Clean Up Week Slated

May 25-30 has been designated as Clean Up Week for the City of Earth.

Betty McAlpine, city secretary, reported that letters had been mailed to all the civic clubs and Scout troops asking for their support in the Clean Up Campaign. No one has reported any definite plans to date.

The city announced that they would keep the dump ground open the entire week and there will be no charge for the disposal of trash during the Clean Up Week.

Canned Goods Shower Held

A Canned Goods Shower for Lubbock's Guadalupe area, recently ravaged by a killer tornado, was held Friday, May 15, at the Springlake-Earth School. Donations made by the entire student body totaled approximately 1000 cans of all types of canned goods.

Delivery and distribution of the food was made Friday afternoon by Mrs. Judy Sanders, member of the Extension Service Nutritional Education Program and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wood of Earth.

18 Boys Enter Pitch, Hit, Throw Contest

Saturday was the final day for boys between the ages of 9 and 12 to sign up for the Phillips Pitch, Hit and Throw baseball contest to be held Saturday, May 23, at the Earth City Ball Park at 2:00 p. m.

Eighteen local boys have entered the competition which will be judged by officials of the Earth-Springlake Little League Association.

Local winners will be awarded a plaque and a jacket with a winner's patch and the runner-up will be presented a jacket with a finalist's patch.

Winners in local competition will proceed to the district contest to be held in Amarillo. Winners there will be eligible to compete in regional competition.

Regional winners will advance to the Major League All-Star Game and he along with his family will be flown to the Hall of Fame the next day where his name will be inscribed on a permanent plaque in the Hall of Fame.

Entrants will compete only within their age groups-9, 10, 11 and 12. The age category will be based upon the ages as of July 1, 1970.

Each entrant will compete on an individual basis in the categories of pitching, hitting and throwing. In the pitching competition, the contestants will each be given five chances to pitch into a target 46 feet away with a full windup and overhand throw required for each pitch. In hitting, entrants will be given five chances to toss a ball up to hit two fly balls in fair territory which will be measured on the longest fly ball hit. In the throwing event, competitors will get one throw of the ball along the first- or third-base foul lines for distance and accuracy. Point totals given in each category will determine the winners. Judges' decisions will be final and in case of a tie, tie-breaking rounds will be conducted.

The contest is sponsored by Phillips Petroleum and the major league baseball clubs in the United States.

Besides stimulating interest among the youngsters, in baseball, the purpose of the contest is to improve baseball skills.

It is a good contest and any youngster between 9 and 12 years of age ought to give this a try. Maybe Earth will produce a national champion.

Earth VBS To Begin June 1

Vacation Bible School at the First Baptist Church of Earth has been slated for the week of June 1-5 with classes to be held from 9 until 11:30 a. m.

Diplomas for those participating will be presented on the last day of the school, June 5. David Hartman, pastor, will serve as superintendent of the school with the following department superintendents: primary, Mrs. Charles Geisler; nursery, Mrs. Robert Geisler; beginners, Mrs. Jimmy Craft; and juniors, Mrs. Price Hamilton. Mrs. Tommy Wheatley and Mrs. Hershel Huicy will be secretaries of the school.

NOSIN... WITH POLLY

Graduates of the 1970 Senior Class, you will be receiving your diplomas Monday night. As you walk across the stage to accept this document that marks the end of a certain way of life for you and the beginning of a new adventure in life some will be a little sad at heart, others will be glad, but either way, this moment will be carefully tucked away in the halls of your memory to emerge forth in future years to be remembered again and again. This night your life will begin to change for no longer will you have that familiar routine of carefree school days and homelife that has so characterized your life heretofore. Now you must be ready to make decisions toward a new life for yourself.

As you press forward into the adventure of life you are stepping out into the world at a time when everyone is seemingly bent on having their own way. Little or no thought is given to the rights of others and no apparent heed to the consequences of their acts, all seemingly searching for something.

This seems to be the condition of this country you are to inherit, but do not be afraid. As you meet challenges, stand tall, be sober in conduct and thought, for this can be your greatest hour. Become a leader instead of joining the gang of agitators and demonstrators, who are bent on destroying this nation rather than building it up. Be a true representative of God and Country and you will not fail.

Fix your ideas firm and have purpose to your life and there will be no time or desire for using drugs that would tend to send you off in another world. Be true to yourself, be able to look yourself straight in the eye.

There is plenty to be done--- God needs more Christians and this country could use additional red-blooded Americans who would build a better country rather than destroy it.

This class of 1970 may be the forerunners of returning this country back to sanity. They may perhaps discover a way to bring unity, love and understanding to a troubled nation. Go forth Seniors with faith--go forth with determination, make this a better nation for your having been fortunate enough to be born an AMERICAN CITIZEN.

Perry Martin, president of the local Chamber of Commerce, received a letter of inquiry about Earth by a woman whose son was interested in moving from Pennsylvania to Texas and wanted to know more about Earth. He also received the following post card from Columbus, Ohio, with a paragraph from a newspaper clipping pasted on the postcard to clarify his reason for writing. The clipping was as follows: "And in Earth, Tex., Earth Day was a day like any other day. "It just slipped up on us," Chamber of Commerce President Perry Martin said. "We just failed to do anything special about it."

The postcard went like this: "Now, isn't that just like those folks in big ole Texas! They live in a world apart from the rest of us. Yuh ain't concerned with what's happenin' to that big ball, Earth 'cause yuh got a great big bunk of it that you think will last you as long as you live. ## LOVE THY NEIGHBOR?

Are big town demonstrations becoming the pacesetters for small country communities to follow?

Is the use of guns, fire, fists and clubs and other acts of violence the only means of settling differences?

We like to think the ballot box and the conference table might accomplish this purpose with less sweat, blood and tears and with much more dignity.

We adults constantly yap about student demonstrations and their lack of respect for authority as disorder in general rampages on the college campuses across our nation. These are bad examples of young manhood and womanhood--but are we always a shining example before them?

Youth in general is looking for models they can respect, those that refuse to put money before principle, those that can return good for evil--but so few are to be found.

It's high time we each back off and take a good look at ourselves and spend a few quiet hours in honest soul searching. It's quite possible we may be overlooking the flaw in our own self while expecting perfection in our fellowmen. We might probe deeper in our quest for truth by asking ourselves what we are actually contributing toward the betterment of our country, our community and our youth.

We people so far have been unable to get a hospital, a feedlot or a half-way enthusiastic participation to a clean-up campaign for our city, or anything else toward building up our community. We can't all have our own way, so we set out to defeat the project.

It's later than you think--It's high time we line up together shoulder to shoulder in unity and love and put our energy to work doing something constructive. Instead of tearing down what we now have. We might do well to do as the song says, "Let's all get together and love one another right now."

Band Booster Officers Elected

Band Booster officers for the 1970-71 school year were elected at a called meeting held Monday, May 18. Officers elected for the forthcoming year are Mrs. Guy F. Kelley, president; Mrs. Norman Ellis, vice president; Mrs. Norman Hinchliffe, secretary; and Robert O'Hair, treasurer.

Booster officers who have served during the past year are Mrs. V. J. Sigman, president; Mrs. Ronald Cleavinger, vice president; Mrs. C. C. Goodwin, secretary; and Robert O'Hair, treasurer. It was reported that Band Calendar sales are now in progress and anyone desiring to purchase a calendar who is not contacted is asked to call Mrs.

Sam Barden in Springlake or Mrs. C. C. Goodwin in Earth. Sales must be completed by May 29. In a discussion by booster club members it was decided not to give financial aid to any student planning to attend band camp. The financial report of the club was read and an $800 profit was reported from the concessions sold at the recent band festival and $450 from the entry fees was cleared.

a time to remember

You've completed an important phase of your education and we congratulate you. It is our hope, however, that each of you will continue to seek additional study and advancement in your field of endeavor. Your talents and ability are needed. May complete success and happiness be yours.

Blue Cross Plans Absorb Increases In Medicare Costs

The Blue Cross Association said recently the 74 Blue Cross Plans across the country will save their Medicare subscribers more than $10 million in 1970 by absorbing increases in the patient's share of hospitalization costs under Medicare.

Most Plans will also cover a similar rise in charges for nursing home care under the Medicare program.

The increases are part of an overall 18 per cent boost in Medicare Part A charges effective January 1.

Part A covers the patient's expenses for hospitalization under Medicare, which provides federal health insurance for more than 21 million elderly persons.

"Lifetime reserve" days may be used at the patient's discretion to supplement the regular Medicare 90-day hospitalization benefits.

HD Club Hears Budget Program

Lady Claire Phillips, County Agent, was guest speaker Thursday, May 14, for the regular meeting of the Springlake Home Demonstration Club at the home of Mrs. Bob Boone.

"What About a Budget" was the theme of Mrs. Phillips' program which dealt with the necessity and arrangement of a family spending plan. To prepare a budget correctly, the county agent stated that a person must figure their income for the forthcoming year, determine their essential needs and accustom their spending accordingly. At least three months of the year's income should be set aside as an emergency fund for the unexpected needs which always arise.

Hostess, Mrs. Boone, served refreshments to the ten members and five guests present for the meeting. These included Mrs. Odeal Bills, Mrs. James Smith, Mrs. T. V. Murrell, Mrs. A. E. Hollingsworth, Mrs. Bruce Higgins, Mrs. R. W. Fanning, Mrs. Keith Boone, Mrs. L. C. Do you know what is meant by a "special endorsement?" A special endorsement specifies the name of person to whom check is payable.

There are three types of special endorsements. They are: qualified, restrictive and conditional.

A qualified endorsement merely assigns the title to a check.

A restrictive endorsement permits payment only within certain limits. As an example, "For deposit only" is a restrictive endorsement.

A conditional endorsement bears some condition. As an example: Payable only if lawn mower operates as well as it did before trouble.

Checks payable to two or more persons must be endorsed by each payee. The exception is where one has authority to endorse for others.

Check endorsers are liable in order in which endorsement appear. Thus the last endorser is liable.

"The Golden Chain" served as the theme for the installation ceremony with Mrs. John Laing presiding. She reminded the group that "The chain is only as strong as its weakest link," and that the meeting and officer installation marked both a beginning and an end. Mrs. Laing continued, "The Golden Chain is the symbol of unity, friendship and community spirit. We are upon the threshold of a new club year. Your selection of new officers, like links of friendship, are giving new hopes, ambitions and accomplishments."

1970-71 officers installed were treasurer, Mrs. John Laing, whose "golden link is one of honor and trust, a guardian of our funds"; federation counselor, Mrs. Jane Beavers, in whose absence Mrs. Carra Morgan accepted the position, is the golden link of federation information gathered from Federation Magazine; secretary, Mrs. Wayne Rutherford, whose pin is a symbol of her link for she is the link of kindness, it takes courage, efficiency and resourcefulness to be keeper of the records; vice president, Mrs. Ray Kelley, whose golden link is one of constancy, also that of program chairman who should be timely and schedule appropriate and interesting programs throughout the year with the Yearbook as her golden link and president, Mrs. Sam Cearley, whose link in the golden chain is represented by the gavel, a symbol of authority and who represents the club at all times in community, district, state and national affairs. She must try to know her members, work with each of them and remember, "A smile will always ease your burdens."

Mrs. Cearley was presented the President's Pin by Mrs. Marie Ross who reminded the entire membership, "You are the link of faithfulness, give them your friendly support." The newly installed president responded by thanking the club for placing her in leadership and asked for their continued support prior to announcing her appointed officers. These officers include Mrs. H. S. Sanders, nominating; Mrs. R. W. Fanning, membership; Mrs. Carra Morgan, projects; Mrs. Marie Ross, finance; Mrs. John Laing, health; Mrs. John Welch, hospitality; Mrs. John Laing, press and publication; and Mrs. B. She commented on the work the Town and Country Study Club had done during her term as president.

Each club member was presented a bookmark enhanced with the GPWC Emblem by Mrs. Ross who also presented Mrs. Laing with a gift.

A salad supper, furnished by club members, was enjoyed by those attending. The serving table was laid with a white satin cloth and a lovely spring floral arrangement centerpiece completed the decorations.

Local Youths Enjoy Skating Party

The Junior Training Union Department and their guests met at the First Baptist Church of Earth Saturday afternoon at 2:00 p. m. They traveled as a group to the Plainview Roller Rink where they spent the afternoon skating followed by a trip to the park where they spread their sack lunches for a picnic and outdoor games before returning home.

The group had a lengthy discussion on the possibilities of obtaining a skating rink in Earth. It was decided they would spread the word to all students at school and form a committee to go before the City Dads and the Chamber of Commerce to try and persuade them to back the area youth in a year-round way with a skating rink.

They discussed making posters, taking a vote of the student body and "bug" the adults in anyway they could to get it started.

Those attending were Kelley Wheatley, Toni Inglis, Kim Jones, Carmen Wimberly, Karen Hulcy, Teri Inglis, Kathy and Sherry Winders, Kim Clayton, L'Anna Sulser, Cindy Dent, Debbie Verden, Donna Green, Camille Hinchiffe, Brent Washington, Jimmy Lanier, Dyke Gaston, Billy O'Hair, Kirk O'Hair, Kenneth Wimberly, Ronnie Thomas, Cristie Thomas, Mark Barton, Kelley Green, Steve Green and adult sponsors Mrs. Bobby Green, Mrs. J. RUTH STREET

Ruth Street, Scout of the Week

Ruth Street, 13-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Street, has been selected Scout of the Week.

Ruth has earned 22 badges during the time she has been in scouting. Beginning in the second grade she joined the Brownie troop and was an active member for two years. Following this she went into the Junior Scouts for three years before becoming a Cadette. She currently serves as a Patrol Leader for the Cadette Troop 178.

She has attended camp at Camp Rio Blanco two summers and plans to spend two weeks there this year.

Ruth is a seventh grade student at Springlake-Earth, a member of the junior high band and the National Junior Honor Society.

Like most typical teenagers Ruth's favorite food is, guess what?--Hamburgers, for sure! Her hobby is collecting stamps and painting.

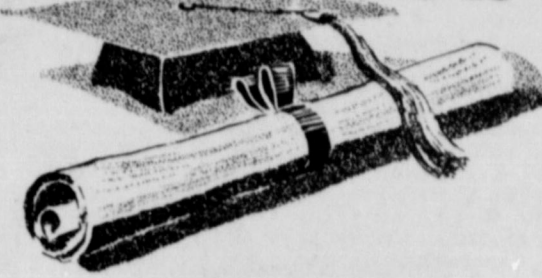

Her favorite color is blue and for her favorite song she listed "Spinning Wheel."

Urban housing starts declined 6 per cent in the 1960's as compared to the 1950's according to the Census Bureau.

The woman who checks with her physician if she notices a lump or thickening in her breast might save her own life.

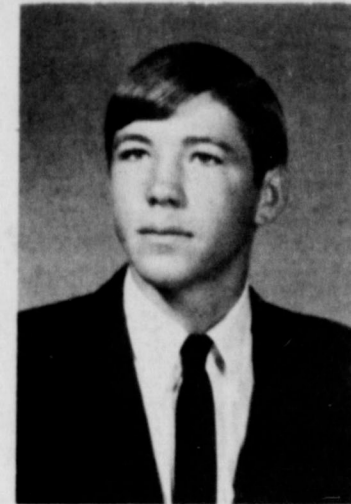

The American Cancer Society reminds every woman: It may not mean cancer, but isn't it worth finding out?

In action, the titzer's techniques vary: Besides the obvious and rather elementary tch-tch, the veteran titzer will, for instance, shift his weight in a creaky chair - a timely squeak will send the message like a knife in the night.

There is the shuffled foot - another goody - as well as the in-sucked breath and the cleared throat, all accompanied by eyes rolled heavenward; such as these are in the practised titzer's repertoire.

Failure though he is, alas, the titzer is not without skill.

Action To Begin on S-E Opportunity Plan, Inc.

By establishing its own division of The Opportunity Plan, Inc., the Springlake-Earth community is insuring that any worthy student from the area who desires to continue his education beyond the high school will not be restricted by financial need. The plan sponsors students regardless of race, creed, or academic standing and regardless of whether they wish to attend a college or university, a junior college, a vocational school or a trade school.

The Opportunity Plan, Inc. (OPI) was begun in 1953 by Milton Morris, who still serves as the plan's executive vice-president. In 1959 the Opportunity Plan was chartered as a non-profit corporation. OPI is a unique "package deal" combining student employment, government loans, scholarships, and federal grants with the Opportunity Plan loan. First a student prepares a budget, estimating his educational expenses for a year; then he secures all funds he is eligible to receive from sources other than OPI. OPI provides the remaining funds.

Each student knows that so long as he tries and cooperates his financial needs will be provided. He keeps a careful record of his expenditures and reports the use of his time.

Morris tells the students, "Come and spend as little as you can; be modest in your way of life and owe the Plan as little as you can; earn as much as you can; graduate as rapidly as you can; and pay back your obligation as quick as you can so someone else can use the money to go to school."

The Opportunity Plan depends entirely on the contributor for the necessary funds to sponsor students through school. Through the years, over a thousand contributors have created a perpetual source of benefit through OPI. Many contributions are made in the form of memorials. Recently, communities, such as Springlake-Earth, have begun establishing community funds, assuring that their students will have financial aid for furthering their educations.

License and Identification Aid Recovery of Stolen Autos

DALLAS---Car owners who become the victims of auto theft can assist in the recovery of their car by being able to provide investigators two small but vital pieces of information. These items can be the key factors in how soon a stolen automobile is recovered--and time is crucial if the car is to be returned to its owner in reasonable good shape, according to the National Automobile Theft Bureau (NATB).

C. C. Benson, manager of the southwestern division of the NATB, says that if every car owner would have available his auto license number and vehicle identification number, he would have a much better chance of getting his car back if it is stolen.

ter within minutes after the theft is reported," said Mr. Benson, "and this computer will distribute the information on the stolen car to local, state and national authorities within five minutes.

"However, if the owner doesn't have this information readily available, the recovery operation becomes more difficult and chances of recovery lessen."

Mr. Benson also called attention to anti-theft devices that have been built into many 1969 model cars, most 1970's and that will be included on all future models.

"The locking steering column and other anti-theft devices have been built in by the manufacturers to reduce the number of thefts by making the thief's job more difficult--if not nearly impossible," Mr. Benson commented. "It is a-

Miss Bridge To Compete For Queen of District-- Lions District 2T2 Convention Set

A streamlined one-day Lions International District 2T-2 annual convention, quickly arranged to replace last week-end's cancelled convocation, was announced Monday for Saturday, May 23, by Lions District Governor Clyde K. Schneider and Convention Chairman John W. Lowery, both of Lubbock.

All business sessions, luncheon, and the Queen's Contest have been relocated and are to be held at Monterey High School during the condensed Saturday, May 23, event.

Critical motel-hotel needs of swarms of tornado emergency repair crews, insurance survey teams, and other disaster workers forced the cancellation of the original May 14-15-16 program.

May 23rd registration will begin at 8 a. m. in the Monterey High School auditorium lobby. Other rapid-succession program highlights continue with an 8:30 till 12 noon business session in the Monterey High School Auditorium. From 12 until 1:30, there is to be a luncheon with a speaker. Forums will be conducted from 1:30 till 2:30 p. m.

Election of district officers is slated for 2:30-3:30 p. m. A necrology ceremony honoring deceased Lions is planned for 4-4:30 p. m.

Forty-four contestants, representing the District's 63 clubs, will compete for the Lions Queen title, beginning with registration from 8 to 9:30 a. m. and concluding with the contest at 5 p. m. in the specially-decorated auditorium.

Lovely Miss Janis Bridge, Earth-Springlake Lions Club Queen, will be among the 44 contestants vying for the coveted District Queens Title. Miss Bridge, the dark-haired daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bridge is a junior student at Springlake-Earth. She was selected local queen from among a group of 19 lovely contestants.

Lack of overnight facilities and dining accommodations had prevented plans for the regular District Governor's banquet and ball following.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Green were guests last week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Kelley. Green is Mrs. Kelley's brother, of Cucamonga, California.

Sp/4 Floyd Bennett Recalls Vietnam Experiences

A year in the life of any person is a lengthy period of time—but for a soldier, a year in the combat zones, jungles and Godforsaken terrain of Vietnam, can be an eternity. For 11 months, from May, 1969, to April of 1970, while defending our country, Sp/4 Floyd Duane Bennett met with some of the most horrid in contrast to some of the most encouraging experiences he will in all probability encounter during his entire lifetime. "We worked constantly," he said, "and fought at least one battle, no matter how small, every day." Bennett continued, "Whenever you're fighting you have no certain thoughts. You are just concerned with your welfare, the other men's welfare, what's going on around you and pray that what you're going up against isn't bigger than you are."

Memories are things which most people consider precious. The memories of one year in a war torn country are not looked back upon with happiness but with regret—regret that you couldn't do more for America and Vietnam, regret that there was a war to be carried on, regret that some of the men with whom you served will never know the happiness and great joy of being reunited with their families and regret that those for whom you were fighting and for whom your buddies were dying, so they may have the freedom of a democratic government, did not want this freedom enough to give their full support to the American GIs. Bennett stated, "The Vietnamese people don't care one way or another. They do like Americans though." Bennett expressed his feelings toward the Vietnamese by saying, "Some of the Vietnamese I liked but I disliked others because they let the GIs do most of the work. Some of them have been in the army so long they just don't care. But most of them do a fair job and give some support to the GIs." Sp/4 Bennett reported that Hard Corp VC like to fight and believes in what he is fighting for. "He is a rugged individual who is well trained and well equipped." He went on to say, "The people of the Me Kong Delta are not well trained. They are just VCs who like to harass the GIs. They sneak around at night and try to probe the night perimeter. They strike at unsuspecting Americans by setting booby traps." During the interview, Bennett was asked his opinion of the My Lai Massacre. After several moments of deep thought, he replied, "Well, if they didn't want people to get killed, they (the soldiers) shouldn't have been sent over. The soldiers possibly went out of their heads. They were given the order and apparently got carried away. Everyone does something like this at one time or other in Vietnam but never on such a large scale. They (the military court) should try the men in charge. The pressure put on American GIs is sometimes unbearable, "but we helped the Vietnamese all we could." Sp/4 Bennett served in three companies during his stay in Vietnam. While with the 2nd Brigade, he was stationed in the Me Kong Delta, 3rd Brigade in Tam An, and the 9th Infantry Division stationed at both Tam An and Doung Tam. He recalled that one or two small areas of Vietnam were pretty but that "it's a dirty and disease ridden country. Home-sickness was frequent. "You miss all kinds of things and wish you could see what was going on, and you miss good music."

"No place for a permanent!" was the reply given when Bennett was asked about the weather conditions. "I'd rather see a good sandstorm any day. The weather there is either hot and dry or hot and wet. The monsoon season is real bad but the frequent rains help cool things off. It's always humid and steamy after the rains."

A one word description of the food was given by Bennett. "Terrible!" He then went on to say, "We had a wide variety of menus but the mess hall usually served roast, potatoes and gravy. We ate C-rations, mess hall food and LRRP rations. LRRP rations are light weight dehydrated foods we carried on Long Range Reconnaissance Patrol. These were packaged in a plastic bag that we opened up and poured water into." He reported that the Vietnamese foods lacked spices and were completely tasteless. "The candy was far too sweet and their gravy was made from ducks' blood or vegetable soup. But it didn't affect our appetites," he said as he indicated the proof of this statement.

Recreational activities for GIs in Vietnam are rather limited and passes from the firebases are few and far between. Bennett commented, "You must get a pass to leave the firebase to go to Saigon and you can only go to the place indicated on the pass then return directly to the base." He added that leisure time on the bases was spent writing letters, reading books or seeing the movies which are shown nightly. The Vietnamese television broadcasts consist of "Tom Jones" and other popular American shows but Bennett indicated that the show tapes are out-dated like the movies which are shown. "We even had a pizza parlor that was put in by some Korean people but it was run by the mess hall personnel."

Many things had happened in America during Bennett's absence but he considers the general condition of our country "about the same" except for the dress styles worn by American women. With a shy glance at his fiancée, Carolyn Kelley, he said, "The skirts are shorter, much shorter, but I kinda like that."

Sp/4 Bennett's smile disappeared as serious consideration was given to thoughts about his personal feelings concerning the war in Vietnam. "For reasons unexplainable, I don't believe the Vietnam War is doing any good. We're playing a waiting game and I feel we should pull out of Vietnam."

Floyd is presently enroute to Fort Carson, Colorado, where he and his bride will make their home until his discharge in December.

War has many effects on the lives and characteristics of those who have been engaged in battle. Although Bennett returned home safe, there are numerous changes evident in his appearance and personality.

One for sure, he has been transformed from a boy into a man, a man who has seen the cruelty of war. Through it all he has maintained a sense of humor that will doubtless lend a balance in his moments of remembering the horror.

As this Memorial Day approaches, Sp/4 Floyd Bennett has only one wish to express, "Above all else, I hope my buddies return home safely."

Junior High Schools Are Undergoing Changes In Texas

Scores of Middle Schools now operating in at least 21 Texas school districts usually follow a 1-5, 6-8, 9-12 grade pattern, compared to the 1-6, 7-9, 10-12 pattern generally found in the junior high schools. Primarily affected are 11-year-old students, who move up to the Middle School, and the 14-year-olds, who move up to the four-year High School group.

Advocates of the new Middle Schools, however, feel that they benefit students at the three levels (elementary, middle, and high) in ways both academic and social. Some school officials feel that the Middle Schools offer greater flexibility of scheduling classes, and allow 11-year-old students (sixth graders) to move earlier to departmentalized courses and more elective subjects.

The Fort Worth school district has now made an almost complete transition to Middle Schools, after trying the new system on a limited scale in 1968-69. Other Texas school districts which have begun to use Middle School organizational patterns to varying degrees include those of Aldine, Austin, Bloomington, Brownfield, Brownsville, Clear Creek, Cypress-Fairbanks, Deer Park, Dickinson, Duncanville, Eagle Mountain-Saginaw, Friendswood, Goose Creek, Grapevine, Lewisville, Nacogdoches, Midway, Pasadena, Spring Branch and Victoria.

Reader's Digest Official Manager of Cotton Producers Institute

Memphis, Tenn. (Special)-- J. Duker Wooters, Jr., who has been a top official with Reader's Digest, will become executive vice president and general manager of Cotton Producers Institute, assuming full-time administrative duties on June 15.

In announcing the appointment, CPI President Howard Aford, Lubbock, said Mr. Wooters will head up a staff to carry out consumer and technical research and market development activities for cotton. CPI is financed through grower payments of $1 per bale under the Cotton Research and Promotion Act.

Employment of Wooters follows a year-long study which concluded that CPI should have its own full-time management and staff. Previously, CPI had utilized the staff and facilities of the National Cotton Council.

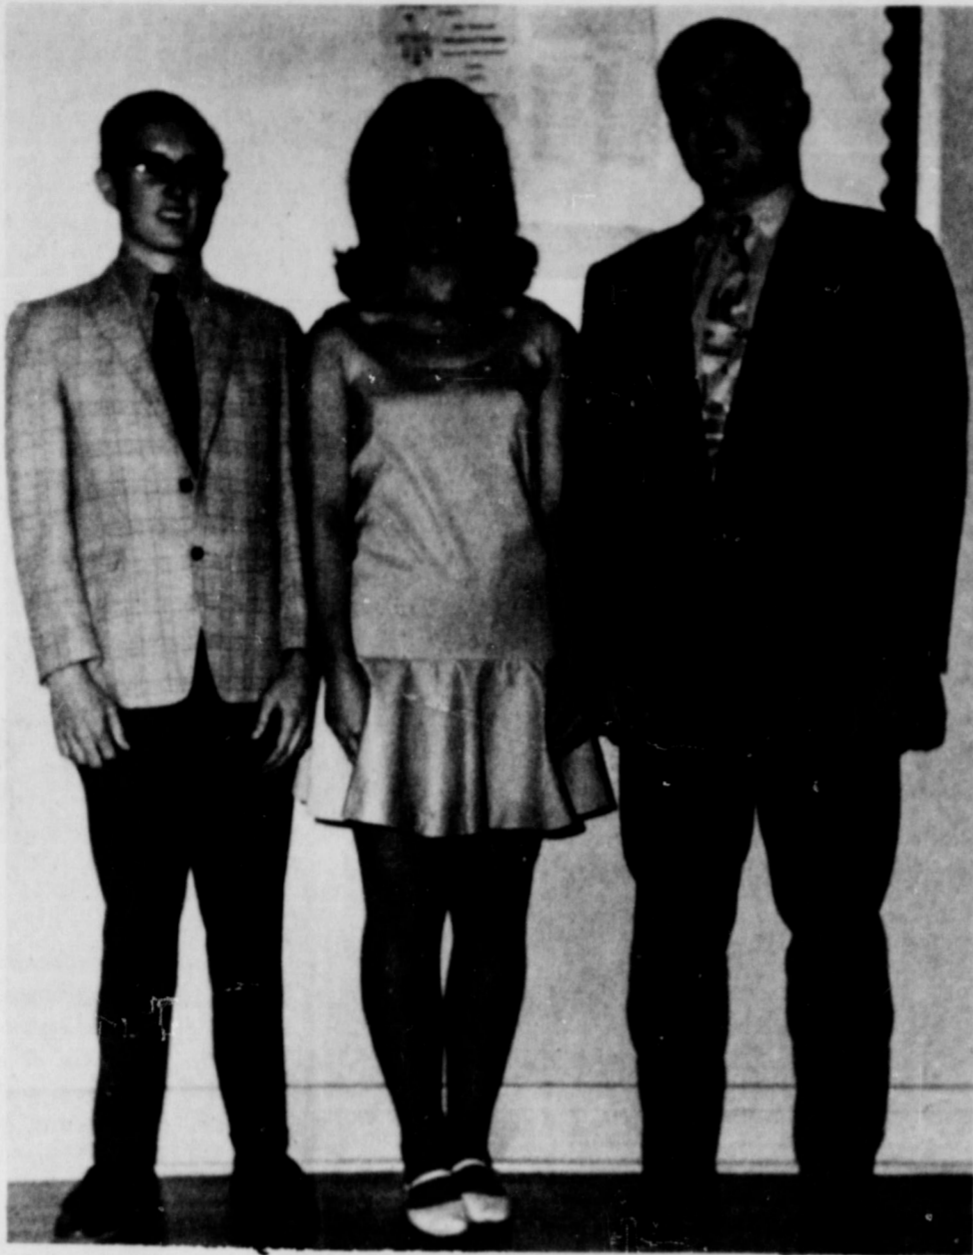

Wooters, 52, had been with Reader's Digest since 1956 and was executive assistant to the company's chief executive officer.

He joined the staff as an executive sales representative in New York, served as associate advertising director, marketing director, general manager of the home entertainment and education division, and executive assistant to the executive vice president.

During 1969 he was managing director of the Reader's Digest Brazilian edition in Rio de Janeiro.

He was sales supervisor with Time and Life magazines before joining the Digest and earlier was a sales representative with Hearst Publications.

Wooters is a graduate of Lehigh University where he majored in business administration and of the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration where he was a marketing major. In World War II he rose from a private to a captain in the Army Quartermaster Corps. He lives in New Canaan, Connecticut, is married and has five daughters.

5 Million Veterans Insured In Insurance Programs

More than five million veterans were insured during 1969 in five government life insurance programs valued at $38 billion, according to the Veterans Administration.

The newly published annual report on 1969 insurance activities reveals income from all programs totaled about $1-billion, while about $625-million was paid in claims to living policyholders and beneficiaries.

In addition, the programs paid $235-million in dividends, and placed $130-million in reserve funds to assure payments of future policy obligations.

One of the VA's five insurance programs insures World War I veterans, and the others insure World War II and Korean veterans, as well as Vietnam veterans separated with service-connected disabilities.

GA's Study "When Faith Meets Faith"

The Intermediate GAs met at the First Baptist Church of Earth following school Tuesday afternoon.

The program entitled "When Faith Meets Faith" was introduced by Mrs. R. S. Cole.

The following points were stressed in the program and discussed following each point introduced: The prophet Mohammed was discussed by Alice Johnson, the crusade by Mary Lee Johnson, a continuing tension was a group discussion, Mahmood by Alice Johnson and think it through, talk it over by Joyce Thomas.

The discussion aided the GAs in answering the unit question, "If every society has some kind of religion, why do Christians feel they must share their faith?"

The next meeting is scheduled for 4:00 p.m. instead of the usual 4:15 p.m. time on Tuesday, May 26.

Junior Honor Society Enjoys Sandhill Picnic

Members of the Junior High Honor Society of the Springlake-Earth School left the school Friday, May 15, and traveled to the sandhills for a picnic held from 4 to 8 p.m.

Swine Production Is Expanding Rapidly

WACO (Special)--Swine production is expanding rapidly in the South Plains, according to an article in the May issue of Texas Agriculture, official publication of the Texas Farm Bureau. The South Plains has traditionally been a two-crop area, producing mainly cotton and grain sorghum. Written by Editor Virgil Yarbrough, the article quotes Dr. Gilbert Hillis, area swine specialist at the Texas A & M Agricultural Research and Extension Center at Lubbock as saying that prognosticators predict that 40 per cent of the total production of swine in the state will be on the High Plains by 1975. Marvin O. Sartin, farm management specialist at the Research and Extension Center, attributes the growing interest in swine production in the area to the abundance of grain sorghum produced there, the relatively bleak outlook for cotton, and the favorable price of hogs for the past couple of years, according to the article.

Texas Agriculture points out that there is a tremendous market potential for hogs in Texas. In 1969, a total of 1,496,000 head were produced in the state, and about 6,000,000 head were consumed. So Texas is producing only about 25 per cent of the pork consumed in the state.

The publication states that only 5.4 per cent of the total grain production of the state was marketed through hogs in 1969. Although an increasing amount of locally-produced grain is being fed to livestock, the state is still exporting grain and importing slaughter hogs and packaged pork.

Specialists foresee a continued trend toward larger, more specialized pork production units and more confinement operations going in on a corporation basis. Minimal investment in physical facilities and equipment for a partially-confined farrow-to-finish system is in the neighborhood of $600 per sow unit. Utilizing more sophisticated equipment and adding the investment in the breeding herd could run these costs as high as $1,000 per sow unit. Texas Agriculture explains.

The total cost of producing pork is somewhere between 19¢ and 20¢ per pound, and hogs have been selling in the area at around 27¢ and 28¢ per pound, leaving a comfortable profit margin.

Yarbrough visited two of the newer installations on the South Plains and describes them in the article. They are the operations of the Plainview Pig Producers, Inc., of Plainview and the Brownfield Swine Producers, Inc., near Brownfield. The Plainview facility will produce 40-pound feeder pigs to be fed out by local feeders, while the Brownfield plant is a farrow-to-finish operation.

When completed, the Plainview Pig Producers, Inc., production center will have a capacity of 400 sows. Brownfield Swine Producers, Inc., now has 120 sows and will grow to a 500-sow plant. Both are totally-confined, disease-free installations.

The Hale County Farm Bureau was instrumental in getting the Plainview corporation formed and is actively encouraging more local swine operations and the establishment of processing facilities. James Stair, president of the county Farm Bureau, said the growth of swine production facilities in the area has increased grain sorghum and soybean prices farmers receive.

Food for Thought

Many a good wholesome American meal has been inspired by French cooking, and the dishes are not necessarily of the sophisticated gourmet type either.

It takes only the sketchiest knowledge of French to realize that many of our culinary terms are also French—chef, saute, souffle, fricassee, parfait, a la mode, aspic, to mention but a few.

And the dishes we have adapted to our own menus can be from the haute cuisine of famous hotels or the "cuisine de famille"—like "mama" cooks at home. Peasant cooking, called "cuisine du paysan" in rural areas, also inspires American versions.

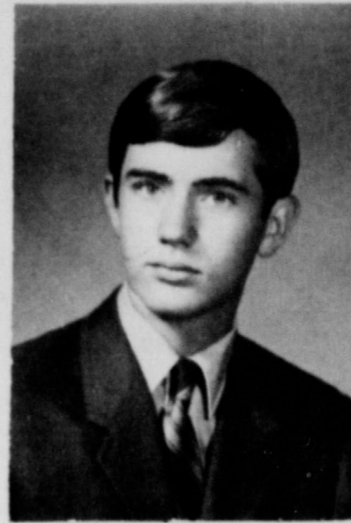

Actually French cooking differs according to regions. Generally the seasoning is the clue in a flavorful way. For example, Alsace-Lorraine is famous for marvelous sausages which are spiced very much as they are across the Rhine in Germany. Sauerkraut is cooked with onion, cloves and herbs. Cheese is studded with anise, fennel, or caraway seeds.

In Burgundy natives demand lusty, well-spiced sauces. In fact, Dijon, the town famous for mustards and fancy gingerbreads, is in this province.

On the Mediterranean, in Provence, Marseille is world-renowned for its bouillabaisse, that great "gathering" of seafood and spices. Natives of Provence love to cook with highly aromatic herbs—thyme, sage, bay leaf, tarragon and garlic which has been called the "truffle of Provence." In Nice at the eastern border, cooks swap recipes with neighboring Italians.

HOW YOU CAN SEE TORNADES ON TV

As you see threatening clouds on the horizon, turn on your TV, either color, or black and white, to Channel 13. Darken the screen to the threshold of blackness, and then switch to Channel 2. Instantaneous streaks across the screen indicate lightning in a nearby thunderstorm. If the streaks become wide bands and linger, a dangerous storm is in the offing which could not only do severe damage but could spawn a tornado. If the screen becomes stark white, head for shelter—quick! A tornado is 20 miles or probably much closer to you. It doesn't matter if there's a program on Channel 2, it's a tornado, because the tornado lightens the screen to make the picture visible.

Why do you turn to Channel 13 and darken it first? "Only because Channel 13 is a 211-megacycle frequency, so far from 55-megacycle Channel 2 there is no interference. Darkening 13 first, then switching to 2 precludes someone turning first to 2, finding it white (a tornado) and unwittingly darkening out the tornado, which is possible on some TV sets.

The 55-megacycle band (Channel 2) is the nearest that TV has to the electrical frequency of the pulse of a tornado. The pulse generator—Mother Nature's own device for setting up an electrical flow—creates the voltage that triggers Channel 2. The pulse generator is a spiraling force of lightning revolving around a vacuum core. It sits high in the thunderhead, about 18,000 feet and, if you could see it, would look much like a faraway satellite flashing tiny bluish-purple rays. There is no thunder because the funnel is a vacuum chamber. The tornado funnel then, which descends from the pulse generator to the ground, becomes much like a vacuum diode tube. In a tornado, pulses flow from the ground to the pulse generator in the cloud above. This gargantuan vacuum tube, a phenomenon of nature, makes the above detection system work.

Cancer of the Colon And Rectum

Cancer of the colon (the large intestine) and rectum (its lower end) is diagnosed in approximately 75,000 Americans annually. Second only to skin cancer in frequency, it affects both men and women equally, with over 90 percent of its victims past the age of 40.

Like other types of cancer, cancer of the colon and rectum is characterized by abnormal, uncontrolled growth of cells that can spread to other parts of the body. Since the tumors formed by the rapid cell growth of cancer interfere with normal body functioning and threaten life, they are called "malignant." Benign tumors, on the other hand, are growths that remain localized and do not usually endanger life.

Certain warning symptoms may signal the presence of a tumor in the colon or rectum. These include any change in bowel habits such as blood in the stools (which may appear bright red or black), persistent constipation or diarrhea, and abdominal pain. Anyone with symptoms lasting longer than two weeks should consult a physician.

In examining the rectum, the physician can feel a tumor if it exists in this area. However, to view the interior of the

New Parks Offer Something Different

AUSTIN—Texas' three newest parks represent a new era for the Texas Parks system.

Two of the parks, Dinosaur Valley near Glen Rose and Pedernales Falls near Johnson City, are the first parks acquired under the $75 million bond program passed by voters in 1967.

The third, Hueco Tanks near El Paso, was acquired as a gift. Each of the new parks represents a departure from any other type of park in the State parks system.

For example, Hueco Tanks offers as an attraction fantastic geological formations, an equally prominent history and a major archeological find.

The Spanish word "hueco" means hole or hollow. The tanks consist of natural water-holding depressions in limestone, surrounded by huge granite blocks rising from 200 to 400 feet above the desert floor.

The depressions in the limestone make natural "cisterns" which store a great amount of water during the wet season. In this parched country any quantity of water at all draws man and beast like a magnet, and Hueco Tanks was the only water supply for many miles.

Apache, Kiowa and Comanche Indians camped there and left behind cave drawings telling of their adventures and sorrows, their triumphs and superstitions.

For not only is there water, but the giant igneous monoliths, with labyrinths of caves and tunnels, form an excellent fortress.

Sandals and basketware found in the caves furnish evidence that an early Pueblo tribe inhabited the area around 300 to 500 A. D.

It was here the last great Indian battle in El Paso County was fought when some early settlers tracked marauding Apaches across the desert to the tanks, besieged them in their caves, and slaughtered them.

The tanks served as a watering place for the Butterfield Overland Mail.

Dinosaur Valley State Park has as its central attraction footprints of dinosaurs made approximately 100 million years ago.

The footprints, located along the Paluxy River, which flows over solid rock and contains the best preserved dinosaur tracks in the State. It was in this area that the first saurpoid tracks in the world were recognized.

The park was recommended for inclusion in the National Registry of Natural Landmarks of the Department of the Interior by Governor Preston Smith.

Pedernales Falls State Park offers as its main attraction 4,800 acres of unparalleled, unspoiled Hill Country scenery.

The park, formerly known as the Wheatley Ranch or Circle Bar Ranch, is located on the banks of the Pedernales River and encompasses spectacular waterfalls and deep clear pools. Park planners indicate they will develop the park in such a way as to have the facilities for visitors concentrated, leaving most of the park in a wild state.

At the moment all three parks offer plenty of scenery and little else. Limited picnic facilities and chemical toilets will be available after the parks are open to the public.

In Pedernales Falls State Park, two parking areas will be made available. Swimming and wading in the park will be restricted to certain areas.

The three parks will be open in the day—from 8 a. m. to 8 p. m. in the summer and 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. in the winter.

4 H'ers Discuss Rally

The Earth-Springlake 4-H Club meeting was held at the Earth Livestock Show Farm Monday, May 19, with 33 4-H members attending.

Kent Lewis, president, presided over the business meeting and the following items of business were discussed.

It was announced that leadership camp is scheduled to be held at Levelland June 23-25 and the electrical camp will be held July 6-10 at Cloud Croft-

New Mexico. Those planning to attend these camps will be announced at a later date.

Kent also reminded the 4-Hers who have made plans to show animals must contact their county agent as quickly as possible.

The meeting was turned over to Mrs. Gene Maxey of Olton who presented a program on "How to Train Dogs."

colon, an instrument called a proctosigmoidoscope is inserted for about 12 inches. For persons over 40, such a "procto" examination should be a regular part of the annual check-up. Two-thirds of all colon and rectal cancers can be diagnosed in the early stages in this way. If a tumor is suspected, a small sample of any visualized growth can be removed through the proctosigmoidoscope for microscopic examination to check for malignancy. In addition, the detection and removal of growths which may become cancerous are valuable preventive measures.

X-rays may also be used to detect any irregularities, particularly in areas of the colon beyond the reach of the proctosigmoidoscope.

The discovery of polyps (growths arising from the body's mucous membranes) in the colon or rectum should receive careful medical attention. Although not all polyps are malignant, there is a chance that they may become so in time. Removal of polyps is usually an uncomplicated procedure and can be accomplished through the proctosigmoidoscope.

Surgery provides the most effective treatment for cancer of the colon and rectum. The part of the bowel containing the tumor is removed along with the adjacent segments. Since the lymph system is one of the main channels for spread of the disease, the lymph nodes which drain the area are also removed.

When the operation involves extensive surgery of the rectum, a temporary or permanent opening called a colostomy may be made in the abdominal wall to permit elimination of body wastes. Bowel function is not impaired by this operation and, after adjusting to some inconvenience, a patient with a colostomy can lead an otherwise normal, active life.

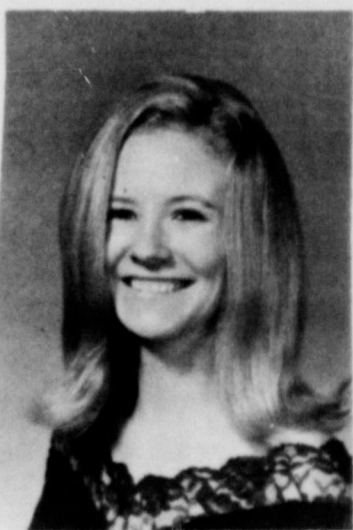

Although colon and rectal cancer claims approximately 47,000 American lives annually, progress in research has greatly increased the number of patients living at least five years after diagnosis. The cause of this type of cancer, like that of most cancers, remains unknown, but new research findings may suggest new ways of saving lives through prevention of the disease. At the same time, the trend toward improved diagnosis and treatment provides hope that more patients with this disease will survive.

JUST THINKING

About the seniors. They're quite a group, these young men and women. They're a big, big part of our home town. Once they were the little boys you saw playing football on a vacant lot, and the little girls having play tea parties for their dolls.

Today, they are mature young people on Graduation Day and ready and confident... eager to take up new challenges, strive for new goals.

We're exceptionally proud of you, Seniors, and we wish each of you a full measure of success and happiness in every endeavor.

Summer Home Ec Classes Scheduled

Summer homemaking classes for those enrolled in the Springlake-Earth Homemaking I and II courses are scheduled to be held during the months of May and June.

Members of the Homemaking II class will meet May 26-29 from 1:30 to 3:30 p. m. in the Homemaking Cottage. Under the instruction of Mrs. Norlan Dudley, the group will learn the correct construction of bathing suits.

Homemaking I classes will be held June 15-17 from 1:30 to 3:30 p. m. in the Homemaking Cottage. Clothing and food will be the topics of study presented by Miss Kim Hailey.

There will be no charge for the summer classes and with the completion of approximately 100 hours work, including 10 hours classroom work, those enrolled will receive 1/2 credit to be applied to their credits for the forthcoming year.

Also included in the summer program will be an upholstery class scheduled to be held June 8-12. A planning meeting for all adults interested in attending this summer session will be held Tuesday, May 26, at 10:00 a. m. in the home of Mrs. Cecil Slover.

FTA SPONSOR MRS. MARY PATTERSON, Springlake-Earth High School instructor, was honored Tuesday at the 1969-70 awards assembly when she was presented an FTA pin on behalf of the FTA membership for the many hours she has dedicated to the work and instruction of the local FTA.

Preliminary Population For County Shows 17,427

The 1970 Preliminary Population figures for Lamb County is 17,427. The announcement was made this week by District Manager Robert L. Butler who supervised the taking of the 1970 Census of Population and Housing in the area.

This figure is as it indicates preliminary and not official until further review and counting can be done. The last official figure for the county was given for the year of 1960. At that time the population figure was 21,896.

If this figure for 1970 becomes the official figure then we can assume the county has lost 4,469 people.

The Census Bureau will commence in the fall of 1970 to publish official population figures for all areas in the United States--States, counties, cities, towns and villages.

The District Manager expressed his own and the Census Bureau's thanks to the residents of the area, to officials, the newspapers, and the broadcasting stations for their cooperation in the taking of Census '70 here in Lamb County.

SHORT RUCKUS THURSDAY ON LOCAL CAMPUS

Trouble erupted Thursday morning and resulted in fist-cuffs between Lynn Glasscock, local farmer, and Springlake-Earth School superintendent Bill Mann.

The ruckus took place on the school campus at the north end of the high school building, accessible to the eyes of a few students who peered out the windows.

The incident was over shortly with Supt. Mann reported to be holding his restraint during the regrettable event.

McNamara; historians, Martha Koite and Mary Arrendondo; parliamentarian, Laura Dudley; projects chairmen, Camille Haberer and Karen Armstrong; and program chairman, Ian Cleavinger.

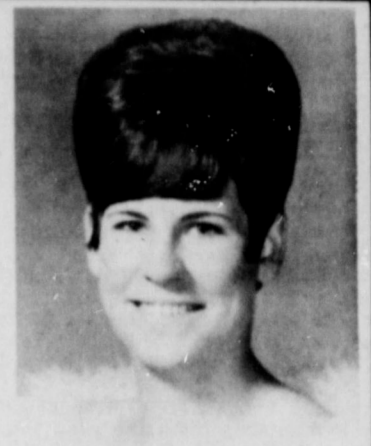

Commencement marks an achievement for the seniors. They have worked hard, accomplished much. And now they step forth in countless directions in the world. The world is truly the "final exam."

It is the ultimate test of each individual, and knowing the seniors as we do, we are confident they will pass with flying colors. Our very best wishes for success to one and all.

When we believe that there is an orderly plan for us, and we let that plan unfold in us through prayer, we come into a consciousness of a new world of thought and action. The same divine wisdom that keeps the planets in their orbits is in us. Let us affirm that God's plan of order in our life is unfolding, and manifesting itself in perfect ways.

Auto Exhaust May Effect The Weather

The lead from automobile exhaust may be affecting the weather, says Dr. Richard D. Cadle of the National Center for Atmospheric Research in Chemical and Engineering News, official news magazine of the American Chemical Society.

This possibility has occurred to environmental scientists as a result of the observation of widespread cloud formations over cities, explains Dr. Cadle, who is head of the Center's chemistry department in Boulder, Colorado. Clouds to windward of cities consist of water droplets, whereas clouds to be near freezing and contain ice crystals formed on particles from the cities--probably lead particles, he comments.

"One theory, although it is now much more than a theory, is that lead compounds given off by automobiles react with traces of iodine in the air and form lead iodide," Dr. Cadle says. "This compound makes beautiful freezing nuclei for the formation of snowflakes. We would like to investigate whether an increase in the number of freezing nuclei can be attributed to the city, and what effect this may be having on the weather."

Laboratory experiments reveal lead iodide to be especially effective in initiating freezing--almost as effective as silver iodide. The two compounds, which are similar chemically, have both been used to "seed" clouds in weather modification attempts.

Scientists study atmospheric particles as tracers to follow the movements of air masses in surveys of worldwide pollution, Dr. Cadle says. A group in his department is following the movement of particles in the atmosphere near the earth, in the stratosphere, and around the earth from the Amazon to the Antarctic. They use balloons, rockets, and airplanes to collect samples at different levels. A cooperative study with other government agencies is scheduled to measure the path of pollution-causing particles and gases downwind from an American city.

Particles are introduced into the atmosphere by natural phenomena such as dust storms, forest fires, and volcanic action, as well as by the smokestacks and automobiles of man. It is Dr. Cadle's opinion that it is very important to investigate all sources of particles, including volcanoes, so that a better comparison can be made of the relative importance of man's and Nature's contributions to atmospheric pollution.

In connection with any possible health hazard from the lead compounds that automobiles send into the atmosphere, Dr. Cadle believes there is reason for alarm, but he warns that quick solutions could grow into problems of an entirely different kind. He suggests, for example, that petroleum refiners who hope to replace leaded gasoline with high-aromatic fuels should look at least twice before they leap.

It's conceivable that some of these aromatics could lead to the formation of cancer-causing by-products in the combustion process. Aromatic compounds generally are toxic.

Springlake VBS Slated June 1-5

Vacation Bible School for the First Baptist Church of Springlake has been slated to begin June 1 and last until June 5.

Three classes have been scheduled for the 1970 session of the Bible School with Mrs. Ernest Green acting as beginner superintendent; Mrs. Almon Whitford, primary superintendent; and Mrs. Lowell Walden, junior superintendent.

Commencement for those who participate in the Vacation Bible School program will be held Sunday, June 7, according to Don Holmes, pastor, who will be serving as superintendent of the Bible School. Anyone wishing to attend this summer program is cordially invited to do so.

Everybody knows what is a "kibitzer". A noseey guy who critically observes another's bridge playing.

That is a kibitzer; but do you know what is a "titzer"?

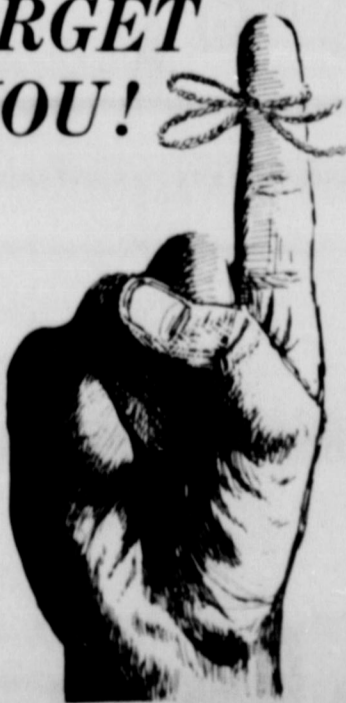

A titzer is a kibitzer wired for sound. And his hallmark is the disapproving noise and/or action he makes when his victim is about to play a card. Generally, that noise is an almost inaudible but soul-searing clucking. Tch-tch-tch, it goes. That's a titzer, and a more foul beast never lived.

Caution Should Be Taken In Encounter With Poisonous Snakes

"Caution" is the word to remember when you or a member of your family encounter a poisonous snake. A person's fear of snakes could well be his worst enemy in an actual encounter with any one of the four poisonous snakes found in Texas: the rattlesnake, copperhead, and coral snakes. The most prevalent in Texas is the rattlesnake.

Should you encounter a rattler, the safest thing to do is to remain perfectly still or edge slowly away. The worst thing you could do is run, or shout, or make a quick motion. You only excite the snake, making it more apt to strike in self defense.

Actually, more people die of insect bites in Texas than snake bites. Some 46 persons died of insect bites over the past ten years, compared to only 31 deaths from snake bites. But snake bite deaths are most frequent among the young and old.

The wise outdoorsman will avoid places where a snake may make a home. Walking in weedy areas with brush piles or thick undergrowth is asking a snake to lash out. Don't assume that a snake will shake its rattles as a signal of attack, or that it only strikes when coiled.

In applying first aid for snakebite, make the victim lie down as soon as possible and apply a constricting bandage above the bite. The pulse in blood vessels below the bandage should not disappear, nor should the bandage produce a throbbing sensation. Loosen the bandage for a few seconds every 15 minutes. If possible, apply ice packs to the bite and get the victim to a physician or hospital.

If there is going to be a lengthy interval until antivenin can be given, make cuts cautiously through the skin into and just above the presumed venom deposit site, avoiding tendons, and apply suction.

Antivenin for coral snake bite is available through the Texas Health Department. The State Health Department laboratory in Austin, and laboratories in local health departments at Dallas, Houston, Corpus Christi, and San Antonio, serve as distribution centers for the antivenin. When a bite by a coral snake occurs, the physician or hospital should immediately request antivenin from the nearest distribution center. Other poison antivenins are available through commercial sources.

$64,000 Plus, Sought in Support Of Cotton Production Research Program

Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. has received and is considering requests for financial grants-in-aid totaling over $64,000 to support cotton production research on the High Plains, including projects ranging from weed control to chemical and biological manipulation of cotton plant growth.

A total of $399,800 in research grants-in-aid have been awarded by PCG since its inception in 1956, and many of the advances made in the development of new varieties, fertilization, water utilization, control of insects, diseases, weeds and other improved cultural practices can be traced to "seed money" supplied by producers through PCG.

Included in research projects for which money was requested this year are variety breeding; disease, insect and weed control; temperature studies, fertility levels, soil moisture conditions and conservation of rainfall and irrigation water.

The PCG Research Committee, with Don Jones of Lubbock and Ray Joe Riley of Hart as co-chairmen, accepted written summaries and heard oral presentations of each research project May 5 in Lubbock. Jones, now retired, is a former superintendent of the Texas A & M Research and Extension Center north of Lubbock. Riley is a well known cotton farmer and seed breeder and current Vice President of the 25,000 member PCG. There are 14 other committee members from the six geographically balanced PCG districts.

Fishing Without A License Doesn't Make Good Sense

Financial aid for seven research projects totaling $46,875 were received from the Texas A & M Research and Extension Center, for a single project from the Agricultural Experiment Station at Bushland to cost $5,000, for one project costing $5,000 from Texas Tech University, and for three studies costing a total of $7,250 from the High Plains Research Foundation at Halfway.

Austin: 'Tis the season when the compulsion to catch fish drives the casual angler toward the nearest body of water. He fills his car with gasoline, stops by the fishing supplies store for some bait and tackle and heads for a day of serenity and peace by the lake.

Getting a fishing license is inexpensive as well as convenient. For $2.15, whether for a Texas resident or an out-of-state visitor, fishing licenses can usually be obtained at the same place as fishing tackle, advises the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

But if he's like 5,233 other Texans in 1969, his day will be ruined by a slight oversight--he didn't buy a fishing license.

Prorated over a year, $2.15 is a small price to pay for almost unlimited opportunities for recreation. This figure seems even smaller when an investment in gasoline, fishing tackle and a beautiful day is jeopardized.

Long before pollution control and improvement of air, water, and other environmental factors became the popular mass crusade that they are today, Texas state agencies were working on the problems. Today they are combatting pollution of air, surface water, and ground water; and pollution from solid wastes, municipal and industrial wastes, and "just plain people waste," the Outlook states.

Salvation Army Drive Complete

The 1970 Salvation Army Drive has been completed. A total of $180,19 has been collected with only 1/3 of the drive cards being totaled to date. The remaining two-thirds will soon be collected and the drive total counted for the Earth-Springlake area.

Earth Service Unit Workers are Harold Miller, W. B. McMillan, Ross Middleton, Doug Parish, Johnnie Williams, Norman Hinchliffe, M. H. "Dutch" Been and drive chairman, Dale Riggs.

"It is the responsibility of Congress to decide what funds shall be appropriated. No doubt there will be some further rearranging of priorities. But I believe we must make an all-out effort to proceed with restraint and caution and hold authorizations and appropriations as low as reasonably possible."

Interest Grows In Environment Control

Austin--A mushrooming interest in "environmental control" is evident in Texas schools and colleges, as throughout the nation. Actually, Texas has been aware of environmental pollution, and working against it, for more than 100 years. Articles on the subject in the Texas Outlook state that Texas water pollution control laws date back at least to 1860, when a water pollution prohibition appeared in the state penal code.

The big step came in 1967 with enactment of the Texas Water Quality Act. In 1969 the Legislature revised that act, passed the Injection Well Act spelling out Railroad Commission authority, and passed the Solid Waste Disposal Act clarifying roles of the State Health Department and Water Quality Board.

Long before pollution control and improvement of air, water, and other environmental factors became the popular mass crusade that they are today, Texas state agencies were working on the problems. Today they are combatting pollution of air, surface water, and ground water; and pollution from solid wastes, municipal and industrial wastes, and "just plain people waste," the Outlook states.

Here are some other facts and figures from the articles:

- Texas Water Quality Board, the state's principal authority on water quality, reports that the waters of Texas are of good quality and readily usable, except for some local pollution problems.
- Texas Water Development Board is the state's chief water resource planning agency and historically the protector of ground water.

- Texas Railroad Commission is solely responsible for control and disposition of waste--and prevention of pollution--resulting from exploration, development, or production of oil and gas.
- Texas State Health Department has jurisdiction over solid waste disposal, including municipal waste. City garbage, once collected, is usually disposed of in one of three ways: burned, buried in a landfill, or composted.
- Texas Air Control Board, a separate state agency working through the Health Department, enforces clean air standards. Regulations of this board prohibit burning of open refuse by cities of more than 5,000 population.
- Texas Parks and Wildlife Department enforces water quality provisions as they affect aquatic life, birds, and animals.
- Texas Education Agency has placed high priority on "environmental education," with science curriculums most affected. Science course guidelines, last revised in 1961, provide framework for environmental instruction.
- Outdoor education programs, such as one which has operated with much success in the Tyler public schools since 1949, are due more attention from Texas schools.
- Texas Highway Department spends about $2 million a year cleaning up litter on Texas roads and highways.

Which prompts this Outlook conclusion: A do-it-yourself campaign against pollution is needed, with all Texans participating.

Party Line

Mrs. Bonnie Haberer and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Butter were in Plainview Friday, May 15, attending the high school band's annual concert. Mrs. Haberer's granddaughters, Leslie and Tisa Haberer, are members of the band.

Mrs. Wayne Cooper, Kerry, Kyle and Kim of Clovis, New Mexico, spent the weekend with her parents the Wayne Rutherford.

It's Still Anyone's Guess As To Outcome of 1971 Cotton

Friday, May 15, closed out the 25th consecutive week that has gone by the boards in Washington since the Cotton Subcommittee of the House Committee of Agriculture began hearings on a cotton program for 1971 and subsequent years. And it is now an odds-on bet that the half-year mark will roll past before Administration officials and Subcommittee members reach agreement.

Following the last futile meeting of the Subcommittee May 13, Chairman Thomas Abernethy returned to his Mississippi District. He will not be back in Washington until Tuesday, May 19. So the earliest the Subcommittee might reconvene would be on May 20. Assuming they could come to terms almost immediately, which doesn't appear likely, the full House Ag Committee still would be hard pressed to act on a farm bill and get it to the floor of the House before early June.

A significant step toward agreement on a cotton law was made several weeks ago when the Administration conceded that the total amount of money to be spent on cotton each year in 1971, 1972 and 1973 would equal the amount spent in 1970, about $840 million. But the big question since that time has revolved around how the total would be disbursed--on how many acres, on what yields per acre, etc.

Looking after the interests of producers, the Subcommittee is insisting that the language sent to the full Ag Committee will guarantee producers at least $840 million in each of the three years. The Administration is just as concerned that the wording agreed upon will guarantee that program cost will not go over $840 million.

The Administration strongly favors basing the amount of price support payments to producers on the difference between the average market price and 35 cents per pound. And with the average market price being an unknown factor, it is difficult at best for either side to accurately determine the ultimate total to be paid out.

Under these conditions it is easy to see how the present impasse was reached. Cotton producers and other industry people can only hope that the deadlock can be broken before it is too late for passage of a cotton program during this session of Congress.

TFRW Wants Nominations For Top Women in Texas

The Tops 'N Texas community service awards, honoring three women from across the state each year, will be presented by the Texas Federation of Republican Women and the GOP Women's Division September 14 in Fort Worth. Nominations for the third annual awards are being accepted until August 1.

Recipients of Tops 'N Texas awards are selected by a panel of women also active in community service across the state. These judges are asked to choose individuals who "in a quiet, unpublicized way have contributed time, devotion and energy to the betterment of their community" through one or more social projects.

Awards are non-partisan and political activity, or lack of it is not a determining factor in selecting recipients," said Mrs. Louis F. Bohls of San Antonio, President of TFRW.

"Our goal is to recognize women who have done outstanding social or civic work and who have not received public attention for this activity," Mrs. Bohls said.

Mrs. Richard Nixon in 1968 and Mrs. Spiro Agnew last year presented the first two TNT awards. Another nationally prominent woman is expected to preside at the Fort Worth ceremony.

Previous recipients include: Mrs. C. A. Christian, Freeport; Mrs. Mayme Daniel, San Angelo and Mrs. Santos Huanter, San Antonio, 1968; and Mrs. Ralph Graham, Dallas; Mrs. Henry Johnson, Dallas; Mrs. Porter Motley, Knott and Mrs. Arthur Haynes, Ingram, 1969.

General co-chairmen are Mrs. Malcolm Milburn, Austin and Mrs. Marvin Selig, Seguin. Nomination blanks may be obtained from the Texas Federation of Republican Women, 329 Littlefield Building, Austin, Texas 78701.

Congratulations

As you receive your diploma, we hope you continue to look ahead and plan for the future... and we hope the future holds much for you.

The pioneers of science, art, and industry... those who found a way where others saw only a blank wall... have all had a sense of direction.

The seniors seem imbued with this same sense, and it makes us proud to take note of it. It is a mark of maturity and eagerness to reach for new goals.

With pride, we take this opportunity to say, "Well done, Seniors, and good luck, whatever your direction!"

KIN OF LOCAL RESIDENTS KILLED IN TORNADO

Almost everyone in the community have loved ones or friends in Lubbock, but only the Ed Townsends at the gas plant suffered the loss of loved ones in the tornado Monday night. Mr. and Mrs. Townsend were in Oklahoma visiting their son, Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Townsend and family when they received word from a sister who resides in Fort Worth that her niece and family, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Midland, Alan Ray and Dusty were all killed in the tornado and that another niece and her family, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Garrett and children, Karen, Mike and Lonnie were all in Methodist Hospital, the parents in critical condition. They are both daughters of her brother who also lives in Lubbock and who had talked with Mrs. Midland only minutes before the tornado struck. They were comparing the hail. When the tornado hit he went to see about the Garretts because he thought they would be in its path, but didn't think the Midlands would be. When he got there, which wasn't easy, he found their residence gone and a Baptist preacher told him he had taken them to the hospital in critical to poor condition. Upon returning home to pick up his wife to go to the hospital, through Mr. Midland's mother who was there, he learned the Midlands were in the storm and all four were believed to be dead. It was about two hours before they found the baby boy. The funeral services for the four were held Thursday. Joe Garrett passed away Saturday morning in Methodist Hospital. The Eddie Townsends came home with the Ed Townsends Friday to rest for a while before returning to the hospital to help with the injured.

Carlsbad Opens Showplace In June

A gala premiere on Friday, June 26, will mark the opening of the Southwest's newest entertainment facility, Desert Fiesta, in Carlsbad, New Mexico. Sporting a cast of forty and an orchestra of twenty, the theater is being touted as the beginning of a new era in that region's theatrical history. Several hundred local, state, and national dignitaries will be on hand for the festivities. "The Governors of New Mexico," Texas, Colorado, Arizona and Oklahoma are among those that have been invited.

The show will be housed in a sparkling new 2,000 seat theater which is in the latter stages of construction on the southern edge of Carlsbad. It utilizes a unique thrust stage, and is being built to the specifications of Dallas entertainment specialist, Charles R. Meeker, Jr.

Meeker has been associated with the theatrical field for more than thirty years. His successes include Six Flags over Texas, Dallas Summer Musicals, Texas State Fair Musicals, and Miss Teenage America Pageant is televised nationally each year.

Meeker has been quoted as saying that the show at Desert Fiesta is the best with which he has ever been associated. He has called the cast the best collection of college talent ever assembled.

The cast and orchestra were selected during auditions held in the latter part of February at several dozen colleges throughout the area. It includes many artists known for their work at supper clubs, in television commercials, and at several other summer theaters such as "Texas" at Palo Duro, Six Flags Over Texas and Cedarpoint, Ohio. They will arrive in Carlsbad on June 10 to begin rehearsals in preparation for the June 26 opening.

The show will consist of an original musical revue written by Mr. Meeker, and Miss Judith Houghton, the director of Miss Teenage America. It will reflect various historical events which have influenced southwestern life including the Spanish conquistadores, and the romance of the old West. Several thousand dollars worth of wardrobe is being created to complement the historical aspects of the production. While realism is being stressed in costuming, the show will not be an historical pageant. It is very updated, fast paced, and light hearted.

Desert Fiesta grew out of a Carlsbad tourist promotion committee project. With the city already famous as the home of the Carlsbad Caverns, the committee realized the possibility for an additional attraction. The easy accessibility, and the readily available tourist traffic lends itself to the creation of the new facility--one which is spectacular in nature, and unique for the region. There is no theater which possesses the scope of Desert Fiesta within a 500 square mile radius. No other theater in the world has such total environmental support as that in Carlsbad. Rich veins of history can be tapped for production material. The unexcelled climate offers an uninterrupted season of good weather, and a guaranteed tourist visitation in large numbers.

The operating season will extend from June 26 through Labor Day. The production will be presented nightly at 7:00 and 9:30, except on Wednesday. In addition, there will be a 3:00 p.m. matinee on Saturday and Sunday. Ticket prices are $2.50 and $1.50 each. The difference in price is determined by seat location, and not on the basis of age. Any child under five not occupying a seat will be admitted free. Most of the tickets are $2.50 due to the design of the building. The use of the thrust stage, and the suspension ceiling offers excellent viewing from all areas of the theater. The striking amber and black color design of the interior creates a cool and pleasant atmosphere. Services at the theater include valet parking, and the usual complement of concession items are on sale. Tickets and information can be obtained by writing Desert Fiesta, Box 1133, Carlsbad, New Mexico, 88220.

He will guide you into all the truth. —(John 16:13).

When tempted to speak hastily, or thoughtlessly, just stop to think and listen before acting. If we want to say the right words in a perfect way, follow God's guidance. Then we may be assured that we do not cause anyone—ourselves or others—to feel unhappy. Say and think that our actions are guided by the Mind of the Christ within us.
