G.A.'s Study Prayer

The Springlake GA's heard a wonderful story on prayer when they met Tuesday afternoon at the First Baptist Church.

Mrs. Delvin Walden, leader, read the story "The Church That Prayed." It was the story of a small church in Walker, California, and it told how the church overcame problems through prayer. The story centered around a little girl named Becky and it brought out how she learned to pray and what prayer meant in her life.

After the reading of the story, the girls had a circle prayer.

Valentine cup cakes, punch and Tootsie Pops were served to Cathy Cain, Michael Fields, Dyan Jones, Kelley Walden, Kelly Head and Kathy Head by Mrs. Lowell Walden.

The GA's were unable to attend the GA rally in Muleshoe Monday evening as was previously planned due to the weather.

Approximately 150 young people attended the Llanos Altos Associational Youth Rally Monday evening at the First Baptist Church in Earth.

A very inspiring program was presented by a group of young people from Wayland Baptist College under the direction of Randy Holland. The program included songs and testimonies.

Punch and doughnuts were served in the fellowship hall following the rally.

200 Attend FHA Dinner

The Springlake-Earth FHA girls hosted an enchilada dinner at the school cafeteria Sunday, February 11.

The dinner was given to raise money for the banquet Saturday night, to send representatives to the FHA Convention, and for FHA Week, April 1-7. The girls served approximately 200 people and made $180.

They would like to express their appreciation to all who attended the dinner and express a special thank you to those who helped with the preparation for the dinner.

Convenient Food Versus Home Prepared Demo Club Program

Mrs. Keith Boone presented a very interesting program on Convenient Food Versus Home Prepared to the Springlake Home Demonstration Club when they met Thursday, February 8 in the home of Mrs. James Smith.

After much discussion, it was decided that probably the main difference in convenient and home prepared foods is the cost. The home prepared foods are much cheaper.

The convenient foods are time saving and are especially helpful for women who work.

The devotional, given by Mrs. Smith, was the poem, "I Know Something Good About You."

Delicious refreshments of sugar cookies, orange Jello salad, sunburst coffee cake, chips and dip, soft drinks, and coffee were served by the hostess to Mrs. Ed Biles, Mrs. Keith Boone, Mrs. Bob Boone, and guest, Mrs. Garland Crouch.

At the close of the meeting, Mrs. Crouch decided to become a member of the club.

Mrs. Bruce Higgins was presented a T.H.D.A. pin at the Friendship Day meeting held in Littlefield last month. This is a special honor as the recipient must meet certain requirements to qualify for receiving the pin.

The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Marvel Garuthers on February 22.

Sheryl Clayton was in the Littlefield Hospital last week with the flu.

Methodist Women Continue Study

The Wesleyan Service Guild and the W.S.C.S. met together Monday evening in the fellowship hall of the Earth United Methodist Church to continue a group study of the book of Romans.

The study was led by Rev. Charles Dunnam and Mrs. Norman Sulser.

The 6th and 7th chapters of Romans were studied at the Monday meeting.

The group looked at chapters from the view point of the age in which the apostle Paul lived and then applied the study to our present time.

The Wesleyan Service Guild and the Women's Society of Christian Service will soon merge to become United Methodist Women.

The special study will continue for two more weeks.

Bullish on central air conditioning? Consider investing just a little more in a long-term, blue chip Gas air conditioning system.

Only a Gas air conditioning system pays you regular dividends for many happy years. That's because the heart of a Gas cooling system is a simple gas burner, rather than an electric, mechanical compressor. A clean-burning gas flame doesn't wear out — so there's less to go wrong, fewer maintenance calls, a longer life with no loss of original cooling capacity. And because natural gas is the prime energy source, you'll also save money on operating cost.

Call one of our air conditioning specialists this week — before the summer market becomes really active. He'll make a free, no obligation, survey of your home and give you a quotation on the cool investment.

Six Nuclear Generating Plants Expected to be Operating in Texas by 1980

Nuclear power plants will be lighting up Texas within eight years and by the year 2000 will furnish a major part of the state's massive and rapidly expanding electricity demand.

State health authorities, who will assist the Atomic Energy Commission in supervising development of the plants and monitoring of their operations say they expect six nuclear generating plants to be in operation in Texas in the 1980's, with another nearby plant in Louisiana also furnishing part of the state's electrical needs.

"Failure to consider nuclear power as a necessary alternative source of electricity from the fossil fuel plants now in operation in Texas would be to ignore a pressing need and follow a road that would lead to a vast energy problem," said Dr. J.R. Maxfield, Jr., chairman of the Texas Radiation Advisory Board to the Texas State Department of Health.

The facets of that problem include potential power blackouts, brownouts, curtailed use of electricity by the public, possible higher prices, continued pollution from fossil fuel plants, and a vulnerability to the demands of oil-producing nations of the world.

"Texas will face the probability of electrical brownouts in the major metropolitan areas in the 1980's if we don't develop an alternative power source to fossil fuel," said Dr. Maxfield. "We will find ourselves in the predicament the east coast of the U.S. now faces, with brownouts and blackouts a fact of life."

"Texas is reasonably well-supplied with fossil fuel at the moment, but within the next 10 years we will be facing a crisis. If we don't move now to develop nuclear power as a generating source for electricity, the day will come when we will have to have a curtailment of power to industry and for the home. Limitations will have to be placed on the rationed in the number of hours its plants can run per day."

Despite this apparent desperate need for an alternative energy source, wherever nuclear power plants are under consideration in Texas criticism is heard, primarily from environmentalists, that the dangers of serious radiation accidents and unwanted environmental effects are too great. "Nothing could be farther from the truth, according to extensive studies and data accumulated over the past several years," said Martin C. Wukasch, director of the Occupational Health and Radiation Control Division of the State Health Department.

"The safety record of the 22 nuclear power plants now in operation in the United States is an even 100 percent. The total operating experience of these 22 plants is equal to about 100 years, and there has never been a radiation release that exceeded regulatory guidelines. These nuclear plants are constructed with almost 'fail-safe' self-quenching safety mechanisms. And in normal operation, the nuclear plants emit less radiation to the environment than naturally occurring cosmic radiation. There is certainly no radiation problem posed by radiation emission from the red granite in the State Capitol building, but the Capitol emits more radiation than would a nuclear power plant."

"The knowledge that a nuclear power reactor contains many millions of curies of radioactive fission products has led to the conscious imposition of severe safety standards by designers and operators. The release of even a small fraction of this radioactivity in any circumstances, including a serious accident, is unlikely as to be deemed incredible by normal engineering judgment. Health officials have calculated the odds on the possible release of radiation from a nuclear power plant to the environment, even under conditions of a serious accident, to be less than the probability of a meteorite striking an individual on the surface of the earth.

Since Texas has become an "Agreement State" with the Atomic Energy Commission, the State Health Department will play a vital role in environmental surveillance and monitoring in the planning phase, the development and construction, and the day-to-day operations of nuclear power plants in the state. No other program comes under stricter state supervision. At least 15 state agencies will have the opportunity to review the environmental impact of these plants and advise the Executive Department, who in turn will advise the Environmental Protection Agency and the Atomic Energy Commission of any undesirable or potential ecological problems.

"The major problem with conventional plants is potential air pollution," said Dr. Maxfield.

Interest Paid On Charge Accounts Tax Deductable

Dallas, Texas--Many of us find it convenient to charge our purchases in stores and gas stations. The catch, of course, is having to pay finance charges.

If you've had to pay finance charges on your revolving charge accounts, the Internal Revenue Service has some good news. You can deduct revolving charge account finance charges as interest on your income tax returns.

Typically, these charge accounts permit customers to purchase goods or services on credit at no charge if the purchases are paid in full within 30 days of the billing date. If the customer doesn't make full payment within 30 days, the seller adds a charge to the customer's account based on the unpaid balance at the beginning of the month.

What's more, you can deduct the full amount of the interest charged, whether it's 8 percent or 18 percent a year. Generally, you must pay the interest before you can deduct it. And the interest must be on a debt that you legally are required to pay. You can't deduct interest you have paid for another person who is responsible for the debt.

One more important tip to remember: be sure that you have good records of your payments. The IRS may ask you to prove you actually paid the interest you claimed as a deduction.

Texas Gaining Foothold On Cattle Feeding Title

"Texas cattle feeders are continuing to gain a tighter foothold on the title of the Number 1 cattle feeding state in the nation," points out Dr. Edward Uvacek, livestock marketing specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

On Jan. 1, the number of cattle on feed in Texas was up 16 percent over Jan. 1 of last year. The new record high of 2.2 million head was also 16 percent of all the cattle on feed in the nation.

Nationwide, marketings totaling some 7 million head are expected during the January-March quarter with 18 percent coming from Texas feedlots. "This further illustrates the increasing importance of Texas as a cattle feeding state," he pointed out.

Texas marketings during the first quarter of 1973 are expected to be up 33 percent compared to the same period last year. Total fed cattle marketings in Texas during 1972 reached the 4.2 million mark compared to 3.7 million head in 1971.

As far as the 23 major cattle feeding states are concerned, there were 13.9 million head--9 percent more than a year ago--on feed as of Jan. 1, notes the specialist. Expected marketings in the first quarter of 1973 are projected to be up 7 percent for the 23-state area.

Cattle and calves placed on feed last October, November and December in Texas were up 12 percent over that period a year ago.

"The Panhandle of Texas continues to be the prime cattle feeding area, boasting two-thirds of all the cattle on feed in the state," adds Uvacek.

Wayland College To Host International Conference

PLAINVIEW, TX. Special-- Wayland Baptist College will be host for the Twelfth Annual International Relations Conference sponsored by the Division of Social Sciences and the Student's Club on Feb. 22 and 23.

Using the theme, "Russia in Today's World," the conference is coordinated by Miss Mary Zumot, instructor in political science.

The conference will open with a banquet in Slaughter Memorial Center on Feb. 22 at 7:30 p. m. to which the public is invited. Featured speaker for the affair will be Gleb A. Smirnov, the Soviet Union's Permanent Mission to the United Nations.

Tickets for the banquet may be reserved in the office of public relations or the department of political science at the college.

On the agenda for Feb. 23 are personal choice workshops. Beginning at 9 a. m. the Gates Hall Auditorium will be one workshop, "United States Relations with the Soviet Union," led by William J. Dyess, an officer of the Department of State in Washington, D.C. At the department, he is with the Soviet Desk, Bilateral Affairs. He has previously served for two years in the United States Embassy in Moscow.

Another workshop at the same time will be "Russia Through Slides," led by Dr. John Burnett professor of comparative governments in Russian Studies at Texas Tech University.

Smirnov will again be the featured speaker at a 10 o'clock chapel session in Slaughter Memorial Auditorium.

Following the chapel session, Dr. Burnett will again show his slides of Russia and an open forum with Smirnov and Dyess will be held in Gates Hall Auditorium.

The conference will end with an informal luncheon in Slaughter Center with the con-breeds, 5 dairy breeds, 6 swine breeds, 11 sheep breeds, 6 horse breeds, 5 rabbit breeds, 22 poultry breeds and Angora goats. In addition, a record number of auction sales will be held during the first four days of the show.

The Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo, "The Show With A Heart", does more to benefit youth on a statewide basis than any show in the country. Scholarships in the amount of $4,000 each are presented annually to outstanding and deserving FFA and 4-H Club members. Currently, 85 students are attending college on scholarships provided by the Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo. In addition, twenty-two scholarships of $1,000 each will be awarded to winners in each of 22 counties participating in the show's Area Go-Team program.

The Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo was the first such show in the country to underwrite Agricultural Research. The Research Program was established in 1970 and 11 Texas agricultural colleges are participating in this program. Much of the work is done by the students themselves, thus providing jobs for those college students who need to work. Some $100,000 is set aside annually for the Research Program and the knowledge gained directly benefits Texas agribusiness.

Census To Collect Information On Employment Here

A sample of households in this area will take part in a nationwide survey on employment and unemployment to be conducted the week of February 19-23 by the Bureau of the Census, Percy R. Millard, Director of the Bureau's Data Collection Center in Dallas, announced today.

The survey is taken monthly by the Bureau for the U.S. Department of Labor. The households interviewed are scientifically selected to represent a cross section of all households.

Statistics on conditions in the labor force from month to month provide a continuing measure of the economic health of the Nation. In December, for example, total employment increased by 280,000 to 82.8 million (seasonally adjusted), continuing the strong upward trend in evidence since mid-1971. The revised unemployment rate for December was 5.1 percent, down from 5.2 percent in November and 6.0 percent a year ago.

Information supplied by individuals participating in the survey is held confidential by law and is used only to compile statistical totals.
