Axis Massing Large Fleets For Defense

Allied Spokesman Admits There's A Tough Job Ahead
LONDON, Nov. 24. (AP)—A violently erupting struggle for air supremacy was fought over Tunisia and along the axis Mediterranean shuttle route today while British and American forces on the ground were getting set for the all-out assault upon Tunis and Bizerte, once the enemy is driven from the North African skies.

Reds Advance—Arrows indicate general direction and extent of strong new Red army counter-offensive which Russians reported had put thousands of Germans to rout. The two-pronged move resulted in Russian occupation of Kalach, 50 miles west of Stalingrad, while another column pushing southwestward had occupied rail town of Abganerovo. Germans admitted Nazis were fighting 'heavy defensive battles' south of Stalingrad and in great loop of Don river west of city, apparently in Kalach area.

Dr. Bob Shuler Guest Speaker

A luncheon was given at the First Christian church Monday afternoon with local ministers and their wives as special guests.

Mrs. Willard Read presided at the luncheon sponsored by the First Christian Council, and introduced Dr. Bob Shuler, guest speaker.

Dr. I. E. Reynolds, conducting special music at the city wide revival, sang "Open My Eyes," accompanied by Mrs. K. H. Kirkpatrick. Guests were introduced and the devotional was given by the Rev. J. E. McCoy. The Rev. Blair Morris gave the benediction. Betty Jo Gay sang "One Sweetly Solenn Thought," accompanied by Roberta Gay.

A business meeting followed the luncheon and Mrs. A. G. Hall was elected as world call chairman.

December 6 was named as Woman's Day at the church at which time women will be in charge of the program.

Two boxes were packed for the Juliette Fowler Orphanage, and an appeal was made for women to help with Red Cross activities.

Those attending the luncheon were W. J. Eukhoff, Mrs. L. B. Bennett, Mrs. Rex Gomillion, Mrs. Howard C. Kyle, Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Baker, Rev. O. C. Carpenter of Coahoma, the Rev. and Mrs. R. Elmer Dunham, the Rev. Ivy Bohanan, Mrs. Dee Carpenter, Karen Carpenter.

Mrs. Dick O'Brien, Dr. I. E. Reynolds, Mrs. Ivy Bohanan, the Rev. R. E. Bowden, Maj. L. W. Canning, Mrs. Mary E. Dell, Mrs. I. D. Edkins, Mrs. F. M. Purer, Mrs. George Owens, Mrs. W. M. Taylor, Mrs. A. M. Runyan, Mrs. Glass Glenn.

Mrs. Earl Read, Mrs. L. A. Eubanks, Mrs. C. M. Shaw, Mrs. C. E. Manning, Mrs. J. J. Greene and Mrs. Harry Lees.

Miss Laneous Notes

We read in the paper with interest of a new sort of regulation being fathered in the brains of our lawmakers, who have more laws now than an ordinary body can observe in a span of living.

The new wrinkle, just to keep their hand in the law making business, would propose that a regulation be made into law punishing hoarders for hoarding everything from canned goods to stock.

Understand, we don't believe in people who rush down and buy out available supplies of nylon hose, enough coffee to last the two member family for ten years, and enough sugar to sweeten that amount of coffee.

We think it is definitely un-American and non-patriotic for housewives to start riots and call out over-worked police squads to protect the buyers from each other when the rumor gets around that there is a pair of silk hose at such and such a store.

Also we frown on people who had to move the car out of the garage to make room for the canned goods that they bought.

But also we think that all lawmakers who go to Washington as our representatives ought to take an elementary course in mob psychology before donning the mantle of a learned man. Any high school student could tell these men of responsibility what will happen when they pop off for months in advance that "there may be a coffee shortage . . . no sugar to be left in the country . . . not enough food being raised this year for half the country . . . production from farms is falling off" . . . and so on.

As American as the hot dog is the desire of every family to provide for its own. Stop the lurid warnings of food shortages that emanate every week from Washington and the panic buying will stop.

About 2,300 U. S. cities with a total population of 1-2 million depend on private cars because they have no transit systems and 54,000 communities, lacking railroad facilities, depend on trucks and buses.

Letter To Editor—Points To Harm Resulting From Beer Drinking

To the Editor:

As a subscriber and reader of your paper may I have the privilege of criticizing some of the articles you have published of late? I say articles, for such they appear to be to the unobservant reader. To be sure I realize the articles to which I refer are really paid advertising, but their type of presentation and subtle suggestions are far more deceptive than those which come out in bold type as advertising. Yes, Mr. Editor, I am referring to those degrading, deceptive little ads known as "From Where I Sit," by Joe Marsh. Personally, I am sick of seeing this type of "bunk" in our paper, and if I had small children who might know no better than to believe it was written by a good sensible man and was therefore to be believed, I should be forced to forego the pleasure of having my home town paper in my home in order to protect my child from evil influence. The last of these articles presented a challenge for those who said beer was detrimental to prove it. I accept that challenge!

It has been definitely proven that only two glasses of beer affect nerve control and muscle coordination to such an extent that an individual who, normally, could put on his car brakes in one fifth of a second, after taking the beer will be slowed to two fifths of a second. If a car is traveling sixty miles per hour, this will mean the car will travel approximately 17 feet farther and this frequently means the difference between life and death in motor accidents! The drunken driver is less dangerous than the beer drinker who is perfectly sure that the beer is not affecting him in the least. If a baby ran 15 feet in front of a car a normal driver could stop, but not the beer drinker. Perfectly harmless, is it?

I have talked, personally, to habitual drunkards who regretfully told me they had never expected to become a victim of the drink habit, but after drinking beer for a time, they found it created a craving for stronger drink and were unable to break the habit. As the present beer-is-using-many-vital-war-materials—each year 400,000,000 beer bottle caps are being made though we have a shortage of tin, 80,000 tons of steel is used for hoops for beer barrels, 144,877,697 pounds of sugar and syrup, 441,000,000 pounds of corn and corn products, 2,000,000,000 pounds of malt from barley, 189,000,000 pounds of rice. Beer, also, uses up the production of 3,000,000 acres of land and thousands of workers needed in beneficial industries. Transportation is a problem and yet 28,000 railroad cars are used to transport beer and 200,000 tons of coal burned up. The liquor bill for 1941 would have built 8,000 cargo vessels.

I could go on and on telling you why we oppose beer. Personally, I would like to know of one single instance where beer has proved helpful. Don't let them fool you, keep informed, and Mr. Editor, please do your best to keep our home town paper clean.

Respectfully yours,
 MRS. R. E. BOWDEN.

'Mystery Of Death' Delafield's Topic

"The Mystery of Death" will be the topic of Evangelist R. E. Delafield's lecture this evening at 7:45 at the Voice of Prophecy auditorium on East 1st street.

Next Saturday morning the local Seventh-Day Adventist church at 12th and Bunnels will be dedicated as a debt-free building and on Sunday evening Delafield will inaugurate a revival meeting in this church, transferring from the downtown auditorium. His first subject, Sunday evening, will be "The Unpardonable Sin."

Club Meets At Settles For Bridge

A huge pumpkin surrounded with ears of corn formed the table center piece when Mrs. R. H. Miller entertained the Leisure Club with dinner and bridge at the Settles Hotel Monday evening.

Sub Depot Group Have Weiner Roast And Dance

Employees and enlisted men of the Sub Depot at the Big Spring Bomber School had a weiner roast recently at the City Park. Following the picnic the group had a dance at the concession house on Seaside Mountain.

Around 120 people attended.

DURATION SUIT: Both jacket and skirt of this rayon gabardine tulleur are adjustable at the waistline, designed for wear with or without a girdle, planned to save alteration costs. Hat can be worn five ways.

Pvt. Fey Speaks To Skyettes

An invitation to attend a dance to be held at the Big Spring Bomber School was extended Monday night to the Skyette club members who met at the Settles hotel for discussion.

Pvt. Donald Fey, of the Special Services office, invited club members to attend the event to which other local girls will be invited.

The Saturday night dance will be held at the recreation hall as soon as the building is completed which will be some time after December 12th, Pvt. Fey said. An orchestra will be furnished and the girls will dress in formal gowns.

The girls will be transported to the dance in buses.

Helen Duley presided at the business session when it was voted to extend October dues for the months of November and December.

Further details on the dance will be announced later, Pvt. Fey said.

Turkey Orders Not So Large

A steady stream of orders from housewives for Thanksgiving turkeys was reported by grocers yesterday and today, but the number placed was relatively small, indicating that the housewife may be planning to take dinner out or that the feast will be on roast beef, pork or baked hen.

Most butchers, buying dressed birds locally, believe their supplies will be adequate to meet the demand and stated that a few turkeys would be kept on hand through Tuesday, and some as late as Wednesday afternoon, but the majority of markets are not expecting a buying rush and therefore will not be equipped to handle one.

Local supplies, from both dressing plants and farmers, are proving adequate for present orders, and no arrangements will be made to ship in any turkeys.

City Parking Is Plea Of City Dads

City officials are distressed over the non-observance of parking regulations and the extravagant use of space by motorists in the downtown sections.

"We have gone to a lot of time and expense to paint white lines marking off the spaces," City Manager Boyd McDaniel said, "and our efforts are wasted unless citizens comply by parking within the lines."

Adding that city police hesitated passing out traffic tickets to those who ignored the markings, McDaniel said it nevertheless would be necessary to use some other method in enforcing the regulations unless parkers voluntarily corrected the situation.

"I know you've got Thanksgiving Dinner all planned! But..."

"I bet you'd plumb forgot about Thanksgiving breakfast, now hadn't you? Well . . ."

"You can make breakfast a special feast, too—by serving buttered Calumet Baking Powder Biscuits with jam or honey butter!"

"And when you see how extra flaky and tender these special-recipe biscuits are, you can give your thanks to Calumet's dependable double-action. Because that's what does it!"

CALUMET BAKING POWDER BISCUITS

2 cups sifted flour
 2 teaspoons Calumet Baking Powder
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 4 tablespoons shortening
 3/4 cup milk (about)

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift again. Cut in shortening. Add milk gradually, stirring until soft dough is formed. Turn out on lightly floured board and knead 30 seconds, or enough to shape. Roll 1/4 inch thick and cut with floured 3-inch biscuit cutter. Bake on ungreased baking sheet in hot oven (450° F.)

12 to 15 minutes. Makes 12 biscuits.

JELLY OR JAM BISCUITS: Remove biscuits from oven; split in halves. Brush with melted butter and spread with 1/2 cup jelly or jam. Put halves together. Reheat and serve.

HONEY BISCUITS: Cream 1/2 cup butter; add 1/2 cup honey, and blend. Remove biscuits from oven; split in halves, and spread with honey-butter mixture. Put halves together and serve with remaining honey mixture.

(All measurements are level.)

Cotton Pickers Are Leaving This Area

O. R. Rodden of the United States Employment Service said many cotton pickers were beginning to return home since the arrival of cold weather.

Greater portion of the harvest in this section has already been taken care of, however, and a rather general exodus was to be expected at this time.

In the 35-year period ending in 1935, twelve years were added to the average expectation of life at birth in the United States.

By GEORGE STIMPSON Herald Washington Correspondent Don't forget to lay some money aside to pay taxes next March, may be steeper than you're figuring on. . . . More and more happenings in Washington becoming hush-hush and secret. . . . Senate filibuster serves good purpose of keeping Congress from meddling with Army and Navy while winning battles in Solomons and North Africa. . . . Congressman Lindley Beckwith, leaning against back wall, papers under arm, listening to Senate debate; Representatives have privilege of Senate floor and Senators privilege of House floor, but few members take advantage of it.

Chester W. Journey, Senate sergeant-at-arms since 1933, looks more like senator than most senators, born 63 years ago, Baylor graduate, around Congress 45 years, secretary to Congressman Robert Henry of Waco in 1897, same to Culberson from 1903 to 1923, clerk to Senate judiciary committee 1913 to 1919, ten years secretary to Senator Royal Copeland of New York, defeated for Texas congressman at large in 1932 primary, only officer who would have power to arrest President of United States, silver-haired, dark clothes of formal cut, white handkerchief in front coat pocket, almost came to "Journey's end" when ordered to arrest filibustering Senator McKellar of Tennessee to compel attendance at session. So many Texans figure in war news that "join army or navy and help Texas win war" becoming by word here. . . . Going rounds in story of Texas boy in Solomons who wrote home saying Americans and British fighting side by side with Texans. W. A. Brooks, Dallas business man, gives dinner; among those present Senator and Mrs. Connally, Mr. and Mrs. Antonio Campdera of Dallas, Representative and Mrs. Lindley Beckwith; Brooks has son in uniform; wife and daughter go to North Carolina to meet his fiancée whom they have never seen.

For years have known Milton S. Eisenhower, younger brother of General Eisenhower; unlike his general brother not born in Denmark, but at Abilene, Texas; worked on newspapers, taught journalism, many years prominent official in Agriculture Department here, consular service, now OWI Elmer Davis, assistant. Keeps me humping, meeting all these Texans here and keeping track of them. . . . "Any interference of aggressive action with regard to the actual conduct of military and naval operations," says Senator Connally, "is not within the functions of the Congress, and it should not undertake to exercise a function which is beyond its scope." . . . Joe Chapman of Mount Pleasant, attorney with federal trade commission, commissioned in Navy. Never saw President Roosevelt look better than at today's White House press conference; glad tidings from front has perked him up. . . . Have just learned why barbers shave upper lip first; capital barber says breath dries up leather in that area. . . . Earle Godwin, Ford-hour newscaster, only person besides President and staff who sits during press conference, sort of seniority privilege. . . . Ed Angley, famous war correspondent now in Pacific theatre, is son of J. F. Angley, Palestine banker. . . . Dr. Roy B. Nutter, used to practice medicine in Waco, went to Panama as physician for United Fruit, now head hospital in Tegucigalpa, Honduras, says can remember Tom Connally when he was so tall and slender could have worn double-barreled shotgun for pants. . . . Philbuster recalls that once I sat in press gallery while Huey Long talked continuously for 16 hours, from about 4 in afternoon until nearly 8 next morning. . . . Camille Chautemps, twice French premier, came to Washington after fall of France, familiar figure in capital, offers services to new French army.

Thumb-nail sketch of Hampton Gary, solicitor United States Import-Export Bank; Born Tyler 69 years ago, practiced law at Tyler, came to Washington in 1914 as referee in bankruptcy, standing master in chancery in United States Court, State Department Counsel, diplomatic agent in Egypt, at front in Palestine with General Allenby, attended Versailles peace conference, minister to Switzerland, practiced law at Washington and New York, general counsel and member of federal communications commission, member Texas House of Representatives, captain of volunteers Spanish-American war, colonel in Texas national guard, and a grand person.

Had coffee at Capitol with Congressman Eugene Worley of Amarillo; was on active duty in Navy eight months, mostly in Pacific, lieutenant-commander in naval reserves, says we are not losing war. . . . Press Building cafeteria turned me down on second cup of coffee tonight. . . . Applicants for Army commissions should not apply to War Department in Washington but to officer procurement offices, Dallas, San Antonio, Houston. Don't send me Christmas presents this year, please; use money to buy war savings stamps. War Department announces soldiers' medal to two Texans: Sgt. Clarence D. Leach, of Hamilton, for saving valuable government property from destruction by an accidental oil fire at Camp Adair, Oregon; and Cpl. James M. Gilbreath, of Winnsboro, enlisted at Lubbock, military policeman, for heroism in saving women from attack and delivering would-be attacker to civilian authorities at Orlando, Fla.

Officer Dies From Gas, Wife Found Unconscious OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 24. (AP) Capt. F. G. Davis, Jr., 30-year-old Will Rogers Field aerial observer and service pilot, was found dead and his wife unconscious at their home early today. Acting Coroner Evert Crismore said a preliminary investigation indicated that his death presumably was caused by leaking gas from a wall furnace. Captain Davis and his wife were found by two Will Rogers Field officers who called at the home to take the captain to the air base. Crismore said no official verdict would be given until army air force doctors had completed an investigation. Captain Davis, whose parents live in Houston, Tex., came to Will Rogers Field Sept. 18. He is a native of Corpus Christi. The colors of New York City's flag—blue, white and orange—are the same which floated over Manhattan island under Dutch rule, more than 300 years ago.

Many Mistakes In Applications For Extra Gas

Approximately 80 percent of the supplemental applications of passenger car owners asking for more than the basic "A" mileage ration, are being turned down by the local war price and ration board since the applications are not correctly filled out, Walter Wilson, ration board clerk reminded today.

Since regulations state that the board cannot pass on applications unless they are correctly filled in, a reminder is sent to the car owners who need extra gas, to re-examine the following items, the most common errors found on the applications now being considered.

First, many fail to put down the serial number of the basic "A" book on the supplemental application.

Second, many fail to sign their application and third, a majority have put down their estimated mileage in the wrong column on the form. The supplemental forms request the information from the motorist on his average monthly need for gas "for the following three months." Many interpret this to mean an estimate of how much gasoline they will need in a three month's period.

Most of the requests for extra gas are based on legitimate needs, the ration board said, and those who have applied are asked to wait until they are notified by the board to come into the office for the supplemental books.

Terracing operations, held in check by a slowly progressing harvest, are now showing signs of revival, the Soil Conservation Service office reported here Tuesday.

D. W. Christian, Jr., is starting on terraces which will protect a three-quarter section place. In addition, his mother's 200-acre field will be terraced.

Work is underway in building the dirt structures on the Dr. O. E. Wolfe place in the Ackerly area. First a 30-acre field will be protected, then machinery will be moved to the 240-acre field.

Lines for terraces are being run on the W. A. Burchell field east of Knott, and will be run the latter part of the week on the R. T. Shafter place near Vincent.

Good news for the SCB was word from R. L. Warren that he is ready for lines to be run on an 80-acre field which he acquired just north of town. The place was left out of a model demonstration, the first undertaken by the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation district, here two seasons back. When it comes in, it will give the demonstration a spread of two solid sections. Already the terraces and farming practices have proven beneficial and the north and eastern tip of the city's lowlands was spared an acute flood in August because the continuing terraces held back the bulk of a young cloudburst.

Commercial Users Of Coffee Must Sign By Tomorrow

Institutional coffee users, which includes such establishments as hospitals, cafes and boarding houses are not taking notice that Tuesday and Wednesday are the last days for them to register at the local war price and ration board for their December and January coffee allotments, ration board officials advised today.

The institutional users of the rationed coffee must apply at the board either today or tomorrow with a certified statement showing the amount of coffee which they used during September and October of 1942 and the amount of coffee which they now have on hand.

After this statement is approved by the board, institutional users will be able to buy coffee through regular consumers will not be able to purchase the article until the week's freeze is over at midnight, November 28th.

Polish Jews Being Exterminated By Gestapo Schedule

LONDON, Nov. 24. (AP)—The Polish government-in-exile asserted today that Heinrich Himmler, Nazi Gestapo chief, had ordered the extermination of one-half of the Jewish population of Poland by the end of the year and that 250,000 had been killed through September under that program.

"According to information leaking from the German labor office (Arbeitsamt), only 40,000 Jews are to remain in the Warsaw ghetto—only thoroughly skilled workers to be employed in the German war industry," a government statement said.

"The most convincing proof of the dwindling numbers in the Ghetto lies in the fact that for September, 1942, 120,000 ration cards were printed; for October, the number issued was only 40,000."

Red Cross Articles Are Getting To The Boys, Who Prove It With Thanks

Wonder if these things actually get to the boys?

This is a question raised quite innocently but often by volunteer Red Cross workers—and this item is an answer to it.

"Words cannot express my appreciation for your kindness in sending the sweaters for this organization," wrote Capt. John J. Vogel, headquarters 960th air base security battalion, from Camp Ripley, Minn. "The weather is getting pretty cold here and the men sure welcome this additional comfort. Sufficient have been received for all and they thank you individually. I am hoping they will, but in the meantime, I am thanking you on their behalf.

"This is only one of the many comforts the Red Cross has provided my men and I want to assure you it is well appreciated. . . . Good luck in your fine work and thanks again."

And from Major Harry E. Balmer, commanding the battalion: "I desire to thank your chapter for the fine sweaters received for the men. . . . Our climate is such that they are greatly appreciated. The sweaters are being worn at this time. Our first snow was Sept. 25th this year (four and a half inches) and temperatures are increasing lower each day. You may rest assured that your efforts in our behalf are greatly appreciated. For the men, THANKS."

Sweaters sent were well knitted turtle-neck models done in heavy khaki thread. Each represented "at least two weeks time by some volunteer in the chapter," said Mrs. Sawtelle.

More helpers are sorely needed at the chapter headquarters opposite the postoffice. Some 300 soldier kits have been sent out and around 400 have been made and now are ready for filling.

There is still a big demand for sweaters for sailors and marines as well as for the soldiers.

Similarly, a demand exists for sewing serviceable civilian garments in event of disaster or enemy attack.

And women can still be used in the preparation of bandages for use by the armed forces.

Any woman who puts in her time may be sure that wherever she does to help will get to where it will be used.

Here 'n There

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Wilson, Jr., had not heard from their son, Bill, since they visited him at Seattle and Esmeron, Wash., in October until they got a letter Monday. Bill, formerly in the RCAF and now in the U. S. Navy aboard a destroyer, wrote that things were fine, that he couldn't mention his whereabouts or the weather. He added that he probably would not be back in the States until after Christmas.

Fan mail for Shine Phillips comes from a long way off and from interesting persons. One of the latest is from Allen Burleson, head of the West Pittson (Pa.) Iron Works which employs 600 men. He had lived here from the early days of the town until he and had made his own way to the top of his concern. He wrote to say what thrill Shine's book, BIG SPRING, had given him. Jeane Suits Eagle (who once was Herald Society editor) wrote from Chicago to say how happy she was over getting the book. One West Texas literary club sent a clipping of an account of a review of the book, and a school in an adjacent town was making an offer for a personal appearance by the author. Incidentally, the American News Co. has placed an order for 1,000 additional copies of BIG SPRING, which now is in its fourth printing.

This, suggests public relations of the Big Spring Bomber School, "pippin' of a story." Hastening to be done with the pun, it added that 2nd Lt. Vance B. Pippin, Hartshorn, Okla., had reported for duty at the school with the quartermaster.

Navy Recruiting Volume Takes A Sudden Jump

In a return to its old form, the U. S. Navy recruiting sub-station Dallas announced the shipment of 250 men to the district office in Dallas for completion of enlistments.

Most of the youths went for general service and most of them were 18 or 19-year-olds, said Fred Baucum, recruiter in charge. Baucum said that he had two colored boys signed for mess attendants, reflecting an increased interest among the negro population in naval service where they are needed.

Among the young men shipped were: Vernon Clinton Smith, son of C. O. Smith, Big Spring; Morris J. Richie, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. T. Richie, Midland; Thomas Henry Weaver, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Weaver, Big Spring; Carter Flowers, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Carter Flowers, Midland; Herbert Davis Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Smith, Fluvanna; Claud Edwin Gray, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Gray, Lamesa; James Wesley Akin, Odessa.

Milton Alfred Cate, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Cate, Big Spring, and James Harold Craig, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Craig, Big Spring, went in for V-5, aviation cadet; and Floyd Wilson Price, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Price, Lorraine, went in for construction battalion (Sea Bees).

Poultry Culling Demonstrations Being Given

Howard county's farm and home demonstration agents were in the field Tuesday giving demonstrations in culling of poultry flocks.

Monday morning they conducted this type of demonstration at the home of Mrs. Hart Phillips, in the Overton community.

Culling is considered particularly important now because of the price of eggs and of poultry. With egg returns at a peak, it is vital to weed out the non-layers in flocks and avoid wasting of feed on those which will not produce. At the same time, poultry prices are high and non-producers will have a ready market as tasty morsels for the table.

FSA Debts Are Being Retired

Farm Security Administration clients in Howard and Glasscock counties are doing exactly what the government has advised, according to new applications received recently, said Dr. D. Kendrick, supervisor, Tuesday.

Not only are the producers putting in more meat producing animals and more poultry, but they also are liquidating their indebtedness, said Kendrick.

He had anticipated that perhaps a dozen would completely retire FSA accounts this year considering that last year had been such a phenomenally good one for debt settlement. To date 14 have paid off in full and Kendrick added that "I am sure there will be many more."

Still, there are many applications—enough of them new ones to keep the loan total about the same for the next year, he predicted. While the number may be down, there is a tendency to increase borrowed amounts to cover investments in more beef cattle and hogs, for more chickens, for more dairy cattle and for more plants and seed that will return food.

"Where we have been stressing home supply first of all," observed Kendrick, "we are now encouraging the production of food stuffs, meat, dairy and poultry products for market, and our constituents are responding nobly almost without exception."

Services Set Thanksgiving

The annual city-wide Thanksgiving service will be held at 9:30 o'clock Thursday morning at the First Methodist church with the Rev. Bob Shuler in charge of the service.

The sermon topic and program will be announced Wednesday in The Herald, the Rev. R. E. Bowden, secretary of the pastor's association, said today.

During the service, Roosevelt's prayer will be heard over the radio by those attending. The service will close promptly at 11 o'clock.

Also, during the day, the First Methodist church will be opened for a continual prayer service for those who may come during the day.

Monday night, the Rev. Bob Shuler spoke on the transgressions of man against God and declared that God's plan for man had been defeated by man's transgressions and that man has pitted his own will against the will of the infinite. The visiting pastor, who is in the last week of the two week city-wide revival declared that "God's little minority will not stop," and that they will not be defeated.

Jack Stiff Taken For Army Service

Jack R. Stiff, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Stiff, has been accepted by the U. S. Army recruiting station here and sent to Lubbock for enlistment, Sgt. Edwin R. Turner, recruiter, said Tuesday.

Stiff went into the air corps, unassigned.

Robert H. Mendoza, son of Mrs. Gregorio R. Mendoza, enlisted, expressing coast artillery preference.

Trade Groups Ready To Help In Getting Federal Red Tape Slashed

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24. (AP)—Trade associations jumped in today to help Senators Byrd (D-Va.) and Vandenberg (R-Mich.) cut the red tape which they contend is holding needed manpower to the job of preparing countless government reports and questionnaires.

Vandenberg told reporters he had received assurances from a number of trade groups that they would provide the joint committee on reducing non-essential expenditures with detailed surveys of the manhours consumed in compiling reports and their cost to business firms.

Byrd said the committee, of which he is chairman, planned to hear leading business men outline the difficulties they have encountered in keeping the government informed on practically everything they do.

As an example, Vandenberg said one Chicago pharmaceutical manufacturer employing 2,000 persons had told him of spending $68,000 in the last year getting up reports and answering questionnaires which government departments had sent to his company.

Vandenberg said he was informed that virtually identical information was demanded by nine different agencies, adding:

Each one of these reports reminded the manufacturer that he would go to jail if he didn't answer."

It was this sort of thing, Vandenberg continued, that caused a joint conference committee on the last tax bill to change the method of filing reports in connection with the new 5 per cent victory tax which goes into effect Jan. 1.

The Michigan senator said he read to the committee a letter from a Syracuse, N. Y., manufacturer, who contended that if separate reports were necessary on that particular tax, it would require a freight car to haul all of his data to Washington.

More persons in the United States are killed in the course of farm work than in any other one industry.

Boston College Moves To Top In Experts' Rating Of Grid Teams

Georgia Tech Is Rated A Close Second

NEW YORK, Nov. 24. (AP)—It took a little time, a little patience and a little help from Auburn, but Boston College finally made the grade and today the unbeaten, untied Eagles are the class of the nation's college football teams, according to 118 experts who voted in the Associated Press poll.

No better than third in any of the previous weekly polls, the Eagles took over the top spot after Georgia's Bulldogs, first-place choice for the past month, were bounced from the unbeaten ranks by Auburn Saturday, 27-13.

Georgia Tech, runner-up to the Bulldogs in recent weeks and logical successor to the throne, missed the No. 1 rating by a matter of 34 points and remained in second place, although the engineers polled more first-place votes than Boston's Eagles.

After spilling Florida, 20-7, for its ninth straight win, Tech was listed first on 50 ballots while only 47 sports writers voted the lead to a Boston college club that trampled Boston University, 37-0, for its eighth in a row. However, the Eagles drew 50 second-place votes to 36 for Tech and wound up with 1,073 points, compared with 1,044 for the Engineers.

The standings of the top ten teams (first-place votes in parentheses, points figured on 10-9-8-7 etc. basis):

1. Boston College (47) 1073
2. Georgia Tech (50) 1044
3. Ohio State (16) 904
4. Wisconsin (2) 694
5. Georgia (1) 616
6. Tulsa (1) 577
7. Alabama 288
8. Notre Dame 281
9. Michigan 279
10. Tennessee 197

Sixty-eight of the 69 voters who named Georgia Tech first a week ago hopped off the Bulldog bandwagon and Georgia slipped to fifth place in the standings as it started pointing for its showdown with Georgia Tech.

Ohio State, a notch behind fourth-place Michigan last week, gained prestige and the Big Ten title by clipping the Wolverines, 21-7. With 15 first-place votes, the Buckeyes moved into third place as Michigan dropped to ninth.

Wisconsin, in seventh place the last two weeks, jumped to fourth and Tulsa, the only team in the group besides Boston and Georgia Tech to boast an all-victorious record, remained in sixth place.

The second ten in the rankings: 11—U.C.L.A., 88; tie for 12—Santa Clara and Stanford, 72 each; 14—Southern California, 34; 15—Washington state (1), 29; tie for 16—Auburn and Mississippi State, 20 each; 18—Texas, 19; 19—William and Mary, 17; 20—Minnesota, 16.

45,000 Due To See Longhorn-Aggie Game Thursday

By The Associated Press
All seven Southwest conference football clubs were down today for the week's schedule of games which finds two contests slated for Thanksgiving Day and the other two on Saturday.

The "big push" of the week occurs in Austin, Memorial Stadium, where 45,000 fans are expected to watch the University of Texas Longhorns and the Texas Aggies renew their annual rivalry.

Texas was not expected to be at top strength. End Wallace Scott may not play and Roy Dale Mc-

Rubber In Texas Wears Out Too, Says Jeffers

AUSTIN, Nov. 24. (AP)—There is no gasoline shortage in Texas but rubber on Texans' cars will wear out just as fast as rubber in New York, Rubber Administrator William M. Jeffers asserted in a telegram answering changes by Lieut. Gov. Elect John Lee Smith.

"The only object of gasoline rationing, speed limitation, periodic tire inspection and group riding wherever possible is to conserve rubber to the end that we may keep this nation on rubber so that there will not be an economic breakdown in the commercial life of the United States during the period in which synthetic rubber supplies are being developed," Jeffers said yesterday.

Answering a query of Smith's, Jeffers stated that his recent statement about opposition to rationing "by people who should know better" referred to thousands of post cards from two areas neither of which was in oil producing states.

Smith, answering Jeffers, wanted to know why gasoline was rationed in eastern states "due to a shortage of gasoline because there was inadequate transportation and months later rubber conservation was injected as the reason for rationing gasoline in the west and south."

More In Mitchell Are Reclassified

COLORADO CITY, Nov. 24.—Recent reclassifications listed by the Mitchell county selective service board include the following: placed in 1A: Oddis E. Hays, Walter F. Brown, James O. Barry, Leon T. Parlah, Olan H. Buntan, and Terillard Rodriguez.

In class 1C were J. D. Boyd, William L. Fox, T. M. French, Doyle R. Mitchell, Oscar E. Rhoda, Willie V. Ward, Judge R. Fuller, Cecil R. Fox.

Listed as 2A were Floyd C. Morgan, Herman W. Ornelos, John L. Shropshire, Roy Cox, Jr., Joe L. Cox, and Francis J. Redford.

W. John Blassingame, Ralph D. Rankin and Robert J. Markes were reclassified 3B.

Otto Graham Nears A New Pass Record

EVANSTON, Ill., Nov. 24. (AP)—Otto Graham of Northwestern gets the honor of being the best player on the best team ever to finish in the Western conference cellar.

But the halfback's sensational football exploits have not been for a lost cause, although the Wildcats have had their darkest season in 20 years—one win in nine starts. Graham has been in there pitching all the time, blazing a trail of records in an attempt to lead his team out of the woods.

Hitting the target with 79 of 155 passes for 1,013 yards, Graham already has pushed last year's aerial marks of Notre Dame's Angelo Bertelli into discard and can append them further with only a mediocre day against the Great Lakes Bluejackets in Northwestern's final game Thursday.

Bertelli's midwest records of number of passes (124) and completions (70) have been smashed, and if Graham can pitch only a few passes over the Sailors he will surpass Bertelli's last season gain of 1,037.

He also needs 104 yards—by passing or running—to eclipse Tommy Harmon's total offensive conference record of 1,256 yards compiled in his 1939 junior year at Michigan. Graham's average per game has been 162.

Two More Days For Gasoline Registration

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
NEW YORK, Nov. 24. (AP)—Heard at the latest post: A William and Mary supporter can blame himself for what those North Carolina Pre-Flight footballers did to the previously unbeaten Indians last Saturday. He went around to the Cloudbustlers hotel that morning with a wad of dough to bet and by the time Jimmy Crowley got around to giving his athletes a pep talk, they told him, "Coach, we have to win." The man responsible for the return bout between Lou Salica and Manuel Ortiz for the bantamweight championship in the Mexico City bull ring, Jan. 1, is none other than Brig. Gen. J. J. Phelan, head of the New York Boxing Commission. Michigan may raise the "take" from the fair grounds horse-race bettors from 7-1-1 per cent to ten per cent, giving the racing association an extra half per cent, or about $30,000 in an ordinary season.

QUOTE, UNQUOTE
Lon Stiner, Oregon State grid coach: "Monday morning quarterback aren't nearly as tough on losing coaches this year; they're too busy second-guessing the generals and admirals."

Clair Bee, Long Island U. basketball pilot: "Frankly, I can't tell my freshmen apart. They all look alike—discouraging."

Steve Owen, master-mind of the New York Football Giants: "The best way to stop Don Hutson is to let him catch a pass in the end zone. Then he can't catch another until they get the ball again."

Auto Quota For December Lower

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24. (AP)—The Office of price administration today established at 28,000 the quota of new passenger automobiles for rationing in December. This compared with the November quota of 35,000.

The quota does not include station, regional and national reserves set up to meet requirements that may develop in excess of it. State reserves for December totaled 710, regional reserves, 2,100, and the national reserve 4,000.

Death In The War A 'Good Bargain'

TROY, N. Y., Nov. 24. (AP)—An American army pilot, flying the skies of Australia and New Guinea, feels "it is good bargain and worth dying for."

In a letter received today by his mother, Mrs. R. C. Dodd, in nearby Stephentown, Lt. Bradley Johnson wrote:

"I feel that if I should get picked off on one of our missions, it will have been for a good reason. I feel that ours is about the best reason for dying that there could be, and if I should get killed I want you to know that I feel it is a good bargain and worth dying for."

Agar-agar is the Malayan name for a seaweed used for medicinal purposes.

Steers Lose Services Of Two Regulars

The Big Spring Steers looked about as usual Monday as they went through their regular workout in preparation for their annual Thanksgiving classic with the Sweetwater Mustangs.

There were times when they showed considerable fire in their workout—and they were in there trying all afternoon long. This has been one of the virtues of the team all year. No matter how the day was going, the Steers have been trying.

Two regular members of the backfield will be missing Thursday. Dewey Stevenson, steady quarterback, is due to be out due to injuries sustained in the San Angelo and Abilene games. Ernest Bostick, despite a well-intended ruse to get back into the line-up, wound up at the doctor's office on orders from Coach John Bostick and probably will be out as was the case last week.

The line will be intact and probably in better condition than against Abilene. Glen Brown's hip is coming around and Peppy Blount's game ankle probably will be in condition to carry his kicking toe into the fray. John Ulrey and Red Cagle will be ready on the other end and Bob Boykin, tackle, Darrell Webb and Bob Coffee, guards, and Billy Bob McDonald and Barley Woods, centers, are in solid shape.

33 Straight For Phillips Griddler

By The Associated Press
The Phillips Blackhaws carry Texas schoolboy football's longest winning streak into the bi-district round of the class A football playoff this week.

The Blackhaws have now won 33 straight. Their last victory was Friday night as they beat Canadian 28-0 for their third consecutive district championship. They also have two regional titles to their credit and will be seeking another as they battle Hereford in the first round.

Howard Payne And Hardin-Simmons To Renew Rivalry

ABILENE, Nov. 24. (AP)—One of the southwest's oldest intercollegiate rivalries will be resumed Thursday at Brownwood when the undefeated Hardin-Simmons Cowboys clash with Howard Payne.

Howard Payne is champion of the Texas conference and Hardin-Simmons is leading the Border conference race.

El Paso Will Stage Annual Bowl Game

EL PASO, Nov. 24. (AP)—The 8th annual Sun Bowl game reappeared on the New Year's Day football docket today, after having been cancelled because of the war.

The bowl committee has reversed its field and is now looking for a couple of football teams to square off here for a benefit performance from which all proceeds above expenses will go to army and navy relief organizations.

Dr. Bob Homan Jr., chairman of the selection committee, said feelers already had gone out to several teams, and the choice would be made by the first week in December.

Prominently mentioned as likely contestants were Hardin-Simmons, which leads the Border conference, Tulsa, the second air base team at Fort George Wright in Washington, St. Mary's Pre-Flight and Coach Bernie Bierman's Iowa Seahawks.

Tulsa Destined For Trouble In Arkansas Game

TULSA, Okla., Nov. 24. (AP)—A nine-year jinx collides with the University of Tulsa's bowl-boomed footballers Thanksgiving Day.

The jinx is Arkansas.

And what the Razorbacks could do to Tulsa, well, look at Georgia. The last time Tulsa downed the Razorbacks in this traditional Turkey Day game was in 1933. Since then, the best the Golden Hurricane has been able to do was tie in 1934 and 1938.

While Arkansas hasn't won a game in the Southwest conference this season, the Razorbacks usually bring that added something along with them to Tulsa for the renewal of a rivalry that dates back to 1801.

Henry Frka, coaching his first season at Tulsa last year, finished an otherwise successful schedule by losing to Arkansas, 13-8. He hasn't recovered yet from the howls of the Tulsa fans.

Frka is doing his best to keep the undefeated, untied Hurricane from thinking about bowl possibilities until after the Arkansas game.

"This bowl business is bad psychology," said Frka. "On the record up to now, we ought to get in the underdogs seat and stay there. The bowl talk can wait until we wind up the season Thursday. This Arkansas game is going to be a very difficult one."

We Take The Long Road Back

A former commander of the Japanese fleet made the prediction recently that the United Nations would seek to recapture the Dutch East Indies.

The final decision, needless to say, will be made by the United Nations and not by the Japanese. Once we take the offensive in the Pacific, Japan will have nothing to say about where the blows will fall.

If we throw the Japs out of the Solomons and out of New Guinea, both of which developments may be much nearer than any of us realize, we will be in position to start the long rolling-up movement designed to take away from Japan the rich empire she won for her-

Two Girls and a Man

Chapter One Mysterious Correspondence

Old Jed Bowers smiled once a day. His smile was perfectly timed with the chattering stop of his Model T Ford, the slamming of the Reiston's screen door, and the sight of Rita, coming down the flagstone walk, graceful as a swan skimming a millpond, the California sun glittering in her honey-gold hair and her brown velvet eyes smiling a welcome.

On his circuitous route for Uncle Sam, on the other stops at the low, rambling ranch houses were just dull routine but the sight of Rita, as the aged postman was fond of putting it, "Was good for sore eyes."

Man About Manhattan — Entertainers Doing Full Share For The Soldiers

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—There isn't much you can say in behalf of this war, but certainly it has brought about a new estimate of people in show business. Theater, night club, radio and movie folk have knocked themselves out to give service men a few happy memories.

Humor, are high wages. The cash rewards can come later, if at all. Certainly some entertainers are becoming tremendously popular, and they won't be forgotten any more than Elsie Janis was forgotten. They are popular because they have become real people to many who know them only as names; they have been seen and heard — and sometimes kissed!

That Monday night canteen at the George Washington hotel, for men of the merchant marine, is proving immensely popular among those hardy customers who transport oil and food and munitions on the high seas. Moving spirits are Spivy, who deserts her own club that night, and Fred White, a press agent who sometimes is amazed by his own magnanimous feelings. The mariners need only to show identification papers to gain entry. If they have lost their papers in torpeding, the Coast Guard will issue them a pass.

Short Story

There was Judy Canova, who awaited the pay-on-no-pay verdict before starting her picture. There was Paulette Goddard who retired from a scheduled radio show because, at the time, the sponsor was forbidden to pay her salary. There was Franchot Tone, who declined to fulfill a verbal film contract for the same reason.

Blondie

Blondie patted her hand and grinned ruefully. Despite the white hair and telltale lines, his face was young when he smiled—as young as his eager, purposeful eyes. She dropped the magazine onto the desk. He glanced with deep interest at the article. "3,000,000 gallons of concentrated juice shipped already—being distributed free from pharmaceutical houses in Europe to children under 2 years," he murmured with deep satisfaction.

Barney & Snuffy

"I KNOW, CORP! IT MUST BE TH' SHOOTIN'! ARN—I WUZ TH BEST SHOT IN HOOTIN' HOLLER." "WELL, YOU'RE STILL TH' CHAMP. YOU'VE GOT A CLEAN RECORD SO FAR—VA MISSED IT CLEAN EVERY TIME!"

The demands on farm production are spiraling to dizzy heights. Think what it will be for the armed forces alone next fall and winter when 8,000 or so hungry men are wolfing about twice as much food daily as they ever ate before in their lives.

glass of water and made him drink it.

He thanked her, then got heavily to his feet and went to look out of his office window down over the sunlit orange and lemon grove patchwork of his beloved valley.

Tears rose to Rita's eyes in a rebellious flood even as her fists clenched for control. She had fought constantly during these trying days and months to keep her quick, spontaneous laugh, her ready wit, holding on as a drowning man holds to the last floating spar while a great tidal wave of hopelessness seemed about to sweep around her. She could stand it no longer. What was it that was stooping her father's straight shoulders, harrying his valiant spirit? She crossed to him to slip her hand in his.

"Look here, Rolly," her voice was low but steady. "I want to know what's in those mysterious New York letters of yours that upsets you so."

"Now don't you worry about—" her father began, but she cut him short.

"I do though," she retorted crisply. "Come on, Rolly—give. I'm too old to steam them open and peek—so I must be old enough to be told about them."

He smiled at this, while his eyes somberly moved over her face. "Maybe you're right," he said thoughtfully. "But I've broken into your plans—bringing you home from San Francisco, and all. I didn't want to worry you."

"Don't you know a woman can stand anything but curiosity?" Without a word, Ralston handed her the letter.

East Texas Oil Order May Face Challenge In Courts

AUSTIN, Nov. 24. (AP)—Opinion in oil circles today swung to the belief that the railroad commission's move to stabilize bottomhole pressure in the East Texas field will be challenged in the courts.

"The fact that the water-oil ratio order does not exclude marginal wells raises the question whether the commission went beyond its statutory powers," one expert who asked not to be quoted by name asserted.

"This is a question that can be decided only in the courts. Since Texas statutes prohibit the commission from reducing the production of marginal wells, the ratio order could be held invalid for not excluding marginal wells."

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of your blood. They help most people pass about 3 quarts a day.

If the 16 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging headaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of sex and energy, getting up at night, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Present or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows these poisons are being strong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 16 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

trend of pressure in the world's largest oil field, the commission Friday issued a special order establishing a water-oil ratio and a maximum reservoir liquid displacement volume for East Texas, effective December 1.

"Some operators adversely affected by the order undoubtedly will follow the reasoning of opinions from the attorney general on the marginal well law and contend in court that the water-oil plan disregards the law passed by the legislature," declared one source long identified with the oil industry who asked not to be named.

"Attorney General Mann held that the marginal well statute prohibits the commission from restricting oil from marginal wells and said that this prohibition is no dependent upon the findings of the commission as to whether or not such restrictions would cause waste or the premature abandonment of such wells."

This source, who has endorsed the water-oil method, asserted that the legislature "has taken away from the commission any power to curtail the production of these wells and whether the curtailment would cause their early abandonment is not the point."

Issuing the order, Thompson last week said "there is no conflict with the marginal well law in any way, because the rule sets out clearly a method whereby an operator may comply with the rule and prevent the avoidable waste which the rule seeks to prevent."

BOMB HITS

OUT AT THE
BIG SPRING BOMBARDIER SCHOOL...

817th Squadron

Sergeant Frank Formagus is doing a bang up job with the new men in our squadron. His present duties are similar to those of the first sergeant. In fact, he is acting first sergeant of the recruits. It is his job to teach these new men army regulations, discipline and the army way of things in general. Keep up the good work, Sergeant Formagus.

Does our day room look nice? I should say it does. The boys in the squadron wish to take this means of thanking the ladies who so graciously helped to make it so. Mrs. Gound Wayne, Mrs. Charles Stagg, Mrs. Clyde Thomas, Sr., Mrs. Jack Haines, and Mrs. Royce Bridell. These ladies made the curtains that adorn the windows.

Physical training has finally found a place in the daily activities around camp. Exercises and more exercises are ordered these days and to top that off with either football or baseball. In a short time our volleyball and basketball courts will be ready. Corporal Milner has been busy getting things in shape and he says it won't be long now before the boys can take over. He is doing a fine job.

Speaking of a splendid job—well—our bowling team record speaks for itself. So far we have won 16 and only lost 5. We are three full games ahead of the second place team. The 818th riding in the number 2 position has won 14 and lost 8 while the 815th, riding in third place, has won 12 and lost 9.

Last Saturday night the married men in the squadron had a party in the day room. Because they live away from the field and seldom have a chance to use the day room, it was suggested that they have the first party. Lieutenant Lum Twilliger, our recreation officer, made it possible for the men to have this affair.

Warrant Officer C. B. Covington comes to the 817th training squadron as the new engineering officer and supply officer. Covington assumed his duties some days ago and has things well in hand.

Little Dan Cupid has been at it again. This time Corporal Nick Bragg was the victim. While home on furlough Corporal Bragg married Miss Mary Patricia Stone of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, on November 6. Another member of our squadron, Sgt. William Connell, was married in Fort Worth, to Miss Josephine Engle, of that city, on November 11.

819th Squadron

One can notice a decided change around the squadron these days. The commonplace question "who's the boss?" saw you with last night" has indeed become a rarity. The underlying reason for this is undoubtedly the recent upsurge of the squadron marriage rate, engagements and husband-and-wife get-togethers.

S/Sgt. Beyer can be pointed to as one of the squadron newbies who effected this change of atmosphere. It was a sad event when S/Sgt. Beyer left Barracks No. 3 to make his home in town together with his bride. Not that the boys haven't an appreciation for Charley's marital desires and longing for a quiet home and his wife, but they somehow hated to lose good ole' Beyer who had resided at their barracks since the inception of the Big Spring school. After meeting the lovely Mrs. Beyer, the boys aren't too sad about it and agree that the "catch" was a good one (on both sides).

Among the buzzing activity and tumult of the unit personnel office at post headquarters, sits the 819th's cool, broad-smiling representative at his desk. He is Sgt. Nodar. But had you seen him a month ago, you would not notice his now cheerful smiles, but rather drooping lips instead. He would constantly point to a picture of his pretty wife, Florence, and sulk and moan that she was 2,300 miles away from him (The Bronx). Today Sgt. Nodar swears he's the happiest soldier on the field—you guessed it—little Florence has come to Big Spring. They both agree that commuting one's feelings mental-telepathically over a span of 2,300 miles, is the bunk—"there's nothing like the real stuff!"

But that isn't all. S/Sgt. Willard Hunt, crack radio man in the squadron, excitedly left on furlough last month. Two days after his arrival home—"Zowie! I dood it!"—now engaged to be married!

What with all the contented, peaceful and now-settled married men in the squadron, the "batch" soldiers are heard crying: "Woe, wotta life without a wife!"

815th Squadron

Pfc. Ulan D. Puckett approached Sgt. W. L. Kemp the other day with a big grin on his face. As he neared the sergeant he unfolded a newspaper and spread the society page before him. There in headlines was an announcement of the Pfc.'s marriage. The squadron members want to congratulate the "boy" on his success. Puckett wants to inform The Daily Herald that he is now a Pfc. and not a Pvt., as was stated by them.

Happy boys just returned from furloughs are T/Sgt. James R. Lokey, S/Sgt. Othor F. Littlejohn, Sgt. Joseph E. Love, Sgt. Frank C. Blake and Cpl. Raymond J. Thom. Still happier was S/Sgt. Marvin J. Peery as he was preparing to board one of these fast Texas trains and leave for McClure, O.

The government says send all things that are not necessary home. That is just what T/Sgt. Robert C. "Hoot" Gibson and Sgt.
