Lubbock City Council Tables Ordinance to Rename Quirt Avenue

The Lubbock City Council tabled second reading on an ordinance that would have prohibited naming city streets after individuals. The decision came after impassioned pleas by members of the Black and the Chicano community.

When the ordinance was being considered for final approval on December 12, Councilman Bill McAlister said, "The last thing the City Council wants is to polarize the community." He then made a motion to table the ordinance. He said this would allow more time for input of the Human Relations Commission and to check on the status of other cities that have named streets in honor of an individual.

Harold Chatman noted that the growth of Lubbock is moving away from East Lubbock and East Lubbock is becoming a "derelict area".

"We simply ask for a name change to honor a Nobel Prize winner," Mr. Chatman said. He gave the Council approximately 1500 petitions and said he hoped this would out-weigh the 50 or so telephone calls the Council members have received. "If you disregard this, you are saying to us 'East Lubbock we don't care, you are a stepchild," he said.

Ezra Anderson, Ambassador to Christ, said "The Council actions to rename the Canyon Lake Area 6 rather than Quirt after Dr. King prompted the feeling we no longer want to be pacified. We can stand on our own two feet. We will be satisfied with nothing less."

Ahmand Muhyee said "Every time we have to rally or march for what an ordinary white citizen gets through no effort, than we know we are not free."

State Representative Froy Salinas suggested an alternative that might resolve the controversy over the renaming of Quirt. He suggested that the portion of Quirt running through the area south of 34th Street be named Industrial Avenue; Quirt from 34th Street to the North Loop would then be named Dr. Martin Luther King Boulevard, and the Street from Loop 289 to the Airport could be called Airport Boulevard. Such a move to honor Dr. King would assist him, Representative Salinas said, in showing the rest of the state that Lubbock has improved in the area of minority relations.

Other Actions

In other actions, the City

Council voted to sponsor an $80,512 program that Mental Health Mental Retardation has requested be funded by a Criminal Justice Fund. The students involved in Project Intercept would help James Watkins, an accomplished Black potter, to construct a 42-ton clay mural in the Estebanico Area depicting Black history in Lubbock. The students will also participate in a drug education counseling program. The city's legal staff will work with MH-MR staff to assure that the MH-MR staff is financially accountable for the program.

Best Wishes for Christmas

May this holiday season bring to you and yours the old fashioned spirit of Christmas. A warm hearth, warm friends and a season bright with warm holiday cheer. We would like to join in by wishing you the warmest of holiday greetings!

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—Texas' two top-ranking Democrats last week warned the top-ranking Republican not to call a special session simply to play high-pressure politics because that game plan could self-destruct.

In Waco, House Speaker Bill Clayton told a Democratic party meeting that Gov. Bill Clements could seriously jeopardize his "real good working relationship" with the Legislature if he tries to strong-arm pet issues through a special session promised for March or September. A few days later Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby echoed those sentiments.

Clements wants the special session to pass three issues: use of wiretaps in narcotics cases, initiative and referendum, and tax reform.

But Democrats also strongly suspect the Republican governor wants to use the special session to disrupt their reelection campaigns back home—and they don't take that thought lightly.

Nor have they taken kindly to two Republican legislators whom they believe to be traveling the state rounding up opponents for their Democrat colleagues.

Clements has never been one to back away from a political fight and his party delights in their new muscle. The next election, round two in the state's new two-party ring, may be a big one for the history books.

New Party Policy

The State Democratic Executive Committee balked again at arranging a presidential primary on May 3. Chairman Billy Goldberg said the committee will schedule a primary if the Democratic presidential race appears close by the March 10 SDEC meeting.

The Democrats also added a rule to permit removal of party officers who publicly support opposing candidates or parties, a gambit aimed at Dallas Democrats who backed Clements in 1978.

Unfazed, a group of Dallas County precinct chairmen announced the next day they were switching to the Republican party. Their numbers were estimated between 11 and 20.

Merry Christmas!

"Tis the season to be jolly, as well as optimistic and hopeful. I hope that all our readers have a wonderful Christmas."

We are going to Houston, again, to spend Christmas with our daughter and youngest son. Our oldest will be in Houston at the same time, so the family will be together for the first time in two years.

It will be a welcome change, because last Christmas was, to be honest, dreary. One of our mothers was in the hospital and the other in a nursing home. The Houston-based branch stayed there, so it was a quiet Christmas here. It sure will be different this year!

The Southwest Conference set a bunch of attendance records for the recent football campaign. Foremost was a total attendance mark of 2,311,983 (as compared to 2,086,244 in 1978) and average attendance, 44,461 (as compared to 44,388 in 1978).

Tech compared favorably. The Raiders drew 276,500 fans, good for fifth in total attendance in the league, and the average of 46,083 also was fifth (above the league average). Tech's average attendance was 98 percent of capacity, good for second in the league (to Arkansas' 105.1 percent).

Tech set a new average attendance record this past season, as did Texas A&M (in new facilities) and Arkansas, which had a winner.

TCU set the pace in percent of change over 1978 with an increase of 38.5 per cent. That was the best among the five schools showing an increase. TCU was followed by A&M, 9.2; SMU, 7.3; Arkansas, 3.3; and Tech, 1.8. Those with decreases were Rice, 7.8; Houston, 7.2; Baylor, 7.1; and Texas, 3.5.

You'll note that three of the four showing losses in attendance just happen to be bowl-bound teams and three of the top four teams in the final standings. Odd, isn't it?

The conference also has issued its list of "bragging rights" for the decade of the '70s, and the list is impressive. For example:

Six SWC teams led the nation in six offensive and defensive categories and were runners up in three others; SWC players led the nation in nine individual national statistical categories and were runners up in six others;

Six SWC players were named consensus All Americas 30 times and received at least one first team mention 23 other times, while winning one Heisman Trophy and one Outland award;

50-Cent Gas Tax

Clements took a strong stand last week against a proposed 50-cent federal gasoline tax hike aimed at reducing fuel consumption in the U.S.

The governor proposed a state fuels hike of five cents a few weeks ago, but he isn't ready to up the ante that high. He said he was studying ways to voluntarily reduce consumption.

Last week Clements appointed his chief counsel, David Dean, as head of the new Governor's Criminal Justice Division.

Odds and Ends

House Parliamentarian Bob Johnson, who has been a ditch-digger, truck driver, football player and legislator, announced he will leave government and join the law-lobby firm of former Speaker Rayford Price and former legislator Bob Hutchinson.

In stepping into a new career, Johnson drew high praise from all factions of the House of Representatives for his service as parliamentarian.

El Paso Representative Luthor Jones has also said he will not seek reelection, but indicated he might be available for state Democratic Party chairman. Jones was a member of the "Gang of Four," four representatives who played loyal opposition to Speaker Clayton.

Jones announcement brings to 12 the number of representatives who have said they won't come back for one reason or another. Others are Jim Clark, D-Pasadena; Bob Close, R-Perryton; Danny Hill, D-Amarillo; Lance Lalor, D-Houston; Tom Martin, D-George West; Ed Mayes, D-Granbury; Bill Sullivant, D-Gainesville; Buddy Temple, D-Diboll; and Tom Massey, D-San Angelo.

"Flat-Out Asking"

State Sen. E.L. Short, D-Tahoka, has "flat-out asked" Clements to rescind priority status for gasoline consumers in Dallas, Tarrant and Harris counties because he fears the South Plains won't have enough fuel for the winter.

Clements wrote back to Short saying he can't agree with the senator's assessment and he will keep the priorities for the urban areas.

AG Opinions

In two legal opinions issued last week Attorney General Mark White ruled:

—Chief appraisers and other employees of an appraisal district who assess and appraise property for ad valorem tax purposes are required to register with the Board of Tax Assessor Examiners whether or not the district has become fully implemented.

—A Fort Worth I.S.D. policy which permits teachers to work for professional organizations while being paid salaries by the school district constitutes an unconditional grant of public funds to a private organization and is unconstitutional.

SWC teams posted a .574 winning percentage against non-conference foes (176 wins, 129 losses, 11 ties), while posting the best three-season non-conference record among the nation's major conferences in 1977-1979;

SWC teams finished the season in the top 10 in wire service polls 14 times during the decade; SWC teams went to bowls 27 times in the 70s, including four teams accepting bids in 1977, 1978 and 1979.

Within the league, 65 new individual records were established, along with 47 new team records and 49 ties for team and individual records. Tech's Lawrence Williams was the national leader in kickoff returns in 1972 and Maury Buford was the national punting champ in 1978.

Tech also was the team champion in pass defense in 1971, the Raiders' yield of 60.1 yards a game being the lowest in the SWC win the last 22 years.

In individual categories, Texas had four season high marks in the decade, followed by Rice with a pair and Texas Tech, Arkansas and Houston one each.

The records show that, in team statistics, Tech was a leader in only one department, pass defense, and that twice, in 1971 and 1974.

James Hadnot, who stamped his mark indelibly on the conference, had the third and fourth best rushing records (behind Earl Campbell and Roosevelt Leaks. Both had longer periods in which to make their marks).

Blade Adams shows up as a leader, too. He had the third and fifth best field goal records in the 70s (behind Arkansas' Little and Ordonez, but ahead of Texas' Goodson and A&M's Franklin).

Aside from that, Tech doesn't show up in individual or team statistics—which doesn't jibe with their showing in conference warfare.

Can you imagine how sick Washington's players must have felt last Sunday? Here they had the game won and then lost it to the Dallas Cowboys. Not only that, it knocked the Redskins out of the playoffs. It was sweet revenge for the Pokes.

Now the Cowboys go into the playoffs and I'm sure the Cotton Bowl people are thrilled. That's sarcasm, of course, because the Pokes will be playing in Dallas only a couple of days before Houston and Nebraska square off, and past experience has shown that the pros capture the headlines under such circumstances.

I'm going on the record early and taking Houston's Cougars over Nebraska. If for no other reason, the Cougars have revenge at heart. Not that they have a score to settle with the Cornhuskers, but because of the sorry way they lost to Notre Dame a year ago.

That defeat has to rankle. In addition, the SWC has a good record against the Big 8 and, while Nebraska was the best for much of the season, they lost to Oklahoma, which was beaten by Texas, which finished second to Houston and Arkansas.

Pass the aspirin department:

Texas 14, Texas Tech 6; Texas Tech 21, Texas A&M 20; Texas A&M 13, Texas 7.

Or, Arkansas 17, Texas 14; Texas 21, Houston 13; Houston 13, Arkansas 10.

Or, Rice 21, Tulane 17; Tulane 33, TCU 19; TCU 17, Rice 7.

It's early in the season, but already it seems to me that basketball coaches are more up in arms over officiating than they've ever been. Right here at home there has been some atrocious work performed.

No one seems to know the complete answer, but perhaps part of the trouble stems from having three officials. It takes coordination even among two officials. When you get three, it just clutters up the floor.

Whatever, if the situation isn't straightened out by the time conference play starts Jan. 3, you may see more technicals than you've seen in a long, long time.

Most insects and fish abandon their eggs before they hatch.

NEW!—Mr. Brent H. Holcomb has announced the first genealogical magazine devoted exclusively to material on blacks. Carolina Black Genealogy will include such items as advertisements for runaways, slave deeds, manumissions, Negroes mentioned in church and military records, and wills and inventories of free blacks. The information will pertain to people in North and South Carolina, primarily before 1880. Annual subscriptions will be $15. Two issues will be printed in 1980. The publication may appear on a quarterly basis in 1981. Interested persons should send their checks to Carolina Black Genealogy, P.O. Box 210043, Columbia, S.C. 29221.

Mr. Grady L. Heflin, 3518 28th Parkway, Hillcrest Heights, Md. 20031 would like to exchange information on the ancestry of his great grandfather, Boss HEFLIN, born in Georgia between 1832 and 1845. Background data on his line begins with John HEFLIN (white), born about 1741 in England. Records show that he was in Orange County, N.C. in the mid 1700s. He had two sons, Wiley and Wyatt. Wiley moved to Georgia (probably Henry County). When John died, he returned to Orange County, N.C. Later Wiley and Wyatt went to Locust Grove, Henry County, Ga., to a place called Heflin Plantation, which employed many slaves.

Born in 1789 in Orange County, N.C., Wyatt HEFLIN married Sarah STELL and lived in Henry and Fayette Counties, Ga. About 1837 he moved to Randolph County, Ala., about fourteen miles west of Roanoke to a place called Old Louina, named after an Indian woman who owned a trading post.

Children of Wyatt and Sarah included Doctor Wilson Lumpkin HEFLIN, born in Georgia in 1828. He married Lavencia Catherine PHILLIPS, who was born in Georgia in 1836. Dr. Heflin was the owner of Boss HEFLIN, who married Adline PHILLIPS, born in Alabama about 1845. She was the daughter of Floyd PHILLIPS, born in Georgia in 1814.

Boss was the father of James Hillard, Floyd, May (who married a STEVENS), William, May?, and Andrew HEFLIN. Andrews was born about 1862 and died in Detroit, Mich. in 1973. He married Limmer HILL, born in 1872 and died in Randolph County, Ala. Her parents were Miles HILL and Mandy GOTIER, who was a black Creek Indian. Andrew and Limmer had ten children, including Rogers HEFLIN (Grady's father), born in 1897 in Alabama and died in 1969 in Chicago, Ill.

Any help on this HEFLIN family would be appreciated and all letters will be answered.

These blacks were mentioned in the following issues of the Magnolia Gazette, Magnolia, Miss.: Wm RATLIFF and Maj. THOMPSON, May 31, 1883; John TAYLOR, June 21, 1883; and Drew BRIDGES and Trench MCNABB, May 28, 1898.

Hope 1980 will be a great year for discovering many new ancestors!

VA News

Don't let lost documents prevent you from seeking veterans benefits, the Veterans Administration today reminded veterans and their dependents.

A VA spokesman said, "We have found that some veterans who cannot locate birth or marriage certificates don't apply for benefits because they believe these documents are essential."

VA will accept a certified statement instead of an original birth or marriage certificate when needed to establish eligibility, provided—in the case of a marriage—that it is the first for each partner and VA has no contradictory information on file.

In years past, VA required formal documentation to support claims for compensation and education benefits for veterans, widows and orphaned children.

Now, however, VA will accept a certified statement regarding the birth of a veteran's child or as proof of age and relationship in disability cases, the spokesman said.

VA urged veterans and their dependents with eligibility questions to contact the nearest VA regional office or a representative of one of the national veterans service organizations.

Black Unemployment Drops In November

WASHINGTON — The unemployment rate for blacks declined in November to 10.8 percent, the U.S. Department of Labor's Bureau of Labor Statistics reported.

A month ago, the black unemployment rate was 11.7 percent.

The unemployment rate for adult black men was 8.3 percent, compared with the 9.0 percent level in October. For adult black women, the rate was 9.3 percent, compared with the 10.1 percent rate of the previous month. For 16-19 year olds, both sexes, the unemployment rate was 33.1 percent, compared with 35.7 percent in October.

On a national basis, the Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS) reported that employment rose in November and unemployment edged down.

The Nation's overall unemployment rate was 5.8 percent, compared with 6.0 percent in October. The jobless rate has fluctuated between 5.6 and 6.0 percent for more than a year.

Total employment — as measured by the monthly survey of households — rose 350,000 in November to 97.6 million. Total employment has grown by 1.9 million since November 1978, with more than half of the increase occurring between last November and March.

Nonfarm payroll employment — as measured by the monthly survey of establishments — advanced by 220,000 in November to 90.2 million. Over the year, payroll jobs decreased by 2.4 million; again, much of the growth took place in the 4 months prior to April.

The number of unemployed persons edged down by 140,000 in November to 6.0 million. The overall unemployment rate moved from 6.0 percent in October to 5.8 percent, the same as the September rate and within the relatively narrow range in which unemployment has remained since August 1978.

Over-the-month declines in unemployment occurred among adult women and blacks, whose jobless rates declined to 5.5 and 10.8 percent, respectively, reversing increases of comparable magnitude in October. The unemployment rate for adult men (4.3 percent) and white workers (5.2 percent), on the other hand, were unchanged. In other worker categories, jobless rates fell among part-time and white-collar workers, while the rate for blue-collar workers was about unchanged from the previous month. Blue-collar unemployment was up markedly over the year, however, in contrast to movements among most other major worker groups.

Total employment increased by 350,000 in November to 97.6 million. This increase took place primarily among adult women and white workers. Employment in white-collar jobs rose by 220,000 in November, with most of the increase occurring among sales workers. Although movements in employment have tended to be erratic in recent months, employment has increased by 1.9 million over the past year. Adult women accounted for three-fourths of the year-to-year growth.

The civilian labor force, at 103.7 million, edged up by 210,000 in November. Over-the-month increases in the labor force occurred entirely among white workers, as the number of blacks in the labor force declined. Since November 1978, the overall labor force has advanced by 2.1 million.

The labor force participation rate was 63.8 percent in November. Over the year, participation was increased by 0.2 percentage point, due entirely to increased labor force activity among adult women. Adult male and teenage participation rates were both down from a year earlier.

HEW Proposes Procedures to Verify Medicaid Service Bills

HEW has proposed uniform procedures for verifying whether Medicaid beneficiaries actually receive services billed to the program.

The verification program would increase the early detection of irregularities. Various verification methods now used by State Medicaid agencies are not equally effective.

The system proposed by the Health Care Financing Administration would require states to send a verification notice to a sampling of beneficiaries. The notice would summarize the services claimed, and request a response in an enclosed postage-paid return envelope. A follow-up by mail, telephone or personal interview would be made to beneficiaries who did not respond.

"We have found through experience with the Medicare and Medicaid programs that it is useful to verify with patients whether services billed were actually rendered," said HCFA Administrator Leonard D. Schaeffer. "Verification of services is an effective deterrent to potential violators of both programs, and it provides leads when fraud or abuse does occur."

All state Medicaid agencies would be required to establish verification procedures and to:

- Send a minimum number of verification notices to a specified sample of beneficiaries.

- Send the verification notice within 45 days after the claim is paid, informing the beneficiary what the service was, where and by whom it was rendered, the date rendered, and the amount billed.

- Request the beneficiary to return the notice indicating whether the information is correct, and enclose a self-addressed, postage-paid envelope for the response.

- Provide that services defined by the state as "confidential" will be excluded from the verification system.

- Maintain a record of all verification notices and perform at least one follow-up to those who did not respond.

HCFA will consider written comments or suggestions received within 60 days of the Dec. 21 publication of the proposed regulations in the Federal Register.

Comments should refer to file number OPI-03-P and addressed to: Administrator, Health Care Financing Administration, DHEW, P.O. Box 17073, Baltimore, Md. 21235.

Comments will be available for inspection beginning in approximately two weeks in Room 5220, 330 C Street, S.W., Washington, D.C., Monday through Friday, 8:30-5 p.m.

Equal Housing Opportunity

May We Help You?

If it's Borden, it's got to be good.

Ringling the Bell . . .

With Bob Tieucl

The Black Experience: The portal of the new year is always a good time for looking back and hope for the future. It is a sort of bridge between the past and the future but it is the future about which most bellringers are concerned.

If our readers this year were given the opportunity to select one gift this holiday season that would most benefit all mankind, the likelihood is we would select the gift of Peace. This would probably be our choice, rather than fortune, or health, or happiness, because peace is the most important of man's desires.

At this season, millions of people over the world will pause long enough to realize in humility that dignity and honor among people can be achieved for a few hours; and, if it can, then perhaps it could be achieved for an eternity.

And whether our readers be black, white, brown, red or any other color, or creed, we can echo the words that are upon the lips of all everywhere: "Peace on earth, good will toward men."

Christmas is another opportunity to pick up the strands of trust in each other and weave them into an enduring bond of understanding. And so we wish all of you a Merry Christmas, and a Happy New Year. May the true purpose of the holiday season—its joys, its beauty, its hope, and its faith—be yours to share with your friends and loved ones and to all people everywhere. And out of this season, may there come a new communication, a new hope and a new courage and we all realize that God is still in His world. So mote it be. And Peace!

Footnote: We extend the season's greetings to our readers all over the United States and several foreign countries. Especially do we think of our Oklahoma, Texas, New Mexico bellringers and those who follow us in the West Texas Times, the Midland Reporter Telegram, the A.M.E. Advocate and other Southwest publications.

And to our hundreds of Bellringers in Dallas-Ft. Worth area, Greetings: We hope to see you during the holidays. Put the pot on.

OBESITY LINKED TO HORMONE

By Ginger Rutherford

The study of fat rats may seem like a strange preoccupation but the results may help us better understand the function of one of the hormones found in our bodies. This hormone is called Beta-endorphin. It was discovered by Dr. Choh Hao Li, director of the Hormone Research Laboratory of the University of California in San Francisco, and has been mainly recognized as the body's natural opiate. The hormone is secreted by the pituitary gland which is located at the base of the brain.

The report of a study published in Science concerns the effect that beta-endorphin might have on overeating and obesity. Research by Margules, Lewis, Shibuya and Pert was conducted using genetically obese rats and mice and their lean litter mates.

It had been previously found that the opiates, beta-endorphin and morphine, induced overeating in laboratory animals. It was also shown that the obese animals had two times more naturally occurring beta-endorphin in their pituitaries than their lean litter mates.

Therefore, the study was conducted to find out if the agent that stimulated overeating was actually the beta-endorphin or some other substance. To do this both fat and thin rats and mice were injected with an opiate repressant, naloxone. Naloxone stops the opiate qualities of beta-endorphin. If the opiate qualities were stopped, then what effect would this have on the feeding behavior of the animals?

The results were that doses of naloxone from .5 mg/kg to 5 mg/kg suppressed overeating in obese mice and rats. This effect was ten times greater in the obese animals than it was in their lean litter mates. Thus it was concluded that there is a relationship between high levels of beta-endorphin and obesity at least in the rats and mice tested.

It is thought that beta-endorphin when released into the body from the pituitary gland stimulates opiate receptors in the intestinal tract. When this happens feeding behaviors are stimulated. Thus an excess of beta-endorphin being received by the opiate receptors can lead to overeating through over-stimulation.

When naloxone is used to suppress the effects of beta-endorphin, the opiate receptors are not activated to produce feeding behaviors. A similar result may be achieved by the surgical removal of the opiate receptors. Often people who have intestinal bypass surgery lose the urge to overeat. Since the surgery sometimes removes an area of the intestine that contains many opiate receptors, it is possible that the effect of beta-endorphin in overeating may be reduced by the absence of some of the receptors.

REESE AIR FORCE BASE "TOYS FOR TOTS" CAMPAIGN — Reese's Toys for Tots campaign has reaped a harvest of more than 1,000 toys for disadvantaged children in the Lubbock area. The drive, sponsored on base for the fourth straight year by the 1958th Communications Squadron, is designed to bring some Christmas cheer to children who otherwise would have a bleak holiday. Both new and repairable toys were donated by Reese people. The repairable toys were fixed by members of the 1958th Comm. Sq. All of the toys will be turned over to the Marine Corps Reserves in Lubbock for distribution. A campaign spokesman estimated the area-wide donation of toys to the Marine drive at between 10 and 12 thousand toys.

Lubbockites Elected to Baptist Boards

DALLAS — Two Lubbock residents were elected to major positions on Texas Baptist boards at the Dec. 4 meeting of the 192-member Executive Board of the Baptist General Convention of Texas (BGCT).

O.C. Madden Jr. was elected to the Business and Audit Committee.

Rex Webster, 1313 Broadway, Suite 1, was re-elected to the Public Relations Advisory Committee.

The Executive Board, composed of laymen and ordained church leaders, conducts the business of the 2-million-member BGCT between annual sessions. The BGCT owns and operates eight colleges and universities, an academy, eight hospitals and four children's homes.

This work is supported by the Convention's 4,400 churches and missions, which will give more than $31 million this year through the Cooperative Program to help share Christ's love throughout the world.

Besides the institutions, the Convention helps support the work of more than 5,000 missionaries in the United States and 94 foreign countries.

"It's 2 A.M. and I feel rotten. Who has time to read medicine labels?"

Sorry, there is no excuse for not reading the medicine label. The label tells you what it's for, how much to take and how often to take it. It's important information. Before you take any medicine, read the label. Medicines can't help you if you don't take them right.

You don't know me ...yet.

But you will. See, I've been assigned to help you learn how to protect yourself against crime. I'll be giving you tips on how to discourage burglars, disappoint muggers, and generally make life a little harder for criminals.

Like, for instance, did you know if a burglar can't break into your place after four minutes, chances are, he'll quit? So locking your door could ruin a crook's night.

Another example. Don't carry a purse when you don't need one. It makes a lot of sense; if you don't have your purse, it can't be snatched.

You'll be seeing a lot of me, but in the meantime, find out more. Write to: Crime Prevention Coalition, Box 6600, Rockville, Maryland 20850.

Find out what you and your neighbors can do to prevent crime. That's one way to help.
