Simmons Dies In Big Spring Hospital Today

Raphael (Ray) Simmons, 27, lifelong resident of Big Spring, died in a hospital at 1:25 a. m. today. Ray had been confined to his wheel chair since a lad of 12. Although a progressive paralysis afflicted him, he was an ardent sports fan. Last year he organized and managed his own team, a Salvation Army group.

Recently his condition worsened and he was placed in an iron lung. He was removed and apparently was doing satisfactory until he suffered a relapse. Meanwhile, the lung had been used for D. D. Politics Preview Of 1952 Gets Underway Today

Developments In Pennsylvania And New York Watched

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13. (AP)—A trial run on the 1950 congressional campaign gets underway with (1) voting today in a special election in Pennsylvania and (2) the official designation of senatorial candidates in New York Thursday.

In what is regarded as an indicator of trends, voters in Pennsylvania's 20th congressional district are picking a successor to Rep. Robert L. Coffey Jr., who was killed in a plane crash last spring. Their choice lies between Coffey's mother, Mrs. Ethel Coffey, a Democrat, and John P. Saylor, Republican, a war veteran and Johnstown lawyer.

Involved is a strategy battle that may influence the pattern of next year's fight for control of Congress. Democrats are trying to ward labor and farm votes, bearing down heavily on repeal of the Taft-Hartley act. Republicans are attacking what they call the Truman administration's drift toward the "socialist-inspired welfare state."

New York State's preview of next year's campaign gets underway with the designation of major party candidates in 1949's only special Senate race. Democrats will ratify Thursday their choice of former Gov. Herbert H. Lehman for senator, with the liberal party adding its nomination. Lehman will run as a strong supporter of President Truman's domestic and foreign policies.

Some 128 cubic yards of dirt and sand have been removed from N. W. 1st street as a result of the washing down, he said. Five blocks of Galveston street were washed badly on the south side of W. Highway 80.

Crews of workmen and heavy equipment are making fills in the street bridges and culverts under the highway as they are still choked with silt deposited by water from the area.

STEEL STRIKE IS PUT OFF 11 DAYS

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 13. (AP)—There won't be any steel strike for the next 11 days—and after that maybe none at all.

Chances look bright as the autumn sunshine for peaceful solution of the steel wage dispute that threatened to tie the nation in economic knots. The CIO United Steelworkers and six major steel producers have agreed to an 11-day extension of the strike truce sought by President Truman.

That truce begins at midnight tonight—the hour originally set for the nation-wide steel walkout. It will continue until Sept. 23. The steelworkers also accepted the recommendations of the President's steel fact finding board—except though it meant giving up a fourth round wage increase.

The men who make steel will have to be satisfied with the average $1.65 an hour they now receive. The union has won three increases totalling 46 cents since the end of World War II. Maurice J. Tobin, secretary of labor, predicted the steelworkers' acceptance of the board findings will "bring prosperity such as this country has rarely known."

Most of the invitations already have been mailed, and the remainder will go out in the next day or two.

City Shivers In Pre-Seasonal Winter Blast

The season's first preview of winter descended upon West Texas this morning, as brisk northerly winds signalled an about-face in thermometers.

The cooling zephyrs reached Big Spring at about 4 a. m., bringing with them an unmistakable touch of autumn.

The U. S. Weather Bureau at the Municipal airport said the mercury would continue its plunge this afternoon and tonight. A low of 49 degrees is predicted for tonight. Readings were not expected to exceed 55.

The pre-season cold wave moved into this area after bringing unseasonable snow and frost to mid-western states. Frost is regarded as a possibility tonight as far south as some parts of Oklahoma.

The first blast of winter is expected to be short-lived, however. Although partly cloudy skies are expected in this area Wednesday, temperatures are due to move back up to the 80's.

Scattered showers came in on the heels of the curtain-raiser this morning. The Weather Bureau gauged 4 of an inch at the airport, and more showers were forecast for this afternoon and tonight.

LADY INVOLVED

Barkley Irked By Personal Questions

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13 (AP)—Vice President Barkley is getting a little irked at all the questions about his personal life. It isn't like the V. P. He has taken his bumps along with the rest of them and usually has managed to come up with a smile. This time, however, there is a lady involved. The lady is Mrs. Carlton F. Hadley, attractive St. Louis widow and mother of two daughters. Some day she may rise to become Mrs. Barkley. Then again she may not. This has caused a lot of speculation. It gets Barkley out of bed at midnight now and then to deny a rumor that he is engaged, is about to become engaged or is about to marry Mrs. Hadley. It keeps reporters meeting the plane every time he goes somewhere out of Washington. Now the "Veep," as he calls himself, is a fun loving fellow, always quick with a joke. He can even take one on himself. He also is a patient man, as he proved through long years of congressional battles. But both his sense of humor and his patience with reporters, who are just about his favorite people, are wearing a little thin. So far as his friendship with the lady is concerned, the Veep would like to become just an anonymous citizen. He doesn't want his attentions to the lady to become an embarrassment to her through frequent denials that they are going to get married. So far as his best friends know, Barkley hasn't popped the question (that doesn't mean that he won't). And like every other swain, he isn't at all sure what the lady would say if he did. It could even happen—but probably won't—when the Veep goes out to St. Louis for a quiet little party Sept. 23 celebrating Mrs. Hadley's 38th birthday. Barkley said he wants to go if the work of the Senate, over which he presides, doesn't interfere. But he warned reporters not to draw any deductions. He classed as "without foundation" reports that there already is an understanding between him and Mrs. Hadley and that they will be married on the widow's birthday. But when he gets there—if he goes—Barkley is resigned to the fact that reporters will be waiting with their questions when the plane lands. The odds look like a hundred to porters and their questions if he He could, of course, avoid the request calling on Mrs. Hadley, one against it.

Cold Front Hits Plains States

By The Associated Press A cold front moved eastward across the Plains States and high winds and rain whipped wide areas along the Middle Atlantic Coastal region today. The mass of cool air from Northwest Canada centered in the western Dakotas, western Nebraska and northeastern Montana early today. Temperatures throughout the region were below freezing. Skies generally were clear, but there was rain over much of the Midwest area. Frost and freezing temperatures were forecast for parts of the North Central States tonight. Storm warnings were posted from Nantucket, Mass., to the North Carolina coast as a wind rain storm moved up the Atlantic Coast from Cape Hatteras, N. C. The cold air from the Midwest was expected to extend into the eastern states Wednesday night. The southern states reported warm weather and temperatures along the Pacific Coast were around normal. The mercury climbed into the 90's in Texas yesterday.

SCHOOLBOY, 14, HELD IN SHOTGUN SLAYING OF HIS SLEEPING MOTHER

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Sept. 13 (AP)—A 14-year-old Kentucky schoolboy was held in jail here today after he told state police he shot his mother to death while she lay sleeping in their Sharonsdale, Ky., home. A state trooper quoted the sixth grader as saying his mother had occasionally beaten him with a poker. Sgt. Beryle Langford said James Pearly Edmiston told this story. After his father, Pearly Edmiston, went to work yesterday in a nearby mine he got his father's 12-gauge shotgun and fired one shot at his mother as she slept. He then took her purse containing $12 and headed for Huntington in the family auto. After running out of gas near here he asked a filling station operator to call West Virginia state police, saying he wanted to surrender.

He was taken into custody a few minutes later and held in Cabell County jail here pending the arrival of Pike County, Ky., officers with extradition papers. The husband found the woman's body. Magistrate Alex Blackburn said she had been killed instantly by a shotgun charge in the neck.

"but all I want is security!"

Okay, the Government Can Give It To You . . . But It Will Cost You Your Freedom!

Yes, the Government can give you security . . . all you have to swap for it is your freedom . . . your liberties . . . your personal rights . . . and your opportunities. WANT TO SWAP?

This may sound like a scare statement. IT IS. IT'S TIME TO GET SCARED WHEN YOUR FREEDOM IS IN JEOPARDY . . . WHEN SOMEONE TRIES TO TRADE YOU AN ARTIFICIAL BILL OF GOODS LABELED "SECURITY" FOR YOUR PERSONAL FREEDOM.

A trade like that is serious business, for there's no backing out, no turning back, once the trade is made.

There is constant pressure for the Government to provide security from want by the adoption of programs which call for more TVA's, an increase in minimum wages, bigger social benefits, socialized medical care, aids to education, more Government building of rent houses and bigger subsidies to farmers as well as to certain other forms of business.

The inmates of Alcatraz, and other penal institutions, have security . . . the COMPLETE KIND . . . where the government provides all the food, clothing, shelter and medical services . . . but it's at the price of freedom.

In some other countries the people have security, too . . . but they have no freedom of speech, no freedom of action, no personal liberties, no personal rights, and no opportunities. Secret police, prisons and concentration camps are provided to enforce such a brand of security and to prohibit personal freedom. That's a terribly stiff price to pay for security.

Most of us don't want the synthetic brand of security we are being offered. If we knew its cost in dollars and in the sacrifice of personal freedom, we would not accept it. Many of us are being misled into believing that we can get security . . . the government kind . . . without cost . . . that we can get something for nothing. We are being duped into trading our priceless heritage of freedom for economic slavery.

It's time to decide how much of this government security we want . . . how much of our freedom we're willing to trade for it . . . for we can't have both government security and personal freedom at the same time.

Yes, it's time to get scared . . . time to open our eyes to what is happening in our country . . . time to realize that the answer to our problem is not more Government—but more individual initiative, more production of goods and services. It's time we stop looking to Government for security while we still have the freedom to do so. It's time to realize that FREEDOM NEEDS A SOAP BOX, TOO!

Fifth Red Jailed In Court Contempt

NEW YORK, Sept. 13 (AP) — A fifth defendant at the Communist conspiracy trial has been jailed for contempt of court. Carl Winter, Michigan state chairman of the Communist Party, was sentenced to 30 days yesterday for refusal to answer a question. Federal Judge Harold R. Medina ordered that Winter will have to remain in jail between court sessions instead of remaining free on bail. The judge found Winter guilty of wilful and deliberate contempt. Winter had refused to answer a prosecution question about whether his father-in-law, Alfred Wagenknecht, spoke at a 1945 Communist convention. The defendant, on the witness stand in his own defense, said that answering the question would be a violation of my conscience and my principles. Winter, one of 11 top Communist leaders on trial on charges of conspiracy to advocate violent overthrow of the government, was under cross-examination by government counsel. When the witness balked, Judge Medina ruled that the question about the father-in-law was "in every way proper, relevant and material." Winter replied that "I must respectfully decline to answer the question on the ground that it would be a violation of my rights. The witness said he might lay himself or his father-in-law open to prosecution if he answered. Three other defendants in the trial — now almost eight months old — already were overnight jail lodgers for the duration of the trial. They are Gus Hall, Henry Watson and Gilbert Green. Defendant John Gates, editor of the Daily Worker, went to jail last June 3 and was released after serving 30 days for contempt. Hall and Watson were jailed for their loud protests against Gates' sentence. Green was sent to jail on June 20 for a contemptuous remark.

Former Orphan Named Hospital Board Director

AUSTIN, Sept. 13 (AP) — Myrna Kelly who rose from a ward whose duties once included cleaning dairy barns at Corsicana's state orphan home to superintendent of the home, today was executive director of the newly-created state board for hospitals and special schools. Kelly was selected yesterday from a field of 13 candidates after more than a month's study and interviews by the board. The job, which pays $10,000 a year, calls for aiding the board in overseeing 22 state eleemosynary institutions and hospitals, caring for 22,000 mental patients and other wards and supervising the activities of 4,000 employees.

Kelly, 48, was one of the board's first applicants. His recommendations included that of former State Democratic Executive Committee Chairman Bob Calvert of Hillsboro. Kelly has been superintendent of the Corsicana home since 1944. He had been valedictorian of the home's 1918 graduating class and subsequently received his bachelor and master degrees from Baylor University. His experience included deanship of boys at the Methodist home at Waco and numerous school positions in several Texas communities including Lubbock and Dickens Counties. He is married and has two daughters.

At Corsicana he is also a past president and past director of the Rotary Club, sponsor of two Boy Scout troops and the home's campfire girls. He is a Methodist and a Mason.

New Efforts To End Rail Strike Slated Today

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 13 (AP) — Union and management representatives agreed to meet again today in hopes of settling the four-day-old Missouri Pacific railroad strike. First efforts to end the strike ended in failure yesterday. A proposal that members of the four operating brotherhoods on strike return to work while negotiations are resumed was turned down by union leaders after a caucus of one and a half hours. The proposal came from Guy A. Thompson, trustee for the railroad, at a meeting arranged by a citizens' committee formed by the two sides together. Dr. Elmer E. Hipert, committee chairman, announced the company and union representatives would meet again late this afternoon. The strike which was called last Friday has immobilized operations throughout the Missouri Pacific's 10-state system. It resulted from a dispute over 282 individual claims by union members against the railroad. Most of the claims involve interpretation of union rules. In addition to the 5,000 trainmen on strike, about 20,000 other railroad employees have been laid off.

Second Victim Of Mysterious Shooting Dies

CANTON, Sept. 13 (AP) — Willard Freeman, 41, American businessman from Bridgewater, Mass., died today of gunshot wounds suffered in his suburban home last Thursday.

This was the second death in the mysterious shooting. Harold Harris, a British trader, was killed instantly. Leonard Clark, 22, San Francisco explorer, was wounded in the chest but will recover. The two fell victims of a 32-caliber pistol after a friendly drinking party that ended in a fight. Chinese police today said they had "100 per cent proof" of who did the shooting. There has been no arrest.

Freeman's attractive widow, Maya, 33, said she slept through the fight and shooting in an adjoining room. She said high winds prevented her from hearing the gunfire after she retired. Harris was shot three times. Freeman twice and Clark once near the hearth. Neither Freeman nor Clark was aware that Harris died in the affray. Police had not told Clark of Freeman's death today. The explorer was in a room some 15 feet away from Freeman's hospital room. Clark has said he found the world's tallest mountain in Northwest China recently.

FRANKFURT, Germany, Sept. 13 (AP) — Two U. S. congressmen arrived in Germany today to study the possibility of increasing American food exports to Germany. They are John L. McMillan (D-SC) and Eugene Worley (D-Tex) members of an agricultural subcommittee of the House of Representatives.

Blaze Causes $200,000 Damage To Famed Atlantic City Pier

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 13 (AP) — A $200,000 fire ripped through 300 feet of the famed million dollar pier early today. The well-known landmark, which juts 1,900 feet into the ocean on the downtown section of the boardwalk, caught fire about 4:30 o'clock this morning. A northeast wind blew roaring flames down the beach away from Boardwalk hotels. The pier's huge ballroom, near the shore end, was gutted completely. Toasted roof girders fell into the blaze. Fire Chief Rex Farway set the damage estimate at $200,000. The long pleasure palace was closed on Labor Day for the winter. No one was injured. The resort's fire department brought special high pressure equipment into play. The hose lines were run from the high pressure boardwalk system, independent from the rest of the city. It had been installed for just such an emergency. Despite the early hour, thousands of curious town-folk turned out to watch the spectacle. The flames lit the sky for many miles. Police roped off the area to keep spectators back.

The million dollar pier is the second largest in Atlantic City, next to the steel pier. It is owned by Associated Realty, Inc., an Atlantic City firm, and is leased to operators. This year, a firm headed by George Costello, who owns a New York City ferry service, leased the pier. Built in 1906 by Capt. John L. Young, the pier once was a wonder for its size and construction. Through the years, it has remained a landmark of the resort. The section that was destroyed contained the huge ballroom, as well as various amusement concessions. The burning of Atlantic City's several amusement piers is not unusual. The nearby central pier has burned down three times since it was built. The Steeplechase pier, 1,500 feet long, burned in 1932, but was rebuilt. When the pier was built by Capt. Young, he built himself a house about halfway out the long structure. He gave his address as No. 1, Atlantic Ocean.

Czech Kids Want Industrial Jobs

PRAGUE, (AP) — The official Czech press agency reports that Prague children nearing the age of finishing school are expressing a preference for working in industry. This reported preference is hailed by a government which has been working hard to channel manpower into production jobs. In answer to a "what would you like to be?" circular, the children were reported to have expressed the following choices: 4,343 would likely go into industry, where an estimated 5,500 new hands are needed from the schools. 1,210 wanted to work in stores, where only 651 are required. 759 preferred the transport services, where only a sixth are wanted. 523 wanted to enter the trades where 1,505 are required. 25 wanted forestry work, which needs no new young manpower.

America's Freedoms Cherished By The People Above All Else

Americans cherish freedom in all its varied aspects more than anything else on earth, Dr. George Gallup, the public opinion pollster, has discovered. The pollsters popped this question at 100 Americans:

"If a person who is not a citizen of the United States were to ask you what is the one best thing about being an American citizen, what would you say to him?"

Forty-one percent answered with the simple word, "freedom," using the all-inclusive term. Others particularized. Fifteen percent specified freedom of speech, press and thought; ten percent mentioned the freedom from restrictions—"I can do as I please." Freedom of religion got seven votes and the right to vote did likewise.

These add up to 80 percent. In a secondary compilation of more earthly reasons, America as a land of plenty in which the respondents can "make a good living" drew 14 percent. Justice and fair laws got one percent, other reasons drew 5, and "don't know" 3 percent.

That adds up to 103 percent, because some respondents mentioned more than one "best thing."

Still another answer brought the total to 104 percent, and it is this answer that must have astonished the professionals, who prate about "free enterprise." Free enterprise and the free economic system got only 1 percent of the "best thing" vote.

This, of course, does not mean that Americans don't cherish free enterprise and a free economic system, but that they take them for granted. Just as they take freedom of religion and a free ballot for granted, only much more so. Obviously, the bulk of American citizens don't think "free enterprise and the free economic system are endangered; both still function. Perhaps they ought to think about this some more.

Anybody Who Can, Should Help In Harvesting The Cotton Crop

Texas cotton growers, according to a Texas Employment Commission report, are up against it for pickers. An expected crop of 3.5 million bales, greatest since the record 1937 turn-out, and failure of anticipated "bracero" help from across the Rio Grande to materialize, has put them on the spot.

Growers in the central and northern reaches of the state had expected to get about 80,000 pickers from the Lower Rio Grande Valley, but this help failed to show up. Consequently, the TEC's agents have launched a campaign to recruit local labor—schoolboys, college students, housewives and the like. Pay for picking starts at $2.50, according to TEC and ranges upward from there.

Part of the blame may rest on higher wage scales reported elsewhere. Arkansas for instance, is reported to be paying as high as $4 a hundred pounds. At 1,500 pounds of lint for each 500-pound bale, that's a picking cost of $60 per bale.

We have seen no statistics on the subject, but we imagine that due to ranker growth, the Arkansas cotton would be more difficult to pick, so the picker probably would be better off in Texas fields at a lower scale of pay. We'd guess a picker could make more money in Texas picking at $2 per hundred than he could make in Arkansas at $4, not to mention the better climate and living conditions in Texas.

Even $2.50 per hundred is mighty good pay; a real good picker could make ten bucks a day and more. That ain't hay.

West Texas farmers need help. Able-bodied high school and college students could pick up a lot of loose change working after school and on week ends. It's hard work, but it pays well. It is our belief that every young Texan should pick at least some cotton. It won't hurt him, and it would teach him the value of money, which never grows on trees.

The plea for help in the cotton fields should not go unanswered.

People Of Germany Apparently Have Had Their Fill Of War

GERMANY'S FRESH ATTEMPT TO establish a democracy is under way in the fine old university town of Bonn on the Rhine, where her new parliament is holding its first sessions.

It is a heroic effort, surrounded by appalling difficulties. Germany is only the shadow of her former self, the victim of her own misdeeds. The country is physically divided, for only the western areas occupied by American, British, and French military forces are included in the government. Russia is holding out in her zone and is said to plan the establishment of a satellite of Moscow.

THAT IS THE MATERIAL WITH which the young parliament has to start work. And in large degree it is an adventure into strange surroundings, for Germany's experience with democracy, in the accepted sense of the term, has been meagre. Her last attempt in that direction rested in the ill-fated Weimer republic which bridged the few brief years between the autocracy over which the Kaiser presided and the Hitlerian dictatorship of evil memories.

The Germans as a whole are not a warlike folk. On the contrary they are industrious, home-loving people who want peace. Their weakness in the past has been that they were susceptible to regimental and were victimized by the Prussian warlords.

TRUE THEY ARE A HIGHLY INDEPENDENT and proud people, and right now they are feeling bitter over their fate. I have seen them since the war walking about in the ruins of their once proud cities, and there is resentment in many eyes as they pass an allied citizen. They are beaten physically but not mentally.

Still, having known them for many years I don't believe that they want war any more—either a war of revenge or a war of conquest.

Clothes Don't Make The Woman, Says Movie Wardrobe Director

NEW YORK, (AP)—A MERE MALE CAME up today with an answer to what's wrong with the way women dress.

The answer is—women.

"They are too dictated to," said Charles Le Maire. "They accept too much dictation as to what they should wear."

Le Maire is in a position to do a little dictating himself. As wardrobe director for Twentieth Century-Fox films, he runs a staff of 200 clothes experts. They have the pleasant chore of fitting lace and fur pretties to girls like Betty Grable, Jeanne Crain, Dorothy McGuire, June Haver, and Maureen O'Hara.

But the clothing of film stars is designed to their own personal architecture. This isn't true of the average woman.

LE MAIRE, A DESIGNER HIMSELF, said the biggest mistake most women make is to follow blindly the dictates of fashion crazies—or to try to pour herself into a certain type of dress merely because it looks good on a department store mannequin.

"A girl shouldn't pay any attention to what she hears of Paris styles," he emphasized.

"She should think first of her own shape, and dress to it. If her figure doesn't go with what she wants to wear, then she should change her shape."

Le Maire has only a weary sympathy for girls who think they can achieve a pencil silhouette with a tight corset.

"The excess flesh has to go somewhere," he sighed. "It has to go either up or down, forward or backward."

THIS, HE EXPLAINED, IS WHY there are so many girls around who look like they have either a front or a rear bumper.

An advocate of the plunging neckline, Le Maire has no moral objections to fashions but Laisis he doesn't allow them in the Twentieth Century-Fox studio.

"That I absolutely prohibit. Anything that isn't part of the body—anything that doesn't move with the body—it isn't right."

"But some studios like them," he conceded. "Everybody in their pictures wear them. I know one actress who must have 150 bosoms at home."

No, he didn't care to name her—but fans can rest assured it isn't Grable.

Le Maire designed wardrobes for Broadway musicals and operated his own exclusive dress shop in Manhattan before going west.

HE SEES FASHIONS TODAY AS IN A confused state, but believes the trend is toward "an era of quiet elegance."

"Of course," he said, "a girl can be quietly dressed in a red gown."

He personally favors clothing that accents femininity, styles that accent sex through subdued suggestion.

"Flo Ziegfeld used to say he didn't want naked girls on the stage—unless they had something on to make them look naked," smiled the designer.

Le Maire's own favorite dictates:

"No dress is as important to a well-dressed girl as what she has underneath it. The big mistake the average girl makes is she doesn't dress herself for herself she tries to follow a vogue."

"Clothes don't make the woman anyway—they only make her talked about."

Elder Statesman Bernard Baruch Has Way Of Arousing Presidential Wrath

WASHINGTON — President Truman doesn't nurse grudges against most of his political enemies, but he has a few pet peeves that apparently he will never forget. One of them is gaunt, gray Bernard Baruch, the friend of Presidents and one of the nation's few elder statesmen.

One year ago Baruch declined Truman's invitation to serve on a special committee to support his re-election, and Truman, in turn, wrote Baruch one of the most caustic letters of the campaign. He reminded him, among other things, how he had appointed his brother Herman as ambassador to Holland.

Sequel came the other day when the President tried to persuade his old friend, Adm. William D. Leahy, to become ambassador to Holland.

"You know how I feel about that old so-and-so Baruch," said Mr. Truman. "He still has his brother over there in Holland as ambassador and I want you to take his place. You're just the man to do it."

Adm. Leahy hesitated, expects to decline. Meanwhile Herman Baruch has come back from Holland, probably not to turn.

TORTOISE AND HARE

The House of Representatives and the Senate are now in a tortoise-and-hare race, and it looks as if the ponderous, slow-moving Senate might win after all.

Through the House gets credit for being the streamlined, efficient branch of Congress, actually the Senate, still sticking to its knitting is handicapped by the House's absence.

Four important bills, passed by the Senate, are now waiting until the House comes back from its vacation to iron out differences. They are: 1) appropriations for the Marshall Plan; 2) 75-cent minimum wage; 3) federal aid to prevent forest fires; 4) the housing-point system, of great interest to every small-business man because the new law may drive a hole in the anti-trust laws big enough for a cart to walk through.

The Senate has also edged ahead of the House with four important Truman measures, and is now waiting for the House to get back from holiday and pass them. They are: 1) federal aid to education; 2) health services for school children; 3) expansion of hospital construction; 4) national science foundation to encourage science.

Of course a lot of bills passed by the House still await Senate action but if the House doesn't get back to work fairly soon the senatorial tortoise may beat the hare yet!

AIR JUNKETS

Here are some of the congressional junkets planned or already under way and which caused Secretary of Defense Johnson's aides to get worried about the use of Air Force planes.

1. The "Sacred Cow" has left for the interparliamentary union in Norway with Congressmen Cooley (N.C.), Poage (Tex.), Gore (Tenn.), Hope (Kan.), Boggs (La.) and Tolle (Pa.).

2. Three congressmen from the House's Agriculture Committee will also fly courtesy of the Air Force, to study foot-and-mouth disease in Mexico. They are Lind (Pa.), Davies (N.Y.) and Bramblett (Calif.). Congressman Eugene Worley of Texas and John McMillan of South Carolina went on ahead of them—by boat.

3. Cook's tour—Several members of the House Expenditures Committee have left by Air Force plane for Alaska, the Far East and the Pacific Islands to investigate military installations, though this is supposed to be the job of the armed services committee. The group includes: Burnside (W. Va.), Richman (N. Y.), Lovre (S. D.), and Deane (N. C.).

DOG DAYS AT CAPITOL

There is no longer any doubt that these have been the "dog days" in Capitol Hill. For two senators literally barked at each other recently in the middle of Senate debate.

August Silver-crested Sen. Tom Connally, Texas Democrat, held the floor. But he couldn't complete a sentence without Sen. Ken Wherry, Nebraska Republican, butting in.

After one booming interruption Wherry ended up by whamming his fist on the desk.

"I did not yield for that slam on the desk," cried Connally.

"That is one way to drive a point home," roared back Wherry.

"I feel very much like an old lawyer in my scribble of the country over did," observed the Senator from Texas, acidly. "He had as his legal antagonist a very loud and enthusiastic lawyer, who shouted and foamed at the mouth in addressing the jury. When it came the turn of the other lawyer to answer him he stood up and said: 'If your honor please, how-wow-wow-wow...'"

"Now that I have answered my opponent, I shall discuss this case," continued Connally.

"Bow-wow-wow-wow-wow-wow," barked Wherry.

"Mr. President, I do not like to discuss this question in any but the most serious fashion," barked the Senator from Texas.

"The Senator's answers are just as clear as 'how-wow-wow-wow'—just as clear!" snorted the Senator from Nebraska.

"Well, I use that kind of language and that kind of explanation—how-wow-wow-wow—snapped the Texan.

Then Connally went on with his speech. Wherry listened for a few minutes, then broke in again.

"That sounds like 'how-wow-wow-wow'—he finally suggested.

Wherry, the reformer, Dixiecrat and Democratic National Committee man from Texas, turned down the job as ambassador to Belgium because he didn't think it was important enough. The Belgian Congo is our main source of uranium and our most important in the world, Robert Murphy, a famous diplomat and the man who prepared the North African underground before U. S. troops landed, has now been made ambassador.

Maurice Mavrick, whose grandfather was a famous Southern general, has given the President a collection of Confederate history books for the Truman library at Independence, Mo. Mavrick wants to help Truman bequeath to Independence the greatest history collection on the Civil War.

New Dresses Feature Built-In Underwear

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 12 (AP)—When bra and slip are part of the dress," said the Polish designer, "there is no problem of finding appropriate underclothing to match the gown."

These are chiefly cocktail or dinner frocks intended for dry-cleaning.

Marion, who clothes such screen attractions as Paulette Goddard, Roy Russell, Dinah Shore, Mrs. Hay Milland and Joan Fontaine has just returned from a style-viewing trip to France.

"Prices are much too high in Paris," she reported. "Wives of many designers can't afford the creations of their husbands. Americans buy them."

Designs, too, are much too extreme, in Marussia's opinion. "French women don't mind having yards of material billowing around them because they aren't figure-conscious like American women. Of course, fashions aren't created for young girls with nice figures. The matrons are the style leaders."

The fur necklare should rate tops among fads this season, says Mary Kay Dodson, Paramount designer. These styled along choker lines, can be made of your favorite fur. Spats too will be prominent in new wardrobes, she predicts. Starley Rhonda Fleming wears bright plaid spats and matching beret.

You don't need a pin-up figure to look well dressed, says Dorothy O'Hara. The former movie designer thinks any woman, fat or lean, can look smart if she

Big Spring Must Mind Manners To Attract New Residents

One of the things noticed by visitors to any city is the pride which native residents take in the "home town." Most people are interested in the well-being of their community and are eager to talk of its progress. Some go too far and get into the bragging class. There are others, of course, who have very little to say except degrading remarks. Whatever is the case, there is little which the official chamber of commerce workers can do unless they are aided by publicity received from local residents whether they are visiting or being visited.

Located where it is, Big Spring receives any number of visitors. Some are only passing through and stop for refreshment while others may be assigned to the city on some special mission and remain for several weeks or months. It is the last class that sometimes becomes impressed enough to move back on a permanent basis or decide that of all places, they wouldn't move here. Their good or ill will depends on the people they meet. If we like our city, it's up to us to show others why, not in a bragging sort of a way, but in honest-to-goodness interest.

We read, with fair regularity, several columns which appear in the Dallas Morning News and have been impressed with the fact that, at least, some Dallasites are deeply convinced that there's no place like Dallas. That's a good conviction for residents of any town or city to possess. Especially when it seems that the conviction is based on the attitude of "be it ever so humble, there's no place like home."

Come the first of October, Big Spring will have a very special opportunity to sell their "home town" to a large number of visitors. When visitors come to private homes, there is usually a feeling of "we must put the best foot forward." It's a good idea for cities to have "company for dinner" manners, too. MILDRED YOUNG.

White Paper Discloses Chiang Always Ignored U. S. Advice

In his introductory letter and his subsequent press conferences Mr. Acheson has been answering the partisans of Chiang who contend that we did not give the nationalists enough help. He would clarify the issue if he addressed himself to the fact, as disclosed from one end of the white paper to the other, that while Chiang was calling for American help he was always ignoring American advice.

On this point all the soldiers and all the diplomats—Stilwell, Marshall, Wedemeyer and Barr on the one hand, Gauss and Stuart and our foreign service officers on the other—were agreed. They were unanimous that until and unless Chiang could be induced or impelled to use American aid a little more honestly, a little more faithfully, and somewhat more efficiently, our help was not only certain to be wasted but worse than that, to entangle us disastrously in Chiang's inevitable defeat. It is a fair conclusion that in the judgment of all the highest and most responsible Americans who have dealt with Chiang during and since the war that without Chiang's faithful co-operation, American aid was not only Operation Hathole but also Operation Boobytrap.

had a few more hundreds of millions of dollars been voted, had some military and financial technicians been sent out, and, let us say, had General MacArthur been put where General Stilwell, General Wedemeyer, General Marshall, and General Barr had been before. For General Wedemeyer, whether or not he was fully aware of it, was recommending the "solution" which has always in the past marked the end of a state—that is to say its partition and then the rule by foreign powers of the dismembered parts.

From the beginning of lend-lease in June, 1941 to the white paper of August, 1949, which marks the break with Chiang, the overriding element in our relations was that while we supplied the aid, we had no power to bargain with Chiang about what he did with it. Our aid, whether it was given to fight Japan or later to pacify and stabilize China, was always in fact unconditional. We could do nothing to prevent its being stolen, wasted, or misused. We could plead with Chiang but we could not bargain with him, much less compel him, to use it as repeatedly he promised to use it and as we thought it necessary or wise to use it.

This is the crucial point when we inquire into the American disaster in China—that we could not negotiate with the government which we were trying to save and to support. The crucial question is why we lost all power to bargain with Chiang. The answer, for which I think the white paper contains abundant evidence, is that we could not bargain because we had become so irrevocably and so exclusively committed to Chiang. We had allowed him to feel certain that he was the only Chinese leader we could support, and that we must continue to support him because his enemies were our enemies. As long as he was sure that we could not withhold our support, he had a free hand and could brush off our advice.

The Wedemeyer report is the answer to the Americans who say that we abandoned Chiang and betrayed him when we could have saved him. General Wedemeyer is supposed to have justified these critics. Yet it was he who concluded that Chiang was quite unable, even with large-scale American aid, to unify China, and that, therefore, he must abandon Manchuria; that in the remainder of China the nationalists under Chiang could not defeat the Communists or even maintain themselves unless Chiang was put under what amounted to an American protectorate.

There is no support whatever, quite the contrary in fact, in General Wedemeyer's recommendations for the view that all would now be different and better

British Exporters Face Many Problems In Selling To U. S.

By HAMILTON W. FARON
(For James Marlow)

WASHINGTON, (AP)—A SHIPMENT OF English China reached the United States from Britain carefully packed in sets—cups, saucers, dinner plates, dessert dishes.

Customs officers took one look and shook their heads. The shipment had to be unpacked and cups, saucers, plates, dessert dishes sorted into individual groups.

Duty had to be paid on the plates, on the cups, on the saucers, on the dessert dishes, as separate shipments. Then the importers had to reassemble the China as sets.

That is one example of problems faced by British exporters in selling to the United States market. It is one of the problems with which the U. S.-British-Canadian Economic Conference here will deal. A "working group," has been set up to prepare information on it for the conference.

measuring machine at 80 per cent."

Both the Americans and the Britishers agreed that tariffs themselves are not the principal problem.

"The Americans pointed out that reductions have been made in most tariffs — they are by no means what they were pre-war."

The British Observer expressed the opinion they "are pretty high." He added, however, that he believes the rates are "designed to prevent entry into mass markets and confine imports to the luxury trade."

He cited tableware. Solid silver pays a duty of 32.5 per cent and silver-plated ware 35 per cent.

SOME EXAMPLES OF TARIFF RATES now in effect, compared with 1945, from U. S. tariff commission records include: Bone China now 36.3 per cent of its wholesale value in the country of manufacture. 45 per cent in 1945.

Woolens and worsteds worth $125 to $2 a pound now 46.1 per cent compared with 68.1.

Bottled whisky 32.2 per cent compared with 53.4 per cent.

Both Britishers and Americans said changes probably should be made in the basis of determining value for tariff purposes. The Britisher wanted to put determination of value on the United States.

"WHAT WE HOPE FOR," SAID ONE British commercial representative here, "is a new attitude on the part of the customs officials, who seem still to be suffering from a hangover from the Boston Tea Party."

A United States official who is trying to smooth the way for British and other European manufacturers said:

"Customs people are working to simplify the procedures and eliminate some rulings that have little reason to be continued. They are receptive to suggestions for changes, and a sincere effort is being made to clear up the so-called balance problems."

"One thing that is needed, however is not general criticism of the procedures, but specific instances of possible changes to simplify the methods."

The British Commercial Observer gave some other individual cases.

"Ticket machines—like those used in London's subways—were 'selling quite well' here as machines, he said this one day somebody said, "these aren't machines with a duty of 1 1/2 per cent. They are cash registers. The duty is 65 per cent."

SPARE PARTS FOR AUTOMOBILES are admitted at 12 1/2 per cent but in one case, he continued, a new speedometer for a British-made automobile "became a

Fat Is Not a Nice Word When Applied to the Body

Don't say it's your thyroid while reaching for the box of chocolates. Possibly one bulky person in 100 has some glandular disturbance and that is truly a case for a physician. Never take any treatment for a gland condition without your doctor's advice. But for the other 99 per cent who are trying to fight the "Battle of the Bulges" common sense is the watchword. It is not necessary to overeat and it is not necessary to go hungry, either. Furthermore, it just doesn't make sense to go on a strenuous diet—take off weight and then quickly put it back on again when the diet period is over. For it is obvious that one cannot continue a starvation diet over a protracted period. Within the last year or so, several diet and vitamin "plans" have appeared on the market, which mean cut down on the food intake and fortify with vitamins for hunger distress. But as mentioned above, you can't keep this up very long and when you quit—back comes the fat.

An exhaustive survey recently made among Texas drug stores showed one outstanding reduction aid is not based on the diet and vitamin "plan." It allows you to eat plenty. You eat all you want but you eat LESS. Sounds like double talk, but it isn't. It definitely stops you from eating more than necessary for the energy you spend. At the same time, it dehydrates and eliminates.

Nearly one and a half million bottles of this preparation, called Barconatrate has been sold in Texas in the past four years.

You can get a four-ounce bottle of Barconatrate from any Texas drug store. Mix with 12 ounces of canned grapefruit juice and take just two tablespoonfuls twice a day.

If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to lose that ugly fat, the makers agree to refund your money.

RIBBON RAMBLINGS

By Mildred Young

Ever attend a movie, church service or some other type of program which demands lack of interference for full enjoyment and spend your time plotting the murder of someone's darling little howler? If you have you can now live in hope that cry rooms will eventually become items taken for granted.

Last Sunday morning in a Texas city, about 20 babies cried during church services, but at this particular service, the noise didn't bother the audience.

The babies and their mothers were in a cry room, overlooking the new auditorium, which was dedicated Sunday afternoon.

The cry room is an enclosure where mothers can see and hear, but the audience can't hear the babies.

Double plate glass windows separate the room from the rest of the auditorium. A public address system relays the sermon.

The room is painted in six pastel shades to amuse and quiet the children. It is similar to the cry rooms provided by many theaters.

With so many church building programs underway in our city, it seems to us that it would be a very wise and much appreciated idea for cry rooms to be provided in the new structures.

Of course, there's no stopping place along this line. The next thing we'll need is a crutching room for those characters who insist on eating popcorn or peanut brittle in the local movies. And shouldn't there be a special place for those who pop gum, especially bubble gum?

The Giants swept the 1922 World Series against the New York Yankees in the first classic ever broadcast.

Mrs. S. Marie Haynes Is Devotions Leader

"All Things In Common" served as the devotional topic discussed by Mrs. S. Marie Haynes during the Royal Service program of the Women's Missionary Union at the First Baptist church Monday.

In her remarks, she said that "Christian women have found Christ adequate for personal problems which arise daily, and what joy and strength comes to the lives of those who know Christ is the answer for personal difficulties."

Mrs. W. R. Younger, program director, discussed the subject, "Christ The Answer to Atheistic Communism." She said that "Each one of us as individual Christians owe it to ourselves to strive to understand a movement which concerns so many millions of our fellowmen."

Cisco Attack Built Around 3 Lettermen

CISCO, Sept. 13.—The Cisco Lobos, uFriday night opponents of the Big Spring Steers, returned a team this season which included only two regulars and three lettermen from the 1948 squad.

The two veterans are Norman Boggs, Robert McMurry and Herbert Harwell, the first two of whom were 1948 starters.

Harwell will probably open in the secondary this weekend along with Leo Farmer, Robert Jackson and Neal Callerman.

The Lobos will operate from the T against the Steers and, of course, will be looking at that sort of offense when the opposition has the ball.

Boggs weighs in the neighborhood of 200 pounds and could be rough to handle. Despite his size, the line average of the Lobos won't do much better than 160 pounds.

The Lobos opened with Class A Nocona last week and were none too impressive in gaining a 0-0 tie. In a game at Big Spring last year and the Lobos will be gunning for revenge.

CISCO MENTORS—Masterminding the grid strategy of the Cisco high school football Lobos, Friday night foe of the Big Spring Steers in Cisco, are Jack Everett (right), head coach, and V. C. Overall, assistant. Everett was formerly with Cisco Junior college.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

For three years running now, the Big Spring Broncs have gone gunning for the Longhorn league title—which goes to the team winning the Shaughnessy playoffs. In 1947 and '48, the Hosces came home empty handed.

They're apt to fare little better in this year's show unless they play their roles to the hilt in each game. Past records mean nothing in this classic. The Broncs finished first in regular season activity but this it something else again.

There is a surprising amount of pessimism being voiced among their followers, who point to the disastrous results of the 1947 and '48 playoffs. In 1947, fourth place Ballinger copped the bunting while third-place Midland wrapped it up last year.

Bill Serena, the ex-WT-NM leaguer who was recently sold to the Chicago Cubs for spring delivery, reportedly made $1,000 a month during the past Texas league season. He was with Dallas.

Another one-time WT-NM performer, Joe Bauman (Amarillo), was judged the most popular player to appear in the National Baseball Congress' annual tournament at Wichita, Kansas, the past week.

Bauman played with the Elk City, Okla., Elks. Incidentally, this year's NBC meet attracted more than 125,000 paying fans. The tournament ran from Sept. 18 through Sept. 2.

RAMOS AND YANEN EACH REGISTERED 22 WINS

Julio Ramos, Big Spring's star lefthander, and George Yanen of the Paris club (East Texas league) each finished with 22 victories for the 1949 season. However Yanen lost 12 decisions, compared to only four for Ramos.

The Class A Western league which has but six clubs, drew 1,306,611 paid admissions during the 1949 campaign.

Denver led the way with 463,039 followed by Omaha with 276,718, Des Moines 204,983, Lincoln 151,939, Pueblo 141,525 and Sioux City 123,643.

Howard I. Green, the former Longhorn league president, is business manager of the Pueblo club.

And, while on the subject of attendance, it is doubtful that the Class C East Texas league did as well financially as the Longhorn league. Paris topped all other East Texas teams with a draw of 66,000. San Angelo may better them by 20,000.

The major leagues pay out a total of about $32,000 to official scorers every year. That runs to a little more than $10 a game.

WALKER NAMED TO WOODWARD'S AGGREGATION

Doak Walker of SMU, Chuck Justice of North Carolina, Charley Hunsinger, Florida, and Eddie Price, Tulane, made up the offensive backfield for a football magazine ("Football-1949") by Stanley Woodward of New York City.

Linemen on the offensive squad were Dan Foldsberg (a Texan) of Army and Leon Hart, Notre Dame, ends, Leo Nommellin of Minnesota and Wade Walker of Oklahoma, tackles, Jimmy Crawford of Mississippi and Stanley West of Oklahoma, guards, and Leon McLaughlin, UCLA, center.

The defensive team: Bob Stilwell, USC, and Hart, ends; Al Wistert, Michigan, and Howard Houston, Harvard, tackles; Dick Tomlinson, Kansas, and Bernie Lemonick, Penn, guards; Clayton Tommemaker, Minnesota, center; Lee Nalley, Vanderbilt; Arnold Gallifa, Army; Lynn Chandola, Michigan State; and Dick Kampton, Michigan, backs.

Jack Lucas, Baylor, Became Top Athlete After Attack Of Polio

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

AP Sports Editor

DALLAS, Sept. 13.—There's a great human interest story of sports at Baylor University. It concerns a young fellow who didn't let infantile paralysis launt him in his desire to become a top athlete.

But this story goes deeper than that — it's about a mother who wanted her son to tick the dreaded polio bandicamp as an example for those who might otherwise quit because of the load.

Mrs. Florence Lucas of East Bernard, Tex., encouraged Jack Lucas to fight against the paralysis of an arm and shoulder so that he might give heart to others similarly afflicted.

Lucas had polio five years ago. Today he is considered one of the greatest track prospects in the Southwest Conference.

He has a shivered left shoulder and arm but it has not kept him from competing — and winning.

Jack broadjumped 25 feet 2 inches, high jumped 6 feet 7 inches and ran 100 yards in 9.8 seconds last spring while on the Baylor freshman squad.

Next season as a member of the varsity, Lucas probably won't high jump but will substitute the 200 yard over hurdles for that event. He has done the hurdles in 23 seconds flat.

In high school Jack never had the privilege of running on cinders. In fact, he didn't even have a coach.

He went to Shriner Institute where he bloomed into track stardom.

Jack is 6 feet tall and weighs 162 pounds. He is left-handed — and the wretched arm from polio would have to be his left.

KNEE INJURIES, SHOULDER INJURIES AND BRAIN CONCUSSIONS ARE

Broncs, Colts To Play In Opener On Wednesday

Opening game of the 1949 Longhorn league game play-off, scheduled for today, has been postponed.

Al Atton, business manager for the Big Spring Broncs, made the announcement shortly before noon Tuesday after an examination showed that the field was too heavy following rain last night. An unseasonal cold snap also influenced the decision to delay the opener.

Barring further rain, Big Spring and San Angelo will lift the lid on their seven-game series here Wednesday evening. The postponement will give both hurling staffs needed rest before hitting the crucial play-off trail.

Keeping in trim for the stretch, the Broncs Monday evening coasted to a 11-0 shutout of the classy Tigers, local semi-pro club. The Tigers went down in order in all but six innings. They were limited to one safety in the eighth.

Box seats were still on sale Tuesday, although most regular holders claimed them for the opening two-regular holders were not reserved by regular holders were to go on open sale this afternoon.

The box office is due to open early Wednesday evening to permit fans to make purchases before the rush.

Both clubs were in reasonably good physical condition. Pat Stacey, Broncs manager, was undecided between Bert Garcia and Julio Ramos for his first twirling cher. Lefty Shelton, Forsan, may toe the slab for San Angelo. If he doesn't, Colt Manager Sam Herchenay is due to send in Sam Hunter.

Big Spring ended its season with a 21-game bulge over second-place Midland. Its 94 games won broke the league record by ten full games.

Broncs Defeat Bengals, 11-0

The Big Spring Broncs shellacked the Big Spring Latin-American Tigers, 11-0, in an exhibition baseball game before a sizeable turnout here Monday evening.

Ernie Mayorquin started on the mound for the professionals.

Williams Hogs Mace Honors

CHICAGO, Sept. 13.—Boston's Ted Williams maintained a wide lead in the American League batting race today with 352 and also monopolized four special department awards.

His .352 was a one point drop from a week ago. Second place George Kell of Detroit lost two points for .339 but was 29 points ahead of third place Bob Dillinger of St. Louis.

Boston's Vern Stephens skidded out of the top ten but continued his runs-batted-in pace with 146. Williams had the most runs, 136; most hits, 182; most doubles, 38; and most homers, 27. Mitchell was tops in triples with 22 while Dillinger increased his stolen base lead to 17.

greatly decreasing in Southwest Conference football.

Not many years ago it was not uncommon for a single football squad to have a half-dozen leads on the shelf with bunched up knees.

That's all changed and Eddie Wojcicki, Rice Institute's expert trainer, will be the one to say you.

In the first place, the schools have gone in for the best in the training profession. They are not just rubbers anymore; they know anatomy, physiology and chemistry.

"The colleges found it paid to have expert trainers who could prevent injuries to the stars and could straighten them out if they happened," Wojcicki observes.

Thus the day is gone when the player with a "trick knee" is through in football. An operation will take care of it in a few days.

In the second place, men are banded and "duck waddies" are banned from collaterals. "They loosen the joints and make them more pliable, which is exactly what you don't want," Wojcicki declares. "Boys today do not walk. They ride even if it's just across the street. When a boy walks it makes his knee tight and that's what is needed. A tight knee when hit allows the ligaments to pull. A loose knee allows the cartilage to tear or fracture."

Wojcicki says shoulder injuries and brain concussions are prevented through the equipment worked out by the trainers to give proper protection to shoulders and heads. Expert wrapping prevents ankle sprains.

Unknown Texan Upsets Champ In Fem Meet

ARDMORE, Pa., Sept. 13. (U.S.)—A little Texas gal with a winning smile and a big heart kept a nine year kid going in the U. S. Women's Amateur Golf Championship.

Pretty Joanne Barr Tracy, an unknown lady of the links from Dallas, spoiled sturdy Grace Lenzky's 2nd birthday yesterday by eliminating the defending amateur champion, 1 up in the first round of the 1949 U.S.G.A. Tournament.

The jinx Mrs. Tracy upheld was the failure of any women's amateur queen to repeat since Betty Jameson won in 1939 and '40.

The 26-year-old mother of a two and a half year old girl was the most surprised person on the historic Merion Golf Club Course when she holed a three foot putt on the 18th green to win an impressive match in her first national tournament.

"Golly," she said, "I never thought I could do it. When I drew Miss Lenzky for my opening round I kinda' thought this would be a golf lesson for me."

Mrs. Tracy, former middle Atlantic figure skating champion who also performed with Sonja Henie's ice show and with her capades—said she learned all her golf from "daddy."

Her father, Duncan Barr is golf pro at Schroom Lake, in upper New York State. Joanne's husband, a salesman in Dallas, was on hand to greet his triumphant wife with a big kiss as she walked off the final green in a daze.

Highly regarded Peggy Kirk, of Florida, O., runner-up in the recent Western Amateur, lost 3 and 2 to Mrs. James Ferris, Long Beach, Calif., Beverly Hanson, Fargo, N. D., last who went to the semi-finals at Pebble Beach, Calif. last year, dropped by the wayide, 3 and 1, to another Texan, Betty Rawls, of Austin.

The Aggies looked a little sharper in a night signal drill.

Texas Coach Blair Cherry named Perry Samuels and Errol Fry co-captains for Saturday's game at Austin with Texas Tech's game at Midland.

The Longhorns worked on offense yesterday.

Baylor went through two light workouts, with much emphasis placed on pass defense.

Fullback Leon Campbell rejoined the Arkansas squad yesterday and wore a brace during practice. He has been bothered by a hernia. Coach John Barnhill said he was "holding breath" until it could be determined whether Campbell could play regularly this season.

Lamesa Nears Playoff Finals

By The Associated Press

Lamesa was only one game away from the final series of the West Texas-New Mexico League today. Amarillo, which took out Abilene four games to none, is awaiting its opponent in the championship series.

Last night Lamesa edged Albuquerque 5-1 to take a one-game lead over the Dukes in the first five games.

A double play in the ninth put out the fire as Lamesa nipped the regular season leaders for the third time in the seven-game series.

Manager Herchel Martin of Albuquerque protested the umpire's decision on the play in which D. C. Miller of Lamesa dropped Marjorie Matthews, Texas Tech, and Pampa, and Jeff Davis rounded out the top ten clubs.

In the second ten were Breckenridge and Paschal of Fort Worth (tie); Waco, Grand Prairie, Odessa, Amarillo, Orange, Wichita Falls, Corpus Christi and Kerwinville, Sweetwater, Sunset (Dallas), Baytown, Palestine, San Antonio Tech, Gainesville, Yeleta, San Benito and Sherman received some points in the poll.

Coahoma Tests Clyde Friday

COAHOMA, Sept. 13.—The Coahoma Bulldogs will journey to Clyde Friday for a meeting with the Clyde football team.

Coach Ed Robertson, Coahoma, has put his charges through workouts aimed at breaking the Clyde T-formation offense. Coahoma defeated the Clyde team last year, 14-13, giving them the first setback in 17 games. L. V. Everett is Clyde's coach.

Probable starters for Coahoma are Edwin Dickson, end, 190 pounds; Max Thomas, tackle, 200; Maurice Duncan, guard, 190; Rodney Cramer, center, 180; Bill Bennett, guard, 170; Jimmy Minchew, tackle, 195; Paul Sheedy, end, 160; R. T. Echols, quarter back, 160; Bob Cathey, left half back, 130; Wendell Shive or Edgar Vinson, right half back, 170 and 165 respectively; and Jack Wolf, full back, 220.

Don Sheffield, center; Gerry Hoover, end; John B. Turner, tackle; Billy Joe Cramer, tackle; Elvon DeVaney, guard; Bill Reid, quarter back; and Jim Knight, half back, are likely to see considerable action in the Clyde contest, Coach Robertson said. All are freshmen except Knight.

Cards Closing In On Jackie

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—Jackie Robinson of Brooklyn (takes an eight-point lead into the final three weeks of the National league batting title race with Enos Slaughter and Stan Musial of St. Louis closing fast.

Robinson's .347 is hardly safe with Slaughter batting .339 and Musial boosting his average another five points to .331. It's a three-way fight to the wire.

Willard Marshall of New York is fourth at .319.

Bobby Thomson of New York holds fifth at .307, a point ahead of Cincinnati's Ted Kluszewski's .306.

Ralph Kiner, who hit four homers in the week among his seven hits, now has 46 for the year. He is seventh in batting at .306.

Most Southwest Elevens Cut Drills To One A Day

Frogs Crippled By Injuries

By The Associated Press

Southwest Conference schools are about ready to go into one-a-day football workouts.

Southern Methodist yesterday scaled down to one practice a day and Baylor is slated to do the same today.

Most Southwest Conference schools reported their teams in top shape. An exception was Texas Christian.

Coach L. R. (Dutch) Meyer said one of his starters, Billy Moorman, would probably sit on the bench in the Kansas game at Lawrence, Kan., Saturday.

Moorman has a sprained ankle. His twin brother, Bobby, will replace him on defense and George Boal on offense.

Coach Dick Love and Allen Taylor and Fullback Johnny Madanich are other Frogs ailing.

Rice went through a short scrimmage session yesterday. Coach Jess Neely said Vernon Glass is "certainly looking good" at quarterback. "His passing is sharp and his quarterback good. He looked good in Saturday's scrimmage, too."

Coach Harry Stittler described Texas A.M.'s practice yesterday as "the worst we've had since September first."

The Aggies looked a little sharper in a night signal drill.

Texas Coach Blair Cherry named Perry Samuels and Errol Fry co-captains for Saturday's game at Austin with Texas Tech's game at Midland.

The Longhorns worked on offense yesterday.

Baylor went through two light workouts, with much emphasis placed on pass defense.

Fullback Leon Campbell rejoined the Arkansas squad yesterday and wore a brace during practice. He has been bothered by a hernia. Coach John Barnhill said he was "holding breath" until it could be determined whether Campbell could play regularly this season.

Jackets Named Prep Leaders

DALLAS, Sept. 13. (U.S.)—What's the best high school football team in Texas right now?

Port Arthur got the nod from sportswriters participating in a poll conducted by the Dallas Morning News.

The Yellowjackets, who whipped Odessa, 27-13, last week, received a total of 153 points compared to 126 for second place Austin.

Denson, Lubbock, Abilene, Temple, Marshall, Sunset, Pampa, and Jeff Davis rounded out the top ten clubs.

In the second ten were Breckenridge and Paschal of Fort Worth (tie); Waco, Grand Prairie, Odessa, Amarillo, Orange, Wichita Falls, Corpus Christi and Kerwinville, Sweetwater, Sunset (Dallas), Baytown, Palestine, San Antonio Tech, Gainesville, Yeleta, San Benito and Sherman received some points in the poll.

No Charges Filed Against Coach In Incest Case

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 13. (U.S.)—Tennis Coach Leslie E. Jahn, 41, is free on a writ of habeas corpus today after being booked on suspicion of incest with his daughter, Laura Lou Jahn, 16, second ranked junior girl tennis player in the nation.

No charges have been filed, although the girl told police her father had forced her into illicit relations since she was ten years old. Jahn denied the accusations, claiming his daughter was angry because he refused to permit her to have dates on tennis courts. He was arrested Sunday.

Buffs Invade Hornet's Nest

FORSAN, Sept. 13.—Coach Frank Honeycutt takes his Forsan Buffaloes to Merton Friday for their second game of the 1949 season.

Merton's strength has not been tested this year, but the Buffs are expecting to run into a formidable foe there.

As for as the Buffaloes, they had easy sailing in their season's opener last week, rolling over Southland by 45-0.

The Forsan boys rumbled over the Southland crew at will, with the second string playing almost half of the game. The first stringers were in their long enough, however, for Honeycutt to size up some of his hands.

Bob Creeman, sophomore back, looked to advantage while he was on the field, and both first-string ends, Theibert Camp and Virgil Bennett, turned in outstanding performances. Bennett's booming kick-offs kept Southland in the hole from the word "go."

The Buffs will get a week off from the competition following the Merton clash. They are due to return to action on Sept. 20 when they entertain Grandfalls here.

The basketball five of Kentucky, Tulane, Bradley and Villanova will meet in the Buser Bowl basketball tourney, Dec. 28 and 29.

WILKS AND PAGE

Firemen Key To Card, Yankee Flag Hopes

By JACK HAND

AP STAFF

Joe Page and Ted Wilks, baseball's celebrated firemen, loom as key men in the stretch drive of the favored New York Yankees and St. Louis Cards.

The team standings and schedule give the Yanks and Cards the edge but only as long as Page and Wilks continue to produce. Each has appeared to 51 games.

As the Yanks and Cards move into the final three weeks of the season with the opening today of the last interseasonal series, the relief ace figure to tell the story.

New York, out front by three full games after Sunday's double win while Boston was dropping two, used Page in five of its 11 September games three times he helped Tommy Byrne, out of trouble. He saved Alie Reynolds and Fred Sanford once each.

Manager Casey Stengel may have to call on Smokey Joe today. After Eddie Lopat pitches the opener against the St. Louis Browns, Casey has selected Rookie Wally Hood to pitch the second game. Hood, a recent Kansas City grad, will be getting his first major league starting test.

Return of Yogi Berra to home run hitting form was a tremendous boost to Yank morale. They got another lift from Tommy Iherich, injured first baseman-outfielder, who again is taking batting practice and insists he's "ready."

But most important is Page who saved three big games in the last five days.

While the Yanks play a pair with the Browns, the desperate Boston Red Sox must take on the steaming Detroit club. Winners of 19 straight and 18 of their last 20, the Tigers invade the east for the last time, intent on becoming a pennant winner. Time is fact running out on all Yankee chasers but particularly for Detroit which has only 14 to play and trails by 5 1/2 games. They are eight back on the important losing side.

Joe McCarthy's Red Sox, to keep their hopes alive, must gain ground during the seven-game homestand against the west. Then in the five knock off the Yanks in the five games still to be played between

Shirley To Try Channel Again

NEW YORK, Sept. 13. (U.S.)—Shirley May France said today she will try again next summer to swim the English Channel—and "I'm going to make it."

The 17-year-old Somerset, Mass., high school girl, who was pulled from the channel just short of her goal a week ago, arrived at La Guardia Field from London shortly after midnight.

Commenting on her unsuccessful swim, she said "The tides didn't bother me. It was the coldness of the water."

"Next time, I'm going to start earlier," she told newsmen. "If I had gone to England earlier this summer, I would have had my choice of some beautiful days on which to swim the channel."

Cleveland's chances of repeating as world champs are even more dim than Detroit's. The Tribe, fourth by six games, plays only 14 of its last 17 at home. The Yanks play 15 of 19 at the Yankee Stadium and the Red Sox nine of 18 at Fenway Park where they have been terrific.

In the National the slugging of Stan Musial and Enos Slaughter and the efficient relief work of Wilks (L.S.) have given the Cards a 1 1/2 game edge over the Dodgers.

Wilks has been bumped in his last few outings but the St. Louis staff required his strong right arm in four of its last nine games.

The Cards, like all 16 major league teams had an open date yesterday, but they're looking ahead to the big three-game series at Sportsman's Park with second-place Brooklyn Sept. 21-23. Those games probably will decide the pennant race.

Tonight's series opener with the New York Giants is the first of 12 straight home dates for the Red Hirs. After that they finish up with five at Chicago and Pittsburgh.

Brooklyn has to win this flag on the road, if it's going to do the job. Burt Shotton's Dodgers, uncertain about Pee Wee Reese's condition, start a 10-game jaunt tonight in Cincinnati. Only two of their 16 remaining games will be played at Ebbets Field.

Party Request, a dark bay colt by Requested-War Party, brought $30,000 as a yearling last year and is expected to go places. He was beaten in a photo at Arlington Park in his debut.

Elliott Roosevelt To Be Divorced By Wife

NEW YORK, Sept. 13 (AP)—Actress Faye Emerson plans to bring divorce proceedings against Elliott Roosevelt as soon as she finishes work on a motion picture now in production.

The 31-year-old blonde actress, confirming yesterday that she and the late President's second son have separated, said "Elliott and I parted on friendly terms."

As she stood by in a studio, a representative handed out an unsigned statement which said: "Faye Emerson confirmed today the report that she would seek a divorce from Elliott Roosevelt."

Miss Emerson said "I'm sorry to say that Mr. Roosevelt and I have been separated for some time and I plan a divorce when I have finished my current motion picture. Elliott and I parted on friendly terms."

Roosevelt, who was reached by a newsman in Providence, R. I., said the breakup of the marriage "is a personal matter—I have no comment." He was in Providence for a speaking engagement.

His wife declined comment beyond the formal statement.

Roosevelt, 38, married twice before, and Miss Emerson, married once before, were wed in December, 1944.

They separated in August.

Roosevelt has remained at their Hyde Park, N. Y., home in recent weeks and his wife has stayed at their New York City apartment. Neither Roosevelt nor his wife is reported to have a romantic interest elsewhere, and friends of the couple lay the rift to "a conflict in interests."

Will Raise Living Standards

Prince, Trained At Harvard, Heads Iran Seven-Year Plan

AP Staff Writer
TEHRAN, Iran. — An earnest young Harvard graduate (class of 1947) heads a vast program designed to raise the living standards of 16½ million people.

The man holding this important job is Prince Abdul Reza Pahlevi. He is a younger brother of Iran's colorful ruler, Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlevi.

The program, officially designated Iran's seven-year plan, involves planned expenditures of $650 million. The money is to be spent for such things as improving farm methods, setting up new factories, increasing farm and factory output, exploiting natural resources, building low cost homes and improving health and education.

It is a program with tremendous implications and is recognized as such by everybody in Iran. It means pulling up the country by its own bootstraps from the traditional poverty of the Middle East. If successful it will mean diminishing discontent among the masses making them less likely to listen to Communist propaganda. The Soviet looms large on Iran's northern border.

The seven-year plan has been talked about here for several years. The Iranian majlis (parliament) finally approved it several months ago. An American firm, Overseas Consultants, Inc. was called in to look over the situation and make suggestions.

The Shah named his brother, Prince Abdul Reza, to head the supreme planning board which will sanction for the life of the plan. The prince, though young, has a background of political economy studies at Harvard and works hard at his job.

He dresses neatly and conservatively in a roomy business suit. He exhibits great familiarity with details of the program and has facts and figures at his finger tips. He works in an office set up in his private palace outside Tehran. Except for the sumptuous palace setting it looks like the office of any American executive complete with files and American business magazines.

The father of the present royal family was the late Reza Shah Pahlevi. He was crowned in 1925 after the previous ruler of Persia had been deposed. He started working on his own economic improvement program which had no formal name or outline but simply developed as he got around to things. General opinion is that he accomplished a great deal.

When the elder Shah started cotton production in Iran was about 7,000 tons yearly. When he abdicated in 1941 after the allies arrested him of being pro-German, cotton output was up to about 50,000 tons yearly, permitting exports of 25,000 tons or so. Not only was the crop larger but the quality had been raised to a considerable extent.

During the war and its aftermath, cotton production fell to 12,000 tons of inferior quality.

New Oil Well Device Used To Revolve Tubing

HUNTINGTON Park, Calif. Sept. 13 (AP)—A new oil well device that constantly revolves the long tubing through which oil is pumped to the surface is being used in the Los Angeles basin fields.

The object is to cut down wear of the tubing from the constant up and down action of the rod inside it which operates the pump at the bottom of the hole.

The method is the brain-child of David Gorman, Long Beach, Calif. designing engineer who is general manager of an oil tool company here. He says that by slowly and constantly turning the long tubing the wear can be distributed and the costly business of shutting down production for "pulling jobs" because of split tubing is cut to a minimum.

Gorman explains that few if any oil wells are straight holes and that as a result the sucker rod and its couplings are a major source of tubing wear. The designer explained that a device is installed at the head of the well which by a system of gears, turns the tubing just one-thousandth of an inch for each stroke of the sucker rod.

Injunction On FCC Ban Granted

CHICAGO, Sept. 13 (AP)—A temporary injunction restraining the FCC from banning give-away programs on the air was granted today by Federal Judge Michael J. Liguori.

The stay order will prevent the Federal Communication Commission ban from going into effect Oct. 1 as scheduled. The injunction will remain in effect until a suit attacking the ban is decided in a federal court in New York. This suit was filed by the CBS, ABC and NBC.

The Cincinnati Reds used approximately 77 dozen balls during the 1949 spring training campaign.
