Dunbar-Estacado Tilt Tonight is Tops in State

The Dunbar-Estacado clash, scheduled for kick-off at 7:30 p.m. tonight at Lowery Field, has been picked as the top game of the week by the Harris Poll. The two teams are the only undefeated ones left in the city, each owning a 3-0-1 record.

Estacado Coach Pete Murray said, "it always is a challenge when two city teams get together." He feels that Dunbar has one of the finest backs on the high plains in William High, also mentioning quarterback Oree Matthews and fullback Kenneth Burrows as outstanding Panther players.

Coach Louis Kelly said, "that Estacado has a fine ball club," and feels that his team will not only have to stop Isaac, but the Lewis brothers, Olda and James, as well.

Many feel that the game is a toss-up—but everyone is willing to state that both teams will be playing their hearts out for another victory.

Commercial Prime-Time Special Will Preview New CTW Reading Series "The Electric Co."

New York—A prime-time commercial network special will preview noncommercial television's newest education experiment, "The Electric Company," for the nation's parents, teachers and children at 7:30 p.m., Eastern and Pacific, 6:30 p.m. Central, Thursday, Oct. 21. The title: "Here Comes 'The Electric Company'."

The new daily program series, produced by the Children's Television Workshop, will premiere the following Monday, Oct. 25, on the Public Broadcasting Service.

The 30-minute special, which will be televised over the Hughes Television Network, will feature the series' regular cast including Bill Cosby, Rita Moreno, Jim Boyd, Lee Chamberlin, Morgan Freeman, Judy Graubart, Skip Hinnant and a youthful rock group called "The Short Circus."

Announcements of plans for this unusual promotional effort were made Tuesday, here by Joan Ganz Cooney, president of CTW, and Samuel Johnson, chairman and president of Johnson Wax, which is sponsoring the program.

More than 100 commercial stations are expected to carry the preview. Mrs. Cooney noted that this is the second time a lineup of commercial television stations has been enlisted to help introduce a CTW program. The first time was two years ago when the Workshop's "Sesame Street" series was previewed on a commercial network several days before its debut on public TV stations, which helped build a following for that series that soon counted in the millions.

The Electric Company has been nearly two years in research and preparation. It was created to help meet what educators agree is a pressing continuing problem of literacy for many children and adults.

"At least one study indicates that perhaps as many as half the adults in the country today may not be able to read well enough to advance in their jobs or fill out a form such as a driver's application," Mrs. Cooney said.

Prime audience for the series will be 7-to-10 year olds, with the aim of helping teach basic reading skills. Of particular importance is the child who is already experiencing some problems in learning to read.

The U.S. Office of Education, the Ford Foundation and Carnegie Corporation are among the major supporters of the new Workshop television experiment.

Dr. Sidney Marland, Jr., U.S. Commissioner of Education, who has described Sesame Street as

Dunbar Graduate is Drug Program Manager in San Angelo Center

Lubbockites are always doing things all over the world and Clarence A. Pittman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Pittman of 2923 East Colgate Avenue, is right up there among those who are willing to do something for their fellow-man.

Several months ago, the Mental Health-Mental Retardation Center for Greater West Texas hired a project coordinator to direct a $78,000 drug abuse education program in the community of San Angelo, Texas.

A graduate of Dunbar High School here in Lubbock, twenty-two year old Clarence is doing just such a job, and is pretty fired up over his new responsibility.

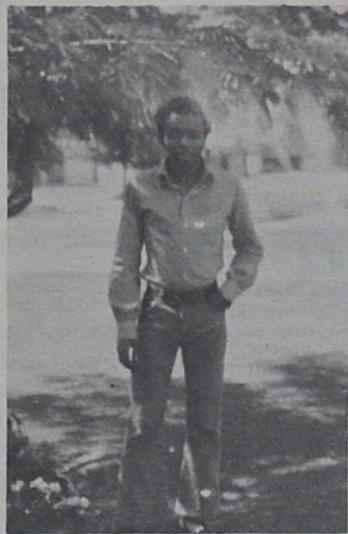

He has recently completed a three-year stint as a Green Beret medic. One of those years was spent in Vietnam where he said "80 to 85 percent of the people in my unit used some type of drug."

As a medic, he had a lot of experience with drug users and frequently had to cope with persons suffering an overdose of drugs.

"A lot of my friends were heroin and speed users," admits the young Lubbock man, "and I have been around people who use drugs since I was 17."

Pittman was a music major at Texas Tech University here and he studied and played a cello in both the Lubbock and Texas Tech symphonies.

Pittman admits that among his priority as manager of the San Angelo program is the hope to contribute a great deal to reducing the misuse and abuse of drugs in the San Angelo area and to divert the possibility of growth of present drug scene into a crisis situation.

In this special effort, he said, "We're trying to reach three different kinds of people. We want to educate the ones who haven't used drugs, but are wondering about and thinking about using them."

"We're also out to stop those who have experimented once or twice with the less dangerous drugs and we're out to reach the hard drug users."

"The hard drug user is there because he wants to be," admits Pittman, "but if he wants to be helped, we're going to be there."

The Board of Adjustment for the City of Lubbock has given notice to all interested persons concerned, as provided by law, that the Zoning Board of Adjustment will hold a public hearing Thursday, October 21, 1971, at 8:15 a.m. in the City Council Chambers on the second floor of City Hall. During this particular session, interested persons will be given an opportunity to be heard, after which hearing the Board will make a determination in each of the cases presented.

Of interest to East Lubbock are two cases, Case No. E-605 and Case No. E-606. One is a request of M.R. Howell for a special exception under provisions of Section 12.2-3 of the Zoning Ordinance to operate a kennel on Lot 9, Block 3, Clutter Addition, City of Lubbock.

The other is a request of J.R. Blumrosen, for Plains Cooperative Oil Mill, Inc., for a special exception under provisions of Section 13.2 of the Zoning Ordinance to construct and operate a cotton seed flour mill on Lot 2, Plains Cooperative Oil Mill Addition, City of Lubbock.

Mr. Howell made application September 7 and asked that a building permit and certificate of occupancy be authorized for the kennel at 2202 East 47th Street. This would allow the applicant to occupy the residence and operate a kennel in connection with Petland, a pet shop, located at 2636 34th Street which is owned and operated by Howell, at 2202 East 47th Street.

Mr. Blumrosen, an attorney in Citizens Tower Building, made application for Plains Cooperative Oil Mill on September 8, 1971, and is also requesting a building permit and certificate of occupancy to be issued for the cooperative to establish the new business at 2800 Avenue A, which is presently zoned M-1. The proposed site will be used to construct and operate a cotton seed flour mill and by-products produced therefrom.

The proposed flour mill site is in the vicinity of the Greater Saint Luke Baptist Church.

Other cases to be considered include Cases Nos. E-607, E-608 and V-441. E-607 is a request of E.G. Pharr, (for First Baptist Church) for a special exception under provisions of Section 19.6-2-5 of the Zoning Ordinance to use property for a church parking lot; E-608 is a request of Simmons Machine and Tool Corp. for special exception under provisions of Section 19.6-2-1 of the Zoning Ordinance to enlarge a non-conforming use on several lots and V-441 is a request of Wayne Edwards for a variance under provisions of Section 19 of the Zoning Ordinance to build to within 3 feet of the side property line on Lot 16, Block 1, Avenue D Addition.

The Zoning Board of Adjustment meets the third Thursday of each month. All requests must be submitted 30 days before each meeting.

County Fathers Must Get Their Employment Thing Going Also!

In the past, a great amount of time has been spent on this page informing the City Fathers of Lubbock that something must be done about the employment practices at City Hall. Now, not tomorrow, the County Commissioner's Court, must get on the ball and start doing something about the employment picture of Blacks in Lubbock County positions.

After checking last year's annual financial report and realizing that taxpayers, regardless of one's color or creed, are responsible for the funds needed to run this 122 square mile area, it is a must that consideration be given now for the hiring of Blacks in the Lubbock County Government system.

In a check last week with an official in the auditor's office of the county, it was learned that 318 people are employed by the County, with approximately 15 of that number being part time.

In looking around the offices in the County Court House there is no sign of Blacks working, with the exception of a clerk in one of the offices on the second floor. The West Texas Times has mentioned before that there should be signs of Blacks working in the Tax Assessor's Office—where Blacks are paying their taxes and buying their licenses' plates.

Of course, it'll take time to make this type of an effort a success, but there should be moves made now in regard to finding Blacks to fill positions with the Lubbock County organization which collected $2,098,933.81 (short of an estimated goal of $2,142,897.78 tax revenue for year 1970) from taxpayers in Lubbock County.

The powers that be in the County system must realize that some of that $2 million came from the Black community in Lubbock County. There are approximately eleven percent (11%) of the total population in this county Black.

What about it County Commissioners, can't some steps be laid now before 1972 is out? By the way, these things that Black people are concerned about knowing right now—before an election year!

And 1972 is a really big election year. Do you dig?

Why Not Use Another Day for Annual Dunbar-Estacado Clash?

It would make real good sense if the annual Dunbar Panther and Estacado Matador clash were played on another day—perhaps Saturday—rather than Thursday. Both of these schools are real crowd pleasers whenever they meet on the gridiron.

Without taking anything from the other three

NATIONAL NEWSPAPER WEEK—OCT. 10-16, 1971

American Newspapers

National Newspaper Week is much more meaningful in the United States than it would be in any other country, because nowhere else in the world is freedom of the press as well established or as jealously guarded as it is here.

It is not by accident that a free society depends upon a free press and vice versa. The two are inseparable.

In fulfilling their responsibilities as honest chroniclers of the news, American newspapers perform a more important service than informing the public about affairs of politics, commerce and human failures and accomplishments, vital though these efforts are.

The free press stands as a roadblock between the unorganized individual citizen and organized society which threatens to swallow him in its excesses. Let a voice of honest dissent arise, and the newspaper is there to record it. Let bureaucracy try, in a thousand devious ways, to put something over on an unsuspecting public and the newspaper is there to expose it.

Let a national cancer reach the dangerous stage, and newspapers serve as meeting grounds for arguments seeking a course of action. Let a major calamity strike a part of the people, and the newspaper leads in lending a helping hand.

It is not easy—at times, it is most difficult—to high school football teams (Lubbock, Monterey and Coronado), let's face it, since the beginning of the Panther and Matador clash, it has been quite profitable for the Lubbock Independent School District.

Of course, it's too late this year, since the game will be played tonight at Lowery Field, beginning at 7:30 p.m., it's not too late to start making preparations for a better night next year and the year thereafter.

It would be interesting to take a poll in the Black community—or the white community for that matter—about changing the day of the week that the game should be played on. We're sure, without any doubt, that many of the Blacks and a large number of the whites, would support this type of move. And a poll of this sort might be a good tool for weighing the future of the Dunbar-Estacado clash each year.

We would like to encourage each of our readers to go out this evening and support the team of your choice. Go out and cheer your team on to victory. Maybe next year, something will be done about the night of the week when the contest is to be played.

Let's hope the look at another day will come up when the Lubbock Independent School District considers next year's schedule. Another day would make sense, don't you think so?

act faithfully as an adviser to so many masters and yet be subservient to none. The American exercise of the right of a free press is not perfect, but the fact it is the best there is was not achieved easily.

Freedom of the press is not the exclusive property of the newspapers. It belongs to each citizen and can endure only so long as he recognizes and practices his part in the whole scheme of things.

National Newspaper Week is not so much a time for celebration as a time for renewed dedication to the essential principles for which this and every American newspaper exists.

Regardless of how difficult the problems of an era may be, so long as the free press exists and prospers a primary tool for their solution remains in the hands of the people.

Police Beat

Theft

A Lubbock woman, Willie Lee Gaines, of 2906 Quirt Avenue, Apt. D, reported to the Lubbock Police Department that she had a problem last week. She made known that a man was knocking on her front door. She answered the door and the man forced himself inside.

According to the lady, the man did shove her back and take from her purse a .22 caliber pistol. It was valued at approximately $15.

House Burglary

A Lubbock woman reported to the Lubbock Police Department that her fourteen-year-old daughter was asleep in her bed and that she did wake up and find an 18 or 19-year-old man lying beside her in the bed.

The girl was told not to say anything. He then got up and she said that she heard him moving around the apartment.

There was nothing missing from the apartment, it was learned, however, that entry was possibly gained by the man using the upstairs balcony door which was unlocked.

The youth did know the young man and the mother said that she definitely would file charges this week.

Aggravated Assault

Another Lubbock woman had another kind of a problem. She tells Lubbock police that a 26-year-old man had been trying to get her into a car and take her to the country and beat her up with a pistol.

The lady told police that the man had a pistol which was about 6 inches long and it was loaded. She also made it known that the man had beaten her up with his boot earlier.

According to her, she would file charges this week.

House Burglary

Homer Avery, 1809 East Colgate Avenue, reported to the Lubbock Police Department that someone did take over $100 worth of clothing from his home.

He believes a teenager took the clothes, since a young suspect was a visitor in the house prior to the disappearance of some good looking "threads."

House Burglary

James Dobbins, 1407 East 7th Street, reported to the Lubbock Police Department that someone did enter his house by ripping off the screen and perhaps breaking portions of the glass to gain entry.

There was approximately $60 worth of items taken from the house. There was also $10 worth of damage done to the window.

Austin, Texas—A new year-round voter registration law went into effect for Texans on October 1.

Predictions are that it will make significant changes in the political structure of the state. New rules governing the operation of political party conventions also will begin operating next year.

These major provisions in the new voter registration act are noted:

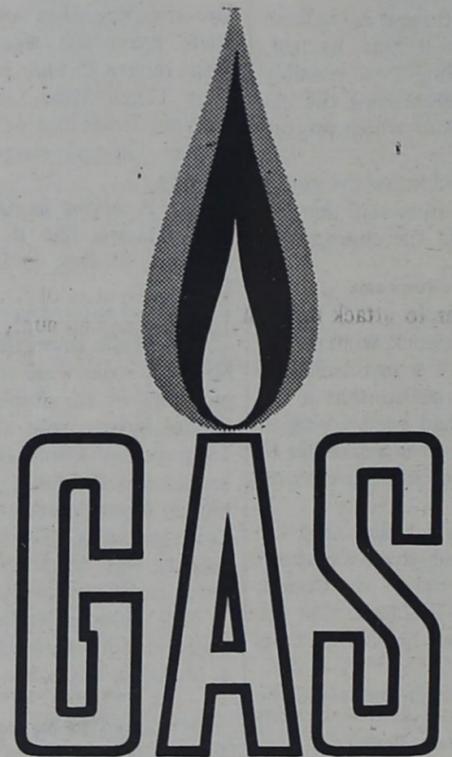

+ Voters can register at any time (except for a temporary cutoff 31 days before each election). Registration is good for three years, and is automatically renewed by participation in an election during that period. The old registration period, one of the shortest in the nation, was October 1-January 31.

+ Eighteen-to-21-year-olds may register and are eligible to vote in local, state and federal elections under a new U.S. constitutional amendment.

+ Roving or resident registration deputies may sign up voters anywhere—apartments, union halls, club rooms, dormitories, industrial plants, office buildings, supermarkets or private residences. The law provides that "no voter registrar shall refuse to deputize a person." This is expected to increase sharply the use of deputies to round up voters.

Predictions range upwards of five million total eligible voters in 1972, an increase of a million over 1970.

Voters must have resided in the state a year and in a county for six months to qualify for local election participation. Those who have lived in Texas more than 30 days but less than a year before the November 1972 general election can vote for presidential and vice presidential candidates under special residency registration with county clerks.

Black Journal Asks "Is Sweetback Really Sweet?" Tuesday Evening

Filmmaker Melvin Van Peebles responds to the critics of his controversial film "Sweet Sweetback's Baadasssss Song" on Black Journal when the Emmy-winning series asks: "Is Sweetback Really Sweet?" Tuesday night, Oct. 19, at 8:30 on Channel 5.

The program focuses on the criticism and plaudits the film has received from the black community. It has been called both "exploitative" and "a tool of liberation."

The film is also discussed on Black Journal by Clayton Riley, a movie critic of the New York Times, who feels that "Sweetback" is the best black film he has ever seen; and Frances Ward of Chicago's Kuumba Drama Workshop and Peter Bailey, movie critic of Ebony Magazine, who attack the film as "negative and exploitative."

Written, produced and directed by Van Peebles, "Sweet Sweetback's Baadasssss Song" centers around a professional sexual exhibitionist and proficient lover, who becomes transformed into a revolutionist. He kills several policemen and—with the aid of the black community, some Mexican field workers, and his own ingenuity and sexual abilities—escapes to Mexico. Black Panther Huey Newton has called it "the first truly revolutionary black film."

Van Peebles, who also stars as the hero in the film, describes to Black Journal his feelings about his black critics: "I got very positive feelings about it. It seems that our people have not had the courage, for all their loud talking towards this film, to attack the white man. And if they can get themselves together to attack me... if this is what it takes to get the nigger's mind working... then perhaps it will become a position thing."

Bailey and Ward attack the film for its heavy emphasis on sex, which they believe fosters a negative image of the black woman and one of degeneracy in the black community.

Final Rites Read Here for Mrs. Brown

Final rites for Mrs. Geraldine Brown, 2601 Weber Drive, were held Monday afternoon at Lyons Chapel Baptist Church with the pastor, Rev. O.D. Hollins, officiating.

Burial was held in the City of Lubbock Cemetery under the direction of South Plains Funeral Home.

Mrs. Brown, 32, was dead on arrival at West Texas Hospital last week. Justice of the peace Wayne LeCroy pronounced her death due to self-inflicted poisoning.

The Oklahoma native was a nurse at West Texas Hospital. She had been a resident of Lubbock for more than 10 years.

YMCA Fall Program Now Underway

Exciting things are happening at the YMCA for boys and girls right after school hours this fall. There programs in Movement Education, Trampoline, Gymnastics and Wrestling for boys. At 4:00 each afternoon the YMCA gym brightens up and comes to life with youngsters.

Movement Education for boys and girls meets Thursday afternoon at 4:00 beginning October 14th and continuing for 7 weeks. Trampoline classes for boys and girls are held every Tuesday afternoon at 4:00.

The new Gymnastic program offers something new for the Lubbock area youth. A fundamental skills program is being initiated this fall on Mondays at 4:00. In the spring of 1972 in the new YMCA building, now under construction at 24th Street and Avenue P, complete gymnastic equipment will be installed and advanced gymnastics will be offered and competitive meets will be scheduled.

Boys wrestling teams will be formed and wrestling instruction will begin on Thursday, December 2nd at 4:00 p.m. Early in November a basketball league for 4th, 5th and 6th grade boys will be formed.

Many workers with children and grade school teachers agree that a child's physical development and coordination must parallel his mental development. So the YMCA is offering children an opportunity to develop physically as they develop mentally and thus to become healthy, happy and creative youngsters.

Of course, YMCA Physical Di-

Both question the film's merit as black art, stating that it is not functional to the black community because, in Bailey's words, there is no "vision, looking forward, or solutions" offered.

Clayton Riley offers his rebuttal to the criticism levelled against the use of sex and violence in the film. For Riley, pornography and prostitution are the white man's terminology and reflect a system of white values: "We can't say that a culture is oppressive and then use its standards to describe something about yourself."

Black Journal is a production of NET Division, Educational Broadcasting Corporation. Executive producer: Tony Brown. The program is transmitted nationally by PBS, the Public Broadcasting Service.

Texas Panhandle Community Action Corp. Launches New School Assistance Program

Amarillo—The Texas Panhandle Community Action Corporation recently received a grant in the amount of $29,595, from the Emergency School Assistance Program (ESAP), to administer the project. This project is designed to assist where the local educational agency leaves off. The funds are to be used to meet the special needs of students and the community at large during the desegregation process of schools.

According to George Parrish, Coordinator of the ESAP Project, there are many areas of the project that will be of tremendous benefit to all minority groups. Special emphasis toward in-school and out-of-school projects have been placed in the following areas:

1. Programs that initiate new kinds of vocational training opportunities within the community.
2. Activities that deal with parental attitudes and fears.
3. Programs of ethnic studies and lectures for all races.
4. Programs that relate to delinquency problems in the community.

There are 2,158 Negro students and 1,976 Mexican-American students enrolled in the Amarillo Independent School District. It is estimated that 40 percent of these students will be affected by this proposed project.

Tutorial programs will be developed, and in some areas have already begun, using high school students and focusing upon the development of the basic skills of reading and arithmetic. This program will extend services to remedial readers and provide instructions related to communication skills.

The project will work in harmony with the Amarillo School System, but it is not a part of the School System program nor is any part of this project administered by the School System. The director of the project is Chairman of the Community ESAP Council of the Amarillo Public School System as a representative of the Texas Panhandle Community Action Corporation.

Mrs. O.D. Hollins Honored

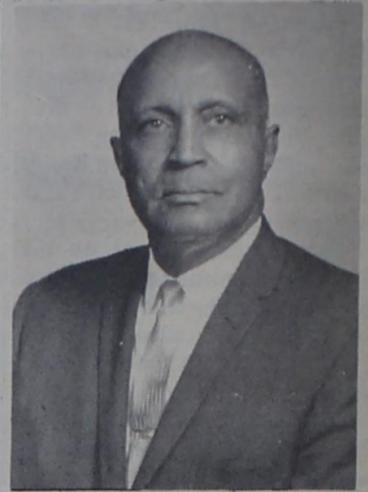

The Youth Department of Lyons Chapel Baptist Church surprised their supervisor, Mrs. O.D. Hollins, with a program dedicated to her for twenty-five years of constant loyal services as head of the department.

Her grandson, Doyle Snell, is president of the department. Mrs. Ruby Avery Moore, president of the Gospel Chorus, spearheaded the idea for this ovation for their supervisor.

Mrs. Hollins was as elated as surprised, because she has led some of these youngsters since they were very small and young. It was a two fold occasion; being also Mrs. Hollins' birthday.

Presiding Elder Reece Superannuates

During the 54th Session of the North West Texas Annual Conference of the African Methodist Episcopal Church, held in Bethel A.M.E. Church recently, Presiding Elder T.B. Reece, who has led and headed this District for more than 22 years, superannuated.

He is well known through out the African Methodist connections. Before becoming a presiding elder, his pastorates included Brownwood and Lubbock, at two different times.

His services to and for this district terminated because of failing health.

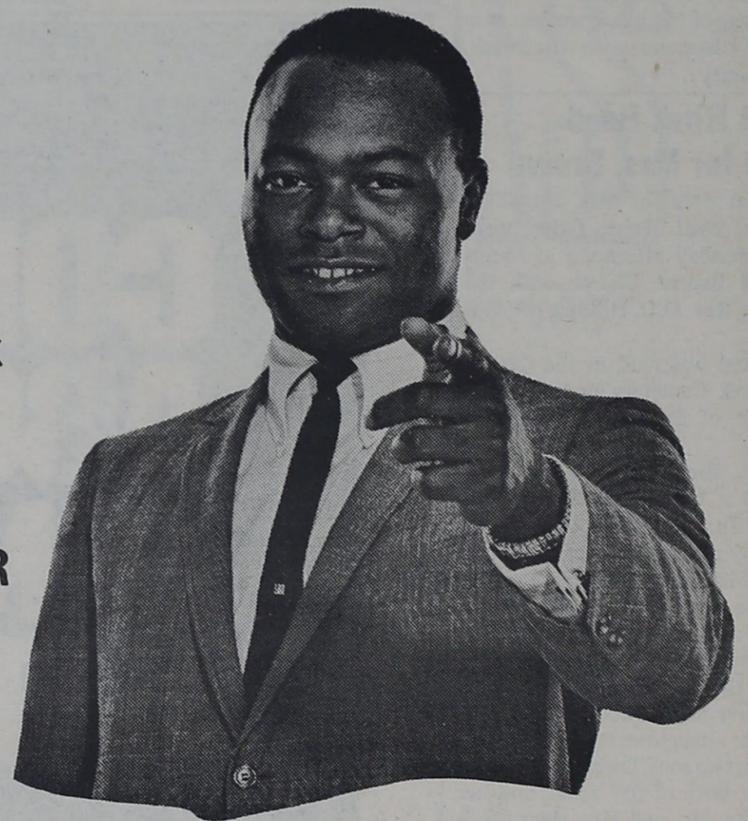

He and his wife now reside in Midland, Texas. His presence will be missed in all the district meetings and conferences. The membership feels as though his decision was a wise choice for health sake. It is our prayers that the doctors will be able to relieve his sufferings and we can enjoy his presence many more years.

His vacancy was filled by Rev. Leon McNeal, pastor of Visitor's Chapel A.M.E. Church of El Paso, Texas.

The executive director of the Lubbock Opportunities Industrialization Center (LOIC), Eddie P. Richardson, is being congratulated for his part in a positive program by Fred H. Moore, retired President of Mobil Oil Company and a member of the Coordinating Board for Texas Colleges and Universities.

Mr. Moore was "impressed" with the local operations and is quite familiar with the works of Rev. Leon Sullivan, founder of the OIC program.

Mr. Moore was accompanied to the Lubbock center by Dr. Jack Steel, Dean of the Business Administration College of Texas Tech University.

Training Program Underway at Bishop College

Dallas—Mrs. Arethelia Alexander directs the Sun Oil Co. job training program at Bishop College. She began her work with six students in a concentrated 16-week pre-employment secretarial training and development program. Of the six in the first group, five remain in the Dallas offices of Sun Oil Co., and one has moved to California and is no longer employed.

The program for 1971-72 began with the opening of school in the last week of August and the first week in September. The six students chosen were tested for skills and aptitudes before they were admitted and Mrs. Alexander is assured of their success.

According to Jack A. Morgan, head of the Human Resources Development Center of Sun Oil Co., Mrs. Alexander lines up the equipment, screens applicants; gives the training and literally puts it all together.

Beginning Oct. 7, Mrs. Vera Gunn will direct a two-day workshop in sensitivity training from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., according to Mrs. Alexander. Mrs. Alexander describes Mrs. Gunn as "multi-talented", and indicated that the class will literally sparkle while she is on campus.

Mrs. Gunn is the executive director of the Philadelphia Heritage House, a place for the general cultural, social, and educational enrichment of community youth and adults. Through such service projects as scholarship referral service, tutorial service, and college placement, and dance classes, grooming and charm classes, youth summer employment, referral service, summer day camp, civic club communications workshops, alcoholic rehabilitation programs for families, cultural and educational trips for students, opportunities are provided for youth to become useful members of society.

Mrs. Alexander is quick to indicate that the persons with whom Mrs. Gunn works have missed so many opportunities to enjoy and learn to appreciate the fine arts, and Mrs. Gunn considers it a privilege to provide these opportunities for them.

Mrs. Gunn has worked successfully as public relations director for the Woman's Christian Alliance, which is one of the largest private child placement agencies in the state of Pennsylvania.

Mrs. Gunn's interest in the placement of black professional models in national advertisement led to her status as a pioneer in opening doors of department stores in Philadelphia to black fashion models. She has also produced the program "Behind the Headlines," a daily newscast over radio station WHAT.

According to Mrs. Alexander, when Mrs. Gunn addresses the Sun Oil secretarial trainees, she will speak on "Secretarial Sense," a program designed to advance the professional growth of the secretary and she will discuss problems unique to secretaries with particular emphasis given to the important problems of developing effective interpersonal relations, getting results through improved communication, and the impact of personality and public relations.

A Different Twist In Disorders Here

While everyone was talking about the shooting of the 16-year-old black youth, Willie Ray Collier, the story of a Texas Tech's student being helped by a black youth at Green Fair Manor Apartments was not known.

The Tech freshman, Ted Barnett, told the West Texas Times that he was enroute to the apartment complex in East Lubbock when he had problems. He said that he approached the residence of Luther Williams, the evening of the first night of disorder, about 7:30 when two black fellows came after him with wooden clubs.

"I didn't know what was going on," said Ted. "Luther came up to me and hollered that we should get out of the area quick," he continued.

On the way out of the apartment complex, the youngster—whom Ted serves as Big Brother—shielded him. "Luther got in the back seat of the car I was driving and a brick, thrown through the back window, hit him," added Barnett.

"I am grateful for what Luther did for me that Thursday evening. I'm his Big Brother and I really appreciate what he did," he continued.

Ted and Luther spent the rest of Thursday evening at the home of a friend of Ted's.

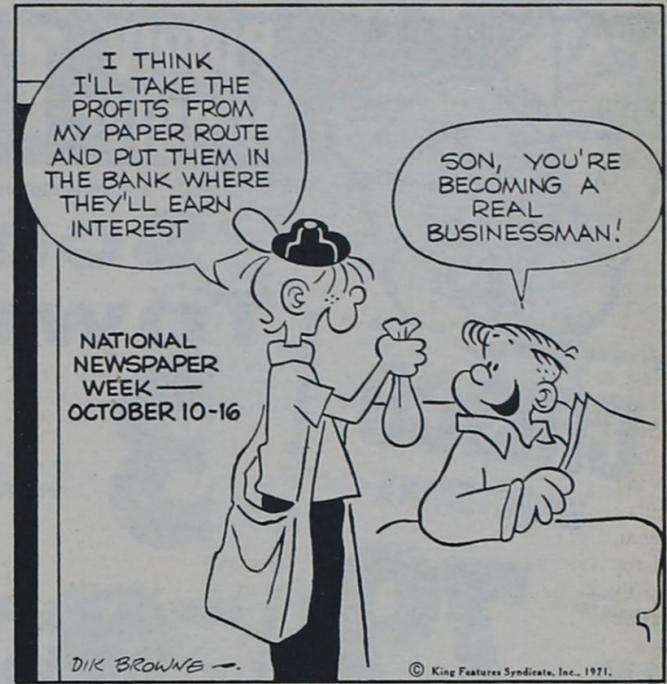

Ted is a nephew of Judge Howard C. Woodard.

Receives Trophy From Her Church

Mrs. Bettye Hollins Miller, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. O.D. Hollins, was presented a trophy at her church, Lyons Chapel Baptist, honoring her for twenty-three years of service as musician for her church.

Bettye's music ability was recognized and discovered by the late Rev. R.E. Manning of Amarillo, Texas, when he noticed her making music on cans and buckets and doing her own shouting and singing while her mother was attending a school of cosmetology in Amarillo.

Her first music teacher was Miss Madlyn Drones of Tahoka, Texas, where her father began his ministry at Pleasant Grove Baptist Church, and she began her music career at the age of 7.

She became a student of Mrs. Lillian C. Struggs after the family moved to Lubbock. When the old Lyons' Chapel was built in the old Queen City area, Bettye started gathering children for her choir and has enjoyed constant success and progress with her music in our community as well as her church.

Lyons Chapel has purchased an organ for the church and Mrs. Henrietta Leggett Clarks assists Mrs. Miller with both piano and organ.

The trophy was in the shape of a music note and the inscription says: "To Bettye for twenty-three years of service." She was indeed surprised and happy.

Mrs. Miller is married to Sammie Miller and the couple have a 13-year-old daughter, Demetra, who is following in her mother's music career footsteps. She is also a music student of Mrs. Struggs.

The trophy was presented during a youth meeting.

Returns to Lubbock's Bethel A.M.E.

At the close of the Annual Conference held here last week, Rev. A.W. Wilson was re-appointed to serve another year as pastor of Bethel A.M.E. Church.

Rev. and Mrs. Wilson began their 20th year of services for and with this congregation. The services they've rendered here and accomplishments that have been realized speaks for themselves. There is yet much to be done as the willing workers of Bethel are happy to serve with them another year and agree with the hymn writer "We are Glad to be Yet Alive."

We have a new presiding elder, but our obligations are the same. Striving to reach more goals and keep our church the leader of our district and the pride of our members and community.

Welcome back, Rev. and Mrs. Wilson.
