Eastern Little League Opens Season Here Tuesday

The six teams of the Eastern Little League—Grays, Barons, Indians, Oilers, Giants and Monarchs—opened their season last Tuesday afternoon with City Councilman Jack Baker pitching the first ball to City Councilwoman Carolyn Jordan, at special ceremonies at the Eastern Little League ball park, East 24th Street and Quirt Avenue.

Gloria Hall, a student at Texas Tech University, sang "America" while Bill Blackwell, former city manager and an ardent fan of the Eastern Little League, gave the invocation. George Woods, member of the Eastern Little League board of directors, served as master of ceremonies for the occasion.

Firms who make it possible for the teams to participate in the summer program are Plains Co-Op Oil Mill, Furr Food, Walt's Service Station, Farmer Compress, Two-by-Four Lumber Company and Alderson Cadillac Company.

With a total of 45 games being played this season, each team will play fifteen games. The first round will end June 2nd. There are five more double headers which will be played on May 29, June 10, 19 and 26th and July 4th.

NEA Charges Desegregation Cost Blacks 31,000 Jobs; Quarter-Billion Dollars Yearly

Washington, D.C.—A report issued May 19th by a spokesman for the National Education Association charged that discriminatory hiring practices in the 17 Southern and border states may be costing black educators a quarter of a billion dollars annually.

In a statement to the Annual Law Institute on the 18th anniversary of the historic Supreme Court decision on school desegregation, Samuel B. Ethridge, director of teacher rights for NEA, urged the NAACP Legal Defense Fund to join NEA in bringing to the attention of the nation's judiciary system and the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare the immediate need to require non-discriminatory practices. He stressed that discrimination has resulted in a projected loss of 31,584 black educators in the South between 1954, when the Supreme court struck down the "separate but equal" theory in public education, and 1970.

Carefully analyzing pupil and teacher statistics from the U.S. Office of Education from 1954, 1968, 1970, Ethridge and an associate, Donald R. Shire, used average pupil-teacher ratios and black student enrollment in each state to project the number of black teachers who would have been employed if school systems had continued to hire black teachers at a rate that reflected the number of black students in the system.

Using the projected figures and the actual numbers of black teachers employed in 1970, the study reveals the 31,584 black teachers displaced by discriminatory hiring and firings were in the following states: Alabama—1,292; Arkansas—1,168; Delaware—345; Florida—2,498; Georgia—

2,359; Kentucky—1,172; Louisiana—2,040; Maryland—1,555; Mississippi—2,168; Missouri—2,230; North Carolina—3,051; Tennessee—1,536; Texas—4,640; Virginia—2,732; and West Virginia—173.

For Kentucky this represents a 47 per cent displacement; Missouri, 37 per cent; Delaware, 30 per cent; Oklahoma, 29 per cent; and Arkansas, 27 per cent. Alabama had the lowest displacement—12 per cent—perhaps reflecting the fact that 99 school systems are carefully scrutinized by the federal courts under the Lee v. Macon statewide desegregation ruling.

In the 17-state region, the black student population grew from 23 per cent in 1954 to 24 per cent in 1970. By contrast, the black teaching population declined from 21 per cent of the total teaching force to 19 per cent.

Since the number of teachers who have been dismissed is estimated at about 6,000, it is apparent that the additional 25,584 displacement comes from failure to hire, or a slowdown in hiring, black teachers, Ethridge said. Many districts no longer employ black teachers. In one state 25 counties that hired one or more black teachers in 1954 had no such teachers employed in 1970.

Earlier this month, the NEA reported that thousands of black students were being pushed out of school, suspended, harassed, arrested, and, in a few instances, killed or maimed. Fragmented data from 238 districts in 11 Southern states (only 10 per cent of the region's districts) indicate that 19,441 students have been involved in school walkouts, 11,146 have been suspended and sometimes expelled, and over 2,000 arrested.

Graduation exercises for Lubbock's senior high schools are scheduled for Thursday, Friday, and Saturday nights, May 25-26. A total of 1944 students are completing high school requirements in the Lubbock schools.

Estacado Thursday Night

The Estacado High School graduation exercise will begin at 8 p.m. Thursday in the Municipal Auditorium. Theme for the speakers will be, "We Have Only Just Begun." The class of 223 students will be presented by Supt. Ed Irons, with the acceptance of the class by School Board member, Mrs. Joan Y. Ervin. The graduates include eighteen who are to finish their high school work in July. Principal E.W. Reed will present the honor graduates, and the class roll will be read by Mrs. Okla Jean Rice, vocational counselor.

Diplomas will be presented by Mrs. Ervin and another member of the School Board, Joe Horkey. Assisting the board members with the presentation will be Don Jones, senior counselor.

Democrats Plan Special Convention Activities for Blacks and Other Minority Groups this Year

The anticipation of a record number of black and other minority delegates and alternates in attendance at the coming Democratic National Convention has prompted the Minorities Division of the Democratic National Committee to plan several special activities in their honor.

Andy Muse, Minorities Division director, predicted that 700 to 800 black delegates and alternates are expected to attend. This will represent a 150 per cent improvement over 1968. A large number of blacks also will be among the hordes of observers who will be in Miami for the July 10-14 presidential nominating convention.

Muse announced that he will convene the initial meeting of the convention's black caucus and will reserve continuing space for that group to meet when they wish. He will also host a mammoth reception for the black delegates and alternates.

Moreover, minority delegates and alternates are expected to be involved in all other aspects of the convention, ranging from the business sessions to a variety of special events designed to inform and entertain.

Convention proceedings will be piped via closed circuit television into the hotel rooms, allowing non delegates the opportunity to view the proceedings.

In addition to the formal 7 p.m. daily business sessions, evening activities planned by the convention's Arrangements Committee include events of special interest to youths, senior citizens, women, and racial, ethnic and Spanish speaking minorities. These special events will begin at 9 a.m. each day of the convention.

Southern University Receives $22,000 Worth of Surplus Equipment from Gulf for Cluster Program

New Orleans, La.—Gulf Oil Corporation has turned over the first of more than $22,000 in surplus laboratory equipment to Southern University in New Orleans under terms of the Cluster Program of the National Alliance of Businessmen.

Purpose of the program is to improve the ability of minority college graduates to compete for private sector jobs and to enhance their chances for professional advancement.

On hand to present a distillation analyzer from Gulf's Venice Refinery was refinery manager H. Frank Toler.

"This machine is worth about $8,500," he explained. "And it is just about brand new."

The device, which automatically analyzes and records the amount of hydrocarbons distilled, or boiled off, at varying temperatures will be put to good use in the Southern University Chemistry lab, according to Dr. Clyde Smith, SUNO Chemistry Department head.

"The analyzer's immediate use will be in routine preparations for the Organic Chemistry Laboratory, and possible undergraduate research projects which would require the use of an instrument of this type," he said.

Ed McCoy of the employee relations department of Gulf Oil Company—U.S., told of other equipment Southern will be receiving, including a second distillation unit, a Chromatograph—a machine which performs various qualitative and quantitative analyses of gases—and two laboratory ovens from Gulf's Harmaville, Pa., Research labs; an analog computer and assorted safety equipment from the company's Philadelphia refinery; and a linear temperature programmer—a device which automatically controls a heating cycle—two hydrogen generators and other lab equipment from Gulf's Cedar Bayou Olefin Plant in Baytown, Texas.

The company's Port Arthur Refinery and Gulf General Atomic, a San Diego, Calif., subsidiary will also be shipping equipment to SUNO shortly.

SUNO launched its Cluster Program March 10 of this year. According to one spokesman for the program, Carlton Thomas of the National Alliance for Businessmen, few minority colleges have had strong programs capable of producing graduates for business and industry, and now that "business and industry are emphasizing equal employment opportunities for minorities, a new demand for minority colleges to give their students higher quality education and the training needed for business careers must be given priority."

He pointed out that the predominantly black institutions were not criticized for their lack of programming where both industry and business are concerned, as they have and are still producing many Negroes who have been able to compete successfully in the areas of their academic discipline.

Currently there are more than 200 corporations working with some 39 minority colleges in 27 functioning clusters.

Seniors, Care About Doing Something

Once again, many young people will be graduating from high school as well as colleges and universities. It's that time of the year when young people are faced with many decisions to make. It's a time for young people of our community to care about what the future will hold for them.

Many of you who are graduating this week could have "copped" out years ago as did some of those who dropped out of school. You could have escaped into another world full of much more frustration than you have faced in the twelve or more years you have just completed.

Young people, regardless of what your race, creed, or color, you've got a lot going for you if you care about doing something in life. Don't get hung up on the negative experiences of your parents, relatives or others who are older than you. You can become anything you desire if you condition yourself from this day on to make it.

Although you have crossed a number of "burning sands" to receive your diploma, you must remember there are still many obstacles in your path toward success and you must be able to handle them all. Don't be guilty of putting things off until tomorrow, rather, face every problem directly. Remember, every problem you are confronted with makes possible more opportunities.

In America there are many problems which need the attention of young people like you to help find positive solutions. All of you can be tomorrow's leaders. This country will always need your positive input.

Young people, don't get hung up in saying, "I can't make it." If you care enough, you can master any livelihood you may desire. There is room enough for those of you who would pursue the areas of medicine, denistry, chemistry, education, business and many others. And at the same time, there are those of you who will dream of the law field, political arena, executive, director and so on and on.

Not all of you will enter college, nor are all of you college material frankly speaking. And those of you who do not wear a college hat, will have opportunities in technical vocational areas which will benefit your future. Don't let people fool you, there is a dire need for young, aggressive electricians, plumbers, brick layers, carpenters and others. The wages are good, and in many instances, surpass many professional opportunities.

Regardless of your chosen fields, young people, it's time for you to face the world and care about what type of contribution you will make. You can only live your own life. You must put your own "thing" in the right perspective.

Seniors, there are three things we would like to pass on to you. We, the staff of the West Texas Times, believe they will help each of you. If you really believe in them, you can't help but care about your future.

They are: (1) Today is the first day of the rest of your life; (2) There are twenty-four hours in a day, and nobody spends twenty-four hours with you, but yourself; and (3) Learn to fall in love with yourself.

Good luck, young people . . .

As I See It

by T. J. Patterson

It's that time of the year again when our young fellows will be playing baseball at Eastern Little League ball park (East 24th Street and Quirt). The season got underway last week and many residents of east Lubbock have been present at each game. This is certainly good!

But, there has to be something done about the activities of many of the young people who attend the games each week day. As parents we must be concerned about the welfare of our young children when they attend these activities.

Last week this writer witnessed several fights by some of the young people on hand. This has to stop! There's no cause for our young people to grow up fighting each other. Not only fighting, but we also have to work on our young people about the use of bad words which can be heard in many areas of the ball park.

Last year, at about this time, this writer called to the attention of parents the negative activities their young people are engaged in after they leave home. Once again this year, I am calling again for the parents' interest in their children.

Of course some of you parents will say that, "my little boy or girl will not participate in such wrong doings." This may be so as far as you are aware, but once they are out of your sight, a lot of things happen. Why not come out to the ball games at the Eastern Little League ball park and witness what I'm talking about.

Come on Mom and Dad, the Eastern Little League needs your support. You can give the League that support if you will come out and help supervise your children. Don't be guilty of sending them to the ball park and forgetting about them.

There's no doubt about it, our young people need your help at the Eastern Little League. Don't stay home and say that these young people are bad. They're not bad, they only need your help, Mom and Dad!

Thought of the Week: "If you pick up a starving dog and make him prosperous, he will not bite you. This is the principal difference between dog and man."

Absentee voting got underway Wednesday, May 24th, for the June 3rd run-off. Why not vote absentee if you will be out of the county during election time? A governor and other important offices will be decided on June 3rd. If you are a resident of Lubbock County, you may vote absentee through May 30th on the second floor of the courthouse.

As I See It, Mayor Morris "Moe" Turner has got something going at City Hall. Being in office for less than three weeks, he has asked the chairman of the Planning and Zoning Commission to resign, proposed that the city council be expanded and insisted that curtailment on gambling and other vices in Lubbock be given top priority.

This is what I call putting things together in a short period of time. He is certainly changing the image of City Hall. As Paul Beane of KEND Radio said recently, "The next two years at City Hall will be interesting to report." You know, Paul may have a point there.

Rev. A.L. Davis, chairman of the board of LOIC, has plans for some economic development in east Lubbock in the very near future. The minister of Greater St. Luke Baptist Church has made many miles recently to make this project a success. The Times will keep you informed of his progress.

Think!

Trust and Faith

By Dr. R. W. Jones

On May 13, 1972, another dose of arsenic was injected into the veins of Amarillo, Texas that brought it closer to death. The needle and syringe were the negative ballots against a possible solution to the waning economy of the city—Urban Renewal.

Idiotic and assinine propaganda was accepted and digested by the gullible citizenry, because they were easily thrown off guard by previous experiences with the powers that be. Although they cut off their noses to spite their faces, they can not be entirely blamed or called irrational or stupid, because even a dog that has been burnt once will avoid fire and be cautious of anything that reminds him of the previous burn.

When I was approached about my preference, for or against the project, and I said that I was in favor, my inquirer said, "Doc, examine some of the people who are pushing the proposal for urban renewal. Their change of policy can be compared to if you suddenly started campaigning for George Wallace for president."

It is always thrown in the face of the Negro citizen that his community is divided, which is true, but the past few weeks have shown that the white community is as divided as much or more than we are.

So many of the supporters of the program have in the past sat on their apathy and done nothing but deny that Amarillo is a sick and dying town. They have been like a man who has fallen into a cesspool up to his neck and prayed that no wind came along and made waves.

Our city commissioners, school board, and county officials have lied and betrayed the people until they have lost all faith and trust in anything they do. Our city commissioners use the law, or break it, at their discretion and one tries to be the principal of the entire city.

We realize the poor people of Amarillo were sabotaged—in fact some of them helped the process—but if they had had faith and trust in their officials this could never have happened.

The actions of some of the defeaters of the project reminds me of a study done of prisoners of the Korean War—especially Turkish, English, and Americans. The Turkish soldiers had to be guarded twice as much because they were united and loyal to each other, while the English and Americans could be bought with an extra portion of ration. Since they had no loyalty and trust for each other, they needed less surveillance because they watched each other in order to gain favor from the guards.

In an editorial I gave over KGNC-TV I made the statement, "The Negro, Mexican, Catholic, women, and Jews are daily faced with discrimination and the city officials do nothing about it." Some of the responses which I got were that I am too pessimistic, and one of my friends said if I dislike the town so much why don't I leave. However, May 12, 1972, the news was released that students from Santa Fe, New Mexico were allegedly discriminated against and insulting remarks were made to them while in Amarillo. An attempt was made to whitewash the seriousness—and even the truth of the matter—hoping that it would fade away. This happened to delegates of Jehovah's Witness, but because they refused to allow the NAACP to pursue the incident, it went unnoticed.

In 1970, this author and several representatives from the NAACP went to the Mayor and city commissioners requesting consideration for an anti-discrimination ordinance similar to the one in El Paso, Texas, but to no avail. We knew something like the Santa Fe incident would eventually happen and when we stated that the deed would give the city a bad image, one worse than the existing one, one of the commissioners blindly stated that Amarillo had a good image.

There should be no surprise on the part of anyone that the urban renewal proposal was defeated, because nothing progressive or with any link to the Federal government will ever pass in Amarillo.

The next time the white man says that the Black community is divided, point out the following defeats that would have helped the city: liquor by the drink, bond issue for a new courthouse, and the urban renewal proposal.

The citizens of Amarillo need to take their heads out of that hole, stop being subtle, and face up the facts of the town and try to do something to erase that negative image that has been painted all over the nation about Amarillo.

To be a little cynical now, I must repeat for the benefit of the ones who have dealt the minorities so many outrageous injustices in the past year through covert racism—what you sow, also shall you reap.

Mt. Vernon United Methodist Church

From the Pastor's Desk

The other day, a man was shot at the close of one of his political talks. Too many of our so-called leaders spend too much time preaching hate, division of the races, so much so, it is dangerous for anyone to be on the street.

What our nation needs more than anything is to return to God and repent of our national and individual sins. God is not mocked; for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap. (Galatians 6:7). Another scripture the words of Jesus reads thus, "And if a kingdom be divided against itself, that kingdom cannot stand, And if a house be divided against itself, that house cannot stand." (Mark 3:24-25).

It is now time for America to wake up and read, for the handwriting has been on the wall for sometime now. First with Medger Evers, Malcom X, John F. Kennedy, Robert Kennedy and now George Wallace. How long, Lord, how long?

Remember Dr. Weldon Butler, District Superintendent of the Plainview District will be our preacher on Sunday, May 28th. Come out and let us pack the house. He is a great preacher.

The flowers on the Altar last Sunday were placed there in memory and honor of Mrs. L.B. Wortham by Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Walker and family. We are always happy for memorial flowers, thanks.

Friendship Baptist Church

Brownfield—Mrs. Ethel Williams, superintendent of the Sunday School was at her post of duty. The lesson was reviewed by Pastor S. N. North, and highly enjoyed by all in attendance. The morning message was brought by Pastor North, "For I am the event of the Apostle that am not me to be called the Apostle because I persecuted. I persecuted the Church of God." Text was "But by the Grace of God I am what I am," found in I Corinthians 15:10.

Training Union was deeply discussed and trained by our pastor. Topic was, "The two builders went out to build" from Matt. 7:1-27.

ringing the bell

with Bob Tieuel

We have many friends and relatives deep in the heart of Dixie and it is always good to come back. It has been quite a spell since we were here last and sampled that good old Southern hospitality. It's really hard to beat.

Needless to say, as we pen these lines, the shooting of Governor Wallace has had profound effects in the political thinking of many in "Wallace Country", especially among lower and middle income whites. While many blacks are sympathetic, the general sentiment is that those who foster hate and ill-will usually die by the same token, etc.

And in Louisiana, new governor Edwin Edwards has promised a new deal for the minorities in the state citing the fact that Louisiana ranks 47th in the nation in the number of public high school graduates, with only Alabama, Georgia and Mississippi trailing Louisiana. He said that one of five Louisianans lives in poverty and that we are 44th in the nation in per capita income, while paradoxically this section of the country (Southeast) has for the past two decades enjoyed the fastest rate of growth of any section of the nation. Edwards is Louisiana's first Cajun Governor, too. Right on, brother!

Raymond C. Hart, minister of St. Mark's A.M.E. Zion Church of Big D, located at East Illinois and Kiest Blvd., will be our guest columnist soon, with a full report of the General Conference of his denomination held recently in Mobile, Alabama. It should be good. In Shreveport, Louisiana, the board of bishops of the Christian Methodist Episcopal Church recently issued a strong statement to the country on several matters vital to the interest of black Americans and other minorities and excerpts are enclosed here as follows.

Dear Bob: We hope that you will find the enclosed message "to the world" informative and challenging and that your readers will share with us in many of its sentiments. We too, are bellringers.

A Message from The Church to The World

"The role of the Christian Church in the history of black Americans must always be heroic and redemptive. We say this not to ignore the degree to which the spirit of the world has invaded the spirit of the church. But we invite you to recover what was once so real to our fathers: that the Christian Church has an essential role in the life and destiny of black Americans. The Church is our oldest institutional possession, and its ministry continues to be leaders with the most freedom to serve. We urge you, therefore, to let the experience of God and His message come through to you and through you to the world.

"We regret that racism is a program and a practice by Anglo-Americans to discriminate, segregate and persecute Black Americans. The program and practice take the form of residential patterns preserved and promoted by economic, legal, political, and religious ideologies. Consequently, a society which is open, democratic, and free is impossible.

"It appears to us that the President of the United States, has declared war on the Judiciary System and with it the Constitution to preserve the program and practice of race superiority, injustice and oppression of the poor, the Blacks and other underprivileged minorities.

"Code phrases such as "force busing", "neighborhood schools", "racial balance," "force consolidation of school districts", "referendum for Constitutional Amendment against integration" are an attack upon the 1954 Supreme Court Decision and the 1964 Civil Rights Legislation. It is also an attack on the more recent legal opinions by the judicial system to implement the earlier decision and legislation."

Footnote: Here in Morehouse Parish (Bastrop, Louisiana) one of the most thorough systems of integration of schools has been in operation here for the last three years. Student body is about 50-50; faculty about 50-50 and there has been no serious racial incident since its inception. It is almost unbelievable. We shall deal in detail with this unique situation in the deep South in a coming article. Bussing is no problem in Bastrop, Louisiana, you can bet. School boards and administrators should take a look at this model situation.

Bulletin: Thousands from over the nation were on their way to the annual homecoming and rodeo festivities at Boley, Oklahoma—the largest all-black town in the U.S. of A. May 26, 27 and 28th. Last years' attendance of some 12,000 is expected to be exceeded according to reports.

See you from Boley here next week. U be here.

Scout Camping Season Around The Corner

Sunday, June 2nd will find nearly 200 Boy Scouts and leaders heading for Camp Post, Texas and the first of 8 exciting weeks of outdoor skills, fun, aquatics, and living. Bob Hurst, South Plains Council Camping Coordinator, said this week that many new features will highlight this season's camping schedule.

Camp Post, featuring aquatics and rifle range as well as standard Scouting skills, will brighten the week with the inauguration of the Rainbo skill trial on Fridays. This Trail is for Scouts who are First Class candidates seeking the First Class award. Each Friday noon will find all Scouts in camp doing campsite cooking as all facilities are made ready for the 300 parent visitors coming to view the traditional closing campfire. The Order of the Arrow Indian dancers will perform for the campfire audience.

Camp Tres Ritos, the council facility in the Carson National Forest in New Mexico, will open on Sunday, July 2nd and continue for a 5 week season. Special programs have been made a part of this mountain setting to take advantage of the unique location.

Each Monday two rather small select groups of Scouts, 10-15 in number, leave camp with their leader and 2 trail guides for a 30-50 mile trek. Each person has their personal gear and a share of the food and camping essentials on their pack frames. Friday they return to Tres Ritos as experienced Mountain Men campers.

A new feature in the mountain camp program for 1972 is the initiation of a 2 day and night "survival" hike for 9 selected Scouts, one from each Troop in camp. They will live off of the land from Tuesday morning until they returned Thursday afternoon.

Hurst concluded by stating that even though Camp Post is completely reserved for this season, a few campsite reservations are still available for troops at Tres Ritos. These spaces are open during the weeks of July 2-8 and July 16-24, and troop requests are taken on a first-come, first reserved basis.

Lubbock

Sports of The Times

by Joe Kelly

Judging by the way the Donny Anderson Pro-Celebrity Classic was accepted by participants and fans, Lubbock has inaugurated another sports feature. . . successfully.

The event was blessed with beautiful weather, always important, especially to a golf tournament. There were plenty of pros and celebrities. The tournament had financial backing and good direction.

The sponsors seemed happy. The players were happy. The pros and celebrities had a good time. The gallery was disappointing in size, but that can be blamed on the fact that the tournament was held on probably the worst working days for the average person to play hockey and observe the activities.

I don't know what more could have been done for those coming here from distant points. They were given the red carpet airport treatment, they were wined and dined, they were given typical West Texas hospitality.

And they responded to it. Ben Peek, who has been more than successful promoting tournaments at Hillcrest Country Club, said that every visitor to whom he had talked was high in his praise of Lubbock.

And something else was learned, if it wasn't known already—Donny Anderson is held in high regard among sports stars. Many of them came just because it was Donny's venture, as well as the fact that it was for a worthwhile charity. It was a success from start to finish.

Random Observations—The Monday night dinner show was probably the highlight of the off-links activity. Two people stole the show, the great Dizzy Dean and entertainer Foster Brooks, while Bake Turner and Joe Heathcock added much to it. . . Dale Robertson, whose horses run with regularity at Ruidoso Downs and who is no stranger to this area, did a fine job as MC. . . Willie Wood, now a coach with San Diego after a pro career that is almost without equal as a defensive back, said that he was "having a ball." Willie said that he wasn't shooting too well, even though he is playing quite a little golf these days. He remarked that he already had started working with San Diego and was enjoying it. . . "Down and out!" Bobby Layne shouted at Willie just before tee-off time Tuesday morning. Willie just grinned and then laughed. . . Rick Barry, with the most colorful pants in the tourney, earned the respect of everyone. He played in the ABA finals Saturday, hopped a plane immediately and arrived here Sunday night. . . Judy Rankin, wife of former Tech footballer Yippy Rankin of Midland, and Marlene Hage also earned everyone's esteem. They had difficulty getting to Lubbock arrived almost without sleep and then had to head back to North Carolina right after the tournament Tuesday night.

Don Maynard, described by almost everyone who saw him as "too small to be a star," puts the lie to that assumption. "I've been a wide receiver in pro football longer than anybody else," he declared. . . Don took an unscheduled swim in the Red Raiderland pool Sunday night, clothes, boots and all. Just a little goodnatured horseplay. . . Dizzy Dean, who always seems to say the right thing, told the crowd Monday night that "Falstaff is behind this tournament all the way and we'll be back next year." That the tournament will return seemed almost a foregone conclusion after this year's success, but Dizzy just made it a little more positive. Diz said that brother Paul, who operated the Lubbock Hubbers in the early 50s, is now in Oklahoma City. . . Mayor Moe Turner's golf game indicates that he'll do a good job running the city. He swings a mean club and stayed right in there with the best of the golfers.

Carroll Dale, the great Green Bay receiver, was paying a return visit here. Carroll came to Lubbock for the Fellowship of Christian Athletes meeting in March. "I remember it well," he declared. "The dust blew all the time. I came in one night, had six speaking engagements at schools the next day and flew out the next morning. I was pooped."

. . . DeWitt Weaver, Jr., who spent many of his growing years in Lubbock, drove the 365-yard 18th hole Monday. He tried to cut the dogleg Tuesday, wound up in the rough, chipped to the fairway nicely, then two-putted. He was the low pro Monday. "No problem," DeeDee said. "I just cut the corner too short." . . His daddy, former Tech coach and Missouri Valley commissioner, may be the next Southeastern Conference commissioner. . . Frank Cady, one of the celebrities who really was enjoying the whole thing, was called "caddy" by the PA announcer. He was joking about that with some friends. As he stepped up to No. 1 tee, his name was pronounced correctly. "Congratulations!" he shouted, taking off his cap and waving it wildly in the air.

Chris Blocker, the big blond bomber, always popular here, was "congratulated" on his Memphis Open play. "Yeah, a 303. Never could break 300!" he said with a short laugh and shake of his head.

. . . Don Maynard grew serious Sunday night in talking about pro football. "There's a lot of politics in it," he stated. "You never know where you might be next. Right now I'm not sure about my future." Don also pointed a finger at "dirty" play in the league. "It's getting worse," he said. "Joe Namath's injury is an example. That was the most flagrant violation I've ever seen." . . Elmer Wilson, sporting an ear-to-ear beard and mustache, was one of the enthusiastic amateurs playing. The former Texas Tech halfback and sometime quarterback still lives in Pampa, had a ball talking with old friends.

Amarillo—Mr. and Mrs. A.J. Davis, Jr., and baby, spent the week-end with their father and father-in-law, Rev. A.J. Davis, Sr., and sister, Miss Elaine Davis, of 1903 N. Washington. Rev. Davis is the pastor of Johnson Chapel A.M.E. Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Davis, Jr., have just returned from a trip to the Holy Land where they spent their vacation. They reported having had a wonderful time in Rome. They also spent a few days on their return in Jacksonville, Fla., with his mother, Mrs. A.J. Davis. Mrs. Davis was called to Florida to the bedside of her mother who is critically ill and in intensive care in the hospital.

Mrs. Louise Jenkins of St. Louis, Mo., visited the Leakes family of 1201 N. Adams recently. Mrs. Jenkins is employed by the School Board of St. Louis. This was her first visit to Amarillo.

Also visiting the Leakes home is Mrs. Rose Mary Ward, of Houston, Texas. Mrs. Ward is a niece of Mrs. Leakes.

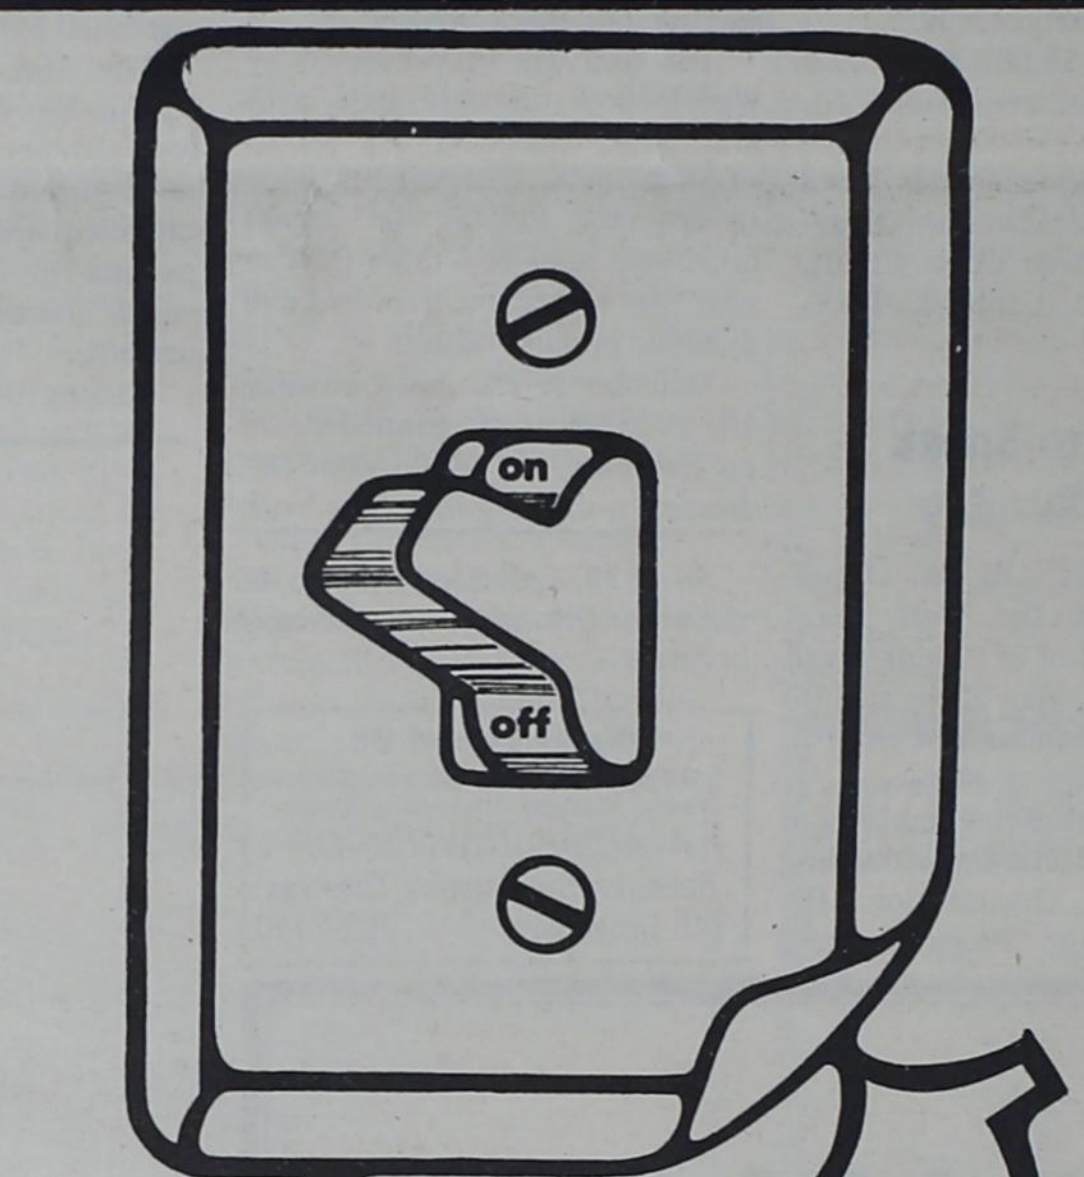

Mrs. Dorothy Parrish, of 1613 N.W. 15th, and wife of the writer of this column, is seriously ill in North West Texas Hospital. Your prayers and spiritual help is appreciated.

. . . Walter Bednarz, Falstaff representative who lives in Slaton, played the role of host and fidgeted Sunday night over the arrival of Dizzy Dean. Tuesday morning Walt said: "All I want to do is see Dizzy hit one ball." He saw him—and it was a good drive. . . And then there was Mickey Mantle. The former Yankee great used a 1 iron almost exclusively and drew ahs and ohs with his booming drives. Mickey couches over the ball like he did at the plate. He doesn't have the usual prescribed grooved swing. All he does is hit the ball longer and farther than anyone else. I was told he used a wood twice on Monday—and fanned on one shot! . . . Doak Walker, everyone's idol, was almost the best kept secret of the torney. Layne grabbed him and Mantle Sunday night, took them to his home. Monday night Doak and Bobby missed the celebrities dinner show, but Mickey drew an ovation when introduced. . . A final parting remark: It will be a long time until next year after this great show. Congratulations to all who had a part in making it a success.

Early Childhood Program to Help Lubbock's Pre-School Children Overcome Handicaps

Children as young as three years old share in a new program being conducted by the Lubbock Public Schools. It is part of an expanding state plan for special education developmental early childhood education programs for exceptional children.

Basically, it is a preventative program. It seeks to teach pre-school children how to handle their handicaps, and, while coping with the emotional and physical adjustments, to derive the greatest educational benefits later on from regular school. The tuition-free program, began here in September, 1970, with classes provided for approximately fifty children at Guadalupe Elementary School. Examples of types of problems that the program is designed to overcome are hearing, vision, speech, language, and orthopedic difficulties. The program is not planned for economically or culturally deprived children, as is the well-known governmental Head Start, nor is it particularly for the mentally retarded child.

Tommy Herring, Director of Special Education for the schools said, "Children will be accepted who have certain identifiable needs in the areas of physical handicaps or learning disabilities. Although these handicaps might be expected to preclude success in first grade, special assistance in the early grades might enable the children to make normal or even above average achievement when they begin regular school." Students who are assisted in making a normal progression from one grade to another despite certain impairments use fewer taxpayer dollars than do those who repeat grades, the school man said.

In regard to enrolling of three-year-olds, Herring explained that the earlier identification of handicaps is made, the more time there is to prepare the youngsters to handle their specific problems. With the toddlers, there is time possibly to work with the same children another year or more.

Lubbock Independent School District applied for and received a state grant, which was supplemented by local funds, for the program in early childhood education. Lubbock was one of five school districts in the state which was approved by Texas Education Agency. Financing is similar to most public school courses, with both state and local funding being used. The local system spent $4,000.00 in renovation of facilities to accommodate the program, a one-time expense. School officials say that the remodeled facilities are adaptable to other kindergarten use, such as in extending the new public kindergartened when additional space is needed.

Activities and skills common to pre-school programs such as learning colors and numbers, language development, social maturity, emotional stability are taught in the classes. Herring said the difference comes in arranging these learning tasks to help overcome the identified handicaps. The school day is from 9:30 until 1:30; however, next year the day will begin at 8:30 and end at 1:30.

Identification of the eligible children begins with referrals from physicians, the city-county health department, other community agencies, and from parents. Mrs.

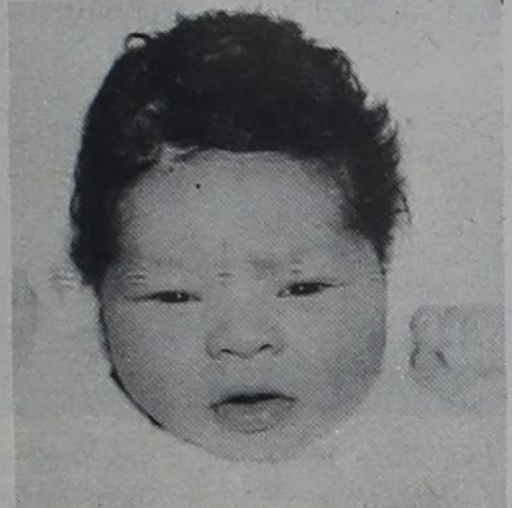

Cathy Fowler, Special Education Counselor, assists in identifying the handicaps of children which might qualify them for the free instruction. Final eligibility is determined by the administration. Herring stressed that there will be vacancies for next year in the program. Parents who believe their children may qualify should contact him at the public schools administrative offices at 1628 19th Street for further information.

STATE Capital NEWS

By BILL BOYKIN

Austin, Texas—State agencies received a recent warning to renew efforts to recruit minority group and women employees "before they are confronted with ultimatums and deadlines" from Washington and federal courts.

The agencies were reminded by the Governor's Committee on Human Relations staff that jurisdiction of the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission has been extended to cover local and state governments.

EEOC will be giving "very critical examinations" to state employment practices, Committee on Human Relations Director James R. Ray wrote the agencies and departments.

Federal law goes further than the state statute making it unlawful to discriminate against a person because of race, religion, color or national origin. The U.S. law also bars discrimination on the basis of sex.

Each state agency, advised Ray, will have to submit a detailed action plan to prove non-discrimination.

"In other words, you will not be able to prove non-discrimination without a federally-approved plan for recruitment of minorities and women for all levels of employment in your agency or department," the state units of government were told.

"Historically, the main concern of (EEOC) has been with numbers or quotas, and claims of recruitment difficulties have been summarily rejected as valid excuses," the Human Relations Committee staff maintained.

"Significant steps" were applauded within the state government during recent years to achieve equal employment opportunities.

However, department heads were placed on notice they must be sure each house "is in order and can stand the test (of non-discrimination) in federal court."

Court Overhaul Recommended—A task force composed of legal professional leaders, judges and legislators has joined in recommending modernization of the Texas court system.

The group, headed by State Supreme Court Chief Justice Robert W. Calvert, released a draft of its proposal at a meeting here. Highlights include:

Merging the State Supreme Court and Court of Criminal Appeals, giving courts a civil appeals authority to hear criminal as well as civil cases, merging overlapping district courts and providing a single district court with multiple judges for metropolitan counties, creating a state-wide system of new county-level courts with judges who are lawyers to replace all present courts below district level, setting up a system of administration by a statewide administrator and deputies under the chief justice of Texas, selection of judges in non-partisan elections or by gubernatorial appointments and requiring that all judges be lawyers.

Fifty-One Counties Now Poverty Areas—Fifty-one counties are now designated as poverty areas for Hill-Burton hospital construction aid. Those counties may receive up to 90 per cent of money for constructing hospitals and related facilities from the federal program.

The original 13 counties designated were Starr, Zapata, Kinney, Jim Hogg, LaSalle, Dimmit, Willacy, Presidio, Brooks, Real, San Jacinto, Houston and Duval.

Added to the list under the new interpretation were Maverick, Falls, San Saba, Robertson, Red River, Kenedy, Fayette, Lavaca, Grimes, Hidalgo, Lee, Trinity, Irion, Leon, Edwards, Mason, Goliad, Llano, Shelby, Franklin, Marion, Hamilton, Rains, Cottle, Hudspeth, Burleson, Motley, Camp and Coleman.

Companied Must Pay—State Board of Insurance announced it has received complaints that some insurance companies are requiring customers to pay costs of physical examinations before renewing coverage.

"Physical examinations used for automobile insurance underwriting by licensed Texas companies have a similar purpose to that of securing credit reports, and as such must be directly paid for by the insurance Company concerned," the Board stated in an official memorandum to companies writing auto insurance.

Short Snorts—State Senator Barbara Jordan, a new congressional nominee and the first black elected to the Texas Senate since 1883, will serve as governor-for-a-day June 10th.

Bureau of Mines forecasts June demand for Texas crude oil of 3,460,000 barrels daily, an increase of 700,000 barrels over May.

The state has paid out $846,783 to 197 counties for writing voter registration certificates for 2,164,224. Fifty-seven other counties, including the three largest, have not filed reports requesting their 40 cents for each voter registered.

Secretary of State Bob Bullock urged county political party chairmen to hurry return of forms detailing anticipated expenses for the June 3 runoff primary.

New Idea Being Tested In Water Recharge

Lamesa—A process well-known to petroleum engineers working to get oil out of the ground could prove a virtual life-saver to the West Texas plains by providing a means to get water back into the ground, according to an engineer who addressed the Lamesa Rotary Club here Thursday, May 11th.

Texas Tech University Prof. Philip Johnson, a member of the petroleum engineering faculty, said by giving playa water an extra push at the well head a research team last summer pumped 125 acre feet of the water into the underlying Ogallala Aquifer at five lake sites. An acre foot is equal to one foot of water covering an acre.

Gravity recharge of the Ogallala has been attempted for several years, Johnson said. Both cased and uncased wells have been used.

"Almost without exception these wells have had low recharge rates and eventually have been abandoned because they plug near the well bore," he said.

In the new research, a well completion technique is used on all wells to permit pumping the water into the aquifer under pressure.

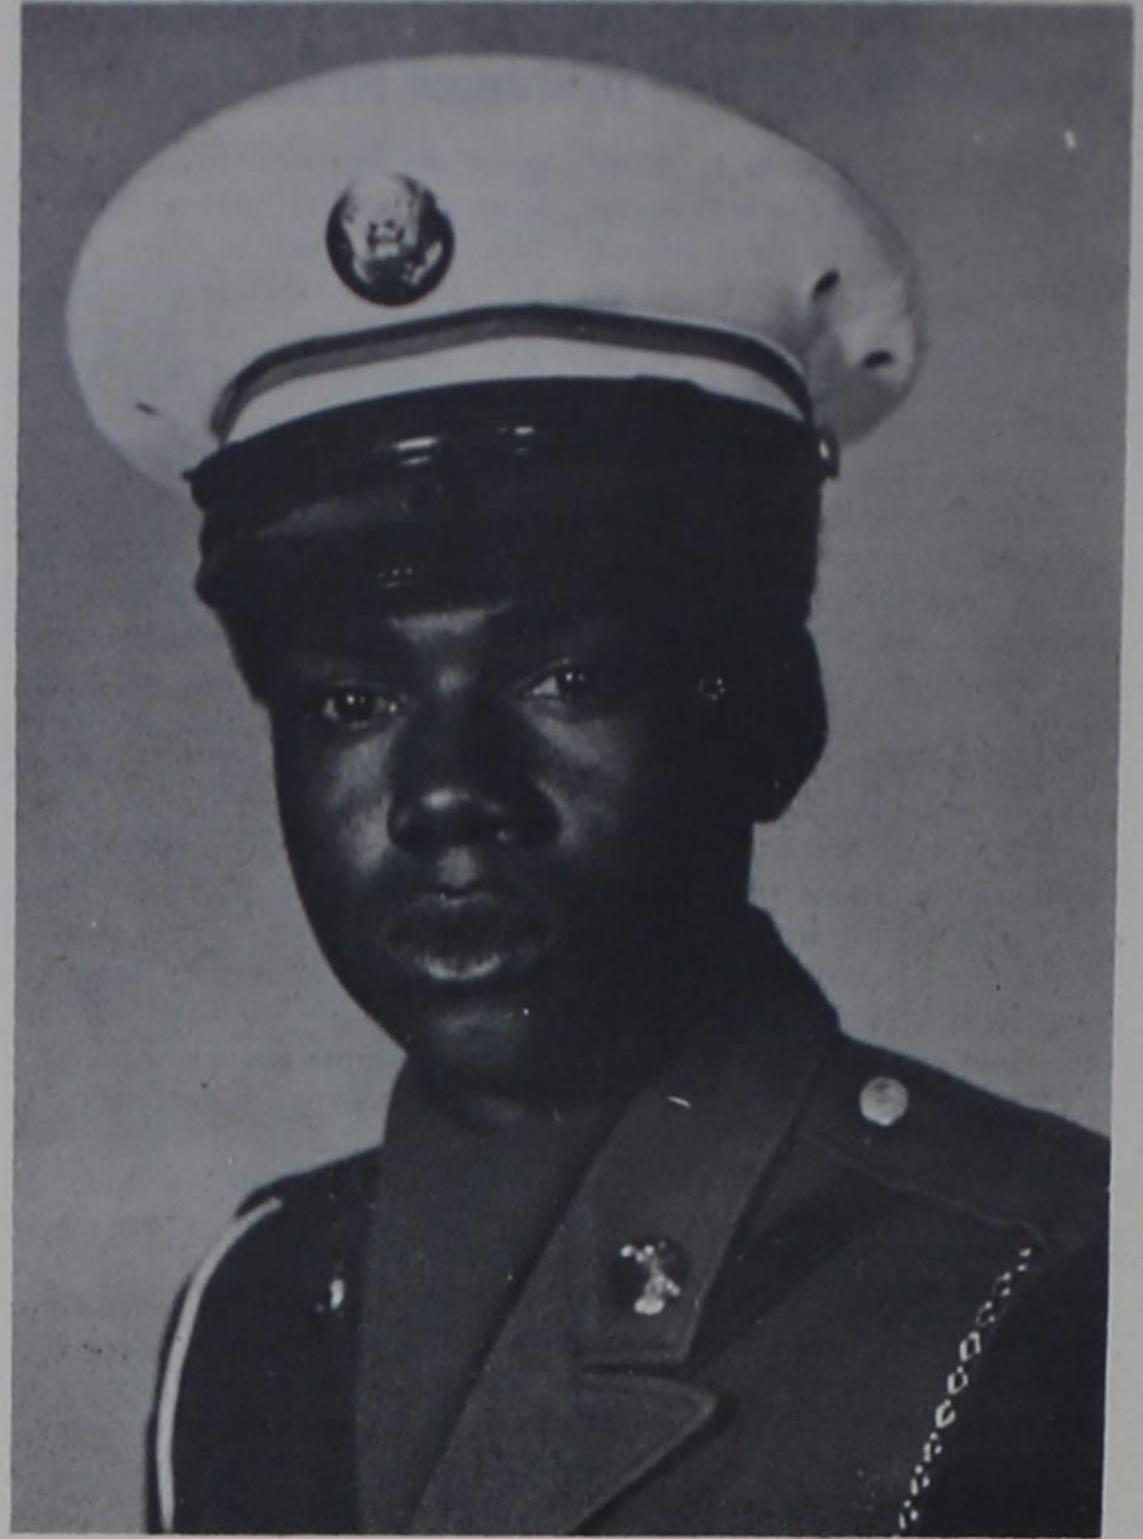

"One of the most encouraging aspects of the project," said Johnson, "is that we have observed no decrease in the rate of recharge with prolonged pumping."

Maximum surface pressures observed to date have not exceeded 80 pounds per square inch pressure recorded by the wellhead gauge (psig). Injection rates have come up to 2,000 gallons per minute.

Johnson told his Lamesa audience that rains during the past week will provide supplies of water for a continuation of the research.

Although some of the lake water always is used for irrigation, he said, most of it evaporates. The new recharge technique is fast enough to prevent most of this evaporation loss.

Potatoes were introduced into Europe from America.

MILITARY POLICE STUDENT—Pvt. Billy W. Owen, a graduate of Dunbar High School, is awaiting his graduation from Military Police School at Fort Gordon, Georgia. He is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. E.J. Owen, Sr.

He graduated from basic training at Fort Ord, California, on March 24th and began Military Police training. After graduation, he will take the confinement training and will be stationed at a permanent duty station.

Why I Like Cub Scouting

(Editor's Note: These letters were written by boys of Pack 139 of the Cub Scouts of Ella Iles Elementary School. They are expressing why they like Cub Scouting.)

Scouting is a good thing to do. I like it because it is fun. But it can also help you become a better boy and a better man. That is why I like Scouting.

Kevin Lusk

I like scouting because the projects we do I like. I like scouting because of the things we do and the places we go. I like the activities. We do a lot of things. I like all the people who work with us. That is why I like Cub Scouting.

Karl Lusk

I like Cub Scouts because you learn different things. We can communicate with each other well. We go on different trips together and have fun.

Terrance Patton

I like the Scouts because you get to go on trips, picnics, and have parties. I enjoy the trips that we have gone on. We had fun when we ate. This is why I like Cub Scouts, because it is fun and our Den leader is nice.

Jeff Austin

I like Cub Scouts because we go on hikes and picnics. We go on a lot of trips and we talk about a lot of things. In the Webelos Cub Scouts, you learn how to do things such as tie knots. Learn about political stuff. Learn what you are supposed to do as like people and get along with people. We do reports. We go to church. We play softball for badges and that is why I like Cub Scouts.

Gregory Loggins

I like Cub Scouts because you get to meet new friends and you get to study history, wildlife, rocks and insects. I like Scouts because you get to go places and visit people. Your Den mother and father will take you to football games, basketball games and baseball games when they can or when they have time. I enjoy Scouting because we have been going places and having programs together.

Thomas Patterson

I like Cub Scouting because it gives me something to do. It is fun. We go on hikes, picnics, and football games. We play softball, run track and play baseball. We also have to work. We do exercises, we help other people too. We have badges, as aquanaut badge, outdoorsman badge, athlete badge, sportsman badge, geologist badge, scientist badge, naturalist badge, forester badge, traveler badge, citizen badge, scholar badge, showman badge, and a craftsman badge. These are the reasons why I like Cub Scouting.

Kevin Bryant

I like Cub Scouts because it can help me. I learned many things when we went camping. We did so many different things and played many games. We talked about many different things such as government. That is why I like Cub Scouts and would like to know more about it.

Leroy Adams

I like Cub Scouts because we go on picnics. We go to the parks and play. We go to football games and watch them play. That's why I like Cub Scouts.

Police Beat

Stabbing

Lish Dansby, 2222 16th Street (rear), reported to the Lubbock Police Department that two young fellows, which he would know if he say again, forced their way into his home after knocking on the door.

According to Dansby, they robbed him of $5.00, which they took from his wallet, along with a half-dollar, with a hole in it.

After robbing him, Dansby said that they forced him to drive them to 19th Street and Avenue B where they got out. Dansby, who suffered a knife wound, drove himself to Methodist Hospital for treatment.

Fight Victim

Leon Sheppard, 1008 East 28th Street, reported to the Lubbock Police Department that while he was at the Checkerboard Cafe, a person that he knew threw a beer bottle at him. The bottle struck him in the back of the head. He received a cut on the head and the left arm.

Assault

Johnny Lee George, of 705 Avenue E, reported to the Lubbock Police Department that four men did assault him and knock two of his teeth loose. He also told police that the men gave him a cut on the right cheek.

He was not robbed. It could have been that he didn't have anything of value on him at the time of the assault.

Theft Over $50.00

Waymon Reed, 2605 Cherry Avenue, reported to Lubbock police that he parked his truck in front of his house. While he was inside, someone unknown took a lawn mower from it.

ice that he parked his truck in front of his house. While he was inside, someone unknown took a lawn mower from it.

It was learned that the mower was valued at approximately $165.

Aggravated Assault

Jo Neil Johnson, of 1016 David Avenue, reported to the police department that she received cuts and bruises about her face and shoulders from a 27-year-old man who struck her and her 16-year-old son.

She said she would file charges against the man this week.

Theft Over $5.00

John Ross, Jr., 2720 East 8th Street, reported to Lubbock Police that someone unknown did take, from beneath the mattress of his bedroom, a .22 caliber revolver.

The revolver was valued at $27.00.

Around the hub city

Robert Lee Deary, son of Mrs. Valarie Drake of Amarillo, Texas and a graduate of Dunbar High School, is visiting his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Johnson, and other family members here. He resides in St. Louis, Mo.

Jesse Johnson is reported not feeling well again.

Let's not forget to continue to pray for the sick and shut-in, not only those who belong to our individual churches, but for all the ill known to us.

Mrs. Judith Ann Berry, who is a music instructor at Matthews Junior High School, entertained her class with a picnic last Friday evening at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E.C. Struggs, at 2002 Cedar Avenue. Her principal and and his wife and other adults also attended the affair. Mr. Struggs did a marvelous job, as usual, with the bar-b-que chickens and all the other fixings that go with this type of an outdoor gathering. A lovely evening was enjoyed by all, and even the weather was cooperative.

Among the college students home from college are Janette Cunningham, Frank and Charles Melton, Carolyn Rollison, Ricky Cunningham and others. These youngsters will be available for summer jobs, except the Meltons.

Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Anderson, Jr., of San Angelo, Texas, visited briefly here Sunday with Mrs. J.A. Chatman and sons. They were enroute from Canyon, Texas, where they visited a friend at West Texas State University. The Andersons have a new son, which brings the total to two. He is the nephew of the late Mrs. Lillie Mae Anderson, who had so many friends here.

The sick and shut-in here include Rev. O.D. Hollins, Rev. A. L. Davis and Earnest Butler, all recuperating at home. Mrs. Bobbie Patterson is doing nicely.

Mrs. Deborah Hawkins Bryant, Jr., and small son, Lorenza Bryant, III, left Friday on the 4:45 Continental flight for Houston where she will be met by her mother from Corpus Christi. From Houston, she flies to Chicago and then to Paris, France, from which she will travel to Germany where they will join their husband and father, Sp/4 Lorenza, Jr., who has been in Germany a few months. She had waited several weeks to leave the United States.

RECEIVES SCHOLARSHIP HERE—Mrs. Henri Hicks Redic, of 3012 East 2nd Place, has received a scholarship from the American Business Women Association. A senior in the school of nursing at Methodist Hospital, this is the second scholarship received from the organization.

Mrs. Redic, the daughter of Mrs. Carrie Hicks, is a graduate of Estacado High School and has attended college at West Texas State University in Canyon, Texas and at San Diego City College in California.

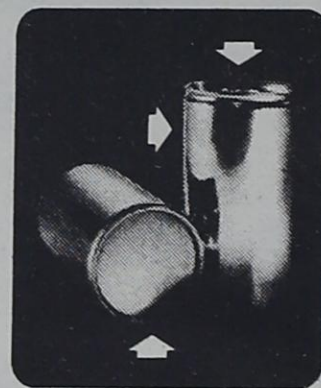

She was chosen for the award because of her scholastic and leadership ability.

THE FUTURE OF THE WORLD IS YOURS TO SHAPE

"If we work upon marble, it will perish; if on brass, time will efface it; if we rear temples, they will crumble into dust; but if we work upon immortal minds, and imbue them with principles, with the just fear of God and love of our fellow-men, we engrave on those tablets something that will brighten to all eternity."

Afro-American HISTORY

Mary Church Terrell (1863-1954)

Mary Church Terrell was born in 1863, the year of the Emancipation Proclamation. Her entire life was devoted to the fight for equality. A writer, lecturer organizer, and demonstrator, Mrs. Terrell was active in the successful campaign to secure women the right to vote. She was instrumental in the campaign to desegregate the restaurants in the nation's capital.

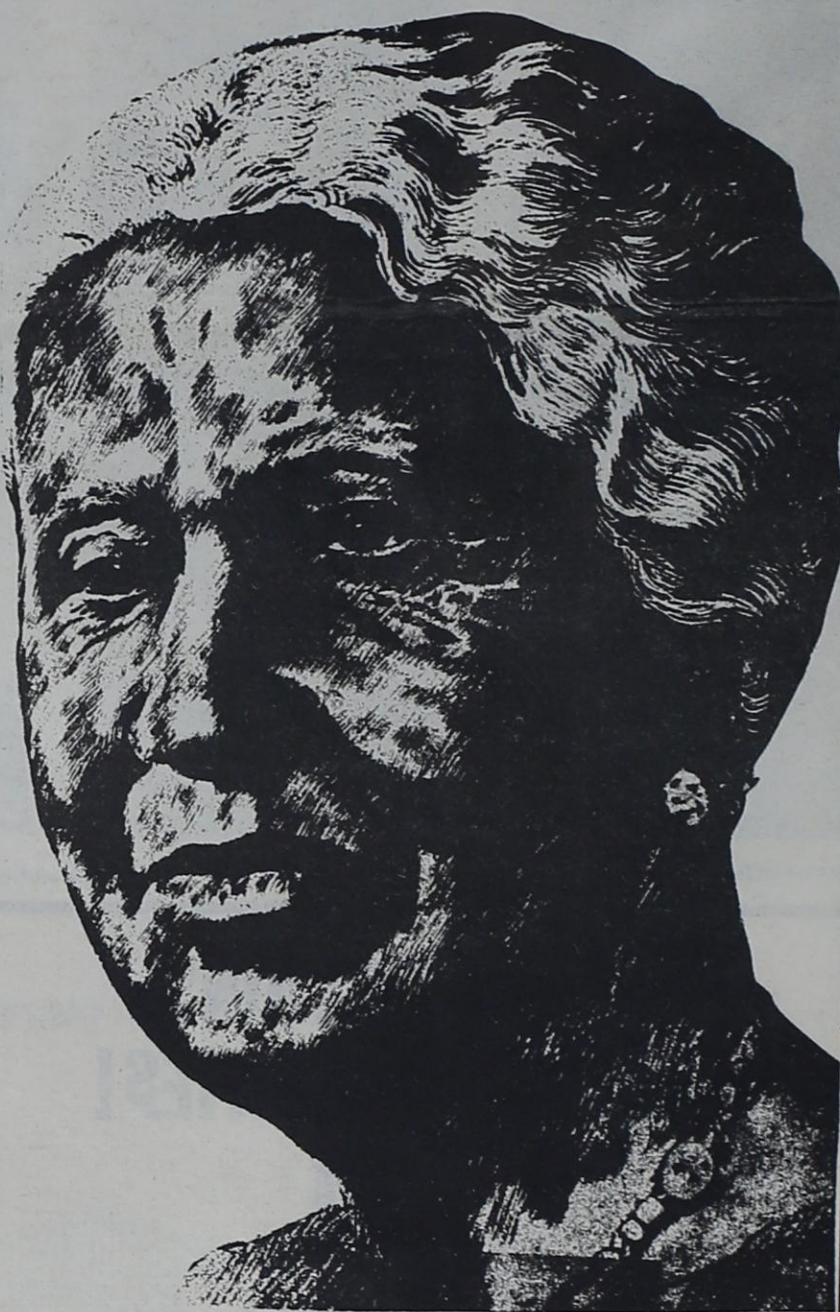

Her achievements were numerous. In 1895 she was appointed to the District of Columbia school board; in 1896 she became one of the charter members of the National Association of Colored Women. In 1909 she joined the NAACP, then less than a year old. In 1913-14 she helped to organize the Delta Sigma Theta sorority and twenty-six years later wrote its famous creed, setting up a code of conduct for Negro women. She was also active in politics, campaigning and speaking out against discrimination and segregation. In World War I, she worked with the War Camp Community Service, an organization which, among other things, aided in the demobilization of Negro servicemen.

Mary Church Terrell was a United States delegate to several international conferences. In London she met the famous writer, H.G. Wells and other luminaries. At the International Council of Women in Berlin she delivered her address in three languages—English, French and German—to the amazement of the assembled delegates. Her theme was the same; equal rights for women and the Negro wherever they may be found.

A strikingly handsome woman, Mary Church was born to wealth and ease. She was a "rare combination of high intellectual in close understanding with the mass." A native of Memphis, Tennessee, she was the daughter of Robert Church, an ex-slave of extremely high business skill who amassed a fortune in real estate before the turn of the century. Unwilling to have his daughter face discrimination in Tennessee, Robert Church sent Mary to Ohio where she attended private and public schools, and later Oberlin College from which she graduated in 1884 with a major in the classics.

By her own choice, Mary Church Terrell made her home in Washington in the 1890's, a time when the city was heavily segregated. Except for public transportation, Washington remained segregated until 1953. In that year, at the age of eighty-nine, Mrs. Terrell won the biggest and toughest battle in her life-long struggle against racial intolerance. She headed a committee of distinguished citizens to demand enforcement of a seventy-five year old law banning discrimination of "respectable persons" from restaurants. With several other Negroes she went to a number of restaurants and was refused service. A suit was filed and the resulting test came to the United States Supreme Court which held the old law was still valid. Shortly after the walls of segregation began to crumble in hotels, theaters and other places hitherto off-limits to Negroes.

Mary Church Terrell died in Annapolis, Maryland, in 1954, a few months after hearing the United States Supreme Court declare that segregation itself was unconstitutional.
