Local NAACP Endorses Bond Election

Mrs. Mildred K. Lusk Will Be Honored Here Sunday

With almost forty years of dedicated teaching to the Lubbock Public School System, Mrs. Mildred K. Lusk will be honored Sunday afternoon, May 22, upon her retirement with a reception at Mae Simmons Community Center from 4 until 6. This affair is being sponsored by the Lubbock Alumnae Chapter of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Inc. and Bethel A.M.E. Church. All friends are invited to share in this occasion.

Mrs. Lusk began her teaching career at Dunbar High School in 1937 and remained on the staff until 1971 when she was transferred to Coronado High School.

"It was quite an experience for me to have had an opportunity to share what I had to the hundreds of young people who sat in the classes I taught," smiled Mrs. Lusk.

For 12 years, she taught English at Dunbar, a subject she loved. In 1949, she began her transfer from English teacher to librarian at which time she began to organize the library at Dunbar as a separate unit. Before that time, the library consisted of a shelf of books at the front of the English class room.

"We came a long way to set up a separate area for a library," she said. At that time, Dunbar was located on Date Avenue — the present location of Ella Iles Elementary School. The present Dunbar High School was constructed in 1959.

In 1953, after earning a degree in Library Science from the University of Minnesota, she became full-time librarian, the position she maintains at Coronado.

In the early years, there was no personnel for special activities. Classroom teachers assumed these responsibilities. "It was always wonderful experience to be able to share what you could for such an activity which didn't have a special teacher in those days," says Mrs. Lusk.

During her 34 years at Dunbar, Mrs. Lusk organized the first Student Council, the first Drama Club, sponsored the first yearbook, organized the Dorothy Lomax Library Club, the Girl's Reserves which later became the Y-Teens, and worked with all of these projects plus the commencement program for many years.

Widow of the late Willie Lusk, Jr., who was a well known bootmaker in Lubbock, Mrs. Lusk has three children, twins, Karl and Kevin — who are sophomores at Dunbar; a daughter, Mrs. Linda Marie Griffin, who resides in New Orleans, La.; and a granddaughter, Stacey Michelle Griffin.

"It has been a pleasure for me to have had an opportunity to have served in the Lubbock Public Schools," she smiled. "I loved the many opportunities I've had for nearly forty years," she concluded.

The Lubbock chapter of the NAACP has endorsed Saturday's $26.4 million city bond election, but the local group expressed reservations about two of the propositions.

The endorsement passed unanimously at a meeting last Saturday. Members of the chapter met with city officials last week about the bond election.

The bulk of the bonds that will be issued if voters approve will go to improvements in water and sewer systems, but the NAACP had qualms about one street improvement projects and a new fire station to be built in southwest or northwest areas of the city not yet annexed.

Chapter president Gene Gaines said that the reservations members had for the two projects were not enough to overcome the NAACP support.

"We're saying that we'll go along this time, but we expect you (the city) to make good on promises to do something" about problems in the minority community, Gaines said.

Gaines noted that a grade crossing at East 34th Street and Quirt Avenue was at the bottom of the bond shopping list. East Lubbock citizens have long been pushing for an overpass above the train tracks, but city officials recommended only for a crossing. They said the traffic in the area did not justify the expense of an overpass.

Gaines also complained about the street system on Quirt Avenue between 19th and 24th Streets, but said city officials had assured the local chapter federal funds could be used on that project.

Still Gaines said, "We feel the city might be looking the wrong direction, especially in respect to streets." The local attorney said that the city officials seemed very responsive to the needs of the minority community, "but what goes on in a meeting and what action comes out of it can be two different things."

The local chapter will continue to monitor the city's efforts in minority communities, Gaines said.

Another stumbling block in the local chapter's endorsement is $310,000 earmarked for a new fire station in areas the city has yet to annex. "We realize that from an economic standpoint, it's probably wise," Gaines said, "but we are also aware of the fact that problems already exist on which the $310,000 could be better spent."

As an example, Gaines pointed to extension of Indiana Avenue and beautification of University Avenue in the city's west side. He said similar efforts on Parkway or Quirt would enhance East Lubbock property values.

Still, Gaines said that the local chapter urged citizens to vote Saturday. "We think, overall, the good far outweighs the reservations."

Rev. Roberts Resigns After 27 Years Here

After 27 years of faithful service, the Rev. S.R. Roberts, pastor of Mount Gilead Baptist Church, told his congregation last Sunday morning the he was resigning because of "ill health."

As a result of his decision, the congregation voted to name him (Rev. Roberts) as Pastor Emeritus.

One official of the church said: "He contributed a great deal to Mount Gilead and we're thankful of what he has done."

Rev. and Mrs. Roberts will, however, celebrate their 27th anniversary on Sunday, June 19, at 3. The public will be invited to participate in this affair.

Reddic and Hamilton Crowned 'King & Queen'

With flashbulbs flashing, people cheering and parents happy ... pretty little Shruna Reddic and little Master Killion Hamilton were crowned as the 17th "King and Queen" of Mary and Mac Private School last Friday evening at Ella Iles Elementary School.

Reddic is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Reddic of 1824 East 2nd Street and Killion is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Hamilton.

King and Queen of 1976 and 1977, King Micko T. Daniels and Queen Angela Bunton crowned the new king and queen. Each gave a brief statement to the incoming royal family.

Mrs. Cynthia Bunton Lusk, graduate of Mary & Mac and first queen, made the presentations of trophies to the new royal family.

Serving as master of ceremonies, Julius Caesar Graves, III, sang the opening song, "Feelings." With a theme of "Memories, The Way We Were," the royal court paraded into the decorated auditorium with each being introduced.

Special talent for the 1977-1978 royal family was performed by members of the Mary & Mac student body. Among the talent were Portia Pruitt, Courtney Gamble, Portia Robinson and Latasha Williams who did a dance to "Look Out, Here Comes Baby Face."

Other talent included a dance, "Checking It Out" with Norma Faye Anderson and Timothy DeWayne Graves, who danced to the tune "Rock Around the Clock." Sebrina Barnett, Renee Cage, Leeandre Moore and Shonnell Gatewood twirled to the tune of "Stop! Listen!" and "Hey Look Me Over."

Another dance was done by Anderson and Graves. They danced to "Hello Dolly." This involved singing and dancing.

Dr. L.S. Graves, principal and owner of the private institution, told the more than 150 parents and patrons present that she appreciated their efforts this year. "Without the help of the Parent Teachers Association (PTA), we wouldn't have been able to have another successful King and Queen coronation," she said.

"Parents, help your children," she said. "Our children are important and they need our help while they are young," she concluded.

Donnie Morris, a junior high school student, introduced Mr. Graves. Rev. A.L. Dunn, pastor of the New Hope Baptist Church, gave the invocation while Dr. W.A. Terry, pastor of the Greater New Light Baptist Church, gave the benediction.

It was announced at a meeting of the advisory committee and chairpersons of the United Negro College Fund (UNCF) Mini-Telethon meeting last Saturday morning at the Lubbock Housing Authority Center that the telethon will be held Saturday evening, August 13. "We learned from KMCC-TV, Channel 28, the time of the showing has been tentatively set from 7 to 10," said T.J. Patterson, general chairman.

Chairpersons of various committees gave reports of the progress of their special involvement. "It is the hope of this effort that a great number of residents in Lubbock and west Texas will

Representation from the special effort here will be present at the UNCF Mini-Telethon held in Amarillo Sunday evening, May 29. "We want to let them know that we are behind their effort for UNCF," said Patterson.

Dr. Robert Hayes, president of Wiley College of Marshall, Texas, will speak to a group of Lubbock businesspersons today at noon. Tommy Stevens, who was appointed as special gifts chairman, has invited persons of the community to hear and meet Dr. Hayes.

As I See It ...

by T.J. Patterson

As this newspaper has reported many times, by this editorial page, there has to be something done about the way traffic flows across the railroad crossing at the corner of East 34th and Quirt Avenue. It's a ridiculous means of getting to and from work as well as to important matters one must take care of in a day's time.

Just last Friday afternoon, about 3:15, after picking up a son at Dunbar High School, traffic was stopped for at least fifteen minutes. This was done because of train traveling in this area.

With the upcoming bond election on Saturday, May 21, Lubbock citizens will have an opportunity to do something about this situation by voting for this segment of the bond issue. Citizens of east Lubbock and other parts of the community have been waiting since 1970 for something to be done about this situation. Now we all have an opportunity to cast our vote to have something done about this area of travel.

This writer hopes when citizens cast their precious vote for this segment of the bonds they won't have to wait several years to get something done about this situation. Of the $26.4 million bond election later this month, portions of that money has been allocated for the correction of this bottleneck at East 34th and Quirt Avenue.

With that in mind, the citizens of east Lubbock should be able to see some immediate improvements in the very near future if this portion of the bond package is passed.

Carter In The Big Time ...

If you get an opportunity this week ... pickup the well-read ... EBONY MAGAZINE ... JUNE ISSUE ... and you'll ... SEE ... a cartoon drawn by ... JERRIS CARTER ... WHO ... was first seen in the ... WEST TEXAS TIMES ... Last fall. His cartoon is on ... PAGE 94 ... "STRICTLY FOR LAUGHS."

This young man ... who has quite a talent ... came by the office last fall and said he was going to ... "HIT" the ... "BIG TIME" ... He's doing just that ... NOW!!

His cartoons ... as the one in EBONY MAGAZINE this month ... tell interesting stories ... and are very good ... PICTORIAL EDITORIALS ... The one this month ... for example ... has the caption: "Sorry, sir, we've already hired a man with 10 years experience."

We can remember sitting down with Brother Carter and suggesting some interesting ideas for some cartoons he could do ... The clever one ... in EBONY ... came from an idea ... there are never ... ANY ... BLACKS ... hired to sell license plates ... during the months of ... JANUARY ... through ... MARCH ... at the ... LUBBOCK COUNTY COURTHOUSE ... COME to ... THINK ... about it ... BLACKS... are still not employed by the LUBBOCK COUNTY COURTHOUSE in 1977 like they should be.

So ... BROTHER CARTER ... came up with the idea of a black brother ... being told by a ... COUNTY OFFICIAL ... that they (COUNTY) ... has someone ... WELL QUALIFIED ... to sell the plates ... It's also interesting to ... US ... that the character hired ... is a convict in his prison suit.

ANYWAY ... BROTHER JERRIS CARTER ... has hit the big times ... in AMERICA. We're glad this ... INTELLIGENT... young man did come our way. He'll continue to do great things in this area ... AS ... he ... told us: "I believe in what I'm doing, and I'm going to ... MAKE IT ..."

He's doing just what ... SAID ...

In order for this situation to become a reality, we must all get involved and go to the polls on Saturday, May 21, and cast our vote ... If we don't vote, we got nothing to complain about.

Speaking of the upcoming $26.4 million bond election on Saturday, May 21, it appears as though citizens of Lubbock are not talking about it as they have others in the past. As City Councilman Dirk West made clear last week: "We have voter's apathy over the bond election; nobody I talk to knows anything about it."

It is a must that those involved in coordinating this important effort get the message to the citizens of Lubbock so an about face can be done to get people to the polls and voting on this day in May.

Lubbock is growing too fast for us not to be concerned about important issues as the one coming up in a few days. As citizens we've got a lot at stake and something needs to be done to increase some interest in this area.

This writer hopes the citizens of the eastern part of the city of Lubbock will do their part to get the vote out. The way things are looking, east Lubbock can determine which way the election will go on May 21. If this is done, other citizens in Lubbock will realize that there is still clout in east Lubbock.

Since other parts of the city hasn't shown any interest in this bond election which will contribute some important items to our city, let's go out in large numbers and make somethings happen for our city. When other elections come around, those in other parts of the city will think twice about what east Lubbock citizens can do to any important election in our community.

So on on hand the voter's apathy is rather negative, but on the other hand, it could serve as a good omen for the citizens of east Lubbock who will go to the polls and vote their conviction on Saturday, May 21 ... Think about it and VOTE. It is important that you do.

Since U.S. Federal Judge Halbert O. Woodward has spoken out loud about the conditions in the Lubbock County Jail, there should be some drastic changes forthcoming in the very near future. Although those individuals who have broken laws in society, they are still human beings and the offsprings of a mother and father. It is only fair that they be treated in a positive manner.

On the other hand, if there are those who break the guidelines of the jail system, then, they should be treated in a manner for such a treatment.

After sitting back and observing what has taken place in the Lubbock County Jail, this writer hasn't heard much said about the hiring of blacks and browns, (males or females) to work in this system. It appears to this writer, that since a larger percentage of the inmates are black and brown, there should be a great effort to hire persons from the black and brown communities to work in some of these positions.

Surely, with this kind of personnel, many of the problems would be controlled from within the jail itself. This writer believes there are persons from these communities who would do an outstanding job in this type of a situation. There needs to be a positive campaign to secure these kinds of qualified persons to man such an important task.

This writer encourages the County Commissioners Court and Sheriff Choc Blanchard to get on with the business of finding those persons from the black and brown communities who could contribute to this type of an effort.

If this had been done years ago, perhaps many of the problems which have come to light wouldn't have been confronting us today. It needs to be checked out NOW.

Police Beat

Theft of Service

An east Lubbock businessman, Gary DeWayne Fisher, 228 David Avenue, was an agry man one day last week. He told Lubbock police that two men came into his place of business, Martin & Lewis Cafe of 802 Avenue A, and ordered two meals.

After eating the meals, both walked up to the cash register and laid their tickets down and started out the front door.

Fisher, quite surprised, stopped and asked the pair who was going to pay the $2.05 bill. Each man told Fisher that the other was going to take care of the bill. This went on for a few minutes until Fisher became angry with what had happened.

Meanwhile, the men walked out the business and got into a 1967 model car and fled from the area. Fisher did, however, get the license plate number of the car. "I will file charges against those men," he said.

Burglary of Habitation

Judy Pearson, 2705 Weber Drive, Apt. D, reported to Lubbock police that persons gained entry to her apartment one day last week while she was away. It is believed that entry was accomplished by prying open the front door with an unknown instrument. It is believed that exit was made through the same door.

Taken from the apartment were a black and white television set, valued at $150; an am/fm 8-track stereo amplifier and some personalized checks on a local bank.

There were no suspects in this burglary.

Criminal Mischief

Lubbock Police discovered one night last week that persons unknown had done damage to the Hope Deliverance Temple Church of God in Christ, 2812 East 4th Street.

Two windows, located on the west side of the building, were broken out by someone unknown.

According to the police report, a calachi rock was found on the floor of the church auditorium. It is believed this rock was used to break the church windows.

House Burglary

Delores Vivian Tobe, 3422 East Bates Avenue, reported to Lubbock police that persons unknown broke into her house one day last week. Entry was apparently gained through a rear window of the house by pushing a piece of cardboard that was placed over an existing hole and unlocking the rear door.

Taken from the house were a .32 caliber pistol, a black and white television set and a turntable. These items were valued at approximately $444.

Lubbock DPS to Extend Office Hours For Drivers License Service in June

The Lubbock Department of Public Safety is extending the hours of the Driver License service during the week and will be open Saturdays.

Department of Public Safety Officials recognize that persons must take time off from jobs, and the Saturday service can better accommodate the driving public. Major C.W. Bell said, "Future extended Drivers License service to the motoring public will be based on data gathered during this trial period of these few months.

The program in Lubbock will be operated for three months during the summer on a Pilot basis. Beginning June of this year, the new office hours at the Lubbock Drivers License office at 6th and Avenue L, will be as follows: Monday through Saturday, the Drivers License office will open its door for drivers testing at 8 a.m. For those who desire late service in renewals during the week days, Captain Holloway Shelton of Drivers License, will keep the office open until 6 p.m. on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. All other working days will end at 5 p.m.

The Department of Public Safety realizes that many motorists must take off costly time from their jobs for renewal during the present schedule; therefore, Captain Shelton says the 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday service will enable those persons who can not make the renewal times week days, to be more conveniently served.

This will be a Pilot Program initiated in the Lubbock Drivers License office. It will be studied carefully in order to determine the needs of the motoring public. DPS Officers said this expanded public service will be accomplished without additional personnel.

Black Federal Official Typifies Many Served by Women's Bureau

SEATTLE — A black federal official who heads the Women's Bureau of the U.S. Department of Labor here typifies many women the bureau serves today.

"More and more women are returning to the world of work. They feel the child-rearing years have been good, the volunteer years have been good, but they lack something," says 46-year-old Lazelle S. Johnson.

"They want fulfillment, and they start to update their skills for a job."

And that's how Johnson felt 11 years ago.

A native of Pine Bluff, Ark., she graduated from Arkansas Agricultural, Mechanical & Normal College. Soon after her marriage to a fellow Arkansan, she and her husband came to Seattle where he had been admitted to the University of Washington Law School. Today, he's a municipal judge here.

After teaching in Arkansas and working with the Boeing Company here, Johnson says she "went home, increased the population, did the volunteer circuit and ultimately wanted to return to work."

She returned to the workforce after the youngest of her three children entered pre-school, first with a part-time job at her church, then with the Seattle Urban League full time in 1966.

Director of the Women's Bureau regional office here since 1972, when it was established, Johnson explains that her position consists more of providing education and information than job placement.

But she also stresses that the

Lazelle S. Johnson

Women's Bureau seeks to increase the number of "non-traditional" jobs women hold.

On a recent trip to Alaska, she was especially cheered to see women being trained and working in new construction jobs on the pipeline as iron workers, welders, oilers and heavy equipment operators.

And the number of women apprentices in Alaska, Johnson notes, increased to 72 last spring, including 24 minority women.

She feels the biggest problem is the attitude of male workers.

"A number of women who have pipeline jobs had to start with 'women's work' — maids and cooks — and had to go day after day to the hiring hall," she adds.

She also recalls two meetings with supervisors of a large Northwest lumber company.

At the first meeting, when she urged three managers to experiment by opening up key mill occupations formerly closed to women, "they were pretty emphatic in assuring me it wouldn't work," she states.

But by the second meeting, 18 months later, the same three managers joined her in urging companywide opening of the jobs to women. The company did, and it's working, she adds.

Union leaders as well as management, says Johnson, are taking a second look at sex barriers. She herself works continuously with the Women's Committee of the Washington State Labor Council to gain representation for women at police levels in trade unions.

Jobs are not the only concern for Johnson, who notes with pleasure that all four states in her region — Alaska, Washington, Oregon and Idaho — have passed the Equal Rights Amendment (ERA).

"We still find a need to inform women, especially in small towns and rural areas, of the various laws that exist to eliminate sex discrimination.

"There is still exploitation to be eradicated, and we must improve the attitudes of many people — including some women — toward women who have pioneered in nontraditional occupations," says the Labor Department official, who, by the way, is also a grandmother.

Meeting and counseling with employers, union representatives and women, she works to increase acceptance of women across-the-board.

"It always surprises me a little and pleases me to see dialogue work," says Johnson. "Information shared can change opinions ... that's what encourages me."

Sheridan's Ride

by Jack Sheridan

Dear Ron Reid, I hate you!

In case you don't know who Ron Reid is and why I am so irritated with him, it's because he is the big mogul with the four theater complex known as Showplace 4.

Now I've known Ron ever since he was a manager at the then newly-opened Fox Theaters complex out on 19th St. I do admire him and respect him, despite the opening statement. He's really a doll of a man and he knows his business. But, as Mae West would put it, he "done me wrong."

Those who read this column on Wednesdays and Fridays know very well that I had my jaws set on seeing "The Last Tycoon," which said Mr. Reid was playing at his little K-Mart complex. It opened, it closed. In one week, yet. So, I never got to see it. And, inasmuch as I've never been invited to a drive-in, my chances of seeing this F. Scott Fitzgerald movie with Jack Nicholson, Robert De Niro, Robert Mitchum movie are virtually nil. So much for Mr. Reid. Though, you might ask him how come some trash like "Silver Streak" is now in its 21st week. Well, takes all kinds, I guess.

However, there is sad and happy tidings down the line. Those of you who have read this column over the many years will know that the sharp, sudden death of movie queen, Joan Crawford, in her New York apartment last week touched me deeply. My column for Friday of this week will be a memorial to a great and loving lady. I shall not dwell on the hurt that is within me in this one. Suffice to say, I loved that lady and she, I think, me and I have suffered a grievous loss. An irreplaceable one.

But—let us move to happier words. You know, I have been intimately connected with the doings of the Lubbock Theatre Centre ever since I came to Lubbock 22 years ago. I have been a long time member of the board of directors and I have danced the old soft shoe at the KoKo Palace with their Summer Mummies show (the tryouts for this summer are today and tomorrow at the LTC Playhouse down at 2508 Ave. P) at a time you can learn by calling them.

Well, with all this background I've seen then do every type of play and musical imaginable. A lot of the offerings have been delightful; a lot of them not so rewarding. But, by heaven, I am loyal and out of a season, there is usually one that captivates me away from the run-of-the-mill dross. Such a play was unveiled in the little theater the other night. I am hopeful that public demand and word-of-mouth will hold it over so that you can see what fine work they can do.

The play is William Inge's bitter-sweet drama, "The Dark at the Top of the Stairs." You saw it on a national tour some years back with Joan Blondell carrying the weight in the excoriating role of the middle-aged sister from Oklahoma City, Lottie.

I must admit I went to the LTC Playhouse of a mixed mind the other night. The play, if it is done at all, must be done right. It is a thin but tenuous play and the key characters can make or break the show within minutes.

I had admired LCC's David Yirak in his villain roles with the Summer Mummies over the past couple of years. I know the Adams family and their dedication to LTC in all departments. But, one's friends do not necessarily a good play make.

'cause that's what LTC did. After a dull and unexciting season, the little hardy band of amateurs suddenly rose up and walloped over a hit. Yirak, the Adams family and all of them covered themselves with total glory. The play was and is an unabashed hit. It was a thorough delight and I wish it would play through the whole summer so you could share the pleasure with me.

I sat there the other night watching this little band of troupers scoring and wondered who was to be singled out for praise. No way. They were all good. For example, the key scene is Act II, the role of Lottie (the Joan Blondell part) and Mickey Adams simply wrapped up the act and walked away. She was nothing short of tremendous. And I didn't think anybody could erase the memory of brassy Blondell—Mickey Adams did, and handily.

But, it wasn't all Mrs. Adams. No siree. She almost lost her scene stealing to Sam Cornelius as her long-suffering husband, a sensitive, poignant performance that haunts and lingers in memory. And Mrs. Adams' daughter, Shannon, made Flirt as vivid as her red dress. And a newcomer to me, Brian A. Nobles who caught, clutched and swayed me with his delicate portrayal of the Jewish boy, pre-doomed. What a beautiful performance!

There was a smashing caricature by Payton Brown as the inarticulate hulk of a boy, a role that could have scuttled the whole works, he was marvelous.

Mr. Yirak was his competent self as the beleaguered father-husband and Jeffrey Mitchell was unbelievably good as the snotty kid. I hate kid actors, as a rule, but young Mr. Mitchell changed my mind.

Joan-Carrol Baron, a tall, lovely miss, played the tormented daughter with finesse and Terry Hickman was the badgered wife with skill.

All in all, you see, it was a night to remember. Forget the dismal productions that went before, the saccherine "Fantasticks," and the inept others.

The settings by Cornelius were accurate and homey and overall the late Mr. Inge's play was a credit to all concerned.

The play was the first (for LTC) directorial effort by the house manager, Linda Giss. She worked her ways very well indeed and we watch for her next effort. She failed to take into consideration, however, that her actors do not know how to project their voices, even in this intimate theater, so that the key quarrel in Act I, then much of the motivation to come is lost.

But, bless Linda's heart, she had a winner. She blocked the play beautifully and she kept her actors in control most of the way. She certainly cast the show to perfection. We'll watch for another Giss production with much interest.

To close this. A note from California tells me that beloved Ethel Waters, the first and memorable black star of musicals and drama, stage and screen, holds her own. At 81, she is virtually blind, suffers from blood clots, heart trouble and all the vicissitudes of age. She is "Mom" to me, I am her "Son Jack." Keep her in your prayers, please, let her know (as she sang at Jones Stadium with Billy Graham) that "his Eye Is On the Sparrow." The tribute to the late Joan Crawford will be the Friday column. Hope you have a chance to read it.

Bids to be Received

Bids for the rehabilitation of US 84 in Lubbock County are expected to be received at the May 18-19 letting of the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation.

The project, which is designed to replace the deteriorated surface and slick pavement, extends from the eastern edge of Shallowater to the Hockley County line, a distance of 7.6 miles.

The project will scarify and reshape the highway base, provide a prime coat, one- and three-course surface treatment, and include a seal coat. When completed, it will result in a smoother, safer, more skid-resistant travel surface for Texas motorists.

Elmer Wright of Lubbock will be the department's engineer in charge of the work, while overall project supervision will be by Lubbock District Engineer George C. Wall, Jr.

Salinas Predicts State Can Afford Pay - Raise Bill

State Rep. Froy Salinas of Lubbock predicted this week that the state will be able to afford a massive $369 million teacher pay-raise bill passed by the House last week.

Salinas said State Rep. Tom Massey of San Angelo, chairman of the public education committee, had predicted the state could not pay for the pay raises after $100 million was tacked on to the legislation on the floor.

But Salinas, in a prepared release, contended that the state could pay for the pay hikes. Salinas said major features of the legislation are:

—the addition of three pay steps for career teachers who are stranded at a dead-end salary level.

—an increase in raises for teachers in their first three years. Salinas said that the beginning instructors would have greater pay raises than some middle-level teachers.

—increases greater than those sought by the Texas State Teachers Association.

In other House action, Salinas said a bill he co-sponsored to increase retirement benefits for retired teachers passed and requires $109 million in state funds, along with increases in working teachers' contributions.

Salinas said he voted for "anticrime bills" which call for evidentiary search warrants, for tougher standards for granting bail to persons accused of crime and for enlarging the Court of Criminal Appeals, the state's highest criminal tribunal.

Salinas added he voted for a bill which outlaws most abortions in the last trimester of pregnancies. The bill roughly follows the U.S. Supreme Court holding that struck down Texas' old abortion law.

Annie Sanders

Rev. A.L. Davis

(Editor's note: On April 29, the Lubbock Alumnae and Eta Lambda Chapters of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority held their third annual "Man and Woman of the Year Award" and Mrs. Annie Sanders and Rev. A.L. Davis were chosen for this honor.)

For the third consecutive year, two outstanding citizens of our community were chosen as "Man and Woman of the Year." These individuals are nominated by citizens and organizations of the community and chosen by a panel of judges who look closely at the contributions made by all. This year, Mrs. Annie Sanders, community worker, and Rev. A.L. Davis, pastor of the Greater St. Luke Baptist Church and President of the Lubbock Opportunities Industrialization Center (LOIC), were chosen.

Mrs. Sanders, wife of Thomas Sanders, Sr., is the mother of five children, Mrs. Annie Sanders Lewis of Dallas, Thomas, Jr., a student at Texas Tech University, David, a student at Tarleton State University, Mark, a student at O.L. Slaton Junior High School and Lawrence, a resident of Lubbock.

"It was quite an honor for me to have been chosen as this year's recipient, an honor I shall never forget," she said.

A very active person, Mrs. Sanders is a member of the Greater Saint Luke Baptist Church and serves in many capacities such as superintendent and teacher. She is secretary of usher board, president of Eunice Circle, general secretary of the Missionary Board #1, director of the Junior Usher Board, and president of the ushers of the Lovely Sunset Association.

Rev. Davis, former pastor of the New Hope Baptist Church of Vernon, has been the pastor of the Greater Saint Luke Baptist Church for 26 years. He has served as moderator of the Lovely Sunset District Association for 25 years.

He has traveled extensively in this country and abroad to the Holy Land and places in Europe and Canada.

A very dedicated person for the cause of the Lubbock Opportunities Industrialization Center, Rev. Davis has weathered several finance crisis and now is happy over the half million dollar job training contract for the organization.

"In order to get anything accomplished, one has to work cooperatively and diligently with local government officials, the Governor's office, Department of Labor, Congressmen and others elected and appointed officials," says Rev. Davis.

A graduate of Conroe College and Bishop College, his professional and civic memberships have included Board of Directors of Goodwill Industries, Urban Renewal Agency, Lubbock Ministerial Alliance, Minority Improvement Group (MIG), Citizens Development Advisory Committee for Block Grant Programs, Advisory Board for the East Lubbock Senior Citizens, Rotary Club of Lubbock and Lubbock Chamber of Commerce.

Rev. Davis is holder of a contractors license and is bonded for qualifications. He served as general contractor for the church he pastors and parsonage. He also was responsible for two major mortuary establishments.

On the other hand, Mrs. Sanders has been quite active with the Lubbock Public Schools. Her involvement includes president and treasurer of Dunbar P.T.A., secretary and treasurer Wheatley Elementary School P.T.A., member of hospitality committee Wheatley P.T.A., president and assistant secretary of Struggs Junior High School P.T.A.

She is a board member of the American Red Cross, Y.W.C.A. regional volunteer coordinator, works with Girl Scouts and Boy Scouts, and active supporter of the Lubbock Boys' Clubs.

Mrs. Sanders has received the following awards: "Family of the Year in Sunday School", Mother's Day Award, an award as a token of love for mothering most children at church; appreciation awards from South Plains Boys' Clubs for outstanding service in support of Boys' Club movement, award in appreciation for unselfish service and dedication to Dunbar High School, a poem was dedicated to Mrs. Sanders by Mrs. Katie Parks which appeared in the West Texas Times; and received a proclamation from Mayor Roy Bass, designating May 14, 1975 as "Annie Sanders Day in Lubbock."

As one of the officials in the local chapters said: "Both of these individuals have contributed a great deal to their family, schools, church, Texas and the nation."

Most of the people who are in a hurry have nothing else to do.

By MARLETA CHILDS
Marriage records are another important source of information for the genealogical researcher. These documents are generally held by the clerk of the county in which the license was issued, except in the Northeast, where they are usually held by the town clerks. In some states, they can also be obtained from the state bureau of vital statistics.

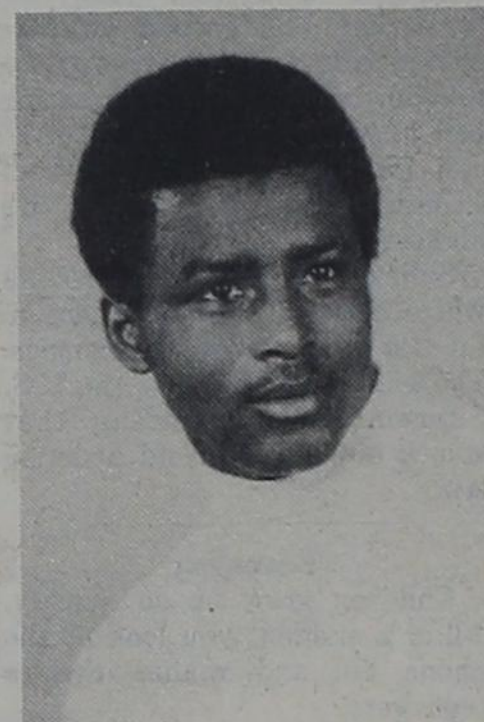

Marriage records often (but not always) date from the founding of the county or town. Like many documents at the local level, especially in the South, many early marriage records have been destroyed through neglect or disasters such as fire. A useful pamphlet available for 35c from the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402 is "Where to Write for Marriage Records." When requesting a copy of a marriage record, be sure and give the full names of the parties concerned (if possible), the date (approximate if unknown), and place. Early marriages were sometimes recorded in separate "Colored" registers.

Naturally, religious records are another good source for marriages. Evangelical churches, such as the Baptist and Methodist, did not keep very complete records. Catholic records, however, have usually been better preserved. Ministers themselves sometimes had diaries and journals in which such data was recorded. You should be aware that "common law" marriages existed, too.

Information on marriages may also be located in newspaper announcements, wills, and records of the court, military, deeds, pensions, social security, insurance companies, banks, businesses, employers, social organizations, colleges, and alumni associations.

Please send your queries and genealogical information to Marleta Childs, 2308 21st St., Lubbock, 79411.

After a delicious breakfast, business of the organization was conducted.

Mrs. Savannah Good, the oldest member of the club, was elected as hospitality chairperson; and Mrs. Willia Moore was elected treasurer.

Mr. and Mrs. James Moore were our special guests.

Machine Clerk Examination

In the very near future the Machine Clerk Examination for the Lubbock Texas Post Office will be given, according to Elmer J. Reed, Jr., SC Manager/Postman.

Classes in "Prepare Yourself for the Postal Examination" will be offered at Thompson Junior High School under the direction of Ms. Harrell beginning May 24. Interested persons should enroll at the Adult Education Department prior to this date.

When the examination is opened, an announcement will be made in this newspaper. In addition, notices will be placed in the lobby of the Main Post Office Building.

One of the troubles with the nation's economy is that there're too many people sitting at executive desks without just cause or excuse.

"Silent Killer" Threatens Americans

Combat High Blood Pressure by Controlling It

High blood pressure can kill or cripple the 23 million Americans who have it — unless they're controlling it to keep the risks to a minimum, warns Carla Shearer, a health education specialist.

Some people don't even know they have high blood pressure — and many others aren't doing enough to control it, partly because they don't understand enough about it, she said.

Miss Shearer is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

To combat high blood pressure's threat, she recommends regular blood-pressure check-ups, even for young children — and following a physician's advice.

To learn more about it, she suggests trying to answer the true-false quiz below:

- 1) If I stay calm and relaxed, I won't have high blood pressure.
- 2) High blood pressure is the leading contributor to strokes, heart disease, and kidney disease.
- 3) I can tell when my blood pressure is high.
- 4) Once I have high blood pressure, it usually means I will have it for the rest of my life.
- 5) Headachs and dizziness are symptoms of high blood pressure.
- 6) There's nothing I can do about high blood pressure except watch my diet.
- 7) It's important to have my blood pressure checked every year.

8) May is National High Blood Pressure Month.

Answers

1) FALSE — High blood pressure — or "hypertension" as it is also called — is not nervous tension. A relaxed, easygoing manner is no guarantee against high blood pressure.

2) TRUE — High blood pressure is a physical condition in which the heart and blood vessels are under a constant strain. If undetected and untreated, it may eventually lead to a stroke, heart disease, or kidney disease.

In fact, 100 people die every day from the consequences of untreated high blood pressure.

3) FALSE, FALSE, FALSE — High blood pressure usually has no symptoms. It is sometimes called the "Silent Killer" because it does its terrible damage without you suspecting that something is wrong.

4) TRUE — For the vast majority of people with high blood pressure the condition will be with them for life — but that's not as bad as it seems.

There are many ways to lower an elevated blood pressure and to keep it low — although science hasn't found a cure for most common form of high blood pressure.

5) FALSE — For most people with high blood pressure, there are no symptoms, especially in the early stages.

In severe cases — usually in persons who have had HBP for many years but weren't treating it — there will sometimes be dizziness and headaches.

If you are told that you have high blood pressure and you don't treat it, the first symptom may be a heart attack or stroke.

6) FALSE — Although there is no cure for high blood pressure that will keep your blood pressure normal once and for all, it can be controlled with proper treatment.

Your doctor may suggest some diet restrictions (less salt, less fatty food) — and maybe prescribe medication. If your doctor does give you pills, it's important to take them regularly.

7) TRUE — Because high blood pressure has no symptoms, the only way to know whether your blood pressure is high is to get it checked by a doctor or other trained health professional. It's quick, painless, and one of the cheapest life insurance policies around!

8) TRUE — May is National High Blood Pressure Month. Do you know what your blood pressure is?

KELLY'S HEROES

by Joe Kelly

Billy Martin never heard the expression that you don't bite the hand that feeds you. If he had, he never would have attacked the owner of the New York Yankees in the media.

The quickest way to create dissension, to say nothing of a controversy, is to wash dirty linen in public. Martin may well have felt that he was in the right, but the way to handle such a situation is in private, not through the media.

All his complaint has done, in addition to a neat little fine, is to create doubt about his managerial wisdom. Not that Billy is a blushing violet. Anything except that. His record indicates that, as player and manager, he never has hesitated.

There's an old Chinese proverb, though, that Billy ought to memorize—Man should put mind in gear before he puts mouth in motion. Billy lashes out and then thinks.

So be it. It's his life and he probably doesn't have to manage, New York or any other team. With the World Series money he has collected and other nifty stipends for his services, Martin ought to be more than adequately equipped to fight off the wolf.

The fine is merely a warning. Other people are panting to be the manager of the Yankees. It wouldn't take much for Martin to be on his way—as he was after nibbling the fingers of other owners.

Be Alert! The world needs more Lerts!

There may be a few laggards, like me, who have fishing on their mind and yardwork in their hands, or on their hands. Whatever, before you go off, check your boat.

There are any number of things that should be done before you dash off to the lakes. Remember, when you're in the middle of a lake and something goes wrong, it's too late. Every pilot pre-flights a plane and the same should be true of every boat owner.

I couldn't help but marvel at the number of boats I saw being trailed Friday as I came back from Colorado City. Some of the owners were headed for that city, others were going to Oak Creek and some, I'm sure, were headed for farther off places.

Many were being towed by pickups, some by cars and many by campers of one description or another. It merely proves once again that West Texans spend a lot of time on the water in the summer and aren't afraid to go long distances for it.

Monday, a week ago, I had alternator trouble in Westbrook and it entailed immediate repair. I spotted a garage right across the road and it couldn't have been more providential.

The owner, as it turned out, had been a mechanic for Eastern Airlines, stationed in Miami, Fla. He was a topflight mechanic and it made you wonder why he'd settle in a place like Westbrook.

"Got sick of the rat race," he replied. "Oh, the pay was good, damned good. But there were too many people, too many freeways. I wanted to get out of it."

I noticed a neat bass boat and inquired if it was his. "Oh, yes," he answered. "Just wish I had more time to use it. Where you from? Lubbock? You have a long way to go for any decent fishing."

"I like to take off for Amistad when I can, or Toledo Bend. Now, there's great fishing. I also like Hubbard Creek. Yep, you have a long way to go for any decent fishing."

One of the better cracks at the Red Raider All Sports banquet came when Steve Sloan, an Alabama graduate, was talking about Vince Dooley, an Auburn alumnus. Steve mentioned that Dooley was from Auburn, "a fact that he has overcome with great distinction!"

Well, sir, the curtain has descended, which is a kinder word than 'dropped,' on the Texas Tech spring sports scene. As usual, the Raiders covered themselves with ignominious glory.

The "non-revenue" sports managed to beat out SMU and TCU for oblivion in baseball, track, golf and tennis. There were no individual championships to show.

I suppose congratulations are in order, however, for the failure of these squads to crack the success barrier.

In many ways it's ironic that almost the day that the sun sets on the final spring sports competition, track, the university commences a building and rebuilding program that will cost thousands and thousands of dollars.

New Astroturf, new seats for spectators, renovated VIP press box area, new ticket offices, refurbished offices for the coaches of non-revenue sports—it marks progress. At the same time, what might have been accomplished if that amount of money had been put into scholarships in the spring sports?

Gerald Myers & Co., whether they obtain another recruit or not, have had a great recruiting campaign. The coaches will get cricks in their necks looking up at the size of the freshmen. And it seems obvious that some will play right away and give Tech the ammo it needs to be a contender.

Top Soul Groups to Appear at First KOOL Jazz Festival

The Spinners, Al Green, and The Dramatics, three of the nation's top soul groups, will join Natalie Cole, gospel stars The Mighty Clouds of Joy, and Ronnie Dyson for this First Annual Dallas-Fort Worth KOOL Jazz Festival to take place on Sunday, May 29 at the Texas Stadium in Irving, Texas. The concert will begin promptly at 7:30 p.m. and should let out shortly after midnight.

The Spinners, who achieved

Evan Receives Langston Degree

Albert Joe Evan received a Bachelor of Science degree from Langston University at Langston, Oklahoma May 7.

Those attending the ceremonies were his wife, Mrs. Olympia Evan; and son, Shone; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fay Henderson; grandmother, Mrs. Alberta Lewis; sisters, Mrs. Linda Pendgraft, Mrs. Cleopatra Wilson, Miss Alisa Gayle Henderson; brothers, Michael and Kenneth Henderson; niece, Monica Pendgraft; uncle, Jim Turner, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Algie Curry and daughter, Tanya; Patricia Whitley, and Lawrence Whitley.

Everyone reported a wonderful visit to the campus of Langston.

Rolling Stone's 1975 honor of #1 Soul Group, have been on the top of the soul field for many years with hits as early as the 50's such as "That's What Girls Are Made For" and "Love, I'm So Glad I Found You." In the 60's some of the group's hits were "Sweet Thing", "I'll Always Love You," and "Truly Yours." The Spinners are continuing to achieve hit after hit in the 70's with "I'll Be Around," "Could It Be I'm Falling In Love," "One of a Kind Love Affair," "Then Came You" with Dionne Warwick, "Rubberband Man" and "Wake Up Susan." Their recent releases "You're Throwing Good Love Away" and "Yesterday, Today, and Tomorrow" are rapidly climbing the charts.

Al Green was included among the Top 10 Soul Artists in a recap from 1946-1975 in Billboard's bicentennial issue. Indeed, he continued to make Billboard's yearly Top 10 with "Call Me," "Livin' For You," "Full of Fire," LP "Explores Your Mind," and "Let's Stay Together," the #1 Soul Song of 1972. His '76 hits included "Let It Shine," "Keep Me Cryin'" and LP "Have a Good Time." His current single, "I Tried to Tell Myself" rides high on the charts.

The Dramatics have a hypnotic effect on their audiences. Says member Willie Ford, "We're like a love potion — we make people forget their problems." With their new single "I Can't Get Over you" climbing the charts, and current hits "Be My Girl" and LP "Joy Ride" remaining high, The Dramatics are a group to be watched carefully. Earlier tunes "Whatcha See Is Watcha Get" and "In the Rain" earned gold single status, and put Detroit back on the map.

Rolling Stone's Vince Aletti called The Mighty Clouds of Joy "the most successful gospel-to-pop transformation since The Staple Singers." They have expanded their repertoire from gospel to pop ballads, rock, and blues to reach wider audiences with their gospel idiom. Current hits include "The Truth Will Set you Free," "There's Love In the World," and "Truth is the Power."

Superstar Natalie Cole continues to break attendance records at clubs and concert halls throughout the world, bringing capacity crowds to their feet dancing and cheering. She has won three Grammy awards. Ronnie Dyson, who performed in the original Broadway cast of Hair for three years, rounds out the program. He is known for his sensitivity in singing the show's most famous song "aquarius." His recent hit "The More You Do It," has a new sound.

Tickets to the event are priced at $9.50, $8.50 and $7.50 with all seats reserved. There are a very limited number of field seats available at $12.50. Tickets are now on sale at Texas Stadium, Cowboy Ticket Office, Preston State Bank, Davy's Locker, Preston Record Center, H&W Record Shops; the Green Parrot in Dallas; Central Ticket Office and Amusement Ticket Service in Fort Worth; Joske's in Austin and San Antonio; Jerry's Men's Shop (2 locations); Skipper Lee Frazier Advertising, and The Working Man Store in Houston. In Tulsa, tickets are available at Carson Attractions, and in Oklahoma City at Bench-Carson Attractions. Patrons wishing to mail order

"Extension Update"

By GEORGIA DOHERTY
Home Designed for Wheelchair Resident

You may have a family member or friend who is confined to a wheelchair, or may even be in one yourself.

Minor changes in new-home plans can make a wheelchair resident much more comfortable — and independent.

Entry ways should be 36 inches wide — and interior doors should be the sliding (pocket type) with 32-inch openings.

Also, be sure to eliminate thresholds and increase hall widths to three and a half or four feet.

All family members will appreciate light switches placed at the entry of each room — so light is instantly available upon entering and can stay on until exiting.

Make sure to lower light switches six inches from the usual height — and raise wall plugs five inches.

Window sills 30-32 inches above the floor provide ease in opening windows, and for floor coverings, consider unwaxed sheet vinyl, which is ideal for wheelchair mobility. Remember that carpeting makes wheelchair motion more difficult.

In the kitchen, easy-to-reach work areas are possible with cabinets and countertops that are 34 inches high (instead of the usual 36 inches) — or a pull-out board within the cabinets is just as handy. Also, plastic shelving makes it easy to see items stored in the pantry or cabinet.

Easy access to the oven is possible if the oven door opens about 31 inches from the floor, allowing the wheelchair to maneuver underneath the door.

In the bathroom, permit a five-foot turning radius, and arrange fixtures for easy transfer to the toilet.

Grab bars and lifting aids are a must — but make sure they are attached to studs. Also, set the vanity high enough to allow the wheelchair to fit underneath.

In closets throughout the house, place rods at two heights.

Outside, remember that automatic garage door openers and covered entries also make life easier for the handicapped, but independent, person.

Thinking of Leasing or Renting your Tractor Power?

Here's the long and the short of it!

The Long — That's the Case Lower Payment Lease Plan. A lease program of up to 60 months for qualified customers. Many find leasing more attractive than ownership depending on their tax bracket and expansion plans. Taking the lease payment "off the top" of your operating expense often saves more than the usual interest, tax and depreciation deductions.

Plus — When you lease you don't tie up capital in equipment. Payment schedules can be tailored to your cash flow. We will purchase your existing equipment and lease you new replacements which can be exchanged if your power needs change.

The Short — Renting your tractor power by the week or month is an ideal way to boost your production during busy seasons.

Match your work schedule with two or four wheel drive tractors, and when you're done just bring the tractor back. No long term commitment in money or machine. Warning! You could fall in love with your Case Rental Tractor. Contact your participating Case dealer for availability of certain units.

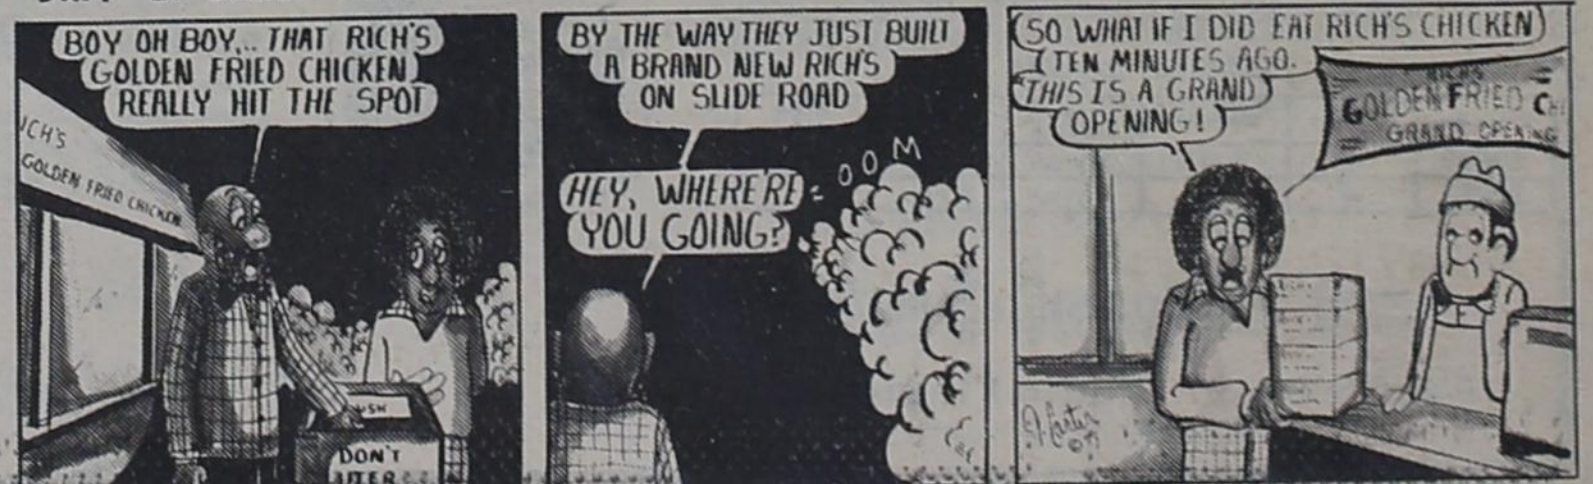

For additional information on Case Finance Plans, write J I Case Company, Dept. AG/CCC, 700 State Street, Racine, WI 53404.

Plan ahead, long term and short, with the farm power you need from Case.

Let us continue to pray for our sick and shut in members. Among those ill this week include Sister Irma Cole and Brother Kenneth Davis.

Our deepest sympathy goes to Mrs. Louise Sparks and family in the passing of her mother, Mrs. Susie Moore, last week.

Let us continue to pray for our sick and shut in members.

Greater First Baptist Church

Littlefield, Texas — Sunday morning church services were most inspiring with our pastor, Rev. Wilson Baldwin, delivering the message. His subject was "Services the Lord will Pay Off" with scripture reading from Psalms 28.

1. SOURDOUGH STARTER

- 1 package active dry yeast
- 2 1/2 cups warm water (105° to 115°)
- 1 cup instant nonfat dry milk
- 2 tablespoons sugar
- 4 cups all-purpose flour

a) Stir yeast, water, dry milk and sugar in 2 1/2 quart crock or non-metallic bowl until yeast is dissolved. Stir in flour gradually until a smooth batter forms. Let stand loosely covered in warm place, 3 to 5 days. Stir down batter occasionally. Store loosely covered in refrigerator.

b) Replace exact amount of starter used for each recipe by stirring equal amounts of homogenized milk and flour back into starter. (For example, replace 1 cup starter with 1/2 cup homogenized milk and 1/2 cup flour). Let stand loosely covered until it bubbles, overnight. Stir down. Each time this process is repeated, the starter becomes more active and develops a more sour flavor. Note: if stored as much as two to three weeks between usings, just pour off the watery layer on top and replace following procedure in (b).

2. SOURDOUGH BREAD STICKS

- 1 cup instant nonfat dry milk
- 1 cup warm water (105° to 115°)
- 1 cup Sourdough Starter (see Recipe No. 1)
- 2 cups all-purpose flour
- 3 tablespoons vegetable oil
- 2 teaspoons salt
- 2 teaspoons sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon baking soda
- 1/2 to 1 cup all-purpose flour
- 1/4 cup butter or margarine, melted

a) Mix dry milk, water, Sourdough Starter and 2 cups flour in non-metallic bowl; cover loosely. Let stand in warm place until mixture is coarse and bubbly, at least 8 hours.

b) Mix oil, salt, sugar and baking soda into sourdough mixture. Stir in enough of the remaining flour to make dough easy to handle. Knead dough lightly on well-floured board, about 2 minutes.

c) Roll dough into rectangle, 15 x 10 inches, on well-floured board. Cut into fifteen 1-inch strips. Roll each strip into even round strand, about 14 inches long. Double strand over and twist to form bread stick. Place bread sticks on greased baking sheet, brush with melted butter. Cover with plastic wrap. Let rise in warm place until double, 1 to 1 1/2 hours.

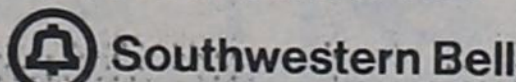

d) Heat oven to 375°. Bake bread sticks until golden brown, 30 to 35 minutes. (Makes 15).

Ringling The Bell . . .

with Bob Tieuell

From The Black Mood: According to Lerone Bennett, Jr. scholar and outstanding social historian and a native of Clarksdale, Miss. "bigotry flourishes in America because bigotry is respectable. If freedom is orphaned in America today, it is not because her attackers are strong; it is because men who say they love freedom are timid and passionless and afraid".

If, to be quite precise, white bishops were as impassioned about assassins of the spirit as they are about adulterers, victory would be near. If white men of power hated illicit hate as much as they hate illicit love, it would all be over. If the church loved brotherhood as much as it fears sex, we would now be celebrating the coming of the kingdom of man, believes Bennett.

Let us not deceive ourselves. There is no easy way out declares Ambassador Andrew Young of the United Nations. Fighters for freedom, whether white, black, brown, red or whatever color, must take a stand now, wherever they are, in their offices, in their unions, in their neighborhoods, in their churches, and declare what gods they serve and what visions they have seen.

Bennett continues: "Some white liberals want change, but almost all white liberals want to achieve it without cost or pain. But it is going to cost. Everybody is going to have to pay something. Our only consolation is that it will cost a great deal more if men decide that they would rather confer Now and Pay later... Our duties lie before us as stark and uncompromising as a cross".

He concludes: "My primary concern in "The Black Mood", (a book that has received a number of printings) is the abiding responsibility of free people to know themselves. We are indeed what we are today because of what happened yesterday.

The Church of God in Christ, with headquarters in Memphis, Tennessee and without a doubt one of the fastest growing black religious bodies in the country today, has outlined plans for an urban extension campus of Saints College of Lexington, Mississippi. A bellringer writes: "Saints College offers one of the most successful combination programs for spiritual and academic training in the country". The Rt. Rev. J.O. Patterson of Memphis, Tennessee is the three million member denomination and has been recognized as one of the 100 most influential black men in America.

Chimes: According to a recent government report, for the first time in a number of years, there are more whites on welfare than blacks. More than half of the nation's teachers who retired in 1976 became members of the National Retired Teachers Association. The total national membership is now 520,874. The basic premium paid by Medicare beneficiaries for supplementary medical insurance (Part B) coverage will increase from $7.20 to $7.70 for the fiscal year beginning next July 1977 it is reported.

Special Note: The West Texas Times will furnish full coverage of the 17th Annual Rodeo and Homecoming Celebration at Boley, Oklahoma May 28-29th. Your correspondent has been appointed to a committee by the Boley Chamber of Commerce and the Boley chapter of Kiwanis International (we are members establishing a National Afro-American Park in the Boley area and the response has been tremendous.

Boley was incorporated as a town in 1903 and is said to be the largest black-oriented town in the U.S.A. today. Last year, some twenty thousand persons attended the festivities and an even larger crowd is expected this year. It is expected that a "surprise star" of screen, television and radio will highlight the celebration. "Miss Ester" of Sanford and Son was the star feature of the 76 show.

Received a hurried call to attend Chamber of Commerce meeting in Boley, Oklahoma, where plans are underway to sponsor the 18th annual Homecoming and Rodeo Show on May 28-30, 1977. Last year more than 20,000 attended and this year's celebration may exceed that number. Make plans to join the biggest black experience in U.S.A. today. See you there.

For now it's back to West Texas and S.E. New Mexico. Good to be on way back to the best adopted area in U.S. Right bellringers?

Not everything that is cut to half price is worth buying.

The Wind You Save May Be Your Own

You'll hear it on the radio and hear it on the television and read it in the newspapers, and you're about to get it again.

We don't want it on our conscience that when a tornado hit, we didn't tell you how to deal with it. So you're going to read it again.

Okay, it's tornado season—the rest of May and June—and according to a prepared release from the Texas Medical Association, the killer storms usually occur in hot, sticky weather, southerly winds and threatening sky with thunderclouds bulging down.

In most cases the tornado moves from the west or southwest toward the northeast, usually the result of warm moist air from the Gulf of Mexico colliding with cool, dry air from the north.

The National Weather Service monitors severe weather from its center in Kansas City, and advises local weather stations when activity is occurring. The weather service may issue a severe weather "watch" which means that conditions are favorable for a bad thunderstorm or a tornado. A "warning" means that a tornado or severe weather has been sighted. The warning comes from two sources. Eyewitness reports may or may not be reliable. Radar reports really can't tell whether a tornado is 5,000 feet in the sky or about to waltz into your living room.

Locally, city director of communication Bill Payne dispatches fire marshalls to predetermined spots to act as sentries. (See Times, May 6) If things really get hairy, he can interrupt cable television to issue advisories or activate other alarm systems from the city's Emergency Operation Center.

The TMA advises that when a tornado is approaching get inside as quickly as possible. Payne notes that many of the injuries in tornadoes are caused by flying debris and glass. Once inside:

—open windows on the side of the house away from the storm's approach.

—if you have a basement, take refuge there near the wall in the most sheltered and deepest part. Stay under a sturdy table or workbench.

—if there is no basement or cellar, take cover in the smallest room with stout walls. The first floor is safer than higher floors.

—lie under a heavy piece of furniture against inside walls near the center of the house.

—stay away from windows.
—and, giving the devil its due, listen to the radio and TV for emergency information. For gosh sakes, have a radio or TV that runs on batteries (plus a flashlight, armed and ready) handy, because those things don't run on smiles, you know.

If you're away from home take shelter in a steel-framed or reinforced concrete building. If you're in open country, move away from the tornado, which can travel up to 70 miles an hour without getting a ticket, at a right angle to its path.

If you can't get out of the way, get down. Lie flat in a low place that is reasonably safe from flash floods, shield your head and cover your face with clothing to prevent dust suffocation.

And don't say we didn't warn you. Cliff Avery

LET'S GET BACK TO BASICS VOTE THIS WEEK! SATURDAY, MAY 21, 1977 FOR PROPOSITIONS 1, 2, 3, 4, 5 & 6

There hasn't been a bond election for city improvements since 1967 when voters last authorized basic capital improvements that allowed us to meet the basic needs of a growing community.

And the funds voted in 1967 for water, sewer, streets and fire stations have been spent. It's time again to turn our attention to these basic needs to catch up with growth that has occurred and to keep pace with growth expected during the next five years.

For the past six months, a citizens advisory committee, the city staff and the city council have been reviewing needed projects. They felt many projects could be postponed. Others could be financed from other funds. But $26.4 million in vitally needed improvements is needed now to preserve the quality of life in Lubbock through basic services.

These citizens are asking you to vote for the program that will assure quality services for residents in all parts of Lubbock ... services that will meet our most basic needs of water, sewers, streets and fire protection.

BACK THE BASICS by voting for all six propositions.

PROPOSITION 1

The Issuance of $16,775,000 Waterwork Improvement Bonds and the Levying of the Tax in Payment Thereof.

Few things are as important to the continued strong economy of Lubbock and to the quality of life in Lubbock as water. Lubbock residents have come to expect an adequate water supply when they want it. A shortage of water would affect all residents in all parts of town.

Studies of our increased use of water tell us that by 1984 our daily needs will be greater than the supply available from Lake Meredith and from our Sandhills well field. The time to begin providing for that day is NOW.

PROPOSITION 2

The Issuance of $3,303,000 in Sewer System Improvement Bonds and the Levying of the Tax in Payment Thereof.

Most of this money will be spent to upgrade the sewage treatment plant in Southeast Lubbock. It will add capacity to handle the greater volumes of water being placed in the sewer system throughout the city. It also will improve the method of treatment so Lubbock can comply with Texas Water quality standards and correct present deficiencies.

PROPOSITION 3

The Issuance of $473,000 Storm Sewer and Drainage Bonds and the Levying of the Tax in Payment Thereof.

Funds provided in this proposition will finance drainage improvements near 50th Street and Avenue A, improvements to the downtown drainage system and new storm sewer inlets when state highways are built through the city.

PROPOSITION 4

The Issuance of $4,782,000 Street Improvement Bonds and the Levying of the Tax in Payment Thereof.

This funding will finance street work to improve traffic flow in older parts of the community.

PROPOSITION 5

The Issuance of $792,000 Fire Station Building Bonds and the Levying of the Tax in Payment Thereof.

Recommended projects in this proposition include a new fire station to serve residents in Southwest Lubbock, a new ladder truck to serve residents in East Lubbock and a new central fire station that will allow improved fire protection in all parts of the community.

PROPOSITION 6

The Issuance of $310,000 Fire Station Building Bonds (Adjacent Areas, when Annexed) and the Levying of the Tax in Payment Thereof.

These are tax-supported bonds because interest rates will be lower than if we sold revenue bonds. It is estimated these lower interest rates will save citizens $750,000 in bond payments.

A tax rate increase will NOT be necessary to repay these bonds. Revenues from the existing tax rate will be dedicated to make bond payments. This tax money will then be replaced with revenues from increasing water rates and the sewer service charge, since most of the projects are for water and sewer system improvements.

VOTE FOR ALL PROPOSITIONS SATURDAY, MAY 21, 1977

Paid for and authorized by the BACK THE BASIC COMMITTEE,
Bob Nash, Chairman, P.O. Box 10527, Lubbock, Texas 79408
