NOSIN.....
WITH POLLY

Most people readily agree that Harry Truman's recent remark, "That people ought to go to Hell if they voted for Nixon," left them cold, and agreed it was certainly an uncivilized remark and wholly out of character for any American citizen to utter. SINCE THIS IS A FREE NATION AND EVERY AMERICAN CITIZEN HAS THE RIGHT TO VOTE AS HE CHOOSES.

I can't help but think back to the National Democratic Convention, when Mr. Truman stayed at home rather than go to the convention, because he said it was rigged and he wanted no part of a rigged convention. According to reports of his statement, he left the impression it was rigged in Kennedy's favor, he being for Johnson washed his hands of the convention and stayed home.

That was all well and fine, if he felt those convictions, but to abruptly do an about face and make the statement, that people should go to Hell if they voted for Nixon, leaves one feeling the Democratic Party would have been in better shape without him.

I was utterly shocked though to find a local woman who agreed with him, saying, "That's right, they should, if they vote for Nixon," and added "What are you a Republican?" What I am has no possible bearing as to whether people should go to Hell for the act of voting one way or the other.

I disagree whole heartedly with anyone, regardless of whether they are Democrat or Republican who would make that remark about other American Citizens (Who, for discharging their duty of voting should automatically make them a candidate for an apartment below, because they chose to vote opposite to another's own belief).

I have heard of pressure groups who attempt to pressure folks into one thing or another by threats of doing no business with this one or that one if they were a certain kind of button. But, for the readers of this column, I will vote to the very best of my knowledge for the betterment of my country. (Frankly, I'm not pleased with either man or their platform) but there is little I can do about it. However, I will VOTE, and I hope each and everyone of you VOTE according to the dictates of your own conscience after studying the platform of each candidate and after a prayer, for I truly think God still has the power to guide us if we so desire His guidance.

Frankly, I am not the least bit worried over God's casting a person down below for voting for Nixon as Harry Truman says he should, because the God I know would have no part of pressure or bribery, from a local person or even from a former President.

(FOR THE BOOKS, I believe in discussing politics sure. Talking over the qualifications of politicians and discussing their platforms, but, I do not believe in pressure, bribery or people's becoming eligible for either Heaven or Hell just because of their Vote.)

SUNNYSIDE STORE

Sadlers Rebuilding Store At Sunnyside

The Sunnyside Store, destroyed by the tornado April 12, 1960, is nearing completion this week. The 40 by 60 foot modern building is built of haydite blocks reinforced with concrete and steel. It has a brick and glass east front. A walk-in-box and other modern fixtures have been installed. Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Sadler will continue to own and operate the store.

The Sunnyside Store has been in existence since March, 1930 when Mr. and Mrs. Binkley Drake purchased 5 acres of land near Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Axtell and built a 20 x 32 foot building with a residence in the back. This original building, with various additions at different times still stood at the time of the tornado.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Waggoner, who had run a Grocery Store at Cleo for several years, purchased the store from Mr. and Mrs. Drake in June of 1936. They built a residence near the store and lived in the community until about 1943. Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Boyd, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Hestand, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Duke, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Duke, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Conard, and Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Burch are among those who leased or operated the store until it was purchased from Mrs. Willie Waggoner in July 1949 by Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Ferguson. They added a modern residence to the back of the store in 1952. They operated the store until Mrs. Ferguson's death January 6, 1955. Mr. Ferguson continued to operate it with the help of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Herriage until it was purchased by Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Sadler in March of 1959. The Herriages operated it until January 1960. Since that time it has been operated by Mr. and Mrs. Sadler.

The Store is expected to receive its stock Saturday and be open for business the latter part of next week.

LETTERS TO The EDITOR

Gentlemen:

I am glad to talk to you again. However, I have the same sad story to report. I have never felt so dismal concerning defeats as I did the ones we suffered at the hands of Amberst and Sudan. These were games we could have won. Our opponents were not outstanding.

Our big problem once again, was mistakes. That is a coaching problem, because some way we have to overcome this terrible hazard. Mistakes cause us penalties and stopped four or five dives. There wasn't one boy continuously making a mistake in one position, but some are making mistakes in one position, and another making one in another position—continually breaking us down. We as coaches must prepare these young men better so as to take out this margin of error.

Once again, we suffered from our same old problem—lack of speed. On three or four different occasions we could have gone for touch downs.

The boys spirits are still good and that is one of our big problems to continue to have a good attitude in the face of losses. But we are going to try to do just that. We have some good kids that want to play. Perhaps we can come to have the kind of team that we can all be proud of. We're not going to quit trying. It is a building process and it's going to take us a while, but as long as our kids' attitudes continues the way they are nothing is hopeless so we shall have a chance.

I hope you will come to see and talk with us. Thanks for the continued support and loyalty.

Sincerely,
Jodie D. Mahan

Junior High And B Teams Play Sudan Tonight

The Junior High School and B teams of the Springlake football squads will play Sudan tonight (Thursday) at Sudan.

The game between the two B teams will begin at 4 p.m. with the Junior High game following at 6 p.m.

B TEAM LOSES TO SUDAN

The Springlake B team lost to Sudan last Thursday night in a close fought game 6 to 0, on the home field.

Sudan almost scored twice in the first half, but the Springlake team made a goal line stand and stopped them.

Sudan came back in the second half, scoring in the latter part of the third quarter.

Springlake fought hard to score in the second half but Sudan's defence held them to 6 to 0.

The Junior High team won over the Sudan Junior High team with a score of 14 to 8. This game was also played on the Springlake field Thursday night.

This year's football program has about 44 boys on the seventh and eighth grade football team. Also there are 36 sixth grade boys who are getting some football fundamentals.

Sudan Hornets Sting Wolverines

Last Friday night the Springlake Wolverines fell under the sting of the Sudan Hornets, to the tune of 48 to 0.

The Sudan game was the first conference game of the season for the Wolverines.

Sudan broke the game open in the first quarter. The Wolverines fumbled on their own 20 yard line. The Hornets recovered the fumble, and Gary West ran the opening touchdown of the night.

Springlake gained good yardage several times during the first half, but the Hornets always stopped their drives. Springlake took possession once and drove down to Sudan's 10 yard line.

The Hornets took over there on downs. The Hornets scored twice more during the first half.

The second half saw the Wolverines fighting back desperately. Sanders and Hudson made several runs for good yardage, but the Hornet's speed always stopped the Wolverines threats.

Gary West and Max Lynch were the two main guns for the Hornets. West scored twice. Lynch

A Real Farm Program Goal Of Democratic Candidates

A farm program planned to guarantee farmers their fair share of the national income is the goal of Democratic candidates and the Democratic party, a Texas farm leader and public official declared this week.

"And we will reach that goal once we get Democratic administration led by John Kennedy and Lyndon Johnson to work with the Democratic Congress after January 1," Texas Agriculture Commissioner John C. White, assistant Texas Democratic campaign director, emphasized.

Senator Kennedy's farm program calls for "parity of income which gives average producers a return on their invested capital, labor and management equal to that for comparable resources in non-farm employment."

Comm. White, who also serves as chairman of the Texas Farmers for Kennedy-Johnson Committee, pointed out following the Kennedy farm statement that "for the first time in eight long years farmers will have an administration in Washington that offers wholehearted support and sympathetic understanding instead of adroit opposition to the farmer and his problems."

"For the first time in eight long years, our Texas farmers and others over the nation will be able to look to an administration in Washington determined to use all resources of government to preserve the small, family-type farms."

He scored four touchdowns against Springlake.

Both teams played a fine brand of football.

farm which has been the foundation of our agricultural economy," Comm. White continued.

"For the first time in eight long years, the under-cover manipulations in Washington to drive our small farmers off the land and into hand-to-mouth, urban existence will come to an end.

"From my own personal conversations and personal visits with Senator Kennedy, I can pledge to our Texas farmers that he means every word of it when he speaks of our problems with real understanding. Here is a man who knows what he is talking about and stands on our side. Here is a man who can be counted on to do all in his power to do away with the farmer's feeling of apprehension and discouragement when they look in the direction of Washington."

"There is little need for me to show up before Texas farmers as an advocate of Senator Johnson. For 30 years, as we all know, Senator Johnson has been a friend of Texas agriculture and can always be depended upon when Texas farmers need him. He is, in fact, himself a Texas rancher. With a Democratic administration leading a Democratic Congress, we Texas Farmers for Kennedy-Johnson are confident we can at last look for a practical farm view of farm problems in Washington."

"I am convinced that Senator Kennedy is dedicated to his bill of rights for American farmers. This bill of rights carries ten points which get right down to the root-plot issues, in Senator Kennedy's own words.

1. A fair share of the national income is the right of every farmer.
2. The family farm, preserved and promoted, is the right of every farmer.
3. Local farmer responsibility for farm policy decisions is the right of every farmer.
4. Farmer bargaining power through protective price supports, loans, commodity agreements, and

Texas Press Joins In Savings Bonds Sales Campaign

U. S. Savings Bonds will receive a special boost in November when the Texas Press Association conducts a campaign to inform the public about recent improvements made in series E and H bonds. L. B. Smith, Brady publisher and president of TPA, has announced that Forrest Weimhold, Lovelland, will head up the campaign.

Weimhold, publisher of the Lovelland Sun-News, contest committee chairman for the Texas Press Association, and his committee are working out details of the campaign to be conducted during November, 1960. The committee is made up of publishers of four state newspapers.

Smith said that in 1959 Texas newspapers used over 1000 savings bonds advertisements and thousands of news stories, pictures, editorials and features telling the public about series E and H bonds.

"You can readily see," he added, "that promoting the sale of Savings Bonds is not new for Texas newspapers. However, for one month period in November, we plan to do something additional to call attention to the many improvements made in bonds by recent legislation."

Both E and H bonds now earn 3 and three fourths per cent, based on being held to maturity. For the E bond, this compound semi-annually, accumulating to the value of the bond, and for the H it is paid by semi-annual Treasury check.

Members of the Texas Press Association Savings Bonds contest committee directing this special campaign are the following publishers: Weimhold; Walter Buckner, San Marcos Record; Ward Lowe, Lampasas Dispatch; and L. B. Smith, Brady Standard, Ex-Officio.

Mr. and Mrs. George Kasinger spent last Friday in Littlefield while there they visited G. S. Armstrong in Medical Arts Hospital and Clinic.

Is Vegetable Growing A Big Gamble?

College Station — When the statement "Growing Vegetables is a gamble," is made could this be a case of the culprit blaming the victim? Is the business itself a gamble, or are the farmers actually the gamblers? Clyde Singletary, extension horticulturist, says that the only way to learn the answers to these questions is to take a close look at the vegetable business.

With few exceptions, most vegetables are staple food items of most American families. Per capita consumption of most vegetables is increasing each year along with rapid growth in our population. Vegetable surpluses are temporary—in many cases lasting only a few days or weeks. These surplus problems can, however, be damaging to growers.

The vegetable industry, particularly as it relates to consumption, appears quite stable, continues Singletary. Week-to-week price fluctuations occur, but averages over a period of years are fairly stable.

If consumption is always positive, why should there be this attitude that growing vegetables is such a gamble. Could it be that some farmers are blaming the industry when they should be blaming faulty production practices?

Singletary says that yield per acre, quality yield speculative growing, concern for product after harvesting and knowledge of competition are the main factors in determining profit or loss. Careful analysis of the vegetable situation in Texas reveals that low yields per acre is the most important factor affecting income of growers. Consumers are quality conscious, thus quality is one of the most important tools of bargaining.

Speculative growing is another income reducer. Planting without planning can lead to disaster. Another common fault of some vegetable producers is the apparent desire to drop all responsibility for their products as soon as they leave the field. Growers need to be as concerned about the product from the field to the consumer as from seed to harvest, says the specialist.

Singletary concludes by saying that producers need to know their markets. That is, they must know

Donations of Surplus Foods Are Heavy

College Station — Donations of surplus foods by the USDA at home and overseas totaled almost 2.8 billion pounds in the year ending June 30, 1960. This total is down slightly from the all-time record of 3.0 billion set the previous year.

The donated are acquired by USDA in its price-support and surplus-removal operations, and are made available to schools and charitable institutions in this country and to needy persons both here and abroad through the Agricultural Marketing Service's Direct Distribution Program. Eligible recipients in the U. S. receive commodities through designated State and local government agencies. Foreign distribution in over 80 countries was handled by about 20 U. S. voluntary agencies in the fiscal year just ended.

Distribution to domestic recipients in the past year showed a 17.5 percent decrease from the previous year. This decrease was due largely to the improved dairy situation, coupled with a decline in the number of eligible needy persons in family units.

Schools, under priority rules established by Congress, continued to receive available stocks of butter and cheese, and registered a gain of about 6 percent in volume of surplus commodities used. Supplementary foods purchased by the USDA exclusively for schools taking part in the National School Lunch Program were not included in these totals.

Regular Homework Favored by Educators

Required homework, which in recent years has been out of favor among some educational groups, is back in favor, according to Changing Times, the Kiplinger Magazine.

A item in the Schools and Colleges column of the current issue of the magazine reports a shift of opinion among educators, who recently have asserted that homework contributes little to academic achievement, especially for children in the elementary grades. Now, according to the column, an exhaustive review reports these findings:

Experiments show the regularly assigned homework does favor higher academic achievement. And homework in elementary grades affects high school performance, for study techniques and attitudes are set very early in a child's school career.

Arguments that homework may have had psychological effects are not supported by research. In fact, children "may feel more secure and better oriented in the classroom when they are doing regular homework."

Research indicates that required homework should be reinstated in the elementary schools and should be smoothly graduated from a token five-minute or so assignment in the first grade to about two or three hours a night in high school.

"Parents could be expected to provide good conditions for home study, and their general interest and supervision (but not specific help) should be welcomed."

Springlake - Olton Exes Football Game October 29

There will be a football game between the Springlake and Olton ex-students at 8 p.m. October 29.

The game will be played at the Wolverine Stadium and is being sponsored by the Wolverine Boosters Quarterback Club.

There will be an admission charge of $1.00 for adults and 50 cents for students. All proceeds will go to the building fund for the Wolverine dressing rooms.

Queen Contest

There will also be a queen contest in connection with the exes football game.

This contest is being sponsored by the Earth-Springlake merchants.

Each merchant pays a fee of $5.00 which goes into the field-house building fund, to sponsor a queen of his choice.

Containers have been placed in each place of business with the candidates name he is sponsoring. You may vote for the candidate of your choice by visiting these merchants and dropping your money in the container.

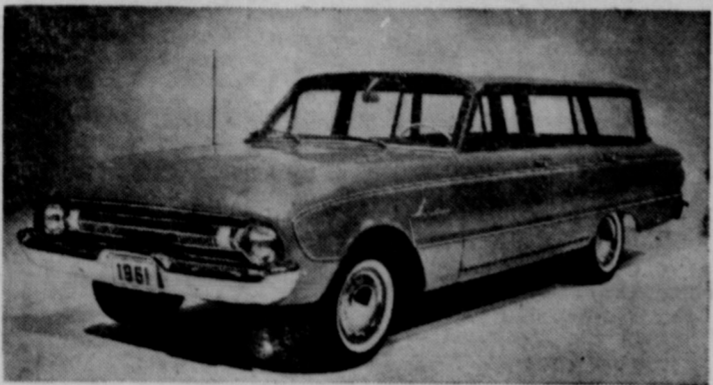

Candidates do not have to be ex-students of Springlake Schools.

Approximately sixty or seventy ladies have already been nominated for queen. The queen will be elected by votes at one cent per vote and the lady elected queen will be crowned at half time during the ballgame.

Everyone is urged to attend the football game and vote for the lady of your choice for queen.

Proceeds from the queen contest will also go to the Field House Fund.

The new field house will house the concession stand, the dressing rooms for the Wolverine football boys and dressing rooms for visiting teams.

The 1961 Ford Falcon (Tudor Sedan, top) features a new, convex-shaped aluminum grille and introduces a new optional, 101-horsepower engine along with durability improvements in aluminum surfaces, underbody parts and other trim items. ## Nine Rural Accidents In Lamb County During September

The Highway Patrol investigated nine rural accidents in Lamb County during the month of September, according to Sergeant D. S. Lawson, Patrol Supervisor of this area.

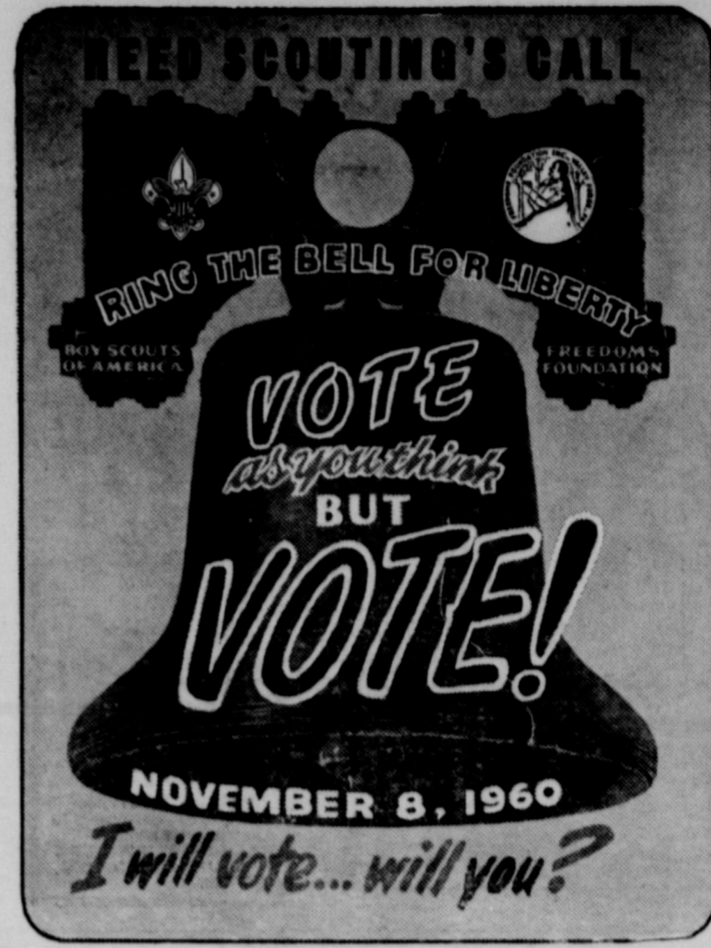

Eight persons have been injured, and a property damage of $9,045.00.

This brings the total for the year in this county to five persons killed, forty two injured, and a property damage of $47,066.00.

"Darkness hides danger," Sergeant Lawson said. That is the reason traffic accidents increase during October's shorter days and longer nights. At sundown, long shadows and fading light make it increasingly difficult for drivers to spot traffic hazards and stop in time. Make it a habit to turn on your driving lights at the first hint of dusk and always use them properly.

With winter approaching, it is important that all owners of automobiles have their cars safety inspected at one of the approved inspection stations to determine that all parts are in top condition," the Sergeant stated.

Cowboys who want to take the rough edges off a horse, call the practice letting the hammer down.

"Keno" came from the gambling boys often use the word to mean game of the same name, and cow- everything is all right.

Hometown Press Battles For Freedom Of Information

BY PAUL C. SMITH

President National Editorial Association

Newspapers throughout the land are waging an unceasing struggle for one of America's most cherished goals—Freedom of Information. The battle is waged in small towns and big cities, at the local level and at the seat of our national government.

The reporter for a hometown weekly plays a vital role as he ferrets out the facts on a local situation which some petty official would prefer be kept secret, as does the Washington correspondent who insists on learning how and why public funds are being spent by elected and appointed office-holders.

The National Editorial Association has a Freedom of Information Committee which keeps tabs on gains and setbacks in the Freedom of Information struggle. It receives reports from all over the nation and renders an annual report to NEA. Other press groups report similar activities.

As the press turns its attention to the 1960 celebration of National Newspaper Week, it can point to some progress toward the goal of complete Freedom of Information but many opportunities for improvement remain.

In this election year, when officials from Councilmen to Congressmen are asking the voters for their endorsement, both the press and the public are entitled to question candidates for office as to how they stand on the public's right to know.

NEA, as the only national newspaper group to maintain its headquarters in the Nation's Capital, occupies a key vantage point in waging war against government secrecy.

There are two Congressional subcommittees which are primarily concerned with Freedom of Information. One is the Constitutional Rights Subcommittee of the Senate Judiciary Committee, headed by Senator Thomas C. Hennings, Jr. (D. Mo.), and the other is the Subcommittee on Information of the House Government Operations Committee, Representative John E. Moss (D. Calif.), Chairman.

The Hennings subcommittee has approved a bill, S. 2780, which would amend Federal law in five respects to remove provisions which have been used to justify secrecy in government. NEA endorses the Hennings bill and urges public support for its enactment.

The Moss subcommittee recently reported on its five-year effort to make public records available for inspection. Its particular target has been the Department of Defense, which House investigators found has withheld three times as much information in recent years as during the 40-year period which included both World Wars.

Federal officials, backed by an opinion by the Attorney General on the so-called "executive privilege", have often found it convenient to stamp "secret" or "confidential" on all kinds of documents which have nothing to do with national security.

One example in 1960 was a decl-sion by the Internal Revenue Service to withhold comments received from the public on a proposed change in the regulations affecting the tax deductibility of certain types of business expenses. As the Moss subcommittee pointed out, there is no reasonable excuse for such actions. The Moss report warned that increasing restrictions on government information could lead to the destruction of our democratic society, and added:

"Secrecy—the first refuge of incompetents—must be at a bare minimum in a democratic society. For a fully informed public is the basis of self-government. Those elected or appointed to positions of executive authority must re-

South Plains Maid Of Cotton Contest November 21 - 22

THE SEARCH IS ON—for the 1961 South Plains Maid of Cotton!

The South Plains Maid of Cotton Committee of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce in cooperation with the National Cotton Council is searching for the 11th consecutive year for a young lady who will represent this area as an automatic entry in the National Contest in Memphis, Tennessee—and who we hope will be selected as the 1961 National Maid of Cotton.

This is an opportunity for some young lady between the ages of 19 and 25—at least five feet, five inches tall—who has never been married—and must have been born in a cotton producing state—does not wear glasses—and have her home residence in one of the following South Plains counties.

James Moss, Chairman of the South Plains Maid of Cotton Committee emphasizes in announcing this year's contest, that this is by no means just a beauty contest or pageant, but, as a representative of the South Plains cotton industry and area, this young lady must be beautiful, intelligent, have poise—have an excellent personality and background, as she will have a tremendously important public relations job to accomplish as a representative of the South Plains—and, as the National Maid of Cotton.

Entry forms may be obtained from any member of the Board of Directors of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc.—local Chambers of Commerce—County Agents—and in the case of college students, from the Dean of Student Life—in any of the counties listed above—also, there will be a supply of these entry forms at the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, 902 Texas Avenue, Lubbock.

Entry forms together with glossy photograph must be submitted to the South Plains Maid of Cotton Committee, P. O. Box 561, Lubbock, Texas, or, delivered to the Chamber of Commerce, 902 Texas Avenue, not later than 12:00 midnight, November 8, 1960.

The Contest includes two full days of activities on Monday and Tuesday, November 21 and 22, 1960, with preliminary judging starting at 9 a. m., Monday, November 21st. Contestants and their escorts will be guests for dinner at the Lubbock Country Club, followed by the fifth annual Maid of Cotton Ball with Johnny Long's orchestra providing the music.

Judging will continue on Tuesday—there will be a judges' luncheon, a rehearsal, and the glittering finals at 7:30 p. m. in the Lubbock Municipal Auditorium on Texas Tech campus.

The young lady who is selected as the South Plains Maid of Cotton becomes an automatic finalist in the National Maid of Cotton Contest in Memphis, Tennessee in January—she will be provided with a $1,000 all-cotton wardrobe, and she and her chaperon will receive an all-expense paid trip to Memphis for the National Contest.

Mr. Moss urges participation in this most exciting and rewarding experience, and also expresses the views of the entire Committee, that certainly the South Plains area is blessed with a great number of attractive and charming young ladies, and there is no reason why the 1961 National Winner should not be from the South Plains of Texas.

Texas Municipal Authorities Favor Nixon

Austin, Texas — Allan Shivers, chairman of the Texas Democrats for Nixon-Lodge, said today he was pleased, "but not surprised," to learn that municipal government authorities of Texas overwhelmingly favor Richard M. Nixon for president.

A newspaper poll (by the Dallas News) taken at the Texas Municipal League's two-day meeting in Galveston showed 169 favored Nixon, 109 for Jack Kennedy and 21 undecided.

"These people as much or more than anyone else are face to face with government expense and fiscal responsibility," Shivers said.

"They realize there must be able and experienced leaders in government, from top to bottom.

"They don't want us to wander off into some wild blue yonder of a new frontier where the government is centralized, give-away programs are unlimited, the government debt expands to the breaking point, inflation reaches new heights daily, the dollar becomes worthless, and taxes are so high that everyone becomes a worker for—or a slave of—the federal authority—all at the expense of local self-government."

Earth Postal Receipts Almost Double In Past Seven Years

A new all-time high in the nation's mail volume was reached during fiscal year 1960 ended June 30, which continued the steady upward trend of the past seven years at a rate which even exceeds the population growth, according to advance information from the Annual Report of the Post Office Department which has been made available to Postmaster Harold D. Miller, Acting.

Although subject to last minute revisions, the year's total has been estimated as 63.6 billion pieces of mail which includes about one billion pieces of parcel post. It was stated that this would mean an increase of nearly 25 per cent over the corresponding figures for 1953 when the annual volume was 50.9 billion pieces.

During this same period, it was pointed out, the revenue of the Department also has shown an impressive gain with an increase from $2,091,714,000 in fiscal year 1953 to $3,276,800,000 for fiscal year 1960.

Here in Earth, receipts of the post office climbed from $8500.00 in 1953 to $14,218.00 last year.

"There is not much we can do about how much mail we have to handle from day to day or how many people are making use of the Postal Service," Postmaster Miller stated, "but the whole Department keeps busy in devising ways and means for doing the job not only more efficiently but more economically. As I recall it, that was the way President Eisenhower outlined the principal objectives of the Department when Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield was being sworn in back in 1953, and that's the way we have been operating ever since.

"We can't deny that we still make mistakes and that the human element still plays a vitally important part in daily operations, but the statistics in the Department's annual report offer positive proof that we are making progress on a nationwide basis. As an example, while the mail volume showed an increase of 16 billion pieces handled annually, the employment increase during this same period amounted to only 11 per cent.

"By way of explanation, it should be mentioned that the employment figures—based on thousands of man-years—are first worked out under two separate headings, city carriers and 'all other', and then combined for the over-all percentage figures just mentioned for fiscal 1960.

"It should also be mentioned that there has been a steady and substantial increase in 'city carriers' each year as compared with 1953, ranging from 4.5 per cent in 1954 to 25.2 per cent in the latest estimates. This increase has been essential to keep pace with the ever-expanding growth of established cities as well as the establishment of new ones. City delivery service has been started in 800 communities in addition to the extension of literally hundreds of routes which were already in operation. This required the equivalent of 31,000 more letter carriers to serve approximately 9,000,000 more American families and upwards of 700,000 more business concerns.

"There is perhaps no better way of demonstrating the Department's ever-improving efficiency than by showing just how steadily the annual volume handled per man-year of employment — excluding city carriers—has been increasing since 1953. In that year the total handled by one man was 132,000 pieces of mail. For 1960 the corresponding figure was 157,000.

Party Line...

Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Cole, and family visited in Oton Saturday morning with J. G. Cole.

A Lesson Learned On Foreign Soil

(The following is the first of a series of three articles on the importance of casting a vote in the forthcoming presidential election. The author of this series is Mrs. Florence Bosl, widely-known and much-honored editor-owner of the weekly Schulerburg Sticker, who has travelled in 52 countries including Russia and nations behind the Iron Curtain and observed firsthand what can happen when apathy prevails among a country's citizens. This is an impartial series of articles that is being distributed as public service by the Texas Democrats for Nixon and Lodge.)

By MRS. FLORENCE BOSL

Why am I personally asking YOU to vote on November 8?

Stranded on the international bridge that separates the land of Poland from the Soviet Union not so many months ago, I faced the fact that my Polish visa had been annulled and that my Soviet visa had expired. What did I think about on that Bug River Bridge?

Two things, and two things alone, gave me courage to find a way or make a way to get home. First, was my faith in God. Second, was the knowledge that I was a citizen of the United States.

It requires some real thinking when a lone American woman is left at midnight, miles from even a farmhouse, six miles to the nearest town, with luggage too heavy to carry and only American traveler cheques for money.

During the three days and four nights I rode in an open cattle train without food or water in order to get to Moscow so I could argue with officials about getting out of the country, these thoughts repeatedly turned over in my mind:

What were the two most valuable things I owned in all the world? My Bible and my American citizenship.

It was during this ride that I realized that if I ever arrived back safely to my beloved hometown of Schulerburg that I would not be an indifferent, apathetic citizen of the U. S. A. Never again would I fail to vote at an election. Never again would I look with smug security at the freedoms in America, especially the right to vote.

On the cattle car in the black night unlighted by even the stars I knew that with my freedoms came responsibilities. That I must work hard to earn the right to have and to keep these, priceless privileges. That I must be willing to shoulder the duties of a good citizen, duties that include voting at each and every election.

Other thoughts came to my mind as I looked toward the land of Poland, a country behind the Iron Curtain under the domination of Communism: Our greatest dangers lie within ourselves. Rugged individualism had turned to "let Joe do it" thinking. We seem to have specialized in knowing how to ask, but we have forgotten how to give. We know what we are owed, but have forgotten what we owe.

Patriotism—love of country—was once the almost sole motivating force of these whose memory we honor and cherish. They were men and women who sacrificed time and money, even life itself, to serve and preserve our United States. In eternity they are watching us now.

Will it be necessary for each of us to stand on freedomless soil to know how immeasurably wonderful it is to be a citizen of these United States.

When election time rolls around you can be sure I shall cast my ballot, and it will be a vote to retain our priceless freedom.

Mrs. S. E. (Granny) Hite is reported to be very low in the Plainview Hospital. She is the mother-in-law of Mrs. Lena Hite.

Soil Conservationists Discuss Watershed

Approximately 20 farmers and several government agencies met recently and discussed the Bull Lake watershed problem.

Wiley Mudgett, chairman of the Lamb County Soil Conservation District, started the meeting by briefly explaining what needed to be done to control the watershed problem. Roland R. Willis explained what assistance that Soil Conservation Service could furnish such as technical assistance as Engineering and layout and also the cost-share assistance farmers could get under the Great Plains Conservation Program.

Lamar D. Aten explained the cost-share assistance available under ACP (Agriculture Conservation Program). Truman Jones let it be known that farmers could borrow money from FHA to pay their share of the cost of applying practices to control the problem. Hubert Dykes, the local precinct commissioner, and Bill Kimbrough, County Agent of Lamb County, talked about the need for action on the watershed and offered their assistance in organizing and carrying out a program to control the problem. The farmers discussed the problem between themselves and ask questions of the Government agencies. The establishment of a Watershed District did not seem acceptable but a group of farmers in the Friendship Community have already started a program to control the problem on their land. They have hopes that other farmers will join them in this program and they can work from the outer edge of the watershed and move inward either individually or in groups.

we mean it!

We're ready to serve you anytime . . . Rain, snow or sunshine. That's what we're here for . . . and always with a smile. Drive in and give our service a test. Stop for gasoline or tires or just stop by. Let us check your oil and battery, your tires, lights, windshield wipers, fan belt, or other things that should be serviced. Drop by soon, we'll be waiting for you, with the best in service and a smile.
