'Around the Hub City'

"AROUND THE HUB CITY" learned this week that typists are wanted at Texas Tech. It makes one wonder exactly how many of you will actually try to take an advantage of this golden opportunity. If you can type why not take a chance.....It may pay off in dollars. According to my information the starting salary for a typist is $2,700 a year, and if you are up on your shorthand---well the sky is the limit....

It's up to you young people..... Why not take advantage of it. Don't say you'll try it remember what you are trying has been tried by others.....It'll t r y YOU

UPO-What It Is

I have been asked many times about an organization named UPO (perhaps by many of your eading this article would like to know more about it) ... After exploring materials and individuals concerned with the organization I have been able to answer some of the many questions you have asked me about the organization.

The United Political Organization of Texas, UPO, was organized in 1961. Its organization was directed by conditions which pointed up the need for political strength among minority groups, as illustrated in the cases of Negroes and Latins throughout the State of Texas.

In structure UPO is a federation of several civic and political organizations; local groups that banded together for promotion of political and civic activities. Though an affiliation of organizations, UPO solicts individual memberships. It is the cause of individual members to which all endeavors of UPO is directed ...

During the brief period of its existence, UPO has concentrated its efforts on Poll Tax Campaigns stressing the importance of NUMBERS AT THE POLLS. This emphasis is expected to provide the voting strength which will make possible achievements in the field of Job Opportunities.

The United Political Organization, through its State program, seeks the following purposes:

- 1. An increasing awareness of the importance of suffrage rights---participation in local state, and national elections.
- 2. Intelligent choice in support of candidates for officejudgments based upon perfor manæ records and acceptance of democratic ideals --- equality of opportunity, worth and dignity of man, greatest good for the greatest number.
- 3. Strong local units of UPO to stimulate widespread participation in political
- An informed public about vital matters pending in the Texas Legislature.
- 5. Full potential of Negro voters in Texas, approximately, one million voters.

The goal of UPO is equalJobOpportunities, unrestricted by reason of Race, Creed, or Color is the major concern of UPO.

All activities of organization are directed to the end of insuring that minority groups will enjoy unrestricted employment opportunities.

Political participation, therefore, is considered a means to an end; not an end itself...for UPO the end or goal is always a JOB

Norm's Notebook'

FROM THE PUBLISHER'S DESK...

It's very seldom I take typewriter to hand and have very much to say about what is going on in this world, but this week I find myself with some spare time, and the idea in mind that no red-blooded American can remain silent forever about some of the things that are going on in the good ole' U.S.A. today.

For years now, I have watched with growing concern the matters being piled up in our system of government in the name of civil rights. And with even more concern now, I am beginning to see some of the results of these matters that I feel will eventually become a millstone around the neck of the Negro race. Surely everyone should be glad that some responsible leaders have been able over the last few years to gain considerable recognition for the many qualified Negroes in America today that needed that recognition. But, must this quest for recognition be allowed to spawn civil disobedience in such mass quanities that its results become determental to the original idea?

In other words, how can anyone read in this weeks' issue of the Times that $206, 300 was loaned to a Negro firm, Watson Meat Co. of Los Angeles, California, and at the same time read about the complete take-over of 250 square blocks of a Los Angeles suburbarb by a wild mob, bent on destruction and looting? How can anyone explain away the fact that these Negroes are possibly the same people who in the past have demonstrated for civil rights? Especially is this true in the case of comedian Dick Gregory, who was reportedly shot by some unknown demonstrator when he appeared before part of this mob and requested that they stop their demonstrations. With the death toll somewhere near 35 at the present time and literally hundreds injured, what matter of human sense can possibly explain the thinking behind anyone who would spawn such disorder anywhere, knowing the eventual results.

"Just a local problem," "Something that happens there, surely not here", are just a few ways to rationalize away the situation, but regardless of how hard the Negro race tries to cover up this type of tracks, it is absolutely impossible, especially in light of the fact that this kind of thing on a smaller scale occurred at just about the same time in Chicago, Ill .. But regardless of the fact that we here in Texas would like to say that these things happen somewhere else and then breath a sigh of relief, let's first consider the UPI news story released last month concerning the burning to death of a two-year old Negro boy in Dallas because the police and firemen were held back from the fire by a mob of 700 Negroes. When police tried to clear a path through the crowd to get an ambulance and resuscitator brought up in order to attempt to save the child, one officer was quoted as saying he had pushed into the mob to clear a path when a 24-year old woman touched off the whole "demonstration" by shouting that a policeman had "touched me."

Civil rights is one thing, but civil disobedience is something else, and believe me, no one in this country can expect to gain one thing from civil rights in any form if the attainment of such leads anyone else to civil disobedience. No one will ever gain an inch toward "total citizenship" for any group, race or person, if that group or any member of that group wants or expects to get by with anything im-morial or unlawful during his quest for that "total citizenship". How can anyone possiblely expect to break any law in an attempt to accomplish equal rights with another person, while demanding at the same time that the other person remain completely within the realm of law and order. You just don't tie a man's hands and then expect him to watch you destroy his world without having your hands tied in the same manner. Two wrongs even in the area of civil rights still don't make a right.

I remember last year talking to a person I highly respect about that summer's civil rights demonstrations, and the feeling he projected to me. "Civil rights", he said, "Should be and must be, rephrased as soon as possible to CIVIL RESPONSIBILITY," "Otherwise", he continued, "The masses of the Negro population in this country today will fall directly into the hands of the people who are preaching race hate in America now." "Then the next step," he predicted, "Will be a general assault on the law enforcement agencies of this country, and this will come soon, if the civil rights leaders don't change soon to CIVIL RESPONSIBILITY leaders." Alas how true! (This is the first installment in a series of articles which will be continued in this column next week).

The cut victim, Alex Howard, 1711 East 27th Street, stated that he was talking to a woman and an unknown man came up to him and told him he was talking to his wife. Howard said that he apologized to the stranger and both of them walked away.

A few minutes later a man came up to him and started cutting on him. He was sent to Methodist Hospital. His left shoulder and the left side of his mouth had been cut. Howard lost very little blood.

Mr. Marshall Taylor, 2714 Teak, told police that someone had taken from his garage a beige colored McGregory golf bag, nine McGregory irons, and four Burke woods. He also stated that his garage was not locked. The value of the golf clubs and bag amounted to $180.

LOS ANGELES -- Small Busi ness Administrator Eugene P. Foley urged Negroes to become business minded as a step toward assuming a stronger role in the nation's Foley spoke at a ceremony de-dicating the opening of the Watson Meat Company's new plant in Los Angeles, Californai. The plant received a $206,300 loan from the Small Business Administration to expand meat packing operations -- the largest SBA loan ever to a Negro firm.

SBA Chief Urges Negroes To

Citing the firm's owner, Albert Watson, as an example for other Negro businessmen to follow, Foley said:

"In the past, a Negro may have had good reason to steer clear of going into business for himself. Relegated as he was to very low-income Negro neighbors, he swa little chance to profit from his own business, even if he could scrape together enough money to start one.

"Another deterrent was lack of business know - how and the absence of a source for acquiring it. But times have changed. Today the Negro has a much better chance of obtaining financial and management assistance and an excellent opportunity to expand and prosper and provide jobs for

Foley said the first major breakthrough came with an ex-perimental SBA program last year in Philadelphia.

In this program, which he called the forunner of the Economic Opportunity Program (anti-poverty program), SBA loaned small businessmen up to $6,000 for terms of up to six years and provided management assistance where needed. The project was so successful, Foley siad, that similar projects were started in other cities. To date, he added, small firm owners have borrowed more than $3,500,000 under this porgram with about half the money going to Negro businessmen.

This year, Foley said, SBA expanded its experimental project into what is now called the Economic Opportunity Assistance Program, with authority under the Economic Opportunity Act to lend businessmen up to $25,000 for as long as 15 years.

Members of the East Side Community met at the East Branch YMCA Thursday evening to discuss teenage problems in this area. Mr. Stickney, secretary of the YMCA, made the opening statement. He said that some direction is needed in planning for our youth. This growing problem is not of the YMCA, but of the entire community.

He then introduced the speaker of the evening, Mr. E.E. Cleaver, Principal of B.T. Washington High School. He opened his speech by saying that if one adult would take one hour a day to help one child what a community this would be. It is time to stop talking about the usual thing a n d do something unusual---crash the thing that is rising in our community, it is time for togetherness, it is time to join hands and seek individually and collectively pursue further the training which leads to possible qualification as officers.

UPO-What It Is

I have been asked many times about an organization named UPO (perhaps by many of your eading this article would like to know more about it)... After exploring materials and individuals concerned with the organization I have been able to answer some of the many questions you have asked me about the organization.

The United Political Organization of Texas, UPO, was organized in 1961. Its organization was directed by conditions which pointed up the need for political strength among minority groups, as illustrated in the cases of Negroes and Latins throughout the State of Texas.

In structure UPO is a federation of several civic and political organizations; local groups that banded together for promotion of political and civic activities. Though an affiliation of organizations, UPO solicts individual memberships. It is the cause of individual members to which all endeavors of UPO is directed...

During the brief period of its existence, UPO has concentrated its efforts on Poll Tax Campaigns stressing the importance of NUMBERS AT THE POLLS. This emphasis is expected to provide the voting strength which will make possible achievements in the field of Job Opportunities.

The United Political Organization, through its State program, seeks the following purposes:

- An increasing awareness of the importance of suffrage rights---participation in local state, and national elections.
- Intelligent choice in support of candidates for officejudgments based upon perfor mance records and acceptance of democratic ideals --equality of opportunity, worth and dignity of man, greatest good for the greatest number.

- Strong local units of UPO to stimulate widespread participation in political affairs.
- An informed public about vital matters pending in the Texas Legislature.
- 5. Full potential of Negro voters in Texas, approximately, one million voters.

The goal of UPO is equalJobOpportunities, unrestricted by reason of Race, Creed, or Color is the major concern of UPO.

All activities of organization are directed to the end of insuring that minority groups will enjoy unrestricted employment opportunities.

Political participation, therefore, is considered a means to an end; not an end itself...for UPO the end or goal is always a JOB.....

Norm's Notebook'

FROM THE PUBLISHER'S DESK...

It's very seldom I take typewriter to hand and have very much to say about what is going on in this world, but this week I find myself with some spare time, and the idea in mind that no red-blooded American can remain silent forever about some of the things that are going on in the good ole' U.S.A. today.

For years now, I have watched with growing concern the matters being piled up in our system of government in the name of civil rights. And with even more concern now, I am beginning to see some of the results of these matters that I feel will eventually become a mill-stone around the neck of the Negro race. Surely everyone should be glad that some responsible leaders have been able over the last few years to gain considerable recognition for the many qualified Negroes in America today that needed that recognition. But, must this quest for recognition be allowed to spawn civil disobedience in such mass quanities that its results become determental to the original idea?

In other words, how can anyone read in this weeks' issue of the Times that $206,300 was loaned to a Negro firm, Watson Meat Co. of Los Angeles, California, and at the same time read about the complete take-over of 250 square blocks of a Los Angeles suburbarb by a wild mob, bent on destruction and looting? How can anyone explain away the fact that these Negroes are possibly the same people who in the past have demonstrated for civil rights? Especially is this true in the case of comedian Dick Gregory, who was reportedly shot by some unknown demonstrator when he appeared before part of this mob and requested that they stop their demonstrations. With the death toll somewhere near 35 at the present time and literally hundreds injured, what matter of human sense can possibly explain the thinking behind anyone who would spawn such disorder anywhere, knowing the eventual results.

"Just a local problem," "Something that happens there, surely not here", are just a few ways to rationalize away the situation, but regardless of how hard the Negro race tries to cover up this type of tracks, it is absolutely impossible, especially in light of the fact that this kind of thing on a smaller scale occurred at just about the same time in Chicago, Ill.. But regardless of the fact that we here in Texas would like to say that these things happen somewhere else and then breath a sigh of relief, let's first consider the UPI news story released last month concerning the burning to death of a two-year old Negro boy in Dallas because the police and firemen were held back from the fire by a mob of 700 Negroes. When police tried to clear a path through the crowd to get an ambulance and resuscitator brought up in order to attempt to save the child, one officer was quoted as saying he had pushed into the mob to clear a path when a 24-year old woman touched off the whole "demonstration" by shouting that a policeman had "touched me."

Civil rights is one thing, but civil disobedience is something else, and believe me, no one in this country can expect to gain one thing from civil rights in any form if the attainment of such leads anyone else to civil disobedience. No one will ever gain an inch toward "total citizenship" for any group, race or person, if that group or any member of that group wants or expects to get by with anything immorial or unlawful during his quest for that "total citizenship". How can anyone possiblely expect to break any law in an attempt to accomplish equal rights with another person, while demanding at the same time that the other person remain completely within the realm of law and order. You just don't tie a man's hands and then expect him to watch you destroy his world without having your hands tied in the same manner. Two wrongs even in the area of civil rights still don't make a right.

I remember last year talking to a person I highly respect about that summer's civil rights demonstrations, and the feeling he projected to me. "Civil rights", he said, "Should be and must be, rephrased as soon as possible to CIVIL RESPONSIBILITY," "Otherwise", he continued, "The masses of the Negro population in this country today will fall directly into the hands of the people who are preaching race hate in America now." "Then the next step," he predicted, "Will be a general assault on the law enforcement agencies of this country, and this will come soon, if the civil rights leaders don't change soon to CIVIL RESPONSIBILITY leaders." Alas how true! (This is the first installment in a series of articles which will be continued in this column next week).

SBA Chief Urges Regrees To

ness Administrator Eugene P. Foley urged Negroes to become business minded as a step toward assuming a stronger role in the nation's economy.

Foley spoke at a ceremony dedicating the opening of the Watson Meat Company's new plant in Los Angeles, Californai. The plant received a $206,300 loan from the Small Business Administration to expand meat packing operations—the largest SBA loan ever to a Negro firm.

Citing the firm's owner, Albert Watson, as an example for other Negro businessmen to follow, Foley said:

"In the past, a Negro may have had good reason to steer have had good reason to steer clear of going into business for himself. Relegated as he was to very low-income Negro neighbors, he swa little chance to profit from his own business, even if he could scrape together enough money to start one.

"Another deterrent was lack of business know - how and the absence of a source for acquiring it. But times have changed. Today the Negro has a much better chance of obtaining financial and management assistance and an excellent opportunity to expand and prosper and provide jobs for others."

Foley said the first major breakthrough came with an experimental SBA program last year in Philadelphia.

In this program, which he called the forumer of the Economic Opportunity Program (anti-poverty program), SBA loaned small businessmen up to $6,000 for terms of up to six years and provided management assistance where needed. The project was so successful, Foley siad, that similar projects were started in other cities. To date, he added, small firm owners have borrowed more than $3,500,000 under this porgram with about half the money going to Negro businessmen.

This year, Foley said, SBA expanded its experimental project into what is now called the Economic Opportunity Assistance Program, with authority under the Economic Opportunity Act to lend businessmen up to $25,000 for as long as 15 years.

'Around the Hub City'

'AROUND THE HUB CITY" learned this week that typists are wanted at Texas Tech. It makes one wonder exactly how many of you will actually try to take an advantage of this golden opportunity. If you can type why not take a chance....It may pay offin dollars. According to my information the starting salary for a typist is $2,700 a year, and if you are up on your shorthand---well the sky is the limit....

It's up to you young people..... Why not take advantage of it. Don't say you'll try it remember what you are trying has been tried by others.....It'll t r y YOU....

Mrs. Ina Page is a patient at Methodist Hospital-room #318. She had surgery on last Thursday.

Mrs. Sarah Crawford, 1803 Avenue "B", has had two deaths in her family. Both were in Houston.

Mrs. Berdie Hall, wife of Sydney Hall, has gone to Navosota, Texas where she attended the funeral of her mother, Mrs. Edmondson, on last Sunday. She had been ill for some time.

The Dunbar Band is sponsoring a "CAR WASH" on Saturday, August 21st, at the home of their band instructor Mr. Roy Roberts. Please help these students.. After all we want them to go to the Cotton Bowl in Dallas.... "AROUND THE HUB CITY"has not heard from any of our readers in regard to the Dunbar band going to BIG "D". It's quite funny to see grown ups talk in corners of how wonderful the band is and yet refuse to answer with any type of suggestions. Come on Lubbock give us some suggestions....

- 3. Play productions.
- 4. All home football andbasketball games through the district race.
- 5. Annual and identification card photographs.
- 6. All pay assemblies. 7. Student directory.

Teachers and other employees that do not purchase an activity card will pay a dult prices for all school activities. That is teachers will not purchase student tickets to school activities.

Dunbar will play four football games and twelve basketball games at home. Pre-sale tickets for all home football games are $1.00 for a dults and $.50 for students. These tickets are $1.25 and $.75 at the gate. Home basketballgames are $.75 and $.50 through the regular season. NO PRE-SALE TICKETS WILL BE SOLD FOR BASKETBALL GAMES. Students should plan now to get their activity cards early so that they may be used at the beginning of the football season.

Bunton is charged with the hijacking of Elvis E. Fant, an attendant at Walt's Service Station, on late last month.

Fant said he was robbed of $50 at gunpoint. Bunton was immediately arrested by patrolmen on basis of a description given to them by Fant within less than thirty minutes after the holdup.
