On Thursday evening, November 17, members of MAC and the Jennyslippers were invited to Littlefield to tour the gun facility, Sporting Mfg. Co.

Those making the trip were Bob Donaldson, Terry Nickel, Bill Bruce, Harvey Bass, Eddie Morris, and Kay Mardis from MAC.

Jennyslippers were represented by Norma Bruce and Ruby Green.

They were also accompanied by Rob Donaldson and Burl Mardis.

They were met at the plant and shown the details of the process in making and assembling the Snake Charmer II.

A plaque was presented to Sporting Mfg. Co. owner and president, Rodney Richardson. It

And, if these same residents are not giving due respect to Lazbuddie Head Football Coach C. W. Williams, and his talented junior son, Michael, something is definitely wrong with Lazbuddie.

It became the "Michael Williams Show" on Friday, as the young quarterback proved he could scramble when necessary, but added five of the 'Horns' touchdowns by rushing.

Williams started the Longhorn scoring in the first quarter with an eight yard scamper into the end zone, and Brian Glover added the extra points with his talented toe.

On Wilson's first play of the game, they fumbled and the Longhorns recovered, with Brian Glover capitalizing on the turnover with a 39 yard field goal.

Michael Guzman put Wilson on the scoreboard at 3:57 of the first with a 23 yard TD but a Ruben Garcia kick failed.

With the installation of a special telephone, the Directors of the Bailey County Crime Line officially "went into business" this weekend.

A board of directors have been meeting, formulating plans for the newest organization in Bailey County, which is a Crin 2 Line for people to report suspects who have committed crimes.

The Crime Line Telephone Number is 272-HELP.

Rules have been established by the board of directors who meet the second Monday of each month. Jim Crawford is president; James Atwood, vice president; Sandy Robinson, secretary; Starla Ellis, treasurer; and Carroll Precure and Randy Watkins are directors. Bailey County Deputy Sheriff Steve Bearden is peace officer coordinator.

Crime Line has started out initially with a $1,000 donation from Bailey County, but, other contributions will be sought to keep the new crime fighting operation going.

Private organizations and businesses fund Crime Line and Crime Stopper programs in other locations, such as Lubbock.

Deputy Bearden said the callers are given a number, and in no instance, will it ever be known who the informant is. "All we want is information," said the deputy. "No informant will be eligible for a reward unless their information turns out to be true.

"The board of directors will determine if reward is merited, and in what amount, ranging from $25 to $500," further explained the deputy.

United Blood Service Plans Local Drive

First United Methodist Church of Muleshoe will sponsor its annual blood drive on Thursday, December 1, in the fellowship hall of the church. The drive will be conducted from 10 a.m.-8 p.m.

United Blood Services of Lubbock, with the assistance of the Muleshoe Blood Advisory Council, will conduct the drive.

They will be contacting donors by phone and scheduling donation times. Walk-ins will be more than welcome.

Members of the Church will also be on hand to serve refreshments and provide other assistance throughout the drive.

As the holiday season approaches, the need for blood becomes very critical. The goal of this drive is 125 units, according to the Muleshoe Blood Advisory Council. The spokesman said, "The people of Muleshoe and the surrounding area have always been very helpful and generous at these blood drives. It is hoped that this year will be no exception.

"So remember, when contacted about donating blood, remember, it is the holiday season and give the gift of life -- give blood on December 1 at the First United Methodist Church.

According to the deputy, Crime Line will be most beneficial in Bailey County for burglaries and break-ins that are as prevalent in this city and county as anywhere else.

This would include crimes committed both in the county and in the city. "People on the street know where stolen merchandise is located," added Bearden. "Counties who utilize the Crime Line program find that thieves Cont. Page 6, Col. 3

'A Star Is Born' Muleshoe To Shine A number of "Stars" will emerge as the brand-new Muleshoe Production Company begins the process of producing a delightful melodrama. Yes! And, right here in Muleshoe!

Our own talented Kerry Moore will be the director of the production, with other members of the steering committee being Pat Prater, Arlene Phelps and Darlene Rhodes.

The committee is seeking ideas from everyone. Perhaps an entirely new script will be written -- or maybe a previously written script with your ideas incorporated will be used. Turn in your ideas for a scene or a whole script. Perhaps you know of someone who would be a great character in your scene. . .

Additional committees will be needed--such as location, research, music, script, lighting, sound, costumes, props, tickets and publicity. And, of course, many people will be needed in the production itself. Did you ever want to be an actor? Here's your chance! The committee hopes everyone gets into the act! A tentative schedule indicates that try-outs will be in February with rehearsals in June. The production will become a reality in August, running for two or three weekends. Crosbyton, with a population of 2500, began their production of 'God's Country,' in 1986 on borrowed money. In 1987, they paid off their debts and in 1988. they have "money in the bank." Muleshoe can do it, too!

Enthusiastic endorsements include the Muleshoe Activities

A spokeswoman said, "Everyone attending really enjoyed the tour and felt it was a very worthwhile trip.

"Any area people interested in a tour of the gun facility should call and make arrangements with Rodney Richardson at Littlefield.'

Much excitement is being felt as ideas are tossed out and possibilities explored. The whole community will want to join in

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Gary Gunter of Claude and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Precure of Muleshoe.

The altars of the church were decorated with 'Madame' Debord red roses accented with baby's breath and Victorian ivory lace, and various candelabras. Large bouquets of 'Madame' Debord red roses and greenery were placed at the side of the altar.

Jill Ramey of Lubbock and Jim Hubbard of Claude, accompanied by Sharon McFarland of Claude, organist, and Margie Phillips of Amarillo, pianist, sang "In This Very Room", "Doubly Good To You", and "God, A Woman And A Man''. "Trumpet Voluntary" was performed by Beth Osborn and Trampas Gunter.

Her veil of bridal illusion fell to the length of her gown and was highlighted by scattered seed pearls and irridescent beads.

She carried a free form hand cluster of large 'Madame Debord' deep red roses with accents of ivory lace, tule and English ivy garlands.

In keeping with tradition, something old was her grandfather's Bible; something new wedding gown. The flower and rice baskets were hand-made from crochet doilies of the brie's great great grandmother.

Donna Matthews of Claude, cousin of the bride, served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were: Sheila Irons of Dallas, Melanie Embry of Dallas, Robin McKay of White Deer, Laura Supak of Canyon and Judy Miller of College Station.

Texas A&M scientist addresses problem of chemical-related disease

COLLEGE STATION - Exposure to toxic chemicals is replacing infection by bacteria and viruses as a major threat to human health, says a scientist at Texas A&M University.

But, says toxicologist Dr. Rick Irvin chemical-related diseases could be controlled more quickly than diseases caused by bacteria or viruses if enough resources are dedicated to solving problems.

The diseases we're beginning to see as the major causes of death in the latter part of this century and certainly into the 21st century are going to be diseases of chemical origin," Irvin predicted.

Irvin says that the biggest problem in controlling chemical-related diseases is that we don't yet know much about the toxic chemicals that cause them.

"While we suspect that 70 to 90 percent of cancers are caused by chemicals, we don't know what those chemicals are," he said. "We, as a nation, don't regulate chemicals as mixtures of chemicals. We regulate them one by one, so going out there and figuring out which are the bad ones and which are not had and getting the bad actors off the market is a real task.

But, Lazbuddie had one more to go before the final 64-44 score. Wes Jarman scored on a 53 yard pass from Michael Williams with :59 left to play in the game.

a reasonable length of time, the leads diminish, the trail is cold, and the crime is increasingly more difficult to solve.

"For these reasons," he added, "most police department files contain many unsolved cases. When this occurs, a method is needed to re-awaken public interest in the case, and also call upon the citizens for help in providing the needed information that could lead to the solution of the crime."

Statistics prove that Crime Line or Crime Stoppers has been very successful anywhere the program has been implemented.

Former Albuquerque, N.M. police officer Greg MacAleese is credited with the first Crime Stoppers program, instituted in 1976, in Albuquerque, utilizing the news media.

Although earlier programs had used cash rewards and anonymity as incentives, MacAleese was the first to cast the news media in a central role.

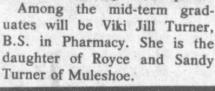

In many cases, videos are made, re-constructing a crime scene, or it is re-constructed in newspapers, or in radio dialogue. Don't forget the special Crime Line telephone number which is 272-HELP.

Kiwanis Club Hears MHS Band Director Mark Heidel

Thirteen members, two guests and sweetheart Justine Hanes met Friday morning at the Old Corral. Guests were Tod Johnson and Mark Heidel.

It seems that Tad has lost his title as sweetheart since Justine Hanes has become the Kiwanis Sweetheart. Sorry Tad!

President Keith Turner called the meeting to order. Hugh Young led the pledge to the flag and Dale Berry gave the invocation. R.A. Bradley said he had looked all week for a friend, and with the hopes that Muleshoe never has a fire like Altus, Okla. had, gave the friendship coin to J.O. Parker.

Mark Heidel gave the program for the morning. Mark is the Muleshoe High School Band director. He is a graduate of Lamesa High School and Texas Tech.

Mark stated that Muleshoe was his first job. Mark, we hope you stay in Muleshoe.

Mark said the band consisted of really three bands--Marching Band and Concert Band which consists of all students, and the Jazz Band, which is about 25 students.

Muleshoe has about 66 high school students in the band. He stated that this was not large, but he worked more for quality than quanity.

He would like to have a larger band but he pushed more for quality.

Muleshoe is working for its fifth sweepstakes. They are well on their way with a I in marching and are working for UIL sight reading and concert in April.

We are all pulling for you. If for some reason the band does not get sweepstakes, you and the Band will always be #I with us. Mark stated that Martha Anthis and the junior hligh band won sweepstakes last year. Believe this to be the first time for the junior high band.

Thanks to Martha and Mark for molding and guiding our young people so well. We are very proud of all of you, band and directors.

They are working on their Christmas Concert which will be December 17 on a Saturday night, at 7:30 p.m. in the high school auditorium. The whole community is invited to come.

This will be high school and junior high bands.

Mark showed a video of their practice at Jones Stadium in

New weather radar provides early warning for tornado formation

COLLEGE STATION - There's never enough time to get ready for a twister, but a new type of radar being installed at Texas A&M University may buy precious minutes, says a Texas A&M meteorologist.

The new type of radar, termed the Next-Generation Weather Radar or NEXRAD, will give meteorologists the ability to detect the formation of tornadoes in thunderstorms before they reach the ground, expanding warning time to an extra 10 minutes or so. Some portions of the radar system draw from Texas A&M studies.

The new radar could add minutes to preparation time, giving people time to close up buildings, bring in objects that might become airborne, put cars inside and take shelter, said Dr. James Scoggins, head of meteorology at Texas A&M.

The radar, which its builder says has a unique capability to identify rotating wind patterns within storms, also will improve flash flood warnings and help improve other meteorological reporting and forecasts. The system is a joint project of the National Weather Service, Federal Aviation Administration, Air Force Air Weather Service and Naval Oceanographic Office.

Why Do Teens Commit Suicide?

Suicide is the second most common cause of death for teenagers 12 to 18 years of age. Experts agree that many deaths are ruled accidental when in fact the reason is suicide. The rate of suicide attempts has almost tripled in the last twenty years over 500,000 teenagers attempt suicide each year. The question arises as to why teenagers are choosing to end their lives as an option for dealing with the stresses and pain of life instead of asking how their problems can be corrected.

Teenagers indicate a complexity of issues and factors which contribute to their sense of hopelessness. One factor may be attributed to pressure to succeed in school, in sports, and at home with little room to make mistakes. Often young people see themselves as failures, worthless, and unlovable. Another factor centers around family problems such as divorce, alcohol abuse, or financial difficulties which affect a teenager's emotions, sense of security, and self-esteem. Sometimes teens feel guilty and responsible for these conflicts and feel torn and caught in a conflict of loyalties. The teen may become the scapegoat for the family's unresolved problems.

Today, drugs and alcohol are readily available to teens in junior high school and the pressure from peers to conform is intense. There is confusion over changing attitudes and conflicting mores (customs of behavior) regarding their roles as males and females. Having to confront these issues and make choices that their parents did not have to make until adulthood compounds the pressure today's teens already feel.

Revenge is another motive which may prompt a suicide attempt - generally after a fight with parents or a boyfriend/girlfriend. Teens often feel so overwhelmed by their hurt that their wish to hurt back overrides their wish to live. Many teenagers attempt suicide to "cry out for help" or "scream for a change." The severity of this cry suggests the intensity of the pain the teen feels and the need for understanding and alternatives to his/her problems. Any suicide attempt needs to be taken seriously and confronted directly, honestly, and compassionately.

Teens at risk for suicide often give signs and signals that indicate their risk. The following are warning signs of suicidal behavior:

* a previous suicide attempt is the strongest predictor that a teen might attempt suicide again when under stress:

* intentional talk of or threat to commit suicide, or a suicidal note;

* a viable suicide plan which they can or have begun to implement; * presence of depression as evidenced by neglect of appearance, withdrawal from people, insomnia or oversleeping, weight loss or gain, putting oneself down, or any marked change in personality or behavior;

* making final arrangements such as giving away personal orfavorite possessions;

* use of alcohol or drugs as an escape from pain;

* self-destructive or risk-taking behavior such as driving wreckless;

* unusual change in school work or attendance; and

* intense feelings of being trapped and helpless with little hope of changing the situation.

If a teen demonstrates any of these signs or is suspected of being suicidal, it is important to talk openly with the teen. Asking about suicide will not cause more trouble or give the teen ideas but will allow them to share what they are already thinking and feeling. This will help to release pain as well as to validate what the teen is experiencing. Listening in a supportive, nonjudgmental way and getting help from a professional counselor or therapist will show that you care.

Water District Monitoring Water Levels In Aquifers

The Texas Water Development Board, using ground water date collected from 1980 through 1985, has completed and publish ed a report on the state's ground-water conditions. According to Report 309 - Ground-Water Conditions in Texas, 1980-1985, the average annual quantity of ground water avail able from the state's aquifers in 1980 was estimated to be 12.9 million acre-feet. The report goes on to say, however, that if current and profected rates of water use continue, the average annual quantity of ground water that will be available in the year 2030 is expected to drop to 9.6 million acre-feet.

The report covers the recorded changes in ground-water levels and quality in the state's major and minor aquifers and is intended to aid local and regional water users in operating their present water wells and in planning to meet future water needs.

Report 309 provides interesting and important statiscal data gathered from the state's aquifer monitoring network. Changes in the depth of ground water are determined by reviewing the records of 8,200 wells. Maps and hydrographs showing changes in water levels for the period 1980-1984 are included in the

Law Enforcement

Training Class

The South Plains Association of Governments Law Enforcement Academy will offer the 400 hour Basic Law Enforcement Certification class beginning January 16 through March 24, 1989.

This class is scheduled to run Monday through Friday, 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. each day.

Upon completion of the class and successfully passing the Texas State Certification test, an individual will meet the minimum requirements for employment as a peace officer in Texas.

The required pre-entry exams are scheduled for:

Tuesday, December 6, 1988 at 6:00 p.m.; Thursday, December 15, 1988 at 9:00 a.m.; Saturday, December 17, 1988 at 9:00 a.m.; Thursday, January 5, 1989 at 9:00 a.m.; Saturday, January 7, 1989 at 9:00 a.m.

. The pre-entry exams will be given at the SPAG Academy located at 1323 58th Street, Lubbock, Texas. There is NO state's major aquifers including the Ogallala, Carrizo-Wilcox, Edwards (Balcones Fault Zone) Trinity Group, Alluvium and Bolson Deposits, Gulf Coast and Edwards-Trinity (Plateau) are discussed and illustrated in the report. Increases and decreases in water-levels or water tables for eighteen minor aquifers are also reported.

Of the 15.5 million acre-feet of water (one acre-foot equal 325,851 gallons) used in Texas in 1984, 60 percent or 8.8 million acre-feet was ground water from anononananananananananananananan the state's aquifers. Most of the ground water pumped, some 78 percent of the 1984 total, was used for irrigation purposes with 74 percent of the 78 percent being pumped from the High Plains (Ogallala) aquifer. De spite the large percentage of water pumped from the Ogallala, over half of the southern High Plains area experienced waterlevel rises. Reduced agricultural activity resulted in a 23 percent reduction in irrigation pumpage when compared to amounts recorded in 1980. The areas primarily affected by these reductions were the High Plains, :Amarillo, Lubbock, Midland and Odessa regions), irrigated areas of the Pecos region of West Texas, and along the Gulf Coast from Victoria to Port Arthur. Municipal pumpage in 1984 totaled 1.48 million acre-feet, which accounted for 17 percent increase over the total pumpage and represented a 10 percent

Municipal and industrial pumpage from the Trinity Group aquifers of the north and central parts of Texas have resulted in water-level declines of over six feet per year in the Dallas-Fort Worth area and 18 feet per year in the Waco area. Decreased industrial pumpage plus the efforts of the Harris-Galveston Coastal Subsidence District have resulted in water-level rised occurring in areas of the upper Gulf Coast which had previously experienced declines.

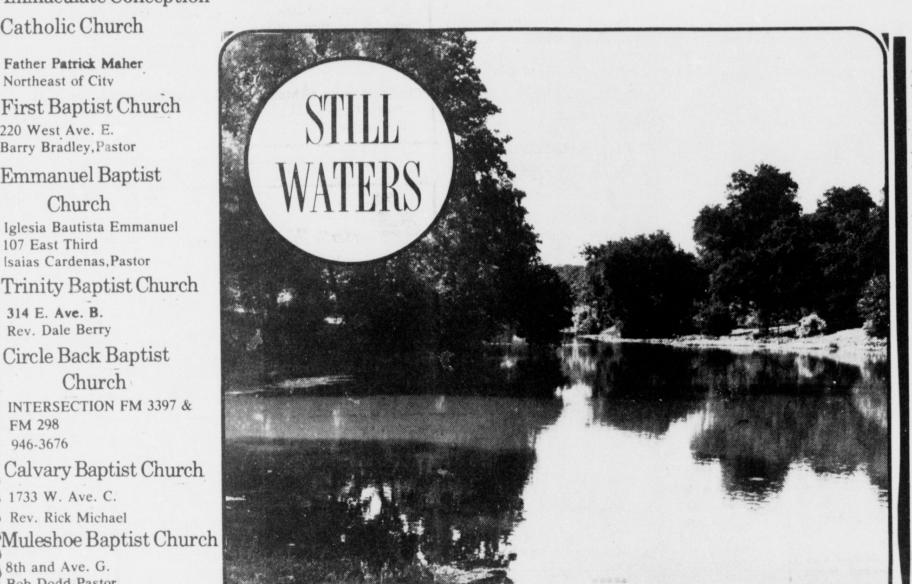

Pumpage for livestodk and steam-electric purposes showed 1984 increases of four percent and one percent respectively when compared to 1980 records. Due to the economic recession, pumpage in 1984 for manufacturing and energy uses showed declines of eight and 35 percent respectively.

Small changes in water quality may be occurring in individual wells, but no areas of deteriora tion of native ground-water quality have been identified except in the Dell City area in far west Texas. In this area, recirculated recharge from the use of slightly saline ground water for irrigation purposes continues to result in a cumula tive increase in the total mineral content of the water.
