Mickey Leland Brands Kent Hance As 'Snake'

While speaking to the delegates to the Texas Coalition of Black Democrats in Amarillo last Saturday, Congressman Mickey Leland of Houston branded his fellow Texas Democrats as "snakes" because of their conspicuous support of President Ronald Reagan's budget. He urged local and national party leaders to cut off all further assistance to Reps. Phil Gramm and Kent Hance.

"No more Democratic money, no more Democratic endorsements, no more Democratic votes, no more Democratic anything for these disloyal, perfidious, treacherous apostates," Leland said.

Receiving a positive reception from the delegates in Amarillo, he said it was appropriate for black Democrats in particular to be the first to take action against politicians who wooed black voters at the polls and then betrayed them in Washington.

"It is particularly appropriate that black initiate action against Mr. Gramm and Mr. Hance because both have substantial numbers of black voters in their districts and have used us to get where they are today," Leland said.

especially those like Charley Stenholm, who appear with the President and reap the personal attention and publicity, and would like to see them defeated, Hance and Gramm deserve a forceful and immediate response from the Democratic Party," Leland said. "They ought to be punished."

Leland said Gramm and Hance had gone beyond "the line of acceptable political conduct by actually sponsoring the Reagan budget and tax programs."

According to Leland, he plans to introduce a resolution asking the State Democratic Executive Committee to condemn Gramm and Hance and Democratic Rep. Charles Stenholm, another supporter of the Reagan budget, and to officially deny them party assistance of any type in the future.

"Additionally, I will encourage the Democratic Caucus in the House to strip them of their important committee assignments and to deny them access to Democratic policy caucuses," Leland said. "I will also demand that the Democratic House committee provide no further financial assistance whatsoever."

More than 18 percent of the people are black in Gramm's district, more than 30 percent are black and Hispanic in Hance's district.

Leland said he meant to single out Gramm and Hance for the other eight Democrats who backed Reagan because of the leadership role played by the two.

"Although I have no patience with those (other) members of the Texas delegation who vote with Reagan, or

A speaker in Lubbock several times, including the Lubbock Branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People's Freedom Fund banquet several years ago, Leland said he had been warned by other Democrats that he would be "swimming in dangerous waters by taking on Gramm and Hance."

"By isolating Phil Gramm, I'll make a martyr out of him, they tell me," Leland said. "My response to that is better a martyr than a hero."

"I was not elected to go to Washington to roll over and play dead," he said. "You didn't elect me to represent you on the Democratic National Committee to keep quiet."

Congressman Mickey Leland

"I have to represent myself and my people and if that means fight, then, by damn, I intend to fight with all of the strength and energy I can muster."

Congressman Leland said the future of the Democratic Party was on the line and that if the party does not discipline the likes of Gramm and Hance, an example will have been set for other coalition members.

He concluded by saying the conduct of party members like Gramm and Hance is "ceasing the party its credibility, and it's disheartening to all the party loyalists who have worked long and hard to elect Democrats."

Today, he owns a production company, record company, a farm, several houses and connects appointments in his own King Air Beechcraft, flown by a staff pilot.

Tillis owns scores of television credits, including a "Dukes of Hazzard" episode, written especially for him.

Tillis list of movie credits include "The Cannonball Trophy," "W.W. and the Dixie Dance-Kings," "The Villain" and "Smoko and the Bandit II". Two of the films also starred Burt Reynolds and another Kirk Douglas. Tillis last appearance at the fair here was in 1978. Earlier, he had appeared in the Hub City

ACROSS THE NATION News From Home Folks

This feature is a news compilation from more than 100 black-owned and oriented newspapers in this nation. It deals with what blacks, who are all-too-often little recognized, are doing to promote full participation in American life by black Americans. It is thus a salute from all of our readers for unsung heroes, and is designed to be a challenge for all of us to keep on doing our very best.

The following was a recent editorial in the Lubbock Digest (Texas) that we felt would be of inspiration to our readers across the nation.

With all the talk and speculation of the proposed Reagan cut offs and backs-it is time we focus and refocus our minds in the direction of self-help and move away from social action.

One of the major objectives of every group of responsible people is to take their rightful place, by reaching out in mutual interdependency roles with other people - i.e. Chicanos, Indians, Africans and etc. However, a necessary precedent to acceptance of the responsibility and/or privilege of interdependence is independence.

Nonetheless, we are faced with the costly and devastating fact that 27 years after the historic 1954 U.S. Supreme Court decision on school desegregation, now over 40% of our nation's Black youth are "functional illiterates." These black youth, as such and along with many others - especially minorities - are forced to be in a dependency role on society as a whole. There must be a re-assessment of our immediate goals and priorities.

Something must be done immediately to change our past and present policies of paternalism, largesse and irresponsibility encouragement that foster dependency, into positive policies that call for, and encourage, excellence in education - equitable opportunities for achievement and community pride that builds self-reliance or independence.

Our community and nation's urgent priorities during the 1980's call for a shift away from certain kinds of "integration" or reaching-out and immediate emphasis on the things necessary within our communities to save our presently denied youth and millions of others in our community, where there appears for many no other way out than a life of idleness or crime...all spelling out non-productive and negative dependency.

The Lubbock Digest as well as other Black Media Newspapers over America - more than 65% of all printed media in Black America cooperatively - is dedicated to eliminate these burdensome needs from within Black America. We have chosen as our overall theme for the 1980's: "Casting Down Our Buckets Where We Are." This new emphasis - or priority - will have to involve getting all our Black community organizations and institutions together to encourage our youth and others to take pride in preparing themselves early to be our community's economic builders.

This means new forms of massive training to take over our black community's needs for black bricklayers, black carpenters, black electricians, black street sweepers, as well as black policemen, black teachers in black schools, black firemen, black doctors, black lawyers, black merchants and black businessmen and women of all kinds. It also calls for new forms of partnerships whereby we, simultaneously can encourage the Black community to selectively support those white-owned businesses and institutions which have policies that tend to build or long denied communities in an equitable manner. The rest lets boycotts or freeze out of our communities.

This new priority of rebuilding our communities from within calls for new roles for all in the black community. It means that the Black Press - Lubbock Digest - and others will have to examine every possible way we can "pull up our communities by whatever bootstraps" we have, as we seek the long-overdue and deserved support required of the white community.

However, the leadership to make our communities the responsible and self-sustaining market places must come from within our communities! We have a tremendous task before us. We must all take as our personal creed "If it is to be it is up to us!"

It's way past time to sit around and wait on someone else and criticize. We must all become involved in our communities and do our share for the good of us all!

NIFF SED!! WHY NOT??

Sheridan's Ride

by Jack Sheridan

Texas Tech and the City of Lubbock this past two weeks have joined forces to present two outstanding productions of Broadway musicals that have been absolutely top rate, first drawer entertainment. One has already completed its two-performance date ("110 in the Shade") and the other, the great American classic "Oklahoma!" has had two triumphant showings with two more set for 8:15 p. m. Friday and Saturday, July 3-4, in the Civic Center Theatre.

If you have any way to get to the latter I urge you without qualification to try to do so. It is simply superb in every way. It has action, verve, color, super singing and dancing, romance, suspense and above all ten ingredients which have made it, without question, the most musical and memorable production in all of its 33 years.

The Tech-City show ranks among the best this writer has ever seen and that numbers about 15! It is all due to Stager-Director John Gillas of the Tech Music Theatre; the show is one of the best has ever done in a parade of a dozen or more shows in the past ten years that he has blessed the Lubbock area musical scene. It is a must; do not miss it.

I wish there were room here to list the cast but suffice to say the leads - Michael Morgan, Carrie Cole, Mark St. Amant, Kimberly Murchison, Tony Mitchell and Andrew Carnes are all youth charm and delightful, as is the dancing Laurey in the dream sequence, Elizabeth Gillas.

The other musical already performed this past weekend, "110 in the Shade," music and lyrics by Texas Harvey Schmidt and Tom Jones in the musical is re-telling of N. Richard Nash's Play-movie "The Rainmaker" about a spinster whose dreams are made real by a con man, the rainmaker, who might not be a con man after all.

Again the direction Pual Richards and John Priddy was fine and the cast headed by a touching, amusing and poignant Cathy Crist as Lizzie and Gregg Burch as Starbuck was impeccable. That includes old timer Lubbockite Weldon George as Lizzie father and Ray Green and Temmy Halpain as his sons, along with Mark McNair as the lawman. File and little Shyer! Walker as Snookie. This was another in the parade of three events scheduled. The final musical on the list will be "The Robber Bridegroom," another western backgrounded piece, which is due July 10-11.

These are fine, entertaining, musical shows and you ought to be in your place at the Civic Center Theatre for each one. "Oklahoma!" this Friday and Saturday, and "The Robber Bridegroom" on July 10-11. All at 8:15 p.m.

Black Folk!! You Can Do It!!

It's time for Black folk ... men and women ... young and old ... in Lubbock ... quit saying that it can't be done here. All of us were born to make some kind of a contribution to ourselves and community. In Lubbock, however, we have gone in a direction to believe that we can't pull ourselves up from the bottom of the bean barrel. If we really believe in ourselves and refuse to quite ... the sky is the limit.

This newspaper is nearly four years old ... and it began without nothing ... but today we are fortunate of being able to serve the fine citizens of Lubbock and South Plains of Texas. Surely, if we hadn't had plain old West Texas 'guts' to get involved, we would have gone under. We know it can be done in Lubbock. We know there are others among us who can go even farther than we have.

Quit saying that you can't do anything for yourself. Get up off your sit downs and make something happen for yourself. There will, of course, be those among your circle who will say that you will never make anything happen for yourself. Don't listen to people who are negative about your future. There is so much you can do for yourself.

Quit giving so many excuses about your future. Get up and start now ... TODAY ... making something happen in your life. It's sickening to see so many young BLACKS in Lubbock who don't know which way they should travel. Perhaps we -- us over age 26 -- are the ones to blame for their direction in which they are taking. Anyway, let's encourage them to get up and do something for themselves.

Just several days ago, we saw over nine thousand Black people at Mae Simmons Park attending the Lubbock Emancipation (Jubileent) Celebration. Wouldn't it be great if those nine thousand Blacks would do something together this year. Wouldn't this change the direction of Black folk in Lubbock, Texas. The ripple effect would be felt by thousands of other Black folk who live in West Texas.

Why don't we quit putting each other down and start TODAY by encouraging each other -- especially those younger people -- to make it for ourselves. It can be done. Think about it!!

A View from Capitol Hill: AN INDEPENDENT REPORTS ON WASHINGTON

By Gus Savage
Member of Congress

Because of my growing concern over what could happen to the Social Security System if President Reagan's original proposals are adopted, I have appealed to my colleagues in the Congress to categorically reject the Administration's plans.

Probably the most flagrant example of the President's lack of sensitivity for the plight of the average worker who is approaching 62 and looking towards retirement is the recommendation in regard to retirement and survivor's insurance. He has proposed reducing the percentage of benefits that persons who retire at age 62 can expect to receive by some 25 percent of current levels.

The President's proposal would not only penalize those who are contemplating voluntarily retiring at age 62 but would also penalize those who involuntarily retire at this age because of job loss or crippling illness. Early retirees cannot live on 80 percent now, so how can they make it on 55?

House Democrats on May 20 went on record in opposition to the President's Social Security proposals, especially in regard to his plan to cut benefits for early retirees. The Senate on the same day passed a sense of the Senate resolution in opposition to any proposal that would precipitously and unfairly penalize early retirees or reduce benefits to any level more than "necessary to achieve a financially sound system."

In what appeared to be a compromise move, Health and Human Services Secretary Richard S. Schweiker on May 28 told the Ways and Means Subcommittee on Social Security that the proposal to lower benefits for early retirees could be phased in over time instead of going into effect January 1982, as the Administration had proposed. At the same time, however, Schweiker told Subcommittee Chairman J.J. Pickel (D. Tex.) that other savings will have to be found to make up the difference.

The Administration contends that approximately $82 billion must be cut from the retirement program over the next five years to help the system through an expected financial shortfall next year and to ensure its long-term solvency.

Schweiker also said he might consider some change in the annual cost-of-living allowance for beneficiaries as part of bipartisan compromise. The Administration so far has proposed only to delay a scheduled cost-of-living increase three months, from July until October of next year, but has left the formula unchanged.

In a later development, David A. Stockman, Director of the Office of Management and Budget, told the subcommittee that the Administration would consider an income tax credit for those who continue to work after age 65. That compromise proposal was suggested by Barbara B. Conable (R.N.Y.), ranking minority member of the full Ways and Means Committee, as a substitute for a proposal to phase out current penalties for Social Security recipients who earn over a certain amount in outside income.

While the plan that the Administration has in store for Social Security have not yet been formally submitted to Congress, the originally proposed sweeping changes amount to nothing less than abrogation of the tenets undergirding the System. The initial proposal amounts to a retreat from the firm pact first established by the Federal Government with the American people more than 40 years ago as a guarantee that there would be a way to supplement their retirement income.

All of my colleagues in the House to ensure sound financial footing for the program in the future. However, the Administration's original proposals clearly demonstrate its lack of sensitivity and compassion for common folk.

In the days and weeks ahead, I hope that we can join hands and work out approaches to financing Social Security that are fair and equitable. We owe present recipients and future beneficiaries a better deal than what this Administration has offered in its package of misery proposals.

The units would be owned either in a cooperative or a condominium arrangement, and long term loans might be made for whatever improvements would be necessary to make them as livable as possible.

To an economy-minded Mr. Reagan, not only would there be immediate and direct savings to the local taxpayers and the national government, but also there would be a host of other far larger and indirect benefits and savings for everyone.

Home ownership creates not only cash equity for the owner but it also creates an interest in one's protecting his investment by whatever reasonable means are necessary. Thus, right away, the appearance and the safety and security of the buildings how to cut your own throat Short Changing Social Security

President Reagan should remember that some people and their employer will pay 24% more in social Security taxes this year. When he talks about cuts in social security, some people thought he meant in their taxes, not in benefits!

The 1981 tax rate is 6.65%, and 8.48% increase over last year's 6.13% rate. The new wage base against which the higher rate will attack is $29,700, up 14.07% over last year's $25,900 level. Looks like Mr. Reagan is going to kick in the shins another group of voters who jumped over to his side.

President Reagan's proposed program to slice social security benefits will be the biggest cut immediately to the groups that gave him the biggest swing in his election. The New York Times/CBS News Poll indicates that both the 30-44 years old (31% of the voters) and the 45-59 years old (23% of the voters made the biggest jump over from the Carter-Ford to Reagan run in the Presidential election. Reagan out ran Ford in both these age groups as well as Carter. Now come their reward from Reagan - a reduction in their retirement pay!

President Reagan's proposed social security cuts ignore the fact that this group is giving the greatest amount of money to the system. In spite of this, his plan is to penalize them if they do not keep working! There are, of course, many who will be disappointed.

Those who expected to retire early and those who could have filled the vacated jobs more creatively will have to wait much longer. There are people in our society who are ready, willing and able to work long past age 65. However, there also exist many more who are barely able to continue to earn their daily bread because of failing health.

However, it is not only those who would take an early retirement who shall receive less in their old age,

BLACK EMPOWERMENT

OUR HOUSING PROJECT OPPORTUNITY

Those black Americans who either studiously or subconsciously avoid visiting our public "housing projects" ought to visit them every once in a while in order to have their consciences quickened. Most, if not practically all, of the "housing projects" are unsafe, unkempt and grossly demeaning or dehumanizing to those who live there. A basic part of the problem stems from the sense of alienation, helplessness, uninvolved and colonization inherent in the housing projects' tenant system. Some 12 or more years ago, there had been definitive studies indicating that the "low-rent" concept was self-defeating and callous and that politically-oriented public housing authority ownership, management and control of rental housing was excessively and unconsciously costly.

Over a period of less than twenty years, so it was discovered, the ownership and management by public housing authorities entailed costs up to 300 percent more than what outright ownership by occupants would have involved. The public housing authority mechanism has been seen as chiefly being one more bureaucratic means whereby local elected officials may build in rewards for those who have assisted them in achieving political control. Beyond this, the prevailing system is thoroughly wasteful and helps to generate the sense of isolation and the responsibility for the buildings and grounds so necessary on the part of the occupants.

Little discussed, and hence put on the back burner, is a housing proposal made by President Reagan long before his election which speaks to this situation and which deserves thoughtful consideration and perhaps considered encouragement by the black community today.

Mr. Reagan, a strong believer in home ownership opportunities for everyone, has proposed that the present publicly-owned housing projects - including presumably those tenanted by the elderly, 100 - should be divested by the public and the units sold to the occupants for one dollar.

settled in the early 1960s when the Congress decided not to extend the notorious bracero program which brought from 400,000 to a half million illegal aliens each year.

After conducting the two most successful fund-raising campaigns in its history, the UNCF which helps support 41 private, predominantly black colleges, has established a record $21 million goal for its 1981 campaign. The UNCF's annual campaign met its 1980 goal of $19 million, an increase of $2.8 million over 1979. The money was distributed to UNCF's 41 member institutions to help meet budgetary needs for scholarships, textbooks, faculty salaries and general maintenance. Simultaneously, the college fund's Capital Resources Development Program, the most ambitious drive for capital funds ever launched on behalf of black higher education, concluded its three-year drive with over $60 million gifts and pledges.

Recent Great Quotes: "The Shame is not merely that 1,404,000 of this great nation's white teen-agers and 331,000 of its black teenagers (17.2 percent of the whites and 76.1 of the blacks) are jobless. The tragedy is that many of them will become the perpetrators of crime; they will never be a meaningful part of this country's economy; and their children also are likely to become the welfare recipients, the users of food stamps and Medicaid. It is a pity that in this richest of all nations, 3,292,000 families should live in poverty and the future offers them little other than want and dependency, because they are caught in never-opening traps," end of quote from Carl Rowan in Dallas A.M. News.

Minorities are in short supply in the U.S. Newsrooms reads headline in Wall Street Journal. Slightly more than 8% of the Journal's 280 newsroom professional are members of racial minorities according to a news survey by professionals, about 5.3% of 2,400 of the 45,500 daily newspaper journalists in the country are members of a minority group. Almost half the minority journalists work for big circulation, big city newspapers, rather than the smaller papers that offer most of the jobs, the report added.

Minority George Higgins of Catholic University said the guest worker program is desired only by a few major growers and would help neither the United States nor the Mexican government. U.S. Rep. Edward Roybal, (D) California noted there is 10.2 unemployment among Hispanics and more than 13 percent among blacks in the United States, the two ethnic groups with the most to lose by proposed program to allow 500,000 to 750,000 Mexican guest workers in the U.S. The NAACP said in a statement that it believes the question had been

Another Gaston Does Well Retired Educator Travels

Patricia Gaston

If you would look through the 1981 Friendship High School annual, one would see that Patricia Gaston was a very busy young lady during her tenure at this school in Wolforth, Texas.

Chosen as Miss F.H.S., she has attended Friendship since kindergarten. While there, she enjoyed participating in basketball, track, and in her spare time wrote poems. She also enjoyed doing crafts and stitching.

After receiving her diploma a few weeks ago, Miss Gaston has made up her mind to enter Texas Women's University at Denton, Texas this fall and become a Physical Therapist.

Her twin brother, Patrick, who was also very active in various activities - including sports. She, too, participated in basketball and track.

Among her awards were "Citizen of the Month," nominee for Girls' State, Student Council officer where she served as secretary and Sgt. at Arms. She was very active in the Science Club and Chess Club.

A very determined young lady with a goal in life, Miss Gaston admits she has enjoyed her high school days at Friendship, but is looking forward to finding her way in life.

Mrs. E. C. Struggs reports a wonderful trip to "Heavenly Houston." She was surprised to find the heat was not as severe as some we have experienced in Lubbock.

Mrs. Struggs left Lubbock at 4 p. m. Sunday, June 14, via Southwest Airlines. The non-stop flight landed in Houston at 5:20 p. m. She went to Houston primarily to visit her husband's sister, Mrs. Juanita Wilson, but was royally entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Ben Ammons and her mother, Mrs. Clifton Banks; and also by Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Burks, former students of "Prof" and Mrs. Struggs.

A brunch, touring new residential areas, a trip to Cameron, Texas with a brief stop in the home of the widow of O. J. Thomas, who will be remembered as the President of the "Colored Interscholastic League" years ago.

She was also given a brief tour of Prairie View University, and was agreeably surprised at so many break-taking changes.

Mrs. Judith A. Newton and son, Darrell, joined Mrs. Struggs on Friday, June 19, and they, too, report a wonderful annual conference in Abilene, Texas and also enjoyed their stay in Houston visiting relatives and friends.

The three motored back to Lubbock, Wednesday, June 24, taking time out to drive to Rockdale and visit a short while with Mrs. O. E. Wilhite and drove back to our highway No. 36, via of Minerva, the small oil-refining town where "Prof" taught five years before coming to Lubbock. She showed her children the streets she travelled and the house she lived in, in Cameron.

They arrived in Lubbock Wednesday evening, about 6:30 p. m.

Relatives who live in Fairfield, California - who had planned to visit the Struggs, Tieuel and Porter families on that same evening - were in Albuquerque, N. M. and would arrive the next day.

On Thursday, June 25, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Franklin arrived. They spent the day and night and departed on Friday about 7 p. m. for the state of Alabama to visit his mother, and participate in an "All Family Reunion." They will be in this portion of the south for 25 or 30 days.

Two young people called on Mrs. Struggs while she was in Houston, and sent their best wishes to their families and friends. They were the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Stokley - Rose - and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Laster.

Both of these young people will graduate from the University of Houston soon. Mr. Laster, at the close of the summer, and Miss Stokley at the end of the spring term.

RUBY JAY'S CORNER

Sunday, June 28th, Annual Men's Day was held at New Hope Baptist Church. The theme was "Where Has Love and Unity Gone?"

Regular Sunday morning services were conducted as usual, beginning with Sunday School with Deacon Swain, supt. of the youth, presiding over Sunday School.

Devotion was led by I. Don Knighten in the morning worship hour. Believe it or not, the Men's Chorus was wonderful! Why not do that more often, Brotherhood? Mr. Robert Cork who is president, was speaker for the morning hour.

Speaker of the hour was Deacon Earnest, Jr., a fine member of New Hope. His scripture was taken from I Corinthians 13:11. His subject was "Growing Up in Love and Unity."

Mrs. S. R. Roberts, a member of Mount Gilead Baptist Church, visited with the church. Everyone was happy to see her.

Mrs. Comora Mingo of Midland, Texas is spending her vacation this week in the Hub City. She attended church services at New Hope last Sunday. It is her former church. Mrs. Lucille Jackson is enjoying her daughters - Sandra Morgan and Elaine Lindsey; and granddaughter, Tasha - this week. They are from Dayton, Ohio.

Mrs. Dorothy Clark and her mother, Mrs. Kata Lynn, enjoyed their family reunion this week in Cameron, Texas.

The Crusade for Christ, sponsored by the Baptist Ministers' Union, will begin at New Hope Baptist Church July 6th through 11th. They extend an invitation to everyone.

We extend our love, sympathy and prayers to the bereaved families. Among them is Mrs. Bertie Hall's father who was funeralized in Navasota, Texas on Sunday, June 28th.

Also, the Sedberry brothers - Almo and Charles, Sr. - received word last Saturday morning of the passing of their sister, Mrs. Beatrice Barnes, who passed away in Houston. She was the devoted wife of Dr. Barnes. Funeral services will be held in Houston on Wednesday, July 1st.

These relatives really enjoyed the family reunion last week in Houston, Texas; the Osbys, Hollis, Daniels, Coleman, Roberts and West families.

Letters To The Editor "Upset With This n That"

Dear Mr. Patterson:

It is not often that I feel moved enough to respond to things I see in the newspaper, but your comment in the THIS & THAT! column about the NAACP FREEDOM FUND BANQUET SOVENIR BOOK did strike a nerve. I was asked to accept the appreciation certificate for the committee, and I did so with a bit of pride. It was the BEST first effort in putting together a souvenir book for the Lubbock Branch. I have been told I know that I am not and have never been a connoisseur of the art of publishing print, and therefore declined to chair the souvenir committee, but did vow to do whatever I could to help anyone better able to do so.

I was told that the publishing or printing was being done free. I have also been told that the LUBBOCK DIGEST enterprise is the only such Black enterprise in Lubbock. If you did not publish it, one can deduct that it was done by some other ethnic group free. We know that you are not obligated to publish such a book, free, even if you are a member of the NAACP. However, one would think that you would dwell in your corner for the organization with helpful advice, solicited or not.

I am willing to take on the responsibility of seeing the souvenir book PRINTED next year by being a doer instead of an obscurantist! Are you?

Yours in freedom,
Renetta Womack Howard

Dear Eddie and T.J.:

Congratulations to you and the other members of the Juneteenth Committee for an outstanding observance of this important holiday.

I am still hearing compliments throughout the City of Lubbock for the well organized program. It was a pleasure for me to be involved with your celebration. I know that each year will bring a bigger and better Juneteenth observance.

"Thanks, Mr. Richardson!"

Dear Mr. Richardson:

Though this letter is later than necessary, I would like to thank you for the article you wrote for the issue of April 30 - May 6, 1981 concerning the group, LuBach. I sincerely appreciate your comments and the fact that you gave us good coverage which is so necessary, especially when a group is beginning to be known.

I would like to keep in contact with you and the paper and perhaps in the future you will find it interesting to your readers to learn of the progress our group has made.

Once again, thank you.

Black Empowerment

would be improved primarily on a volunteer basis.

In this way, burdensome costs for police, fire protection and sanitation would be greatly reduced for the tax-paying public.

There would be other benefits as well. For the elderly, who have developed skills and who are put on shelves like dysfunctional entities in our senior citizens homes, home ownership would be an especially significant boon.

Ownership, for the elderly as with all others, thus assisted in becoming owners, would create a sense of dignity and pride. A home owner has a feeling of dominion and of a long range stake in both one's community and the nation as a whole. Our elderly and our poor (who have been public housing wards or tenants) need this kind of pride, control, commitment and sense of place which our present publicly-owned housing arrangements rule out or preclude.

Again, home owners—because they want to protect their investment—become far more civic-minded. Our elderly, for example, would become more aggressively involved in community improvement and would tend to volunteer their rich gifts and wisdom to serve community needs. In this way, instead of being served at the public expense as at present, the elderly would tend to become social or community servants themselves. What a new lease on life and a new sense of worth this would bring to our most deserving of all our citizens!

The list of benefits and savings in educational and other public services could go on. Suffice here to note that home ownership, or least in regard to the present tenants of publicly-owned housing, ought to be seen as presenting a high degree of merit both on a human and an economic basis.

What now remains is for concerned and responsible groups and citizens who are convinced of the advantages of home ownership extension for these in public housing projects to give encouragement to Mr. Reagan's initiatives in this regard.

Letters of encouragement should be sent to the President, The White House, Washington, D.C.; to U.S. Senators and Representatives; and to one's mayor and city council members.
