History of Local Girl Scouting Program, Shows Growth

The present group of Girl Scouts and Brownies were organized in September of 1964 with 28 Brownies registering. This is the beginning of my fifth year in the Springlake-Earth public schools. With each passing year I have witnessed vast improvements. A keeping up with the times and additions that can only benefit the students, community, and the nation as a whole.

Many things have been said and written about the beautification of the campus. Many things more could well be said. The important thing really is the fact that it creates and instills in the students the desire to be better students. It gives them a sense of pride when they see other campuses not as well kept as ours. And there are many.

Another innovation, though not as new, is the attitude and the carrying out of a dress policy for students. This is excellent. One need not be learned to understand the necessity and the reasoning behind this. The best example I can give is a note from the Muleshoe schools which stated simply," if we permit our students to dress as clowns and bums, they will act as clowns and bums. No further explanation necessary. We now have an accredited librarian, Mrs. Janis Bell. With only a week of school behind us she has instilled in the teachers and students the desire ers and the students the desire to better use the facilities at hand. She is reshaping the library, making additions and tremendous improvements, that can only cause the students to realize the importance and need for a first hand knowledge of library purposes.

A new homemaking cottage, much needed, now adorns our campus. Parking facilities for the buses, new shop and ag buildings, new street lighting, new pavement and walks, and the list could well be endless for the allotted time and space I

Who do we thank for this? Of course. Superintendent Bill Mann is due undying gratitude and thanks from both the fac-

Rep. Price Urges Action On Grain

Rep. Bob Price was one of the six Republican members of the House Agriculture Committee's mittee on hivestock and Grains who today urged Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman to raise the price at which the government sells feed grains and soybeans to 100 per cent of parity. On wheat the re-lease price should be set at full parity minus the value of domestic certificates paid for by wheat processors, the GOP group

Price pointed out that the present policy of the Comm Credit Corporation is to sell its stocks of wheat and feed grains back into the market at 115 per cent of the loan level plus carrying charges. In the case of wheat this is $1.44 per bushel, and in the case of corn it is $1, 21 per bushel. In the case of grain sorghum it is $1,85 per ewt. Soy-beans are released at 105 per cent of the loan level, or $2,62 per

In the letter to Secretary Freeman, the Panhandle Congressman stated that clear legislative authority for such action exists, and in spite of his long-standing opposition to this method of improving grain market prices, they urged that he take this action mediately.

Under the proposal, govern-ment-owned wheat would be sold for not less than $1.87 per bushe! corn for not less than $1,63 per bushel, grain sorghum for not less than $2.58 per cwt., and soybeans for not less than $3,31 per bushel.

I sincerely feel that the Secretary of Agriculture could materially improve the present grain price situation if he would take his action, and I certainly hope ne will do so immediately. Price said.

Wolverines Lose To Friona in Scrimmage

the season Friday night against a large, powerful and senior laden club from Friona and came out two touchdowns shy of postng a scrimmage win.

Giving away many pounds and months of experience, the Wolverines gave away the two touchdowns early in the scrimmage, then tightened up and permitted no more. The offense for the local athletes was slow in starting, but toward the lat-ter part of the scrimmage, the Wolverines moved the ball fairly well with a passing attack that caught the Friona defense napping many times.

At one point in the game, the Wolverines got down to the Chief's one yard line, but their number of plays ran out and they failed to cross the goal line. Coach Danny Smith said the Wolverines knew their mechanics very well in that they knew their assignments and what they experience in following through with these assignments showed up, especially in reviewing the

Although the defense tightened after permitting the initial scores, there seemed to be a lack of spirit and enthusiasm that was displayed against OIton. Smith also pointed out that two defensive starters missed the scrimmage. Tim Oden has moved to another system and David Jauqess missed action due to illness.

Smith further pointed out that if the defensive and the offensive units continue as they have the past few days, there will very likely be some changes on both teams.

The Wolverines see action in their first regularly scheduled game of the season this Friday against Amherst at 8:00 p.m. Playing on their opponents home grounds, the Wolverines will once again be giving away size and experience. However, if the local squad displays the same spirit and enthusiasm the same against Olton, many people could be surprised.

Following the varsity scrimmage against Friona, the B team held their first scrimmage of the season. Neither team was able to move the ball across the goal line and ended up in a 0 in Earth visiting friends, to 0 tie.

A group of coaches, physicians, and sports officials have joined the American Medical As sociation in calling for coaches to emphasize correct, head-up blocking and tackling, and for strict enforcement by officials of the rules against spearing.
Said Notre Dame football coach Ara Parseghian: "I can't begin to tell of the number of clinics where I have lectured on the (spearing) problem. We don't teach this at Notre Dame; and over the years, I have done everything within my power to influence others to coach against it."

The AMA's Committee on the Medical Aspects of Sports asked for sports authorities' comments when recent studies showed that head and neck injuries continue to constitute a very high percentage of serious injuries in football.

In the correct, head-up tackle, the player uses his shoulders, arms, and chest to stop the ball carrier. In a "spear" or "butt" tackle, he drives into his opponent with his head. By spearing, the tackler may prevent the ball carrier from adancing a few extra inches-if he ckles him. With his head down,

Mrs. J. C. Ogletree, 84, was honored with a surprise birthday Saturday evening in her home. Her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Malcom Ogletree, Danny and Darrell hosted the party. Attending ladies took various types of food for the dinner and Mrs. Malcom Ogletree made the birthday cake. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Parker, Mrs. Pearl Cooper, Mrs. Minnie Simmons, Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Hulsey and daughters, Rita, Connie and Kathy and the guest of honor, Mrs. J. C. Ogletree.

After the dinner games of "42", dominoes, and "Wa-Hoo" were played, '

Intensive Campaign Being Waged To Expand Cotton Markets

Memphis, Tenn., -(Special)-This gears us up for one of the most intensive campaigns ever waged by an agricultural commodity to expand its markets," the president of the Cotton Producers Institute declared today upon approval of an $8 million cotton research and promotion program for 1968.

Russell Giffen, Fresno, Calif., pointed out that the growerfinanced program approved by the Secretary of Agriculture doubles the industry's direct investment in cotton research and promotion,

He emphasized, on the other hand, that it is not a new venture but "represents a significant augmentation of the work now being carried out by the Cotton Producers Institute and National Cotton Council. Ability of the cotton industry to attract matching funds from those with a mutual interest in in various areas of research and promotion -- plus activities aleady being carried out by public and private agencies--pro-mises a total effort three or four times that represented in the CPI budget," Mr. Giffen add-

The $5,3 million promotion budget of CPI calls for more than 200 ads in 20 national magazines, magazine-retailer projects, a much larger volume of advertising in conjunction with stores at the local level, and manufacturer-retailer and trade

Heavy promotion of cotton piece goods, apparel, and home furnishings will be continued with major retail chains. There will be an expansion also in television and other projects.

Advertising will point up cot-ton's superiority in comfort, maintenance, appearence, and durability and stress these benefits to the consumer

Ten problem areas are listed in the $2, 7 million research budget: (1) insects, (2) diseases, weeds, (4) yield/quality, 5) mechanization, (6) processing/handling/marketing, (7) mill processing/finishing, (8) consumer quality improvements, (9) product develop-ment, and (10) cottonseed.

Approximately $800,000 is allocated for improving the quality of cotton textiles and textile products -- particularly durable press cottons. Another $400,000 is budgeted for research aimed at strengthening cotton competitively in such markets as suits, sheets and pillowcases, work trousers, and floor coverings.

Initiated in 1961 as a division of the National Cotton Council, the original Cotton Producers Institute has been dissolved and its programs assumed by a new organization of the same name. Its Trustees represent all cotton states and were chosen by more than 50 certified producer organizations in a series of state

Made up entirely of cotton growers, the Institute earlier this year was designated the producer organization to initiate and develop a cotton research and promotion program. This is in accordance with an order ap-proved by growers last Decem-ber in a referendum.

As in the case of the original CPI, the staff and service of the National Cotton Council will be used to carry out the activities. This follows action by the Council's Board making the staff a-vailable to service the program and a unanimous request by CPI Trustees that this relationship be continued.

The program is being conducted under a CPI contract with the Cotton Board, This Board is made up of 20 members and an

Orange Juice To Be Included In Texas School Lunches

Some 902,000 Texas children will be including orange juice in their noon meals this school

They're the children who participate in the National School Lunch Program, This orange juice is one of the many foods donated by the U. S. Depart-ment of Agriculture to help schools build nutritious breakfasts and lunches for students at lowest possible cost, USDA food and cash assistance comprise about 20 percent of total program costs. The balance comes from state and local sources, and from payment by the children.

Around 148 million of these lunches were served during the last school year in more than 3600 Texas schools, according to John J. Slaughter, southwest director of Consumer Food Programs for USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service -- the agency which handles school lunch ac-tivities at the federal level. In addition some 106,000 breakfasts were served in 18 schools under the Special Breakfast Program, now a pilot operation in a few areas.

266 million pounds of frozen also must be served. orange juice concentrate, frozen and canned meat, turkey, tributed to schools by the Texas peanut butter, cheese, raisins Department of Public Welfare.

Also, schools may obtain as much as they can use of such "open allocation" foods as dry beans, flour, rice, shortening or lard, commeal, grits, rolled wheat, bulgur and butter, Orange juice included in USDA-donated foods totals 8, 4 million gallons. To transport it would take 1,120 refrigerator cars-forming a freight train 11 miles long. The juice will provide a-bout 48 servings of four ounces each for an anticipated 222 million children receiving school lunches -- and the thousands who enjoy school breakfasts.

Orange juice and the other donated foods help schools meet standards of the Type A lunch required of all schools who participate in the National School Lunch Program.

The Type A lunch consists of a 2-ounce serving of lean meat or other protein-rich foods such as cheese, peanut butter or eggs. To supplement this main dish, there must be at least a 3/4 cup serving of raw or cooked vege-tables of fruits.

In addition, the Type A lunch calls for at least 1 slice of bread For the coming school year, or 1 serving of hot breads made schools across the nation will be of enriched or whole-grain cerwell stocked with more than eal plus at least 2 teaspoons of $135 million in USDA-donated butter or fortified margarine, A foods.
