General Daniel James Speaks to Tech Group

Receives Degree in Music Education at Tech

Last Saturday's graduating class was the forty-fifth annual Commencement Exercise at Texas Tech University, and Mrs. Judith Struggs Berry was one who received a bachelor's of science degree in music education.

Judith is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E.C. Struggs, and was a member of the graduating class of Dunbar High School in 1964. Prior to graduation last week, she spent three years in college training at Howard University at Washington, D.C.

Mrs. Berry, who is making plans now to obtain her masters degree, is a member of a three generation family. She has a three year old son.

Saturday afternoon, May 15, the Struggs family attended a reception honoring the graduating class of Texas Tech, at the invitation of President and Mrs. Grover E. Murray. Judith's father is a retired principal of Dunbar High School and her mother a teacher at Ella Iles Elementary School.

Friday Night Banquet for OIC Draws large Crowd, Termed Success by Sponsors

Approximately 150 Lubbock citizens had an opportunity to attend the first banquet of the Opportunities Industrialization Center (OIC) last Friday evening at Vann's Catering Service, located on the Slaton Highway.

Lionell Woods, a Sullivan trained worker in the Dallas economic development area, gave brief comments on the movement of the self-help aspect. He congratulated the effort in Lubbock for the present base on which the infant local OIC program has been started.

"Any idea a man's mind can perceive, he can achieve," said Mr. Woods. He emphasized how important it is for the black community to do its best to make this (local effort) a success.

The Reverend A.L. Davis, local president of OIC, spoke positive about the efforts of the young organization. He said, "East Lubbock appears to be no kind of a Southwest Lubbock; we have to start doing things ourselves." One of the things he was talking about was the idea of developing ourselves and our community.

John Whitcomb, regional director of Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, spoke in behalf of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce. Dr. Jack Steele, dean of the Business Administration College of Texas Tech University, gave a brief summary on what the college had been doing up to this point with the OIC effort.

At present time, there are twenty three students enrolled in the program. The students were introduced to the public for the first time as members of the progressive movement.

Eddie Richardson, OIC coordinator and author of "My Views" for the West Texas Times, served as emcee. He articulated about the need for self-help in the black community in Lubbock.

Rev. Davis and Richardson are attending a Regional OIC seminar in Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, this week. The purpose of the seminar is to bring back information which will better the local OIC program.

Freedom Committee To Meet Tomorrow

The Freedom Committee of the Lubbock Chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) will meet Friday, May 21, at 7:30 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Roberta Bascus, 1502 East 15th Street.

Air Force Brigadier General Daniel James Jr. told Texas Tech University ROTC graduates at a commissioning ceremony Saturday to "look to light and keep going forward."

The fiery black general's address brought a standing ovation from the audience of parents, relatives and friends of the 60 Army and Air Force cadets who received their second lieutenants' commissions.

James, deputy assistant Secretary of Defense for Public Affairs, told the cadets each of them "has the strength of 50,000" of those dissidents who are trying to tear this nation apart.

"We've got to let the enemy know that those people seen in this country carrying around the enemy flag are not in the majority, because they are not," he said.

"When you're shouting 'freedom now,' we first must have a place to have it. Remember that!" he said.

The general, recalling his boyhood experiences in a segregated Florida town, urged the cadets to strive for victory despite the unfairness, disadvantages and handicaps they will find, particularly during the early part of their careers both in and out of the military.

This country, he said, is in need of people who will stand up and identify themselves with her and with her ideals and causes.

"The United States particularly needs help at this time as she tries to disentangle herself from the unpopular Southeast Asian War," he said.

Returnin to the podium after the young officers had accepted the oath of office, Gen. James reminded them that "Our profession is peace. . .our job is to keep the peace. When we are forced into war, we have already lost something. No one dislikes war worse than warriors.

"We want peace in our time, as President Nixon said, but we want more than that. We want an eternity of peace."

Job Placement Service To Operate This Summer

The Area Youth Council is sponsoring a job placement service this summer for area youth. The service will place youths, ages 13 to 21, in full-time, part-time or temporary jobs for the summer months. The Summer Employment Service will begin operation May 10, and close its office on August 20. There will be no charge for this service.

The Area Youth Council is a body of approximately 200 youths between the ages of 13 and 21, the majority of whom are from low-income families. The council was organized by these young people as a character building organization to promote citizenship through community service, better understanding among the races, pride through self-held, and better relations among youth and adults by working together

Former Grand Jury Foreman Challenges DA To Provide Answers—Let Taxpayers Decide

Maurice L. Richard, Jr., who resigned as foreman of the 140th District Court Grand Jury last Friday afternoon before the session ended, challenged the District Attorney's office to make public the "full documented and verified evidence and let the people of Lubbock know what is happening," in a press conference Sunday evening at the In Town Inn.

Richard had a news conference Friday evening at the same facility and claimed a "mockery of justice" was committed in the grand jury room and went on to say that a dual system of justice was being applied by the District Attorney's office.

District Attorney Blair Cherry, Jr., came on strong with a verbal blast at Richard Saturday by stating there was, "an attempt to draw the grand jury into a labor dispute between city and union officials."

According to Richard, a dual system of justice is being handed out by the District Attorney's office—one for the general public and another for city officials.

Cherry indicated that Richard's actions were prompted by a labor dispute set off in the city a few weeks ago when 120 policemen joined a union. He said, "My office and grand juries, which are appointed by the courts, have too many criminal cases to investigate to have our time wasted harassing public officials on behalf of special interest groups."

The above statement was issued following Richard's charge that, "he (Richard) had been approached by two elected officials and 'pressured' to drop any possible investigation connected with the city that the grand jury might be considering probing."

Cherry stated in his Saturday statement that if anyone had tampered with any jury member, "they were wrong."

In response to Cherry's statements last week, Richard released the following statement last Sunday evening, May 16th, at a press conference:

"Due to the nature and content of the public statement released by the District Attorney's Office in connection with my service on the Grand Jury, I feel it is my duty as a citizen to make a final public statement in regard to this matter—Final, because I do not care to have a running battle with the District Attorney's Office, and I will have no further comment on this matter after my statement tonight (Sunday).

"As a citizen of this country, I

Something Will Have to Be Done!

The public is beginning to ask questions as to why nothing is done about those among us who are forever killing their brothers and sisters. Some of this comment came about following an editorial entitled, "It's Not Brotherly Love to Continue To Kill One Another," which was published twice recently on this page.

In working on this problem, your newspaper staff has checked back as far as January 29, 1960-exclusive of the figures for 1971 to date-and discovered that 76 black men or women have been murdered within the city limits of Lubbock in that length of time. Also, we find in our investigations, and according to our sources, that no black man or woman has been made to stand trial for the murder of another black during that period of time.

If these facts are correct, and we assume they are since they were published in a crime summary, it would lead most people of the city to believe that some officials are not doing their job when it comes to enforcing the law within the city of Lubbock. This paper would suggest that the District Attorney's Office re-evaluate its position on the matter of one black killing another.

Stricter enforcement and prosecution of black murders and accused murders must be undertaken now if this endless war of black against black is to be stopped.

The 76 black men and women allegedly murdered by other blacks happened within the city of Lubbock. And this does not include the entire County of Lubbock, which greatly increases the number if taken into account.

Of the total murdered between 1960 and 1970, 1967 shows the greatest number—with 16 murders involving 12 black men and women. During the 10 year period, there was no year where a black did not meet death at the hands of a murderer, yet, in 1966, the lowest number of black murders was registered—only three.

Between 1960 and 1970, there were 143 people murdered in the City of Lubbock—with over 50% of that number involving blacks. According to our records, although many blacks were indicted for murder, no black has been made to stand trial for the murder of another black in the last ten years within the city of Lubbock.

These figures, and past performance records, would indicate to most readers that it does not matter if one black kills another black. Yet, along the same line of criminal activity, if a black kills a white, or robs a white, or is caught shop-lifting, he more often than not gets the book thrown at him by every agency the prosecution can find.

We've traveled that road too long, it's time for the District Attorney's Office to start doing something—whatever it takes to move their people—to prosecute to the fullest and fairest extent, any black who takes the life of another black.

Yes, it's true, at the rate we are going, the white man won't have to wipe us out through various other means—with the passive help of the DA, we'll soon wipe ourselves out without his help.

We feel that the DA's office should be aware that we of the black community are concerned about justice for all people. This killing has got to stop Mr. DA, and it's up to you and your staff to help. How about doing your part in prosecuting all murderers, regardless of their color, and the color of their victims? It's up to you to start the ball rolling in the right direction.

As has been said many, many times in the black community of Lubbock, "it's time for something to be done, now!" There is interest at the present time. Let's do something about these damn killings. Right On!!

Dear Editor:

Would you please publish the following letter, a copy, which was mailed to Chief J.T. Alley, City of Lubbock, Police Department? Please do not print the names attached, and withhold my signature at this time. Thank You.

April 30, 1971

Dear Chief:

On April 20, 1971 the Band Talent show was held at the Dunbar High School and at the close of this affair, needless to say "A Public Affair," tax paying citizens-parents with small children as well as school children were leaving and some of us stopped at the outside entrance of the school building and were talking. Instantly your officers (paid with tax payers dollars), yelled over the mike "O.K. you people, clear those steps or I'll spray you with "Mace", of course people began to leave hurriedly.

Later your Desk Sgt. Emmerson on duty received several calls from us in the black community (that were there and heard these words with our own ears), expressing discontent with such non-professional act verbally committed by your men who live and support themselves and possibly families from our "Tax Dollars."

This type of act has been committed and executed in the same community some months ago due to two teenage girls in a typical girl-hair pulling episode, no type of weapons involved: the results: were small children carried for medical attention due to facial contact with this "Mace."

This letter comes as a Formal complaint "to you as our Chief of Police", due to the poor professional acts and conduct of suppose Officers in authority with a Badge which we feel is being mis-used and abused. These guys are in authority and if an arrest is needed—then do just that, but these threats plus other acts committed is useless, especially when there is no reason to warrant same. If there was violence or other acts forbidden by the law, then we would be the first to say: "maintain law and order". This sir was not the case, therefore we felt that the next step was to discuss type of act with you, since there is total dissatisfaction in our community with this type thing being continued in our city.

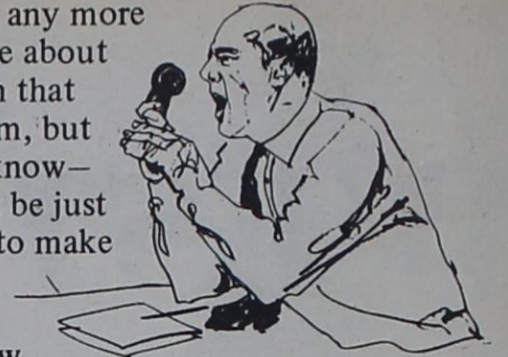

Your attention and any solution you might have to this problem would be greatly appreciated. Individual signatures are attached for your information.

Gratefully yours

From The Business Desk

I don't know any more than anyone else about what went on in that Grand Jury room, but one thing I do know—something must be just a bunch wrong to make a young man like Maurice

Richard, Jr. blow the whistle on everyone else. No one in his right mind can possible think that a person who supposedly had the power and might of organized labor behind him would take the chance of facing a criminal charge just for the sake of listening to his own voice, or for that matter fighting labor's battle in a Grand Jury session.

As is pointed out in an editorial on this page, there is a dual system followed by the District Attorney's office in regard to some matters in our present court system here in Lubbock—and I for one would not wonder if perhaps this is true in other fields, in light of the charges Mr. Richard has brought forward for the public to study and think about.

At any rate, I know of several issues that have been brought to the attention of this newspaper recently which might or might not have been considered criminal, that were to be presented to a number of Grand Jury sessions, but have never been brought to the public's attention—and they concerned city officials or members of their family. In that light, one would wonder if we are operating under a dual system of justice here in Lubbock.

But, like I said in the beginning, I don't know what went on in the Grand Jury room, and I'm glad I don't, because someone will probably have to answer to a Federal Grand Jury someday as to why they knew, if what Mr. Richard said, about elected public officials discussing the deliberations in the Grand Jury session is true, since no one is supposed to know those facts. Surely, if his statement about being contacted by elected officials in the City of Lubbock is true, and I have no reason to disbelieve him, then someone knew more than the law allowed, and I would wonder what the penalty for tampering with a member of the Grand Jury amounts to.

Any way, I would doubt if the whole sordid mess is over, even though Maurice has announced he is through with the rhetoric.

One thing for sure, there has been a number of things happen in City Hall which would be questionable, if people could have an opportunity to be informed of same—maybe, just maybe, this will give the public a chance to ask some questions.

We Can Do It Ourselves—If We Want To!

We can make it! We can do anything if we really want to. We have more money in our ghetto than most people would realize. Just watch the black neighborhood on Monday morning; see how many people from outside of our community line up every week to stick out their hands and take "our money" back across town with them—spread men, insurance men, house-hold item men, soap men, Kennedy picture man, wig men and various other people who follow the occupation of gaining a dollar by knocking on doors and selling junk.

And then there is the topper of them all. The black church—the greatest fund raising organization of all, followed only by the black preacher, who is possibly the greatest fund raising individual every to walk the streets of America. I would personally challenge every black preacher to become involved in economic development in your neighborhood! Raise money for your community—from your church first, your community second, and then go down-town and finish the job. If you have done your home-work first, and then seek out the people down-town, you might be surprised to find that your job—if it is for community economic development—is much easier.

The main reason I would first challenge the black preacher to take on this task is because I have witnessed his performance over many years when it comes to raising funds. I have been able to witness the pastor work in the black community for years, raising money for trips to conferences, building funds and church and pastor's anniversaries.

Now everyone knows I have a degree of opposition toward pastor's anniversaries, when it comes to raising money. And many would wonder why I mention this event in a column, where I have often "laid the wood" on the idea before. My answer to that is simple, "let's take all the loose coins we can find in the community and convert them into a self-help fund." Let's take that money, that you get from the community, and put it back into the community—in self-help programs—and then we'll be able to see some results that will help many of the poor, ragged, hungry people who come to church because they need more than just a place to go. They also need a chance, a chance for self-help, for self-improvement, and the opportunity for self-pride.

When we do this, you the black preacher and the rest of the community, you will not need an anniversary. More of the people will be in a position to pay more to the church and to the preacher because they will be in a position to live better, eat better and offer you and the church thanks for their better conditions.

We can make it, if everyone will work toward making it! And everyone includes the preachers, as well as the rest of the community. Let's all work together to improve the total community, while we all realize that improvement of the total community means improvement of everyone with-in the community.

Think about it preachers, I know your church members are going to think about it.

Use The Police Hot Line

This column would like to suggest that whenever there is a "need to report a problem" of criminal nature within your community, you call the Hot Line Number. It is 762-2202. As citizens of Lubbock, it is our job to do what we know is right.

Attempted Assault on Juvenile

A Lubbock mother reported to the police department that several teenagers attempted to assault her 17-year-old daughter last week. The mother told police she left her daughter at home and when she returned, the female teenagers were jumping on her daughter.

The lady gave police locations of those involved in the incident.

Burglary

Eddy James Hooks, 3212 East 16th Street, reported to the Lubbock Police Department that someone unknown did take out a window in his garage business which is located at 2210 East 50th Street.

According to Hooks, there was nothing missing from the garage. The damage to the window, however, was approximately $5.00.

House Burglary

Elvira Hastings, 1619 Avenue D, Apt. 4, reported to the Lubbock Police Department that while she was asleep in her apartment, someone came in, while the door was unlocked and took her black purse which contained $2.00 in loose change.

It was also learned that her $95.00 portable television set was taken in the burglary. She has no idea who would have had the nerve to do such a thing.

Strong Arm Robbery

Andrew Rosales, 1615 Avenue E, told officers of the Lubbock Police Department that he had been out with some friends when all his problems broke loose. He stated that he and his friends were walking down Avenue C, in the 1500 block, when four or five men jumped on him.

During the fight, according to Rosales, he was knocked to the ground and $85.00 was taken from his wallet. Also taken was a watch valued at approximately $67.00.

Former Jury Foreman . . .

 am concerned with maintaining law and order through reason on a fair and impartial basis.

"I recognize that my keeping of my oath as a Grand Jury member is an essential part of maintaining law and order within our system of criminal justice in Lubbock County. Although I must admit I am tempted to disclose fully the facts of the matter involving a city official, I will not violate my oath as a Grand Juror to maintain secrecy in regard to the grand jury deliberations.

"Apparently the District Attorney's Office feels absolutely secure in making the unfounded statements to the press, all the while knowing that the true facts of the Grand Jury proceedings cannot be revealed by a member of the Grand Jury. For me to reveal those deliberations is a crime in itself.

"Yet, I must state that in my opinion for the District Attorney's Office to inject labor in connection with this Grand Jury's matter is ridiculous and beyond my wildest imagination, and I challenge the District Attorney's Office to make public the full documented and verified evidence and let the people of Lubbock County decide for themselves, without having to rely on statements by either myself or the District Attorney's Office, whether or not the matter involving a city official is in fact a labor matter or a criminal matter.

"In conclusion, my opinion is that a crime is a crime regardless of who commits it and without regard to the status or position of the person involved."

Richard went on to add, "I saw a lesser amount of evidence rendered to others indicted on the grand jury since my participation."

White profiles in Black History Newspaper Notes: John Usher Monro was born in North Andover, Mass., in 1912. He attended Harvard, became a reporter for the Boston Transcript, served five years in the Navy as an officer on the aircraft carrier Enterprise, and returned after the Second World War to Harvard, where he served as an administrator for 21 years.

Dr. Monro began teaching basic-skills workshops each summer, starting in Miles in 1964, and was asked by its black president, Dr. Lucius H. Pitts late in 1967 if he would consider a full-time post at the black college. He did and the news of his acceptance made national and international headlines.

"Since I have moved to Alabama, I've been offered the presidency of a number of black colleges, but I wouldn't dream of taking one. A white president can't make important decisions now-a-days in a black college," Monro told us.

The New Yorker Profile notes: "Monro and his wife, Dorothy, a woman of remarkable adjustability, live on the Miles campus, and they spend most of their time in Fairfield. Not long ago, they dined with a Northern visitor at his hotel in Bha'm." Mrs. Monro stated, "It's funny to look around and see so many white faces."

Sign seen on outdoor bulletin board of Permain Basin Motel: "Glad to have you Flip Wilson—Come Again." or words to that effect.

A great number of area black Baptists will be shuffling off to Jackson, Mississippi June 15-20 for the Sunday School and B.T.U. Congress, which will be headquartered in the Heidelberg Hotel there. Fond memories for this correspondent. Some six or seven years ago, a black Methodist group headquartered there for a Bishops' Council and we spent several nights in this historic inn. For the first night we were scared. Afterwards our fears subsided. Folks were so nice we could not fear for long. History repeats.

The National Baptist Convention of America, meeting this year in Mississippi, has a number of Texans on its roster, including Dr. M.L. Price of Houston, second vice-president and Rev. B. H. Wilson of Dallas, Mrs. Olivia H. Woodfolk of Austin is secretary of the Senior Women's Auxiliary. See you in Mississippi, bellringers!

Black Methodist in West Texas and New Mexico were elated to learn recently that Dr. John Usher Monro, who resigned some four years ago as dean of Harvard College in Cambridge, Massachusetts to become director of freshmen studies for Miles College, a small black C.M.E. institution of 1,100 students, has achieved the praise and respect of faculty and students alike for his work at the Birmingham, Alabama, institution of higher learning.

One illustration of closer white-black relations came when the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools accredited Miles College (!) in December, 1969, and Dr. Pitts (president of Miles) upon returning to Birmingham with the news—got a white police motorcycle escort back from the airport.

Bellringers recently greeted Pastor C. Parks and wife on their 34 years of service and dedication in Parks Reguge Church of God in Christ, located at Humble and Marland Streets in Odessa and Rev. Rufus McClain of St. Matthew Baptist Church, 307 Barrett Drive in Odessa for 11 faithful years serving God and humanity.

David W. Porter, former West Texas educator and churchman sends greetings to bellringers. Porter served many years as principal of the black High School in Abilene and then several years at a high school in Dallas and now is principal of one of the largest black high schools in the country; Central Senior High School in Kansas City, Mo. He recently delivered a lay sermon at Jamison Temple in Kansas City on: "How to be Black and Not Beautiful."

AMARILLO

From My Scratch Pad

by George Parrish

Mrs. Alice Donnell of Wichita Falls, Texas, spent a few days in the city, visiting her uncles, Sam and Birgle Swoops.

Mrs. Mable Kendrick spent Mother's Day with her mother and family in Clarksville, Texas. Mable is a niece of mine.

Phillis and Ester Hooks are home from college.

Reverend A.J. Davis, Sr., pastor of Johnson Chapel A.M.E. Church is recuperating nicely in his home after undergoing surgery at North West Texas Hospital.

Mrs. Lula Alexander is yet a patient at High Plains Baptist Hospital.

Let's do something different this year! What am I talking about? It is simply this. School is about to be out and every year about this time it seems like the kids get restless and want to fight. What I mean about doing something different is, let's not fight. Ask yourself this question. What are we fighting about? Then see if you can come up with an acceptable answer.

Parents, you can play a great part in this. How? Go to the school on the last day and pick up your children or just be around where they can see you. It really looks bad to see our children on television doing the wrong thing. Let's let the public know that we know how to do something nice. Make your schools and your parents proud of you. You can do it if you try.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Huff, Sr., of 1400 N. Hughes, had a very pleasant surprise on Mother's Day. Their son, Franklin D. Huff, of Washington, D.C., came home for a visit. Franklin is teaching in Washington. With Nelson, Jr. living in the city now, it made their day complete, according to the Huffs. They all worshipped together at the 11 a.m. worship hour. Franklin did a solo, "The Lords Prayer", accompanied by Mrs. K.O. Hines, Rev. V.P. Perry was at his best on that day. His message was on the family, "Prisca and Acquilla."

Dr. and Mrs. M.P. Hines, daughter and family, were in the city along with Mr. and Mrs. Patterson of Dallas, Texas.

Just received word that Mrs. Frank Knighton of 1115 NW 15th sister passed. She lived in Houston, Texas. Our sympathy goes out to the family.

The month of May has been proclaimed as Senior Citizens Month by Governor Preston Smith. As we already know, Mrs. Huff is a member of the Governor's Council for The Senior Citizens. Please help her by calling 376-7992 after 5:00 p.m. They are fixing up a place for the senior citizen's pleasure.

Mrs. Huff, a long-time reader of the West Texas Times, said, "Wake up Amarillo, and give your news to our reporter, Mr. George Parrish. He will be happy to get it in the paper, and let other cities know what Amarillo is doing." Thanks, Mrs. Huff.

A thought for the week: "We sing, 'Oh for a thousand tongues,' when the neighbors may be wishing we would keep the one we have just a little quieter."

Tribute of Thanks And Appreciation

Although you were put away, the day preceding Mother's Day, I cherished your love and devotion as though you were here. I'll forever remember how much you loved me, and depended on my love and guidance. To me you're not dead, "just away waiting for me."

I want to thank each of my many, many friends and loved ones who were so kind and thoughtful during my hours of deepest grief, both black and white. Your expressions of love will always remain in my heart. It is my daily prayer and constant desire that God will ever bless you.
