According to the WAA, written bids must be submitted on bid cards furnished by the WAA upon registration of a potential bidder at the Big Spring bombardier school site.

Vandenberg May Be GOP Darkhorse For Presidency

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23. (AP)—Senator Gurney (R-SD) predicted today that Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) will emerge as the dark horse Republican presidential nominee for 1948.

"I think we will find that the Republican nominating convention will face a deadlock among the several avowed candidates," Gurney told a reporter.

U. S. Will Check Aid Estimates

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23. (AP)—A searching American scrutiny awaits western Europe's estimate that it must have some $2,440,000,000 worth of help, largely from the United States, in the next four years to get back on its feet.

State department officials said today the report of the 16-nation Paris conference which drafted the so-called Marshall Plan estimate will be studied by them before any request for actual funds is submitted to Congress.

Publisher Named To Government Post

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23. (AP)—President Truman today appointed Gordon Gray, Winston-Salem, N. C., publisher, to be assistant secretary of the Army.

Gray is president of the Piedmont Publishing Company which publishes the Winston-Salem Journal and Twin-City Sentinel and operates radio station WSJS.

IN FLORIDA

New Storm Shows Signs Of Danger

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 23. (AP)—The Florida west coast from Tampa, northward today was warned against dangerous gales as the state's second tropical storm in a week hovered at a virtual standstill over Tampa bay.

The storm, nothing yet to compare with the dangerous first, was showing signs of increasing intensity, the weather bureau said in a 10 a. m. advisory.

Highest winds recorded so far in the storm which swept up out of the Caribbean Sea have been from 50 to 60 miles an hour in gusts.

Northwest town warnings were ordered up west of Cedar key to Apalachicola, and continued storm warnings from Palm Beach to Charleston, S. C., and on the Florida west coast north of the keys.

While the storm was halted for the time by high pressure prevalent over the Atlantic states, the weather bureau said it was moving northward very slowly, six to eight miles an hour.

The advisory stated that the highest winds reported since the storm was first felt yesterday were 60 miles an hour at Egmont key in the mouth of Tampa bay. The lowest pressure was 29.26 inches which the weather bureau said indicated a slow increase in intensity.

The storm's most acute menace apparently hung over the rich Okaloosa county lands where the inhabitants already struggled wearily with relentless water from earlier downpours.

Dobie Says Hay Fever Won't Allow Him To Teach At UT

AUSTIN, Sept. 23. (AP)—Severe hay fever during winter months today was the "unusual reason" given by Professor-folklorist J. Frank Dobie for wanting leave from his University of Texas professorship this fall.

Support Shown For De Gasperi In Italian Vote

Rightists Win Local Election At Caserta

ROME, Sept. 23. (AP)—In the first test of public opinion since Premier Alcide de Gasperi dropped Leftists from his cabinet last June, a right wing coalition called "The List of the Rooster" swept a local election Sunday at Caserta, the Interior minister announced today.

Nearly complete returns showed that the rightist coalition—comprising qualunquists, monarchists and liberals—polled 7,493 votes to 3,187 for De Gasperi's Christian Democrat party and 3,650 for the peoples' block—communists and minor leftist groups.

The rightist total was swelled even more by another group of liberals and monarchists which got 1,809 votes on a separate ticket. These election results were announced as the communists and socialists prepared to ask the constituent assembly for a vote of no confidence in the De Gasperi cabinet.

There was no visible break in the ranks of the center and right by which De Gasperi maintains his grip on the government, but responsible political quarters expressed belief the debate would last perhaps a month, during which the extreme and moderate left would explore every phase of the government's domestic and foreign policies while maintaining heavy pressure outside the assembly.

Sales May Count Over Million Mark At Hereford Sale

GUNNISON, Colo., Sept. 23. (AP)—Total sales may mount above the million-dollar mark before the last purebred animal is auctioned today in the windup of the hereford disposal sale at Dan Thornton's ranch north of Gunnison.

Bidding aggregated $500,000 yesterday when 150 of the 400 purebreds were sold. Three were sold for $35,000 or more.

The herefords Thornton is selling have won 90 championships or reserve championships at livestock shows in the last 12 years.

The day's biggest sale was $36,000, the price Col. C. C. Moseley of Beverly Hills, Calif., paid for a three-year-old bull, TT Proud Price. Moseley will send the animal to his ranch near Jackson, Wyo.

An 18-year-old youth, Gerald Montgomery of Madeira, Calif., paid $35,000 for TT Zato Heires, grand champion heifer of the 1947 National Western Stock Show at Denver, and her five-month-old heifer calf, Montgomery, a Future Farmer of America, also paid out $10,000 for a bull calf, TT Father, Bliss Montgomery, a grain dealer, was his backer.

The pride of the Thornton herd, TT Triumph, grand champion bull of the 1947 Denver show, fetched a price somewhat below expectations, going to Con Warren of Deer Lodge, Mont., for $35,500.

Progress Reported On TNG Work Here Joe Pond, general chairman of the steering committee seeking to organize a national guard unit here, was well along in the naming of his committee Tuesday.

Quick follow-up action was contemplated in the wake of the visit of Col. Ira H. Treest, U.S. Army retired, here Monday to ascertain interest in and possibility of a guard unit in Big Spring.

"Under date of June 26, the president of the university transmitted to me through the budget committee, a letter disapproving the application. In this letter the president suggested that I try some of the 'new drugs developed for the treatment of hay fever.'"

Vishinsky Launches New Attack On U.S. Lie Pleas For End To U. N. Quarrels

IN PERSONAL ACCORD, POLITICAL DISCORD— Andrei Y. Vishinsky (left), Russia's deputy foreign minister, and British Minister of State Hector McNeill talk at New York shortly before the Briton told the United Nations General Assembly that the "unstable peace of the world will crumble and crash" if the Soviet Union persisted in trying to force its will upon the world. (AP Wirephoto.)

NEW YORK, Sept. 23. (AP)—Russia launched a new broadside against the United States today after Secretary-General Trygve Lie in an extraordinary appeal called on the bitterly quarreling big powers to bury their differences in the interest of peace among the United Nations.

Andrei Y. Vishinsky, Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister, opened his "incorrect" explanation of the big deadlock of Korean independence.

He then assailed Marshall—who was sitting before him—for supporting U. N. consideration of recommendations for revision of the Italian peace treaty. Vishinsky charged that any action on this question was a violation of the U. N. charter.

Vishinsky spoke as the 55-nation general assembly began debate on its formidable agenda, which already had been approved by the assembly's 14-nation steering committee over Soviet opposition on some sections. He demanded exclusion of the items on Korea and Italy.

Warren R. Austin, No. 2 U. S. delegate, replied by citing article 1 of the U. N. Charter which calls for the development of friendly relations among nations.

"Let's keep our sights lifted to those high points," he said. Referring to Vishinsky's charge that the United States was responsible for the stalemate over Korea, Austin said:

"It's not who's right—but what's right." "The general assembly," Austin declared, "must show its capacity to do things and not expose itself as a perfectly futile organization."

Austin took the floor shortly after Marshall had left the chamber at the conclusion of Vishinsky's speech.

Lie closed the assembly's week-long general debate with a plea to the big powers to compromise their differences which he said were spreading fear and hate throughout the world and crippling the U. N.

Meanwhile, the Arab countries lost the first round of the Palestine battle when the assembly overrode their objections to creation of a state for the Palestinians.

On the Korean question, Vishinsky said Russia twice had submitted constructive proposals but these had not been accepted by the United States. Therefore, he said, "The American delegate must bear the responsibility" for the deadlock.

He said the Korean issue could not legally be considered by the general assembly. Turning to Italy, he declared that the United States several times "has shown lack of a precise attitude on such questions."

This case, Vishinsky went on, is "another example of the lack of ability of the United States to respect international agreements which have been freely entered into."

Vishinsky said those who support the proposal to consider changes in the Italian treaty have a "rather strange conception of justice."

grounds that this would be interference in Bulgaria's internal affairs. Bulgaria likewise rejected a series of British and American proposals.

U. S. PROTESTS WASHINGTON, Sept. 23. (AP)—The United States today denounced Bulgaria's execution of Nikola Petkov, leader of the opposition to the communist-supported Bulgarian government.

tests. The United States suggested that the Bulgarians, by trying Petkov, had placed themselves on trial before the bar of world opinion.

Petkov's appeal to the supreme court from a death penalty, imposed Aug. 15, was rejected Thursday. The 54-year-old leader of the opposition agrarian party denied the government's charge that he plotted a coup d'etat by armed force.

Baptist Church Will Expand

East Fourth Street Baptist church has given the go ahead sign for an expansion program which may exceed $100,000 in cost.

While plans have not crystallized, it is generally agreed among the membership that the building program will center around the construction of a new auditorium just east of the present church plant, with the reconstruction of the present church into an educational building.

Walker Bailey, chairman of the building committee, said some estimates were that it would cost around $125,000 for the building and conversion. However, there has been no action by the church as to detailed plans.

The church, in conference, did vote Sunday to undertake the expansion. The action was a reaffirmation of a previous vote which resulted in a campaign during the latter part of the war years. At that time, however, application to federal agencies for permit to build was twice refused temporarily. Several thousand dollars had been raised and pledged toward the initial program, and Bailey said that a campaign by a building finance committee likely would precede formulation of formal plans.

Grain Prices Show Rally

While President Truman considered possible recommendations to the public on soaring food prices today, the nation's grain markets opened with quotations 1/4 to 5/8 cents a bushel higher than yesterday's closing prices.

Cattle and hog prices were fractionally less at the Chicago stockyards as the day's trading began, and butter and eggs showed virtually no early price changes.

The President's food cabinet committee met in Washington yesterday and submitted recommendations to Mr. Truman. Although the White House made no announcement other than to say the President will make a statement on world food problems "in a few days," there were reports that he was weighing recommendations for voluntary food rationing at home and smaller grain shipments abroad.

The committee also proposed a voluntary conservation program at home to set up and efforts be made to augment European diets with costlier but less scarce foods.

Meanwhile, various organizations and individuals expressed their views on the price situation, some appearing before congressional committees holding hearings on the question.

Warm Weather Makes Farmers Happy

The continued warm weather is bringing smiles to the faces of the cotton farmer.

One expert estimated that an estimated 5,000 bales of cotton had popped open in recent days and would be ready for picking within a short time.

Migratory labor is beginning to descend upon Big Spring from all directions and all indications point to the harvest season being in full swing within the near future.

Ross Is Taken To La Grange

NEW BRAUNFELS, Sept. 23. (AP)—Dr. Lloyd I. Ross, San Antonio physician charged with the slaying of four members of the Willard York family and wounding another in a May 25 ambush west of New Braunfels, was transferred yesterday from the Comal county jail here to La Grange in Fayette county, to await trial set for Oct. 13.

A change of venue was ordered by Judge J. R. Fuchs of 22nd judicial court on Sept. 12 when, after three days in court, a complete jury was not obtained.

John Marburger, Fayette county attorney, has been added to the state staff of prosecutors. C. C. Jopling, La Grange attorney and former state judge advocate of the American Legion, has been named to the defense counsel.

Ross was a family doctor of the Yorks for nearly ten years until alleged financial difficulties culminated in the shootings.

HCJC To Offer Tax Accounting

Tax accounting problems, designed to meet the needs of the average businessman as well as to those who might practice or specialize in the field will be offered by the Howard County Junior College.

Enrollment is now underway and initial response has been good. Classes do not start until Monday. Instructor is Mrs. E. C. Dodd, a former agent of the department of internal revenue and for several years a practicing accountant specializing in the income tax field.

The study is planned to give a general knowledge on filing of income tax returns, records to be kept, rates, credits, gross income, inclusions and exclusions, basis for determining gain or loss, deductions, what is income, inventory, partnerships, and social security taxes, to mention a few.

Semi-weekly sessions of an hour and a half will be held, the Tuesday class dealing with theory and law, the Thursday meeting taking up specific individual problems and development of their solutions by the class, under direction of the instructor. More information may be had by contacting the junior college.

Progress Reported On New Highway

Steady progress is being made on the Big Spring-Vincent highway by the construction gang assigned to the project.

Most of the right-of-way has been cleared and the workers are concentrating on the task of providing proper drainage and building bridges.

The thoroughfare is not expected to be topped before next spring, however.

AUTOS COLLIDE No injuries resulted from a collision between two automobiles at 1:15 a. m. today at 1103 W. 3rd street. Jake Priester and J. L. Farris were drivers of the automobiles, police reported.

Reds Hang Petkov Despite Protests

SOFIA, Bulgaria, Sept. 23. (AP)—Nikola Petkov, peasant leader and foe of the communist party, was hanged at 12:15 a. m. today in Sofia's central prison on charges of plotting against Bulgaria's communist-controlled government, an official announcement said.

Both the United States and Britain, denouncing his conviction as a miscarriage of justice, had urged the Soviet Union to participate in a big power review of Petkov's case, but the Russians declined on

Lions Hold Zone Meeting At Stanton

Reports of Lions club activities were heard at a zone meeting held Monday evening in Stanton, with District Governor M. O. Woolam, Andrews, and District Deputy Governor Schley Riley, Big Spring, attending.

McMurry Loses Net Of $1,000 In Robbery

ABILENE, Sept. 23. (AP)—The net loss to McMurry College in last Wednesday's $35,000 to $40,000 robbery will be the amount of cash taken, about $1,000, Vice President O. P. Thrane says.

A total of $18,800 in checks was taken, of which $11,000 to $12,000 were recovered. Payment was stopped on the others.

Athletic Director Vernon Hilliard lost from $14,000 to $15,000 in U. S. War Bonds. He said he had a list of serial numbers of all the bonds. The college's business office safe was robbed.

Oklahoman Is Champion Of All-Girl Rodeo

AMARILLO, Sept. 23. (AP)—Vivian White of Muskogee, Okla., today was the bronc riding champion of the all-girl rodeo, a feature of the first Tri-State Fair held here since 1941.

She stayed on the bronc nine seconds to capture the top event in the rodeo.

Madeline Thompson, Fort Sumner, N. M., was first in fancy riding, finishing the course in 20.1 seconds.

Dude Barton, Flomot, Tex., was top hand in the calf-roping contest, completing her tie in 21.1 seconds.

In team tying, Mrs. I. W. Young, Gordon, Tex., took top honors with a low time of 64.8 seconds. Lena Klebold, Clovis, N. M., was the most skillful rider in the girl sponsors contest, burning up the course in 17.1 seconds.

Jackie Worthington, Jacksboro, Tex., held the spotlight in the wild Brahma bul riding, staying aboard two trips for more than the required eight seconds.

The fair opened yesterday with a downtown parade before a crowd estimated at 150,000, and featured the all-girl rodeo.

Judging events and artistic displays are scheduled for the remainder of the week.

AT REUNION
B-Z WACs Form Permanent Club

A permanent organization was voted by B-Z WACs, members of the Women's Army Corps stationed here during the days of Big Spring Bombardier School, at the second annual reunion of the squadron last week at Happy Acres, Middlefield, Connecticut.

Immediate steps were taken to conduct a mail ballot for election of a president, who also would serve as treasurer of the organization, together with the selection of a meeting place for next year's reunion.

Named to the nomination committee were Edith Eidem (former WAC first sergeant), Milwaukee, Wis.; Fern Simpson (medical corps, station hospital), Decatur, Ill.; Ellen Wheeler (intelligence), Alexandria, Ky.; Mary Brassie Crichton (radio mechanic), St. Paul, Minn.; Ann Mowzcho (line mechanic), Buffalo, N. Y.; and Lucille Fontaine, Brooklyn, N. Y., who was named acting chairman to organize and handle the ballot.

Greetings from Connecticut's Governor James L. McConaughy, read by Mrs. George M. Cameron, the reunion chairman, opened the reunion on Sept. 13. She also communicated greetings from former 1st Lt. Jane L. Hallisey, former commanding officer of the WAC squadron, of Los Angeles, Calif., from 1st Lt. Sare Walker former station supply officer, of Pittsburgh, Pa.

The ex-servicewomen enjoyed swimming at Happy Acres during the two-day gathering, took part in a steak barbecue the first evening, recalling a "wonderful Texas pastime." A dance in the recreation hall followed. On the second day there were such activities as horseback riding and instruction on "put your littit foot," the later revealing the former WACs were way ahead of the instructor. A smorgasbord followed the concluding session.

Gifts from Heubels, Inc., Marlin Firearms, and Rogers 1847, which is near Middlefield, were presented to those attending the reunion. Members were informed that Fern Simpson, formerly assigned to the dental department at the station hospital here, would continue the releases of the B-Z Breeze, a squadron newspaper.

Attending were: Rita Alexi (hqtrs.), Mich.; Margaret Anderson (postoffice), Ind.

Borger Man Dies From Car Plunge

BORGER, Sept. 23. (AP)—Eldridge C. Davis, 37, of Borger, died in a hospital here today of injuries received when a car in which he was riding plunged over a 50-foot precipice.

Ruby Wren of Pampa, was critically injured. Jack Seawright, 28, (709 S. Barnes) Pampa, driver of the car, is being held in the Borger jail, charged with driving while intoxicated. He was uninjured.

Constable Fred Compton said the car tried to pass a truck on a double curve on top of a hill two and a half miles from here shortly before midnight, and plunged over a sharp precipice when it went out of control.

Compton said the car, a 1939 Plymouth sedan, was demolished, but that officers found a coca cola bottle, unbroken or uncracked, inside.

The car was en route to Stinnett, officers said.

Municipalities Meet Names Officers

FORT WORTH, Sept. 23. (AP)—New officers today were at the helms of the six affiliates of the League of Texas Municipalities holding its 35th annual convention here.

They were elected yesterday at the opening of the three-day convention after hearing an address by Miner B. Phillips of Chicago, executive director of the Municipal Finance Officers association of the United States and Canada.

He told the officials in attendance that "most problems facing cities today resolve themselves into a proposition of how to meet increasing costs from a limited revenue source."

Cities Urged To Develop New Services

FORT WORTH, Sept. 23. (AP)—Officials of many Texas municipalities Monday heard a warning that they must develop additional services.

The speaker was Miner B. Phillips of Chicago, executive director of the Municipal Finance Officers association of the United States and Canada.

He addressed a luncheon session at the 35th annual convention of the League of Texas Municipalities which, with affiliated organizations of city managers, public work officials, attorneys, assessing officers, municipal officers and municipal utilities, opened here Monday.

"Most problems facing cities today resolve themselves into a proposition of how to meet increasing costs from a limited revenue source," Phillips said.

Possible new sources of revenue mentioned by Phillips included service charges for street cleaning and lighting, garbage collection, sewers, licenses for taverns, city sales taxes, and hotel tax on transient guests.

Carey's favorite song will be sung by Burt Ives at funeral services to be held at 2 p. m. at Field Photo Farm at nearby Reseda.

Cremation will follow and ashes of the 69-year-old cowboy star of the silent screen will be sent to his native New York City for burial in Woodlawn Cemetery.

State Group Named For Tidelands Fight

AUSTIN, Sept. 23. (AP)—A committee of 277 Texans to aid the state school land board in its fight to protect title in its tidelands has been named by Gov. Beauford H. Jester.

The committee includes all 254 county Democratic chairmen, numerous state officials, school leaders and clubwomen. Attorney General Price Daniel and Land Commissioner Bascom Giles are the other members of the school land board, with Jester.

The committee will aid in carrying on Texas' fight against federal claims to Texas tidelands following the U. S. supreme court decision in the California case.

The CHIROPRACTOR and You

No. 23 Of A Series Of Articles Published In The Public Interest To Explain And Illustrate The Practice Of Chiropractic.

CASE HISTORY No. 35. A middle aged woman suffering great distress from colitis. Stomach cramps and sourness were constant. Despite professional attention the condition was continually getting worse. She was advised to visit a Chiropractor and a series of spinal adjustments brought her relief. Shortly afterwards, when venturing outdoors on a severe winter's day, she caught cold in both knees. They became swollen and arthritis developed. She returned to her Chiropractor and further spinal adjustments were given. The arthritis cleared up and has not returned since.

CASE HISTORY No. 357. A girl 15 years old who was brought to a Chiropractor, suffering from "nerves" and general debility. In addition, she had a cross-eyed condition which had developed following an attack of whooping cough when she was two years old. A nerve impingement of long standing was located and spinal adjustments were given to correct it. Within a few weeks she was a well girl again and had gained considerable weight, and much to her delight, her eyes had returned to their normal position.

CASE HISTORY No. 16 A man in his 60's suffering from neuritis in the left shoulder and arm. He had fallen on the shoulder 11 years ago and recently had fallen on it again. The muscles of the shoulder and neck were tense and painful, and the discomfort was so great that he had not enjoyed restful sleep in three months. Chiropractic x-ray analysis revealed that two spinal bones at the base of the neck were displaced. These were adjusted back to their normal position, whereupon the neuritis disappeared.

WHAT IS CHIROPRACTIC? Chiropractic is based on the fact that the brain is the human power house. It creates vital energy. Without brain energy no organ or part of the body can function. Brain energy is transmitted over the body's network of nerves. These nerves radiate from the spine, and it is in the spine that the nerve can be "pinched" by vertebrae, and the flow of energy over them impeded or cut off. When, in this way, the connection is broken between brain and one or more parts of the body, disease is the inevitable result. By skillful analysis and precise spinal adjustments, the Chiropractor is able to locate and release impinged nerves and restore an uninterrupted flow of brain energy to the part affected. Health follows naturally.

Eighth Air Force Officer Will Fly Over Poler Region

FORT WORTH, Sept. 23. (AP)—Bringing the north pole within operations range of the 8th Air Force for the second time in two months, Brig. Gen. Roger M. Ramsey will leave at midnight Wednesday for a flight from Goose Bay, on the mainland Labrador shore of Newfoundland, to Anchorage, Alaska.

The 3,000-mile "great circle" course from Goose Bay to Anchorage will take the 8th Air Force Commander's B-29 just outside the Arctic circle for a major portion of the flight over the Hudson's bay region of Canada, where the winter freeze already has set in.

In the crew of the 8th Commander's plane will be S/Sgt. Calvin Peltz, Brownwood.

Hurricane Causes Citrus Fruit Losses

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23. (AP)—The agriculture department estimated Monday that last week's hurricane caused the loss of between five and seven million boxes of citrus fruit in Florida.

It figured the loss at between four and five million boxes of grapefruit and one to two million boxes of oranges. Florida last year produced about 30,000,000 boxes of grapefruit and about 53,000,000 boxes of oranges.

The department said the storm also caused heavy losses to vegetable crops in Florida. Losses included 300,000 to 400,000 acres of snap beans and 2,500 acres of tomatoes. Eggplant, pepper and cucumber crops were also hard hit, the department said.

Army Medical Teams Help TNG Drive

AUSTIN, Sept. 23. (AP)—Medical teams from the regular Army are helping the Texas National Guard in its statewide recruitment campaign.

Adjutant General K. L. Berry said yesterday that reports on the number of men recruited must await completion of these physical examinations, but he thought the campaign for new material was going "fairly well" in its second week.

Preliminary reports indicate an above the average number expected are showing interest in joining the National Guard.

Texas quota is 3,925 men.

Official Flees From Post In Russian Zone

BERLIN, Sept. 23. (AP)—The British-licensed newspaper Telegraf reported today that Dr. Rudolf Paul, minister president of the state of Thuringia who disappeared from his post in the Soviet zone early this month, was now living near Bad Naueheim in the American occupation zone.

The paper quoted Paul as saying he fled from the Russian zone because demands had been made upon him which conflicted with his "conscientious sense of responsibility." He declined to elaborate, the Telegraf said.

American military government officials have declared they had no knowledge of his whereabouts.

BEHIND IN PAYMENTS

Mexico Runs Short On Funds For Hoof And Mouth Fight

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 23. (AP)—Whether Mexico could continue its 50-50 share of the cost of the fight with the United States against the foot and mouth disease in Mexico was a question discussed here today.

A high-ranking Mexican official who declined use of his name said last night that Mexico would be unable to continue her 50 per cent share of the cost because the country was "hard pressed for money."

He said Mexico would be unable to contribute more than 3,000,000 pesos ($600,000) a month to the campaign.

The two countries agreed to share the expense with Mexico assuming payment for small animals slaughtered and the cost of maintaining the infected zones.

Mexico's shortage of money was attributed to the economic loss caused through the closure of the U. S. border to Mexican cattle exports and the shortage of foreign exchange.

The U. S. cost of the campaign was estimated between four and five million pesos ($800,000 to $1,000,000) a month in indemnities for slaughtered cattle.

In addition, the United States is supplying nearly all heavy equipment used in the sanitation program plus paying the salaries of U. S. agriculture department workers who were assigned to Mexico.

The officer said he understood the government was discussing Mexico's economic plight in the foot and mouth disease campaign with the U. S. department of agriculture. He said he understood the U. S. immediately had not accepted Mexico's suggestion that she reduce her contribution.

The U. S., he said, apparently had taken the position that Mexico made a bargain to share equally in the cost and expected her to live up to the commitment. Further he said the U. S. department of agriculture apparently was dissatisfied with the fact Mexico is behind on her payments for some of the small animals slaughtered.

The agreement between the two nations provided that all animals slaughtered be paid for in cash on the spot when they were killed by sanitary brigades.

'Incentive Pay' Is Lauded By Prisoners

HOUSTON, Sept. 23. (AP)—Inmates of the Huntsville unit of the Texas prison system and prison officials have branded the recently-inaugurated "incentive pay plan" for prisoners as highly successful.

Additional prisoners have asked to be put to work on construction of a large prison rodeo grandstand since the plan was placed in operation last Tuesday, Major D. W. Stakes, prison general manager, said Monday.

LIGHT THE WAY TO Better Grades

Too often one of the most trying of all school tasks is doing homework. Home study is always a chore and if enough of the right kind of light for easy seeing isn't provided, it becomes double tough. Right now, take time out to check the lighting in your home, especially where your children will be studying. Make sure that every empty socket is filled with the right-size bulb and that portable lamps are in good working order and placed properly for comfortable reading and writing. Remember—better light plus better sight equals better grades.

A Tragedy Beyond Our Dilemma

If anyone has failed to grasp the gravity of the situation facing the Big Spring Independent School district, we believe a realistic appraisal of events will give basis for sober concern.

For one thing, there should be no underestimating the temper of the teaching staff. We honestly do not believe that the extraordinary session which teachers held with trustees, and the two conferences in which they have faced a vital decision, may be regarded as an expedient phase.

Teachers are intelligent and reasonable people; they are patient; they represent a level in society not easily stamped or excited. Decisions are apt to result from deliberations, and while they may not be irrevocable, they certainly are not clothed in vacillation.

In Plain, English, teachers have said they do not propose to teach for less than the state minimum salary ($2,007 per annum for a beginning degree teacher). Whether an alternate course, which would leave our classrooms at least temporarily vacant, would solve the situation is beside the point from an immediate view. A lot can happen while a philosophical debate goes on.

Thus, the problem is clear. So is the answer, and it can be given in one word: Money.

How to arrive at the answer is quite another matter. A group of citizens has given notice that the recent tax rate election results will be challenged. The courts will decide on the merits. We do not know the legal implications or complications involved, but certainly the decision of the court will have a direct bearing on the situation.

If no prospect of solution results from this legal maneuver, then there may be other avenues for action, but all of them are fraught with practical difficulties or cannot be reconciled with the urgent element of time.

And time is the distinguishing mark between this particular crisis and the crisis that has been forming and growing in the district for nearly a score of years.

We hope and pray that the public, the board, and all interested in our schools may cooperatively meet the tremendous challenge of the moment, for the tragedy of the situation is not in our dilemma of today, but in the real harm that might result to our children.

Time, to them as to us, is irreplaceable.

Affairs Of The World—DeWitt MacKenzie

Magnitude Of U.S.-Red Clash

We shall be wise not to overlook French Foreign Minister Bidault's declaration before the U. N. assembly that his delegation "deems it futile and dangerous to conceal the magnitude and seriousness of the crisis" growing out of the Russo-American clash, which is threatening the "very life" of the peace organization, and that it's only honest to say one doesn't see how the opposing views can be reconciled.

And why can't they be reconciled? Having given us something to ponder, M. Bidault sidestepped that issue—a delicate matter for discussion by the foreign minister of a country which is precariously situated in the no-man's land between the two dominant powers. However, we can fill in the gaps which he skipped. The real key to the situation is a fact upon which this columnist has been insisting because of its supreme importance, and it is this: Russia's generation—old program of world revolution for the establishment of totalitarian communism finally is in full swing. Not for one moment should we forget that, for the insidious ramifications of the great offensive have penetrated every country on the globe. Its greatest success has been in eastern Europe where a big new Red empire has been built out of weak countries by strong arm methods in a short time, but already it has a grip on other war-torn nations like Italy.

The big question is whether the rehabilitation plan can work fast enough to save an all but desperate situation. Most of Europe is struggling in the economic morass. Key countries like Britain and France are so hard hit that they are unable to bolster their smaller neighbors.

That's why so much dependence is being placed on America.

Such a condition of weakness provides the best possible field for the operations of communism. A prime example is Italy which is so hard hit that she is fighting for her life. Into that situation communism is throwing every ounce of strength in the way of fomenting strikes and disorders to make the position of the right-of-center government untenable. The Reds, led by Russian trained Italian communist Palmiro Togliatti, are even talking revolution openly.

If rehabilitation can't be achieved in time to form an effective barrier against aggressive communism, then the Redism will overrun the rest of Europe. That would create a new and terrible menace to the Orient and the Western Hemisphere.

Notes On Hurricane

NEW ORLEANS. (AP)—Hurricane

The only man I know who enjoyed a practical advantage from "Ole Double Debbil Eye," was the Caribbean hurricane, was an amateur trumpet player. It enabled him to satisfy a lifelong ambition.

John Quarrier, who had worked the night before editing news at the Associated Press office here, arose from sleep at home as the hurricane reached its height.

He took up his trumpet and— with accompanying sound effects provided by nature—blasted through "The Storm," from Rossini's William Tell overture. Quarrier matched "Ole Double Debbil Eye" note for note.

"Always did want to try out that trumpet part during an actual storm," he said.

Alligator wrestling has one advantage over chasing hurricanes. You can at least catch hold of the alligator.

Catching up with a hurricane is more difficult, and if you do—well, what have you got it is a mighty poor place to light a cigar.

I caught up with the northern edge of the big wind at Fort Pierce as it was throwing its first punch at Florida, and followed it by plane, train, motor car and afloat until it blew itself out in Louisiana.

The first sight of a hurricane leaves you with a feeling of complete unreality. It looks and acts so much like a "corny" Hollywood version of a storm that you have the uneasy sensation of being an unwilling spectator in a "B" grade film. I guess it is the slanting rain that does it. The gusts look as if they were blown by a hidden wind machine.

That feeling disappears the moment you step outside. The winds claw at your breath, drench you through as if you had stepped into the face of a powerful fire hose. Walking against the hurricane is as firing as climbing the Washington monument. Your legs go weak and tremble, your heart begins to hammer at your ribs and you can taste salt water clear through to your backbone.

If you get off balance, the winds dumps you to the ground as neatly as a blocking halfback. One Associated Press reporter, Ben Price of Atlanta, had to crawl two blocks through sailing street signs and palm fronds to reach a telephone in West Palm Beach. A waving palm frond is romantic in calm moonlight. But whirled at you on the wings of a hurricane it is a green-edged knife.

The hurricane brought back memories to many veterans. The storm area had many of the characteristics of the battlefield: terror, noise, confusion, danger, destruction, and uncertainty.

Lines of refugees crawling into shelters renewed the illusion that the coastal area was under military attack by an invisible enemy. But as one ex-soldier remarked: "Leastways I know nobody is deliberately pointing that-hurricane at me."

Broadway—Jack O'Brien

Grave Seller Godfrey

NEW YORK—Arthur Godfrey has more than 15 hours of radio time each week during which he is slowly getting to look like Fort Knox as he gathers in the gold selling various soups, ointments and such. . . . But back in the mid-twenties when he was roaming about looking for a job, still wearing the bell-bottomed pants of his then-recent Navy hitch, he wasn't considered such a super salesman.

Back then he was trying to sell cemetery lots, and either no one would be found dead in the sections of Detroit where he plied his hopeful business, or he was a little too gay in his red-headed and grinning amiability.

One of his prospects was an actor who was touring the vaudeville circuits which highlighted acrobats, apache dancers and other practitioners of the athletic entertainment-arts. . . . Graveyard Godfrey's finest sales arguments had a strange ending: The actor sold Arthur his act!

Arthur was just about as successful at his vaudeville trade as he was selling graves, and he forthwith solved his financial problems by signing up with the Coast Guard.

The Harem, new Broadway night club, has gone so exotic in its preparations that Eve Wygod, one of the most imaginative hair stylists, has been ordered to evolve something "different" for its premiere. . . . Eve really dreamed-up a dilly of a hair-pile for Lou Walters, new owner of

The Harem. . . . It'll be coiffures on the chorus gals which will run riotously through the rainbow—blues, greens, reds, pinks and other colors which will tint the chorus kids' locks in a special process Eve devised for a Scheherazade number.

The Harem is the latest to try to make a go of it on the premises which previously have been known as The Zanzibar. The Hurricane, The Paradise and others, back to and through Prohibition. . . . Lou Walters is spreading out his Broadway saloon interests, being the co-owner of the Latin Quarter, just a high-ball-toss away from his new place.

DEAN MARTIN and Jerry Lewis, a couple of recently discovered Broadway comics, are being screen-tested by Universal-International here. . . . "Shoeshine," the Italian-made topical movie, busted all records at the Avenue Playhouse on Sixth avenue in the wake of unanimously applauding reviews. . . . The little movie bandbox seats only 450 persons and 19,873 persons jammed it during the first week, the cash totaling $14,327.50 in a theater which can show a hand some profit on a fraction of that.

Abe Burrows, who wrote an insane song called "The Girl With the Three Blue Eyes (Who makes her glasses?)," has another, a parody on "The Anniversary Song," which he hopes he can clear with the publishers of the latter if he can catch them in a good mood some afternoon. . . .

Washington Merry-Go-Round—Drzew Pearson

La Guardia Was Great American

WASHINGTON. — I have written several thousand words about Fiorello La Guardia while he was living; but, even though I can't do justice to him, I should like to write one more column now that he has reached the end of the road.

La Guardia is hard to write about because his life was so full, his character so varied. He was either on the crest of the wave or down in the dumps, either chasing fire engines or driving gangsters out of N. Y., either spending millions feeding Europe or nursing nickels to keep a roof over his head.

I have been sitting at the typewriter, trying to describe La Guardia but I'm not equal to it.

Letting my mind run a bit over the years—there was La Guardia the Congressman, getting in the hair of both parties, fighting always for what he thought was right, always on the side of the underdog. Those were the carefree days when Fiorello used to cook spaghetti in Bob Allen's kitchen, and when as a joke on my old friend Captain Eugene Regnier, military aide to Secretary of State Stimson, I induced La Guardia to tack an amendment on the war department appropriation bill providing that "no money should be expended for the salary of a military aide to any civilian member of the cabinet." Stimson, who had a weak spot for military folderol, nearly had a fit. Later we withdrew the amendment.

Then there were the days when La Guardia, a Republican, was defeated by none other than his good friend Roosevelt and the Democratic landslide, which swept FDR into power. Fiorello was flat broke in those days, scarcely knew where the next meal was coming from, but he rode on the subway, saved his nickels. He passed up the juicy fee fees offered him by questionable clients, and stayed broke. In fact, aside from his salary as mayor of New York, Fiorello has been broke most of his life.

There were the depression days. La Guardia was struggling to balance New York's budget—with New York taxpayers owing the city $400,000,000 unpaid taxes. So the Little Flower, genius that he was, persuaded Jesse Jones to loan him RFC money with unpaid taxes as collateral.

There were also the days when La Guardia worried about his own election. Roosevelt never really came out strong for him, despite their close personal friendship, but 50,000 Democrats once wrote his name on the Democratic primary ballot—even though he was a Republican. . . . "If my parents had only given me a different name," moaned Fiorello. "That name costs me 250,000 votes at every election." . . . Despite the name, it was Fiorello who carried Tom Dewey along on the GOP ticket in Dewey's first real plunge into politics. . . . And despite the name, La Guardia telegraphed FDR after the unsuccessful 1938 purge against Senators George and Tydings: "You should have planted a Little Flower in Georgia and Maryland."

OWN PRESS AGENT La Guardia ran his public relations like the bandmaster his father was. "It's confidential," he used to tell the press "Don't mention my name when you write it." . . . "When I've got anything to say, I'll say it myself," he announced, firing his press agent. . . . "I'm too young to be secretary of war," he told reporters who inquired if he was entering the Roosevelt cabinet. . . . "When I took over New York I fired the bad commissioners," La Guardia once cracked at his friend FDR. "In Washington they create new jobs for them." . . . And stationing Ernest Cuneo beside a fire alarm during one political speech he warned: "Don't let anyone pull the fire alarm and get the crowd to run out."

Fiorello flew a flag on his car with one more star than general MacArthur. . . . He raised cash with the state department when they wouldn't let him supply a mounted escort to Philippine President Quezon. "Those white-pink boys say Quezon rates below a senator," complained La Guardia. . . . While he visited Stalin two years ago, he sent other members of his UNRRA party to see Lenin's tomb. "I got as much out of Stalin as they did out of Lenin," he remarked later. . . . La Guardia's dislike of Herbert Hoover remained as constant at the end as during his days in Congress when he used to jibe at his "alleged" party leader in the White House. "Hoover brought back nothing UNRRA didn't already know," he said of Hoover's recent survey of Europe.

In his later years La Guardia suffered two great disappointments. One was his failure to be made a U. S. Senator. The other was FDR's refusal to make him a brigadier general in charge of the Italian military government. Roosevelt had promised him the latter job, and Fiorello had his heart set on it, but the brass hats intervened.

Asked whether he would run for governor of New York, La Guardia once replied: "I never take a step backward." Urged to run for President of the United States, he answered: "I'm too busy running New York City." But when asked if he would run for U. S. Senator, he said: "I'd run like a fire engine." That was La Guardia's greatest ambition. And sometimes in Washington he would sit in the Senate gallery, looking down, watching with envy the debates of the world's greatest deliberative body—debates in which he was never allowed to participate.

Several weeks ago I had occasion to telephone La Guardia in New York. He was still the same old Fiorello, still battling, still complaining in that squeaky voice of his.

"The place isn't the same anymore," he said when I asked him why he didn't come down to Washington.

"Something's happened. There is too much timidity around the White House. Something's gone out of the place. I'm worried. There just isn't anybody out working for the people anymore."

That was the last conversation I had with La Guardia, a man who with all his grand-standing and all his hair-pulling spent his life even up to the very end working for the people. Son of an Italian immigrant bandmaster and a Portuguese Jewess, he was a man such as only this country can produce. He was a great American. And America will be a lot emptier now that he has reached the end of the road.

Interest Grows In Co-op System

By MAX HALL

WASHINGTON. (AP)—High prices are causing more interest in cooperatives.

Labor unions, especially, have begun a drive to create more of them.

To understand this, let's start with the question: What is a cooperative?

It is a business organization, run by the members for the benefit of the members, without profit.

Some cooperatives are groups of "producers." For example, a group of farmers may band together to sell their products. Or they may band together to buy things they need, like fertilizer and gasoline.

Other cooperatives are "consumer cooperatives." For example, a group of citizens may band together and open a grocery store.

That's the kind of co-ops labor unions are interested in.

Last week, the CIO United Auto Workers announced that 40 of its local unions in Michigan have joined to buy carloads of food and other goods and sell them to their members at cost—that is, without profit.

A "true cooperative" is a long-range enterprise. The goods are not sold at cost. They are sold at about the same prices as in other stores. The customers benefit, not from lower prices across the counter, but from refunds at the end of the year.

"True cooperatives" are often called "Rochdale Cooperatives" (The first syllable of Rochdale rhymes with scotch).

Both the AFL and CIO have come out flatly in favor of Rochdale co-ops.

In 1945, consumer co-ops had 1,760,000 members—or stockholders—and the bureau of labor statistics says the number is growing.

Consumer co-ops are strongest in the north central states—such as Minnesota, Wisconsin, the Dakotas, Iowa, Illinois. They are weakest in the South.

Rita, Orson Will Work Together

By ARMAND ARCHER

HOLLYWOOD. (AP)—Rita Hayworth and Orson Welles will not be a life team much longer, but she assures me they will be a screen twosome for a long time to come. Rita, however, will be the boss.

All future Hayworth films will be made by her own outfit, Beckworth Productions, and she says, "I hope Orson will be in many of them—soon. Our personal differences have nothing to do with making pictures."

Cyd Charisse's chances of dancing again are now 90 per cent in her favor. The MGM dancer's right leg is still in a heavy cast but doctors will unweave the limb in four weeks. At that time they expect to find the torn tendons healed. Cyd said the accident would not have happened during filming of "On An Island With You" if she hadn't tried to perform steps designed for a man's muscles.

Agents are scurrying about town for the first time, in an effort to place their clients in the few films being made. One $75,000-per-picture actress is being offered at $2,000 a week. Things are really rough.

Studio publicity departments have been pared to the bone. These are the guys who herald the stupendous feats of the industry.

Ester Williams has an infected ear as a result of not following doctor's orders. She punctured an ear drum during a swimming sequence.

If Kesman Wynn doesn't get the role of the press agent in "State Of The Union," Spencer Tracy will be disappointed. He's asked the bosses for young Wynn. . . . This week Kay Kyser speaks at the American hospital association convention in Kansas City. His theme, public health, is Kay's pet project. . . . Linda Darnell will tour Texas next month to help raise $225,000 to be used in a campaign to save the U. S. S. Texas from the scrap heap. . . . ON the set: Ted Donaldson, playing baseball in his pajamas, between takes of "Christopher Blake."

Some of the promising young players around Hollywood are beginning to wonder if biographical films are the kiss of death. More than one potential star introduced to fame by the life-story medium has gone into at least partial eclipse thereafter.

Larry Parks and Robert Alda were heralded with much drum-beating in "The Jolson Story" and "Rhapsody In Blue."

At the moment Parks is chewing his fist and glowering at Columbia's Harry Cohn. He went from $75 to $750 a week, but now he is singing the saddest song Hollywood ears can hear: he wants more money.

Alda's debut, as Gershwin, was delayed almost two years. After finishing "Rhapsody In Blue" he went into "Cinderella Jones" which was held up until after "Rhapsody" was released. And thereafter he got a series of supporting roles, in "Cloak and Dagger," "The Man I Love" and "Kora Prentiss," until finally his Warner Bros. contract was terminated by mutual consent.

I asked Alda what he thought of such situations as his and Parks'.

"There are many reasons, of course, why things work out the way they do," he said. "I can understand why they held 'Rhapsody In Blue.' They wanted an unknown in the role of Gershwin. But I think it would have been smarter, in developing a star, to follow up 'Rhapsody' quickly with a really outstanding picture to support the personality they had introduced so loudly.

"Parks' case was a little different. His role as Jolson, after all, was impersonation—even to blackface. We didn't see Parks. Mine as Gershwin, I think, was considerably more in the nature of characterization. Look how much better Cornel Wilde fared. He had a biographical role in "Song To Remember"—Chopin.

But he was one of those boys whose services were shared by two or three producers. Each tried to outdo the other. That sustained his prestige.

"However, I was one of the luckiest guys in the world, and don't think I don't know it. What happened to me happens to one actor in a thousand. I'd never been in a picture before I played Gershwin."

DOUBLE TROUBLE

MANGUM, Okla. (U.P.) — Mrs. Norman Meadows hoped the worst was over after buzzards killed a young calf in her pasture one week and she killed two rattlesnakes in her yard the next. The buzzards ganged up on the calf—and Mrs. Meadows. Several buzzards swooped down and drove Mrs. Meadows away while other buzzards killed the calf and tried to make off with the carcass.

HOUSE HITS CAR

WICHITA, Kan. (U.P.) — Willis Tooley's car was hit by a house. The real estate salesman, showing a house to a prospective buyer, hurried out into the street when he heard a crash. A small house being moved on a truck had sheared a fender off Tooley's parked automobile.

FIND PET IN SEWER

MILWAUKEE (U.P.) — Two-year-old Freddie Gettleman of Milwaukee is making sure that his pet pooch stays close to home. The youngster's five-year-old part-collie, part-spaniel, recently was missing for five days. He was discovered in a sewer some distance from home, fatigued and almost starved but still alive. A few weeks of "home cooking" was expected to fix him up.

OPERA STAR YELLS

MILWAUKEE (U.P.) — Wagnerian opera star Helen Traubel, a baseball enthusiast, recently expressed regret that she could not watch a ball game the night before a scheduled concert. "If I did go, I know I'd yell louder than anybody. I can't take that chance before a concert," she explained sadly.

Shorts Down San Antonio Way

San Antonio short subjects:

The thief who entered a main avenue store apparently wanted to make a clean sweep, police said. He passed up all other articles, took a vacuum cleaner valued at $68.50.

Two men smashed a 9 x 12 foot plate glass window in the 5-and-10 and when police later caught one, he said it was just done in "the spirit of fun." Some fun, police said. The glass cost $100.

"Red River Dave" McEnery, San Antonio cowboy blues singer, had some real blues to sing about. He filed suit against a New York man, charging he had been swindled out of $1,000 by a worthless check.

Then there was the small dot on a piece of paper worth $495.

A reward of $300 was offered for the recovery of a registered calf, said a printed poster. The owner himself later found the calf, explained with relief that there had been a typographical error—he had offered $3.00, not $300. A printer had left out the all-important dot.

STEALS VET'S CHECK BOSTON (U.P.) — A mail box thief, who proved to be a World War II veteran, was arrested for stealing the pension check of George Riley, 97, Massachusetts' last surviving Civil War veteran.

JOHNSON FINES JOHNSON COLOMBUS, Neb. (U.P.) — Two Wilbur Johnsons united to enrich the Columbus school fund. Police Judge Wilbur Johnson levied a $10 fine against Wilbur Johnson of Saratoga, Wyo., for intoxication.

Hubert Moreno, a janitor, climbed to the roof and stretched out on a mattress to cool off one hot night. The mattress caught fire.

A government job mystified many San Antonians—a pickerpacker. Columnist Kemper Diehl in the San Antonio Light said they must be the ones who pack the pecks of pickled peppers.

And Claude Stanush, a former San Antonio newsman, returned from the West Coast wearing his pants above his shoes—just a touch of ankle showing.

He said Californians were wearing their six or seven inches above sea level.

Shotton To Rest Brooklyn Regulars For Series Play.

Fanning Plans Florida Trip

Foy Fanning, Muni golf professional, will take a leave of absence from Nov. 15 until March 1, he said here this morning.

Fanning stated he would go to Orlando, Fla., where he will assist in staging the annual Orlando Open golf tournament and serve as the assistant pro at the Dubsread course. The tournament will be held from Nov. 27 through Nov. 30.

At Dubsread, Foy will serve as assistant professional to Denny Champagne. Prior to coming here, Fanning served in that capacity for a time.

In Fanning's absence, W. O. Maxwell will have charge of the Muni course.

Bufs Beaten By Reds, 6-3

Dallas' Rebels bounced back for the second time in their championship playoff with Houston, deadlocking the series last night with a 6-3 decision.

The two teams take the field here again tonight with the best of seven series tied at two games each.

Hal Hirsbon's three-run homer in the third inning paced a four-run Dallas outbreak that frame.

The Rebels had gone ahead with one run in the first, then Houston went in front on three hits and an error that was good for a pair of scores in the top of the third.

Both Houston and Dallas pushed over single runs in the eighth inning.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

Much remains to be said about the Texas Interscholastic league's new eight-semester rule, which obviously was designed to purify schoolboy athletics in general and football in particular within the state.

To our knowledge, Texas is the only state in the union barring 18-year-olds from engaging in athletics; that is, those individuals who attained their 18th birthdays before registering for the fall term. Most of the students in other states can take part in athletics until they're 19. Some can even play until they're 20.

However, in the eyes of the brain trust of the Interscholastic League, that act alone wasn't enough to discourage the youngsters from concentrating on athletics to excess. They upped and voted the eight-semester rule into effect. The new code rules out players who have been in school longer than four years. True, the school continues to draw per capita appropriation on the boys until they're 18, even though they've been in high school six years but the holdovers are barred from taking part in organized sports.

The rule is blanket and, from all indications, retroactive. The fact that no exceptions can be made to the law is going to keep two boys off the Big Spring high school football team in 1948 who otherwise would be eligible.

One of the youngsters is a strapping 200-pounder, the other weighs in the neighborhood of 185 pounds. Both are potential first stringers.

Each of the boys went into the service during the recent national emergency. In order to get in, each had to misrepresent his age. They were in long enough to serve in the Army of Occupation before they were discharged on pleas by their parents. While in uniform, they missed school semesters the League counted against them anyway.

The youths returned here planning to finish their prep schooling and engage in athletics, if at all possible. When each reported for his football uniform, Coach Pat Murphy had no alternative but to tell him he was not eligible under the present setup.

At the present time, one of the lads is talking of going to New Mexico or some other nearby state in order to take part in athletics. The other is undecided about what to do.

Such a clause discriminates against the boys, and any others whose cases are similar. It is high time something be done about rectifying the past mistakes and re-writing a sensible code.

Credit for organizing Big Spring high school's first football team should go to Clyde Thomas, Sr., one of our town's better known barristers. Thomas came out of the University of Texas in 1906 to assume the job as principal of the high school and took it upon himself to offer a course in the Autumn sport to the youngsters enrolled here.

The team played three games that year, meeting Sweetwater, Pecos and Colorado City, before hanging up the moleskins. Since it would have taken several days to get to any of the other towns by wagon train—automobiles had been invented only a short time previously—Thomas took his charges to the games by rail.

At that time, the high school, was housed in what later was to become the old Central Ward building, which was torn down, some years ago to make room for the present post office structure.

Thomas stayed with the job through 1908—he was a teacher for 13 years—and enjoyed a fair degree of success but quit the profession to take up the study of law.

Tom Maithe, the Morton, Texas, horseman and one of the world's great polo players, had to retire from the game temporarily several days ago when he fractured his arm.

SPORTS SHOTS

Baseball Leagues In Texas Set New Attendance Marks In 1947

The Longhorn league, a new circuit, had a total of 220,632 for its six clubs. Big Spring, leader over the full season route, had 43,153. Ballinger, which finished third and won the play-offs, had the second highest total with 42,662.

Of the 38 clubs in the five leagues, Texas had 33 of them. The Texas teams drew a total of 3,232,930.

The 1947 copy of the constitution and rules of the Texas Interscholastic League lists a number of changes, the most important setting up a state meet in two divisions—one for Class AA and Class A schools and the other for Class B.

This has been needed for a number of years. Obviously, the smaller schools can not compete on an equal plane with the larger schools in the State track and field meet. At least they can't hope to win team championships.

In the past, three places in each track and field event qualified from the Regional meet to the State. Now, this is being cut to two. Also, now only the winning relay team may qualify for the state meet. And the relay team is placed on the same basis as the basketball team. In other words, the team qualifies and not individuals. Individual qualifying only as members of the relay team can not enter any other event. Also, those qualifying in individual events may not combine to form a relay team in the state meet unless that school qualified a relay team from the regionals. In the event a member of the relay team is unable to compete because of injury or illness, a substitution may be made.

Dodgers To Gun For First Title

The Brooklyn Dodgers, only team ever to win a pennant at midnight, awoke this morning as official National league champions of 1947, and in the words of President Branch Rickey they'll be champions "for many years to come."

Not many of the Brooks were aware of the good news until today. Only those few who had stayed over at Brooklyn pitcher Hugh Casey's restaurant learned last night that the long grind finally was over and that the Dodgers had backed into the pennant.

The time was precisely 9:39 p. m. (CST). It came about when the Chicago Cubs, who had dropped the opener of a day-night double header, 4-2 to the Cardinals' flickering hopes for a few more hours, defeated the Redbirds 6-3 in the second game thus eliminating them from the race.

Rickey expressed pleasure over the work of Manager Burt Shotton, his coaches and all the players and was especially proud over the fact that he had kept a promise he had made to the Dodger fans five years ago.

Shotton said that he would rest most of his regulars for the big series against the New York Yankees which gets under way next Tuesday at the Yankee Stadium.

He refused even to guess as to who would hurl the opener. It will be the second World Series clash between the Yanks and Dodgers, the Yankees having won the first time in 1914, four games to one. The Brooks, in fact, have yet to win a World championship in three attempts since 1900.

In St. Louis, Manager Eddie Dyer had not much to say about the Cards' failure to retain their World championship. "Naturally I'll wire Shotton my congratulations," the disappointed Redbird pilot said. "I'd rather not say any more. It might seem like an alibi."

Abbott Victim Of Clements

Ray Clements bopped Bill "Ace" Abbott as expected in the main event of last night's wrestling program at the Big Spring Athletic club but Dr. Gill Knudsen stole some of his thunder.

Knudsen, making his initial appearance here, scrambled villainous Gene Blakely of Abilene after losing the opening fall to Eugene in 13 minutes.

The Salt Lake youth employed the airplane spin to even the count in four minutes and then plopped on the Texan to wind up the tussle in seven minutes.

Clements gave way to a flying tackle as Abbott won the initial round in 17 minutes and then "went to town." He used up just 18 minutes to put Abbott out of commission, then staged his usual ring strut that won no friends at the ringside.

New Zealand Plans Paper Pulp Mills

AUCKLAND — (AP)—New Zealand's government plans to establish State paper and pulp manufacturing works at a cost of $22,680,000.

Another big timber project has been announced by New Zealand Forest Products which said it planned to spend $11,340,000. The company said it would construct a mill to produce 42,000,000 feet of timber a year; waste from the timber mill would feed pulp and paper mills which would be set up beside it.

College Clubs Prep For Jobs This Weekend

Crisp fall weather added a zip to football practice today as Texas college gridiron teams went through their paces in preparation for weekend tussles.

The University of Texas Longhorns got stiff workouts at Austin following an easy 33-0 win last Saturday over the Texas Tech Red Raiders.

But Coach Blair Cherry indicated the Longhorns' T offensive still needed log of polishing.

He'll probably start the same team against Oregon in Saturday's game in Portland as he started against Texas Tech.

At Fort Worth, TCU opened drills for the Oklahoma A. and M. game Saturday.

North Texas State sharpened up its fighting weapons for Saturday's game with the University of Arkansas Razorbacks next Saturday at Little Rock.

The Rice Owls at Houston smoothed their gridiron offensive as final preparations went on for their opening game Saturday night against Louisiana State's powerful Tigers at Baton Rouge.

The Aggies of Texas A. and M. college at College Station were eyeing next Saturday's tussle with Texas Technological college at Lubbock. The game will be played in San Antonio.

Coach Homer Norton warned the Aggie squad that the Tech Red Raiders were stronger than their 33-0 defeat last Saturday at the hands of the strong University of Texas eleven at Austin would indicate.

He put the Aggies through a heavy scrimmage yesterday.

Missing from Saturday's lineup will be left halfback Preston (Pee-wee) Smith, who is nursing a leg injury.

At Waco, the Baylor Bears were looking forward to an airplane trip to Miami, where they will meet the Miami Hurricanes Friday. The air trip will mark the first for any Baylor football team.

Coach Bob Woodruff held a scrimmage two hours yesterday for the Bears. The workout produced several bruises, but none were termed serious.

City Golf Tournament Begins At Muni Course Wednesday

Local golfers can begin qualifying for the City golf tournament at the Muni course Wednesday. Qualifying rounds will be held through Oct. 5, after which medal play will begin.

Both qualifying and match play will be limited to 18 holes. Entry fee has been set at $3, which includes green fees for all matches.

Prizes are in the offering for winners of all flights, Pro Foy Fanning said.

Jake Morgan is the defending champion. Morgan nudged Obie Bristol, 2 and 1, to gain the throne room in 1946 and will rule as slight favorite to turn the trick again.

The tournament was held during the summer last year but Fanning set the dates of this year's meet back in order not to have them conflict with other tournaments.

Any person who resides in Howard county is eligible to compete in the tournament.

Bowling Loop To Open Play

The six-team Ladies bowling league begins play at the West Texas Recreational center Wednesday night, then doubles up with another series of matches Friday.

Schedule of the circuit will extend through 33 weeks, which throws the finish around the latter part of April. The schedule will be divided into two parts, with the winners meeting for the championship.

Lois Eason has been named president of the circuit. Other officers include Vera Dozier, vice-president; Nellie Mathis, secretary-treasurer; and Faye Johnson, sergeant-at-arms.

GOLFING NOTES

Maxwell Family Will Move Here Shortly

Big Spring, which lost a good golfer in Doug Jones to Abilene some years ago, will shortly receive for two in return, it was learned here this morning.

The famed Maxwell brothers, Billy and Bobby, are moving here with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Maxwell, to make their home.

The senior Maxwell is taking a job with the Municipal golf course as greens attendant and assistant to Pro Foy Fanning. The family will live in a city-owned house at the city park. Maxwell has been associated with the golfing business for something like 39 years and is considered to be one of the best authorities on greens in this section.

His twin sons, 18 years of age, hold many titles. Billy, perhaps the better known of the two, is the reigning State Junior champion, a crown he picked up at San Antonio several weeks ago. Billy is also the Midland Invitational cham-

Agricultural Climatology Is New Field

AMES, Ia. — Iowa State College has just turned out its first class of six graduates in a newly established course in agricultural climatology.

R. E. Buchanan, dean of the graduate school, said five of the six graduates stepped into jobs with the U. S. Weather Bureau but he predicted climatological research would become an increasingly important field of activity.

The sixth graduate, Jose Maria de Vicoso, Brazil, will resume a teaching career at the Minas Gerais State College of Agriculture in Brazil.

The six students, all of whom were granted master of science degrees at the end of the summer term, were college graduates, had farm backgrounds, and all had served as military weather officers during the war.

Dean Buchanan explained that an agricultural climatology is not a weather forecast in the usual sense. Instead, he studies all aspects of the weather in a given area to help solve agricultural problems. He advises on planting dates, on erosion control, and on whether a new crop may be suitable for production in a given vicinity.

Agricultural experiment stations, large farm management concerns and food processing companies will have increasing employment opportunities for climatologists in the future, Dean Buchanan predicted.

When I. L. Bryan, wholesale feed dealer, finally launched his 25-foot cruiser "Spartan" after working on it since 1939, it had not a timber from the original tender.

Bryan salvaged lumber from old furniture, picked up a few fine pieces of driftwood, made the hull of new white cypress and fast plank with bronze screws, not a nail in it.

The boat is built to sleep four. It is completely equipped with galley and toilet facilities, with all the work done by Bryan. He says the craft will do from 12 to 15 knots on its 110-horsepower engine.

Bryan said the Spartan reminded him of a shirt whose original material was all replaced by patches. He ripped out an old plank and replaced it with a new one until he had a new boat.

FLIES ICE CREAM NEW YORK (U.P.) — An Air France plane bound for Paris stood by a La Guardia Field runway with propellers idling while employees frantically paged Charles Trenet, comedian singer, who was scheduled to depart.

Trenet finally appeared, carrying a vacuum bottle filled with ice cream. He explained he had been buying it to take home to his mother and fiancée.

Hopeful Boy Pitcher Pitches In Kitchen NEW YORK (U.P.) — Gerry Spotts, 14, who hopes to become a professional baseball pitcher, has another major talent — cooking.

At the Monroe County Fair, Gerry, competing against four girls walked off with the first prize in a 4-H Club pie baking contest and took first prizes for cornmeal muffins and chocolate chip cookies. Second prize for a party sandwich tray, and fifth prize for his butterscotch and gingerbread.

CAMPAGNING PERU, Ind. (U.P.) — Everett C. Walpe, Republican nominee for mayor, filed a political campaign expense account of 96 cents. The only item listed was for 32 three-cent postage stamps.

MALE SOCIETY EDITOR WON'T COVER PRINCESS' WEDDING

NORMAN Okla., Sept. 2. (AP)—Richard King, first male editor of the University of Oklahoma daily, will not get to cover Princess Elizabeth's wedding.

When her royal highness walks down the aisle, King may be trudging over the campus here, looking for a new job.

It all started when Sports Editor Leon Bert asked the student senate to finance his coverage of the Sooners' game against the University of Detroit — in Detroit next Friday.

King, a student senator as well as society editor, said if Bert got a free trip to Detroit, he should go to England to report the royal nuptials.

The senate turned them both down and Quenton Peters, general editor of the daily, fired King — allegedly for inefficiency. The faculty is considering the matter.

ADVANCE STUDENT — Jimmie Black, son of Mrs. Belle Black, is now in a 15-week advanced training course in electronics after having completed a 27-week course in electronics fundamentals at the US Naval School on Treasure Island, San Francisco, Calif. Jimmie, who is a seaman first class, was among the six men who made the highest qualifying mark on the general qualification test taken in San Angelo for the year ending June 1, 1947. Not only his examination rating, but his record in the fundamental course entitled him to be chosen for the advanced work.

Early Rotary Meet Predicted

One of the earliest district conferences on record is in prospect when the Rotary International 127th district holds its annual meeting here next spring.

At a club assembly Monday evening at the Settles, Dist. Gov. Jim McCulloch, Stamford, explained that election of officers in the various clubs—and the district—would be shopped up six weeks or more in order to permit arrangements for the international convention in Rio de Janeiro.

It is probable that the dates will be set for about the third week in March.

McCulloch told Rotarians that the host Big Spring club would be responsible for the general convention chairman and committee, for arrangements and entertainment, while the governor and his aides would draft the program.

At the assembly, McCulloch received reports on committee activities, together with other club functions.

Markets

WALL STREET NEW YORK, Sept. 23. (AP)—The stock market continued to follow an irregular course today.

Although a number of pivotal steels, oils and motors receded slightly, narrow improvement was registered by various issues affected by special situations. After a moderately active opening, dealings soon settled to a slow pace. Near midday plus and minus signs were well mixed.

Brokers of customers were attributed by analysts to uncertainty over maintenance of profits and to presence of some better selling orders in the wake of last week's recovery. In the afternoon, side were the market's refusal to be upstaged by unfavorable foreign news. Lack of volume on a decline and the revival of high rates of steel operations.

Bonds were narrow. Grains and cotton improved.

COTTON NEW YORK, Sept. 23. (AP)—Cotton futures at noon were 10 to 25 cents a bale lower than the previous close.

Whitney returns from Fort Worth, where he is attending the meeting of the League of Texas Municipalities.

Van Gelders 50th Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Van Gelder, who came to Texas in 1912 because of the former's health, Monday observed their 50th wedding anniversary with a quiet ceremony at their home in Government Heights.

Van Gelder, when 29 years of age, married Miss Elizabeth "Libby" Covert in Hammondsport, N. Y., Sept. 22, 1897. After honeymooning in Rochester, N. Y., the Van Gelders returned to Hammondsport, to make their home but the bride developed lung trouble and doctors recommended that she be brought to the Southwest. They settled in Big Spring where the husband went to work in the railroad shops. The climate and country apparently worked wonders with Mrs. Van Gelder. She has rarely been ill since she arrived here.

Since he has been retired by the railroad, Van Gelder has been employed by the First Christian church.

Harry and James Covert are brothers of Mrs. Van Gelder. Mrs. Nat Shick is her niece.

The couple will be honored at an anniversary dinner in the home of Mrs. Pauline Petty the evening of Oct. 1.

U. S. Civil Service Slates New Tests

Examinations for secretary-stenographer, shorthand reporter and stenographer-typist positions will be given by A. A. Porter, civil service secretary for the 14th civil service district, through Sept. 30, it has been announced.

The jobs carry CAF ratings from 1 through 9 and pay ranges from $1756 to $4149.60 per annum.

Applicants must take written examinations. Those accepted will be placed in the 14th civil service district.

Additional information can be obtained by contacting Porter at the post office.

Eat Good Clam And Get Paid Too

ABERDEEN, Wash. (AP)—The state department of fisheries has started a clam rush on the ocean beaches hereabouts by offering 25 cents for shells of the razor clam.

Of course, you have to get the right clam. Once you do, however, you can eat it and still collect—the department wants only the shells.

Biologist G. A. Holland says the clam chase was started in an effort to answer a burning problem of the beaches: Do clams migrate? "Baby bivalves were measured, marked and buried along the beaches and notes filed away as to their location."

Diggers finding a marked clam turn in the shells and pocket the two-bits, after telling where they found it. The department then studies its records to determine if the clam is an athlete or just an old fat stay-at-home.

Two Plead Guilty To Drunken Driving

Two persons entered pleas of guilty in county court Monday to charges of driving while under the influence of intoxicants while another was fined for aggravated assault.

Arthur Lee Adair, arrested Sunday night by members of the state highway patrol, was fined $75 on a DWI count. The same punishment was meted out the Henry Newton Thernhauger for a like conviction.

Fined $100 and costs on the aggravated assault count was Emmett Dena Baker, who allegedly knifed Olen Pears in a west-side affray last March 12.

Released On Bond

J. N. Sanders, charged in a hit-and-run case following a north-side accident over the weekend, has been released by the county on $750 bond.

Sanders allegedly ran into two parked vehicles and then sped away. He was picked up later by members of the city police force.
