HOME TOWN TALK

By Beddy
The Breckenridge Buckaroos, tutored by that crafty handler of high school lads, P. E. Shotwell, will be in our midst Saturday.

Because Breckenridge severely thrashed the Steers last year in Breckenridge and went ahead of the final contest for the state championship many fans are, apparently, expecting the Bucks again to more or less walk over the home team.

We expect nothing of the sort. There is a lot of difference between being cocky and being confident. Cockiness is fatal, confidence necessary. An inferiority complex is still worse.

If the Steers will go in there Saturday and play their hearts out every minute, forgetting the recent bright record of the opposing team we're going to see some nice upsetting of dope.

It should be enough to arouse the fighting instincts of the Steers to hear the predictions of their decisive defeat by the chronic yappers of the Oil Belt sport-papers. Now about showing up these prognosticators, including the Abilene lad who predicted we'd lose 32 to 0?

The transportation center of West Texas. That is the caption Big Spring should broadcast when the air mail line is in operation, the Texas & Pacific Northern built and the state highways in the county paved.

Britain Pays Last Tribute To R-101 Dead

LONDON, Oct. 10. (AP)—Historic St. Paul's cathedral was the shrine of the British Empire at noon today while the nation mourned those who died in the destruction of the dirigible R-101 Sunday.

Evoyers of every nation joined in the great memorial service, Ambassador Charles G. Dawes representing the United States.

Mourners came from every walk of life, from the far outposts of the empire to the streets of London. The Prince of Wales was there, as were members of the house of commons and noted statesmen. There were soldiers, there were the wives, children or sweethearts of those who were lost.

Even errand boys came from London's busy streets, while shop girls took time from their lunch periods to fill the vast spaces with the grey stone walls of the old cathedral.

At a poignant moment of the service a pigeon from the flocks outside found its way into the great vaulted spaces of the cathedral and fluttered back and forth across the dome, high above the people bowed in prayer.

It was a simple service of hymns, prayers and music, profound in its effect.

Bronzed men in blue uniforms—the reserve crew of the R-101 wept without restraint. Outside tens of thousands waited on the pavements of the churchyard and along the whole length of Ludgate hill, standing silently and reverently until the service was over.

Catholics mourned the dead of their faith at a solemn requiem mass in Westminster cathedral.

All through the morning the queue passing before catafalque of Westminster Hall grew in length. It finally extended back to Lambeth bridge, then doubled on itself in the street that runs by the Thames.

Jack Hatch, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Hatch, had his tonsils removed at the Big Spring hospital this morning.

Girl and Man From Wink Are Objects of Hunt

Howard county officers were asked today to watch for a 15 year old girl and a youth who ran away from Wink.

The girl, Hazel Hancy, is described as 15 years of age, weighing 110 pounds, blonde with dark gray eyes.

Dick Smith, said to be her companion, is between 23 and 25 years old, weighs between 160 and 170 pounds and is six feet in height.

Wink police declare they are traveling in a Ford roadster with a trunk on the rear.

Southwest Air Fast Express

New Company Operating Mail Line; Standard Airline Bought

DALLAS, Oct. 10.—Purchase of the Standard Air Lines division of Western Air Express and official approval of the new company formed to operate the southern transcontinental air mail and passenger route from Atlanta to Los Angeles, was announced yesterday by C. R. Smith, Dallas, vice president of Southern Air Fast Express, the newly formed company. Standard Air Lines, operating from El Paso to Los Angeles, will be taken over by the new company October 10.

F. G. Coburn, president of Aviation Corporation and American Airways, Inc., was elected president of Southern Air Fast Express at a meeting of the executive committee of Aviation Corporation. Earle P. Halliburton, president of Southwest Air Fast Express, which, with Robertson Aircraft corporation, a subsidiary of American Airways, bid successfully for the mail contract on the southern transcontinental route, was named chairman of the board.

American Airways will operate the new line as its southern division, Smith said today. With the addition of the new route, American Airways becomes one of the two largest systems in America, its mileage on air-motored ships being increased to 5,902 daily miles and on single-motored planes to 13,998 daily miles.

Operations over the new route will begin October 15, Smith said, with a fleet of nine tri-motored Fokker planes. Pilots of Southern Air Transport will be sent immediately to bring five tri-motored Fokker planes of Standard Lines at the Dallas base. Installation of two-way radio telephone and point-to-point Morse code radio service will be made immediately. Mail compartments will also be installed in the planes, which will seat eight passengers.

Planes will leave both Atlanta and Los Angeles, as well as Dallas, operating in each direction on the day the new service is inaugurated. Only daylight flights will be made, one each way daily, until the government beacon system is installed along the route.

A twelve-hour schedule will be maintained between Dallas and Los Angeles. Fort Worth was designated as the night stop-over point by the department of commerce and the post office department, but for the present, planes will be brought to Dallas for the night stops. No stop of night planes will be made at Fort Worth, Smith said, because of the danger in landing at the airport there.

Mail stops, as previously announced by the department of commerce, will be Jackson, Miss.; Shreveport, La.; Dallas, Fort Worth, Big Spring, El Paso, Tucson and Phoenix. A spur line from San Antonio via San Angelo will connect with the transcontinental route at Big Spring.

Robert J. Smith, general traffic manager of American Airways, has announced that passenger fares from Atlanta to Los Angeles would be $147.15, from Fort Worth to Atlanta $54.80, and from Fort Worth to Los Angeles $92.35.

Big Spring Couples Home After Encountering Flood

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Carroll and Mr. and Mrs. R. Fitzgerald of Big Spring have returned home after harrowing experiences with floods which overflowed streams in the vicinity of Brady, Eden and south of San Angelo.

The Carroll car was washed completely off the highway several times, twice near Eden and again near the Kickapoo south of San Angelo. Once a wolf goof fence was washed across the highway in front of the car. Turning around and starting back in an effort to beat the flood water, the car was caught and shoved into a ditch. None of the occupants suffered any ill effects.

U. S. Senator

Speaker For A.F.L. Confab

BOSTON, Mass., Oct. 10. (AP)—United States Sen. Robert F. Wagner of New York in an address today before the convention of American Federation of Labor placed responsibility for unemployment at the door of business and government leaders who neglect in prosperous times to prepare for periods of depression.

He also assailed use of the injunction, the sole utility of which, he said, "is to harass the union, to hamper its work and to render ineffective the very function the trade organization was designed to exercise." he asked, discussing unemployment, "is the worker who has not run the gauntlet of loss of work because of seasonal slack, of periodic depression, of foreign competition, of change in fashion, of machine substitution?"

"Having experienced those, now the unemployed worker must ironically smile when he reads the well meaning advice extended to him that if only he would resume his normal purchases prosperity would resume its uninterrupted course. I wonder what his emotion is when he reads the official assurance that our fundamental national assets are undiminished. He knows only too well that he lives in a land of plenty which he had in the past shared in the making. These facts only aggravate the rancor in his heart that he must nevertheless go without work and without wages."

Senator Wagner asserted the American people will not "submissively accept these recurrent and lengthening periods of joblessness. They have learned, he said, they cannot live by optimism alone.

He said it has been known for a long time that private industry could contribute to the stabilization of the seasonal and technological aspects of unemployment if it would assume more seriously the responsibility to provide regular employment, and the states and federal government could materially aid by timing the introduction of large projects into the market so as to provide a flow of wages when other sources were dry, but that "we stubbornly refuse to put any such plan into systematic and efficient operation."

Manager Of Air Terminal In P.O. Service

Lee Garner, manager of the Big Spring Airport, operated under lease by Southwest Air Fast Express, successor to Southern Air Transport, Inc., was sworn in Friday morning by E. E. Fabrenkamp, postmaster, as a representative of the post office department and clothed with the authority to handle mail.

As manager of the local post office, Mr. Garner will have the responsibility of transferring air mail at the terminal here, beginning October 15, when the southern transcontinental line will be put in operation. His duties, insofar as handling mail is concerned, will be heavier than those of any port manager between Fort Worth and Los Angeles, since mail will be transferred here between ships of the main line and those plying the San Antonio-San Angelo-Big Spring airport route.

Paul Vance, who will be a pilot on the San Antonio-Big Spring line, was here Friday arranging for the details necessary before operations can be started.

Many letters have been received by the airport manager with the request that they be autographed by the pilot of the first ships flying the air mail route, said Garner. He asked that mail be carried either to the post office or to the Chamber of Commerce offices in the Settles hotel building.

Letters may be left at those places at any time and special air mail stamped envelopes, which will be specially cancelled in commemoration of the first flight of the line.

It is the object of postal and S.A.F.E. officials to have at least 200 pounds of air mail for dispatching on the first schedules, October 15.

Kiwanis Club Plans Minstrel And Banquet

The Kiwanis Club voted Thursday at its luncheon in the Crawford hotel to hold a Ladies Night program Oct. 30 and to sponsor a second annual Kiwanis minstrel show, which very likely will be held the Tuesday preceding Thanksgiving Day.

Nat Shick and L. W. Croft were named on the committee representing the three service clubs, at the joint meeting and barbecue to be given Wednesday evening at city park for delegates to the Synod of Texas, Presbyterian church. U. S. Dillard, Walt Smith and Wendell Bedichek were named as the minstrel committee.

Galvin Boykin and Andrew Mellets were placed on the house and decorations committee for the Ladies' Night banquet and Joe Kuykendall, Garland Woodward, Ray Wilcox and Walter Barrett named to the program committee.

Dr. J. R. Dillard informed the club the board of directors had gone on record against sale of space in a souvenir program as a method of deriving funds from the minstrel show.

Charles Quereau and Frank Barren were guests of individual members.

Dr. Dillard, chairman of the nominating committee, announced a ballot bearing nominees for club officers for 1931 will be mailed within a week. Balloting will be done at a meeting in the near future, probably next week.

Acceptance of Budget To Help Institutions Probe, Group Believes

AUSTIN, Oct. 10. (AP)—Overcrowded conditions found at state institutions by a committee from the legislature on a recent partial survey would be remedied if budget recommendations of the board of control to the next legislature are followed, members of the board said today.

This statement was made in commenting on a report made by Mrs. Helen V. Moore, chairman of the survey committee.

R. B. Walthall and Roy Tennant, board members, said that building recommendations would be made to amply take care of overcrowded conditions found by Mrs. Moore and her committee. Walthall, who accompanied the committee, readily admitted that conditions were as bad as she pictured them.

They pointed out, however, that some items vetoed from the legislative appropriation for eleemosynary institutions were for buildings, meant to relieve the congestion, had been anticipated two years ago.

Another item scheduled to be back in the eleemosynary appropriation budget, they said, was that providing for more attendants at the state hospitals to enable the working force to be put on the nine hour day, 54 hour week required by labor laws, also vetoed.

At present, institutions have the force required by law but the extra employees are paid out of other than salary funds.

L. Ford, civil engineer in charge of the survey, with headquarters here.

Mr. Ford said progress on the survey was satisfactory and that he anticipated little delay in obtaining right-of-way. Several farmers had, he said, told him voluntarily they intended donating right-of-way through their property.

Ship Lands In Southwest Tip Of British Isle

American Monoplane Ends Its Second Trip Across Ocean

CROYDON, England, Oct. 10. (AP)—Officials of the Croydon Airport tonight were notified that the monoplane Columbia had landed on the beach of Trecco Island, off the southwest tip of England, and that the plane was undamaged.

LONDON, Oct. 10. (AP)—The Air Ministry tonight was informed that the monoplane Columbia had landed at Trecco on the Scilly Islands, completing her second transatlantic voyage.

It was understood that the Columbia would not proceed to Croydon tonight.

Trecco is near St. Mary's in the Scilly Islands and is off the coast of Cornwall. It is one of the most outlying spots of the southwestern coast of England.

No details of the plane's landing, was recalled but apparently Captain Erroll Boy, Canadian aviator, and his companion Lieut. Harry P. Connor, American flier and navigator were safe.

The message to the air ministry did not explain the mystery of why the Columbia landed on Trecco Island. Only five of the rocky Scilly Islands are inhabited and Trecco is one of them.

The island lies 25 miles off Land's end, which is the southwestern tip of the British main land.

The only word previously received of the fliers had come from the steamer Virginia which reported sighting the Columbia at 2:30 p. m. (9:30 a. m. EST) about 200 miles off Land's end.

The report that the Columbia had landed, even in the rocky, ribbed Scilly Islands, brought a feeling of relief to the watchers gathered at Croydon airport, since officials had estimated that the airplane ought to arrive at 6:30 p. m.

Flares were being lit at the airfield for the guidance of the steamer when the air ministry at 7:15 p. m. received the report of the Columbia's arrival at Trecco.

Just Another Football Game" Herd Declares As Important Clash Nears

Bucky Boys Will Have Up and Coming Backfield, Beefy Forward Crew To Contend With

The game that will make or break the Longhorns is just around the corner, or to be specific, just over the viaduct. Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock Silent Shotwell will send his Breckenridge charges against the up and coming Steers of Big Spring High School.

To the Buckaroos of Buckarooville, it's just another game to the Steers of the local corral, it's the same old story of just another breeze wafted along the 1930 schedule.

Despite the usual fact that the Bucky team is rated among the leading four of the district, the Steers will not get into the battle with the same complex they wrapped around their shoulders in the Abilene contest.

Just Awed
They weren't exactly afraid of Abilene. They were simply awed by a past reputation, and a present bunch of elephants that looked big enough to be in the house moving business on a grand scale. Saturday, however, the Steers clash with the green and white machine representing the school that fought its way to a co-championship last year, confident they are not exactly confident of victory, but they are confident that it's not going to be a gentle sphyx for the invading contingent. There still lurks in the minds of some of the Steers a 58 to 0 crushing received at the hands of the Shotwell crowd down among the oil derricks and gasoline plants last year. They won't get away with it this year, so sayeth the Steers.

The greatest menace to the Steers—and to the other nine teams in this vast section of football—so is B. Magnus. Even at that, however, the Steers are extremely lucky in that the Buckies now instead of later.

Not so Well
Magnus hasn't been feeling so well, hasn't worked out a great deal, played a quarter of the Mineral Wells game, and may not be able to last through four quarters on the confined gridiron. If so, the great Breek threat will be lessened by a great degree.

Coaches Stevens and Brown will send a strong contingent against the invaders. You can't collect a bunch of beef like Henshaw, the Orr boys, Glover, Maxwell, Heblson, Coburn, Pardue into one line, and not let the opposing force realize it.

The Buckies will run into a great defensive secondard. Flowers, Rogers, Mims, Neel or Kidwell are capable of taking it. On the ends will be found that scrapping "Little" Coote who displayed such tantalizing bunch of fight in the Eastland game.

Captain Rogers, despite his weight, is one of the best defensive men the two mentors have to send against that hefty backfield that Breckenridge boasts of. Flowers, Kidwell and Neel also are rated among the smashers of the secondary.

Offense?
Offensively? Well yes. The Mineral Wells aggregation outplayed the Buckaroos in the final quarter of their affair, which the Bucs copied 26 to 6. The Steers have a better offensive attack, by far, than the residents of the east end of the district. Flowers—who should cop an all-district berth if he continues in his stride so far established—is a running and passing threat that the Breek outfit will have to contend with, or else. He is a cool passer, takes his time, depending on a line to staff off the attack until he finds his man in the wide open spaces. His short passes probably will deal misery to the Bucs before the sun drops over the railroad tracks Saturday afternoon.

In addition, Flowers' running attack has not been held up to any degree in the last two games the Steers have been engaged in.

Menacing
Cap Rogers is another one of the jackrabbits that is an ever menace to the bunch on the other side of the trench. He too is good for several yards on running plays, although his passing was below par in the Eastland game.

As far as that is concerned, passing is just a breeze with the Steer backfield. Flowers, Rogers and Neel can toss them, if necessary, and we entertain no doubts but what Mims and Kidwell could if the pinch demanded it of them.

The Breek squad probably will have the advantage when it comes to punting. Phillips, however, is getting used to the sinking spots and the heel rests in the local gridiron, while the Breek booter hasn't had the advantage and punts consistently. He will have plenty of punting to do, no question.

Lamesa Will Clash With Tahoka

LAMESA, Oct. 10.—The Lamesa High School Golden Tornados will officially open the Class B conference season here Friday, when they take on the highly touted Tahoka Bull Dogs. The Tornados are expecting a hard fought game as Tahoka has hung up several important victories to date, the last being over the Floydada High School Whirlwinds, 13 to 0, at the Panhandle South Plains Fair at Lubbock, last Thursday. Advance information is that they have championship material this year. Coach McCollum's Golden Tornados have played four games to date, losing one of them to Roby 12 to 6. They have met and defeated the Falls Jackrabbits 29 to 0, Hobbs, New Mexico High School 32 to 0, and the Lamesa All Stars 7 to 6. The Lamesa team was district champion last season, defeating the Falls Jackrabbits for honors in the final game of the schedule. The Tornados have a large following of fans on the South Plains, and much interest is being manifested in the opening conference game Friday.

Have Playful Starts

The Topperweins—the famous pair of artists when it comes to trick shooting—are expected to draw a large crowd Monday afternoon when they give a free exhibition at 4 o'clock at the Big Spring Gun Club.

Using rifles, shotguns and revolvers, these veterans of the trigger will provide entertainment that varies from quick and accurate shooting to rearing five eggs in the air before they land.

In recent years, Mrs. Topperwein has devoted most of her shooting time to the traps in which she holds all kinds of records not only for women but also for shooters of either sex.

The two veterans are quite playful. For instance Topperwein thinks nothing at all of allowing his wife to shoot empty shot shells off the fingers of his hand. Another of their playful little stunts is to have the wife shoot sticks of crayon or cigarettes from her husband's fingers or lips.

The Topperweins use Winchester guns and ammunition exclusively, it is said.

The exhibition is free, according to gun club officials.

Bronze Tablet In State Capital Wrong Side Up

AUSTIN, Oct. 10.—Twenty years after it was unveiled a bronze memorial tablet to the officers only who lost their lives in the Mexican war has been found to have been placed on the capitol walls upside down.

The conventional burning tapers send their bronze flames merrily straight down. The heavy base of the eight-foot tablet projects above its top and the graceful peak of the slab hangs downward.

It will have to stay that way, because all the lettering of names and titles was put on upside down.

The tablet contains titles and names of all the officers who died in the Mexican war. If any privates were killed, they didn't get mentioned.

Contrast of this tablet with the bronze tablets that are being installed in the stadium honoring world war dead is vivid, since no rank is mentioned in connection with the name of any Texan who died in the world war. That follows the practice of the American Legion and other world war veterans' organizations, in prohibiting reference to rank during the war.

Reese Allen and A. G. Clark of Wichita Falls were in Big Spring for a brief time Thursday. Mr. Allen is proprietor of the Great West Oil Refinery east of town.

L. H. Mobley of Cisco, proprietor of the Mobley Hotels of Texas was a guest of the Crawford hotel here Thursday.

(Associated Press Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Oct. 18. (AP)—Joe Cronin, sensational young shortstop of the Washington Senators, today was proclaimed the American League's "most valuable player" for 1930 by a special committee of members of the Baseball Writers' Association of America.

The writers, representing each American League city, cast their votes at the request of the Associated Press for the second successive year since the league abandoned its custom of making an official selection.

Cronin, although playing only his second year as a major league regular, merited sufficient votes to beat out Al Simmons of the Athletics, the league batting champion, and Lou Gehrig, slugging first baseman of the Yankees in a close contest. Cronin led with a total of 54 points out of a possible maximum of 64.

Simmons and Gehrig were tied for second place with 39 points each. Charley Gehringer, Detroit's second baseman, was fourth with 35. Ted Lyons of the White Sox, fifth with 26, and Wesley Ferrell, Cleveland's sensational young pitcher, sixth with 25 points.

Simmons was the choice of most of the experts for first ranking, being put at the top of a list by four of the eight critics, but his chances of winning the honor were reduced by the nomination of Lefty Grove and Mickey Cochrane by other experts as the representatives of the World's Champions.

Cronin, on the other hand, was given top ranking by only one writer but he was second on four other lists and placed once each at fourth, fifth and sixth. The points were figured on a basis of eight for first place, seven for second, etc., as was done when the American League conducted the official contest.

The complete tabulation of votes: Joe Cronin, Washington—54; Al Simmons, Athletics—39; Lou Gehrig, Yankees—39; Charley Gehringer, Detroit—35.

Kid Berg Meets Rival Tonight!

NEW YORK, Oct. 10. (AP)—Jack (Kid) Berg, busy leather-swinging from England, battles an old rival, Billy Petrolle of Fargo, N. D., in the headline ten round bout in Madison Square Garden tonight.

Berg has several old scores to settle with Petrolle. The Fargo puncher gave the Briton the only real trouncing of his career, stopping him in five rounds at Chicago several years ago. Later they fought to a draw.

Both these bouts, however, were waged before Berg reached his present eminence among the light weights. He stands now as an outstanding challenger for Al Singer's 135-pound title. His impressive performance in the last year or so have made him a 5 to 1 favorite over Petrolle, expert opinion holding that the middle westerner can hope to win only by a knockout in an early round.

Petrolle's stablemate, Spud Murphy, meets Patay Buffalo, of Mt. Vernon, N. Y., in the opening ten.

Counties Anxious For Amendment

Freedom From Burden Of Tax Free Lands Is Sought

SAN ANGELO, Oct. 10. (AP)—Seventeen West Texas counties are hoping this fall to rid themselves of the burden of the tax-exempt two million-acre campus of the University of Texas which lies within their boundaries. A constitutional amendment to allow counties to tax Texas school lands, the amount to be paid by the state, will go before the voters on Nov. 4.

Oil and water don't mix physically but in the case of the University of Texas lands they have proved an unbeatable combination. It was a water well formed by nature, discovered by steam rising on frosty mornings, that caused Ed Jackson 45 years ago to purchase the mother section of 640 acres upon which he founded the O-9 ranch in Irion and Crockett counties.

Next J. W. Friend and John Henderson, two penniless young men, moved into the poverty-stricken section not far away and helped to bring prosperity to the county. Others followed and fought drought and uncertain markets and most of them made money.

It took courage of a rare kind to develop these lands chosen from the last of the domain of the state in 1879, 1884 and 1886 at the time termed "unfit for man or beast." The good acres were pretty well gone and hence the man who selected this land took what he could get.

In 1922 oil was found and the puny revenues of the school changed into the millions and the institution took a seat along with the major oil companies of the nation.

It now has a vast reserve of leases untouched, the basis of a million dollar corporation, too, for only 14.1 per cent of the lands have been leased. Yet it now has five fields, one in Pecos, one in Crane, one in Ector, and two in Reagan counties. Monthly income ranges up to $300,000.

The counties within whose boundaries the land lies feel that the University has prospered more rapidly than the country adjoining the land and desire revenue from the land to build roads and maintain schools. Some counties, such as Andrews, have one-third University lands.

Natural Milk Proponent Sends State Protest

SAN ANGELO, Oct. 10. (AP)—Criticism of alleged unscrupulousness of the state department of health and Dr. J. C. Anderson, chief health officer, to educate the public to the belief that "pasteurized milk is the only safe milk" is contained in a letter recently sent to Dr. Anderson by Otto Atkinson, president of the Natural Milk Producers Association of Texas.

The department of health was criticized for "use of taxpayers' money to educate the public along false lines."

Undulant fever is advertised by the department as transmissible through raw milk, the letter says, and proceeds to quote a contrary opinion as given by Dr. Thurbald Smith of the Rockefeller Institute research department.

Mr. Atkinson denies in his communication a statement written by a Texas department of health representative to the effect that physicians as a rule prescribe only pasteurized milk for persons not in normal state of health.

Republican Candidate To Appear Here

Personal friends and others who sympathize with his stand on "Develop Texas for Texans" will welcome Col. W. E. Talbot, republican candidate for governor, to Big Spring, Thursday, October 13, where he will speak that night.

Since Col. Talbot began his speaking tour this week, in each town where he has appeared, a "Buy Texas Products Club" has been organized spontaneously by the citizens, growing out of his plea that Texans buy only Texas grown and manufactured where possible. Most of the members of these clubs are Democrats, anxious to see Texas prosper.

Carrying out his theory that natives of the states should patronize home industries Col. Talbot wears only Texas made clothing, under-wear, suit, hat, shoes and all.

"Since we have started these clubs," he asserts, "Texas manufacturers who heretofore made only working garments have begun to make street clothes. If 100,000 men would wear only Texas made garments, we would see prosperity already here, and clothes are only one item of the many things we could buy in Texas."

Among the things that we can do to help the farmer and the other Texas business men, Col. Talbot says, are the protection of the independent oil man from unfair competition; helping the farmer to market his goods; getting behind a strong organization that will enable the cotton farmer to put a price on his own cotton; develop our natural resources and our inland water ways and ports, and placing Texas securities.

"Texas ranks 38th among the states in personal wealth today, although inherently it is one of the richest," he declared, "the trouble with us is we are feeding the cow that is milked in the north. When we learn to stand back of our own industries and our own production, we will see outside capital and industry begging to come in and share our prosperity."

Col. Talbot advocates the election of highway commissioners instead of having them appointed at the personal pleasure of the governor and return to the old convention system instead of the primaries, which, he declares, form a "wheel within a wheel."

BOY HAS PARALYSIS
Bill Brook, 16, son of Mrs. H. E. Reiss, 707 Johnson street, was reported slightly improved today, but his condition remained serious. Brook, a junior in high school, is suffering from paralysis. He has been removed to his home from the Big Spring hospital.

Arrest of Vagrants Results Fresh Plot Near San Antonio

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 10. (AP)—An attempt, nearly successful, to wreck the Sunset Limited No. 101, crack Southern Pacific passenger train, was revealed in a corporation court here today when 25 vagrant train riders were hauled into court.

Lives of the crew and scores of sleeping passengers possibly were saved then the engineer, seeing a stack of railway ties on the track a short distance ahead of the racing locomotive, jammed on the emergency brakes and slowed the train down sufficiently to prevent derailing.

The engine struck the stack of ties, but without sufficient force to do more than jolt and awaken passengers.

This was revealed by Wayne Carver, special detective for the Southern Pacific lines, who had rounded up 25 vagrants caught riding trains. Most of them were nabbed in the east yards of the Southern Pacific here.

Judge A. L. Mallock of corporation court, assessed fines at $10 each for the 25.

Carver said the near-tragedy occurred near Sandy Fork, 45 miles east of here, at 11:30 a. m. Thursday.

Carver advanced the theory that vagrants placed the ties on the track in an effort to stop a train so that they might get aboard.

Prizes Offered For Dessert Dishes For Hallowe'en Parties

Refreshment
Recipes Unique
Unusual, Asked

Mmes. Hambrick and McClure Are Weekly
Winners

Whether for a child's party or for a grown-up's party refreshments should always be different and amusing. Of all parties difficult to devise "new" ideas in refreshments and decorations the Hallowe'en party is the worst.

The conventional black cats, witches on broomsticks, grinning (or scowling, as the case may be) pumpkin heads come up for first consideration.

They should be used, by all means, for nothing so catches the fancy of young or old as the orange and black of October's beloved Hallowe'en.

Today's winners (after two hours of deliberation) are Mrs. J. A. Hambrick and Mrs. E. B. McClure. Runners-up are Mesdames David Waldo Jones, Mrs. Jimmie Mason, Mrs. Troy A. Gifford and Mrs. Mary Tatro.

Every recipe offered was excellent. The Irish Stew led the race, and this was one reason why the winners won. They sent us both Irish and other stews. Both Mrs. Mason and Mrs. Jones, however, sent varied lists as well, but as they are now old timers with us and have won prizes often, we hesitate to be too partial. Their lists are always fine.

As many of the recipes as possible are quoted below:

- JUNGLE STEW
1 can of kidney beans
2 onions sliced
2 teaspoons salt
4 small potatoes
2 pints water
2 cups tomatoes
4 or 5 slices of bacon
1 teaspoon chili powder
Chop and fry the bacon and brown the onions slightly in the fat. Add the potatoes to enough boiling water to cover them. Add the beans and the browned onion with seasoning. Cook slowly until the ingredients are tender. Add the tomatoes during last 10 minutes of cooking.

The Battle That Didn't End
By THORNTON W. BURGESS

In strength both youth take boastful pride,
And soon to run away or hide.
—Old Mother Nature.

Never had there been such a battle in the Green Forest as the battle between Lightfoot the Deer and the strange Deer who had suddenly appeared. For a time they would separate every once in a while for a moment's rest; then come together again, rising on their hind feet to strike with their fore feet; and then, head to head, pushing with all their might. The ground all about was trampled up dirt and then one would have a small advantage but never for long. In strength they seemed to be about equal. Lightfoot was the older. He had the experience, but the stranger had the advantage of youth. So, after all, they were quits equally matched.

All the little people of the Green Forest who could get there were present looking on. Somehow, the news had spread. As you know, all the Squirrel cousins were present.
They were all in the trees, even Striped Chipmunk and Impy the black Chipmunk, Sammy Jay and Blacky the Crow were present almost from the start. Other feathered folk came. Uncle Billy Possum, Bobby Coon, Billy Mink from the Laughing Brook, which was not far away; Reddy Fox, Miss Rabby, Old Man Coyote, Bustard Beak, even Towler the Bobcat, all were looking on. No one made a sound. The only sounds were the snorts of the two fighters and the clash of their antlers and the stamping of their feet.

It was shortly after jolly, round, red Mr. Sun began his daily climb up into the blue, blue sky that the battle started. When he was right overhead, looking down, they were still there, head to head, pushing and shoving. Never had a battle been known to last so long. It was Reddy Fox who first noticed something odd on the part of the two fighters.

"Do you notice that they don't back off any more?" said he to Mrs. Reddy. "When they stop to rest they keep head to head. I wonder if each is afraid that the other may run away. See, they've stopped to rest now!"

Sure enough, the two fighters were standing still head to head and nose to nose. They were panting for breath, it was plain to see that both were tired. They were very tired. Neither one seemed to be hurt much. There were a few marks of sharp horns, but neither was hurt badly. For a little while they stood there, heads down forehead to forehead. Then Lightfoot once more began to push. The stranger backed a little way. Then he set his legs and strained and pushed, and Lightfoot went back a little way. Both slipped down to their knees and continued to push.

It was after noon. One by one the onlookers slipped away to get something to eat. One by one they returned to find the two fighters still at it. It was growing late, Jolly, round, red Mr. Sun was close to the Purple Hills, behind which he would go to bed. The Black Shadows crept out across the Green Meadows and into the Green Forest. They found the two fighters still standing head to head, now and then pushing a little, but for the most part standing there, tired out, yet neither seeming willing to quit. Pretty Mrs. Lightfoot was still looking on, but there was a queer expression on her face. It was as if there were something she did not understand.

The little people of the day departed for their homes; the little people of the night took their places. A great wonder took possession of all. Handsome Lightfoot and the equally handsome strange Deer had fought all day and it looked as if they intended to fight all night.

RID OF POISON, FEELS BETTER

Constipation Relieved by Help of Black-Draught, Without Bad After-Effects.

Lake View, S. C.—"I always keep Theford's Black-Draught in my home to take when I feel a sick headache coming on, for, after taking a dose of Black-Draught
I quickly recover," writes Mrs.
Pamie Rogers, of this place.
"Every so often when I get dull and feel lifeless, my eyes hurt and I have a sick, nauseated feeling, my color gets yellow and I don't sleep well, then I believe I am full of poison and my system needs a thorough cleansing. I start taking a course of Black-Draught, and in a few days I feel like a different person. My energy comes back and I am able to do my work without much effort.
"Black-Draught is a fine medicine for constipation. It gives quick relief and I prefer it to others because it is a vegetable compound and there are no bad after-effects. It sets me up right off."
Constipation dams up poisons in the bowels, where they are absorbed into the general system, causing many serious symptoms.
At the first sign of constipation,
take Black-Draught.

Bill To Prevent Padding School Rolls Proposed

By PAUL BOLTON
Associated Press Staff Writer
AUSTIN, Texas, Oct. 30 (AP)—In the landslide of legislation due to hit Texas lawmakers next January there probably will be a bill designed to eliminate some of the "padding" of scholastic rolls.

These rolls, returned to the state department of education by school districts over the state, form the basis for the apportionment of the state school fund—$17.50 per capita. "Padded" rolls are no novelty and in the past one or two near scandals have been uncovered.

On several occasions a second census of a school district has been the means of hopping off as high as 400 names, and at $17.50 per name, 400 additions run into money.

One of the means suggested to prevent this practice is making the basis of the census the previous year's enrollment, rather than the number of youths between a certain age residing in a school district on a certain date.

This and other educational measures will be presented to the state board of education at its meeting here Monday, Superintendent of Public Instruction S. M. N. Marrs and his assistants have prepared a summary of what the department considers essential legislation, and this already has been approved by the executive committee of the state teachers' association.

At the board of education meeting, all members have asked to submit their suggestions for legislation, which will be coordinated by a special committee.

Does using live rabbits in dog races constitute cruelty to animals?

The humane society at Dallas contends that it does and asked the opinion of one of the assistant attorneys general.

The official of the society writing for the opinion was not concerned as to whether there was gambling at the race course, but offered the suggestion that mechanical rabbits might as well be used as live ones, without a consequent sacrifice of animal life.

According to the letter requesting the opinion, the rabbits are turned loose at the end of a long course and headed for their grounds. If they beat the hounds to the feed lot, they temporarily escape their fate, but in the long run are the losers. The course, the letter said, is near Dallas.

The state legislator is apt to be very much divided on the question of submitting a state wide highway

Simms Singers Change Radio Hour

A shift in the entertainment schedule of Southwestern radio audiences will come Saturday evening, Oct. 31, when the Simms Singers change their weekly broadcasts from the regular 8 to 8:30 o'clock period Monday evening to the 30-minute period at 9 p. m. Saturday, according to an announcement from F. R. Schneider, vice-president and general manager of the Simms Oil company.

Under the new schedule, the Simms Singers will immediately follow the Saturday evening program of the General Electric company and precede the program of Lucky Strike cigarettes.

The shift from our Monday night position on the WFAA broadcast to the new Saturday night schedule was due to the belief that the change will afford radio audiences greater pleasure," Mr. Schneider said.

"With three programs of the quality offered by General Electric, Simms Oil company and Lucky Strike, Saturday night is to become the red letter day of the calendar in the radio world."

Continuing the custom established more than two years ago, the Simms Singers will offer a guest artist each Saturday night. In the past, many well-known singers and musicians have appeared on the Monday night broadcasts, which are now to be changed to the later date in the week.

Because the change was determined upon too late to cancel the regular broadcast date, the Simms Singers were heard last Monday night as usual. Thus, they will appear twice in one week, taking up their new place on the schedule Saturday night, Oct. 31.

Both the program Monday night and the broadcast Saturday night are dedicated to the State Fair of Texas, which will open in Dallas on the day the change in programs is made.

Two Men Held In Los Angeles For Theft Here

Roy Gee, former deputy constable of Howard County, and George H. Haley, also of Big Spring, are being held by Los Angeles officers for Howard County officials.

The pair is charged with theft of an automobile from the King Bros. Motor Company, 2nd and Nolan Streets, three months ago. Deputy Sheriff Andrew Merrick left this morning for Los Angeles to bring the men back here to face charges.

Jack Gee, also charged with the theft of the car, was arrested at Sweetwater some days ago and was released today on a $1,000 bond. Each of the men is under a grand jury indictment returned by the September court term body.

The car, an Oldsmobile sedan, was taken from the showroom of the motor company. It was later found at Fort Worth.

The three men were arrested at Fort Worth and released by Tarrant County officials.

Roy Gee served for a while as deputy constable under John Williams, present constable.

It is understood the two held in California will waive extradition proceedings.

It is alleged they also face charges at Los Angeles.

HEAD INJURED

E. N. Holt is in the Blivings and Marcus hospital suffering from painful head injuries as a result of an accident at Cosden Refinery at 12:30 a. m. Friday.

The man was hit across the forehead with a dumping truck crane. He is not seriously hurt.

000,000 building program.

At present regents must invest the funds in state or national bonds. There are few state bonds and national bonds pay an interest of 3.25 to 4.25 per cent interest, and McCurdy fears that in 1933, when $12,000,000 must be reinvested, the university will be able to obtain more than 2.5 per cent interest. Texas A. and M. also would suffer, McCurdy's statement said.

Woman Kidnaped
Toll of Kidnaping
Of Girl, Companion

HOUSTON, Oct. 10 (AP)—Two women told police they saw a man and a woman kidnaped yesterday by two men who drove up in a sedan, stopped and slugged the man into unconsciousness, then put them into the car and forced his woman companion to accompany them.

The women said the car bore an Oklahoma license number. Police were searching for the car. Miss Mabel McMahon, one of the women who saw the attack, said the man who was slugged appeared to be about 25 and the girl about 15 years old. Her story was corroborated by another witness, Mrs. E. K. Blankenship.

Longshoremen Reach Schedule Agreement

GALVESTON, Tex., Oct. 10 (AP)—An agreement covering a scale of wages and working conditions for the coming year was reached today at a final conference of longshoremen and master stevedores.

Longshoremen will receive 18 cents per bale for handling cotton, 30 cents per hour for grain work and 30 cents for general cargo. Workers will receive time and one-half for time on Sundays and holidays. Under the old scale they received 20 cents per bale for cotton, $1 for grain, 30 cents for general cargo and double time for Sunday work.

The new agreement will become effective Sunday and covers the ports of Galveston, Houston, Texas City and Corpus Christi.

The longshoremen contended for a continuation of the old scale and a series of conferences were held before an agreement was reached.

Mrs. R. C. Reed, Stanton, is a patient at the Big Spring hospital.

City Judge Park Over Dollar Asked by Youth

"I'm hungry. I want a dollar and I want it quick."

Thus did a ragged stranger—with his hand stuck menacing in his coat pocket—address Tracy T. Smith, city judge, in his office over Cunningham & Phillips Drug Store.

It was night when the youth pushed open the door and walked into the office.

"I've got to have something to eat," he declared, "and I have to have a dollar to get it. That's all I want."

He got his dollar.

FT. WORTH GRAIN

FORT WORTH, Oct. 10 (AP)—Fair demand was reported for all grains except sorghums Friday with traders getting together on price ideas although the sharp late advance in contract values still gave quoted prices a nominal appearance. Mills were bidding $9.00 for number 1 hard wheat of any protein and exporters remained out of the market.

Buyers were waiting for the new crop grain sorghums hoping for lower prices on that commodity.

Estimated receipts: Wheat 22 cars; corn 14; barley 3, and sorghums 3.

Bids and offers on coarse grains ranged as follows, basis carloads delivered Texas common points, freight paid:

Corn, No. 2 mixed 95-96; No. 2 white or yellow 95-99.
Oats, No. 2 red 91-92.
Barley, No. 2 nominally, 67-68.
Sorghums, No. 2 milo per 100 pounds 1.70-1.72; No. 2 kafir 1.40-1.45.

WOOL BULLETIN

BOSTON, Oct. 10 (AP)—The Commercial Bulletin will say tomorrow: The wool trade has passed the another quiet week. Some business is being done at the lower level noted a week ago, but it is inconsequential. Prices are hardly changing.

The manufacturing position develops slowly. A somewhat better feeling exists in the woolen end of the trade. On the whole, however, the market seems to be unsettled with moderate business in goods being placed from week to week.

Foreign markets are steadier in the moment on the basis of new low prices established at London and in the primary markets of the southern hemisphere.

Fall Texas wools are moving partly to dealers and partly to operators at advances of 18 to 20 cents to the latter and around 20-21 cents to dealers, for best wools.

Mohair is dull with a few small sales of original Texas hair at about 35 cents. Wool quotations: Scoured basis: Texas: Fine 1 month (selected) 72-75; first short 12 months 70-72; fine 12 months 65-70.
