

Highway Bond Election To Be Held Saturday, June 23

Last week Mrs. Travis Scott and Mrs. Paul Wood and I met on the street, after a quick hello, we all agreed we were tired.

We decided maybe we weren't taking the right kind of vitamins. (I couldn't be sure vitamins keep me going, but I am sure "Necessity does.")

The Delma McCarty's are off on that long awaited "Honey-moon". (You've heard of people leading a "dog's life") well I doubt that she actually led a "dog's life" maybe we better say t "puppies life" in order to get to go on this "belated honeymoon." (Confidentially Delma was a happy fellow, he thought she just wanted to be with him.) but maybe she was striving to just how long it would be until Delma hung himself, if she gave him enough rope. (Well HE DIDN'T, so now they're off to the big trip to the Lions International Convention.)

I ran into another new meaning for the word "Relative" a few days ago. It came from Pat Montgomery, (and I quote.) Relative, is folks that one just ought to move away from if they won't make you a living.

I understand we are about to lose our uptown theatre, seems it just doesn't make any profits at all. Ted Borum has gone to the trouble and expense to give us Cinemascope pictures and to give Earth area people modern and up-to-date theatres. He has operated three theatres through the fall, in order to give both Spanish and local people the opportunity to be entertained here in Earth in comfort. (Now we find he is failing to receive any income from his expensive equipment, and it sits idle most of the week.) I don't have many hours set aside for movie going, but I for sure hate to see this happen to our show, and our town as a whole should hate to see it moved out of Earth. (You who go to shows, if you would always patronize our theatres, maybe we could keep it.)

RETURN FROM VACATION
Mr. and Mrs. Dutch LaRue and family returned Sunday from a week long vacation at Sweetwater and Cross Plains. The Larues visited his mother, Mrs. Laura LaRue and Brother, J. B. LaRue. They reported catching quite a number of fish.

Seen a nice folding table at the Pleasant Valley Community Building Tuesday. It was a present from the "Shoestring Ranch." I asked Mrs. Prof. Shelby where the Shoestring Ranch was and she said, "It's our place, I don't know why "Prof" named it that because it isn't a ranch at all, but probably the shoestring describes it."

Dutch LaRue feels that it just runs in his family to be talented. It seems his nephew is a talented comedian who has been featured in numerous performances on stage and in motion pictures. And is now featured in a Broadway play at Sweetwater.

Sam Whitton, Texas Editor of the Farmer-Stockman, said as he presented Pleasant Valley with the $100.00, which was their reward as first place winner in the district. "Some folks strike oil and get rich, some folks strike gold, but good neighborliness has made Pleasant Valley rich. No picture or story could tell the exact story of a community such as this. The only way one can express it rightly, is to visit the folks and talk with them, then one can get the picture. It is almost a spiritual thing. "Love Thy Neighbor, Good Friendship and Working together had made this community one of the top five communities in the State of Texas. And to be one of the top five, your community had to be "Plain Good" as there are 183 entered in the contest. (Unquote: We feel the same way. They've got what it takes — unity. We feel they'll win State next year.)

We have really rushed this week in order to get the paper out. (Continued on Page 8)

Boswell Of Lubbock Receives Earth's Street Widening Contract, Start Soon

The widening of Highway 70 through Earth was awarded to contractor, J. O. Boswell of Lubbock.

Rea Bradley, County Resident Engineer, told The Earth News reporter Wednesday that he was not sure just when the work would begin in Earth, but he imagined that it would begin the second week in July. Bradley said, that out of 4 bidders, Boswell's bid was the lowest and he received two contracts on the same day. Earth's street widening and a job at Spur. He did not know which job he would begin on first, but imagined he would begin on Earth's first.

When asked if he felt he could be assured our job here would be completed before fall, he replied, "I'm sure that there need not be any worry over that, as the job can be completed in six to eight weeks, and I feel sure the job will be completed and forgotten by fall."

He said the island would be placed in the center the same as is in Springlake street.

Bradley said Springlake's streets would be completed next week.

A bond election will be held Saturday, June 23 for securing the finances to buy right-of-way for the widening of Highways 84 and 70 through Lamb County.

Judge Bob Kirk called the Littlefield Paper from Austin Wednesday to request they hold the press forde yelopments of a State Highway Officials meeting. And requested they pass the word on to all county papers.

At 6:00 p.m. Kirk made the following statement, concerning the new policy of the U. S. Congress. "They expect to adopt in the next few days a method of securing right-of-way for secondary Federal Highways, including Highways 84 and 70 in Lamb County."

Immediately following todays session, I talked with State Highway Commissioner, Marshall Formby who explained that if Lamb County approved the bond issue to buy right-of-way in the county, it will only need to purchase such right-of-way, that is needed immediately for construction of the highway for which funds have been allocated.

On future right-of-way it is anticipated that the state will participate on a 50 per cent matching basis. When funds become available by order of the Legislature.

The commissioners minute order shows that they are interested in four-lane highways that have a traffic count of 2200 per day, with the expectancy of carrying this category. Under this match-3500 by 1965. Highway 70 falls in ing program there would be no question that the $800,000 bond money would be more than adequate for both highways.

Bonds will be issued only on right-of-ways as definite commitments are made for improvements. These funds cannot be used for anything except for the purchase of right-of-ways on U. S. Highways 84 and 70.

Tom Moore Declares Continued War Against Corruption

WACO, Texas — With his campaign for Attorney General of Texas in full swing, Tom Moore of Waco declared a continuing war against corruption in state government.

"We must clean-up, not cover-up the dishonest and unscrupulous dealings of those greedy persons who would betray our citizens," he stated.

The 38-year old Moore is serving his second elective term as District Attorney of McLennan County.

As District Attorney, Moore played the key role in conducting the Grand Jury probe of the U. S.

Trust and Guaranty Insurance fraud and investigated statewide election law violations.

In addition, he has received recognition for the efficient and impartial manner in which he has operated his department.

"As Attorney General, I pledge that confidence and integrity will be restored to this all important position and that the laws of the State of Texas will be administered fairly in regards to all citizens."

A native of Waco, Moore graduated from Baylor University Law School. He is an overseas veteran of World War II serving with the Military Government in Okinawa and Japan.

Moore is married and father of three children, Margaret, 8; Liz, 6; and Timmie, 5. He is active in St. Albans Episcopal Church of Waco.

He also has been active in State Democratic party affairs.

SCIENCE IN YOUR LIFE

Surgical Safety

The 19th century surgeon Langenbeck was famous because he could amputate a limb "in the time needed to take a pinch of snuff." Skill, the prime requisite of the modern surgeon, ranked second to speed until the advent of anesthesia a century ago.

The surgeon's main effort was to make his patient's agonizing stay on the operating table as short as possible — regardless of the damage he inflicted. The patient's chance of recovery under these primitive conditions was further drastically reduced by the threat of infection, which was a major killer before the development of modern hygienic measures. As late as the mid-19th century, post-operative infection killed almost half of all amputation cases.

Even under today's antiseptic conditions, infection is still a threat. Tests have shown that even in a well-run operating room as many as 50,000 germs can fall in the "sterile field" within the space of 11 hours. Fortunately, science has provided an effective weapon against the threat. Antibiotics like Terramycin, administered before and after an operation, will protect the surgical patient from infection.

A striking illustration is the sharply declined death rate in peritonitis. A complication of the common appendectomy, peritonitis formerly exacted an appalling toll. With the advent of antibiotics, mortality from this disease has been slashed to negligible proportions.

Such chemical weapons are giving special point to the statement by the famous English surgeon, Moynihan: "We have made surgery safe for the patient. We must now make the patient safe for surgery."

Dairyman's Income Is What He Makes It

Some dairymen today may be earning a good labor return in excess of $2.50 per hour, while others who work just as hard are struggling along on a wage of only $1.00 an hour or less. What makes the difference? A recent study at West Virginia University on 12,000 West Virginia dairy cows gives some of the answers.

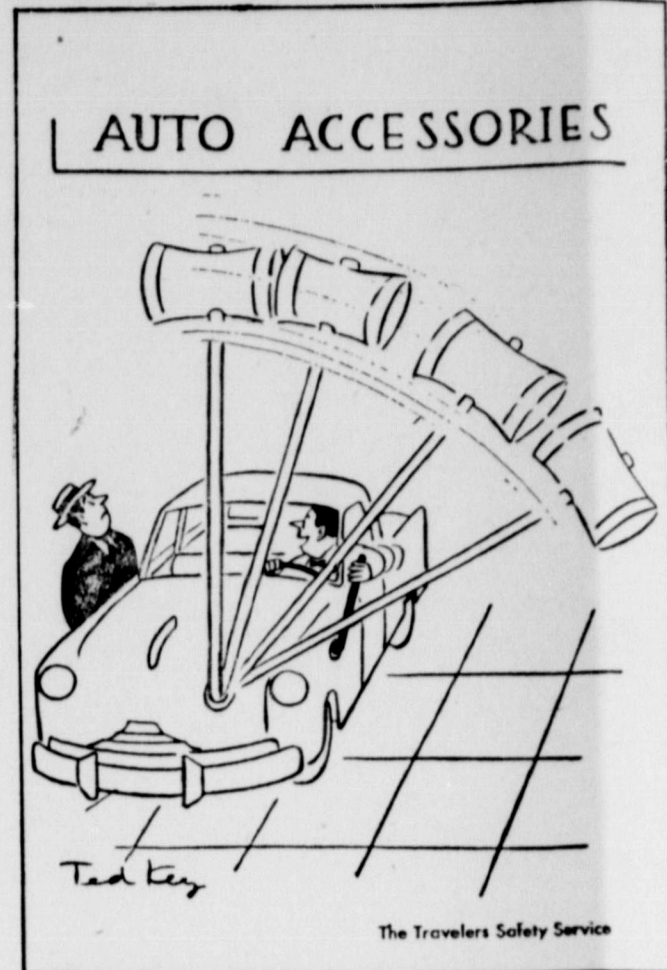

This college study showed that cows averaging 7,525 pounds of 4 per cent milk per year produced a labor return for the dairyman of $1.91 per hour, while cows producing 13,675 pounds rewarded labor at $2.56 per hour. Dairyman milking cows averaging 7,525 pounds of milk had to keep 30 cows in the milking string to make a net income of $2400, while it took only 9 cows producing 13,675 pounds to make the same money.

In this survey, dairy income improved with increased production per cow, even though the cost of feeding rose in proportion to the cow's production. For instance, cows averaging 7,525 pounds of milk consumed $91 worth of grain, while cows averaged 13,675 pounds of milk consumed $147 worth of grain. But each of the 91 feed dollars invested in the lower producing cow returned $2.30, while every one of the 147 feed dollars invested in the higher producer returned a handsome $2.91.

How can higher per-cow production be achieved by most dairy-

Public Feeding Tests Shows Value Of Balanced Supplement

The profit advantage of a good balanced cattle supplement over a single source protein was demonstrated again in a 136-day public feeding test just completed at the Bourbon Stockyards in Louisville, Kentucky. The demonstration was conducted by the Ralston Purina Company with the cooperation of the Bourbon Stockyards.

Twenty calves averaging about 600 pounds each were purchased and divided into two equal lots. In Lot I, 5 graded Utility and 5 Commercial. In Lot II, 9 graded Commercial at the beginning, and one Utility.

Both groups were fed in pens at the Stockyards where the public could watch the day-to-day progress. Lot I was fed ground ear corn with a fortified balanced supplement containing 5 milligrams of stilbestrol per pound. Lot II got ground ear corn with soy bean meal.

Both pens had livestock minerals throughout, and both had hay free choice during the first month. At the end of the feeding period, nine calves in Lot I had upgraded to Choice. The tenth graded Good. In the soybean meal pen 6 graded Choice at the end, two Good, one Commercial and one Utility (sold early because of sickness.)

The advantage of the balanced supplement showed up convincingly in the final profit figures. Cattle in Lot I sold for an average of $19.26 per cwt., bringing a total of $1844.70. Total feed cost in this pen was $1630.96, which resulted in a labor profit of $21.37 per animal.

The soybean meal calves sold for an average of $17.32, bringing a total of $1490.65. Total feed cost here was $1539.64, resulting in a feeding loss of $4.89 per animal.

The only feeding variable besides supplement fed in Lot I compared to the single source protein fed in Lot II. The final ledger showed a profit advantage of $26.26 per animal in favor of the balanced supplement.

Let Us Reason Together

By W. E. IRVINE

"There is a way which seemeth right unto men; but the end thereof are the ways of death." Prov. 14:12.

Many times you hear a person say, "I'm satisfied with my religion, so don't bother me." The Eunuch was satisfied with his religion, believing in God, until Philip, a gospel preacher, spoke unto him Jesus. Then the Eunuch desired to obey the Lord. (Acts 8).

Paul was satisfied with his religion, doing all things in "good conscience," (Acts 23:1) until he heard the gospel of Christ and obeyed it. (Acts 22).

Cornelius was "a devout man, and one that feared God with all his house, which gave much alms to the people and prayed to God always." (Acts 10:2) yet had to send to Joppa for Peter that might hear words "whereby thou and all thy house shall be saved" (Acts 11:14). Cornelius was an unsaved man even though devout, God fearing, alms giving and prayerful. Why? Because he had not obeyed the gospel. In every case mentioned obeying the gospel water baptism for salvation was mentioned.

It is not enough to be conscientious alone, sincere alone, religious alone; but we MUST be conscientiously RIGHT, and religiously RIGHT. Jesus said, "And ye shall know the TRUTH, and the TRUTH shall make you free." (John 8:32). Truth does not fluctuate, does not change. Two religious beliefs contradicting one another indicate one or both are errors. Truth harmonizes facts.

Our plea is to go back to the Bible, take it only as our guide. Leave the way of man and follow the way of God, regardless of previous teaching or personal feelings.

IT'S THE LAW in TEXAS

BEWARE ADVICE OF "BARRACKS LAWYERS"

You don't have to be a lawyer to form an opinion on a legal subject. However, it is bad business for a layman to pass such an opinion on to others to guide their actions. He may cause them to suffer substantial losses.

Because of the vast intricacies of the law, a simple set of facts often rise to difficult legal problems. In spite of this, there are many persons who persist in passing out legal advice on all problems, pounding the table, quoting rules, and loudly expounding opinions. Beware of those persons, because their free opinions are usually worth what they cost, and often can be the unintended cause of harm to those who rely on them.

For example, George Jones owned a small drug store. He agreed to sell the store to Harry White at a time when he still owed $1000 to various creditors for merchandise he had bought for the store. George and Harry were in the back room one night discussing who would pay these debts. George suggested that they talk to a lawyer.

Just then Wilbur Knowall came into the room, and heard the discussion. He assured them that there was no necessity to see a lawyer. He told George to keep the debts, "to avoid complications," as to telling George's creditors of the sale, Wilbur said that was unnecessary because George was still liable to pay them. George and Harry decided to follow Wilbur's advice.

Several weeks later, after Harry had taken over the store, a representative of one of George's creditors came in and demanded that Harry pay the debt that George had incurred. Harry refused, but went to see a lawyer to make certain. Harry was surprised to learn that he had failed to comply with a Texas Statute in buying the store without giving notice of the sale to George's creditors. He further learned that the sale was void as to them, and that he was liable for George's debts.

This is a common place example

Will Wilson Big Favorite Of Dallas County Bar Assoc.

An indication of how Texas lawyers feel about the race for attorney general is evident in a poll by the Dallas County Bar Association. There the attorneys gave Will Wilson 612 votes with the nearest competitor, Tom Moore, receiving 76.

Two other candidates, Ross Carlton and Curtis Hill both of Dallas, received 47 and 45 votes respectively.

Wilson, a two-term district attorney of Dallas County, recently resigned as Justice of the Supreme Court of Texas to wage his campaign for Attorney General. While serving as District Attorney of the trouble you can get into when toying with the law. Experienced lawyers often must spend many hours researching a problem before advising their clients as to the best course of action to follow. It is therefore hazardous to rely on legal advice of well-meaning friends. As in the case of Harry White, that is often the beginning of many headaches.

of Dallas County, Wilson gained national recognition as a racket-busting official. He was one of five district attorneys, in the entire nation, invited to address the national conference on organized crime in Washington in 1950.

If elected attorney general, Wilson has vowed to enforce the law, "without favor to any individual, organized political group or clique."

Following six years as supreme court justice, Wilson said he left the court "with reluctance." But he surprised few Capitol observers in responding to the challenge to serve as Texas' number-one law enforcement officer. Said Wilson, "Like the old cavalry general, I have always believed in riding straight for the sound of the guns."

Promising to run a clean campaign, Wilson added, "The need for good government in Austin has already been established, it's just a matter of who is going to do it."

Business and Industrial Review

Western Wrecking Co. Has Large Supply of Car, Truck & Tractor Parts

The Western Wrecking Co., located on the Clovis road going out of Muleshoe, carries a large stock of used parts for cars, trucks and tractors and also has many late model motors for irrigation wells. In addition to that his firm also has many used tires of all sizes and types which can be bought at a reasonable price.

B. A. and T. H. Dearing own and operate this business and have been in business in Muleshoe since 1930. They are widely acquainted with the people of this area and have made hundreds of friends & customers since opening for business.

This business buys wrecks and takes off all usable parts, resells them at price much lower than that of a new part. They save the customers a great deal of money and in most cases used parts give just as good service as new ones.

Any farmer wishing to install an irrigation engine can buy one here at a much lower price than a new one would cost and it will give years of satisfactory service. Many of the engines are eight cylinder types from late model cars and are in excellent condition. They can be easily connected to any type of pump for irrigation purposes.

Many accessories can be found here, such as spotlights, batteries, heaters and radios. The next time you need a part or accessory for your car, truck or tractor be sure and go to this firm and save money.
