

MRS. ALLAN DOYLE TURNER

Miss Dorothy Adele Simpson And Doyle Turner Exchange Vows

Miss Dorothy Adele Simpson and Allen Doyle Turner exchanged wedding vows Saturday evening at Refugio, Texas.

The double ring ceremony took place beneath a scroll work arch in a setting of white gladiolas and candelabra, at the First Baptist Church with the Rev. Troy Sumrall officiating.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Simpson of Refugio, Texas and Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Turner of Pleasant Valley.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an imported hand clipped chantilly type lace and tulle dress. It was fashioned with a lace bodice with a bareau neckline edged with natural petal scallops of the lace and short short sleeves which was worn with long fitted tulle gauntlets. The elongated bodice was molded and set onto a very full skirt of chrysal pleated tulle with an over skirt of the lace and swept into a short train.

Her circular tiered veil of Bridal illusion fell from a Queen's Crown of Tina Organza petals and was encrusted with sequins. She carried a bouquet of feathered white carnations centered with a white orchid.

Miss Betsy Weaver of Radford Virginia was maid of honor. Miss Dottie Gilleland of Corpus Christi, Miss Rita Turner of Pleasant Valley, sister of the groom and Miss Sandra Moss were the bridesmaids. They wore ballerina length taffeta in royal blue. Styled with short sleeves and rounded neckline accented with a bow in the front to give the empire effect. A wide bias self material cuff was set in at the sides on the bodice and dipped to a deep point in the back with a bow in the center back. They wore matching hats with circular short veils of maline and carried a cascade bouquet of yellow asters, tied with tulle and streamer.

Harold Jones of Moody was best man. Groomsmen were Doyce and Royce Turner of Pleasant Valley, twin brothers of the groom. Marvin Gaddy of Muleshoe and Olin Ivy of Lazbuddy ushered.

Bill Wheelless of Pasadena, Texas sang "The Lord's Prayer" accompanied by Miss Patsy Sumrall, organist.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the fellowship hall, where a theme of blue and white was carried out. The bride's table was laid with cloth of ice blue under white organdy ruffled skirt. It was centered with a crystal bowl holding white mums and lily of the valley, flanked with crystal candle holders with lit taper. The four tiered wedding cake was decorated with wedding bells garlanded with pink and white flowers. The guest book table held a memory candle and an arrangement of large white mums. Penny and baskets of white gladiolas furnished the background for the receiving line.

After a short wedding trip the couple will be at home in Waco. The bride is a junior at Baylor University where she is a member of Delta Alpha Phi. The groom is a senior at Baylor University.

Since September 1955, more than $3 million in assistance has been given by 60 national Red Cross societies in response to 12 international relief appeals from disaster-stricken countries throughout the world.

Since 1950, Red Cross volunteers have spent 41,000,000 hours while directly serving servicemen, veterans, and their families, an average of more than 8,000,000 volunteer hours per year.

The total amount spent by Red Cross for disaster services since 1881, if spread evenly throughout the 75 years, would approximate an average expenditure of more than $365 per hour.

IT'S THE LAW in TEXAS

DOUBLE JEOPARDY

Most likely you can't picture yourself being brought into court on anything worse than a speeding violation. Nearly everyone feels that way. Even so, it is good to know that in this country you can't be made to stand trial twice for the same offense.

We have a provision in the U. S. Constitution against "double jeopardy". That's one of the important safeguards in our system of law which makes it certain that once a court has reached a verdict of "innocent," the acquitted person may not be put on trial again for the same offense.

To add to the protection, if a person has been acquitted, the prosecution cannot appeal the case to a higher court. The constitution states specifically: "Nor shall any person be subject for the same offense to be put in jeopardy of life and limb."

This right holds good, however, only if a full trial is held and a verdict is reached. It is possible to face another trial on the same charge if the first trial ends with a "hung jury" or a "mistrial," or if a new trial is requested.

A classic example comes from the "Wild West" in the late 1880's. A man named Ball was charged with murder, along with two others. Ball was acquitted, but the others were found guilty. The guilty pair appealed to a higher court, and their original indictment was found to be faulty.

Once again the government accused all three men. Ball claimed his right against double jeopardy had been invaded, and the U. S. Supreme Court agreed. He didn't have to stand trial again. The other two did, and paid the penalty for their guilt.

The reason for the "double jeopardy" provision is to protect the individual from being hounded all his life. In old England, where the fear of tyranny first prompted safeguards for the personal freedom, one court said: "Were it not for this rule, anyone obnoxious to the government might be run down by repeated attempts to carry on a prosecution against him."

The American Red Cross last year issued 202,100 certificates to persons completing its home nursing courses.

A Woman's World and OIL

by PETROLEUM PEGGY
 If you're a gardener, you've probably heard the saying that nothing sets off the liveliness of flowers like the contrasting beauty of rocks. It isn't always easy to find rocks decorative enough to dress up the flower beds or the garden path. So with the gardening season right on the calendar's next page, a lot of us are going to welcome the latest idea in gardening—handsome plastic rocks.

They're made of rugged oilbased polystyrene, but you wouldn't know either by look or touch that they aren't the real thing. They are light and easy to handle, but stay put because metal prongs anchor them to the ground. Their pretty pink, white and blue colors won't wash or wear away, either the dye is locked right into the plastic.

Of course, no matter how attractive they are, rocks are only a supporting cast to the real stars of the garden—flowers and shrubs and lawns. Seed catalogues and nursery advertisements are in full bloom now, and serious gardeners are busy mapping their planting and their strategy against garden pests.

In recent years gardeners have acquired some formidable helpers in the yearly battles of weed versus lawn, insect versus flower, poor soil versus garden. These helpers are the many products derived from petroleum and designed to fill specific gardening needs. There are insecticides, weed-killers, fertilizers, and soil conditioners, the same sort of products that are helping the farmers increase and better their crops.

Petroleum is an expert at smoothing the rocky path of the gardener, but it has what it takes to propitiate its own rocks, if rocks are needed!

Mrs. M. O. Danforth of Redlands, California will return to her home next week after several weeks visit with relatives here.

Mrs. Richard Stockstill and Kim and Joyce Smith of Laxbuddle spent four days last week in Oklahoma City at the bedside of Mrs. Stockstill's mother, Mrs. Faye Stovall, who underwent surgery. Mrs. Stovall is steadily improving.

Ronald and Donald Sandel left last week to enroll in A. C. Cat Abilene, Texas. —PL—

Lois Lewis enrolled at A. C. C. last week, and will leave for Abilene this week.
