Majority Of Incumbents Win

by Denise Kinner

Incumbents Rod Shaw, Alton Brazell and Froy Salinas easily won their bids for reelection in the Democratic Primary last Saturday. Shaw, who has served as County Judge for 18 years, faced Charles Smith, who vacated his

Justice of the Peace position in the primary. In the County Commissioner race, Precinct 4, Alton Brazell came out the victor in a close race with former sheriff C. H. "Choc" Blanchard. Froy Salinas easily won over former state representative Delwin

Jones. Salinas won 4,488 to Jones' 3,005 in District 83, which includes Slaton and Wolforth.

In other races former Lubbock County Criminal District Attorney John T. Montford defeated incumbent E. L. Short in a close race for the Democratic nomination for the 28th Senatorial District. Montford will face Jim Reese in the November election. In the office vacated by Montford, Travis Ware easily won the nomination for Criminal District Attorney over Wanda Wray. There will be one run-off race in the county for Justice of the Peace, Precinct 6. The seat, which was vacated by Wayne LeCroy, will see Lorenzo Sedeno and Shirley Durlap vying for the position. Sedeno, a former aide to Congressman Kent Hance received 45.4 percent of the vote, while Durlap received 35.3 percent.

In a statewide race, Attorney General Mark White will face Railroad Commissioner Buddy Timpie in a run-off election for the Democratic nomination for governor. The run-off winner will face incumbent Bill Clements in November.

Harding was indicted for allegedly using state employees for campaign work. The Brown-Hightower clash for agriculture commissioner was decided in the later stages of campaigning last week. Brown ran into problems when he called black educator Booker T. Washington a "great black nigger." The slip cost him the endorsement of a Houston black organization and eventually his bid for re-election. June 5 run-offs will be held for those races in which candidates received less than 50 percent of the vote.

The winner will go against Republican nominee McKinley Shepherd in November.

by Bob Tiucl

In other races, U. S. Senator Lloyd Bentsen, Lt. Governor Bill Hoggdy, Comptroller Bob Bullock and Railroad Commissioner Jim Nugent easily won their bids for re-nomination in the Democratic Primary. Other incumbents were not so fortunate. Incumbent Agriculture Commissioner Reagan Brown was unseated by Jim Hightower, while incumbent State Treasurer Warren G. Harding was trailing former Travis County Commissioner Ann Richards. Mrs. Richards, who received the endorsements of minority organizations across the state, had 44 percent to Harding's 38 percent. The seat, which was vacated by Wayne LeCroy, will see Lorenzo Sedeno and Shirley Durlap vying for the position. Sedeno, a former aide to Congressman Kent Hance received 45.4 percent of the vote, while Durlap received 35.3 percent.

Dunbar-Struggs Students Involved

Many Dunbar-Struggs High School students have engaged in many activities and organizations to help improve the Lubbock community. These young people dedicate time, energy, and service to various community projects. The Dunbar-Struggs Office Education Association sponsored a party for the State School on Halloween and Easter. They also sold tickets to help raise funds for Special Olympics. The United Way Christmas parties proved successful for OEA students this year also. Students were able to learn more about the community and what its needs are. Home Economics Related Occupations students at Dunbar-

"Happy Mother's Day"

Dear Mom: Well, here it is almost your day again. You have been away from us now several years and yet many times it seems you have not left us. Sons and daughters from many parts of the world will be remembering their Moms too and those from many nations and creeds, it would seem to me that every day should be Mom's day and in my case that is how it has been. There is hardly a day that passes that we do not remember some of the things that you taught us and the prayers you offered to God that we would always walk in His steps and avoid many of the pitfalls of this life. We are still laboring in the mission fields of West Texas and Eastern New Mexico doing our bit in establishing churches and helping men of New Mexico doing our bit in establishing churches and helping men of all ages and conditions find the Light. It does seem that so many have lost faith and hope but we know better and although there may be evidence of darkness all around us, we rest assured that the Light will not forsake us if we seek to walk in that Light. Within a few days, we shall lay another cornerstone in West Texas that will say this edifice is dedicated to those who have seen the Light (of God) and are determined to walk in it. The rich legacy you left us has made this possible and for everything Mom, we again say: Thank You. And we dare not forget our many friends of every race and creed who have labored and contributed to the ongoing of God's kingdom here on earth as it is in heaven. One of these days we are going to call the roll. What are you Moms doing in heaven today? Are there more missions to be built? Are there more mountains for this black boy to climb or do you just fly over them? Again, Mom we miss you here on earth but perhaps the great Reunion day is just ahead. And please say hello to all the other Moms in heaven today for those who miss them so much. "Signed Bob."

The Role of the Black Preacher: Perhaps many of our bellringers have heard this criticism of preachers before: "Ministers are not so conscientious as they used to be. They're money-mad nowadays. All they want is the Almighty Dollar. That's all they talk about."

As Tom Skinner has said: "The black preacher should be the suffering servant. The role is also that of a proclaimer. He must be prepared to die because he is telling the truth. He adds: "He must be out there where black folks are struggling for the better housing, better educational opportunities, where they're struggling for employment just to make a decent living. He must be out there telling them that while bread is important, the Bread of Life is equally if not more important. And he must preach this no matter how unpopular he becomes. He will be called a thief and a hustler by white folk. He will be called an Uncle Tom by black folk and he must be all that in order to be the suffering servant." end of quote.

Dear Bob - Enclosed is a copy of planned activities for the Abilene District Youth Conference to be held in Williamson Chapel C. M. E. Church in Breckenridge, Texas June 4 and 5, 1982. Our theme for this year: "A Time for Commitment." We are expecting young people from Lamesa, Tahoka, Midland, Colorado City, Odessa, Lubbock, Abilene, Albany and other places in West Texas and Eastern New Mexico to meet us and share in this great spiritual experience. Rev. Rayfield Medcalf, pastor of Israel Metropolitan Church of Greenville, South Carolina will be our honored guest. More later. Signed: Mrs. Opal Davis, District Director of Christian Education.

Social Security Tips

Your Social Security And You

by Jewel M. Love
Service Representative

The month of April may seem a long way from summer activities, but young people planning to work this summer for the first time need to take one step now to get a job. They need to apply for a Social Security number.

It takes time to get a Social Security number, and it may take a lot longer to land a job in today's tight market. Many employers will not hire a person without a Social Security number, so a person who delays applying may be seriously handicapped in the job market.

Tighter security, both in applications for the number and in its use for employment, has developed in recent years. Employers usually insist that a card be shown rather than a Social Security number be given from memory. Thus, they avoid the risk of a wrong number and the resulting paperwork and inconvenience that may result.

The Social Security number is the key to the earnings records maintained on a worker at the Social Security Administration. Eligibility for and amount of retirement, survivors, and disability benefits are based on the earnings credited to a person's Social Security record. A wrong number could seriously affect the accuracy of these records.

People must provide documentary evidence of age, identity, and U. S. citizenship or lawful immigration status to get a Social Security number for the first time. People 18 or over must apply for the number in person.

The best proof of age and U. S. citizenship is a birth certificate or church record that shows the date and place of birth. Other documents that can be used to prove age and U. S. citizenship include certificates of naturalization and U. S. passports.

People who need a duplicate Social Security card to replace a lost one or to show a new name must also provide evidence of identity.

If you have any questions on what you need to do to get a Social Security number, call the Social Security office. We'll be happy to help.

Greater First Baptist Church

Services began last Sunday morning with Supt. Bonea Hodge at his post of duty and Wilson, Baldwin conducting.

During the 11 a. m. services, devotion was led by Sisters Lois Johnson and Edna Jenkins, due to the illness of Deacon Quenton Hodge. The choir sang a very inspiring song service.

Rev. Wilson Baldwin brought a great message. His text was found in Psalm 91:15-16. His subject was "God's Insurance Policy."

Sister Nannie Payton was back in service.

The congregation traveled by bus to Lubbock to share in the annual musical at Mount Gilead Baptist Church. Their program was very interesting. There was even a baptizing after the services. Some very testing refreshments were served in the fellowship hall.

Rev. Wilson Baldwin is pastor and Sister Edna Jenkins is reporter.

Sheridan's Ride

by Jack Sheridan

There is a noddad kind of movie showing these days at the main Fourplex down on Slide Road. It's called "Montenegro" and it is billed as an erotic comedy and a rique. It is produced by a galaxy of affiliated European producers and is a film conception by Maakevajev. I didn't get caught up into it until some time had elapsed but once into the water it was fine. There lots that I frankly found hard to understand, but, I must admit, there are times with the movies these days that I fall into that category. Maybe it's my clinging to the old and true ways. Maybe not.

Anyway, Susan Anspach is nice to look at, while a man named Earland Josephson is sharp as a tack in his role.

"Montenegro" is appreciated on your own values and you'll have to take your chance and decide all for yourself. The audience seemed to enjoy it, that was for sure.

The June and July dates for the Summer Rep musicals at the Civic Center Theatre each year always seem so far off in the future when one is slogging and slugging along with the shivers and the northers of winter-spring when, bam!, they are virtually on us all over again.

So it is today. The three musicals are the sensation of its day, "Jesus Christ Superstar," the Gilbert and Sullivan operetta "The Pirates of Penzance" which last season brought Linda Ronstadt to Broadway prominence for the first time, and pre-World War II days in Berlin musical that brought top stardom to Joel Grey and Liza Minnelli, "Cabaret." The second one is directed by our own man, John Gillas, while "Cabaret" has Ronald Schulz in his post-retirement appearance.

The dates for each show will be given here in our next communique. Also some belated movie comments on show as yet unreported.

Business Hints

By Leanna Blagrove

MANAGING IN THE 80'S

I wish I could honestly say that the 80's will fulfill all of our dreams to make a million dollars and relax leisurely for the rest of our days. Instead, with the warnings of the many economic predictions for the decline of business and profits we must focus our business concerns toward the essentials of any business, MANAGEMENT.

Management simply means handling, using and taking care of our resources and expenses to the best of our ability in the time allowed. Because of the high cost of living, good management of our resources and expenses will demand a stronger concentrated effort for survival. In other words, we must learn how, what, when, and where to effectively use all advantages to generate sales or make this money.

As a sole owner, partnership or corporation where there are only one or two persons, the whole weight of management, planning, organizing, directing, controlling and feedback is one limited shoulder. Every decision that makes shoulders. Every decision that we make will eventually take its toll whether the decision be good or bad.

Our major problems as Blacks are: (1) incompetency; (2) lack of business knowledge; and (3) insufficient operating capital will be strained further when we add the problem of better management in order to survive the inflation that is presently existing.

There is no one easy answer or method to just how each businessperson will deal with these problems. A method that may work for one business will not necessarily work for another business. However, we can ease the pressure of the 80's with better management skills.

We can no longer let poor management walk side by side with us if we are to continue in the business world. We can no longer keep crying for help and then when we get it do not know how to use it. We can no longer afford to keep getting further and further into debt until almost, if not impossible, to get out. We must learn how to use our resources to the fullest.

Our businesses belong to us and the next man is not concerned with whether or not our businesses survive. Survival of a business is the responsibility to be competent and knowledgeable. He should strive daily to be competent in his business affairs. The only bad part about being incompetent and without business knowledge is that you will not know whether or not others who may advise you are competent or incompetent.

Saturday, May 22, the same troops will take part in a combined troop hike. The girls will leave on their hike from Parkway Elementary and walk to Mae Simmons Park where they will end the hike with a picnic. During the outing, leaders will teach aspects of physical exercise, good health and an appreciation of nature to the girls.

On Saturday, June

19, members of the East Lubbock and Robin Service Units will take part in the annual Juneteenth Parade. Leaders participating in these activities are Deborah Childers, Troop 208; JoAnn Hollie, Troop 402; Beulah Winters, Troops 25 and 104; Sandra Stewart, Troop 184; Cheryl Nichols, Troop 3; and Dr. Lucille S. "Why Not?"

We Cannot Stop Now!

by
Eddie P. Richardson

For some, the elections are over, and to a lot of others there will be two more, namely, June 5th and the biggie in November -- General Election. There is still one or two more trips to the polls, so let's make them. They are both still very important to us. VOTE!

HELP! Mrs. Katie Parks needs your help in putting on a program for the Juneteenth Celebration. If you have any talent in acting, singing, playing an instrument, dancing or any talent, check with Mrs. Parks. This writer is sure she will use you for the 19th of June Celebration which is fast coming our way. There will be a meeting Friday, May 7th, at 7:30 p. m. at Mae Simmons Community Center. Please be present and become a part of this year's celebration.

On the recent spreading rumours about the recent State Senator race. There was talk before the May 1st Primary that John T. Montford had not had any Blacks in his office and E. L. Short did have some. This is not true. T. J. Patterson, Jr. has worked for the Brother Montford, during the summer months prior to being elected as Criminal District Attorney. Also there was Fulton Berry who worked for him in his private law practice. Germal Berry was employed in the CDA office. Dora Russell is now working in the Juvenile Department of the CDA office. Not only this, but Brother Montford traveled to the University of Texas and Baylor University, in general all over the state, recruiting Blacks. The problem was: "NONE WANTED TO COME OUT HERE."

Another factor is Blacks as a whole do not favor law enforcement as a career. Blacks find it hard because of conditioning to be associated with the law.

The present CDA office is well equalized as far as Mexican-Americans, women and age groups are concerned. These are a few points for the record.

HAPPY MOTHER'S DAY

On Sunday, let's all stop and pay homage to all the Mothers. If it were not for Mothers there would not be any of us here. So let's take Sunday and say thank you "Mom."

To all the Mothers of the world, we love all of you and appreciate you for what you are -- Mother.

To observe a special day for Mothers is wonderful. But you know what Mother's Day should be 365 days a year.

JULIAN BOND

Tax breaks for sneakers?

By Julian Bond

What a fool I was! Like almost half of America's taxpayers, I struggled to pay my taxes early this year. Like most taxpayers, I looked for every legal deduction I could find. Like most taxpayers, I think I paid more than I had to and am sure that the IRS will give me less than I'm owed.

But it's really my fault. I didn't take advantage of a tax saving available to every taxpayer. And it took Ronald Reagan to show me what a fool I was.

It's really Nancy Reagan who I have to thank for belatedly opening my eyes. Nancy and Ronald Reagan deducted $5,030 for designer dresses that the first lady wore once or twice and then donated to museums. Some $4,380 worth of her duds went to the Fashion Institute for Design and Merchandising in Los Angeles. Another $1,750 worth of already-worn wear went to the Los Angeles County Museum of Art.

Roy D. Miller, the tax attorney who prepared the Reagan returns, said that the gowns that became tax write-offs were owned by Mrs. Reagan before the couple moved to their new address in Washington. The dresses that she has given away since becoming first lady didn't show up on the 1981 returns. We'll have to wait until next year to discover which museum received these gowns and how much the presidential tax bill declined because of her generosity.

Following the first family's lead, the Bond family plans to make some generous donations of its own. I've instructed my tax preparer, Larry Lophole, to begin putting my 1982 returns in shape right now.

I've asked the members of my family not to discard the clothes that they think are ready for the waste bin. Those worn-out blue jeans and T-shirts with extra armpoles are going to be recycled into tax benefits for me and mine.

No more hand-me-downs from older brother to younger brother, from my eldest, a college student, to my youngest, who is just finishing elementary school. Never again will 14-year-old Jeffrey inherit 16-year-old Michael's sneakers. That shiny blue suit that I was saving for a sou'wayer at college can be permanently retired.

All these items representative of an important era in American fashion history will be donated to museums.

With regional chauvinism, the Reagans chose home-town museums to receive their gifts. I bow to no one in pride for my native region and will select Southern museums exclusively as the final repository of the Bond collection.

Future generations of Americans will be able to examine the shoes I donned for weekend gardening and the aprons the Missus wore while preparing the family repast.

Schoolchildren of tomorrow will learn from the doodles inscribed in ink on the knees of my two teen-agers' trousers. Cultural historians will be able to determine the secrets of the '80s by examining the necklines of my daughters' dresses.

Anthropologists can plan to dig into tomorrow's ruins. In one location -- properly placed on life-size dummies -- they will find abundant clues to today's tastes. Names like Vanderbilt, Sasson and Nike will reveal that the Bond family -- like most others -- believed in conspicuous consumption. I may even give some socks to my alma mater in case it wants to start a collection of clothes worn by graduates who won't pay their alumni association dues.

Whatever happened to that tie I got for Christmas in 1965? (NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.)

become resentful of any man that you are interested in, regardless of his race.

This situation demands that you sit down and have a long talk with your daughter, not only about her feelings but also her fears.

Dear Doctors:

My 24 year-old neighbor was recently raped by a black man. She refuses to report this incident to the police. She says the police are not interested when black women get raped and that they never do anything about it, so why bother. With her attitude, rapists will be running around loose in the neighborhood and all of us will be endangered. How can I convince her to do something about this? -- L. J., Houston, Texas.

Dear L. J.:

Your neighbor is echoing an attitude that is commonly shared by black women who have been raped.

Many black women have said that when they report a rape to the police, the police seem indifferent or make demeaning comments, implying that the women were not raped. Some white women have similar experiences, but to a much lesser degree.

Historically, black women were entirely unprotected and white men could rape them without fear of punishment. Some black men feel the same way because are pursued by law enforcers when they rape black women.

On the other hand, if a black man rapes a white woman, the authorities usually respond in heavy pursuit; when black men who have raped white women are caught, they are usually given long prison sentences.

This double standard of justice has put black women in a position of being relatively "safe" targets for the white or black rapists.

If the black community wants to eliminate rapists, black women must report the incident and demand that the criminals be punished. In most cities, there are rape crisis centers which are staffed by women who are sensitive and helpful. If you offer to accompany your friend to such a center, you may be giving her the support she needs to follow through.

If there is no rape crisis center in your community to which minority women have easy access, get in touch with a local civil rights group and ask them to help you organize one.

Business in the Black

By Charles E. Belle

Health Only Healthy Area Work Where You Find It

"Seek and ye shall find." However, be prepared to do a lot of seeking if you have a little education in this economy. The current recession would surely be a lot more disturbing if services (industries) didn't play such a large part in today's overall business picture," remarks the chief economist of Pittsburgh's Mellon Bank. An old line moneyed group, Service-oriented business now employs a record proportion of the work force, almost 75 percent of non-farm payrolls. Up from less than two-third 30 years ago. Service industries are saving the U. S. from a straight slump now. No one can be blind to the for sales and foreclosure signs set up since the start of the year. "Weak hiring plans are expected to continue in the second quarter with results reported to be the lowest level for any second quarter in the six-year history of the survey," by Manpower, Inc. Hopes hang on the health field as high point in hiring.

Education is essential in the health care area. The more the merrier. Genetics and biotechnology belong in your terminology along with traditional physician and nurse. Physician's assistants positions require some form of previous direct medical health care experience. An Associate of Arts (AA) degree is desirable for this $20,000 to $27,000 a year position. Nurse Practitioners must be an RN a minimum of two years of nursing school is necessary to name a $17,000 - $22,000 career job. Just in case you get an M. D., doctor you can expect to earn $62,000 as a General Practitioner or $96,000 as a surgeon. Suggesting even more education after college. Considering jobs are tight, job absence among workers at 448 companies averaged 2.2 percent of work time in last year's fourth quarter, according to the Bureau of National Affairs. This absence rate matched the third quarter's which was the lowest in the eight years that BNA has conducted the quarterly survey. So if you got a job - keep it. The consensus of cautious workers.

With hiring projects up and down depending on what area of the country is being considered, keep a sharp eye open. Western states like California and Oregon are still going great guns. While Midwest areas like Michigan and Minnesota may not be measured so highly. Healthy areas are generally oil related and/or high technology areas. Specialty spots requiring generous amounts of higher education. Engineers are still in short supply. Speaking of supply, in the 15-19 year-old group. Black Americans are a disproportionately large numbers, three million or 25 percent more than white Americans. In which case the obvious choice for these bright young minds should be to be in school, not in ever growing unemployment lines. Little hope exists for an abundance of unskilled jobs in the near future.

'At induced' daughter hostile to black men Black rapist victim reluctant to report crime

Dear Doctors:

I am a divorced black woman trying to raise my 13-year-old daughter. My problem is that my daughter has developed a resentful and hostile attitude toward men, in particular, black men. My ex-husband and I were divorced six months after my girl was born. Since then, he has never had contact with her. I have never said or done anything to make my

Letter to the Editor "Tech's AAP Working"

Dear Editor:

This letter is in response to your recent editorial comments concerning the Texas Tech University Affirmative Action Program.

Let me assure you that the Texas Tech administration is in full support of its Affirmative Action Program. The current AAP has been systematically incorporated as an integral part of the University's personnel operation. In accordance with federal regulations, we have analyzed our personnel workforce and determined the number of underutilized minority (Hispanics and Blacks) employees. Hiring and promotional goals with specific timetables have been established in the job categories where minorities are not adequately represented. The entire AA implementation plan has been designed with the Vice Presidents, Deans, Directors, and Supervisors being held accountable for its success.

In addition to the AAP per se, our office has been involved in a series of programs which will ultimately result in the hiring of more minorities at Tech. These include publications about AA, workshops on AA/EEO laws and regulations, and presentations regarding the Tech AAP to on-and-off campus organizations. I have also offered to speak to community groups in which Blacks are certainly included. A while back I wrote to the local NAACP and asked if they would like for me to come out and present our program. Maybe you can help me get invited to speak to that fine organization.

I hope this letter serves to inform you that we have a very active AA office at Texas Tech. Although the current minority employee representation is still not at the level we would like to have it, we are optimistic that in the months to come, we will see major improvements.

In spite of all our good faith efforts, we realize that without the support of fine community leaders like you, our AA goals will be much harder to achieve. I appreciate your continued interest in Texas Tech and our AA program. You and/or your staff are cordially invited to come visit our AAP and learn more about our services.

Again, thank you for your interest and I look forward to continue reading your paper.

Sincerely,
Julio Llanas
Affirmative Action Director

(Editor's Note: Thanks for your letter concerning the Affirmative Action Program. Please advise Dr. Lauro Cavazos that the Black community is still waiting for him to attend a Federation of Choirs function. This effort has been attempted since January, 1981. Will you help us in this area?)

daughter have such a low estimation of black men. She is very often hostile when I have male friends over to the house. She told me once, "Black men ain't no good," and we got into a big fight. What do you make of this situation? -- R. A., Seattle, Wash.

Dear R. A.:

Your daughter may be harboring long-standing feelings of rejection and abandonment. Since her father has not accepted the role of father, he has indeed abandoned her. As a result, she is hurt and resentful.

Now that she is reaching adolescence and is probably thinking about her future with boys, she may have generalized the negative feelings she has toward her father and extended them to all black men. She may wonder if they can be trusted or if they will desert her again. Your daughter's hostile behavior allows her to put distance between your black male friends and herself. This could mean she is afraid of liking a black male.

She may also feel threatened by your male friends and fear they will take you away from her. She may think that if you become romantically involved with one of these men she will be left out or be of secondary importance in your life. In her own way, she may be trying to discourage you from such relationships.

Her statement that "black men ain't no good" may just be a smoke screen. Your daughter is likely to

Rev. Robinson Speaks

Harvey E. Robinson
Pastor
East Lubbock Church of God

The Christian Position

Every child of God must realize that we are living in the last days. Many people do not believe that Jesus is coming back to receive His church unto Himself. Whether or not they believe does not matter because the Lord is going to receive the church to Himself, in spite of what some people believe.

The word "rapture" is foreign to many people, for they believe that all must die. However, the Word of God says, "We shall not all sleep, but we shall all be changed." (1 Cor. 15:51) Knowing this, our position in the world should be one of non-compromise. The true child of God will not let down when it comes to dress, entertainment and social activities.

Satan has begun war with the saints inasmuch as he has caused many women to deny the truth of God and dress like those who do not profess to know Christ as their Saviour. The deceiver has twisted the truth of God until some women see no harm in wearing pants and any other things the unbelievers wear that do not pertain to holiness.

Let our position remain that God has said men should not wear women's clothing and neither should a woman wear men's clothing. Those of us who love the Lord remember that His Word says, "having done all, to stand therefore having your loins girded about with truth and having on the breastplate of righteousness." (Eph. 6:13-14) Let the Truth of God in every generation be the girdle that keeps the body in place.

If we stand for Christ, He will not forget us in that great and terrible day of His wrath.

Thank God For Jesus "Especially For Mothers" All My Children

Part I

I remember when I was a kid, trying to get grown
I was sent by a Mother --
"To tell all my children to come home"
Now they was playing their favorite game and it was getting dark,
There was four of them, one went, three harden their hearts!

Proverbs 1:8 -- "My son, hear the instruction of thy Father, and forsake not the law of thy Mother!

her: came the old man, with words their Mother did say!

They mumbled and cursed then continued to play!

The Mother sent the son back, telling them the same thing!

But they continued to play their favorite game!
Proverbs 2:1 -- "My son, if thou wilt receive my words, and hide my commandments with thee." She said: "I said, 'For all my children to come home.'" But you'll think you're grown.
Although the son was smart, goodlooking, and very, very quick!

None was a match???

For the Mother with the Hickory switch!
I Corinthians 4:14 -- "I write not these things to shame you, but as my beloved sons I warn you."

Proverbs 26:3 -- "A whip for the horse, a bridle for the ass, and a rod for the fool's back."

With the words I'll kill you, if you don't do what I say!

The Mother said: "I love all my children, and my law, they must obey."

With no place to run and no place to hide.
We heard and saw them weeping and wailing with tears in their eyes!

Proverbs 22:6 -- "Train up a child in the way he should go; and when he is old, he will not depart from it."

Now that "All the children are grown and made laws of their "OWN"!

We're doing our thing, because there's no one to obey!

The Outreach Prayer Breakfast

The members and friends of the Outreach Prayer Breakfast met last Saturday morning at 9 a. m. in the home of the president, Mrs. Mary Ward. There was no doubt about it, all present received a blessing by being there.

President Ward presided over the session while vice president Corine Fair was working at the election polls. We're sure you didn't forget to vote or did you?? Opening devotion was taken from 139th Psalms. Participating were Mrs. M. Bogus, Mrs. C. E. Brown and Mrs. Ward.

The morning scripture lesson was brought by Mrs. Annie Day. Her subject was: "Devine Love Makes The Difference." The scripture was found in Mark 12:28-34.

"And one of the scribes came, and having heard them reasoning together, and perceiving that he had answered them well, asked him, which is the first commandment of all?"

And Jesus answered him. The first of all the commandments is, hear O' Israel: the Lord our God is one Lord: And thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind, and with all thy strength; this is the first commandment. And the second is like, namely this, thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself. There is none other commandment greater than these."

This speaker said, when you can love someone who hates you or false accuse you, and love them like you do yourself. You have that devine love and this kind of love makes the difference when you do this you know you are near the kingdom.

You know this lady is very quite or a few words, but you know it's not the quantity of words, but the quality. Every word that comes from her mouth was quality. This group loved this kind of a presentation. Mrs. Day, we can see your hope is built on nothing less than Jesus Christ and his righteousness. You are precious and we truly love you.

Church services last Sunday at the New Hope Baptist Church were carried out as usual. It all began with Sunday School. The subject was "God Evaluates His Churches." It was a wonderful lesson.

by all. We thank God for the Saturdays, they prepare us for the Sundays.

Thought for the week: "Some folks grumble because roses have thorns, but I'm glad that thorns have roses." Think about it!

Breakfast was served by our precious cooks. We are so blessed to have them. We have four cooks now. Come and eat with us spiritually or physically each Saturday. They can handle any food problem you may have.

Only family was present last Saturday. It was a great day!

Our sick and shut in list include: Mr. D. G. Fair, Sr., Mr. Raymond Biggers, a patient at Methodist Hospital; Mr. Ralph Alexander, Mrs. Hannah Lee Patterson, who is improving nicely; Mrs. Fannie Mae Edmund, who is in a San Angelo Nursing Home; Mr. Pete Rainey, St. Mary's Hospital, room 527; Zera Phillips and Mrs. A. W. Washington.

"Prayer for healing and health" Dear Father, as we pray today, it is not easy to find words to tell thee of the things we feel. Help us, Dear Father, to put our love for the into words and our words into loving service. Please Father, in our weakness, grant us health. In our sickness, grant us thy healing touch, not for these alone, dear Father, but also for all of your children who's hearting spiritually or physically. We do pray. In the name of our Lord Jesus Christ. AMEN"

Prayer request was made. If you have any write or come by. The address is: Outreach Prayer Breakfast, P. O. Box 1223, Lubbock, Texas 79408. "You can make it."

A Mother's Day brunch is on tap for Saturday. Bring a Mother as a guest.

The Project Blessing went out last week to Kenneth Patton of Hickory Tree Apartments. On last Saturday it went to Mrs. Rosena Sadler, 2905 Teak Avenue. We expect a miracle in your life.

The devotion and prayer for speaker were offered by Mrs. Mildred Bogus; the food was blessed by President Ward. The closing prayer was offered by Mrs. Dorothy Hood.

Can any good come out of Nazareth??

The next meeting will be held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Winters, 3416 East 17th Street.

"Come and see". You will be glad you did! Mrs. Mary Ward is president; Mrs. O. E. Fair, vice president; Mrs. C. E. Brown, secretary; and Mrs. Dorothy Hood, reporter.

Plainview, Texas United Baptist Church

Sunday School was as usual, beginning at 9:45 a. m. with Brother

Whitaker in charge. The lesson was "Assurance in Times of Stress." The scripture was Rev. 1:1-3, 9-11, 13:1-4.

The morning worship began at 10:45 a. m. with the pastor, Rev.

Walter Griffin in the pulpit and the senior choir in charge of the music. Special music was presented by Sister Ruth Morgan and Brother Anthony Ray.

The Pastor's message and text was: "A Good Man Is Hard To Find." Jeremiah 5:1. It was a very inspiring message.

If you are in the area, please come and visit with us at United Baptist Church.

During the 3 p. m. services, we were in service with Rev. and Sister J. B. Lester on their 19th Anniversary. We had a glorious time in the Lord!

Rev. Griffin brought the message. It was entitled: "From Fig Leaves to Mini Skirts."

We hope you voted on last Saturday. Voting is very important, don't you think so.
