

CITIZENS STATE BANK IN EARTH

NOSIN... With Polly

Citizens State Bank is having their formal open house Sunday to show and to share the new facility with all the area. Folks if you haven't taken a tour of the lovely new facility it will be worth your time to go see the beautiful new building and its pleasing atmosphere.

It is indeed an asset to our town.

It also indicates that folks have much faith in the growth and progress of our area.

So go out Sunday, and see the lovely new bank building and visit with your friends and neighbors, they'll be there.

NOSIN

The Pleasant Valley Fair had a little competition, but they won out anyway.

Seems Pat McGord had the chance to make the Dallas Fair later on this year or go to the Pleasant Valley Fair last Saturday. He decided on the PV Fair. He explained, it actually was of more benefit to him to see all the good things his neighbors were doing in his own community.

Pleasant Valley always does a good job at everything they undertake. They can be justifiably proud of their accomplishments.

The 1775 Continental Congress defined a ration as the amount of food authorized by the Army for one person for one day.

Frances Reasonover, foods and nutrition specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, offers a bi-centennial look at food supplies of 200 years ago.

She said that in 1775, General George Washington and a board of general officers recommended rations to be delivered as thus:

"Corned beef and pork four days a week, salt fish one day, and fresh beef two days.

"As milk cannot be procured during the winter season, the men are to have one pound and a half of beef, or eight-ounce ounces of pork, per day.

"Half a pint of rice, or a pint of Indian meal, per week.

"One quart of spruce beer per day, or nine gallons of molasses to one hundred men per week.

"Six pounds of candles to one hundred men, per week, for guards.

"Six ounces of butter, or nine ounces of hog's lard, per week.

"Three pints of peas or beans per man, per week, or vegetable equivalent, allowing six shillings per bushel for beans or peas, two and eight pence per bushel for onions, one and four pence per bushel for potatoes and turnips.

"One pound of flour per man each day; hard bread to be dealt out one day in a week, in lieu of flour.

"The above allowance is ordered to be issued by the Commissary-General to all the troops of the United Colonies serving in this Department, until the Honorable Continental Congress, or the Commander-in-Chief thinks proper to alter it."

Milk was not included in the ration because it was not available in the winter of 1775. It was not included in the ration for more than 100 years, Miss Reasonover pointed out.

"Compared with present dietary requirements, the ration provided more calories, twice as much protein and an adequate supply of all minerals and vitamins with the possible exception of vitamins A and C, if all items had been available to the soldier. But this seldom occurred.

"Apparently green and leafy vegetables were absent from the list and potatoes were available as an alternate to dry beans or peas, as were onions and turnips. The diet was largely confined to salted meat or fish and starchy foods except for the spruce beer and molasses," she said.

It had been learned from the Indians that the use of spruce and fir tips, prepared as a tea or as a component of a fermented product, was effective as a preventive of scurvy. This is probably the reason for its inclusion in the ration, the specialist noted.

Formal Opening At Citizens State Bank Sunday, 1-4 p.m.

Directors, officers and employees are inviting the general public to attend an open house in the beautiful banking home of Citizens State Bank Sunday, September 19 from 1 o'clock to 4 p.m.

A gala reception is planned with refreshments, souvenirs and tours of the building available to all who attend.

All personnel of the bank, plus officers and directors and their wives will be on hand to welcome visitors and guide them through the new banking facility.

Banking and professional friends of the bank, have also been invited to attend open house.

From the outside, the Citizens State Bank building has a massive appearance with the air of Spanish design. The combed plastered building has an overhanging lighted roof covering the sidewalk. This is held in place by large pillars. At the base of each pillar is a handsome square planter. Other decorations on the new pebbled sidewalk are oval shaped planters where trees will be planted. Along the outside of the bank are three large open planters that will be filled with a beautiful floral covering intermingled with chrysanthemums. The chrysanthemums were added to bring beauty to the appearance of the bank during the late fall months.

The bank features many large attractive windows and double glass doors at both entries into the building. One entry is on the north and the other on the east side of the bank. Both entries open into a foyer. In order to enter the spacious and beautifully designed lobby one must go through additional glass doors from the foyer.

From the foyer at the east entry the community room is accessible by turning right and entering a doorway of glass. The doorway leading into the bank lobby can be locked at night, closing off the banking facilities from the community room when it is to be used after banking hours. The floor of each foyer is covered with attractive pumpkin colored tile.

Walls along the west side of the beautiful spacious lobby are of glass. These enclose the offices of bank officers and extend almost the entire length of the building. Enclosed by glass, the offices have doors that can be closed for absolute privacy in conversation.

The receptionist desk and three secretaries desks are placed in appropriate places within the main lobby.

There is a comfortable conversation nook on the north side of the lobby. The east wall and in the center of the lobby features comfortable seating areas for customers waiting.

The attractive row of teller cages are built in a quarter circle, covered in pale yellow vinyl, as is the walls in the lobby. The cages and other places in the lobby are decorated with squares of paneling designed in attractive patterns.

Along the south wall of the lobby are the vaults and at the rear of the teller cage separated by glass walls is a large bookkeeping department, which can be readily seen from the lobby.

The first vault is for customer's safety deposit boxes. It contains 256 of the newest and safest kind of such boxes and has room for more. At the side of the vault is a small room designed for privacy for inspecting the contents of the safety deposit box or discussing its contents with members

S-E School Enrollment Down 4

Members of the Board of Trustees at the Springlake-Earth School met for a stated meeting at 7:30 a.m. Monday to discuss school business.

The group reviewed the enrollment figures and found the enrollment to be 4 less than it was for the same period of time in 1975. Superintendent Mann explained that the local high school enrollment was down, and the elementary was up. He indicated that was the trend across the country, that high school enrollment was down while elementary was slightly higher than in previous years.

Mrs. Macky McGarty, a representative from St. Paul Insurance were present and went over the building insurance program with the board. They discussed the coverage and the rate. No concrete decisions were reached during the meeting, as to what company will be used in insuring the building. Mann stated that insurance rates had doubled over the past 10 years. At present the school building insurance is written by Ranger Insurance out of Lubbock.

The board reviewed the student hand book, and no changes were made on the policies therein.

Many phases of maintenance was aired included in these were the lighting adjustments on the football field.

They also discussed the upcoming Legislature session, when they would again take a second look and perhaps rework values of property in accordance with the ability to pay. In that case, Mann stated, state aid will probably be cut and the money will have to come from local tax payers. He indicated that more interest should be directed by local tax payers in that direction.

The board appointed a Grievance Committee, in accordance with a request in title 9 from the H. E. W. The grievance committee include, committee chairman Melvin Chusum, also Mrs. Gladys M. Cord, Mrs. Janet Jones, Lexie Branscum, Mrs. Moriarae Gummings and Dewitt Kelley.

The purpose of the committee is to hear a complaint if anyone feels they are the victim of sex discrimination. After the hearing they will in turn make a recommendation to the board.

The minutes were read and approved, and current bills were okayed for payment.

All members of the school Board of Trustees were present for the meeting.

WARNING To Non-Subscribers

A man who was too cheap to subscribe to his hometown newspaper sent his little boy to borrow his neighbor's copy. In his haste, the boy ran over an $80 hive of bees and in ten minutes he looked like a warty squash. His father ran to his assistance, and failing to notice the barbed wire fence, ran into that, cutting a hole in his anatomy as well as ruining a pair of $10 trousers. The old cow took advantage of the gap in the fence and killed herself eating green corn. Hearing a racket, the wife ran out, upset a four gallon churn of cream into a basket of chicks, drowning the entire batch. In her haste she dropped a $135 set of false teeth, which the family dog buried thinking it was a new type of bone. The baby, having been left alone, crawled through the spilled cream and into the parlor ruining a $250 carpet. During the excitement the oldest daughter ran away with the hired man, a stray dog broke up eleven setting hens, the calves got out and chewed the tails off four fine shirts on the clothes line, and the car had a batch of kittens. All this just to save 10 cents. And in this case, the poor guy never did get to read that day's edition.

New Deal Down Wolverines 21-0

The Wolverines fell to New Deal Friday night 21-0 in the Wolverine Stadium. After a scoreless first half for each team, New Deal came back in the third quarter and scored their first TD of the night after taking possession on their 46 and Kerry Miller scored from three yards out. The PAT was no good and they led 6-0. New Deal came back again in the same quarter with 56 seconds left and climaxed a 56 yard scoring drive with another Miller TD from one yard out. Kelly Howell passed to Robert Dunn for a two-point conversion to make the score, 14-0. In the final period, Miller scored his third TD of the evening for New Deal from a yard away and kicked for the extra point to give the visitors the leading edge, 20-0. With 38 seconds left in the game, Springlake-Earth drove from their 48 to the one foot line before fumbling the ball with 38 ticks left in the game. In the first half of the game, the Wolverines led in the first down department 7-4 and in yards rushing, 101-72. Rodney Gessler was the Wolverine's leading rusher with 109 yards gained out of 27 carries. The Wolverines travel to Dimmitt Friday night for more football action.

Boom Time For Mars, Pa.

This article was brought in by Mrs. Bruce Higgins. It was from the Houston Chronicle.

The market for a certain product of a little town in Pennsylvania is booming these days. I have been informed by a former resident of the town who is now a Houstonian.

The boom started about six months ago and accelerated when Viking 1 made its landing on Mars. With Viking 2 now on that planet, sales are expected to pick up even more.

The town is Mars, Pa., which claims to be the only town of that name in the whole wide world; population about 1,500, located 35 miles south of Slippery Rock, Pa.

The sales pitch is "Would you like to own a sample of genuine dirt from Mars?" If you would, send a buck to Mayor Lester Kennedy, Mars, Pa. 16064, and he'll send you a small package of the stuff, with certificate of origin.

Now if the two Vikings can just discover those little green men on Mars--BOY! What a business opportunity will open up for the citizens of Earth, Lamb County, Texas!

Dusty Stovall Injured In Motorcycle Accident

Dusty Stovall, 12 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Garland Stovall of Earth was injured in a motorcycle accident Monday evening about 5 1/4 miles north of Earth. The lad was rushed to the Amherst hospital by the Earth ambulance and was transferred later that night to Methodist Hospital in Lubbock.

The accident occurred about 8:15 p.m. near the F.D. Clayton farm home, as Dusty and Cindy Clayton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Clayton were riding motorcycles along the dirt road.

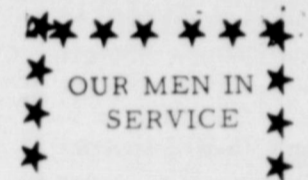

Cindy rode on ahead of Dusty and when she realized he did not come along, she went back and found him lying on the ground in a turn row. She rode her motorcycle to get her dad to come help. Mr. and Mrs. Norman Clayton and Dusty's sister, Mrs. Donnie Henderson and her husband who live nearby rushed to the scene.

Afraid to move him they covered him with a blanket and called the ambulance. Hershel Hulcy and Gary Bulls took him to the hospital.

At 3 p.m. Tuesday after taking X-rays, doctors in Lubbock stated that he was not bleeding internally, but decided to keep him over night for observation. He was dismissed Wednesday and allowed to return to his home.

His injuries included many bruises over his face and head, a cut lip and a few loose teeth. In his fall he had swallowed a lot of dirt which had resulted in causing him much discomfort and nausea.

Census Here On Immunization

Local representatives of the Bureau of the Census will conduct a survey in this area during the week of September 20-27, to determine the extent people have been immunized against selected diseases.

Percy R. Millard, Director of the Bureau's Regional Office in Dallas, announced today. The immunization survey is conducted throughout the U.S. every year and provides information on immunization against measles, influenza, polio, diphtheria, whooping cough, tetanus, rubella and mumps. The information is needed for administration of health programs geared to disease prevention. These health questions are in addition to the usual ones asked in the monthly survey on employment and unemployment conducted nationwide by the Bureau for the U.S. Department of Labor.

Results of the monthly employment survey provide data on conditions in the labor force, prime indicators of the economic health of the country. For example, in July the survey indicated that of the 96.3 million men and women in the civilian labor force, 87.9 million were employed. The Nation's unemployment rate was 7.8 percent, up from 7.3 percent in June but substantially below the recession peak of 8.9 percent reached in the second quarter of 1975. Personal information supplied in the survey is kept strictly confidential by law and the results are used only to compile statistical totals. The interviewer who will visit households in this area is Rosemary McNeese of Amherst.

of the family. The clerk in charge of the safety deposit vault has a desk just outside the vault in the main lobby. Another vault holds the money and a third vault, the one that was in the old bank building, is used for storing valuable records. At the far end of the lobby down a hallway on the west, is the conference room for the directors of the bank. Future decisions regarding Citizens State Bank will be made within this attractive room, with pumpkin colored plush carpet, complimented by a walnut conference desk, credenza and brown chairs. The bank building houses the City Insurance Agency and the U.S. Post Office. It has over 9,000 square feet of floor space as compared to 3,300 square feet in the former building. There is a storage room, and bank personnel lounge in the rear. Also a spacious basement and storm shelter. The 15' x 24' community room is beautifully carpeted with rust colored plush carpet, complimented by leather furniture in colors of rust and light gold. The windows are beautifully draped in lovely pumpkin and gold colored drapes. The walls are done in vinyl in lovely shades of pumpkin and beige. Hanging baskets holding beautiful live plants make the room come alive and add a homey atmosphere. Three round tables are provided as work areas. Stacked chairs are available for the room which can accommodate over 60 people. The community room has a multi-use kitchen equipped area that can be used in conjunction with the community room, or it can be closed off, according to the desire of the user. The bank features attractive acoustical ceilings patterned with recessed fluorescent lights throughout. The lobby floor is covered with a lovely indoor-outdoor carpet in attractive hues of brown, gold, rust and pumpkin. Live plants in beautiful pots complimenting the decor of the bank are arranged in various places throughout the lobby and in private offices. Metal sculptures of windmills depicting early day life on the Texas prairie grace the end tables in the lobby. Other metal sculpture add to the atmosphere in private offices. The metal sculptures are done by Bobby D. Green, formerly of Earth, now residing in Mansfield, Oklahoma. Furniture in the main lobby include secretarial desks, pull up chairs in rust, gold, pumpkin and chocolate and walnut end tables. The office of president Macky McCarty features plush pumpkin colored carpet and a beautiful walnut desk with matching credenza. His gold color executive chair adds color to the room, along with overstuffed chairs in a light tone of rust. A long blue velvet sofa adds beauty to the south wall of the office. Two pull up chairs done in matching shades of blue, rust, gold and pumpkin are placed for customers use in front of his desk. A circular antique walnut conference table is placed in the northwest corner of the room. A beautiful 6 foot Dricena plant in a brass pot adds much beauty. The north wall of the room is covered in cork with a metallic background. The west wall is done in walnut paneling matching that of the main lobby. The credenza is enhanced with an unusual bishop-crown cactus with a pot custom designed by designers in Ft. Worth. Vice-president Donnie Clayton has an office with pumpkin colored plush pile, walnut desk, matching credenza and an executive brown leather chair. Pull up chairs in the office are done in rust colored fabric. Two beautiful chairs in black, gold, brown, beige and rust are divided by a walnut end table, accented by a metal sculpture of a cowboy preparing his dinner over a campfire. One wall is covered with pale yellow vinyl, two with walnut paneling and one in glass. Vice-president Billy Moore is housed in an attractive office done in shades of brown. One wall is covered in tones of brown cork. The pumpkin colored plush carpet and walnut desk with matching credenza is complimented by brown leather chairs. Mayor E.C. Kelley today signed a proclamation declaring September as Kiss A Baby Month in the Earth area. The Breath of Life Campaign is conducted annually by the Lone Star Chapter of the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation which supports research, care and education programs for children suffering from lung-damaging diseases. Mayor Kelley urged citizens to support this campaign. "If view of the bank, be sure to attend the formal opening Sunday and get an escorted tour of the beautiful facility.

you've ever had trouble breathing," he said, "you know it can be a terrifying experience. For the millions of children with lung-damaging diseases, breathing is an every day struggle. These children need our help." Mrs. Bill Morris, Mrs. Harlow Watson and Mrs. Rucky Byers, chairmen of the 1976 Kiss A Baby fund-raising drive, in Earth, Springlake and Sunnyside, stressed that parents especially should know the signs of lung-damaging diseases. "This awareness can facilitate early diagnosis and treatment of these diseases," they explained. "Particularly with cystic fibrosis, early treatment can help prolong a child's life."

Signs of lung-damaging diseases are recurrent wheezing, persistent coughing with excessive mucus, pneumonia more than once, excessive appetite but poor weight gain and clubbing or enlargement of fingertips. Other signs that are peculiar to cystic fibrosis are a salty taste of the skin, persistent and bulky diarrhea and nasal polyps.

Diagnosis and treatment of cystic fibrosis and other children's lung-damaging diseases, Mrs. Watson pointed out, are provided a nationwide network of more than 100 Cystic Fibrosis Centers supported by the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation. "The most serious of these children's lung diseases, cystic fibrosis is the number one genetic killer of children," she explained. "Cystic fibrosis affects one out of every 1,500 infants born each year and occurs when a child inherits two genes for the disease, one from each parent. The parents don't have cystic fibrosis, but they are among the 10 million carriers of the gene."

Although presently incurable, cystic fibrosis can be effectively treated. "Advances in treatment have lengthened the expected life span for children suffering from cystic fibrosis," according to the campaign chairman. She explained that when the Foundation was established in 1955, most children with cystic fibrosis didn't reach school age. "Now, more than 50 percent of those with the disease can be expected to live past age 18. Many of the treatment procedures developed for cystic fibrosis also help children with other lung-damaging diseases."

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, lung-damaging diseases affect millions of children in the United States; and, of diseases that kill children, lung disease is the second most common, and WHEREAS, cystic fibrosis, the most serious lung-damaging disease, is the number one genetic killer of children and occurs once in approximately every fifteen hundred births, and WHEREAS, at this time there is no control or cure despite advances in treatment for this inherited lung disease, and WHEREAS, the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation is supporting research to find a control for cystic fibrosis and improved care for all children with lung-damaging diseases, and WHEREAS, the month of September has been designated as the Breath of Life Month in the City of Earth to enlist public support in the fight against cystic fibrosis and other serious lung diseases in children. BE IT THEREFORE RESOLVED THAT I, E.C. Kelley, acting under and by virtue of the authority vested in me by the Constitution and Laws of this City hereby proclaim the month and urge the citizens of our community to join with the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation in its humanitarian task.

You can Bank on it!

By: MACKY McCARTY
CITIZENS STATE BANK

There's considerable talk nowadays about a "cheekless, cashless society," and there may be something to it. Electronic banking is a reality and dramatically will change the banking and savings habits of millions of Americans. Ultimately, it will revolutionize the concept of money itself, some bankers believe.

Magnetically encoded plastic cards, similar to Bank Americard and Master Charge, will be used - are being used - to make deposits, withdraw cash, transfer money from different accounts and borrow money without ever writing a check or stepping foot inside a bank office.

Some experts believe that by 1983, electronic banking will eliminate 7 billion of the checks that might otherwise be written, and by that time electronic terminals will be handling 11 billion transactions a year that otherwise would have been settled in cash.

SOME STRAIGHT TALK ABOUT SMUT

There are two distinctly different kinds of smut in the corn fields of Parmer, Castro, Deaf Smith, Lamb, Bailey and Hale counties: common smut and head smut. Common smut has little, if any, economic significance. Head smut is the real culprit. Estimates are that it will reduce the yields of some fields by over 20%.

COMMON SMUT (Ustilago maydis), sometimes called boil smut, does not usually reduce yields. It is characterized by galls, bulbous growths which are at first covered with a glistening, greenish to silvery-white tissue. The galls may appear on any part of the corn plant including the exposed tips of healthy ears protruding beyond the shuck. The plant becomes host to wind or water-borne sporidia which stimulate cells in young tissue to proliferate.

HEAD SMUT (Sphacelotheca reiliana) is systemic, the plant being infected by soil-borne teliospores in the seedling stage. The outward signs of the disease are less conspicuous than common smut. It first appears when ears and tassels are formed. Tassels of infected plants usually appear to be covered with a reddish brown or black, spiny rust. Silkless shucks look as if they might cover a short, fat ear of corn but opening the shuck exposes a mass of black, worm-like teliospores or a tangle of bright green, leafy buds. Since head smut is soil borne and there is no practical chemical treatment to control it, we can expect infection to increase from one year to the next if conditions are right. This year's weather (dry and cool) was particularly conducive to infestations of both types of smut fungus.

WHAT ABOUT NEXT YEAR

For the most part, head smut occurs in fields that have been planted to corn for several years. It appears that farmers with a head smut-infested field have a choice for the use of that field next year. They can plant the field to another crop or can, with reasonable safety, plant corn hybrids that offer resistance to the disease. Pioneer has three excellent hybrid corn varieties that show strong resistance to head smut. One of these is well known to area farmers and is the most planted variety in much of this area... Pioneer brand 3306. Two other Pioneer varieties... 3184 and 3195... which were planted widely in this area for the first time this year, not only resist smut but have even greater yield potential than the well-known yield champion, Pioneer brand 3369-A.

A RECOMMENDATION

If you have a field that shows signs of head smut infections, plan to switch to one of the three Pioneer varieties that provide resistance to the disease and, at the same time, give you a shot at the best corn yield you have ever had.

Talk to your Pioneer dealer now about ordering Pioneer varieties 3306, 3184 and 3195. It makes a lot of sense to plant all three.

heat pump and save money . . .

The heat pump is a home heating system that actually captures heat that would otherwise be wasted. The electric heat pump actually squeezes warmth out of cold outside air and uses that warmth inside your home.

The Lost Heat you pay for is a real villain, but you can turn him into a good guy with an electric heat pump. Call The Electric Company for complete information on the electric heat pump. It saves energy, saves money.

Facing the necessity of building a larger banking facility to take care of greatly expanded business, directors of Citizens State Bank immediately established basic priorities: (1) Make it something of which the community may be justifiably proud. (2) Design it to provide maximum convenience for the customers. (3) Add a night depository for the convenience of its customers. (4) Add a community room where area people could hold their meetings, and thus be of service every way possible to the people the bank serves.

The bank was able to purchase the empty building next door to enlarge and begin the lengthy period of construction which ended one year later, and is now a facility the town can rightly join bank officers, directors and employees in being proud of Citizens State Bank.

SUMMARY OF PROPOSED

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS GENERAL ELECTION NOV. 2, 1976

NUMBER ONE ON THE BALLOT (S.J.R. 49)

Repealing Sections 49-d and 49-d-1 of Article III of the Texas Constitution, S.J.R. 49 amends Section 49-c of Article III of the Texas Constitution to provide for and authorize an additional $400 million in Texas water development bonds that may be issued on approval of two-thirds of the members of each house of the Legislature for such water development purposes as the Legislature may prescribe.

The amendment contains a specific prohibition against the use of state funds for the development of water resources from the Mississippi River and also requires that before any single water development project may be undertaken requiring the expenditure of more than $35 million in bond proceeds, it must be approved by resolution of the Legislature.

The amendment removes the constitutional requirement that certain revenues must be used to retire water development and water quality enhancement bonds and removes the constitutional interest rate limit on such bonds.

The wording of the proposed amendment as it will appear on the ballot is as follows:

"The constitutional amendment authorizing an increase of $400 million in the amount of Texas Water Development Bonds that may be issued on approval of two-thirds of the legislature; amending and consolidating provisions of Sections 49-c, 49-d and 49-d-1 of Article III of the Texas Constitution; and repealing Sections 49-d and 49-d-1 of Article III of the Texas Constitution."

NUMBER TWO ON THE BALLOT (H.J.R. 99)

H.J.R. 99 proposes an amendment to the Texas Constitution to increase from $100 million to $200 million the aggregate principle amount of Texas water development bonds which may be issued and outstanding by the Texas Water Development Board to provide grants and loans for water quality enhancement purposes as established by the Legislature.

The wording of the proposed amendment as it will appear on the ballot is as follows:

"A constitutional amendment to increase from $100 million to $200 million the amount of Texas Water Development Bonds that may be issued for water quality enhancement purposes."

Is Your Water Safe?

Most people take for granted the safety of the drinking water that comes from their home faucets, especially if their water is provided by a municipal water supply system. But safe drinking water isn't achieved automatically, and, according to water hygiene officials of the Texas Department of Health Resources, in some Texas communities it is achieved only with great difficulty.

C.K. Foster, director of the Water Hygiene Division, TDHR, says that the standards for water purity will change in the near future. "Presently, we operate under state statutes which were passed in 1945, as well as the U.S. Public Health Service's Drinking Water Standards of 1962. However, a new federal law will become effective in June of 1977," he explains, "which will change somewhat our procedures, with the maximum contaminant levels being changed in some cases."

The present standards are concerned primarily with bacteriological contamination and some inorganic chemicals, especially heavy metals, Foster says. In some instances, the present standards only provide for recommended limits. The new standards will be considerably more stringent.

Deakon and had dinner at the church with them.

Ticks Pose Increasing Threat

Ticks in Texas are expanding their range and posing an increasing threat to human health. Ticks can give people such diseases as Rocky Mountain spotted fever, relapsing fever, tularemia (rabbit fever) and paralysis. The Texas Medical Association says.

Ticks carrying Rocky Mountain spotted fever pushed their range as far west as Taylor County (county seat: Abilene) in 1975. State health officials say these ticks have expanded to West-Central and Central Texas from their normal range of Northeast and East Texas.

Only 34 humans got Rocky Mountain spotted fever in Texas in 1975 but this is about one third the entire total for the preceding 11 years combined.

When a person is in tick country, there is little way to avoid them. However, a person can greatly cut down potential problems by carefully searching for ticks on the body and clothing at regular intervals. Hard ticks usually spend several hours on their host before they attach themselves and start feeding so searching can get them before they do any harm. Pay particular attention to the hairline where ticks can be overlooked easily. Fortunately most tick bites are only irritating, not dangerous, to humans.

Danger of getting disease from ticks increases the longer the tick is attached to a person. If a tick is found, the best way to pull it out is with

Shipping Diseased Plant Material

MERIDIAN, Miss.--Science knows no national borders, but shipping diseased plant material internationally can be a problem, according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Nations, to protect their agriculture, have strictly enforced regulations regarding plant material crossing their borders.

Now, a plant pathologist with USDA's Agricultural Research Service (ARS) U.S. Sugar Crops Field Station here has devised a simple method for killing and preserving diseased plant material for shipment across international borders.

Dr. Natale Zummo's treatment ensures that the diseased material is completely sterile and can be shipped through the regular post without violating any national quarantine regulations.

The plant specimens retain their color for at least 5 years and can be used for research, reference, and classroom teaching.

Dr. Zummo, working with foliar diseases of sorghum in the United States, and with maize, millet, and sorghum diseases in West Africa, uses a killing solution made up of formaldehyde, ethanol, glacial acetic acid, oil of cloves, copper sulphate, aspirin, and water. He allows the mixture to stand for one day so that the ingredients will go into solution.

The diseased plant material is then placed in the solution for 3 to 5 days. The material is not washed prior to treatment to ensure that the disease organisms and structures, such as rust and fungal fruit, are retained.

After spending time in the solution, the plant material is then dried in a plant press for one to two days and heat sealed in heavy plastic envelopes. If the material contains thick stalks, a small amount of the killing solution is sealed in with the plant.

The sterile, sealed material can now be shipped conveniently through the regular mail.

This procedure should prove very valuable to plant pathologists working with plant diseases, that, like the science that studies them, recognizes no political boundaries.

Dr. Zummo, working with foliar diseases of sorghum in the United States, and with maize, millet, and sorghum diseases in West Africa, uses a killing solution made up of formaldehyde, ethanol, gla-

10 Boys Expelled Wednesday From S-E

Ten boys were expelled from S-E School Wednesday morning by high school principal Bob May. The boys are to remain off campus for a period of three days.

Principal Bob May explained the situation this way. He said he checked the boys hair Wednesday morning and found their hair or beard to be in excess to correspond with the S-E dress code which reads as follows:

- BOYS HAIR
1. Boys will be clean shaven, no beards or mustaches.
2. Sideburns will not be worn below the bottom of the ear and must be kept neatly trimmed.
3. The sides of the hair will be cut and neatly trimmed so that the hair does not hang or lay below the bottom of the ear.
4. The hair will be cut and trimmed in the back so that it does not hang over the collar, and in the front so that it does not hang or lay below eyebrow level.

May explained that after checking their hair he asked them to go home and get it cut.

The boys said they contended there was no barber shop open on Wednesday and they were forced to go to the beauty shop to get it cut on Wednesday, so they refused to leave the office.

Mr. May said he asked them to leave his office three times to get haircuts or shaves and each time they continued to remain. He said he explained that if they did not leave they would be expelled and would not get to play football. They continued to remain he explained. He further stated that he told the 10 boys that if he was forced to call the police to get them to leave his office, they would be liable for a fine in the amount of from $25 to $200 if they came back on the campus grounds. He said with that statement the boys got up and strolled out.

Parents who called the news office and reported the incident, stated the local school dress code was in direct violation of Title 9 of the Civil Rights code, to have such a ruling as this in the school handbook.

When the reporter spoke to May about this report from parents regarding Title 9, May replied, I know nothing about this and have not received anything to this effect. I am doing my job as set up by the local school board and will do so until I receive further information or instructed otherwise.

zales, Ricky Bosquez, and Ricky Montreal.

Over 200 Attends Reception

Following a delightful program of spiritual songs the evening was dismissed with the benediction by Les Watson.

"Too often in recent years we've confused human need with human want. Human needs can be fulfilled—and government has a positive role in trying to meet them. But human wants are insatiable and any government, no matter how well intentioned, that tries to keep up with them—or promises to fulfill them—is doomed to failure and financial collapse."

Exemption May Lower Farmland Taxes

A recent Texas Supreme Court decision could save part-time farmers and ranchers many tax dollars, says an economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"The court held that farmers and ranchers may qualify for agricultural tax exemptions on farm real estate even though they earn more than half their income from other sources," notes Dr. Wayne Haysiga. "Thus, the court relaxed eligibility requirements imposed in an earlier ruling."

The big impact will be in counties that have many part-time or low income farmers who could not previously qualify for the exemption.

The Texas Constitution provides that the owner of a farm or ranch may request an "agricultural use" valuation for the property if it is his "primary occupation and source of income," points out Haysiga.

This valuation is based on the productive value of the land, which is often less than the market value generally used for computing tax payments.

"The state Supreme Court ruled earlier that a property owner must show that his farm or ranch income was greater than his combined income from all other sources. But, based on opinion by Associate Justice Price Daniel, the court changed the requirement to make it easier for owners to qualify for the exemption," says the Texas A&M University System specialist.

Daniel wrote, "It is sufficient if the landowner shows that he devotes a greater amount of time to his agricultural business than to any other occupation or businesses and that he receives more gross income from his agricultural business."

This ruling will help farm and ranch owners who get incomes from a variety of sources.

Handicapped

"Lost" In Texas

More than 10,000 children did not go to school today. This is not unusual. They have never gone to school. They are handicapped children "lost" somewhere in Texas. These children have physical or mental handicaps that keep them from attending school. At least that used to be the case, the Texas Medical Association (TMA) says. Now there is a program to locate these children and give them the free public education Texas law says they should get.

No one knows for sure how many youngsters are not in school because of hearing, seeing, mental, emotional, physical or learning problems. Before the Texas Education Agency (TEA) began the "Child Find" program they estimated there were 10,000 such children. But in only six months they have located more than 5,000. The program, funded through 1978, probably will find thousands more such persons between the ages of 3 and 21. Education officials estimate public education now serves only 76 percent of the handicapped children in Texas.

Anyone knowing of a handicapped child between the ages of 3 and 21 who is not in school easily can get the person some help by calling one of three numbers. Calling 1-800-292-9668, a statewide toll free Child Find number, costs nothing and will bring help from a local source. Someone also can call the local school district or regional Education Service Center.

Once a handicapped child is located, the local school district does an appraisal. If eligible for special education, the child gets needed services through the school district or other community resources. If needed, counselors can meet with the parents to help with problems they may have.

All this effort pays off in human and monetary terms. It costs about $20,000 to educate a handicapped child in Texas. It would cost society approximately $200,000 not to educate the child. The $200,000 estimate includes other types of treatment, long-term care, lost taxes an educated individual could pay, etc.

Of course savings in human terms are immeasurable. Special education focuses on what someone can do instead of what he can't. Even a little progress gives parents hope and gives children increased ability to help themselves and contribute to society.

Farm Safety Deadline October 25

Farmers now have until October 25 to comply with certain safety standards under the Occupational Safety and Health Act (OSHA) that were to become effective June 7.

The safety practices concern guarding tractor power take-offs (PTO), displaying safety signs and providing initial employee training for machinery operations.

Even though the deadline has been extended, farmers should continue with preparations to meet these safety standards," advises Dr. Gary Nelson, agricultural safety engineer for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Particular emphasis is on guarding the PTO drive line. The tractor shield on the rear PTO shaft must be kept in place, notes Nelson. However, the master shield may be removed when necessary to operate PTO driven equipment, provided the guards on such equipment cover the tractor PTO shafts.

"Regarding safety training, a farmer must instruct every employee in the operation and servicing of all equipment with which that employee is involved," emphasizes the Texas A&M University System engineer.

Among the safe operating practices in which the employee must be instructed are the following:

--Keep all guards in place when the machine is in operation.

DIRECTORS MEETING ROOM

--Permit no riders on farm equipment other than persons required for instruction or assistance.

--Stop the engine, disconnect the power source and wait for all machine movement to stop before servicing, adjusting, cleaning or unclogging equipment, except when the machine must be running to be properly serviced.

--Make sure everyone is clear of machinery before starting the engine, engaging power or operating the machine.

--Lock out electrical power before performing maintenance or servicing equipment.

The requirement for safety signs calls for such signs to be placed at prominent locations on tractors and PTO driven equipment indicating that power drive system safety shields must be kept in place.

Furthermore, when removal of a guard or access door might expose an employee to any equipment that continues to rotate after the power is disengaged, the employer must provide warnings to look and listen for evidence of rotation and not to remove the guard or access door until all component movement has stopped.

Complying with these safety standards will make the farm a safer workplace, so they should become a part of the farm operation as soon as possible," advises Nelson.

Learning Our Limits

"Learning to live within limits means seeking a new balance of shared responsibility between the citizen and his government. We need to share not only revenue but responsibility. We have to begin to ask: If I don't have what I want, is something wrong with our economic policy in Washington or are my expectations and values simply excessive? Too often a little of both is true. Learning to live within limits means admitting that some kinds of problems will probably be solved most effectively by citizens and groups of citizens. A neighborhood working together without a dime of federal money might be more effective in preventing crime than another billion dollar program. Let us raise our spirits but limit our expectations to a reasonable level. There is much work to be done for a nation with the strength and patience to understand that to learn to live within limits is not to give up."

—Sen. Gary Hart (D.-Col.)

Number One

"While the United States still frets—and rightfully—over its manifold shortcomings, the American economy is the envy of the world. After so many years of problems and doubts, it is perhaps pardonable to take pride in a re-apparent truth. We're Number One."

—John M. Lee
