Negro Given Chair For Ologue Murder

Samuel B. Gibson, 25-year-old Negro, was formally sentenced here at 10:20 a. m. today to die in the electric chair for the Nov. 6, 1948 murder of Juan Ologue.

Gibson, wearing dark glasses and dapperly dressed in a dark coat, green shirt and brown, striped trousers, accepted the verdict Sullivan without flinching.

Gambler's Wife Is Killed When Auto Blows Up

DALLAS, Nov. 20. (U)—Mrs. Mildred Noble, wife of a widely known Dallas gambler, was killed today when an automobile she started blew up.

Dallas police said there apparently were explosives in the car. The explosion occurred in Oak Cliff, a Dallas residential district, at 8:15 o'clock this morning.

Mrs. Noble was the wife of Herbert Noble, 40, who was wounded in a running gun battle with unidentified men Sept. 9. On two previous occasions Noble was wounded in gun fights.

The explosion tore the car apart and hurled fragments of metal into surrounding yards. The frame, twisted and blackened, was left upright in front of the Nobles' Dallas house.

Wires which had connected explosives to the starter were left dangling from the frame. The Nobles lived most of the time at a ranch near Grapevine, in Tarrant County. Neighbors said the couple stayed only occasionally at their Dallas residence. Nobles was not at the house when the blast occurred.

Mrs. Noble's body was hurled 100 feet from the car. Her face was crushed and one foot torn off. Neighbors said the car, a 1946 Mercury, was usually driven by Noble. He was seen leaving the house earlier today in a Cadillac his wife ordinarily drove. Police was trying to contact him in Fort Worth.

Justice of the Peace W. L. Richburg said he believed both dynamite and nitroglycerine were used to make the bomb.

ELLENBURGER MAY HAVE BEEN STRUCK

Mitchell Wildcat Flows 180 Barrels Of Oil In Nine Hours

Superior No. 2 Jim Plaster, northwest Mitchell county wildcat near Westbrook, was credited by unofficial sources with having flowed 180 barrels of pipeline oil in nine hours through tubing today.

It was reported to be still flowing. Production is supposed to be coming from open hole between the bottom of seven-inch casing cemented at 7,987 feet and a total depth of 7,992 feet.

The section making oil in the No. 2 Plaster is thought to be in the top of the Ellenburger. No information is available as to the well on the top of that formation.

This wildcat is being drilled tight and no official reports are being released on its progress or its showings.

It is understood that after drilling plug on the seven-inch casing and drilling out to 7,992 feet, the operator went in to treat the hole with acid. Before a packer could be set, the well is said to have kicked off and started flowing. At last reports it had flowed steadily for nine hours at an average rate of 20 barrels of oil per hour, and was still flowing.

The project likely will be drilled deeper before completion activity is started. Location is 1,980 feet from the south and east lines of section 4-28-1s, T&P, one and a half miles northeast of Superior No. 1 Doekery, an Ellenburger discovery completed in July from 7,

CHIANG SHOWS CONFIDENCE AS COMMUNISTS NEAR CAPITAL—Chiang Kai-shek, former president of China, gestures his confidence with a thumbs-up gesture as he arrived in Chungking, national capital, Nov. 14. Reds Close In On Chungking

CHUNGKING, Nov. 20. (U)—The Communists closed in on Chungking tonight amid the noise of battle.

Cannon and machine gun fire was audible in this Yangtze River city of 1 million.

Soldiers guarded the streets. Traffic which jammed thoroughfares yesterday was absent today.

Only a few trucks were seen leaving the city. Some 600 others waited to cross the river at Niochang, halfway to Chengtu, 170 miles Chengtu will be the next and fourth capital of Nationalist China in a year.

Some French Catholic missionaries left this morning on what was probably the last trip out of Chungking aboard the Lutheran mission plane, St. Paul.

Among the passengers were Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Ho of the Central Bank, which has closed. Mrs. Ho is an American.

Mother of Former Resident Expires

Services were to be held in Knox City at 3 p. m. today for Mrs. G. W. Tillinghast, mother of George Tillinghast, Odeess, former Big Spring resident for many years.

She died in Lubbock Monday afternoon. Surviving are two sons, George and Ross Tillinghast, Lubbock, and two daughters, Mrs. Bill Lemons, Plainview, and Mrs. Fanny Farmer, Lubbock. Mrs. Tillinghast had visited here frequently.

SANTA MUSTN'T HAVE WOEFUL LOOK IN EYES

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 20. (U)—A part time Santa Claus must look the role right up to the merry sparkle in his eyes.

So testified Charles Ross, operator of a photographic studio in a local five and ten store, as he appeared yesterday before Leonard A. Civill.

The matter of Santa Claus and his expression came up when Everett Frisbee, 31, filed civil suit against Ross asking $45 back pay.

Frisbee contended Ross reneged on a verbal contract. Ross said he had to let Frisbee go because his woeful eyes repelled children.

"He's got size and everything else for a good Santa," said Ross. "But those eyes send the kids away."

Alderman Civill awarded back pay of $41.50 to Frisbee, who said he would be happy to return to his old job as a janitor.

28 Persons Die In Plane Crash At Dallas Airport

Eyewitness Tells Story Of Crash

DALLAS, Nov. 20. (AP)—A nightwatchman who saw a huge American airliner crash at Dallas' Love Field before dawn today said the plane came roaring up and dropped one engine when it hit a building.

This is the eyewitness account of L. Boyd, nightwatchman for the Dallas Aviation School who was sitting in a small lookout house on the field:

"I was sitting in my little house when this plane came roaring up and hit the Dallas Aviation School. One engine fell out when it hit and then it kept on going across the road and hit some buildings on the other side. There was no one in the building as far as I know. The minute it hit the building big flames burst up. And there was a big explosion. The Dallas Aviation School was on fire, too. I ran over to what was left of that plane. I figured nobody would get out of that one."

"The fire was everywhere. The plane was broken up into just chunks. When I got up to the plane, two men staggered out. I helped them away from the fire. Then I ran around on the other side and five other people were getting out. Two of them were women. They were hurt and crying."

"I never heard any one else cry. There weren't any screams when the plane hit. I helped the women away from the flames. I don't know how bad they were hurt or burned but they acted like they were stunned. They didn't know what they were doing. They were crying and I got them away."

"A couple of minutes later the first ambulance came up and carried the people away. I never had anything like this happen in my life."

Another eyewitness said a survivor staggered right out of the flames and said "Where is a doctor?"

"It gave me an awfully strange feeling to see a man walking out of those flames," the eyewitness said. Bill Crabtree, driving along another side of the field, said: "I looked up just in time to see it explode."

"There was a muffled explosion—like you throw a match into 200 gallons of gasoline. Then came the fire. The fire spread real fast."

"It looked to me like he overshoot the field and then tried to gun his engine. The plane twisted after it hit the first building."

The crash a 2 1/2 resulting fire knocked out telephone and power service to surrounding area. The tail section of the plane torn from the rest as if by a huge canopener lay near the street alongside the airport.

Aubrey B. Flowers, who lives at a home very near the scene, was asleep.

"There was a big jar," he said. "I got up and there were no lights."

Additional Floats Are Entered In Santa Parade Here

Three additional organizations have entered floats in the Welcome Santa parade to be held Friday, bringing the total to 35 units now entered, Cecil Thixton, parade director, announced this morning.

Central Ward and Cauble schools, and the Creighton Tire company have indicated they will have decorated floats in the procession. The parade is to start at 5 p. m. Friday as four bands, the floats and marching units escort Santa Claus to the Christmas tree on the courthouse lawn.

The big Treasure Hunt in which approximately 200 firms will participate is to follow the parade at 6 p. m. The Christmas program will officially open the Christmas shopping season here.

Well-Known Rancher Believed Killed

BRECKENRIDGE, Nov. 20. (U)—J. Quincy Corbett, believed dead in the crash of an American airliner in Dallas, was a prominent rancher in Texas and Virginia. He was about 54.

Friends here said they believed he was en route home from a ranch he operates near Winchester, Va., with Walter Chrysler.

Corbett owned a ranch 12 miles east of here. Survivors include two sons—H. H. Corbett, well-known over Texas as owner of the Champion cutting horse, "Housekeeper," and J. Quincy Corbett, Jr., both of Breckenridge two daughters, Mrs. Martha Martin of Fort Worth, and another daughter in Alaska.

Chaotic Crash Scene Described By Bill Barnard

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD AP Staff

DALLAS, Nov. 20. (U)—Dawn broke on a scene of chaos where an American airliner crashed at the edge of Love Field today.

The big stack of blackened, wet wreckage was bright from portable floodlights. The firemen in their black coats were climbing all over the wreckage, walking between small fires still burning.

Hundreds of people got somehow into the area in spite of a blockade. The whole area was filled with spectators, highway patrolmen, policemen and even children were playing around the scene.

The smoke still was rising with an acrid odor an hour after the crash. I watched the firemen find one body. The first thing they spotted was what looked like a foot. One fireman got hold of the foot and started pulling.

And it was a foot, all right. Another fireman came and helped and a leg came into view. And two more started unspooling debris from atop this body and with four pulling they pulled the body free. They put it on a stretcher and carried it out.

Immediately another fireman hollered—"Here!" and with this his buddies pulled another blackened form out. The bodies were badly charred. The second body was rigid. The arms were thrown up in front of the face.

Regular traffic seemed to be proceeding out of Love Field. One of the Texas Civil Air Patrol flight at the scene, said, "This is terrible. Just terrible. There is no other word."

for hours after it hit. Firemen used grappling hooks to pull apart the wreckage of plane and building.

It was about 5:45 o'clock when the big plane struck the magnaflex wing on the southwest edge of the field. The plane inspected plane engines by chemical means.

Both the plane and plant apparently burst into flames. Small explosions followed.

A wing was the nearest intact part of the plane. One part of the wing still had two motors in it. The propellers were bent, but still in place. The wing was lying on the side of what is left of the magnaflex plant. Part of another wing was nearby—a burned-out engine on it.

The rest of the plane was a scrambled mess of wreckage. The plane left New York at 10:47 p. m. (EST) last night, American Airlines said. It left Washington—its last stop—at 12:54 a. m. (EST).

The huge plane was coming in for a landing when it crashed on the northwest edge of the field. It immediately burst into flames. Love Field, Dallas' chief airport, is seven miles northwest from the heart of the city.

One engine was feathered, American Airlines said, indicating something was wrong with one of the four engines. But the plane was approaching the field in a routine manner before the crash, the airlines said.

An hour and a half after the crash, the scene was still one of "organized chaos," officers said. What caused the crash was unknown.

The plane first hit the magnaflex wing.

14 Hospitalized; One Reported Missing

DALLAS, Nov. 20. (AP)—An American Airlines plane crashed into buildings on the border of Love Field early today and burned. Twenty-eight of the 46 aboard were killed.

Fourteen persons were in hospitals and one was missing. Three others left hospitals.

The big DC-6 was en route to Mexico City from New York and Washington.

It struck a hangar and plowed broadside into a chemical plant after swooping over the field in an attempt to land. A crew member, who staggered dazed and bleeding to a nearby house, said one of the engines was afire and he had stopped the other three.

Identification of the dead was difficult because the bodies were badly burned. Survivors not badly injured scattered to hotels, adding to the task of rescue workers in determining casualties.

Justice of the Peace McBride said he had viewed 28 bodies—those of 17 men and 11 women.

The CAB began an investigation.

Colored flames from burning chemicals lit up the scene eerily. Nearly two hours after the crash officers described the situation as "organized chaos."

Firemen were still pulling charred and rigid bodies from the twisted wreckage.

Three of the five crew members were among the survivors, American Airlines said. There were 40 passengers aboard.

A blue-uniformed representative of the lines stood by the plane, weeping unashamedly as he kept count of the bodies brought out.

Flames licked the one-story galvanized building into which the larger part of the plane crashed.

Co-Pilot Makes Statement On Plane Disaster

DALLAS, Nov. 20. (U)—A seriously-burnt crewman of the plane which crashed here today staggered to the front porch of a home 100 feet from the scene.

He said he was the co-pilot. And while blood oozed from his mouth, he said:

"I think I am dying and I want to make a statement."

Mrs. K. C. Gullet told the story. She said the man whom she identified as the co-pilot of the plane staggered to the porch and collapsed on the porch.

"I saw him get up from his mouth and running all over the porch. He could hardly talk."

"He asked me to get the name of the plane. I'm afraid I am going to die. Please be sure and get the number of the plane," he said.

"She said Frances Hudson who lives in the area got a notebook and pencil and took a statement from the co-pilot on what happened."

The man was on the front porch of the residence of J. M. Kiddy, Frances Kiddy, niece of J. M. Kiddy, said the man said to call his wife in Fort Worth and tell her that "Pilot Four was okay."

J. M. Kiddy said the man made a detailed statement of what happened but that he couldn't remember what the man said.

Mrs. Gullet said an ambulance took the man away after he had finished his statement.

Here is Mrs. Gullet's story of the accident:

"I was in the kitchen. The lights went out and there was a terrific explosion. I ran out doors and there 150 feet away was a great fire."

"I knew what had happened. While I stood in my front yard a couple came up with a baby. The baby was bleeding and crying. These people were Spaniards."

"They could hardly talk English at all. They were very dazed. The man kept crying over and over 'what can we do for our baby?'"

"My lights were out but we took the baby inside the house. I got a wet cloth and washed his face. In a few minutes an ambulance took these people away. Then I went out to the scene and met two men. They were badly burned. One of them told me 'we were going to land here for just a few minutes and then we were going on to Mexico. An engine went wrong. That's what happened.'"

"Then I came back toward my house and saw on the front porch two doors away the co-pilot lying on Mr. Kiddy's porch."

"The front porch was covered with blood. Blood was everywhere on the porch. They have washed it off, now."

Byrnes Seen For President

RALEIGH, N. C., Nov. 20. (AP)—Former Secretary of State James F. Byrnes for president in 1952? The governor of North Carolina says so. Gov. Kerr Scott, in a news conference at Biloxi, Miss., had the matter figured out this way: Byrnes, former chief justice of the Supreme Court and was mobilizer, would run for governor of South Carolina next year. (Byrnes said several weeks ago he was considering a try for the governorship). In 1952 States Rights Democrats would propose him to the Democratic Party as its candidate for the presidency. If the party objected, the States' Righters would attempt to persuade Byrnes to run on a States' Rights ticket. Asked if there was indication that

General Parish Coffee Is Held

Seventy-five persons attended a general parish coffee held Sunday morning following the 9:30 o'clock mass at the St. Thomas Catholic church. Purpose of the affair was to help new members of the parish to become better acquainted. St. Thomas Altar Society and Knights of Columbus members sponsored the event. Mrs. Walter Rueckart presided at the register. Mrs. J. H. De-ment, Mrs. R. L. Bagley, Mrs. Roger Areand, Mrs. Eunice Goolsby and Margaret Warner, assisted by Dave Watts and Jim Reedy, served the guests. The Rev. Theo Francis was the host pastor. The States' Rights Democrats had attempted to make the Biloxi meeting a rally for their cause. Gov. Scott replied "yes."

Sadler Points Out How Common Cold May Be Prevented

Feel a cold coming on? Chances are, you will before the winter months are past. Dr. F. E. Sadler, director of the Big Spring-Howard county Health unit, warns. If the common cold contracted annually in this country were distributed evenly, every person would have a cold three times a year, the physician declared. That is about 450,000,000 colds. Application of a few simple health rules will go a long way toward preventing and easing the misery of the common cold. Dr. Sadler advises. In the first place, avoid contact with sources of the infection. Maintain personal hygiene and keep a balanced diet high in vitamin A and D. Guard against improperly ventilated or crowded rooms. Build up vitality and resistance with plenty of rest and sleep, avoiding exposure to cold and wet weather or sudden temperature changes. In case of cold infection, go to bed and eat only light foods such as fruit juices, is the doctor's advice. Always shun harsh laxatives. Complete rest is the most positive protection against the development of complications such as bronchitis, pneumonia, influenza, sinusitis, and ear ailments. Dr. Sadler said. Never try to "wear out" a cold.

Gargantua Is Yale Gorilla

SARASOTA, Fla., Nov. 20. (AP)—Gargantua's huge body will go to Yale University for mounting and display. Johns Hopkins University and the State of Florida wanted it, but Yale was promised the 550-pound circus gorilla's body at the time he was bought. And it definitely will go to Yale, said Henry North, vice president of the Ringling Brothers Show. The gorilla's body now is at Johns Hopkins, where it was sent for an autopsy. Dr. Adolph Hans Schultz, a Johns Hopkins specialist, said the school would not have accepted the assignment if it had known of the Yale commitment. Gov. Fuller Warren, appointed to Circus President J. P. B. Ringling North to give Gargantua's body to Florida's Museum of the American Circus here. But Henry North said: "It has been understood for so long that Gargantua eventually was going to Yale that he became kind of a Yale gorilla." Both North brothers attended Yale. Gargantua had a long list of ailments when he died at Miami last week, the Johns Hopkins specialist reported after examining the body. But he wouldn't say what caused the gorilla's death. "I will send a report to Mr. North and let him make it public," Dr. Schultz said.

Youth Admits Cutting Throat Of Brunette, 18

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., Nov. 20. (AP)—Police say Jesse Wilmer Worley has admitted slashing the throat of his attractive 18-year-old neighbor, Millie M. Summs, in a fit of jealousy.

The 20-year-old Worley admitted the attack last night in a statement to three Warwick County officers. Police Chief LeRoy Woody said. Previously Worley had denied knowledge of the crime. Miss Summs, a brunette high school senior, is "improving" in Riverside Hospital. Her throat was slit from ear to ear, her windpipe severed—but doctors say she will live barring complications. The attack occurred Friday night while Miss Summs was alone at home. Only a few hours after doctors performed an emergency operation Saturday morning she scribbled a note to police saying "Bill Worley did it."

Woody would not elaborate on Worley's statement other than to say the youth claimed jealousy as the motive for the throat-slashing. No date has been set for a preliminary hearing for Worley, who is held on a maiming charge. Streetcar Fight Fatal For Negro BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Nov. 20. (AP)—An argument with a conductor over sitting in the white section of a streetcar has resulted in death for a 24-year-old Negro man. The Negro, Sammy Lee Williams, died yesterday. He was shot the night of Nov. 20 by M. A. Weeks, a streetcar conductor. Detective R. A. MacMurdo said. Both Weeks and Williams were accused of assault with intent to murder after the incident. MacMurdo said no additional warrant would be sworn against Weeks. The county grand jury is scheduled to investigate the case at its next session. Two other Negroes were wounded slightly by stray bullets in the shooting.

Solon Facing Bare Facts

MOBILE, Ala., Nov. 20. (AP)—An Alabama congressman who has been hunting mountain lions in Mexico came home yesterday to face the bare facts. Rep. Boykin (D-Ala) was arrested for possessing bear meat out of season. Warden A. E. Nall found the 300-pound bear in Boykin's deep freeze locker about two weeks ago. It had been salted away in readiness for one of congressman's ritzy Washington dinners. The warden was waiting for Boykin when he came back from South of the border. Boykin posted $100 and his trial was set for Dec. 9 in inferior court. The bear was killed by A. L. Webb, Jr. of McIntosh, Ala., who turned it over to Boykin. The animal was raiding his bee hives, said Webb, who was charged with killing a bear out of season.

Unwed Negro Girl Cleared In Death Of New-Born Baby

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Nov. 20. (AP)—A circuit jury here acquitted a 20-year-old unwed Negro girl of murder in the death of her new born baby she admitted burying alive in a shallow grave. Ida Roberts of Montgomery was found innocent yesterday after jurors deliberated only 15 minutes. She was charged with first degree murder. The woman was arrested July 9 after neighbors found the infant almost entirely covered with earth. Detective Capt. Lewis Miller quoted her as saying that she had the baby while hoeing peanuts. The infant, a girl, lived 15 hours before being found but died in a hospital here two days later. Miller said the woman told officers when she was arrested that she already had one illegitimate child and couldn't support another. At her trial, however, defense attorneys contended she thought the baby was dead when she buried it.

Ku Kluxer Says Klan Impartial In Floggings

ROME, Ga., Nov. 29 (AP)—The witness quoted the robed Ku Kluxer: "We whip white folks like we do the blacks."

Mamie Clay was telling federal district court here of that tumultuous spring night which led to the mass civil rights trial of 12 men.

The lean, work-worn mother of three told how she came home April 2 to find a cross standing on the hillside across the road.

That night, she told the jury, the cross was set afire and she went to the front door to watch.

Then, she related, two robed men came to her door, knoiced and said, "Mamie, come out, we want to talk to you." And, Mamie added, she went out.

A tall klansman said to her, Mrs. Clay testified yesterday, "We hear you been having wild parties. You can't help it 'cause you're black and we're white. We whip white folks like we do the blacks."

Mrs. Clay said she was frightened, and answered only "Yes, sir."

It was at the Clay home that the government charges seven Negroes were placed under arrest by four Dade County officers and subsequently turned over to a band of 50 to 75 men in Ku Klux Klan robes for whipping.

On trial are Dade County Sheriff John W. Lynch, three deputies and eight private citizens.

Each is accused of conspiring to deprive the Negroes of their rights to equal protection under the law and immunity from illegal punishment.

Ching Admits He's All At Sea

DETROIT, Nov. 29 (AP)—The coal strike truce ends tomorrow and Federal Labor Mediator Cyrus S. Ching says he doesn't know what is going to happen next.

He made the remark incidentally in a speech before the Detroit Economic Club yesterday.

In that talk he warned that private pension plans "threaten ruin" for small and weak concerns.

In place of private plans he suggested that labor and management talk about increasing federal social security "to the point where it is both adequate and equitable."

Private pension plans, Ching said, "are not designed to bring full security but to supplement the federal plan and promote better relations by recognizing loyalty and long service."

"Generally," he said, "I do not believe industry can support private pension plans because of the hazards of business and because to earn them the employe would have to stay with the same company."

SECRET MEETING HELD Cominform Calls For Tito Overthrow

MOSCOW, Nov. 29 (AP)—The Cominform called upon all Communists in the world today to help Yugoslav peasants and workers overthrow Premier Marshal Tito's regime.

The Cominform (Communist International Information Bureau) has held its first meeting, the official press and radio said, since it expelled the Tito regime from its membership in June, 1948. The meeting was secret and was held the latter part of this month in Hungary.

A resolution passed by the Cominform said the "fight against Tito's clique — the hired spies and murderers — is the international duty of all Communist and workers parties."

(Communist leaders in the past have urged the overthrow of Tito's regime. The new blast touched off speculation by western diplomatic observers on whether the Cominform had secretly drafted concrete plans for action to oust the Yugoslav ruler.)

(Foreign diplomatic quarters in New York last week said they had heard reports an anti-Tito coup was planned for sometime between Christmas and Easter. According to the necessarily unconfirmed reports, the coup would start with a staged revolt in Belgrade with plot leaders calling in immediate help from Hungary and Romania.)

The duty of all Communists, the Cominform resolution said, "is to give their utmost help to the Yugoslav workers class and working peasantry in their fight for the return of Yugoslavia into the camp of democracy and socialism."

The resolution added that the Yugoslav Communist Party under Tito's leadership "has lost the right to be called a Communist Party." Yugoslavia was expelled from the Cominform in June, 1948, on charges that the Tito government was anti-Soviet and refusing to follow traditional Stalin-Leninist principles of communism.

PITTSBURGH AREA PATROLLED BY RESIDENTS AFTER RAPE-SLAYING

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 29 (AP)—The tree-lined streets of Pittsburgh's Shadyside district are being patrolled nightly by groups of residents aroused by the rape-slaying of a 38-year-old woman.

Raymond Thornmeyer said yesterday he had organized a "committee of defense" after a wave of violence culminating in the slaying last Friday of Jean Brusco.

Fourteen men are patrolling the 300 block of South Pacific Ave. from 6 p. m. to 1 a. m. nightly, Thornmeyer said, with each man taking a half-hour shift.

Another South Pacific Ave. resident, Mrs. Sue Smith, said she was taking steps to establish similar patrols on other blocks.

Alderman Joseph Rigby of the Seventh Ward started a volunteer escort service to protect volunteer from trolley stops to their homes along dark streets.

Councilman Joseph A. McArdle urged Mayor David L. Lawrence to declare a state of emergency and hire at least 100 additional policemen.

Mayor Lawrence declined to comment on the steps being taken.

Police admitted they are without a clue in the slaying of Miss Brusco. Two policemen were stationed at the only eyewitness to the crime, Mrs. Ellen Finntigan, who reportedly received a telephone threat on her life.

Mrs. Finntigan told authorities she happened to be looking out a window and saw Miss Brusco attacked by a man.

HCJC Is Elected to Membership in Dixie Junior College Body

Howard County Junior college has been elected to full membership in the Southern Association of Junior Colleges.

This action, E. C. Dodd, HCJC president advised from Houston where he is attending the annual meeting of the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, is a preliminary step toward membership in the latter organization.

A year or more is required to consider an application into the major unit. Dodd served notice that HCJC would apply in 1950 when it moves into its permanent home.

Indonesian Coast Blockade Continues Basketball Film Slated Wednesday

PENANG, Malaya, Nov. 29 (AP)—Penang merchants complained to blockading the Indonesian coast today that Dutch warships are still spite the recent Dutch-Indonesian agreement on independence.

The merchants sent a memorandum to the Malayan federation government charging that Dutch ships were shelling and bombing vessels attempting to trade at Indonesian ports.

An interpretative film of interest to basketball coaches, officials and fans will be projected Wednesday in Odessa.

The film, released by the National Association of Basketball Coaches, demonstrates what is and what is not an infraction on certain new and controversial points. Showing time is 9 p. m. at the Elliott hotel.

Champion Male Crocheter Gives Credit To Wife

CHICAGO, Nov. 29 (AP)—Joseph Dolina, a husky railroad signal operator from Dunellen, N. J., the nation's new male crocheting champion, attributes his success to his wife.

Proudly holding an engraved loving cup for his prize entry, at the National Needle Kraft Bureau's eighth annual crochet contest, Dolina said:

"I wouldn't be what I am today if I hadn't bet my wife $5 I could crochet better than she could. I couldn't even hold the needle. She had to show me. I got some books and practiced until I won the bet. Now she's given up. I do all the crocheting for my family."

Dolina won the $5 bet from his wife six years ago and his winning entry of a white cotton tablecloth in a fillet crochet design brought him a prize of $100. He hopes to sell it for $350.

Dolina said during his spare time at work he crochets, and when Mrs. Dolina "takes the kids to a movie, I stay home and crochet."

Mrs. Thomas L. Nightingale, 72, a great-grandmother of Sacramento, Calif., was named grand national crocheting champion.

Large Numbers Are In Danger Of Losing Right To Vote Next Year

At latest figures, only about 600 people in Howard county were entitled to vote in next year's elections. Next year, incidentally, is an "on year," that is the Democratic primaries are coming along with a general election. In addition, there will be the annual schedule of equally important elections for school boards, city commission, and other such special issues as may be submitted to the electorate.

Texas which says that the voter must not only possess a poll tax receipt or exemption certificate, but must present it for stamping at the time a vote is cast. There is a far greater danger that large number of Texans will be disenfranchised this year. In the past it has been more or less customary to pay the poll tax at the time real or personal property taxes were paid. With the issue in doubt until the special constitutional amendment referendum in November, hundreds paid their other taxes and held back on poll tax payments.

Military Entitled To Adequate Support, Not Private Pleasures

News dispatches tell of how two military officials perished in an airplane crash. Loss of life is never less than a tragedy. It is doubly so in the case of individuals who represent years of experience and large sums invested in their training. The case in point is even more tragic than that, because it was utterly needless. There was no mention of where the officers had been, but the point from which they started on a return trip to base left little doubt that they had taken in a major football game.

It was common knowledge here during the war that some officers flew to the Dakotas for a weekend of pheasant hunting. They frequently made jaunts to San Antonio and other points when there were interesting coincidences on the calendar. And some of this occurred at a time when regulations indicated a dire condition in fuel supplies. The military is entitled to the manpower and equipment to do its job. It is not entitled to country club conditions for pleasure of the official personnel.

Television Business Booming Despite Temporary Setbacks

WASHINGTON (AP)—OVER THE WEEK end and the Thanksgiving holiday I got earache from radios and eycrystal from television. Remember back to the painless, peaceful days of crystal, I began to think the baby's pretty big now. But how big? So I got some notes together on the boom in hear-and-see. Take television—By the first of the year, manufacturers say, there'll be 3 million television receiving sets in the hands of the public. Modern television was introduced at the world's fair in New York, 1939. That year, too, a baseball game was televised to experimental stations. . . .

LACK OF ROOM FOR NEW STATIONS until some adjustments are made about distributing the air waves; and interference between stations. Meaning: Transmitters were bothering one another because there didn't seem to be enough distance between them. No coast-to-coast relay yet. But there's a relay up and down the Atlantic Coast and as far west as Chicago and St. Louis. Meanwhile, FCC wanted to see if color television was ready. It called hearings. There was a big argument over this: Industry split wide open, one part claiming color television is fine now, the other saying color is still not as good as black and white.

IN 1941 THE FIRST LICENSED COMMERCIAL television station started business atop the Empire State Building in New York. Before the end of that year eight licensed stations went into business. (Before it can operate, a television or radio station must get the okay of the FCC, the Federal Communications Commission, which is the federal agency controlling the air waves.) Television receiving sets were on the market before the war. But the war stopped the building of new sets and new broadcasting stations although six television stations did business during the war. This wartime freeze was lifted in October, 1945. Now 90 television stations are operating. The FCC has given an okay to 22 more. In addition, FCC has 350 other applications for approval of new stations but the FCC is holding up on them. Why? FCC gave two main reasons:

THE FCC HAS SPENT WEEKS IN hearings, listening to the arguments. Will spend more weeks, listening to more arguments, starting in February. So, as for the 364 question—when do we get color television in our parlors?—you'll just have to guess. Take radio—Now over 2,000 AM (Amplitude modulation) and about 800 FM (frequency modulation) stations on the air. FCC has a stack of applications from people who want to start some more. You'll get arguments on the date of the first radio broadcast. But commercial broadcasting got under way in 1920. In addition to the 2,800 commercial broadcasting stations, mentioned above, about 150,000 other stations are operating. They include, for example: 29,000 aeronautical (aircraft) stations; 6,000 public safety stations, such as police and fire departments; 83,000 amateur stations, and so on.

Manchurian Control Is Nub Of Quarrel Between China, Russia

WHEN YOU'VE SIFTED THOSE 17,000 words of charges hurled at Russia in the United Nations by Nationalist China you will, I believe, find that the nub of the controversy really is control of Manchuria. The China-Russian treaty of 1945 which the Chinese Nationalists maintain committed the Soviet Union to support only the Nationalist regime as the central government of China. The indictment further maintains that Moscow agreed Manchuria was a part of China.

Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek in its efforts to re-establish its authority in Manchuria. What is it that the Chinese really want? Are they seeking the expulsion of Russia from the peace organization? No. What she seeks is a moral judgment. She wants the UN to confirm her charge that the Soviet is guilty of violating that China-Russian treaty. She wants the UN members to refrain from establishing diplomatic relations with the Chinese Communist regime at Peiping under General Mao Tse-tung.

CHIANG IS WELL AWARE THAT IT'S one thing to overrun the country with troops. And another to establish a government which can govern close to half a billion impoverished peasants and rehabilitate the vast nation. That's a task which calls for mountainous help from the outside world. If that help isn't forthcoming, the chances are that any regime—Communist or Nationalist—will eventually fail. This Chinese puzzle is like the lock on your safety deposit box in the bank. It takes more than one key to unlock it. Manchuria, with its industries and natural resources, is a vital key. With that restored to China, and with help from the western world, she would in time regain her feet.

Illinois Solon Finds To His Surprise That Red General Has Sense Of Humor

WASHINGTON — Young Rep. Mel Price of Illinois and Gen. Vasily Chukov, Soviet commander in Berlin, had a long conversation at a Berlin reception at which the Illinoisan did some half-humorous, but blunt talking. To his surprise, the tough Soviet soldier displayed a quaint sense of humor, if not a knowledge of American geography. On a tour of inspection for the House Armed Services Committee, Congressman Price was introduced to Chukov at a reception for U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson. Talking through an interpreter, the Russian general inquired what state he came from. When Price told him, Chukov commented:

In addition, Thomas required two other secretaries, Miss Helen Campbell and Mildred Kraemer, to contribute $12.50 and $7.50 each month to pay for his re-election campaigns. In brief, the gentleman from New Jersey had his hand in the payroll till of almost all his office staff most of the time he served in Congress. HIGH COST OF MILK Senate investigators have just begun a sweeping probe of milk profiteering and alleged price-fixing by big city dairy trusts. Dairy spokesmen will be called on the carpet to explain why consumers are being charged a standard price of 21½ cents a quart for milk delivered in New York, Chicago, Milwaukee, Washington, and other large cities, though the prices farmers receive for the milk vary from six to as much as 13½ cents less. The biggest price spread is in Chicago, where in some cases dairies are paying only eight cents a quart for milk sold to consumers for 21½ cents. NOTE — One reason for the price spread is high wages or commissions paid to drivers of milk delivery trucks. An investigation of Chicago milk costs some time ago showed that some milk truck drivers got $10,000 a year and in a few cases 16 of deliveries to hotels and restaurants, up to $30,000 a year. TRUMAN KNEW ANSWER President Truman knew all the answers when officials of the League of Women Voters read him some questions on voting and registration from their interesting booklet, "What's the U. S. to you?" One of their questions was "How can I enroll as a worker in a political party?" When this was read to him by the LWV's president, Anna Lord Strauss, a New York Republican, Truman smiled expansively. "I'll be glad to tell you how you can get in the Democratic Party," he remarked. "Oh, no, we mean both parties," replied Miss Strauss. "We want to interest people to become active in both Republican and Democratic circles."

"Oh, no, we mean both parties," replied Miss Strauss. "We want to interest people to become active in both Republican and Democratic circles."

"Illinois — oh, that's close to Colorado, isn't it?" "No, it's about a thousand miles away," replied Price. "I guess you can see that I'm not very good at American geography," admitted the Russian. "But I know a lot about German geography." "I hope you're not making a study of American geography now General!" observed the Illinois congressman dryly. With a smile, Chukov replied that he was not, then asked Price how long he had been in Berlin. "Time is only relative, General," responded the congressman. "How long have you been here?" "Four and a half years," said Chukov. "It's nice to be passing through like you than to be nailed down here." Maj. Gen. James D. McIntyre, a staff adviser of Defense Secretary Louis Johnson, joined the huddle and began comparing notes with Chukov on their knowledge of each other's language. "I know only one phrase in Russian 'za vache zdorovye' (a Russian toast)," declared Congressman Price. The only English I know," volunteered General Chukov, "is 'okay.'"

"It's a shame," suggested Price "that the general doesn't teach Mr. Vishinsky how to say that one word." KICKBACK PARNELL Due to legal technicalities, the Justice Department hasn't been able to show all the salary kickbacks and other tawdry operations of Congressman Parnell Thomas, former grandstanding chairman of the House Un-American Activities Committee. In addition to the kickbacks with which Thomas is charged in the grand jury indictment, he also put his wife's aged aunt, Grace Wilson, on his payroll for $2,900 in 1945, though she did not work at his office but was supported by her three nieces in Allendale, N. J. How much of the $2,900 she ever saw is doubtful. Later Thomas conceived the idea of putting his wife's aunt on the charity rolls of Gergen County, in order to make room on the payroll for his daughter-in-law, Lillian Thomas. She also drew $2,900 and never came near the office. In addition, the congressman who posed as an example of Americanism to others put Mrs. Jacqueline Voss Hill on the payroll for $3,000. She also "kicked back" to the congressman, 1 later Mrs. Hill was transferred to the payroll of the Un-American Activities Committee, though she lived in Allendale and did nothing there to expose un-American activities.

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 29 (AP)—Cesar Romero and 20th-Fox have come to a friendly parting after 13 years of association. "Actually it has been 15 years," the actor recalls, "because I was under contract to 20th Century for two years before it merged with Fox." "There was no trouble between the studio and me," he said. "I just wanted to get out of the rut. I had been doing some pretty bad pictures. 'I don't think I'll sign with another studio. I want to try freelancing. I doubt if I'll make more money this way, but I'll have the chance to choose the roles I'll play.' Romero is now playing a meanie in his first outside film, "The Iron Cage." He next plans a color musical which will be filmed in England and Scotland next year. Capsule Review: "The Hasty Heart" (WB) is a simple and touching story of the backwash of war. It's a tale of a dour Scotsman soon to die in a British hospital. Fortunately, it's done with good style and sentiment. Ronald Reagan and Patricia Neal are fine, but the real news is Richard Todd, who is handsome and convincing as the Scot.

1938 Vintage Automobile Can Develop Amazing Complaints

It's getting increasingly hard to operate an 11-year-old car. Sometimes it sounds like it might not make another winter. It's been knocking like it for years, but now the engine knocks, the rear end growls, the radiator spurts water and rust, and the tires spew air. The tubes and casings are not the only things that leak, though. Cold air blows in around the doors and windows and up through the bottom; it's probably a good thing—keeps some of the exhaust fumes cleared out. Every time it rains or comes a medium-to-heavy dew, the old car's a victim of drowning and won't start until exposed to several hours of sunshine. Cold weather has the same effect, except it's more lasting. Took the 1938 relic around to a garage the other day to find out what was making it knock so much. The mechanic wanted to know how much the oil pressure was, but just shook his head when he found out it hadn't had any for years. He said it should have quit knocking before now. The front wheels got so shimmying so badly a couple of weeks ago, we decided to have some new spindle bolts put in. The job was completed (at a phenomenal price) and it still shimmyed, but the mechanic explained that fact away by blaming it on the lumps on the tires. So we went shopping for some more tires, used ones, of necessity, only to find out that there isn't any. Without warning, car makers have quit using the once-popular 6.00-16 inch casings in favor of low pressure jobs that fit 15 inch rims. As a result, there aren't any of the former variety on the second-hand market. So, back to the office we went for more rubber bands and glue to reinforce the old ones. The antique still has a distinctive shimmy, but we're resigned to it and a future of patient coaxing. Or were, until last night when a new difficulty arose. The lights which had been burning dim to fairly bright, according to the speed of the motor, went out completely. Time, assisted dutifully by grease, water and dirt, had finally eaten away most of the insulation from the wiring. It looks like it can't get any darker now, as far as that old car is concerned. Major Aim Of U. S. Policy In Europe Is Real Economic Union

WASHINGTON—Since Secretary of State Dean Acheson and E.C.A. chief Paul Hoffman returned from their respective trips to Europe, it has become increasingly clear that American policy in Europe revolves about one magic word. This word is "integration." And it is about time to inquire what this word really means to Acheson, Hoffman, and the other American policy-makers. A groper through the fog which more and more obscure American foreign policy soon discovers that "integration" is the wrong word. To integrate, according to the dictionary, means "to unite or become united so as to form a more complete or perfect whole," which would suggest that this country is trying to create a United States of Europe overnight. In fact, what Acheson and Hoffman are trying to promote is nothing of the sort. The real objective, as one of the authors of the integration project put it, is "to get back to 1910 by 1952." What the United States wants is a Europe whose internal trading relationships are as close as possible to those which existed before the first World War. In brief, it is now the major aim of American policy in Europe to eliminate currency controls and export and import restrictions. Ultimately what is wanted is a real economic union, with tariffs eliminated and a central banking system and a common currency created. But all concerned agree that for the foreseeable future this real "integration" is no more than a distant dream. This apparently rather modest but in fact enormously difficult project for turning the clock back to happier days is envisaged as taking place in a series of stages. In the first stage, there would be three separate groups of "integrated" states—France and Italy, Belgium, Holland, and Luxembourg, and the three Scandinavian countries. The first five countries would then be joined, to form "Fritalux." The Scandinavians would then, probably be brought into Fritalux. And finally, Western Germany would be added, to make one big, relatively free trading area in Western Europe. Britain (to the great relief of the British leaders) is not being pressed to become an active participant in this Acheson-Hoffman project. But while they were in Europe Acheson and Hoffman politely but firmly urged British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin and Chancellor of the Exchequer Sir Stafford Cripps to give the scheme "encouragement and support." Bevin and Cripps rather reluctantly agreed. The chief British contribution is expected to be firm military and political commitments to France, to balance French fears of a revived Germany.

Take It Easy If You Wish Your Days To Be Long In The Land

NEW YORK (AP)—MANY PEOPLE today are shortening their lives trying to find a way to live longer. The main idea seems to be that if a man puts his whole energy into earning money he can pile up enough chips in the bank to retire at 50 or 55, and spend his declining years clipping bond coupons. This is a fine theory except that it is often the widows who do the coupon clipping. The overly ambitious men have a bad habit of ending up under the daisies at 40 or 45, dead from a busted heart artery or valve brought on by worry and taut living. THE UNITED STATES HAS MORE miles of arterial highways than any other country in the world. It also has more miles of arterio-sclerosis in the veins of its treble citizens. Its approximate rate is a matter for medical apology. It is true that Americans live longer—on the average—than most peoples. But this is a triumph of mass sanitation rather than individual common sense. In the opinion of this poor man's philosopher the trouble lies in the fact that as a nation we have never learned that "easy does it." We take an unjustified pride in living the strenuous life—so we work and play win the throttle wide open. And we eat, drink and smoke too much. We treat our body as if it were a tuned-up machine in a lifelong race on the Indianapolis speedway. But ordinary flesh can't take that pace.

Horse-Radish Truck Brings Tears Of Joy

BALTIMORE (AP)—Baltimore's only horse-radish truck has been restored to its owner after 11 days of intense gloom and mystery. Harry Tulokoss, head of the Tulokoss horse-radish company, assumed the truck had been stolen. Ten days after its disappearance, the tearful news was reported to the press. Tulokoss expressed amazement that police couldn't get onto the scent. He suggested that pedestrians whose eyes overflowed while passing a truck call police. Tulokoss was still amazed when the truck turned up at a garage. No thief was involved. The horse-radish truck had been serviced at the garage, which had picked it up at night after Tulokoss' son had parked it.

AND THE BODY REBELS BY BREAKING down. It has to have the pause that refreshes. Older civilization realize this physical fact and allow for it. We have a tendency to ridicule our British cousins for breaking their routine with 11 and 4 o'clock teas. But don't we, in effect, do the same thing? What office worker doesn't try to slip down for his morning and afternoon cup of coffee. And he works the better afterwards for this brief relaxation. Another custom America might well borrow is the siesta popular in all Latin countries. Thomas A. Edison is supposed to have gotten by on four to six hours sleep a night—but he rarely missed also taking a good snooze after lunch. If he hadn't, he wouldn't have lived so long.

Door Swings Back

ALEXANDRIA, Va. (AP)—Historic Gadsby's Tavern, where George Washington used to spend some of his spare time, is getting its door back. The door was sold 50 years ago to the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York City. Col. and Mrs. Charles Battey Moore have bought it back as a contribution to the campaign to restore the old inn.

Water Jug's Fire Bug

PERCY III (AP)—Roy Meyerhoff theorizes that many farm haystack fires can be traced to the old water jug. He got the idea while trying to find out what caused his jacket to burn on his farm near here one sunny day. He figured he had the answer when he moved his hand past his water jug near the jacket. The sun ray's focused by the jug-like a magnifying glass—burned his hand. He believes many haystack fires probably can be traced to the common practice of farmers having their jugs on haystacks while they work.

JOSEPH E. DAVIES, born Nov. 29, 1876 in Waterlawn, Wis., son of a Welsh woman-Congressional minister—and a wagon maker, Davies, diplomat and lawyer, attracted world-wide attention with his "Mission to Moscow," a book about Soviet Russia and with a personal wartime mission to Moscow for President Roosevelt to Premier Stalin. During World War II he served for a time as special assistant to Secretary of State Cordell Hull in charge of war emergency problems and policies. In the practice of law, Davies, an expert on anti-trust law, managed several large corporation mergers.

Mrs. Roy Odom Gives Devotional For First Baptist WMS On Monday

Mrs. Roy Odom brought the devotional, "Walking With God," at the business meeting of the Women's Missionary Society at the First Baptist church Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Odom based her devotion on the scriptures: Genesis 5:24 and 6:8-9. In conclusion, she directed the prayerful group singing of the selection, "Close to Thee."

Mrs. P. D. O'Brien offered the opening prayer and Mrs. J. A. Coffey pronounced the benediction. Mrs. W. B. Younger presided during the business session. Members of the congregation sang, "O Zion Haste," directed by Mrs. R. D. Ulrey, accompanied by Mrs. J. L. Haynes.

Reports from the various committee chairmen were heard. Mrs. Younger presented the new year books and spoke briefly on the year's work.

Announcement was made concerning the Week of Prayer for the Little Moon Christmas offering beginning Monday, Dec. 5 and continuing through Friday, Dec. 9.

Members of the Young People's department under the direction of Jackie Bramwell, counselor, will present a playlet, "Faithful Unto Death," and the "Life of Lottie Moon," at the church Wednesday evening at 7:45. An all-day chain

RIBBON RAMBLINGS

By Mildred Young

They're looking for a clubwoman to be "Queen For A Day," could a Big Springer fill the bill? In recognition of the valuable efforts of the clubwomen of America, "Queen For A Day," a national program of the Mutual Broadcasting system, is seeking a "Queen of America" from among the local clubwomen.

Entries merely require five supporting signatures and a statement of fifty words or less, highlighting the reasons for the selection. These will be based on human interest, originality, sincerity and aptness of thought.

Nearly 5,000 finalists and nearly 500 local Queens will be chosen from clubs all over the United States, and will be honored by Mutual and its stations. There are valuable prizes for the winners and their clubs, too. Everybody has a chance to win.

Speaking of contests, some young Texas musician, instrumentalist or vocalist, will again win $200 and an appearance as soloist with the Austin Symphony Orchestra this year in the Minnie Soeds Wilcox Young Artist Contest to be held February 11, 1950 at the Texas Federation of Women's clubs headquarters in Austin.

This is the fourth such contest sponsored by the Wednesday Morning Music Club of Austin. It is open to amateurs between the ages of 15 and 25 who are either permanent residents of Texas, legal residents studying outside the state or residents of other states who will have studied in Texas for at least one school year immediately preceding the contest.

Application blanks and rules may be obtained by writing Mrs. Few Brewster, 903 W. 17th St., Austin. All applications must be returned by January 15.

mediate class had a Sunday school party Thursday night. Games were played.

Refreshments were served to the following: Frances Linney, Leroy Linney, Yvonne Avery, B. G. Lewis, Richard Bkl, Lewis Rigan, Guy Reed, Ermine Hayne, Patsy Eland, Melburne Heckler, Bobby Joe Petree and Margie Louder.

Two Texans Named To Little All-America Football Team

Brad Rowland One Of Backs

NEW YORK, Nov. 29. — Two Texans made the Associated Press Little All-America announced today.

They are Brad Rowland, great halfback of McMurry College, and Charles (Hough House) Williams, the great pass-catcher of Sam Houston State.

Eddie LeBaron of College of Pacific left the third Little All-America berth — the only player in the history of the minor college all-star eleven to be so honored.

Named with the Pacific Coast T Formation wizard in the Little All-America Backfield are Rowland; William Young of Hilldale College, the nation's leading scorer and Conrad Callahan of Morningside College in Sioux City, Ia.

Until the final week of the season Rowland was the leading scorer, only to be overtaken by Young, who counted 24 points in his school's 45 to 0 rout of Indiana State. Rowland, only junior in the first string backfield, finished the campaign with 108 points compared to Young's 121.

This point producing foursome, possibly as great a quartet ever to be honored in the Little All-America selections, would operate behind an all-star line that is spear-headed by Elbert Hammett, ace tackle of the equally unbeaten Wofford team. Wofford won all 11 of its games this season, counting 347 points as compared to 67 for its combined opponents.

The other tackle spot goes to Herbert McKinney of Missouri Valley, football strongman who has lost but two games during his four years of competition.

The end berths go to a pair of towering stars. Each is 6-3 and each scales just above the 300-pound mark. At one end is Claude Radtke of Lawrence, Appleton, Wis., while the other flank is guarded by Williams of Sam Houston State.

Vincent Sarratore of Chattanooga, was outstanding for his club the day it lost to Georgia and easily won a guard berth. Opposite him is Art Byrd of the Western Carolina Teachers. He is the watch-charm type popularized by the late Knute Rockne.

Robert Numbers of Lehigh, won out over Lambert Oberg of Trinity and Harvey Meyer of Wofford for the center berth. The one-time All-town, Pa., prep star is a six-foot-er, weighs 202 and is 25 years old. He was rated a better pivot than any other collegiate center in the state of Pennsylvania by critics and coaches.

Despite all these heroes, the pride of the 1949 Little All-America is LeBaron. It was he, as a 16-year-old freshman in 1946, who brazenly intercepted a Northwestern pass behind his own goal line, lateralled to an end and threw the key block that sent the wingman away on a 102-yard touchdown run.

The youngster, one of the most sought after pro prospects, has become such a coast-football figure that a recent account of his exploits by a newspaper was headlined "Is LeBaron human?" It was LeBaron who faked so perfectly on a play that a referee followed the wrong "ball carrier" and blew his whistle when the player was downed.

Irish Reign As Grid Kingpins; Oklahoma Second In Last Poll

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK, Nov. 29. — The fighting Irish of Notre Dame today reign as college football champions of 1949.

Notre Dame drew 172 of 248 first place votes and a bulging total of 2,402 points in the ninth and final Associated Press poll of football writers and sportscasters across the nation.

Although Notre Dame, unbeaten over a 37-game stretch, still has to play Southern Methodist Saturday, most of the other high point teams have finished their schedules.

Oklahoma, 41-0 winner over the Oklahoma Aggies, recaptured second place from idle California despite strong first place support for the Golden Bears from the Pacific Coast. Oklahoma had 18 firsts to 40 for California but the Sooners piled up a point edge of 2,918 to 1,900. Points are figured on the basis of 10 for first, nine for second so on down to one for tenth.

Army's flashy 38-0 rout of Navy failed to boost the Cadets' fourth-place standing. They polled 12 firsts and 1,838 points.

The other firsts went to College of Pacific, which had four, and Villanova, No. 1 on two ballots.

Behind the "big four" of Notre Dame, Oklahoma, California and Army, in that order, came Rice, Princeton, 106; 17, Tennessee, 82; 18, Michigan State, 30; 20, Missouri and Baylor, each 20.

Games With ACC And McMurry B Teams Added To Hawk Program

Three games have been added to the Howard County Junior college basketball schedule, Coach Harold Davis announced Monday.

The Hawks, now in training for their first game of the season against junior college competition, a Thursday night outing at the high school gymnasium here with Cisco's Wranglers, have booked games with the ACC and McMurry college reserve squads.

HCJC and the ACC B team will tangle here Saturday night (Dec. 3). They will return the game in Abilene on Jan. 24.

The Big Springers will also play the McMurry Fish here Jan. 21, Davis said.

The Hawks will offer local fans their top attraction here the night of Dec. 6, when the powerful Webber JC club of Ogden, Utah, comes to town.

Webber (school officials there have informed Davis the name rhymes with Weaver) won regional honors in Utah last year and represented the state in the national junior college tournament at Hutchinson, Kansas.

The Utahns will be on their way to Mexico for several exhibition games.

LITTLE ALL-AMERICA BACK—Brad Rowland, above, of McMurry College, Abilene, Texas, has been named to a backfield spot in The Associated Press Little All-America team for 1949. Rowland is a triple-threat man and was among the top scorers in the nation this year with 108 points. He also is an outstanding defensive player. (AP Wirephoto).

Berry Takes 2 Statistical Titles In SW

DALLAS, Nov. 29. — Lindsey Berry, Texas Christian's "busiest man in football," was the only Southwest Conference player to take two statistical titles this season.

Berry led the passers with 1,445 yards on 106 completions out of 220 throws and he was the total offense leader with 1702 yards on 350 plays.

Gene Maxantzi of Arkansas may be the leading ball-carrier. The big Razorback fullback finished with 743 yards on 123 carries and unless Kyle Rote of Southern Methodist makes 82 yards against Notre Dame Saturday in the final game of the season will have the championship.

Rote is the only player among the leaders in any department that has another game to do.

Rote leads the punters with an average of 43.4 yards on 17 booms while Teammate Doak Walker is second with 41.7 on 23 kicks.

Ben Procter, Texas wingman, is the pass-catcher of the year. He gathered in 48 for 784 yards and six touchdowns. Morris Bailey of Texas Christian was second in yards with 502 but was third in the number of passes caught. J. D. Ison of Baylor snared 42 for 457 yards.

Bobby Dillon of Texas leads the punt-returners with an average of 19.0 on 11 runs. Berry is second with 17.6 on 19.

By The Associated Press

An all-time attendance record for Southwest Conference football was set this year.

For 30 home games, 1,268,029 fans turned out, bettering last year by more than 170,000. Last year 34 games drew 1,094,865. The average in 1948 was 32,202 per game; this year it was 32,510.

Southern Methodist was responsible for it. The Methodists drew 494,000 for eight games compared to 255,931 for five last year.

Texas Christian and Texas A&M were the only other schools to show increases.

The totals (games in parentheses):

SCHOOL	1948	1949
TGU	84,000 (4)	116,500 (5)
Baylor	61,499 (4)	82,116 (4)
Tex. A&M	62,000 (3)	145,000 (5)
SMU	255,931 (5)	494,000 (8)
Arkansas	131,000 (6)	115,500 (6)
Texas	330,750 (6)	293,000 (5)

Speaker Race Narrows To Two

WICHITA FALLS, Nov. 29. — The race for speakership of the 52nd Legislature's House of Representatives apparently has narrowed to a two-man race.

Rep. Vernon McDaniel of Wichita Falls announced yesterday that he has withdrawn his candidacy in favor of Rep. Reuben Senterfitt of San Saba.

McDaniel did not say how many pledges of support he had. It was understood that about 20 of the House 150 members were supporting him.

Senterfitt last July claimed 77 pledges—if the pledges return as members of the 52nd Legislature.

Rep. Joe Kilgore of McAllen claims the backing of some 45 to 50 members.

"Since Mr. Senterfitt is a two-to-one majority choice of members of the present 51st Legislature, I feel this is a good time to withdraw," McDaniel said.

Axtens, Martin Herd Captains

Lee Axtens, center, and Quarterback Floyd (Pepper) Martin have been named permanent captains of the Big Spring high school football team, which closed its season last Thursday in a game with Sweetwater.

Coach Carl Coleman made the announcement Monday following an election held by the members of the team.

Sterling Seeks Way To Contain Pony Attack

STERLING CITY, Nov. 29. — Coscha G. W. Tillerson and George Blackburn are seeking to build a defense this week that will stop the potent Grandfalls Mustangs this week, whom the Sterling City Eagles meet in a six-man football game that will decide the regional championship.

The two teams clash under the lights at Sterling, starting at 7:30 p. m. Friday.

Grandfalls turned back Van Horn last week to advance into the finals of regional play. Final count in that game was 47-12.

At the same time, Sterling was roaring past Flower Grove, 54-12, and looking very good in doing it. The victory was costly to the War Birds, however, because LeRoy Butler, who had scored 20 points, suffered a broken collar bone and will miss this week's game.

Frank Hare is Grandfalls' top threat. Hare scored three touchdowns against Van Horn. Charles Davidson came in for two tallies while Jerry Cusick and Franklin Whitley each counted one.

Davidson scored all five extra points for the winners.

Grandfalls defeated Sterling, 25-6, in a practice game earlier this year but lost to Forgan, a team that the Eagles outscored at a later date.

Bowls To Suit All Tastes

NEW YORK, Nov. 29. — Bowls, bowls, bowls. And more bowls. Where's the end?

Every year we lose some and gain some but still wind up with a little bit more.

Today, at last count, there are 37—no, wait a minute. Here comes another. Make that 28. Last year there were 20.

Gene are the Delta in Memphis, the Dixie and Vulcan Bowls in Birmingham. Whatever became of the Oil Bowl? The Camelia?

But others have popped up in their stead, like the Gold Dust Bowl at Vallejo, Calif., and the Senior Bowl at Jacksonville, Fla.

They're named for almost everything under the sun—even for the sun. That one's in El Paso, Tex.

There's names for flowers, like the Rose in Pasadena and Orange Blossom in Miami, and for things to eat—the Orange, Sugar, Raisin, Tangerine and Salad.

When things get tough there's a bowl game dedicated to your favorite slogan—the Clear Bowl at Tampa, Fla.—or your ice box—the Refrigerator Football game at Evansville, Ind.

Now newsmen on the West Coast are talking about a Press Bowl in San Francisco to match the stepchildren of the post-season pickings—unbeaten College of the Pacific and once-whipped Villanova.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Bud Worham, who fashions a sports column for the Sweetwater paper, has taken this city and its people to task for the "poor case of sportsmanship" they show in backing their high school football team.

"Big Spring, which has the oil, capital and population, can't produce a football team at their high school that could hold its own in Class A," writes Worham. "One of the chief reasons for this can be attributed to the fact that the home folks in Big Spring fail to support the Steers like they should."

Why single out Big Spring and its people for such an attitude? Interest usually is going to drop off anywhere in a case where a team doesn't play winning ball. You can threaten the people, beat them, bully them, and beg them and they're still going to stay away in droves until their hopefuls can more than hold their own with the opposition.

The local team has been "down" for a number of years but spirit is good and improving, both on the varsity squad and in the ranks. Coach Carl Coleman and his cohorts have a rebuilding program underway. It made some progress last season and is due to make a lot more in 1950. Interest will improve along with it.

Worham was careful to mention only football. The local school does very well in all other sports. In Sweetwater, football is over-emphasized, ridiculously so, at the expense of other sports. Big Spring, down through the years, has been able to beat Sweetwater about as it pleased in basketball and baseball and always fields a better track and field team, such as it is.

From all reports, not a corporal's guard shows up for any of the basketball games in Sweetwater. It seems Sweetwater fans tire fast of losing, too.

As a professional baseball town, Sweetwater doesn't do itself proud. For some reason, the people there have never cottoned to the sport, even when the home club squeezed into fourth place and a spot in the playoff back in 1947. Those who do show up apparently put in an appearance to offer criticism to their own athletes. The visiting teams, especially when Big Spring forms the opposition, seldom get a raw reception.

The points is: Why show sportsmanship in only one sport?

SMITH BEST THERE IS, SAYS BENNETT

Dr. M. H. Bennett, who gave up golf as a form of recreation when introduced to polo, rarely finds the time to play his favorite game in these busy times. Sunday was an exception.

Bennett flew to San Antonio to form part of a quartet known as the Blues, pitted in a round-robin meet against two other teams. Doc played well, considering the fact that he hadn't swung a mallet in some time.

The local doctor took part in nine chukkers of play, which is the equivalent of playing about 120 minutes of football during one afternoon.

Bennett left the field, reassuring himself that Cecil Smith is the greatest poloist in the world today. Smith played opposite Bennett and was his old self, riding hard and sure and making no mistakes.

Frankie Campbell, Jr., whose pop died after Max Baer knocked him out some 19 years ago, was a recent West Point appointee.

Jack Mitchell, quarterback on that great 1948 Oklahoma university football team, enjoyed a very successful season as high school mentor at Blackwell high school in Oklahoma. His team climbed into the state playoffs.

Cotton Bowl May Have Landed Top Attraction In NCU, Justice

Associated Press Sports Editor

DALLAS, Nov. 29. — The Cotton Bowl has taken a realistic view of the bowl situation.

It is the first bowl to admit that the colleges are going to think nothing of snubbing a bowl if there's a better deal elsewhere.

North Carolina did just that with the Cotton Bowl last year. It didn't mind keeping the Cotton Bowl on the hook while dickering with the Sugar Bowl. In other words, North Carolina wanted to be sure of a bowl bid and the $100,000-plus that went with it. It really wanted to go to the Sugar Bowl but it wanted the Cotton Bowl available just in case.

So the Cotton Bowl picks North Carolina this year and says so what—it's nothing new for a college to snub somebody. That's water under the bridge and this is another year and another bowl situation.

Thinking it over in the light of day, we are about convinced that the Cotton Bowl got the best attraction after all despite North Carolina's three defeats—that is, since the Cotton Bowl couldn't get Oklahoma, the prime attraction for any bowl.

A football player like Charlie Justice is worth about as much as a team with an undefeated record so far as the game itself is concerned. Bowl games determine nothing anyway.

Sam Baugh, the old Texas Christian University star who has become a legend in pro gridiron ranks, asked this question the other day when he signed a contract for his fourteenth season with the Washington Redskins:

"Why do you keep asking all the time, 'how much longer are you going to play?'"

We don't know how the sports

Tatum Turtles Test Tigers

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Nov. 29. — Don Faurot, who invented the Split T football formation, may find it a Frankenstein again when his Missouri Tigers meet Jim Tatum's Maryland Terrapins in the Gator Bowl Jan. 2.

The Split T to the hands of Bud Wilkinson at Oklahoma has beaten Faurot's Missouri team two years running. Tatum's Maryland team has lost only to Michigan State and figures to be a tough one for Missouri to handle.

Faurot taught the Split T to Tatum when they coached at Iowa Pre-Flight in 1943 and Jacksonville Naval Air Station in 1944. Tatum, Faurot's assistant in those seasons, kept on using the Split T as head coach of Jacksonville NAS in 1945, then Oklahoma and Maryland.

Neither coach is a stranger here. Besides their tours of duty at the naval base, they have brought three teams to previous Gator Bowl games.

Tatum was here with a young Oklahoma team that whipped North Carolina State, 24-12, in 1947. He came back the next year with Maryland and tied Georgia, 39-30.

Faurot and Missouri came last New Year's Day and lost to Clemson, 24-21.

Missouri will be trying again to break its bowl jinx. In four games, victory has gone the other way. In the 1940 Orange Bowl, Georgia Tech won 21-7; 1943 Sugar Bowl Fordham won 2-0; 1946 Cotton Bowl Texas won 40-37.

Maryland's only previous bowl game was the one here in 1948. Although Maryland has lost only one game, it still faces a regular season battle with Miami there Friday night.

OJC Meets Panola

ODESSA, Nov. 29. — Odessa and Panola will clash here Friday for the Texas Junior College Conference football championship.

Odessa was the western division title and Panola the eastern zone crown.

100 MAKE FIELD TRIP

Farms Of County Visited By Group

Cover crops and other soil conservation practices were observed by over 100 persons on a field trip to Howard county farms this morning.

The field day program, which was arranged by the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District, was to continue this afternoon with a study of range management practices. In the group this morning were members of Veterans vocational classes, high school vocational agriculture students, farmers, instructors and other visitors from Howard, Martin, Midland, Glasscock and Lubbock counties.

Final stop of the morning tour was at the Eb Hatch farm north of town, which is operated by the Russell Bros. The operators there have developed a practice of seeding rye in cotton fields with satisfactory control of wind erosion in addition to good cotton crops. Cotton is planted on two rows and then two rows are left open for vetch throughout the field.

The afternoon tour was to include stops at the R. C. Reed farm and at the Laikin Longshore Ranch for observation of range management practices.

C. G. Simmons and son, Charles, Jr. of El Paso, have been visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Simmons and other relatives.

Mrs. David Hale and daughter, Cigdy, and Mrs. Pete Womack of Big Spring, and Mrs. Frank Whitaker and sons of Vincent have returned from a visit in Dallas, Gainesville and Sherman.

Mrs. C. E. Simmons and son, Charles, Jr. of El Paso, have been visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Simmons and other relatives.

Convair Plane Sets New Speed Record

Continental Air Lines today announced that one of its Convair planes on a non-stop run from Denver, Colo. to Kansas City, Mo. had established a new commercial air speed record. The flight, piloted by Capt. H. Tappnell, made the 553-mile trip in one hour and 40 minutes, arriving 35 minutes ahead of schedule. Average speed was 392 miles per hour.

PLANE CRASH

Continued From Page 3: flux plant, a plant which inspects aircraft engines by chemical process. A series of small explosions sounded and many-colored flames indicated chemicals were burning. The Dallas Aviation School, a hangar and combined office buildings and classrooms also caught fire and its walls collapsed half an hour later.

Smoke still was rising with an acrid odor an hour after the crash. Fred L. Sheaf, 28, employe of the Pan-American Plastic Corp., who lives in a barracks 400 feet from the scene, told this story: "The first explosion shook my bed. I ran out of the door thinking that one of the gasoline storage tanks across the street from the barracks had exploded. It was a rumbling, jarring explosion. "When I got to the door, I heard someone holler 'a plane has crashed.' I put on my pants and a shirt and dashed down the street. I got to the scene three minutes after the explosion. "The wreckage was strewn everywhere and the flames were high and billowing. They were blue and white flames. "The plane had crashed into the magnaflux plant. "There were a series of small explosions just after I arrived. The flames from the magnaflux plant were many colored. And it was apparent that various chemicals were burning. "The Dallas Aviation School, the hangar and combined office building and classrooms, was also starting to burn. "Wires were breaking overhead, and when the first people to arrive saw them, they scurried to get out of the way. "I should say four minutes after the explosion a man walked right out of the wreckage. He was white as a sheet and though he walked right out of the fire, he didn't appear to be burned. "I have tried to figure out where he came from and the only explanation I can think of is that he was thrown out of the plane itself when the crash occurred. "He was knocked unconscious and came to when the heat hit him. "His arm was bent and surely broken. He screamed— "Don't touch my arm." Then he said, "Where is there a doctor?" "I was in the crash," he said, "where is there a doctor?" "He was obviously in a state of high shock. He had a German accent. Someone led him across the street into the airways cafe. And that is the last I saw of him."

City Park Supervisor Says Now Is Time To Begin Compost Piles

Leaves, an autumn nuisance, can be turned to a great boon by patient gardeners. Johnny Johansen, supervisor of the city park and other grounds, noted Tuesday that this was a good time to begin compost piles. The time to develop the well rotted organic matter in arid West Texas. Those willing to wait a couple of years for the finished product will be well rewarded by a compost of excellent quality. Johansen says that the best procedure is to make an excavation to be filled by intermittent layers of leaves and soil. Then the area should be kept moistened regularly. One of the difficulties in West Texas is the arid climate which retards the decomposition process. Usually, two years are required for a thoroughly rotted mixture, provided it is supplied with ample moisture. Some prefer to mix fresh manure with the leaves and soil at the beginning of the compost.

Local Automobile Looted by Thieves

Thieves all but stripped clean a car parked at the Hamby & Burchett garage, 701 W. 3rd street early last night, police reported today. A radio, two mirrors, spare tire, clock, hydraulic jack, hub caps, and gas cap were taken from the vehicle which belongs to Earnest Miller, 105 1/2 E. 2nd street, officers said. The theft was discovered about 9:30 p. m.

Tourist Camp Cabins Damaged by Blaze

Two cabins were damaged extensively by a fire at Horton's Tourist camp, 1211 W. 3rd street, about 3 p. m. Wednesday. Fire Chief H. V. Crocker said. The fire was probably started by children playing between the two structures, Crocker stated. Both cabins and part of the contents of each suffered heavy damage.

Stassen Asks U. S. Aid For Dixie Schools, Would Let North Shift

HOUSTON, Nov. 29. (AP) — Help education in the South with federal aid, but let the North take care of its own needs.

That's what Harold Stassen, president of the University of Pennsylvania and Republican leader, advocated here last night.

Stassen, one-time governor of Minnesota and ex-candidate for the GOP presidential nomination, spoke at the opening general session of the 54th annual convention of the Southern Assn. of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

The South, Stassen said, faces low standards that erupted from the Civil War.

"A major, continuing national investment should be made in building up the resources, facilities, industries and schools in the south, he said.

In order to bring the south's educational standards to the national level, temporary supplementing of area appropriations would be justified, he declared.

As for the other states, he predicted:

"I believe that concentration upon increasing of local and state support will result, in the decade ahead, equal or greater funds for education in the 36 states of the north, than will any program of federal aid in education."

Stassen figured the nationwide average educational expenditure per pupil at $140, but dropped the amount to $80 for southern states.

"This sharp difference reflects not only an educational but also an economic and social situation," he declared. "It is one for which the entire nation bears a portion of responsibility.

Southern states, he said, are making educational support efforts at least equal to the national effort but are hindered by low incomes.

Educational policies of all other states, he added, "should be to concentrate upon stimulating and securing adequate local support rather than upon the opening up of direct channels of funds to the central national treasury."

Ten other educational groups are meeting here in conjunction with the convention.

One, the conference of the academic deans of southern states, heard Harold W. Stoke, president of Louisiana State University, say yesterday that college faculties should be strong factors in the fight for academic freedom.

Dudley K. Woodward, Dallas, chairman of the University of Texas Board of Regents, also spoke to the deans.

In an informal discussion following the talks by Stoke and Woodward, the Texas University regent said:

"I am amazed at the emphasis being placed on the word 'security.' So little is said about the word 'opportunity.' You can get security in any penitentiary."

Dr. Ernest V. Hollis of the U. S. Office of Education predicted yesterday that President Truman will OK millions of dollars for aiding needy high school graduates to obtain college educations.

What the President has in mind, he said in an interview, is a program of scholarships and fellowship grants.

These grants, he said, would be awarded to high school graduates with the "best minds" all over the nation and would be limited to those who otherwise could not afford to go to college.

The main motive behind the plan, said Hollis, is to provide the nation with intelligent, well-trained leaders.

Another purpose, he added, is to cushion the expiration of the G. I. educational aid program.

Chambers Admits He May Have Been In Error About Document

By CHARLES MERCER AP STAFF

NEW YORK, Nov. 29. — After thinking it over, ex-spy Courier Whitaker Chambers has admitted he may have been wrong about one of the secret government papers that he had said came from Alger Hiss.

The document, he testified yesterday at Hiss' second perjury trial, may have come from Harry Dexter White.

Previously, the short, stocky Chambers, go-between for a prewar Soviet spy ring, had sworn that all of 47 documents presented by the prosecution had come from Hiss.

The switch in his testimony was one of a series of points developed by the defense in its efforts to show that other contacts, and not Hiss, may have supplied Chambers with his fished information.

Hiss, former high State Department official, is accused of swearing falsely when he denied before a grand jury that he gave Chambers secret papers. His first trial last summer ended in a hung jury.

The name of White, former assistant secretary of the treasury, was brought into the trial shortly before the defense concluded its cross-examination of Chambers.

White died of a heart attack in 1948, two days after he went before the House Un-American Activities Committee to deny Chambers' charges linking him with a prewar Communist underground.

The document which Chambers said yesterday he may have gotten from White is the only one of the 47 typed on watermarked government stock.

Defense Counsel Claude B. Cross picked up the document, and handing it to Chambers, said: "I show you Government Exhibit 10, and ask you where you got it?"

"I believe I got it from Mr. Hiss," the witness replied.

Q. "Is that as strong as you want to put it? Aren't you sure?"

A. "I'm not that sure."

"On Feb. 17, 1940, . . . didn't you say (under oath) that Mr. Hiss handed you Government Exhibit No. 10?"

A. "I probably did."

Q. "But this is on a different kind of paper. Look at it, and you can see the government watermark, the Eagle, in it."

Chambers peered closely, and then said:

"Now that I look at it, it seems that this is the kind of stuff that Harry Dexter White used to give me. The thought just occurred to me now."

"So you have suggested that Harry White might have given you this paper?" Cross asked.

"That's quite correct," Chambers answered.

"And you know that Harry White is dead?"

"That's correct," said Chambers.

Later, Cross read testimony by Chambers before a secret congressional subcommittee hearing on Dec. 6, 1948. At that time Chambers was quoted as saying "it is possible" some of the 47 documents from Henry Julian Wadleigh, former State Department economist.

Wadleigh testified at the first Hiss trial that he had given Chambers papers, but that he didn't believe they included any of the 47 exhibits. Chambers swore both at the first Hiss trial and at this one that all of the 47 came from Hiss.

In its efforts to show that Chambers had other sources in the State Department, the defense yesterday handed Chambers slips of paper with two names on them. Chambers said he had met one of the men, and knew about the other. Both, he said, were employees in the State Department before the war.

Names of the two were not mentioned in court, but were identified or the record only as Mr. X and Mr. Y.
