WITH POLLY

Free, was dreading the store move pretty badly. I seen looking longingly in just before he attacked me, and was heard to say, "Old boy, you look pretty good, but not half as bad as I look after this move I only will recognise you after this."

L. H. Dent, was very envious about her trip to Oklahoma, Kansas, and in talking about Oklahoma's crop, she said, "I don't have crops out there, just have PATCHES."

"I can say about those PATCHES, I know they do fall short of the number of acres cultivated in West Texas, but I tried little lass who used to weeds out of the patches of those ROWS LOOKED BETTER LONG."

"I got the idea that my dad was far superior to that old boy, so I decided to cut SKIPS in each row of cotton, that when picking time come I'd pick along side of my old mister and stay up with her to much effort. (But Dad had to be in on all those fine ideas, nearly by the time we were hatched.) And some were applied the most unheard of psychology, not at all the way we apply on our off-ings today. Mostly what he applied was a BELT, PEACH TREE OR COTTON STALK, some on that order, and it always was on that order, and it seemed as if always something had to be done. (More I think about it, I have had it made out here, and were overalls. (no belt, and I couldn't have found a tree to pick a switch - GEE WOULD MY LIFE HAVE BEEN SIMILAR.)"

from the Editor:
Dad - You know Dad they are the only way one pays for troubles to their parents, is raising children themselves - mine are just normal kids to Dad.

Mr. R. Burton says it happens to him every 22 years. And being from the sadness on his mind at the thought of moving to Earth he wasn't liking the thing on every 22 years. He remembered that prior to moving to Earth he had lived in Paducah for years, and he wondered if Clovis would be his home for the next 22 years.

Fathers just have a way of suggesting that a good deed done by their poor defenceless offspring is some ulterior motive, and it was Jarvis Angeley is no exception to the rule. (After his two sons surprised their mother on her birthday with a new "88" Oldsmobile Holiday.) He began wondering, even though he had been taking turns with the boys on his car, her present was purchased with part of a HALF NOTION IN MIND that maybe they could just BORROW IT QUITE OFTEN.

nosin -
Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Burton moved Tuesday, August 9, to Hobbs, New Mexico, after living in this country for the past 22 years.

Mr. Burton was engaged in farming until he began work with the Missouri Valley Construction Company, 2 1/2 years ago, at plant in Earth.

News Of Your Riding Club

By: M. KNIGHT

The Earth Riding Club met Monday night at the Watson Gas Company for a special called meeting by Bob Knight, Secretary.

Business discussed concerned methods to raise funds necessary to keep the club self-supporting and also to finance the annual barbecue for the coming year. Several good ideas were proposed by various club members, however none were accepted or rejected. These ideas shall be discussed further in a future meeting.

Also it was decided the club would accept the invitation to attend the Dimmitt Rodeo on Thursday of this week. The parade shall be at 4:00 p.m. and the barbecue at 6:00 p.m. Each member shall furnish his own transportation for his horse, as the truck will not be worthwhile on such a short trip. Cake, coffee and cookies were served by the club ladies, and the meeting adjourned at ten-thirty.

THE world's smallest drawbridge, with a draw just large enough for a sailboat mast to pass, is located in Sandys Parish, Bermuda. The hand-operated draw, only 18 inches wide, is raised to allow sailboats to pass from the Great Sound into Ely's Harbour and passing motorists often stop to assist in the operation. The Bermuda government recently voted a large sum to preserve the bridge, built many years ago.

Highlights and Sidelights FROM Your State CAPITOL

AUSTIN, Tex.—Whether Texas school laws have been nullified is under a statewide advisory committee's study.

Gov. Allan Shivers outlined major desegregation problems at the committee's initial meeting last week. Although he denounced the U. S. Supreme Court decree, he said the answer was not in defiance. He recommended adjustment in the best interest of Texas school children.

Shiver said an El Paso district court decision ordering desegregation at Texas Western College may necessitate rewriting the Gilmer - Aiken laws. School money now is allocated on the basis of separate, but equal, facilities for white and colored.

Bi-racial, the group includes 34 community leaders appointed by the governor and eight legislators named by the house speaker and lieutenant governor.

Will Morris Crews, San Antonio lawyer and contractor, was named to head a 12 - member executive committee. A legal subcommittee will study legislative needs.

Areas of study suggested by the governor:

1. What to do about present compulsory attendance and compulsory segregation laws.
2. Whether either white or colored children can be forced to attend a certain school, or integrate against their will.
3. Ways and means of giving maximum authority to local school districts.

POLIO VACCINE ALLOCATED

Children under 10 and expectant mothers have won priority recognition for Texas' supply of commercial Salk vaccine.

Such preference was recommended by the State Polio Vaccine Committee. D. Henry Holte, state health commissioner, called the group to decide how the 36,549 vaccine doses released to Texas should be used.

Recommended use was split, 83 per cent commercially, 17 per cent by public agencies.

Agencies were asked to order through retail outlets, not from manufacturers. Doctors were urged to keep accurate records.

Nationally, it had been suggested preference be given children 5 to 9. Basis for the change in Texas was records showing 44 per cent paralytic polio last year hit children under 5.

Though the state vaccine committee has no official authority, it anticipated no difficulty in getting cooperation. Its nine members represent top officials and leaders in the medical, pharmaceutical and osteopathic profession.

SENERFITT CHOOSES CHAIRMAN

Reubin Senterfitt last week announced that a fellow San Saban, Kelly Owen, will direct his campaign for governor.

Owen will have his first political experience when Senterfitt's 22 - member steering committee meets in Austin August 17.

LEASING PROGRAM CLEAN

Multi - million dollar public school land leasing operations apparently are not involved in Texas' land scandal.

State Land Commissioner J. Earl Rudder testified last week he had found no evidence of school land irregularities.

Rudder's testimony was in the wind-up of a court of inquiry. Begun in April, it was conducted by the Attorney General's Department.

Emphasis has been on land office activities other than the veterans' program. Multiple investigations in the latter area resulted in 319 indictments and convictions of Former Land Commissioner Bascom Giles.

Rudder said he still is sending files of questionable veterans land transactions to district attorneys. Other witnesses told of land in Mexico traded under the veterans program, and of questionable block deals in Maverick County.

Investigation of these stories was begun immediately by the Attorney General's Department.

GILES JURY COST EXTRA

As a postscript to the Bascom Giles theft trial, Travis County has a bill of $552.29.

This was the cost of putting jurors in air - conditioned hotel rooms. One juror had become ill from stifling courthouse dormitory heat, threatening a mistrial.

Plans for courthouse air conditioning have since been initiated.

WATER MOBILIZATION URGED

Mobilization in a "battle for survival" against water shortage is urged by state Senator Dorsey B. Hardeman of San Angelo.

Hardeman heads the Texas Water Resources Committee which met last week to review water conservation action by the recent legislature.

He recommended farm and business interests and local leaders organize to make Texans water conscious.

Recommendations for future government action will be in the committee's biannual report September 1.

CONSTRUCTION RECORD SET

Estimated value of construction in Texas hit an all-time peak the first half of 1956. It prompted prediction for a new overall business record this year from the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research. Only a severe decline, said bureau experts, could bring down the average — 11 per cent higher than 1954.
