V. H. Murray Inaugurated In Oklahoma

Predecessor's Record On Pardons Attacked In Address

'MUST TRAVEL ALONE'

None Paying Large Fee For Pardon Shall Receive One

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 12 (AP)—Governor William H. Murray, who took office today, in his inaugural address attacked the pardon and parole activities of his predecessor, W. J. Holloway and promised a 50 per cent cut in taxes by July, if his recommendations are followed.

"We do not send men to the penitentiary on popular sentiment," he said. "They should not get out according to popular sentiment."

He said pardon and parole power "is a power extremely delicate, and subject to much criticism when not carefully used."

"It can become a power of favoritism for friends."

"I do not believe much in pardons," he said, "but I do believe strongly in paroles. If prisoners do not keep the parole provisions, bring them back to stay."

No Fees

"No man who has paid a large fee to secure a pardon will get one. I shall require every lawyer and every other person presenting a pardon request to swear what he gets or what he is promised. If it is accepted I will tear them down."

"I will not permit a situation where the public has a right to believe I was sharing fifty-fifty."

"The charge certainly should not be more for a pardon than what it cost for getting the men into prison."

"A pardon should be free. It is a power that should be exercised carefully, deliberately, conscientiously, particularly where a person is condemned for life."

HOMETOWN TALK

BY BEDDY

HERE'S pretty good one about 'business.'

A business man met a friend on the street. "How's business," he asked.

"Phenomenal" was the reply. "Well, don't worry. It will pick up soon," the questioner rejoined.

Heard a fellow say the other day that he was through buying from

THEY NEED WORK

The mother of two small children, whose husband has been too ill for months to do any work has asked Home Town Talk to help her find work on a farm, where she can earn enough to feed and clothe herself and children. She said that her husband now is able to do some work and would also like very much to be employed. The family is living in a tent in the northwestern part of the city and has been in dire need for many weeks. Any one having work for either the mother or father, or both, will please call The Herald, 723-723.

The father of a family of six, obviously in great need of employment, is anxious to do any kind of work obtainable. He can do painting, carpentering or other manual trades, or any kind of manual labor and is anxious to do so to feed his family.

A certain merchant. His reason was that when he did go in to buy anything the merchant could do nothing but talk to him about how rotten his business was.

Like the fellow to whom phenomenal could mean nothing but something bad, many of us have listened to this "depression" stuff until we don't know a good thing when we see it.

A good way for a fellow to make himself unwelcome in any group is to begin talking about hard times, what's the world coming to, etc. There ought to be a law.

SPEAKING of air mail—and it's not spoken of as often as it ought to be. How many of you know just exactly how long it takes an air mail letter to go from here to Chicago, New York and

Payment of Taxes Normal In County Officials Report

Payment of 1930, state, county, city and school taxes are being made satisfactorily, officials of the different tax branches declare. According to a report made by Loy Acuff, county tax collector, 676 poll taxes have been paid. License plates for 991 automobiles and 111 trucks also have been obtained by residents.

A total of $163,673.71 in state and county taxes has been paid. This includes $31,227 which has been paid since January 1.

According to Merle J. Stewart, city secretary, $35,832.67 in city taxes has been paid. This is approximately one-third of the rolls. School taxes amounting to $37,551.86 have been collected, Mrs. Jennie E. Purser, tax collector for the Big Spring Independent School District announces.

The collections for November and December were $5,000 over the amount collected during the same months in 1929, Mrs. Purser declared.

Mob Takes Negro From Officers And Burn Him, Using Building In Which Teacher Died For Pyre

MARYVILLE, Mo., Jan. 12 (AP)—Chained to the roof of the Garrett rural school in which he was alleged to have assaulted and murdered Miss Velma Colter, 19-year-old teacher, Raymond Gunn, negro, was burned to death by a mob which made a funeral pyre of the building today.

Gunn was marched into the school house and to the spot where the bruised body of the young teacher was discovered. Those of the throng about him who were closest said the negro confessed his guilt.

He was then taken to the roof of the building. He was placed across the ridgepole. Holes were chipped in the roof and gasoline poured over the floors and on the walls. A member of the mob applied a match.

Calam

Gunn was calm throughout. Those close to him said he was not injured during the march to the school, although his clothing was stripped to the waist.

At least 2,000 persons stood around the small school building. Face down across the ridgepole, Gunn pushed himself up and waved at the crowd which contained hundreds of women. Then he sank against the roof.

One long, piercing shriek arose above the crackling of the flames as they played about his head.

The crowd, orderly throughout, stood about the four corners where the school was located until the white, one room frame building was reduced to ashes.

The negro, an ex-convict who had served a prison term for an assault on another girl a few years ago, was seized from sheriff's officers at the entrance to the court house this morning as he was being brought from the county jail for arraignment on a charge of slaying Miss Colter.

No attempt was made to stop the lynching and the mob met little resistance in taking the negro from officers.

A detachment of Battery C, 125th Field Artillery, local Missouri National Guard unit, had been ordered mobilized early today to cope with possible mob action. The guardsmen were reported to have been gathered at their armory at the time Gunn was seized by the mob. It was understood they were waiting for an official request from Sheriff Harve England for assistance. Early reports erroneously stated that the guardsmen were on duty about the court house when Gunn was taken.

The road leading to the pyre which once was Miss Colter's school room was thronged with automobiles and a pedestrian throughout the morning.

Roby Man Is Made Head of State Home

Fisher County Judge To Direct Confederate Home

AUSTIN, Jan. 12 (AP)—R. R. Patterson of Roby, county judge of Fisher county, today was named superintendent of the State Confederate Home here. Claude Teer, chairman of the state board of control, said Judge Patterson was the unanimous choice.

ROBY, Texas, Jan. 12 (AP)—Judge R. R. Patterson, newly appointed superintendent of the State Confederate Home, is a native Mississippian, born in Pontotoc county 47 years ago. His father and grandfather were soldiers of the Confederacy, the last named killed in action. The family emigrated to Texas in 1896, settling on a farm near DeLeon, in Comanche county.

Patterson went to Fisher county in 1907, with the founding of Rotan, to open a mercantile business there. In 1918, with the opening of the West Texas oil boom, he went to Ranger, and was there and at Breckenridge for three years, returning to Rotan in 1921 to again go into business.

Although not a lawyer, Patterson was elected county judge of Fisher county in 1928, and reelected last year. He was a leading figure in the successful campaign to hard surface the county's highways. He has a wife and one son, 19, who will enter the University of Texas at the winter term.

"Superintendency of the state Confederate Home appeals to me greatly," he said today. "I was raised on stories of the conflict. The principles for which the Confederacy went to war, and the fierce struggle against overwhelming numbers and resources, are as vivid to me as if it all happened yesterday; and the remnant of our grand old men who fought the war are dear to me, my heroes still."

Missouri Pacific Buys More Stock In Texas & Pacific

NEW YORK, Jan. 12 (AP)—Dow Jones & Co. says that the Missouri Pacific Railroad Company purchased between 25,000 and 30,000 additional shares of Texas & Pacific common stock during 1930, bringing its holdings to between 225,000 and 230,000 shares, or about 59 per cent of the outstanding common.

Missouri Pacific also owns the entire issue of $23,703,000 Texas & Pacific preferred, giving it over 74 per cent ownership of the outstanding capital stock.

Return of Ballots On C of C Directors Urged By Manager

Another request for return of ballots mailed to Chamber of Commerce members to allow them to vote for ten directors, to serve two years beginning late this month, was made Monday by the Chamber's manager.

The board of directors is especially anxious that all members vote, and return the ballots by mail or in person to the Chamber's offices in the Settles Hotel building. Ballots were mailed more than a week ago.

Falls will close Thursday at 4 p. m.

CORRECTION

Due to a typographical error it was stated in an article in Sunday's Herald, quoting Judge W. R. Ely on Howard county highway matters, that the county would be given $225,000 credit for funds it spent in the topping of highways 1 and 2. This should have been $125,000, as stated in another paragraph of the article.

SIX RAILROAD PRESIDENTS STOP HERE ENROUTE WEST

Presidents of six of the nation's most important railroads stopped fifteen minutes in Big Spring Monday morning. They were enroute on a crack special train, as hosts of President John L. Lancaster, D. E. Tennette of the Wabash, L. W. Ross of the New York Central, C. S. Denney of the Erie and V. V. Boatner of the Chicago Great Western.

Members of the party, who did not divulge any special significance to the trip, if such existed, were Mr. Lancaster, Presidents L. W. Ely, Edwin of the Missouri Pacific, D. E. Tennette of the Wabash, L. W. Ross of the New York Central, C. S. Denney of the Erie and V. V. Boatner of the Chicago Great Western.

Judge Smith Sends Reporter on Sweetwater Newspaper To Jail For Publishing Indictment Item

SWEETWATER, Texas, Jan. 12 (AP)—George Parks, reporter, was sent to jail today for three days after Judge Fritz R. Smith, of the 32nd district court had held him guilty of contempt of court. Parks started serving his sentence at noon.

Publication in yesterday's Sweetwater Reporter of an item relating to an indictment returned by the grand jury of Nolan county against a former county official brought down the court's displeasure on Parks, who had written it. He was called into court this morning and Judge Smith said:

"This article conveyed to the public the secret of the grand jury which ought to be kept sacred. In view of that I am going to have to hold you in contempt. I regret to do it, but I will have to remand you to jail for three days or until such time as you purge yourself in writing."

True to his craft, Parks only asked for time to return to the office and write the stories in his notebook—his morning's gist of news. The court granted the request.

The indictment which publication aroused county courts here was returned last week against W. L. Rotan of Dora, whose term as county commissioner of Nolan county expired January 1. Warrants for his arrest were issued the same day, but officers have not yet found him, it was said today. Rotan is charged with forgery in two counts.

In the democratic primary last summer Rotan was defeated for reelection by Roy Campbell, of Hylton.

M. E. Carter To Open Cleaning Establishment

M. E. Carter, formerly with the Model Shop and Max Howard, formerly a salesman for the Family Service Laundry, Tuesday will open a business to be known as the Superior Cleaners and Tailors and located in the Lyric Theater building on East Third.

The new firm will do cleaning, tailoring, pressing and altering. Mr. Carter was formerly in the same business in Colorado, Texas. Mr. Howard was with the Family Service Laundry for three years.

Prominent Houston Business Man Killed

HOUSTON, Tex., Jan. 12 (AP)—Tovell Marston, 54, prominent Houston business man, was killed late yesterday when struck by an automobile as he was repairing a tire on his car, which was parked at the roadside near Hockley. Karl P. Kurtz of Port Arthur, driver of the car which struck Marston's machine came to Houston and made a statement to district attorney's assistants saying the accident was unavoidable.

Two Other 'Jobs' In City Sunday Night

Loy Acuff Accosted In Business District By Pair

GROCERY IS ENTERED

Clarence Saunders No. 1, Viaduct Filling Station Prey

Robbers piled their trade in Big Spring Sunday, robbing a grocery store and a filling station, and stealing an automobile from Loy Acuff, county tax collector.

Acuff had stopped his car for a red traffic light at the intersection of Gregg and Third at 9 p. m. Sunday. Two men, one with a pistol, forced Acuff to allow one of them to drive. Acuff set in the middle of the front seat between the two men.

They drove the car about eight miles west on the bankhead highway, turning north on the Hartwells Road. The pistol was against Acuff's side during the trip, and he was compelled to keep his hands up. After going about three-quarters of a mile north on the Hartwells Road, the men stopped the car and searched Acuff.

One Cent

He had only one cent—a coin he had found in front of the Montgomery Waffle Shop, Third Street a few minutes before he was accosted by the two men. A wrist watch was not taken by the men, although Acuff offered it to them. The two men told Acuff he would find his car between Sweetwater and Big Spring. He was forced to walk back to the highway and a short distance on the highway before he was given a ride. The men, Acuff said, drove west on the Bankhead highway.

The automobile, a Chevrolet coupe, had not been recovered today.

For the fifth time since it opened, the Clarence Saunders Grocery No. 1, 1405 Scurry Street, was robbed Sunday night.

Between $100 and $125 worth of cigarettes, groceries and meat was taken by the robbers. Included in the loot was approximately 40 cartons of cigarettes.

Discovered

The robbery was discovered at 3 a. m. today by a man living near the grocery store. He told Ralph Linnick, manager, he saw the two men leaving the rear of the store. He did not have a telephone to notify officers. He was unable to say whether the men were negro or white.

Entrance to the building was gained by prying the bars off a rear window. The robbers left the store hurriedly, leaving behind part of the loot they had gathered.

The Viaduct Service Station, Gregg and Second streets, was robbed of $5.85 in cash Sunday afternoon between 12:30 and 1:30 o'clock.

Lee Jenkins, who has the station leased had closed the place during the lunch hour. The robbers entered the ladies' rest room, which had been unlocked, knocked out a double sheetrock partition, and rifled the cash register. Currency had been taken home by Jenkins. Twenty pennies were left in the register by the robbers. Nothing else was taken.

Two Automobiles Are Recovered

Two automobiles which were stolen here Friday have been recovered. It was announced today by Jess Blawie, Sheriff.

A Buick coupe, stolen from the garage of Arthur Martin, twelve miles northwest of Big Spring, was recovered by Clyde officers. It is said a man driving the automobile escaped.

Two men were arrested in an automobile belonging to W. D. Hardesty, 304 West 18th Street, which was stolen Friday afternoon. The car was taken by Seymour officers, and the men held.

Deputies Denver D. Dunn and Bob Wolf, with Hardesty, have gone to Seymour to recover the car and obtain custody of the two men.

Bible Intimates Angels May Have Inhabited Earth Before Man, Says Preacher; Revival Is Concluded

Special revival services at the West Side Baptist church conducted by Rev. B. G. Riechbourg closed last night.

The evangelistic services held throughout the past two weeks have been well attended and good crowds are expected for the services today at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m.

Saturday night Rev. Riechbourg spoke on "Heaven." He stated that every man has a longing in his heart which is not satisfied with this world but reaches out with a hope for a better life beyond the grave. This hope has a basis for assurance in the Bible which tells of heaven.

Rev. Riechbourg stated that the Bible intimates an angelic world upon the earth prior to inhabitation by man. He said that Satan was an angel but regarded iniquity in his heart and was cast out. He said hell was not made for man but for fallen angels. He further stated that the Bible intimates, and he offered to give Biblical references, something which does not agree with any teaching which denies the virgin birth of Christ, the resurrection, the fact of a literal devil. When the scientist comes to accept these Bible doctrines an agreement on other matters is near at hand.

Rev. Riechbourg stated heaven was around and God rules universally. God is always up even as every direction is a mass of water to the rock dropped far below the surface. Water is everywhere to that rock. The evangelist stated that God is interested in the earth and it was here His son lived, died and rose victorious over the grave.

According to the revivalist he stated that God would redeem the earth; bodies of men, trees, breezes, etc. Heaven will be place for the redeemed but they shall be able to come back to the earth at any time according to their own pleasure.

The speaker said that perfect conditions would prevail in heaven with no hunger, no thirst, no sunlight or heat. Heaven will center around God the father and God the son with perfect holiness abounding to the exclusion of all sin.

SPORT SLANTS

By Alan Gould

The close of the 1930 gridiron campaign finds a stronger drift than ever toward "class schedules"—that is, a growing tendency among colleges to stick to their own class of competition.

The outcry against feeding the smaller college "lamb" in a major college "lions" for early season workout or midseason "breather" purposes has been on for some time. It already has produced considerable re-arrangement of schedules, but the smaller college still is faced with the necessity of "taking it on the chin" from the big fellows for the sake of financial return involved.

For example there was no reason for Yale to schedule a November game with little Alfred College of New York, except for the practical reasons involved. It was not a sporting proposition.

This is not to point a finger at Yale. Harvard, Cornell, Syracuse, Colgate, Pittsburg, Penn State, to mention a few of the Eastern teams, manifest a similar policy.

Notre Dame has shown what can be done without providing any conspicuous "soft spots" in a season's schedule. The Rough Riders have completed a run of nineteen straight games against top-notch opposition from coast to coast. They started with Southern Methodist this year and finished with Southern California, showing no particular traces of fatigue at the end.

Most of the Big Ten schools now play in their own class most of the season, except to accommodate some regional rivals—friends or foes. Southern California opens its 1931 schedule against St. Mary's, which hardly comes under the heading of a "breather." In fact, it well may be one of the best games of the year in the Far West.

The subject came up while we were bucking a chill wind on the corner of Madison avenue and Forty-second street, munching apples, as most every one seems to be doing these days.

Lou Little, Columbia's genial head coach, was speaking.

"There's no use," Columbia trying to tackle the tough ones," remarked Lou. "A by that I mean, not the slightest objection. But you have to figure we turn out a football team under difficulties. We can get more fun and satisfaction out of the game—sticking to our own class, where we can find plenty of good opposition, anyway.

"The Cornell game is a natural for Columbia. They have much the same sort of difficulties we have. We have replaced Colgate with Virginia on next year's schedule. There wasn't any use trying to beat Colgate this last season. They had a football team. We had a bunch of boys, with two or three very good players among them.

"We don't mind a good licking now and then. It does good, but it is a bad policy to invite them 'y going outside our class too much."

Columbia and Princeton will inaugurate a new and interesting football rivalry in 1932, under an agreement reached between the two nearby universities, but not yet officially announced. It will be an

Paderewski To Play Soon In Abilene

ABILENE, Jan. 12.—Ignace Jan Paderewski, world's premier pianist for the past third of a century, will make his only appearance in West Texas during his tour of America this year when he plays at the Simmons University auditorium on the evening of February 16. The concert is being sponsored by the Simmons University artist course.

The return of Paderewski to this country marks the highlight of the musical season. He arrived for his seventeenth tour of the United States in October. He is making a tour across the continent which will include 70 concert engagements. He will appear only three times in Texas.

This is in all probability Paderewski's farewell tour of this country. The great artist is 75 years old. Critics have already acclaimed him, however, in his appearances in New York and Chicago as still being the world's greatest living pianist and declare that his playing has lost none of its power or beauty.

Reservations for the concert can be made now by writing G. B. Sanderfer manager of the Artist Course at Simmons. Early reservations are urged on music lovers as the auditorium will hold only a fraction of those who will want to see Paderewski.

SCHMELING-STRIBLING BOUT SEEMS CERTAIN

The Lomax Hornets, that battling five from down south, are clamouring for a tilt with the Steers. They should have it. Although it appears to this department that the basketball season bids fair to pay better pecuniary dividends than the grid games did, a clash between the local five and the Lomax loopers would be a nice attraction and would add a few pennies to the till. Besides, that the game would tend to promote, and better cement, that friendly feeling that exists between Big Spring and Lomax. The local contingent should defeat the Lomax goit tossers. But they wouldn't do it without knowing they had just clashed with one of the best fighting units we have ever witnessed on a high school court. The Steers and the Hornets are the two outstanding elevens in the county. They should get together sometime.

That August body, the district committee, will park their atomobiles in Abilene Jan. 15 to discuss something. What the something is remains one of the unsolved mysteries, but it is not hard to guess that it has something to do with splitting the district. Special invitations have been issued to newspapermen, their wives and sweethearts. At the session a number of press passes will be issued for the game of the next five years. R. F. Holloway, Ranger superintendent, and chairman of the committee, has called the representatives of the ten schools together.

We sincerely hope it is possible for Bill Stevens to get a few of the outstanding quintets of District Two out in this level land for a brace of games each. Today the Bovines can take on Ranger, Breckenridge, Eastern, Abilene and Cisco fives and furnish them plenty of entertainment in thirty-two minutes, more or less.

If rumors keep on being rumors, every football player in West Texas will be seen in a Steer uniform next year. First it is said that Snyder's fast quarterback will be among those present. Next comes the rumor that four more of Snyder's choice gridsters have desired to move in on Big Spring. And now comes the report that the great Mike Hicks, Roscoe's football team, will go a bit more to the west and display his grid wares on the local grounds next season. Which remains to be seen about this time last year that the football players began to slip into San Angelo. They kept right on slipping until about even of them began to like the looks of the sheep country. However, San Angelo sportsmen couldn't keep on furnishing biscuits and eggs, so the aspiring young men kept right on going until all of them were packed up in the hauler. It seems the fire station wasn't large enough, or there was a scarcity of blazes to satisfy the appetites of the flame consumers. Even Hicks hobnobbed with the boys along the Concho for awhile, but ended matters by moving back to his home on the Bankhead high looking a bit like the Battle of the Marne had been fought on them. Dempsey muttered to himself that enough happened to be enough, and finally ended the match by knocking Edwards into the realm of the tweet-tweet birds. That kind of thing is to the wrestling fans what ginger ale is to you know what.

Jack Dempsey, the mauler of days long gone, proved to Dallas mat fans Friday night that every once in awhile he packs dynamite in his fists, and the fuse hangs on the outside. Billy Edwards, Kansas City heavyweight wrestler, who made a fatal error of becoming angry at the Manassa Mauler, found out about rights from Dempsey. The clash occurred in a Dallas ring after Edwards had defeated Jim O'Dowd, Chicago scissor artist. Dempsey, with his clothes looking a bit like the Battle of the Marne had been fought on them, Dempsey muttered to himself that enough happened to be enough, and finally ended the match by knocking Edwards into the realm of the tweet-tweet birds. That kind of thing is to the wrestling fans what ginger ale is to you know what.

Last it be overlooked, the Cosden Refinery cagers meet the Midland All-Stars here Thursday night. A small charge will be made for the game. Very small.

Says Boyce House of the Ranger Times: "The signing of Bristow as Big Spring mentor eliminates one topic of the sport scribbles, who have been indulging in surmises that linked just about everybody from Pop Warner to Blondy Cross with the place.

Social Item of Interest: Carlos L. Clover, blonde haired midger, is back in town sticking nipples and losing 12 inch casing around the Continental Supply Company. He declares he is in perfect physical condition and would like for the four fellows that called him a ham umpire in the City League last year to drop around collectively, not individually.

Dawson To Be Asked To Defend Golf Title
HOUSTON, Texas, Jan. 12 (AP)—Johnnie Dawson, Chicago star, will be invited to defend his Houston Country Club invitation title when the seventeenth annual event is staged next month. Lee Hager, tournament committee chairman, announced today.

Dawson won the tournament last year by defeating Cecil Carlton, Houston. There had been some question of Dawson's amateur standing, and he did not compete in the last two national amateur championships, but in his last appearance in a major championship, the British amateur of 1929, he went to the semi-finals.

Believe Fight Agreement On Way

Expect Heavyweight Contest To Be Held In June

BY HERBERT W. BARKER, Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Jan. 12 (AP)—If the observers have interpreted the signs correctly, all obstacles in the path of a heavyweight title match between Max Schmeling and Young Stribling have been cleared away and their managers are ready to sign on the dotted line.

Some of the more optimistic of the experts voiced the opinion today that the bout would be "made" within 24 hours, but the more conservative were inclined to believe that several minor obstacles and ends would have to be disposed of first.

Certainly there were definite indications that "Pa" Stribling, father-manager of the Macon, Ga., heavyweight, and promoters for the Hearst milk fund were close to an agreement. Schmeling already is under contract to the milk fund and no trouble is anticipated from that quarter.

According to best available advice, the bout, if all goes well, will be held next June in Detroit, Cleveland, Philadelphia or Jersey City.

The biggest hitch in the milk fund's negotiations with the elder Stribling has been the demand that Stribling, providing he whips Max Schmeling in June, agree to meet Jack Sharkey in September in defense of his title. "Pa" has taken the position that the game could not stand two heavyweight title fights in one outdoor season. A compromise may be effected on the basis of an agreement by Stribling to meet Sharkey for the milk fund at some future date, possibly in the summer of 1932.

This effort of promoters to include Sharkey in the heavyweight scheme has been viewed as an attempt to placate the New York State Athletic commission which has nominated the Boston sailor as the outstanding contender and relieved Schmeling of his crown because he refused to sign immediately for a return match with Sharkey.

Panthers Will Train At Home
FORT WORTH, Tex., Jan. 12 (AP)—The Fort Worth Cats will train at home this year and first practice will be held Monday, March 9, Secretary Roy Meehan and Manager Arthur "Dugan" Phelan said today.

For the last two years the Panthers have trained in Mineral Wells and the club officials were satisfied with results, but fans here have clamored to get a day's look at the athletes and to please them, the squad is being kept at home this year.

Georgia Tech Head Says Politics In College Athletics
ATLANTA, Jan. 12 (AP)—Coach W. A. Alexander in a speech last night blamed politics for "athletic decadence" at Georgia Tech and announced that election of a football captain would be postponed until the varsity assemblies next fall. He spoke at the annual football banquet.

"From 1912 to 1929 we had no politics in our athletics," he said. "When the football team was reformed from the Rose Bowl with the national football championship and the greatest victory ever won by a Georgia Tech team, politics entered into the election of a captain."

"That was the reason. Our athletic decadence dates from that day."

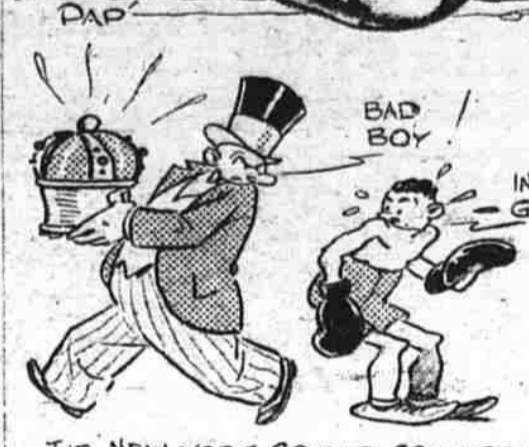

"If I were a player and a man attempted to tell me how to vote for my captain I would smash him on the face. Selfish interests will no longer be tolerated. We will have a team that will play as a unit. We will have a team that is strictly amateur in every sense of the word. We will have a team in that is positively eligible in its studies. If we cannot win games with them we will lose. But it will be a team that is honest and one that we can be proud of. You can't be selfish and play football."

Lomax Hornets Beat Local Cagers 21-17
The Lomax Hornets swept through the Big Brothers Sunday School class quintet Friday night to chalk up their 21st victory of the season, compared with one loss. The score was 21 to 17. The game was played at the high school gymnasium.

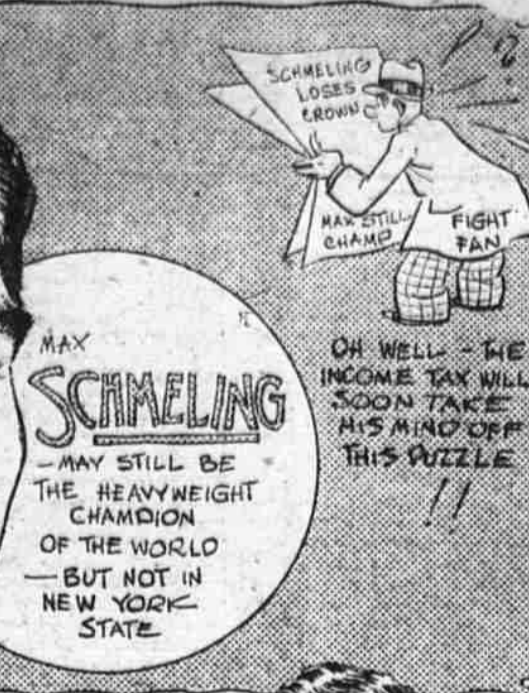

TEACHERS WIN
WAXAHACHIE, Texas, Jan. 12 (AP)—The North Texas Teachers College Eagles from Denton scored a 44-17 victory over the Trinity University cagers, in their first basketball clash of the season. The game was featured by the Eagles' excellent floor work. Cummings was high point man for the victors, with 13, and Hill for Trinity, with 5.

The New York whirlwinds, professional basketball team, have a star forward Buck Wingo, who has only one arm.

Big Majority Side Step Answer To Carnegie Report Results

(Note: This is another of series of stories based on the Associated Press survey of college athletic conditions.)

BY ALAN GOULD, Associated Press Sports Editor
NEW YORK, Jan. 12 (AP)—College officials are widely split in their reaction to the inquiry of the Associated Press: What, if any changes have been made since the publication a year ago of the Carnegie report of subsidizing and recruiting?

A substantial majority, perhaps two out of every three, to whom the inquiry was addressed, side-stepped the issue by giving a flat negative reply. The more communicative third furnished a somewhat startling range of opinion, from the statement of H. C. Byrd, of the University of Maryland (that "generally, I believe it (the Carnegie report) gave an impetus to recruiting" to the view of H. D. Gish of the University of Nebraska, that the report has forced a much more rigid check-up of alleged athletic subsidizing and recruiting.

Substantially, the comment of athletic directors is that the Carnegie report, while not altogether satisfactory, has brought out into the open conditions which have affected the best interests of collegiate sport. The remedies, it seems, are as varied as the conditions themselves, but there has unquestionably developed a widespread attempt by prominent leaders in every section to eradicate alleged evils. Much of this was crystallized at the annual convention of coaches and faculty men in New York during the holiday season but whether the ringing resolutions will have any practical effect remains to be seen.

Some Results
Meanwhile, the Associated Press survey has brought out some decidedly practical developments in various parts of the country.

George E. Little, Wisconsin's athletic director, reports: "We have done away with the contact man we had and delegated the part of his work which dealt with checking on the athletes' grades to the individual coach."

At Penn State College, Graduate Manager N. M. Fleming advised the reduction of athletic scholarship from 25 to 12 under a policy adopted prior to the publication of the Carnegie report.

Temple's sports publicity director, Robert V. Geaney, said "Temple never did subsidize athletes and was on a par with the average college in recruiting but this is practically done away with now."

In the Southwest Conference, faculty rulers have taken a more energetic interest in the upkeep of athletic standards since the report was issued. They engaged a private investigator from another section, who visited more than 50 Texas universities, colleges and academies.

BASKETS and BANKBOARDS

BY 'PHOG' ALLEN

This is the first of a series of weekly basketball articles written by Forrest C. "Phog" Allen, director of athletics at the University of Kansas. Before plunging into comments of the current scene, Allen tells of the game's inventor, Dr. James Naismith.

LAWRENCE, Kas. (AP)—This past summer I spent some happy weeks following old trails of Dr. James Naismith, inventor of the game of basketball.

It was my pleasure to teach his sport to college coaches in a special coaching school at Springfield (Mass.) college, on the grounds where forty years ago he originated the indoor game.

The experience had deep significance for one basketball coach at least. Of course the peach baskets which once served as the original goals have been placed, long since, among other New England antiquities—but the tradition of the game still lingers there.

I found myself teaching the sport with a new zest. Constantly I was reminded of the activities of the sturdy, young Scot, then a student, being requested by Luther H. Gulick, his adviser, to work out a method to harness the activities of a class of eighteen irrepressible, physical education students.

The class needed something to do during the inclement winter months between the football and baseball seasons.

The first rules printed in 1892 in the "Triangle" required that nine men be on each team. Had Naismith's class numbered 24 instead of 18, perhaps the basketball rules would have required 12 men instead of nine. The job assigned him was to make a game that would take into account the numerical size of his class.

How well he succeeded in creating a game is shown by the fact that it is estimated 18 million persons are interested in basketball today. Naismith's original idea was to make basketball a mass game with great groups playing it instead of that the game had developed into a most intricate five-man team game with millions of teams playing. Basketball is the only national and international game that has come from the mind of a single man.

It would be a fitting tribute to Naismith, the inventor, if the colleges and schools of America would fix a small voluntary game-tax—the proceeds to be used as was the Walter Camp Memorial Fund.

A Naismith Memorial would be a living testimonial to the man who gave to youth a game "protesting the fallacy that the world is old."

Two choice locations for such a national memorial come to mind. The Springfield campus overlooking historic Lake Massasoit would be an ideal location. On the other hand, beautiful Mt. Oread, the campus of the University of Kansas could lay claim to the honor. It is here that Dr. Naismith has served the department of physical education for 33 years, giving the basketball world the best in the way of teaching, devotion and inspiration.

Dr. Naismith is a member of the National Joint Basketball Rules

Three Battles On Tap For Longhorns

Stevens' Quintet To Meet Colorado Warner Fives

Bill Stevens' Big Spring high school cagers, having swept aside all 1931 opponents, have three tilt scheduled for this week, including two on the local floor.

Tuesday night the quality quintet will clash with Harry Taylor's five at Colorado.

Friday and Saturday nights, the Bovines will again a year on the local hardwood slabs, taking on the Warner Memorial University cagers. The university five hails from Eastland and is reputed to consist of some scintillating loopers.

The Steers start the week well on their way to an almost perfect season. So far this year, they have not been defeated. Not only that, but they have not been seriously threatened, and it seems that if the customers are to continue to furnish tougher competition for the black and gold goal slingers.

With Tommy Hutto developing into his usual stride as the leading Steer scorer, with Bill Flowers and Ted Phillips giving no ground at the guards, and with Purdue continuing his crack game at center with Hopper taking the other forward post, it looks like a right nice winter for Stevens' collection.

The Longhorns added two victories to their string the past week end, registering wins over the Lubbock high school Westcotes. In a slow battle Friday night they capped 24 to 17, and in an interesting test Saturday night, waltzed away with a 36 to 20 affair. Tommy Hutto continued to continue as the high scoring individual.

So far this year, which means since the New Year gallop, the Steers should boast of several good baskets.

Probably a rather hard week-end is scheduled for the quintet, however, inasmuch as the Warner five should boast of several good baskets.

Although it will be hard to place three youths on the floor that are much taller than F. to, P. and Reed, it is possible that the Eastland aggregation may present five more uniform players in an effort to cope with the swift aggregation that calls Big Spring home. Each of the tilts will start at 7:30 p. m.

EASTERLING IS RELEASED BY DETROIT
DETROIT, Jan. 12 (AP)—Frank J. Navin, owner of the Detroit Tigers, announced the unconditional release of Paul Easterling, outfielder. Easterling was turned over to the Beaumont club, returning to the Detroit club Jan. 12 and finishing out the season.

TO EXPORTERS
BEAUMONT, Jan. 12 (AP)—Paul Easterling, hard hitting outfielder, has been signed by the Exporters.

Regarded as the longest hitter in the Texas league in recent years, he has ambitions to become a third baseman and it is possible Manager Baker will give him a trial at that corner. He played third in several games last season and showed to good advantage.

Arkansas Razorbacks, Champs For Five Consecutive Years, Seem To Have Run Into the Lean Season

By GAYLE TALBOT, JR., Associated Press Sports Writer
LOS ANGELES, Jan. 12 (AP)—Arkansas Razorbacks, whose basketball prowess has carried them to the Southwest Conference title for five straight years, appear at last to have hit a lean season.

Heartened by the University of Texas' feat in splitting its opening series with the champions at Austin, five other Texas teams were preparing to take their licks at the Razorbacks in the next few weeks. At least two of them, Texas Christian and Southern Methodist, were openly confident of subduing the big boys from the Ozarks.

The Rice Owls, beaten both by T.C.U. and S.M.U. in their initial starts last week, were to get the next crack at the champions. They tackled the Razorbacks tonight and Tuesday at Fayetteville. Then, on Friday and Saturday nights, the Texas Aggies, so far an unknown quantity, will visit Fayetteville and try their luck. Offhand, the Arkansas quintet appeared to have a good chance of sweeping all four games this week; but the consensus was it would be different when they come back to Texas to meet Texas Christian and Southern Methodist.

A good opportunity to size up the leading contenders was scheduled the last of the week, when the Texas Longhorns invade North Texas. They will engage T.C.U. at Fort Worth Friday night and S.M.U. here Saturday. Having defeated Arkansas, 27 to 25, in their second bout after losing the first, 29 to 21, the Longhorns figured to be a powerful test for the Christians and Mustangs.

One other tilt scheduled for this week pitted the luckless Rice Owls against Baylor Saturday night at Waco. Although Baylor has not yet gotten into the race, it is known the Bears have a strong unit. They will have the advantage of catching the Owls just back from a string trip through North Texas and Arkansas.

Charley Wade, outfielder, has been sold to Oakland of the Pacific Coast league and the outright release of infielder Rush Yeargin, loaned to Mobile last season, has been announced.

According to Business Manager Bobby Stow, who has been here since January 5, the Exporters will report for training on March 11. Whether the club will train in Orange, as it did last year, or in Staut Stadium, has not been decided.

CHARM CHATS

by Nancy Earle
 Noted Authority and Writer on Health, Charming—

Pansy weighs a hundred and seventy pounds. What ought Pansy to do? Rescue? Of course. But what about all this discourse on the evils of weight reduction? Evils of weight reduction, yes. But we hope Pansy will reduce scientifically and in a manner that will protect her from the usual evils.

In the first place she will consult a authentic chart showing just what her weight, in relation to her height and age, should be. Very likely it will be several pounds more than she thinks now that she would like to weigh. That then should be her goal. Not the lean lanky curvaceous lady whom she saw draped across the cover of a fashion magazine. These charts may be obtained from your physician, or from your municipal, county, or state clinic. Then Pansy will make up her mind that she really wants to reduce her weight. Many Pansies merely think it would be just grand, you know, to lose a few pounds. But they do not make a determined resolution to bring it to pass.

And having made up her mind that she wants to reduce, then Pansy will resolve further that she is going to do the thing correctly, in accordance with the principles of physiology and food chemistry and health requirements.

The very first thing that means that she will never be beguiled into trying short easy methods of weight reduction. She will not listen to rosy promises of pounds dematerializing "without the bother of exercise or the annoyance of dieting," as one advertisement says. She will never take any sort of medicine, pills, tablets, or any other preparation in the hope that it will save her the trouble of getting rid of the unwanted poundage herself.

Those preparations are of two kinds, those which contain extract of thyroid gland, and those which do not. Those which do not are absolutely devoid of any effect upon the body. Pansy might as well go out and make a wish on the new moon that her fat would dissolve.

Those which contain the extract of thyroid are extremely dangerous.

ous. The thyroid secretion does exert a certain influence upon the weight, but it also has other very important functions, and its indiscriminate use is almost certain to bring about dire results too varied and too many to detail here. Beware of these preparations. Only upon advice and under the direct supervision of an expert physician should any medical measure of this kind be administered. And your physician will never, upon any circumstances, prescribe these patent medicines.

And Pansy will never exchange good gold (and good common sense) for any "reducing cream" or "reducing soap" to melt the fat away, or wash it away.

Nor will she concoct anything at home in the way of lotions (usually containing camphor) or liquids to be applied to the body to get rid of some of her hundred and seventy. Surely Pansy knows better than that. These preparations hold very pernicious possibilities for the unwary one looking for the easy way. Lasting injury may result.

And Pansy won't starve herself thin either. She will reorganize her diet, but her body will be fed adequately at all times. And of course, she won't insult her body with these trick combinations of food that are perhaps ever worse than the starvation.

No, Pansy won't make any of these mistakes. Pansy isn't looking for the lazy way. She means to emerge from her weight reducing campaign more healthy than she was with her fat, and more lovely to look upon. And she won't if she looks for short cuts and magic formulas.

BUFFALO, N. Y.—Thanks to the ingenuity of the Rev. Emil Beck, thefts from the poorbox at St. Francis Xavier's church probably have ended. He fixed things so that tampering sent the money jingling into a metal receptacle and set off an alarm in the rectory. A thief was caught at the first alarm.

Arm Broken In Fall; Boy Fractures Collar Bone While Playing

Howard Melton received a broken left arm Sunday when he fell from a step ladder.

Nelson Henninger, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Henninger, had his collar bone broken while playing near his home. Emergency treatment was given at Bivings and Barcus Hospital.

Night Coughing Quickly Relieved

Famous Prescription Gives Almost Instant Relief

Night coughs or coughs caused by a cold or by an irritated throat are usually due to conditions which ordinary medicines do not reach. But the very first swallow of Thoxine, a doctor's prescription, is guaranteed to give almost instant relief. Thoxine works on a different principle, it goes direct to the internal cause.

Thoxine is pleasant tasting and safe for the whole family. It will give you better and quicker relief for coughs or sore throat than anything you have ever tried or your money will be refunded. Put up ready for use in 35c, 60c, and $1.00 bottles. Sold by Cunningham and Phillips Drug Co., and all other good drug stores.—adv.

Advance Tips On Charm School

How Fat Women Can Trip Joyously, Is Message Of Noted Beauty Expert

A woman subscriber to this newspaper recently wrote a letter to Miss Nancy Earle whose Chats... has been featured in these columns and whom the Herald is bringing to Big Spring to conduct one of her widely known and popular Charm Schools in the Crystal ballroom of the Settles hotel from Jan. 20-23.

The letter writer asked Miss Earle, who will give five free talks on health, charm and beauty, during her stay in Big Spring this question among several others: "How can I go tripping joyously down the path of life, as you indicate in your Charm Chats that it is so easy to do, when I have to keep more pounds than I want? I can't wear the kind of clothes I want to wear. I'm wide, I'm big. How can I trip at all?"

In Miss Earle's answer to this question, she wrote, "In view of my approaching visit to your city, I am conducting a Charm School for the Herald and because your problem is not a singular one, I am asking the Herald to print my reply to your question about weight."

In the first place, allow me to assert that you do not have to "keep more pounds than you want," or rather, more pounds than you should have. My weight reduction class and exercises have enabled thousands of women to attain slim proportions with ease and comfort. I am sure they would not fail in your case.

The Attractive Bouquet "But perhaps you are laboring under a false conception of your own possibilities of loveliness. Perhaps you do not know how attractive the robust Juno type can be. The delicate Dresden China-Shepherdess does not possess the world's store of beauty. And curves are in now, you know."

"We all know that witticism, nobody loves a fat man and some of us have gone to the extreme of believing that everybody abhors the large woman. It is true that no woman who is burdened with excessive weight is as attractive as she would be if she reduced to symmetrical proportions."

But it is woefully wrong for any woman to believe the must attain to some set minimum of pounds. Many things must be considered, such as bone structure, height, and age. In one of my lectures I go into these matters fully, and will be glad to tell you just what you should weigh if you will drop a note into my Question Box that Herald is providing as an added service to all women who attend the Charm School, to remind me about it. But you'll have to tell your height—and age! These tables of height-weight ratios, incidentally, are prepared by the highest medical authorities. If such problems of charm as relate to the physical body your physician is your best friend."

What About Gowns? "But, you will ask me, 'What am I to do if I find I should not reduce to the point where I can be comfortably wearing the kind of gowns I want to wear?' Ask what about tripping joyously down the path of life?"

"The answer to these questions is that charm does not reside in just so many pounds of weight, not in a certain gown. It lies to the extent of the bearing which these things may have upon charm) rather in maintaining the weight which will afford you the greatest measure of abundant vigor, in your willingness to accept your individual type, and in adapting your gowns to your individual needs.

Weight Reduction "Of course many women need to reduce. Many 'pleasingly plump' women are not so pleasing. Weight reduction is one of the most important phases of my work, one to which I have given a great measure of time and research, and one which occupies an important place in the Charm School programs."

"But if you are the type, your efforts should be in other fields than excessive reductions. Study—with me, of your pleasure, at the Charm School—those many things which the normally large woman can do to make herself attractive."

Charming Large Women "One of the most charming women of my acquaintance is a large woman. Not fat, mind you, but large. She might very easily be clumsy and wholly lacking in attractiveness, but so thoroughly has she mastered the art of adapting her clothes, her coiffure, her jewelry, her perfume, to her peculiar requirements, and so much has she learned of how to express her inner self, that she positively radiates grace and magnetism."

"What Miss Earle has written to this woman may easily apply to other feminine readers of the Herald. She undoubtedly has many helpful hints for the women of this community, fat and lean, young and old, whatever their problems of charm. Remember the time, Jan. 20-23. Remember the place, Crystal ballroom, Settles hotel. Be there."

Bankruptcy Sought For Big Spring Firm ABILENE, Jan. 12.—A petition for a judgment in bankruptcy for the H. M. Dollar Store, operated at Big Spring by J. B. Hodges, was filed in the United States district court here yesterday by three Dallas firms, asserted creditors of the H. & M. store.

The petitioners are Dave Fox, presenting a claim of $4254; Sol Harris & Co., $252.74 and the Annette Dress Manufacturing Co., for $12.75.

The petitioners, represented by Emil Cornblith, assert the Big Spring firm is insolvent. Hodges having made an assignment on last December 31, to Vernon Hall, for the benefit of creditors. Bankruptcy judgment to assure all claims is sought.

Vacuum Lubrication Experts In Big Spring Three lubrication experts of the Vacuum Oil Co. are in Big Spring for the first three days this week to acquaint motorists with a new greasing service in which their company specializes and which is being offered by Hall Tire Company at its station on East Third Street.

The complete line of Mobiloil products that will be handled includes specialized greases for every part of the modern automobile with the exception of the engine. Expertly trained engineers have developed the line to secure the proper lubrication for each individual part. Gear finishing equipment has been installed by the Big Spring firm and as an introductory offer a greasing job will be given free with each crankcase draining.

Buchanans In Reunion Here Sunday

Lex and New Bride Honor Guests For Day

Mr. and Mrs. Lex Buchanan were honor guests at a family reunion yesterday at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Buchanan.

Lex's announcement of his marriage last Thursday to Miss Barz McMillin of Louisville, Miss., was a surprise to his family and friends.

Following the wedding ceremony which was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. F. McMillin, a prominent pioneer family of Winston County, Miss., the couple left for a wedding trip with relatives.

From Jackson and Vicksburg, Miss., they came to Colorado and visited with Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Walpole, sister of the groom.

The trip ended with the reunion here. Present were all the Buchanan family except Alta.

Mrs. Whippley and her daughters, Bettie Lou and Virginia Rose, came from Colorado; so did Sallie Buchanan from Abilene.

Mr. and Mrs. Lex returned to Abilene today where they will live.

Mr. Buchanan is advertising manager for Minter's Dry Goods Store where he has been employed for four years.

L. M. Garner's Sister Victim of Train Wreck Outside of Ranger

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Garner of Big Spring attended the funeral services Sunday in Gordon, Texas, for Mr. Garner's sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Lon Daventport.

They were fatally injured Friday when their automobile was struck by a Texas & Pacific passenger train near Ranger.

Mr. Garner was fire and police commissioner of Ranger during the oil boom.
