Busby Relates Views Of National Convention

Steve Busby, Springlake, an alternate at the National Democratic Convention in Miami Beach, Florida, returned home Saturday at 3 a.m. after one of the longest and most interesting weeks of his entire life. The eventful week left little or no time for sleep, in fact, two days of that week, Steve, like many others, did not have a chance to go to bed.

In an interview Wednesday morning with a News-Sun reporter, Steve related that an average day at the convention would include such meetings as National Youth Causes, Texas for Wallace, Humphrey, etc., and also several types of buffet style dinners.

After attending all the meetings, delegates would just barely have enough time to make it to the convention. The Texas delegation was staying several miles from the convention center making it necessary to leave about 6 p.m. to arrive in time. The convention would continue well into morning. The longest meeting of the convention caused the Texas delegation to arrive at their hotel at 6:50 a.m. This tight schedule left little time for frolicking on the beach or other such amusements.

When asked by the reporter, if the caucuses went in an orderly manner or was it something like what happens when a teacher leaves the school-room? Steve smiled slightly, and explained that the majority of the caucuses were held in a dignified manner. However, in the National Youth Causes, this did not hold true. Bitter exchanges of words, leading to delegate walk-outs characterized these meetings. No order prevailed and no courtesies were extended. Therefore, no concrete results were accomplished.

In reply to the question regarding the fact that McGovern promised to bring all the American service men and P.O.W.'s home from Vietnam in 90 days; did this in his opinion, have a bearing on his receiving so many votes. Steve did not think the P.O.W. statement had too great an influence in McGovern gaining support. Instead it was McGovern's overall policies, like welfare, etc., which was the major appeal to many delegates.

In discussing "to Boycott Lettuce", brought up at the convention, Steve stated that since he disagreed strongly with the Lettuce Boycot, that when he was asked in the convention hall to have a piece of lettuce, he was happy to partake of a piece of lettuce.

In speaking of the choice of presidential nominees, Busby said, "Personally, McGovern wasn't my choice for several reasons. Mostly because of his policies on Vietnam and welfare, just to name two, are utterly ridiculous as far as I am concerned. Also, I believe if a man is going to run for president he should be more representative of the entire American cross-section people and not just the radicals, hippies, chicanos and other minority groups. I would not fail to say that there are among his following, perhaps, many fine upstanding, middleclass, people backing McGovern, but they surely weren't the ones representing him at Miami."

Busby, who is a quiet, deep-thinking man with principles, is willing to stay in the background while others grab the show, but at the same time is quite anxious to see men and women of his age become interested in politics. He said one thing that was greatly lacking in the convention at Miami was middleclass, levelheaded youth who could think for themselves, and not just go along with the idea of the crowd (the outspoken radical youth). He also included, that he would urge all adults to take a greater interest in politics as it will be too late to rally from the apathy after things get out of hand.

He concluded with "We live in the greatest country in the world, therefore, every responsible person should work to the best of his ability to preserve it."

Busby is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Busby and is a Junior student at Tech.

Hail Suppression - Good Or Bad?

...to many of the farmers, reports show that they are for a hail suppression program in the area. The crops in the area were damaged by hail, and farmers feel the hail might have been prevented if the planes weren't in the clouds. The farmers thought they thought the hail damage last year had been cut in half. The farmers who were not in the area felt the hail was well spent on the crops. The farmers who were not in the area felt the hail was well spent on the crops. The farmers who were not in the area felt the hail was well spent on the crops.

Lamb County still lacks several thousand dollars to raise enough money in order to continue the program through the crop harvest time. The present funds will provide protection until October. Dale Stanley, secretary for Lamb County Better Weather, Inc., said this will be the third year in a row Lamb County has failed to raise enough money to fulfill the contract. If the contract has to be broken, this year may be the last year this county will get protection from the hail received.

"All the political talk about a new source of revenue simply means tapping the same old taxpayer in a brand new place."

DENT FARM SUPPLY

SMITHVILLE, -July visitors to South-Central Texas will find two delightful antique show-markets designed especially for vacationers. Unique in their back-to-back dates, the shows for the benefit of UNIFIED CEREBRAL PALSY OF TEXAS, INC., are scheduled for July 20, 21, 22 at North Star Mall in San Antonio; and July 27, 28, 29 at Highland Mall in the sister city of Austin. Each event will open with a celebrity-studded ribbon-cutting ceremony, and will feature 45 exhibitors from all over the country; and both shows will be open from 10 a.m. until 9 p.m. each day. Other collector or crafts-type shows have been at North Star, but this will be the first display and sale of antiques only at this San Antonio shopping center. Austin's Highland Mall show will be the capitol city's first such event. "Staged in Austin's only closed mall, this 3-day event promises to be a real fun-show", Miss Webster said. "Browsing at the Highland Antique Show and Sale scattered all along the two-level promenade will be like looking for Easter Eggs." Proceeds from booth rentals will go to UCP of Texas, Inc. working for cerebral palsied persons all over Texas. This group operates out of Austin with only three employees: the executive director, a secretary, and one field representative for the entire state. Of all UCP of Texas contributions 25% goes to UCP National Headquarters for research; 5% is slated for operating expenses and salaries; and the remaining 70% is used for direct service to cerebral palsied persons. An antique clock will be given away at each show as an added attraction.

Nelson-Jones Vows Exchanged

On Saturday evening, Miss Cathryn Elizabeth Nelson of Littlefield became the bride of Kenneth Eugene Jones of Springlake, in the Sanctuary of the First Baptist Church in Littlefield with the Reverend A.J. Kennemer, officiating the double-ring ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, Ralph Nelson, the bride wore a formal gown of white satin organza and venise lace, fashioned in the empire silhouette and featuring a deeply scalloped venise lace low-necked bodice. Wide lace encircled the hemline above a double flounce edged in narrow border lace. The long full sleeves were gathered onto lace-edged cuffs; and a wide-sweep Chapel train, bordered with lace edging, was attached beneath a large, soft bow at the back waistline. Completing the decor of the gown were tiny fabric buttons closing the back bodice. A Chapel-length veil of imported illusion, with a shorter tiered veil added, was bordered with venise lace.

The bride carried a cascade of yellow and white daisies and turquoise Baby's Breath atop a white Bible, a gift from the Senior Acteens of the First Baptist Church. The lace and satin Bible cover was borrowed from her sister-in-law, Mrs. James R. Nelson of Stillwater, Oklahoma. For "something old" she wore her grandmother's engagement ring. The large Tiffany ruby, belonging to Mrs. Earl B. Luce of Ozark, Arkansas, was also worn by Miss Nelson's mother at her wedding. Completing her traditional attire, the bride wore a blue garter, and "good-luck" pennies minted in the years of both her and the bridegroom's birth in each shoe.

Mrs. William E. Nelson of Lubbock served her sister-in-law as Matron of Honor. She wore a formal past-gown fashioned in a floral chiffon of yellow, turquoise, gold, and coral. The very full flowing gown featured an empire waistline and a low neckline bordered in a self ruffle which was repeated in the short puff sleeves. In her hair she wore a wreath of yellow and white daisies and carried a basket of matching flowers.

Bridesmaids were Miss Donna Cunningham of Ozark, Arkansas, and Mrs. Daniel Dial of Lubbock, sister of the groom. Junior bridesmaid was Miss Dyan Jones, sister of the groom. Their attire was identical to that of the Matron-of-Honor. They wore wreaths of yellow daisies and carried baskets of matching flowers, linked together by a daisy chain.

Little Miss Kimberly Nelson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Nelson of Spearman, and young Master Bobby Dwane Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Jones, of Springlake, cousins of the bride and groom, were Flower Girl and Ring Bearer. Little Miss Nelson wore a floor-length gown of yellow organza, fashioned with a full skirt and an empire waistline. Floral ruffles to match the gowns of the bridesmaids trimmed the low neckline and short puffed sleeves. She wore a wreath of white daisies and carried a basket of matching flowers. Young Master Jones carried a white satin pillow belonging to Mrs. Dial.

The bridegroom was attended by his brother-in-law, Daniel Dial, as Best Man. Groomsmen were his uncles, Dr. Marion Hagler of Lubbock and Jerry W. Jones of Springlake. Junior groomsmen were Master Gregory Hagler of Lubbock, cousin of the groom. All men in the wedding party wore traditional black tuxedos with white ruffled-front shirts and black ties lined with gold satin.

The sanctuary was decorated with greenery and daisies and lighted with large pillar candles. Behind the altar was a cascade arrangement of huckleberry foliage, English ivy, and yellow and white daisies, accented with baby's breath and lighted with candles. Graduated pedestal arrangements of daisies and baby's breath, centered by pillar candles, completed the decor.

Candles were lighted by Miss Wanda Cotter and Tim Walker of Littlefield. Miss Cotter wore a floor-length gown of yellow chiffon, fashioned with flowing skirt and empire waistline. The low neckline and tiny puffed sleeves were bordered with ruffles of floral.

Guests were seated by Dr. Hagler, Jerry W. Jones, William E. Nelson, brother of the bride, and Roger Nelson of Portland, Arkansas, cousin of the bride. William E. Nelson escorted his mother and grandmother, Mrs. Luce. Dr. Hagler seated his sister, Mrs. James E. Jones, mother of the groom, and his mother, Mrs. N.O. Hagler of Belton, grandmother of the groom. Mrs. Joel E. Jones of Springlake, grandmother of the groom, was seated by her son, Jerry W. Jones.

The mother of the bride wore a yellow ensemble of polyester double knit. The sleeveless A-line dress was styled with Princess seams, accented with a cotton lace-braid midriff insert. The matching, dress-length, A-line coat repeated the lace trim at the waistline, fastened with a silver-tone frog. She had chosen accessories of mother-of-pearl patent and a cymbidium corsage to match her ensemble.

Mrs. Jones, mother of the groom, had chosen a blue aleskine two-piece ensemble, featuring a gathered skirt with matching waist-length jacket. The stand-up neckline swept to a side-opening where it was fastened with matching crystal buttons. She wore a cymbidium corsage to match her ensemble and accessories.

Miss Gail Williams, pianist, and Dale Thompson, guitarist, both of Littlefield, furnished back-ground music and accompanied the soloists, Miss Sheila Harrell of Littlefield, Dr. Joyce Thompson of Lubbock, and James R. Nelson of Stillwater, Oklahoma, brother of the bride. As the guests arrived, Miss Williams played the score "Romeo and Juliet" by Rota. Preceding the ceremony, Mr. Nelson sang "More" from MondoCaine, Miss Harrell sang "Love Me Tender" to the music of Stephen Foster, "Lovelei," and Dr. Thompson read the poem, "Why Do I Love You" by Roy Croft. Immediately preceding the ceremony, Mr. Nelson sang, "Where Do I Begin", introducing the score of "Love Story" which was played throughout the ceremony by Mr. Thompson.

Vows were exchanged in an original ceremony written by the bride's mother. At the conclusion, while the young couple lighted their Memory Candle, Miss Harrell sang, "We've Only Just Begun" by Charles Williams. As a recessional, Mr. Nelson sang the traditional "Hawaiian Wedding Song."

Following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Earl B. Luce, grandparents of the bride, were hosts for a wedding reception in the church parlor. The bride's table was laid with a formal length white cloth and lighted gold candelabra entwined with smilax, yellow and white daisies, and baby's breath, with the bride's bouquet as the focal point. The three-tiered wedding cake, raised on Gothic columns, rested on a base of smilax, daisies, and baby's breath, and featured a pair of white doves on satin wedding bells.

Mrs. Fred Crawford of Perryton and Miss Carol Nelson of Dallas, cousins of the bride, served from gold appointments. The groom's table was laid with an antique gold formal cloth. The chocolate dome cake was decorated with a cascade of brightly colored Marzipan fruits. Mrs. Dennis Nelson and Mrs. Jerry W. Jones served from gold appointments. During the reception, little Misses Alison Nelson, sister of the bride, and Cynthia Nelson, her niece, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James R. Nelson, and young Masters Kevin Nelson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Nelson, and Kyle Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry W. Jones, cousins of the bride and groom, passed out rice bags of yellow and turquoise net. The little Miss Nelsons wore floor-length gowns of turquoise chiffon, fashioned after that worn by the Flower Girl.

For her going-away dress, Mrs. Jones chose a navy and grey two-piece ensemble of double-knit. The sleeveless dress was styled with a navy skirt and an empire bodice made of a fleur-de-lys pattern of navy on grey. The matching hip-length jacket featured navy lapels. Her accessories were of navy wrinkle patent and she wore a white orchid corsage.

Following a wedding trip to Colorado Springs, Colorado, the young couple will be at home north of Springlake where Mr. Jones is engaged in farming.

A 1972 graduate of Littlefield High School, Mrs. Jones will enter Texas Tech University in the fall. She has selected journalism as her major.

Mr. Jones, a 1966 graduate of Springlake-Earth High School, has completed a six-year term in the U.S. Navy, two of which were spent in active duty with the Second Fleet.

Filipino Beauties Visit Earth To See First Rodeo

Two lovely, sparkling eyed, young ladies from Manila, in the Philippines, were present in Earth Thursday to see their very first rodeo, anxious to see cowboys and cowgirls match skills with the wild rodeo stock.

Not only were the twosomes engrossed in thoughts of the rodeo, but were highly interested in the "free barbeque" to be served prior to the rodeo. They also waited anxiously to see the parade. In speaking of the barbeque, they asked anxiously if they would serve rice. The two friendly young ladies told of having rice at least twice a day, at lunch and dinner.

The two, Miss Vivian Conol and Miss Rumella Baldovino, both R.N.'s at the South Plains Hospital in Amherst, were guests Thursday of Deputy Sheriff and Mrs. E.E. Burrows of Earth. They arrived in Amherst, July 7, where they will spend a year as registered nurses at the hospital.

Their first impression of Amherst was one of disillusionment, as they had expected to see lots of cowboys carrying guns standing about the streets, but to their dismay there were none.

They also had expected the transportation to be nothing more than that of the early pioneers traveling in covered wagons stopping to water their horses frequently.

They recalled when they left home, their parents had said they wouldn't be driving around in cars here in the states. They were surprised to see everyone here traveled in cars. The two smiling young ladies immediately made one wish to know them better. They were quick to make friends with all they met and were amazed at the friendliness of all the people they had met in Texas.

They explained that in Manila the people were friendly, but more or less with the people they knew, but were not friendly with people they didn't know, like everyone here in Texas. In speaking of walking down the street to their apartment in Amherst, they felt very strange as most of the time they were the only twosome on the street. In Manila, they explained, the streets were filled with hired vehicles, buses, bicycles, taxis, and autos. It was dangerous there to walk as the streets were swarming with vehicles and people.

In speaking of the hospital facilities in Amherst as compared to the hospital in Manila where they interned for three years, they said there was no comparison in the two as Manila was way ahead with modern equipment, but they said in comparing a country hospital to that of many, many, thousand was really unfair. Rumella, who is the youngest child in a family of eight, said, she was lonely for her family, but she expected her father to come to the States by next summer. She said he wanted to, as he had two daughters and one son and son-in-law in the States working, before she herself came over. So she felt he would come over.

Vivian is the youngest in a family of 10. She and her friend, both graduated from nurses school in '71. They had spent the time since trying to persuade their parents to let them come over and work for a year. She has a brother in Ohio, who is an engineer. She also expects her parents out here, if they didn't get to "homesick" and fail to stick it out.

The two talked about their schools in the Philippines, saying they completed school in 10 years or eleven years if they went to kindergarten. They attended pre-nursing school for 2 years and interned for 3 years, giving them 5 years to become R.N.'s.

The two girls, who smiled frequently and laughed freely giving of a friendly nature stated that they started English in the first grade. The girls, who attend mass at the Catholic Church in Littlefield, said they had met lots of people since arriving here, and that each one had been so warm and friendly that they could readily feel their unexcelled friendliness.

They summed the interview up with two words, "We're homesick" and if it were not for the nice, kind people they met every place they went in this country, they would have already boarded the plane and soared across the skies back to the love of home and friends.

All we can say is we hope you can learn to love us as we without any reserve, felt we could love both the smiling beauties from the Philippines.

Manufacturer Is Considering Clovis For New Location

One of the nation's three largest garment manufacturers is considering establishing a manufacturing plant in Clovis, with the final decision resting partially on the results of a labor survey in the Clovis area.

Bailey County is included in the area in which the labor survey will be conducted. Questionnaires will be available in this newspaper and from employment commission offices in Muleshoe, Bovina, and Clovis survey area.

After the questionnaires are filled out, they should be mailed to the Clovis Chamber of Commerce, Drawer C, Clovis, N.M. 88101. Chamber officials emphasize the need for immediate response. The survey will end July 23.

The plant proposed for Clovis will initially employ approximately 300 people, with 90 per cent of that number being women. The vast majority will work as sewing machine operators.

Virtually all the workers employed by the plant will be hired from the area in a 30 to 40 mile radius around Clovis.

Past experience for this type of work is not necessary. The manufacturing company will have complete training facilities for the work force at the Clovis plant. The Clovis Chamber and the chamber's industrial commission are directing the labor survey.

Girls All Stars Play At Wayland

Excitement mounts among Texas and Oklahoma women's basketball fans as time for the two-state Girls' All-Star Basketball game is now only about one week away. The annual event in its third year will take place in Hutcherson Physical Education Center on the Wayland Baptist College Campus in Plainview on July 22 at 8:30 p.m.

The bout promises to be a challenge for both teams, each of which have advantages in different areas. Texas will face a 5.1 advantage in scoring with Oklahoma claiming a point average of all members at 31.3. An average of individual points per game for the Texas girls places the team at 26.2. Peggy Provence of Choctaw High School, Choctaw, leads the Sooner state girls to this high average with her medium of 39.7, and next in line is

Sharon Williams of Tushka, High School, Tushka, with 36.6. Topping the Lone Star States with 29.7, Karen Spain from Hockabay High School in Stephenville slightly over-reaches her teammate Rosemary Brown who averaged 28.5 at Rivercrest High School in Talco. An average of individual rebounds of each of the All-Star teams also points to Oklahoma as the leader. Rush Springs, Okla. sends Vicki Sizemore from Rush Springs High School to contribute a 15.5 rebounding average to her state's players. She is followed by Mangum High School's Mary Jane McDaniel with 12.8 rebounds at 12.8 per game. Combined averages of the team reach 9.3. From Tuloso Midway High School in Corpus Christi, roundballer Betsy Williamson hits a norm of ten rebounds, and Cindy Payton brings a nine-per-game to the Texas players. Hailing from Lubbock, Miss Payton represents Cooper High School. The team stands at 7.8. Looking from another angle, however, the Texans have an advantage over the Oklahoma fem netters in height. Ranging from 5-7 to 6-2, Texas overshadows the Sooners who have heights as low as 5-3 and as high as 6-2. The two teams will begin workouts in the Hutcherson Center on July 17 and 18 under their coaches, Harley J. Redin, Plainview, and Ron Butler, Ranger, for Texas and Charles Heatly, Lindsey, and Ben Sasser, Piedmont, for Oklahoma. During the practice week any high school team who wishes to visit is welcome, according to Redin, who is the host coach. Seating for 3,000 spectators is available at $2.00 each. Advance tickets are on sale now by mail at the Wayland Ticket Office, Wayland Baptist College, Plainview, TX. 79072.

Sgt. Glasscock To Report To Thailand

Sgt. Gene A. Glasscock, member of the United States Air Force 364th Supply Squadron at Laughlin Air Force Base, will be leaving for Thailand September 1.

Glasscock is the son of Mr. and Mrs. B. V. Glasscock of Rockwall, Texas, (former Earth residents) and has been in the Air Force 2 1/2 years. Glasscock's current duty is with munitions maintenance. He receives, handles, inspects, and ships all ammunition for the base. He also maintains munition lot records and inspection cards and is responsible for storage facilities and proper maintenance and storage of all munitions. Glasscock insures compliance with resinded and dangerous ammunition directives. He controls all deliveries and pick ups of munition items.

The following comments were made about Glasscock on his official change of report by his commanding officer.

"Sgt. Glasscock accomplished all assigned duties in an outstanding manner during this reporting period. He is one of the most knowledgeable munitions specialists I have had the pleasure of working with. His untiring spirit, energy, and superior knowledge have contributed significantly to the excellent inspection ratings during the past three assistance visits. Several inspectors as well as the base safety officer have praised the excellent storage procedures initiated by Sgt. Glasscock. Many adverse conditions accompany the duties performed by Sgt. Glasscock, however, he has never complained about the many hours of stand-by and overtime. The excellent working relationship he has established with the using organizations has won him the respect of many of the officers and NCOs on the base. I recommend he be promoted to the next higher grade far ahead of his contemporaries."

Mrs. Pat McCord is a patient in St. Marys Hospital in Lubbock, having had major surgery on Tuesday. She is in room 325 and in good condition.
