One of the nicest birthday greetings I have ever received came just this past Monday on my (do I have to tell?) 37th birthday. It came via long distance and I am sure that when the callers receive their phone bill, they will probably forward it to me just to spoil the warm feeling I now have.

The call was from Beville, Texas and the callers were Carolyn Reynolds and Eva Rae Hawkins. I am certain most people remember these two very fine and capable teachers and from all accounts when their names are mentioned, everyone misses them a great deal.

Now this call was not only nice, needless to say it was surprising as all get out. Of course, they really had no recourse other than to wish me many happy returns. We all know of the terrible effect Beulah had to their section of the country. Realizing their peril and knowing they would be in need after such a devastating storm, I took it upon myself to send them a care package. That it was received and appreciated is proven by the call. It will, in all probability, interest all their friends to know they came out of the storm very safe and sound and what seems to be in good spirits. It would also make this community feel somewhat proud to know these ladies miss their friends and the community itself very much. It may well be I am assuming too much, but from the sounds of their voices and the things said, I don't believe I am off too far.

Well, in an effort to be nice this one time, I can truthfully say this community and their friends miss them also. Their is no question they were and are excellent teachers and are a wonderful credit to their profession. Hardly a day goes by that someone doesn't mention them or ask of them. This is genuine proof that they were appreciated and that they left behind them nothing but sincere and wonderful feelings from all the people who knew them.

Greetings From the Simmons in White Deer, Texas. It is always good to be remembered and to be invited back where one has made some sort of a mark. Of course this time of the year is always a busy time for Coach Simmons, as he is usually on the road scouting for the Buck's next opponent.

All of the program and salad supper arrangements sound real nice. I'm sure there will be lots of food and fellowship.

Believe it or not, I have, personally shed about 25 pounds in the last year, but you can also believe it when I tell you that my goal is about that many more to shed, Coach Simmons' waistline and age are just about the same now--in the forties, (40's) Ha! You would not know our Roger. He is a Freshman at West Texas State University this fall. He is quite a serious young man, especially about making money. (Aren't we all??) He plans to be a Speech and Education Major. However, he says that he doesn't plan to be an ole teacher like his dad. That's just not enough money for him, but time will tell about his plans.

Melanie is nine years old. She is a tittery, giggly fourth grader, leads yells all the time. She looks very much like Coach Simmons with the dark features. I am enclosing pictures, I would love for any of you exes to come to see us. Write us and send pictures of all of your precious ones. It would certainly be good to see each of you. We shall always have a soft spot in our hearts for Springlake and Earth, for that is where Mr. Simmons' began his professional career. We have many pleasant memories of some real fine people in a wonderful community. Folks tell us that we wouldn't know the school grounds, etc. I am grateful that the school plant is a progressive one. If one would judge a community-look at its churches and its schools, and then look at the cemeteries. This is a good measuring stick, I believe.

We read in the papers that you are building lots of char-

CRISIS IN OUR CITIES:

What Rural America Can Do About It

Since its early days, our nation has periodically faced a crisis in its cities.

And, since the early days, the root cause has been the same . . . people flocking to the cities in search of something better . . . people leaving areas of little opportunity in search of fulfillment for themselves and their children.

In earlier times, the people came from overseas. Nearly all of them came from the land which no longer provided them with a living.

Today the people who fill our cities in search of a better life . . . nearly 600,000 of them a year . . . come from our own countryside, nearly all of them from the land which no longer offers them a living.

The fact is, as Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman and other informed government officials have noted, that 70% of our nation's population is crowded into one percent of our land . . . many of them crowded into space covered by brick and mortar and macadam, over-laden with smog-filled air . . . treeless, flowerless, hopeless.

They are the victims of a quiet revolution in agriculture which no longer needs the labor of large numbers of human beings to produce the vast quantities of food and fiber we provide for the world. They are today's landless immigrants who formed our city ghettos and slums of generations past.

The people of rural America, and America's rural electrics, believe this view of the past and of the present contains the seeds of our future . . . a brighter, more productive future for the people of the cities and the people in the rural areas.

We believe it is time we use one of our nation's greatest assets . . . our uncrowded countryside . . . to help solve the problem which concerns us all.

Rural America boasts more than space. It has fresh air and sun and sky and water. It has room for kids to run barefoot through grass covered with early morning dew, hills covered with clean snow for sleds and skis, fields for people and dogs to romp in.

And it has more.

In the towns and villages of rural America there are uncrowded streets and sidewalks. There is electric power and transportation. There are good roads to bring the products of hard-working people to the great market places.

What rural America lacks are job opportunities. Of the nearly 14 million new jobs created in our country in the past 15 years, few were created in rural areas. Yet polls say half our population would like to live and work in rural areas.

We believe that unless we bend our efforts to the development of rural America, we will fail to solve the problems of our cities. Unless we stem the tide of migration from the country to the city that puts more and more people into less and less space, we will have ignored our greatest asset in meeting one of our gravest problems.

We must start now to develop job opportunities, adequate hospitals and medical facilities, better schools and theaters and libraries, better water and sewer systems, and improved public services and facilities for industry in our rural areas. With them, rural America can meet the job hunger of its own people. It can provide the space and living room city people so desperately seek.

The nation's rural electrics view with optimism the efforts of our nation's leaders to restore the balance between rural and urban America. We pledge our support and the continuation of our unstinting effort. We invite the participation and cooperation of all people concerned about the future of our country, regardless of where they live.

There is, after all, only one nation, and we are all part of it.

Wolverines Thrill Homecoming Crowd With Win Over Bovina

Homecoming fans were given an extra treat Friday night in Wolverine Stadium as the Springlake-Earth football team outlasted a tough and aggressive Bovina Mustang team by a score of 20 to 13. It was a go ahead, then come from behind game as the outcome wasn't decided until the final whistle.

Springlake-Earth took the first lead in the opening quarter as senior Randy Washington crossed the coveted goal line to forge the Wolverines into a six to nothing lead. The try for extra points failed and the score remained the same during the remainder of the initial stanza.

The second quarter of play saw three touchdowns and one extra point tallied as the Bovina Mustangs came alive and scored two touchdowns and one extra point via the kicking route to erase their goose egg and put a big 13 points on their side of the tally board.

Springlake-Earth remained in the thick of things, however, as they too scored once again for a vital six points. The try for extra points once again failed and Bovina remained in front during the remainder of the first half of action by a score of 13 to 12.

Third quarter action was defensive all the way as neither team was successful in mounting an offensive drive that would net points, important ones, as the one point separating the leaders from their opponents. It was the fourth quarter that they put icing on the cake for the Springlake-Earth Wolverines. Randy Washington once again carried the pigskin over for the vital and what proved to be the winning touchdown. Terry Bridge, hard running sophomore, who had earlier scored the second period touchdown, ran for the extra two points, raising the Wolverine score to 20. This proved to be the final margin of victory and gave the ever improving Wolverines their second victory of the season.

Defensive Wolverines who deserve creditable mention were Gary Haberer, Bobby Cummings and Randy Clayton. Clayton has been mentioned as playing his best defensive game of the year against Bovina.

David Templeton, who plays center on both the T-formation and the single wing, was singled out as having done a very fine job. According to Coach Smith, Templeton has been a good and consistent player all year.

Randy Washington was pointed out as having done a good job on both offense and defense during this homecoming contest.

The Wolverines will play host to Sudan this Friday night in Wolverine Stadium with game time slated for 8:00 p. m. Sudan is a vastly improved ball club from the beginning of the season and have a fine win-loss record. On their last outing, they defeated O'Donnell by a one-sided score of 35 to 0. Comparative scores against mutual opponents show Sudan to have a scoring edge over the Wolverines as Sudan defeated Amherst by a score of 32 to 12 and defeated Bovina 33 to 8.

All fans know the tremendous rivalry between Sudan and Springlake-Earth, in good taste of course, and this could shape up to be one of the better ball games of the entire season. Fans are urged to come out and support the Wolverines for this important district game.

Seventh Graders Take Bovina

Everyone got into the act last Thursday in Bovina as the seventh-graders from Springlake-Earth defeated their opponents by a score of 22 to 0. With Lewis Palacio scoring 14 points via two TD's and a two point conversion, Bovina never threatened the young but talented charges of Coach T. A. Bell.

Aiding Palacio in the tally column was Bobby Jack Angely who scored six points and Nicho Triana who scored a two point conversion. This is the seventh grade's fourth victory against only one loss for the season.

Next opponent for the seventh graders will be the Sudan Hornets this Thursday in Sudan. Game time is set for 5:30 p. m. and all fans are urged to drive to Sudan and back this year's fine seventh-grade team.

PARTY LINE

Pansy Been and Cindy Caldwell of Lamesa, Tech students, spent the weekend in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dutch Been.

Kathy Brown and Beverly Prather, students at West Texas State University, returned home for the week-end for Homecoming.

RANDY WASHINGTON - on his back in the end zone after making the first of the two touchdowns he made Friday night. He and all the Wolverine squad did an outstanding job against Bovina. The final score was Wolverines 20-Mustangs 13.

The Mighty Eighth Graders Do It Again

If Springlake-Earth ever witnessed a Juggernaut it is this year's version of the eighth-grade Wolverine football team. Rolling on unchecked game after game, the young but awesome gridders have compiled an enviable record of victories and now loom as one of the most powerful and most feared eighth-grade teams ever fielded by anyone in the annals of Texas school football history.

The latest victim to fall before the onslaught of dedication, spirit and talent was Bovina who lost to the young Wolverines by a lopsided score of 51 to 0. With multi-talented Hoyt Glascock leading the way, Springlake-Earth never permitted Bovina to get in contention as they scored with ease each time they had possession of the pigskin. Glascock's 21 points was high for the evening as he scored two TD's, four extra points via the kicking route and one 30 yard field goal. Edress Barnes gave ample assistance as he scored a total of eighteen points with three TD's and Billy Ray Thomas and Donnie Wheat got into the tally column by scoring one TD each. Everyone got into the action and it would be hard to put single out any individual standouts. With this type of team, it is nothing short of unified team effort and all the eighth-grade members of the Wolverines deserve countless plaudits for their ball playing this year. The eighth-graders travel to Sudan this Thursday (tonight) to play the eighth-grade team of Sudan. The Wolverines will be going for their sixth consecutive victory of the year. Gametime will be immediately following the seventh-grade game which is scheduled to begin at 5:30.
