

Settle Overpayments, Seek New Tax Vote, School Board Advised

The Big Spring Independent School district board of trustees Wednesday had some advice from a group of businessmen and it boiled down to this: Proceed on a sound fiscal basis to settle the matter of excess payments of 1947 taxes and toward again asking district taxpayers for a $1.50 maximum tax rate.

whatever move was made now "must be the right one. This board cannot afford to make the wrong move." His belief, and a prevailing one among a majority of those attending, was that it is "not sound for men to sit on a school board and to function on donations and waivers."

of privately owned businesses felt about waiving claims for repayment, that in the long run it would be wise for the board to make repayment "if it takes several years, but do whatever it takes to come before the public with clean hands."

She was accompanied by her sister-in-law, Vivian Truman. Immediately, and apparently to her confusion, Miss Truman was Walney said the apparatus probably would be ready for use tomorrow. A schedule for spraying operations will be drawn as soon as possible, and residents will be asked to cooperate by spraying their respective houses on dates the machine is used on streets and alleys in their neighborhoods. Full cooperation in this respect by residents will increase effectiveness of the insect control program, health department authorities pointed out. The spraying machine will remain here for permanent use, since the city has purchased Midland's interest in the equipment.

Dixie Wins, Loses Battle

PHILADELPHIA, July 14. (AP)—The rebellious South marked up a victory and a defeat in the first stages of the anti-Truman battle today for a showdown at the Democratic National Convention today. Dixie delegates won their first test last night when the uproarious session voted to seat a Mississippi delegation headed by Gov. Fielding Wright. Bad Strikes Mark France's Bastille Day

PARIS, July 14. (AP)—France observed Bastille Day today in an atmosphere of labor unrest. Walkouts have made 100,000 Frenchmen idle and threatened to affect one million government workers. The gloomy labor scene brightened slightly last night when strikers in French airports, who had slowed plane traffic almost to a halt, agreed to return to work. Terms of the settlement were not disclosed. Meanwhile Premier Robert Schuman negotiated with union leaders to prevent a further spread of the walkouts. The strikes began last week when 60,000 workers attached to the Finance and National Economy Ministries struck for higher pay. Nearly 30,000 other workers, most of them civil servants, joined the walkouts yesterday. Government departments are so interwoven that strikes by a few groups could affect one million government workers and bring all activities to a halt. Strikers included all the clerks of Paris' law court and a number of employees of the Public Works Ministry. Nearly 10,000 dock workers in five French ports and 14,000 miners in France's potash pits were out.

Rotarians Hear Of Polio Facts

Polio is not new but apparently it is becoming more prevalent. Dr. Clyde Thomas told the Rotary club in an informative talk Tuesday. The disease is known to have been prevalent 1,500 years ago, he explained, but for some reason seems to be affecting more people. Only two animals, human beings and monkeys, are subject to the virus which attacks its victims without regard to station in life or hygienic situation.

Medical science now estimates, the speaker continued, that possibly 50 to 90 per cent of the people who have poliomyelitis never suffer any affects more severe than fever, a headache and what seems to be a cold. New born children seem to be born with considerable resistance to polio and few youngsters under one year of age have it. The percentage of those affected under six years of age also is relatively minor. At the other extreme, it is theorized that adults are less subject to polio possibly because many have had light and undiagnosed cases during their life-time and thus have developed an immunity.

There may be some connection between vitamin B and resistance, although this is not established beyond a doubt. Polio, Dr. Thomas said, is quite difficult to diagnose because of latent symptoms and still greater need of knowledge of the ailment. Usually there is fever, stiffness of the neck, headache and later muscular inertia. Hot flannel cloths are regarded as being beneficial in treatment of polio cases. Later orthopedics finds its place. Most improvement will be made within the first year.

Visitors for the day included A. B. Youngblood, Abilene Rotarian, Dr. George Dillon and Dr. John Fish. Dr. E. O. Ellington was in charge of the program.

Range Conditions Lowest Since 1934

AUSTIN, July 14. (AP)—The condition of all range feed in Texas was 75 per cent on July 1, the lowest for this season of the year since the 1934 drought.

Reporting a sharp deterioration of range feed in June, the United States Department of Agriculture at the same time noted that generous late June and early July rains sharply improved summer range feed and feed crop prospects in most parts of the state except the trans-Pecos counties.

Grass was dry and curing over most of Texas, except the northern High Plains counties prior to the late June rains but was greening again around July 1.

Rainfall has been insufficient to break drought conditions effectively in the trans-Pecos and some northwestern plateau counties, the agricultural reporting agency said.

Cattle and calves were carrying fair flesh but were suffering some shrinkage in eastern, central and southern counties where dry grass was short in late June. They were reported at 80 per cent condition July 1. This is eight points below that of a year ago and five points below average.

Sheep and lambs were in poor to fair flesh in western plateau and trans-Pecos counties where grass was short, but in fair to good flesh in eastern plateau counties. The reported condition of sheep on July 1 was 75 per cent, the same as reported a month ago, but 11 points below a year ago, 9 points below average and the lowest for this season of the year since 1934.

HAD SHE LIVED

Beryl Wallace Was To Inherit Carroll Estate

LOS ANGELES, July 14. (AP)—If the late Beryl Wallace had survived her friend and employer, Showman Earl Carroll, she would have inherited most of his estate, estimated at more than $1 million. But the will, filed for probate Monday, provided that if they both died in a "common accident or disaster," her bequest would be cancelled.

Carroll and Miss Wallace were among the 43 killed in a plane crash at Mt. Carmel, Pa., June 17.

The will also specified that after all bequests are paid, the rest of the funds are to be used to establish a cancer research clinic. The document, dated Oct. 31, 1947, gives all Carroll's corporation stock to Mrs. Jessie I. Schuyler, 59, Los Angeles, a long-time friend who invested in his enterprises. All real estate and the other half of the stock was to have gone to Miss Wallace. Now, funds from her share are to be used to build a memorial tomb for both of them, not to cost more than $50,000.

It won't work...by itself

It takes a lot more than a telephone instrument to give you telephone service.

Before a telephone will work it must be connected by a pair of wires from your home all the way to the switching equipment in the central office.

Telephone wire and cable are still scarce compared with the large amounts we need. But we are placing and splicing new cable as fast as we can get it.

In some places, there isn't room for more telephone connections on the switchboards. To get more room, we are adding new equipment—faster than ever before.

Despite shortages, we would be caught up by now if it was not for the extremely large number of new applications for service. They pour in at a rate of 50,000 a month in the Southwest, and that tremendous demand has kept us from eliminating the wait for telephone service in most places.

It is still an uphill pull, but we are gaining on it, and we are grateful for your patience and understanding.

Russians Are Claiming Credit For All That Is The Best In U. S. Achievements

WASHINGTON, July 14. (AP)—Now the Russians are claiming credit for the Golden Gate and George Washington Bridges—plus "everything that is best in U. S. musical and theatrical life." For weeks now Moscow radio has been saying that most modern industrial inventions are of Russian origin.

"Carnegie Hall, Washington Bridge over the Hudson River, the Golden Gate Bridge in San Francisco, skyscrapers and a great number of dwellings and industrial buildings are the work of Slav, in particular Russian, engineers."

The special radio dispatch was distributed by the Soviet news agency Tass. It quoted an article in a publication called Slavyane as saying further:

"Everything that is best in U. S. musical and theatrical life has been created by representatives of Slav culture."

The Moscow broadcast failed to mention that the engineer for both the Golden Gate and George Washington bridges was Othmar H. Ammann—a native of Switzerland. Ammann, who has designed many other famed spans here and abroad, came to this country in 1904 and became an American citizen in 1924.

And a New York native, William B. Tuthill, designed Carnegie Hall, where many musical events the Soviets now claim credit for are presented.

The State Department's Voice of America meanwhile told the Russians, in effect, to go fly a kite on the Soviet claim that a Russian and not Benjamin Franklin first discovered that lightning is electrical.

The Voice broadcast excerpts from a Russian newspaper to show that back in 1752 the St. Petersburg News itself gave major credit to Franklin.

Best Dressed Judge Is In Cell Himself

NEWARK, N. J., July 14. (AP)—A dapper, 38-year-old police judge who admitted he had embezzled more than half a million dollars took his place today in the county jail alongside some 40 men he himself had sentenced there previously.

Unshaven but still attired neatly in some choice selections from his 400-tie, 15-suit wardrobe, Judge P. James Pellicchia, Jr., was assigned to a cell in the Newark Street jail pending a hearing Friday on his possible release on bail.

Pellicchia, named recently by a haberdashers' trade organization as "the nation's best dressed jurist," pleaded guilty yesterday to 20 charges of embezzlement in a hastily summoned hearing before Common Pleas Judge Philip Hartshorne.

State Banking Commissioner John J. Dickerson said Pellicchia admitted taking $630,000 from the Columbus Trust Co., of which he was a vice president and counsel. His father, Pellegrino Pellicchia, 72, is chairman of the bank's board of directors.

The judge was quoted as saying he had rigged up a series of fictitious mortgages to obtain the funds in order to cover his losses in horse race bets.

State Attorney General Walter D. Van Riper said Pellicchia told him it was "nothing to lose $5,000 or $6,000 a week on the horses."

Gov. Alfred E. Driscoll said at Trenton that he was ordering the investigation of the embezzlement continued along "several phases."

"Not the least of our interests," the governor said, "is how it was possible for a police court judge to gamble away that much money and where."

Buzz Bomb Tests Slated In Florida

PANAMA CITY, Fla., July 14. (AP)—Extensive buzz bomb tests will be carried out off Santa Rosa Island July 16 and 22, the Egin Field Air Force Base public relations office announced.

The firing range will extend a distance of 10 miles west of Fort Walton, Fla., and 20 miles east of Fort Walton, then for 175 miles in to the Gulf of Mexico. It will be patrolled by Air Force planes and boats.

Civilian and commercial craft were warned to keep clear of the area. Bomb launchings both by sea and air will be under the direction of the Air Proving Ground Command.

Two Charged In Garroting Of Taxi Driver

NEW YORK, July 14. (AP)—A note scribbled by a taxi driver before he was slain in his cab has led to the arrest of two Negroes charged with garroting him with an apron string for $17 loot.

Assistant District Attorney Karl Grebow said the prisoners signed confessions last night that they killed the driver, Michael Murphy, 42, early Sunday.

The driver, apparently suspicious of his two passengers on a long ride around Manhattan and Brooklyn, jotted this message on a trip record card:

"Two colored men—one is 'Duke'—wearing white coat—122nd Street and Park Avenue."

"That was the last place Murphy was ordered to drive, and was where he was strangled, according to the purported confessions."

The note—found beside his body in the cab only a few blocks from that address—was the only tangible clue in the hands of the 40 detectives and patrolmen assigned to the case.

The first break came when a suspect seized in another taxicab holdup named an accomplice as "Duke." Clue led to clue, and late yesterday police seized William McKinley Jackson, 22, nicknamed "Duke," and Floyd Arrington, 22. The two Negroes were charged with homicide.

Wheat Jam Is Easing Up

KANSAS CITY, July 14. (AP)—The wheat shipping jam, brought on by a deluge of grain from Southwest harvest fields, showed further signs of easing today.

An embargo, put into effect last Friday on rail shipments of wheat to Kansas City, probably will be lifted by the end of the week.

Ralph E. Clark, manager of box car distribution for the Association of American Railroads, said conditions here were somewhat improved and that the peak of Southwest grain movement had passed.

Approximately 8,000 cars of wheat still are waiting to be unloaded.

The heavy run last week helplessly swamped grain elevators. The largest number of cars workers have been able to unload in a single day is approximately 1,400.

Yesterday the shipping embargo also was extended to Hutchinson, Kas. An embargo was clamped on St. Joseph, Mo., Monday night. There was no indication these bans would be lifted by the end of the week.

McCaine Case To Be Appealed

BEAUMONT, July 14. (AP)—Defense Attorney Sam Minter plans to appeal a Jefferson County district court jury's decision yesterday that Riley P. McCaine, convicted slayer, was at this time sane.

McCaine, scheduled to be electrocuted next week, was convicted here in May, 1947, of slaying Miss Elnora Collins of Houston in the fall of 1945. Miss Collins' nude, partly-burned body was found near here Oct. 4, 1945, and McCaine was arrested in Seattle, Wash., in April, 1947.

The jury yesterday deliberated four hours before returning its verdict. On Minter's request a roll call poll of the jury showed it was unanimous in the verdict.

Minter said Judge Lord's instructions to the jury to base its findings on whether McCaine knows right from wrong is not a valid or material test.

"The only test should be whether McCaine would understand the purpose and principle of society in executing him," Minter said.

Two Men With Good Records

Among those who are seeking high positions in state affairs are two members of the railroad commission. They are Col. Earnest O. Thompson and William Murray, who, of course, are making their own individual races.

Col. Thompson is well known to this area and to the oil fraternity and enjoys good support. He has a long record of service on the commission and is one of the best posted men on matters pertaining to the petroleum industry. He is conversant with conditions in even the smallest pools and has a vast store of knowledge of demands and limitations.

Younger in experience on the commission but a refreshing and unusually well qualified member is Bill Murray. A hard-headed and practical young engineer, he is an outstanding exponent of sound conservation. He has demonstrated a grasp of problems encompassed by his position.

The public interest will be served best, it seems to us, by returning these two officials for further service. There is scarcely a more important post in all of the state government than the railroad commissioner's, for these deal with the oil and natural resource industries, the railroads and other types of transportation together with communications. In view of the records of performance and the need for experience as well as ability, a vote of confidence in these two men seems in order.

Putting Organic Matter In Soil

More than a year ago the Herald called attention to a general and serious soil situation, namely an area which covered a good part of central and northwestern Howard county and reached into central Martin county.

This area, we said, had pretty well exhausted its organic reserves. That meant that crops came up to stands less easily and that it was subject to more frequent and devastating blowing as a consequence, this meant that producers would lose seed more often and that it might affect chances for yields in lean years.

Perhaps the presence of an unseasonable year has had a lot to do with an unprecedented blowing this year... a blowing that will continue to a greater or lesser degree unless and until crops get up high enough to form a cover.

The problem is not localized or isolated to a few farms. It is general and needs cooperative action to help effect a cure. The weather will continue to be a paramount factor in West Texas production, but a porous soil with enough organic matter to bind it against wind can mean much in better crop stands and in reducing wind erosion. We can, if we understand the necessity of it, grow that organic matter back into our soil.

Petticoats In Order

NEWARK, N. J. (U.P.)—John B. Keenan, public safety director, ruled that waitresses in a hotel cocktail lounge cannot wear transparent skirts unless they wear petticoats underneath. Keenan said "we have enough police problems now." The hotel management ordered petticoats.

NEWTON COMES HOME TO DEN FULL OF GIFTS

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD

CAMERON, July 13. (U.P.)—Dr. W. R. Newton came home from prison to find his den loaded with Christmas and Father's Day gifts and a desk piled with telegrams of encouragement.

The 38-year-old physician joyfully hugged his three children and said "This is all the big days of the year, rolled into one."

Dr. Newton was released from state prison at Huntsville yesterday after serving 13½ months of a two year sentence on an assault to murder conviction.

Mrs. Newton, an attractive brunette, met him at the prison and brought him by automobile to their big, cool, 50-year-old residence, situated here on eight oak-shaded acres.

The three Newton children had been waiting impatient hours to see their Dad. They are Billy, 11, Elizabeth 10, and Turner, 9.

When he arrived he hugged each of them ecstatically and listened with a wide grin as they all talked at once. They had not seen him since December.

The physician appeared tremendously happy but at the same time he seemed nervous and weary and the tan suit he had traded for white prison garb bagged about his lean frame. In prison he had lost 30 pounds.

Dr. Newton was convicted of an assault on Dr. Roy Hunt of Littlefield, Texas, that occurred May 21, 1942. Almost a year and a half later Dr. Hunt and his wife were murdered at their Littlefield home.

Jim Thomas, a paroled convict, was three times convicted of the slayings but each time the conviction was set aside by the State Court of Criminal Appeals.

Dr. Newton has stoutly maintained innocence of any part in the 1942 shooting of Dr. Hunt.

Dr. Newton will rest 30 to 60 days, then he'll go back to work in the 50-bed hospital he established here.

"I know I can find my place again as a physician and surgeon."

Less than an hour after he arrived home, Dr. Newton chose a favorite fly rod and walked to the rear of the estate to try his luck at his spring-fed lake which is stocked with game fish.

He made about three dozen casts but caught no fish.

"I don't care if they don't bite," he said, smiling. "It's so wonderful just to be here."

Affairs Of The World—

Berlin Crisis Will Explode

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

The tug of war between the Bolsheviks and the democracies over Berlin has produced a tautness which can't long continue without something snapping.

The big question, of course, is what sort of break it will be. The Conservative London Mail, for example, declares that "This has been the most critical week end of its kind since September, 1939" (the beginning of World War II).

The Mail says if Russia ignores the Western power demand that the Soviet food blockade of Berlin be ended immediately "the situation will deteriorate to the point where an explosion becomes almost inevitable." The Conservative Daily Graphic likewise asserts that "this may be a fateful week for Britain and the world."

These editorial estimates have coin with hurried conferences among American, British and French officials. An authoritative source in London said Britain had sent considerable numbers of new troops to Western Germany because of the tension. A spokesman for the British War Office denied this, whereupon the authoritative source reiterated the statement.

Meantime William H. Draper, U. S. Undersecretary of War, who is in Turkey, says the situation in Berlin cannot be accepted. He told reporters the Western powers are and must be in unanimous agreement on a firm stand.

All that does add up to a grim picture, and we can agree that these are fateful days. However, while fully appreciating the dangers, I think we are safe in saying that we may expect the situation to be ironed out without resort to armed conflict, at least in the near future.

True, the roll of the drums of war isn't so loud in America as it is in a Europe which provides the battlefields for the global upheavals. Still I don't believe we are overconfident in thinking that the problem can be solved without burning more powder.

The Bolsheviks claim that the Western allies have no rights in Berlin. This claim isn't true but, irrespective of that, the Reds can't make it stick by the barbaric scheme of torturing 2,400,000 helpless civilians with starvation. It is to the world as a whole won't stand for it and, as remarked in a previous column, the application of economic and diplomatic sanctions on Russia by the United Nations could be a terrible punishment.

What Russia is aiming at in the long run is control of all Germany, including the wealth of the great industrial Ruhr. The struggle over Berlin is just a stepping stone to the larger ambition. If Russia could Sovietize the Reich and bring completely under Moscow's domination, then she would have a much reason to boast that she had taken a long step towards the conquest of all Europe.

Anti-Truman Plotters' Room Filled With Soft Drink Bottles, No Smoke

By DREW PEARSON

PHILADELPHIA. — The smoke-filled room that put Harry Truman into the White House was Ed Flynn's suite at the Blackstone Hotel in Chicago in 1944. The so-called smoke-filled room "that tried to take Harry Truman out of the White House in 1948" was the club room at the Drake Hotel in Philadelphia. Only it was filled with Coca-Cola bottles rather than cigar smoke.

In Chicago, Mayor Kelly of Chicago, Mayor Hague of Jersey City, Ed Flynn of the Bronx and Bob Hannegan gathered to chart the Truman strategy, and to talk long distance to FDR on his special train en route west.

In Philadelphia, Kelly, Flynn, Hague and Hannegan were all unhappy about Truman's insistence that he run again. But the real plotting against Truman was charted by Bill Ritchie of Nebraska, Harry Carlson of New Hampshire, Barnett Hodes of Chicago, August Scholle of Michigan, Carl Rice of Florida, George Gooch of Florida, and Jack Kroll of Ohio.

Whereas the pro-Truman bigwigs met late at night and in strictest secrecy at the Blackstone, the anti-Truman plotters at Philadelphia met with half a dozen newsmen banging on the door demanding to be let in. They were not admitted.

Bill Ritchie, Democratic National committeeman from Nebraska, presided. He said he was tired of "phantom candidates," such as Eisenhower, and wanted one he knew was ready and willing to run.

Jimmy Roosevelt's representatives—Irving Schulman and Joe di Silva—reported that Jimmy had phoned Justice Douglas asking him to run not for vice president but for president and had urged Douglas to make a forthright statement publicly that he would resign from the court.

"WHY PICK A LOSER?" Several present did not think Douglas would do that, and meanwhile they proposed Senator Pepper of Florida.

"Truman's renomination without a fight guarantees another 5,000,000 votes to Henry Wallace," warned Jack Kroll, head of CIO-PAC, who is also a delegate from Ohio. "The party is certain to lose with Truman," he continued, "so why pick a loser?"

The only man willing to run who could take several million votes away from Wallace, Kroll continued, is Claude Pepper.

"The Democratic Party will be out of power for at least twenty years," Kroll warned, "if Truman goes unchallenged."

Joe di Silva of California agreed. "Why nominate a guy that you couldn't get enough names on petitions to get him on the ballot?" he asked, adding that Jimmy Roosevelt had called him to ask that he get a petition signed for Truman in California.

"I had to put 16 men on the job and it took several days," explained di Silva. "I don't deal with ticians or rich people. I deal with workers, and I can tell you they're against Truman."

Also present was Leonard FINDER, New Hampshire publisher and initial booster of General Eisenhower.

"I speak as an independent Republican, not as a delegate, and as one who carried the flag for General Eisenhower as long as it could be carried," FINDER told the Democrats. "I know that I am speaking for thousands of independent voters when I say that if the Democrats nominate Harry Truman they will forfeit any chance of winning independent Republican votes."

JOSEPHUS DANIELS' DIAGNOSIS

The late, much-loved Josephus Daniels, Woodrow Wilson's secretary of the Navy gave this description of the Democratic Party in 1944: "We are a party of minorities. There is the South, where the party is strongest. Yet no Southerner can be elected president. One of the biggest Democratic groups is the Catholics, yet no Catholic can be president. Another group is the Jews, and no Jew can sit in the White House. Finally there are the Negroes, and they are excluded from being president. Thank God," concluded Daniels, "for Franklin D. Roosevelt."

That description explains the confusion at Philadelphia, for Roosevelt is no more.

MERRY-GO-ROUND

First thing the South Carolina Democrats did when they moved into the Adelphi Hotel was to rip down all pictures of Truman and hoist the South Carolina state flag instead.

Democratic leaders tell you on the q. t. that Truman will swing more than a million votes to Henry Wallace in New York state alone. The right-wing liberal party in New York will do its best for Truman but won't be able to stop the overwhelming tide of Wallace.

Frank Palumbo, Philadelphia restaurateur, was the height of hospitality to the Democrats. He also bought an airplane, which he placed at the disposal of delegates for emergency trips home.

After the Eisenhower boom fell to pieces, South Carolina's Senator Olin Johnston coined this phrase to describe the confusion: "Organized inertia."

JUST AN EX-CABINETEER

One prominent convention delegate is popular ex-Secretary of Agriculture Clinton Anderson, now running for the Senate from New Mexico. Anderson flew from Washington to Philadelphia with a group of his old cabinet colleagues, including Attorney General Tom Clark, Secretary of the Treasury John Snyder, Secretary of Agriculture Charles Brannan, and Secretary for Air Stuart Symington.

The group was met at the Philadelphia airport by a police escort and a fleet of official cars. When the police lieutenant in charge read out the car assignments he made no mention of Anderson.

"Well, Clint," quipped Secretary Symington, "here's where you find out you're not a cabinet member any more."

The Illinois convention train, dubbed the "Eisenhower Special," was about as good as its candidate, arrived seven hours late.

Chicago's ex-Mayor Ed Kelley claims to have a $500 "atomic medical gadget" which will cure anything from rheumatism to gallstones. . . . One newsmen, reporting the dullness of the convention, wired his editor: "I hope you won't deduct my time here from my vacation." When Clint Anderson was secretary of agriculture, he gave an occasional ride in his government car to one of his assistants. Charles Brannan, now that Brannan is secretary of agriculture, Anderson promotes rides from his subsonic plane. . . . The Bellevue-Stratford Hotel offered the Democrats a giant rubber donkey inflated by compressed air to decorate the hotel marquee. . . . But the Democrats, mindful of how the G. O. P. elephant was repeatedly deflated by smoldering cigarette butts, declined with thanks. Instead, the Democrats trotted out a papier mache donkey with electric eyes that flash on and off.

Judy Garland Will Play Bernhardt In Film Scene

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD. (U.P.)—Judy Garland will play Sarah Bernhardt. But it's only to be a short sequence in a musical film.

Before you start thinking that Judy is getting over her head in trying to portray the great Bernhardt, I hasten to add that it is merely a dramatic sketch within "The Barkleys of Broadway." During the rest of the pictures she will be singing and dancing with Fred Astaire.

Dan Dailey's rapid rise has resulted in a new contract from 20th-Fox. It triples his previous salary.

"The Secret Land" will prove one of the most exciting films of the year. It has no big-name stars—just the men of postwar Antarctic expedition, plus some wonderful penguins for comic relief. Narrated by Bob Taylor, Bob Montgomery and Van Heflin, it shows all the thrills of Admiral Byrd's latest adventure into the world's last unknown continent.

ALBEN BARKLEY ISSUES BATTLE CALL TO DEMOS

By HAL BOYLE

PHILADELPHIA, July 13. (U.P.)—Dear Alben did it.

No dark horse, but an old and honored wheelhorse of the new deal—Sen. Alben William Barkley—rode to the rescue of the torpid Democratic National Convention.

In 68 stirring minutes of old-fashioned sledge hammer oratory Monday night he welded the quarreling delegates together in a tremendous outburst of party enthusiasm.

They gave him a 25-minute ovation. It was the first time the Democrats had found anything they could agree to cheer—or be cheerful about.

It was an antique bugle Barkley blew and an old but popular tune—the call to battle. It is the call that through the ages has made men bury their differences and fall in line.

As he stood there, a chunky, powerful man in a white linen suit, he was a kind of elderly David trying with verbal music to win King Saul—in this case the Democratic Convention—back from black depression to hopeful action.

And he sang his summons to political war like a skilled minstrel who knows his tale well. This was the third time he had sounded the keynote battle cry at a National Convention.

He spoke from a rostrum behind which towered the portrait of Franklin Delano Roosevelt—the man he had served so long and who once helped name him as his captain in a letter beginning "Dear Alben."

He stressed Democratic claims of achievement rather than convention differences.

His powerful, old-time eloquence hit at the Republican enemy time after time, but he never mentioned together the two key words that have split this convention like a raw, red wound—civil rights.

And the old man from Kentucky went down the line for President Truman, just as he had for President Roosevelt, even after he broke with him.

The Nation Today—

Civil Rights Only Issue

By JAMES MARLOW

PHILADELPHIA, July 13. (U.P.)—This Democratic Convention must seem awfully strange to people outside the United States.

How are you going to explain to people of other countries what the real issue is here?

Yet, the issue can be stated simply: It involves civil rights for the 13,000,000 negroes in this country's 140,000,000 people.

Just to get the story in focus, start at the beginning.

Early in 1947 President Truman appointed a number of men and women to what he called the President's Commission on Civil Rights.

These men and women on Oct. 28 issued a report on their intensive study. It included such things as the pay of teachers in Negro schools and facts on the number of Negro lynchings.

Basing his thinking on that report, Mr. Truman early this year made a number of suggestions on civil rights for Negroes.

Whether you like it or not, Negroes in this country are treated as second class citizens.

In the South Negroes must ride behind white people in trains and buses; they can't go to the same shows, or if they can get in, all they have to sit in the gallery.

But anyway in 1948 President Truman cut loose with a number of suggestions to Congress. He recommended things like these:

1. Congress to pass a law wiping out the poll tax. Seven southern states and New Hampshire require payment of a poll tax before a person, white or Negro, can vote.

2. Congress to pass a law making the lynching of anyone any time a Federal crime.

This is where trying to explain this story to Europe—with its mixed up races—is not a simple job. This is why:

There are 13,000,000 Negroes in the United States and President Truman asked for a better break for all of them.

Right at this point southern Democrats—white, that is—began to renounce Mr. Truman's program. They didn't want it.

They argued: A state has rights so the Federal government has no right stepping in.

And right there the southern politicians jumped on the anti-Truman bandwagon and still haven't got off. They don't want him for president.

Mr. Truman's only major crime, in the eyes of the South, is advocating civil rights.

Those civil rights—based on the constitution—seem to express the noblest of intentions.

But in practical, every-day politics the shining issue often gets lost in the fog of conflicting realities.

The white southern politicians do not forget the troubles that beset the South after the Civil War; they are sure that the people of the South haven't forgotten.

In many areas in the South there are more Negroes than there are whites. The whites still hold in memory and fear the days when the victorious North, through the power of an occupation army, put political power in the hands of fresh-faced and uneducated slaves and northern carpetbaggers.

Around The Rim—By The Herald Staff

Water Problem And An Answer

The notion that West Texas does not have ample water for industry is erroneous in the opinion of E. B. McCormick.

Mac takes issue with a recent editorial in the Herald to the effect that West Texas, except for a few favored spots, might as well forget industries which require big quantities of water. The area, he points out, is wasting enough effluent from its sewage plants to run many big industries.

This is not speculation with him, for since 1944 Cosden has been utilizing City of Big Spring effluent, and the practice has proven satisfactory far beyond rosiest estimates. That proves it is practical.

If industry has any inhibitions against use of effluents, it ought to get rid of them. Cosden's experience has proven that the shift to effluent was a major stroke for economy and efficiency.

For instance, it costs the company something like seven cents per thousand, counting investment on its pump and 10-inch pipeline stretching 4,000-feet from the disposal plant to the refinery. From its own wells, Cosden spent 11 cents per thousand producing water.

But the well water had a soap hardness of 20 to 80 grains per gallon. This meant expensive treatment and even then pumps, boilers, water jackets and even towers were constantly scaling, necessitating costly work interruptions.

Against this, the effluent comes into the plant virtually pure and odorless. It has just enough soap, which is not removed in the aeration processes at the disposal plant, to combine with lime for precipitating remaining solids. Even this precipitation only has 10 to 15 grains soap hardness per gallon—less than the best well water.

When heated to drive off the ammonia, effluent then possesses only half a grain soap hardness per gallon (anything with six or less grains is considered plenty soft). As a consequence, boilers almost never come down for de-scaling and mild solutions of hydrochloric acid, on rare occasions, remove any scales from jackets, etc. Similarly, algae can be controlled in ponds and condenser basins chemically.

Thus, beside the four cent difference in price, the refinery saves about $750 per month in chemical costs in treating water plus all the difference in operation and maintenance saved through uninterrupted operation. This thing has numerous industries excited over its possibilities, and it has been written up in many technical magazines, including the Petroleum Refiner. Only last week a consulting engineer back East asked for full details.

Cosden uses roughly 500,000 gallons of effluent per day, about half of the city's output at the sewage plant. This volume remains fairly constant, although the number of baths may increase the flow appreciably during the summer. But if the volume does decline slightly in the winter, so does the industrial demand for water. So Big Spring still has half a million gallons of excellent industrial water per day available (although Cosden holds priority on it).

Significance of the industrial supply is in the aggregate for West Texas, although it is important for Big Spring, where it was pioneered, McCormick thinks. Lubbock is utilizing its effluent (which is about three times as much) for irrigated farming but not for industries. Abilene, Sweetwater, Lamesa, Midland, Odessa, San Angelo and a host of other cities are making almost no use of effluent. Actually, McCormick points out, this is part of the answer to the industrial water problem and a new and wholesome source of revenues for municipalities. — JOE PICKLE

Characters At Lindy's

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK — I am sitting in Lindy's with a brace of expensive characters named Billy Rose and Mack Gordon. Billy is the recent journalist, theater owner, night club impresario, patent holder on all Aquacades in which Eleanor Holm sports, radio gabber, coupon clipper, gentleman farmer and rider of Tennessee Walking Horses. Mack Gordon is a producer at 20th Century-Fox films, a gentleman of bulk both in films and in person.

Naturally, in such a setting, many resplendent names are dropped. By unspoken contract, following the precedent begun by one George Jessel, another 20th Century-Fox producer of note, the name of Darryl Zanuck is dropped in a rhythm whose intervals are spaced about two minutes apart by the aforesaid corpulent Mr. Gordon. Billy Rose manages more variety in his name dropping by shifting from Bernard Baruch more often than Mack abandons Zanuck.

It takes Billy less time to report on all his various holdings, including those in the stock market, than it takes Mack to finish mentioning the noble name of Zanuck. In fact, the pink-sized Mr. Rose has exhausted all his personal connections and Zanuck's name continues to drip, bloop-bleep, like water torture. Finally a halt was called without rudeness, to the seemingly unquenchable dripping of said Darryl's name. How is it done? Simple.

Both these gentlemen are former song writers. There is a verbal national anthem among songwriters which can catch their most heated attention away from anything: "Written any good songs lately?"

The hallowed query was addressed by myself to both these upper echelon gentlemen.

"Why, yes," said Billy, beating Mack to the punch. "I have a little thing called 'Crying for Joy' which is going great on the juke boxes. Quite a respectable hit indeed."

Hoffman Seeks U. S. Investments In West Europe

WASHINGTON, July 14. (AP)—ECA Administrator Paul G. Hoffman Monday offered American capital what he called "a substantial inducement" to make investments in Western Europe.

The inducement is a guarantee that foreign currency received by investors will be paid in dollars.

Such guarantees were authorized in the $5 billion Marshall Plan act. "It is believed that the power to issue guarantees can be of great value in aiding recovery within the participating countries," Hoffman said in a statement.

Hoffman invited filing of applications for guarantees as rapidly as possible. The goal is $300 million in private investments in Marshall Plan countries.

Guarantees will stand for 14 years. Foreign currencies received as the proceeds of investments will be transferred into U.S. dollars up to 100 per cent of the amount invested. The transfers will be at current rates of exchange recognized by the government.

Hoffman emphasized there is no guarantee of profits. Nor is there any insurance against "ordinary business risks" or "political risks."

Hoffman said applications for guarantees will be judged by the "degree to which such investment will serve the primary purpose" of the European Recovery Program.

Generally a fee of 1 per cent of the amount of each guarantee will be charged. Under "unusual circumstances," Hoffman said, the fee may be smaller.

PITTSBURGH, July 14. (AP)—The steel industry had a new pricing method today and steel consumers looked for new—and higher—prices.

The big steel producers, like U. S. Steel Corp., formerly absorbed freight costs, or a big part of them, so they could compete on equal terms with other steel companies located nearer prospective customers.

Many prices were quoted on a "basing point" system just as though the mills were located at certain base cities instead of in Pittsburgh or Chicago.

But that method recently was ruled illegal by the U. S. Supreme Court in a decision involving the cement industry.

Now the steel firms are quoting prices at the mills and the freight charges are paid by the customer. The mills can quote a delivered price as long as it includes freight charges.

The new pricing system is expected to add from $8.40 to $12.72 a ton to steel costs on steel shipped from Pittsburgh to such points as Boston and Chicago. The freight rate from Pittsburgh to Boston is 63.26 cents per 100 pounds and to Chicago it's 52.8 cents.

The new price policy would have the least effect on fabricating plants within a radius of 20 miles or so of a steel producing center such as Pittsburgh. One result may be that fabricators will tend to locate their plants in such areas where more steel is produced than can now be consumed locally.

Auto industry spokesmen said the new price policy undoubtedly would mean higher prices on cars but they would have to wait to "see how it works out."

A spokesman for the U. S. Steel Corp., said Detroit auto-makers will probably find they are paying about $6 a ton more for cold-rolled steel from Pittsburgh.

Field Trials Are Expected To Set Records

PALESTINE, July 14. (AP)—Preparations are in full swing here to roll out a full measure of hospitality for a record number of participants expected at the annual bench show and field trials of the Texas State Fox and Wolf Hunters' Association October 12-15.

E. A. Bigbee, association director and general chairman of a 50-man Anderson county host committee, declared that "everyone seems to want to go all-out in helping provide the necessary physical improvements and facilities to ensure camping comfort for hunters."

A typical case, Bigbee said, came up when Gordon Allen, manager of an oil supply company, heard that an adequate drinking water supply would be a major problem for campers at the wooded area 14 miles southeast of here.

"Allen volunteered to donate an electrical pump with the necessary piping to the association if a well were dug on the campgrounds," Bigbee said.

Palestine Chamber of Commerce directors voted "unqualified chamber support" toward helping improve the campgrounds. Civic clubs and business organizations are volunteering to present challenge trophies to hunters.

"We will have at least 10 additional trophies, valued at more than $400, for owners of winning classes in the bench show and field trials as well as a new individual award to go to the best all-around sportsman at the hunt," Bigbee said.

He predicted the event would draw between 8,000 and 10,000 hunters and visitors and 750 hound entries.

"That would make this year's hunt the largest one ever held in the history of the state association," Bigbee said.

Shad is the most valuable fish of the Atlantic Coast and next to the Pacific salmon, the most important species of North America.

TERRACE DRIVE IN THEATER

Four Texans CIO Leaders Are Jailed

CAMDEN, Tex., July 14. (AP)—Four Texas CIO leaders were jailed here last night after attempting to speak at a meeting of lumber mill employees.

The four men were charged with violating a temporary injunction for trespassing on private property. They were placed in the Polk County jail at Livingstone.

The men are Robert Oliver, Dallas regional director of the CIO; Carl Austin McPeak, Houston, area director; Henry Rabun, Dallas, state publicity director, and Paul White, Dallas, a CIO organizer.

District Judge Will Browder of 9th District Court earlier yesterday had granted the Carter Lumber Company an injunction restricting union organizers from trespassing on company property.

Union spokesmen said last night's meeting of approximately 500 workers had been called by dropping leaflets from an airplane.

The arrests were made as Roberts stepped up to make the opening talk before the mill workers who had gathered along a railroad spur track.

Immediately after the arrests, two other CIO organizers continued the meeting and handed out membership cards by driving up and down the streets of this little lumber town and making speeches from a public address system.

The streets are not included in the more than 200 acres of land covered by Judge Browder's injunction.

Ray Miller, reporter for radio station KPRC, Houston, said two regional representatives of the National Labor Relations Board, Joseph Butler and Woodrow Green, Dallas, were present at the meeting last night.

LABORITES SHOW CHIVALRY ALIVE

KINGSWINFORD, England, July 14. (AP)—Labor Party officials in this Staffordshire community covered their confusion today with fitting chivalry.

They have found out that Crystal Nash, the 16-year-old school girl they acclaimed as a Socialist beauty queen at a party rally, is the daughter of a prominent Conservative.

Miss Nash got into the preliminaries as ward champion by mistake—Then she decided to go through with it and won the title easily at the rally Saturday night.

The Laborites stuck to the bargain. She will get her prize—a permanent wave paid for out of Labor Party funds.

Merger Is Denied Lubbock Station

WASHINGTON, July 14. (AP)—Lubbock County Broadcasting Company, Lubbock, Tex., yesterday was denied a petition which would have merged the company and station KFYO. The Communications Commission, however, awarded the company a construction permit for a station using a frequency also applied for by Plains Radio Broadcasting Company, licensee of KFYO at Lubbock.

The commission also refused a request by Western Plains Broadcasting Company, Inc., Colby, Kas., that it reconsider its award of a construction permit to the Lubbock company. Western Plains holds a permit for a new station designated with the same frequency given to Lubbock County.

Divorce Will Enrich Carole Landis Estate

LOS ANGELES, July 14. (AP)—Estate of Actress Carole Landis will be enriched $30,000 when the court approves the property settlement of her divorce suit against her fourth husband, W. Horace Schmidapp.

Schmidapp had signed the agreement and the actress was to have affixed her signature last Tuesday, the day after she committed suicide with an overdose of sleeping pills.

Schmidapp let it be known Monday he is willing to let the agreement stand. Attorney Jerry Giesler, who represented Miss Landis in the divorce action, said he would ask the court to approve it.

BAD SECURITY RISKS? Westinghouse And Union Talk Over Navy's Firing Two Men

PHILADELPHIA, July 14. (AP)—The Lester plant of the Westinghouse Electric Corp. operated full force today with the end of a 24-hour walkout over dismissal of two workers for "security" reasons.

The plant's 6,000 CIO Electrical Workers started back to their jobs yesterday shortly after the executive board of Local 107, United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers voted to request its members to return.

Frank Bradley, union business agent, said a conference between company officials and union representatives has been called today to resolve the issue that resulted in the protest demonstration.

A brief sitdown started the protest on Monday. Virtually all of the production workers and most of the office force subsequently quit their posts.

John Schaefer, local president, said the two men involved—Frank Carner, 30, an engineer, and Robert Herbert Levin, 28, sheet metal worker—were "branded poor security risks" by the Navy. The Navy has contracts with the plant for construction of aircraft gas turbine engines.

The Navy reported from Washington that it had reason to believe the two men were members of an organization listed as subversive by Attorney General Tom Clark. It did not name the organization.

A local spokesman quoted both Carner and Levin as saying they never had been challenged before.

COMMITTEE SAYS Inflation Ahead Of Wage Hikes

WASHINGTON, July 14. (AP)—A steadily-increasing inflation—with at least one brake on high prices due to looser soon—was reported today by a congressional economic committee.

The monthly "economic indicators" issued by the Senate-House Committee on the Economic Report showed an increase in income for Americans but added that it "hardly kept pace with the rise in consumers' prices."

What's more, the July report said, one of the big anchors in inflation—a large cash surplus in the Treasury—soon will be lost. The Treasury finished the last fiscal year July 1 a whopping $7,600,000,000 (B) to the good. But next year, the committee warned, will bring a "close balance" between government income and expenses.

The month of June saw economic records topple on all sides. Prices and employment figures zoomed to new peaks, and postwar highs were hit by profits, production and national income.

The report—was compiled by President Truman's Board of Economic Advisors from figures submitted by government agencies.

The council headed by Dr. Edwin G. Nourse, will submit a mid-year economic report to the President later this month based on many of the same figures. With prices and inflation control already top presidential campaign issues, the forthcoming report may be a major source of political controversy.

Businessmen Want Bargain School

DETROIT, July 14. (AP)—Michael Muller, Makari Sincuk and Dimitri Bayenski planned court action today to retain the $150,000 Clarenceville High School they bought at a bargain rate of $1,040.

Three years ago the trio, planning to start a small business, purchased a piece of land for delinquent taxes. When they examined the property, they found School District No. 5 had built a two-story school there in 1941.

The district had bought the land, it was found, but the property never was removed from the tax rolls.

Circuit Judge Theodore Richter vacated the sale yesterday and ordered the $1,040 returned. But the trio, preferring to keep the school, announced they would appeal.
