

"Hot Work, Cold Bath" Wins First

The 27th Annual Earth Amateur Rodeo was kicked off at 5:30 p.m. Thursday with the downtown parade of colorful floats, riding clubs, kids, bicycles and tractors.

Hundreds of spectators lined Main Street to eye the artistic work depicting the 1971 parade theme "Water and Agriculture," entered by businesses and organizations of the area. First place in float competition was awarded to the Earth Roping Club. Their float displayed a line of clothes apparently washed in an old no. 2 tub and the luxury of a cold bath to depict "Hot Work, Cold Bath" to show the progress which has been made concerning water.

The Earth Rainbow Assembly float, "Which Do You Prefer," was awarded second place. The float was constructed using the seven colors of the rainbow. It revealed a dry desert patch with plants dying from lack of water and a lovely well watered garden.

Farmers Coop Gin of Springlake stressed water and agriculture on its float by using a windmill, plow and a bale of cotton. This piece of craftsmanship was given third place honors.

Floats were judged on workmanship, general appearance and carrying out of the "Water and Agriculture" theme. The three top floats were awarded cash prizes of $30, $20 and $10 for their displays in the parade.

Riding clubs receiving recognition were the Bovina Riding Club in first place, Cochran County Riding Club in second place and the Lamb County Sheriffs Posse took third place.

In the junior riding club division, the YL Saddle Tramps of Sulzer were awarded the first place trophy. All riding clubs were judged on appearance, uniformity and neatness of riders.

Bicycle winners in the 10 and over division were Greg Welch in first, Christi Thomas in second and Karen Halcy in third. Tracy Tunnell, Rodney Davis and Arlie Ellis were named winners in the age 9 and under division of bicycle competition.

WOULD YOU BELIEVE??? Not so very long ago the pioneers of this community had to scrub their clothing and take baths this way. Well, this idea won first place in float competition for the Earth Roping Club in the Rodeo Parade Thursday.

They All Stole The Show

The first suspense packed, spine tingling performance of the 27th Annual Earth Amateur Rodeo open Thursday following a colorful downtown parade and a delicious barbecue feast. The festivities got underway at 5:30 as the parade made its way through town and ended at the showbarn. Through the doors of the showbarn drifted the tantalizing aroma of barbecue with all the trimmings to welcome participants and spectators. Gene Templeton, Tub Angeley, Glenn Vinting and Larry Tunnell were in charge of barbecue preparations while Earth Lions Club worked along the serving lines. Beef for the feast was provided by Thurman Lewis, John Bridges and the Earth Roping Club, only admission required for the feast was the purchase of a ticket to the first rodeo performance.

Proceeding the rodeo, the 14 beautiful young ladies competing for the title of 1971 Earth Rodeo Queen were introduced and the Queen was crowned. Miss Pat Cleavinger was awarded the coveted title with JoAnn Coker named first runner-up and Melissa Been second runner-up.

The first performance of the 27th annual rodeo began at exactly 9 p.m. when local resident T.V. Marrell followed by Ken Angeley and Gayland Stephens, displaying the United States and Texas flags, led the grand entry. Pacesetters for the grand entry were the colorful equestrians of the Plainview Comanchero Riding Club.

Approximately 325 cowboys and cowgirls representing several states and towns were entered in the nine rodeo events, according to Lexie Branscum, Earth Roping Club president.

Area cowgirls were seen in action as Bobbie Gail Hogan and Joanne Whitehead split for first and second places in barrel racing. Third place winner was Glenda Brazil followed by Jimmy Parks in fourth. Dunking Board Attracts 652

At a quarter per person, it figures up that with $163.00 taken in, 652 persons were given a chance to drop someone from the end of the dunking board during the rodeo. And do you realize that with three chances given each person a total of 1956 balls were flung at that target!

Local ministers, school teachers and youths volunteered or were drafted to roost upon the perch by members of the community youth choir.

The purpose of the dunking board was to supply entertainment for rodeo goers while collecting funds to support a youth fellowship tour slated for the latter part of summer. Among the perchers who hoped everyone had a bad aim were Cliff Wood, Ricky Knox, Carl

Sulzer, Karen Hinchliffe, Larry Thomas, Guy Davis, Darlene Sulzer, L'Anna Sulzer, Donna Dunnam, Vicki Dunnam, Chuck Dunnam, Vicki Wisan, Erroy Wisan, Roberta Gaston, Shelly Gaston, Paige Gaston, James Thomas, Dennis Criswell, Biff Belew, Rene Belew, Evan Hamilton, Bros. Rites Held For Pioneer Woman

Funeral services for Mrs. Nellie Pearl Barton, 85, were held Wednesday, July 14, in the First Baptist Church of Earth. The services were held at 2:00 p.m. with David Hartman, pastor, officiating. Interment was in the Earth Cemetery under the direction of Parsons-Ellis-Singleton Funeral Home.

Mrs. Barton, a pioneer woman of the area, died Sunday in Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, where she had been for the past two months. She was preceded in death by her husband, R. E. Barton, who passed away in 1962.

Mrs. Barton and her husband came to the area in 1917 and Barton was responsible for planting the first cotton in the area. In the year of 1927, the couple owned the hotel which was established here. They fed and housed many residents of the area at that time. Barton built and owned the first brick building in the area which was his Chevrolet dealership building.

Mrs. Barton and her husband owned the water works serving residents here. At the time of the couple's arrival here, there were no graded roads and the town of Amherst did not exist. The Barton's first settled on three sections of land located four miles north and four miles west of the present City of Earth.

Mrs. Barton helped pioneer the church here. She taught Sunday School classes and was a member of the Young Women's Association and the local Garden Club. She was the oldest charter member of the First Baptist Church and of the local Rebekah Assembly.

MRS. NELLIE PEARL BARTON

Her survivors include three daughters, Mrs. Hattie Mae Moss and Mrs. Faye E. Thomas, both of Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, and Mrs. Mary Jo Sterling of Lubbock; 2 sons, Edd Barton of Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, and Roscoe Barton of Long Beach, California; one sister, Mrs. Ettie Hobbs of Ennis; 6 grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren.

Take A Long, Hard Look

New stories have filtered out of Sweden revealing the social dislocations that threaten to tear asunder what many have thought was the ideal welfare society. Stories have also appeared concerning the social, economic and political problems of other countries. They portray situations that are far from Utopian as far as the lot of ordinary people is concerned. They show there is no such thing as a perfect governmental system--that the more government directs and protects people, the more drab and uninspiring life becomes.

Among the latest of these reports from abroad is an account in the Wall Street Journal by Mrs. Lorana O. Sullivan of how ordinary middle-class British people live. The difference in standards between Americans and their British cousins, in many U.S. eyes, is literally the difference between living and existing. Mrs. Sullivan takes a typical middle-level civil servant who earns about $4,900 a year, which, in Britain, puts his family "...solidly in the middle class." Writes Mrs. Sullivan, "It also puts the family in a house with no central heat. It means, too, ... a car smaller than a Volkswagen. They (the family) don't go to the movies, and they figure that half a dozen dinners out a year is all they can afford."

This particular British family has more luxuries than most Britons--including a telephone. Mrs. Sullivan quotes a survey that indicates only 61 percent of British homes have a refrigerator, 56 percent an automatic clothes washer, 51 percent an automobile and 23 percent an electric food mixer. The average family refrigerator in Britain is only four cubic feet. This is in contrast to the United States where 90 percent of the refrigerators are 12 cubic feet or more in size. In rainy England, only 17 percent of British households have a clothes dryer. The typical family, about which Mrs. Sullivan writes have their own home which they purchased nine years ago and which stands on land owned by the state. It has one bath. The living room is closed off since it lacks heat and needs redecorating, and in its place the family uses an 8 x 10 foot setting room. Only ten percent of British families enjoy central heating. This particular family, writes Mrs. Sullivan, gets along "... with an assortment of gas and electric heaters." The family described by Mrs. Sullivan receives a month's vacation each year which the family spends at a seaside boardinghouse to avoid hotel bills. The wife received a $60 lump sum payment from the government when each child was born. The government also allows $2.16 a week to help support the children. Payroll deductions for taxes, national insurance (mainly health care), social security and a contributory pension plan take about a quarter of the husband's income. Inflation is a problem in Britain just as in the United States. The British pound sterling lost 61 cents of its purchasing power between October, 1964 and November, 1970. A loaf of bread that cost 11 cents then costs 24 cents today.

There is no purpose in comparing living standards and governmental systems of nations other than to gain perspective and a truer sense of values. What is suitable for one nation would be unworkable in another nation. The British way of living is incomprehensible by U. S. concepts. Yet it works for the British people. The important point to consider is whether the British system or some other system is preferable to that of the United States. Many have thought so. Our welfare programs, proposals for national health insurance, and a general extension of government, along paternalistic lines, wittingly or unwittingly, emulates socialist or semi-socialist countries. Is this what the American people really want? Before the choice is irrevocably made, Americans should take a long, hard look at the way the rest of the world lives.

The sun, earth, and all the planets are hurtling towards the constellation Hercules at a speed of 43,000 miles per hour. There is little danger of a collision!

Bare feet can give a sense of liberation -- but watch out not only for infection but for broken bottles on the beach or sharp bits of litter in the grass. Always be alert to what's afoot underfoot!

Postal Clerk Attends Convention

by David Hartman

Local Postal Clerk, Beedie Welch, who has 16 years of service in the local Post Office, attended the Texas Federation of Postal Clerks Convention in San Antonio Thursday, July 8, through Saturday, July 10.

The convention was held in the fabulous Hilton Palacio Del Rio Hotel in downtown San Antonio. On hand to celebrate the 50th Golden Anniversary of the Texas Federation of Postal Clerks was the first General President of the new merged American Postal Workers Union, Brother Francis Stu Filbey. The Texas Federation was the first state to hold its meeting under the APWU banner. Other distinguished guests from Washington, D. C., were Don E. Dann, Executive Vice President; Ted Vallierie, Director of Research and Education; Jack Love, Secretary-Treasurer of Hospital Plan; Orrin Bradshaw, Secretary-Treasurer of Benefit Plan; and Robert (Pete) Whitman, National Regional Vice President.

The Bureau of Employee Compensation-Department of Labor held a school of instruction Thursday and also a question and answer session. Since Mrs. Welch is receiving compensation from the Bureau while recuperating from injuries received in the local post office, she says the school was very beneficial to her. Al Klein and Herbert Doyle from Washington, D. C., were instructors for the seminar.

Mrs. Welch served on the state resolutions committee and it is the third year she has served on a state committee.

Salute To A Courageous Man

bulb in the ceiling of the junior high gym and fell. For some of us there were doubts whether or not he would survive the fall. He did and we're glad. Because we like the good influence he is in our community.

Lesser falls have killed stronger men. But according to Travis' own testimony God wasn't through with him yet. There is a purpose for his being spared. Sure he still feels the after effects of a hard fall. He still has some pain most of the time. But he is back at work doing what is within his physical strength to do. He has resumed his responsibilities with the Boy Scouts. He has been provided a faithful worker, Derrel Howard, to help him. He is back teaching his Sunday School class.

Would you have the courage and fortitude to return to as active a life as this man after going through a near fatal accident? Or would you lie around in your pain moaning and groaning over your ill fate? Travis, we salute you and your courage to live life at its best even in the face of physical limitations. We thank you for caring about our children. Most of all we thank God for letting you stay with us to be an encouragement to us.

Thief Injured During Robbery

The discovery of someone suffering a severe cut will probably lead to the solution of a series of robberies according to Lamb County sheriff's officials. The Littlefield VFW building was robbed again early Saturday morning, making the sixth such robbery within the past six months.

But, whoever broke into the building this time evidently received a bad cut. Jerry Collins, chief sheriff's deputy, said judging from the amount of blood stains found over the building that the cut was probably a very bad one that would need medical attention.

Entry into the building was made through a south window that leads into the kitchen. The Saturday morning haul was the largest of the six burglaries. Twenty-eight and a half cases of beer was taken and the cigarette machine was damaged heavily in an attempt to get into it.

The series of burglaries of the VFW started December 20. The building was broken into again a week later, December 27, a third time on January 17, again on February 21st, then on June 28th with the Saturday entry the most recent.

Collins said extensive damage was done to the building and fixtures each time it was broken into.

Pee Wees Honored With Party

Splashin', hollerin' and just plain old fun were highlights of an evening of festivity when members of the Earth-Springlake Pee Wee League were honored with a swimming party Tuesday evening.

The fun began at 7 o'clock as players, coaches and their families congregated at the Earth City Swimming Pool for a session of water fun.

While enjoying the refreshing water, the young lads participated in rounds of various waterball games.

The fun and excitement of swimming worked up appetites which were satisfied by sack lunches and Cokes enjoyed at the City Park.

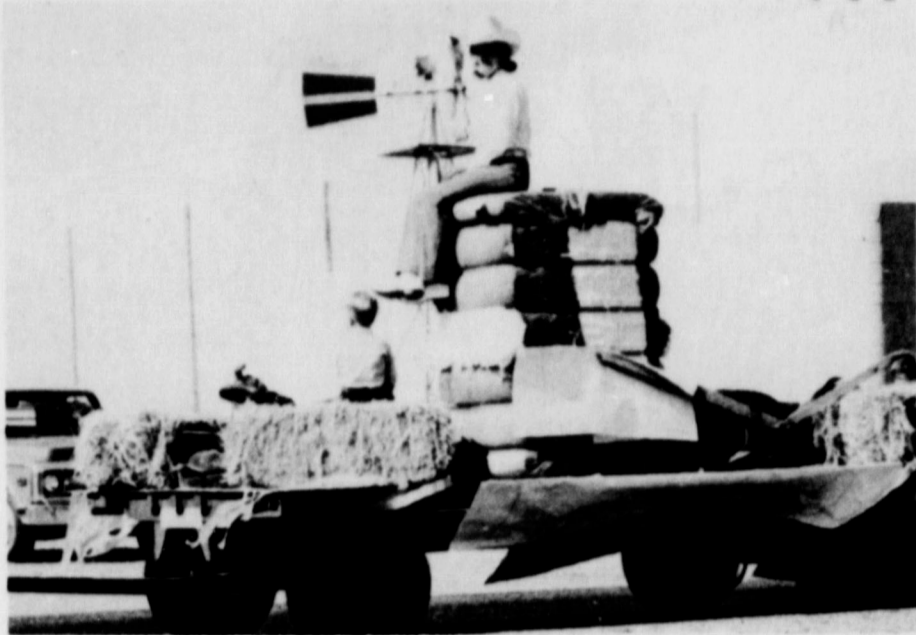

This was the final meeting of the boys as members of the Pee Wee teams and an occasion never to be forgotten.

Team members of the Greens, coached by Robert Gettler and Phil Neinst, for the season were Kevin Riley, Jimmy Robbins, Byron Smith, Terry Conner, Joe Rodriguez, Glen Hausmann, Mark Parish, Lonnie Neinst, Victor Houston, Greg Gettler, Leslie Roe and Rodney Lowater.

Blue team members, Kyle Kelley, Mark Bridge, Loren Taylor, Rodney Davis, Allen Clayton, Reggie Russell, Arlie Ellis, John Ward, Rickey Dutton, Dave Cleavinger, Rex Fennell and Shannon Pellham, were coached by Mrs. Louise Bridge and Mrs. JoEddy Riley.

Glen Smith Speaks To Baptist Men

The Brotherhood of the First Baptist Church, Earth, met for breakfast last Friday morning at 7:00 in Fellowship Hall.

A menu of bacon, scrambled eggs, biscuits, jelly and coffee was prepared by I. B. Thomas, Roger Haberer and David Hartman.

A short business meeting, presided over by Pat McCord, was conducted following the meal. Clinton Green was elected president of the men's organization. His term of office will begin in October.

Rev. Glen Smith, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Springlake, was guest speaker. His brief message was based on Ecclesiastes 9:10, "Whatsoever thy hand findeth to do, do it with thy might; for there is no work, nor device, nor knowledge, nor wisdom in the grave, whither thou goest." Several things were suggested that could be done with our hands:

1. They can be complacent.
2. We can wring our hands with worry, etc.
3. We can throw up our hands and quit. This may be accomplished through unbelief or cowardice.
4. We can lift up our hands to God in prayer, confession, praise and worship.
5. We can also extend a hand in friendship, Christian love, sympathy, assistance and discipline in the church and home.

Rainbows Have Busy Week

Approximately fifteen members of Earth Chapter 156, Order of the Rainbow for Girls, were active last week making preparations for the rodeo parade.

Work began Tuesday when the girls gathered to begin work on their float. The work was continued Wednesday and a reward for the girls came in the form of a swimming party held at the Earth Swimming Pool. The girls participated in a sack lunch picnic highlighted by the serving of homemade ice cream to complete the evening's festivities. The party was held to observe the birthday of Mark Sexson, who founded Rainbows.

The efforts of the girls to create a winning float paid off Thursday when their float was named winner of second place by parade float judges. Besides working on the float, several of the girls donned red shirts and jeans and sold bumper stickers bearing the slogan "We're Down to Earth at Earth, Texas."

The award winning slogan was written by Mrs. Jean Haberer, Past Mother Advisor and Past Worthy Advisor of the local Rainbow Chapter. Mrs. Haberer was also the first Worthy Advisor of the Assembly.

Activities for the girls did not end last week. Plans are being made for a cookout to be held Friday.

Party Line

Regina Cole is visiting this week with M. and Mrs. Carol Cole and Kenny of Lubbock.

Sunday visitors in the Forrest Simmons home were M. and Mrs. L. C. Walker and Robert of Lubbock.

Ice Cream Sales Total $20

To help beat the heat during the rodeo parade Thursday, spectators were able to purchase delicious homemade ice cream and ice cold lemonade from members of the Springlake-Earth Future Homemakers of America.

Concessions were set up at Citizens State Bank, Dent Farm Supply and Good Earth Super Save. For 15¢ patrons could purchase a dish of vanilla, banana nut, pineapple or peach ice cream. Lemonade was available for 10¢.

Serving customers were Darlene Sulser, Regina Cole and Gail Wages. The cooling refreshments were provided by FHA members and officers.

The profit of $20 made during the sale will be used for various FHA projects, national dues and installation of 1971-72 FHA officers.

WHICH DO YOU PREFER? This lovely float was judged second in the Earth Rodeo Parade. The creation was constructed by the Earth Rainbow Assembly and depicts a desert garden needing water and a lovely, brightly colored well-watered garden.

Youths Have Skating Party

A very busy week faced youths enrolled in the Methodist Day Camp, which was held Monday through Friday, July 5-9, at the home of M. and Mrs. Cecil Curtis.

Those students enrolled began work Monday by setting up camp. They made name tags and prepared buddy burners to be used in preparing their meals each day.

Tuesday's activities included looking for poisonous plants. In order to find the villain plants, the group took a field trip through the yard. They made willow whistles for the final project of the day.

On Wednesday, the group took a field trip and collected various things for a dry arrangement. They gathered dry flowers, weeds, leaves, devil claws and other dry plants. Following the field trip, a study of different types of soils was undertaken by the youths.

Activities Thursday involved various types of handicrafts. Those youths attending made seed pictures from various seeds, such as beans, corn, peas, popcorn. They began work on the dry arrangement. To begin the project, the group first covered a piece of cardboard with burlap on which the dry plant specimens they had collected were to be placed for display.

Friday was used to complete the dry arrangement and to finish any other projects which they had not yet put the final touches on. After this was accomplished, members of the group cleaned and closed camp for the session.

Each day the group prepared their own meals and each session was closed with worship, recreation and songs.

Students enrolled in the session were Pam Ott, Clint Dawson, Tommy Graham, Brene Belew, Phil Phifer, Charla Dunnam, Kim Jones and Royce Jordan. Visiting with the group on Friday was Charles Dunnam, minister of the First United Methodist Church.

Serving as instructors for the sessions were Mrs. Carolyn Curtis, Mrs. Cecil Curtis and Mrs. Judy Coker. Assisting were Karen Hinchliffe and Fonda Goodwin.

Guests were served white individual cake squares adorned by pink and blue baby rattles and pins and delicious punch from silver and crystal appointments by Mrs. Jimmy Smith and Mrs. Kenny Hamilton.

The honoree was presented a lovely corsage made of yellow baby socks.

17 Attend GS Swimming Program

The Earth City Swimming Pool was the scene of much activity July 5-9 as Junior and Cadette Scouts gathered to participate in a Girl Scout Swimming program.

Instructions began Monday morning at 9 a. m. During the session, all girls were required to swim 20 feet using the American crawl and to float on their backs. They were also required to use the buddy system while swimming and were shown how to use a towel and pole to rescue a drowning victim. Cadettes attending the session had to swim 100 yards, using three different strokes.

Tuesday was spent by practicing getting in and out of a canoe without tipping it over. Following the session, a round of water games was enjoyed by all.

Wednesday began with a big splash. The girls all donned life preservers and jumped into the pool. This was done in order to learn how to upright oneself while wearing a preserver.

Artificial respiration using mouth to mouth resuscitation and other methods was demonstrated by Mrs. Don Taylor.

Thursday was spent reviewing the various things learned during the week. Water games were enjoyed the remainder of the session.

Each girl was to construct a sailboat during the week for a race Friday. Boats of various designs were patted against each other and Tammy Davis was named winner of the festival.

The week of swimming instruction was ended Friday with a weiner roast. The girls completed their Scouting knowledge and prepared a delicious lunch of hot dogs, chips, Kool-Aid and ice cream bars.

Visiting during the session Friday were Mrs. Peggy Shugart, area council representative, and Miss Pat Harris, Girl Scout Caprock executive director. Leaders working with the girls to aid them in earning their Water Badges were Mrs. Don Taylor, Mrs. Raiford Daniel, Mrs. Allen Smith, Mrs. Sam Barden, Mrs. Tom Lively, Mrs. Wayne Davis and Mrs. Donald Clayton assisted by Wayne Stockard and Chuck Smith.

STORING SUMMER FOODS-- During the summer months, pay particular attention to food storage. For all dairy foods, follow the rule of the 3 C's-- keep them cold, clean and covered.

WEINERS-- Hot dogs are an all time American favorite; more than 14 billion were eaten last year. But many consumers don't know that two kinds of weiners are sold in the market. "All meat" weiners mean the meat consist of a combination of skeletal muscle meats; "all beef" means only beef.

Apollo 15 To Cachet Covers

Norfolk, VA. -- Manned Spacecraft Recovery Forces of the U.S. Navy will provide commemorative cachet and cancellation services for the upcoming Apollo 15 manned flight to the moon.

Philatelic coordinators designated for the Atlantic and Pacific Fleet Recovery Forces (TASK FORCE 14 and 130) will receive all such covers and will make distribution to assigned recovery ships.

Bring Out Your Personality In Carpet Selection

Carpet styles used to be rigid and standardized. A certain type carpet only looked well with red, blues or yellows.

But not any more, says Jan Slabough, Extension housing and home furnishings specialist at Texas A&M University.

Today all styles and colors can be combined for an electric look. The popular trend is to combine carpeting with different moods--matching stripes with circles, velvets with wools, modern with traditional. Shag, for example looks sharp when accented with modern or traditional. It even complements Early American, the specialist points out.

And plushes can be used with chrome, glass, aluminum or velvet.

Oriental rugs are natural in a contemporary setting, yet they can create excitement with Early American or antique styles.

The style you select gives insight to your personality and life pattern, and the electric approach allows freedom to create your own look.

Adults between the ages of 21 and 35 litter three times as much as people over 50 nearly twice as much as those in the 35-39 age bracket.

Tech To Offer Ag Course

Lubbock--Faculty planners of a graduate course to be offered this fall by the College of Agricultural Sciences at Texas Tech University aren't worrying in the least over "how we're gonna keep 'em down on the farm" because--in a sense--the course is being organized to specifically reach persons either already there or at least close by.

The graduate course is in animal nutrition, and--although not new to the curriculum itself--it will be taught for the first time at the Texas Tech University Research Center at Pantex northeast of Amarillo.

It is, in fact, the first such university credit course ever to be offered exclusively at the Pantex research center by Tech.

According to Dr. Anson R. Bertrand, dean of the College of Agricultural Sciences, the graduate level course in animal nutrition is being primarily aimed at high school vocational agriculture instructors, county agents, cattle and feedlot industry personnel and feed and livestock pharmaceutical company people as well as to agriculture graduate students and others needing or desiring instruction in the field.

Dr. Bertrand emphasized, however, that enrollment in this Animal Science 538 course will of necessity be limited to 25.

Teaching the course will be Dr. R. Hollis Klett, superintendent of the Pantex research center, in association with Dr. Lloyd Sherrod, Tech animal science professor.

Outlining motives for conducting the course for the first time at Pantex, Dr. Klett explained that the center had been receiving many inquiries from persons in the area and elsewhere concerning their desire to take courses which would apply toward an advanced degree. "Many, however, were tied down close to home by the responsibilities of a full-time job," he explained, "and would have found it impossible either to live on or near the main campus or to commute while taking one or two courses."

It was with this in mind that the course at Pantex has been organized. Moreover, training to be made available will be especially pertinent and valuable to the rapidly expanding livestock feeding industry of the area, Dr. Klett added.

To make the course offering even more convenient and to enable interested persons to more readily take advantage of it, classes are to be conducted at night, Dr. Bertrand said. It will meet one night a week with the day of the week and time to be arranged.

The course will specifically cover ruminant analysis of nutritional theory--intermediary metabolism of nitrogen, energy, vitamins and minerals under the conditions of maintenance and various types of production, and ruminal fermentation.

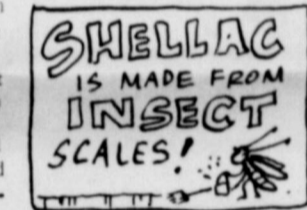

Registration for the course will be August 25-27, and tuition fees have been set at $15 when taken for credit and $10 when taken for audit. For further information contact Dr. Klett at Pantex at AC 806 335-1606, or Dr. Bertrand at AC 806 742-4271.

'If You Arrest My Son Please Be Brutal'

(Editor's Note: The following is reprinted from the Topeka "Bench Warrant.")

One of the most common phrases heard in our society and our city today is "police brutality." Perhaps I don't understand the meaning, but I would like to give you one mother's viewpoint on this subject.

To begin, I should first tell you that I have two teen-age sons, and being a mother, I cannot help but want the very best of everything for them. I am a "typical mother" in that I do not want to see them hurt by anyone. I am not a typical mother, for I see things many mothers never hear of, much less become involved in, because my husband is a minister and we see the very best and the sordid worst.

I would like for you to be brutal with my sons. Is this a surprise?

If you find them speeding in a car, please be brutal. I have sat at a hospital holding a grieving mother's hand because of someone's mistake. That was brutal. I have gone with my husband to tell a wife her husband was killed. That was brutal. I have helped nurse a beautiful teen-age girl crippled in a wreck. That was brutal. I have played organ music at funeral services for babies, teenagers, and adults because someone drove too fast. That was brutal.

If you should catch my underage sons with liquor in their possession, please be brutal.

I have sat all night by my husband's side trying to piece together two underage young men's lives, both broken by drinking. That was brutal. I have listened to the horrors experienced by another man while he was drunk and heard him recall the many jails he had served time in for this. That was brutal. I have helped feed hungry children because a drunken father didn't come home. That was brutal. I have tried to console a mother whose daughter was killed after being struck by a drunken driver. That was brutal.

If you should find my sons with drugs in their possession, please be brutal.

I have tried to rehabilitate a woman just out of prison for shooting her husband while she was drugged. That was brutal. I have seen a handsome young man turn into an old ugly one because of drugs. That was brutal. I have seen a young mother who was addicted to a drug scream and rave for lack of a "fix." That was brutal.

If you find my sons committing any kind of immoral act or carrying any pornographic materials, please be brutal! I have walked into a hushed, sacred church that was stripped of everything that could be sold. That was brutal. I have seen a lovely, expensive home and yard completely torn up by vandals. That was brutal. I have seen a school and its marvelous equipment torn apart by young vandals. That was brutal. I have wiped a little boy's tears and helped him hunt for his stolen bicycle. That was brutal.

If you should ever catch my sons doing anything illegal, please be brutal. I have come to realize that your kind of "brutality" cannot in any way compare with the brutality that comes from breaking our laws.

My husband and I have tried to teach our sons that their rights end where someone else's begin. We believe they have learned this lesson, but in case they forget, we look to you and others who influence their lives--teachers, coaches, etc.--to see that they remember.

I do not want my two sons to grow into two grown-up boys. I want them to become men, able to assume their places in this world and make good contributions to it. I sincerely hope they won't need your help, but if they do, and if you must, then be brutal.

A Concerned Mother.

My Country, America

by Steve Morgan

My country, America, is, in itself, a symbol of freedom, equality, justice, and happiness. When I look at the American flag, I don't see fifty stars and stripes with a blue background, I don't see thirteen stars and stripes. I see an Indian trading post in New Mexico, a small town parade in Alabama, a young boy and girl taking on life's many troubles together for the first time in Kansas, I see America.

When I don't like something the President does or says, I am free to say what I think, and I don't get put into prison for it. If I read something in a newspaper that I think isn't true, I can write to the editor, knowing that my letter will be published. I know that I don't have to be rich and have nice clothes to go to school. When I go to apply for a job, I know that if I am capable, I will get the job. The law assures me of that.

In the Constitution, it states that all men are created equal. I can truly say I am just as good as President Nixon. If I am accused of doing something wrong, I know I will get a fair trial. My ball won't be unreasonably. This is because in America a person is innocent until proven guilty. If I am found guilty of the crime, I will get a fair sentence.

As an American, I am more than willing to defend my country against enemies. Many, many Americans have given their lives for America, and I am more than glad to do the same.

Sometimes in America, things go wrong. We make mistakes, we are humans, we aren't perfect. We might elect a bad president, but he can be impeached. We might buy Johnny's shoes too small. Americans aren't perfect, but we don't claim to be.

I wouldn't trade America for any other country in the world. I hope I feel the same way in hard times. I hope I will be able to overcome obstacles that may be in the way. I will vote for whom I believe is the best man, and I can only hope I haven't misplaced my faith. I can go to any church, or not go at all. I can worship God any way I want. For you see, this is my country, America, and I love it.

Koonce Speaks On Saving Of Lives

The saving of lives was the subject of a program presented by R. A. Koonce, of the Texas State Department of Health to the Earth Volunteer Fire Department Monday evening and the Earth Lions Club Tuesday at noon. Field Consultant of the Health Department's Civil Defense and Traffic Safety Division, Koonce introduced a film, "Before the Emergency", dealing with the functioning of emergency medical services.

More effective and efficient emergency medical services and ways to bring these about were cited. Among these were (1) the formation of an advisory council on the community level to evaluate the local situation, formulate plans for improvement, and develop workable solutions;

(2) providing for the best possible equipment for ambulances, rescue units, and emergency rooms; (3) development of better co-ordination among all phases of emergency care; (4) establishment of radio communication between emergency facilities, including ambulances; (5) training for all personnel involved in emergency care; and (6) development of a program of practice and rehearsal to keep everyone aware of his duties and responsibilities.

Doctor Robert Kennedy, New York physician and prominent authority on emergency care says, "It is reasonable to assume that 20,000 victims of auto and other accidents die needlessly every year because of deficiencies in our emergency services."

Pair Arraigned On Felony

At 12:55 p. m. Tuesday, July 6, a money-making career was ended for two 30-year old Houston men. The pair was arrested by county authorities and charged with felony theft following home repairs involving elderly persons.

Lamb County Sheriff E. D. McNeese and Deputy Jerry Collins arrested Mickey Lewellyn Smith, Jr. and Richard Edwards Tuesday. Bond was set at $4,000 each.

The duo was arrested after complaints from elderly persons here and at Amherst were received. The victims had paid exorbitant fees for home repairs actually worth only a few dollars.

An Earth man was charged and paid $2,550 for roof repairs valued by Earth City Marshall Alvin Pittman, at only a few dollars. Another victim of the pair, an Amherst woman, was charged $400 for minor roof repairs.

$60 in cash and four handmade quilts which the woman had paid the men were recovered by officials.

None of the $2,550 paid by the local man has been recovered but Deputy Collins stated the victim's son said one of the men in custody has agreed to sell his pickup and return the homeowner's money. Suspicion of an unlawful act first occurred in Earth when Smith and Edwards attempted to cash a check given them for payment in the amount of $2,550. Assistant cashier at the local bank, Mrs. Lynn Glasscock, stated that the men were both "nice and clean and neither of them looked as if they had been working." Their appearance and extremely high charges were what seemed odd to the cashier. When they first attempted to cash the check, Mrs. Glasscock refused to do so because the written amount and figures on the check did not correspond. After a second fruitless attempt, the pair took the local man to the bank where he authorized payment on the check.

Smith and Edwards were arraigned on charges of felony theft Tuesday afternoon by Justice of the Peace Doss in Littlefield.

They are to be presented to the grand jury for indictment sometime this week.

Roll Top Desks In Demand

COLLEGE STATION--The old fashioned roll top desk isn't old any more.

Consumers are clamoring to buy modernized versions manufacturers are now producing, announces Jan Slabaugh, Extension housing and home furnishings specialists at Texas A&M University.

The "new" roll top desks have nylon tracks for slats to roll on, allowing for more dependable rolling action than the original roll tops. The desk rolls easily and stays neatly in its track.

Rolltops are scaled for smaller apartments. You can conveniently roll the top over work without putting it away, yet still hide the clutter.

Styles and prices of the roll tops range widely. Most designs, though, are small in scale and are quite dainty, the specialist adds.

Criss Dent Director At Workshop

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The following is a copy of a personal interview of Miss Criss Dent by Amarillo Daily News staff writer Ann Marcy.)

Miss Dent, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Dent of Earth, was bestowed the great honor of serving as the only student director at the July 4 - July 9 Student Council workshop at West Texas State University. She has been asked to serve as student director of the Student Council workshop to be held in August at the University of Houston.)

CANYON -- "Student Councils are at a critical stage," says Criss Dent, 17, of Springlake-Earth High School. "It's either got to shape up or ship out."

Miss Dent is the student director of the week-long Student Council workshop being held at West Texas State University.

About 130 students and a score of faculty sponsors are enrolled for the sessions.

What is the matter with the student councils?

"There are so many problems that principals are afraid to stick their necks out and give the councils any responsibility," she said.

The councils themselves, she said, sometimes stick to a social type organization rather than service or representative. At the opposite extreme, some are following the examples of college radicals and attempting demands.

"Student council is not a student government," said Miss Dent, a former student council secretary.

The students at this week's conference came from across the Panhandle and South Plains.

The workshop is an annual program sponsored by the organization but is being held at West Texas State University for the first time this year.

"Without student councils, we would lose a lot," she said.

Of the workshop, she said, "They are here to learn to be better officers."

The student leaders are being taught nine objectives of student councils, the most basic of which is "that everything a student council does must foster and promote the educational process."

Miss Dent believes that student council members should be the voice of the student body in expressing opinions. On the other hand, the administration can inform the student body through the council.

"They are learning to go through the proper channels," she said, "how to work with the administration... where their authority is and where they have no e."

At the same time, she said, workshop leaders are impressing students with the idea that that council is there to work. "We're trying to get away from the idea that the council is just to sponsor dances and make homecoming decorations... not that this is bad, but there are so many more important things to be doing." For example, she said, student councils can be leaders in encouraging respect for law and order, and to teach students to be responsible. "We've been taught to think and question... when you're taught to do that, problems are bound to come of it." Operated properly, she said, a student council can help work out the problems.

Play Tryouts Set Monday

The Springlake-Earth Summer Theatre will hold tryouts Monday, July 19, at the Springlake-Earth High School. Tryouts for girls' parts is to be held at 8:00 p.m. and for boys at 9:00. There will be three plays cast during the tryouts, "Feuding Mountain Boys", "Broken Sentence" and "No Greater Love". "Feuding Mountain Boys" is a comedy about a mountain feud which starts out as a joke but gets out of hand. "Broken Sentence" is a comedy about two elderly spinners who take in two wayward girls. "No Greater Love" is a drama concerning a young doctor torn between a desire to make money in a big city and his duty to the small community of his childhood.

The Summer Theatre is open to all high school aged students in the Springlake-Earth area. They are all invited to try out for a part for the forthcoming productions. To become a member of the Theatre group, students must simply be present for Monday, July 19, tryouts.

Youths Have Week-Long Nature Study

The City of Plainview came to life Monday evening, July 12, when members of the Church of Christ journeyed to the city for a skating party. Forty first through the sixth grade students and their adult sponsors departed the local church at 5:30 p.m.

Their first stop was the Plainview City Park where the group enjoyed a picnic cookout. The meal consisted of hot dogs, chips, cookies and Cokes. When the students had cleaned up their meal area, they proceeded to the Plainview Roller Rink and enjoyed an evening of skating fun. The group was taken to Plainview by Mr. and Mrs. Norman Clayton, Mr. and Mrs. Troy Laymen, Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Hayden, Mrs. Sam Barden, Mrs. Ronald Cleaviniger and Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Harper.

Voting Age Lowered

Two hundred seven Lamb County youths aged 18, 19 and 20 who registered to vote in federal elections now have the privilege to vote in any and all federal, state, county, city, or other political subdivision elections.

Effective July 1, the 26th A-mentment to the U. S. Constitution lowered the voting age to 18 years. Persons who turned 18 years of age after the close of the regular 1971 registration period (Jan. 31) may still register for the current voting year, according to Herbert Dunn, tax assessor-collector.

Party Line

Parish Len Rye flew by Continental Airlines to Earth last week especially to see the rodeo. He is the one-year-old son of Mrs. Vicki Lynn Rye and the great-grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Parish.
