Snow Falling Over Much Of Texas

Moisture Forecast For This Area; Mercury Near Freezing Mark

Tightening of winter's grip on this area was in prospect Monday afternoon, as the mercury held near the freezing point and overcast skies indicated moisture. A mantle of snow already had been sifted over North Texas, and points farther south reported flurries.

Up To 3 Inches

Toward the central part of the state the flakes melted as they hit. From Dallas and Fort Worth far into the Panhandle country though,

HARRISBURG, Pa., Nov. 22 (AP)—Nearly 1,000 highway employes were called out today to clear 16-foot snowdrifts in sections of four western Pennsylvania counties.

The snow was piling up to three inches. Late in the morning, points as widely separate as Abilene and Corsicana reported wet snow was falling. There had been a few minor flurries in Big Spring.

Rain was forecast for this part of West Texas tonight and Tuesday. The mercury at the government station stood at 33 degrees at noon, low point for the past 24-hour period.

The North Panhandle and the eastern end of the Oklahoma Panhandle were covered heavily, the greatest fall coming at Dalhart and Clayton, N. M., and at Canyon. Amarillo had half an inch, Dallas, where the snow started shortly after midnight, had better than an inch. At 11 a. m. the flakes were still falling thick and fast.

Sleet At Some Points

In Lubbock's territory the snow curved over the ranges in 25-degree temperatures. Wichita Falls reported there was snow from Texline southeast to Dallas and from Childress southward.

Sleet Also Into Picture at Palestine, Waco, Corsicana and Tyler.

To the south, Texas had rainy, fuzzy weather, with Houston, Corpus Christi and other points getting light rains.

Other points reporting snow: Olney, quarter inch; Electra, inch; Texarkana, first snow of season, melting as hit; Denton, melting; Borger, lightly. San Angelo expected its misty weather to turn to snow.

Much of North Texas, Dallas and Fort Worth included, seemed destined for more snow during the day and tonight. Grey, rainy weather for more southern points was forecast.

Labor Board Wins In Court Test

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22 (AP)—The labor relations board won a supreme court review today in its effort to enforce an order directing the Pacific Greyhound Lines, Inc. to withdraw all recognition from a labor organization it was alleged to have formed and dominated.

A review recently was granted of similar litigation involving the Pennsylvania Greyhound Lines, Inc. The labor board lost both cases in lower courts.

No written opinions were delivered at today's brief session before the court adjourned until December 6.

The justices denied a motion of Robert Gray Taylor of Media, Pa., for permission to file a brief questioning the right of Justice Hugo L. Black to sit on the bench.

FT. STOCKTON VOTES BONDS FOR SCHOOL

FORT STOCKTON, Nov. 22.—Voters here Saturday approved by a count of 96 to 20 a $50,000 issue for the construction of a Mexican school building.

The vote will be canvassed Tuesday night and work started on plans for the structure. Haynes and Strange of Big Spring have been named architects for the job.

DIVIDEND DECLARED

NEW YORK, Nov. 22 (AP)—Directors of Southwest Consolidated Gas Utilities Corp., declared a quarterly dividend of $1 on common stock payable Dec. 10 to stock of record. The company, which distributes natural gas in sections of Oklahoma, Texas and Louisiana, paid 50 cents Sept. 3.

Pretender To French Throne Announces He Will Return To Set Up Monarchy

PARIS, Nov. 22 (AP)—In the midst of police efforts to crush an armed revolutionary organization, the Duke of Guise, pretender to the throne of France, issued a manifesto today announcing he had decided to "re-conquer the throne of my fathers."

The duke's son, the Count of Paris, immediately denied his father's act had any connection with the "hooray" or "shoddy" ones. He insisted it was a mere coincidence the manifesto was issued while the secret organization was being investigated. Political observers viewed the duke's chances of changing France into a monarchy as "practically zero." The royalists throughout the country were believed to number less than 50,000.

The duke was in Belgium, where he is living in exile, as the 5,000 word manifesto was distributed in Paris.

The count left Versoix, Switzerland late yesterday after Swiss federal police "invited" him and a group of followers to leave the country on the ground he was carrying on political activity.

"His father's statement was in direct contrast to his last message to the nation when he told them, in February, 1933, 'dictatorship under a monarchy' was necessary.

"Have a moral courage not to abdicate before present difficulties," today's manifesto appealed to Frenchmen. "Do not permit, in a moment of abandon, dictatorship of any kind to impose itself."

"Certain of my ability to assure your happiness, I have decided to reconquer the throne of my fathers. France then again will reassume her mission in the world and again will find peace, unity and prosperity through a union of the people with a titular defender—king."

Japan Calls On Chiang To Surrender

A MOTHER AT AGE OF 12

Parental pride radiated at a Berryville, Ark. hospital when Mrs. Willis Hoekersmith, 12 years old, presented her 19-year-old husband, an Oak

Message Sent 'SHELL GAME' To Nanking

Planes Fly Over Capital City, But No Bombs Dropped

SHANGHAI, Nov. 22 (AP)—Japan urged Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek today to surrender.

A message was dropped to him by Japanese airmen making their first flight over Nanking since the government announced its transfer from the capital to Chungking about 1,000 miles farther inland.

No bombs were dropped—only the message urging cessation of hostilities. It was released from a plane flown by Lieutenant Mochimaru Nango, one of Japan's ace pilots.

Planes In Combat

Chinese pursuit planes attacked the Japanese fliers, nevertheless engaging them in spectacular dog-fights over Nanking. One Chinese plane crashed.

The Japanese airmen, apparently trying to determine the strength of the remaining Chinese air force, were taken by surprise. The aerial defenses, however, included little anti-aircraft fire, which was interpreted as a possible indication some battle had been started.

Senate Due To Open Debate Tomorrow

House Committee Also About Ready To Make Report

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22 (AP)—Congress was ready almost to get down to work today on crop control legislation.

Both senate and house continued the same sort of wordy debate that produced no action during the first week of the special congressional session, but the senate had a farm bill to start on tomorrow.

No Revenue Provisions

A weary house sub-committee also wound up its discussions over an agriculture bill to establish an over-normal granary and stabilize farm prices.

Majority Leader Rayburn (D-Tex.) said word from the committee was that the legislation would be ready for the house by tonight, "certainly tomorrow." He predicted debate would begin by the end of the week.

The measure drafted by the senate agriculture committee had no revenue-raising provisions but committee members said it complied with President Roosevelt's command not to increase spending without compensating taxes.

Senator Pope (D-Mo.) said the final draft could hold costs with a $500,000,000 already budgeted for the farm program. Some other committee members disputed this, predicting it would increase the federal outlay for agriculture by $150,000,000 to $300,000,000.

Leaders Confer

Action by the farm committee was not the only sign the democratic leadership planned to get congress to buckle down to the president's four-point special program of legislation of agriculture, wages and hours, executive reorganization and regional planning.

Vice-President Garner, Speaker Bankhead and Majority Leader Barkley (D-Ky.) and Rayburn (D-Tex.) of the senate and house conferred with the president on speeding up legislative action.

An action-throttling filibuster continued in the senate on the anti-lynching bill, but that will be stopped by the farm bill which has right-of-way. General debate was still the house program as it was all last week.

The long-delayed crop control measure provides for a government-farmer partnership in a combination voluntary and compulsory acreage and marketing control program. This was buttressed by federal loans and subsidies for farmer compliance with soil conservation and "ever-normal" granary provisions.

Middle Course

In that respect it met Secretary Wallace's suggestions for a "middle of the road" course.

Chairman Smith (D-SC) appointed Senator Ellender (D-La.), McGill (D-Kan.), Bankhead (D-Ala.) and Bilbo (D-Miss.) to draft the committee report for filing in the next few days.

HIT-RUN DRIVER BEING SOUGHT

ODESSA, Nov. 22 (AP)—Officers were without clues today to identify of a hit and run driver whose machine killed two men here early Sunday morning.

Bodies of Ted Barnes, about 35, and Clay Durling, about 50, were discovered beside Highway 80 eight blocks from the main business district, after officers had been told they were there in telephone calls from two men, whose identities were not learned.

Barnes was employed by Echols and Echols, drilling contractors of Breckenridge. His wife survives. Durling was residing at Penwell with his sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Critton. Three children, of Comanche, Okla., survive him.

Merchandise Taken From Fisher Store

Burglars made a heavy haul on the Albert M. Fisher company department store, probably Sunday night, officers said today.

There was no estimate as to the approximate loss, although a sizeable amount of clothing was taken. Authorities said the men's clothing was the principal item missing.

Entrance was gained by forcing a front door lock. The sheriff's department was investigating.

SON IS BORN

Dr. and Mrs. Lee O. Rogers became the parents of a seven and a half pound boy Monday. Mother and son were doing well at the Big Spring hospital.

Senator Connally (D-Texas), shown in a battling mood, talked himself hoarse as he led the anti-lynching bill filibuster with an attack on Senator Wagner, author of the bill. "It's just a shell game," Connally snorted, adding that the sponsors wanted to "get votes and the court will come along and knock it out."

Home Building Sit-Downers Plans Rushed End Strike

FD May Send Suggestions To Congress This Week

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22 (AP)—President Roosevelt, informed officials said today, may send to congress this week some suggestions for stimulating private building.

He is understood to have considered several proposals for handling this phase of his program to ease the business recession.

One was reported to be authorization for loans from the Reconstruction Finance corporation to mortgage companies organized to furnish capital for large scale housing projects. The R. F. C. would match dollar-for-dollar funds put up by private capital.

Another was an increase in the percentage of the cost of a small home which may be financed through a mortgage insured by the federal housing administration.

Advocates of this program contend many prospective home-builders are deterred by lack of funds from making the 20 per cent down payment now required for F. H. A. financing. They would increase to 90 per cent the amount which could be insured by the F. H. A.

Along with this effort to stimulate industry, the president is expected to call in heads of leading utilities companies to discuss a possible vast construction program in this field.

FEAR FOR SAFETY OF MISSING MAN

ABILENE, Nov. 22 (AP)—Fear for safety of John Mason, about 43, was expressed here today by his employer, J. Floyd Malcolm, after Mason had been missing since Friday morning, when he left a camp on the McAlpine-Graham ranch in Custer county, 55 miles northwest of Toyah.

Malcolm said Mason was sent from Abilene to get a truck at the camp, where ranch surface tank digging is being done by Malcolm's contracting firm. Mason has not been heard from since he left the isolated camp in a three-ton truck (International) which had no body on the chassis.

BROTHER OF LOCAL MAN SUCCUMBS

Pastor Sticks By His Story Of Slaying

Testimony Supports His Assertion Others Killed Woman

PITTSFIELD, Ill., Nov. 22 (AP)—His testimony unshaken by cross-examination, the Rev. C. E. Newton gave sway on the witness stand today to a hit-and-killer whose description of a lonely roadside scene tended to corroborate the minister's assertion he was held prisoner while other persons hounded Mrs. Dennis Kelly to death.

Poppe Cline, a railroad laborer, testified he saw two men and two women beside two cars parked early on the morning of July 13 on a highway near the point Newton fixed as the scene of the murder of the 27-year-old mother.

One of the women screamed Cline related, but he thought it was a drunken party and went on.

The minister, who had told of stopping on the highway with Mrs. Kelly, declared on cross-examination he could identify only his foster-daughter, Myra Hannan, as

Doris Duke Cromwell Picks Up More Millions At Age Of 25

SOMERVILLE, N. J., Nov. 22 (AP)—Twenty-five years old today, Mrs. Doris Duke Cromwell is richer than she was yesterday by something between 10 and 15 million dollars.

There was a party at the family estate here tonight at which the bequest from her father's estate shared interest with the U. S. senatorial possibilities of her husband, James H. R. Cromwell, author and economist.

Described by U. S. Sen. A. Harry Moore as one of a list from which he will select his successor when he resigns from the senate January 1 to assume the governorship, Cromwell declared "I will not inject myself into politics but I will accept an appointment and then run for re-election to the same office."

Mrs. Cromwell, often called the "richest girl in the world," became 25 years old last midnight and under the terms of the will of her father, James Buchanan Duke, another third of the Doris Duke trust which her father created passed to her.

Emily's Brow Is Furrowed--When May A Woman Take The Check?

NEW YORK, Nov. 20 (AP)—Emily Post who, by her own estimate, has penned 5,000,000 words in 15 years on what to do and when to do it, still has not settled the problem of how a woman should behave when the waiter presents the check.

The etiquette expert admits a change in the old order which arbitrarily delegated the feminine half of the party to the background while the bills were being paid, but she hasn't evolved a satisfactory rule to prescribe when the lady should reach for the check.

"There ought to be some give and take," she told an audience at the New York Times book fair yesterday. "There is need for a brand new order of manners."

Equality prevails in the business world, she pointed out, for there men and women work as companions and lunch as co-workers. But in the evening—that's another story.

Yet, said she, "that isn't fair when women are often earning as much or more than the men who entertain them. I think it is perfectly fair if he takes her once and she takes him another time. I think my next book will have to be entirely about this."

If Your Feet Hurt--Try A Rolling Pin

By BETTY CLARKE
AP Feature Service Writer
When your feet hurt do you rush out and buy a pair of orthopedic shoes in hope that all the pain will stop by magic? What you should do is take a careful look at your feet.

Every foot has two arches and most foot troubles start in one or the other of them.

The first arch, which most people never think about, is the anterior, or transverse arch. It runs across the foot at the base of the toes. The other is the longitudinal arch that supports the instep. It runs from the heel to the base of the toes.

Three-Point Support.
Normally, your weight is borne on three points of your foot. The center of the heel is the apex of this triangle. The other two points are the bases of the big and little toes, that is, each end of the anterior arch.

If you have weak anterior arches you'll know it because almost always in such cases callouses develop on the soles of the feet. Other signs are contraction of the toe tendons or pains in the front part of the foot.

To detect a weak longitudinal arch, make a print of your foot. I, the whole bottom of your foot impresses the paper, your instep needs attention. In cases of strong insteps only the outside of each foot makes an imprint.

Four Ways Out.
There are four things that help correct foot ailments: Shoes that fit; rest and massage for tired feet; exercise; and—in extreme cases—use of a support.

Miss Catharine Van Rensselaer, physical director at the American Woman's club in New York, recommends nearly any exercise that involves the feet.

"All the old chronic are good," she says. "Try picking up marbles with your toes or writing with a pencil held between your toes or

READING AND WRITING

By JOHN SELBY
"RUMBIN GALLERIES," by Booth Tarkington; (Doubleday, Doran; $2.50).

As you may know, Booth Tarkington is no mean connoisseur of art and the objects thereof. Not many days past the papers carried the news that he had bought himself three more important paintings for his Maine house, and he has been buying similar things for a good many years.

Therefore he knows quite a lot about the ways of art dealers. Therefore, also, when the proper time arrived, it was a fairly easy deduction that Tarkington would write a novel to use this material. Which partly explains "Rumbin Galleries," one of the gayest novels the Hoosier-Yankee ever wrote.

There is, as the backbone of the novel, Rumbin himself. Rumbin is a gigantic person, but not too unpleasant to see. He has an accent which nobody can quite analyze, but it suits Rumbin. He knows much, and he is a strange mixture of business man and artist. He has been existing only, through the depression, and when Mr. Tarkington first lifts the veil, Rumbin is just a jump ahead of the sheriff. He has one more chance, which is to make a "collector" of feather-brained Mrs. Kingsford J. Hollins, whose husband makes millions with the most astonishing ease.

Mr. Rumbin, however, needs a male assistant to supplement "Georchino," who is his secretary. This need is unexpectedly supplied by Howard Cattel, a young man just out of college whose assets are

Trade Pact May Be Aid To Farmer

Increase Of Agricultural Trade With Britain Seen

NEW YORK, Nov. 22 (AP)—In the forthcoming negotiations between the United States and Great Britain, foreign trade circles here believe American agriculture has its first opportunity to share in a large way in the Roosevelt administration's reciprocal trade agreement program.

The United Kingdom for years has been the largest foreign consumer of the American farmer's products. This is true today, although the exports to Britain have been reduced considerably in the last few years, not so much by the depression, but by London's efforts to build up trade between Britain and the dominions, as exemplified by the Ottawa agreement. Drouth here, too, has given us less of some things to export.

If the British-American agreement is concluded—and foreign trade observers in New York believe the two governments would have made no announcement of the negotiations if they had not already agreed upon the basis for the pact—the circles think it is not too much to expect that in a few years the exports of American agricultural products may again approach the high totals of 1929.

(surprisingly) that he owns a cutaway suit which he had had made for a wedding, and that his face is something of a dead pan. Howard was not necessarily stupid; he was just bewildered a good deal of the time.

From this start, Mr. Tarkington takes you through the devious paths by which Mr. Hollins (not Mrs. Hollins) arrived at the designation of collector, beginning with a breathless three weeks in which Rumbin blandly steals a lot of money from his newly rich victims. Mr. Rumbin progresses toward a 57th street location, his ambition, and Howard progresses rather slowly toward marriage with Georchino, and Mr. Tarkington finishes a book.

We suppose prospective readers should be warned that this is not an "important" novel. But it is really amusing.

DOCTORS BEST PAID

NEW YORK, Nov. 22 (AP)—Doctors, with an average income of $4,850, were the best-paid professional class in America from 1920 to 1936, a survey disclosed today.

Lawyers, the second best paid group, averaged $1,730 and engineers $4,410, according to Harold F. Clark, professor of educational economics at Columbia university, who conducted the survey.

ANNAPOLIS HALL IS DAMAGED BY FIRE

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Nov. 22 (AP)—Carvel Hall, historic hotel long associated with naval academy social functions and the political life of Maryland, closed today after its two top floors ravaged by flames.

The fire at noon yesterday from which hundreds fled, created a housing problem for midshipmen who had reserved all available rooms in the hotel for guests invited here for Thanksgiving and the Saturday night "hop."

NEED A

NEW YORK, Nov. 22 (AP)—If you're bottled up emotionally, buy a pet Dr. A. A. B. Ill, Columbia university psychologist, advised today. Dogs provide the best "emotional transfer," Dr. Brill added, because they are closer to human beings. Birds make the next best pets, he said.

Beware The Cough That Hangs On

No matter how many medicines you have tried for your common cough, chest cold, or bronchial irritation, you can get relief now with Creomulsion. Creomulsion not only contains the soothing elements common to many cough remedies, such as Syrup of White Pine Compound with Tar, and fluid extract of Licorice Root, but it also has fluid extract of Ipecac for its powerful phlegm loosening effect, fluid extract of Cascara for its mild laxative effect, and, most important of all, Beechwood Creosote, perfectly blended with all of these so that it will reach the source of the trouble from the inside. Creomulsion can be taken frequently and continuously by both adults and children with remarkable results.

Thousands of people, who really know their drugs, use Creomulsion in their own families, realizing that this excellent preparation aids nature to soothe the inflamed mucous membranes, to heal the irritated tissues, and to loosen and expel the germ-laden phlegm. Druggists also know the effectiveness of Beechwood Creosote and they rank Creomulsion "tops" for coughs because you get a real dose of Creosote in Creomulsion, emulsified so that it is palatable, digestible, and active in going to the very seat of the trouble.

Creomulsion is generally found satisfactory in the treatment of coughs, chest colds and bronchial irritation, especially those stubborn ones that start as just a common cold and hang on for dreadful days and nights thereafter. Even if other remedies have failed, your druggist is authorized to refund every cent of your money if you are not satisfied with the relief obtained from the very first bottle of Creomulsion.

Don't worry through another sleepless night—use Creomulsion. Creomulsion is one word—not two, and it has no hyphen in it. Ask for it plainly, see that the name on the bottle is Creomulsion, and you'll get the genuine product, and the relief that you want. (Adv.)

"I heard someone say . . ."

Not so long ago, people depended upon tales of returned travelers for their information about distant lands. Even when true, these tales were frequently misunderstood and misquoted. Often they were tall tales to begin with . . . There was no way to check up on these stories, no agency devoted to the accurate reporting of what really happened around the world.

Today journalism of integrity is an authoritative source on which to base stories, judgments and opinions. Furthermore, the published story can be referred to and reread in its unchangeable form.

Such journalism requires great care in its compilation, for it must withstand the strong light of publication.

During a half century of development The Associated Press has adhered closely to an ideal of journalistic integrity. That is the reason why newspapers of today can bring to their readers truthful and unbiased reports of what is happening all over the world.

Researchers Issue Kiss History For Movie Folk Who Don't Know

RESISTANCE Nycop, the 1702 kiss historian, never heard of this one. It's called the "Kiss of Passive Resistance," with Leslie Howard on the receiving end of Olivia de Havilland's lipstick.
PEACE For obvious reasons, this is called the "Kiss of Peace," but the reason is not so obvious why Melville Cooper should choose that variety to greet Claudette Colbert.
LOVE Probably even the movie people who don't know about such things, need no 18th century historian to tell them that this is the "Kiss of Love." It's Miss de Havilland again and Errol Flynn.

Bruin On Bread Line, Skips Winter Snooze

By the AP Feature Service
YOSEMITE, Calif.—Free lunch is changing the age-old hibernating habits of bears in Yosemite National park.
For centuries it has been Bruin's habit to climb into a cave or a hollow tree about the first of December and sleep until March.
Now that national park visitors and the park administration have taken to feeding the animals they show less disposition to hibernate.
C. A. Harwell, Yosemite naturalist, observes the bears hanging around camps after their usual "bedtime." As long as there is food the bears are on hand. At El Portal one old fellow is treated so generously that he has given up his winter sleep altogether. The Yosemite and Sequoia park Bruins, which have been under observation, are black bears.

An explosion, killing five Chinese crew members, shattered the ship's forecastle and tore a gaping hole in her bow while the 7,992-ton vessel was 18 miles northwest of Ile D'Yeu, near Loire River, France. Cause of the explosion remained a mystery as she limped into Southampton.

Both Johnny Owens and Charles Ray Setles, who were injured and taken out of the game last Friday, will be ready to go against the Sweetwater Mustangs Thursday afternoon.

The Ponies, too, had Horace Young, rambling fullback, on the sidelines in their game with Eastland and that hard hitting lad will be ready to go at the word.

Both teams promise to be at full strength with the exception of Ross Callahan, Longhorn guard, who will have to wait until next year to get his chance at the Cayuses.

Fans here are asked to buy their tickets as quickly as possible if they wish to ride the special train going to the game Thursday. The railroad must have an assurance of 75 fares before they permit a car to make the trip.

Price for a round trip ticket to the Mustang capital is selling for $1 and reservations can be made by calling either the railway station, No. 909, or the high school, No. 416.

Inventors Look For New Ball

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22 (AP)—American inventors, who have turned out everything for football players from zippered shoes to silken pants, have even tackled the problem of the fumble.

A tour through the United States patent office discloses:

A dynamically balanced football.

An anti-skid sheath to be slipped over the pigskin.

A ball with roughened ends to make life more secure for the harassed pitcher of forward passes.

A ball with a finger-hole like a bowling ball.

The dynamically balanced product is the work of Albert McGall of Orange, N. J. The valve is in the end of the ball instead of the side.

In going through the pigskin inventors, examiners always point to the tackling dummy devised by Vincent J. Loughlin of Kenmore, N. J.

"My dummy," he explained in his application, "may be dressed in the opponent's uniform, thereby bringing a desirable psychological effect upon the players."

They think he's really got something.

J. WILLARD JR., SON OF CHAMP, ENTERS RING

PULLMAN, Wash., Nov. 22 (AP)—A chip off the old block—and a big one, too—has donned boxing gloves.

Jess Willard, Jr., son of the former world heavyweight champion, and a junior at Washington State college, is trying his hand at the ring game this year. Experts are predicting big things for this big boy.

Since the opening of the college, Willard has been busy training under Coach Ike Deeter, whose leather-pusher last year won the Pacific coast championship and then went East to take the national collegiate title.

Coach Deeter is putting Willard, who measures 6 feet 1 inch and weighs 187 pounds, through hard paces, expecting to have him down to the 175-pound collegiate light-heavyweight division by the time competition starts.

"One of the finest boxing prospects I've ever laid eyes on," the coach declares, "Young Willard has developed fast the last couple of years. Although he has done no regular boxing before, he is fast and sifty and has a natural instinct for the mtt game."

"I first saw Willard in action last year when he worked out with George Hubert, my varsity heavyweight and a close friend of Jess' from Glendale, Calif. I was impressed then, but Willard refused to turn out for boxing until this year."

The son of the man who won the world's heavyweight title from Jack Johnson is an all-around athlete. Jess, Jr., was a member of the Cougar football and track teams.

Wearing varsity colors for the first time last spring, Willard proved himself one of the best high hurdlers in the west, winning the northern division championship of the Pacific coast conference.

He is a member of Kappa Sigma fraternity.

Ithaca Runner Bounds Back

ITHACA, N. Y., Nov. 22 (AP)—In his second season of cross-country running, Howard (Wreck) Welch of Cornell romped off with the Intercollegiate A.A.A.A. hill-and-dale title. In 1936 he finished third behind Ken Waite of Michigan State and Peter Oleky of Penn State.

The Cornell captain got his revenge this year. At the same time he topped off an all-winning season by taking the blue ribbon event. Earlier he won the Ivy league title over the same course in New York City's Van Cortlandt park.

Welch last winter, on the boards, showed definite promise of developing into a fine runner. He did well enough, in fact, to be raised second choice behind Lou Burns of Manhattan college, the defending champion, in the mile at the intercollegiate outdoor championships at Randall Island.

At the last minute, Coach Jack Monkley decided his lanky star would have a better chance at a longer distance so he started him in the 2-mile instead.

Welch turned in a very smart race in taking the 2-mile title. Content to stay within striking distance of the leaders until the final lap, he saved enough energy for strong "kick." Coming off the last turn, he ran his rivals into the ground, winning by 10 yards.

With the experience and the strength he has gained, Welch is likely to cut quite a figure in the mile classics this winter if Coach Monkley decides to let him enter.

The strong finishes he has flashed in recent triumphs indicate he is likely to be a dangerous contender in any company.

Texans Mentioned

NEW YORK, Nov. 22 (AP)—Saturday's football stars, a national list compiled by the Associated Press, included:

Dave O'Brien, Texas Christian, shot 41-yard pass to put ball on one-yard line, hit center for touchdown and kicked point to beat Rice.

Bill Patterson, Baylor, threw three touchdown passes as Bears downed Loyola of Los Angeles.

You May Sing To A Horse To Speed Him Up

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Singing in a horse's ear makes him run faster, says Rosie Rosengarten, jockey now riding at Bay Meadows. He points to a recent string of victories to prove it.

Racing experts discussing Rosengarten's theory recall that Earl Sande sang a great deal, but said he did it to steady his nerves.

Lufkin Grider To Be Buried Today

ABILENE, Nov. 22 (AP)—Funeral services were to be held here today for Marvin B. Marsh, IT, backfield star of the Lufkin high school football team, who died in a hospital at Lufkin Saturday.

The body of Marsh, whose death was attributed to injuries received in a game against Jacksonville high school Friday, was brought here yesterday, accompanied by members of the Lufkin team.

Major Marvin W. Marsh, his father, is commander of the East Texas COC district.

Seek To Score First Victory Over Locals In Four Years

Forced to prepare his defense for a new kind of attack—one that the Longhorn gridders have not experienced at any time this season, Coach Pat Murphy will set his camp up at Steer stadium again this afternoon, for three days of work in preparation for the Thanksgiving day clash with the Sweetwater Mustangs in Sweetwater.

Coach Laurence Priddy of the Ponies has schooled his eleven in the quick breaking offense and that type of battering has been successful in all games thus far except in affairs with Abilene and Stephenville.

The dashing red and white machine smacked over San Angelo 30-0, but any trouble whatsoever and triumphed over Breckenridge, Cisco, Ranger, Eastland and Brownwood without extending themselves.

Not since 1933 have the Horses battered out a win over the black and gold. In the days of Red Sheridan and Sammy Baugh they regularly bowled over the local 1934 started a string of Longhorn victories that is yet to be broken. The Bovines triumphed that season, 19-6, and returned in 1935 to administer a 44-0 licking to Ed Hennig's crew in '35.

Hennig Unsuccessful

The next season Sam Hennig desperately trying for his last victory over the Longhorns but the Big Spring eleven, led by Louis Madison, H. C. Burrus and Jack Wilson, came from behind to defeat the Nolan county eleven, 9-7, in a dime story thriller.

Sweetwater evidently has the guns to accomplish the trick this year. Boasting one of the best backfields in the district plus a hard charging line, they are out to finish their season in the right way and do their part at evening the count against the Steers.

Thomas, Wetzel, Webster and Young form a capable secondary that matches the locals' Bigony, Bethell, Settles, Cunningham, WoMack and Williams.

Big Spring will miss the services of Ross Callahan who is out with an injured hand, but the rest of the team is ready to go. Both Johnny Owens and Charles Ray Setles had to leave the Abilene game on account of injuries but have been pronounced ready.

Five Champs Are Yet To Be Decided

Bears Win Right To Represent Coast In Rose Bowl Game

NEW YORK, Nov. 22 (AP)—The football world saluted California, Minnesota and Dartmouth today as first of the country's major 1937 sectional champions and then turned to a mass of unfinished business, most of which will be disposed of in this week's double program.

Some $500 fans looked on at Palo Alto last week as California's Golden Bears smashed through Stanford, 13-0, captured the Pacific Coast conference crown for the first time since 1928, won the right to represent the Far West in the Rose Bowl classic at Pasadena New Year's Day, and wound up a regular season marred only by a tie with Washington, the 1936 conference titleholder.

Minnesota, beaten by Nebraska and Notre Dame in major upsets, nevertheless salvaged the Big Ten championship out of the wreckage by brushing aside Wisconsin's Badgers, 13-6, to complete an unbeaten conference campaign. Meanwhile the wah-soo-wah Indians of Dartmouth, giving another smooth, powerful performance, trounced Columbia, 27-0, won the Ivy league title for the second year in a row and finished an undefeated season for the first time since 1923.

Still to be settled are the Southern, Southeastern, Southwest, Rocky Mountain and Big Six conference title races as well as such speculative questions as generally recognized Eastern champion and an opponent for California in the Rose Bowl game.

Yale's defeat at the hands of a well-drilled, effective Harvard machine, 13-6, and the 6-0 beating Montana took from Idaho reduced the list of major undefeated elevens to ten. Of these the East contributes six—Lafayette, Pitt, Fordham, Villanova, Dartmouth and Holy Cross. The others are California, Colorado, Alabama and Santa Clara, Lafayette, Dartmouth and California all have completed their schedules but each of the others has one more hurdle to vault.

Cooper Eleven Wins B Crown

Takes Title Without Outsourcing Single Opponent

COOPER, Nov. 22 (AP)—The Cooper high school Bulldogs won the upper bracket of the District 18-B championship race without outsourcing a single opponent and this week they play Ladonia for the district title.

This is how it happened: Cooper played Commerce a 12-12 deadlock and the game was declared a tie when no record of penetrations was kept. Then Cooper took a 6-6 decision from Honey Grove by the margin of one penetration.

The eligibility of Ed Robnett, star Bulldog fullback, was questioned by Honey Grove on the eight semester rule, but the interscholastic league executive committee approved of Robnett for further play.

Commerce and Cooper played another deadlock, this one 6-6 and they were even on penetrations. Two days later Robnett was declared ineligible and all Cooper's victories were forfeited. Friday Cooper defeated Clarksville without Robnett, eight first downs to four when the score was tied 12-12 and penetrations were even.

Yesterday the league executive reconsidered in regard to Robnett and declared him eligible. That tied Cooper and Commerce into a tie for the leadership of the upper bracket.

A flip of the coin decided the issue—Cooper won the title.

ISBELL ON ALL 'BIG TEN' TEAM

Texan Rates Half Back Position

CHICAGO, Nov. 22 (AP)—The 1937 Big Ten all star gridiron array, selected by the coaches for the Associated Press, lines up today with three stalwarts from Minnesota's championship, a trio from Ohio State, two from Purdue, and one each from Indiana, Northwestern and Iowa in the mythical battle-front.

DON HEAP Northwest

After voting battles as close, at most positions, as the scores which decided the championship—a Texas A. and M. vs. University of Texas—Big Ten season's big struggles, two members of last year's all star "varsity" halfbacks Don Heap of Northwestern, and "Purdue's" Cecil Isbell, again made places on the team. Injuries were largely responsible for three others, sensational Andy Uram of Minnesota, and Northwestern's great defensive pair, quarterback Fred Vanzo and end John Kovatch, yielding their positions.

The lineup:
Pos.—Player College
E—Ray King..... Minnesota
T—Louis Milder..... Minnesota
C—Francis Twedell..... Minnesota
C—Ralph W... Ohio State
G—Gust Zarnas... Ohio State
T—Martin Schreyer... Purdue
E—Robert Lannon... Iowa
QB—James McDonald... O. State
HB—Donald Heap... Northwestern
HB—Cecil Isbell... Purdue
FB—Corbett Davis... Indiana

Second team:
Ends—Robert Fitzgerald, Chicago, and Fred Benz, Wisconsin.
Tackles—Alex Schoenbaum, Ohio, and Donald Siegel, Michigan.
Guards—James Sirtosky, Indiana, and Ralph Heikkinen, Michigan.
Quarterback—Fred Vanzo, Northwestern.
Halfbacks—Herald Van Every, Minnesota, and Nile Kinnick, Iowa.
Fullback—Lawrence Buhler, Minnesota.

Tickets To Be Available On Day Of Game

COLLEGE STATION, Nov. 22.—The 36,000 or more fans expected to find their way into Kyle Field here Thanksgiving afternoon, for the annual Texas Aggie-University of Texas Longhorn football game are reminded that the game will start at 2 o'clock instead of the customary 2:30 starting time for games in this section.

Fans desiring to attend the game but not having tickets as yet will find a good supply of the pastebords awaiting them at Kyle Field the day of the game, according to E. W. Hooker, Aggie ticket manager.

"There is no sell out," Mr. Hooker said. "We'll have five ticket booths open to take care of all comers."

Four of the booths will be at the regular entrance to Kyle Field. The fifth will be established at a new south entrance to accommodate fans using the new south parking lot on the freshman grids just outside the regular limits.

The new south parking lot and the drill field north of the stadium will make available space for free parking of several thousand cars within a block of the Kyle Field entrances.

ON THE RECORD

By DOROTHY THOMPSON

(Miss Thompson's column is published as an informational and news feature. Her views are personal and are not to be construed as necessarily reflecting the editorial opinion of The Herald.—Editor's Note.)

LET THERE BE LIGHT—LET REASON PREVAIL—III.

In the course of analyzing in this column the utility problem, and trying to show how the administration's policies have prevented the industry from carrying out construction badly needed for general recovery, we have alternated from discussing certain broad principles of democratic government to minute problems of accounting, such as valuation and taxation. There is a reason for that. Although it may seem paradoxical to those who believe that the essence of liberalism is the unlimited extension of political power, the real essence of liberal government is the detailed co-ordination of principle and practice.

In the history of twentieth century liberalism in America one name is pre-eminent; that of a man whose eighty-first birthday is being celebrated in these days—Mr. Justice Brandeis. And one of the finest expressions of this liberalism is to be found in his career, and in his program of political reform, when he was a people's attorney in the 15 years before the war.

In statements which he made before congressional committees in 1914, he harped upon the theme of practical social and economic reform inside the framework of liberal democracy.

The principles of such reform he held to be three: (1) "The first essential of wise and just action is knowledge." (2) "Nobody ought to be absolute; everybody ought to be protected from arbitrariness and wrong decisions." (3) "It was as I remember, the great work of Colbert who said, 'Accountancy—that is government.'"

West Texas Goes Ahead

Glub talkers about the Panhandle and West Texas dust storms overlooked three important facts.

It mostly was dust from other states.

It spread all the way past Austin to the coast, and wasn't limited to West Texas.

The dust storms were in a period when a tremendous part of the country was similarly afflicted; and, with the recurrence of more normal rainfall in the Western states, have been nearly forgotten.

Erosion-control is no less important, but the unfortunate propaganda, painting a fine, fertile, crop-producing section of Texas as a barren waste of swirling sand, its air black with dirt, its people threatened with disease from breathing dust and about to leave the country, was unjust and painted an untrue picture.

There has been perhaps no greater change in a section than that in the past two decades in the Panhandle, when a big section shifted definitely to an agricultural economy, when wheat, feed crops and cotton came to be produced on lands that had been only grazing areas.

It will take more Kansas or Minnesota dust to halt the development and the rapid growth of population in the Panhandle and West Texas.

Water Permits Affected

The "seven region TVA" scheme would, according to a survey by a national committee, destroy the validity of water permits by state agencies, and would effectively withdraw control of streams within a state from state jurisdiction.

Permits for water for municipal purposes, for irrigation or any other purpose could be granted only after approval by the federal over-district.

Texas differs from other states since, by treaty, the public domain belongs to the state, not the national government. The beds of all streams belong to Texas. The federal regional TVA's could not own any such land, or any rights in them, nor the flood waters, without buying rights that belong to public or private owners—or without conspiring them.

NEW YORK—Here is a new one for you... A courier just handed this department an invitation to the first canine cocktail party on record... They must think I own a dog... The party is to be given at Jack Dempsey's for the benefit of a new home for dogs "so that our less fortunate brothers and sisters may have a home and plenty of bones." The fee is one dollar... The invitation, signed by "Pet" Cricket Sewall, is addressed from one canine to another and stipulates that anyone attending "must bring your master or mistress at the end of your leash."

Chapter 46
ALARM OVER HONEY

To her amazement, when Nina had pulled herself together enough to enter David's room, she discovered that Grace had not told him "Who was that sweetheart" he asked, casually.

And, under Grace's steady stare she answered: "It was Richard, dear. Honey's out at a bridge party, and he dropped round to take me to lunch."

"Oh—nice of him," said David. Grace remarked: "Posies, too. A whole coffin load. Some attentive step-papa... Where are they, Nina? Why don't you bring them in to David?"

"I will."

"Nice of him," said David again;

"I'd keep my eye on that stepfather of yours," said Grace playfully, and she went to get them.

They weren't posies. They were autumn flowers—in profusion... late for him ever to believe in his wife again? Wouldn't he think Nina was breaking down, merely because she was cornered—and not because she wanted to be open with him?

And yet, viewing it from another angle, if nothing else happened—and after all, what could, with her new fierce desire to play fair—wouldn't she be causing him an unhappiness that he might ally have been spared.

Simplified, it came down to a question of how much he suspected, already; and Nina couldn't be sure.

He was a little—well, queer, today; but then he was sick. Nina decided to watch and wait for a while. It would be agony... but it did seem the best thing.

"A Mild Cardiac"

David was better the next day, and went back to work.

Shortly after he had left, the telephone rang and it was Dr. Fellows.

"Well, Nina, my dear, how are you?" he began leisurely.

But Nina was too alarmed to wade through the old doctor's kindly preliminaries.

"Oh, what is it, Dr. Fellows?... Honey, I know..."

"You, you and I have always been sort of conspirators together, about looking after her... so I knew you would want me to call you in now. I've put her to bed, Nina, I want you to help me keep her quiet..."

"Oh—Dr. Fellows—of course I will, but what is it?"

"Her heart, child."

"Nina gave a little cry of alarm. He talked then, kindly. He said: "A mild cardiac... Your mother has always had a nervous heart..." He said: "...strain and nervous excitement..." and grave words about checking it in time."

"And that seemed to be that, about Richard."

David became involved with a detective story, and the apartment was very still.

The apartment was very still, but Nina's thoughts were whirling round, like the wheels of a bus, machine.

Quite deliberately, this time, she went to one of the straight-backed walnut chairs. She seemed to be able to think better there; she always had.

"Nina," she told herself, "you were a fool to imagine you could just slip back into a normal happy life with David, as though nothing had happened... to think that you could be disloyal and wicked, and never have anyone suspect. Nina—you thanked the Lord too soon, that day in the kitchen, the past is creeping up on you!" And she didn't mean it flippantly at all.

She began to have a panicky feeling of fright, so she tried very hard to tell herself down to being almost mathematical about her problem.

Those two peculiar telephone calls—that David had overheard and caught her up on—and now Richard's visit at an hour when her husband would ordinarily be away... Those three things had set him thinking. Nina was pretty certain. But were they enough if themselves to make it advisable to

Sights and Sounds By Robbin Coons

HOLLYWOOD—Leo Capillo is so serious about this gubernatorial business that he's talking in campaign slogans and stump phrases "paraphrased" while waiting for the voice of the people to gather strength.

Says Leo: "The script of state government needs rewriting, the cast needs changing... and the direction... We must balance the human budget... The politicians may say I do not know politics—but I have made my career by knowing people, what would make them laugh and cry, what they think about, what they need... Why should I care about politics? ... We must preserve California's first and almost forgotten asset: her romance and tradition..."

Leo would be "so honored" by a nomination that he would cheerfully give up the money he makes in pictures, which is as much in two weeks as he would bet in a year as governor—$10,000... But he'd have to be coaxed...

At the Eddie Cantor festival—hearts, flowers and Jack Benny—I counted five flashes on Deanna Durbin to every one on the very cute Dixie Dunbar, sitting nearby with Joe E. Brown, Jr.... And at Mrs. Borge's anniversary fling for Frank (who'd been directing stars for 20 years) the photos made plenty of heat lighting all the time until Joan Crawford walked in with Francho Tene—and then it was like the brilliant breaking of an electrical storm...

STRIKE AT GOODYEAR PLANT IS SETTLED

AKRON, O., Nov. 22 (AP)—Workers went back to their jobs at the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. today following settlement of a three-day strike which halted operations and made 12,000 employees idle.

Members of the United Rubber Workers of America voted at a Sunday mass meeting to accept the company's proposals.

The union counsel prepared today to file charges of intimidation against Gov. Martin L. Davey in a complaint to the national labor relations board.

Gov. Davey ordered 2,000 national guard troops on notice for possible action last Friday after the strike started with a sit-down Thursday night.

3 Completions In Nearby Oil Areas
Potential Boosted By More Than 2600 Barrels

Three completions in new areas added 2,627 barrels to the potential of daily oil production in this area last week.

Biggest showing was by the Iron Mountain No. 2. D. H. Snyder, 2,310 feet from the east and 950 feet from the south line of section 23-30-13, T&P, which showed 1,248 barrels flowing on a 24-hour test for what was easily the largest producer in the new Snyder pool. The test topped pay at 2,540 feet and is bottomed at 2,800 feet. It was shot with 690 quarts.

Iron Mountain has staked location for its No. 4, 330 feet from the south and 2,310 feet from the east line of the same section, and is moving in materials for its No. 3 Snyder, 90 feet from the south and 300 feet from the east lines of the section.

Six Perish In N. M. Blaze
Home Destroyed As Gas-Paraffin Mixture Explodes

CAUSEY, N. M., Nov. 22 (AP)—The explosion of a mixture of gasoline and paraffin left five children and the mother of four of them dead in this tiny eastern New Mexico farming community today.

The highly inflammable substance ignited late yesterday as the father, W. T. Beatty, a WPA worker, heated it on a kerosene stove, preparatory to waterproofing the tent-house in which the family lived.

Instantly the flimsy structure was in flames. Trapped behind a wall of fire, the children perished before they could flee to safety.

Dead were Mrs. Beatty, Harold Beatty, the 10-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Beatty; Flora Lee Hudson, 12; Lillie Ray Hudson, 11; and Clayton Eugene Hudson, 4, all children of Mrs. Beatty by a former marriage, and Joy Laverne Hudson, 7, daughter of Thurman Hudson, Mrs. Beatty's former brother-in-law.

Mrs. Beatty was taken to a hospital at Portales, where she succumbed last night to burns which covered her body.

Beatty, only slightly burned, refused hospital treatment. Two of his step-children, Wilbur, 9, and Truman, 7, escaped because they had been sent to a nearby store to obtain more gasoline.

INDUSTRIAL LEADER SHOT TO DEATH
SEA ISLAND, Ga., Nov. 22 (AP)—A coroner's jury found today Howard Earle Coffin, industrial leader, was killed yesterday by a gunshot wound, "the cause of the discharge of the gun being unknown to the jury."

The jury returned its verdict after a three-hour investigation. Coffin, a founder and former vice president of Hudson Motor company and later chairman of the board of Southeastern Cottons, Inc., was found shot to death on the floor of a bedroom in his winter home.

His death on the eve of a projected hunting trip was described by James D. Compton, general manager of the Sea Island company, as "apparently an accident."

"Mr. Coffin was apparently killed while cleaning or inspecting his gun for our deer drive," Compton said. "He was in cheerful spirits and somewhat ebullient when we discussed the hunt on Saturday night."

CALIFORNIA NAMED OFFICIALLY FOR ROSE BOWL TILT
LOS ANGELES, Nov. 22 (AP)—The University of California's Golden Bears became the official representative of the West today for the New Year's day football game in the Rose Bowl.

The 10 member schools of the Pacific Coast conference did the obvious thing and selected Coach Leonard B. (Stub) Allison's undefeated squad by telegraphic vote to Dr. Hugh Willett, chairman of the conference directors.

California will choose its eastern opponent. In the absence of official comment from California authorities as to the possible eastern team it was generally assumed that the choice would not be made until after next Saturday's games in which all three are involved.

Statement From Brussels Parley Being Prepared
BRUSSELS, Nov. 22 (AP)—United States Ambassador-at-Large Norwood H. Davis and British delegate Viscount Cranborne worked today on the draft of a new statement on the Chinese-Japanese conflict which may bring the Brussels conference to a close.

The document under discussion still must gain approval from French delegates, who originally planned to return to Brussels Saturday but put off their arrival until noon today.

This afternoon's meeting was postponed two hours to give the French more time to consider the draft. No difficulty was anticipated from this quarter, but it was believed the conference might be prolonged a day or two as a result of Dr. W. K. Wellington Koo's statement that he must consult his (Chinese) government.

The statement prepared by British and American delegates was a historical record of the conference's efforts to obtain peace in the Orient. It was understood to include nothing that could be construed as effective aid to China.

Confer Here On Port Job
WPA Project Has Been Approved In Washington

Maj. E. M. Haight, regional supervisor for the bureau of air commerce, New Orleans, and Dan Reed, regional airways for the department bureau, flew here Sunday for a conference with E. V. Spence, city manager, relative to the Big Spring airport project application with WPA.

Maj. Haight said that the project, now in Washington, was approved and might be expected to be back here this week. He was optimistic over the outlook for early beginning of operations on the job.

The Big Spring field, when reworked under the terms of the project, would be one of the very few in the nation capable of accommodating new mammoth liner types to be put on by air lines.

Total of the project, to be done in sections probably over a period of a few years, is $110,000 and would include surfaced runways, revamped set up for the administration building and hangar facilities.

TWO SUSPECTS IN SLAYING ARE HELD

AMARILLO, Nov. 22 (AP)—Sheriff Raymond Waters said charges likely will be filed later today in connection with the brutal slaying of Wilburn Nixon, 24-year-old farmer of the Dozier community.

"We are holding two men," said the sheriff, "and have called the grand jury back for Wednesday to help investigate the case. We hope to have the case cleared up within a short time.

The body of young Nixon was found near Highway 68 three miles east of Shamrock Sunday morning and physicians and investigating officers said the man had been dead several hours.

Nixon was beaten in the head and face, and officers said that automobile tracks near where the body was found indicated the youth probably was killed at another place and the body dumped out near the highway.

GRAND JURY STUDIES FELONY COMPLAINTS

Grand jury for the 70th district court went into its second session of the November term here Monday with about a half dozen additional complaints to consider.

In the opening session of the court, the jury returned six indictments, one of them for a misdemeanor offense.

Judge Charles L. Klapproth called the case of Southern Underwriters versus Arren C. McDonald, suit to set aside award, to trial. Jury was chosen and the case was to be heard Monday afternoon.

ALLRED NOT READY FOR EXTRA SESSION

AUSTIN, Nov. 22 (AP)—Governor James V. Allred, refreshed by a hunting excursion into Mexico, returned to his office today and asserted he would not call another special session of the legislature until he had "assurance something would be done."

A recent called session ended without enactment of tax levies for social security recommended by the governor.

Hunting in Mexico with the governor was Gov. Teller Ammons of Colorado whose marksmanship the Texas executive praised. The party bagged 13 ocelots, a species of wild cat, and much winged game.

"We are anxious to receive these suggestions, whether from a member of the organization or any other person," said Greene. A preliminary plan is being drafted and Greene was hopeful of having additional suggestions before completing the work program.

Among the proposed activities which likely will go into the schedule are attempts to make a survey with the view of securing a cheese factory, an oil mill; compilation of information on resources of their marketing possibilities, and improvement of local commodity markets; cooperative program with present industries; retail trade development by good will trips; welcoming visitors; an amateur hour; beautification by encouraging the planting of rose bushes, shrubs, and trees; promotion of a diversified crop system in cooperation with the county agents; highways; self-sustaining conventions in 1938-39; a housing survey; and the seeking of any new industries not now existing here and which will not conflict with existing industries.

Greene believed there was a possibility many other activities which should be included and urged that people who know of some worthy undertaking within the scope of the chamber would either write, telephone or call by the offices to convey them to him.

Suggestions Asked On C-C Program

Organization Hopes To Complete Plans For Next Year

A final appeal for suggested programs to be included in the chamber of commerce's 1938 schedule of work was voiced Monday by J. H. Greene, manager.

"We are anxious to receive these suggestions, whether from a member of the organization or any other person," said Greene. A preliminary plan is being drafted and Greene was hopeful of having additional suggestions before completing the work program.

Among the proposed activities which likely will go into the schedule are attempts to make a survey with the view of securing a cheese factory, an oil mill; compilation of information on resources of their marketing possibilities, and improvement of local commodity markets; cooperative program with present industries; retail trade development by good will trips; welcoming visitors; an amateur hour; beautification by encouraging the planting of rose bushes, shrubs, and trees; promotion of a diversified crop system in cooperation with the county agents; highways; self-sustaining conventions in 1938-39; a housing survey; and the seeking of any new industries not now existing here and which will not conflict with existing industries.

PETITIONS SIGNED FOR LIQUOR VOTE

NO ANNOUNCEMENT IN SECURING NAMES for a new election order on a liquor referendum here was apparent Monday. Dry forces circulate petitions at the churches Sunday and received enough signatures to warrant the election.

Decision to ask the commissioners court to disregard the present election order which calls for a vote on Nov. 30 and set a new election date was rescinded by dry leaders last week when a ruling from the attorney general regarded the wording of the proposed ballot as questionable.

On the new petitions, the vote will be submitted to include "all alcoholic beverages," a term which, under the law, is meant to include beers, wines and hard liquors.

The new petitions are due to be submitted to the court Tuesday.

MAN IS DROWNED

AUSTIN, Nov. 22 (AP)—The body of Theodore Uitt, 27, was recovered from the Colorado river near Austin today. Uitt drowned yesterday on a boating trip.

DISCUSS PLANS FOR CHRISTMAS PARADE

L. B. Dudley, Bill Edwards, and Floyd Wright, parade committee for the pre-Christmas activities to be sponsored by merchants and the chamber of commerce, discussed preliminary plans for their unit at a meeting held in the chamber of offices Monday morning. Definite plans are to be adopted soon and may be announced this week.

Highway Death Toll Smaller In October

AUSTIN, Nov. 22 (AP)—Death on the highways lost ground in October with 129 victims, 30 less than in September, but public safety department officials feared the law of averages would seal the death sentence for 415 in November and October.

They believed the highway patrol, increased by 138 officers in October, might be a contributing factor to fewer deaths.

October's toll brought the total for 10 months to 1,589 deaths, 117 more than for the same period in 1936.

The pedestrian, as usual, suffered heavily in October. Forty-four persons tramped along highways and across streets to meet death under the screeching tires of vehicles.

Most of October's 1,100 collisions occurred near the hours of 4, 7 and 10 p. m. when crowded streets and highways enhanced driving dangers.

Officials hoped enforcement of the new driver's license law which began last week would gradually cut into the ranks of heedless drivers.

C-C DIRECTORS IN MEETING TODAY

Chamber of commerce directors were to meet at 5 p. m. Monday on the call of R. F. Schermerhorn, president. Carl Blomshild, chairman of the annual banquet program committee, will submit the question of obtaining a speaker for the affair at the meeting. Other business will be considered.
