life or their manner of living.

In regard to this problem, we could offer several solutions, or possible avenues of problem

KING'S RIOTS NOT THE ANSWER

In looking at the results of the riot at Memphis, Tenn. last week, this is not the answer to finding solutions to the many problems of the ethnic and minority groups in the United States today.

Admittedly, the effort started by the Reverend Martin Luther King, Jr. in the late '50s were conducted in a mannerably way, but this type of act is not the answer in this day and time. Of course he was concerned about the welfare of the striking sanitation workers, but it would appear that by going to the council table something could have been accomplished. In looking at the looters, they were not really concerned about staying within the bounds of law and order—they were interested only in destroying other people's property. This most certainly is not the answer.

Only slight reflection on how "tough" things were on the people of America in the '30s would recall that the citizens had a hard time. But these people didn't solve their problems by rioting and looting their fellow Americans. No doubt about it, we as Americans must sit down together and work these problems out.

It is a sure thing that certain elements in our society today will not hesitate to start the wrong approach regardless of how many times responsible citizens try to show them the right approach. For example, last week in Memphis on Beale Street there were only a few out to march from a population of almost 300,000 Negro citizens. And out of this few, less than 300 decided to take the law into their own hands and loot the area. This most certainly could not be regarded as representative of the majority of the Negroes in the city of Memphis. This being the case, surely you'll agree that the majority of the total population of Black America is not seeking racial warfare with our white brothers.

How about it Dr. King, hasn't the time come in America today when you should retire from the streets and do your demonstrating in a more sensible manner at the council table? We think so.

solving. First, it would be the wish of the Times that our readers address a great amount of letters to our Congressman, George Mahon, House Office Building, Washington, D.C. 20515, and request him to be present at the hearings when the H.E.W. officials get to town. After all, he is a taxpayer and public official of this city and he just might be interested in how things are handled. The other suggestion would be that, since there will probably be a Negro on the H.E.W. committee visiting our city soon, we do all we can to place a Negro on the local school board. One can never tell, two "soul brothers" just might be able to get together and work things out better for our community than allowing just white citizens to represent us.

HOLLYWOOD HAPPENINGS

by Walter Burrell

Diana Ross: Half Way There

She is one of the most excitingly talented entertainers America has yet produced; she is captivating as a performer, effervescent as a personality, and beautiful. One prominent political figure has been moved to declare that if ever a "black is beautiful" coin were minted, her face would be the one to adorn it for, as he put it, "she is one of the most beautiful black women in America."

Her name is Diana Ross and she is the lead singer for The Supremes, the number one female vocal group in the world.

However, despite overwhelming successes in the U. S., Tokyo, Munich, Holland and even as aircraft carrier in Kowloon harbor, Hong Kong, it is this writer's humble opinion that Miss Ross is just now reaching the half-way point in what will evolve as a brilliant two-fold show business career as both a singer and actress.

Diana, who has openly spoken of seriously entering the acting arena, visited another singer-actress, Doris Day, a few months ago on the set of Miss Day's new film, "The Epic of Josie." A long-time admirer of Miss Day's, Diana asked several questions about just how she should go about preparing herself.

The blonde star, who has never had a formal acting lesson in her entire career, suggested in effect that Diana simply dive right in and give it a try.

It wasn't long afterward that all of the Supremes snared roles as nuns in an episode of the "Tarzan" series and Diana's performance was so promising that she was reportedly one of the major reasons for boss Berry Gordy's announcement that Motown was going into the Movie-making business.

Among others, this writer was so impressed with the singer that he suggested to producer Ross Hunter that Diana be considered for one of the three major roles in the current multi-million dollar production of "Sweet Charity," starring Shirley MacLaine and Sammy Davis, Jr. However, as it turned out Diana couldn't possibly leave The Supremes for the five to six months the film will be in production and dancer Paula Kelly for the role instead.

Despite Diana's abundance of talent and fame, she's maintained a level-headedness which is difficult to believe. When it comes to money, something she never had prior to her unprecedented career, she certainly has lots now, but she doesn't seem to be overwhelmed by it. It's well handled by her managers and she is on an allowance.

Her family is well taken care of; she bought her mother a home and her sister and brothers are all in school. She isn't the type to buy a $5,000 brooch just because she sees it in a window and wants it.

She has a quiet passion to be herself, to be different from others. She wants her hair, clothes and makeup to be distinctively hers. She won't tell the other two girls — or anyone else — where she buys her dresses or what lipstick she uses. If she finds someone is using the same kind of perfume, she'll switch to something else.

When questioned about her enormous fame, she answers easily that she enjoys it, but doesn't take it all that seriously. She's a stickler about signing autographs and doesn't believe in saying "no," then rushing off.

She feels that kids have respect for the three of them and that she can control crowds. She also thinks that police, especially "special officers," often use too much force and even create panic. She and the other two girls walk slowly from a stage and never run, push or show nervousness. They don't raise their voices or speak sharply to people.

Unlike many stars who complain constantly of their lives being too open to the public, Diana says she doesn't feel her privacy has really been infringed upon — at least, not yet.

Novick of the Courier staff there would know where the group was to appear.

He didn't! And, ironically, no one else in Milwaukee knew anything about a gig for the 5th Dimension. I spent a very anxious day until I learned they were appearing at Carroll College in Waukesha.

The concert was a real groove (after the over-active sound man got himself together) and the 5th Dimension killed another rumor: They sing white music!

Before you even attempt to judge them, be sure to catch one of their sets. You've seen them on television, but they never seem to have enough time to groove the way that they do at concerts and night club engagements.

Yes, I kinda write about the people that I love... and Jerry Butler and the 5th Dimension head my list of favorite people. See you among the Stars...

AMONG THE STARS

with LEE IVORY

"Why do you always write about the 5th Dimension and Jerry Butler? Don't you know any other entertainers?" The letters may be phrased a bit differently, but they all add up to the same thing!

I hadn't realized it until I read file copies of columns submitted to publications across the country. But, it's true and I sincerely apologize.

Of course, I filed columns on other entertainers, but the number of times my typewriter pecked out the names of the 5th Dimension and "The Iceman" scared me to death. If columns are boring or repetitious, a writer has been known to typewrite his way into oblivion.

So, since I'm going to write about the 5th and the Butler guy one more time this month, I might as well tell you why I keep their names in the news.

First of all, they seem to make so much news. Secondly, they are the greatest people in the world of show business. Thirdly, Jerry Butler is the worst Monopoly player in the world! He never lands on Park Place or Boardwalk until I have jammed hotels on the property and, if you know anything about the game, he gets wiped out!!!

The 5th Dimension gave me a headache for a couple of days when they appeared in Chicago at the Civic Opera House along with the Lovin' Spoonful. We kinda had a party and I sorta heard them say something about working in Milwaukee the following Sunday.

So, I cut out of Chicago like on a Saturday planning to set up a cocktail party for Florence, Marilyn, Billy, Lamonte and Ron—but I forgot to ask them where they would be appearing in Milwaukee.

No problem, though, because I knew that Dave

THE POLICE BEAT

by: T. J. Patterson

The month of April is set aside for the Policemen of our city. In a proclamation last week by Mayor W.D. Rodgers, this was made official.

We are happy that the men in gray, who are responsible for our safety, are finally being saluted by the City of Lubbock. Without these hard working individuals, our city would become uncomfortable.

Thanks, fellows, for a fine job. We are glad to have you as a constructive part of our city.

BICYCLE THEFT

Iris Thompson, 1613 Avenue F, had a sad story to tell the Lubbock Police Department last week. You see, someone came into his yard and took his bike which was parked in the front yard.

He has no complete idea, but he believes that a juvenile is responsible for taking his $40.00 bike. He would certainly like to have his bike back.

THEFT

Franklin Mathis, 2728 East 2nd

Street, reported to police that someone took a spare tire from his truck.

To Franklin, this was a rare thing to happen to him. It goes to show you Frank, if you tempt someone, they certainly will take advantage of it.

Next time, why not be more careful of where you leave your valuables?

THEFT

Jimmy Kelly, 1601 Avenue D, is really upset about the incident that happened to him.

You see, Jimmy, like any other law abiding citizen, is very unhappy about the person who reached into his car and took a brown leather coat.

The value of the coat has not been determined, but he sure could use his coat.

Like Thompson, he has no idea who could have taken advantage of his wearing apparel.

"Around the Hub City" is noticing how publisher Norman Williamson is spreading the good word about voting as a "block" in the upcoming elections as to achieve the recognition that is due our community. This week he spoke to a group of young men in Caprock Lodge number 1540, Elks of I.B.P.O.E.W.

Keep up the good work, Norman, it is time we received the respect due any group as large as ours.

Thanks, members of VICA of Dunbar High School for the sweet letter and thanks you sent to me. It was certainly splendid. As long as young people such as you are doing something constructive, WE shall always be behind YOU. GOOD LUCK at your state meet.

rates is now available through Lubbock, Texas Post Office window clerks, Postmaster E.J. Ohnemus announced today.

Postmaster Ohnemus said that "as a result of new legislation and action by President Johnson we are now airlifting more than 75 per cent of all mail going to the military men and women stationed abroad. We hope this guide will help more American families be familiar with these services and use them."

The eight-page pamphlet illustrates three services for airlifting parcels at rates the average family can afford, the speedy service now available for newspapers and news magazines to most overseas bases, the special rates for books and how to mail sound-recorded personal messages. The guide also provides parcel wrapping instructions, information on the time it takes parcels to reach Vietnam and other overseas bases from major U. S. cities, and pointers on the correct way to address military mail.

A family sending a 10-pound package from Lubbock, Texas to Vietnam, for example, pays only $2.75 on a package marked "Pal," while the air parcel rate for the same package is $6.59, Postmaster Ohnemus said.

On parcels weighing less than 5 pounds it might be more advantageous for a family to use the older (Sam) Space Available Mail service, which provides surface transportation to the port of em-

Judge James A. Joy Visits Lubbock Last Week

Judge James A. Joy, a candidate for Judge of the 7th Court of Civil Appeals, was a visitor in Lubbock last Thursday.

Judge Joy is the present District Judge at Plainview, having served in that capacity since 1961. Previously he had served as a county judge of Hale County.

There are 46 counties in the 7th Court of Civil Appeals District and Judge Joy says he is campaigning in all of them as time allows.

Judge Joy is married, the father of four children and is a member of the Church of Christ.

He is a native of Crowell in Foard County. He has been in the practice of law since 1952, having studied law at St. Mary's Law School in San Antonio. He also taught law at St. Mary's.

In World War Two, Judge Joy was a veteran pilot.

During his visit here, Judge Joy pointed out that there are three judges on the Seventh Court of Civil Appeals... Traditionally there has been one member on the court from Lubbock, one from Amarillo, and one from some other part of the District... Judge Joy is seeking the place being vacated by Judge Alton B. completely equipped with MODERN GAS APPLIANCES

The "Blue Star" signifies many important advantages to home buyers. It means design that emphasizes individuality... expert construction from top quality building materials... and perhaps most important of all, the Blue Star assures the ultimate in comfort and convenience to be found only with dependable GAS appliances.

And Blue Star means outstanding household economy... for with all GAS appliances the average family can save $10,000 or more over a 25-year mortgage period.

Yes, the Blue Star means gracious living for the family who owns one... and it's "the" sign to look for if you're a prospective home buyer.

Max Arrants Seeks Return To County Post

Max Arrants, Precinct Two County Commissioner for the past fourteen months has announced his intention and desire to continue to serve the people of the area for another term at the same post. Arrants, a citizen of Slaton since 1941 where he was in private business, has previously served on the City Commission of Slaton, and the local school board.

Mr. Arrants and his wife have been blessed with three lovely daughters, and four grandchildren. In seeking his first elected term to the office he now holds, Mr. Arrants states that he feels that his past experience in office will better qualify him to continue his service to the people of Lubbock County.

P. T. A. Notes

Members of the Posey Elementary P. T. A. met at 3:30 p.m. Tuesday in the school cafeteria, at 1911 East 14th Street.

The program was entitled, "Your Child and His Recreation." Installation of new officers and performance of the sixth grade string students and school choir was also included on the program.

The E. C. Struggs, P. T. A. met also Tuesday evening at 7:30 p.m. in the school cafeteria at 1325 East 24th Street. The Physical Education Department was in charge of the program. They presented a "Gymnastic Exhibition."

Speaker of the hour was Mrs. M. Hillyer, Physical Education Teacher at Struggs. Officers were also nominated for the club.

FROM ITALY: NEW IDEAS IN ARCHITECTURE

New York (NAPS)—The latest word in architecture is "when at home do as the Romans do!" Italian architecture, one of the sights that drew thousands of tourists to Europe, is now being combined with American efficiency in a trend-setting condominium in Boca Raton, Florida.

Elegance and a way of life were embodied in early Roman architecture—and it was built to last! Made to reflect as well as protect from the light of the sun, tile and stucco were developed along the Mediterranean, fusing boldness, color and beauty into a distinctive style recognized and applauded through the world. Nowhere is there a better example of this magnificent architecture than in the picturesque Italian city of San Remo. Recently a noted American builder visited San Remo in order to research Italian design and architecture. The result—San Remo of Boca Raton, Florida, a new luxury residence development.

Combining the best of two worlds, San Remo of Boca Raton offers 320 residences spread over six Villas. Each unit is meticulously planned, complete with the latest appliances and fixtures. Sumptuous marble baths and private balconies give an "old World" touch.

The enchanting entrance to this Florida development is decorated by impressive statuary and fountains. Within the gates, the Villas are surrounded by lavishly landscaped Romanesque gardens.

A private club, complete with refreshment bar, recreation room, sundry and food shop, and dressing rooms and sauna baths can be enjoyed exclusively by residents and their guests. Other exclusive facilities are a heated pool, putting greens, and shuffleboard courts.

San Remo of Boca Raton offers an outstanding location—bordered on the east by the Atlantic Ocean (with 450 feet of private beach), and on the west by private frontage on the Intracoastal Waterway (with fully-equipped yacht basin and complete club facilities).

Hundreds of years apart in conception, both San Remo, Italy, and San Remo, Florida were made to provide timeless elegance and comfort for all who come their way.

will — with a capital G — is helping to shape a dynamic effort offering new life and hope to handicapped people across the nation.

This is the theme of the 1967 Annual Report of Goodwill Industries of America, Inc., representing the 136 Goodwill Industries across the United States.

While the needs of the handicapped are expanding, the growing network of Goodwill Industries workshops are stepping up efforts to keep pace with these growing demands, the report says. Goodwill Industries already comprise the world's largest network of private vocational rehabilitation agencies serving all types of handicapped people.

Financial donations to the Goodwill program amounted to nearly $6.5 million, according to GIA's 1967 report figures. Store sales produced about $58 million, salvage income brought in nearly $7 million, and contract and custom work added another $5 million.

Noteworthy, too, is the impact that handicaps — other than physical — have made in the Goodwill rehabilitation effort. The majority of persons helped in 1967 fell into the neuro-mental and socially handicapped category. Second largest group helped were the aged or infirm, with strictly physical handicaps falling noticeable off from earlier years, when Goodwill specialized more in aid to the physically handicapped.

The basis workshop program in Goodwill Industries continued to be the repairing for resale of contributed clothing and household articles an estimated 20 million homes contributed materials last year. Business and industry help the Goodwills through contract work, and support also

A Young Man With A Talent

Ambitious Jerry Reed, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Mirte Reed, is quite concerned about show business. He is very much concerned about dancing and playing the harmonica. Aside from this, he adds the talent of singing. Last week at a talent show at Ella Iles, Jerry turned on the young people with his portrayal of James Brown.

He resides at 2401 East 8th St. and is a member of the Saint Paul Baptist Church. He is an eighth grader at Alderson Junior High School.

McCullough's House Burned

A vacant house owned by K. G. McCullough of 3603 Zenith Avenue was gutted by fire about 10:00 p.m. last Thursday.

Firemen said when they arrived the house was completely ablaze, with the exception of the rear bedroom. Cause of the blaze had not been determined at this report.

Mrs. McCullough, who was asleep at the time of the blaze, said a man came to her door and

AIRLIFT STAMP

Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien made public yesterday the design of the $1 Airlift postage stamp, according to Postmaster E. J. Ohnemus.

It will be issued on April 4 at Seattle, Washington. The stamp will cover low cost rates for parcels to and from servicemen based overseas and in Alaska, Hawaii and Puerto Rico. Deputy Postmaster General Fredrick C. Belen will represent the Post Office Department at the first day ceremony, which will be held on April 3.

Parcels weighing up to thirty pounds and measuring no more than 60 inches in combined width and girth will be airlifted all the way upon payment of $1 plus domestic parcel post rates from point of mailing to Army and Fleet Post Offices. The $1 stamp will also be valid for paying regular rates for other types of mail. The preferential rate for servicemen has been in effect since January 7th.

Stevan Dohanos, a member of the Postmaster General's Citizen's Stamp Advisory Committee designed the stamp. His design was inspired by a late 19th century wood carving of an eagle clutching a pennant.

This type eagle was made popular by John Bellamy, who carved billethead for the navy. A reproduction of it is part of the Index of American Design in the National Gallery of Art.

The horizontal stamp will be printed in blue, red, brown and yellow.

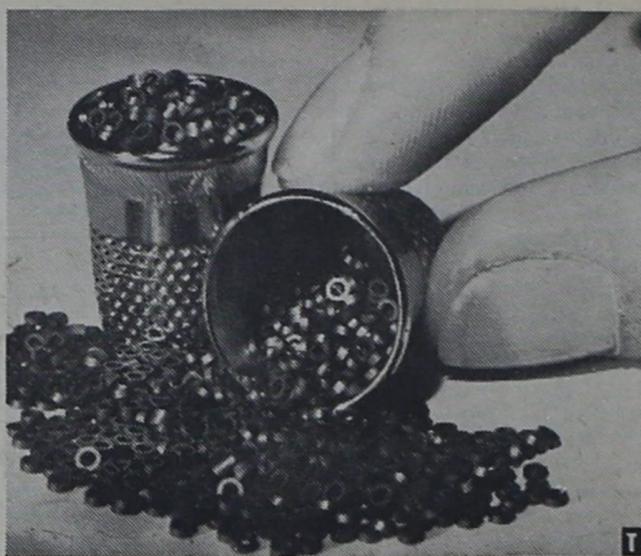

The eagle is yellow with feathers detailed in brown. It clutches a pennant of blue and red in which are two white stars and a white inscription "airlift". At the bottom is "For Our Servicemen" and lower right "$1 U.S. Postage," both in blue. Blue, brown and red will come off the Giori press, yellow by offset.

The stamp was modeled by Howard C. Mildner and engraved by Edward P. Archer (vignette) and William R. Burnell (lettering) of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing.

Collectors desiring first day cancellations may send addressed envelopes together with remittance to cover the cost of the stamps to be affixed to the Postmaster, Seattle, Washington 98101. A close fitting enclosure of postal card thickness should be placed in each envelope and the flap either turned in or sealed. The envelope to the Postmaster should be endorsed "First Day Covers $1 Airlift Stamp," and postmarked no later than April 4.

The bride given in marriage by her father, Mr. C.B. Stubblefield Lubbock, Texas, wore a linen white satin empire body, bell sleeve, edged with lace also a skirt bottom hairpiece of white satin bow and a shoulder length veil. She carried a bouquet of white carnations. Miss Doris Jean Stubblefield, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a floor length gown of Embossed peaw de soie Catillion Bwe with matching headpiece. She carried white carnations. The best man was a friend of the groom.

The couple will be at home in Austin, Texas, 505 East 11th St. Apt. 205.

The bride is a graduate at Dunbar High School, Lubbock, and attended Huston Tillotson College.

CITY SALES TAX EFFECTIVE THIS WEEK

Lubbock's new 1 per cent city sales tax went into effect Monday, raising the total tax on taxable items purchased in the city to 3 per cent.

Items costing less than 16 cents will be tax free under the new sales tax.

The tax will apply to the same items as the regular two per cent sales tax. Exempt are food, medicine, shelter, services, amusements, automobiles, tobacco, gasoline, oil and alcoholic beverages—all of which are covered by state excise taxes.

The new schedule calls for 1 cent tax on items from 50 to 83 cents, 3 cents on items costing 84 cents costing $150 to $1.83, and 3 per cent of the total cost for items above $1.83.

Volunteers Recieve Red Cross Caps

Twenty-three American Red Cross volunteers were capped at a traditional Red Cross ceremony last Thursday night at Reese Air Force Base Officer's Club.

The volunteers were capped after receiving basic orientation course into Red Cross history and after participating in on-the-job trainging.

Special recognition was given at the ceremony to Mrs. Carl Franklin, who received a pin signifying 500 hours of service to the Red Cross.

Mrs. Barry Bradford, Mrs. Newton Carpenter, Mrs. Dorothy Johnston, Mrs. Bonner Storey and Mrs. Robert Tedder all received pins.

MY PRINCIPAL

(The prose printed below is subscribed by a student at Ella Iles Elementary School about the principal. This is the type of talent which is found in the Lubbock Public Schools. This young poet is quiet concerned about being a newspaper reporter).

We are the luckiest school in the world, To have a principal like Mr. Briestly. He's made some rules that we love; Followed and kept our school so neatly.

If you're in trouble just come to me. "We'll straighten this thing out," He says it in a simple voice. He doesn't have to shout.

He walks the hall when he's not busy, To see what work we've done. He passes your desk very quietly, One by one.....

When teachers are sent out to do something, You can always count on him. I'll keep them for you, he'll say, "I think I'll have a nice time with them."

He's full of laughter, always happy and full of joy, He's very fond of all his pupils, every girl and boy. So let's shout hurrah, a man who is so sweetly, our one and only lovable, Mr. Clarence Priestly.....

LET'S HAVE A PARTY

Any day is a good day for a children's party and any number can come - even one child.

Turning lunch into a party may lift the strain from the gloomiest day...and, this can be done with a simple turn of service that requires no fuss or bother. An ordinary soup lunch can become beguiling... when funny faces appear on the soup... when biscuits filled with jelly take intriguing shapes... and when clowns are made of marshmallows.

The next time rainy weather keeps the small fry inside your house and your imagination is taxed for ideas to keep tots entertained, have a party! Your easiest gestures will get much applause.

FUNNY FACE SOUP

- 1 can Campbell's condensed tomato soup
- 1 can Campbell's condensed cream of chicken soup
- 2 soup cans milk or water
- Dry cereal

Blend the two soups and milk or water in saucepan. Heat, but do not boil. Make faces on surface of soup with cereal. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Services Held Sunday For Pythians and Calantheians

Knights of Pythias Lodge No. 514 and two Calantheian Lodges, Running Rose and Evening Joy No. 414, held their annual Thanksgiving Services at 2:00 p.m. Sunday afternoon at New Hope Baptist Church, 2002 Birch Avenue. George Woods is Chancellor Commander of the Pythian Lodge.

The Pythian address was delivered by W. M. Goldstein, and Oscar Iles served as master of ceremonies.

The Dunbar High School Band led the march into the church. The march got underway at the day nursery on Fir Avenue.

Approximately 100 persons in addition to members of the band participated in the affair. Refreshments were served after the services.

GROWING PROGRAM

Increasing recognition of the needs of handicapped people has brought more of them to the point of extending their hands-if they have them - for help to help themselves, the report declares. The total number of handicapped people in the United States is estimated at between 22 and 25 million, of whom 3.5 million are willing and able to work but unemployed.

A pressing need to aid the "hard core" handicapped is reported by the national Goodwill Industries organization. Patients from mental hospitals, the mentally retarded, the severely palsied and the economically disadvantaged who don't even know how to catch a bus can be helped by the Goodwill programs if resources and facilities are available.

The rehabilitation process in Goodwill Industries means more than a job, the report points out. It's painstaking process of rebuilding all aspects of a handicapped person's life.

Goodwill Industries or related programs operate in 11 other countries throughout the world. A program in Guatemala City was added in 1967.
