

'Around the Hub City'

NIGHT TOPICS: Last week-end was a busy one for four couples of the Hub City. They attended the annual Litton Industyr Company Christmas party at the fabulous KOKO Palace. One of the young ladies gave her Christmas present to the entire host of employees by singing a selection for those attending. The music was furnished by the Sam Baker Band.

Speaking of parties, Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Cain are inviting their friends to a Christmas paety at teh Mae Simmons Party House on the 17th, Friday night, from 6-12:00 pm.

If anyone of you know Andrew Joseph Jackson, tell him his social security card was found at Limual Hereford Enco Service Station and you may call PO 3-1459 or PO 2-9286 or go by the station and claim your card.

Most of the college students, if not all of them, will be home for the holidays. Some of the many who will spend the holidays in the city are Gloria Graves and Reddie Simmons of Texas Southern University and Joyce and Loyce Graves of Paul Quinn.

The Dunbar Alumni Association met last Sunday afternoon at the E. C. Struggs Junior High School. It awrs reported that the meeting was quite a success.

Around the Hub City is behind the Tonetts. Keep up the good work.

Christmas holidays will be observed December 22, 1965 through January 2, 1966 by all Lubbock Public Schools. Students will be dismissed for the holidays at the completion of classes Tuesday, December 21st. All schools will resume classes on Monday morning, January 3rd. The tots and teenagers will be out of shcool free andcing so lets watch for them.

"Around the hub city" would like to receive one of the many letters to Santa Clause from one of our many young readers The Times would like very much to print a copy of your letter to Santa. Address hour letter to the 'Times', P.O.

CONVICTS GIVE TALKS AT CITY SCHOOLS

Convicts from the Huntsville State Prison appeared on a program at the Junior High Schools of the city this week telling students not to follow their footsteps in life, but try to do what is best for them in school so that someday their chances will come to be something in this world.

All members of the quartet were in their early or middle twenties and they all come from all walks of life, according to G.B. Morris, coordinator of guidance for Lubbock Schools.

The six schools chosen to have the "Opera-

Opening at Carver Heights Day Nrsery

The open house of the $47,000 Carver Heights Day Nursery was proved to be quite a success last week-end. Hundreds of members of our community were on hand to re ue this most unique building.

The new facility, furnished and to be operated by the Pilot Club, will house some sixty children ranging in age from six weeks to seven years.

This is a lovely plant for our little tots to play, sleep, and enjoy their meals in. As one of the viewers commented, "I only wish I would have had the opportunity to attend such a nursery."

FEDERATION OF CHOIRS

Don't forget the Federation of Choirs which will be held this Sunday, the third Sunday, December 19th, because of the Christmas holidays. If you haven't attended the Federatifi n of Choirs then please do so Sunday.

they lodged in the juvenile division jail at the police station. Meals were provided by the school system and housing was provided for supervisors of the convicts.

One official of the school board added, "This is the most impressive program I've ever seen presented to students."

LUBBOCK'S OWN TONETTS

The moment has finally arrived for the first record relezse of the "Tonetts". The official date is December 20th, at which time copies will be shipped to radio stations throughout the United States.

The Tonetts, composed of four young ladies ranging in ages from 15-17, have been singnig together for a span of two years. They all attend the Dunbar High School here in Lubbock and could be on the brink of stardom.

Their first release is entitled "My Heart Can Feel the Pain", backed with "I Gotta Know".

Box 225 here in Lubbock and we will send it on to the North Pole. We'll be expecting to hear from you this week.

The "Times" is still waiting on the Alpha's for a news release for this year's debutante ball. If you are ready please let us know.

Both compositions came from the pen of Virgil Johnson, a local D. J. and their personal manager, who also have been responsible for several recordings.

Whether the Tonetts "go" with their first release or not, it is a definite start in the right direction, because during the short time they have been singing together, their talents and possibilities have become quite evident. Their accomplishments whatever they may be, are living examples of what can be done through determination and desire.

Although it is only nine more days before Christmas, we would like to remind each of you that... "it is more blessed to give than to receive", and "we find happiness in making others happy." Beleive me it is the natural thing to do at Christmas time.

tion Teenager" assemblies were those which did not have the program last year.

The convicts apperaed at Smylie Wilson Jnuior High School and Hutchinson Junior High on Tuesday, On Wednesday, yesterday, the schedule included E.C. Struggs, O. L. Slaton, Evans, and Mackenzie Junior High Schools.

This program was presented to prevent students from becoming juvenile delinquents and later becoming involved in more serious crimes. It helped to fit right in with this matter of law enforcement and making students realize how little things grow into big things cad can cause them serious trouble.

This program, "Operation Teenager", was sponsored by the Department of Correction with Alonzo Langley, director of the Department of Education, as coordinator. The four convicts were brought to Lubbock by the Lubbock Public Schools.

While in Lubbock,

A VERY BAD THING

A very bad thing happened last week when Lubbock became the scene of a beating of a 13-year old boy who could have been the son of any parent in the city. This particular incident was the most contraversal subject on the bus, beauty and barber shops, a nd around town in general the next morning.

How does a city find a solution to such juvenile problems? This is the sixty-four dollar question (and I am sure every city in America would like to know the answer).....

It is with regret that the orgin of this actute act was not detected by such a well illuminated community and reported to proper authorities--- but here as well as many other cities we refuse to see any evil, speak no evil and hear no evil--- and it matters if the youth involved is ten or even less. We've got the old habit of "it's none of my business."

Lubbock is growing rapidly and by doing so it creates many problems among juveniles. Why not council with them a little more because they need a l l the help they can possible receive. Let's start this week by changing this bad thing which happened last week into a good thing for weeks to come.....

Why don't we meet together in the very near future and discuss some of the problems existing among our little folks... If you have any suggestions why not send them to the West Texas Times.....

which was presented to the body.

The Texas Hi-Y Youth and Government program is "a laboratory experience in democracy." Youth and government is designed to underscore the slogans that "Freedom must be earned by every generation" and that "with every freedom there is an attendant responsibility."

This particular legislature was an experience for each delegate in as much as it presented a challenging experience for potential Texas leaders of tomorrow by orientating them in the procedure used by our state in making its laws.

This conference also pointed out to every Hi-Y member, with clearness, the responsibility of every citizen to be informed on and to speak his mind on important issues.

The sponsors of this chapter of the Hi-Y at Dunbar are C.E. Henry and A.W. Lincoln.

Mr. and Mrs. Courtland Whitmore, 2204 Redbud Street, Apt. D, who have been living in the modern Cresthaven Apartments, are only the members of one of the many young married couples who are living as a family within a "family of fine living."

specialities.

They are active members of the Manhattan Heights Church of Christ.

During one year and two months of living within the Cresthaven apartments, they admit they like living there for many reasons, namely; a beautiful 40-acre front yard (Mae Simmons Park) kept by the City of Lubbock, a recreational playground for children, the best and most convenient location, a nice fresh breeze, quite place to live, good neighbors, close to a bus stop, no upkeep, no additional city taxes, no high utilities, no plumbing repairs, no lawn problems and perhaps a dozen additional problems faced by other couples who have decided to "own" rather than rent.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

It is with a great deal of pride that I count Messrs. Ralph Payton and Wm. C. Young among my most meaningful, personal friends. Not only do I admire their personal attributes, but also the extended effects of their business lives which have contributed to the social well-being of many people.

Taking advantage of the American system of free-enterprise, these Christian gentlemen have built a prosperous insurance company. The benefits of this endeavor have been extended in many directions: financing churches and other building projects, and building an attractive, centrally located and convenient apartment area for those who care for better living in exclusive rental property- THE CRESTHAVEN HOMES.

A recent conversation with Mr. Young revealed that the purpose of CRESTHAVEN HOMES was to bring into focus a new emphasis in apartment living in this section of Lubbock. Included is a special corner, overlooking the canyon, for the young married couple, for the single young career man or lady who wants a good start in independent living. There is also a separate corner designed for the elder members who prefer a place of their own with little incumbrance. The remaining sections are intended for the small family groups who desire gracious living.

When Cresthaven Homes were first built, they were frame structures. After several years of occupancy, they began to take on the look of "old houses". Messrs. Payton and Young recognized that their vision of gracious living would subside into obscurity with the fading of the houses; therefore, they replaced the frame structures with modern and attractive brick structures. Recently they have spent considerable time, effort and expense to bring these apartments up to their original and intended attractive standards.

The owners of CRESTHAVEN HOMES care about how people live. We, therefore, recommend Messrs. Payton and Young and their project to whom it may concern to reside in an apartment which will lend dignity to living.

The Police Beat
By: T. J. Patterson

IT WENT LIKE THIS: MAN SHOOTING
Police received a call to go and investigate a shooting at 7th and Avenue F. After arriving at the scene where the reported shooting took place, they heard another shot and saw a group of men running east from 7th Street. One of the men who was running, hollered and told the officers that a man was shooting at the "Green Door Cafe," at 615 Avenue F. Police apprehended the man doing the wild shooting as he stood in the street with a rifle in his hand. He gave the police the rifle and 13 rounds of 30-30 shells.

After "Peter Gunn" was arrested and placed in a paddy wagon, a man came up and told the officers that the gunman had shot a window out of his car.

A 38 year-old man and a 24 year-old woman were arrested last week-end for fighting and disturbing the peace. It appeared as they might be drunk. One thing is for sure, they did not have the same name... must have been close friends???

HOUSE BURGLARY
Ulasee Williams, of 715 Avenue B told police that someone had broken into his house. He stated that entrance was gained by removing the lock from the front door of the house.

The following items were reported missing from his home; a Commodore brand 19 inch television set valued at $149, with grey and silver front; a black AM-FM transistor radio valued at $29.95; and $8.66 in cash.

He could not find the padlock that was on the door and it was not determined if the lock was broken or opened by someone who knew the combination.

THEFT
A young lady who resides on Avenue D told police that she was visiting a friend's house (male) last week-end when he demanded ten dollars from her. She refused to give it to him so he took it, as simple as that, with force.

After taking the money he ordered her out of the house and dared her to say a mumbling word.

UNWANTED MAN IN THE HOUSE
How does this one grab you?
An unknown female told police that an unwanted man was in her house and would not leave. The man was arrested by authorities in a very drunken state.

The question which may run through your mind is: Would she have reported the incident if it had been a "Wanted Man"?.?

Yes, friends, there are really three ways you can shop for Christmas. You can charge in to the first store you see, ask for what you think you want and buy it. Or you can go from store to store in order to compare price and value —which takes a lot of time!

Or —best way of all— you can compare those prices and values and make up your mind without budging from your easy chair; just by looking through those wonderful Christmas ads which are appearing every week in the Manhattan Heights and West Texas Times.

So, how about that? It sure stands to reason that you'll save time —and money —and get consistently better quality and value, too, if you do what all smart shoppers are doing and shop in the ad pages of the Manhattan Heights and West Texas Times.

Leopards Take State Crown 31-0

Thousands of fans sat in the muddy Coyote Stadium Saturday afternoon and watched the Leopards swat E. J. Campbell of Nacogdoches 31-0 to walk off with the state crown.

E.J. Campbell was here in big number, but the Leopards outnumbered them. Everybody got into the game, which caused the sensation of the year.

Thanks to the Leopards for bringing football fans a wonderful year in the game, and most of all, thanks for the championship.

We on the sideline knew all season that they had the winning fever. An it hasn't season, with minor injuries, cuts and bruises here and there. Even when Coach Garnett was ill the Leopards were still determined to win.

We would like to thank you individually, but since you are a team, we thank you for being Leopards and for wearing the blue and white.

Thanks again to your fine coaches who suffered mental agony in each game. Without them and their ideas, we would not have won.

Thanks to the cheerleaders who jeopardized their safety, and stood on the side-line to cheer you when you needed it most. They too made the season enjoyable.

Thanks to the band and majorettes for the fine half-time entertainment at each game. And your fine sponsors, Mrs. Alva McNeal and Mr. Harry Johnson, who spent many hours to help you bring something new each week.

We also thank E. J. Campbell for bringing their fine band, hteir performance was magnificent.

Leopard fans, a new football season will begin next September. Lets remember the Leopards of '65-66, also push the Leopards of '66-67. They can win state next year with your help.

Eastside Tigers

Those tigers of Eastside Junior High School are on the prowl again this year. This time Notre Dame Junior High was the victim. The first quarter started slow but as the game progressed the Tigers found the range and the fire works started with Frank Donaldson leading the way, and the quarter ended with the scordborad reading 14-4. The secnod quarter found the Tigers outscoring the Notre Dame lads 16-6 and at half-time they led 30-10.

Very little adjustments had to be made at half-time for Calvin Bowens controlled the boards on offense and defense, along with his share of the point production.

Curtis Davis, Lawrence Williams, and Kenneth Hunt round out the starting group and when subs took over later in the second half it was too late for Donaldson scorched the nets for 28 ponits and a 60 total for the efforts of the Tigers of Eastside. The Tigers will play Zundy Eagles next Wednesday at Eastside Gym.

EDUCATION FOR MARRIAGE A 'MUST' FOR STABILITY

When young couples start having babies soon after marriage, and before they've been able to establish stable relationships with each other, they are heading for marital shipwreck. This is what Prof. Ethel Nash, President of the American Association Marriage Counselors, told the Women's Medical News Service at a recent meeting.

Not only is the marriage endangered, but an atmosphere is created in the home in which the children feel neither wanted or understood.

What are the possible consequences for these children when they grow to adulthood? Professor Nash believes that "there is a very real danger that such unhappy family situations tend to perpetuate themselves. People whose own childhood and family relationships have been unsound," she says, "tend to find marital partners with similar unfortunate backgrounds. Having no pattern of happy marriage to follow, being full of unresolved conflicts that originated in childhood such couples are often quite unable to build stable marriages. The result is another generation of unhappy marriages, and unwanted children....."

Can this cycle be broken? This is the sixty-four dollar question... It can be according to Mrs. Nash, but only if we face up to the reasons behind the breakup of one in two teenage marriages within five years of the wedding date, and usually after the birth of one or more children.

One reason is faulty or inadequate education on human sexuality, conception control and family living. The marriage counselor points out that young people generally go for nursery school through college without being taught about the human reproductive system, sex drives, and differences between male and female sexuality.

Young people are surrounded by sexually stimulating ads, stories, movies, and TV shows, Mrs. Nash notes. They observe values which seem to place a higher worth on sexually attraction model or movie star than on any other person. "Is it any wonder," the marriage counselor asks, "that young people have faulty notions about what sex is, how and when it can be best expressed, how it can be guided and controlled to achieve maximum happiness."

It was noted by Mrs. Nash that one sixth of all marriages, and one half to one third of all teenage marriages, take place with the girl pregnant at the marriage ceremony.

"A partnership must be established between home, school, church, the medical profession and other appropriate community resources for honest, informed education in these areas," concluded Mrs. Nash.....

PRINCIPAL'S TRIP TO NAVAL ACADEMY

On Thursday, December 9th, thirty-four businessmen took a trip to the Naval Academy in Annapolis, Maryland. Of the 34, one was principal Charles E. Brown and the other, principal George Scott, Jr.

Transportation was provided to and from by naval plane. The trip was very educational as well as enjoyable and informational. We reached our destination Thursday afternoon at Andrews Air Force Base and was greeted wholeheartedly by officers in charge.

We spent the remaining day touring the academy, learning about the life of the midshipmen, curricula, requirements, etc. These requirements were pointed out very strongly and the Navy only accepts the very best young men, mentally and physically. Standards of the Academy are very high and the curriculum is built around science. All graduates receive B.S. in Science when the four years are completed.

We observed the largest living quarters in the world which housed over 4,000 students. There is only one dining hall and all midshipmen eat at one time. It is a sight to see. The Academy is so complete that it is not necessary within the four years a student attends to leave the campus because anything he desires is right there on the campus. I feel, personally, that the Navy is doing a great job in choosing and training our naval officers. More of the young men from this area should apply for admission.

On Friday morning, we boarded a bus which took us to tour the leading government building and monuments. They were magnificent. Only by visiting could you feel the important work of our government officials are doing. To me, the most fascinating was the Library of Congress and its contents. The most solemn moment was the visit to Arlington Cemetery and a chance to see the eternal light at Kennedy's grave.

If more parents and young men take time to visit our leading institutions and Washington, we wouldn't have any draft card burnings.

The trip was very enjoyable and I thank the group for making it possible.

Convict Mother In Watts Riot

Los Angeles - A municipal court jury of six men and six women last week convicted Mrs. Rena Frye, 49 year-old Negro woman, in a 13-day old trial on charges of interfering with highway patrolmen attempting to arrest one of her sons for alleged drunken driving.

The incident was credited with having triggered the five-day rioting last August.

Police testified Mrs. Frye sought to block the arrest of her sons, Marquette, 21, and Ronald, 22, last August 11.

Mrs. Frye's trial began Oct. 20. Her attorney argued before the jury that there was reasonable doubt she had actually obstructed the officers. He suggested that she had merely come to her son's aid.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

It is with a great deal of pride that I count Messrs. Ralph Payton and Wm. C. Young among my most meaningful, personal friends. Not only do I admire their personal attributes, but also the extended effects of their business lives which have contributed to the social well-being of many people.

Taking advantage of the American system of free-enterprise, these Christian gentlemen have built a prosperous insurance company. The benefits of this endeavor have been extended in many directions: financing churches and other building projects, and building an attractive, centrally located and convenient apartment area for those who care for better living in exclusive rental property—THE CRESTHAVEN HOMES.

A recent conversation with Mr. Young revealed that the purpose of CRESTHAVEN HOMES was to bring into focus a new emphasis in apartment living in this section of Lubbock. Included is a special corner, overlooking the canyon, for the young married couple, for the single young career man or lady who wants a good start in independent living. There is also a separate corner designed for the elder members who prefer a place of their own with little incumbrance. The remaining sections are intended for the small family groups who desire gracious living.

When Cresthaven Homes were first built, they were frame structures. After several years of occupancy, they began to take on the look of "old houses". Messrs. Payton and Young recognized that their vision of gracious living would subside into obscurity with the fading of the houses; therefore, they replaced the frame structures with modern and attractive brick structures. Recently they have spent considerable time, effort and expense to bring these apartments up to their original and intended attractive standards.

The owners of CRESTHAVEN HOMES care about how people live. We, therefore, recommend Messrs. Payton and Young and their project to whom it may concern to reside in an apartment which will lend dignity to living.

We Enjoy Renting - "It's So Much Easier Than Buying"

Mr. and Mrs. Courtland Whitmore, 2204 Redbud Street, Apt. D, who have been living in the modern Cresthaven Apartments, are only the members of one of the many young married couples who are living as a family within a "family of fine living."

specialities.

They are active members of the Manhattan Heights Church of Christ.

During one year and two months of living within the Cresthaven apartments, they admit they like living there for many reasons, namely; a beautiful 40-acre front yard (Mae Simmons Park) kept by the City of Lubbock, a recreational playground for children, the best and most convenient location, a nice fresh breeze, quite place to live, good neighbors, close to a bus stop, no upkeep, no additional city taxes, no high utilities, no plumbing repairs, no lawn problems and perhaps a dozen additional problems faced by other couples who have decided to "own" rather than rent.

New Cresthaven Remodels All Brick One-Two Bedroom and Single Apartments

Believe it or not two can live so beautifully at Cresthaven for only $5.00 per week each! Imagine all brick apartments, tile bath and kitchen for couples or two singles for $5.00 each, per week. For there's "Nothing like it in Lubbock with such quality", and residents also have ideal bus location for services to work all over Lubbock.

From 24th Street and Quirt on Mae Simmons Park, which is a 40-acre front yard maintained by the city of Lubbock. So conveniently located within a block or two of schools, churches and the new shopping center. Cresthaven is exclusive with its spacious view from the rim of the canyon.

The most popular used car bought and sold is a two-year-old Chevrolet.

LOCAL REAL ESTATE MEN AWARDED CONTRACTS

Edward B. Deo and R. J. Givens, Jr., who own and operate the Eastridge Real Estate and Insurance Agency here in Lubbock have been appointed by the Federal Housing Administration as managers of the seventy unit Dunbar Lincoln Manor Apartment complex, located at 28th and Railroad Avenue. The appointment was made following on her by calling her names and the like, which resulted in a fight. At first they were fighting with fist, but when the known lady threw her, Ella, on the floor, she stabbed her once in the left shoulder.

The wound was not serious and Ella said she would file charges.

Moral of story; "If husbands would let wives know where they are going, all of this would never have happened."

EDUCATION FOR MARRIAGE A 'MUST' FOR STABILITY

When young couples start having babies soon after marriage, and before they've been able to establish stable relationships with each other, they are heading for marital shipwreck. This is what Prof. Ethel Nash, President of the American Association Marriage Counselors, told the Women's Medical News Service at a recent meeting.

Not only is the marriage endangered, but an atmosphere is created in the home in which the children feel neither wanted or understood.

What are the possible consequences for these children when they grow to adulthood? Professor Nash believes that "there is a very real danger that such unhappy family situations tend to perpetuate themselves. People whose own childhood and family relationships have been unsound," she says, "tend to find marital partners with similar unfortunate backgrounds. Having no pattern of happy marriage to follow, being full of unresolved conflicts that originated in childhood such couples are often quite unable to build stable marriages. The result is another generation of unhappy marriages, and unwanted children....."

Can this cycle be broken? This is the sixty-four dollar question... It can be according to Mrs. Nash, but only if we face up to the reasons behind the breakup of one in two teenage marriages within five years of the wedding date, and usually after the birth of one or more children.

One reason is faulty or inadequate education on human sexuality, conception control and family living. The marriage counselor points out that young people generally go for nursery school through college without being taught about the human reproductive system, sex drives, and differences between male and female sexuality.

Young people are surrounded by sexually stimulating ads, stories, movies, and TV shows, Mrs. Nash notes. They observe values which seem to place a higher worth on sexually attraction model or movie star than on any other person. "Is it any wonder," the marriage counselor asks, "that young people have faulty notions about what sex is, how and when it can be best expressed, how it can be guided and controlled to achieve maximum happiness."

It was noted by Mrs. Nash that one sixth of all marriages, and one half to one third of all teenage marriages, take place with the girl pregnant at the marriage ceremony.

"A partnership must be established between home, school, church, the medical profession and other appropriate community resources for honest, informed education in these areas," concluded Mrs. Nash.....

PRINCIPAL'S TRIP TO NAVAL ACADEMY

On Thursday, December 9th, thirty-four businessmen took a trip to the Naval Academy in Annapolis, Maryland. Of the 34, one was principal Charles E. Brown and the other, principal George Scott, Jr.

Transportation was provided to and from by naval plane. The trip was very educational as well as enjoyable and informational. We reached our destination Thursday afternoon at Andrews Air Force Base and was greeted wholeheartedly by officers in charge.

We spent the remaining day touring the academy, learning about the life of the midshipmen, curricula, requirements, etc. These requirements were pointed out very strongly and the Navy only accepts the very best young men, mentally and physically. Standards of the Academy are very high and the curriculum is built around science. All graduates receive B.S. in Science when the four years are completed.

We observed the largest living quarters in the world which housed over 4,000 students. There is only one dining hall and all midshipmen eat at one time. It is a sight to see. The Academy is so complete that it is not necessary within the four years a student attends to leave the campus because anything he desires is right there on the campus. I feel, personally, that the Navy is doing a great job in choosing and training our naval officers. More of the young men from this area should apply for admission.

On Friday morning, we boarded a bus which took us to tour the leading government building and monuments. They were magnificent. Only by visiting could you feel the important work of our government officials are doing. To me, the most fascinating was the Library of Congress and its contents. The most solemn moment was the visit to Arlington Cemetery and a chance to see the eternal light at Kennedy's grave.

If more parents and young men take time to visit our leading institutions and Washington, we wouldn't have any draft card burnings.

The trip was very enjoyable and I thank the group for making it possible.

Convict Mother In Watts Riot

Los Angeles - A municipal court jury of six men and six women last week convicted Mrs. Rena Frye, 49 year-old Negro woman, in a 13-day old trial on charges of interfering with highway patrolmen attempting to arrest one of her sons for alleged drunken driving.

The incident was credited with having triggered the five-day rioting last August.

Police testified Mrs. Frye sought to block the arrest of her sons, Marquette, 21, and Ronald, 22, last August 11.

Mrs. Frye's trial began Oct. 20. Her attorney argued before the jury that there was reasonable doubt she had actually obstructed the officers. He suggested that she had merely come to her son's aid.

CHURCH NEWS

MOUNT VERNON METHODSIT CHURCH

The Community Center was the scene of the Mt. Vernon Methodist Church last Tuesday night in an "All Church Fellowship Dinner".

More than one hundred and fifty persons witnessed the most enjoyable affair.

Music was furnished by the Youth Choir under the direction of Miss Mattie Rutherford. Others participating on the program were Illa K. Hill, Tanya and Shelia Priestly, and Sharon Sparks, and Mrs. M.E. Day.

Mr. George Woods was the speaker for the occasion while Mr. D. C. Fair, Jr., served as master of ceremonies.

After the dinner Rev. M.T. Reed directed the recreation.

It was truly a fellowship as the members sang, ate, and played together.

NEW HOPE BAPTIST CHURCH

A Birds of a Feather Banquet will be held on Friday night, December 17th. This affair is sponsored by the Sunday School B.T.U. and W. M.S.

The Interdenominational Ministerial Alliance will hold their regular meeting in the Fellowship of the church the last Monday at noon.

The mass Christmas service will be sponsored by the Interdenominational Ministerial Alliance. Rehearsals are still being held on Wednesdays at 8:00 pm.

Don't forget the revival which will begin on Monday night, the 27th of December and last through the second of January. Rev. B.J. Bradford will serve as our revivalist.

SAINT LUKE BAPTIST CHURCH

The St. Luke Christmas program will be held the third Sunday, December 19th, at 7:00 pm. Adult workers and youth of St. Luke are working untiringly with this special program.

Business meeting will be held the Monday after the third Sunday at 8:00 pm.

Sister Helen Dqvis of Austin, Texas, was burned out last week. Pastor Davis is asking the members to assist her in a special way.

The members of the church extend a happy birthday to their pastor, Rev. A. L. Davis, on last Sunday.

GREATER ST. PAUL BAPTIST CHURCH

Don't forget the Fellowship Mission of the City's annual Fellowship Services at the church which is underway tonight with the Rev. C.J. Tisdale delivering the message. Tomorrow, which will climax the week-long program, is musical night. There will be talent from throughout the city and neighboring out of town churches present for this program.

The sermons delivered by Reverends J.W. Sykes and W. L. Grimes and Kado Lang were enjoyed by all.

Rev. W. L. Grimes delivered a dynamic sermon last Sunday morning. His subject was: "Bucking the Wind", St. Mark 6:45-48 was the finding of his scripture.

HOPE: Our greatest good, and we least can spare, is hope; the last of all our evils, fear.

DUNBAR PTA

The president of the Dunbar PTA and her co-workers wish to take this time out to thank the parents and many friends for a job well done in helping put our fundraising project over the top. At a glimpse, our last count showed $228.00 which will be used to help pay for two water coolers costing $410.00.

We would also like to thank the ushers of the Greater Saint Luke Baptist Church for doing a wonderful job and to the Extravaganza Singers who prepared themselves so willingly. Although we cannot thank you enough we would like for you to know that your talent was enjoyed by all.

We realize that we did not use all of the talent of our fine city--we just could not use everyone on the first program, but we will be looking for you next year --we did not forget you.

"A kind deed is never lost". Thank you.

TALENT SHOW TONIGHT

Struggs Junior High School will present a talent show entitled "Hullabaloo", Thursday night at 8:00 pm in the Dunbar High School Auditorium. Admission for adults will be 50¢ and 35¢ for children. Every one is invited.
