Mrs. Thomas Sanders Appointed As Coordinator by Gov. Briscoe

Governor Dolph Briscoe has appointed Mrs. Thomas Sanders of Lubbock as a regional volunteer coordinator for the First Lady's Volunteer Program, Office of the Governor. Mrs. Sanders will serve the area covered by the South Plains Association of Governments.

In making the appointment, Governor Briscoe said, "The spirit of voluntarism is growing in Texas as more and more people seek ways to improve our society and the quality of life. When people see a need, they organize to solve the problem."

"The First Lady's Volunteer Program is encouraging statewide citizen participation in both government and private sector volunteer activities. As a regional coordinator, Mrs. Sanders will help stimulate new volunteer ideas and efforts in her community. She will also encourage the establishment of locally originated volunteer action centers to work with volunteer programs," Gov. Briscoe added.

"Mrs. Briscoe and I are deeply committed to this volunteer effort and see many benefits from such neighbor helping neighbor involvement. Janey has agreed to work directly with this program in her capacity as First Lady," the Governor concluded.

In accepting the appointment Mrs. Sanders stated, "I am excited about the potential of this volunteer program. I am anxious to work with other interested people in my region on volunteer programs and look forward to working with Texas' First Lady."

As a volunteer, Mrs. Sanders has worked with Boy Scouts, was president of Mothers' Club at South Plains Boys Club, and has been honored for her work with the American Red Cross. She served for four years as president of the Dunbar High School PTA and works with the Booster Club of Dunbar School.

The First Lady's Volunteer Program, a division of the Texas Center for Volunteer Action, is working with the Texas Department of Health Resources in planning a statewide health educational program for October. Designated as Immunization Action Month, volunteers will be mobilized to make all Texans aware of the need to be periodically reimmunized against polio, measles, mumps, rubella, diphtheria, tetanus, and whooping cough.

The First Lady's Volunteer Program conducted a pilot health project in the Lower Rio Grande Valley for the immunization of preschool age children. The Health Department reported more than 15,000 immunizations were given during the April, 1975, project period.

This division of the Governor's Office also is responsible for administering the national runaway hotline, Operation Peace of Mind, located in Houston. The hotline allows a runaway to call toll free from anywhere in the United States and have a message relayed to anxious parents.

The Texas Center for Volunteer Action offices are located in Austin.

Children from families whose income is at or below the levels shown are eligible for free or reduced priced meals and free milk. In addition, families not meeting these criteria but with other unusual expenses due to unusually high medical expenses, shelter costs in excess of 30 percent of income, special education expenses due to the mental or physical condition of a child, and disaster or casualty losses are urged to apply.

Application forms were sent to all homes the first day of classes, August 20, in a letter to parents. Additional copies of the application forms are available at the principal's office in each school. The information provided on the application is confidential and will be used only for the purpose of determining eligibility. Applications may be submitted at any time during the year.

In certain cases foster children are also eligible for these benefits. If a family has foster children living with them and wishes to apply for such meals and milk for them, it should contact the school.

Irons noted that in the operation of the child feeding programs, no child will be discriminated against because of race, sex, color, or national origin.

Under the provisions of the policy each school's principal will review applications and determine eligibility. If a parent is dissatisfied with the ruling of the official, he may make a request either orally or in writing to Bill Parker, director of pupil personnel services, 1628 19th Street, telephone 747-2641, for a hearing to appeal the decision. The school district's policy contains an outline of the hearing procedure.

Interested persons may review a copy of the complete policy which is on file in each school and in the office of the director of cafeterias, 1628 19th Street.

Roy B. Davis Made His Contributions To Mankind

Roy B. Davis made great contributions to the cotton industry. For his many efforts, he truly wore the name of "Mr. Cotton." Cotton was an industry he wanted to see accomplish something in this country. As an important figure at the Plains Cooperative Oil Mill, it did become the largest cottonseed processing plant in the world, from 1943 until his retirement in 1971.

Not only did Mr. Davis contribute something to King Cotton, but he was concerned about residents of East Lubbock. From helping the Eastern Little League Baseball organization to seeing that various churches had financial assistance, he wanted to do something for mankind. He did just that in his quiet and positive manner.

Many residents of East Lubbock will not forget his efforts. This is the way it should be, for he was a man who did care about his fellow man.

During the organization of the East Lubbock Business Association, (ELBA), he remarked in a letter that he would like to see this organization do something in the financial area. He went as far as to say that some financial institution would be a positive effort for residents of this area of Lubbock and West Texas. He also became a member of that organization.

We believe he cared about his brothers and sisters of ebony pigmentation. He showed this in many aspects. This included those he hired over the years and his contributions to various functions of the community.

We can say that Mr. Roy B. Davis' actions spoke louder than his words. He did make great contributions to mankind.

Labor Day

The first man to suggest a day be set aside in honor of labor—the working man and the spirit of industry in the nation—was probably Peter McGurie. He was President of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America in 1882 when his suggestion was adopted by the Central Labor Union in New York.

The first Labor Day, then, was observed in 1882. In 1884 the Federation of Organized Trades and Labor Unions, which later became the American Federation of Labor, adopted the suggestion and states (Oregon was the first) began to declare the first Monday in September a holiday. McGuire had chosen September because it was about midway between July 4th and Thanksgiving.

By 1894, when Congress declared the day a holiday in all federal offices and territories, some thirty states had acted to make Labor Day a legal holiday. After Oregon, Colorado, Massachusetts, New Jersey and New York were the next to declare the holiday.

One good feature of Labor Day, the traditional last weekend of summer in many areas, is that it always falls on a Monday, thus creating a long weekend.

This year Labor Day is on the 1st. As on other holidays, there will be many accidents; in observing it this year, take care to see that you live to observe other Labor Days.

What Price Agreement

Columnists and commentators are waxing euphoric over the prospect of a new interim agreement between Israel and Egypt. The celebrating is premature. The United States is buying another brief Middle East respite at the cost of huge new air programs, plus being committed to the defense of peace in the area.

Generally speaking, the American people oppose being tied to the bitter religious conflict in the Middle East by an alliance, treaty or military obligation. The price Israel is asking for another short withdrawal from Egyptian territory is excessive—and the cost is to be borne almost entirely by the U.S. taxpayers.

The Israelis want several billions of dollars in military and economic aid. They want, in addition, U.S. personnel sent into the area between Israeli and Egyptian forces.

They want the United States to pay for the cost of building a new defense line to replace the forward line they are to retire from.

They want the United States to reimburse them for the production of oil from Egyptian wells they would evacuate—for years to come. They want long-term aid commitments, so that Washington will lose its leverage over Israeli policy. And they want more.

Obviously, that price is too high. The United States must not be unofficially committed to any future conflict by having personnel in the area. Nor should the U.S. taxpayer reimburse Israel for oil from Egyptian wells, to be evacuated; certainly, not for years to come. And three billion dollars more for the U.S. taxpayer to pay is surely unjustified in today's economy—a sum greater than foreign aid to all countries last year.

As I See It!

by T.J. Patterson

The Texas Department of Public Safety predicts that 42 lives will be lost on Texas highways from 6 p.m. Friday, August 29, through midnight, Labor Day, Monday, September 1st. As concerned Texans and thinking drivers, we can keep this figure from becoming a reality. We can do this by driving defensively.

This writer agrees with the Texas Safety Association when they suggest that a little more planning and concern on the part of the Texas driving public, this figure could be reduced.

It's a good safety policy to take a rest break or change drivers every two hours, as drowsiness can be temporarily remedied by coffee or fresh air.

Please, drive carefully over the Labor day Holiday!

The graduate chapter of Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity did a good service last week when they co-sponsored an eight hour Defensive Driving Course in conjunction with the Lubbock Citizens Traffic Commission. The instructor, Burt Sinclair of the Department of Public Safety, did a splendid job.

More drivers in Lubbock and the South Plains should take advantage of this worthwhile course. One will learn things about driving that is not obvious while driving from work or across town.

If you would like to learn more about being a participant in this course, contact members of the local Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity. You'll be glad you did.

Let's go out this weekend, beginning Sunday, August 31st, at 8 p.m. to Jones Stadium on the campus of Texas Tech University and support the Billy Graham West Texas Crusade. Every evening, through September 7th, should be inspiring and uplifting for everyone.

The last time I attended a Billy Graham Crusade was in Houston in the 1960's. He did a splendid job explaining the good word. I would encourage all young people to take advantage of the youth nights on Monday, September 1; Thursday, September 4; and Saturday, September 6.

Let's fill Jones Stadium each evening.

It was good to see that the Board of Directors of the South Plains Association of Governments (SPAG) voted to recommend to the General Assembly that a change be made in the SPAG By-Laws to enable the formation of a South Plains Economic Development District. This is real good and very much needed.

In order for this to happen, two-thirds of the representatives present at the September meeting must vote "Yes" on the amendment. This amendment would provide a mechanism for adding minority representation to the SPAG Board.

This would provide an opportunity for a positive move, on SPAG's part, and this organization could get down to business in economic development. This is what the "have not" communities need badly in the SPAG region. There has been too many "do gooding" programs, now it's time for some real economic development.

As I See It, the General Assembly of SPAG would be doing a great thing if they voted unanimously for the amendment, allowing Lubbock and other counties to qualify for economic development funds.

This writer has an opportunity to visit the Lubbock Police Department every Saturday afternoon. Last Saturday, I witnessed young black women working in one of the departments of the LPD. This was, without a doubt, the first time that the department had all black females working on the same shift (evening).

I would like to commend Chief J.T. Alley and his staff for allowing these young black sisters the opportunity to utilize their talents in the clerical aspect of police work at the LPD.

Two of those young ladies were Neighborhood Youth Corps workers and two were full-time. It made me proud to know that they were doing a splendid job for the taxpayers of Lubbock.

The Neighborhood Youth Corp workers were Dimple White and Kathy McNeil; full-time workers were Everane Williams, clerk-typist; and Carrie Jackson, clerk-typist.

If you get an opportunity Saturday afternoon at 12:30 p.m., check out my television show. Sheriff Choc Blanchard is guest and we explore some interesting things about the Lubbock County Jail.

You can view this program on KCBD-TV, Channel 11, Saturday, August 31, at 12:30 p.m. Also appearing on the show are the Black Poets, Eric Strong and James McCormick; and Henry Wheeler who recites some of his wife's poetry. I'm sure you'll enjoy this program.

JACK ANDERSON'S WEEKLY SPECIAL

FORD RISKING ALL ON BUSINESS PROGRAM

by Jack Anderson with Joe Spear
(From United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

Washington—President Ford has told subordinates that his chances of winning the 1976 election will depend upon the economy. He has asked them to give top priority to stimulating the economy.

The President believes the best way to do this is to hold down government spending and to encourage business investments. He intends to offer more incentives, therefore, to stimulate business.

He also swore to subordinates that he will continue to veto the big-spending bills that come out of Congress. This kind of spending, he believes, will only steepen inflation and drive up prices.

There is one curious exception to the President's policy. He not only doesn't mind high oil prices, but he would like to see them go higher.

He has told subordinates earnestly that it will take high prices to compel Americans to cut back their oil consumption. This is essential, he said, to make the U.S. less dependent upon Arab oil. Thus, he is pushing ahead with plans to "decontrol" the price of domestic oil.

While the oil companies rake in the money, meanwhile, the average American will see his wallet grow even thinner.

This is the assessment of a confidential House study which predicts that President Ford's decontrol scheme will cost consumers an additional $16 billion a year in inflation and lost production.

Overall, the study forecasts, consumer prices will climb as much as two per cent. Auto sales will fall off by about 10 per cent, says the study, and some 400,000 to 800,000 additional people will be added to the unemployment rolls.

In short, President Ford may be right that his re-election chances depend upon the economy. If so, the House study indicates there is some stormy political weather ahead for the President.

No Reprisals: Before the fall of Saigon, we quoted intelligence warnings that the communists would direct a bloodbath in South Vietnam. It is only fair that we now report that the postwar intelligence reports contain no evidence at all of a bloodbath.

In some villages, hated village officials were killed apparently by their own neighbors. A few secret police officials were also accused of tortures and were condemned to death by "People's Courts."

But there have been no mass reprisals—at least not so far—against officials of the former South Vietnamese regime. The worst that has happened to them has been enforced "re-education" in communist principles.

The latest intelligence reports, meanwhile, contain ominous new warnings. There is evidence that communist insurgents are getting captured American weapons from the Vietnamese for use in Thailand and Malaysia.

The intelligence reports warn that the communists are preparing for a major guerrilla offensive in both countries. This could turn Thailand and Malaysia into another Vietnam by 1977, according to the reports. We'll have to wait, of course, to find out whether these reports are accurate.

CIA Report: The Senate intelligence committee will issue its preliminary findings next month on the CIA assassination plots against foreign rulers.

Sources who are helping to draft the report tell me that the committee will accuse the CIA of recruiting Mafia mobsters to assassinate Cuban Premier Fidel Castro. The committee will also conduct public hearings this fall into such intelligence activities as domestic spying, FBI burglaries, mail openings, telephone taps and Internal Revenue harassment.

Sassy Solons: Irreverence seems to be the hallmark of the freshman class of Congress. The junior members, for example, are behind the move to dump House Speaker Carl Albert.

Recently, the Air Force had the temerity to release an investigative report to the press before giving it to the young congressman who asked for it. An Air Force general visited the lawmaker to offer his abject apology. "I feel like turning in my sword," said the brass hat.

Came the reply: "Why don't you fall on it first."

Privileged Customers: All mail delivered to congressmen is supposed to carry stamps or the congressional frank. But the House post office relaxes its rules for a few privileged mailers. Embassies, federal agencies and even some lobbying groups, with a little help from their favorite legislators, get their mail delivered to congressional boxes for nothing. It costs the taxpayers a lot of money, but the House postmaster says the service is an important courtesy.

Friendly Flyboys: The Air Force recently saved the day for Sen. Edmund Muskie. He was in his home state of Maine when word came that the Senate was planning a crucial tally on the new voting rights bills.

Muskie raced to the airport, but missed the plane by minutes. He tried to get a charter, but none were available. So he called the nearby Loring Air Force Base to see if they had any southbound flights available.

The brass re-routed a training flight from the Midwest to Washington, and Muskie made the vote with just minutes to spare.

Looking Back Over the Years

"Older People Often Forgotten of Their Efforts", According to Sam Crawford

by T.J. Patterson

(Editor's note: This is part two of a story about Mr. Sam Crawford who came to Lubbock in 1937. In this interview, he tells of how he was forgotten by the younger members of the American Legion Post 808.)

Mr. Crawford, name some of the members of the Post in 1943?

Some of them were Seth Dunn, Saul Williams, Jimmie Walker, Earnest Butler, Jr., Lonnie Love and E.S. Haney. I can't think of all of them, but I know there were twenty-five. These were World War II men. We invited them in because they were veterans. We wrote them up and sent the cards in.

What did it cost to join the American Legion then?

It cost $3.00 per year. It went up after that to $3.50, $4.00, $4.50 and $5.00. I haven't been since 1967, but I think it cost about $6.00 per year now.

Did you get your quota of men each year?

Yes, we did. I was the adjutant, and I worked real hard to see that we got our quota every year. When we first started, the quota was fifteen. Every six months, they sent us another quota and I would get out and raise it. In 1956, we were still located on Birch Avenue, getting ready for the 1957 convention. This was our first convention in Lubbock, sponsored by the local post. We had, at that time, let someone else be the adjutant. This person wasn't doing a good job, so they elected me again. They (members) knew I could get the members back into the organization.

How many members did you have in 1956?

We only had thirty members. This was rather small to have a convention, so I went to Brownwood to a district meeting. I met my Sixth Division Commander, L.L. Milton, a black man from Beaumont, Texas. Our district commander from San Angelo was also present. They asked me what was the matter with our post? I said, "Oh, nothing much. Those young fellows don't know how to get out and get the membership." These men wanted our post to grow, so I told them that I was back in now, and I would get the members back. I told them that when they came to Lubbock for the convention, I would have my quota. So I worked real hard for six months and when the time came for the convention, I had ninety-six (96) members. We had a very successful meeting. The commanders said it was one of the best they had ever attended.

Is this when they first saw your CVWW cap?

Yes, at this convention, they saw my cap. This young fellow, Charles Jackson (who is now deceased), didn't have a cap to wear, so I let him have my American Legion cap, and I wore my CVWW cap to the meeting. A white man, I don't know his name, walked up to me and asked me what kind of cap I had? I told him this was the Colored Veterans of World War I cap, Post One, Belton, Texas. I had this cap before we (black people) ever become American Legions. He told me that I should cherish that cap and keep it forever. I told him then that I'd always have it. As you can see, I still have it.

What other post for the American Legion have you helped set up?

I set up a post in Plainview, Texas. I can't remember what year it was. I believe about 1947. It could have been in 1948. I went up there and set it up. The white American Legions there saw that I knew what I was talking about, so they told me to take over and set these fellows (black) up. They said they would stay back, and that's what they did. Oscar Iles and Jimmie Walker were there with me. I set them up and they got started. Before then, they wanted a post in Amarillo, but I didn't go there to set up the post. I set it up through the mail. I would correspond with a fellow whose name I didn't know. I just knew his nickname.

What was his nickname?

His nickname was "Stick Horse." Oscar Iles told me about him. I wrote the man and he wrote me. I explained everything I wanted him to do. They set up their American Legion Post with this assistance. I've been in their Post and I think it is a very nice little post. After that, I went to Brownfield, Saul Williams and myself, and helped these fellows who had a post that was going down. I went down there and kind of straightened them up. They got started again. Today I don't know if they still have a post or not. This happened about 1950.

What accomplishments have Post #808 contributed to our city?

I can see that they (members) have done a wonderful job. They have even done good things for the Hall. I enjoy seeing them have the extra buildings they have. We had a big lot which Mr. Clark gave to us, after we bought the first one. The lot they gave us was just as big as the one we bought. So we had plenty of space to build another place. But I'm so sorry that I lost my sight so I couldn't work anymore. However, it seems to me like they didn't want any more of the old men in there with them.

What do you think was the reason they didn't want older men in the Legion?

Well, it was contributed to several different things. Now you know in any organization, and I've seen in many of them, including the Knights of Pythian Lodge, money will change a lot of men's minds. That's what I think has happened up here with our hall. By bringing in a great deal of money, the fellows didn't treat their fellow man right. I worked hard. I took that building when we first got it and kept it clean. They didn't have a janitor, and since I was living in the area, I said, to help our post, I would take care of the hall for $5.00 a week, regardless of how many occasions we have to use it. It was a pretty big place, but I kept it clean. I was doing this to help the post, for that little amount of money. I worked in the kitchen and the concession stand for the two and one half hours we were in there on bingo nights. I would even run about $15 to $17 each time.

Were you let go as operator of the concession stand?

Yes! One day I was told that the concession stand wasn't making any money. So I said, "Well, this stand isn't supposed to make money. It's just supposed to break even. The concession stand is only a drawing card for bingo. People are not going to come out and sit here and play bingo without having a sandwich or something to drink, like Coke or Dr. Pepper." So it worked around until they told me I could take the concession stand and operate it for myself. I took it and I furnished sandwiches and soda pop for the playing customers. I would make my little $5.00 and some over. I kept that for about six months or so.

When did they let you go?

I kept the concession stand for about six months or so. Then one night I was in the kitchen and they voted me out. They had a five man committee to vote me out. In the American Legion you are supposed to have seven men on a committee. It's in my book. I've got a book on everything about the American Legion. There were supposed to be seven men to vote me out, and they only had five. So that's the reason I'm out.

Is your heart still in the American Legion?

Oh, I'm a Legionnier from the word go. I still get literature every week about the Legion. I still get my magazine from Indiannapolis, and I get my newsletter from Austin every month. My wife helps me keep up by reading it to me because I can't see now. I know what is going on.

What would you like to leave with young people about the American Legion?

Well, I would like to see the younger people get right in there after they come out of service, if they have a job or not. Get in the Legion, because that's one of the things that's pulling the colored man to the top. They are mixing (blacks and whites). We are showing the white people that we do know the things they know. We can do the same they they can do. Everything that you see worthwhile, there's a colored man in it. If he's got knowledge to be there, he's in it. I want young people to use their common sense and contribute something. If I'd had the sense then as I have now about the American Legion, the CVWW would be just like the American Legion Post is today with the white man. We would have been out in front with this organization. We've sent thousands of dollars to Indiannapolis and Austin since we organized. We've sent money all over Texas. We've contributed a lot of money to many people.

Will Blacks join in hand with whites and have one post here?

Well, it's hard to tell. If it had been so, and the whites had wanted the colored in, we would have been there at the end of World War I, as American Legions when they organized. The American Legion was first started in Paris France after World War I. The month of November when the war was over, they organized the Legion. They came back to the U.S. and their first caucus meeting was held in St. Louis, Mo.

Do you ever get an opportunity to talk to some of the members of Post #808?

No, I don't have any visitors except Saul Williams who comes to my house once in a while. He brings me my card and some news or something. Very seldom do I hear anything about the post. No one comes to visit.

What about the cornerstone incident?

The cornerstone was the names of the head men of the post. The commander was Harry Bunton; Sam Crawford was adjutant; and Jimmie Walker was the chairman of the Housing Committee. These were the three names on the cornerstone. But since then, they have taken that away. The present names are Jimmie Walker, Harry Bunton & E.S. Haney. They've taken the first one down. Myname is not on the cornerstone.

Why was your name taken off?

Well, that I would not know. But I don't see why they took my name off. I can't see a reason why that was done. I tried to get them, when they first started the cornerstone, to put it on the building, but they put it out in the flag area in the yard. A cornerstone is supposed to be put on a building, not where it can be moved from place to place.

when they came back from World War II?

Yes, I did. The government was giving jobs and training opportunities. They had training schools for the boys such as barber colleges and others. A white lady came to Dr. Chatman's Hospital to explain the program to them. A bunch of boys of World War II were there, and I was the only World War I veteran present. She began to ask them different questions about whether they want to go to school or not. It seemed like they didn't know the answers to the questions. I knew what they had in mind, so when she got through talking, she asked if they had any questions. Nobody said a thing. So I spoke up and told the lady that what she was saying didn't touch me at all. These men wanted to know if they would get paid while they went to school. She said they would, and everyone jumped up and said that's what they wanted to do, go to school. That's why a lot of them went to school, such as Harry Bunton who went to school to become a shoeman. A lot of the fellows got jobs that way.

Exactly how did they forget the older men who made it all possible?

That's what the thing is about. They didn't want an old man up there. We have now in Lubbock some old veterans who are still here. We have some World War I veterans who don't have a chance to get to the hall. Those veterans are Sam Crawford, Pete Tillman, Jesse Johnson, Sheppard Robinson and the father of Mr. Roy Roberts.

Was Mr. Robinson treated fairly?

Yes! That man has contributed as much money to this organization as any one man in town. When we first started he would get parties of people and friends and bring them out and pay the expense himself. He would give to dances and functions we would have to raise money for the organization. He was one of the leading members. He doesn't go now, because he got a letter from one of our big men up there at the hall which said that if he didn't pay his card at a certain time, he couldn't even come there. So Shep came and told me about it, and I told him if he would come and go with me, we would stand together. He just gave his cap away. He said he doesn't participate with them not at all. He fell out with them because they treated him so bad. We worked hard so those fellows would have something.

SPORTS

by Joe Kelly

It was an interesting week. Football practice started at most colleges and many high school players chortled, because they have been working out for days and days.

And, on the baseball front, the Red Sox took a look at Baltimore and decided that the Orioles weren't so tough. But the Phils made the Pirates look over their shoulder and forced Pittsburgh to play the type of ball of which it's capable.

Steve Sloan wiped his brow, sent his Raiders through three days of dummy drills in shorts and longed for the day when he could hear padding and flesh crackle.

There was laughter over the continued "feud" between Barry Switzer at Oklahoma and Darrell Royal at Texas. CW performers didn't take sides, but Charley Pride probably had a few words to say about OU. But maybe Merle Haggard had a few words for UT, too.

The bird season is right around the corner and those doves, which have been so thick that they are a menace to motorists—even those going 55 mph—probably will disappear with the first volley of shots. And there should be a lot of volleys this year.

The birds have one thing in their favor, though, it's been dry for a long time now and that makes the ground powdery. It may not help the doves, but it will aid quail and pheasants.

Youth must be served, which probably is the reason why so little was written not long ago when Morris Frank died. It was a shame, too, for Morris was one of the giants in Texas newspaper circles.

The quick-witted, nimble Morris Frank probably didn't have an enemy in the state. He was in demand as a master of ceremonies, as well as an after dinner speaker. He wrote a column for the Houston Chronicle that often had evidence of his humor.

Years ago, when I was covering the Golden Gloves state tournament in Fort Worth, the Star-Telegram tossed a dinner for the visiting scribes. If it hadn't been for Morris, that would have gone down as the all-time dullest dinner in history.

But Morris was the emcee that night and, when the other talent fell shorter than short, he stepped into the breach. From his knowledge of the writers, and with no notes, he proceeded to tell something funny about each one. He had the place roaring.

Only one writer didn't think it was funny when Morris got to him. The writer, his face flushed, rose to his feet to make a feeble attempt at embarrassing Morris.

I can't really pass on the exchange between the two, because family papers frown on rowdy language. But Morris had a retort so quick and sharp that nothing was heard from that particular writer again. Wise people learned to roll with his humor, which was much like Will Rogers', gentle and innocuous.

I treasure a picture of Morris taken on one of his visits to Tech. Somehow he managed to get a couple of those green freshman beanies and we're posed, wearing silly grins, with arms around each other's shoulders.

He sent me one of the pictures with a notation to the effect that, if the educators could see the picture, it would set back college education 100 years. Morris Frank was one of a kind in an age when humor is needed. He will be missed, sorely.

Dave Forbes recently won a victory for pro hockey when he was freed on charges of assault with a deadly weapon, intentionally, in a hockey match injury to Henry Boucha.

Having been a hockey participant in my younger days and an aficionado of the sport throughout my life, I was happy to see the verdict. Although I'm as sure as shooting that the attack undoubtedly was deliberate.

Hockey is not like other sports. It is played at breakneck speed. The action is almost continuous. The body contact is every bit as rough as football. Adrenalin flows faster and quicker than in other sports and that causes strange things to happen.

I remember one particular case when I was playing defense in an inter-class game. John Gray was a fraternity brother playing for the other team.

I don't remember just what happened, but one of the unforgivable things was to let an offensive player split the defense and go in on goal. Gray had the puck and I checked him, forcing him off. As I recall, he stuck the butt of his stick in my ribs, not gently.

The next time he came down ice, I went to meet him. I forced him to the boards, cross checked him and hammered him into the woodwork resoundingly.

Gar Laux, who used to be with Ford Motor Co., and a frequent visitor to Lubbock, was the official. Gar was the college goalie, and a good one.

He blew his whistle, jerked his arm with thumb upwards and I was on the way to the penalty box. I was still steaming, but as soon as I got in the box and had a chance to calm down, I felt just a little regret that it had happened.

That's hockey for you. In the heat of battle, an unintentional trip, a crash into the boards, a stick in the ribs, anything like that can get your blood pressure up. You forget the prime thing and think in individual terms instead.

I'm sure much the same thing was true in the Forbes-Boucha affair. It may not be right, but it's part of the game. And anyone who plays hockey knows that. You expect it and protect yourself as best you can. Believe me, you don't need courts to try cases. The players will settle them themselves.

The Pirates may have come out of their tailspin just in time. Breathing hard were the Phillies, Cardinals and Mets. A three out of four conquest of the Reds may have done the trick.

The contenders all had chances, but blew it. Not one of them could be consistent just when they had a chance. Still, it's just about the only race left and it isn't over yet. The Pirates, though, seem to have recovered in time.

The Roundup: Donnie Moore, former Monterey star, is having a good year with Midland. He ran his record to 13-7 early in the week with a

Angelic Choir Gives Musical Recital at Odessa Friday

The Angelic Choir of the Mount Gilead Baptist Church, Rev. S.R. Roberts pastor, presented a musical recital at the Bethlehem Baptist Church, Rev. R. Sutton pastor, Odessa, last Friday evening.

The choir's efforts were indeed a pleasure as well as a blessing to be invited to the city of Odessa to present such a musical program.

All choir members reported an enjoyable time singing for the Lord. The choir was well received by Rev. Sutton and members of the congregation. Friends of Mt. Zion Baptist Church of Crane, Texas were also present for the gala affair.

The choir members were so pleased to have Rev. Roy Jones of Lubbock, Rev. L.H. Hall of Odessa and Rev. J.M. Jeffery of Crane present.

Letters To The Editor

The Dunbar Band Program

I really don't think the parents in the Dunbar community know what we are trying to do with the band program at Dunbar High School.

We are trying to build a program that has been down for several years. We are trying to build a program that this community can be proud of. A program that is second to none, and most of all to teach the students the skill of understanding and playing all types of music.

There are many parents in this community who were once a part of the Dunbar Band and know the benefits that music can bring. They should be the first to promote and support the band as much as they can.

We have students in the Dunbar community who are not taking part in any school activities. This is not good. We need these students in our band program. We have some of the best students in the city of Lubbock here in our community. There is no sound reason why we should not have one of the best music departments in the city.

Band Programs Offered

The Stage Band is made up of members of the marching and concert bands who are interested in jazz performance. These students are: Joey Roberts, alto sax; Alvin Chatman, alto sax; Elisa Hernandez, alto sax; Rejeanne Johns, tenor sax; Ronald Brooks, tenor sax; Adrienne Caviel, baritone sax; Hennand Johnson, trumpet; Lawrence Wilson, trumpet; Luther Williams, trumpet; Kirby Childers, trumpet; Charlie Jordan, Anthony Trotty, Lewis Love, and James Johnson, all trombone; Ruby Braxton, piano; Ricky Martinez, guitar; Donald Brooks, bass; Eddie Bates, bass; Kenneth Bell, drums; and Donald Ross, drums.

The Marching Band is the organization that performs at football games and pep-rallys. Many hours are spent in preparing this organization for public performance. The marching band will compete with all AAA bands in the UIL Marching Band Contest in November. The members of this group are: Coretta Bailey, Sandra Bailey, Gwendolyn Baucham, Kenneth Bell, Joseph Blackmore, Andrello Botillo, Donald Brooks, Vicky Brooks, Ronald Brooks, Annie Brown, Sharon Bunton, Adrienne Caviel, Alvin Chatman, Kathy Childers, Kirby Childers, Linda Childress, Barbara Cleveland, Robert Cork, Teresa Courtney, Delton Deal, Janice Dickson, Trina Elliott, Dewayne Farrell, Cheryl Givens, Anita Hamilton, Barbara Harris, Demetra Hereford, Marcie Hereford, Elisa Hernandez, Sheila Hollins, Rejeanne Johns, Heenan Johnson, James Johnson, Charlie Jordan, Dixie Kimmons, Sheila Lincoln, Lewis Love, Darla Moore, Nadine Norris, Arnetta Pendgraft, Tympani Price, Karen Ray, Joey Roberts, Jerry Robison, Donald Ross, Mary Sanders, Laticia Shipley, Althea Smith, Marshall Stillwell, Eddie Bates, Anthony Trotty, Dorothy Walder, Katherine Wells, Alice White, Luther Williams, Lawrence Wilson, Linda Hall, Pam Audas, Debra Gipson, Ricky Martinez, Pam Whitfield.

The Concert Band is composed of all the students in the stage band and marching band. This part of our program performs for school functions and also the UIL Concert Band Contest (AAA).

I would like to give special recognition to a group of students of whom I'm very proud. These students came into our band program knowing it was down. They had enough backbone to come in and help build up the program. We are very proud to have these students. They are: Coretta Bailey, Annie Brown, Linda Childress, Barbara Cleveland, Robert Cork, Janice Dickson, Anita Hamilton, Sheila Hollins, Darla Moore, Pam Audas, Debra Gipson and Ricky Martinez.

We need more students to get involved in our band program at Dunbar. We need the support of the parents and the entire community. Let's remember, the Dunbar High School band is a part of our community. We will get no more from it than we put into it.

Final Rites Read for Long-Time City-National Leader Here Last Tuesday

Final rites for Roy B. Davis, age 74, were held at 10 a.m. Tuesday morning in the First Baptist Church with Dr. Jaroy Weber, pastor, officiating. He was assisted by Rev. I.D. Walker, associate pastor; and Rev. J.T. Bolding, a retired Baptist minister.

Burial was held in Resthaven Memorial Park under the direction of Rix Funeral Directors.

A friend to many residents of the black community, he was known to the Lubbock community as "Mr. Cotton". He died at approximately 2 a.m. last Sunday morning in Methodist Hospital after being admitted Friday after suffering from chest pains.

Davis, a very modest man, held many positions in the field of the cotton industry. His most visible contribution to the cotton industry was in West Texas where he contributed a great deal to Plains Cooperative Oil Mill. He was general manager of the mill. This mill was known at the time of his retirement, as the largest cottonseed processing plant in the world, from 1943 until 1971.

After his retirement, he was named a consultant to the Textile Research Center at Texas Tech University and had worked actively in plans leading up to the building of the $30 million American Cotton Growers denim mill in Littlefield.

He was a friend of the Eastern Little League Baseball organization. He wanted young people of East Lubbock to have an opportunity to participate in active recreational activities.

Mr. Davis was born in McGregor, Texas and moved to Lamesa in 1906. He later moved to Lubbock in 1921 and began working for this community. He was a graduate of Texas A&M University in 1923 after attending Lubbock High School.

In agriculture, he also served on the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Cotton and Cottonseed Research and Marketing Advisory Committee during the late 1940's

Austin—What are you planning on doing for the rest of your life? If your immediate future includes a Labor Day weekend highway trip, Texas Safety Association advises that a stop at one of the nearly 200 Texas Jaycee holiday rest stops may just provide you

For over 15 years, the Jaycees of Texas, in cooperation with the Royal Globe Insurance Companies

Former Lubbock Resident-Teacher, Mrs. L. H. Griffin, Receives Grant

She hopes to get a leave of absence from the Pampa system, but if her request isn't accepted, she plans to resign. According to Mrs. Griffin, this opportunity is too important to by pass. She hopes that these credits will go toward he master's degree.

Lubbock Choir Director, Mrs. Rose Lincoln, Attends Choral Assn. Meet

Mrs. Rose Lincoln, choir director at Alderson Junior High School, recently joined other choir directors in the State of Texas in a three-day workshop of the most rewarding, exciting and new music reading clinics ever held at the Convention Center in San Antonio, Texas.

The Texas choir directors read and sang newly published music in all areas.

Of all the areas of the convention, Mrs. Lincoln felt she benefited most from the junior high school session, church music workshops, the directors' chorus and guest performers.

Mrs. Lincoln's family accompanied her to San Antonio and attended activities planned for family members of the choir directors.

The Lincolns also visited their two eldest daughters, Alberta and Lillian, in the City of Houston and her mother in South Texas.

Dinner Given for Anita Henry

The Texas Safety Association reminds you that a 15-minute break in a two-hour drive can be the difference between a safe arrival and an accident. Drop in at a Jaycee holiday rest stop this Labor Day, for the rest that can save your life. (And don't forget to say "thanks.")

Bethel A.M.E. Church

Services were well attended last Sunday morning with our pastor, Rev. A.W. Wilson, delivering a splendid message. Senior Choir Number Two was responsible for the music of the hour.

Rev. and Mrs. A.W. Wilson reported a splendid meeting in Midland at the Annual Conference. Rev. and Mrs. W.H. Stephens and Brother and Sister W.H. Stephens made the trip also. Senior Choir Number Two sang at the conference on Wednesday and Friday evenings.

Members expressed their appreciation for Rev. Wilson being appointed as pastor for the next twelve months. Rev. and Mrs. Wilson will begin their 24th year at Bethel.

Let us continue to pray for and visit our sick and shut-in members. Those on the sick list this week include Rev. T.B. Reece, Sister Charlie Davenport, and Brother Salone Cunningham.

The First Quarterly Conference will be held the first Sunday in September. Presiding Elder, Leon McNeil will be present for official business.

St. Matthew Baptist Church

Our church will be presenting the dynamic evangelist, Levi Lenley, in a recital Sunday evening, August 31, at 8 p.m. The public is invited to come out to this program. We hope the public will come out.

Come and bring someone and let's have a great time in the Lord on Sunday evening. Accompanying Brother Lenley will be the Quigley Sisters, with William C. Shumake at the organ. Rev. R.S. Stanley is pastor.

Twentieth & Birch Street Church of Christ

Sister Mildred Alleyne requested the prayers of each and every one of the church. Her determination is to please the Lord with her life. Our prayers will be a tower of strength to her.

Let us continue to pray for our sick and shut-in members. Sister Hattie Stiggers has been released from Methodist Hospital. She is now home recovering from surgery. Others remaining on the sick and shut-in list are Brothers T.E. Ray, Charlie Williams, and Nelson McCormick, along with Sisters Rosetta Jackson and Ella Williams.

The Young Ladies Christian Development Class wishes to inform the congregation that a few more books are still needed in the library before any meaningful service can be provided.

Let us remember to invite and bring someone out so that they may be given the opportunity to hear the gospel during the week of our meeting. The meeting begins Sunday, August 31. Keep in mind the fellowship which is at 1 p.m.

Mount Gilead Baptist Church

"Mount Gilead Baptist Church, the friendly church where the soul and spirit meet. The church where everybody is somebody. The church extends to members and public a cordial and clarion call to worship with us each week."

The Baptist Training Union was in charge of last Sunday evening's services.

Let us continue to pray for those who are ill or berieved in our church and community.

Greater Saint Luke Baptist Church

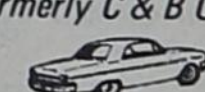

Members of the Eunice Circle will meet tonight, Thursday, in the home of Sister Lottie M. Smith, at 7:00.

Members of the Sarah, Dorcas and Rachael Circles met in the homes of Sisters Lucille Middleton, and Lucille Richards, this week.

Prayer meeting is held each Wednesday evening at 8:00. Pray until prayer makes you forget your own wish, and leave it or merge it in God's will.
